ALTAMONTE SPRINGS

To the Editor of The Herald:
The city of Sanford, the Celery City so called, can justly feel proud of the reputation it has gained throughout the United States as the vegetable garden spot of the good old banner county of Orange and of Florida, and should feel quite as proud of The Sanford Herald's booming editor, R. J. Holly, as it is through his efforts more than any other one man that the advantages of Sanford as a vegetable growing section is being made known to the agricultural world. But the readers of The Herald should bear in mind that no one section of Orange possesses all of the most desirable advantages. While the flat lands along the shores of beautiful Lake Monroe are ideal for the purpose advertised for, it is not and cannot be as desirable for the family home, but such locations are near at hand and of easy and quick access, for instance Altamonte Springs on the line of the A. C. L. railway and the smooth, hard surfaced Sanford and Orlando road. This favorite home location can be reached by auto in about thirty minutes and is one of the most popular drives in the county. Here is found high, rolling pine land, also pure spring water, and can be called one of the most healthy locations in the state without fear of contradiction. Here is located the famous tourist hotel "The Altamonte" and many beautiful villas and winter homes, beautiful orange groves under highest state of cultivation and well tilled farms. The Oak Knoll fruit and stock farm was much admired by tourists who spent the season at the hotel. The proprietor is a breeder of the famous Duroc Red Jersey pigs, the most profitable breed to raise and the prize winners of Florida. Some of the most desirable building lots partially improved can be had at a very reasonable price, but the number is limited—first come first served.
It is not too much to expect that in the very near future Altamonte Springs will be the home of Sanford's celery kings and their families, as the auto rides back and forth over the well kept hard roads in this delightful climate will make life worth living and make men forget that they are growing old. —N. H. Fogg.

PAOLA POINTS

Special Correspondence to The Herald:
A strolling band of Gipsy folk made us a passing visit the other day. About as many Gipsies as there were bear and music—"four of a kind!"—if not "to beat the band."

Miss Mabel Schmelz is again at her home at Sylvan Lake, after spending the past two years in New York city.

George Hicks, who has been making his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hicks, a visit of some weeks, returned to his present home in Birmingham, Ala., Friday of last week.

Oscar Pearson returned from the East Coast on Saturday, where he has been at work the last few months. If we didn't know it before, we would now be sure, the baseball season was on.

Speaking of baseball, why is not the suggestion of the Gainesville Elevator a good one? Why wouldn't "Holly Park" be a graceful recognition of Editor Holly's wholehearted work for his town at the present, and keep his memory green in the years to come?

Our Sylvan Lake neighbors are now served with R. F. D. No. 2, from Sanford, beginning the first of this month, and find it a great convenience.

Wanted—A few inhabitants for the summer season.

GENEVA GLEANINGS.

Special Correspondence to The Herald:
On last Wednesday, J. N. Worthy entertained a good many of the Geneva citizens in rather a unique fashion by having a house moving. Over a barbecue pit near by was a fine porker which was hourly nearing an appetizing brown. After working faithfully for several hours the men were invited to join the ladies in a sumptuous dinner of barbecue and all things good to eat, served under the shade of the trees.

Percival Smith and son, Robert, left on Monday last for Kissimmee, where they will reside in future.

Mrs. Davis has gone to New York on a visit of some months to her parents.
Mrs. Fultz spent the week-end in Sanford, guest of Mrs. Stephens.

Mr. Chase was in Geneva on Friday on business, coming out from Sanford in his auto.

Mrs. Daniel from Georgia is visiting her son, J. W. Daniel.

Oscar Nicholson came over from Daytona to join his wife, who is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Harris of Sanford is in Geneva, helping to nurse her sister, Miss Pravatt, who is very ill of fever.

Mrs. Moore and sister, Mrs. Oakley, leave this week for their summer home in New York.

The Ladies Society was entertained at the Lewis house by Mrs. Fultz and Mrs. Robinson. There was very little business to attend to, so a genuine, good social meeting was held. There will be no meeting this week on account of the protracted services at the Methodist church.

We are sorry to know that A. J. Worthy and wife will make Orlando their home in the future. They were accompanied by their mother and sister, Mrs. J. A. Worthy and Mrs. Gearwood who will spend a few days with them.

ENTERPRISE ETCHINGS

Special Correspondence to The Herald:
Last Tuesday afternoon Mr. C. F. Stead gave a launch party in honor of his aunt, Mrs. Harriet Powers of Minneapolis, Minn. The outing was enjoyed very much by the ladies who went. Mrs. Powers left Friday for her home in Minnesota.

Mrs. Charlotte Scriven and two daughters, Misses Eleanor and Adeline of Miami, came last Wednesday to spend the summer with her fathers, Mr. George Sauls.

Mrs. Porter and son, Mr. Porter, of Sanford were in town last week looking at real estate. They will come back when the M. E. South Conference meets here in June.

Miss Alice Ryland of Orange City is spending a few days in town the guest of Miss Ethel Quackenbos.

Perry Sialer left Saturday for his home in Lakeland to be gone all summer.

Miss Mabel Thayer returned home Sunday after having spent a week with her sister, Mrs. John Thursby at Blue Springs.

Mr. J. H. Brice of Geneva furnished a room at the orphanage. Mr. Brice takes a great interest in the children and gives them so many little pleasures.

The school picnic was given yesterday in the park across from the Epworth Inn. A heavy rain storm which came up right after dinner caused them to hurry to their homes.

Misses Annie and Nell Pattillo were in today to attend the school picnic.

Miss Nell Pattillo closed school last Friday after a most successful term. We hope to have an assistant teacher to assist Miss Pattillo in her duties next year.

Mr. Alvin Brooke of Osteen was in town last week.

Mrs. C. R. M. Sheppard and little son Earvin returned to her home in Daytona after having spent the past week with her father, Mr. H. F. Quackenbos.

The Geo. H. Fernald Co. are at work driving wells in Mr. A. DeBary's grove for the purpose of irrigating it.

The tomato growers are making good shipments of tomatoes by the Clyde line every trip.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sauls spent yesterday in DeLand.

Dr. S. Puleston of Sanford made two professional calls in town last week.

Mr. J. H. Brice of Geneva was a guest at the orphanage yesterday.

Mr. Wingfield goes to Jacksonville today to meet his family who come from Kentucky. They will make their future home in Enterprise.

There will be a union picnic by the people of Orange City at the Green Springs today.

Suicide in Orlando

Philip Moore, a well-to-do farmer, residing about two miles northeast of Orlando, committed suicide Sunday. No motive can be assigned to justify the rash act, for Mr. Moore was known to be in good circumstances and health, and had the reputation of being an exceptionally successful fruit grower.

Shortly after entering his room, his wife heard the report of a shotgun, and rushing to the room, found her husband lying in a pool of blood with practically his entire head blown from his body. His death was instantaneous.

Mr. Moore was 40 years old, and leaves a wife and one child. He was a member of the local lodge of Knights of Pythias, and was buried by that organization.

To Subscribers

An order of the Postoffice Department, Washington, D. C., effective Jan. 1, 1908, provides that no delinquent subscriber shall be carried longer than three months, giving as a reason that the department is furnishing a low rate of postage on newspapers, and does so for the benefit of a bona fide subscriber who pays for his paper.

DOINGS OF THE THIRD HOUSE

Hold A Very Interesting Session At Tallahassee

Current Resolution No. 1:
Be it Resolved, by the Third House, the President of the Senate concurring, that before the session is over, that this body do donate Senator Humphreys a new cap.

House Resolution No. 49:
Whereas, The ordinary variety of razor-back flea is thoroughly Americanized, and
Whereas, He is a cosmopolitan being, equally at home in the bristles of a yaller cat or the silken hosiery of an aristocrat, and
Whereas, It is seldom, indeed, that he has ever been caught in any mischief,
Therefore, be it Resolved, That the Third House of the Florida Legislature pass suitable laws to fully protect the flea in any territory on which he has rights by eminent domain or squatter sovereignty.

House Resolution No. 13:
Be it Resolved by the Third House: The L. I. Fund be known in future as the My My Fund for the benefit of the trustees and general counsel agent, etc., of same.

House Resolution No. 11:
Whereas, Many members of the House of Representatives spend much of their time in the committee rooms when they are not doing committee work, and therefore annoy the young lady clerks of the House to a great extent,
Therefore, be it Resolved, by the Third House of the Legislature of the State of Florida, that the Speaker of the Third House is hereby empowered to appoint a committee to investigate said members and report their findings of all such married members to their wives, and of all such unmarried men, to-wit: Bachelors and widowers, to Miss Clem Hampton.

Third House Resolution No. 686:
Whereas, Dame Fortune never knocks the second time on any one man's door, and opportunities for notoriety seldom present themselves; and
Whereas, The Hon. William Sherman Jennings has been forced to accept such insignificant fees for his services while representing both claimant and defendant at the same time, and
Whereas such actions have not been given the proper notoriety,
Therefore, be it Resolved by the Third House, That "Sherman's March Through the Treasury of Florida" be set to music, and that Richbourg of Walton be requested to play said march on his violin when trying to entice the mild-eyed and gentlemanly gopher from his hole.

Monday morning police court is still popular among the unbleached citizens of Sanford and they are up before His Honor, Mayor Lake, with unflinching regularity. Georgetown furnishes its quota of peace disturbers every Saturday night although few crimes other than misdemeanor are upon the court blotter.

Hicks' Story.

It was in 1847 that Hicks first made a county name as a witty raconteur. In that year Sir Samuel Spry, who had been member for Bodmin since the great reform bill, lost his seat and in a petulant mood took legal proceedings against Hicks on the ground that he had abused his official position to influence voters at the poll. In the course of the trial Hicks was called upon to state what he had to say in his defense. In the course of his statement he asked leave of the court to illustrate his position by a story. His request being assented to, he related how a few days previously he had been to see a lad whom he knew well who was laid up from a fall from a vicious donkey, which had kicked out all his front teeth. The lad, said Hicks, had taken the matter in the most kindly way and had said to him, "Tisn't the fall, Mr. Hicks, and 'tisn't the vally of the teeth what annoys me, but 'tis the nasty, ghastly, wishous disposition of the Jackass." "Sir Samuel Spry sprang up in the eye of the court in a fury and exclaimed, "He has called me a Jackass!" The court was convulsed with laughter, and Hicks was promptly and fully acquitted of the trumpery charge brought against him.—Cornhill Magazine.

Great Wars From Trifles.

Great wars, pregnant with bloodshed and all the horrors accruing thereto, have very often been the outcome of trifling incidents which might, had they been treated properly, have been smoothed over and the slaughter averted. More often was this the case in earlier times than it is now. Every one knows that William the Conqueror lost his life in France through his horse treading on a red-hot cinder while he was superintending the burning of Mantes, but few people know the fact which gave rise to the campaign that cost William his life. During the latter part of his reign, he became abnormally stout and consequently the laughingstock of not only his subjects, but his neighbors across the water. One day his contemporary, Phillip of France, commured him to a diet of veal on easter and suggested that he should be exhibited at a prize monarch show. This so enraged William that he straightway made war upon his ridiculer, and the loss of thousands of lives was the result.—London Tit-Bits.

Guesses Part of Talk.

There is a man who from a very early age has lived in countries where Spanish is the almost universal tongue. From force of this training he speaks Spanish perfectly. He has not the slightest trace of an English accent, and persons who do not know that he is of American parentage are willing to believe he is a Spaniard, merely from hearing him talk. He is so perfectly bilingual that it shows even in his gestures. When talking with English speaking persons he sits quietly and does his conversing with his mouth alone. Only in case of making a point most emphatically does he use a gesture. But the moment he drops into Spanish his every word is accompanied by a movement of the hands or arms. It is interesting to watch the change from the English to the Spanish side of him, because it comes so suddenly. He really can't speak Spanish without gesturing.—New York Sun.

Some Slang Words.

A remarkable fact is that many slang words have a classical origin. For example, the word "mill," a vulgarity for a fight, is traceable to the Greek word "hamilla," which means a combat.

"Uncle," the affectionate term for a pawnbroker, is derived from the Latin "uncus," a hook on which the article pledged was hung.

To go before "the beak" is a distinct reference to the old Roman custom of adorning the platform from which justice dispensed with the beaks of ships, which platform came to be called the rostrum, that being the Latin for a beak or prow.

Cruel.

The rich bachelor sighed and looked at the beautiful girl fixedly. "Things are at sixes and sevens with me. I feel the great need of a woman in my home, one who could straighten out my tangled affairs and make life worth living again." Her glance spoke an interest which approximately expectation. "Yes?" she queried softly. He blurted out, "Do you know of any good, able-bodied woman whom I could get to clean house?"—Argonaut.

Stung.

"That man has no conscience."
"Why do you think so?"
"He cheated me fearfully in a horse trade in which I supposed I was easily getting the better end of the bargain."
—Chicago Record-Herald.

He Was Perfectly Frank With Her. "I will never marry a man," said a haughty young woman, "whose fortune has not at least five ciphers in it."
"Take me," replied her admirer, a young lawyer. "Mine is all ciphers."
—Ladies' Home Journal.

Glory should follow, not be pursued. —Pliny.

The Wednesday Club

Thirty-four members and guests of the Wednesday Club attended the closing meeting of the year, held Wednesday afternoon, May 12th, at the home of Professor and Mrs. George L. Maris on Onoro and Silver lakes.

After the reading of the minutes by the retiring secretary, Mrs. Whitner, the business of the club was taken up, which was principally the subject of joining the Florida Federation of Clubs. After considerable discussion, the vote was in favor of our becoming a part of the state organization.

The regular program was, first a paper on John Bright, prepared and given by Miss Ada Bowler. She traced in a most interesting manner his history from young manhood up to his more mature years, and on through to the end of his eventful, influential life.

The second paper was a "Comparison of the reigns of Elizabeth and Victoria," by E. W. D. Dunn. Time and thought in liberal portions must have been given to this topic, and the paper was much enjoyed. And while we still feel that we may not give to Victoria intellectually the strength of character Elizabeth possessed, morally she took a much higher rank.

"The unity of the English-speaking race," from Montgomery, was read by Mrs. Maris. On motion, the meeting adjourned until the second Monday in November.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served, then all adjourned to the lawn where the roses, and the grove of pine trees on Silver Lake received a generous share of admiration.

In closing, we would suggest to the people of Sanford who have not visited this vicinity, that they have missed seeing one of Florida's most beautiful spots.

Members of the club present, were:

The Welaka Club entertained the gentlemen last week at Mrs. S. O. Chase's residence on Oak avenue. Cards and dancing were the order of the evening, after which choice refreshments rounded out an evening of enjoyment. The Welaka Club at present has no home, having given up the club house. Early in the fall they expect to arrange for suitable quarters and will entertain the members and guests in their usual sumptuous style. Such an organization ought to have a nice building and a movement is now on foot to provide a fine club house that can be utilized by all the Sanford clubs.

Mrs. Forrest Lake gave a luncheon on Monday evening after the recital of Mrs. Fannie Munson. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Palmer, Miss Dickson and Miss Hart, of Orlando.

Mrs. S. O. Chase entertained several guests on Monday who came to attend Mrs. Munson's recital. Among them were Mrs. F. H. Rand, Miss Evelyn Rand and Miss Edith Rand of Longwood.

One of the events of the season was the Junior reception to the Senior class last night at the Sanford House. This will be given in next week's issue.

Think Sanford is All Right

After cropping the past season on land rented of Alex. French, and obtaining the best of results productively and financially, Messrs. J. F. Hancock and J. A. Matzinger, two go-ahead young men of Frankfort, Mich., have decided that Sanford is the place for them. They have purchased from M. M. Smith ten acres of fine farm land and have had it cleared and made ready for operations in the early fall. Two wells have been put down, both of which are flowing strong. On their return here in the fall they will bring help with them, and in all probability other settlers.

"LIFE'S WORTH LIVING"

Says The Detroit Post—And So Say We All of Us

The following poem is referred to The Herald editor by W. S. Branch, Orlando correspondent for the Times-Union:

"In Detroit, Life's Worth Living Every day,
In Detroit, we are giving Joya away.
In Detroit, it is true,
That our skies are always blue,
There's a smile for me and you,
Blithe and gay.

In Detroit, life is cheerful
All the while,
For our people soothe the tearful
With a smile.
To a stranger, foe or friend,
We've a helping hand to lend
And our resting time we spend
On Belle Isle.

In Detroit, we have pleasures
By the score;
And the rarest of our treasures,
Yes, and more,
Is our river, Oh! so bright,
Cool and restful, day and night,
Source of infinite delight,
O'er and o'er.

In Detroit, life's worth living
Everyday;
Folks are gentle and forgiving,
If you stray,
In Detroit may I be,
When God's angel beckons me,
O'er the silent, unknown sea,
Far away."

FLORIDA'S REAR ADMIRAL

Lieutenant-Commander Hutch I. Cone Advanced

Washington, May 18.—Official announcement was made at the navy department today of the appointment of Lieutenant-Commander Hutch I. Cone to be Chief of the bureau of steam engineering, and not long afterward his nomination went to the senate from the white house, and soon the navy department will have a real head of the bureau.

His appointment is a distinct advance. As far as rank and pay go he advances from the grade of lieutenant commander to that of rear admiral. His fellow officers have recently called him "a rear admiral in abeyance."

Lieutenant Commander Cone won distinction by taking the torpedo flotilla around South America. Later he was fleet engineer of the Atlantic fleet. He is a Floridian, a resident of Hamilton county and all Florida will rejoice to learn that his appointment has been confirmed.

Ethel Mandeville's Narrow Escape

During the thunder shower last Tuesday afternoon, when hail and rain were coming down in copious quantities, a vivid flash of lightning and a deafening peal of thunder startled everyone. It was evident there had been a "strike," but few were aware of how near fatal results had been averted. Ethel Mandeville, aged about 11 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mandeville, living on the corner of Laurel avenue and Second street, was in the yard when the electric bolt descended. It struck the large palmetto tree at the corner of the house and set it on fire, and passed down Miss Ethel's side, leaving her blistered and burned and semi-unconscious. She was picked up and carried into the house and made as comfortable as possible, by Mrs. Cross and Mrs. Harper, who happened to be present. The shock had taken away the girl's strength and melted the gold ring which she was wearing. Other than the burns which she received and the temporary loss of strength the little girl seems to be experiencing no serious results from her unlooked-for experience. It was indeed a narrow escape from death—one that she will never forget.

Another Store For Sanford

The furniture business of L. Meriwether has been disposed of to M. K. Jones of Savannah, a member of M. K. Jones the furniture house of that city.

The Meriwether store is closed today for the purpose of taking stock prior to turning it over to Mr. Jones and no details have as yet been given out as to whether the business will be conducted at the same stand or not.

In connection with this deal it may be stated that a branch of the Jones & McLaughlin will be opened about the first of next month in Sanford under the name of the Jones & McLaughlin Furniture Company, which will be under the direction of W. W. Abernethy, who for some time past has been in charge of the house furnishing department of Maas Bros. store.—Tampa Times.

New Dry Goods Store

The new store recently built on Sanford avenue, near Third street, has been leased by J. W. Knight, and a full line of choice goods has just been received. The stock is a large and most complete one, comprising dry goods, notions, ladies' and gents' furnishings, shoes, hats, suit-cases and house-furnishings. An up-to-date tailoring business will be conducted in connection, in which the latest patterns and styles will be displayed. The business will be conducted upon the cash plan, which enables the purchaser to buy all goods at rock-bottom prices. Read the advertisement in this issue. Knight's Cash Stores Sanford avenue.

SANFORD, FLORIDA, FRIDAY, MAY 28 1909

First Year

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Thursday evening, May 20th, the members of the Junior Class of 1909 gave the Seniors a delightful reception at the Sanford House, to which the High School faculty, the trustees with their wives and the families and friends of both classes were invited.

The lobby of the Sanford House was profusely and artistically decorated with magnolias and yellow daisies, suggestive of the class colors which are white and gold, and which nestling in their glistening green foliage added brightness and animation to the scene.

The guests were met at the door by Miss Mamie Knight, a member of the Junior Class and shown to the cloak and hat room. They were then taken charge of by Miss Annie Higgins, Eugene Roumillat and Elton Moughton who presented them to the school faculty and graduates standing in a line in the left of the lobby to greet their friends and receive their congratulations and good wishes.

When this pleasure was over Misses Edith Stewart and Eva Frenger escorted the guests to a small table near the foot of the stairway, on which stood a large cut glass punch-bowl, filled with punch in which floated luscious strawberries, and presided over by Mrs. B. F. Whitner who dispensed the delicious beverage with smiles and pleasant greetings to all.

After meeting and talking with each other and the pupils and faculty the guests were invited by Misses Myrtle Nipe and Nellie Amick to the refreshment room, where they were served with ice cream and cake. The color scheme was also carried out in the refreshments.

The Stumon orchestra seated in the dining room made the pleasure of the evening complete by their dreamy, sweet music.

All who were so fortunate as to receive invitations to this charming function are indebted to the Juniors for a most delightful evening.

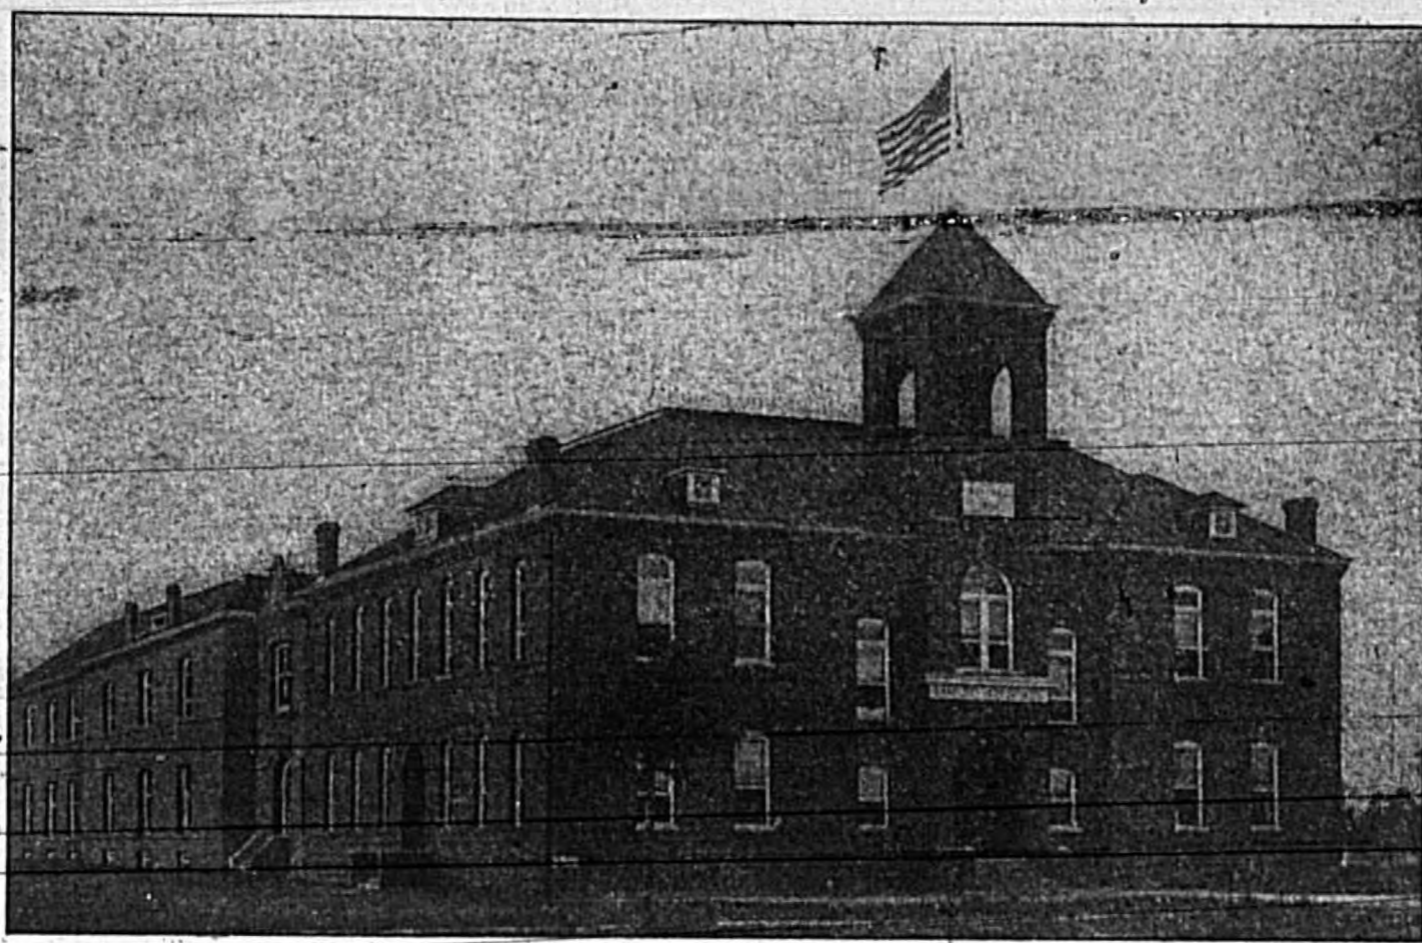

After the reception was over at 10:30 a number of the young people remained and enjoyed a dance given by the young men and other gentlemen who were present. This pleasant occasion, however, was but the prelude to the crowning event of this interesting and happy week, which was the commencement exercises Friday evening, May 21st, in the opera house.

The parents, relatives, friends and strangers filled the opera house to overflowing long before the hour for the exercises to begin, in their desire to show their interest and pleasure in the occasion and to do honor to those who were to graduate.

The High School faculty, graduates and High School, the trustees and members of the school board who could be present, the speaker for the evening and Rev. R. Lee Kirkland met at the residence of Mrs. Roumillat and marched in a body to the opera house. They were met at the door by F. E. Roumillat, Jr., marshal of the evening, carrying his badge of office decorated with green and purple ribbons (school colors) and escorted to the stage and seats arranged for them in a semi-circle. The stage was tastefully decorated with palms, ferns and pot plants.

The graduates, Misses Julia May Hamilton, Ruth E. Abbott and Alice F. Robins were seated in the center of the circle and just back of them Messrs. Claude W. Coffee, Edward F. Lane, Henry H. Peabody, Ralph E. Stevens and Stanley E. Wood, the young gentlemen graduates. Completing the circle on the right were Prof. N. J. Perkins, Miss Clara Louise Guild, Miss Alice M. Tetherly and Miss Harriet Herrick the High School faculty. On their left were the trustees, Messrs. C. R. Walker, L. K. Phillips and B. F. Whitner, Jr.; Messrs. H. K. Witherington and D. L. Thrasher, members of the county school board; Prof. A. A. L. Suhrie and Rev. R. L. Kirkland, pastor of the Congregational church.

After an overture by the Stumon orchestra the invocation was made by Rev. Dr. Kirkland in a very impressive manner. He was followed by the High School Chorus with a well rendered selection, Fairyland Waltz. The orchestra again entertained the audience after which Mr. Stanley E. Wood gave a very interesting review of the world's great inventors and their famous inventions during the past two centuries. The young man presented his subject with ease and in a masterly manner, showing both care and research in its preparation. He was followed by

Sanford High School and Proposed Extension

Ralph E. Stevens, presenting and describing Sanford as "Our Own Little World" in an entertaining and satirical style. He made a number of amusing local hits which were thoroughly enjoyed by the appreciative audience. It may be for the first time that some of them were privileged to see themselves as others sometimes see them. His essay is given in full in this issue.

In Keramics Miss Ruth E. Abbott very charmingly taught her hearers some interesting lessons on the discovery and use of many materials, in the manufacture of earthen vessels and beautiful china, and also refreshing their memories on the names and locations of the world's famous potteries.

The orchestra rendered another selection following which Prof. Suhrie of Stetson University made a most excellent address, holding the attention and interest of the audience very closely. It was not only a pleasure but a privilege to hear him. His good advice to the graduates, all young people and parents, was so wisely, kindly and entertainingly given that many good results should follow. The faculty and trustees are to be congratulated on their wise selection of a speaker.

The short address by Prof. Perkins to the graduates in presenting the diplomas could not be surpassed, it was so rich in commendation, encouragement, congratulation and kindly suggestion on the duties and responsibilities of life, to those with whom he has been so closely related for several years past as teacher and pupil and whose minds and characters he has been instrumental in guiding and directing.

The people of Sanford are proud of Prof. Perkins. They know and appreciate the fact that he has with the loyal cooperation of his able assistants worked up the school to its present high standard. He has won a place in the hearts of the patrons and people, who are justly proud of their school principal.

While the orchestra played their last number the ushers carried armful of beautiful flowers and presents on the stage from the families and intimate friends of the graduates and laid them at their feet. Mr. J. E. Pace in his desire to share his pleasure with others, and pride in occasion, presented each one of the eight graduates with a handsome bouquet of carnations and roses.

After the exercises were over an informal reception was held on the stage and at its conclusion the faculty, graduates and High School returned to the residence of Mrs. Roumillat and spent a pleasant hour with each other and in the enjoyment of delicious refreshments.

Sanford has indeed done herself proud on this happy occasion, remembering with gratitude that her school superintendent, teachers and trustees are working with united effort to make her school meet all the requirements of their children and rank with the best in the land.

OUR OWN LITTLE WORLD

By RALPH STEVENS

Now, ladies and gentlemen, here is your opportunity for seeing this enterprising little city—the wonder of the world—soon to be called the "Hub of Florida." Let me show you the city and its suburbs in this dainty "sewing machine auto." This was the first car in Sanford, purchased at a great price, never known to be out of commission. Some day it will take its place in the Field Museum, beside the first locomotive. Very well, lady, we will start our tour by beginning at the railroad station, going down Commercial street to Palmetto avenue. As we leave the station, notice the large building in front of us. This beautiful building is called the Wellbourne Block, and is one of Sanford's numerous skyscrapers. As we go on, notice the large building to your right. This is the Sanford House. Until about four years ago it was caused to change its name to the "New Sanford House, on account of receiving a new coat of paint. The dock on the left, stretching far out into beautiful Lake Monroe, is the Clyde Line dock, so named for the home of steamers which arrive here daily. This is the favorite promenade for young couples and chance acquaintances. This, lady, is Sanford's famous lake front. Notice the artistic way in which the tin cans in the background blend with the old barrel hoops. The air is so sweetly laden with the odors arising from the boatloads of the flimsy tribe brought here for shipment.

The lake front is not beautiful now, but will be some day when dreams come true. As we go along the lake front, notice that the men on the left hand side of the street are turning up their collars while those on the right hand side are taking off their coats. This shows the marvelous changes in our climate. Sanford has more climate to the square inch than any other city in the world. The most particular person is bound to be suited.

This street is Palmetto avenue. Let me call your attention to the numerous palmetto trees on the street. This is the city hall. No, madam; not that building; that is an automobile garage. It was built half a century ago, and is good enough for another.

We now go out Second street to Mellonville avenue. The house on the left, standing back from the road, is the home of Mr. J. E. Pace, one of Sanford's oldest citizens, and famous celery grower. Mr. Howard Gould tried to purchase this place, but Mr. Pace not caring to sell, Mr. Gould bought half the Pennsylvania railroad instead.

We now approach Celery avenue, the greatest street in the city or suburbs, the greatest producer of celery in the world. On this one street alone there is enough celery raised yearly to supply the whole United States.

Yes, madam, ground is this part of the country is very valuable: It would cost a man just ten dollars to leave his horse standing on a vacant lot for ten minutes. Just recently a railroad has been built to carry away this immense amount of celery, known as the Sanford & Everglades railroad, and by some as the "Slow and Endless." We hope that some day this railroad may be extended as far south as Lake Okechobee. The farm now on your left is owned by Mr. A. K. Rossiter, president of this famous railroad.

This farm is owned by a Sanford druggist who raises forty acres of celery annually, and yet says he is not able to support a wife.

We now go down Beardall avenue and take a cross country run, passing through historic Fort Reed. Here was the spot where the town hall stood, that afterwards was moved into Sanford. This building was noted for two reasons. First, Fay Templeton began her career as actress, giving the first theatrical performance in Orange county, and second, it was in this building our honorable secretary of the school board, Mr. B. F. Whitner, started his educational career under the guidance of Mrs. Hernandez, now Mrs. Duke of Orlando.

We are now approaching the city again, coming in on Sanford avenue. This part of the city was once the principal part of Sanford, but the city having grown the other way, it has become a back number, and is mostly populated by negroes.

We now turn down Seventh street. The beautiful building on your left is the Sanford High School, the leading high school in the county. For several years it was known as a school for girls, but now boys attend it, and are even graduating from it. In the famous Celery City edition, and other advertisements of the city, a picture of the school building is given, showing the new annex. This is a great mistake. Our new annex is the old school building located on Palmetto avenue and Fifth street. While here, gaze at the scenery on your right, with the artistic coal chute looming in the foreground; see how the black diamonds glisten in the sun; this is ever a delight to the small boy. When lessons become irksome, many an interesting principle of the laws of physics is illustrated by this useful incline. How could we get along without it?

This is the building of the Sanford Ice and Water Company, owned and managed by our present mayor, Mr. Lake. He has a patent for manufacturing a most peculiar ice, flavored with ammonia.

We turn here and go down French avenue to First street. Let me call your attention to Sanford's street car system. It is very fine. You can travel so far for a nickel that it will take you a week to find your way back.

We are now on First street, the principal business street in the city, and the first which has been fortunate enough to be paved with brick. As we pass up this street, admire the numerous skyscrapers. Sanford has more skyscrapers than any other city in Florida for its size. That man you see on the corner is James Harris, telling about his famous kicking mule.

Sanford has a population of about ten thousand people, and if this is doubted stand on the corner and count them as they go around to the station to see the trains come in.

The large marble building on the corner to your right, is the First National Bank. This is one of the most beautiful buildings in the city, and is the only national bank in Orange county.

Yes, madam, we have street lights, but when the moon shines we do not light them for it would eclipse its light. Some time in the near future we will have electric lights.

We will now spin up Magnolia avenue. On the left is the People's Bank, one of the famous Witham system.

This beautiful large barn is the Sanford Opera House, and is certainly a credit to any town or city. It was built in the days of '61, and has never been repaired. In this opera house, some years ago Miss Emma Abbott sang under a guarantee of one thousand dollars a night. The building is held in reverence for this reason.

On we go, and turn down Fourth street to Park avenue. This large park with its beautiful palms, trees, fountains, miniature pond and flowers furnishes comfort and pleasure for many Sanford people during the hot summer months; while the renowned Sanford Band plays its beautiful airs in the large bandstand in the center of the park. Sanford has a number of these parks scattered in and about the city which enables the people to enjoy the "Land of Flowers and Sunshine."

Certainly, in Sanford, life is worth living.

In Honor of High School Seniors

One of the nicest affairs of the season was a party last Monday evening at Mrs. Peabody's, given in honor of the seniors of the High School. The rooms were beautifully decorated in gold and white, the senior class colors. The evening was pleasantly passed in the playing of games and in listening to and participating in instrumental and vocal music. Midway of the evening lunches were served in paper buckets, and each girl had a fortune for the boy she had lunch with, which created much merriment. Later in the evening ice cream and cake were served. Those present were Mae Hamilton, Josie and Jessie Stumon, Annie Higgins, Gracie Davies, Martha Fox, Sally Lou Peabody, Ed. Lane, Henry Peabody, Stanley Wood, Archie Betts, Claude Coffee, Ralph Stevens, Dr. Butt and Don Peabody, and Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Peabody. All declared that they had a fine time.

Murray-Housholder Nuptials

At the Methodist parsonage last Wednesday night Miss Eva L. Murray and Dr. W. E. Housholder were joined in wedlock, Rev. A. E. Housholder officiating. The announcement will be a surprise to the many friends of the young couple as only a few friends were aware of the event and were present.

The bride is a resident of Baltimore and for the last three months has had charge of the millinery department of J. K. Mettinger. She is of a lovable and cheerful disposition and has scores of friends in Sanford.

The groom is a prominent dentist of this city, the eldest son of Rev. A. E. Housholder, pastor of the Methodist church.

The happy young couple will make Sanford their future home and The Herald joins in congratulations and best wishes for their future prosperity.

Burial of W. C. Yelser

The remains of W. C. Yelser, who died in Jacksonville Tuesday last, were interred in Lakeview cemetery yesterday under charge of the Sanford Masons. Mr. Yelser was well known in Sanford, as was his wife, formerly Miss Carrie Blaine.

Mr. Yelser was prominent in Jacksonville business circles having been connected with the Southern Drug Co. for several years and at the time of his death was in business for himself.

He leaves a wife and daughter to mourn his loss.
