City's Offer Of $100,000 For Gas Plant Is Accepted By Southern Utilities Company

Deal Closed at Commission Meeting Monday—Houston, Representing Company, Is Present to Accept Offer

Deal Will Be Made Effective August 23

Commission Authorizes Sale $160,000 Bonds to Provide Money For Plant Purchase

The city's cash offer of $100,000 for the entire and complete gas plant of the Southern Utilities Company in this city has been accepted by that company through its representative, A. W. Houston, vice-president and general manager, who appeared in person before the City Commission at its meeting Monday afternoon and formally tendered the acceptance of the offer by his company.

The purchase includes the plant together with its distribution system and all of the real estate upon which it is situated. The real estate included is as follows: Lots two and three, block eight, tier 11; lots nine and 10, block seven, tier 11.

Mr. Houston asked that the city prepare to take over the management of the plant on or about Aug. 23. He stated that since the city is to buy the plant, the utilities company is anxious to get it off its hands. When he asked the commission when the company could expect the money for the plant, he was told that bonds will be advertised and sold at once and that the Southern Utilities Company can expect its money within 60 days.

Bonds, provided for in an election during the early part of this year, aggregating $160,000 will be sold to take care of the purchase of the gas plant and extension of its piping system. The plant to be sold for the city will have $60,000 of the amount left for improvements and the extension work.

City Attorney George A. DeCotter stated that the bonds have been approved by a bond attorney and that they are to be advertised for sale immediately. It will take about three weeks to advertise the bonds and then bids for them will be opened at once, he said.

It was learned that the city has planned a system of water supply on the water system. Many new mains will be laid, supplying a large number of residents with gas where desired and a booster main or some other additional equipment to increase pressure will be installed.

A few days ago City Manager W. B. Williams stated that it will be the purpose of the city to supply a better quality of gas just as it is now putting every effort to give Sanford one of the best and most efficient and serviceable water systems in the state of Florida.

CITY COMMISSION APPROVES PLAN MUNICIPAL HALL

Building Will Not Include Fire Department Space—City Beautification Plan Is Discussed

After a thorough reconsideration of the plans for the new municipal building as approved and submitted by the City Planning Commission, the City Commission at its meeting Monday afternoon approved the plans as submitted except that the fire department is to be left out of the structure.

At a meeting of the planning commission two weeks ago it was decided that provision for the fire department would be made in the new building and this only after considerable argument and discussion on the part of members of the planning body. It was decided at the commission meeting Monday, however, that it will not be practicable to put the fire department in this building.

With the plans definitely approved, Architect E. J. Moughton was instructed to rush work on the plans for the structure. It was announced by city officials that construction will probably begin in the early fall of this year.

City Attorney George A. DeCotter reported that the bonds for the building had been approved by a bond attorney who has said that they are well within legal rights. City Engineer Fred T. Williams also reported that he has two men in the field on the bulkhead work; that the work has actually begun.

Mr. Henry Wight appeared before the commission and asked if something could be done to insure the beautification of Sanford's new streets. She pointed out that on the older street of this city there is no regular arrangement of trees and that it gives a very unbecoming effect. Mr. Wight asked if the city commission could pass some ordinance which would enable it to go ahead with the systematic planting of trees and shrubs on the parkways along the newly paved streets with the same authority it carries out paving programs. This, he stated, would be a great asset to Sanford and the community.

Attorney DeCotter informed her that the charter of this city authorizes no change by which such actions may be carried on by the municipal government but that in cases where citizens desire to spend sums in the beautification of the parkways in front of their property, one-third of the sum spent will be refunded to them out.

Mrs. Franks on Stand

Mrs. Jacob Franks, 31, since the murder of her 14-year-old son, left her sick room for the first time when defense attorneys reopened their fight to save Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, the boy's confessed slayers, from the gallows. Here she is on the witness stand in Chief Justice John R. Caverly's court. It is the first picture taken of her since Robert's funeral.

Diplomatic Relations Between This Country and Persia May Be Broken.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Stern warning that continuance of American diplomatic and consular officials in Persia will depend upon action taken by the Persian government to protect adequately American nationals in that country has been served on the Persian foreign minister by Minister Joseph S. Kornfeld at Teheran.

The note, made public Monday at the state department, was delivered on Saturday and deals only with the murder by a mob in Teheran of Vice Consul Robert Imbrie. It was sent before a word had been received of the subsequent attack on the consul's widow, Mrs. Katharine G. Imbrie.

A further communication in connection with that attack was sent immediately by the state department to Minister Kornfeld instructing him to make certain representations orally to the foreign minister. It is understood nothing will be made public here with reference to this statement, however, because of its oral character.

In connection with the murder of Consul Imbrie, the state department pointed out to the Persian government that the facts disclosed by its investigation do not indicate that the police or military authorities made any adequate effort to protect the American consular representative.

"There appears, in fact," the note continues, "to be evidence which it is believed the Persian government will itself desire to investigate most vigorously that certain military elements participated in the assault."

Preliminary official reports regarding the later attack on Mrs. Imbrie by "several hoodlums" also showed a failure on the part of the Persian police to afford protection. A police official is reported to have stood idly by within ten feet of the point where Mrs. Imbrie was subjected to assault.

In outlining steps which it believes the Persian government should take in connection with the murder of Consul Imbrie, the state department notes that the Teheran authorities on their own initiative have already declared their purpose of making redress to the widow of the slain official. That redress should extend, the note declares, to the payment of cost for sending of an American warship to bring home the body and also to the establishment of a military guard of honor over the casket containing the body and the "rendering of appropriate honors at the time of leaving Persian soil."

Should Persian Guards

In addition the Teheran authorities are notified that should the American legation request it, military guards should be furnished

REBELS FORCED TO FLEE FROM SAO PAULO

CONFERENCE COLLAPSE Saved By Intervention Of American Delegate

Brazilian City in Hands of Band of Revolutionists For Past Few Weeks Regained By Government Troops

Fleeing Rebels Are Purued by Federals

Americans Living in City Are Declared to be Safe—Peace to Reign Again in Sao Paulo

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Evacuation of the city of Sao Paulo, Brazil, by the rebel forces which had held it for weeks was announced Monday in advices to the state department and the Brazilian embassy.

The advices received by the state department were founded upon dispatches from the admiral commanding British naval forces at Santos, while the Brazilian embassy communique was signed by Felix Pacheco, minister of foreign affairs.

Americans Safe

All Americans in Sao Paulo were found safe when the government forces took over control of the city, although many Americans were reported to have left the community, and the American and British consuls were co-operating to facilitate the departure of their nationals. No Americans are destitute, although some are temporarily short of funds due to the fact that the banks have been closed for some time.

No advices have reached either the state department or the Brazilian embassy as to what has become of the Sao Paulo rebel force, or in what direction it withdrew. Embassy officials pointed out that the city had virtually been surrounded by government forces, and the belief was expressed that the rebels had probably dispersed in small groups.

Two Communique

The Brazilian embassy made public the text of two official communique. The latest, dated July 28, reads:

"The rebels have abandoned Sao Paulo and are in flight. The government troops have occupied the city."

An earlier communique, dated midnight, July 27, follows:

"The rebels, who were yielding ground on their whole front, have been dislodged from their positions by the government troops, who have captured muskets, machine guns and ammunition, and have made numerous prisoners. The latter agree in declaring that discouragement reigns among the rebels, who are exhausted by the effort of the last few days. In the shops of the north station, we also captured a train consisting of a locomotive and a car with machine guns and one cannon. The fire of our artillery concentrated on the points occupied by the rebels shows decided advantage. The advance made by the government troops since yesterday is especially noticeable."

Federal Pursue Rebels

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 29.—The rebel forces have been driven from the city of Sao Paulo by federal troops and are being pursued by the federal, according to the noonday official communication issued at the war office.

RIO JANEIRO, July 29.—A communique issued by the government concerning the situation growing out of the revolt at Sao Paulo says:

"The legal troops continue dislodging the rebels from their positions. They (the rebels) are retreating all along the front. We have captured rifles, machine guns and munitions, also a considerable quantity of prisoners, who all declare that discouragement prevails among the rebels who show exhaustion resulting from the efforts made during the last few days."

"We captured the offices of the North Station and a train composed of a locomotive and railway car equipped with machine guns, and a mountain gun. Our artillery effected appreciable progress in concentrating fire upon convenient areas."

Whistles Blowing

SANTOS, Brazil, July 29.—Whistles are blowing in Santos in celebration of rumors that the revolutionists had abandoned Sao Paulo during the night, the government taking over the city. As yet there is no official confirmation of the news.

Woman Disappears From Tampa Hotel

TAMPA, July 29.—Mrs. W. I. Dickson, age 46, is reported to have disappeared from a local hotel under suspicious circumstances. R. L. Dickson, her brother-in-law, told the police he saw her Thursday night when she registered, but she was gone the next morning. Dickson says she has been held at the Millerville insane hospital and that she is wealthy.

Compromise Offered By Colonel Logan is Means of Lessening Tension at Meeting

Crisis Believed To Have Passed

Agreement Between 2 Factions Likely To be Made Today

LONDON, July 29.—Inter-allied conference circles last night credited American intervention at the expert meeting yesterday afternoon with having saved the conference from what threatened to develop into a crisis that possibly would have wrecked the parley and seriously delayed the application of the Dawes plan to Europe's economic ills.

At the meeting of the experts prior to the plenary session, the debate between the French and British representatives on the issue which has been deadlocked in the conference for a week had reached a very dangerous stage when Colonel James A. Logan, the American official observer, offered compromise suggestions which lessened the tension.

As soon as he had finished his statements regarding American participation in the working of the Dawes plan, the French representative announced he believed that within 24 hours the French delegation could submit a formula which they considered would satisfy both the British experts and the Anglo-American bankers in its provisions for security for the international loan which Germany must float before the Dawes plan can be made effective.

Each of the proposals today consequently the expert meeting adjourned until this morning when the French proposals were heard.

The inability to reach a settlement Monday, however, disrupted the program of the conference from the invitation which it generally had been expected would be despatched to Berlin tonight requesting the attendance of German representatives to the United States, which he is hoped it will be sent forward Wednesday or Thursday.

The plenary session yesterday delegated the power of issuing the invitation to Germany to the prime minister and the chief delegates to the conference, who can act whenever their technical work is completed, without awaiting approval by a plenary session. The delay resulting from today's session, it is believed, is likely to prolong the conference another fortnight.

Disappointment over the prospects of an extension of the negotiation was somewhat relieved by another announcement Colonel Logan made to the experts. This was to the effect that the United States would not object to the cooperation of an American on the reparations commission for the purpose of voting with the other members on August 15 to decide whether Germany had passed the necessary legislation to make the Dawes plan operative and also whether the agent general for reparations under the Dawes plan has taken up his duties.

Colonel Logan was careful to point out, as he was in making a similar announcement on the opening day of the conference with regard to the American attitude toward the appointment of an American citizen as agent of reparations, that any appointment should be considered merely as an American citizen without influence or directions from Washington. The opportunity which Colonel Logan took for explaining his government's attitude toward a United States citizen on the reparations commission also provided him with an opening to express his views on the differences between the bankers and the concessionaire (as Colonel Logan said it was the opinion of the experts) and that the political issues had been raised by the American financiers.

JUNIOR TRADE BODY TO SEEK NEW MEMBERS

Intensive Campaign Will Be Waged Tomorrow—5 Teams Will Conduct Drive.

Plans for an intensive membership campaign by the Junior Chamber of Commerce have been completed, according to an announcement made today by the committee in charge. Promptly at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning five teams composed of four men each will begin their work and by noon it is expected that they will have increased the roll of members of the junior body to over 100.

As a result of a recommendation made at the last meeting of the organization by the Project Committee, the organization decided to concentrate on a drive for new members. At that time it was pointed out by several members that at least 100 young men of the city should be enlisted in this organization, which was recently formed.

With this in view a committee was appointed by President G. W. Spencer, Jr., to make the arrangements. The following chairman together with the men who will compose the team, have been appointed:

Team No. 2—W. M. Connelly, captain; Floyd Palmer, J. O. Laney and Lloyd F. Boyle. Territory: Palmetto Avenue to Magnolia Avenue.

A meeting of the team captains together with members of the Membership and Project committees will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at The Herald office to complete final arrangements. Tomorrow morning all who will take part in the campaign will assemble at the office of A. P. Connelly from which point they will begin their work.

It is planned to make this week's luncheon on Thursday a booster affair with a many new members present as were enrolled if possible. It is reported that good news in connection with securing a major league ball team for Sanford next year will be announced by the ball park committee. Other important business matters will be taken up at that time.

Harrell's Brother Also Detained By Police Authorities

NASHVILLE, July 29.—Arrested at the request of South Carolina authorities on a charge of being an accessory after the fact in the murder of Major Samuel H. McLeary, Gerald Harrell will be taken from here to Columbia within the next two days, local authorities said last night.

Harrell, a brother of Frank Harrell, who admitted following their arrest here that he was present when Major McLeary was slain by Morton S. King on July 2, near Cheraw, S. C., said he would resist extradition. Frank Harrell was taken to the South Carolina prison from here last week.

Gerald had just been released from jail after serving a term for vagrancy when he was arrested at the request of South Carolina officials.

To Have Charge

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 29.—Gerald Harrell, brother of Sherrod, slain by Harrell, accomplice of Mortimer N. King, in the slaying of Major Samuel H. McLeary near Cheraw, S. C., who is being held by Nashville, Tenn., authorities, will be returned to South Carolina to face charges of aiding the brother in his flight from the scene of the killing, officials announced today.

Requisition papers for the return of Gerald Harrell to this state have been forwarded to the state of Tennessee.

Tennessee authorities were notified to arrest and hold Harrell for South Carolina authorities following the arrival here Monday of a field county, where the crime was committed, with a warrant charging Gerald Harrell with being an accessory after the fact. It was stated.

Benetts Placed Under Arrest For Murder of Woman

CHATTANOOGA, July 29.—Warrants charging W. H. Bennett and wife with the murder of Miss Augusta Hoffman, who disappeared mysteriously from the Bennett home here in 1916, were served today as they left a hotel where they had been permitted to stay under surveillance since they were brought here.

The Bennetts were brought here several days ago from Rome and have been detained under guard in a hotel pending an investigation of what authorities say they believe is Miss Hoffman's skeleton in a shallow grave under the house the couple occupied at the time of the woman's disappearance.

Further than that Miss Hoffman, a modest, informed them shortly after she left their home that she had married a man named Brown and moved to California. The Bennetts have asserted they know nothing of the affair.

William Bennett, a son, who also was brought here for questioning, has been allowed to return to his home.

The couple would not discuss the case tonight under instructions of their attorney, Chief Hackett, who refused to divulge evidence upon which the warrants will be based.

Denies Interest in Union Mines

HAUTE, Ind., July 29.—Ind. newspaper today called on John W. Davis, Republican candidate for president, to deny interest in union coal mines of West Virginia being one of "Dawes' plan." The letter was sent to a communication from newspaper made by the respondent.

Wheat Prices Left Lagging As Other Grains Take Rise

CHICAGO, July 29.—Corn, hogs, oats, rye and provisions left wheat lagging Monday, and ran a neck and neck race for advanced price records. Corn, which has been in a high price range since last week, was selling at $1.00 7-8 a bushel for May delivery. Hogs touched $10.50, the highest price since 1922. Oats and rye surpassed any prices heretofore for either in 1924, and the provision market equalled the record.

Reports that corn had failed to make the growth it should have achieved in the last week caused a rush of buying in the corn market, and with hog arrivals scarce today at the stockyards here, the upward swing of all farm produce markets excepting wheat became of extraordinary force. Predictions that certain definite figures for corn, wheat and oats would be reached were ascribed to James A. Patten, who at times has been a big trader in grain, but Mr. Patten declined to verify such reports. The fact that he has been active of late in the grain market, however, made the grain especially sensitive to the reports in question.

Wheat today was dominated largely by news of better weather in Canada and of heavy marketing of wheat in Kansas City, where the receipts today were the largest on record, totaling 1972 carloads as against 709 a year ago. On the other hand, rye as a cheap substitute for wheat attracted sharp attention and prices advanced. The large contracts were active.

MARKET

CHICAGO, July 29.—Wheat: September, 124 1/2 to 125; December, 127 1/2 to 128 1/2. Corn: unchanged to 1 1/4; Oats: 19 to 19 1/2. Hogs: 10 1/2 to 10 3/4. Cattle: 11 1/2 to 12 1/2.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Wheat: 122.00. Corn: 112 1/2 to 115.00. Oats: 60 to 62. May: 1.00 7/8 to 1.00. Rye: 10.50 to 11.00. Pork: 10.50 to 11.00. Lard: 24.00 to 24.50.

Carnegie Institute Is Given $8,000,000

NEW YORK, July 29.—The Carnegie Corporation of New York has left Andrew Carnegie to Carnegie Institute, which has received $8,000,000 for the educational work at its institution.

RUSSIAN EMIGRES DEPAIRED OVER IMMIGRANT LAW

In Bitter Disappointment to 3,000-500 Russian Refugees Who Are Scattered Over Europe.

BERLIN, July 23.—America's new immigration law is a bitter disappointment to the 3,000,000 Russian "refugees" scattered throughout European countries. Under the new law only 1700 Russians may enter American ports annually, and not more than 170 shall enter in any one month.

At one time there were believed to be about 500,000 Russian refugees in Germany alone. The number is now much reduced, as the high cost of living has forced many of them to seek other countries where exchange conditions are more favorable.

In Paris, Berlin, Prague, Munich, Dresden, Bucharest, Belgrade and Rome large Russian colonies are endeavoring to keep up their traditions in the hope of being able to return one day to the land which is so dear to them. Egypt, under the new law, is eagerly received by the groups which still believe conditions similar to those which existed before the war will be restored in Russia, and that they will be able to return and claim the property which Lenin and his associates seized in the name of the Communist government.

Many of the younger Russians had entertained hopes of emigrating to the United States. Medical, law, and engineering students in various universities of central and western Europe were planning on an invasion of the new world on the completion of their courses. This hope is dashed by the immigration law just enacted.

Russians of all classes are returning to their homeland every time there is the slightest rumor of bettered conditions there. It is their desire to go to Russia rather than anywhere else, but they do so with much difficulty, as their countrymen of anti-Bolshevik tendencies have great contempt for Russians who accept employment under the Communist regime. It frequently means the breaking of all family ties and the severing of old friendships.

Store Building At Lake Monroe Razed By Fire On Sunday

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the general store, postoffice and filling station at Lake Monroe late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, according to reports received here today. The loss is unknown.

It is understood that the store and the postoffice were together in a building which is owned by John Bell of that place. The filling station was in front of the store and was completely destroyed along with the building.

Efforts to find Mr. Bell this morning for further particulars, were fruitless. It was learned, however, that the fire destroyed the property at a time when no one knew of it. The owner of the filling station, it is said, lived only a few hundred yards from the building but knew nothing of the fire until about 6 o'clock Sunday morning.

PART AMERICA IN PARLEY MAY BE QUESTIONED

(Continued from page 1.) Germany's default, but not both. While on all sides there is optimism that a formula will be found there was no one tonight who pretended to know the terms of the guarantee by which the inter-allied conference will bind itself to the application of collective sanctions except after a judicial determination of Germany's default.

France still firm. The difficulty of eliminating altogether what is deemed the perennial contingency of separate action on the part of any one power remains as great as ever. Yet the French spokesmen say freely that it is inconceivable France not to do what she says Ruhr experience, but that to bind France not to do what she says she has the right to do under the Versailles treaty is another matter entirely.

Note Of Protest Is Sent To Kornfeld Account of Assault

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Acting Secretary Grew of the state department today announced a dispatch of "vigorous representations" to Minister Kornfeld, at Teheran, Persia, as the result of an assault on Mrs. Katherine Imbrie, widow of the vice-consul killed recently by a mob at Teheran. The communication protested against the Persian situation which culminated in an unprovoked attack. The note is supplementary to the note covering the consul's death.

Contents Made Known Later. The instructions to Minister Kornfeld have been cabled him for delivery to the Teheran authorities and probably will be summarized or announced textually in a formal statement to be made public by the state department as soon as word has been received that Mr. Kornfeld has acted.

Officials at the department decided Sunday night to discuss the communication. They admitted, however, that dispatches from Teheran describing the situation in Persia which developed from the killing of Vice Consul Robert Imbrie by a native mob and later was marked by an unprovoked attack upon Mrs. Katherine G. Imbrie, widow of the murdered American official, plainly showed need for increased safeguarding by Persian government and police officials of American nationals in that country.

Must Protect Americans. Steps to insure adequate protection of Americans are understood to be suggested in the communication and are expected to be put into effect without delay by the Persian federal and municipal government officials.

ALIENISTS A VERDEEDS PLANNED BY RICHARD LOEB

Other possible victims were considered, including the elder Leopold, and also, in a general way, a young girl, the report states, but their decision finally centered upon a young boy such as Robert Franks.

Got Great Excitement. In describing the actual act of striking young Franks, Loeb said: "He was hit on the head several times. He bled. . . I got great excitement, great heart beating, and was pleased. I was cool and self-posessed. I had quite a time quieting down in five minutes after we got him (Franks) in the back seat, thinking him still alive."

"He bled, Leopold said 'This is terrible.' I told him it was all right and laughed and joked, possibly to calm myself too."

Loeb is basically a dreamer, the alienists discovered. His reveries have pictured him as a world-famous detective, a pirate leader, or a successful but extremely shrewd business man. He was never anything but the leader and always had plenty of onlookers to applaud him. When he called upon a woman acquaintance shortly before the Franks murder, he told her he was a bootlegger and he showed her a bullet hole in his shirt that he had "received in a shooting scrape in a saloon."

The tale was one of pure fabrication, the alienists declare. Leopold's dreaming. He is able to invent unusual situations wherein he is to take the most dramatic parts, but always as the swaggering, bragging handy man aided by the moral support of someone upon whom he could depend. Those opposite natures of the two companions brought together coincidentally, first led the pair to trivial crimes, to setting fire to shacks and to stealing automobiles to see if their keys would work, and at last to the Franks kidnaping and murder. Such, in the last analysis, is the substance of the alienists' report on the mental condition of the confessed slayers.

STATE CLAIMS TRIAL 'PERFECT HANGING CASE'

Then, in a manner of copying the peak of the "mountain of evidence" which Mr. Crowe has been piling up since Wednesday, will be read the confessions of the two defendants.

The defense is expected to follow immediately, putting the alienists on stand to open the battle which, according to one of the mental specialists engaged by the defense, will be the most distinguished in medical history and which Mr. Crowe has said will be one of the most hotly contested defenses in legal history.

Speed Quiet Sunday. Both Loeb and Leopold spent Sunday quietly in jail, despite the usual round of entertainment provided by the county. They said their attendance at the trial was rather tedious in that they failed to get the same thrill from the testimony that the court fans did. It was only a boring, routine performance to them, they declared, and they wanted to rest. Their only visitor was Dr. Healy, a defense alienist, who remained but a moment.

American 'Round-the-World Planes in Paris

VALUABLE FIND MADE BY PRINCE IN GREEK TOMB

Two Hundred Fifty Ancient Gold Heirlooms Discovered by Swedish Prince in Old Tomb.

STOCKHOLM, July 23.—The discovery of 250 gold ornaments that were ancient heirlooms even in the time of Homer, the opening of a Greek tomb that had not been disturbed for more than 3,000 years, and the discovery that the so-called saddle roof was not unknown in the architecture of that early day, are some of the important results, just reported here, of the Swedish Archaeological Expedition, headed by Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf, which is excavating the ancient city of Assio, Greece.

The latest discovery of the Swedish experts came somewhat as a surprise when, after having explored a tomb as big as a house and finding nothing of unusual interest, they turned to a tomb less than five feet wide. This proved to be a treasure trove, dating about 1150 B. C. in the Mycenaean, or pre-Hellenic, period.

It contained numerous earthenware vases of rare design and decoration, eight beautiful bronze urns and other vessels, of which one was 20 inches high. One of the smaller bronze urns contained four necklaces of gold and iridescent glass beads, and curiously enough the strings were sufficiently well preserved to show the arrangement of the beads, so that the necklaces can now be restored to their exact appearance 3,000 years ago. The necklaces contained 650 beads and other ornaments, of which 250 were gold. The great tomb near by, which contained few treasures, is nevertheless of great archaeological value, since it is built in the form of a house, and its top, hewn into the rock, is the exact shape of the familiar "saddle roof," with sloping sides and gables at both ends, thus proving that this architectural detail was known in Greece more than 1,000 years B. C.

Florida Cities to Send Exhibits To Toronto

BRADENTOWN, July 23.—This city, St. Petersburg, Clearwater, Tarpon Springs, Lakeland, and possibly several other South Florida cities will send exhibits to the Canadian International Exposition in Toronto, to be held the last week in August and the first week in September. According to advices received here, James Coad, secretary-manager of the St. Petersburg Chamber of Commerce, has arranged for space at the exposition usually assigned to England which will not be represented at the fair this year.

Engineer Discovers Diatomaceous Earth

CLERMONT, July 23.—C. Lindley Wood, English engineer, reports the finding of an unusual quality of diatomaceous earth in this vicinity. The earth is used as filtering and absorbing medium and also as an insulating material. This type of material is found only in a low formation of soil partially covered with water and vegetable growth, it is stated, and is said to be the result of centuries of formation of pure silica from shells or skeletons of diatomic life.

New Barnett National Bank Being Planned

JACKSONVILLE, July 23.—A new twelve or fifteen story home is to be erected here by the Barnett National Bank, officials of that institution announced. Provision will be made for modern banking quarters on the lower floors of the building while the upper stories will be devoted to office space. Cost of the new building is estimated at more than $1,000,000. It will be located on a lot 105 by 105 feet to the north of the bank's present home on Forsyth street.

Girl Dies in Cause Marital Freedom

ANKING, China, July 23.—A Chinese girl student at the government school committed suicide recently by jumping into the school well rather than go through with a marriage her parents had arranged for her. It appears that the girl had done all in her power to dissuade her parents from forcing the distasteful marriage upon her, and finally decided to take her own life in the hope of helping in the fight which is being waged by many modern young Chinese women against this ancient custom.

Jacksonville to Have Advertising Millage

JACKSONVILLE, July 23.—The advertising committee of the city council plans to submit a recommendation to the budget committee for the levy of a one-mill tax for 1935 for advertising in Jacksonville. The one-mill levy would, it is estimated, yield about $65,000. Decision to make the recommendation was reached at a meeting held by the advertising committee with representatives of civic organizations. Most speakers at the meeting suggested that the city should have a fund of $100,000 for advertising purposes.

Women Get Fourth of Philippine Degrees

MANILA, July 23.—Women of the Philippines are crowding out men in a number of courses open to both sexes in the University of the Philippines and other co-educational institutions, according to statistics compiled from reports of the last school year. In the University of the Philippines out of 46 graduates in pharmaceutical chemistry, 42 were women. Out of 11 receiving the degree of doctor of medicine, four were women. Out of a total of 488 receiving degrees from the university during the year just closed, 110 were women.

Record Price Is Paid For First "Pickwick"

LONDON, July 23.—The record price of $7,000 was paid at an auction recently for the first issue of the first edition of "Pickwick," in the original numbers and wrappers, brought out in 1836-7. There had been competition from American collectors, but the copy was secured by a Londoner.

After keen bidding against American buyers, another Englishman secured a first edition copy of Grays' Elegy printed in 1751, for $7,700. The copy contains six pages and was considered by the original collector to be incomparable.

Gaelic Signs Perplex Even Irish Visitors

CORK, Ireland, July 23.—Irish Americans returning to their native land after long absence are much at a loss in figuring out the street names in many towns of the Free State. Efforts are being made generally throughout the state to popularize the Gaelic language, and in many cities and towns the street signs are printed in Gaelic. Bookshops display Gaelic grammars and methods for learning the language, and advertise the exercise books employed in school which are seeking to make the knowledge of Gaelic general throughout the island.

OLD WASHINGTON RELICS GIVEN TO SULGRAVE MANOR

LONDON, July 23.—When the delegates to the American Bar Association's Convention visited Sulgrave Manor, Friday, they presented several valuable relics of George Washington to the Manor House. These include saddle bags and a liquor chest used by Washington in the Revolutionary War, given by Colonel Walter Scott, of New York; a parchment deed dated March 4, 1805, by which the Sulgrave property of the Washingtons was transferred to their relatives, the Makepeaces; and a coffin handle from the first coffin in which Washington was buried, the gifts of Joseph G. Butler, Jr., of Youngstown, Ohio.

The New York branch of the Daughters of the American Revolution gave a silk flag of the Sulgrave Institution of America at the same time. An original Washington letter which displays the keen business instinct of the first president and which was recently purchased by Sir Charles Wakefield, was given by him as the British gift to the Manor. The letter, which is dated from Mount Vernon, June 28, 1789, is understood to have been in England many years, and never to have been published. It reads as follows:

"Dear Sir: When Mrs. Washington was at the Church at Fredericksburg she perceived the Tomb of her father, in a ruinous condition, and being desirous of having it done up again, will you permit me, my dear Sir, to request the favor of you to engage a workman to do this. The cost I will remit as soon as it is known, and you shall inform me of the execution."

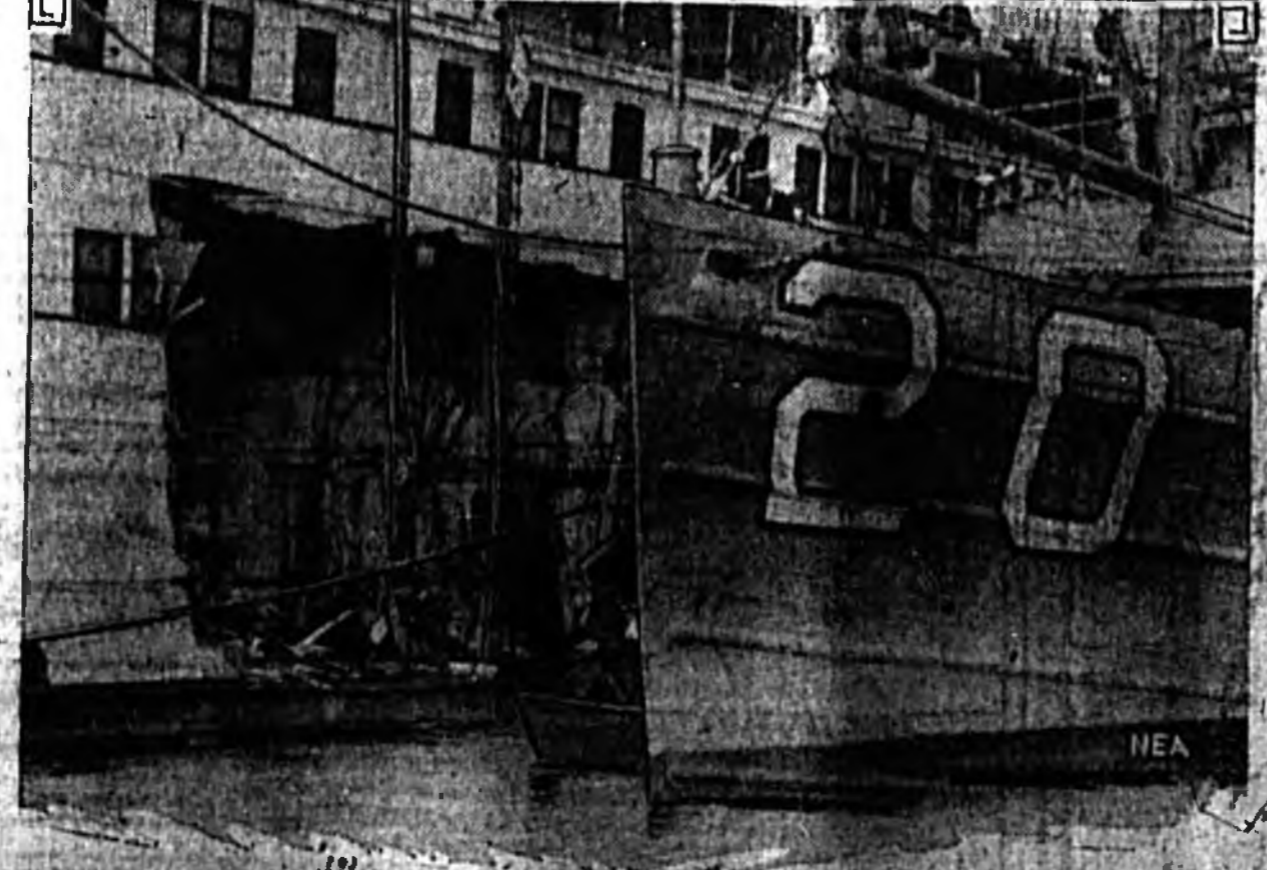

"I would thank you for ascertaining the price beforehand, having, from disinclination to dispute accounts, felt, in too many instances, the expansion of Tradesmen's consciences when no previous agreement has been made. My best wishes, in which Mrs. Washington joins me, are tendered to Mrs. Carter. With much truth I am Dear Sir Yr. most Obedt. and affect. Hb. Ser. G. WASHINGTON.

Science Rechristens In Vain Family Pest

IOWA CITY, Ia., July 23.—The bed bug, variously named and many times profanely named, has only within the past year, after a 169-year search, received a monicker that will satisfy sticklers for scientific exactness, according to Dr. C. W. Stiles, assistant surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service, who is a summer lecturer at the University of Iowa. Hereafter on the roster of science the bed bug will be known as "Cimex lectularius."

After a Collision at Sea

This is the great hole that was torn in the side of the steamer Boston when she was rammed by the tanker Swift Arrow of Judith Point, R. I. It was here that several passengers were killed, hundreds of others were taken to Newport, R. I., and to New York by rescue boats answering the S. O. S. call. Here the damaged vessel is being towed to Newport.

TAMPA, MIAMI HAVE ADDED TO CIVIC PROGRAM

Cities Enlarge Local Supervisors Of Vocational Work Who Will Devote Full Time to Organization and Supervision

TALLAHASSEE, July 23.—Tampa and Miami have added to the trade and industrial program by engaging local supervisors of vocational work whose full time shall be devoted to the promotion, organization and supervision of this work according to the annual report of the State Supervisor of Agriculture and Trades and Industries, E. A. Hyman and L. S. Greene, respectively. The report, just received by State Superintendent of Public Instruction W. S. Cawthon shows progress in vocational education in Florida.

As a result of the employment of local supervisors Tampa has enrolled in the vocational classes 533 men and women and boys and girls who were not in attendance at the regular public schools; the report disclosed. In the special classes for carpenters, plumbers, machinists, electricians, etc., were enrolled 180 persons varying in age from 60 to 65 years. In the part-time school where English, mathematics, civics, commercial home-making and shop subjects were taught 190 girls and 135 boys 13 to 18 years of age were enrolled.

These youths had left school for various reasons and were working in cigar factories, in stores, small industrial establishments and as delivery and messenger boys. The supervisors co-operated by allowing them to go to the school six hours a week without deducting from their wages. In their report the supervisors said it was an inspiration to see the spirit of these boys and girl workers as they again took part in school activities.

The work in Tampa has in one year attracted the attention of the entire city, it is declared, with the result that an advisory board made up of representatives from a number of clubs and civic organizations has been meeting regularly to help solve the problems of the underprivileged boy and girl worker.

Jacksonville has for several years been carrying on a program like that adopted at Tampa, it is stated, which has shown each year a definite growth. This past year has been marked by the successful conduct of salesmanship courses carried on in connection with the large department stores.

The Trade and Industrial classes over the entire state have this year enrolled 2,148 pupils compared with 1,668 last year, an increase of 34 per cent. While the larger part of the work was in the more pronounced industrial centers, smaller towns like Fort Pierce, Ocala, Quincy and others had one or more classes.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
IN HIM WE LIVE!—That they should seek the Lord. For in Him we live, and move, and have our being.—Acts 17:27, 28.

REALLY ISN'T IT FUNNY

That a man who thinks he is a business man will get up in the morning from an advertised mattress, and put on advertised underwear.

Advertised hose, shirt, collar, tie and shoes.

Put on an advertised hat, light an advertised cigar, go to his place of business, turn down advertising on the ground that advertising doesn't pay.—Ex.

It has always been proved that the best way to repeal obnoxious laws is to enforce them.

Just because a man purchases a new high powered automobile, it is no indication that he is contemplating suicide.

The Prince of Wales is coming to this country incognito. Of course no one will know just who this Lord Ruffian is.

A whole lot of people spend most of their time trying to get out of "fixes" that they shouldn't have got into in the first place.

The life of Rodman Wanamaker is insured for six million dollars. He must have a lot of confidence in his beneficiaries.

The Sao Paulo revolt is declared to be at an end and Americans can quit worrying about their coffee. Wonder if the Brazilians found the scrap worth while.

Could you imagine any worse luck than for a bald-headed man to lose his hat at the beach?—Sanford Herald.

Hyman is being boomed as a third party candidate for the governorship of New York. LaFollette would probably approve of him because they are in about the same class.

President Coolidge is concentrating on his job, upon his notification address. He is probably trying to figure out some way of telling of the wonderful achievements of the Republican administration without mentioning all wells or anything like that.

The American aviators are about to begin the last leg of their journey around the world. Torpedo boat destroyers are in readiness to mark the route across the Atlantic and to render assistance to the fliers in case of trouble. It is only a matter of a few days before the flight will be ended and the conquest of the air complete.

The case of Loeb and Leopold should furnish wonderful food for thought to all parents. These boys are said to have spent most of their lives in the company of brilliant students. If all goes to show that you can't tell who is at the head of a man's brain by the look of him. Parents who take the good morals of their children for granted sometimes make big mistakes.

LaFollette's vote might cause the election to be thrown into the house of representatives. Falling action which is possible, the senate would have to act on only one candidate, LaFollette or Roosevelt.

LaFollette and Roosevelt are the next people the next Governor would have to be a first-class man.

Costly Negligence In This Direction

Towns that do not provide for the sanitary protection of their negro settlements are strangely short-sighted. Were there no other consideration than protection of the health of the white people, it would pay a community to see that cleanliness and proper disposal of sewage and garbage are carefully provided for in the sections where negroes and "poor white folks" live.

From the negro settlements come a town's house servants. They come bringing the germs and the vermin that may exist in their homes. They act as nurses for delicate little white children, and when these white children develop sudden illnesses their thoughtless elders assume, we suppose, that the disease germs dropped from the clear sky. White people send their laundry to be done in negro cabins that are grossly insanitary. They have their clothes washed in water that is pumped from shallow wells in yards that are reeking in filth. They make no investigations whatever as to the sanitary condition of the yards in which their clothes are hung to dry, nor of the beds on which their freshly ironed garments lie until they are returned to the white folks' homes!

Instead of providing good drainage for the negro settlements, instead of enforcing ordinances against over-crowded houses, and against the harboring of infectious diseases, white-town officials give their attention to the comforts of the white people. They seem to see no connection between this same comfort of the white people and the cleanliness of their negro neighbors.

Florida civic workers would do well to give some expert consideration to this matter. "City Beautiful" movements might even be shelved to make room for "City Healthful" crusades that would begin with first attention to the needs of neglected colored settlements in all parts of the state.

In The Middle of The Road

There seems to be a strong tendency among certain persons to adhere to that old saying, "Stay in the middle of the road," while unvarying consistency under any and all circumstances. There are some drivers who travel at such a low rate of speed that it requires nearly a half hour for them to reach the side of the road after hearing the honk of an auto horn. There are others who, though driving fast enough, apparently cannot believe their ears when someone tries to pass and feel it absolutely necessary to look around and see if there actually is an automobile close behind them.

These kind of people are not what are called "roadhogs." Their intentions are good enough but their fulfillment of them is so slow that a driver trying to pass is usually just as angered and just as much inconvenienced as if he had encountered a real "roadhog."

A rather humorous story is told by David Henry Day, which is reproduced here to show what fun those miss who always insist upon staying "in the middle of the road."

I was born and partly raised in the state of Georgia, which is an essential thing for you to know in order that you may join with my Northern friends in their objectionable gigglement.

I own a light smart motor car that can do—and does do—sixty-five miles per hour—real, not conversational miles.

Whenever anyone gives me the passing honk, toot or pray, I promptly give him his full half of the road and allow him to pass me—if he can.

I was coming down a wide ballroom floor—smooth stretch of highway—idling along at about forty-five per, when an insistent horn behind me demanded half the road. I gave it fully and cheerfully—and stepped on her to the extent of fifty-five. Just as I was about to swing back into the center of the road again the cocksure blare of a horn sounded close alongside me.

So I pushed her up to a good sixty-five and gave the aspiring driver more than his half of the road.

And a big green car, driven by a coal-black negro, who sat alone in his glory at the wheel, slipped quietly past me without even a cutout opened, and a big solicitous voice boomed back at me: "What seems to be de mattah, friend? Has you got engine trouble?"

LUIS ANGEL FIRPO, Wild Bull of the Pampas, and pugilistic bruiser extraordinary, has returned to America for the purpose of fighting a few near champions of the ring and incidentally to work his way up to another battle with Dempsey. When the time arrives for another Dempsey-Firpo fight there will be a lot of Americans hoping that the wild bull will knock Dempsey's block off. Not so here. Dempsey may not excite the admiration of the average American, but one little thing makes us think more of Dempsey than we do of Firpo. When Dempsey won a fortune from the ring he purchased the finest home he could find in Los Angeles for his mother, a woman who had been denied the slightest of life's luxuries, until her son was able to furnish them. When Firpo won a fortune from the same source he allowed his old father, who had become feeble minded in his old age, to be consigned to a public charitable institution. That's enough to make every American pull for a victory for Dempsey.—Ft. Lauderdale Herald.

IN MARYLAND

BALTIMORE SUN

For a jealous woman to attack her rival is not a pretty thing, but it is understandable. But that men should be so depraved as to assist in the tearing and feathering of a woman is indefensible.

It was men of Maryland who attacked the girl in Frederick county, beat her, stripped her and tarred and feathered her.

Worse than that, they allowed a woman to take the blame for the whole occurrence.

At the hearing in Frederick county the men engaged in this affair—and there were apparently many of them—stood by in silence and heard their actions described by their victims. They heard the chief woman assailant confess her part in the affair and got some of them admitted his complicity.

To complete their disgrace, they procured bail for themselves and so regained their freedom. But the woman prisoner spent the night in jail.

Their actions from the beginning until now have proved an exhibition that almost passes belief.

The only redeeming feature we have been able to see in the whole affair are two in number.

They are, first, the courage and generosity of Mrs. James and Whipple. He braved the mob and rescued the girl. His wife provided a refuge for her and dressed her wounds.

The second redeeming feature is the prompt action of the officials of Frederick county. They were impressed by the heinous nature of the offense, issued warrants immediately for the arrest of the participants who were known, and are apparently determined to see the thing through.

Only the prompt trial and punishment of the guilty men can save the county and the state from disgrace.

As Brisbane Sees It

Stone, bronze, iron. Three ages of barbarism. Ancient cruelty. Some tame news.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright 1934)

THE FRONT PAGE of any newspaper tells you where you are in civilization's history—namely right at the beginning.

A young girl in Maryland—her name has happened in any other state—is mobbed, stripped, naked, beaten by a crowd of thugs, and set running through the country covered with hot tar, and for a "married lady" was leaving her. They did not tar and feather the man.

THE other day our vice-consul Imbrio was murdered by religious fanatics in Persia. A young Persian now stones the dead man's widow. Perhaps he missed the original fun. The sympathetic Persian police did not interfere.

GREECE notifies 50,000 Armenian refugees that they must get out to make room for Greek refugees driven from Turkish territory. The Armenians have nowhere to go.

ON THE river Dniestri in Russia bandits boarded a boat loaded with passengers and organized a pogrom, picking out the Jews, murdering and throwing them overboard. Fifteen bodies have been recovered.

The bandits thought they were pleasing their creator, and wept about their work with unconsciousness as clear as those of the medieval judges that burned thousands of Jews and others alive, as a pleasing tribute to their creator.

IN Poland, Stanislaw Zbonski and his wife, Germaina, confess fifty-one murders. He is twenty-eight, she twenty-two. The couple, for excuse, say that murdering people to rob them is their only way of making a living.

Their first victim was her first husband. They waylaid travelers along the road, killing them with knives and revolvers. Interesting hunting.

ONCE, Spartan youths were taught to murder defenseless herds in the same way, as part of a soldier's education. There is progress. We have murder now to private initiatives. It is no part of any curriculum.

All that is written above you read on one page of a newspaper, and there is more of the same stuff scattered through other pages.

When historians write of the three great periods of barbarous development—the stone age, the bronze age and the iron age, they will say:

THE full industrial development of the iron age, reached at about the year 2000 of the present era, is usually called "the Christian era," may perhaps be called the beginning of civilization.

Man had developed faint ideas of right and wrong. But while they had begun to leave their great fortunes to education and science instead of seeking to bribe their deity and buy eternal bliss for their own worthless souls, they retained the worst feature of the earlier barbarism. The discoveries of science in chemistry and physics were used for war—murder on a gigantic scale.

The drugs of the race committed murder with their own hands. The so-called upper classes lived in shameful luxury, utterly indifferent to poverty, disease and ignorance around them. They even herded young children of the poor into factories and mills, grinding them into profits for their own use.

On the whole, that culminating period of the iron age was inferior in dignity and decency to the stone age.

PHOTOGRAPHS of the two young Chicago murderers, smiling at sight of an iron bar used to kill a defenseless boy, are hideous in their cold cruelty. Not inhumanity of a modern kind, but a permanent, dreadful cruelty in those faces, with no trace of pity.

IT IS to be remembered that such cruelty was once common everywhere among men. Torture of innocent witnesses was defended as necessary by the "best men" as the only way of getting at the truth.

Ninety-nine per cent of all old sports, from Roman gladiator fights to British bull baiting and bear baiting, offered brutal cruelty as their charm.

THE human race has been fed on cruelty from the beginning, whether you look into the history of Mexican Aztecs, with priests tearing the hearts from living human sacrifices, or into more ancient religions, with fathers quite ready to cut the throat of a son, to gain their own salvation. You see fiendish cruelty among the positive virtues. What wonder that it should survive in these young murderers? The question is, should they survive to perpetuate their cruelty?

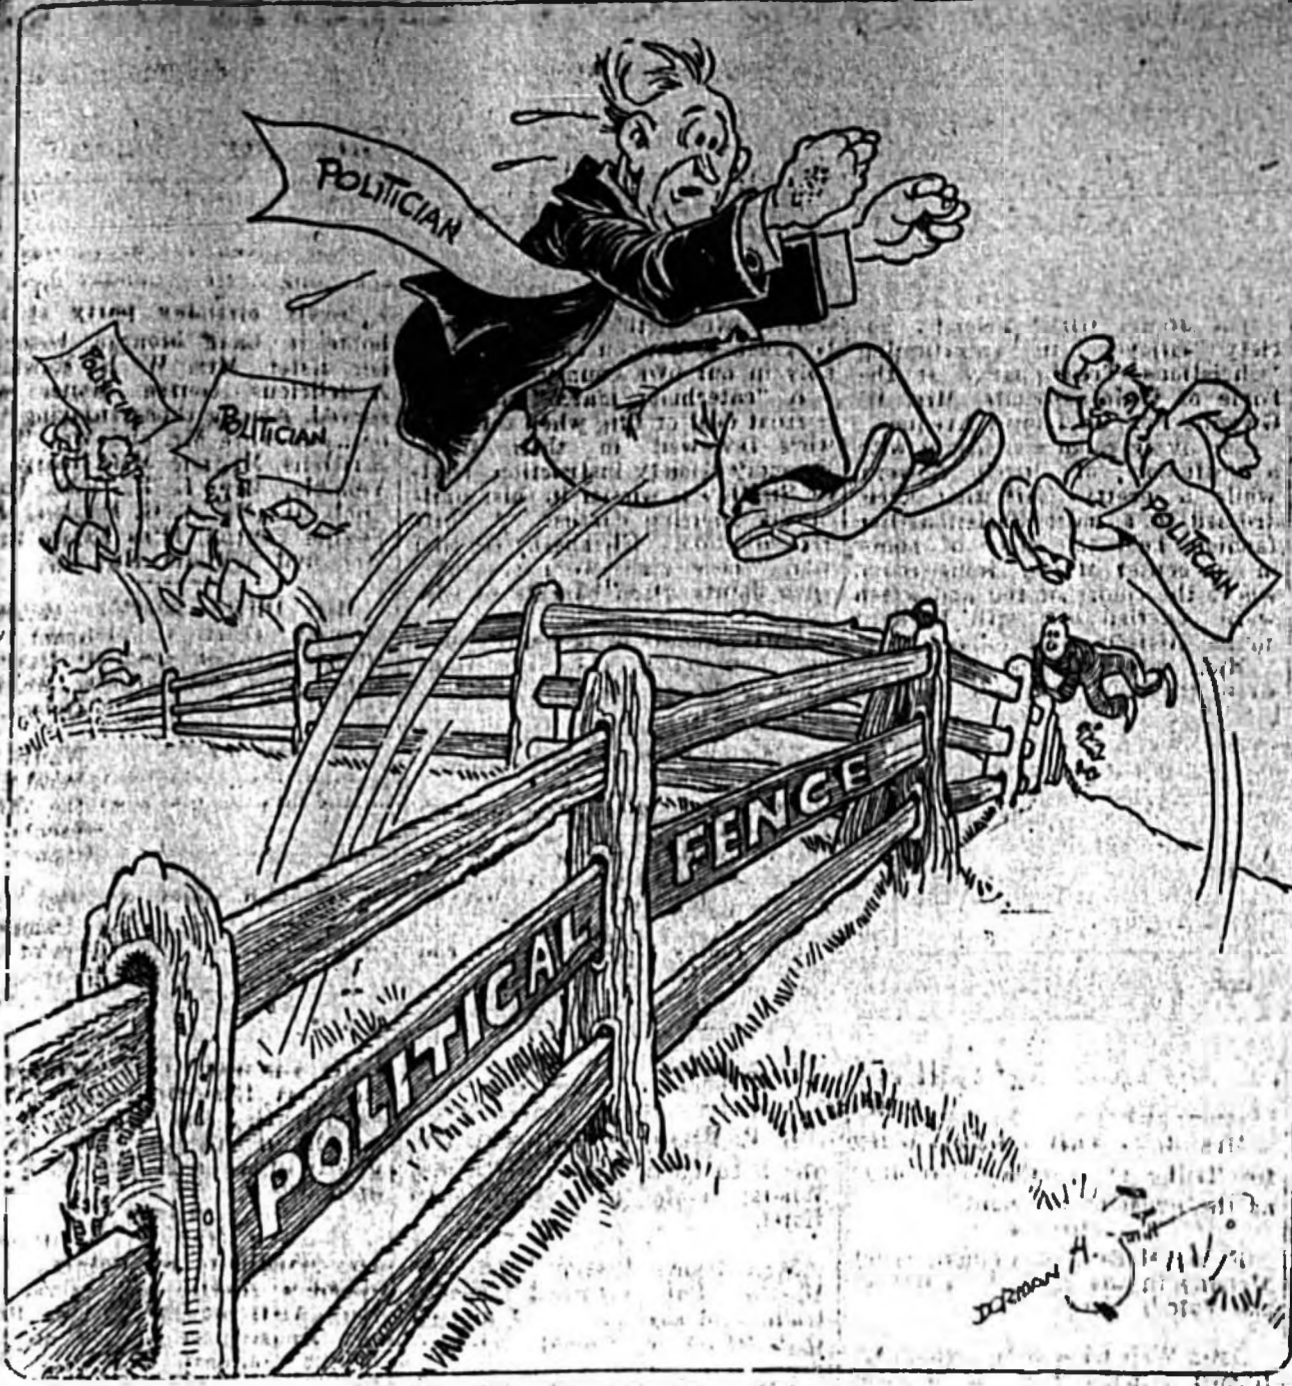

IF TAME political news interests you, here is some of it.

Hyman, now mayor of New York, may run for governor. If he does, you may have to revise your political calculations. Those calculations change once in twenty-four hours.

The price of wheat makes a difference, working for Coolidge when it goes up, for LaFollette when it goes down.

THIS SEEMS TO BE QUITE THE SPORT THIS SUMMER

THE TWO BRYANS

TAMPA TIMES

These days, when all sorts of adventures are being made in quest of entertainment, the person who has the means for doing so makes a mistake not to subscribe for a large number of the newspapers of the country, the larger the number the better, for the sake of reading the various "romantic" made upon William Jennings Bryan by way of entertainment.

We know of nothing which offers so much of just that, so varied are those comments and presented in such diversity of attitude; here a word of praise is found, there a shaft of satire, under a whip of wit, and another place something else, but almost everywhere something, it is doubtful if Mr. Bryan was ever more the subject of the newspaper columns, even during his candidacies for the presidency.

Writing in the Orlando Reporter-Sage, C. E. Howard makes one of the most entertaining of these contributions, which we are reproducing because of its capacity for entertainment, having also borrowed the head under which it was run that its presentation may be complete:

The Democratic party and the country have had so much "Bryan" for a generation just that it was freely prophesied prior to the convention that Bryan would be finally wiped off the map this time.

But, strange to say, the Bryan people hold held out during over a hundred successive ballots and to top the climax he had the convention of friends and enemies down on their knees in prayer; a spectacle fit for Gods and men alike; for whoever in all the history of the Democratic party saw "The Unterrified" down upon their knees in prayer, and who "but Bryan could have put them there? Could either Smith or Underwood have said, "Now, brethren, let us go to prayer and ask the Lord to bless us and unify us on a wet nomination?"

The Bryans ought to have had a movie camera man on the spot and have had the novel scene memorialized for a great campaign and to place on record the fact that in the year 1924 the party, once of "special privilege," lay down on their ham bones, led in prayer by the great and never-to-be knocked out Bryan.

HATS ON FOR ART

NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE

Mr. John Sloan at the Independent's exhibition in this town some weeks ago, urged the populace to keep on their hats while looking at the pictures. American, he explained, ought to be getting over their quaint staidly, imported from a generation which used "culture" in the sacred front parlor, in the presence of marble and painted canvases. After all, an art gallery is not a mortuary chapel, and the implication is scarcely flattering when the visitor goes up to inspect and talk in his whispers.

Mr. Homer Sales Gaudes, son of Augustus, at the dedication of a new art museum in Houston, Tex., recently spoke in the same tenor. The important thing he said, was not so much what was put on the wall as what was put into people's hearts. "You put your ears to your public that it must not feel the need of putting on felt slippers when it approaches a picture."

In Dayton, where ash registers, the "Antioch Idea" and the Wright brothers came from, they have been trying out with increasing success a plan for taking the sting out of art and helping painters sell their pictures. The Art Institute there, assisted by a number of other forces, most American painters, has a circulating gallery of portable pic-pleading for success of a dry Democratic nomination.

Yes, sir, "Bryan's strangle hold" actually welded all those dissimilar forces and welded them so completely that instead of the hold of one Bryan on the party there are now actually two Bryans holding the machine down. And, be it known, they are both dry; dry as a bone. They are of the same blood, and bone and in many respects the same, in temperament and determination.

If anything, Bryan's brother, the nominee for vice-president, is even drier than the original Bryan, for while at the first William Jennings Bryan was simply a dry, "local optionist," the brother was a "dry" prohibitionist from the very beginning. Talk about the Party of Rum, etc., here we have a party and the only party carrying a sure enough dry candidate intentionally, for although the Republican party has not a wet candidate, per se, neither has it a pronounced dry candidate, for the issue did not come up in the Republican convention at all and hence did not have to be met.

Now, what is the result? Well, there are a number of instances where those who have been ultra dry Republicans and even party prohibitionists have actually decided to vote the Democratic ticket this time; a thing they would have scoffed at a few years ago as unthinkable. Of course, there may be wets who will change over from the Democratic ticket for the reason that a double dose of Bryan policies may stick in their craws, but the fact remains that here is one man who cannot be elected himself but who has dominated the party for a long time, was the actual force that nominated Wilson and now still has force sufficient to place his brother on the ticket to give balance in progressiveness and dryness. Is there another instance in the history of the country to compare with this?

Even his enemies must respect such political maneuvering as he has shown. It is not a question of the greatness of a man who can, in the face of prodigious opposition—opposition of money; opposition and monopoly; opposition of whiskey, beer and wine and all the kindred forces behind them—can turn the tables after a long struggle and sit down upon the prostrate bodies of all his opponents.

YANKEES WIN 2 OVER SOX AND GO INTO LEAD

Ruth Cracks Out Thirty-First Home Run with Two on Base—Philadelphia Scores Three Runs in Eleventh to Beat Detroit—Boston Defeats St. Louis 10 to 5—Inglans Win Pitchers' Duel From Washington Senators

CHICAGO, July 29.—New York Monday went back into first place in the American League by winning a double header from Chicago, 2 to 3 and 12 to 10, while Detroit was beaten by Philadelphia. Faber pitched a good game in the opener, but his mates played badly behind him. Ward's homer with two on base gave the champions three runs and later Schang's four bagger with a man on base made victory certain.

The second game was practically settled in the first inning when the Yankees hit the offerings of Mammox, former Minneapolis star, to all corners of the lot, and drove him to the showers after batting around and scoring 10 runs. Ruth came up with revenge and cracked out his thirty-first homer. Two were on base at the time. The Yankees got two more runs in the fifth and ninth. Chicago plugged along, forcing the retirement of Mammox in the first inning and in the seventh and eighth inning hit Shawkey hard, forcing him to retire. Jones retired the side when poor base running by Barrett ended the rally.

Detroit 4; Philadelphia 3
DETROIT, July 29.—Bishop's single after Bruggy had walked and had been sacrificed to second and Laska's home run in the fifth inning gave Philadelphia three runs for a 2 to 4 victory over Detroit Monday. Philadelphia tied the score in the eighth when four hits including a double, counted for three runs.

Boston 10, St. Louis 5
ST. LOUIS, July 29.—Robertson's double in the ninth inning tied the score for St. Louis but the Boston Red Sox came back with a five-run rally in the tenth, winning Monday's game 10 to 5. Manager Blair announced that he would protest the game because Umpire Owens ruled that Rego should pitch in the ninth, with the Browns' manager declared violated the rules. McMillan had run for Severid in the eighth, remaining in the game at short.

Cleveland 2; Washington 1
CLEVELAND, July 29.—Cleveland made it two out of three from Washington Monday when Coveleski outpitched McGridges. Cleveland won 2 to 1. Speaker scored in the first inning on his triple and steal of home. Lutake's single and Summa's triple accounted for the other run. Washington failed to score until the eighth when Peck walked, pinch-hitter Matthews doubled and Rice beat out an infield hit.

Berlin Vibrating To Home-Made Ukuleles

BERLIN, July 28.—The ukulele craze has hit Berlin with a bang. Music dealers appear determined to put a little ukulele in every home, and, as the government collects a fat tax on all musical instruments, the dealers have not been opposed in official circles. The tax collected on the ukulele goes into a general fund, a part of which is allotted to pay off operations. Special ukulele music and songs, such as "Ukulele Hail," "Say It with a Ukulele," and "Try me on your set," are out and given away as a premium to all purchasers of an instrument. Instructions how to play to play the contrivance and bring out all that is best in spring vibration have been issued in simple language "so that even a child may play after a few days of study and practice."

Saints Beat Tampa In First Of Series; Game Rained Out

ST. PETERSBURG, July 29.—Goker was wild Monday and the Saints took the first of the series from the Smokers, 5 to 3. In the sixth Deau was put out for protesting decisions of the umpire and shortly afterward Manager Carey followed him, being escorted by a policeman, for protesting Deau's removal. Deau was carried from the game in the second when he sprained his ankle trying to steal second.

Ideal Grass Fertilizer

FOR LAWNS AND GREENS.

During the heavy rains of the summer season much of the fertilizer, particularly the available ammonia, is washed or leached out of the soil. The grass takes on a yellowish dormant appearance and has an unhealthy look. A good application of IDEAL GRASS FERTILIZER analyzing 5% Ammonia, 2% Available Phosphoric Acid, and 2% Potash will bring life and vigor back into the plants and give a green velvety surface that is the admiration of all. Broadcast at rate of about 2 pounds to each 100 square feet and wash into the soil with water. Repeat the application after a six to eight weeks' interval.

For flowers and shrubs we recommend an application of our W. & Y'S IDEAL GROWER analyzing 4% Ammonia, 7% Available Phosphoric Acid, and 1% Potash.

NOTRE DAME TO RETAIN ROCKNE FOR TEN YEARS

CHICAGO, July 28.—When Knute K. Rockne entered the University of Notre Dame 15 years ago as a poor working student, doing all kinds of odd jobs to pay for his tuition and board, he little dreamed that he would step into a position that was to pay him $100,000 in ten years as coach of that famous eleven. Rockne is to do just that, when his new contract becomes effective in 1925.

Rockne, by signing a contract to remain at Notre Dame for the next ten years at an annual salary reported to be $10,000 a year, has become one of the highest paid teachers of football in America. Of the terms of his salary, Rockne himself has nothing to say, but those close to him declare he was offered $10,000 a year last fall but became head football coach at the University of Iowa, succeeding Howard Jones, and that Notre Dame would not part with him.

From a "handy" boy, determined to obtain an education, Rockne's career is a vivid story of a plucky fight against odds. The man who today is acknowledged as one of the foremost coaches in the country did not even know the principles of football when he entered Notre Dame in 1909. But under the direction of Jesse Harper, the Notre Dame coach, he began to learn quickly. He did what he was told. He practiced and trained hard and within three years was elected captain of the team that was hailed throughout the country as one of the greatest exponents of the forward pass ever developed.

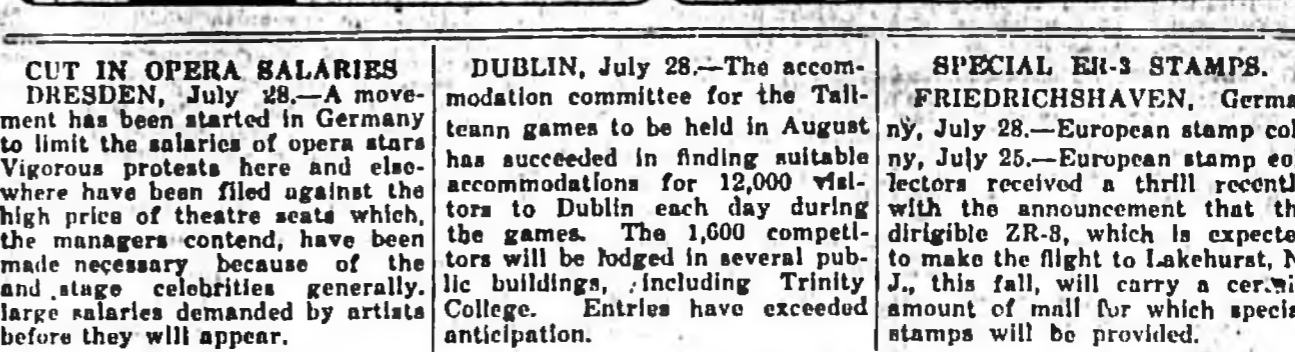

When Rockne enrolled at Notre Dame he was without funds and no work was too menial for him to earn a few dollars. Gradually he became so proficient in chemistry that during his last year in school he acted as an assistant professor. It was in this same year that his name became famous in football, when Notre Dame met the Army for the first time and triumphed, 35 to 13. It was Rockne, on the receiving end of forward passes hurled by Gus Dorias, that swept the cadets off their feet.

After graduation, Coach Harper asked to retain Rockne as a football assistant. The dean of the chemistry department made a similar request. Rockne was wanted in two places. The officials arranged his work so that he could work both jobs. A year later Harper retired to his western ranch and Rockne stepped into his shoes, holding the position as director of athletics, head football coach and track coach ever since.

Notre Dame's rise to athletic power under Rockne's direction has been swift. The football eleven always are contenders for national honors. Rockne, a national figure in American athletics, is of the "new school" in football. His system has brought about many innovations, such as the shift plays. These are designed to conceal the point of attack and add force to the thrust. Weight is invariably sacrificed for speed and close-up interference has made Notre Dame teams famous.

CUT IN OPERA SALARIES
DRESDEN, July 28.—A movement has been started in Germany to limit the salaries of opera stars. Vigorous protests here and elsewhere have been filed against the high price of theatre seats which, the managers contend, have been made necessary because of the and stage celebrities generally. Large salaries demanded by artists before they will appear.

DUBLIN, July 28.—The accommodation committee for the Tallteann games to be held in August has succeeded in finding suitable accommodations for 12,000 visitors to Dublin each day during the games. The 1,600 competitors will be lodged in several public buildings, including Trinity College. Entries have exceeded anticipation.

SPECIAL ER-3 STAMPS.
FRIEDRICHSHAVEN, Germany, July 28.—European stamp collectors received a thrill recently with the announcement that the dirigible ZR-3, which is expected to make the flight to Lakehurst, N. J., this fall, will carry a certain amount of mail for which special stamps will be provided.
