Berlin Tension Increases As More Shots Are Fired

BERLIN (UPI)—Communist police fired gunshots into West Berlin in two separate incidents today, West Berlin police reported. No casualties were reported in either incident and West Berlin police withheld return fire. The shooting followed by less than 24 hours an exchange of gunfire between East and West German police. Wednesday night, Red policemen fired at two East German refugees. Police returned the fire. One of the refugees fell to his death from a rooftop and the other was captured. The latest incidents came as West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt took off for the United States to receive a Freedom House award in New York for his role in preserving this city's position in the face of Communist aggression. Before he left, Brandt had discussed the exchange of gunfire with Gen. Lucius D. Clay, Pres-

County work crews are completing a portion of a new parking lot by Seminole Memorial Hospital, County Engineer Carlton Bliss reported today. Bliss said the county was participating in the project by supplying the labor and equipment.

Ford, UAW Take Up Plant Issues
DETROIT (UPI)—Top bargainers for the United Auto Workers Union and Ford Motor Co. turned their attention today to plant level disputes which must be settled before 120,000 striking workers return to their jobs. UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Ford Vice President Malcolm L. Denise ignored national level problems and did not plan to meet again until Friday afternoon, thus dimming hopes for a speedy end to Tuesday's strike, which has shut down the world's No. 3 auto maker. Denise and Reuther, each working from his own headquarters, tried to iron out hundreds of disputes at 47 Ford plants. The at-plant problems, plus non-economic portions of a master national contract, are holding up full agreement between the union and Ford.

Night Patrols Beefed Up; 'Cat Burglar' Hits Again

The Sanford Police department will bring its night patrols up to full strength "immediately" after the seventh house break-in in less than six months netted a "bold cat burglar" close to $500 from a home on Plumosa Drive, Chief Roy Williams said. Williams reported that the home of Irwin Fleischer, 506 Plumosa Drive, was robbed during the night of between $400 to $500. He said the money was stolen from three wallets in the home and that entry was gained by breaking an awning window on the side of the home. The Fleischer family was at home and sleeping at the time of the break-in, Williams reported. The chief said that it definitely was the work of the cat burglar "and he's a real pro. No novice committed that job," he added. Williams said that within the last few months, nine homes were burglarized in the same manner. However, in the other break-ins, tracks were found. "We couldn't find any last night," he added. Williams said the burglar entered the home and stole three wallets from a table in the house. Two of the wallets contained over $400 while another had $90 in it. The chief said that at the present time there are eight full-time men working at night and effective immediately, men from day shifts will be put on patrolling the many residential areas in the city.

Not 'Bluffing' On Berlin, Kennedy To Tell Gromyko

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy is expected at his meeting Friday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to stress that the West is not bluffing in its pledge to fight if necessary for its rights in Berlin. The President, according to U. S. officials, undoubtedly will couple this warning with an offer to negotiate the smoldering issue if Russia first recognizes the West's vital interests in the beleaguered city. Officials said Kennedy wants Gromyko to take back to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev a very clear understanding of the extreme peril, involving the possibility of nuclear war, if the Kremlin miscalculates the Allied determination.

There may be some written messages for Khrushchev, officials said, but they thought it more likely the President would simply tell Gromyko what he wants him to report to his boss. The State Department arranged the White House meeting after Secretary of State Dean Rusk in three New York talks with Gromyko found evidence that the Russians might be getting some idea of the basis on which the Allies would be willing to enter formal negotiations. Rusk was said to have reported to Kennedy that while there was no real "give" in the tough Russian position, there was a somewhat better atmosphere with Gromyko inclined to discuss issues instead of dictating terms. Officials, cautioned, however, against expecting any early diplomatic breakthrough. The White House, in announcing Wednesday that the Kennedy-Gromyko meeting had been set for 5 p. m. EDT Friday had nothing else to say on the subject.

Half Of U. S. Operations 'By Unqualified Surgeons'

CHICAGO (UPI)—Some 50 per cent of the operations performed in American hospitals are done by "unqualified" surgeons, a survey by the American College of Surgeons charged today. Details of the survey will be disclosed in about two weeks, a spokesman said at the 47th annual clinical congress of the ACS. Dr. Robert S. Myers, assistant executive director, said the survey showed that half the operations in this nation were performed by doctors without the training to qualify for certification by the American Board of Surgery or one of the specialty boards, such as the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology. He said there were no laws to stop a licensed physician without this training from performing any operation "that his conscience permits and the patient and hospital allow." The ACS also accused the American Medical Association of softening its position against fee splitting by authorizing surgeons to pay referring physicians who assist them at operations. Both groups oppose the practice. But Myers said the AMA position amounted to "an economic inducement to get more patients." He said, "we are forbidding our members to participate in such an arrangement even though the AMA authorizes it."

Hunt Killer Of 7-Year-Old

ELMHURST, Ill. (UPI)—Deputies tramped swamplands near this terrorized Chicago suburb today in search of the killer who snatched a 7-year-old girl from her bicycle and left her body face down in a stagnant pond. The body of blonde, blue-eyed Yvonne Elliott was found Wednesday night by her father, Edward, 27, an hour after he had sent her to a neighborhood store to buy a package of cigarettes for him. The girl's clothes had been stripped away and she had been sexually molested. Her own red blouse was knotted tightly around her neck and her hands were bound behind her with a towel. A cloth of a type used by mechanics was stuffed into her mouth as a gag. The rest of the child's clothing was strewn about the swampy bottomland, overgrown by three-foot weeds, scarcely three blocks from her home. Her bicycle was lying near the roadside. Coroner Samuel Lewis said mud in Yvonne's mouth indicated she could have drowned or died of suffocation.

Ex-Convict Guilty In Attack Case

LAWRENCE, Mass. (UPI)—Ex-convict Carroll C. Cobb, 42, was convicted today of raping Gov. John A. Volpe's sister-in-law. He was sentenced to 15 to 25 years in state prison.

Moslem General Gets Algeria Post

PARIS (UPI)—A Moslem general stepped in as France's second highest military commander in Algeria today in a move apparently aimed at winning rebel support for an independence referendum. President Charles de Gaulle named Brig. Gen. Ahmed Rifa as infantry commander Wednesday. De Gaulle has insisted that free elections must precede independence. The rebels have contended that no referendum on self-determination can be free if it is controlled by the French army.

Company Official Defends Action In North Orlando

By MONA GRINSTEAD
North Orlando Civic Assn. officials met with John Schwartz, vice president of the North Orlando Co. and Mayor Frank Pasula Tuesday to rehash proposed improvement plans which would give the village a civic building, a recreation park and playground and a swimming pool. W. W. Anderson, president, and Bob Stephenson, vice president, represented the civic group at the meeting which resulted from a resolution critical of company actions adopted by the Civic Assn. Monday. Answering complaints of "promises but no action" listed in the resolution, Schwartz said this to say: "Sometime ago you (the association) came in and asked for a cash donation towards a community building. We told you, and put it in writing, that we would give you a piece of land and $2,000. We even went further and had preliminary plans drawn for the building and assumed that you would come in any day and ask for the property deed and money. This offer still stands but we do want a building that will be a credit to the community and one that will handle tomorrow as well as today. "We would build the swimming pool and recreation area, including a community building, and deed them to the Village of North Orlando. Furthermore, we are willing to guarantee that the village would pay for the upkeep. "We would like to see the people agree to some taxation to keep the village 'alive' and for them to realize the necessity for having a police and fire department and other services in order for the community to remain 'alive.' "We are willing to arrange a 20-year mortgage, payable by the village, for the improvements and we will guarantee to stand behind it for the first three-year period. "We have sold land and signed a building contract with Hage and Sons to build a super market here. Their contract states that construction must begin within 60 days and be completed within 90 days. "We are giving you a beautiful fishing lake, stocked and cleaned, and are building a Tahitian style park around a natural spring to give the people a quiet resting place where they can enjoy being out-of-doors. "This sums up why your resolution was all wrong. "Anderson, strongly opposed to any taxation for support of the pool, said that he would agree for some form of taxation to get a community building and for maintaining the village streets. "The recreation facilities would only be a drawing card for the North Orlando Co. . . you'll benefit from it more than we will," Anderson pointed out, repeating that he would be against "one iota" of tax money being spent for recreation. Schwartz then suggested that the pool and recreation facilities could be set up on membership basis but advised that they were going to be built. "Let us go on with our plans," he said. "Let the people see the reality of what is going up; let them know that our promises are still good. Let them see the store and other additions to come in and then form an opinion."

Cape Fires Atlas To Give Cone Its Most Rugged Test

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States today fired a mighty Atlas missile more than one-third of the way around the world in a torturous test of its nose cone. The silvery, 82-foot Atlas blasted from its launching pad in a fury of flame and smoke at 8:48 a. m. About 50 minutes later the nose cone, blasted by sun-like heat on its burning path back through the atmosphere, plunged into a target area about 9,000 miles down the Atlantic missile range, in the Indian Ocean southeast of the African continent. The rocket's jam-proof inertial guidance system guided the nose, one of the largest ever built for America's family of ICBMs. Two airplanes and a ship stood by to retrieve a small data capsule riding in the Atlas nose. This was the longest shot ever attempted with recovery plans. The advanced model was fired today on an unusually "flat" trajectory, to give the nose cone one of its most rugged tests.

SEATO Group Eyes New Red Threats

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI)—Military advisers from eight SEATO nations worked overtime today on how best to meet new and increasing Communist threats to Southeast Asia. The three-day conference of military experts of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization was originally expected to close this afternoon. But the military planners continued their work and postponed a news conference by Maj. Gen. Sir Stephen Weir of New Zealand, the chairman.

Jaycees Prepare For Annual Award

The Sanford-Seminole County Jaycees started making plans this week to present the "Good Government Award" to a citizen of the county. The purpose of the award is to give recognition to an individual for his or her outstanding service, ability and accomplishments which have contributed to good government in the city, county or area. Larry Verahel, Jaycees Chairman announced. The public, through any civic club or organization, as well as individual citizen, is asked to assist in the program by submitting by letter the name and short resume of a candidate for the award. All names submitted will be judged by a committee of five based on the resume with entry. Entries should be addressed in care of Verahel, Jaycees Bldg., P. O. Box 339, Sanford. The deadline for all entries is Oct. 12. There is no age requirement for

The Committee studying courthouse needs recommended that the county agent's office be moved to a "remote site." Just how remote is remote? City Manager W. E. Knowles went up to Camp Blending Wednesday to get some supplies for the city's disaster operational center. Got some gas masks and was told they had plenty of watches if he was interested. It sure would be interesting to know the cost of administration of the county's road and bridge fund as say, compared to four years ago. It's okay to take a crack at a public official now and then. . . they knew what they were getting into when they ran for political office. . . but, why should the family of an elected official be subjected to abuse? Wednesday we ran a story about a Grace E. Avery bringing suit against the government and Commissioner Jim Avery told us that as soon as the paper came out his phone started ringing with residents hounding abuses and Mrs. Avery—the principal in the suit—has no connection with any member of the Jim Avery family. County Commission Chairman J. C. Hutchison has appointed a three man committee of Avery, John Fitzpatrick and Ted Williams to come up with recommendations to beef up the Civil Defense program in the county. . . they probably will emphasize a strong education program. . . without sirens. Jaycee Good Government Award deadline is only seven days away. Klet your letter off to the Jaycees today. Nobody asked me, but how come the welfare rolls aren't open to the public? "Shella," the baby lion cub at the zoo will be one year old on Oct. 18 and a special birthday "steak" is planned. Dottie Higginbotham, our Herald reporter and columnist, is expanding the scope of her reporting activities to give us some exclusive coverage of the State Democratic Women's Convention in Clearwater. The convention, which will have Sen. George Smathers for the main speaker is being held at the Jack Tar Hotel Thursday, Friday and Saturday. And speaking of political circles, the projected testimonial dinner which was to be held here Oct. 12 for Congressman Syd Herlong, had to be cancelled due to complications in the congressman's schedule. Democratic officials are trying hard to arrange another date for the dinner. Longwood is really on the go. . . There are new bright street lights in the downtown area and on Hwy. 17-92.

School Trustees Vote Slated Here Nov. 7

Seminole County freeholders will go to the polls on Nov. 7 to vote on a 2.75 mill levy for the operation of schools through the next two years, and to elect three school trustees.

The school board is asking for a levy of 2.75 mills for general operation expenses, and a 1 mill levy for building and bus reserve fund to be used for capital outlay purposes. The millage is the same as in using this year.

Freeholders will vote to be printed on the ballot for approval of the levy. The levy will be printed on the ballot for approval of the levy. The levy will be printed on the ballot for approval of the levy.

To be qualified to vote in this biennial school district election, one must be a resident of the district, must have lived in the state for one year, and in the county for six months, must be properly registered or furnish legal evidence of registration, and must pay tax on real or personal property.

District Nurses To Meet Monday

A meeting of the Florida Nurses Assn., District 27, will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in the Seminole County Health Center at Ninth St. and French Ave.

Gordon Frederick, Sanford attorney and State Representative, will be guest speaker. He will discuss the nurses and their legal status and discuss legislative procedures involving the nursing profession.

All registered nurses are urged to attend.

Nurses can sleep while standing, since their legs have muscular mechanisms which lock.

Business Briefs

Manager of the new Heller Motor Sales Park Avenue Branch is Claude Hittell, a veteran of nearly 12 years with Heller Chevrolet and over 17 years in the automobile business.

"This branch lot will feature a complete line of new 1962 cars, Chevrolet, Chevrolet II, Corvair, Oldsmobile, Cadillac, Corvair and Chevrolet trucks," said Hittell.

"We will also have complete lines of used cars and trucks." Hittell has been in Sanford since 1948 and lives at Lake Monroe with his wife, Mary, and children, Tommy, Linda and Richard. His oldest son, Claude Jr., "Bubba," is a pilot with the Army in Kansas, Germany.

The Park Avenue Office will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays and Hittell invites his friends to meet him there.

Firemen Honor Chief, Mrs. Layo At Surprise Party

Members of the Longwood Volunteer Fire Dept. surprised Chief and Mrs. Claude Layo Tuesday night during the few minutes between traffic court and the weekly fire department meeting with an invitation to "come on back and have some pie and coffee with us."

Mrs. Layo, who keeps the court records for her husband, does not usually remain for the meetings and says she was a "little surprised" at the departure from routine. However, she and the Chief both were speechless when they re-entered the building and were greeted by calls of "Happy Anniversary" from the smiling men who presented them with an electric fry pan, gift from the department.

Mrs. Layo commented, "Apparently men CAN keep a secret as they claim, for we were completely surprised and didn't know that the firemen even knew we were celebrating an anniversary."

The Layos were married 24 years ago in Webster, N. Y., their home before coming to Florida in 1945 and have two married daughters and three granddaughters there.

Sixty Attend HD Club Meeting

By MRS. ADAM MULLER
The opening all day session of DeBary's Home Demonstration Club for this season held last Thursday was attended by 60 members.

Under supervision of Mrs. George Wright, club president, those present for the 10 a. m. workshop were instructed in making pine needle work, liquid embroidery, fluffy kittens, wall plaques and tote bags.

A luncheon and social hour was held between noon and 1 p. m. with members of the committee providing the accompanying beverage. The afternoon session convened at 1:30 p. m. with Mrs. Gurthridge, Mrs. Florick and Mrs. Plainmuller from Lake Helen and Mrs. Elias from DeLand, guest instructors, taking over the program.

Mrs. Plainmuller spoke on clothing and varieties of materials while Mrs. Elias in her talk stressed the importance of reading all tags attached to clothing and materials.

Mrs. Florick told how old shoes and purses can be covered to match a new wardrobe and displayed sample articles demonstrating what can be done with materials.

Mrs. Frank Eaking, charter member of the DeBary club who is leaving the community, received a gift in recognition of past services to the club.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Fred Hamilton has transfer patterns and liquid embroidery supplies. Members desiring these items may contact her at her home.

Rise in Florida's Plant Jobs Seen

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — State Development Commission Director Wendell Jarrard said Wednesday Florida's growing industries will raise state employment figures by 4,300 persons in the near future.

Jarrard said there were 34 new plants or major expansions reported last month, including one at Sanford.

He estimated the square footage for new buildings at almost 200,000 and said "these established industries are not only happy with Florida as a location but plan to stay here and grow with the economy."

Jarrard listed plants to open within the year as Aerocorporation, Lake City; Del Mar Industries, Sanford; Hollywood Artists Products, Inc., Miami; Florida Bomb Shelters, Miami; and Jaxco Jetronics Corporation, Jacksonville.

Jarrard estimated the total expansion program at nearly $40 million.

Take CD Course

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Hotel and Restaurant Commissioner Robert Reidel, who recently took a 12-hour civil defense course with other members of the State Cabinet, has ordered members of his commission to follow suit soon.

Big Need

This is the Atomic Age and we should accept this fact and all that goes with it. Right now the one big need is shelter to protect us.

Some of us honestly doubt that there will ever be a nuclear war and that there will be the need for shelters. We may look on them as unwarranted expense.

Most of us in a lifetime have never had occasion to use the fire department to save our homes, but we would not think of giving up this protection simply because we may never need it. Look on a shelter the same way.

If our house catches fire we know that we have a good chance to save it without serious damage. If we are attacked, and we have adequate shelter we know that most of us will save our lives. Let us drift as we have for the past 10 years or so and we will not have the protection to save us from possible death from fallout.

We should first of all get busy and put our Civil Defense house in order and then make plans for some community shelter. On top of that we should encourage individuals to build their own through the same kind of financing we have used for years to purchase automobiles, household appliances, etc.

One thing is certain, if we prepare for an atomic war adequately we will be assured to complete payments on our shelters. If we don't prepare we may encourage attack and then it won't matter.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Albert is disturbed because girls say he has no sense of humor. He figures a prospective wife should be more concerned with his financial standing than his humor rating. Is Albert or Bob Hope more gifted in the field of "Human Relations"? Does a comedian, accountant or other humorists laugh as readily as a salesman?

CASE K-416: Albert J., aged 42, is an attractive bachelor.

"Dr. Crane," he began ruefully, "I have dated several girls, but none has proved to be my heart's desire."

"Recently I learned that some of my ex-girl friends have said I have no sense of humor. 'Why do they feel a husband should have a sense of humor? I don't get it.'"

"I make a good salary and have quite a bit of wealth, so wouldn't you think a girl would be more concerned with financial security than her husband's sense of humor?"

Pity the wife who has a mate without a sense of humor.

Yet a lot of college graduates like Albert, with key jobs and good salaries, are stodgy and almost devoid of fun.

They are stuffed shirts, for a sense of humor develops from wide social experience.

People who make mountains out of molehills have little sense of proportion; hence, they lack a sense of humor.

Confucius says: "Man wrapped up in self makes small package."

When anybody gets so preoccupied with himself and his pet business project that he can't place himself in the shoes of others, he lacks humor.

For humor is an index of your empathy. And empathy means your ability to feel for others and sympathize via imagining yourself in their position.

"Never criticize another," runs an old Sioux Indian proverb, "ill you have walked 2 weeks in his moccasins."

My other syndicated column entitled "Test Your Horse Sense" really started because of the following problem that ran in many leading newspapers:

"A butler accidentally opens the bathroom door while the lady of the house is bathing. He should say:

"Oh, excuse me, Madame. I didn't know you were in here."

"You should have locked the door."

"Oh, excuse me, sir."

Well, many hundreds of readers, including especially scientists, physicians, and even the crude type of clergyman, protested that my answer must be a misprint (for the 2nd answer was recommended).

"Why, Dr. Crane," an Episcopalian cleric remonstrated, "that 2nd answer couldn't possibly be right, could it? For there was no man in the tub."

The Chicago Tribune was thus swamped with telephone calls, so the General Manager of its Syndicate asked me to continue a daily quiz column.

Many people strain so hard to impute a serious meaning to everything that they are bored.

They lack perspective.

Bob Hope is thus a genius at "Human Relations," for only such a versatile personality can understand the vagaries of human beings and make them laugh.

Do traveling salesmen have a better sense of humor than chemical engineers? Do extroverts laugh more readily than introverts? Why?

Which group has more social understanding? Which is more deft and tactful? Debate that issue and also try to answer this query:

"What two American coins total 35 cents but one of them is not a dime?"

Look for my answer tomorrow.

FLAG RAISING!

From Rome

Henry McLemore

Much to the delight of the good burghers of Cincinnati and the disappointment of the New York Yankees, the Reds are in the 1961 World Series.

No one saw them at it (with the possible exception of their wives, who probably were down on their knees, too), but it is a certainty that the Yankees were praying and pulling for the Los Angeles Dodgers to win the National pennant.

Not because the Yankees love the Dodgers more and the Reds less, but because the Cincinnati baseball park is a tiny one, with a seating capacity of only 30,328, and only then if quite a few of the fans sit on laps or stand on one leg.

Had the Dodgers won in the National, more than half of the games would have been played in the Coliseum, and with its estimated seating capacity of 101,523 is only three square meters smaller than Rhode Island. The Coliseum may even have a governor and a senate for all I know.

With the other games in Yankee Stadium, a vast place, too, the players must surely have shared in the largest players' cut of all time. And baseball players love money.

I say this despite the insistence of Roger Maris that he does not think of money when he is hitting his home runs, but only of fame, glory, pride, and large black type in the record book. Maybe so, but from what I have seen I would say that baseball players love money even more than they do

Have you put dental care into your budget?

Chances are the answer is no. The U. S. National Health Survey shows that only about one-third of the U. S. population visited a dentist during a recent 12-month period.

The Health Information Foundation estimates that 700 million un-filled cavities, about four per person in our total population, represent one of our most common maladies.

How can you budget for dental care? How can you cut dental care costs? The best way is through preventive dentistry, with regular visits to a dentist.

Check to see how much a dentist will charge for an initial examination. Once you've passed this hurdle and he recommends further treatment, don't hesitate to inquire about the total cost. Suggest, if you need to, monthly payments.

There is nothing to prevent your "shopping" dentists and comparing. Also, if the cost quoted seems high, ask your dentist whether there might not be an alternative method he could use that would reduce that cost.

If the cost of a private dentist is prohibitive, you will find good dental clinics at universities where dentistry is taught and at many hospitals. At a clinic I checked, the cost of an upper and lower denture was $80. Work here is done by students, supervised by graduate dentists.

Many unions maintain dental clinics. When it comes to dental care for children this often is available, up to age 10, through public school systems.

It is usually free of charge when it has been determined that a family cannot pay. In some instances, youngsters up to the age of 21 are given free orthodontics.

ORLANDO, FLA.

Peter Edson's Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Right after Hurricane Carla hit the Texas coast, citrus fruit farmers from three counties in the storm area flocked into Department of Agriculture field offices to take out government crop insurance policies, offered to them for the first time this year.

Only 40 had signed up early, and they are now sitting pretty. The late-comers can of course get no insurance on losses already sustained. But Carla proved herself one of the best insurance salesladies the government has had.

Crop insurance in the United States is still on an experimental basis. The idea behind it is to develop a system so sound that it will pay its own way and make disaster relief unnecessary for farmers who experience crop failures from drought, flood, frost, wind, insects or diseases beyond control.

By act of Congress, Department of Agriculture first offered crop insurance in 1899 with national coverage for wheat farmers. Cotton was added in 1941. Heavy losses sustained in 1943 caused the plan to be suspended for a year.

When it was renewed in 1945, tobacco, flax and corn were added until 1948. (It was then restricted to 400 counties.) Gradual expansion by 100 counties a year was planned. But during the Eisenhower administration counties were dropped, so that there was a net expansion of only 21 counties.

For the period 1948 through 1960, total premiums of $244 million were paid in and indemnities of $228 million paid out, leaving a surplus of $16 million. Last year, premiums were $18 million and indemnities $8.8 million. The idea is not to build up a big surplus, however. It is just to break even.

To achieve this, the government has paid all administrative costs. This year they run $8.29 million. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman has announced that for next year's crops, insurance will be extended to 100 more counties in 25 states.

Raisins will be added to the list of insured crops for California; irrigated grain sorghums for Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma; peanuts for Virginia and North Carolina. Potatoes and sugar beets may also be covered.

Already covered are barley, beans, cotton, corn, citrus fruits, oats, peaches, rice, soybeans, tobacco, wheat.

This year, 253,000 farmers in 961 counties of 38 states have taken out insurance on 330,000 crops, some farmers covering two or more. They pay premiums for protection against losses from causes beyond their own control. But lazy farmers can't collect insurance for failure to properly plant, fertilize or cultivate their crops.

Premiums run from 3 per cent on tobacco to 25 or 30 per cent on high-risk crops. The average is 7.5 per cent. Tobacco premiums may run $20 a year for small tracts. Wheat premiums for larger tracts run from $200 to $400. As a typical example of how the system works, take the case of a farmer with 60 acres in corn.

Many farmers now get 60 to 70 bushels to the acre. But taking out insurance on full yield would be too expensive for the farmer, too risky for the government. So insurance is issued to cover costs.

In the case of this corn farmer, he might be insured for a yield of 30 bushels to the acre, or 1,800 bushel on his 60 acres.

He then sets his own price on the amount he wishes to insure this for. It can be at any rate within reason—say $1 to $3 a bushel. Say he sets the price at $1.50. On the 1,800 bushels, that would mean a $2,700 policy. The rate on corn is currently 7.5 per cent. Total premium—$202.50.

Now suppose that the weather or the corn borer, or both, cut the man's crop to 15 bushels to the acre, or 900 on the 60 acres. The farmer has a government guarantee on an 1,800-bushel yield, so he can collect on half of that. For 900 bushels at $1.50 a bushel, he would get $1,350.

This illustrates that crop insurance can be a good thing for the farmer, if the government ever gets the actuarial risks figured out. But there's still a lot of educational work to be done to convince farmers this is good business.

Complex Life Endangers Child, Educator Says

DURHAM, N. C. (UPI) — A leading educator believes that an advanced, affluent and complex society is, in a sense, a danger to its children and its very existence because it breeds apathy and frustration.

Dr. Grayson Kirk, president of Columbia University, said an established society which has become rich, content and complex "does not generate the drive" of a rising society which has new and clearer goals.

Even a "new frontier" in America, he said, is not as appealing as that of a rising society with a "whole world of new goals to accomplish," generating drive, energy and enthusiasm in striving to improve and gain momentum.

Dr. Kirk, keynoting a Duke University international symposium on "the Commonwealth of Children," warned that the mere awareness of the nature and complexity of a society can lead to apathy, over-simplification of answers, dangerous doctrines and frustration.

He said parents and educators may not recognize the danger in the apathy and sense of helplessness that may overcome an individual in such a society, causing him to "lose interest in trying to understand the factors which control his life."

"The zest for freedom may be lost," he said.

Further, Kirk added, there is the danger that the person who "tries to rise out may be seduced by men who propose overly simple answers," the technique of scapegoat and slogan which Hitler used and which communism uses.

Kirk told the symposium, however that "with proper leadership and guidance, awareness can lead to understanding and action."

The Columbia president opened the unique five-day symposium Wednesday night, calling children "the greatest common wealth of our nation."

"Our greatest obligation is to prepare them to deal effectively with their world — the world in which they will live," he said.

Kirk added it would be a mistake to prepare children for "the world we have known" or "the world we would like to have them live in."

"We have the world to conquer for our greatest goal — human dignity and freedom. This is the legacy we must leave for the commonwealth of our children," he said.

He urged change, a striving for improvement and its force a "dynamism which is contagious and becomes accelerated" and which is a "prologue to a beckoning brighter future." He warned against rigid conservatism and traditionalism and against "frowning upon change."

Children of today, he said, must be wiser. He predicted they will be far better educated, with better intellectual equipment and maturity.

Even The Welcome Home Party Was A Bust

CHICAGO (UPI) — Even the welcome home party for Erin's own was a bust.

All 100 Chicagoans stranded for a week at the Shannon, Ireland, airport when a succession of troubles beset their chartered airliner, were home today, but the return flight added new chapters of misadventure to the bad luck of the Irish.

The final 92 travelers touched down at O'Hare Field more than four hours late Wednesday afternoon.

By the time they arrived, most of the sandwiches and coffee sent for the travelers from the swank

Pump Room of the Ambassador East Hotel were gone, consumed by the crowd of about 200 friends and relatives awaiting them.

Only a few of the travelers appeared for a "social get together" Wednesday night at Gene O'Hagan's saloon, "official headquarters" for the 100 Gaelic football buffs who formed Erin's Own.

Some drank Irish whisky and mourned the 400 bottles of the dew of the hills which had to be left behind when their plane was found to be overweight.

The flight back was dogged by the same string of misfortunes which kept the Chicago Irish grounded at Shannon, some without funds, others ill and hungry.

The plane was late taking off and over the Atlantic the chartered aircraft encountered head winds which forced it to make an unscheduled refueling stop at Buffalo, N. Y.

The bad luck didn't stop for the air crew even after Erin's Own departed. The plane had engine trouble and was unable to depart from the terminal ramp, snarling other arrivals.

Capt. William White, the pilot, said the difficulties "just snowballed," as if guided by some evil leprechaun.

Seminole's Loss To Be Courthouse New Hampshire's Gain Records

By JULIA WELLS

Next week, Mrs. Ruth M. Hamilton, recently chosen Seminole County's Realtor of the Year, will move to Claremont, N. H., where she will enter the hotel and realty business.

When she leaves Tuesday, a small bit of every person she has met, even briefly, will go with her for such is the character of this charming and gracious woman.

Choose any adjective ranging from smart attractiveness to keen intelligence and deep religious faith and it will be descriptive of Mrs. Hamilton.

Her past accomplishments are many and varied. Beginning in Iowa, her native state, as an elementary school teacher, she later specialized in teaching adult English courses, was a radio commentator and owner and operator of several antique shops. Perhaps the most unusual, however, was that at the time of her previous residence in Claremont, she became the first woman, and a Democrat at that, ever to be elected to the House of Representatives in New Hampshire.

During her one year term she became a staunch admirer and good friend of Sherman Adams, a friendship which has grown through the years.

Her record of activities and work in Florida since moving here in 1949 following the death of her husband, Dr. C. Carter Hamilton, reads much the same. She has been an enthusiastic supporter of most civic and political organizations, holding office in a number of them.

Perhaps her many quality characteristics can be best summarized by a typical example of generosity several summers ago just as she was about to embark on a European vacation. Learning of the need for repairs and supplies at the County Home, she immediately canceled the trip and donated every cent of her vacation expense money to "help bring a little comfort and cheer to the elderly residents there."

Seminole County isn't altogether losing its claim on Mrs. Hamilton, however, since she promises to "winter here and visit with all of you." She is looking forward, though, to returning to Claremont for she loves the mountains and says that "a whole new field of life seems to be opening for me there. One can't stand still, you know."

This we do know. Never will Ruth Hamilton be guilty of "standing still" in life.

Lake Mary Fire Auxiliary Plans Annual Project, Schedules Bazaar

Members of the Lake Mary Fire Dept. Auxiliary have chosen their project for the year and planned their first fund raising event towards its completion.

Since, with the addition of a second piece of equipment in the department the space where meetings now are conducted will be needed for storage, the Auxiliary will devote its time and money to build an additional room on the Hall and to put a cover over the large barbecue pit.

To begin the building fund, the Auxiliary has planned a Bazaar for the afternoon of Oct. 21 at the Fire Hall and has named Mrs. Kay Sassman as chairman of the event with Mrs. Lena Eith as co-chairman.

In cooperation, the Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club, which also meets at the Fire Hall, will prepare and serve a full-course ham dinner between the hours of 5 p. m. and 7 p. m. with all proceeds to be donated to the department. Mrs. Ruth Boutwell, chairman of the dinner, has set a minimum charge for adult and children's plates.

Fleet Reserve Meets Monday

The Fleet Reserve Assn. regular meeting will be held Monday at 219 Seminola Blvd. at 8 p. m. at the Fleet Reserve Assn. Hall.

All Fleet Reserve or retired men or officers from the ranks, or career enlisted men of the regular Navy or Marines past their first four year enlistment have earned the right to belong.

NOVA Project Means Greatest Boom In State's History

United Press International — By naming Cape Canaveral the nation's Moonport, the federal government has underwritten a new Florida "boom" that will surpass any ever seen, state officials said today.

Government spending, rapid industrialization and a tremendous population spurt will add $20 billion to Florida's income in the next 10 years, Gov. Farris Bryant estimated.

That is nearly $5.5 million a day for the next decade.

The National Aeronautical and Space Administration (NASA) already has begun spending $20 million to increase the size of the missile test center by 75,000 acres. This is only the start.

Federal expenditures at the Cape in the next five years are pegged at $285 million but expected to reach $1 billion. That will provide just the land, launching pads, towers and other facilities at the Cape, its down-range tracking stations and Patrick Air Force Base, to fire the advanced model Saturns and finally the giant Nova rocket that is counted on to lift an American astronaut to the moon.

Industries by the hundreds are expected to set up shops on the sidelines. The first Saturns, now being hand made by NASA, has a minimum of half a million parts. The manufacture of these will be spread widely among private firms when the Saturn goes into full production. And the Nova is more than twice as large.

President John F. Kennedy's call for an all-out race to the moon against Russia virtually handed a key to the U.S. Treasury to Florida officials.

When the magic word "Nova" is added to Florida's requests for new roads, schools and waterways there should be few congressmen willing to say no.

State Road Department Chairman John Phillips said a survey of Florida's primary roads several years ago showed the need of $1.11 billion to fix them up. These same roads still are below par, he said. And the coming demands for new roads to handle defense needs and a population increase estimated at four million in 10 years will add more hundreds of millions of dollars to the expense.

"The expansion will have a tremendous impact on Florida's road needs and the federal government should be prepared to finance a good portion of it," Phillips said.

Florida has renewed pressure on Congress to build the long-sought cross state barge canal, a $200 million project. Congress just voted $125,000 for a new study of the canal.

And Otto Bruce, director of the State Development Commission's Industrial Division, predicted the $400 million Central and South Florida flood control program will have to be re-evaluated and speeded up as a result of the Moonport pressure. It is only about one-third completed now.

Effects of the moon boom already are being felt. A jet fuel firm is looking for a place in Florida to locate a $70 million plant. Bruce estimated industries that will employ 20,000 workers will locate in the peninsula within the next 12 to 18 months.

Governor Bryant's "fantastic future for Florida" is beginning to take shape.

Nixon, Knight Swap Political Charges In California Hassle

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Goodwin J. Knight's identification of a Los Angeles banker he called Richard M. Nixon's emissary was followed today by claims of Nixon supporters that Knight himself sought a political pact with the former vice president.

In a confused day of charge and countercharge Wednesday the following events occurred:

—Knight told a press conference that on Sept. 8 banker J. Howard Edgerton asked in a telephone conversation that he withdraw from the Republican gubernatorial nomination race in favor of Nixon.

—The former governor, who produced his wife and former state motor vehicles director as witnesses to the call, also said Edgerton offered him any state post, including that of chief justice, if he would withdraw.

—Nixon replied at once. "I have no further comment," he said, referring to his earlier denials that Edgerton had acted as his agent. "Mr. Knight has humiliated himself enough."

—Edgerton, president of the California Savings and Loan Association and one-time Knight finance chairman, confirmed that he called Knight at Sacramento's El Dorado Hotel but said he acted "only in a personal" capacity to avoid a fight for the governorship between Knight and Nixon.

—Replying to Knight's additional charge that he took the former governor to visit Nixon at the latter's home here on Aug. 7, Edgerton said he did arrange the visit at Knight's request and drove Knight to the unsuccessful 1960 presidential candidate's house "solely as a courtesy."

—Edgerton further denied Knight's allegation that as the visitors were leaving the former vice president's home Nixon told Knight that "he would communicate his ideas to me thereafter only through Mr. Edgerton and in no other way."

Wednesday night Robert Finch, Nixon's 1960 campaign manager, gave his own version of the Aug. 7 meeting in Nixon's home.

Finch said that Knight offered to head a Nixon-for-President national convention if Nixon would not enter next year's California gubernatorial race. None of the three principals in the wrangle—Knight, Nixon or Edgerton—was available for comment on Finch's statement.

Finch who no longer has any official connection with the former vice president, said Nixon told Knight that it was "too early to talk about 1964."

State Financial Picture Brightens

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Florida's financial picture brightened in September.

Comptroller Ray E. Green reported Tuesday that sales tax collections, based on August sales, went up in September $63,629, or 4.76 per cent, over collections for the same month last year. Collections totalled $13.9 million.

Gasoline tax collections in September also increased, Green said, from $10 million last year to $10.2 million, an increase of 1.6 per cent.

Sorority Honors Members At Luncheon

Members of the Gamma Omega Chapter of Epilon Sigma Alpha, social sorority, met at Spencer's Restaurant, recently, for a luncheon meeting to honor the pledges and jewel pin members.

This chapter, of the International philanthropic organization, was started in 1907 with 10 charter members. It has grown continuously ever since.

They derive funds for their projects by wrapping Christmas gifts at the Sanford Naval Air Station, bake sales, selling Christmas cards and other fund raising events. They are currently planning a Christmas card party at the First Federal building. It is scheduled for Oct. 13 and will be open to the public.

Projects have included furnishing curtains and a record player and installation of a phone at the Little Red Schoolhouse. They also furnish shoes for needy children in Seminole County, have given records to the Youth Center, baskets of food at Thanksgiving and clothing for deserving families for Easter.

Two new pledges for the season are Mrs. El (Nancy) White, formerly of Hendersonville, N. C., and Mrs. Ed (JoAnn) McCall. Mrs. James Livingston is sponsor for the group.

Circle Members Enjoy Social

Members of the Woodrose Garden Circle met at the home of Mrs. Al Foulter, 402 Cherokee Lane, Sunland Estates, for a covered dish supper and social.

Hors d'oeuvres and punch were served upon arrival and the food was served buffet style. Ham, salads, cake, pie and coffee completed the menu.

The centerpiece was a scale planter decorated with double pink hibiscus and pittisporum. This lovely scale planter was a gift to Mrs. Foulter from her husband, that he brought back from a recent cruise in Naples.

A door prize of a salmon colored jagara was won by Mrs. Owen McCarron.

The meeting was a pre-season get-together for the group and the first business meeting of the season is scheduled for Oct. 12 at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Aris McAllister, 2850 Myrtle Ave.

Other members attending were Mrs. Leonard DeWit, circle president; Mrs. Vernon Lileks, Mrs. Everett Terry, Mrs. D. K. Dorman, Mrs. Lee R. Sallee, Mrs. Ted Barker, Mrs. Joseph Carsley, Mrs. A. W. Cannon, Mrs. Fred Gray and Mrs. John Spolaki.

Mrs. Helen Hollack, a new member, was also present and welcomed by the group.

Guild Plans Study Of Latin America

The home of Mrs. A. K. Shoemaker Sr. was the setting for the monthly meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church Monday evening.

Mrs. Robert S. Billhimer was co-hostess.

Mrs. Shoemaker presented the devotion and Mrs. T. A. Wakefield was the presiding officer for the business meeting. It was announced that the Guild will participate in the Week of Prayer programs and will have charge of the program at the church at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 28.

The Guild decided to participate in the WSCS bazaar Nov. 4 at the church by having a plastic booth. Mrs. Richard Holtzclaw talked to the group about the opportunities of such a display and will take charge of it at the bazaar.

All Guild members are urged to contact their friends and get as many advance orders as possible. The program was in charge of Mrs. M. B. Smith who outlined the books and other literature to be covered by the Guild's study course on Latin America. All those interested will meet at the Smith home on Oct. 9, 16 and 23 from 7 to 9 p.m. for the other three sections of this course.

Those present were Mrs. Smith, Miss Mabel Chapman, Mrs. O. K. Goff, Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wakefield, Mrs. Boyd Smith, Mrs. Thomas Sullivan, Mrs. N. V. Farmer, Mrs. Wilson Carver, Mrs. W. P. Chapman, Miss Mary Rawlins, Mrs. W. L. Carter, Miss Ethel Riser and guest, Mrs. Caroline Haines.

Auxiliary Delegate Gives Report From Convention

The Ladies Auxiliary to Barracks 686, World War One, USA, Inc., met at the American Legion Home on Hwy. 11-92 for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Harry A. Osteen, president, welcomed a large number of prospective new members who were present, following the business session which included the reading of information regarding the recent national convention held in Dallas.

Mrs. Beula Thornton, a delegate to the convention gave a very interesting report.

Mrs. Robert Williams gave a report on the recent summer picnic which was very successful and thanked all for their cooperation.

Plans were made to have a covered dish supper preceding the next meeting to be followed by a white elephant sale. Mrs. Williams was named chairman. Members were asked to bring a covered dish and a place setting.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and members of the Barracks joined the group for refreshments. Hostesses were Mrs. Joel S. Field and Mrs. Sidney Fowler.

The next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 27.

Mizpah Circle Plans Events For October

Mrs. J. B. Crawford was hostess to the monthly meeting of the Mizpah Circle of Grace Methodist Church at her home on Lake Mary.

Mrs. C. E. Clemmer announced several coming events for the month. W.C.S.C. members have planned to visit every woman member of the church this week. A pic-a-loy party is planned for Oct. 10 and a plastic party at the church, for Oct. 18, starting at 8 p.m. Husbands are invited to both events and proceeds will be added to the building fund.

The devotion period was led by Mrs. C. C. Brooks and an interesting chapter of the study book "The Meaning of Suffering," was presented by Mrs. R. V. Thompson.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostesses, Mrs. C. E. Williams during the social hour.

Other members attending were Mrs. I. J. Butler, Mrs. Mildred Gramkow, Mrs. C. R. Rankin, Mrs. Daniel Sweeney, Mrs. K. R. Wilkins, Mrs. R. L. Duffey and Mrs. A. P. Kostival.

Baby Contest Planned By Zeta Xi Members

Initial plans were made for the annual "Baby Contest," sponsored by the Zeta Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, sorority, when the group met in the caucus room of the First Federal building.

Miss Joan Wright and Miss Judy Bentley presented the program on "Your Poise and Charm." It included a discussion on courtesies practiced at home, business, social events and meetings.

Following the program, refreshments of cookies and cold drinks were served by co-hostesses, Mrs. Charles Dickie and Mrs. Robert L. Reeves.

Others present were Mrs. Gary Rudgins, Mrs. Leon Swain Jr., Mrs. Bud Corley, Mrs. Fred Wilson, Mrs. Harvey Wilkinson, Mrs. James Lyons.

Mrs. W. L. Tyre, Mrs. Sam Shelton, Mrs. Alvin Kilpatrick, Mrs. Bill Gordon, Miss Sonja Menforion, Miss Grace Marie Stinecipher and visiting rushee, Miss Nancy Cash.

Members of the Gamma Omega Chapter of Epilou Sigma Alpha, social sorority, met at Spencer's Restaurant, recently, for a luncheon meeting to honor the pledges and jewel pin members.

This chapter, of the International philanthropic organization, was started in 1937 with 10 charter members. It has grown continuously ever since.

They derive funds for their projects by wrapping Christmas gifts at the Sanford Naval Air Station, bake sales, selling Christmas cards and other fund raising events. They are currently planning a Christmas card party at the First Federal building. It is scheduled for Oct. 13, 7-10 p.m. to the public.

Projects have included furnishing curtains and a record player and installation of a phone at the Little Red Schoolhouse. They also furnish shoes for needy children in Seminole County, have given records to the Youth Center, baskets of food at Thanksgiving and clothing for deserving families for Easter.

Two new pledges for the season are Mrs. E. H. White, formerly of Hendersonville, N. C., and Mrs. Ed (JoAnn) McCall. Mrs. James Livingston is sponsor for the group.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES KRAUSHAAR, of DeBary, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary quietly at their home on Bayou Vista, last week. The couple attends the DeBary Community Methodist Church, where Mrs. Kraushaar is noted for the tasty cold slaw she brings to church suppers. She uses a dressing that she has perfected over the years. (Photo by Cox)

Guild Plans Study Of Latin America

The home of Mrs. A. K. Shoemaker Sr. was the setting for the monthly meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church Monday evening.

Mrs. Robert S. Billheimer was co-hostess. Mrs. Shoemaker presented the devotion and Mrs. T. A. Wakefield was the presiding officer for the business meeting. It was announced that the Guild will participate in the Week of Prayer programs and will have charge of the program at the church at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 28.

The Guild decided to participate in the WSCS bazaar Nov. 4 at the church by having a plastic booth. Mrs. Richard Holtzclaw talked to the group about the opportunities of such a display and will take charge of it at the bazaar.

All Guild members are urged to contact their friends and get as many advance orders as possible.

The program was in charge of Mrs. M. B. Smith who outlined the books and other literature to be covered by the Guild's study course on Latin America. All those interested will meet at the Smith home on Oct. 9, 16 and 23 from 7 to 9 p.m. for the other three sections of this course.

Those present were Mrs. Smith, Miss Mabel Chapman, Mrs. O. K. Goff, Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wakefield, Mrs. Boyd Gaines, Mrs. Thomas Sullivan, Mrs. N. V. Farmer, Mrs. Wilson Carver, Mrs. W. P. Chapman, Miss Mary Rawlins, Mrs. W. L. Carter, Miss Ethel Riser and guest, Mrs. Caroline Haines.

Circle Members Enjoy Social

Members of the Woodrose Garden Circle met at the home of Mrs. Al Poulter, 402 Cherokee Lane, Sunland Estates, for a covered dish supper and social.

Hors d'oeuvres and punch were served upon arrival and the food was served buffet style. Ham, salads, cake, pie and coffee completed the menu.

The centerpiece was a scale planter decorated with double pink hibiscus and pittisporum. This lovely scale planter was a gift to Mrs. Poulter from her husband, that he brought back from a recent cruise in Naples.

A door prize of a salmon colored cigar was won by Mrs. Owen McCarron.

The meeting was a pre-season get-together for the group and the first business meeting of the season is scheduled for Oct. 12 at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Arlis McAllister, 2630 Myrtle Ave.

Other members attending were Mrs. Leonard DeWitt, circle president; Mrs. Vernon Lileks, Mrs. Everett Terry, Mrs. D. K. Dorman, Mrs. Lee R. Sallee, Mrs. Ted Barker, Mrs. Joseph Carsley, Mrs. A. W. Cannon, Mrs. Fred Gray and Mrs. John Spolaki.

Mrs. Helen Hollack, a new member, was also present and welcomed by the group.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Philip R. Bach of Hyattsville, Md., announce the birth of a 6 lb. 8 oz. son, Sept. 27 at Doctor's Hospital in Miami.

Mrs. Philip R. Bach, Loch Arbor, is the paternal grandmother and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips of Pompano Beach.

This is the first child for the couple and they have chosen the name, Jeffrey Philip, for the new arrival. Mrs. Bach spent the past few weeks with her parents in Pompano Beach.

Auxiliary Delegate Gives Report From Convention

The Ladies Auxiliary to Barracks 688, World War One, USA, Inc., met at the American Legion Home on Hwy. 17-92 for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Harry A. Osteen, president, welcomed a large number of prospective new members who were present, following the business session which included the reading of information regarding the recent national convention held in Dallas.

Mrs. Beula Thornton, a delegate to the convention gave a very interesting report.

Mrs. Robert Williams gave a report on the recent rummage sale which was very successful and thanked all for their cooperation.

Plans were made to have a covered dish supper preceding the next meeting to be followed by a white elephant sale. Mrs. Williams was named chairman. Members were asked to bring a covered dish and a place setting.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and members of the Barracks joined the group for refreshments. Hostesses were Mrs. Joel S. Field and Mrs. Sidney Fowler.

The next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 27.

Mizpah Circle Plans Events For October

Mrs. J. B. Crawford was hostess to the monthly meeting of the Mizpah Circle of Grace Methodist Church at her home on Lake Mary.

Mrs. C. E. Clammer announced several coming events for the month. W.C.S.C. members have planned to visit every woman member of the church this week. A pic-a-ny party is planned for Oct. 10 and a plastic party at the church, for Oct. 16, starting at 8 p.m. Husbands are invited to both events and proceeds will be added to the building fund.

The devotion period was led by Mrs. C. C. Brooks and an interesting chapter of the study book "The Meaning of Suffering," was presented by Mrs. R. V. Thompson.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. C. E. Williams during the social hour.

Other members attending were Mrs. I. J. Butler, Mrs. Mildred Gramkow, Mrs. C. R. Rankin, Mrs. Daniel Sweeney, Mrs. K. R. Wilkins, Mrs. R. L. Duffey and Mrs. A. P. Kostival.

Baby Contest Planned By Zeta Xi Members

Initial plans were made for the annual "Baby Contest," sponsored by the Zeta Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, sorority, when the group met in the caucus room of the First Federal building.

Miss Joan Wright and Miss Judy Bentley presented the program on "Your Poise and Charm." It included a discussion on courtesies practiced at home, business, social events and meetings.

Following the program, refreshments of cookies and cold drinks were served by co-hostesses, Mrs. Charles Dickie and Mrs. Robert L. Reaves.

Others present were Mrs. Gary Rudgins, Mrs. Leon Swain Jr., Mrs. Bud Corley, Mrs. Fred Wilson, Mrs. Harvey Wilkinson, Mrs. James Lyons.

Flu Hits Lyman 11

Flu has struck the ranks of the Lyman High School football squad, said Assistant Coach Buck Metts Wednesday. While only two men are actually out with it the coaches are making arrangements to have flu shots given to members of the squad. They want to forestall any possible outbreak among the players which might decimate their ranks for the game with Admiral Farragut Friday night.

Coch Metts said that the team looked "awfully bad" (Lyman 27, Newberry 0) in the first half of the game with Newberry last Friday night. He said the squad seemed to be flat, that the blocking was off and the team seemed unable to get going until the second half. However, Metts said in the latter part of the game the team played well.

The squad is working hard this week against a 4-4 tandem defense, which Metts said was used not too often but which Friday's opponent, Admiral Farragut, employs.

The sick and injury list includes Halfback Jimmy Williams and Quarterback Fred Grant who are down with the flu, and Dick Farmer, who broke his hand last week in practice. He has it in a cast and will be out for some time.

SEC Grid Teams Hustle Through Some Snappy Drills

By United Press International

Southeastern Conference football teams hustled through snappy drills Wednesday with Auburn and Kentucky getting in some rough work for their game Saturday.

Coach Ralph Jordan described his Tiger scrimmage as "very good." Auburn worked on stopping the Kentucky aerial attack and put in extensive time preparing a defense for the Wildcat running game.

Wildcat Coach Blanton Collier also concentrated on defense. "Auburn always has a tough defense and now has a new, powerful offense," Collier said. "Now, what we've got to do is generate an offense of our own."

The Tennessee Vols buckled down to perfecting a pass defense against Mississippi's whip-armed Charlie Furlow. Fullback J. W. Carter was back in action with his leg injury apparently healed.

Blocking back Gene Gann was still limping and center L. T. Helton was showing only slow improvement. Both were injured in last week's loss to Auburn.

Georgia Tech went through a two-hour workout against LSU defenses.

Coach Bobby Dodd said sophomore end Billy Martin "is probably the most improved boy on the team, coming all the way from the B team to first string offensive end."

Georgia Coach Johnny Griffith said tackle Bobby Green, who has a pulled knee ligament, is a doubtful starter against South Carolina. Griffith said halfback Gary Glover, who suffered a shoulder separation, is definitely out for the game.

Louisiana State divided its time between offense and defense, paying particular attention to pass defense. The Bengals also concentrated on blocking assignments.

Vanderbilt worked out under lights in preparing for Saturday night's game with Alabama. The Commodores emphasized passing in the two-hour drill. Tackle Dan Boone was in full pads for the first time since he injured his foot in the West Virginia game.

Series Opener Was Dull Game

NEW YORK (UPI) — Looking at the young Cincinnati Reds playing the Yankees in the vast stadium, a first experience for every one of them, you have to doubt Manager Fred Hutchinson's claim they are not "tight."

They played well in the opening game. They were up against one of the best—if not the best—competitive pitchers in baseball today.

Perhaps they will bounce back and slay the giant as the Pirates did last year. But the crowd of 62,307 at the opening game of the 1961 World Series seemed to sense they were outmatched.

Scarcely can there have been a series game when the crowd found so little to cheer about. Yet it was an excellent game as pure baseball. Whitey Ford pitched masterful two-hit ball. The Yanks got two big runs with homers.

But it was a dull game. Maybe there was a letdown after Roger Maris' heroic home run feat. Maybe Mickey Mantle's absence from the lineup played its part. And maybe the drab 60-degree weather, so dark the lights had to be turned on, subdued the crowd.

It was a day for popcorn and furs, coffee instead of beer. At $7.50 apiece for grandstand seats, you take the wide instead of the kids and maybe that was why there was far less yelling than during one of the regular season home games.

Rides 3 Winners

PAWTUCKET, N. I. (UPI)—Bill Skuse rode three winners at Narragansett Tuesday, scoring aboard Responder Vous ($9.80) in the 8th, Could Be ($9.80) in the sixth and For Fun ($11.80) in the ninth.

To Meet Fernandez

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cecil Shorts of Cleveland has agreed to meet Argentina's Jorge Fernandez in a nationally televised fight from Madison Square Garden Oct. 14 as a replacement for Bruno Visintia of Italy.

Named To All-Stars

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wayne Yates, a 6-8, 235-pounder from Memphis State, was named today by Coach Bones McKinney to play for the college all stars in their annual exhibition basketball game against the New York Knickerbockers on Oct. 12.

Dressen To Baltimore? He May, Says MacPhail

NEW YORK (UPI) — Charlie Dressen going to Baltimore? "There is a definite possibility he may," said Lee MacPhail, the president of the Orioles today. "I have spoken with him and he is being given consideration by our club."

Dressen could come to the Orioles as either manager or coach, MacPhail conceded.

"As of this moment, we have not made up our mind on a manager for 1962," MacPhail explained. "One of the things I learned working under George Weiss was not to make a decision until you have to. We still have some time . . ."

Dressen, let out as manager of the Milwaukee Braves last month, says he wouldn't mind returning to the American League where he served previously as a coach with the New York Yankees and as manager of the Washington Senators.

"Dressen is one of many we are considering," MacPhail said. "So far, we have signed only one coach for next year. That's Harry Brecheen. In addition to a manager, we still need at least two more coaches. Since we already have named one coach, we rather feel that the new manager should have the privilege of choosing some of his own coaches."

Two of the coaches who served under Paul Richards at Baltimore this year—Luman Harris and Jerry Adair—are going with him to Houston. Harris finished out the season as Oriole manager but even before he did he had more or less committed himself to Richards.

Among the other candidates being considered as a possible manager by the Orioles for next year are Billy Hitchcock and Mayo Smith.

Galors Leave For Tulane Tilt

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — The Florida Gators, hurt by injuries in the line but with star quarterback Larry Liberto apparently ready to go, leave today for New Orleans and a final workout in the Sugar Bowl before Friday night's game with Tulane.

Liberto injured his hand earlier in the week and missed practice Tuesday. But Wednesday he was back running and passing at full tilt.

Tackles Floyd Dean and fullback Cecil Ewell, both with knee injuries, were definitely out of the lineup for Tulane, and tackle Dick Jones was a questionable starter.

Jax To Field Team In IL

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Jacksonville will have a team in the International Baseball League next year.

Sam Wolfson, president of the Jacksonville club, announced Tuesday night that the Jersey City International League entry will be transferred here. The new club will supplant the Jacksonville Jets of the South Atlantic League who played here this season.

The new club will have a working agreement with the Cleveland Indians.

Boxer Of Month

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI) — Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba was named "Boxer of the Month" today by the National Boxing Association because he recaptured the welterweight championship from Emile Griffith of New York last Saturday on an upset split decision in their return fight.

Club 211 Rolls High Loop Series

In the past Friday morning epic at Jet Lanes, Holler Motor's Navy Wives League elected Mrs. Alice Beaulieu the new vice president for the league.

High series for the day went to Navy Wives Club 211 with 2332. Next came NAMTD with 2600.

Friday morning seemed a good morning for picking up splits as Marty Kinnard picked up the 2-7-8 and then the 3-10. Not to be outdone, Irene Duke picked up the 3-8-10 and next came Sue Moury with the 7-6-10.

The 3-10 split was picked up by Mackey, Hilliard and Willis and last but not least, Franklin and Barber picked up the 2-7.

High scratch games for the day went to Fran Mackey with a 167, Almata Franklin, 162 and Clara Barber with 159 score.

Miami Stressing Passing Attack

CORAL GABLES (UPI) — Miami's Hurricanes planned to keep the emphasis on passing in a final light workout today for Friday night's game with Navy at the Orange Bowl.

The Hurricanes worked until dark Wednesday on both offensive pass plays and defending against passes. Coach Andy Gustafson predicted an aerial battle between the Hurricanes and the Middles.

Named Coach

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Shirley Schmitt of Elizabeth, N. J., one-time holder of 12 national jumps and figure, scale titles, was named today to coach the United States team in the world roller skating championships at Bologna Italy, Oct. 19-23.

It Was Just Too Much Ford

NEW YORK (UPI) — Whitey Ford's masterful two-hit pitching, blended with a pair of solo homers and some eye-popping defensive play summed up the New York Yankees' 2-0 opening game World Series victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

"Just say Mr. Ford and Mr. Boyer," Yankee Manager Ralph Houk remarked after the game. "And, of course, those two home runs."

Ford, 32-year-old New York clutch pitcher who had a 25-4 record during the regular season, gave Luis Arroyo the afternoon off with a brilliant performance in which he struck out six batters and permitted only one of Cincinnati's three base runners to reach second.

It was Ford's third consecutive World Series shutout and his eighth win in series competition. He is 2 1/2 innings short of the all-time series mark of 29 1/2 consecutive scoreless innings set by Babe Ruth when he was a pitcher for the Boston Red Sox in 1916 and 1918. And his eight victories top the previous mark he shared with former Yankees, Red Ruffing and Allie Reynolds.

Ford completed only 11 games during the regular season — and owned much of his brilliant record to Arroyo's relief pitching — but Wednesday's cool weather was right down his alley. Singles by Eddie Kasko in the first inning and Wally Post in the fifth were the only Cincinnati hits.

Jim O'Toole, the handsome young Cincinnati starter, pitched a good game in his own right but was tagged for a homer by Elston Howard in the fourth inning and another by Bill Skowron in the sixth.

He had a break, of course, in the fact that Mickey Mantle didn't play but he demonstrated his skills by retiring home runner Roger Maris four times without letting him hit a ball out of the infield. But he simply wasn't good enough to match Ford, who got the Yankees off winning in their quest of their 19th world championship in 26 series appearances.

Boyer, younger brother of St. Louis' Ken, made two magnificent plays at third base — underlining once again the impeccable defense which the Yankees throw up behind their pitchers.

On the first, he made a back-hand pickup of Gene Froese's sharp drive and threw him out in the second inning and in the eighth he dove to the ground to make a brilliant stop and throw on pinchhitter Dick Gernert's bid for a hit into the hole.

The Reds were disappointed, of course, but their attitude was reflected in a comment by manager Fred Hutchinson.

"How can you second-guess a top-notch pitcher?" he said.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A certain girl and I married brothers. When she introduces me to people she says, "This is my HUSBAND's sister-in-law." To me I am as much HER sister-in-law as I am HIS. What do you think? PUZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Your "sister-in-law" is getting down to the fine technicalities. According to Webster's unabridged dictionary a "sister-in-law" is the sister of one's husband or wife; also the wife of one's brother; SOMETIMES, the wife of one's husband's or wife's brother. I presume the "sometimes" means when you want to bring the relationship closer, which obviously is not the case here.

DEAR ABBY: My birthday is soon. I will be eleven years old. I want to have about 8 children to my party. My mother said she would give the party, and I am very happy about it, but there is one thing that is spoiling it for me. My mother says I am not to tell anyone that it is my birthday because she doesn't want them to buy presents. Now, Abby, I think that presents are most of the fun of a birthday party. How can I explain this to my mother? UNHAPPY

DEAR UNHAPPY: Your mother is very thoughtful to be considerate of the guests' pocketbooks, but I agree with you.

Presents ARE great fun at a birthday party. I hope she reconsiders.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old high school senior. I've been dating a certain girl for about four months. For a while I really was crazy about her. The luster has worn off now, and I don't care to date her any more. I don't want to hurt her. I don't want to tell her outright, and I don't want to keep her wondering and waiting. What would be least painful to her?

NO BEAST
DEAR NO BEAST: If you have made no commitments to her (such as asking her to go steady), just start dating another girl or two. If you had an "understanding," and she dated only you, tell her that you want to date others, and she should, too.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GREG: There is no such thing as a "missed opportunity." The ones you missed were used by somebody else.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

When she confided in a friend that her retired husband had announced he was going to start having lunch at home each day, one wife summed up her reaction with: "Oh, murder. I wouldn't know what to serve for lunch. I never eat any myself."

The wife was Mrs. Harry S. Truman, or at least that's the story as reported in an article about former President Truman in retirement.

This is just by way of pointing out the fact that while men are given all kinds of advice on how to cope with the retirement years, everyone seems to assume that the wife of a retired man has no problems.

After all, say the experts, (men, of course) the wife keeps right on being a housewife so she has no major adjustments to make.

The truth of the matter is that to women who have been able to plan their days for years without consulting anyone else a husband suddenly freed from his job presents a few problems.

They may seem minor to the experts — but they aren't so minor to the wife.

There's that daily lunch to prepare that cuts into her former routine. If the husband has set up office or shop in his own home as so many retired men do, the wife may suddenly find herself a combination secretary, office boy and first assistant. That is especially true if a man has retired from an executive job where he is used to giving orders and being waited on.

And, of course, some retired men can't find enough to do to keep themselves busy and their minds occupied — and then the housewife finds that she hasn't time for her woman friends or her own activities — so busy is she being a constant companion to her husband. Some wives claim that would be delightful if their husbands wanted to do things or even to talk to them. "But all my husband wants is for me to be around," they claim.

So there are plenty of adjustments on both sides of the family when a man quits his job for good — one of the main ones for the wife being that when her husband retires, her own responsibilities increase.

You can retire, men, but you could be a nuisance around the house. See Ruth Millet's booklet, "Happier Wives (Hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Jack Carter Treks Filmward

By ESKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—The top bananas—the untouchables of early variety shows on TV—are blending voices in a growing chorus of "We're in the movies now."

Jack Carter is the latest to follow the road to Hollywood in the footsteps of Red Buttons, Jerry Lester, Jackie Gleason, Milton Berle and others. Only Sid Caesar remains to be heard from.

Sure, you remember Jack Carter. When TV was only a dim light on a 10-inch screen, there was "The Jack Carter Show" on NBC and "Cavalcade of Stars," starring Jack Carter.

He was one of those TV pioneers who introduced unknowns like Caesar and Gleason to the TV tubes, and who remembers follows who became TV producers and cameramen "two days out of high school."

From 1949 to 1961, Jack Carter was all over the dial as actor, comedian, singer, mimic, dancer, minstrel and pantomimist.

They were giddy, razzie-dazzle days. "The TV public knew me overnight and tired of me overnight. TV made and broke you almost immediately in those days. I had too much ambition about making good—too much drive. I was at the top. I guess I drove myself downhill."

A new comedy, MGM's "The Horizontal Lieutenant," starring Jim Hutton and Paula Prentiss, will introduce Carter to the big screens. He's playing a comedy role, but he can add, gratefully: "It's also a character part."

But a television image, even one 10 years old, is difficult to erase. Carter admits, "I'm scared. I don't want to play the role too broad and yet when a fellow like me underplays — underplays — it's like denying your whole existence."

Rugged—he's built like a prize fighter — black-haired Carter is luckier than some comedians. His early background was Shakespeare, not slapstick.

"It's funny," he says. "I was in a sock company with Jeff Chandler and Gordon MacRae. I was the heavy, the deep-voiced actor. Christopher Morley, the writer, thought I had such promise as a straight actor that he took me to an agent."

But the clown in him kept coming out. The 10-inch screens zoomed him to stardom built on laughs. Movie offers followed—a test at Columbia, another at MGM. "Something always happened and I went back to TV," he explains.

TV gave him a big night club audience and Broadway raves for roles in "Mr. Wonderful," "Call Me Mister," and "Top Banana."

But while laughing it up with Buster Keaton in an early TV sketch, or impersonating Boris Karloff on a night club floor, Carter usefully remembers:

"I kept thinking that what I wanted to play were John Garfield-type roles."

MGM's comedy will put him on the path, he hopes, to straight character parts. He sees no future for television, quipping:

"The next big hit show probably will be a western-situation-panel show."

He knows now what happened to most of the TV actors and crew members with whom he worked in New York and Chicago 10 years ago.

"They're all in Hollywood now," he says. "One fellow gave me quite a start. He's the producer of a series and he said to me, 'Remember me? I swept the stage after your shows in Chicago.'

"It was terrible. I didn't remember him."

Appeals Flood Desk Of Senators

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "I am praying you can, in some way, help Robert stay out. . ."

Robert is a specialist fourth class in the National Guard. Like thousands of others he has been recalled to active duty because of the Berlin crisis.

The appeal was made by Robert's mother to a senator. She asked him to try to get Robert a deferment until he finished college. But the National Guard Bureau denied the senator's request.

The last-ditch "write your senator" appeals have flooded Capitol offices since Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara ordered reserve and National Guard units to active duty.

"We have been swamped," one senatorial secretary said. "I have them stacked up on my desk right now."

The senators do their best. They write or wire the Army and relay the request for a deferment, postponement, or transfer. They write follow-up letters.

When the decision is finally made, they send a telegram to the applicant. The telegram states either "deeply regret" or "highly pleased" as the case may be.

"If you have a really good case, you can get a deferment," a senatorial aide said.

Highlights

7:30-8:30 p.m. (CBS) Frontier Circus — "The Depths of Fear." Premiere. Aldo Ray and James Gregory will be guest stars in this new series about a traveling circus, owned by Col. Casey Thompson (Chill Wills). Gregory, playing the part of a lion tamer, reveals Ray, once a circus star but now a cowardly roustabout. But Gregory's beautiful wife, played by Bethel Leslie, plies Ray and encourages him to fight back — and you can imagine what that leads to! John Derek plays Thompson's partner and Richard Jaekel is the trail guide.

7:30-8:30 p.m. (NBC) Outlaws — "Chalk's Lot." Premiere. Series, beginning its second season. Added, are three regulars; with Don Collier, as Will Foreman, upped from deputy to Chief U. S. Marshal. Production values also appear to have been stepped up along with a bigger cast, now including co-stars Bruce Yarnell as deputy marshal Chalk Breeson, and Slim Pickens as Slim. But the pickings, with opening story, are also somewhat slim, although engaging. A sharp gambler swindles Slim out of a piece of property. Chalk talks over legal means to counteract duplicity.

8:30-9 p.m. (CBS) Bob Cummings Show — "Executive Sweet." Premiere. First, it was the bumbling "Beanblossom," then the model-crazy photographer; and now, Bob Cummings launches his third series as a plane-crazy adventurer, for hire with either 7-passenger Beechcraft, or an Aero-car, for two, folding its wings for alternate use on a highway. Ironically, opening episode sees most of the action taking place on a train. Bob's a bit more serious-minded in this new series, but still a quipster, with an eye for the gals. On hand to play man Friday is Muryyn Yye, with muscles in his head as well as his arms. Particularly noteworthy is Joanna Barnes, as a tycoon heiress hiring Bob to rush her proxies to San Francisco in an effort to keep control of her company. It won't spoil your fun to tell you Bob makes it with seconds to spare.

9-10 p.m. (CBS) "The Investigators" — "Murder on Order." Premiere. Six dance lessons from Madame Lucia Vallancourt could be dangerous; at least, it would appear that way, when suspicion regarding supposed accidental deaths lead to a dance studio. Alluring owner is nicely played by guest star Rhonda Fleming. Starring as insurance investigator is James Franciscus; his partner is James Philbrook, with Mary Murphy as girl Friday and decoy for the investigators. Life expectancy for a long-range series is indefinite at this stage. But it has prospects for moderate longevity, if not afflicted with deadly trite story virus. Too early yet to write out a policy, but cast rates as fair risk.

MRS. E. L. JOHNSON
A crisp Autumn to you?? It's coming... Winter, I mean... Err and I dread it. Older residents of Monroe will be sorry to hear of the passing of a former resident, Mrs. Mary Kesserman, in DeLand. Our sympathy goes out to Mr. Kesserman and family. * * * Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch Matheson.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Keel, daughter Martha, Penny Nichols, Wanda Braswell went to New Smyrna Saturday evening to one of those famous sea food restaurants and ate and ate. The occasion was Sammye Keel's (?) birthday. She didn't tell me which one but I guess it was Jack Benny's age. Then they returned home and of all things ate some more. This time cake and fruit. I, Sammye and Leon had as guests over the weekend brother, G. H. Knight and Margaret and sons, Jackie and Pee Wee of Flagler Beach. Hear tell that they are building them a home there. And speaking of the Mathesons, Clara's daughter Wanda and son-in-law, J. T. Belcher, and two wee offsprings spent the weekend with them and then went on to Palm Beach. They are from LaFayette, Ala. I know that Clara was in seventh heaven. Custer Long and daughter Martha also dropped by the Keels Sunday on their way home to Bainbridge, Ga. * * * Let me tell you about the Baby Seminoles of Monroe. They are boys from six to 10 and are coached by Richard Boyd. They are Richard Justice, Q.B.; Randy Boyd, L.H.B.; Larry Proctor, R.H.B.; Ricky Boyd, L.E.; Jim Rabun, R.E.; Buzzy Ervay, Kimmie Ervay and Bruce Mann, linemen. They beat the Orange City Baby Bulldogs 42 to 18. I want to see them in their next game which will be here but Dick did not know the exact day. I think it is wonderful for him to take up time with the boys. It is keeping up their moral, making them sports minded and will certainly help to keep delinquency down, so keep up the good work, Dick. By the way if any of you older boys or any one having any football equipment or uniforms not being used want to donate it to a good cause if they will call Dick at FA 2-1413 he will be glad to come pick it up. Wonder if they need a cheer leader. Home Demonstration Club meets tonight at Daisy Dowell's in Loch Arbor. Sure hope all members can attend. The program will be on Table Setting and Pastry making. * * * Rose Poff and I rode over to Apopka Sunday afternoon to see Clover Marrs. When I walked into her room and saw her face light up and say "Well, if it isn't my neighbor," it made me feel so good to see that wonderful smile on her face again. This was the old Marrs as we know her talking now. Although still weak and thin from her long siege of illness I can just see her walking into her beloved Church and coming to our H.D. meetings again. * * * Louise Thompson was pleased with the turnout at the first Brownie meeting but still wants more to join her group. They will meet every Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. at the Monroe School. And remember the Girl Scouts meet at the Educational building of the Upsala Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Jane Fletcher is the leader. * * * Had a call from George Bell the other day. He recently graduated from a real estate school in Orlando and is now connected with the Harrison Real Estate Co. here. * * * Rena Hawkins returned home Monday after being called to Niceville because of the serious illness of her father, Mr. W. R. Reddick. * * * Happy Birthday to Sharon Carroll and also Tommy Carroll. * * * For those who have called me in regards to the Minstrel show, I have not been able to see Mr. Ruby yet, but maybe we can talk him into it. Have talked to most of the old cast and they are ready to start in again. * * * Am sorry that I did not get to go to the F-TO meeting at Monroe Tuesday evening so will report on that next week. I understand that Tommy Thompson presided for Claude Hittler who was unable to be there because of a business commitment. Talking to Lynn Gilet yesterday and she said brother Ed and Chris Grow might be up for a few days. I hope so. I have half way decided to go down to Miami shortly for the weekend to see them and another brother and also to see our old postmaster Annie McArthur. * * * Here are two thoughts for this week: "A loving heart is the beginning of ALL knowledge." * * * "Success comes in cans. Failure comes in can't's."

DeBary Choir Honors Director
By MRS. ADAM MULDER
Choir members of the DeBary Community Methodist Church honored their director, Mrs. Price Goodson, whose retirement became effective Sunday, at a social hour following the Thursday rehearsal last week. A cake decorated with the musical clef and pale pink roses and musical notes centered the refreshment table and choir members, with President Stanley Rader as spokesman, presented Mrs. Goodson with a gift of costume jewelry in appreciation for her work with the group.

Longwood Firemen Set Practice
Longwood Fire Chief Claude Layo has announced a special practice session on extinguishing oil fires for 9 a. m. Sunday. The Chief, stressing the importance of the practice, urges all volunteers to participate in the exercises. Meeting place will be at the Hall. DISTRICT GOVERNOR of the Lions, Meryl Kiehligher of Daytona Beach paid his annual visit to the Sanford Lions Club Tuesday, accompanied by Deputy District Governor A. H. Hufford of Orange City. Lions Club Aid To Blind, Community Acclaimed

"The service of Lionism is the practical application of religion to everyday life."
This was the summary made by District Governor of Lions Meryl Kiehligher, when he met with the Sanford Lions Club at their luncheon, Tuesday.

Conservation Men Up For Election
Seminole County landowners will go to the polls Oct. 17 to elect three directors of the Soil Conservation District. Candidates include W. W. Lins, Elbert Cammack and C. A. Wales. Terms expire this month for Robert E. Lee, Bonner L. Carier and Wales. Polling places will be set up at the Oviedo Drug Store, Geneva Service Center, Herman Dean's in Longwood, Tindel's Grocery in Lake Monroe and at the Chamber of Commerce Building in Sanford. Lee, chairman of the present board, urges landowners in the Soil Conservation District, which includes all of Seminole County, to cast their votes for the candidates of their choice to "help maintain self-government in the conservation of our soil and water resources."

"In the field of service, Lions are the greatest doers," he said. "In 113 countries in the free world there are 18,000 Lions clubs with 630,000 members."
"But there is no merit in mere business," said Kiehligher, "unless it accomplishes something. And Lions have over 200,000 community service projects, which service which if paid for would cost $100,000,000."
Kiehligher quoted a South American delegate to the United Nations as saying, "Of all the lend lease aid being sent to South America, the greatest fighter of Communism there are the Lions Clubs with their positive democratic ideas and actions."
One of the most outstanding projects of the Lions club is their Fund for the Blind, with glaucoma clinics and eye checks. Throughout the state of Florida the Lions glaucoma clinics have discovered more than 1,000 cases of glaucoma and saved the sight of hundreds of people. In conjunction with the aid to the blind, the local Lions Club this week kicked off their annual light bulb sale, with all proceeds going to the aid of the blind and the maintenance of the clinics. All Lions have the light bulbs available and in addition will circulate downtown on October 17th from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m.; from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. and from 3:30 to 5:50 p. m. They will also make a concerted drive on October 20th downtown from 3:30 to 8:30 p. m. and at Memorial Stadium at the football game from 6 to 10 p. m.

Russian Classes Open To Adults At Lyman High

Adult classes in Russian will be organized at 7 p.m. Tuesday with Michel Zvorybin as instructor at Lyman High School in Longwood. Zvorybin, a native of Russia, is a graduate of the Brno Agricultural College in Czechoslovakia. He has lived in the United States since 1951. Charges for the class will include those of the textbook and the registration fee. The purchase of an English-Russian dictionary which will be used for the course is optional. Those interested in enrolling for the classes should report to Lyman High for the opening meeting. Further information is available from F. S. Douglass, director of Vocational and Adult Education, Sanford.

Circle Sponsors Rummage Sale

A rummage sale will be held at Sanford Avenue and 4th Street by the St. Anne Circle of the Church of the Nativity Catholic Women's Club of Lake Mary. The Friday hours will be from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., while on Saturday the sale will start at 10 a.m. Chairman is Pat Tolle and donations will be picked up by calling FA 2-3330. Fear Of Nuclear Holocaust Haunting Assembly Delegates

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — An underlying fear of a nuclear holocaust is haunting delegates to the 16th United Nations General Assembly. Virtually every speaker in the general public debate so far has emphasized the urgent need to halt the arms race before East-West tensions trigger a devastating global war. Whether the delegates can transform this fear into concrete and effective action remains to be seen. There is considerable skepticism in view of the basic differences between Russia and the Western powers. The initiative now is up to the 100-nation assembly where the countries of Africa, Asia and Latin America control two-thirds of the votes. Russia and the United States have failed in bilateral talks to agree on a forum for renewed disarmament negotiations. Howard C. Green, Canada's external affairs secretary, put the question bluntly in delegates this week in a policy speech: "The crisis over Berlin and the great anxiety created by the resumption of nuclear weapons tests have brought to every mind the death and destruction which would follow the outbreak of nuclear war."

Russia Blasts 17th STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — The Soviet Union early today set off another nuclear blast "every high up in the atmosphere" over Novaya Zemlya, the seismologic institution at Uppsala reported. It was Russia's 17th.

South Seminole Has Law Officials For 1st Time

The Sanford Herald Seminole Area Edition

COUNTY NEWS THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1961 PAGE 13

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Plan To Attend

Firemen of the Lake Mary Volunteer Dept. at their monthly business meeting Tuesday night will plan an instructional course open to the area for proper training on uses of radiological monitoring equipment.

Members of the department who will be trained to use and read the instruments point out that it is of vital importance for as many persons as possible to receive this instruction since the very lives of all area residents could, in case of nuclear attack, depend on any one person who is capable of handling the equipment necessity demands.

They also point out that it is sheer folly to sit back and depend on any one group to serve an area in this capacity since any number of emergency situations could arise in such a crisis to prevent the trained group from being where it is supposed to be... when it is supposed to be...

When the Lake Mary Volunteers announce their schedule for the civil defense instruction, we strongly urge that residents take advantage of the opportunity... who knows how soon our safety might depend entirely upon their training?

North Orlando Garden Club Sets Meeting

By MONA GRINSTEAD

The North Orlando Garden Club will hold its first meeting of the season next Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the North Orlando Baptist Chapel, 100 N. Fairfax Ave.

Although the club has been inactive as a whole during the summer months, its committee chairman have been preparing and planning the year's social and project activities.

A program schedule has been drawn up by Mrs. Beverly Kreck and her committee and the Garden Award Committee, with Mrs. Phyllis Black as chairman, continued to function through the summer.

All members have received a list of dried materials suitable for making arrangements in order that they may begin collecting supplies now for later use.

Those interested in joining the Garden Club are advised that they may arrange to attend a meeting by contacting Mrs. Jack Sutton or Mrs. Donald Nall of the telephone committee.

Officers this year are Mrs. Vera Anderson, president; Mrs. Virginia Robinson, vice president; Mrs. Maureen Riddler, secretary; Mrs. Sara Proust, treasurer; Mrs. Hilda Sommers, chaplain and Mrs. Ewrightson Harville, parliamentarian.

Other staff members include Deanna Farins, production manager; Roy Stone, John Berling and Ken Schach, business managers; Jerry Watkins, Felton Westbury, circulation managers; Pat Ackerman, Lana Umlauf, Sharon Clinger and Brenda Berry, copy editors; Leslie Joseph, feature editor; Marie Goldman and Ginger VanDuzer, society editors; Paula Hicks and Lana Umlauf, art editors; Pat Pearson, exchange editor; Don Wallace, Carl Presley and Nancy Peck, sports editors; George Lewis, music editor and Buddy Howton, Larry Chaudoin, Carlos Gibbs and Jennifer Blanton, proof readers.

J. S. Houston is teacher advisor to the student staff.

Unique Challenge Faces VFW Teams

By JANE CASSELBERRY

Bowling Teams of South Seminole VFW Post 8207 are faced with a unique challenge when they meet the Disabled Veterans of Daytona Beach on Oct. 15. All bowlers will be required to bowl from wheel chairs.

Games, scheduled to open at 4 p. m. at Medallion Lanes in Maitland, will be open to the public.

Busy Bee Scouts Ready For Year

By MONA GRINSTEAD

North Orlando's Busy Bee Girl Scout Patrol began a brand new year with their brand new leader Saturday when Mrs. Sherman Huffman spent the day getting acquainted with the girls while on an outing to Santaloga Springs.

Assisting Mrs. Huffman on the trip was Mrs. Ewrightson Harville and expenses for the outing were taken from funds raised by the group of sixth grade girls during the summer.

Meetings of the Patrol, which in November will be a registered Troop, have been set by the leader at her home 110 N. Cortez Ave. each Tuesday from 4 p. m. until 5:30 p. m.

Mrs. Nance Russell, chairman of Lyman Neighborhood Number 3, has attended meetings of the new year to help prepare the girls for their organization as a troop and Mrs. Huffman reports that members are eagerly working together in order to begin their Troop activities in November with a good record.

Area Women Invited To Attend HD Club Meeting

Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club members have issued a special invitation to all homemakers and neighbors in the community to attend their next meeting for a particularly interesting demonstration on proper table settings and new methods for making pie shells.

Mrs. Charles Martin, the club's food chairman, will present the demonstrations and suggests that each member bring a guest, or guests, in order that latest information and newest recipes available from state home demonstration offices and local agents may be brought to more and more Seminole County women.

The meeting will be held at the Lake Mary Fire Hall beginning at 10:30 a. m. with a covered dish luncheon at noon. Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. George Lindahl and Mrs. Hazel Voss.

Name Officers

The Senior Class of Lyman High School has announced its officers for the year.

Elected were Roger Khron, president; Gloria Loveall, vice president; Nancy Peck, secretary, and Laurie Cheatham, treasurer.

North Orlando Civic Group Announces Future Events

The North Orlando Civic Assn. meeting Monday night in the Village Hall, clicked through a heavy agenda which included a number of reports on past events and projects and announcements for those coming up within the next few weeks.

In addition to hearing and adopting a resolution criticizing the past actions of the North Orlando Co. for not carrying through on past promises for civic facilities, the association amended its bylaws in order to include a second vice president who could conduct meetings in the absence of the president and first vice president. Robert Stephenson was elected to the newly created office.

Reports were heard on the Fourth of July celebration and announcement was made that the first issue of an association sponsored civic paper has been published and delivered. The publication will go out monthly with Mrs. James D. Grinstead as its editor and Mrs. Rose Murphy serving as typist.

W. W. Anderson, president, announced that 12 bags of fertilizer remain from the recent sales project and are available for purchase through the association.

Jack Riddley, reporting on a Christmas project for children, advised that Marine Reserves repair toys and suggested that Civic Association members sponsor a collection drive for toys in the community which can be turned over to the Reserves. Firemen planned the drive using the truck, for the afternoon of Nov. 4 with the donations to be made upon decision of the children who wish to contribute and share with the less fortunate. A "Sound of the sirens" will open the "Toys for Tots" drive on the designated date.

Arrangements will be completed by Mrs. Anton Kreck for the showing of an anti-Communism film in the community. The film will be shown by an official from the Sanford Naval Air Station. Mrs. Kreck said, and a question and answer period will follow. Date for this will be announced within a few days, she advised.

The association planned a Community Halloween Night to begin at 6:30 p. m. and will ask assistance from other civic and social groups in North Orlando in staging the event which will be for the whole family.

Fire Chief Stephenson announced

Lyman Council Elects Officers

The Student Council of Lyman High School has announced its elected officers for the year.

Named were Buddy Howton, president; Paula Hicks, vice president; Dawn Barnes, secretary; Virginia Humes, treasurer; Barbara Ferrell, chaplain; Marvin Fellows, publicity and Connie Pruitt, citizenship.

The council will supply patrols for duty in the school lunchroom and rest rooms. Members also are planning to sell Lyman High School pennants to raise money for their project of the term which is buying American Heritage Books for the school library.

Casselberry Man Home On Leave

By JANE CASSELBERRY

Seaman Apprentice Donald Barnes is spending a two-weeks leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Barnes of 51 Seminola Blvd., Casselberry.

Upon completion of Boot Training at the U. S. Naval Training Center in San Diego, Calif., he was chosen as one of the top two recruits from his Company.

Barnes, who enlisted in the Navy following his graduation last June from Lyman High School, is scheduled for a six-months cruise in the Pacific upon his return to duty.

Rights-Of-Way Needed For Bear Lake Road

County Engineer Carlton Bliss today said that Bear Lake Road could very well end up a "dead project" unless "we get needed rights-of-way."

Bliss said that work on the two mile stretch of road would have been started in June but "we have secured very little rights-of-way from property owners in the area."

The proposed project stretches from SR 436 to the Orange County line.

Bliss repeating that thus far "we have very few rights-of-way and the project could very well die," added that work crews have been taken off the project because of the rights-of-way delay.

Civic Association Names Newsletter

The name of "North Orlando Newsette" has been chosen by officials of the North Orlando Civic Assn. for their monthly newsletter which will be published and delivered to the door of each home in the village during the week preceding the first Monday of each month, meeting date of the association.

The Newsette, with Mrs. James D. Grinstead as editor, promises to be a "crusade" with its purpose that of informing residents of events and activities taking place in and around the village.

The first edition, distributed last week, contained in brief form examples of material to be reported each month. Included were reports on civic, church, social and civil defense organizations in the community and the first issue featured a personality sketch of Mrs. Anton Kreck.

Mrs. Grinstead has advised "this is to be the newsletter of North Orlando residents and their suggestions will be appreciated."

Catholic Women To Sponsor Party At Church School

By ATLANTA MCGINNIS

The Catholic Women's Guild of the Altamonte Springs St. Mary-Magdalen Church will sponsor a Dessert-Card Party at the church school beginning at 8 p. m. Friday.

Cards will be furnished by the Guild, however those desiring to play other games are requested to bring the necessary equipment.

Committee members for various departments of the entertainment include Mrs. Maurice Larue, Mrs. Francis Kacar, Mrs. Robery Klassen and Mrs. Dan Gilbert, in charge of the card party; Mrs. Bourke, Mrs. Harmon Scheyer and Mrs. Bryan Robinson, dessert committee and Mrs. Lawrence Hammit and Mrs. Lewis Tolato, door prizes.

Former Resident Visits In Geneva

Col. Howard W. Lindsey, former commander of the 3360th Air Base Group, who recently retired from the U. S. Air Force, is visiting with his family in Geneva, accompanied by Mrs. Lindsey.

Col. Lindsey, the son of Mrs. Bertha L. Lindsey and the late George H. Lindsey and the brother of Mrs. Edison Guit, was born and reared in Geneva and attended school there.

A graduate of the University of Florida, Colonel Lindsey earned his commission in 1935 through the ROTC program. He has 21 years and seven months of active service, plus five years of active reserve time.

He also is a graduate of the Armed Forces School of Applied Facilities, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and of the Command Staff College Air University, Ala.

He served in the Europe-Africa-Middle East zones for several years on two separate occasions. His major post-war assignments included a hitch in the Pentagon as deputy chief of Manpower Division at USAF Headquarters.

JUDGE ASHLEY

CONSTABLE HALL

By JULIA WELLS

Note: Upon several occasions in the past few weeks, reports from some areas in South Seminole County have indicated that residents there are in doubt as to just what branch of law enforcement covers their area, who their nearest officials are and where their offices are located. With this thought in mind, we offer the following report:

For the first time in history, South Seminole residents, since the 1960 elections, have had the same services of a Justice of the Peace and a Constable in their area.

Offices for both District 6 officials, Justice of the Peace Elmer E. Ashley Jr. and Constable Grady Hall, are located in Fern Park next door to the post office. One of the officials always is on duty there between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m., Monday through Friday, and from 9 a. m. until noon on Saturday.

Their district, beginning at the southwest county line, covers areas including Forest City, Bear Lake, Altamonte Springs, Fern Park, Casselberry, Howell Park and part of North Orlando.

Judge Ashley, although he prefers to work from his office, can be consulted at other times and locations by appointment. His scope of jurisdiction, as he says "covers everything" from dog fights to family misunderstandings. He presides at preliminary hearings on the more complicated matters such as murder, suicide and accidental death before they are bound over to higher courts and also handles traffic cases and arraignments. Other duties of a more pleasing nature, the Judge said, included the some 20 marriages he performed since taking office.

He stressed the fact that a majority of complaints brought before him concern dogs... a matter for which the county provides no form of governing law.

"I sincerely hope that in the next legislative session our county officials seek to establish some form of control for us to work with in these matters. As it is now, we have absolutely no method of enforcing any decision where pets are involved," he pointed out.

"I am here to serve the people, and put aside my own business interests because I saw their need for justice and consideration from someone who had no other interests, and from someone who would be on hand at all times. I've spent approximately $300 out of my own pocket to maintain the office for the convenience of the people and I want them to feel free to call upon me," he concluded.

Constable Grady Hall, who shares the office, provides the area with services similar to those of a county sheriff. He patrols the district regularly and is authorized to make arrests for violations of any state law. Although each individual municipality within district 6 maintains its own police department, Hall serves the area as a whole and is available for assistance to any one of the localized departments.

Although these men devote most of their time to their jobs, a few facts on the personal life of each also should be of interest to readers and residents of their district.

Judge Ashley, a native of Henderson, Ky., attended schools there and worked for a number of years in the county clerk's office. He served four years with the Marines and was a restaurant owner in Sanford before moving to Casselberry where he operated his welding shop prior to election as Justice of the Peace.

He and Mrs. Ashley (Margaret) reside in Casselberry and in near-by North Orlando are their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bellevue and their two small daughters.

Constable and Mrs. Hall (Frances) actually reside in Forest City although they have an Altamonte Springs mailing address. The constable, who was born in Moultrie, Ga., came to Florida with his parents at the tender age of three months. He attended Seminole County schools, entering the first grade in 1920 at Altamonte Springs.

Stanley, the eldest of the Hall's three children, is the father of their only grandchild, a little girl. He is in his junior year at the University of Florida and his wife is a nurse at the University Medical Center.

Still at home with their parents are Stephen, a senior at Forest Lake Academy and Judith Ann, eight years of age, also a student at Forest Lake.

DE Students Elect Officers

Some 20 Lyman High Juniors and seniors are participating in the Distributive Education program being conducted in their school for the first time in Seminole County this year.

Mrs. Louise Stockpole is teacher and coordinator for the classes which are divided into two groups of study, general related and specific related.

Students attend classes for half-a-day and receive on the job training during the remaining hours with some already at work for cooperating business firms of the area.

Boys and girls participating in the program have formed a DE organization, electing as their officials for the year Charles Copeland, president; Paula Young, vice president; Felton Westbury, corresponding secretary; Susan Thompson, recording secretary; Diane Spites, treasurer; Dennis Huntly, sergeant-at-arms; James Ash, chaplain; Betty Johnson, historian; Larry Dill, audio visual chairman and Ronnie Dill, parliamentarian.

Casselberry Man Recovering From Heart Attack

By JANE CASSELBERRY

Milton F. Freeman, proprietor of the Lutae Motel, Hwy. 17-92, Casselberry, is confined to his home following a heart attack suffered last Saturday.

According to Mrs. Freeman, he is resting comfortably and now is allowed a few visitors. Freeman is president of the Lions Club of Casselberry.

What's In A Name?

United Press International
What's in a name?
Plenty, if you happen to be a resident of Moscow and Moscow just happens to be located in the proud state of Texas.

The 200 residents of Moscow, Tex., are hopping mad at the Russians and, in this particular instance, their wrath has nothing to do with the more pressing problems of the cold war.

The Texas Muscovites contend that the capital of the Soviet Union is a flagrant insult to their 100 per cent American town. Like most angry Texans, they want something done about it.

Postmaster W. C. Fancher said Wednesday that Moscow (Tex.) intends to submit a petition to the United Nations urging the Soviets to change the name of Moscow (U.S.S.R.).

The Texas community points out it has had its name since 1853, long before Moscow was the capital of the Soviet Union. In fact, long before there was any Soviet Union.

Moscow, Tex., claimed the slightly indignant postmaster, was named for "Moscow, Tennessee, of course."

This raises a question that will surely intrigue devotees of the chicken-or-the-egg riddle. Namely which Moscow came first?

Moscow, Tex., may very well have been named for Moscow, Tenn., but what, if anything, was the Tennessee town named for?

Mrs. Cleotia G. Morton, the mayor of Moscow, Tenn., claims that her community's name stems "between two rivers" and "the Indians were here a lot longer than the Russians were over there."

There are no less than 11 Moscovs in the United States and nearly all of them are small, remote villages or hamlets with less than 1,000 inhabitants. Most of the American Moscovs are steeped in tradition and date back to frontier days.

Mayor Henry Cusard Jr. of Moscow, Ohio, contends that his village, founded around 1840, got its name when a young boy was sent out to look for his "ma's cow." Cusard said the two words ran together during the search until they became one and the same name.

So that takes care of that. Now what about Vladivostok?

Lack of Quorum Cancels Meeting

Only three North Orlando officials and seven residents, two of which were reporters, showed up at the Village Hall Tuesday night for the monthly council meeting.

Officials attending the meeting which turned into an informal discussion led by Councilman Reginald Webster were Mrs. Stewart Helmly, clerk and Ruel Stripling, councilman. Residents there, other than reporters, Mrs. Mona Grinstead and Mrs. Mary Campbell, were Robert Derum, Bob Stephenson, Art Rhodes, Art Ferrin and Donald Nail.

Rayburn Reported 'Satisfactory'

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Hospital officials said today House Speaker Sam Rayburn was in "satisfactory" condition, but it would take more tests to decide what was causing his back pains and whether to operate.

Rayburn, 70, underwent X-ray and blood tests at Baylor University medical center Tuesday. It was part of a series of tests expected to be completed Thursday.

The surgeon in charge of conducting the tests denied a printed report that Rayburn has a liver ailment and that a decision must be made immediately whether to operate.

"There is nothing to point toward the liver," the doctor said. "It has not been decided whether an operation is necessary, but we should know within the next 48 hours. It will take that long to arrive at a diagnosis and then, of course, after that treatment will be instituted."

Post Office Part Of JFK Program

The new local postal facility is part of an accelerated $200 million postal construction and modernization program ordered by the President himself, Postmaster General J. Edward Day reveals.

President Kennedy has ordered speedups of new post office construction which will mean an estimated 2,600 new postal buildings all over the Nation will be placed under contract this year, Mr. Day reported.

"We don't know precisely where all of them will be, but your local building is one of the first which will be dedicated and put to use this year," Mr. Day told this newspaper.

The President's post office program is not only well justified by economic needs—but is urgently required to meet expanding mail needs.

Local increases in mail volumes are part of a nationwide trend which will require thousands of new post office buildings in the years immediately ahead.

The Postmaster General noted. "For example, in 1960, the average person would get about one piece of mail a month," Mr. Day said. "Today, he gets an average of about one piece a day."

Experts estimate that in the next generation this country's staggering mail volume of 85 billion pieces annually will double, Mr. Day added.

Show To Feature Luke Paintings

By MRS. ADAM MULLER
The paintings of Mrs. Ann E. Luke, resident artist at the Florida Federation of Art Mansion House Headquarters in DeBary at the close of the summer seasons, will be featured in a one man showing Saturday.

The show, to be held in conjunction with a team, will take place between the hours of 2 p. m. and 6 p. m. at Sea Breeze Manor, Daytona Beach.

"Obviously," he commented, "we cannot expect to meet these future mail volumes with the outmoded postal plant of the past. We must begin to prepare more for the mail volumes of the future with planning now."

Acceleration of the postal construction program by the President not only is a boon to the economy, the Postmaster General pointed out, but is an essential part of the new programs of mail service improvement.

The new office is a link, Mr. Day points out, in a system which places at the disposal of the American people some 35,000 post offices, the services of 560,000 postal employees, 32,000 rural carriers, tens of thousands of vehicles, and billions of dollars in facilities and equipment.

"A new post office is an essential part of this great system," Mr. Day explained. "Each new facility provides better means of moving the mails, better working conditions for our employees, and better service for a wide community. It is easy to see how multiplying this new postal facility 2,000 times this year, all over the Nation—we are taking a great step in the revitalization of the postal service."

The President's postal program calls for telescoping more than 2,000 post offices, which had been scheduled for the next 18 months into the approximate 10 months between February 15 and December 31, 1961.

3 Sanford Fliers Die In Lake George Crash

Grand Jury Asked To Probe County Offices

Bulletin

The pilot killed in the plane crash was identified as Lt. D. B. F. Brown.

A Sanford Naval Air Station based multi-jet attack bomber crashed this morning in Lake George killing all three crew members.

The dead were identified as Lt. (jg) Tom Behrman, bomber navigator of Woodland Dr., Sanford, and Richard Hennessey, AQ8, of 1718 W. First St.

The name of the pilot is being held pending notification of the next of kin.

The Naval Air Station in Jacksonville reported that the jet was on a routine training mission from the Sanford Naval Air Station where it was attached to Heavy Attack Squadron 11.

A Navy spokesman said the plane crashed about 8:30 a. m.

He added that the cause of the crash was not immediately known.

Russell Switzer of Switzer's Fish Camp on Lake George said he heard the plane come in low and drop a bomb on the naval bombing range in the Ocala National Forest.

"Then I heard an explosion which sounded like a plane breaking the sound barrier," he said. "I looked across the water and saw flames about 50 feet high and about 200 feet across. There was a lot of smoke. The plane burned for about five minutes and sank."

Switzer said he saw no sign of life after the crash.

Show Of Strength Asked Of West

BERLIN (UPI) — West Berlin officials today called for a show of strength by the Western Allies in this divided city where a series of shooting and grenade incidents has heightened tension on the border.

U. S. troops were on the alert for any new Communist moves and an Army spokesman said American troops were ready for anything. But he refused to say exactly what the orders are because of security regulations.

Circles close to West German police said the feeling was growing that the Allies should put on a greater show of strength along the Berlin sector borders.

Allied border patrols recently have been largely on foot. At the height of the crisis following the Aug. 13 sealing off of East Berlin, U. S. tanks crouched with their treads virtually touching the border line and blast-muzzled gun snouts aimed straight at East Berlin soldiers.

13-Year-Old Admits Slaying

ELMHURST, Ill. (UPI) — A freckle-faced 13-year-old boy tearfully admitted Thursday night he raped and killed little Yvonne Elliott, 7, in a swamp near this Chicago suburb.

Steven Schlenger, a blond, 115-pound seventh grader, confessed to Du Page County sheriff's deputies after two hours of questioning. The boy repeated his admissions in front of his mother, Mrs. Helen June Pivonka, and stepfather, Edward Pivonka, but declined to sign the 20-page statement.

Queen Wins Prize

READING, England (UPI) — First prize of $10.00 in the Reading cattle show was won Thursday by Queen Elizabeth. The prize was awarded to a heifer from one of the royal farms.

Nobody asked me but, since we have so many "experts" in the courthouse on nuclear blasts, etc., wonder if there are any openings on the Atomic Energy Commission?

Did you know that 88 acres will be added to Sanford in a few months. The city has approved an area west of the city for annexation and it will join the city as soon as the petition is ready. The new area will start north of First Street to Riverview Road, and from Riverview to the west boundaries all the way to Seminole Boulevard on the lakefront, back to the city limits on Mangoustine Avenue.

Oct. 18 is the last day to qualify to run against Joe Baker in the City Commission race. We know of someone who's gonna qualify early next week. We'll give you a hint... He's one of these... Doctor, Lawyer, Indian Chief.

The County School Board next week will discuss the use of a fallout shelter plan in the county schools.

County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick turned in the quota of the week this week. Clerk Arthur Beckwith Jr. told the board that they had a $150 bill to be paid to the State Civil Defense Director H. B. Tarkington. Fitzpatrick quipped: "Why pay it now, we hear he'll be coming down to see us."

Look for the county agent's office to be moved to the canning kitchen on 25th St.

What's all the noise about in North Orlando? . . . Remember, Home wasn't built in a day.

The City purchased $1,142.34 worth of surplus equipment at Camp Blanding this week including 27 gas masks to be used in the operation disaster center. City Manager Pete Knowles gave the press an invoice of goods purchased.

Nobody asked me, but when is the county gonna do something about dogs . . . Isn't there any kind of ordinance the commission could enact?

I'm sorry Sheriff J. L. Hobby for that misleading headline on page 13 of Thursday's Herald. We all know the fine job your men have done in South Seminole.

Fleet Reserve To Meet Monday

Branch 147 of the Fleet Reserve Assn. will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Branch Meeting Hall at 219 Seminole Blvd. opposite the Sanford Zoo.

Queen Wins Prize

Clyde Bryan, FFA president of the branch, invites all shipmates of the Sanford-Orlando area to attend the meeting which will see initiation of several new members.

Outlook For Seminole

George Simons Jr., who drew up the master comprehensive plan for Sanford, predicted Thursday that three Florida areas, including Seminole County, will vastly expand within the next 25 years.

Simons said Orlando, Tampa-St. Petersburg-Lakeland, and the Jacksonville area would develop quickly. He spoke to some 500 delegates of the 33rd annual Florida Public Health Association.

But he said as cities developed outward in the past, "the central cores have deteriorated, often attaining the status of a slum." Many of these areas are centers of "infection, crime, and immorality," he said.

Funds For Canal Survey Asked

An appropriation for an engineering study of the proposed Sanford-Canaveral Canal, to determine the most practical alignment, will be sought from the Florida State Cabinet, a group meeting at Orlando decided Thursday.

Attending the meeting were members of the Florida State Canal Authority, consulting engineers and officials of the St. Johns-Indian River Improvement Association. John Krieger, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, represented the Seminole and Sanford interests.

In their discussion of ways and means of insuring early construction of the canal the groups decided that an appropriation for the study would be the first step. Then the proposal could be presented to the State Board of Conservation for approval, Krieger said.

Following the Board's approval the way would then be open to obtain rights of way and the raising of money for actual construction.

Thursday's meeting is the second in as many months. An earlier meeting in Orlando last month formulated plans to go before the Conservation Board with the proposal. The Board, meeting later in Jacksonville, heard a request from W. A. McCree, chairman of the Florida Canal Authority, for a feasibility study of the project.

When completed the Sanford-Canaveral Canal would become an integral part of the Florida Canal system. Krieger said. This includes the proposed Cross-Florida Barge Canal which would start at Jacksonville, utilizing the St. Johns River, and extend across the State to the Gulf of Mexico at a point near Yankeetown.

120,000 QUIT JOBS IN FORD PLANTS — Ford Motor Company workers leave the giant Ford Rouge plant (left) in Detroit, after the United Auto Workers called the first nation-wide strike against the motor company. Strike was ordered by UAW President Walter Reuther (right) after Ford and the union failed to agree on a contract despite almost continuous bargaining sessions.

For Lake Mary: Industry Or Homes?

Lake Mary residents attending the Chamber of Commerce meeting Thursday night were told that the area's future depends entirely upon its people. Frank Evans, principal developer of the community, pointing out the importance of growth in the area during the past few years, said, "We must decide whether we want a manufacturing section in Lake Mary or whether we want to keep it primarily a residential area."

"A corporation already has applied for a franchise to furnish Lake Mary with water and sewerage which brings a great opportunity to the community for which it will come lower insurance rates and higher property value," he added.

"We need organization here now more than ever," he stressed, "for this is only a beginning." He urged that every member assume the responsibility of bringing another resident with him to the next meeting.

The Rev. William Trainor of the Church of the Nativity pointed out that Lake Mary also should keep in mind the fact that any community needs industry to support its economy. Also, adding to the progress report, he advised that his church expects to break ground for its new building by the first of November.

U. S. officials said the 8 p.m. White House meeting might prove to be a turning point in Soviet-American efforts to find a mutually acceptable basis for East-West negotiations.

Much depends, they added, on the instructions Gromyko has received from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev since the foreign minister's meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk last Saturday.

Rusk, during three sessions in New York with Gromyko, thought he detected some evidence of possible Soviet willingness to move toward formal negotiations on "honorable" terms.

Rusk planned to attend the White House meeting between Kennedy and Gromyko. Others scheduled to be present were Soviet affairs adviser Charles E. Bohlen and Asst. Secretary of State for European Affairs Foy D. Kohler.

Longwood Garbage Franchise Raises A Stink

Requests for some form of control over stray dogs and protests over a garbage collection franchise agreement were the main issues brought before the Longwood City Council meeting Thursday night.

Owners of Logue Garbage Service appeared to protect the agreement giving ABC Garbage Service of Sanford a two-year franchise in the city. Joining in protest was Councilman E. E. Williamson, who sat with the board at its September meeting when the agreement was discussed and agreed upon without opposition.

Logue told the board he felt he wasn't given a "fair chance in the deal and that by granting such a franchise you are forgetting all about free enterprise on a competitive basis."

Mayor Al Lormann reminded Logue that he had been contacted, as was L and W Service, also operating in the town, and all three companies were given equal opportunity to seek the franchise which was granted on basis of replies received at that time by the council.

"This agreement with ABC was discussed at an open meeting last month and was agreed upon by the board. All it needed for approval at the last meeting was ABC's signature and we decided that we would approve it at this meeting. I see no reason to change now."

A roll-call vote approved the agreement, with the exception of Williamson, and Logue was given until the first of November to notify his customers of the change in service.

However, to clarify the issue, Chairman R. C. Carlson made it clear that there would be no change in the trash pick-up service by the city and that by approving operation under a franchise, the city sought only to give its people more protection and to bring a little income in through the 10 percent rebate from ABC.

The dog question came from Mrs. Roy Burke of North Orlando and Mrs. Kapul Pliouan of Longwood, representing the Longwood Elementary P-T-O, who asked that something be done about the large numbers of stray dogs roaming around the school grounds and through that area.

Following considerable discussion on available methods to enforce some form of dog control, the board decided to meet in a special discussion session in order to consider all angles of the problem before authorizing the attorney to draft an ordinance resolution.
