"Without such a relationship the Commission cannot properly discharge its heavy burden of responsibility and the program will not go forward as it must."

Wilson apparently questioned Dean's experience and understanding of administrative problems.

Even under the best conditions with a top organization of a full time commission, there are difficulties operating and administrative problems, Wilson said.

"To make it workable requires in the chairman exceptional experience and understanding of administration of large undertakings as well as a keen appreciation on the part of the other commissioners of the undesirable consequences of management by committee.

There has been a steady trend during the past years in the direction of the Commission as a body assuming the direct role of management of the program.

"As a consequence, the role of the general manager has changed greatly from what it was during the first couple of years."

"I have serious apprehensions that the ultimate projection of the trend will result in a cumbersome slow moving administrative machine which is incapable of giving the country the kind of direction needed to maintain and increase our leadership in the atomic field."

The Commission named Carleton Shugg, now Wilson's deputy to serve as acting general manager.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today slashed away from the powers it gave to General Counsel Robert N. Denham three years ago and took back control over 219 employees.

The action was another slap at Denham in the running battle between the five-man board and its chief prosecuting officer.

Denham struck back quickly. He withdrew two employees he had assigned to the board "as a courtesy" three years ago.

"I didn't want to do this but the board asked for it," Denham told reporters.

Referring to the board's move, he added: "The whole thing is silly and represents a new low in sniping in a government agency."

The board's action was disclosed in an official statement in daily Federal Register. It said it was stripping Denham of most of his authority over the NLRB division of administration and taking back its 219 employees.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERR

RANDY WILLIAMS declares that selling books requires the power of suggestion rather than a ton of equipment. As an example he tells how his firm sold 200,000 copies of The Secretary's Handbook. "There was no such thing as a list of private secretaries," says Williams, "so we acquired the next best thing: a list of important men who certainly had one secretary, and probably more. To each of these gentlemen we addressed a letter with the slogan, 'Don't Fire Your Secretary!' emblazoned on the envelope."

"Of course, nine out of ten secretaries tore open the letters themselves to see what was inside. What they found was so glowing a tribute to The Secretary's Handbook, they insured ordering a copy immediately."

An eager student drank in Mr. Williams' words, and wrote in her notebook, "Always open the boss's mail."

Security Council

The Soviet resolution, on the other hand, was not even considered seriously by the Council majority, even though Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob Malik, this month's Council president, filed it under the heading of peaceful settlement of the Korean question.

Several measures to combat Communism and subversive activities are pending in Congress. Those mostly widely known are backed by Rep. Nixon (R-Calif) and Senator Mundt (R-SD).

Nixon is a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee and Mundt used to be before moving from House to Senate. In 1948 the GOP controlled House passed their Mundt-Nixon bill but the Senate failed to go along.

This bill required, among other things, that Communists and Communist fronts register with the Justice Department.

It looked for a while as though similar legislation would get nowhere in this Congress. But the Korean war generated steam for some sort of legislation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(AP)—President Truman joined with Secretary of Defense Johnson today in denouncing a housing construction strike in Alaska as one that jeopardizes "the security of the United States."

Johnson emerged from a White House talk with the President to say that the strike of AFL steamfitters and plumbers on defense housing in Alaska is "jeopardizing the security of the United States."

And, he added, "I say that after consulting with the President of the United States."

"Then, the President approves your statement?" a reporter asked.

"Yes," Johnson said that defense housing projects in Fairbanks and Anchorage primarily were affected.

House Agrees On Economic Control Bill

HouseGroup Demands Stronger Counter-Spy Measures Than President Asked
WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The Senate today approved without dissent a bill making espionage for a foreign power punishable by death or up to 30 years imprisonment in time of peace. The bill, which now goes to the House, was introduced by Senator Eastland (D-Miss.).
Peacetime espionage now is punishable only by up to 20 years imprisonment. The death sentence and 30 years imprisonment are applicable only in time of war. The earlier penalties would be applicable for two years dating from the time the bill is enacted into law.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The House approved today broad discretionary wage and price control authority for President Truman. It adopted by overwhelming vote the vital wage and price section of an overall economic control bill. A final bill on the bill may come tonight. The section was a compromise worked out by Democrats and Republicans after a week of hickering had produced no progress. President's request for authority to fight inflation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—President Truman today signed into law a bill giving his authority to take immediate steps to safeguard U.S. ports against possible sneak atomic attacks.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—A bill to subject doctors, dentists and other specialists in the draft was introduced in the Senate by Senator Glenn (R-Mich.). Glenn, former chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, proposed that the Selective Service Act be amended to require registration of professional and scientific persons up to age 45. Draft registration now is limited to men 18 through 25 years and only those 19 through 25 are subject to induction. Glenn's bill is similar to one pending in the House.

The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company today announced plans for construction of a new freight main line, 12,200 feet in length, to diverge from its Jacksonville-Tampa main line at a point adjacent to intersection of Lake Mary Road, on the south, and extend northwardly parallel to and approximately 300 feet west of the city limit line along Roosevelt Avenue to the east end of Randa Yard, on the north, where connection will be made with present main line in vicinity of the First Street crossing.

The extremely low water in Lake Monroe recently revealed old pilings, the remains of a dock once used by the railroad for water-borne freight and located about 15 feet west of the present yacht club. City workers under S. M. Richard are removing the pilings to make the area safe for boating, said City Manager Clifford McKibbin.

Gain Of Five Miles Is Registered As Bottleneck Broken During Night Fight

By TOM LAMB WITH U. S. FORCES IN SOUTH KOREA, Aug. 9.—(AP)—American doughboys, driving toward Chinju, silently clasped hands on a hill five miles west of Chindong at dawn today.

Then they stomped out of their foxholes with fixed bayonets and broke up a wild Korean Red "victory charge in hand-to-hand combat."

"We went up the hill in pitch darkness," said Capt. Frederick Griffiths, 33, of Cleveland, Ohio, commander of Company K.

"After 'fix bayonets' I didn't have to tell the men to move ahead. They just started. We heard a bunch of gooks hollering 'Victory, Victory' in English from a higher hill in front of us. They started to come down."

"I gave the order to fix bayonets. Then we took off like a team. It was daylight in front of us, telling the other he wouldn't let them down. And they didn't."

"The rest of them ran down the hill. We counted about 15 bodies. Then we found one of their ammo dumps. I broke it up with my 57 mm. weapon and we blew up the dump."

Remember back there a few weeks ago when we were calling it 'cold war'?

Warren serves ultimatum on Florida sheriff's headline. Now it seems will just serve an ultimatum on Warren we may be getting somewhere.

We see where the Philippines have offered to send 5,000 troops to Korea. Now if we could just get Cuba to throw in some reserves.

Evidently the people of Idaho don't like their Senator Glen Taylor any better than do the people of Alabama where he violated the state laws in a vain attempt to prove what a great liberal he is.

One way to keep from worrying about the international situation is to swim the English Channel. We don't imagine Miss Chadwick was worrying about it much as she plowed through the murky waters of the Channel.

Trip: Lie says the UN General Assembly could meet on 24 hours notice in case of an emergency.

Frank Cowles, editor of the Florida Builder, who got his start on the Sanford Herald, writes in the current issue that this year's construction in Florida amounts to $265,462,648 for the first six months as compared with $73,330,000 for the same period last year.

Senator Magnuson suggests that we should enlist Japanese in the American forces, send them to Korea and let them fight for us.

At a little bit surprising to see Senator Tamm saying that the United States invaded the attack to Korea, but when he recalls that Secretary Acheson announced last winter that the United States would not defend either Korea or Formosa, we see what he means.

West Germany's Vice Chancellor Franz Blumberg says the German people are not willing to be American dominions out of the fact that the sacrifices of German blood have let the Russians have them, we say, 'People who are not willing to fight for their liberty do not deserve to have liberty.'

'There is nothing wrong with gambling,' we hear repeatedly. 'Everybody gambles.' Wendell Berry, a much respected bank cashier of Morris, Ill. thought so too. He loved the horses, and he loved to gamble on them.

There is nothing wrong with gambling, we hear repeatedly. 'Everybody gambles.' Wendell Berry, a much respected bank cashier of Morris, Ill. thought so too.

A Step For Guam

Of all the foreign wars in which the United States has participated, the Spanish-American was the most questionable with respect to American policy of non-aggression.

The United States never took possession of Cuba, the status of which was the central question of the war. Military forces occupied the island, but a military governor remained only until a native government could be established.

Now Guam has been elevated to the status of a civil dependency. Its people have been made citizens of the United States, with a bill of rights, and they will elect a legislature which will govern their island under a civilian governor appointed by Washington.

Revaluation In France

France has inflated its currency, pleasantly describing the operation as a revaluation of the nation's stock of gold. There is nothing to indicate that the actual amount of gold held was not the same after the revaluation as before.

The French are treading on dangerous ground. The temptation to meet financial obligations by this seemingly simple device has led many a government to ruin.

It Has Happened Here

At the University of Wisconsin the other day, 43 third-year journalism students were asked the question: 'What position does Owen J. Lattimore, under accusation by Senator McCarthy, hold in the State Department?'

Of the 43 students, 30 gave incorrect answers. Only thirteen knew that Lattimore holds no position in the State Department and that no one has proved he is a Communist.

That is a shocking and ominous thing. These were journalism students. They had been trained for two years to read newspapers critically.

Yet McCarthy's wild charges that Lattimore was the 'architect of our Far Eastern Policy' and the 'No. 1 Soviet agent in the United States' had stuck in their minds.

Think of it. If trained, analytical journalism students in McCarthy's own state are so thoroughly confused by the Senator's irresponsible hit-and-run attacks, then the more casual readers elsewhere in the nation must be convinced by now that the State Department really is a hot-bed of Communism.

Hitler taught us that a lie can be effective if it is told often enough and loudly enough. But Hitler did it with a controlled press and a controlled radio.

What distresses us is that McCarthy has been able to do it with a free press and a free radio in a democratic society which must rely upon its political maturity if it is to continue to exist.—The Charlotte (N.C.) News.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DeWITT MacKENZIE, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie says he really thinks the Soviet Union wants peace. Well, it's easy to believe that Russia wants peace (for herself)—that she doesn't want to get involved in a world war at this juncture.

As I pointed out in yesterday's column, Russia is much better prepared for war in Europe than are the Western Allies. With 170 divisions of troops and huge tank forces at her command, compared with maybe a dozen Western divisions, she could sweep through the English Channel.

That would be an alluring prospect to a nation which wanted to gamble with war. Thus far, however, Moscow hasn't given any indication that she is interested in such a roll of the dice.

Why not? There are several logical reasons quite apart from Mr. Lie's thought that Russia really wants peace. One is that while the Soviet Union is better prepared militarily than the democracies, the latter have greater potential strength both militarily and economically.

That statement immediately brings the challenge that by over-running Western Europe Russia would deprive the democracies of several nations which provide much strength. Wouldn't that shift the balance of power in favor of Russia?

That's a problem for the experts to figure out. The immediate answer obviously is that it would raise a huge question.

Another cogent reason why Russia may want peace (for herself) is that thus far she has been able to get other people to do the fighting for her.

The Korean war is a typical example. Moscow has provided equipment and expert military advice for the North Koreans, but the latter are doing the battling for Communism.

The corollary, of course, is that America and her Allies meantime are forced to expend military strength and economic resources in meeting this challenge.

That's an apple-cart Moscow would be loath to upset.

Without questioning Russia's proven willingness to fight, it probably is true that under present circumstances she wants peace—for herself.

Army Spikes Rumor Of Lumber Stockpile

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The lumber requirements of all the armed services will not exceed 1,500,000,000 board feet through next June 30, the Defense Department said today.

The department issued a statement prepared by the Army engineers, who buy all service lumber, to 'spike unfounded rumors' that the Defense Department will stockpile 6,000,000,000 board feet this year.

The statement said that this rumor had caused sharp price spikes on the lumber market.

Spokesmen for the lumber industry, the statement added, have advised Army officials that there is 'no existing shortage in the lumber market.'

The engineers noted today that their Atlantic procurement center had reported that the price of number two common board jumped from $88 per 1,000 feet on June 28 to $105 on Aug. 3.

Some of the quantities presumably are unknown quantities abroad.

So Moscow must ask herself: In the United States will enough equipped with atomic weapons to prevent a Russian army from consolidating its gains in Western Europe? Moreover, what damage could be inflicted on Russia itself?

Those are questions which Russia would have to answer irrespective of what atomic weapons she herself has developed.

Another cogent reason why Russia may want peace (for herself) is that thus far she has been able to get other people to do the fighting for her.

The Korean war is a typical example. Moscow has provided equipment and expert military advice for the North Koreans, but the latter are doing the battling for Communism.

The corollary, of course, is that America and her Allies meantime are forced to expend military strength and economic resources in meeting this challenge.

That's an apple-cart Moscow would be loath to upset.

Without questioning Russia's proven willingness to fight, it probably is true that under present circumstances she wants peace—for herself.

Korean War

The communists said the Reds apparently were withdrawing toward Chingju. The U. S. 38th Regimental Combat Team put patrols to within seven miles of the burned-out city.

The communists reported 'aggressive-minded' United Nations troops carried out successful action in every engagement with the enemy along the entire 140-mile front.

Correspondent Hal Boyle reported U. S. First Cavalry chased after a battalion of Reds in the hills two miles below Wazewan, 15 miles northwest of Taegu.

The Communists had wanted the river in the night and commanded the road to Taegu with machine-gun and mortar fire from a 1,200-foot ridge.

North of Wazewan, South Korean troops, drove the invader back to the Nakdong River. One hundred fleeing Reds were moved down by their own panicky comrades when they tried to get back across the river from the Allied east bank.

Some of the river crossing Reds on the Allied side of the Nakdong six miles below Changgyong, were driven out of high ground by the Americans. Changgyong is 23 miles southwest of Taegu.

Late frontline dispatches from the Changgyong breakthrough said the U. S. 24th Division, reinforced by newly arrived Second Division elements from Ft. Lewis, Wash., the First Cavalry and South Korean troops.

The farthest Red threat tracked the river in a counter-attack about 100 North Koreans were strafed while scrambling for the Nakdong's west bank.

American warplanes and artillery knocked out all tanks which the Communists had put across the river, the report said.

An American pilot said he saw five Communist tanks Wednesday morning on the east bank.

Stockholm Appeal Signees Announced By French Commie

PARIS, Aug. 9.—The Communist led peace partisans, headed by French Communist Frederic Joliot-Curie announced today that 273,470,566 persons throughout the world had signed the 'Stockholm Appeal for outlawing the atom bomb.'

The Communists published in the Communist organ, L'Humanite under the name of Joliot-Curie, it said the signatures included people of all opinions, beliefs and all conditions.

The Communists had wanted the river in the night and commanded the road to Taegu with machine-gun and mortar fire from a 1,200-foot ridge.

Sullivan To Seize Gambling Customers

MIAMI, Aug. 9.—Dade County Sheriff Jimmy Sullivan has instructed his deputy sheriffs to start hauling in customers of gambling places as well as operators.

He says the patrons will be charged with gambling, or with loitering in a gambling house or both. Previously deputy sheriffs did not bother customers encountered in gambling raids.

Sullivan acted in response to a recommendation made in criminal court yesterday by Judge Ben C. Willard. The judge thought getting the customers was a wiser idea.

'If you start bringing in these people you find in these places, you'll do some good,' said the judge. 'Bookies can't operate without patrons.'

The judge directed his remarks at Deputy Sheriff George Patton after convicting the operator of a dry cleaning establishment on a charge of operating a gambling house.

Miss Louise Lundquist Honored At Party

Miss Louise Lundquist, whose marriage to Benny Austin is Sept. 1, was honored with a lovely Coca Cola party on Monday night by Mrs. Walter Steele and Mrs. Blake Sawyers at the home of the latter on Palmetto Avenue.

The rooms were beautifully decorated, and the dining table from which refreshments were served was overlaid with a fern lace cloth centered with pink hibiscus and fern on a reflector. Silver candelabra with lighted tapers and other silver and crystal appointments were used.

Miss Lundquist chose for the occasion a pale lavender organza with white accessories. The hostesses gave the honoree a piece of her chosen silver, Damask Rose.

Delicious refreshments, consisting of open-face sandwiches, individual bread cakes, nuts, mints and Coca Colas were served by the hostesses assisted by Miss Louelle Dutton to the following Miss Lundquist, honoree, Mrs. Raymond Lundquist, Mrs. Houston Steele, Mrs. Ben Steele, Mrs. Spencer Harden, Mrs. Stanley Beckey, Mrs. Robert Stansland, and Mrs. Jackie Moye.

Also Miss Betty Rose Hochbaum, Miss Shirley Morland, Barbara Chapman, Miss Barbara Saunders, Miss Lillian Moyn, Miss Phyllis Bach, Miss Margaret Partin, Miss Jane Chapman, Miss Tib Meffin, Miss June Rose Dutton, Miss Mary Earle and Miss Dutton.

Miss Caroline Lee is Guest of Honor

Mrs. Edward Dunn and Mrs. Dorothy Corradi entertained Miss Caroline Lee, popular bride-elect of this month, with a combination bridge-canasta party at the home of the latter in Mayfair, last night.

The party rooms were beautifully decorated with garden flowers.

The hostesses presented Miss Lee with a lovely linen table cloth and napkins. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. McKay Trulock for high score in canasta and to Miss Betty Jo Brock for high score in bridge.

At the end of the evening a delicious frozen dessert was served by Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Corradi to the following: Miss Lee, honoree, Mrs. Al Lee, mother of the bride, Mrs. David Truher, Mrs. Margaret Miller, Mrs. Marion Rabin, Mrs. George Speer, Mrs. John Callahan, Mrs. Wright Kirtley, Mrs. William Brunley and Mrs. Trulock.

Lake Mary

By VIRGINIA P. ANDERSON

Wednesday night the Chamber of Commerce met in the Community Hall. In the report of the Beautification Committee it was noted that in mowing, cleaning park and cemetery, more than 34 man hours of labor had been used.

Jack Howell has been donating the gasoline and H.M. Gleason the oil and W.T. Bailey has been operating the power mower, owned by the Chamber of Commerce.

In this connection it was voted to rent the mower to those persons without other means of cutting grass, at $2 per hour, such rent to cover cost of operation, and $1 to Mr. Bailey for the labor involved.

Interest in the shuffleboard has dwindled, according to the Mayor, who requested a meeting for Monday night, when new team captains should be chosen and a new schedule worked out.

H. M. Gleason was appointed as Lake Mary's representative on the Seminole County Safety Council.

F. D. Anderson and Mrs. George R. Patterson were appointed as a school committee, to work with the local School Trustees and the P.T.A.

The secretary who is invited to write the incoming principal a letter of welcome, offering the full cooperation of the Chamber. The need for a diving board at the park was discussed.

Giants Beat Hatters 9-5 To Drop Them To 3rd Place

DeLand Leaves 17 Stranded On Bases; Giants Journey To Leesburg Tonight

The Sanford Giants bounced back on the DeLand Red Hats last night, handing them a 9 to 5 defeat that dropped them into third place.

The Giants got off to an early start by scoring five times in the first innings to give them the margin needed. Chadderton started the inning with a double, Poelker followed with a single scoring Chadderton.

Hafenacker singled sending Poelker to second and both advanced when Lake grounded to the first baseman. Levy was issued an intentional base on balls and Jackson followed with a double scoring Poelker and Hafenacker.

Levy came home on a passed ball and Jackson tallied on a fielders choice when Fosyth grounded to the short stop who made the play for first.

The Red Hats used three pitchers, but none of them could stop the Giant hitting attack. The Giants collected a total of 12 hits, getting them when they were needed. They left only 17 men on the bases last night as compared with the Red Hats 17.

Southpaw Jim Singleton started on a hill for the Giants and although he walked 13 and gave up 7 hits he kept them pretty well scattered until the sixth inning when the Hatters broke loose and scored 3 runs to send him from the game in favor of Carl Tins.

Spivey Fernandez was the head power at the plate last night by getting 4 hits for 5 trips to the plate. The Hata's veteran Al Little went hitless in 4 trips contrary to his usual form.

The Giants journey to Lake county tonight to meet the Leesburg Packers at Venetian Gardens with game time at 8:15. Right-hander Charlie Tedesco is slated to start the pitching.

ORLANDO-DAYTONA
DAYTONA BEACH, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Daytona Beach tied off on a tie of Orlando moundmen last night for extra base hits to defeat the Senators 12 to 5.

The locals smacked ten safes, including two doubles and three triples, off starter Ed Dunn and relievers Dean Stone and Frank Romeo.

Daytona Beach starter Walley Gaddis was driven from the hill after two shaky innings, and Bill Glander finished for the win.

DeLand holds down third place in the PFL standings following last night's loss to Sanford. The Hata's are four games behind the Sena and half a game behind Daytona.

Atlanta Conquers To Maintain Lead In Southern Race

By ASSOCIATED PRESS Atlanta's league-leading Crackers last night finally got around to shaking the Sulphur toll jinx, score of three straight defeats—(thanks to a bot of dirt and one fat innink.

Each Cracker stepped into the box of Fonce DeLeon Park early just before going on to the Nashville Field. And, you know, home soil feels good.

The dirt and the fat innink, the sixth game, counts a 4-3 victory over the Vols.

Whether the fans stays tonight won't be known until broken when the Crackers and the crowd, third-place Vols close out the current series. The dirt, donated by an Atlanta fan, will be there just in case.

In other Southern Association play, the Pensacola Pilgrims, who've led the Southeastern League off and on all season, took another tumble Monday night, but this time there was a difference—it was all the way down to third place.

The new leaders—there are two of them—are Montgomery and Meridian, exactly even in the standings.

Pensacola's conquer was Meridian whose Amruse Pallen went the distance for the 10-3 triumph, leading eight hits, Pallen's mates banged in Kirkland in three, good for as many runs.

Montgomery defeated the Selma Leafs 9-6 and in the other game, Jackson took Vicksburg also 9-6.

Meridian and Montgomery got the same number of hits, nine, but the Rebels did a better job of bunching them. Montgomery's Smith, who went the distance, got tagged twice in the first inning, but the Rebels came back to tie and by the sixth had the situation sewed up. The loser was Gardner.

Despite giving up nine walks, Chuck Henry pulled a victory out of the fire when his Jackson Senators teammates staged a seventh inning uprising that downed Vicksburg.

Hanks McDowell with four runs led the Senator attack on Lefty Bill Howington in a game that saw sparkling outfield play save the way for Bill Henry. When Vicksburg threepaced with two runs in the eighth, Ripper Teth relieved Chuck in strong style to insure the Jackson win.

Jiffy Jet Slated To Prove Tonight How Fast She Is

DAYTONA BEACH, Aug. 9.—(Special)—Jiffy Jet, Mrs. O. Z. Ferrell's wonder runner, will have a chance to prove tonight whether or not she is faster than E. Rouselle's sensational Sherrylane, or Sherrylane's brother, Tilker, for both these speedsters will gallop against her in the feature ninth race at the Volusia County Kennel Club.

Next to Red Huntman, world's champion, Jiffy Jet was regarded as the outstanding greyhound on the local scene, until mid-July when E. Rouselle arrived here and unleashed eight pups from the litter of Sally Goodwin, a Volusia star in '48. Headed by Sherrylane, these young greyhound, they will not be two-year-olds until October.

After a slump in which the runt out of the money three times, Jiffy Jet showed Monday night that she is back in form again, when she captured the feature race in 31.4 seconds. Tonight she will be seeking her eighth win of the season.

SECOND RACE—5:10 P.M. (Pitcauld Heat Only) (Winner) Lucky Max Darling (Pitcauld) vs. It's Mine (Boston). Backstop, Stephen Miller, Not Listed.

SEVENTEENTH RACE—10:30 P.M. (Pitcauld Heat Only) (Winner) Lucky Max Darling (Pitcauld) vs. It's Mine (Boston). Backstop, Stephen Miller, Not Listed.

NINETEENTH RACE—11:10 P.M. (Pitcauld Heat Only) (Winner) Lucky Max Darling (Pitcauld) vs. It's Mine (Boston). Backstop, Stephen Miller, Not Listed.

MEETING REPORTS: The meeting was a success overall, with several new faces appearing.

Meridian Takes Lead In Southeastern Race

By ASSOCIATED PRESS The Pensacola Pilgrims, who've led the Southeastern League off and on all season, took another tumble Monday night, but this time there was a difference—it was all the way down to third place.

The new leaders—there are two of them—are Montgomery and Meridian, exactly even in the standings.

Pensacola's conquer was Meridian whose Amruse Pallen went the distance for the 10-3 triumph, leading eight hits, Pallen's mates banged in Kirkland in three, good for as many runs.

Montgomery defeated the Selma Leafs 9-6 and in the other game, Jackson took Vicksburg also 9-6.

Meridian and Montgomery got the same number of hits, nine, but the Rebels did a better job of bunching them. Montgomery's Smith, who went the distance, got tagged twice in the first inning, but the Rebels came back to tie and by the sixth had the situation sewed up. The loser was Gardner.

Despite giving up nine walks, Chuck Henry pulled a victory out of the fire when his Jackson Senators teammates staged a seventh inning uprising that downed Vicksburg.

Hanks McDowell with four runs led the Senator attack on Lefty Bill Howington in a game that saw sparkling outfield play save the way for Bill Henry. When Vicksburg threepaced with two runs in the eighth, Ripper Teth relieved Chuck in strong style to insure the Jackson win.

Polish Ship Gets Passenger From Seaplane At Sea

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The Polish motorship Batory, watched with a gimlet eye by Uncle Sam during three days in port, was en route to Poland today with a surprise passenger.

He was picked up by the vessel nearly 100 miles at sea yesterday from a seaplane that had been sent from a Hackensack, N. J., firm and which he had brought down to the sea.

The Batory skipper radioed the Coast Guard to come get him. But the Coast Guard replied its business was saving lives.

The Batory said the lone airman who settled his seaplane near the ship gave the name of Guillermo San Sebastian, a tourist from Mexico City.

But in Hackensack a spokesman for the Tembro-Seaplanes Company said its only missing plane, a Piper Cub, was rented by a man who gave the name of "Mr. Newton" of New York. He rented it for a 15-minute flight, the spokesman said, then disappeared over the horizon. The firm reported the plane stolen.

The airman told the Batory skipper he was lost and out of fuel.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service said today it was investigating the incident. The line had informed officials about it last night, a spokesman said.

Last Friday the Batory became the first Iron Curtain country vessel to be subjected to a new close security check in New York harbor. Ever since Gerhard Eisler, German Communist, jumped bail and escaped on the Batory in May 1949, she has been under close surveillance here.

But this time the watch was even stricter. All visitors to the vessel were checked by customs agents.

First Cavalry

R. Gay, First Cavalry Division commander, said he would welcome more such enemy attacks. "We were ready for them," he said, "and hoped to flush them out like pheasants. I don't know how many we killed but we will (know) tomorrow morning."

"There probably will be more trying to come across the river—and I hope they do. I don't want to discourage them from fighting the First Cavalry Division."

Lt. General Walton H. Walker, Eighth Army commander, drove over a mortar-swept road to see for himself how the battle was going.

Gay praised Lt. Harry C. Buckley, young West Point graduate whose observation helped pinpoint the location of the enemy battalion and speed artillery fire on it.

"He is a smart lad who just returned to action after being wounded," said the general. "And he was careful to note that every fifth one of the enemy soldiers carried an automatic. He gave us a lot of helpful information."

To flush out the Red Korean battalions, American infantry threw in—as one officer said—seven cooks and bottlewashers. Attacking on a 2,500-yard front, the soldiers spread and searched each gulch and tree clump for hidden Reds. Whenever they drew fire they withdrew, reorganized and knocked out the enemy position. It was good traditional infantry fighting—uphill under a hot sun.

It rode up to the battalion command post in midafternoon with Lt. Edward Walker of 1180 Seena St., Baiton, N. Y., whose jeep driver had just been driven from a ravine by a shell burst within ten feet of him. The driver was startled but unhurt, and machinegun and small arms fire crackled in the hills and the echoes made it seem like a regimental scale attack. Big 4.2-inch mortar shells were lobbing up from a field to the right, and bursting in gray showers on the ridge.

In the command post—a concrete military culvert—Capt. William J. Gilchrist, Birmingham, N. Y., was calling for artillery on a corner of the hill.

"We've just located some enemy troops there," he said. "They have good observation on us and seem to know where we are. They've been pounding us every few minutes."

The ripping crack of a mortar sounded just ahead. But the concrete shelter could have taken a direct overhead hit without harm.

Walking up the big hill forward and directing his men personally was the battalion commander, Peter Claimes, a slender first lieutenant-colonel from Manchester, N. H.

With him were a radio operator and a veteran warrant officer acting as his runner. In a few moments the warrant officer, W. H. Hambling, Fontana, Calif., came into the command post.

"We are on a hump looking directly at the Reds on another hill about 1,000 yards away," he said. "You can see small groups of them. Whenever a mortar shell bursts one of them runs and jumps into the hole. They seem to be in the same place."

"The Reds seem to be taking to the hills and when they see us they head for the hills," he said.

The warrant officer took the tank and when they saw us they head for the hills," he said.

Congress

K. Taylor, associated with the Georgia Power Company, of Atlanta, Ga., was elected president and Miss Helen Hoffman of Washington, D. C. as president-elect for 1952. Miss Hoffman was also convention chairman.

Mrs. Clark told of the work that has been done for Vimoutiers, France, a small village almost totally demolished through error by American bombers during World War II, and which Pilot International has "adopted". A total of $2,250.40 in money, plus gifts has been given by Pilot Clubs and it was voted at the convention to give $2,000 more to continue rehabilitation work there. An orphan from the village is now a guest of Miss May Pynchon of Jacksonville and also attended the convention with Miss Pynchon. She expressed the appreciation of her people for the kindnesses shown them by America and Pilot International in particular.

It was also brought out in the convention that $259.3 plus several thousands packages of vegetable and fruit seeds have been given toward the "Seeds for Britain" project, thus sowing seeds of kindness as well as seeds of food throughout England.

It was voted to make continuous the scholarship fund set up in memory of Miss Ruby Newhall of Gainesville who died shortly after being elected president of International at the convention held in Chicago last year.

Mrs. Hunt explained the various changes made in the by-laws and constitution.

The delegates commended the excellent hotel accommodations and plans for the entire convention, stating that everything possible was planned for the entertainment of those attending, while on a tour to Mount Vernon witness the opening of the tombs of George and Martha Washington at which time Mrs. Beyer placed a wreath in behalf of Pilot International on the graves. She was the third woman ever to enter the tomb, the other two being Queen Elizabeth and Queen Wilhelmina.

Meanwhile Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the tax writing Senate Finance Committee expressed the strongest opposition to including an excess profits tax on business in the proposed $5,000,000,000 interim tax boosting bill.

Manpower—predicting congressional approval of Mr. Truman's requests for additional defense funds, Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said he thinks the nation's biggest need in the immediate future will be more trained fighting manpower.

Writing—A Senate Committee called last afternoon meeting to lay the groundwork for an investigation into alleged wiretapping of official and hotel telephones in Washington.

Arthur Trasierra, 1410 Desire St., sexton at the St. Vincent DePaul Cemetery in New Orleans, might be a poor man but a man in the pink of health is wealthy as can be. Mr. Trasierra says he is worth plenty, thanks to HADACOL, for he learned that his system lacked Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mr. Trasierra's own statement: "I had been sick for some time. The trouble mainly was in my stomach. I was unable to eat any fried food at all. I was very nervous and it affected on our men at least several times a week. That's because I have been taking HADACOL—and you can bet your life I won't stop taking HADACOL. I never tire of telling my friends how wonderful HADACOL is."

What HADACOL Does
HADACOL helps to build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys, and lungs, even to the eyes, ears and nails. Countless thousands whose systems were deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin are benefiting from HADACOL... even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients.

Give HADACOL a chance to help you. Refuse substitutes. Don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. It's nothing because HADACOL is sold only on a strict money-back guarantee. You'll feel better with the first few bottles you take. Send for your free HADACOL literature today. ### American Ship Hits Mine In North Sea

That was true, Cohen agreed, but added that no raids could be made on the syndicate offices "because there was nothing to get."

Halley suggested that raids by local officials had been few and far between "except when the heat was on."

Cohen agreed in part but insisted there had been raids and that he had defended the bookies in court.

"Was there any evidence that S. and G. or any other syndicate like S. and G. had been paying protection?" Wiley broke in.

Cohen said he knew of none. Halley pointed out that the syndicate had about 250 employees, that its telephone bill ran above $1,000 a month and long distance calls were made all over the country "to see that gamblers did not try to cheat or fix a hot horse."

Cohen said the committee had copies of the telephone bills and members of the syndicate could supply better information on such matters.

Halley asked if it were true that S. and G. Syndicate had bookies in most of the 350 beachfront hotels, or at least the best known ones.

Cohen disputed this and was asked to name well-known hotels not on the syndicate list.

The lawyer hesitated and then named the MacFadden-Deauville and the Sherry-Frontenac. Then he asked the committee not to put "me in this very distasteful position."

Cohen said bookies operating under the S. and G. had racing news wire services from William O'Brien and Walter Haggerty, obtained racing data from the Dade County News which in turn obtained racing data from the Continental News Services.

Cohen, while saving the syndicate had quit business about two weeks ago, heatedly denied reports by newspapers and the Miami Crime Commission that the Syndicate members intend to go back into the gambling business individually later on.

When telephones were removed and the offices shut down, the public would learn the facts, Cohen was quoted as saying.

Then attorney Cohen lashed out at Miami newspapers saying they "can't afford to let S. & G. die."

Halley said O'Brien and Haggerty were writing about the syndicate. Cohen called this persecution.

The attorney then questioned the reports that the individual members of the syndicate would resume operations later separately.

He said "Danny Sullivan of the Miami Crime Commission told me this was a pipe dream."

By dawn the Army battalion had reached its objective, a 500-foot hill alongside the road west from Chindung to Chinju.

Senate Probe

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said a fifth, Samuel Cohen, was here but not present because of a heart ailment.

Attorney Kefauver appeared to enjoy his long grilling by Rudolph Halley, chief committee counsel. Cohen explained how the big Miami gambling syndicate was formed to avoid competition along the beach-front crowded with free-spenders tourists and winter guests.

Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) wanted to know why the syndicate which grossed more than $26,500,000 in 1948 betting had suddenly decided to quit.

"These were five nice fellows who had lived here for 25 years," Cohen explained, adding that three of them had children in schools and colleges.

Cohen said the anti-gambling and crime drives caused the syndicate partners to be regarded as "the worst mobsters—Capone is nothing compared with them."

"Why they have painted these boys as the worst mobsters in the world," Cohen continued with indignation. "They have got them linked up with prostitution—the Lord knows they had nothing to do with that—and narcotics."

"Technically they have been law violators," the attorney continued. "But to fight the world, it was not worth it."

Cohen said all the syndicate had done was finance the bookies, see that they obtained and paid for racing news services, hired attorneys and helped pay fines when they were arrested, and then split profits on a 50-50 basis.

Committee attorney Halley broke in to point out that the syndicate underwrote all bets for the bookies, including "lay-off bets."

That was true, Cohen agreed, but added that no raids could be made on the syndicate offices "because there was nothing to get."

Halley suggested that raids by local officials had been few and far between "except when the heat was on."

Cohen agreed in part but insisted there had been raids and that he had defended the bookies in court.

"Was there any evidence that S. and G. or any other syndicate like S. and G. had been paying protection?" Wiley broke in.

Cohen said he knew of none. Halley pointed out that the syndicate had about 250 employees, that its telephone bill ran above $1,000 a month and long distance calls were made all over the country "to see that gamblers did not try to cheat or fix a hot horse."

Cohen said the committee had copies of the telephone bills and members of the syndicate could supply better information on such matters.

Halley asked if it were true that S. and G. Syndicate had bookies in most of the 350 beachfront hotels, or at least the best known ones.

Cohen disputed this and was asked to name well-known hotels not on the syndicate list.

Korean Gains

Two Army companies pushed deeper into Red territory. U. S. airplanes and artillery lashed the Communist-held hills with shells, rockets and machinegun bullets.

MaJ. General William B. Keane, commander of the 25th Division who is directing this limited attack, told one of his commanders: "I want you to make speed by aggressive action but make speed sound means: gamble but take a sound gamble."

He warned his commanders against Red attacks from the flanks and high ground.

On the horizon front southwest of Chindung, Leathernecks pushed forward last night to their jumpoff point and advanced again this morning.

Sgt. A. W. Keller, Oklahoma City, a scout for the First Battalion of the Fifth Marine Regiment, said: "We drew fire from a couple of snipers and got four artillery shells but they didn't hit anybody."

The Marines stuck to high ground. Keller left his scout job to warn Marine Lieut. G. G. Sweet of Chindung. He said he saw a Pershing tank platoon that had moved to the front was mined.

Nobody knew that better than Sweet. He was driving one of the dead-end charges out of the road with a knife when Keller arrived. Lt. S. Eighth Army Headquarters said Wednesday night the 35th Regimental Combat Team slightly to the North had punched patrols to within seven miles of Chinju.

(Associated Press correspondent Don Whithead, with the 35th, reported the North Koreans were in retreat toward Chinju at dusk Wednesday. The 35th had stalled while waiting for soldiers and Marines to the south to break out of the Chinju bottleneck.)

In the middle sector of the Chinju drive, an armored-led battalion of the Army's Fifth Regimental Combat Team drove five miles west of Chindung.

Fifth Regiment Marines fought several miles southwest of Chindung.

North Koreans for two days had blocked this southern arm of the American offensive. Marines fought up 3,000-foot peaks on both sides of the highway out of Chinju to clean out Red artillery.

The Americans kicked off their attack at 9 P. M. Tuesday night (G. A. M. EST).

By dawn the Army battalion had reached its objective, a 500-foot hill alongside the road west from Chindung to Chinju.

Just as the upcoming sun burned the hilltops, North Koreans on higher hills ripped into the doughboys with a vicious cross-fire. The soldiers repulsed a light counterattack and killed about 40 Reds.

The Marines up to noon (9 P. M. EST, Tuesday) had met little opposition. Officers were wary of a North Korean trap.

Two American tanks in the Army push struck mine—was knocked out, the other disabled temporarily. An officer said the mines apparently had been laid by U. S. troops during their retreat last week, then were dug up and replanted by North Koreans.

Two North Koreans in three-quarter ton trucks drove blithely into the doughboy lines. They were killed.

The trucks carried American-made soap and toothpaste, two uniform trousers. Soldiers packs in the trucks contained Korean cigarettes and packages of what appeared to be a medical powder. The brand name and directions for use were in Russian.

FEC Plan

slon will have to consider what his qualifications are as an expert witness. The motion is overruled.

Bourne was questioned by Hayden and ICC examiner Ralph H. Jewell as to various phases of the plan. He was not cross-examined by rival lawyers at the time.

L. F. Ormond, ACL financial vice president, in presenting a corrected exhibit was questioned by John Turney, St. Joe Paper Co. attorney, as to jobs that might be eliminated on FEC if that line is merged with Coast Line.

Turney in his questioning sought to show ACL had not thoroughly investigated the FEC jobs. In earlier testimony, Ormond had testified that 351 FEC jobs could be eliminated in the merger and result in a savings of $1,000,000.

Ormond said the investigation had been done on a functional and comparative basis rather than an individual man basis.

He added that none of the FEC employees were interviewed, "if we did, it was an isolated case."

The hearing which resumed yesterday after a recess from mid-July has three other proposals to be aired before.

1. A plan by a group of FEC employees that East Coast's workers have a chance to buy at least 200,000 of 380,000 shares of new $25 common stock proposed for the reorganized company.

2. A suggestion by F. K. Conn, another bondholder, that the first mortgage bonds be paid off in cash and that preferred and common stock be distributed to holders of first and refunding bonds.

3. The Welton Plan, backed by E. N. Claughton, W. G. Welton, John W. Sayer and A. W. Corbett, press bondholders. They call for issuance of $15,000,000 of 75-year five per cent income bonds and 450,000 shares of no par value.

common stock with a value of 25 a share.

ACL's plan was presented in detail yesterday by Edward W. Bourne, company lawyer.

ACL offers to take over FEC free of any special liens imposed by the court, in favor of holders of the debtor's first and refunding mortgage bonds.

In this event, ACL would put up cash, stock and bonds totaling $42,342,186 (M) to pay off FEC debts. The cash would total $4,842,186.

In 68 pages of testimony Bourne said ACL proposed that reserves take care of a $3,000,000 passenger station at Miami; $1,195,000 for 12 other new passenger stations in Florida, and $29,000 for freight stations at Fort Pierce and Fort Lauderdale.

The Commission has before it a large part of the testimony of the St. Joe Paper Co. One witness, J. C. Williams, transportation statistician for St. Joe, said the FEC is in "better position" to operate successfully on an independent basis than are three other railroads serving Florida.

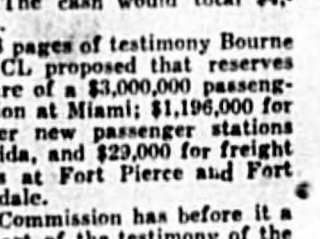

Both St. Joe and ACL own large blocs of FEC bonds. The two have battled for control of the Jacksonville to Miami line for the past 19 years.

NEGRO FUNERAL NOTICE
Ida Tyes, 61, Negro, who for many years has lived at 514 1/2 Sanford Avenue, died at a hospital Monday night after an illness of about one month. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Zion Hope Church with the Rev. H. W. Williams, Burlington, as officiating minister. She came to Sanford Mar. 8, 1919 from Aiken, S. C., and had many friends here, both white and colored.
Survivors include a son, Joe Tyes of New York City; two daughters with whom she made her home, Rachel and Daisy Tyes, and one grandson, Jimmie Jones. She was an active member of the Zion Hope Church for 25 years.

Truman Says Russia Is Filibustering In UN Security Council

President Says No OPA In Sight Yet; But Excess Profits Tax Is Inevitable

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—President Truman accused Soviet Russia today of filibustering in the United Nations Security Council. He said the Russians were filibustering, no doubt about it. In a news conference discussion Mr. Truman lauded Warren Austin, U. S. Representative to the Council for doing what he said was a good job. Once again the President rejected the idea of a meeting with Premier Stalin and other heads of state. He said he would decide later, if such a suggestion were made, on whether there should be a meeting of high level leaders of United Nations after settlement of the Korean crisis.

Collins Says U.S. Big Push Near

AFTER TESTIFYING before a closed session of a House Armed Services subcommittee in Washington, Gen. J. Lawton Collins (center) chairs in Washington with two members of the group. They are Rep. Philip J. Philbin (left), Massachusetts, and Rep. Carl Vinson, Georgia. He defended U. S. forces can now hold the Korean beachhead and after the present "limited offensive" will start the "big push." ## Plans Outlined To Attract New Industries Here

Industrial Committee Of C. Of C. And Jaycees Hold Meet

Plans for co-operating with the State Advertising Commission's publicity program to bring new industries to Florida were outlined Tuesday night by Edward Higgins to members of the Industrial Committee of the Junior and Senior Chamber of Commerce at a meeting at the Towner Center. Mr. Higgins, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, pointed out that the recent change in policy by the State Advertising Commission allows industrial inquiries to be sent to Chambers of Commerce throughout the state, and to industrial committees.

German Commies Accuse U. S. Air Force Of Arson

Charge Similar To Attack On U. S. Dropped Beetles

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Communists announced today a protest to Soviet Russia against alleged "incendiary bombing" in East Germany by U. S. planes, but later withdrew the announcement. Gerhart Ehler, East German propaganda chief, issued the original announcement, and the official Soviet Zone News Agency ADN duplicated it. The statement was to the effect that the East German government was asking Moscow to protect the Soviet zone against U. S. planes. Nearly four hours later, the news agency issued a "kill" on the story without explanation. An editor at ADN said the withdrawal meant "it is the same as though we had never carried it."

Housing Authority Agrees On Program For Castle Brewer

The Sanford Housing Authority, at a special meeting yesterday afternoon at the office of George Williams, executive director, adopted a development program for "Castle Brewer Court," a 125-unit housing project to be constructed in Goldenrod and costing an estimated $1,129,687. The development program covers all phases of the project. This includes all land cost, clearing of the site, paving of streets and sidewalks, construction cost, kitchen and bathroom equipment, architectural and engineering fees and administrative expenses.

Alabama Newspaper Destroyed By Fire

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Aug. 10.—(AP)—The Tuscaloosa Sun was destroyed by a fire at its plant yesterday, 24 hours after its plant was destroyed in a $200,000 fire. While editorial workers covered their usual runs here, the daily morning newspaper was printed in Birmingham 58 miles away. International News Service copy was received through a Birmingham radio station. E. E. Swalley, publisher, said he hoped to make arrangements to have the Sun printed at Jasper, Ala., or Columbus, Miss., until new mechanical facilities can be opened in Tuscaloosa. A 48-page press and all other equipment was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin after the paper completed its final run early yesterday. The Sun began publication about two months ago.

NEGRO EDUCATION TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 10.—

A plan under which Negroes may receive temporary instructions at state-supported white universities will be discussed by the Board of Control in Jacksonville tonight. The plan already has been approved by the Florida Supreme Court as meeting all requirements of the United States Constitution for equal educational opportunities for both races.

Senate Group Votes Boost In Tax Levy

Truman Plan Raising Top Corporate Rate From 38 To 45 Is Voted Unanimously

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The Senate Finance Committee today unanimously approved President Truman's proposal for a $1,500,000,000 a year increase in corporation taxes—boosting the top corporate income rate from 38 to 45 percent. The committee acted shortly after President Truman told a news conference that an excess profits tax will be enacted eventually. The committee ruled that the higher rates shall apply as of July 1, 1950. It refused to accept Mr. Truman's proposal that the increases apply to all of 1950 corporate income.

Threat To Fighter Base Presented By Red Advance; 4 Mustangs Down

P. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. W. H. Walker, 8th Army commander, said tonight "a blister-making maneuver" saved Pusan Allied supply port on the east coast. "It was a miracle," he said, "if the Reds had taken Pusan we would have been destroyed. It would have been the finish." The Reds had advanced within 15 miles of Pusan at a point east of Chinju in deep South Korea. There, an American offensive turned the tide.

TOKYO, Aug. 10.—(AP)—U. S. forces surged about 13 miles today and snapped shut an armored trap around 1,000 North Koreans in the Chumpu tract in deep South Korea.

But to the north erupting Red attacks made a new thrust against Jangju and imperilled a main American fighter plane base on the Korean east coast near Pohang port.

The southern gains were the suggest of the war for the Americans. Two advancing combat teams in force were almost on the outskirts of Chumpu, main Red base in the south.

U. S. Eighth Army leaders took hasty steps to protect the fighter plane base. It is eight miles southwest of Pohang on the Sea of Japan 55 miles north of Pusan.

Two Red forces rolled back crumbling South Korean troops there. AP Correspondent Hal Boyle at Pohang said the Reds were protected from American naval guns by lofty mountains in some of Korea's most rugged country.

Churchill Delays Talk Calling For All Europe Army

BRISTOL, England, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Winston Churchill, British Prime Minister, today delayed the announcement of the formation of a "European home army" for uniting Europe and urged that the unofficial parliament should either be strengthened or dissolved.

Mr. Churchill said the European Constituent Assembly in the east would be the best way to do this. He said after Britain's wartime leader suddenly postponed until tomorrow a major speech scheduled for today, Churchill, he said, learned reluctantly to call for the creation of a "European army, including German components, as a shield against Soviet aggression."

Mr. Churchill called the "European" elements in his own government for their negative attitude toward European unity. "There is no reason," he said, "why we should work out a European electrical law and have members of the assembly elected."

Mr. General William J. Donovan here as chairman of the American Committee for United Europe, told an interviewer the only way for the Assembly to break out of the statute's confines is to declare an immediate emergency. Conservative leaders did not explain why Churchill's speech was postponed but indicated there was some definite reason.

Walker's Gamble In Southern Offensive Reported Paying Off

U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA, Aug. 10.—

Lt. Gen. W. H. Walker, U. S. 8th Army commander, gambled in ordering the American offensive on the southern front. It looked today as though the gamble had paid off.

It was making Pusan, American supply port, secure. If the North Koreans had rolled back Pusan, main objective of the southern drive, the American offensive would have collapsed. The war would have been a stalemate.

The 8th Army is pushing the American defense line south 10 to 15 miles of the sea. The 1st Marine Division is spreading five South Korean divisions across the northern front.

The defense line had to be established to prevent the North Koreans retreating toward Chinju.

Walker pulled the 15th Regt. out of the 25th Div. to form the 1st Marine Division. It will be with the newly arrived 1st Marine Division and 1st Cavalry Division. The 1st Cavalry Division has been moved from Hawaii into the southern front.

The drive bogged down its first two days, simultaneously the Communists crossed the Solong, and set up three bridges.

Woman Strangled In Golden State Limited Pullman

BUCKLE UP, Aug. 10.—(AP)—An elderly woman from Los Angeles was found strangled in a Pullman car on the Southern Pacific's Golden State Limited early today at the railroad's first stop.

Sheffield G. V. Pruitt of Cordoba County and Harold T. Lantz, 26, a bus driver, were charged with the slaying. Pruitt had confessed the slaying.

Victim of the murder was identified as Mrs. Ada C. Parks, who the sheriff estimated was between 60 and 70 years old.

Pruitt said the 160-pound Lantz hoisted the body on a table which was lashed to the car and strangled her. Lantz first told the conductor a stranger had done the killing.

George McGahagin, ACL Conductor, Dies

Road Department Raps Ghiotto And Sims For Suing

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 10.—

The State Road Department today charged Robert O. Ghiotto and Arthur J. Sims with "guilty of reprehensible conduct" in preparing their suit attacking road equipment rental contract.

The equipment contracts came in to defend their contracts with a battery of high-powered attorneys that includes Tom Farnsworth, Richard E. Sims, and Arthur J. Sims.

The equipment contracts came in to defend their contracts with a battery of high-powered attorneys that includes Tom Farnsworth, Richard E. Sims, and Arthur J. Sims.

Former Governor Doyle E. Carlton of the Tampa firm of Mabry, Reeves, Carlton, Anderson and Fields filed an answer to the Ghiotto-Sims suit on behalf of A. F. Rich of Tallahassee, one of whose agreements is specifically questioned.

Former Governor Millard Caldwell and his firm of Caldwell, Parker, Foster and Whittington moved to intervene in the suit.

Attorney General Richard E. Sims today sought to intervene in the case also.

All questions involved in the complicated suit will be heard by Circuit Judge Hugh M. Taylor in a day-long argument here Monday.

MOORE IN PARES
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission said today it will approve a 20 percent increase in railroad communication fares between New Orleans and coast areas on the Mississippi Gulf coast.

Nearly 3,000 New Connections Made By Power Co.

Instead of leveling off as predicted by some experts, Florida's construction continues in the upswing according to a reliable index, the connection of new electrical services.

Figures released yesterday by Florida Power & Light Company show that in its statewide service area, 2,734 new electric service connections were made between July, compared to 2,121 in July of last year. The increase is 29 percent.

"Every month of this year has shown more new electric service connections made than in the corresponding month of last year," H. H. Coleman, division manager, declared. "In the first seven months of this year, the power company connected 22,145 new electric services, an average 19,924 for the same period last year."

"New electric service connections are a reliable index to the number of new buildings completed, and our figures certainly reflect a very favorable and encouraging activity in Florida's construction."

"Florida is busier than ever, and it should be pointed out that the buildings being completed are the result of a current upswing by builders to meet the heat-growth of our state."

New residences accounted for most of the new electric connections, Mr. Coleman said. This coincides with figures on Florida residential construction contracts let, totaling $174,776,000 for the first six months of 1950, a big gain over last year.

ATOMIC STRIKE
OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Aug. 10.—(AP)—An estimated 500 AEC construction workers did not report for work today on vital atomic building projects.

A union leader who withheld use of his name made the estimate and said the dispute involved Local 497 of the Pattern and Diecasters Union.

"I understand the dispute involves supervision of the painters' work and not wages," the union official said.
