CONFERENCE FAILED TO LIMIT NAVIES NATIONS DISAGREE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(By The Associated Press)—Efforts to limit the naval strength of the powers in submarines and auxiliary warships came to an abrupt end yesterday afternoon after they had drawn the French and British arms conference delegates into a plain spoken exchange over the possibilities of a future war between France and the British Empire.

The French, acting under renewed instructions from their government, told the conference naval committee with an air of finality that France must remain free to build a submarine flotilla nearly three times as great as that she now possesses and to construct, in addition, cruisers, destroyers and other auxiliary craft up to a tonnage of 330,000.

To the proposal the Americans, Japanese and Italians replied with expressions of surprise and regret, while the British charged openly that such a building program must be regarded as a menace to British shores. Arthur J. Balfour added that he had no doubt, if occasion arose, Great Britain would be equal to it, complete freedom of action as to the construction of all types of auxiliary which might be useful against underwater warfare.

EXPRESS CO. ROBBED AGAIN IN TAMPA CITY

CASHIER SMITH ALLEGED VICTIM OF STICK UP MEN

(By The Associated Press) TAMPA, Dec. 29.—Sheriff Spencer and W. J. Eve, local agent American Express Company, today refused to make a statement regarding an alleged robbery company messenger here yesterday of $5,000 other than to say he would be held for an investigation.

The following from the Tampa Tribune, is about the robbery:

Samuel Leslie Smith, 25 years old, cashier for the American Railway Express Co., left the company's office at Union Station a little after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon to make a deposit of $5,000 of the company's money in the First National Bank. At 8:45 o'clock last night he appeared at the office of Sheriff W. C. Spencer, in the county court house, disheveled in appearance and nervous in manner, and reported that while riding in a Ford car from the express office to the bank he had been held up on Zack street near the Catholic convent by two unmasked men, both tall and slim, and with revolvers held on him, was driven in a northerly direction, blindfolded, robbed of the money intended for deposit, and tied to a tree in the woods near Macfarlane Park, West Tampa, about two miles from where he claims to have been held up.

An odd part of Smith's rather incoherent story was that while there were only two men concerned in the holdup he could give no clear description of either man except that they "were tall and slim and clean-shaven."

This, despite his statement that one of them clambered into his car and forced him to drive it, holding a revolver against his body, while the other man, in the bandits' car, led the way, the procession being along Twiggs street to Morgan, thence past the DeSoto hotel and on up into Tampa Heights, but where they turned westward and what bridge they used to cross the river, Smith didn't seem to know last night. And as he was very nervous and hysterical neither the sheriff nor Agent Eve tried to force him to recite a complete story.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS EDUCATIONAL ASS'N AT ORLANDO YESTERDAY

FIRST GUN FIRED, DEMOCRAT CAMPAIGN BY JUDGE HULL

NASHVILLE, Dec. 29.—Declaring that "the time has come when patriotic citizens and Democrats should indulge in plain talking," Judge Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in his first public address since election to that position, last night reviewed the Republican administration of national affairs since March, 1921, and contrasted this with the unparalleled achievement of the Democrats in the previous eight years.

The address was delivered at a dinner given by the State Democratic Executive Committee in honor of Mr. Hull and attended by party leaders from every part of the state. It was accepted generally as the opening of the congressional pre-election campaign by the new chairman who went into public questions which he said now faced the government, and explained the attitude which his party would take on them.

Further relief for farmers, adequate aid for veterans, reduction of taxes to compensate for the "panic conditions" now obtaining and a remedy for the situation resulting from the flood of tax exempt securities, were among the issues outlined by the new chairman for the Democratic party.

WAS FINE MEETING

AND MANY ARE IN ATTENDANCE FROM EVERY PART OF FLORIDA

ORLANDO, Dec. 29.—The second day of the 1921 convention of the Florida Educational Association proved an exceptionally active one and a day all too short for the great number of conferences and meetings of vital interest crowded into the seemingly few hours of the day. Yesterday there continued a steady inpour of teachers into the city from Florida and other states and it is estimated that there are about eight hundred visitors to the convention in Orlando at the present time. Registration continued throughout the day and about six hundred or more had registered up to a late hour last evening.

The principal business session of the convention took place yesterday afternoon at the Baptist church when the annual election of officers and other matters of importance were taken up. C. R. M. Sheppard, of DeLand, was elected to head the state association as president for the coming year, succeeding Prof. W. S. Cawthon. Mr. Sheppard is superintendent of the schools of Volusia county and has been an active and prominent member of the association for many years. Miss Kate Colyer, of Miami, principal of the primary grades of the schools of the Magic City, was elected vice-president. R. L. Turner, of Inverness, state rural school inspector, who is one of the pioneer members of the state association and perhaps the busiest man of the convention in Orlando, was re-elected secretary, this being his fourteenth consecutive year as secretary. T. W. Lawton, of Sanford, superintendent of the Seminole county schools, became treasurer.

The following were elected members of the executive committee for a term of three years: Dr. Joseph Roemer of the Florida University at Gainesville, committee member of state-at-large; Miss Nellie Stevens, of Ocala, of second district, and E. S. Hatfield, of Tallahassee, of the third district.

The following committee on resolutions was appointed: E. B. Rutherford, chairman, of Jacksonville; Miss Kate Colyer, of Miami; E. W. McMullen, Clearwater; Miss Sarah Barnes, Palatka; D. B. Shaver, Kissimmee; P. S. Hartsfield, Plant City.

During the business session of the afternoon P. W. Carr, principal of Cocon schools and editor of the "Florida School Journal," spoke upon the importance of maintaining a state educational paper. "The Florida School Journal" was strongly endorsed by Hon. W. N. Sheats and teachers responded generously with subscriptions. The secretary also presented a certificate of membership of the Florida Educational Association in the National Educational Association, which has just been received by him.

The last business of the meeting was the decision of a meeting place in 1922. Several cities made a strong plea for the convention and it was finally settled upon St. Petersburg.

There were a large number of sectional conferences in the high school building during the morning and afternoon which were all of great importance and of genuine interest and benefit to the teachers.

This morning at 8 o'clock there was a rural school breakfast at the club rooms of the Orlando Business and Professional Women's Club, corner of East Pine and Main streets.

The sectional conferences today will be conducted as follows, in the high school building: Section on "Physical Education," Miss Mary W. Groon, chairman, at 2:30 p. m., in room 8; "Attendance Officers" section, Miss Amelia Kendall, chairman, room 5, at 2:30 p. m.; "Home Economics" section Miss Lucy Cushman, chairman, room 2, 2:30 p. m.; "Foreign Language" section, F. W. Buchholz, chairman, room 4, 2:30 p. m.; "History and Social Science," J. Claudius Peel, chairman, room 5, 2:30 p. m.; "County Superintendents" section, C. R. M. Sheppard, chairman, room 6, 2:30 p. m.

DANCE FOR VISITOR

One of the first and prettiest dances of the holiday season to be given in the re-modeled Parish House was that of Mr. and Mrs. Deane Turner in honor of their young guest, Miss Satterfield, of Richmond, Va., Christmas evening, December 26th.

The Parish House never lent itself more beautifully to artistic decoration, and was a veritable Christmas bower, long streamers of red and green formed an overhead covering for the dance floor, while the walls, were completely hidden with pine and cedar trees, garlands and wreaths. An electric lighted Christmas tree completing the holiday scheme. The stage was also artistically decorated in green and soft shaded electric lamps. The strains of dance music proceeded from the popular Sanford trio, Messrs. James Robson, Peter Schaal and Al Witherington.

Mrs. Ernest Krupp, attractive in black lace, and Miss Martha Fox, in a dainty turquoise blue silk frock, met the guests at the outer door, while Mrs. A. P. Connelly in a becoming gown of brown panne velvet, and Mrs.

E. D. Mobley, in a lovely pink taffeta received at the ball room entrance.

Mrs. R. A. Newman in a charming and distinctive frock of terra cotta lace, introduced the guests to the receiving line, which included Mr. and Mrs. Deane Turner, Miss Satterfield and Mr. Leslie Hill. Mrs. Turner was handsomely gowned in pale pink taffeta with silver lace, while the honoree, Miss Satterfield, with a silver banded coiffure, was charming in rose pink taffeta.

The guests included all of the younger set, who enjoyed dancing and were served by Mrs. B. F. Whitner, who presided at the punch bowl, till late in the evening, when delicious refreshments of coffee, pistachio ice cream and pistachio lead cake, bearing the initial of the honoree with her color, pink, were served, Mrs. G. I. Loucks and Mrs. A. H. Stone assisting.

At midnight the party broke up, having had a most enjoyable, gay and festive evening.

Politics will warm up after the first of January and there will be something doing for five months or more.

Orlando Sentinel has a straw ballot to test the feeling for and against municipal ownership in Orlando.

The submarine topic seems to be a live one at Washington just now and with the liquor question will occupy the attention of the naval board for some time.

It is rumored that Hon. James Alexander, of Volusia county, will go after the judgeship for the Seventh Judicial Circuit. As to whether Judge Perkins will let him have it or not is another story.

Alabama citizens are erecting a monument to the boll weevil. We may be able to erect one to the boll weevil or to the warm weather or to the rust mite or some other calamity some time but as yet we have not wasted any money on monuments to insects.

Masked men are prying into marital affairs in Alabama and took out a prominent lawyer in Birmingham last night and beat him up, told him to remarry his divorced wife or take the consequence. Such procedures would start something in several localities we might name.

Some people are out after business all the time and they go after it in many different ways. Others are content to sit down and wait for it to come in at the door. This waiting policy was all right a few years ago but Sanford is growing and demanding more than the waiting policy. The business will soon go to the man who goes after it.

And the straw ballot will find the people of Orlando in favor of owning their own utilities—some may fight it with the idea of getting a big price for the home plant—and some because they think it will raise taxes, you can pick them out and see why they fight against the wishes of the people—but Orlando will own her own utilities.

The new year will soon be upon us and many changes are to be made in several directions in this city. It is hoped that the vision of those men who are to take the reins will be big enough and broad enough to make Sanford the great city it should have become years ago and that the many improvements that are to be made will be made this summer. Sanford needs many improvements to supplement the gifts of nature already provided and Sanford will improve only in the same ratio as the people of Sanford go ahead and do business.

The scheme of Chuluota to have an auto camp is a good one. Auto camps should be placed in spots like this, far from the maddening crowds and far from the larger towns and cities, where the campers can be free and easy and where they will not encroach upon any one. If we wanted to camp out it would not be on some city's rubbish heap. It would be as far from civilization as we could get it.

For first class job work—the Herald!

One of the largest firms in a neighboring state has a representative here this week looking toward the establishment of a large wholesale and retail dry goods store, gents' furnishings, etc. There are also two hotel firms anxious to buy or lease several hotels here. A Federal Bakery will be started in the next few weeks and several other stores will open as soon as they can buy or build or rent store rooms. It means that the city of Sanford is attracting many merchants who expect to open in business either now or next fall.

The Sanford Chief of Police says that whoever answered that phone call from Tampa at this end of the line did not represent the Sanford police force and no member of the Sanford force answered the Tampa inquiry about a stolen car in any such manner as described in the Tribune. We are glad to know it. Any inquiries of the police about anything, any time and any place should receive courteous attention and treatment.

TWENTY MILLIONS AVAILABLE FOR STARVING RUSSIANS

"Just yesterday a hero, broke and jobless today, Sergeant Carl Neef, who made a sensational but unsuccessful attempt to capture Grover Bergdoll, draft evader, in Germany, has been taken in charge by the American Legion of New York. His only assets upon returning from Germany consisted of a police dog."

The above item is clipped from an exchange. It is only a sample of one case out of millions. We might say that only yesterday, the doughboys, fitted out in their new uniforms of khaki, the sailors fitted out in blue, were heroes, cheered on to victory by the masses, today many of them out of employment, some suffering from wounds received during the World War, others suffering from tuberculosis, are practically forgotten by those in a position to do something for them—the present administration.

The United States government, through its president, appealing to congress to ostentatious action on the soldier bonus bill, robbed these men of relief, it robbed them of their just due; because, as President Harding states, the treasury could not stand the drain made upon it. Yet in the course of a few short weeks, both the Senate and the House passed a bill appropriating TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS for the starving children of Russia. The Senate added two amendments to the House bill however, perhaps to ease the conscience of its members (if they have any), one appropriating $100,000 for hospitalization purposes for the relief of soldiers suffering from tuberculosis in Arizona and the other an appropriation for $500,000 to be used for the solution of the unemployment question.

The cry of a starving child should be answered, it should be fed; we are not criticising congress for the stand it took in providing for the Russians, but surely if TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS are available for the RUSSIANS cannot some appropriation be made to take care of the boys, both in khaki and blue, who fought in the World War?

It would appear from the action of congress that the United States treasury is still bulging with Golden Eagles, so much so that Congress is having a hard time finding places to put them. If only that body would wake up to a realization of conditions in their own country they might be persuaded to allow the boys that did their bit, at least a portion of their shiner.—Lakeland Star.

HOW IT CAN BE DONE.

Under the caption, "Boys, It Can't Be Done," in another column on this page is an editorial from the Miami Herald showing why the capital removal fight will fail. It is a solid argument the Herald uses, and there is no getting back of the soundness of its reasoning; but at the very last paragraph of the editorial it points out how it can be done—"Agitate for state division."

A well balanced campaign for state division would surely put the fear of God and South Florida in the heart which now control the legislative roll call of this state.

The Tribune was the first paper to show the force of the proposed reapportionment amendment passed by the last legislature. This paper showed that even with the one representative each which all the new counties of the state would have to be given, northern Florida arranged the list so that it would continue to have a majority in both house and senate even should the amendment be adopted by the people.

The Miami Herald expresses little doubt of the people adopting it. We are not so sure they will. When they come to understand that by its adoption they will be riveting on the necks, even more firmly than now, the chain of subservience to northern Florida, we think they will revolt at the idea and get out the club of their will and beat it to death.

The Herald is right in declaring that under the present apportionment it is impossible to get through an amendment allowing a vote on capital removal; it is equally right in averring that even with the apportionment proposed the effort to pass such an amendment would prove futile. Therefore there is but one thing to do, and that is to hit where it will hurt worst, and that is in their

of that bunch of northern counties pocketbook.

If this state should be divided, the richest state in the South would be the state of South Florida, while the poorest in permanent improvements, such as roads, bridges, drainage, and public buildings would be the state of North Florida. North Florida would have to dig down deep into its pocket for everything save a state capitol building, and would have to dig for at least half of that to refund to South Florida which has paid for the most of all that section's permanent public state improvements.

When the northern Florida political grabsters see they are going to lose all the pap they are able to draw without trouble or expense from the rest of the state, they are going to grant a fair division of representation, and a fair vote on state wide matters, even to giving the public opportunity to say whether it wants the state capital removed.—Tampa Tribune.

ENTERPRISE ETCHINGS

The people of this community are indeed delighted to know that Capt. C. E. Atkinson has arrived in Sanford and will operate his boat, "The Sanford," between Enterprise and Sanford after January first. The boat will also be operated for hunting and fishing parties. Capt. Atkinson's son and family accompanied him to Sanford and his son will assist him in the work. On last Saturday evening Capt. Atkinson invited the people of Enterprise to be his guests on a trip to Sanford and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all who went.

A Christmas song service was held at the Methodist Orphanage on Sunday evening. The Christmas carols were sung, then Dr. Palmer made the principal talk of the evening. Miss Emma Tucker closed the service with a few words on Christmas giving.

Mrs. Williamia of Osteen was the guest of friends here one night last week.

COMMISSION MANAGER FORM.

CLEARWATER, Dec. 20.—Clearwater, at a special election January 31, will select a charter board with a view of placing this city under a commission-manager form of government, the city council having instructed the city attorney to prepare an ordinance to that effect and submit it to the council for action.

MITCHELL WANTS JOB.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 29.—N. A. Mitchell, stormy petrel of local politics and who after his recall as mayor several weeks ago was defeated in an election recently in which he sought to succeed himself, has made formal application for appointment as secretary of the local chamber of commerce to succeed Bradford Lawrence, resigned. The board of governors of the organization has as yet taken no action.

ALSO "PLAYING THE GAME"

Children Spotted While Their Grave and Reverend Elders Dwait on the Destiny of Nations.

Mark Sullivan writes in the World's Work:

As to at least one who observed President Harding read his message to congress from the press gallery, his most vivid recollection will be of the little son of a Republican member in the fifth row, who, across the backs of four seats, improvised an acquaintance; and then, having exchanged greetings of amity and commerce through mysterious signals imperceptible to older eyes, slipped away from the guardianship of their respective parents, and by the aid of a cautious and ingratiating diplomacy, maneuvered their way past a dozen elders preoccupied with exalted matters of state, to the ends of the rows of seats. There, in the protective obscurity provided by the cavern-like depths of the aisle, they produced a roundish gilded button not so small but what unsatiated imaginations could piece it out into a marble whose defects of rotundity were fortuitously and admirably corrected by the slight decline in the floor of the aisle. With this equipment they extemporized a delectable game, which they played for an hour under great handicaps and at continuous and imminent risk of awful catastrophe, in happy unconcern of the sonorous words about the destiny of nations that rolled above their little heads.

"DAWDLERS" NOT LONG LIVED

Prominent British Manufacturer Points Out That "Active Man of Business Reaches Old Age."

Lord Leverhulme, one of Great Britain's largest manufacturers, asserts that more people shorten their lives by dawdling in England than by hustling. It is a living proof that hustling promotes hale old age. He has always led the strenuous life, and at 70 is still going strong.

He presided at the annual meeting of the British Industrial Safety First association the other day. In his address he drew largely upon his American experience. Steps had been taken there, he said, to ascertain whether it was the hustling, bustling business man who was supposed to shorten his days, or the man who crawled and dawdled through life.

He declared there were men in the United States today of 80, 90 and between 90 and 100 years of age who were still in good health and actively engaged in business, whereas his own had retired early from business and had shortened their lives thereby.

He thought the crowd of dawdlers was largely instrumental in shortening the lives of individuals in Great Britain—that the more a man worked, whether professionally or in other vocations, the more he would conserve his life and strength and the life and commerce of the country.

Embarrassing, Indeed!
Economizing might be all right, but first know your location! I went into a two-priced millinery store and after trying on several hats and not curling particularly for any, realized that it was next to impossible to get away without a purchase. Finally I said I had no money, but selected a hat for them to put away for me, and promised I would surely return for it the next evening. I breathed relief when I made my exit, and passing a store a few doors away, entered upon seeing a hat much to my taste, and after trying it on decided I really would buy it. As I was about to take the money from my purse, to my surprise the manager of the first store (the owner both, I later learned), entered, and seeing me, cynically smiled and said: "Don't waste your time on this customer—she's only sight-seeing and has no intention of buying." My embarrassment, together with anger, was the limit, and I arose in a rage and left the store.—Chicago American.

Lost "Victory" Recovered.
Dust-covered and forgotten, two big packing cases have been reposing in the yard of federal parliament house. They had been received twelve months ago from London, and had been "dumped" with other stores in an out-of-the-way place. Recently one of the cases was opened and was found to contain a female figure in bronze with a helmet on her head. This was intended to represent Victory and was designed to commemorate the heroism of Australian soldiers. The statue was a gift of the commonwealth by Bertram Mackennal, the Australian sculptor. The smaller case contained the base of the statue. The unfortunate oversight has been rectified and Australia's thanks have been sent to Mr. Mackennal.

Engineering Triumph.
A daring engineering feat was performed in Pittsburgh recently when a nine-story modern building, filled with hardware, was moved a distance of 75 feet by 12 laborers. Ninety-pound rails, 120 of them, made the tracks on which the structure was moved. The sidewalks and basement of the building, including a big engine and boiler that continued to function, went along with the building. Customers passed to and from the building as though nothing was happening.

Completely Educated.
"Mrs. Brooks says she has no longer any fault to find with her husband." "Meaning, I suppose, that she's long ago found all the faults he has."—American Legion Weekly.

ANNUAL BALL.

An event of much importance and brilliancy and which is looked forward to each year with much interest is the annual ball given by the social department of the Woman's Club, which was given Tuesday evening at the Valdez Hotel.

The ball room was most artistically decorated with Southern smilax and poinsettias and pedestal baskets of red roses. The palm room was transformed into a veritable bower of roses, and it was here that the punch tables were placed.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Deas, Dr and Mrs. W. Theodore Langley, Mr. and Mrs. John Leonardi and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly.

The punch table was gracefully presided over by Mesdames R. C. Bower, G. I. Loucks, J. W. Wallace and Henry Wight.

Ball's orchestra furnished splendid music, and the grand march was led by Dr. and Mrs. Langley, after which the programs were distributed by Mr. and Mrs. Archie Betts.

Late in the evening refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served by Mesdames Deas, S. E. Barrett, R. C. Bower, W. T. Langley and John Leonardi.

Mrs. Deas was a graceful figure in a smart frock of black satin combined with silk lace.

Mrs. Langley wore an exquisite imported gown of black sequins and lace over satin and tulle, with an American Beauty rose as corsage.

Mrs. Leonardi was lovely in black satin and net and Mrs. Holly wore a most becoming costume of rose taffeta and silver made pannier effect.

Cream satin and real lace fashioned Mrs. Wallace's exquisite costume, Mrs. Wight's frock of orchid was most becoming, while Mrs. W. T. Morgan, chairman of the floor committee, was charmingly attired in gold lace over gold colored taffeta.

Mrs. S. E. Barrett's blond beauty was enhanced by her frock of orchid taffeta. Mrs. R. C. Bower wore a chic costume of black satin combined with chenille.

Mrs. Loucks was charming in black charmeuse and lace, and Mrs. Betts wore a smart and distinctive frock of American Beauty satin and tulle.

KIWANIS CLUB MEETS

The Kiwanis Club of Sanford, held their usual weekly luncheon at the Valdez today. The election of officers for the ensuing year filled the program and Kiwanian Scuggan delivered a very forceful talk on Kiwanis. Doc Denn finally got there with his new attire. Songs were interspersed and a good time enjoyed.

THE WEATHER

For Florida: Generally fair Thursday, Friday; warmer in northeast Thursday; somewhat colder in north Friday.

Bryant Bowden was in the city today enroute to his home at Okeechobee City after spending the holidays with his parents at Inverness. His father is one of the prominent newspaper men of the state and is sheriff of Citrus county at the present time but still edits the newspaper at Inverness and has his finger on the public pulse. Bryant is the former editor and owner of the Okeechobee News but his duties as agent for the Florida at Okeechobee were paramount and he deserted the newspaper game for the more lucrative one of helping Henry Ford become rich.

George Keller, traveling representative of the Mergenthaler Linotype Co., with headquarters in Orlando, was in the city today calling on the local printing trade. George is one of the best in the business and has friends all over Florida who never think of buying anything in the Linotype line without calling George to their office.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Scholey were in the city yesterday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly for a few hours visit. Mr. Scholey for 23 years was owner and editor of the Gullford Connecticut newspaper. About 12 years ago while on the Clyde line boat coming to Sanford Mr. Scholey was attracted by a special edition of the Sanford Herald and became acquainted with the editor of the Herald and since that time he fell in love with this part of the state and having retired from the newspaper game has built a winter home at Orlando.

County Judge J. E. Lovorn, accompanied by Miss Hazel Bennett, were in the city today enroute to Okeechobee City after attending the State Educational Association meeting at Orlando. Judge Lovorn is one of the prominent citizens of Okeechobee and Miss Bennett formerly taught school at that point but is now teaching at Cocca. She will visit friends at Okeechobee City before returning to her duties at Cocca.

A. Raffeld has an advertisement in this issue calling attention to the fact that he has been appointed the local agent for the "Foot Fitters" Shoe. The "Foot Fitters" sell for $7.50 a pair and are standard the world over. When you get a pair you know what you are getting and the specifications go with each pair of shoes.
