Parents demand action from schools

By Michelle Jerla Managing Editor

Schools do not have trained staff to give glucagon shots to diabetic students

SANFORD — Everyday, Jean Marchese worries about sending her son, Joseph, to school. The Oviedo mother is concerned her 14-year-old may lose consciousness at school while suffering from low blood sugar levels, and no one in the building will be able to help.

So Marchese, and more than a dozen parents and children, approached the Seminole County School Board Tuesday to discuss their concerns about the school system's policy for students with diabetes.

Currently, many Seminole schools do not have staff trained to give glucagon shots to students suffering from diabetic episodes. If a student goes into a diabetic episode, the only procedure is to call 911.

"Glucagon is a life-saving medicine," said Patti Barone, a mother whose 5-year-old has diabetes. School officials have said since no school is more than two miles from a fire-rescue station, calling 911 is the best way to get students immediate emergency help. And, a number of schools do have trained nurses on staff to supervise students who need

No bull: Heath is King of the Dozers

Seminole County man wins national bulldozer competition

By Russ White Staff Writer

Gary Heath pauses from his duties as team leader for the Seminole County Landfill.

GENEVA — The nickname of the place is "Mount Osceola." It's 150 feet high and has flies, buzzards, sea gulls, rats and snakes.

Gary Heath has worked on the mount for 23 years.

He says he has seven years until he retires.

Heath, 43, is the Team Leader for the Seminole County Landfill operation on 6,000 stinking acres in the north-east section of the county.

"After a couple of days, you get used to the smell," Heath said. "That, or move on."

What makes Heath's job satisfying is he is on a bulldozer or other heavy equipment each work day. The late Curtis Heath put Gary on a front-end loader when he was seven years old.

"Dad let me run it by myself," Heath said. "I didn't want to come off it."

Not only has Heath become the county's Landfill boss, he's the top bulldozer in the country for the second time in eight years. After winning a fifth Florida bulldozing championship, Heath won the nationals in St. Paul, Minn. in August.

Heavy equipment operators from all around the country competed over an obstacle course that some needed 15 minutes to navigate. With the experience he's gained on top of the Mount Osceola landfill, Heath needed but six minutes.

"They place barrels or traffic cones exactly 14 feet and four inches apart," Heath said. "The foot of the blade on the bulldozer is 14 feet. That allows two inches on each side to get through the

Teen-ager arrested for cutting two classmates

From Staff Reports

A 14-year old Greenwood Lakes Middle School student was arrested Friday by Seminole County Sheriff's deputies.

She has been accused of two counts of aggravated battery and one for possession of a weapon on school property, at 601 Lake Park Drive in Lake Mary.

According to the arrest report, the girl, identified as Charneshea Lishay Thomas, of Sanford, told officers that, while on her way to class, she was accosted by two other females who reportedly asked if she wanted to fight. When she refused, the incident report said the two jumped on her, knocked her to the ground and began striking her. The other two girls were said to be 13 years of age.

Thomas told officers she produced a razor knife and cut the girls while trying to protect herself.

One of the girls was cut on the face, the other on her leg. Both required medical treatment.

Thomas was taken to the Juvenile Detention Center.

County picks Lake Mary firm to design Juvenile Justice Center

By Russ White Staff Writer

SANFORD — County Chairman Carlton Henley didn't waste a moment on Tuesday to disapprove a temporary position for a county representative to oversee the courthouse expansion program.

"It's just another way of spreading the blame if something goes wrong," Henley said. "I can not support this."

Commissioner Daryl McLain said he had great concerns, also, about spending as much as $90,000 a year of tax payer's money for such a position. County Manager Kevin Grace then withdrew the item — which would have failed, 4-0 if a vote had been taken. (Commissioner Randy Morris was not present.)

The Commission did, however, select Collage Design & Construction Group, Inc. of Lake Mary to provide Design Build Services for the Seminole County Juvenile Justice Center. Collage was chosen by three of four of the commissioners as the top firm.

Collage is located at 585 Technology Park in Lake Mary. Brian Walsh is its top executive. He helped start the company in 1992. Collage specializes in commercial buildings as well as construction management and design build. Scott Partnership Architecture works with Collage.

If county staff can negotiate a contract with Collage, the company will be responsible for the expansion of the existing Juvenile Justice System at Five Points. The Board of County Commissioners

BBQ is Renaud's passion

By Nick Pflauml Staff Writer

SANFORD — Restaurants often brag they have "the best barbecue in the nation." Whether they do or don't depends on the taste preferences of the customers.

But for Sanford-born Mark Renaud, he can prove he has the best, not only in the nation, but in the world, and not only in a team barbecue but as an individual.

Renaud, along with his team, called "The Barbecue Bunch," won the international competition held in San Jose, Calif.

"Pigs are what we cook, we decorate a lot with peppers, and the blues is the music we play. They know who we are when they walk by."

Blues music is always playing in the background as the team works on its creations.

Renaud says he's been working on perfecting his barbecue sauce for a number of years, with the team active for six years. Now, it's the real test.

Renaud's parents, Jan and James "Tommy" Renaud, have been barbecue enthusiasts for the past 40 years. Renaud's father, "Tommy," won the 1998 award for a culinary career. He was inducted into the

SHUPE'S SCOOP
Snook are notorious for being very finicky. One way to create a feeding frenzy is to use small bait-fish for live chum, and toss handfuls above holding snook and let them drift down. Once the snook begin hitting the chum, simply toss a hooked baitfish into the feeding area.

FISHING FORECAST
 Bass action in the river is improving slightly, and will continue to improve with cooler air temperatures. Fish deep bends and irregular features, such as creek mouths, sand bars, etc., as river bass tend to hold in such areas. Fish these areas slowly, as bass tend to bunch up in these areas, and multiple fish can be caught.

Sebastian Inlet has good snook action, and fair action with redfish, trout, and small snapper. Large live shrimp or small baitfish work well for all species. Snook and tarpon are hitting in the Sebastian River.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports that offshore action will improve once seas subside. Expect king mackerel to be from just off the beach to 8 A Reef and Pelican Flats. Cobia will also be in these same areas. Dolphin and wahoo are scarce. A few tripletail and king mackerel are in the buoy line, while sheepshead and flounder can be found inside the Port. Trout and redfish are rated as fair in the Banana and Indian Rivers.

Ponce Inlet has steady action with drum, sheepshead, redfish, jack crevalle, and small bluefish. Live or dead shrimp is the top bait. Trout and redfish are rated as good in Mosquito Lagoon.

Delisting of snook won't make much difference

Snook - one of the most prized saltwater game fish in Florida - may come off the list of species of special concern (SSC) early next year, but the change won't make much difference.

Jim Shupe

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) staff plans to recommend that bag limits, season dates and other regulations concerning snook remain in effect. The only difference is that snook no longer would bear the classification that alerts resource managers to be especially cautious in managing the species.

Based on the latest research by the Florida Marine Research Institute, snook may have been listed as an SSC 10 years ago when the species was not spawning rapidly enough to sustain the population.

Snook are found in the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean. They are known for their ability to live for up to 20 years.

Snook are a popular sport fish and are highly valued for their meat. They are also a popular target for anglers.

Snook are a highly migratory species and can be found in large numbers in certain areas.

Snook are a highly valued species and are highly sought after by anglers.

Brantley, Howell get wins; Winter Springs falls in district football contests

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

CASSELBERRY - At long last the streak is over. The Lake Howell Silver Hawks (1-2 overall, 1-0 in 5A-4) ended a 20-game, losing streak that started on September 11, 1998 with a 12-0 Class 5A-District 4 and Seminole Athletic Conference football victory over Lyman (0-4 overall, 0-2 in 5A-4) at Richard L. Evans Field Friday night.

Meanwhile, in Orlando, Lake Brantley (3-1 overall, 1-1 in 6A-2) overcame a let-down from last week's last-second victory over Seminole, another 1-hour delay for lightning, and five fumbles, getting a pair of touchdown runs from quarterback Taylor Ramsaur and using a strong defense to defeat host University (1-3 overall, 0-2 in 6A-2), 14-3, in a Class 6A-District 2 contest.

The Patriots took the opening kickoff and held the ball nearly eight minutes with Ramsaur capping the 71-yard, 13-play drive with a 1-yard plunge. Corey Kallah's extra point made the score 7-0.

The Cougars' only scoring drive came on the opening drive of the second half with David Tanner kicking a 25-yard field goal.

The hosts had two other chances to cut into the lead, but each time Lake Brantley came away with an interception, one each by Justin Pagan and Jonathan Shaw.

Ramsaur then put the game away with a 25-yard touchdown run with 10:28 left in the game set-up by a 30-yard punt return by Jamel Oliver.

Senior fullback Josh Dematela led the Patriots with 95 yards on 25 carries.

It was a big night on the local football fields for a pair of "Lakes" last Friday.

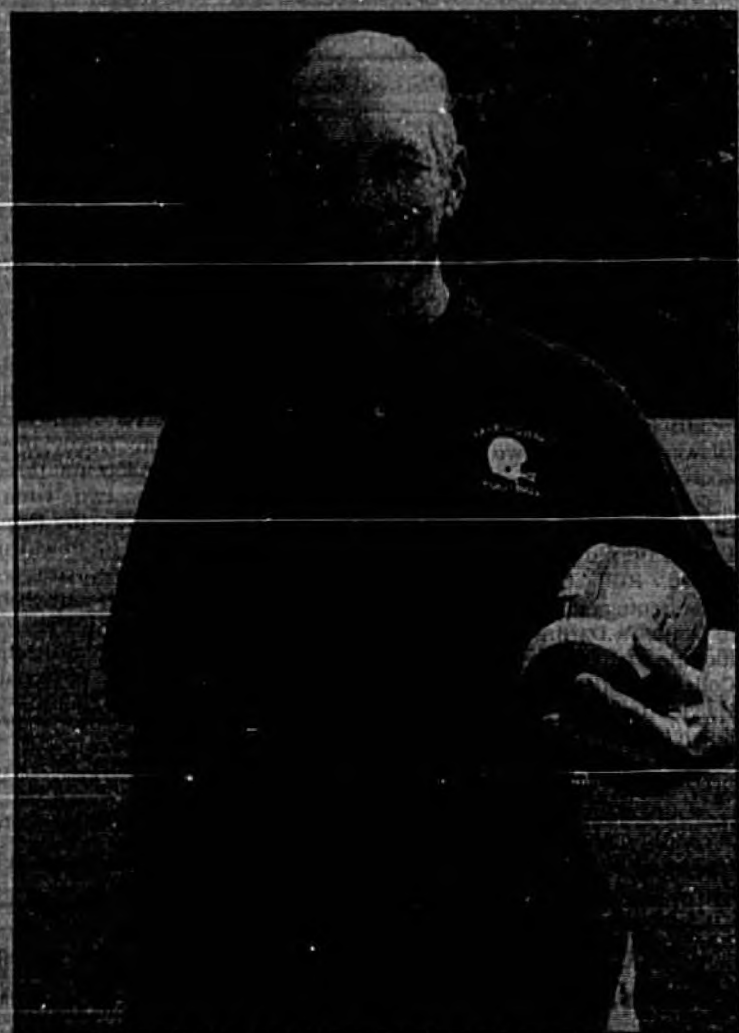

Lake Brantley senior quarterback Taylor Ramsaur (with ball above) only gained 37 yards on 12 carries, but two were for touchdowns, one of 25 yards, as the Patriots overcame five fumbles and a 1-hour rain delay to improve to 3-1 overall and 1-1 in Class 6A-District 2 with a 14-3 road victory over University.

Meanwhile at Lake Howell's Richard L. Evans Field, the Silver Hawks and veteran head coach Mike Bisceglia (left) finally broke a 20-game losing streak that had started back on September 11, 1998 in high-style with a 12-0 shutout of Lyman.

There will be a light schedule for county football squads this week as Lake Howell will host Lake Brantley at Richard L. Evans Field at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday and Seminole will welcome Oviedo to Thomas F. Whigham Stadium on Friday, also at 7:30 p.m., in Seminole Athletic Conference games.

Lake Mary, Lyman and Winter Springs will be idle.

Lake Brantley girls clinch SAC bowling 1st half title

From Staff Reports
CASSELBERRY - Without throwing a ball, the Lake Brantley Patriots clinched the first half title of the Seminole Athletic Conference girls' bowling league Monday.

Lake Mary, Lake Howell, and Winter Springs (the second through fourth place teams, respectively, entering play Monday at the AMF Bowling Center, Casselberry) each needed to sweep their matches to have a mathematical chance at catching Lake Brantley, which had the bye on Monday.

Not only did the Oviedo Lions thwart Lake Mary, but they knocked the Rams out of second place by splitting their match, 9-9.

Meanwhile, Lake Howell went 15-5 against Lyman as Winter Springs bested Seminole, 10-6.

With one round left in the first half, Lake Brantley (75-15) now has an insurmountable lead over Lake Howell (54-38), Lake Mary (33 1/2-27 1/2), Winter Springs (30-11), Oviedo (27-22), Seminole (22-20), and Lyman (24 1/2-23 1/2).

By comparison, the boys' first half crown may not be decided until the final frame Wednesday.

On Monday, Seminole doubled up Winter Springs, 12-6, Lake Howell rolled by Lake Brantley, 11-7, and Oviedo got past Lake Mary, 10-8.

Going into the final round of competition, Lake Howell and Seminole are tied for first place with identical 58-34 marks, just ahead of Oviedo (54-36), Lake Brantley, which started the day in first place, slid to fourth (49-41) with the bye ahead of Lyman (40-68), Lake Mary (35-55), and Winter Springs (34-56).

Wednesday's schedule at the AMF Bowling Center-Longwood has Seminole squaring off with Oviedo and Lake Howell battling Lake Brantley, Lake Mary faces Winter Springs while Lyman sits out with the bye.

After Wednesday, the league will be off for two weeks, returning to action on Monday, Oct. 18.

Sharks atop standings in Women's softball

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - Robin Bishop and Teresa Howdyshell combined for seven hits, four runs scored and three RBI to help lead the Sharks to an 11-2 victory over F.B.I. and sole possession of first place in the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Women's Fall Slow Pitch Softball League last Tuesday night at Pinchurst Park.

The Sharks got some help to take the league lead, as Corey Lasage's three-run double in a four-run fifth inning erased a 5-3 deficit as Donnie's Darlins handed Paul's Towing and Truck Repair, 9-7, and Brenda Hartsfield had five hits, including a grand slam, and drove in eight runs as Get Down Beauty and Fashion opened its season with a 19-16 victory over the Alleycats.

The Sharks stand alone atop the standings with a 2-0 record, while Get Down Beauty and Fashion is 1-0, Donnie's Darlins, F.B.I. and Paul's Towing and Truck Repair are all 1-1, Lee's Exxon (which was idle last week) is 0-1 and the Alleycats are 0-2.

Tonight at Pinchurst Park, Donnie's Darlins takes on Lee's See Women, Page 2B

We're Changing

But, we're still the best source for local news and advertising

Effective Oct. 1, 2000, The Seminole Herald will change its publication schedule to twice per week. This was not an easy decision, but one that assures northern Seminole County will keep a quality community newspaper.

All of us at The Herald and our parent company, Republic Newspapers Inc., have worked very hard over the last three years to try to maintain the five-day a week publication schedule. We have brought in or developed top-notch people in the newsroom, advertising, circulation and production departments. We have invested in new computers, systems and equipment. We have redesigned and rejuvenated the news pages, circulation and production departments. We have brought in new copy locations throughout Seminole County.

When Republic bought The Herald, its intention was to turn around years of declining circulation and advertising revenues and give Sanford and Seminole County the newspaper it deserved. We have succeeded in our efforts to increase circulation, increase revenues and improve the quality and content of the newspaper. While doing this, however, we also increased costs out of proportion to the revenues we were able to generate.

Our desire is to continue to give you the best possible LOCAL newspaper we can. You will now receive a midweek Herald on Wednesdays and the weekend paper on Saturdays. They will be delivered to your mailbox by the U.S. Postal Service. We hope to give you even MORE LOCAL news in these two papers than you are now getting in five. We will continue to cover local sports, city government, county commission, schools, police blotter, church news and everything else that you can't get from the big paper in the next county. In fact you will find new features and pages that will give you even more local news and information than you are getting now.

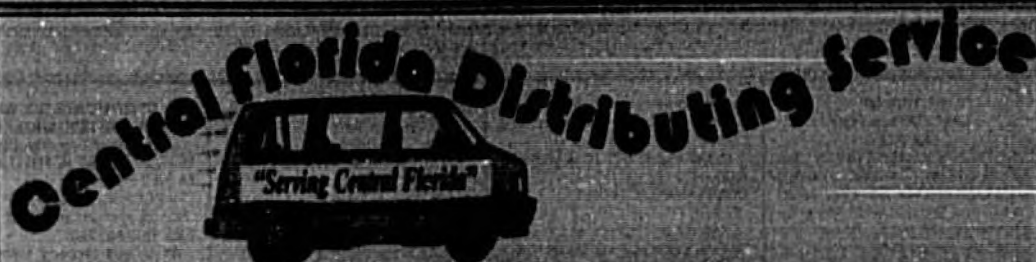

We will extend all of the home subscription expiration dates for those of you that have pre-paid. All of our customers will receive the correct number of newspapers that they have paid for, based on a pro-rated formula.

Our readers will continue to have an excellent local news and advertising source that will focus on the North Seminole County community like no one else can. We have come to accept the fact that we aren't discontinuing a daily newspaper — we are having a community newspaper.

We ask for your input and support. You can reach me at 407-322-2611 or at wendou@herald.com if you wish to talk to me about this or any other matter.

Son fails to make good his promise of payment to mom

DEAR ABBY: My son and daughter-in-law asked me to baby-sit my new grandson when she returned to work three days a week. They also told me they wouldn't "let me" unless I agreed to accept $10 an hour. My son is very successful and makes more than $100,000 a year. They know I have few opportunities to earn spending money.

My son returned from work at the end of my first day of baby sitting and didn't pay me, so I went home. Later, I ran into my daughter-in-law at the market, and she asked if my son had paid me. I said, "No," but since they were coming over for dinner on Saturday night, I told her they could pay me then. We had dinner Saturday night and neither one of them paid me. (They are very forgetful people.)

Should I ask them for my money? My husband says if they aren't going to pay me, I will have to find other part-time work if I want my own spending money.

GEORGIA GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: There's no harm in reminding your son and daughter-in-law if they forget to pay you. Raise the subject of the money by asking them whether you should submit a weekly invoice for their tax purposes. Then agree on a payment schedule so all three of you have a clear understanding about how often you should expect to be paid.

DEAR ABBY: Both my husband and our 12-year-old daughter are stutterers. We recently discovered an organization that has helped them enormously, and I would like to share it with your readers: The National Stuttering Association (NSA), a self-help organization for people who stutter, provides literature for parents of children who stutter and, in addition, a video for children.

After years of difficult times at school, our daughter had poor self-esteem. Through NSA, we were able to learn about the various speech therapies that are available, and our daughter is in an excellent therapy program near our home. Her self-esteem has now improved.

My husband has also gained confidence by attending NSA meetings (there are chapters all across the country). NSA has helped him realize that there are other people out there just like him, so he is not alone.

Please tell your readers about NSA so other families like mine can be helped.

GRATEFUL WIFE AND MOTHER

DEAR GRATEFUL: With pleasure. Thank you for sharing your family's success story. The National Stuttering Association can be reached at (800) 361-1677. The address is 5100 E. LaPalma Ave., Suite 208, Anaheim Hills, CA 92807. The Web site is: www.nsstutter.org. The e-mail is: nsastutter@aol.com.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to add this "tragic" experience to your "You know you're getting old when ..." collection. (Yes, it happened to me!)

You know you're getting old when your son greets you by saying, "Hi, Mom. I just joined AARP!"

FEELING OLD IN ARKANSAS

DEAR FEELING OLD: Don't let it get to you. I hear they're taking 'em younger and younger.

Good advice for everyone — (read in seniors — is in "The Angel in All of Us and How to Deal With It." To order, send a business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $1.99 ($4.99 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Angel Booklet, P.O. Box 647, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. # Dr. Mom makes boo-boo better Cathy Williams kisses the scraped knee of her son Rony, 3, while the two were watching older brother Roby, 8, play flag football Saturday. Rony fell on the asphalt Friday night while watching the Seminole High School football game. The injury still hurt Saturday morning, but mom had the right "medicine" to make it better.

Nude

McGee showed the Theatre group a letter she had received from Carolyn French, agent of the playwright, Margaret Edson of Atlanta.

"I should think a body stocking would not be noticed," French wrote. "At the instant Vivian is nude, her back can be toward the audience and she can be silhouetted by light."

McGee said that she had individually polled members of the SCC Board and they preferred Vivian not be totally nude.

"This is a standards issue," McGee said. "The bottom line is there is no nudity on campus. This, I remind you, is a very conservative community."

OPT director Chris Drury argued that it was important to "do the play as written," that it was essential that Vivian be nude. Drury claims a sophisticated audience would "giggle not gasp" if Vivian were wearing a body suit when she ascended to be with the angels."

McGee met with the OTP group for more than an hour. From the beginning, she pleaded with the members to seek a compromise.

"We have a very rich partnership. I've bragged about it often," McGee said. "I've seen most of the productions. I believe we've been very open."

"What I'm asking you today is to come back — perhaps with the plan that will work," McGee said.

Drury and the others said they realized that by presenting "WIT," the college would be entering uncharted waters.

"We feel we must maintain the integrity of the script," Drury said. "We must show the victory of the human body and spirit over death."

McGee insisted, however, nudity was not acceptable.

"I don't intend to take this step," she said. "It is not something we can support."

Taxes

officers," said Police Chief Brian Toolley during an August budget work session. "This is dramatic, but I think this is what it's going to take."

The salary increases will put Sanford officers at or above the average pay for officers of similar sized departments in the region.

New officers will be paid a minimum of $29,000 to a maximum of $43,865. Corporals will see a boost from a minimum of $30,766 to a maximum of $43,865. The parameters for sergeants' pay will be from $37,100 to $56,582.

City firefighters and paramedics will also receive a substantial pay increase. Much like the police department, pay scales for firefighters ranked near the bottom when compared with surrounding agencies. The increases will make Sanford paramedics among the highest paid in the region behind Orlando and Orange County, while firefighters' pay will rank fourth in the region behind Orlando, Orange County and Altamonte Springs.

Entry level firefighters will receive a 7.8 percent increase in pay, while veteran firefighters will receive a 5.2 increase. Salaries for firefighters range from $27,467 to $40,621. Entry level paramedics will receive a 13.3 increase in pay, while veteran paramedics will receive a 9.1 increase. Salaries for paramedics range from $24,031 to $41,783.

The Commission also provided money in the budget to hire a risk manager. During recent years, the city has seen dramatic increases in its workman's compensation claims and insurance premiums. The risk manager would be responsible for keeping those costs in line by reviewing injuries and costs, restructuring insurance contracts, forming a safety committee, developing site inspection services and coordinating all of the city's insurance coverages.

What a great neighborhood to write about

While the opportunity exists, please let me express my gratitude to those who have braved the opinions and writings that have appeared here with my signature.

Some columns were meant to be tough, some to be tender. Years ago, my first editor taught me to stick up for the underdog and to expose bullies and cheats.

I rarely aimed for the jugular area ... the direction was your funny bone. Plus the shins of a few stuffy politicians.

The Herald editors have been good sports to let me do this sort of thing for a living. This is my 44th year in the business, my fifth at the Herald. Time enough to offend so many people that the owner of the paper has cut us down to two editions a week.

The best part of my job is having the opportunity to meet real people. In previous jobs, I interviewed a Who's Who of the World. Here, I interviewed the kindest and most gracious people in the world. All of you right here in the neighborhood.

I looked into Thelma Mike's loving eyes and grasped an angel. The Good Samaritan Home was begun by her mother and left in the hands of Sanford's own Good Samaritan.

Dick Shaw is in his 70s and travels to hospitals and retirement homes. He's known as the Whistler. I watched one day as a man, scrunched in his wheelchair, straightened up to smile after Dick Shaw had whistled into his heart.

I met Chris Drummond at a Friday night dance in Altamonte Springs. Chris was born with cerebral palsy. He had no left eye. He had a brain tumor. I wrote several columns about Chris, who is now 36. He allowed me to be a friend. We took a trip to Washington. We went to the Lincoln Memorial. I missed a meeting two weeks ago and Chris called to tell me "how very concerned" he was for me.

Whenever I was bogged down at the County Services Building (I never did find the actual county seat), I'd be glad-denied by Diane Merkt, aide to Commissioner Randy Morris. I've been accused of being buddy-buddy with Morris. Actually, I go to his office to see Diane and Kathy Bowlin, who works for Commissioner Grant Maloy.

On my first trip to Bram Towers five years ago I met a marvelous woman who became my "second wife." Ruth Hamilton was just a youngster then — 97. She was amazing then — and now at 102. We'd look out the widows from her seventh-story apartment that overlooked Lake Monroe.

Ruth Hamilton said she couldn't wait for the Herald to be dropped at her doorstep. She was so excited to read it she gave up an inning or two of a Braves baseball game on TV.

Her husband used to be a ballplayer before he became a doctor.

"I used to wash his jock straps," she told me. "Ballplayers were real men. My Carter would have been a big-leaguer if he had a curve ball. Yowee, did his jock straps stink before I washed them."

Mrs. Hamilton moved into an assisted care home in Orlando two years ago but we still stay in touch. She says she feels almost everything I write. She insists we are soul mates from a previous life. I'm not sure I had a before. If so, I was with Ruth Hamilton.

That's all for this time.

Russ White's column appears Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday in the Seminole Herald.

HOROSCOPES

Thursday, Sept. 28, 2000

Through an unusual chain of events, advancement and/or recognition in your chosen field of endeavor could come about in the year ahead. It won't be lucky if it's precipitated by you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A chance meeting today with an individual with whom you have much in common could result in something very interesting for you both. It'll also make the relationship stronger. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you've been stuck on dead center for quite some time regarding a matter of significance to you, this may be the day that a way will be found to get you off of it. Be alert.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Being surrounded by people with vivid imaginations could have a favorable influence on your thinking today. A fresh concept could be conceived to replace a stale one that failed you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) There is a strong possibility today that you might derive some type of unexpected windfall from a least-expected source. Be vigilant, because conditions are quite unusual now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) New ideas you implement today have excellent chances for success, so don't be reluctant to discard an outdated program or plan for a more progressive and innovative one.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You may have to make a quick decision today should prompt action be required to take advantage of an opportunity of a unique nature. You'll make the right decision.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Some of the ideas or suggestions offered out-of-the-blue by friends or associates today are apt to be quite sound and should be considered. One could put you on the track to something good.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) An opportunity might pop up today that could offer some unique possibilities for advancing your personal interests, both socially and professionally. Don't let it slip away.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You could come up with an imaginative twist today for something that has always been done with a standard procedure. Your innovation may prove to be very helpful.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) With a little imagination on your part today, possibly with someone else's catpaw, you will be able to do wonders to brighten up your surroundings. Aren't you the smart one!

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Being placed under pressure today is likely to heighten your faculties and resourcefulness rather than push you down. Actually, it'll give you an edge over the other guy.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Offer your new idea or project to the powers-that-be today. It's a good day for others to be receptive to fresh thinking. Peripheral benefits could be in store for you.

MINOR DIVISION
RAIDERS 20, JAGUARS 14
 The Raiders opened the scoring with Lenny Grace returning the opening kickoff 45-yards for the touchdown and then added the extra-point run to make the score 7-0.

Darryl Taylor answered for the Jaguars with a 30-yard touchdown run, but the extra point try failed, leaving the Raiders on top 7-6.

Roby Williams scored the second touchdown for the Raiders, running 27 yards to pay-dirt, and the extra point was good again, making the score 14-6.

The Jaguars came back to tie the game later when Taylor ran six-yards for the touchdown and also added the two-point conversion.

That set the stage for Grace, who found Williams for the game-winning touchdown.

GATORS 20, BENGALS 12
 This game began like the first one as Luis Carasas returned the opening kickoff 45-yards and Clay Lima added the extra point, giving the Gators a quick 7-0 lead.

Carasas then turned his talents to defense, intercepting a pass and returning it 19 yards for a touchdown and for good measure added the extra point to put the Gators up 14-0.

The Bengals got back into the game with Richard Grey running 33-yards for a touchdown and Josh Smith scoring from three-yards out. But the extra point try failed both times, leaving the Gators on top 14-12.

Carasas then ended the Bengals' hopes of a comeback by returning his second 45-yard kickoff of the game for a touchdown.

MAJOR DIVISION
JAGUARS 36, REDSKINS 12
 The defense gave the Jaguars early momentum as Terrell Wesley intercepted a pass to set-up Lortmel Rivera's 12-yard touchdown run. Rivera also added the extra point.

Matt Underwood got the Redskins on the board, running in from four-yards out to make the score 7-6.

But it was all Jaguars after that as Rivera hit Denzel Burke with a touchdown pass and added a two-point conversion to give the Jags a 15-6 halftime lead.

 Early in the second half, Rivera threw his second touchdown pass of the game, 12-yards to Michael Lowery, and Burke added the extra point.

Kevin Williams then returned an interception for a touchdown with Isaac Hampton running in the extra point to make the score 29-6 in favor of the Jaguars.

Lowery then capped the scoring for the winner's on an eight-yard run with Rivera adding the extra point.

Russell Sentell then closed out the game scoring, returning the opening kickoff 41-yards for the Redskins.

STEELERS 20, RATTLES 6
 The Rattles kept the game close for a half with an outstanding exhibition of flag pulling, but the Steelers showed they could also play defense as Robert Engroff intercepted a pass to set-up Adrian Thacker's 20-yard touchdown run.

Davie Purdue added the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

The Steelers stretched the advantage to 13-0 when Miller O'Neal returned a punt 27 yards and John Salco capped the drive with a touchdown pass to O'Neal.

Daniel Feliciano got the Rattles on the board with a 22-yard touchdown catch, but the Steelers got the insurance score on a five-yard run by Glenn Lee and the conversion by O'Neal.

1 with a 15-6, 11-15, 15-2 decision over the host Hawks and a 15-1, 15-6 thumping of Seabreeze.

Spruce Creek also whaloped the Sanderaba, 15-9 and 15-5.

The matchup between the Bears and Hawks was monster as Spruce Creek (13-2) entered the match with only one loss and had won 11 matches in a row.

But Winter Springs came out strong, jumping to a 12-0 lead before the Hawks could get on the board.

Spruce Creek came back to make a match of it in the second game, but junior Becki McLarnon had two outstanding service runs in the third game as the Bears took leads of 11-0 and 14-1 before closing out their eighth victory of the season.

Sophomore Ally Hock had eight kills and senior Rachella King six kills as Winter Springs had six players get at least two kills each.

In boys' volleyball matches from Monday, the Bears (6-4) made like their sisters, whipping Lake Brantley (6-9), 15-6 and 15-5; and Lake Mary (19-1) stretched its winning streak to 19 with a 15-6 and 15-5 rout of Lake Howell (5-5).

In a freshman football game from Tuesday, Seminole picked up a big road win, cruising past Lake Howell, 36-16, at Richard L. Evans Field.

Maurice Byrd had a pair of touchdown runs, 20- and 27-yards, and a two-point conversion, and quarterback Michael Harlow also scored twice, on runs of 1- and 16-yards, as the Tribe improved to 3-1.

Kendrick Knight added the other Seminole touchdown on a 21-yard run and added a two-point conversion and Jeff Mathis also added a two-point conversion run.

Steven Manana and John Dawson scored the Silver Hawks touchdowns, on runs of 2- and 10-yards, respectively, and Joey Forgett added both two-point conversion runs.

The Fighting Seminoles will host Lake Brantley at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium next Tuesday (October 3) starting at 7 p.m.

In cross country action, Winter Springs dominated its own invitational last Friday at Central Winds Park, with the boys winning 75-to-89 over University, with Lake Brantley, Seminole and Titusville completing the top five and the girls walking to a 25-to-89 victory over Gainesville with Lake Brantley, Bishop Moore and University completing the top five.

Today, the Seminole Athletic Conference freshman/sophomore meet will be run at Lake Mary with the girls running at 5 p.m. and the boys at 5:30 p.m.

The meet was originally scheduled for Lake Brantley High School, but the meet had to be moved because of a scheduling conflict.

Also, the limited varsity football schedule, just two games, for this week gets an early start with Lake Howell and Lake Brantley, both coming off big wins last Friday, meeting at Richard L. Evans Field at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday.

Soul-searching Seminoles shine

Tribe girls rebound from loss to beat Panthers

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - The United States women's softball team did what it described as a 'voodoo cleansing' after losing three straight games in the Olympics and came back to win the Gold Medal on Tuesday.

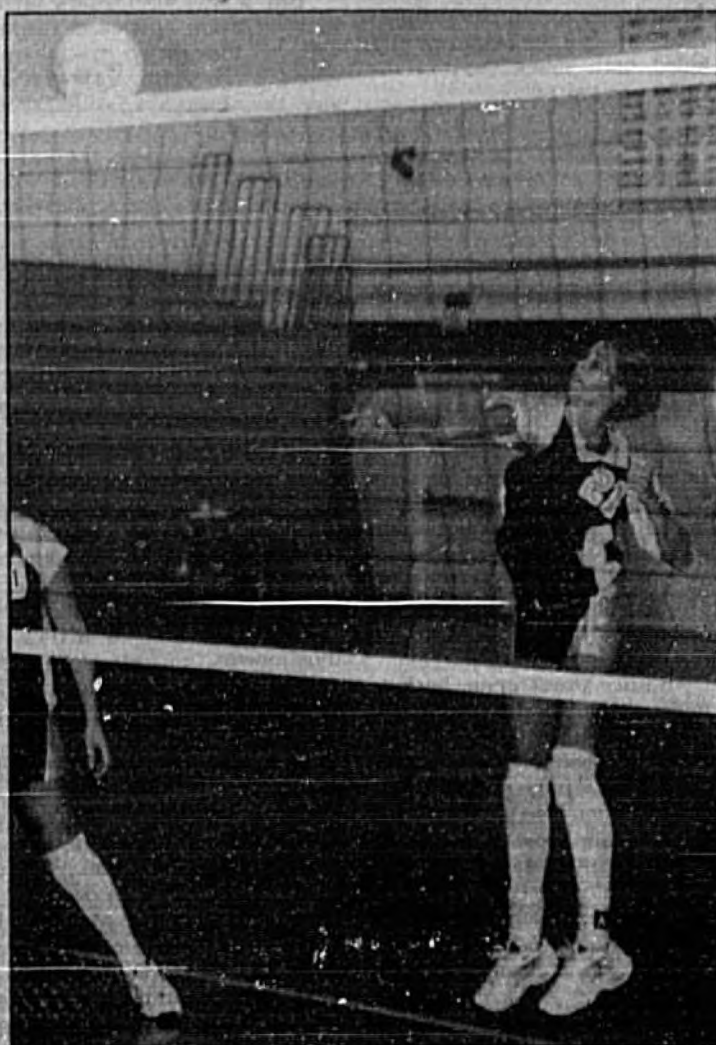

The Seminole High School girls volleyball team did somewhat the same thing Monday night after reaching a season-low in falling to a less-talented Mainland squad in three games at home.

"The girls did some heart-felt soul-searching after last night's (Monday) loss to Mainland," said Seminole head coach Beth Corso. "And it worked as they did a 180-degree turnaround and beat a much better Pine Ridge team."

The Fighting Seminoles looked good as they had started its second straight week of four matches by winning the opening game of the Mainland match with a solid 15-6 victory.

But the Buccaneers, who came into the match with only a 3-8 record and had been beaten in straight games by the Noles at home last week, came back to win the district matchup, 15-12 and 15-13.

Things turned around after the 'voodoo cleansing' in Deltona on Tuesday, however, as Seminole came up with an outstanding team effort to win the first game 15-10 before Pine Ridge came back to win 15-10 in the second

Sophomore Ally Hock (left) had eight kills in Winter Springs' three-game win over Spruce Creek and also helped the Bears romp past game. In the winner-take-all game, the Tribe was up to the task, jumping their district foes, 15-10, 15-11.

Seabreeze and senior Kim Corso (right) had a season-high 27 assists as Seminole got a big district road win over Pine Ridge.

In 117 attacks, Seminole had 23 kills, 41 digs and only 23 errors, including only three service errors and seven service receiving errors.

Individually, senior Kim Corso and sophomore Emily Keyzor combined for 44 assists, 27 for Corso and 17 for Keyzor, both season match highs for the duo. Corso also added three kills and seven digs to her total, while Keyzor chipped in with two kills and seven digs.

Other impressive performances were turned in by senior Michelle Cardel (15 kills, eight digs), junior Tara Wiggins (13 kills, four digs), junior Jessica Chick (10 kills, four solo blocks, six digs), senior Tracey Swaynos (three kills, one solo block, seven digs) and junior Jessica Hermesen (two digs).

"It was a big effort and turnaround," said Corso. "I'm very pleased."

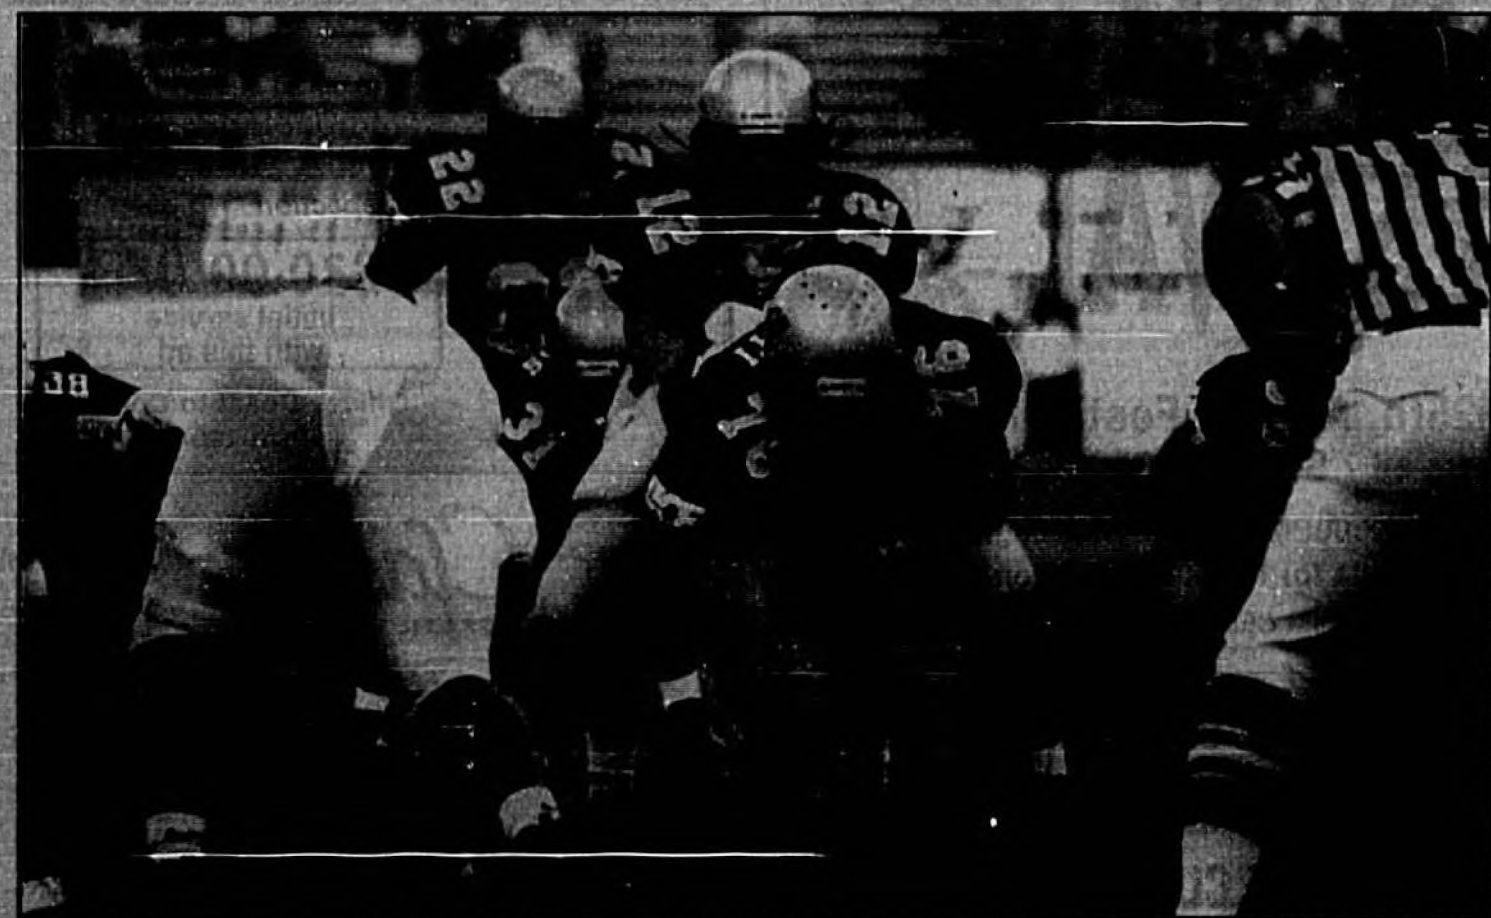

The night ended up being a big one all the way around for Seminole as the freshman team improved to 7-3 and the junior varsity improved to 10-3 as they made it perfect road sweep for the Tribe.

The varsity is now 10-8 on the season and will host Lake Howell in a district and Seminole Athletic Conference match this evening at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium with the freshmen getting the action started at 4:30 p.m. The junior varsity will follow at 5:30 p.m. and the varsity will close out the tripleheader at 7 p.m.

The busy week will conclude on Friday with a neighborhood SAC battle at Lake Mary. Because Seminole will host Oviedo in football that evening, times have been moved back, the freshmen starting at 4 p.m.; the junior varsity at 5 p.m.; and the varsity at 6 p.m.

In a rare three-team match at Spruce Creek High School on Monday, state-ranked Winter Springs improved its record to 8-1. See Preps, Page 2B

UCF starting quarterback Vic Penn (No. 12) suffered a dislocated left shoulder, his non-throwing arm, but is still expected to be out three-to-four weeks, giving redshirt freshman Ryan Schneider the opportunity to start his first game this Saturday at Eastern Michigan.

Schneider ready for challenge at UCF

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - The University of Central Florida football team has returned to the practice field in preparation for this weekend's game at Eastern Michigan.

The Golden Knights defeated EMU 31-8 last season at the Citrus Bowl, but this season UCF will have to do it on the road and with a new quarterback.

With starter Vic Penn (Miami Senior High School) lost for three-to-four weeks with a Grade 2 shoulder separation in his left, non-throwing arm, suffered in Saturday's 52-7 throttling of William & Mary at the Florida Citrus Bowl, redshirt freshman Ryan Schneider (Plantation High School) will make the first start of his collegiate career. UCF head coach Mike Kruczek says he is confident the former Class 6A High School Player-of-the-Year in Florida can get the job done.

"Ryan is going to sit in the pocket and deliver the ball until he gets knocked on the ground," said Kruczek. "I think he does a remarkable job of seeing the field for such a young guy. He understands our concepts and he does a good job of hitting the open guy."

Golden Knights wide receiver Tyson Hinshaw, the former Lake Mary High School quarterback that leads UCF with 25 catches on the season, also expressed confidence in Schneider's ability.

"He is extremely confident and he takes that to the football field. He plays with confidence and he plays the game for fun," said Hinshaw. "He really loves the game. He loves going out practicing and getting better, and the confidence that he has goes out to everyone else on the team as well."

Kruczek also noted that reserve linebacker Rachaud Smith (Miami-Norland High School) is questionable for the EMU game due to a sprained right ankle.

The Golden Knights (2-2) will take on Eastern Michigan (1-3) this Saturday (September 30), with kickoff set for 1 p.m. at EMU's Rynearson Stadium.

Sanford opens fall Flag Football season

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - The City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department opened its 2000 Youth Flag Football League with four exciting games on the field across from Sanford Middle School last Saturday.

The first game went right down to the wire with Lenny Grace hitting Roby Williams with the game-winning touchdown pass as the Raiders edged the Jaguars, 20-14.

In the other Minor Division game, the Gators took a 14-0 lead, but needed a late kickoff return by Luis Carasas to hold off the Bengals, 20-12.

In the Major Division, Lortmel Rivera had a big game as the Jaguars tripled the score on the Redskins, 36-12; and three different players scored touchdowns as the Steelers topped the Rattlers, 20-6.

This Saturday (September 30) at Sanford Middle School, the Minor Division has the Jaguars taking on the Bengals at 9 a.m. and the Raiders battling the Gators at 10 a.m.

In the Major Division, the Steelers face the Redskins at 11:30 a.m. and the Jaguars meet the Rattlers at 12:45 p.m.

We're Changing
But, we're still the best source for local news and advertising

Effective Oct. 1, 2000, The Seminole Herald will change its publication schedule to twice per week. This was not an easy decision, but one that assures northern Seminole County will keep a quality community newspaper.

All of us at The Herald and our parent company, Republic Newspapers Inc., have worked very hard over the last three years to try to maintain the five-day a week publication schedule. We have brought in or developed top-notch people in the newsroom, advertising, circulation and production departments. We have invested in new computers, systems and equipment. We have redesigned and rejuvenated the newsstand, telemarketing for new circulation and added color and single-copy locations throughout Seminole County.

When Republic bought The Herald, its intention was to turn around years of declining circulation and advertising revenues and give Sanford and Seminole County the newspaper it deserved. We have succeeded in our efforts to increase circulation, increase revenues and improve the quality and content of the newspaper. While doing this, however, we also increased costs out of proportion to the revenues we were able to generate.

Our desire is to continue to give you the best possible LOCAL newspaper we can. You will now receive a mid-week Herald on Wednesdays and the weekend paper on Saturdays. They will be delivered at your mailbox by the U.S. Postal Service. We hope to give you even MORE LOCAL news in these two papers than you are now getting in five. We will continue to cover local sports, city government, county commissions, schools, police blazes, church news and everything else that you can't get from the big paper in the next county. And you will find new features and pages that will give you even more local news and information than you are getting now.

We will send all of the local subscription expiration dates for those of you who will receive all of the local news. We will continue to provide the correct number of copies to all of our customers. All of our customers will receive the correct number of copies. We will continue to have an excellent local news and advertising department. Don't miss the Lions Club Spaghetti Dinner

Those who attend the dinner can also play bingo as part of the activities. Tickets are $5, children under 5 eat free, and proceeds from the event benefit the Lions Club Sight Programs.

Daughters-in-law need their own set of commandments, too

DEAR ABBY: I read the "Ten Commandments for Mothers-in-Law" in your column. It implies that if the relationship is troubled, the fault is hers. However, relationships are a two-way street. My son -- a "rescuer" -- married an insecure, controlling young woman. She is threatened by any participation on our part in their lives. Our son seems happy in his marriage, so we are getting on with our own lives without involvement with them or our grandchildren. A tragedy? Yes. One we can fix from our end? No. (Ironically, I scored high on your "Commandments for Mothers-in-Law.") Adult children also bear a responsibility for making the relationship a success. To all daughters-in-law and sons-in-law who read the "Ten Commandments for Mothers-in-Law" and said, "Amen!" I offer this slightly modified version: TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR A DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

1. Thou shalt love, honor and respect your mother-in-law and father-in-law.
2. Thou shalt allow them complete independence.
3. Thou shalt speak only kindly and loyally about them.
4. Thou shalt not find fault.
5. Thou shalt not visit them too frequently, and never enter their home without knocking.
6. Thou shalt say thank you when they do something nice for you or your children.
7. Thou shalt not give them advice unless requested.
8. Thou shalt not deny them access to their grandchildren as a bargaining chip to get what you want.
9. Thou shalt respect their taste in home decorating, though it differs from your own.
10. Thou shalt petition the Heavenly Father, in whose love they abide, for their happiness.

I would also suggest that daughters-in-law remember that they are providing their children with a blueprint for how they themselves should be treated one day in the future when they become mothers-in-law. Please print this, Abby. I know I speak for tens of thousands of mothers-in-law who will read this and say, "Amen!"

DISAPPOINTED MOTHER-IN-LAW

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Touché! I'm with you all the way.

DEAR ABBY: I have a question regarding the proper way to pay someone back when they "pick something up" for you. In many cases when someone says, "I'm going to the store; would you like anything?" they come back from the store and won't accept any money. We always intend to repay these people for the products they purchase. I've even tried stuffing the money into purses or diaper bags, but they always find it before they leave or just plain won't accept it. Any suggestions?
INDEBTED IN ILLINOIS

DEAR INDEBTED: Yes. Take a moment to consider if there is something special you might do for these "angels." Consider knitting something for their baby, embroidering washcloths, towels or guest towels, or preparing homemade pastries or candy from a family recipe. Because it's something you made yourself, the gift would be doubly meaningful.

Parents

certain medical assistance.

Nevertheless, parents and students told the school board Tuesday the district isn't doing enough for students with diabetes.

"I want Seminole County do its homework and realize how serious this disease is," Joseph Marchese said.

Diabetes is a disease in which the body does not produce or properly use insulin, a hormone that is needed to convert sugar, starches and other food into energy needed for daily life. The cause of diabetes is a mystery, although both genetics and environmental factors such as obesity and lack of exercise appear to play roles.

According to the American Diabetes Association, there are 15.7 million people (5.9 percent of the population) in the United States who have diabetes. People with diabetes can suffer from hypoglycemia, or low blood-sugar levels, which if severe can lead to unconsciousness, seizures, heart failure and death.

That's why parents in Seminole County want trained personnel at schools to give glucagon shots.

"Can anyone just watch a child have a seizure and do nothing but pick up a phone?" said Patricia Smart, who has a 4-year-old with diabetes.

Following Thursday's meeting, School Board Member Larry Furlong said he agrees with the parents' concerns.

"We need to get people trained to give the shots," Furlong said. "We've got to start there."

"We've got to take a look at this and get it fixed," he said. "I've sent the same message to the superintendent and the Board's attorney."

Seminole County Superintendent Paul Hagerty said Tuesday he would not comment on the matter since a complaint has been filed by parents with the U.S. Department of Education's Office of Civil Rights.

However, after listening to Thursday's comments, School Board Attorney Ned Julian said he would continue looking into the matter.

"I've listened to the comments and have taken them down," Julian said. "I assure the Board and parents the issues I've heard tonight will be communicated along the appropriate path."

Heath said the officials give each competitor a trial-run to get acclimated to the course. Seminole's finest already had the edge.

Six minutes later, the championship was his.

Heath, 43, is a Seminole High School graduate and a champion weight-lifter. He married his school sweetheart, Sharon

He supervises 18 Landfill drivers — all men. He said there have been a couple of women who have worked the heavy equipment in the last 20 years. "I've taught many of the guys

Heath said his trip to the bulldozer nationals was paid for by SWANA — Solid Waste Authority of North America.

"I've got a job I enjoy doing," Heath said. "It's hard work ... there isn't any horseplay. Not with the heavy equipment we're using."

Our View

Zorro

Who is Gore really running for?

Asked why he sought the presidency in 1980, Ted Kennedy used 70 hopeless words to find the right one: "restoration." He wanted to rekindle the flame lit so brilliantly by his brothers John and Robert. It has taken the 2000 candidates a tad longer to tell us what lights their fires.

Chris Matthews

Al Gore says he's running to fight for "the people against the powerful." George W. Bush says he's waging a "contest of ideas" between freedom and big government. Both pitches justify healthy voter skepticism.

Watching Gore this week, for example, I noted a dangerous disconnect in how he invested his California time. Like the legendary Zorro of Spanish colonial times, his daylight hours produced a pageant of populism. With the TV cameras zooming for close-ups, he shared medical worries in Sepulveda and rallied for higher minimum wages in Sunnyvale.

By night, our gay caballero carves a different message. At a Beverly Hills dinner that raised $1 million, Joe Lieberman told folks not to worry about those FTC probes of dirty advertising to kids. He and Gore were just going to "nudge" them a little.

At daybreak Tuesday, Gore was back to his populist line, railing at a community center against companies who market patients' medical records. He told of a young woman who bought a take-home pregnancy test only to confront, just days later, a sample case of baby formula plopped on her front porch for all the neighbors to see.

"That is why I'm running for president," Gore called for "tough penalties" on those e-merchants who exploit a person's most intimate health concerns. "That ought to be against the law." That evening, among the hi-tech barons of Atherton, Gore may have forgotten his daytime call to arms. Crediting his well-heeled audience with being "public-spirited" enough to forgo Bush's tax cuts for the rich, he said nothing about exploitive e-traders.

Bush faces a different day-and-night danger. Like Bill Clinton he now "triangulates" between Gore on the left and the Newt Gingrich-trained brigades of the right who still control Congress. "I do not believe government is the enemy, but I do not believe it is always the answer."

But who will be the young Bush's allies once in office? Those mainstream types who cast the decisive votes this November 7, or those hard ideologues who call the shots on Capitol Hill and on Supreme Court appointments?

Who will be Gore's true friends? Those who cheer his and Joe Lieberman's assault on Hollywood violence by day, or the paying guest at their Beverly Hills fund-raiser who made a profane joke of Christianity while Al and Joe sat without objection? "Like Bush, I too found Christ in my 40s. He came into my room one night. And I said, 'What, no call? You just pop in?'"

Back to that real question CBS's Roger Mudd put to Ted Kennedy question a generation ago. Why are you running for president? For your principles or your interests? For those you meet by night or champion by day? For the little people with health problems or the big boys with $25,000 in soft money? For the people of faith or the smug Hollywood insider who sees religion as stand-up material?

I would like to think that the true Zorro, the one who kissed Tipper that night in Los Angeles, would have slashed a Z across that guy's stomach.

Protesting just for the sake of protesting

This all occurred a month or two ago, so forgive me if I'm a little fuzzy as to the details.

But the story of Rudolph Giuliani and his involuntary inclusion in a leftist attack on the dairy industry is too good to pass over in silence. Moreover, it contains some wonderful insights into the mentality of America's wackier liberals.

We've all seen those ads showing celebrities with a whitish fluid fringing their upper lip, and the fetching little slogan, "Got milk?" They are run by the nation's milk producers and are intended to suggest that a lot of prominent people like their product. They also, quite understandably, imply that milk is good for you.

Well, not long ago, one scientific outfit published a study that suggested — far from definitively — that there may be a correlation between milk consumption and prostate cancer. It cannot be stressed too strongly that this is not proven, nor did the study say it was.

But to one little bunch of noisy leftists, the study suggested an irresistible riposte to the famous ad. Without obtaining Mayor Giuliani's permission, they promptly ran an ad showing the nation's most prominent prostate cancer victim with the telltale white fringe on his upper lip and the words, "Got prostate cancer?"

William Rusher

It apparently struck them as a telling blow against the dairy industry, which they were eager to cast as a villainous clone of Big Tobacco.

Well, it didn't take them long to learn from some friendly lawyers that they had set themselves up for a big fat invasion-of-privacy lawsuit by Mr. Giuliani, who was not amused. They promptly backtracked, apologizing publicly to the mayor and have kept a very low profile ever since.

But what lifts this episode out of the routine and gives it an almost mythic significance is the identity of the leftist group in question. It was PETA — People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals! What on earth was this organization, which is supposedly devoted to battling such evils as unnecessary animal vivisection and needlessly cruel slaughterhouse practices, doing barging into the wholly unrelated field of the alleged medical dangers of the chief product of the dairy industry?

America abounds in little platoons like PETA that are ostensibly dedicated to battling for this and that allegedly Good Cause — better treatment of animals, elimination of the fur coat and leather industries, protection of the spotted owl, saving ancient growths of redwoods, etc., etc. — each of which has as its target some established business that stands accused of doing harm.

What PETA's brief foray into the supposed carcinogenic effects of milk reveals in all its glory is that it doesn't really matter to these people what the target industry is: What they really want to do is simply stick their thumb in the eye of some big American business, never mind which. Their underlying impulse is a generalized hatred of American business — indeed, of the whole American economy — and any stick will do to beat that dog with.

This also became apparent during the riots that closed down the meeting of the World Trade Organization in Seattle a few months ago and that have been a prominent (if usually unsuccessful) accompaniment to almost every meeting of a major international economic organization (the World Bank, etc.) ever since. When questioned, the protesters turn out to have no common theme; their objections and agendas slosh all over the map. What they want to destroy is the success of the Western economic model that has given the world unparalleled prosperity. I am not a psychologist, but I would bet a modest sum on the proposition that what these hot-eyed rioters really hate is an externalized image of their own fathers.

It was the protests against the Vietnam War in the 1960s that pioneered this rent-a-mob mentality, and the current crop of all-purpose kvetchers longs for a similar success. They may live in a tree for a year, or hold candle-light vigils, or even some particularly loathsome murderer is executed, or try to block access to public buildings where serious meetings are being held, but under the skin their aims are identical: to disrupt and befoul what they have no chance of controlling.

From A to Z

Art Zielinski asks people what they think ...

People rarely question the annual salary of a doctor or airline pilot. However, the pay of the public servants is viewed by many people as a controversial issue. We asked several local citizens, "Should police officers and firefighters be among the highest paid city employees — or should their salaries be equal with employees in other departments?"

I think the Sheriff's Department should be paid more — they cover the most territory with less people. City officers should be paid the same as other employees, but should get a raise every year.
Kathy Steffen, Sanford

I believe they should be paid more because they have the most responsibilities. They also put their lives on the line.
D.J. Pearson, Sanford

I feel the overall compensation package should be higher. But it's not necessarily a salary issue.

Special to the Herald

Hamilton Elementary is a "Cluster Magnet School for Communications through Advanced Technology"; therefore, we emphasize the use of technology in teaching and in learning. Technology is very simply a tool, which allows us to explore and communicate; it is not an end unto itself. Hamilton strives to create an environment where students are motivated to communicate and are taught how to communicate through technology.

Every classroom at Hamilton is equipped with at least five computers, including a Gateway presentation system. While most of the computers are used for student projects, research and skill practice, the Gateway is used for teacher and student presentations. All computers are connected to the Internet and to the school network. In addition to computers, each classroom also has a state-of-the-art digital camera and camcorder. Students are taught how to operate this equipment, as well as how to create meaningful documents and presentations. While much of this instruction and practice occurs in the "homeroom" or regular classroom, students also learn technology skills through their technology class during Specials. (During Specials, students rotate on a weekly schedule through environmental science, life skills, music, physical education, and technology/media.)

Sometimes during the technology Specials class the students are working on the 25 computers (fully linked to the school network and to the Internet). Mrs. Robin Jonas, the technology Specials teacher, teaches the students the parts of the computer, computer and Internet etiquette, how to conduct research, and how to use various software programs (for example, Kid Pix, PowerPoint, and Publisher). Students write stories and reports with illustrations created with paint programs, imported from Internet sites, and/or inserted from their own digital camera shots.

At other times, during Specials and even during the homeroom class, the students are in the Techno-Plaza, an "investigation station" for hands-on learning about everything from weather to machines. (A weather station is perched on top of Hamilton's rooftop and records wind direction and force, temperature, rainfall, etc.) Students make and test hypotheses using the Scientific Method. Recently, fifth graders created simple machines.

Another way Hamilton uses technology in instruction is with its CCC (Computer Curriculum Corporation) instruction. All classes, first through fifth, have scheduled times in the CCC lab, and there are CCC computers in every third, fourth and fifth grade classroom. Through CCC, students are able to work at their own levels and improve specific academic skills. The goal is for every student to demonstrate one year's growth in either math or reading, but many students gain as much as two years' growth. Mr. Buck Whigham, former fourth grade teacher, is the CCC lab teacher. His day is extremely busy with classes rotating in and out of his lab every 25 minutes. He works one on one with students to help them understand the concepts being taught and reviewed on the CCC program. He also works to develop motivational incentives for each student to encourage 100% effort. The reports that track a student's progress are among the critical aspects of the CCC program. Mr. Whigham generates at least one report for every class each week. By using these reports, teachers can determine which students need extra help on specific skills. Then through the use of review sheets (generated by the CCC program), individualized instruction, and extra practice, the students can progress at their optimal rates.

Four or five laptops with the CCC software installed are available to our Hamilton families. We will continue this year to encourage our families to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity provided by Seminole County's Title One Program.

Another area of technology dear to our students' hearts is the WHAM television studio. With state-of-the-art equipment, Hamilton produces a live news show everyday except Wednesdays. Students serve as directors, camera operators, lighting and sound specialists, meteorologists, and anchors. These are highly sought-after positions, and students apply for and then rotate through the jobs. Students also write daily scripts for the news anchors and meteorologists. According to fifth grader, Mitchell Ruth, "I love learning about technology. I hope to grow up and work on a television show on the audio mixer." Mitchell's mother, Mrs. Patti Ruth, adds, "He loves coming to school. I used to bug him about getting involved in television production at his old school, but here he really enjoys working behind the scenes. He is doing what his sister is doing in middle school."

Technology is a lot of fun and hard work for our students and teachers. We are fortunate to have Pam Mazzotta, Technology Specialist, to coordinate all of our efforts. Mrs. Mazzotta explains the impact of technology at Hamilton, "All of the communications that are published at the school by students, teachers, and staff members are electronically created. Hamilton Elementary is a leader in Seminole County in the technology level and proficiency in this area. Our students will truly leave Hamilton with a solid foundation for the 21st century skills that are needed for a successful future."

For more information about Hamilton Elementary School, please feel free to call our main phone number, 407-320-6067, or contact Beth Jensen, Communications Specialist, at 407-320-6067.

The Law of diminishing returns

By the time you get to be my age, you've seen it, done it, lost it, found it, wrecked it, fixed it, kissed it, missed it, stopped it and dropped it. And right about now you're thinking, "Is that all there is?"

The smart answer is "yes" — because for you to try to make things better now, you'll be risking a head-on collision with the Law of Diminishing Returns. This Law states that in order for you to get something better the second or third time around, you've got to do way more work than you did the first time.

So don't rock the boat. Maybe you've got a 40-year mortgage and a 30-year marriage and you're barely making the obligations on each. Maybe your car is the same age as your adult son, but at least it works. Maybe you'll never be president; but the one on the bright side, you'll never be president.

Don't mess with the Law of Diminishing Returns. The debtors' prisons, divorce courts and cardiac care units are full of guys like you and me. Except they fought the law and the law won.

THIS IS WAR
You've done something really stupid. It's so quiet at home that you can hear your stuff being tossed out onto the cedar hedge. The trouble is you don't know what you did. The information you desperately seek is being doled out on a need-to-know basis in some kind of silent code that you don't understand.

"Wrong? Why do you think anything is wrong?" Or, "If you don't know, I'm not going to tell you."

You can't just ask. That would be suicide. You're already supposed to know. What are you going to do?

Soldiers have always had this problem interpreting confusing orders from their commanding officers. You're a guerrilla in a border skirmish that's been going on since you got married, so do what a soldier does best: Wait. Stand loosely at attention and pray the big artillery doesn't reach the front. Show no fear. Maintain a non-aggressive stance.

Do not, under any circumstances, question the commander. You will be issued new orders soon. Until then, be prepared to retreat and surrender simultaneously.

Don't even think about an attack. Your rear flank is way too exposed.

FIVE PHRASES YOU SHOULD NEVER SAY TO A HUSBAND

- You'll never get those pants done up.
- That's too heavy for you to lift.
- Your brother is very handsome.
- Don't try to fix it yourself.
- Where's your hair?

TEEN AT THE WHEEL

It's always a good rule for a man my age to sit back and keep his mouth shut for as long as possible. And there are certain times when speaking your mind is even more dangerous than usual: at the church picnic when you suddenly remember the joke that truck driver told you; anytime your wife is acting friendly; or when you're sitting in the passenger seat the first time your teen-ager drives the car. Yes, you'll want to scream, you'll want to grab the steering wheel, you may even rip out your arm rest. But this is one of these times when you have to take the long view.

Cast your mind ahead a few months to when he has his license and your heart rate has returned to normal. Suddenly your life is going to get better. Not only are you released from chauffeur duty every time he wants a new tattoo, but he'll even take over the errands you hate.

So on that first drive, the trick is not to let him see you cringe every time he knocks down a stop sign. And when he clips a side mirror off a parked vehicle, you praise him for missing the rest of the cop car.

Keep calm now, and pretty soon you'll be able to dangle those car keys in front of your teen-ager, and suddenly have the trump card you've so desperately needed.
