Leap Year Day: Chance To Make Up For Lost Time

By Britt Smith
Herald Staff Writer

Bissextile is the term used to describe it. Bissextile refers to Leap Year, derived from the Latin bis sextus dies or doubled Feb. 28. (And you thought...) Leap Year is a year with 366 days (there are usually 365 in case you had forgotten) with the extra day appearing on Feb. 29.

While Leap Year is something special to the people born on Feb. 29 (giving them fewer birthdays that actual chronological years) it began as serious business in 45 B.C. when Julius Caesar and his astronomers tried to adjust their calendar to coincide with the changing seasons.

Caesar fixed the year at 365 days and six hours, and decreed that every fourth year would have 366 days to account for the odd hours.

But his attempt wasn't perfect. The Earth actually takes 365 days, five hours, 48 minutes and a little over 45 seconds to revolve around the sun. Caesar's decree to fix the year at 365 1/4 days left his calendar and the seasons further apart each year.

Hang on...

Things were finally straightened out in 1582 by Pope Gregory XIII who threw out the Julian calendar and instituted the Gregorian calendar. He fixed Caesar's miscalculation by ordering the Leap Year be omitted in all centenary years except those divisible by 400.

For the real esoteric trivia buff, add this bit of tresomeness: When February was first added to the calendar, it made its debut as the last month of the year. Then the calendar was reshuffled and February was dealt into a slot between January and March. Do you care...really?

Probably not, but before you can get to the meat of a subject you must throw out a few scholarly bones.

The important stuff is this...

During Leap Year, girls, women and other assorted female types can propose to the men of their choice and be perfectly within the bounds of proprietary behavior.

A woman can conduct an all-out siege on a man's unmarried state. She can mention, suggest...proceed full speed ahead with her plans, backing up her contention (intention) with the clout of historical precedent...ominous reference to the dire fate of a refusee, and then lasso him with laws which can further cook his goose. (Laws have been enacted in the past requiring a man to pay a fine if he turned down a woman's marriage proposal during Leap Year...consider the economics of such folly).

Queen Victoria, that doughty upholder of puritanical virtue, even issued a proclamation enabling maidens of the land to select their better halves from bachelor members of her rifle corps...which was tantamount to a license to steal...riflemen being a big deal back then.

And if you were interested in this pursuit of wedded bliss, you signalled your wishes by wearing a scarlet petticoat peeking out beneath your skirt.

What this is leading up to is that today happens to be Feb. 29, which means that it's one of those, you know, good years. Move quickly, though, (remember all those fractions of time and the propensity of the likes of Gus and Greg to dally with the days).

Run ladies!
(In fairness, you gentlemen can run too.)

Fallacies Seen In Gunter's Hospital Rate-Setting Bill

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

State Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter's plan to empower a state-appointed board to oversee hospital budgets is getting no support from two of Seminole County's resident legislators — State Reps. Carl Selph and Art Grindle. But Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach, who represents part of Seminole, is a co-sponsor of the bill.

Selph said, "I am all for the elimination of sharp rises in hospital costs, but any proposal involving government rate setting would be my absolutely last alternative."

At the same time, Grindle said, "I think Florida should encourage more preferred provider organizations (PPO) and health maintenance organizations (HMO) in the state."

Grindle described the Gunter proposal as the "iron hand of government," saying it is not nearly as effective as the "invisible hand" of the competitive market pushing hospitals and other businesses to better achievement.

HMOs and PPOs are relatively new health care concepts in Florida, Grindle explained. Under the HMO concept, an individual subscriber pays a set fee to the organization and his health is provided for that fee regardless of what services he needs. Doctors working for the HMO are paid a set fee for providing health care. The emphasis then rests on keeping the patient well rather than treating illness after it occurs.

Under the PPO, an employer or insurance company buys health care and uses it as a type of insurance for their clients. Both concepts, Grindle said, tend to bring down the cost of medical care. The only problem in both cases, he said, is that the patient would not have the choice of his own doctor, unless that doctor was willing to accept the amount of money designated by the organizations for certain services.

Under the Gunter proposal, developed by his department of insurance, the Hospital Cost Containment Board of the state would review hospital budgets and have the right to disapprove individual budgets which exceed by more than 4 percent the consumer price index.

The board created by legislative act in 1979 and whose members are appointed by the governor, Grindle said, was charged with the responsibility of "making the public aware" of differing rates charged by various hospitals.

Grindle said the problem is that the HCCB has not made the public aware of those rate differences.

The members of the HCCB have recommended to Gov. Bob Graham and the Florida Legislature that it be given authority similar to that contained in the Gunter bill, Gunter said.

Twenty-six members of the state House of Representatives and 15 state senators have signed on to the bill as sponsors, Gunter said, but only one of the seven members of the Seminole County Legislative Delegation — Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach — is among that number.

"I am looking for proposals that do not involve government rate setting," Selph said. "It is my fear if government sets a maximum rate those institutions not charging the maximum will soon do so. This type of thing has happened historically in instances such as government rent control when the maximum rate soon became the minimum."

Selph said hospital cost containment has become a "political football" in the upcoming session of the Legislature and numerous bills are being proposed and studied by the House Commerce Committee.

The fallacies of the Gunter proposal in Grindle's view is that an HMO could contract with a hospital to provide care for its clients and "bust that hospital's budget."

If a hospital became aggressive and tried to compete in the marketplace by providing lower rates it would also be caught in the squeeze created by the 4 percent limit of the consumer price index in the Gunter proposal, Grindle said.

"The Gunter proposal could be counter-productive for the competitive market and could freeze in higher prices," Grindle said.

Homestead Exemption Application Deadline

Thursday is the deadline for homeowners to apply for homestead exemption.

Persons who have owned their homes and lived in that home prior to January 1, and the home is their permanent residence, may apply for a $25,000 homestead exemption from property taxes.

Those applying for the exemption for the first time should take with them to Seminole County Property Appraiser Bill Suber's courthouse office a copy of their warranty deed and a Florida driver's license or voter registration card or some other proof that they are bona fide residents of Florida.

Other exemptions available are $500 for widows and $500 for persons who are permanently disabled.

The property appraiser's office is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Stunning Victory For Hart; Cold Shower For Mondale

By Laurence McQuillan
UPI Political Reporter

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — Gary Hart's stunning upset win in the nation's first primary opened up the race for the Democratic presidential nomination for the top finishers and squeezed Sen. Alan Cranston out of the race today.

Former Florida Gov. Reubin Askew, winning only 1 percent of the vote, nevertheless said "I'm still in the race."

He prepared to leave for Miami today where, he said, "we'll take a look at where we are."

Cranston, the first Democrat to declare his candidacy for the White House, told a news conference in Concord that, "I know the difference between reality and dreams."

At 69, Cranston was the oldest of his party's aspirants and became the first to abandon his campaign, following dismal finishes in New Hampshire and Iowa the week before.

Tuesday's outcome in New Hampshire also shatters the almost invincible aura that has sprung up around Walter Mondale's well-organized campaign, and sets the stage for a major showdown for the three top finishers — Hart, Mondale and Sen. John Glenn of Ohio, who came in third.

Hart said today that money and workers are pouring into his campaign and he expects to have both the resources and vote-getting power to compete successfully with Mondale on "Super Tuesday" — "now that people know who I am."

"We have now received in the last 24 hours substantial financial commitments," Hart said. "And I know the workers of a lot of other candidates are going to be coming our way."

Addressing a victory rally, Hart told cheering partisans: "I'm not prepared at this moment to claim the position of front-runner, but I know one thing, tonight in New Hampshire we've buried the label 'dark horse.'"

"What happens after today is that the nature of the race changes rather dramatically," Hart said on NBC's Today program. "Instead of eight candidates going state by state, it is now two candidates going throughout the entire country."

Glenn, however, saw it as a three-man race. He said he is "the second happiest man up here" because Hart's win showed that Mondale was not invincible" and that he expects to profit from the new openness on Super Tuesday.

On March 13 — Super Tuesday — nine states hold primaries and caucuses to pick more than 500 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

With all of the votes counted in New Hampshire, Hart had 39,062 votes or 40 percent; Mondale, 27,710 or 29 percent; Sen. John Glenn, 12,041 or 13 percent; civil rights activist Jesse Jackson, 5,280 or 6 percent; former Sen. George McGovern, 5,145 or 5 percent; Sen. Ernest Hollings, 3,583 or 4 percent; Sen. Alan Cranston, 2,087 or 2 percent, and Askew 1,023 or 1 percent.

Hart picked up 10 of the delegates at stake, while Mondale garnered the other eight.

Glenn drew considerable comfort from Mondale's upset, saying "We may have a case of instead of the train leaving the station, the station leaving the train."

"I think people are looking for an alternative," Glenn said. "It opens up a whole new dimension to the campaign."

Mondale conceded defeat before a group of his backers in Manchester.

"I have now won one contest and lost one," Mondale said, referring to his victory last week in Iowa.

Mondale said he had told his staff that "sometimes a cold shower is good for you," adding "I've got plenty of fire in the belly. I intend to carry on because I'm right."

Ruin?

Citrus Expert Sees Disaster If Temps Dip Into Mid-20s

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Tonight's predicted upper 20s and lower 30s temperatures could be the ruination of this year's citrus industry and other central Florida agriculture, according to John Jackson, a citrus expert with Agricultural Extension Service of Orange and Lake counties.

The National Weather Service is predicting central Florida will experience a New England night of cold temperatures and a clear starry sky with the thermometer creeping into the crop-killing range.

"If it gets cold it will knock the bloom back (buds on the citrus trees) and reduce an already short-looking crop for this year," Jackson said. "Everyone north of Interstate 4 is already looking at a reduced crop. If the temperatures go into the mid-20s or if we have a heavy frost, it could severely effect what bloom we have on the trees."

"If that happens it means having very little to show for your efforts this year. I'm not sure about the tree damage. If it's in the mid-20s for a few hours or so, we'll have a few dead limbs. We have a lot of trees leaved out to the small twigs. A freeze would knock off an awful lot," Jackson said.

Someone who was going to have a little income from his crop after the Christmas Freeze would no income this year if there's a freeze tonight, he said.

Jackson said if the temperatures hover between 26 and 28 degrees for two hours, the citrus crop would not suffer much damage.

"A couple degrees colder for a couple of more hours could do damage to the tree," he said.

Jackson said a frost tonight, though not yet predicted, would destroy many vegetable crops that are just beginning to sprout.

Tuesday Seminole County was declared an agricultural disaster area by the Farmers Home Administration from the Christmas Freeze.

While Florida braces for the chill elsewhere National Guardsmen rammed snowplows through 6-foot drifts in Ohio, inch-an-hour snow buried Pennsylvania and flash floods menaced the southern New England coast today as a massive storm flung snow from Mississippi to Maine.

The storm crept deep into Dixie Tuesday. Peach growers fretted over their crops, and New Orleans residents declared they were having their biggest snow in years — even though it was too light to see on the ground. Mobile, Ala., had its first snow in years.

High winds knocked down a radio tower in western North Carolina. Slick roads and bridges caused more than 100 accidents in Tennessee, and high winds blew down trees and small buildings in east Tennessee.

Forecasters said another six inches of snow could hit the Northeast, on top of the existing foot of snow in northern New Hampshire, 18 inches in Erie, Pa., 17 inches in Buffalo, N.Y., and 14 inches at Cleveland.

"It's very close to a blizzard," forecaster Nolan Duke said at the National Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City, Mo.

At least 21 deaths have been blamed on the weather since the storm began. They include two each in Florida, Alabama and Indiana, seven in Illinois, five in Ohio, and one each in Texas, Missouri and Michigan.

Ten people were injured Tuesday when a DC-10 with 177 people aboard skidded off a foggy and rain-swept New York runway into Jamaica Bay.

Snow fell from Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia to northern New England today. Rain covered southern New England and New York City.

Ohio Gov. Richard Celeste declared a state of emergency and called out the National Guard in seven northern counties and Cleveland late Tuesday to man plows, aid motorists and help with medical emergencies.

High winds whipped more than a foot of snow into 6-foot drifts, closing nearly all roads in northwest Ohio. Officials fearing the worst had ordered schools closed Tuesday before an inch of snow was on the ground.

"It's awful. You can't see," said a dispatcher at the Ohio Highway Patrol's Sandusky post. "The snow is just drifting so bad and so fast. It's impossible to get anywhere."

Another state of emergency was declared in Erie, Pa., where snow fell at the rate of an inch an hour.

Slowed Recovery Picks Up Speed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's sensitive index of leading indicators climbed 1.1 percent in January, regaining its strength after two exceptionally weak months, the Commerce Department said today.

A surge in building permits, growth in the average work week and the month's improvement in new orders for consumer goods were the leaders among the six indicators that were positive factors in January.

Other helpful indicators were an improvement in the pace of new claims for unemployment benefits, orders for factory equipment and a slight gain in January's average of common stock prices.

The four negative indicators for the month were the rate of new business formations, a decline in a broad measure of the money supply, the rate of business deliveries and the merchandise trade deficit.

The composite index of leading indicators was 164.7 in January compared with 100 in 1967.

The index, designed to anticipate economic trends, has been on an upward path since July 1982 except for a revised 0.1 percent decline in November. December's increase, also revised in the latest report, was only 0.1 percent instead of the originally reported 0.6 percent improvement.

The index suggested that the economy's immediate future promises more of the strong economic performance that showed up in January in sales and production.

But the month's performance included one enormous setback also reported separately today, a record $9.5 billion merchandise trade deficit.

The figures overall showed the domestic economy is continuing a strong expansion but is being held back by unparalleled deterioration in trade that damages industries competing with imports or selling across the border.

NATION IN BRIEF

'That's It, Let's Go,' Killer Tells Executioners

ANGOLA, La. (UPI) — Convicted killer Johnny Taylor, protesting his innocence but admitting "I've done a lot of wrong," died in the electric chair early today in Louisiana's second execution in three months.

"That's it, let's go," said the 30-year-old black father of six as he was led to the chair dubbed "Gruesome Gertie."

"I found God in Christ," said Taylor, who was sentenced to die for the 1980 stabbing of David Volger, 28, of Kenner, La.

The 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, the Supreme Court and Gov. Dave Treen refused to halt or delay the execution.

Wearing blue jeans, a gray sweatshirt and white slippers, Taylor entered the death chamber, showing no signs of fear. He was not sedated, authorities said. The switch was thrown on the electric chair at 12:09 a.m. CST.

Plane Skids Into Marsh

NEW YORK (UPI) — All 177 people aboard a Scandinavian airliner that skidded into the marshes of Jamaica Bay during a winter storm were rescued thanks to a police officer who plunged into the icy water to pull one raftload of passengers to safety.

Federal aviation experts today were to begin trying to determine why the Scandinavian Airline System DC-10 nosed into the water. One passenger said the pilot apparently overshot the runway while trying to land in a storm packing gusty winds, heavy rain and fog.

Ten people suffered minor injuries in the accident Tuesday.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Iran Warns America Over Gulf Incidents

LONDON (UPI) — Iran threatened to close the vital Strait of Hormuz oil route if any incidents occur in the Persian Gulf because of U.S. restrictions on Iranian forces operating near American warships.

Iran is stockpiling crude oil on tankers outside the Gulf in a move that could mean it is bypassing the Strait of Hormuz, a wider strait through which 20 percent of the Western world's oil passes, the Middle East Report newsletter said today.

The stockpiles of Iranian oil are believed to be sitting in ships in the Gulf of Oman or the Indian Ocean outside the Gulf, the newsletter published in New York said.

Arabs Held In Bombing

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israeli police are holding three Arabs as suspects in the terrorist bombing attack in the heart of Jerusalem that injured 21 people.

The Tuesday attack was praised by Palestinian guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat, who said it demonstrated that the Palestinian cause was still alive.

Israel radio reported Tuesday police rounded up 53 Arabs immediately after the mid-morning blast at the doorway of a clothing store along Jerusalem's Jaffa road.

A 7:11 p.m. Monday a man at the Winn Dixie at 419 E. 1st St., grabbed a purse containing $30 out of the hands of Elsie Oravec, 36, of 519 Magnolia Ave., Sanford.

A Seminole High School student, Oscar Morris, 2571 E. 21st St., chased the suspect, caught up with and fought him recovering Ms. Oravec's purse.

According to a Sanford police report, they have a suspect.

Several hours earlier in a separate incident at the same store two men went through the check-out line, shoved a clerk away from the cash register and took $503 and $42 worth of food stamps.

At 11:44 a.m., the first of two men in the check-out line shoved clerk Star Lazal, 16, of 2307 Lisa Court, away from her cash register at the store and grabbed the money and food stamps and ran.

PLEADS GUILTY

A Lake Mary man has pleaded guilty to one attempted second-degree murder of a 5-year-old Lake Mary boy.

Guillermo Benitez, 57, of 337 South Country Club Road, was arrested June 24 the day after the incident at his home and pleaded guilty following psychiatric and physical examinations.

Originally, Benitez pleaded not guilty to the charge and asked for a jury trial.

He is scheduled to be sentenced at 10:30 a.m. May 11 by Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salfi.

In a separate case, a Sanford man charged with two lewd assaults upon a child is scheduled to go on trial in early April.

William David Johnson, 40, of 510 W. 3rd St., arrested Jan. 18 by Sanford police for allegedly involuntarily fondling an 11-year-old girl twice between January and November 1983 has had a tentative trial date set for April 2, also before Salfi.

Johnson has entered a plea of not guilty.

PROBATION VIOLATION

An Orlando man who was on probation for unemployment compensation fraud in Seminole County has been found guilty of violating his probation.

According to court records, Jerome Washington, 37, was employed at the Tusawilla County Club, 1500 Winter Springs Blvd., while he was collecting unemployment.

On Sept. 29, 1981, he was placed on three years probation and told to pay back the $574 he had collected in benefits to which he was not entitled.

During a Feb. 20 court hearing, his parole officer told the court Washington had not paid back the money, has not reported to him and has not paid for the cost of his probation supervision.

Bomb Rocks W. Beirut; At Least 2 Dead

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A huge bomb blast rocked west Beirut today and ambulances carrying wounded waited through the streets, hours after President Amin Gemayel flew to Damascus for crucial talks with Syrian President Hafez Assad.

Beirut radio said a car packed with explosives blew up shortly after 4 p.m. (9 a.m. EST), some 500 yards north of the offices of Lebanon television and several blocks south of where Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger was visiting the U.S. Embassy.

One witness told a UPI correspondent that he saw at least two people dead and more than 20 wounded — including several children who were playing on an empty sandlot nearby.

No one immediately claimed responsibility for the explosion on El Bechir Kassar one block from the residence of Cheikh Wazzan, Lebanon's caretaker prime minister, who resigned Feb. 27.

"There was a massive explosion, the biggest I have heard," said a woman who asked not to be identified. "I was standing in the kitchen and the blast blew me to the floor. There was glass flying everywhere. My mother and I were lucky not to be killed."

The blast blew glass and debris for blocks and sent huge clouds of smoke billowing into the sky. The fronts of two high-rise buildings were destroyed. Dozens of smashed cars littered the streets.

Lebanese army troops and Shiite Moslem militiamen swarmed into the streets, aiding the rescue effort by firing automatic rifles into the air to disperse people and traffic. Two armored personnel carriers blocked off each end of the street.

Radio stations broadcast frantic appeals for help. Ambulances from throughout the capital's Moslem western half sped to the scene and roared off the hospitals with the casualties.

Disney Eyes Expansion In Europe

LAKE BUENA VISTA (UPI) — Walt Disney Productions is looking for more overseas expansion and considers Europe a prime location for a Disneyland-type amusement park, company officials said.

Ron Miller, Disney president and chief executive officer, told the company's annual stockholders meeting Tuesday that success at the recently opened Tokyo Disneyland has prompted officials to take a hard look at Europe.

"Europe appears to be the logical next move," said Miller. "It's much too early to really define what we're going to do or where we're going. But we're looking to go to Europe."

Miller said "several countries" are interested in a Disney project, but he declined to name the nations. Disney hopes to make an announcement about plans for another overseas park by the end of 1984, Miller said.

The Tokyo Disneyland opened in April 1983 and has surpassed attendance expectations, company officials said.

In another matter, Miller called recent rumors about a possible takeover bid by Coca-Cola "absolutely untrue."

"There's been that persistent rumor of Coca-Cola coming after us," said Miller. "So I called Don Keough (president of Coca-Cola), and he flatly denied it. As far as I'm concerned, the case is closed."

Women Angered Over Court Ruling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Outraged women's rights activists say they are going to Congress to reverse a Supreme Court ruling that allows colleges to engage in sex discrimination except in programs using federal funds.

The unanimous court ruling Tuesday said federal financial aid to students does not subject all school programs — such as sports, faculty to federal anti-discrimination laws.

The court said a small private college in Pennsylvania must only assure the Education Department that its financial aid program is discrimination free, because that is the only department in the college using federal funds.

Women's groups wanted the court to rule that federal anti-discrimination laws should apply "in any education program or an activity"

"The ruling was a victory for the Reagan administration, which argued that only the specific school programs or activities receiving federal aid should be subject to the anti-discrimination law."

ran off the road and into an orange grove.

Suspected Rapist Set For Trial This Week

A Sanford man who has pleaded guilty to sexual battery in Orange County is scheduled to be tried this week for a separate rape and kidnapping in Seminole County.

Gregory Rios, 20, of 134 Lakeside Drive, faces charges of kidnapping and raping an Altamonte Springs woman Aug. 17. He is slated to be sentenced in Orange County March 13 for the sexual battery of a bar employee in that county.

Rios was arrested on the rape and kidnapping charges by Seminole County investigators Aug. 18 at his home in the Park Ridge subdivision off Lake Mary Boulevard near U.S. Highway 17-92.

Investigators said the victim in the Seminole assault identified Rios' photograph while looking through a photo line-up.

The 20-year-old woman said she escaped from her assailant by jumping from his moving car after he had beaten and raped her at his house.

She told deputies she was at the Why Not lounge in the Holiday Inn at Wymore Road and State Road 436 in Altamonte Springs with her boss at about 8:30 p.m. when a man invited her and her boss to a party at another location.

She said she got into the man's white 1980 Toyota to drive to the party. Her boss was to drive his own vehicle.

The man, whom the victim said she knew slightly, stopped his car at his house, saying he needed to pick up some things for the party. She entered the house with him and he told her he would get what he wanted or he would get his gun and kill her, she said. She said he struck her in the face repeatedly with his hands, forcibly removed her clothes and raped her.

The pair then left the house and got into his car but the victim noticed he was not driving towards the location of the party and became concerned for her life.

She said that when she saw a Sanford police car pass by, she jumped out of the man's car and was found a short time later by officers on Lake Mary Boulevard. She was taken to Central Florida Regional Hospital where she was treated for injuries she received when she jumped from the car.

In the Orange County case, Rios went to a bar May 24 and spent several hours talking with a hostess each time he went to get change to play the video games, according to prosecutor Mark Blechman. At the end of the evening, the hostess went to her apartment with Rios. After she changed clothes, Rios told her he had a knife and raped her, Blechman said.

After the assault, Rios left to return to the bar. The woman called her roommate who worked at the bar and asked her for help. The friend got an off-duty police officer to detain Rios until an on-duty officer arrived and arrested him. The Seminole County rape Rios is charged with occurred while he was out on bail from the Orange County charge, Blechman said.

If convicted, Rios could receive up to 4 1/2 years in prison.

Up In Smoke

Anti-Smoking Law Has Many Steamed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The ash trays are being removed and "No Smoking" signs are going up in hundreds of offices in San Francisco, where a strong anti-smoking law goes into effect Thursday.

"They're taking my rights away," complained Cora Kitchen, a downtown office worker who smokes. "I would vote that you could smoke any damned place you want to."

The anti-smoking measure was approved by a narrow margin last November. In the past three months, every office was supposed to work out an official smoking policy. The policy has to satisfy every non-smoker. It doesn't have to satisfy the smokers.

The employer may be fined $500 a day if the ordinance is violated.

San Francisco Health Director Dr. Mervyn Silverman is charged with enforcing the law.

"There is no other law quite like this in the United States," Silverman said. "However, most people were informed about it thoroughly at the time the initiative was being debated. I don't expect there will be major problems. "Obviously, if there is 'no smoking' in the office and smokers aren't able to do their work, there will be a problem for the employer.

"The law will inconvenience smokers. But I think many of them will say, 'What the hell, it's so much trouble, I'll just give it up.' This is one of the healthiest things they could do."

Many of the city's large employers have already settled on smoking policies and are waiting to see if everyone is happy with them. Bank of America which has 11,000 workers, and Bechtel Corp. which has 10,000, have posted policy statements quoting the ordinance and designating smoking and non-smoking areas.

"In our policy, we make it clear that Bank of America respects both smokers and non-smokers," said Clarke E. Kerr, a company spokesman. "We don't make anyone second class citizens."

Bechtel likewise designates smoking and non-smoking areas in its offices. Smaller offices have a bigger problem. The law states that no employer is required to spend any money on partitions or new construction, but in that case, if there is an objection, all smoking must be banned.

Supervisor Wendy Nelder, a strong supporter of the law, insists that it does not take anyone's essential rights away but protects the "right of an employee to be in charge of whether he or she inhales second-hand smoke."

Ms. Nelder's office has been getting some rough telephone calls, apparently from smokers who are being ordered to lay off the cigarettes in the office. "Some of them are asking how many signatures it will take to get the law up for another referendum," a Nelder aide said.

Anti-smokers got the city Board of Supervisors to adopt the ordinance last June by a 10-to-1 vote. Smokers rebelled and signed petitions putting the issue on the election ballot last November.

The anti-smokers won — by a margin of less than 1 percent of 160,339 votes cast.

A Message Of Peace Washed Up In Bottle

MEDFORD, Ore. (UPI) — A Medford couple poking around along the shore near their condominium found a message in a bottle, apparently tossed into the Pacific in 1981 by two women in Japan worried about the threat of nuclear war.

"You always see jokes about the guy finding a bottle with a note in it," Walt Rich said. "But it was just fascinating. It's kind of like a personal letter."

Rich and his wife, Elaine, were picking through some driftwood near their Gold Beach condominium over the weekend when they found the moss-encrusted bottle containing the letter.

Michael Jackson, Solti Set Records For Grammys

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Superstar Michael Jackson and classical conductor Sir Georg Solti set Grammy records at the music academy awards show, but it was Jackson who dominated the telecast as convincingly as he ruled the airwaves the past year.

The Police ballad "Every Breath You Take" and the "Flashdance" soundtrack also scored major, multiple victories during the Tuesday night telecast.

Jackson won an unprecedented eight Grammys, including the top two awards — single record of the year for "Beat It" and album of the year for "Thriller," which spanned seven top-10 singles and has sold a record 30 million copies worldwide.

He also picked up three best male vocalist awards

— for rock with "Beat It," rhythm and blues with the single "Billie Jean" and pop with "Thriller."

He got the other three awards for "Billie Jean" as best new R&B song, as producer of the year with Quincy Jones for three tracks on "Thriller" and for best children's recording for his non-musical narration on "E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial."

Jackson's eight Grammys topped the previous record of seven won by Paul Simon with "Bridge Over Troubled Water" in 1970 and the six collected by Roger Miller with "King of the Road" in 1965. No other artist has won more than five in one year.

Jackson's triumph overshadowed Solti's success. The conductor won four classical Grammys to bring his career total to 23.

The Police won three awards, with "Every Breath You Take" taking honors for new song of the year and best pop performance by a duo or group.

The group won a third Grammy for the album "Synchronicity" as best rock performance by a duo or group.

The "Flashdance" soundtrack got three Grammys for original score of a movie or TV special, for Irene Cara as best female pop vocal and for "Love Theme" as best instrumental composition.

Other major winners chosen by members of the National Academy of Recording Arts & Sciences included Culture Club and Boy George as best new artist. The Tony-winning "Cats" by Andrew Lloyd Webber won for original cast show album. Pat Benatar's "Love Is a Battlefield" for female rock vocal performance and George Benson's "Being With You" for pop instrumental performance.

Among country winners were Anne Murray for "A Little Good News," Lee Greenwood for "I.O.U.," and Alabama for "The Closer You Get."

Closer Eye On Airline Safety

Although deregulation and new competition have put pressure on some segments of the airline industry to cut costs at the risk of safety, the Reagan administration has steadily reduced the number of Federal Aviation Administration safety inspectors. In 1981, there were 638; there are only 508 today. That decline has come at a time when the growth of small commuter lines has contributed to a near doubling of the nation's air carriers, from 35 to 65, and when one small airline after another has been shut down or suspended for safety violations — some of which cropped up only in the course of near accidents.

It's therefore welcome news that Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole has ordered the inspector force beefed up quickly to a total of 674. She also has ordered an increase in the number of regular and short-notice inspections to cover everything from airframes and engines to ground operations and maintenance procedures. A current task force evaluation of the entire safety-inspection program, which is expected to be completed in April, Dole said, will be the basis for still other safety initiatives.

The tougher new inspection program will concentrate on the smaller new commuter lines, but will not give the majors short shrift. Though Dole didn't suggest that air travel has become less safe, there surely has been reason for concern.

An Eastern Airlines DC-10, for example, lost three engines over the Atlantic last year because a mechanic forgot to install oil seals, and a Republic Airlines DC-9 made a forced landing at Phoenix, Ariz., with fewer than five gallons of fuel left in its tanks.

With the resignation of J. Lynn Helms as FAA chief, under a cloud from questions about his private business dealings before entering government service, Dole has nominated Donald D. Engen to head the agency. Engen, currently a member of the National Transportation Safety Board, is a former Navy pilot with considerable experience in both civilian and military safety investigations. He has been outspoken in warning of the dangers to safety standards attending deregulation. His practical background should assure the FAA's emphasis on safety.

It is good that Dole is redressing the administration's all-too-cavalier attitude. The nation has probably been lucky that it has been spared any major recent air disasters, but the trends certainly have not been reassuring.

Meese Appointment

It is no wonder that liberal groups in Washington are upset over President Reagan's choice of Edwin Meese to be attorney general. His views are far enough to the right to cause some uneasiness even in conservative ranks.

It was Meese, you will recall, who said some people dined at soup kitchens not because they were poor but because the soup was free. And it was Meese who labeled the American Civil Liberties Union part of "the criminals' lobby." Neither of those remarks suggests the kind of impartiality that the country is entitled to expect from the nation's highest law enforcement official.

Neither does Meese's long and close political association with Mr. Reagan. Putting a political crony in charge of the Justice Department, especially in an election year, is bound to raise questions about the ability of the department to resist partisan pressures.

The liberal groups say they will collect all of the adverse information they can get, in hopes of persuading the Senate to reject Meese. That is their privilege. Yet, unless they find something that shows him to be morally or ethically unfit in a fundamental sense, the Senate should not withhold confirmation.

Within very wide limits, a president has a right to appoint Cabinet members of his own liking. That's part of the political process. So remember: When you elect a president of a particular persuasion, you usually can expect appointees of the same sort.

BERRY'S WORLD

"HI THERE! Did you know this is 'Take a Plastic Person to Lunch Week'?"

By Diane Petryk

"Where's the beef?" seems to be the question these days, but according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture you might also ask "Rare or well done?"

No, no, this isn't warning that delicious, juicy rare steaks will ruin your digestive system. To the contrary, the USDA is saying rare beef has a larger quantity of some B vitamins than well done and may be better for you.

It seems that overcooking anything is being pegged as a waste of good vitamins these days. No more soggy vegetables. The USDA says cook them just enough so they're tender enough to eat. Use just enough water to prevent scorching or use a steamer. The amount of water you use in cooking vegetables has a large effect on the loss of water soluble vitamins, like Vitamin C, the B vitamins and some of the minerals. The smaller amount of water used the more food value retained. Left over cooking water shouldn't be discarded because it contains the vitamins that got washed out of the vegetables. You could use it with the vegetable or as a base for sauce or soup.

Then there's milk. The USDA says sitting it out on the table is out. Milk loses nutrients in sunlight or artificial light.

For more tips on how to cook and serve food in the way most likely to preserve vitamins, as well as how to prepare it for storage the USDA has published a new booklet entitled Conserving the Nutritive Value in Foods.

To store food properly, the booklet says, it is important to be sure your freezer and refrigerator are operating at the appropriate temperature. If your freezer can't keep foods at zero degrees, you probably should buy smaller quantities and restock frequently.

While some nutrients, like carbohydrates, are not affected by ordinary handling, others, such as Vitamin C, do need special care. Since Vitamin C is more delicate than other nutrients, if you follow procedures to preserve it, other nutrients will also be protected.

When storing vegetables, first trim them with care. Keep and use outer leaves when possible — they're a bountiful source of nutrients. Broccoli leaves have a much High Vitamin A value than broccoli stalks or buds. Since losses of Vitamins A and C occur when vegetable tissues are bruised, use a sharp blade when trimming, cutting or shredding fresh vegetables.

(You already know fresh are better than frozen, frozen better than canned.)

Refrigerate promptly vegetables such as kale, spinach, broccoli, turnip greens, chard and — in the vegetable crisper or moisture-proof bags to maintain high humidity.

To find out more, Conserving the Nutritive Values in Foods is available for $2.25 from Consumer Information Center, Dept. 140M, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. You'll also receive a free copy of the center's Consumer Information Catalog. It lists more than 200 free and moderately priced consumer booklets.

JACK ANDERSON Lebanon Warning Unheeded

WASHINGTON — The disintegration of the U.S.-trained Lebanese army is nearly complete. Moslem troops proved more loyal to their religious leaders than to their Christian officers, and deserted in wholesale lots. Some of them even wound up using the military skills their American advisers taught them to attack the presidential palace they were supposed to defend.

All of this has been mightily embarrassing to the Reagan administration, which had placed great faith in the reconstituted Lebanese army. President Reagan had, in fact, made it the keystone of his hopes for a settlement in Lebanon.

But the army's pathetic performance was foreseen a year ago by an unsung professional whose warnings were ignored. He's retired Army Col. James Wooten, who now analyzes military affairs for the Congressional Research Service, an arm of the Library of Congress. He claimed it was dangerous to put much reliance on the Lebanese army.

I have learned that the professionals usually are more reliable than the politicians. So I got hold of a copy of Wooten's "Policy Alert" and published excerpts in a column on April 3, 1983. The publicity didn't help; Wooten's message continued to go unheeded.

With almost pinpoint precision, his report warned that the weakness of the Lebanese army would make it difficult for the United States to achieve its goal of total foreign troop withdrawal. The army, which Wooten noted was in "very poor condition," would be unable to keep peace when challenged by the battle-hardened, highly motivated militias of the rival religious factions in Lebanon.

Wooten recommended taking time to resolve the inherent flaw in the Lebanese army: the hostility between its Christian and Moslem elements. Only when these differences had been settled would it be wise for the United States to stake its hopes on the army, he advised.

The Israelis, who shared the skepticism about the Lebanese army, got hold of his report and handed it to Philip Habib, President Reagan's Middle East envoy. Sources tell me Habib flung the report on the floor in a rage, and made a disparaging remark about the Congressional Research Service. Later, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin personally delivered the report to Sam Lewis, the U.S. ambassador to Israel.

The only result was that several intelligence analysts set to work trying to shoot holes in the report. Then they returned it to the author, pointing out various "errors."

Footnote: Wooten's views were shared by a few policy advisers — unfortunately, too few. Daniel Pipes, then with the State Department, recalls writing several memos warning of the folly of relying on the Lebanese army.

ROBERT WALTERS

NSDD 84: Muzzling Of Thousands

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Reagan soon will mark the first anniversary of one of the more irrational decisions of his tenure in the White House. Despite a year of criticism, he adamantly refuses to acknowledge his bad judgment.

On March 11, 1983, the president signed National Security Decision Directive 84, a repressive document which authorized a pervasive program of government censorship and invasion of privacy.

In the name of protecting national security, NSDD 84 and a subsequent executive order issued by the president on Aug. 24 of last year would:

- Require almost 130,000 employees of the federal government and its contractors to sign lifetime secrecy agreements, which would be enforced through court injunctions. Under these agreements, employees would pledge to submit whatever they write about their government service to pre-publication review by federal censors. The censors would then ensure that the writings do not reveal sensitive information.
- Subject more than 6.5 million individuals holding security clearances

JULIAN BOND

Santa Claus Or Scrooge?

After more than three years in office, Ronald Reagan remains an enigma to many people. Is he Santa Claus or Scrooge?

They can't quite match the genial, amiable, grandfatherly figure who used to sell General Electric stoves and refrigerators on TV with the belligerent warmonger who might push the button that ends the world.

They can't square the ready Irish wit and winning smile with the man who opposed Social Security or the president who wasn't sure if Martin Luther King Jr. was a communist. Part of the confusion lies in his tendency to quickly shift from one position to another.

Although he remains an avowed conservative, Reagan isn't above altering his beliefs when he thinks some political advantage can be achieved.

He reversed himself on support for the King birthday bill last year after it became clear that a bipartisan majority in both houses of Congress wanted to honor the slain civil rights leader.

He embraced legislation extending the 1965 Voting Rights Act only after attempts by his attorney general to gut the bill had failed.

More recently, the president publicly announced he would not "surrender" in Lebanon by removing American Marines, as House Speaker "Tip" O'Neill had suggested. Four days later, it was revealed that secret planning for the Marines' withdrawal was underway even as Reagan was publicly challenging the speaker's patriotism.

But the essential Ronald Reagan can be found in the budget.

In its pages is revealed the man who wanted to turn welfare programs over to the states, who believes that air pollution is caused by trees and who cut federal spending for poor people by one-half in his first two years in office.

While some observers had expected the president to moderate his plan to cut government spending by slashing social programs, a careful search through the lines and columns of the proposed 1985 budget reveals another assault on projects intended to assist the poor.

For the fourth year in a row, the real

Ronald Reagan has held fast to his view that government ought not help those who cannot help themselves. There have been no overnight reversals in the president's view that the poor should bear a disproportionate share of budget cuts.

The White House has recommended a total of $9.2 billion in cuts for domestic programs in fiscal 1985. But these reductions are scheduled to triple in just four years, so that domestic spending would be slashed by $32.5 billion in fiscal 1989.

In the 1985 budget, 40 percent of all domestic programs — $17 billion — would come from programs aimed at low-income families and individuals. These programs face heavy reductions despite the fact that they represent a small part of the overall budget. Spending for the poor and needy constituents just 10 percent of the total budget and only 19 percent of the domestic budget. But these programs were slashed to a greater degree than any others in Reagan's first three budgets.

Scheduled for the heaviest cuts are the discretionary programs for low-income families. In 1985, appropriations for these programs fell 21 percent below the level the budget itself indicates is necessary to maintain current services after adjusting for inflation.

Also included in the fiscal '85 budget are reductions in appropriations for needy students, low-income housing, low-income energy assistance, compensatory education for disadvantaged children, Head Start, job-training programs and more.

The Reagan budget would abolish legal services programs, community service block grants, work-incentive programs and supplementary education-opportunity grants.

If adopted, the cuts would represent a 17 percent reduction for low-income programs overall and a 28 percent reduction in low-income discretionary programs since Reagan took office.

They also represent an answer to the question of who Ronald Reagan really is: certainly not Santa Claus, although he does look an awful lot like Scrooge.

VIEWPOINT When Everyone Casts Vote

By Baker Smith

(Editor's Note: Baker Smith is a staff writer for the USBIC Writer's Group. His column is published in a variety of newspapers throughout the United States.)

MEXICO CITY, Mexico — As one who has traveled across the United States-Canadian border, I am struck by the differences in our equally close and long-standing neighbor to the South. For example, many more Mexicans are intent on exchanging the life they have in Mexico for a new life in the United States.

Mexico's economy has a lot to do with the border relations. Why is the economy so different South of the border? Why has the peso fallen so compared to the dollar? Why should a country with climate, natural resources and people not very different from the United States have such great financial problems? Why should Mexico with its vast petroleum reserves be allowing corrupt union officials to plunder its profits?

Mexico is a country rich in opportunity, but with many citizens seemingly trapped in poverty. Successful Mexicans tell me they worry about the poor, but feel powerless to change the status quo.

Obviously, the nationalized oil industry is a clear indicator that Mexico's government has wrested control from the market sector of industries in which it has no expertise or right. And nationalized government services are primed for irresponsible union officials to ultimately take control. Isolated even further from free market forces. But the roots of the problem go deeper than nationalization of oil and banks and union control of government.

As one Mexican leader told me, Mexico has had the universal right to vote since just after the turn of the century, much longer than the United States. Under this voting right, Mexicans have voted regardless of literacy, education, property ownership or taxpayer status. Consequently, the Mexican leader felt, voters were allowing the government to intrude into the economy, without having any basis for appreciating that the government cannot deliver what it cannot create.

The U.S. has only gradually broken down all the safeguards on the voting right. While the constitution had left individual voting qualifications almost entirely to the states, the U.S. Supreme Court has gradually eliminated the rules over about the last 20 years. The term "one person — one vote" appears nowhere in the Constitution, but was popularized and legalized by the Supreme Court.

These changes in U.S. voting laws are not without consequences, similar to Mexico's. U.S. voters are apparently more and more irresponsible.

limited because it affects only those armed services and employees of government contractors — to the threat of polygraph tests, which would be administered randomly to thwart unauthorized disclosure of classified data.

Both houses of Congress — led by the Republican-controlled Senate — found these measures so abhorrent that they overwhelmingly approved legislation suspending implementation of NSDD 84 until April 15 of this year.

Those who refuse to take polygraph tests would be subject to demotion, transfer or other adverse action, even though numerous government studies have concluded that such tests are inherently unreliable.

Dr. John F. Beary, an assistant secretary of defense, charges that the lie detector "misclassifies innocent people as liars." The Federal Office of Technology Assessment asserts, that "there is no scientific evidence to establish the validity of polygraph testing," and that it "incorrectly identifies significant numbers of innocent persons as deceptive."

The censorship program is more the censorship program could easily be abused, with information suppressed for partisan political reasons or to cover up incompetence rather than to protect national security.

It also poses a serious threat to democracy because it unjustifiably restricts public debate. In the 1971 Pentagon Papers case, one of the U.S. Supreme Court's concurring majority opinions eloquently noted:

"Secrecy in government is fundamentally anti-democratic... Open debate and discussion of public issues are vital to our national health. On public issues, there should be uninhibited, robust and wide-open debate."

Under intense pressure, the White House recently announced that Reagan was suspending implementation of NSDD 84, but that may be a political ploy to prevent the directive from becoming an issue in the president's re-election campaign.

NSDD 84 is nothing more than a manifestation of Reagan's unwarranted paranoia about "leaks." It ought to be permanently withdrawn rather than temporarily suspended.

School Board Sets Special Meeting On Elementaries' Attendance Zones

Parents of the 3,650 students who may be shifted to different elementary schools in the Sanford-Lake Mary area for the 1984-85 school year will have the chance to comment on proposed attendance zones at a special one-item meeting of the Seminole County School Board at 7:30 p.m., March 7.

And the planned $7.5 million "Middle School X" in Lake Mary has come closer to reality with the approval by the school board of a proposed agreement to expand the school site. Under the agreement the board will purchase 10 acres for $250,000 in The Crossings planned unit development near Lake Mary Boulevard and Longwood-Lake Mary Road.

At the March 7 meeting, the recommendations of a task force on attendance zones for six elementary schools in the north end of the county — Lake Mary, Pine Crest, Goldsboro, the new Hamilton, Edgewood and Wilson — will be revealed.

The report takes into account the phasing out of Southside, Hopper and Sanford Grammar, all Sanford elementary schools, and the phasing in of the new Hamilton Elementary, now under construction, and the beefing up of Pine Crest and Goldsboro to full kindergarten through fifth grade schools. At this time, Pine Crest has K through third grade and Goldsboro has kindergarten, fourth and fifth grades under a pairing arrangement which was part of the federal court's 1970 desegregation order.

Prior to 1970, Pine Crest was a white school, Goldsboro a black school.

In recommending attendance zones for the six schools, the task force, headed by Caren Gager, principal of Pine Crest, was instructed to have as near equal black to white ratio of students at all the schools effected and to shift to different schools as few students as possible.

On Middle School X, the 10-acres to be purchased will be adjacent to 15 acres to be donated to the school system by the Crossings Limited, developers.

The 25-acre parcel abuts the Lake Mary High School campus.

In the proposed purchase, School Board attorney Ned Julian Jr. said the buy is contingent upon the developers gaining approval from the county commission for changing the planned unit development plan to permit the chosen property to be used for the school.

The developers are also supposed to grant the school board a drainage easement, a water and sewer availability commitment, and to pave two roads adjoining the school site prior to the opening of school in the 1985-86 school year.

Average After-Tax Income Dropped By $465 in 1981

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Increasing unemployment and recession bit into the average American's earnings in 1981, cutting it $465 to $17,495 after taxes, and the typical black family took home only $12,083, the Census Bureau said.

"Increasing unemployment and the onset of the recession during the second half of 1981 contributed to the decline in purchasing power of the average American household during 1981," the bureau said.

In releasing the latest figures available, the bureau said the drop in income was cushioned somewhat by a 1.25 percent reduction in federal taxes.

The average household income before taxes totaled $22,790 in 1981, a 2 percent drop from 1980 after accounting for the 10.4 percent rise in consumer prices, the report said.

Federal and state income taxes, Social Security taxes and property taxes on owner-occupied housing soaked up 23 percent of total household income, it said.

The average white household earned $18,146 after taxes in 1981, down 2.4 percent from $18,600 the year before, the study said, and blacks took home $12,083 in 1981, compared with $12,683 in 1980 — a 4.4 percent drop.

The Census Bureau said Spanish-American households earned $14,816 in 1981 after taxes, down from $14,955 a year before.

The average married couple with children earned $21,764 in 1981 after taxes, down from $22,646, the report said, and the typical couple without children had a $21,119 after-tax income in 1981, compared with $21,371 in 1980.

The average woman with children who had no husband present at the household had an after-tax income of $10,570 in 1981, down from $10,917 in 1980, the study said.

Broken down by age, households headed by a person under 65 years of age had an average $18,846 after-tax income in 1981, down from $19,469, while that of 65 and older had $12,324 in 1981, compared with $12,120 in 1980.

Examining the regions, the report said the average household after-tax earning in the West was $18,522 in 1981, compared to $19,006 in 1980; $17,490 in the North Central, against $18,142 in 1980; $17,477 in the Northeast, compared to $17,933 in 1980; and $16,907 in the South against $17,215 in 1980.

The study said three out of four households paid some federal income taxes in 1981, averaging $4,330.

Gemayel Gets Red Carpet Reception

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — President Amin Gemayel arrived in Damascus today to a red-carpet reception and 21-gun salute from Syrian President Hafez Assad and summit talks seen as a prelude to the scrapping of the Lebanese-Israeli troop withdrawal agreement.

Gemayel, on his first visit to Syria since taking office 17 months ago, was met at Damascus airport by Assad, Syrian Foreign Minister Abdul Halim Khaddam, and top Syrian officials, the state-run Syrian Arab News Agency said.

As Gemayel left his private jet to a 21-gun salute, Lebanon's warring factions were trading machine-gun fire across the Green Line dividing Moslem and Christian Beirut, and clashed on the hills overlooking the capital.

Despite the fighting, the mood in Moslem west Beirut was jubilation that Gemayel was finally ready to bow to their pressure to treat with Damascus. Minutes after Gemayel's departure was reported on Beirut state radio, militiamen fired off machine guns and rocket grenades in the air in a display of joy.

The Beirut and mountain fighting continued while Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger traveled from London for a short visit with U.S. Navy and Marine personnel on U.S. warships off the Lebanese coast.

A spokesman for the 110 Marines guarding the U.S. Embassy said the embassy compound on the seafloor in west Beirut was caught in the middle of a gunbattle Tuesday as gunmen on a speedboat opened fire on Druze militiamen guarding the area.

Tearful Reminder

A trio of men were found crying their eyes out in Sanford Sunday morning.

According to Sanford fire and police reports, Victor Johnson, of 106 Silver Maple Terrace, and Mark Peterson and Mike Whidden, both of Peirson, Fla., were in the living room of Johnson house at 12:42 a.m. when Johnson's brother-in-law, one of the two visitors, decided to look at one of Johnsons' souvenirs.

In the process, the brother-in-law accidentally discharged the tear gas grenade.

The canister, spewing an eye and skin irritant, caused the men to scramble and in their rush to get out of the house any way possible they broke out a window.

The canister caused a small fire in the living room which was put out. Emergency medical technicians treated the men at the scene for inhalation of the gas.

Despite their tears, none were injured in any way requiring hospital treatment.

Witnesses said the Beirut's rightist Voice of Lebanon radio station, interrupting its regular programs, said several Christian neighborhoods were shelled by Syrian-backed Druze artillery batteries in the Aley and Shouf mountains east of the capital.

There were no reliable reports of casualties.

Laser Gives Sight To Blind

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Two blind patients once given no hope of seeing were able to read the letter E on an eye chart after laser eye surgery. Cleveland Clinic ophthalmologists said.

Surgeons briefed reporters Tuesday about carbon dioxide laser eye surgery that reduces the risks of complications from conventional eye surgery.

"The carbon dioxide laser appears to be promising for decreasing the high risk of complications in very difficult surgery in the eye," one of the surgeons said.

Five patients, who received the laser surgery ran a 70 percent to 80 percent risk of complication had surgery been done using conventional surgical knives.

Instead, doctors used the invisible light of a carbon dioxide laser to sever scar tissue and cauterize blood vessels, allowing the previously detached retina to return to its normal position.

One of two patients helped by the new surgery was blind in both eyes and the other was blind in one eye. The two patients reported that the surgery helped to restore partial vision.

"These cases were written off" before the experimental surgery, said Dr. Froncie Gutman, chairman of the ophthalmology department.

Gutman said two other institutions have carbon dioxide lasers for eye surgery, but he believes the clinic is the first in the country to use it. The clinic began treating patients with the technique six weeks ago.

Moses Leads Trojans Past Tribe, 72-58

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

ORLANDO — The way Orlando Evans coach Rudy Tapia sounded before Tuesday night's game against Sanford's Fighting Seminoles, his Trojans might need some help from above to get by the Seminoles.

Although there weren't any signs of divine intervention Tuesday night, a guy named Moses was the savior for the Trojans. Moses Gordon, a 6-4 senior who averaged 10 points per game during the regular season, came through with the best game of his career as he poured in 26 points and grabbed 13 rebounds to lead Evans to a 72-58 victory over Seminole in the 4A Region 5 playoff at the Evans High "Snake Pit."

Evans, 20-12, now plays Palm Beach Gardens, which topped Stuart Martin County for the Region 6 title, 59-47. Saturday's sectional champ earns a trip to the state tournament in Lakeland.

"We were scared of the Seminole ballclub," Tapia said after the Trojans triumph. "We knew we were going to be in for a tough night."

It was Gordon's uncanny accuracy from the outside and tough play underneath that was the key for the Trojans. On numerous occasions, when Seminole started getting close, Gordon hit from the outside or got an offensive rebound and made the follow up.

"He was out of his mind tonight," Tapia said of Gordon's performance. "Moses came to play tonight and he did a super job."

Gordon's six points and four rebounds in the first quarter helped Evans take a two-point lead, 12-10, into the second. The Trojans then took charge early in the second quarter, scoring six straight points at the outset, four by Gordon, to take a 18-10 lead. Evans went up by as much as 11, 23-12, in the second quarter, but the Seminoles fought back to within three, 27-24, at halftime behind the hot shooting of Stephen Grey and Willie Mitchell.

Prep Basketball

Evans rallied for an eight-point lead late in the fourth quarter, but Seminole trimmed it to four, 40-36. Gordon came back to hit a jumper in the last seconds of the quarter to give the Trojans a six-point lead, 42-36, going into the fourth.

The Trojans stayed up by eight points early in the fourth quarter, but Seminole then made its best run of the game. Mitchell hit a jumper to cut Evans' lead to six, 48-42, then came back to make two free throws to cut it to four, 48-44.

Gordon then grabbed an offensive rebound and banked in the follow up to put the Trojans back up by six, 50-44, but Mitchell came right back with 5:24 remaining in the game to swish in another jumper to make it 50-46. After Mitchell's shot went in, Grey was fouled by Evans' Robert Worthington and went out of the line for a one-and-one and a chance to cut Evans' lead to two.

Grey missed the front end, though, and Evans ran off four quick points to go back up by eight, 54-46, with 4:41 remaining.

The Fighting Seminoles' old nemesis, free throw shooting, came back to haunt them again, as they made just 2 of 5 free tosses in the next two minutes. Gordon made a pair of free throws with two minutes remaining to put the Trojans up by 10, 60-50.

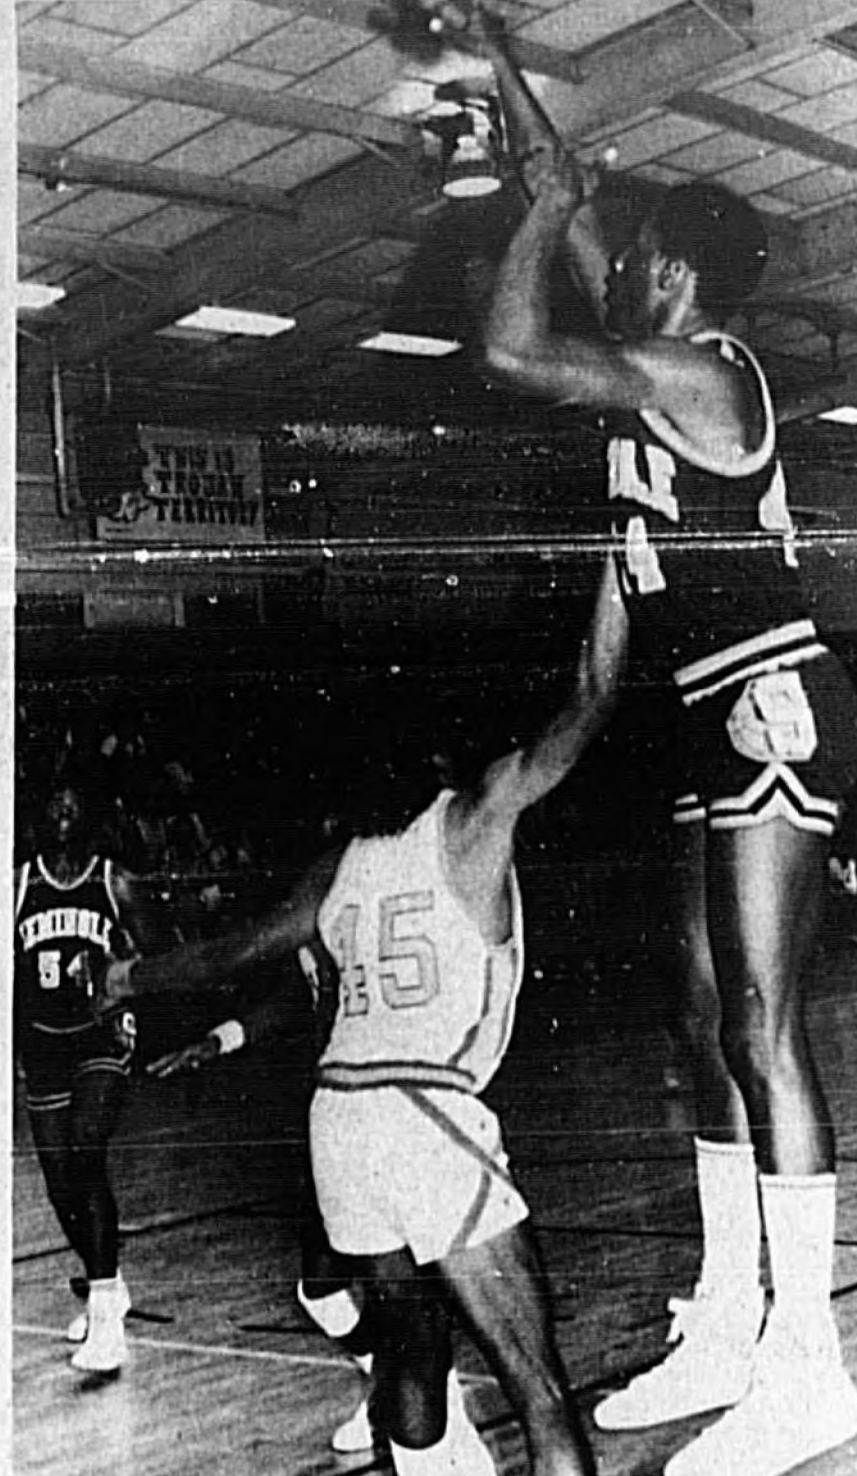

and put the first nail in Seminole's coffin.

Evans went on to make six of its next seven attempts from the line to take a 13-point lead, 66-53, with 1:11 remaining, sealing the victory.

Behind Gordon's outstanding effort for Evans, John Hadley added 15 points and eight rebounds, Fred Shorter tossed in 11 points and Worthington added nine. Mitchell led the Tribe with 22 points. Grey pumped in 14 and James Rouse added eight. Jimmy Gilchrist led Seminole underneath with nine rebounds.

Seminole had its ups and downs Tuesday night in its regional loss to Orlando Evans. Above, Jimmy Gilchrist goes up to pop in a jumper against Mose Gordon. At the left, Willie Mitchell grimaces as the ball bounces off his foot and out of bounds. Gordon, Orlando's 6-5 center, threw in 26 points and grabbed 13 rebounds to lead the Evans' victory. Mitchell finished with 22 points.

Willie Mitchell — Even When You Beat Him He's A Winner

It's hard sometimes to see through the smoke of coaches. Are they really telling you the truth about the awe or respect they have for an opponent, or is it just window dressing?

Coaching is definitely a fraternity where most of the time (on the record anyway) prep coaches fall all over themselves trying to compliment the other team.

Rudy Tapia, who is a fine and respected coach at Evans High, was full of praise for Seminole's basketball team and its coach Chris Marlette Sunday night when I talked to him. He reiterated the praise Monday night on a local television station. And even after his Trojans had handed Seminole Tuesday night by a convincing 72-58 count, he was still impressed with the 'Noles.

Which is probably a good indicator of his sincerity. A coach can say all he wants before the game, but after the game is really what counts.

Was Tapia legitimately scared of Seminole? Yes, he was. "Those Seminole kids never quit," he said. "I thought we were going to blow them out in the first half, but that press was just amazing. They just hustled and hustled and hustled."

Most coaches will tell you that if they can get their kids to play hard — they're satisfied. I've witnessed 27 of Seminole's 33 basketball games and I've never seen these players give up or give in. That is an outgrowth of their coach, Marlette.

That never-die attitude was there Tuesday night, too. Although they were hopelessly out of it with just a minute to play, guard Stephen Grey was diving on the floor for loose balls. Bruce Franklin was scrambling all over the court looking for steals. James Rouse was leaping up and down, trying to swat away the inbound pass. Jimmy Gilchrist, with an unending supply of rubber in his legs, was still springing for rebounds.

But the most impressive Seminole is Willie Mitchell. Mitchell has the determination and competitiveness of a champion. It's no doubt this determination has made him one of the top players in the state.

Mitchell is just 6-3. He should not be a high school center. But he posts himself so well and shoots so well with people all over him that he is almost unstoppable once he has the ball inside the paint.

"That Willie Mitchell is everything they said he was," said Tapia about the Sanford senior. "Boy, he can fill it up. I got scared every time he got the ball."

Mitchell finished with 22 points. He hit them from inside and outside. It was a tough loss for the big senior. Sometimes his competitiveness got him in trouble. He tried too hard. On two occasions, he bounced the ball off his foot and out of bounds going to the hoop. He has been a starter for three years and he doesn't want to admit he's beat — even when he is.

With just seven seconds to play Mitchell was perched on the free throw line. Seminole trailed by a bunch. Mitchell swished his first free throw. The game was over, but he wouldn't admit it. On his second try, Mitchell purposely tossed the ball off the front of the rim and tried to grab the rebound.

The referee whistled that he had stepped over the line too early. Would Mitchell finally admit defeat. No way. He just gritted his teeth and jumped into his position on the Seminole press.

Willie Mitchell — even when you beat him he comes out a winner.

Above, James Rouse harasses Joe Harris on the Seminole press. At the right, guard Steve Grey popped in a jump shot. Grey, a senior, came through with one of the best games of his prep career with 14 points, but the Fighting Seminole still fell to Orlando Evans in the 4A Region 5 basketball tournament at Evans High Tuesday night.

Silver Hawks' 6-Run Innings Crush Oviedo

By Lou Stefano
Herald Sports Writer

The pitching wasn't there for the Lake Howell Silver Hawks Tuesday afternoon but they didn't really need it as they erupted for six first-inning runs and six fifth-inning runs en route to a 16-4 thrashing of Oviedo in prep baseball at Lake Howell High. The game was stopped after five innings because of the slaughter rule.

"They came out and they hit the ball," said Oviedo coach Howard Mabie. "We just threw b.p (batting practice) in the first part of the game."

"The kids hit the ball well today," beamed Lake Howell coach Birt Benjamin. "We've been hitting the ball well the last five ball games but the only thing is that we've been having our problems at home. We've lost to three teams at home and then we go to their place and we beat them."

It looked like the same old story for the Hawks in the first inning. Eric Shogren led off Oviedo's half of the first with a single off starting pitcher Damon Marlette. Two infield errors moved him over to third base. From there Oviedo starting pitcher Darrin Reichle helped his own cause by driving Shogren home with a single.

But unlike earlier games this season, the Silver Hawks came right back in their end of the first.

Jeff Poindexter led off with a walk off Reichle. Jay Robey's double drove Poindexter around and the rout was on. Van Golmont added a single and Tony Bellow's error on Bill Lang's grounder put runners on second and third with one out. Vic Roberts singled to left to bring home Robey but was thrown out trying to stretch his hit to a double.

John Canfield singled to set up Scott Munson. Lake Howell's switch-hitting designated hitter, who promptly slapped a two-run single. Poindexter ripped a single that scored Munson but Jim Royal, who had singled, was thrown out trying to score.

Jeff Greene had come in to pitch for Reichle after Canfield singled but could not curb the Lake Howell tide.

"Today we responded," Benjamin said. "They scored a run and we came back and scored six."

Oviedo picked up a run in the second but Lake Howell came back for three more, highlighted by Golmont's run-scoring single and Roberts' run-scoring sacrifice fly.

Even though he had a lot of runs to play with, Silver Hawk starting pitcher Marlette struggled in an effort to find the plate. In the third inning he escaped harm when he allowed a single and two walks but with two down, Ivan Padilla ripped a scorching line drive right at third baseman Golmont for the third out.

Marlette's replacement, Todd Minotti, wasn't much more efficient. Minotti came on in the fourth and gave up a two run homer by Reichle and walked the bases full in the top of the fifth. It could have put the Lions back in the ball game but Canfield, playing shortstop, came through with a 6-3 double play to end the threat.

"I wasn't pleased with our pitching performances today," Benjamin said. "Our problem is that our pitchers don't throw strikes. We try to tell them, 'If a team is going to beat us, make them earn it by hitting the baseball.' If we can get our pitchers mentally tough to throw strikes we'll be all right."

"I think the cold affected Marlette today," Benjamin went on to say about

IN BRIEF

Casino Stock Sale Halted By Gerald Lewis

MIAMI (UPI) — The state comptroller's office has stopped the sale of a very speculative casino stock sale just hours before a support group's deadline to sell 1.5 million shares to finance a pro-gambling campaign.

The cease and desist order was filed Tuesday by comptroller Gerald Lewis against Florida Casino Associates, its political action committee Citizens for Less Taxes, Inc. and stock broker Earl W. Shomber. Lewis charged Shomber and the two groups with making false representations in their efforts to sell stock.

The money is to be used in a campaign in support of legalizing casino gambling in the state.

Proposition 1 Warning

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Floridians who vote for the "citizens choice" amendment to voice their distaste for government will be biting off more revenue than the state can afford to lose, says the House budget chief.

Rep. Herb Morgan, D-Tallahassee, and local developer J.T. Williams head the Leon County chapter of "Florida's Future Inc.," the non-profit organization Gov. Bob Graham founded to fight Amendment 1 on the November ballot. At a news conference Tuesday, Morgan and Williams warned that government spending limits in the amendment would leave no room for Florida's burgeoning population growth in the remainder of this century.

Williams and Morgan emphasized that Florida's population growth is increasing demands on police, utilities and education agencies.

Fonda Visits Burdines

NORTH MIAMI (UPI) — Actress Jane Fonda visited Miami to promote her line of sportswear despite being branded a "leftist communist" by a Spanish language radio station and a bomb threat at one department store.

Ms. Fonda, wearing a pink print shirt under a half-buttoned pink-striped cotton button-down shirt, a pink skirt and high, red lace-up boots, was scheduled to make publicity visits at two Burdines department stores today. Her surprise visit came Tuesday after store officials canceled those appearances because of the bomb threat.

No bombs were found in the store and Ms. Fonda called the Cuban exile community campaign against her ironic. "My personal appearances were canceled because of a very small, vocal group."

City Won't Charge School For Water Hook-Up

By Donna Estes Herald Staff Writer

The new Hamilton Elementary School in Sanford will be served with city water and sewer service and no connection fee will be levied against the board by the city of Sanford.

City Attorney Bill Colbert told the Sanford City Commission Monday night that a state law passed in 1982 or 1983 specifically exempts school boards from paying connection fees for utilities or impact fees.

He said he talked with the Florida League of Cities counsel who confirmed that the city can only charge the actual costs of providing the service.

And in response to a letter from School Superintendent Robert Hughes, Mayor Lee P. Moore instructed the city staff to thank the superintendent for putting the city on notice the service is needed and that the city can only collect actual costs. He said he talked with the Florida League of Cities counsel who confirmed that the city can only charge the actual costs of providing the service.

And in response to a letter from School Superintendent Robert Hughes, Mayor Lee P. Moore instructed the city staff to thank the superintendent for putting the city on notice the service is needed and that the city can only collect actual cooperative an attitude to legislation being proposed by the school board to exempt the school system from city and county zoning and planning regulations or alternatively giving school boards the right to appeal local decisions to the governor and cabinet.

"I don't think the school board should have any more right than anyone else" in zoning and planning matters, said Commissioner Milton Smith.

And Commissioner David Farr said the school board should also have to comply with building codes.

Colbert was instructed to state the city's position at any meeting of the Seminole County Legislative Delegation with the school board on the board's legislative program for the 1984 session of the Florida Legislature.

The school board decided to seek the legislation after Seminole County turned down a zoning change for a tract between 73rd Street and 81st Street, Road 427 when adjacent property owners and others complained that the board proposal to build a school bus-maintenance-food service and distribution center at the site would violate the county's comprehensive land plan. The county's plan calls for the neighborhood to be residential.

The Sanford City Commission also turned down a site plan for the Hamilton School when architects planned to funnel bus traffic onto residential Eighth Street. After the city turned down the plan was changed to channel the bus traffic to Celery Avenue.

Seminole County, 14 Others Eligible For Low-Interest Loans

Qualified farmers and growers in Seminole County are eligible for low-interest loans from the Farmers Home Administration because of losses suffered in the Christmas Freeze.

The FmHA declared Seminole County and five other counties as farm disaster areas Tuesday. The six counties were added to a list of nine already declared disaster areas by the FmHA two weeks ago. The 15 counties declared disaster areas are: Seminole, Volusia, Orange, Brevard, Hardy, Sumpter, Marion, Citrus, Hernando, Hillsborough, Lake, Osceola, Pasco, Pinellas, and Polk.

Seminole County farmers and growers became eligible for the low-interest loans from the FmHA Tuesday because the area received at least a 30-percent crop damage during the Christmas Freeze, according to Leslie Gabel of the FmHA in Gainesville.

Last week, the Small Business Administration also declared Seminole and Volusia counties disaster areas and approved low-interest loans for farmers and growers in those counties.

Farmers and growers in the area who are eligible for FmHA loans can borrow up to $500,000 at 8 percent

EPA Eyes Leaded Gas Ban

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Environmental Protection Agency is considering a ban on leaded gasoline because of health hazards and improper use in cars designed to burn only unleaded gas, a published report said today.

In today's editions of The Washington Post, EPA Administrator William Ruckelshaus said the EPA had built a case that concluded the ban would outweigh the economic effects of such a rule.

He said high levels of lead are a health hazard and said lead content "builds up in children, primarily inner-city children" living near heavy traffic that puts lead in the air.

About 120 million pounds of lead are discharged annually into the air nationwide, most of it from vehicle exhaust. EPA officials told the Post.

The EPA tightened its lead standards two years ago, and all leaded gas is due to be phased out by 1990.

Amtrak Killer Gets Life

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — Evangelista Navas Villabona blew a kiss to jurors who spared him from death and instead ordered him to spend his life in prison for killing his infant nephew during a three-day train siege.

Judge Coy E. Brewer Jr. imposed the sentence today for involuntary manslaughter in the death of his sister, Maria Isabel Ramirez, 24. Navas was also convicted Tuesday of the first-degree murder of Ms. Ramirez' son, 8-month-old Juan Fernando Ramirez, who died of dehydration.

Airmen Killed In Crash

BORJA, Spain (UPI) — A U.S. military plane on maneuvers in northeast Spain crashed into a hill during a snowstorm and broke apart, killing all 17 American airmen and a Spanish observer on board, officials said today.

U.S. Air Force officials in West Germany, where the plane was based, said all 18 bodies were recovered from the burned hulk of the Hercules C-130 turbo prop by Spanish and American searchers about 12 hours after it went down Tuesday.

Spanish air force officials in Madrid said the plane's doors apparently were open when it crashed and some of the airmen had pulled their parachute ripcords, either in preparation for the exercises or to try a last-ditch escape before impact.

Disaster Training Set

With the need for additional volunteers to work in disaster services in Seminole County, the Red Cross will sponsor a new set of disaster training courses beginning at 7:30 p.m., March 6 at the Community United Methodist Church in Casselberry.

Volunteers will be trained to assist in all types of natural disasters — hurricanes and tornadoes — and how to provide aid to victims of single-family fires.

The courses will continue on a one-night-per-week basis into the hurricane season which begins June 1.

Cook Of The Week

New Resident Shares Special Recipes

Wanda Linden prepares seafood

By Karen Warner
Herald Correspondent

This week's "cook" is one of Lake Mary's newest residents. Wanda Linden, strawberry-blonde with an enchanting smile, moved down to Florida just three weeks ago from Wilmington, Del.

Wanda and her husband, Frank, both former lab-technicians with DuPont, are excited about starting all over again in a new state. "Frank's mother, Stella Linden, asked us to come down and share her home and with the cold weather up North, we decided to take her up on her offer," she said. "My mother-in-law and I are probably closer than most mothers and daughters are anyway."

Wanda has spent a great part of her life around good food. "I grew up in a restaurant," she said. "My aunt and uncle owned a family restaurant up in Delaware, and for 14 years I did everything from waitress to eventually becoming the manager."

One of her favorite foods is seafood. "We love every kind of seafood. My recipe for Lemon Batter Fish is a family favorite," she said.

LEMON BATTER FISH

1 cup unsifted flour
3/4 cup water
1/2 cup or less Real-Lemon lemon juice
1 egg beaten
1 teaspoon baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon sugar
1 lb. fish fillet or any kind of fish thawed

For Dipping:
Real-Lemon juice
Flour
Vegetable oil
In medium bowl mix flour, water and 1/2 cup real-lemon, egg, baking powder, salt and sugar. Dip fish in real-lemon, coat with flour, then batter.

Fry in hot oil until golden brown. (May also be used for shrimp, scallops or oysters.)

PEAR STUDED BROWNIES

2 eggs
1 cup sugar
2/5 cup butter or margarine (melted)
1 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cup flour
1/2 cup unsweetened cocoa
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups coarsely chopped fresh Bartlett Pears
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
Beat eggs well and blend in sugar, butter and vanilla. Beat until sugar is dissolved. Combine flour, cocoa, baking powder and salt. Stir mixture into egg mixture until smooth.

Fold in pears and nuts. Pour into greased 8" square baking pan. Bake at 350° 30 to 35 minutes.

SOUR CREAM PEANUT BUTTER FUDGE

2 cups white sugar
1/4 cup white corn syrup
1/2 cup sour cream
1/2 stick (4 tablespoons) margarine
1/2 cup peanut butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cook sugar, sour cream and margarine until it forms a soft ball in ice water. (Try a candy thermometer. They really work). Remove from heat. Add peanut butter and vanilla.

When pan is cool enough to put hand on bottom, heat until the candy loses its gloss; then quickly pour into a buttered pan.

NO COOK PEANUT BUTTER FUDGE

1 box confectioners sugar (1 lb. 0)
3 heaping tablespoons cocoa
1/2 lb (2 sticks) butter or margarine
3 heaping tablespoons peanut butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
Blend confectioners sugar and cocoa and set aside. Over low heat, melt butter and peanut butter, stirring. Pour this over the sugar mixture and add vanilla. Mix well. Pour into a greased 8" pan (square) Refrigerate for two hours. Cut into squares.

CRABCAKE

1 lb. crab meat
2 eggs, beaten
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup cracker meal
3 teaspoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon mustard
Dash Worcestershire sauce
Mix together. Make patties. Fry low-medium heat in 1/2 stick margarine or butter.

POTATO CASSEROLE

1 to 2 lb. frozen hash browns, thawed.
Melt 1/2 cup butter (or margarine). Pour over hash browns.
Mix:
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 cups (16 oz.) sour cream
8 oz. shredded Cheddar cheese
1 can cream of chicken soup (undiluted)
Put crushed corn flakes (1 cup or so, to your own taste) mixed with 1/2 cup melted butter over top. Bake at 350° for 45 minutes.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Having Difficulty Swallowing Food?

DEAR DR. LAMB - I went to my doctor for a swallowing problem and he found a slight hiatal hernia. He prescribed an antacid, but I only took Roloids.

I sent for your Health Letter on hiatal hernias and it has been very helpful. Now I only take an occasional Rolaid and I've eliminated the heartburn. But I still have trouble swallowing food. The food builds up in the esophagus and I have to drink a lot of water, about three glasses with every meal. Is this due to the hernia?

DEAR READER - The fact that you had heartburn suggests you had esophageal reflux. The acid contents of the stomach leaked backward into your lower esophagus. The constant irritation of the lower esophagus can cause scarring. The contracted scar may make it difficult for food to pass easily into your stomach.

You also can have the same problem if the esophagus goes into a spasm. The food lodges in the lower esophagus. In some people, the amount of food that accumulates in the esophagus without passing into the stomach can provoke the vomiting of undigested food.

Anyone having trouble swallowing needs a careful examination. You must be sure there's no malignancy in the esophagus. A diverticulum (pocket) of the esophagus can cause similar problems. A doctor may need to put a scope down your esophagus to see directly what's there.

You also may need some dilatations if the lower part of the esophagus is contracted. That often helps to relieve the situation before the scar contracts.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have a small, innocuous sebaceous cyst on my back, which the doctors say I don't have to remove unless it becomes infected. I'd rather not have it removed, but my spouse feels I should.

What exactly is a sebaceous cyst? I know it has to do with sebum, but I'm not sure what sebum is.

DEAR READER - Sebum is an oily secretion produced by glands inside your skin. It's the same material that forms whiteheads, some of which change color and become blackheads. The oily material normally comes to the surface of the skin to work as a natural moisturizer and lubricator.

When the ducts that drain the sebaceous glands become obstructed, the material accumulates within the skin and forms a cyst. They usually contain this sebaceous material in a little sac. These cysts can be small or large. If they are unsightly or in a location where they might cause a mechanical problem, a simple incision can be made over the cyst and the entire cyst removed.

They aren't cancerous. As your doctor has told you, they are harmless unless they become infected.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, West, and East hands with cards and scores.

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

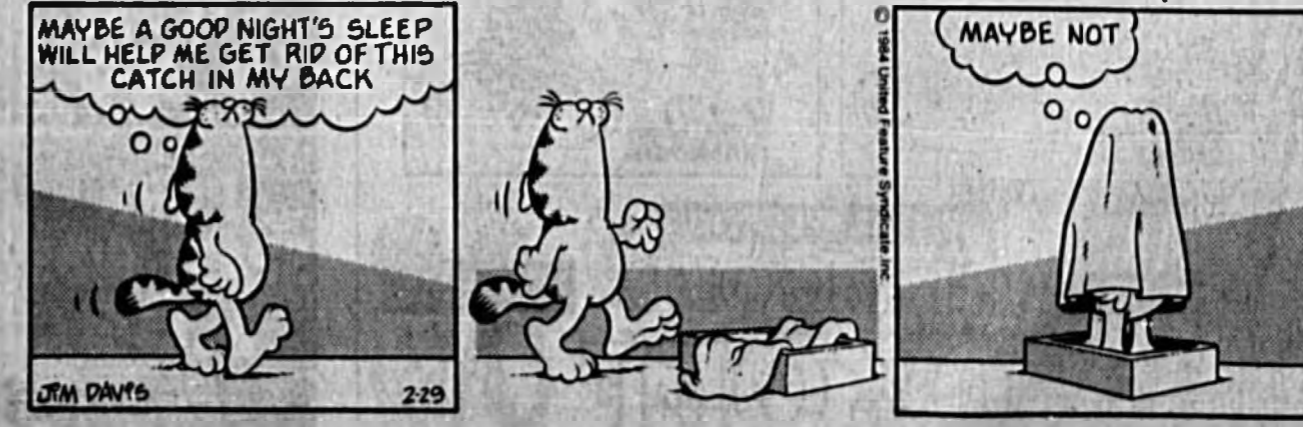

Jim: "In the finals of a national team championship you can expect to see a departure from the fundamentals. Today's hand features Edgar Kaplan as declarer, partnered with Oswald Jacoby. Jacoby's bidding requested Kaplan to bid a spade slam if his spade suit was strong, and Kaplan accepted that invitation."

declarer's heart suit. Instead he decided to be deceptive and played a small diamond. From declarer Kaplan's point of view, if that lead were a singleton, declarer would have great difficulty bringing home the contract anyway. Accordingly he played the ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond with the eight of spades. The hand wasn't entirely over when the diamond king fell. South still had to play the spade king, a low spade to the ace and then back through the spade jack in the East hand, but at this point that play was automatic.

"Look at what happens with the mundane lead of the heart ace. East can see that a heart continuation will help his chances of making a trick with the spade jack. Accordingly he will play the jack of hearts as an encouraging come-on. When a second heart is played, declarer must ruff in dummy. He will still play ace and a diamond and will be happy to see the king fall. Then he will lead a spade to the ace and a spade back to his king. Now he will lead a club to dummy and will start to run the diamonds. East is caught in a trump coup and can never score a trick with his jack."

Easy Papaya Pie

Try This Tropical Treat

Fruit desserts, especially fresh fruit pies, have been American favorites for generations.

A papaya pie is inspired by a special fruit from Hawaii; a treat made possible by today's quick transportation of produce to all parts of the country.

PAPAYA PIE

Baked 9-inch Coconut Crumb Crust
2 large ripe Hawaiian papayas, peeled, seeded and sliced

2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup orange juice
3 tablespoons honey
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons powdered sugar
1/4 cup toasted shredded coconut
Papaya slices

Prepare Coconut Crumb Crust as recipe directs; cool. In small bowl, toss papaya slices with sugar and turn into crust. In small saucepan, combine orange juice and honey. Bring to boil over medium heat. Combine cornstarch and lemon juice. Stir into orange juice mixture. Cook and stir until mixture is thickened, about 3 minutes. Spoon over papaya in pie shell; chill. Whip cream and powdered sugar to form soft peaks. Dollop on top of pie; sprinkle with coconut and garnish with papaya slices. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

COCONUT CRUMB CRUST

1 cup Zweiback crumbs
1/2 cup toasted shredded coconut
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened

Combine all ingredients; blend thoroughly. Press firmly and evenly into 9-inch pie plate. Bake in 375-degree oven 10 to 15 minutes until lightly browned. Cool on rack. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 1 nine-inch crust.

Savory Beef Stew

Appetizing Beef Stew

Stews are naturals for whetting winter appetites as they're savory, hearty and fill the kitchen with delicious aromas while cooking.

An especially tasty version, from the test kitchens of Aunt Nellie's Foods, Midwestern stew features chunks of beef, seasonings, and a variety of vegetables. Adding already prepared boiled onions near the end of cooking is a flavorful as well as time saving idea. Accompany the stew with hot, crispy French bread or rolls.

MIDWESTERN BEEF STEW

2 tablespoons cooking oil
2 pounds beef for stew, cut in 2-inch chunks
1 tablespoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 bay leaf
2 cups water
1 cup canned beef broth
1 bunch carrots
3-4 small zucchini
1-16 oz. jar small whole onions, drained
3 medium tomatoes
1 tablespoon flour
1/4 cup water
Heat oil in deep pot or Dutch oven. Add beef chunks and quickly brown on all sides. Add salt, pepper and bay leaf. Stir in 2 cups water and beef broth. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer about 1-1/2 hours or until meat is tender. Meanwhile, peel carrots and cut in 2-inch lengths. Cut zucchini in 1-inch slices; quarter tomatoes. Blend flour and 1/4 cup water. After beef has simmered about 1 hour, add carrots. About 15 minutes later add zucchini and continue simmering until meat and vegetables are tender. Add onions, tomatoes and flour water mixture. Combine gently but thoroughly. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer three minutes.

BARBS

Variations On All-American Hot Dog

An American food institution is the hot dog. In a very short time (45 seconds) your microwave oven can prepare a frankfurter cooked in a bun. If you decide to cook two at one time, add another 45 seconds. It is also a good idea to cover the franks with a paper towel. You may want to place a thin piece of jack or cheddar cheese in a lengthwise slit in the hot dog. Frankfurters can be used for an appetizer. This sweet and sour sauce is good for miniature franks or bite-size meatballs. If the miniatures are not available, slice the regular franks in one-inch pieces.

SWEET AND SOUR FRANKS
 1 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch
 1/2 cup vinegar
 1/4 cup catsup
 1 (8 oz.) can of pineapple chunks
 1/2 cup packed brown sugar
 1 1/2 teaspoons soy sauce
 1 medium green pepper, cut in 1-inch chunks
 1 pound beef franks cut in diagonal slices
 Mix cornstarch and vinegar until smooth in a 1-2 quart casserole. Stir in catsup. Drain pineapples and reserve 1/4 cup of liquid. Set fruit aside. Stir juice into catsup mixture with sugar and soy sauce. Microwave at 100% power for 3-4 minutes. Stir several times. Add green pepper and cook 3-4 minutes more. Stir frequently until sauce is thickened and clear. Add frank slices and pineapple chunks. Microwave at 100% power for 3-4 minutes or until heated. This can be served with rice for a main dish also.

 This recipe is for hot dogs with a Mexican flair.
ENCHILADA DOGS
 1 can chili without beans
 3 tablespoons finely chopped green chili peppers, minced
 1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce

Midge Mycoff

8 tortillas
 8 franks
 1 can tomato sauce
 1 cup grated cheddar cheese
 Combine chili, chili peppers and pepper sauce. Place 2 tablespoons of chili mixture on softened tortilla, place frankfurter in center and roll up. Arrange in an oblong baking dish. Combine tomato sauce with remaining chili mixture. Pour over the rolls. Heat uncovered for 6-7 minutes or until heated through. Top with cheese and let stand for 5 minutes before serving.

 Another way to use chili and hot dogs is this quickie.
CHILI AND CHEESE DOGS
 6 wieners
 1 can (7 1/2 oz.) chili

Evening Herald, Sanford, FL. Wednesday, Feb. 29, 1984-5B

without beans
 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
 3 ounces thinly sliced American cheese
 Score wieners diagonally at 1-inch intervals. Place in a 1-quart casserole. Add chili and onion. Cover with wax paper. Microwave at 100% power for 3-5 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Rearrange wieners after half the cooking time. Place cheese slices on top of wieners. Reduce power to 50%. Microwave uncovered for 2-4 minutes or until cheese melts. Serve in buns.
 This is an all-in-one meal. A half pound of 4 wieners will be enough for this main dish.

SCALLOPED POTATOES AND WIENERS
 3 tablespoons butter
 3 tablespoons flour
 1 teaspoon parsley flakes
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 1/2 cups milk
 3 medium potatoes peeled and thinly sliced (3 cups)
 4 wieners skinned and cut in 2-inch pieces (half pound)
 Melt butter in a 2 quart casserole at 100% power for 40-60 seconds. Stir in flour, parsley flakes and seasonings until smooth. Blend in milk. Microwave 100% power for 5-7 minutes or until thickened, stirring twice during cooking.
 Mix in potatoes. Cover tightly. Microwave at 100% power for 4-6 minutes or until potatoes are tender and wieners are heated through.

 6 cups cooked rice
 3 green onions, sliced
 1 can (16 oz.) apricot halves, drained and chopped
 1 can (3 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
 Heat oil in Dutch oven or large sautepot over medium-high heat. Season both sides of chicken with salt, pepper and garlic powder. Brown chicken in oil, 8 pieces at a time. Remove chicken from pan; drain excess fat. Combine apricot preserves, chili sauce, mustard and salt in Dutch oven. Bring to a boil; reduce heat to medium. Return chicken thighs to pan, placing at an angle so they will be in glaze. Cover pan and cook 10 minutes. Turn chicken and cook, covered, an additional 10 minutes or until tender. Remove cover; increase heat to medium-high and cook 5 minutes to slightly thicken sauce. In a medium sautepan combine rice, onions, apricots and mushrooms; heat thoroughly. ## Lifesavers For Busy Schedules

Homemade frozen entrees, micro-cooked in minutes, are a menu lifesaver for any busy household. Even the kids can pop a prepared entree into the microwave.

Apricot Glazed Chicken is two meals prepared at the same time: four servings for dinner and four individual servings wrapped in foil and frozen for future meals. An interesting sweet-sour sauce glazes inexpensive chicken thighs, which are featured regularly in food ads. They are served over a colorful combination of white rice, sliced green onions, chopped apricots and sliced mushrooms.

Heat oil in Dutch oven or large sautepot over medium-high heat. Season both sides of chicken with salt, pepper and garlic powder. Brown chicken in oil, 8 pieces at a time. Remove chicken from pan; drain excess fat. Combine apricot preserves, chili sauce, mustard and salt in Dutch oven. Bring to a boil; reduce heat to medium. Return chicken thighs to pan, placing at an angle so they will be in glaze. Cover pan and cook 10 minutes. Turn chicken and cook, covered, an additional 10 minutes or until tender. Remove cover; increase heat to medium-high and cook 5 minutes to slightly thicken sauce. In a medium sautepan combine rice, onions, apricots and mushrooms; heat thoroughly. To make 4 servings, place 1 cup fruited rice on each plate; top rice with 2 chicken thighs and 1/4 cup sauce.

To freeze 4 individual servings: Tear off four 14-inch squares of heavy duty aluminum wrap. Place 1 cup fruited rice on each square; top rice with 2 chicken thighs and 1/4 cup sauce. Bring 4 corners of foil up together in a pyramid shape. Fold the open edges together in a series of locked folds until foil is tightly molded and sealed against food. Label, date and freeze on a baking sheet. When frozen, remove baking sheet. To serve, preheat oven to 425°F. Place frozen bundle on baking sheet. Bake 40 minutes or until heated through.

Makes: 8 servings (4 servings and 4 individual bundles).
Microwave Oven:
 Remove foil from frozen bundle. Place food on microwave-safe plate; cover with plastic wrap, turning back one edge to vent. Micro-cook on high power setting 7 to 9 minutes or until heated through, turning once.

Jumping To Wrong Conclusions Hurts Widows

DEAR ABBY: This is in regard to the widow who discovered her late husband's "unfaithfulness" when his secretary brought her the contents of his desk drawers. Among his personal papers were some "love letters" from other women.

I am reminded of an incident that occurred in our circle of friends a number of years ago in Kansas. A man in his mid-40s died suddenly of a heart attack after being happily married for many years.

His widow grieved for an unusually long time, so finally a family friend, who had also been her late husband's accountant, asked her why she was still so unhappy. She replied, "Why didn't you tell me that my husband had been supporting another woman all these years? You surely must have known." The friend said, "Why, that can't be right. How do you know? And who was the woman?"

Dear Abby

The widow replied, "When I took over his checkbook, I discovered monthly payments to a 'Marjorie Jones' — extending over many years."

My friend replied, "Good heavens! Marjorie Jones is the secretary at the country club. She handles the liquor pool in this dry state, and we all make monthly payments to her to settle our accounts."

My husband also died suddenly, and all over his appointment book he had scribbled, "Call Val." I was heartsick, until I found out that "Val" was "Valenti" — his bookie.

LOOKING BEYOND THE OBVIOUS

DEAR LOOKING: Add to that this incident:
DEAR ABBY: About the widow who came into some "love letters" among her husband's belongings after his sudden death:

Circle Has Palmetto Workshop

The Camellia Circle of the Sanford Garden Club learned how to make "a silk purse from a sow's ear" recently at a meeting at the garden center.

Under the guidance of Mrs. P.J. (Betty) Phillips, the ladies learned basic palm weaving, using native palmetto fronds. Woven when fresh cut and green, the fronds dry to a lovely soft gray-green and can be used in the natural state or sprayed with paint for decorations such as holiday swags.

This craft (using native plant material) is one of the important tools of therapeutic work in exceptional, geriatric and penal fields promoted by National Council of State Garden Clubs and Florida Federation of Garden Clubs.

During the meeting preceding the workshop, plans were made for continuing care (by mulching flower beds) for landscaping and beautification of the General Sanford Library grounds. It was noted that cold damaged plants are recovering from the Christmas freeze.

The circle also planted trees at McKibbin Park on Arbor Day and distributes food to needy families.

Those Delectable, Special Occasion Desserts For Two

Whether it be a single chocolate truffle or cherries jubilee, a sweet treat can turn the simplest meal into a memorable experience. Heading the "most requested" list are cakes, tortes and pies — perfect for a party of eight. With a little imagination, however, these and other special occasion desserts can be scaled-down for a more intimate celebration.

If making desserts for two sounds like a bother, think of a favorite dessert and check the freezer and cupboards. Surprised? You probably have many of the ingredients already on hand, ready when inspiration strikes or an unexpected guest arrives.

Ice cream, for example, is a wonderful dessert for any number. But with a little thought and a few extra ingredients, it can be the start of a freezer full of frosty desserts for two. A scoop of ice cream can be paired with convenience sundae toppings or liqueurs for instant parfaits, sandwiched between two cookies, blended into delectable after-dinner drinks, or scooped into tart shells and topped with fruit.

While even a pint of ice cream is too much for just one dessert occasion for two, ice cream can be stored in the freezer for as long as a month. To retain its fresh flavor and creamy texture, keep the ice cream frozen solid and press a piece of plastic wrap against the exposed surface after the carton has been opened. For an ice cream dessert guaranteed to impress, the Kraft Kitchens recommend Individual Baked Alaskas. These miniature versions of the classic start with two other convenience dessert products — preserves and frozen pound cake. Use a serrated knife to cut slices about 1-inch thick, and return the remaining cake to the freezer. Top each slice with a generous layer of red raspberry preserves and a scoop of vanilla ice cream, then completely cover with a fluffy meringue. Although the Baked Alaskas can be prepared a day in advance and frozen, they should be baked just before serving so guests can savor the unusual combination of warm meringue and frosty ice cream.

INDIVIDUAL BAKED ALASKAS

- 2 pound cake slices, 1 inch thick
  - red raspberry preserves
  - 2 scoops vanilla ice cream
  - 2 egg whites
  - ¼ cup sugar
- Spread cake slices with preserves; top with ice cream. Place on cookie sheet; freeze until firm. Beat egg whites until foamy; gradually add sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Completely cover ice cream and cake slice; return to freezer. When ready to serve, bake at 475° two to three minutes or until lightly browned. Two servings. Variations: Substitute one plain cake doughnut, cut in half horizontally, for cake slices. Substitute two sponge cake dessert cups for cake slices.

The extra pound cake and raspberry preserves can make another, equally delectable debut in the form of a trifle. The pound cake is cubed and layered with the preserves and a fluffy custard sauce in an attractive serving bowl. The egg yolks, leftover from the Baked Alaskas, are used in the sauce. (When tightly covered, egg yolks may be stored in the refrigerator for a week.) For best results, cook custard just until the mixture coats the back of a spoon. The sauce will thicken as it chills.

After chilling, fold in whipped topping with real cream. La Creme whipped topping imparts a delicate texture and a real cream flavor to the custard while providing special convenience for the busy cook. Unlike whipped cream and most non-dairy toppings, La Creme whipped topping can be thawed and refrozen several times without significantly affecting flavor, texture or appearance. You can remove just the amount needed and return the rest to the freezer.

RASPBERRY TRIFLE

- 2 egg yolks, beaten
  - ¼ cup sugar
  - ½ cup milk
  - 1 cup thawed La Creme whipped topping with real cream
  - 2 pound cake slices, cut into ½-inch cubes
  - ¼ cup red raspberry preserves
- Combine egg yolks, sugar and milk in saucepan. Cook, stirring constantly, over medium heat 8 to 10 minutes or until thickened. Chill. Fold in whipped topping. Layer half of cake cubes, preserves and whipped topping mixture in 2-cup bowl. Repeat layers. Chill several hours or overnight.

Two servings. If unexpected guests are a frequent occurrence, a repertoire of quick and easy desserts is a great asset. For Frozen Dessert Shells, thawed La Creme whipped topping is shaped into rounds with the back of a spoon. When properly wrapped, shells can be stored in the freezer for several weeks. Just before serving, fill shells with a favorite ice cream and prepared topping or an assortment of fresh, frozen or canned fruits spiked with a bit of liqueur. Dessert for two couldn't be simpler or more elegant.

...Shrimp

Chill. Unmold shrimp butter onto serving dish. Sprinkle with parsley. Serve with bread, crackers or raw vegetables. Makes approximately 1½ cups of spread.

SHRIMP CHEESE DREAMS

- ½ pound cooked, peeled, deveined shrimp, fresh or frozen
- 2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
- ½ cup toasted slivered almonds
- ½ cup drained crushed pineapple
- ¼ cup finely chopped ripe olives
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 6 slices white bread, buttered
- 6 slices whole wheat bread, buttered

Thaw shrimp if frozen. Chop shrimp. Combine shrimp, cream cheese, almonds, pineapple, olives, and lemon juice. Spread each slice of white bread with approximately ½ cup shrimp mixture. Cover with whole wheat bread. Cut each sandwich diagonally into 4 triangles. Makes 6 servings.

BOILED GULF SHRIMP WITH PEPPY SEAFOOD SAUCE

- 2 pounds raw, headless, unpeeled shrimp, fresh or frozen
- 5 cups water
- 2 tablespoons salt
- Thaw shrimp if frozen. Peel and devein shrimp. Rinse shrimp thoroughly and drain. Add salt to water and bring to a boil. Add shrimp and reduce heat. Cover and simmer 3 to 4 minutes or until the largest shrimp is opaque in the center when tested by cutting in half. (Cooking time will vary according to size of shrimp. Jumbo shrimp will require a little longer cooking time.) Drain shrimp. Rinse shrimp thoroughly for 1 to 2 minutes under cold running water. Serve warm or cold with Peppy Seafood Sauce. Yields approximately one pound cooked, peeled, deveined shrimp.

PEPPY SEAFOOD SAUCE

- ½ cup chili sauce
- ½ cup catsup
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons horseradish
- Combine all ingredients. Chill. Makes approximately 1 cup sauce.

Cheese Puff

Cheese Puff Is A Winner

A simple but unusual brunch or breakfast idea is this Cheese Puff, a third prize winner in the Hellmann's $100,000 Baking Contest. Real mayonnaise and cheese give this dish a moist, spoonbread-like texture that goes well with Canadian bacon or country sausage. With her recipe, Macy Fitzgerald of Charlotte, won a General Electric deluxe food processor.

MACY FITZGERALD'S CHEESE PUFF

- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 cup real mayonnaise
- 1 cup unsifted flour
- 4 eggs
- 1 teaspoon Dijon-style mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon ground red pepper
- 1 cup shredded mozzarella cheese
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- Paprika

Grease and flour 10-inch ovenproof serving platter or pie plate. In 2-quart saucepan stir together milk and mayonnaise. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat. Remove from heat. Add flour all at once; stir until smooth. Add eggs, 1 at a time, beating well with wooden spoon after each addition. Stir in mustards and pepper until well blended. Beat in mozzarella cheese. Drop by rounded tablespoonfuls onto prepared plate, placing mounds side by side to fill plate. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and paprika. Immediately refrigerate at least 1 hour or overnight. Bake in 400°F oven 30 to 35 minutes or until browned. Serve immediately. (Puff will fall slightly on standing.) Good warm or cold. Makes 8 servings.

Golden Raisin and Fig Sauce on cake

Dried Fruits Make Good Topping

With all but a few fresh fruits out-of-season, now is the time to make the most of dried fruits in cooking and baking. Dried fruits are always available and can be stored for long periods. And when you consider the cost of fresh fruits, pound for pound, dried fruits are one of the best buys around, especially in the winter.

The concentrated food value of dried fruits is impressive, reports Sun-Diamond Growers of California, the world's largest dried fruit and nut cooperative. Dried fruits are good sources of iron and potassium, rich in fiber, low in sodium, and virtually fat-free.

Whip up this warm dessert sauce and add a special homemade touch to ice cream or store-bought pound cake. The sauce is a combination of golden delicious apples, golden raisins and dried calmyra figs in a buttery-sweet mixture spiced with nutmeg.

GOLDEN RAISIN AND FIG SAUCE

- 3/4 cup stemmed, quartered calmyra figs
  - 3/4 cup golden raisins
  - 2 golden delicious apples, peeled, cored and sliced
  - 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
  - 1/2 cup water
  - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
  - 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
  - 1 tablespoon cornstarch or 2 teaspoons arrowroot
  - 3 tablespoons butter
  - 2 tablespoons brandy or 1 teaspoon rum flavoring
- Combine figs, raisins, apples, brown sugar, water, lemon juice, nutmeg and cornstarch in saucepan. Place over high heat, stirring occasionally. As soon as mixture boils, reduce heat. Cover and simmer about 8 minutes, or until apples soften but still hold their shape. Remove from heat. Stir in butter and brandy. Serve warm. Makes 4 servings.

Oriental Dish With An American Flair

Many dishes thought of as classically "All-American" have their roots in other cultures. One ingredient often considered completely American is the peanut, but examples of its use date back to ancient China where chefs used this versatile nut to add variety to the Emperor's cuisine centuries ago.

The Imperial Chinese Chicken with Peanuts offers a blend of traditional Oriental grandeur with American zest. Oriental seasonings including ginger, garlic and soy are combined with tender chunks of chicken, brightly colored vegetables and nutritious peanuts.

The two cultures meet again in yet another dish, Spicy Peanut Butter Noodles. Slivers of pork are covered with a peppery peanut butter sauce which transforms ordinary noodles into an Emperor's delight.

This international dish contains the wealth of the Far East in a unique American style.

IMPERIAL CHINESE CHICKEN WITH PEANUTS

2 large chicken breasts, boned, skinned and split

- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon dry sherry
- 4 scallions, cut in 1-inch pieces
- 1 teaspoon fresh ginger, peeled and minced or 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 2 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1/4 cup peanut oil
- 1/2 cup fresh snow peas
- 1 red pepper, cut into thin strips
- 1/2 cup chopped salted roasted peanuts

Cut chicken into strips 1 1/2 x 1/2-inch. Mix soy sauce, sherry, scallions and ginger. Add chicken and toss well; set aside. Combine orange juice and cornstarch; set aside. Heat oil in large skillet. Stir-fry chicken with marinade until chicken loses its color about 2 minutes.

Add pea pods, red pepper and peanuts; stir-fry 2 minutes. Stir orange juice mixture; add to chicken and stir-fry until slightly thickened. Serve immediately.

Grapefruit Desserts Winter Winners

Grapefruit Meringue Pie

If you think of fresh Florida grapefruit only in terms of a low calorie snack or a breakfast treat, think again. Grapefruit is a most versatile fruit and its fresh flavor can turn meals, sauces or desserts into gourmet delights.

Fresh grapefruit juice can serve as the basic ingredient for many tempting desserts. Including Grapefruit Meringue Pie. It calls for the juice of three grapefruits and a teaspoon of grated rind for well-defined taste. The grapefruit flavor creates a fresh contrast with the delicate meringue topping. This beautiful pie has that elegant, light texture so welcome after a heavy dinner.

GRAPEFRUIT MERINGUE PIE

- 6 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1 1/4 cups sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 2 cups fresh Florida grapefruit juice (juice of 3 medium grapefruit)
- 3 egg yolks
- 1 teaspoon grated grapefruit rind
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1 baked 8- or 9-inch pastry shell
- Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt in large saucepan. Stir in water and grapefruit juice. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. In small bowl, beat egg yolks until well mixed. Gradually stir in a small amount of hot grapefruit mixture. Then stir egg yolks into remaining hot mixture with grapefruit rind and butter. Cool for 10 minutes. Turn into pastry shell. Top with Meringue* and bake in 350°F. oven 12 to 15 minutes, until lightly browned.

Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

*Meringue

- 3 egg whites
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 6 tablespoons sugar
- Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until frothy. Gradually beat in sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time. Beat until stiff enough to hold sharp points. Spoon over grapefruit filling in pastry shell and spread so that it touches inner edge of crust all the way around.

GRAPEFRUIT SHORTCAKE

- Shortcake:
- 3 cups biscuit mix
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 3/4 cup milk
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Grapefruit:

- 4 Florida grapefruit
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- For shortcake, mix together biscuit mix and sugar in large bowl. Pour on milk and mix with a fork until dough is blended. Press into greased 9-inch layer cake pan. Dot with butter. Bake in 450°F. oven 20 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center of biscuit comes out clean. Remove from oven.

While shortcake is baking, section Florida grapefruit by cutting off slice from top, then cut off peel in strips from top to bottom, cutting deep enough to remove white membrane, cut slice from bottom. Or cut off peel round and round spiral fashion. Go over fruit again, removing any remaining membrane. Cut along side of each dividing membrane from outside to middle of core. Remove section by section over bowl to retain juice from fruit. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons sugar. Let stand at room temperature.

When shortcake is done, turn out of pan and cool for 5 to 10 minutes. Cut into two layers with serrated knife and place bottom layer on plate. Top with 1/2 of grapefruit sections. Spoon juice over fruit. Add top layer of shortcake, top with remaining grapefruit sections. Serve with Grapefruit Nutmeg Sauce.*

Yield: 8 servings.

*Grapefruit Nutmeg Sauce

- 1 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup Florida grapefruit juice
- 1 cup water
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- In medium saucepan mix together sugar and flour. Stir in grapefruit juice and water. Place over medium heat, stir constantly until mixture comes to a boil and thickens. Remove from heat, stir in butter, nutmeg and salt. Serve warm.

Oranges To Comfort The Heart & Hunger

Squeeze the orange into the menu for a tempting way-to-the-heart-through-the-stomach course. The orange has a history that flows with juicy tales of its use as a special ingredient for romance and love. As far back as the 15th Century, German maidens were said to throw oranges from their balconies to encourage suitors below. And baskets of oranges were exchanged as often as bouquets of roses during many olden time courtships.

Even the gods were to have used the orange as an extraordinary temptation and treat. It was with oranges that Aphrodite, the goddess of love, showed Hippomenes the way to win the hand of Atlanta. A wild maiden of amazing fleetness and fancy, Atlanta boasted she only would marry a man who could outrun her. Aphrodite provided Hippomenes with three wonderful oranges, knowing that anyone who saw them would want them. During the race, Atlanta was outdistancing Hippomenes but could not resist stopping to pick up each of the oranges as they were rolled in front of her. Thus, Hippomenes was able to win the race and Atlanta.

Today it's easier than ever to follow Aphrodite's example and roll the orange into your menu for romantic relishing. Yet for all its endearing history, the golden citrus fruit may need a little help with today's tastes.

Start by turning the before-dinner cocktail into a delectable potion by coupling tall glasses of orange juice with one and one-half ounces of Southern Comfort. This easy-to-fix and different drink is called OJ Comfort.

For a main course, that's guaranteed not to cool the passions, try the Southern Cold Plate. It's a captivating selection of your favorite meat or meats in an aromatic orange marinade. This light repast will not leave you too full for any dashing about — even if it's only into someone's arms.

As a final treat, no one will be able to resist the Comfortable Cheese Cake. An easy-to-make delight, it's topped with a golden orange glaze.

You may not want or need to roll out all three recipes together — for any one of them is enough to start your own chapter in the history of the modern citrus temptation.

SOUTHERN COLD PLATE

- 1/2 cup Southern Comfort
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh mint or rosemary
- 1-2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- dash pepper

- 2 oranges, sliced
- 1 1-pound can sliced beets
- 1 sweet onion, thinly sliced

1 pound thinly sliced cooked lean meat (ham, chicken, beef, duck breast, lamb, etc.)

Heat Southern Comfort and mint just to boiling. Add olive oil, lemon juice, salt and pepper. Pour over sliced oranges, beets and sweet onion. Marinate at room temperature for 1 hour. To serve, line plates with lettuce, arrange marinated foods attractively on plate. Divide meat among plates. Accompany with remaining marinade.

Makes 4 to 6 servings.

COMFORTABLE CHEESE CAKE

- 1 1/2 cups vanilla wafer crumbs
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup butter melted
- 1 pound cream cheese, softened
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 3 egg yolks
- 1 whole egg
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup Southern Comfort

1 recipe Orange Comfort Glaze

Combine crumbs, 1/2 cup sugar and butter; press onto bottom and up 1/4 inch sides of a 9-inch spring form pan. Bake in a 425° oven for 12 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove from oven and cool. Reduce heat in oven to 275°. Combine cream cheese, 1/2 cup sugar, eggs, orange peel and flour; beat to blend. Stir in Southern Comfort. Spoon filling into baked shell, bake in 275° oven for 35 minutes or until set. Cool in pan and chill overnight. Remove from pan. Cover top with Orange Comfort Glaze.

Orange Comfort Glaze: Pour 1/2 cup Southern Comfort over three oranges, peeled and sliced or sectioned. Let stand overnight while chilling cheese cake. Drain off Southern Comfort, measure 1 cup, adding orange juice if necessary. Mix 1 tablespoon cornstarch and 1 tablespoon sugar together in a saucepan, add Southern Comfort and orange juice, cook and stir until mixture boils and thickens. Cool glaze to lukewarm. Arrange oranges atop cheese cake; spoon over warm glaze. Chill before serving.
