United Way At 24% Of Goal

With only 10 more days left in the fund drive, United Way of Seminole County Campaign Chairman Dave Joswick reported at today a total of $117,423 in gifts and pledges has been raised to date, bringing the drive to 24 percent of its 1984-85 goal of $500,000.

George Meyer, left, of Jeno's Inc., presents $1,000 check to Kathie Ragan and John Knapp of the United Way drive.

Today's report breakfast was held at the Casselberry Senior Center.

As part of a last minute blitz of Seminole County, Joswick said meetings were scheduled today with Seminole attorneys, Sanford merchants and Sanford Airport Industries to acquaint them with the work of United Way agencies.

John Knapp, heading up the major industries division, said "an awful lot of (in-house) campaigns are going on right now and a lot of new companies are involved this year for the first time."

Two new corporate sponsors are Jeno's Inc., Casselberry, and High Tech Baths, Lake Mary, each donating corporate gifts of $1,000. Jeno's is also conducting an employee campaign.

United Way President Larry Strickler reported a corporate gift from Southern Bell of $3,300. Additional money was reported today from drives by NCR of $14,000; Stromberg-Carlson, $7,500; and United Technologies, $2,000. The major industries total now stands at $56,476.

Other divisions totals to date include: Financial, $14,292; Medical, $10,352; Education, $4,676; Professional, $1,085; Commercial, $1,585; Government, $641; Major Retail, $30,039; Special Events and United Way Agencies, $6,853; Special Gifts, $2,444.

The next report luncheon will be held Monday at noon at the Quality Inn North in Longwood.—Jane Casselberry

Rose Resigns; Commission Not Surprised

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

The resignation of County Administrator T. Duncan Rose III Monday came as no surprise to county commissioners.

Rose told Commission Chairman Sandra Glenn of his plans when they, Commissioners Barbara Christensen and Bob Sturm and other county staff members were in Miami Oct. 3-6 for the annual meeting of the state Association of County Commissioners.

Although Rose's written intent to resign as of Jan. 1, 1985 was formally delivered by a secretary from Rose's office to county commissioners Monday afternoon, Commissioner Barbara Christensen said it was no surprise. "Duncan discussed it with Sandra in Miami."

The phrasing in the letter, "please accept this ... as notice of my intent to terminate my employment," was to fulfill the terms of Rose's contract with the county that requires 90-days notice if the administrator planned to quit, Mrs. Christensen said.

Rose, who survived a move by County Commission Chairman Sandra Glenn to fire him in July, said he is in the final stages of negotiating a managerial type job with an engineering firm in Orlando.

How Rose's job will be filled appeared uncertain today.

Mrs. Glenn said she would have no problem accepting Rose's suggestion that County Environmental Services Director Kenneth Hooper be named acting administrator and that Budget and Management Director Eleanor Anderson be named acting assistant administrator but she added she would like to see someone on board before Rose leaves the county employ sometime in December.

Mrs. Glenn said she would like to look into the costs of hiring a professional consultant to screen applications from the outside for the job, predicting the county will get hundreds of applications. Salary range for the job is $38,955 to $55,044.

"I'm interested in getting the most qualified person," she said. "And I would like to see someone on board before Rose leaves."

She also said she would prefer to advertise "in house" immediately to give staff persons first crack at the job before the county advertises statewide or nationally.

However, Mrs. Christensen said the commission would have to be very careful in selecting a replacement. "We should post the job in house and advertise to find the best qualified candidate."

"Until that time we should continue as usual. If we pick Hooper, it will be because he is best person for the job and we won't know that until we advertise," she said.

And, Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff said he would go along with Rose's recommendations about Hooper and Mrs. Anderson. But noting that Rose will apparently remain with the county through early December, Kirchhoff said with Hooper on an acting basis, the county has time to give careful consideration to a replacement.

He said he would prefer to follow the same procedure used when Rose was selected — use a screening committee made up of county staff and others to narrow the field to a presentable number of candidates.

The county ordinance, adopted in 1977, establishing the position of county administrator lists as qualifications "actual experience in and knowledge of the duties of the office..."

Absent from his job because of illness, Rose's secretary distributed the written resignation to county commissioners Monday afternoon. The resignation is effective Jan. 1, 1985, just 15 days short of his second anniversary with the county.

Surplus Food Distribution Begins Wed.

The American Red Cross will distribute U.S. Department of Agriculture surplus food commodities to the disadvantaged of Seminole County Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at three sites in the county.

Kay Merrill, director of marketing and public relations for the Central Florida Chapter, American Red Cross, said at least butter and cheese, but probably other commodities as well, will be distributed Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the county Agricultural Center, 4320 S. Orlando Drive, Sanford, for residents of Lake Mary (Zip Code 32746), the Springs (32779), Sanford (32771) and Lake Monroe (32747).

On Thursday, food will be distributed from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Altamonte Chapel, 825 state Road 436, across the street from the United Telephone Co. office in Altamonte Springs, for residents who live in Altamonte Springs (32701), Casselberry (32707), Winter Springs (32708), Forest City (32714), Fern Park (32730), Goldenrod (32733), Longwood (32750), and for those who live in Seminole County but have a Maitland (32751), Winter Park (32792) or Apopka (32703) mailing address.

On Friday, food will be distributed from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the First Baptist Church on Lake Mills Drive, Chuluota, for those who live in Geneva (32732), Oviedo (32765) and Chuluota (32766).

The Red Cross emphasizes that persons must pick up their food at the sites listed for their areas.

Lake Mary Water Rates Going Up?

Lake Mary residents could be paying more for their water after Thursday's City Commission meeting.

Commissioners, acting on the recommendation of the city's engineering firm of Camp, Dresser and McKee, has proposed a rate hike on bills and other water fees.

City Manager Kathy Rice said the basic water bill, which is the charge for the required 3,000-gallon minimum consumption, would jump $1.19 a month, from $4.60 to $5.79.

The fee to have water turned off or on will also cost residents more if the proposal is passed. Mrs. Rice said the fee would double from $5 to $10.

Meter inspections and house connection deposits are included in the rate hike plan. Residents wanting meter inspections will have to shell out $23 instead of the current $12. Homeowners wanting to hook up to the city's water lines will have to pay a $25 deposit, and commercial building owners will have to pay $50.

"That's just so if a commercial developer leaves town without paying their water bill, we'll have enough money to pay their bill," Mrs. Rice said.

At least three of the five commissioners say they support the rate hikes, making passage appear likely.

Commissioner Russ Megonegal said the increases are needed to pay for the city's proposed water plant, which is to be built some time after the first of the year.

"We're not trying to raise rates drastically," Megonegal said, adding that they were being increased only

Unique In The Universe? Photos Indicate We're Not

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Astronomers have their first photographic evidence of another solar system, and say it shows our own system is not unique in the universe.

Dr. Bradford Smith, of the University of Arizona, said Monday the photographs reveal a vast swarm of solid particles that form a disk 40 billion miles in diameter around Beta Pictoris, a star about 293 trillion miles from Earth.

Smith and others detected the first evidence of the disk earlier this year from data sent by the IRAS satellite. The photographs were made with a 100-inch telescope in Chile.

"The indications are fairly good we are seeing another solar system, although we can't actually prove there are planets around this star," Smith said.

Smith, who teamed with

Richard Terrile of NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, said the significance of the discovery is partly "philosophical."

"It shows our own solar system is not unique," he said. "There are many who believe that the fact that our sun has planets around is some strange thing that happened. What we now know is that there is another example of it and there are good indications there are many, many more."

"Other solar systems exist and other planets, and if one wants to extrapolate that, that other life exists."

The particles that compose the disk, ranging from tiny grains to chunks a few miles across, are probably made of ices, silicates and organic compounds — the same materials that compose the planets of our solar system, he said.

Duarte, Rebels Set 'Timetable For Peace'

LA PALMA, El Salvador (UPI) — President Jose Napoleon Duarte said today his government and rebel leaders "established our own timetable for peace" in their historic talks to end the nation's five-year civil war.

Duarte met with rebel leaders for 4½ hours Monday inside the Catholic church in the town of La Palma, 43 miles north of San Salvador. At one point hundreds of peasants chanted, "We want peace, we want peace."

The president called on the rebels to lay down their arms in return for amnesty and a chance to participate in the country's political life.

After the meeting, Salvadoran Archbishop Arturo Rivera y Damas read a joint statement, saying the two sides agreed to form a commission of four members each, along with a still unnamed Catholic bishop who would serve as moderator in ongoing peace negotiations. Another meeting was scheduled for November.

Interviewed by ABC News Nightline today, Duarte called the meeting "a sincere dialogue," and said he was "very much impressed with the expressions of the commanders of the guerrillas, that they were sincerely accepting that there has been a change in the country."

"I think we have established our own timetable for peace and all I'm doing is trying to gain the space to attain the priorities I have set for my people," Duarte said in a telephone interview. "The people want peace and that is why I feel confident we are going to get it."

An estimated 50,000 people have been killed over the past five years in the country's guerrilla war.

The joint statement issued after Monday's meeting said the five government and six rebel negotiators agreed "to deal with all aspects that lead to the achievement of peace in the shortest time possible."

The next meeting in the peace process will be held "during the last two weeks of November at a time and place to be decided," the bishop said.

"We believe it was not possible in only one meeting to firm up all aspects," Duarte told a cheering crowd as he left the small church. "But we are ready to work ... with a serious document that gives hope of peace."

Nowhere in the accord was there mention of forming a coalition government with the guerrillas, which the rebels previously demanded.

O'Connor Calls On Doctors To Stop Performing Abortions

NEW YORK (UPI) — Archbishop John O'Connor, who has triggered much of the debate over politics and religion, has asked political candidates to work for laws outlawing abortion and called on doctors to stop performing them.

The New York archbishop Monday told a group of doctors, medical students and hospital personnel at Cathedral High School in Manhattan, "I appeal particularly to you in the medical profession. The overwhelming number of the 4,000 abortions carried out every day are carried out by members of the medical profession. What enormous power is yours. What leadership for life you could provide."

In a speech at the University of Notre Dame last month, New York Gov. Mario Cuomo defended Catholic politicians who supported women's right to abortion and said they could not impose their religious beliefs on others.

O'Connor's speech was billed as his answer to Cuomo and much of it was directed at politicians.

"What do we ask of a candidate or someone already in office? Nothing more than this: a statement opposing abortion on demand and a commitment to work for a modification of the permissive interpretations issue on the subject by the Supreme Court," he said.

Great Balls Of Fire!

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Rock 'n' roller Jerry Lee Lewis hobbled into federal court on a cane and was told his 1975-1980 income tax bill was $1,155,111 — nearly $150,000 more than he earned during that period.

The piano-pounding singer, prosecutors charged Monday in the opening day of Lewis' tax evasion trial, tried to dodge federal taxes by hiding cars, homes and other assets in other people's names.

Defense attorney Bill Clifton denied the charge. He blamed Lewis' problems with the Internal Revenue Service on the entertainer's lack of business sense and a change in managers.

Prosecutors released documents showing Lewis earned $1,007,000 from 1975 through 1980 and claimed he should have paid $699,830 in taxes. But the IRS said penalties and interest on the unpaid taxes had pushed Lewis' tax debt to $1,155,111.

Hepatitis Outbreak Kills No. 7

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI) — Federal researchers are battling the largest and deadliest outbreak of hepatitis in U.S. history, an outbreak that already has killed seven and is infecting two to three people a week.

The outbreak, which has been reported in Worcester in the past year, Worcester, which has a population of about 182,000, normally has about 15 cases in a year and the normal mortality rate is one in 500 cases.

The high incidence and high death rate prompted officials to offer 2½ weeks of free vaccination clinics last month for drug users and their sexual partners, who are considered most susceptible. About 400 people participated in the clinics, the first ever attempted. Of those, about 200 participants were vaccinated.

Invalid's Death Prompts Emergency Procedures Probe

MIAMI (UPI) — Authorities tried to determine today whether a 28-year-old woman died because calls to the 911 emergency number and an ambulance firm failed to bring anyone to her rescue.

Dorothy Robinson, 28, an invalid, writhed in pain last week as a Dade County housing security guard twice called the 911 number asking for help after being alerted by Robinson's frightened daughters, ages 6 and 7.

After being refused help from emergency dispatch personnel, the guard called Randle Eastern Ambulance, seeking assistance. No one responded.

The cause of Robinson's death has not yet been determined by the county medical examiner's office, and it is not known whether immediate medical attention could have saved her life.

Killers Saved From Chair

STARKE (UPI) — Two murderers reprieved hours before they were scheduled for execution were back in their regular Death Row cells today, awaiting possible future appointments with Florida's electric chair.

Charles Kenneth Foster, 37, convicted of slaying an older man to death, and Frank Elijah Smith Jr., 28, one of two men condemned for raping and murdering a 19-year-old store clerk, both were granted indefinite stays of execution by federal judges Monday afternoon. The men, who were scheduled to die at 7 a.m. today, immediately were moved from special holding cells located about 30 feet from Florida's oaken, three-legged electric chair.

Lawyers for Smith and prosecutors were given until Oct. 26 to file additional briefs in the case.

Two other men, Timothy Charles Palmes, 37, and Chester Levon Maxwell, 29, are scheduled to die in Florida's electric chair Nov. 7. Nine men have been executed in Florida since May 1979, seven of them this year.

Many Drunk Drivers Are Repeaters

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal study shows a significant share of convicted drunken drivers are repeat offenders, prompting a top safety official to warn the nation is losing the battle against its "No. 1 public safety and health problem."

Jim Burnett, chairman of the National Transportation Safety Board, told a news conference Monday the study produced "startling indicators" about drunken driving, including the evidence that nearly one of three convictions last year on the charge involved repeat offenders.

"It's an alarming number," Burnett said. "Our system in dealing with drunken driving is not an efficient one. This is the No. 1 public safety and health problem in the nation."

In undertaking the study, the safety board investigated 51 accidents involving drunken drivers. Forty-five of the 51 were fatal accidents involving 73 deaths.

The study said the 51 accidents involved 56 drunken drivers. In most cases, they were two-car crashes, and the prior records of the 56 drivers showed at least 131 previous arrests and 93 convictions.

Federal statistics released earlier showed there were 38,000 fatal auto accidents last year resulting in the deaths of 42,600 people. About 65 percent of the fatal accidents were alcohol-related.

As a result of the new study, the independent federal agency recommended that states not allow assignment to treatment programs to replace license revocation or suspension for convictions.

It also urged that records of alcohol-related traffic offenses committed by juvenile offenders be carried into adulthood and that such records be given to judges before sentencing.

"Many drunken drivers persist in their behavior (because) they believe there is a low risk of their arrest and penalty," the study said. It said that while "intoxicated arrests have increased steadily for many years," the chance of being arrested "is relatively low, somewhere between 1 in 200 drunken drivers and 1 in 2,000."

The study said most drunken drivers who go to jail serve less than a year in jail, few of which offer alcohol treatment services.

"Post-incarceration treatment for alcohol is essential to enable a successful recovery from problem drinking for jail and prison inmates," it said. "This could be provided by imposing a post-incarceration period of conditional probation requiring successful completion of a treatment program."

Supreme Court Accepts Another Nativity Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court has added another religion controversy to its docket, agreeing to rule if a Nativity scene standing in a town square at Christmas violates the constitutional separation of church and state.

The justices accepted an appeal Monday from town officials of Scarsdale, N.Y., who have been ordered by a federal appeals court to approve a permit for a creche that would be erected each December in a town park.

Earlier this year, the high court voted 5-4 to allow Pawtucket, R.I., officials to support the display of a creche along with Santa Claus and his reindeer, ruling the complete display had a "secular" purpose.

In the Scarsdale case, the display would be just that of a Nativity scene. The problem the court must now wrestle with was predicted by Justice William Brennan when he dissented in the Pawtucket case. He asked whether "absent such secular symbols as Santa Claus house, a talking wishing well ... a similar Nativity scene would pass (constitutional) muster."

Scarsdale city officials said the appeals court order "leaves no room in which local officials may accommodate conflicting views of their residents on acceptable uses of shared property for sectarian or partisan structures or symbols."

Four votes are necessary for the court to hear a case. Presumably the four dissenters in the Pawtucket case provided those votes, but a justice from the majority must be convinced that the creche standing alone has a strictly religious purpose for the town officials to win the case.

Other church-state issues before the court this year include whether to approve a minute of silent prayer or meditation at school; whether public school teachers may teach in private and parochial school classrooms; and if a state may protect citizens from being forced to work on their Sabbath.

The Scarsdale case went to court when the town board of trustees voted against allowing the creche to be erected in the village circle in 1981, 1982 and 1983. A creche had been displayed at Boniface Circle, a village-owned park in the center of the business district of the 17,000-resident village in Westchester, N.Y., since 1957.

The Scarsdale Creche Committee, composed of local Catholic and Protestant churches, maintains and displays the 8-foot tall creche with private funds. The display has nine wooden figures depicting the birth of Christ.

Controversy over the creche began in the 1960s and, in 1976, five churches responded by offering to display the creche on their property. Their offer was rejected and the city subsequently denied a permit.

A federal court held on Dec. 17, 1983 that the creche was a religious symbol and Scarsdale properly denied the request for its display, but last August, the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the decision, citing the ruling in the Pawtucket case as a precedent.

Village trustees, appealing to the Supreme Court, said "if the Court of Appeals is correct ... it justifies sojourns on public sites of hated symbols — swastikas, burning crosses, vulgar political signs — not less than agreeable ones."

Rostow Supports Westmoreland In Libel Suit

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gen. William Westmoreland told President Lyndon Johnson in 1967 the Vietnam War would last at least five more years if American troop strength was not increased and about two years if he was allocated 200,000 more troops.

Johnson's national security adviser Walt Rostow, testifying Monday at Westmoreland's $120 million libel trial against CBS, denied the network's account of a 1967 White House meeting where the general was quoted as saying the United States was winning the war.

Rostow testified that Westmoreland said at the meeting the war would last another five years at the current attrition rate but would last "probably only two years with greater forces."

Westmoreland sought another 200,000 men.

In most of Monday's testimony, Westmoreland's attorney, Dan Burt, focused on the meeting in the White House Cabinet Room. He read from the transcript of the program where CBS correspondent Mike Wallace, described the meeting:

"The Viet Cong's army, he (Westmoreland) said, had leveled off at 285,000 men. And best of all, he told the president (Johnson), the long awaited cross-over point had been reached.

"We were now killing or capturing Viet Cong at a rate faster than they could be put back in the field. We were winning the war of attrition."

Burt asked Rostow if Wallace's comments were true.

"Not in my memory," said Rostow, now a professor at the University of Texas in Austin.

Immediately after the testimony, Wallace, co-defendant with CBS producer George Crile and former CIA analyst Samuel Adams, a paid CBS consultant, brought to members of the press the transcript of an unaltered interview with Westmoreland.

"See, right there," said Wallace pointing to the section in the transcript where he asked Westmoreland about troop strength.

"I ask him 'isn't that a fact?' (referring to the 285,000 number) and he (Westmoreland) answered 'yes,'" Wallace said.

Tacked Onto Existing Life Sentence

Child Molester Gets Another 15 Years

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford man was found guilty today of violating his probation for the lewd and lascivious assault of a Sanford girl, and received a 15-year sentence which was tacked onto a previously-imposed life sentence for child rape.

Clifford Milliken Jr., 58, of 1201 1/2 Magnolia Ave., received the sentence from Retired Circuit Judge Humes T. Lasher who gave Milliken three consecutive 5-year sentences for violating three previous convictions.

If the 60-year-old Milliken manages to complete his life term in 25 years then serves the violation of probation sentences, he will be 100 years old when released from prison.

The violation of probation sentence stems from an Oct. 3 conviction for sodomizing a 6½-year-old Sanford boy. During trial, the child's testimony was presented on videotape, a first in Seminole County.

Conviction in that case violated a condition of his probation not to break the law or have any contact with children.

In the case, Milliken received an immediate sentence of life in prison with 25 years to serve before the possibility of parole. His lawyer, Vaughn Bennan, has said Milliken, who has a 20-year history of lewd behavior involving children, will appeal the conviction.

The probation violation is related to a 1980 incident that netted Milliken a 100-year sentence in 1982 for the rape and sexual battery of an 11-year-old girl.

However, because of a technical mistake by the prosecuting state attorney, who is no longer with the office, the 5th District Court of Appeals overturned the conviction in 1982 and Milliken pleaded guilty to four lesser counts of lewd and lascivious assault and was sentenced to four concurrent 15-year sentences.

The sentence was later reduced to 7½ years so he could participate in the state's mentally disordered sex offenders program. He refused to enroll in the program, however, but still got out untreated Feb. 24 after serving 3½ years.

He was arrested April 17 for the assault on the boy.

Iraq Strikes Again In Persian Gulf Tanker War

ABU DHABI, United Arab Emirates (UPI) — Iraqi warplanes attacked a "large naval target" south of Iran's main oil terminal in the fourth such air strike this week in the Persian Gulf "tanker war," an Iraqi military official said.

The Iraqi claim of a hit on an unidentified vessel Monday could not immediately be confirmed.

Some 45 commercial vessels, which Baghdad usually terms "large naval targets," have been attacked this year in the so-called tanker war, an expansion of hostilities in the Iran-Iraq war that erupted in September 1980.

The spokesman warned Baghdad would continue to attack vessels in the "prohibited zone" it has declared around Iran's oil terminals in an effort to cut the flow of oil Tehran uses to finance its war effort.

Black Bishop Wins Nobel

OSLO, Norway (UPI) — Black Anglican Bishop Desmond Tutu, a passionate but peaceful crusader against South Africa's racial segregation system, won the 1984 Nobel Peace Prize, the Norwegian Nobel Committee announced today.

"The committee has attached importance to Desmond Tutu's role as a unifying leading figure in the campaign to resolve the problems of apartheid in South Africa," the Nobel committee said in a statement.

Tutu, 53, was honored for his campaign against the apartheid system of racial segregation, 20 years after slain civil rights leader Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. won the Nobel Peace Prize.

Ferry Sinks; 200 May Be Dead

DHAKA, Bangladesh (UPI) — A 70-seat ferry carrying about 490 people sank in a Bangladesh river today and authorities feared at least 200 passengers drowned.

An official said 30 bodies had been recovered and local boats rescued "a few dozen people" from the swirling Brahmaputra River in Tarakindi, 140 miles northwest of Dhaka.

The ferry, with a capacity of seating 70 passengers, was carrying about 490 people when it sank early Tuesday, local press reports said.

No other details were immediately available.

Pope OKs Return To Latin Mass

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Two decades after the Roman Catholic Church eliminated a mass using a 16th-century Latin liturgy, Pope John Paul II has decided to allow its return in a limited number of cases.

In making the announcement Monday, the Vatican ensured there would be no wholesale return to the old mass by imposing a set of strict conditions on local bishops whose permission must be granted for such services.

I-4 Rest Areas To Open Near SR 434 Exits Today

LONGWOOD — The Richey Green rest areas on Interstate 4 near Longwood were scheduled to open at 1 p.m. today, according to C.A. Benedict, District Engineer for the Florida Department of Transportation.

The rest areas, just north of the I-4 interchange with state Road 434 are named after Richey Green, Fifth District Engineer from Jan. 15, 1953 until his death in 1968. The Florida legislature made the designation in 1967.

The facilities were built under contract by two Orlando firms. Southland Construction Co. built the restrooms and picnic facilities at both rest areas for $1,082,207. Hubbard Construction was paid $1,086,462 for site preparation and construction of the entrance roads and parking areas.

The westbound rest area is .8 mile north of the SR 434 interchange. Jones Brothers Maintenance of Orlando will provide maintenance service at the rest areas and will have attendants on duty 24 hours a day.

Prior to serving as District Engineer Green was assigned as engineer for urban projects in Jacksonville in 1949 where he organized and began construction of the Jacksonville expressway system.

The Matthews Bridge and Fuller Warren Bridge in Jacksonville were built under his supervision.

The county personnel office said he has about 18 days — 145 hours — leave coming to him.

While he refused to disclose the name of the company for which he will be working, he said it is an engineering firm, headquartered in Orlando, and that he will have general manager type duties there. "We are wrapping up final details on the job now," Rose said.

"Ironically, immediate past county administrator, Roger Neiswander, after his resignation two years ago, went to work managing a planning and engineering firm in Orlando. Neiswander has performed consultant duties for the county in several studies.

Mrs. Anderson has been handling her job as budget director as well as filling in as acting assistant county administrator without title for some weeks.

The commissioners delayed hiring a new assistant county administrator after former assistant Jim Easton resigned to go into the private sector early in the summer. The commissioners delayed action pending a management study of the county due for a final report in January.

When Mrs. Glenn made the motion in July, which died for lack of a second, to fire Rose, she urged her colleagues to name Hooper acting administrator while a replacement was sought for Rose.

Monday afternoon, Mrs. Glenn said she sees no problem with following Rose's recommendation for Hooper to become acting county administrator and Mrs. Anderson acting assistant county administrator.

Meanwhile, three county staff members, in addition to Mrs. Anderson, earlier applied for the assistant county administrator's post. They are John Percy, director of public services and development; Woody Price, county planner; and David Hotary, director of central services.

Rose, 38, said he will commute to his new job, and he and his wife, Linda, plan to keep their home in Lake Mary.

Asked what he would tell a prospective replacement were the good points about the county administrator's job, Rose listed the "tremendous amount of potential in the community, the good people on staff and in the community; the excitement related to growth issues, and how to manage the growth and create a community where all of us want to reside."

He sidestepped, however, a question about the bad points of the job.

Rose said, the county commission, while a good one, "has got to make sure, as any board or city council would, that there is a marriage between the role and responsibilities of a county administrator with needs and wants of the county commission."

Misbehaving Moore Pleads Guilty To Robbery And Jailhouse Assault

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford man who caused a mistrial by his courtroom behavior and subsequent scuffle with Seminole County sheriff's deputies in the presence of a jury has pleaded guilty to robbery and assault.

Harold Moore, 30, of 2561 Crawford Road, entered the plea Monday before Seminole Circuit Judge Robert McGregor who set Dec. 25 for sentencing. Moore could receive up to 5 1/2 years in prison.

On Sept. 18, Moore's trial for a 1982 robbery had just begun when McGregor asked Moore if he chose to wear his prison garb to trial rather than changing into civilian clothes which is customary. McGregor asked the question to determine if anyone was trying to influence the jury by denying Moore civilian clothes to wear.

According to courtroom witnesses, Moore, who insisted on wearing his prison clothes, became verbally abusive by shouting obscenities at the judge and ripped open his prison-issued shirt. Moore reportedly spit and laid on the defense table and tried to take his pants off.

Moore was handcuffed by deputies after the disturbance and removed from the courtroom and the trial temporarily stopped.

After trial resumed an hour later, Moore, still handcuffed, refused to sit down with Public Defender Don West who Moore did not want for a defense counsel. Moore reportedly shoved the large defense table then rounded it heading towards McGregor's bench. Moore was grabbed by the handcuffs by a deputy, dragged to the floor and held on the courtroom carpet by four deputies who shackled him and then handcuffed him to a chair.

McGregor then declared a mistrial. Besides the two-year old robbery, Moore pleaded guilty to a June 18 assault in the Seminole County jail.

In that incident, Robert Walter Govern, 36, of 240 Tresmen Drive, Winter Park, told a sheriff's deputy that Moore became violent and verbally abusive when he would not let him go ahead of him in a supper line at the jail. Moore reportedly punched Govern, hit him in the head with a telephone and beat him with a broken mop handle.

Govern received a black eye and cuts in the fight, a sheriff's report said.

Ms. Merrill said, although other foods are expected to be available from the Tampa distribution center, information is not available on any except butter and cheese.

In the past, the food commodities distributed have also included honey, flour, corn meal and dried milk.

Food recipients are asked to bring proof of identification and the eligibility card given to them at the time of enrollment in the surplus food program. Those who have not enrolled, but believe they are eligible, may enroll at their Zip Code distribution site and receive food on the same day, said Ms. Merrill.

Eligibility will be determined by documents which applicants are asked to bring with them: letter of decision from the food stamp program, Medicaid card for SSI or AFDC recipients or declaration of self need.

Those who fit within the following income guidelines may be eligible: a household of one, earning a maximum $540 per month; household of 2, $728 per month; 3, $917 per month; 4, $1,105 per month; 5, $1,294; 6, $1,482; 7, $1,671; and 8, $1,859.

enough to pay for the plant.

Megonegal and fellow commissioner Harry Terry say they favor the rate hikes and feel their colleagues do as well.

"It's not very much and they are probably for it because we need a new water plant," Terry said.

In addition to voting on the rate increase, Mrs. Rice said the commissioners will also try to amend the city's ordinance regarding garbage collection. The commission wants the authority to review the rates of the four garbage companies currently serving the city.

Garbage service in Lake Mary has been based on free enterprise, Mrs. Rice said, with all four companies charging the same rate of $8 a month. But there have been complaints about service and city commissioners want to have a say about how citizens are served, she said.

Both measures will be discussed when the commission convenes Thursday at 7 p.m. at City Hall, 158 N. Country Club Road.

Lawman Fishes Up Suspected Net Thief

A Sanford man caught fishing with the wrong gear has been netted by the law and was being held today in the Seminole County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond on a grand theft charge.

The trouble began on Sept. 14 when Ray Coniglio discovered that three of his $125 fishing nets were missing from the St. John's River in the unincorporated area of the county. He reported the theft to state Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission officer Jesse Baker on Oct. 2 and told Baker that his nets had identifying knots cut in their frames and a distinctive green coating.

On Oct. 5, Coniglio reported to Baker that he had spotted one of his marked nets around a curve in the river from where his nets were stolen near Brickyard Slough, according to an arrest report.

Baker staked out the area on Oct. 10 and reported seeing a suspect pull the net and empty the catch into his boat. The same thing happened Monday and Baker moved in and made the arrest.

The suspect reportedly claimed he had found the net and had taken it to use to replace a net he had lost to a thief. Baker checked the other nets belonging to the suspect, but none were Coniglio's, his Raymond Thomas Hall Jr., of east State Road 46, was arrested at the river at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

GUNMEN NABBED

Two Apopka men who were caught sleeping with their firearms in their hands after they allegedly threatened to shoot a Seminole County convenience store clerk were charged with reckless display of firearms.

A clerk at Handy Way on state Road 46 near the Wekiva River Bridge reported to deputies that on Saturday morning one of two men who were camping near the bridge had pointed a rifle at his head and threatened to shoot him. The man also reportedly said he "would shoot any cop who came to the bridge."

The clerk refused to file charges against the men, but two deputies arrested them on the gun charge after they found them asleep on the river bank with their weapons in their hands.

John W. Ratliff Jr., 22, of Rocksprings Road, and David Keith Fothering, 20, of 22 Dottie St., were arrested at about 5:15 a.m. Saturday. They were released on $300 bond each and are scheduled to appear in court Oct. 24.

MULES MISSING

Louis Pacella, 16, searched all day Saturday for his two missing mules. When they didn't turn up he reported their theft to sheriff's deputies Sunday.

The two brown beasts, one which is one year old and the other 18 months, were taken from a corral behind Pacella's home at 1740 Sunwood Drive, Longwood.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Robert Henry Carroll, 27, of Orlando, was arrested at 2:20 a.m. Sunday after his car failed to maintain a single lane on state Road 436, Casselberry. Casselberry police also charged him with possession of over 20 grams of marijuana after they reportedly found four bags of pot in his car. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

—Jere Mitchell Pearson, 20, of 1411 Elard mark Lane, Casselberry, at 4 p.m. Sunday at the Seminole County jail on a warrant.

—Gregory Spencer Motley, 25, of Orlando, at 9:40 a.m. Saturday after his car was seen traveling at 75 mph on Interstate 4, Lake Mary.

—Donald W. Hoffman Sr., 42, of 519 Willshire Drive, Casselberry, at 11:30 p.m. Saturday after his car failed to maintain a single lane on U.S. Highway 17-92 at state road 436, Casselberry.

—John Louis McMullen, 30, of Route 3, Box 564, Sanford, at about 2:10 a.m. Sunday after his jeep failed to maintain a single lane on U.S. Highway 17-92 at state road 436, Casselberry.

FIRE CALLS

The Sanford Fire Department responded to the following calls.

Monday

—1:12 a.m., William Clark Court, rescue. A 38-year-old woman was treated for a headache after she got into a fight at a bar.

—6:45 a.m., 519 E. First St., rescue. A woman of unknown age who had difficulty breathing was taken to the hospital.

—7:04 a.m., 105 W. Airport Blvd., rescue. A 58-year-old man who had a heart attack was taken to the hospital.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: A wintry storm from New Mexico to Montana dumped up to 14 inches of snow in the Rockies, brought traffic to a halt across northern New Mexico and advanced the Colorado ski season more than a month.

Snow fell today from eastern Montana and western North Dakota through Wyoming, Colorado, western Kansas, the Oklahoma panhandle and New Mexico, with cold rain falling east of the snow belt. A tornado watch was posted over portions of Missouri, Oklahoma and Arkansas. More snow fell across the mountains of Oregon and a winter storm watch covered the Northern California Shasta-Siskiyou area. Investigators blamed the storm for the crash of a private plane Monday in Colorado, killing two people.

AREA FORECAST: Mostly

Ueberroth Likes Umps, Rules In Their Favor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Finally, someone has admitted he likes umpires. And much to the delight of the men in blue, it's Baseball Commissioner Peter Ueberroth.

Ueberroth, citing umpires as an "integral part" of baseball, Monday ruled in their favor over a contract dispute that sidelined them through most of the league playoffs.

"These 60 men are the best in their profession and have paid their dues with many years of hard work and training in amateur baseball and the minor leagues," Ueberroth said in a statement. "They should be recognized accordingly."

In his first significant ruling since he assumed the commissioner's post Oct. 1, Ueberroth listened in the final offers of the leagues and the umpires in the binding arbitration before ruling. The leagues were represented by their presidents. Bobby Brown of the AL and Chub Feeney of the NL. Richte Phillips, general counsel for the umpires' union, represented the umpires.

"The umpires are an integral part of major-league baseball," the commissioner said. "They are important to the fans, players and all of organized baseball."

He agreed to arbitrate Oct. 7 at the request of the two parties to resolve the dispute and return the umpires to the field. The AL umpires missed the entire playoffs and the NL umpires missed all but Game 5 of the Chicago-San Diego series.

Crews made up of mostly amateurs worked the games.

IN BRIEF

Montreal's Old-Young Mix Dissolves Philadelphia, 5-2

MONTREAL (UPI) — Some would agree that the old folks and the young have a certain chemistry that makes them compatible in spite of the generation gap.

Veteran Montreal Canadiens captain Bob Gainey discovered that chemistry Monday night and used it to dissolve the Philadelphia Flyers.

Rookie defenseman Chris Chelios and Tom Kurvers set up Gainey's first of two goals at 5:11 of the opening period and Chelios drew another assist on the left winger's second tally 1:41 later to spur the Canadiens to a 5-2 triumph over the Flyers.

Montreal scored on three of its first four shots in sending the Flyers to their second defeat in three starts.

"The last two games our team has started well," said Gainey, who was stopped cold from point blank range by Flyers goalie Pelle Lindbergh on what would have been his third goal.

Landry: White Or Hogeboom?

DALLAS (UPI) — The Dallas Cowboys are not accustomed to teetering just above the .500 mark almost halfway through the season, but the evidence thus far this season indicates they had better get used to it.

Coach Tom Landry now must decide whether a change at quarterback would make any difference, and he has apparently not yet made that decision.

With Gary Hogeboom in his first year as starter, the Cowboys' offense has taken most of the season off. But, as Landry has often mentioned, Dallas' offensive line has been riddled by injuries and the receiving corps has undergone an overhaul since last season.

Nevertheless, deposed starter Danny White has entered the two most recent Dallas games (losses to St. Louis and Washington) and has directed the team to a score.

Two critical mistakes by Hogeboom in the Washington game cost Dallas early momentum and started the Cowboys to a 34-14 setback, leaving their record at 4-3.

An anonymous poll of players taken during the off-season and published in a local newspaper indicated the vast majority of them wanted Hogeboom as starter.

Furman's Norris Tops Southern

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Furman's Jerome Norris is the Southern Conference's defensive player of the week for making two key interceptions in the Paladins' 28-18 victory over East Tennessee State.

Tailback Robert Surratt, who scored five times in Marshall's 35-7 win over Appalachian State, was named the conference's offensive player of the week Monday.

Norris' interception in the end zone with 6:19 left in the first half kept Furman in the game and he spurred a Paladins comeback with his third quarter interception. The sophomore from Anderson, S.C., also broke up a third East Tennessee pass and made six tackles.

Badenjek Is ACC's Best Player

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Maryland fullback Rick Badenjek, who scored three times in the Terps' 44-21 win over North Carolina State, is the Atlantic Coast Conference's offensive back of the week.

Georgia Tech guard Tony Kepano was named the league's offensive lineman of the week Monday for helping the Yellow Jackets' roll up 371 yards total offense in a 20-20 tie with Virginia.

On defense, Virginia tackle Ron Mattes was picked the ACC's lineman of the week and Wake Forest cornerback Rory Holt won the honor for backs.

40,000 Greet Padres' Return

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — An estimated crowd of 40,000 filled San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium Monday night to cheer the National League champion San Diego one more time.

The shirt-sleeve crowd clapped their hands and stamped their feet as marching bands played, break dancers broke and the Padres were paraded around the field in a fleet of vintage convertibles. An giant inflatable King Kong that once perched atop the Empire State Building peered over the centerfield scoreboard.

A massive four-screen television was set up in center field displaying a picture of Ray Kroc, the venerable owner of the Padres who died shortly before the season began.

The Padres had dedicated the 1984 season to Kroc, beloved by the fans as the man who kept the baseball team in San Diego. His statement, "Dreams can come true," became the Padres' motto as they closed in on their first championship ever.

waters is the withdrawal of Apopka from the conference. Apopka submitted a letter to the conference Monday night which said it is leaving the Five Star to join the Metro next year. Apopka said the realignment was the reason, according to Reynolds.

Although the consensus of opinion from the principals and the athletic directors was that the Five Star is on the ropes, Reynolds did say it might be time to explore the idea of a Seminole County Conference.

"With the way Oviedo is growing, I don't see why not," he said. "The Volusia County schools want to keep their rivalries, so I don't see why we can't just have our own conference in the county and keep the district separate."

Reynolds said the best gates (attendance) are when county teams play each other and determining a county championship would further help the interest.

Other alternatives considered during the meeting were a pullout from the FHSAA for the next two years by the Metro and Five Star conferences and a subsequent playoff between the three counties.

Reynolds said, however, that was unlikely because the Metro was pretty much in favor of the realignment (Kent voted for it) and it would "have a dramatic effect on the FHSAA if two of its major conferences pulled out."

The principals and athletic directors will meet again in December for a final decision.

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — The beer cars were very successful on Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway.

David Rogers, in the Wayne Densch Budweiser Firebird, won the late model feature in wire to wire fashion, with Lance Smith, driving the Bud Light Camaro, besting an extremely competitive field of street stocks.

A violent three-car crash in the first late model heat and a six-car pileup in the feature eliminated many of the super late models.

Finishing second to fifth were LeRoy Porter, Bruce Lawrence, Tom Fenn and Harold Johnson. Heat winners were Rogers and Buzzy Berry.

The fastest six qualifiers were inverted at the start of the thundercar feature, putting fifth fastest qualifier Milo Vidic on the outside of the front row.

At the green, Vidic moved up the hide from the rest of the field and led every lap to score a popular win. Second to fifth were Ted Richard, Ken Copley, John Cochran and high point man Mike Goldberg. Heat winners were Copley and Buddy Teed.

The top four cylinder finishers were Gene Van Alstine, Bill Martin, Jimmy Trevarthen, Richard Newton and Jerry Symons. Heat winners were Van Alstine and Earl Mark.

Byars Proves He Is Pretty Special

Football

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Ohio State coach Earle Bruce has been saying for nearly three years now that Keith Byars, the Buckeyes' 6-foot-2, 232-pound junior fullback, is something special. Now, maybe some of those people who weren't listening before will start paying attention.

"I know one thing," Bruce told his weekly press luncheon Monday, "you're never going to see a better running back than you saw last Saturday. You won't see a better running back ever. Because he is something."

"We've got a little saying. 'When he's even with you, he's leaving you.' And he was leaving them. He does something with the football. He made a lot of nice cuts."

Bruce was asked if Byars, who runs the 40-yard dash in 4.5 seconds, had ever been clocked for 100 yards.

"I don't think that's his race," replied Bruce. "His race is when he has the football under his arm and someone's chasing him. That's the race. He's just as fast as he has to be under those circumstances and that is something."

Byars rushed for an OSU record 274 yards and scored five touchdowns against Illinois as Ohio State battled back from a 24-0 deficit for a 45-38 victory.

One of Byars' TDs was a 67-yarder, in which he ran away from Illinois defenders after losing a shoe near the 40-yard line. He also scored the winning TD on a 3-yard run with 36 seconds left in the game.

Bruce said Michigan State, this week's opponent, "is a strong defensive football team with a great kicking game."

"That's been a tradition at Michigan State for many, many years," Bruce said. "They are an experienced defensive football team and we're an experienced offensive football team. We're a young defensive football team and they're a young offensive team. We're developing a good kicking game with our young people and I think they have one in their great kicker and punter (Ralf) Mojslejenko. Boy, he's a real fine kicker and punter.

"George Perles can be really proud of his efforts up at Michigan State. He has done a real fine job of getting them back to good, solid football. What they do is very sound and they've got a good approach to the game of football."

Bruce said the Buckeye injury list following the victory over Illinois was a record high.

"It must have been a hard hitting game," Bruce said, "because it's the most people we've ever had in the training room and we've lost some football players."

Backup defensive backs Kelvin Bell (broken foot) and Jeff Cargile (sprained knee) will miss Saturday's game. Fullbacks Roman Bates and Barry Walker and inside linebacker Larry Kelle are listed as doubtful for Saturday.

Bruce said linebacker Chris Spielman and tight end Ed Taggart, both idled by injuries from previous games, will be held out another week.

AKERS' INTERFERENCE

AUSTIN, Texas (UPI) — While refusing to criticize the officials, Texas coach Fred Akers said Oklahoma should have been called for pass interference on the play before the Longhorns kicked a game-winning field goal to gain a 15-10 tie.

"Without question, there was pass interference, but not on you're thinking about," he said Monday. "They interfered with our intended receiver, who was (tight end) William Harris."

Akers said the interference call would have given Texas a first down at the Oklahoma 2-yard line, possibly setting up a winning touchdown.

But, trailing 15-12 and out of timeouts, the Longhorns had to settle for a 32-yard field goal as time ran out at the rain-drenched Cotton Bowl Saturday.

Don't Link True Fans With Detroit Vandals

DETROIT (UPI) — A World Series celebration sent the Renaissance City back to the Dark Ages.

After the Tigers concluded the World Series in five games with an 8-4 victory over the San Diego Padres Sunday, many visitors left Detroit with less regard for its fans than for its baseball team.

Actually, it's unfair to link true fans with an element that used baseball as an excuse for public drinking and vandalism.

As early as noon Sunday, two young men exited a downtown hotel holding beer cans and yelling Tiger slogans.

The real horror began the moment left fielder Larry Herndon caught the final out. Defying a plea from the public address announcer and rushing past assembled police, thousands of "fans" began tearing sod from the Tiger Stadium field.

Outside, things grew much worse. Smoke from fires and the sound of sirens filtered into the stadium long after the game had ended.

The pity is that the real Detroit fans are easily among the most knowledgeable in baseball. The mayhem will reflect poorly on the city, when in fact it has occurred elsewhere. Remember the attack dogs in Philadelphia in final game of the 1980 World Series?

Before next year's playoffs begin, Baseball Commissioner Peter Ueberroth should designate a group to study why some people celebrate a home run by overturning taxicabs.

The problem is not baseball's alone. But that won't matter next season if the victory celebration turns to tragedy. It was bad this year. And if not for the rain, it could have been much worse.

As for the Tigers, they face renewed challenge next year. For incentive, all they need do is look to last season, and see how fast teams can collapse.

The Baltimore Orioles finished fifth in the American League East this year after winning the 1983 World Series. The Chicago White Sox captured the AL West by 20 games last season then slumped to sixth place this year.

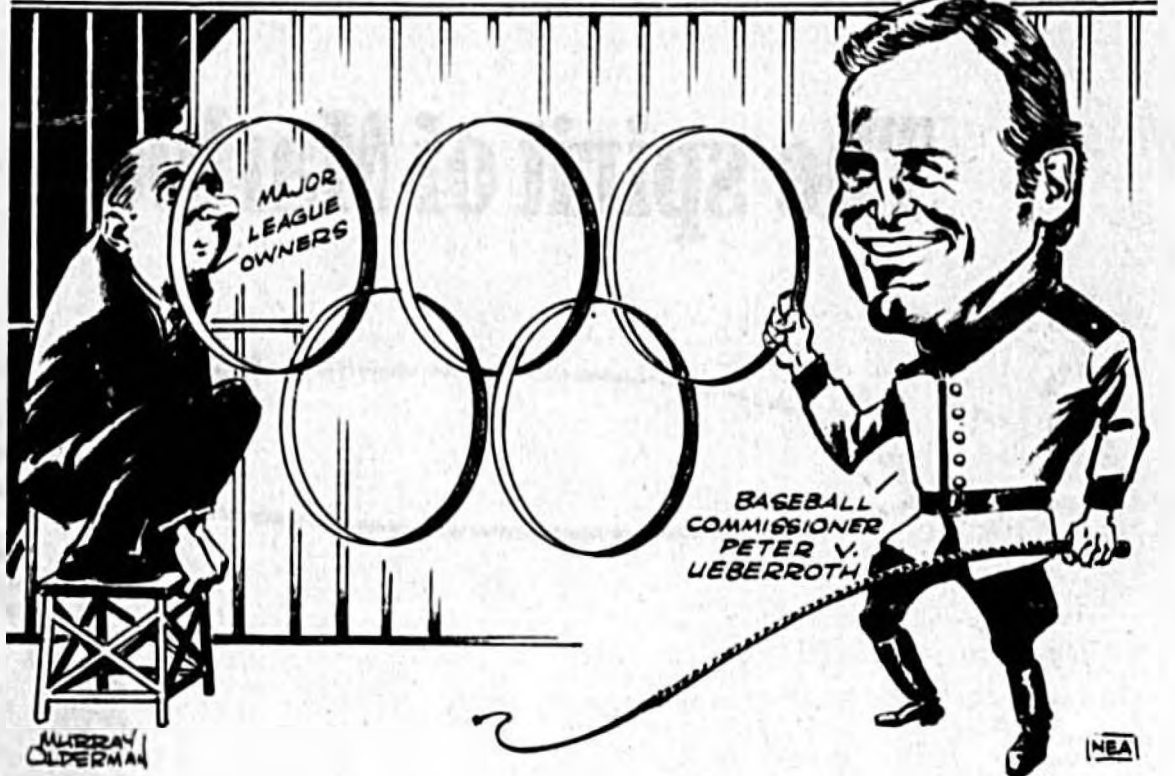

"I take one week off and then (team president) Jim Campbell, (general manager) Bill Lajoie and myself start working on next year," said Detroit manager Sparky Anderson. "We have the (free agent) draft in November and the (winter) meetings in December.

"We have good young talent. You always have to look ahead, but this team is great and will prove how great it is in the years to come."

The Tigers lost any chance to show exactly how strong they were when San Diego lost center fielder Kevin McReynolds to injury.

Without McReynolds, the

THE RINGMASTER

Padres used Bobby Brown in center field and he failed to contribute much until it was too late. It seemed that every time

San Diego mounted a threat, Brown was at the plate. Detroit is far from a complete team. It lacks left-handed starting pitching, and ace reliever Willie Hernandez can scarcely be expected to match his unflinching excellence of this season.

Sparky Can't Fool Wife, She Knew Series Wouldn't Go 7

DETROIT (UPI) — A man can fool all the people some of the time and some of the people all the time, but he can never fool his wife. She only lets him think he can.

Sparky Anderson had been going around telling everyone how the World Series was going to go seven games. He had gone on record with that before the Series started and repeated it when questioned about it again after his Detroit Tigers ballooned their lead to three games to one by beating the San Diego Padres in Saturday's contest.

Maybe the Tigers' bubbling, effervescent skipper was able to get some other people besides the Padres to believe him, but not his wife, Carol. She knows him better than anyone with the possible exception of his mother, Shirley.

Sparky's wife has been around baseball long enough to catch the drift of the way things are going, and the way the Tigers were going, she didn't put too much stock in her husband's seven-game prediction. She thought there was every chance the Tigers would wrap it all up in five Sunday, which they did with their 8-4 clincher over the Padres.

Sparky could read his wife's thoughts. He's an excellent reader anyway, but in this case, he had an pretty good headstart because he could tell she was thinking about getting him to retire, something the two of them have talked about more than once in the past.

Sparky Anderson's wife loves him. She knows baseball is his life, baseball and his family, and now that he's 50 and has one foot in heaven and the other in the Hall of Fame, she'd like to see him enjoy his family more.

The Tigers had a great season and they capped it all by helping Anderson become the only manager ever to win a World Series championship in both leagues, but she knows all the agony and anguish that goes with the job and she thought it might be as good a time as any for him to retire now.

"I know you want me to stop now," he told his wife before he left for work Sunday. "But I won't. I won't do it because I can't. A coward goes out when he wins. I'll go out when I lose."

That was all there was to it, and during the height of the Tigers' celebration in their clubhouse he mentioned how he's going to take a week off and then begin working on what the Tigers need next year with club president Jim Campbell and general manager Bill Lajoie.

By the same token, Anderson, whose present contract with the Tigers runs out at the end of 1986, dropped a couple of hints he might be getting a little weary of it all.

He led Cincinnati to World Series crowns over Boston in 1975 and the New York Yankees the following year, and the facts he now is the only manager ever to win championships in both leagues as well as the only one to win 100 or more games in one season with teams in both leagues didn't especially overwhelm him.

"One thing I know for sure," he pointed out in that connection. "They can never take that away from me."

"You know what I've been thinking about the last 10 days or so?" he went on. "I've been thinking about Lefty. He's the one who made all the things happen to me."

"Lefty" was Harold "Lefty" Phillips, the late one-time manager of the Los Angeles Angels, a man who encouraged Anderson and worked so hard with him teaching him everything he possibly could when Sparky was a kid growing up in California.

"I think about Lefty and I think about my Daddy. He died in May. If Papa were here in this clubhouse right now, he wouldn't say a word. He never said very much. It's hard to believe he'd have such a mouthy son as me, but he was so quiet. God, how I miss people like him and Lefty," Anderson said.

Sparky's eyes were starting to mist now and it wasn't from any of the champagne that was being squirted around.

Over and over again, the Tigers' white-haired little manager was asked to compare this Detroit club with his champion Cincinnati clubs, and usually he said he couldn't compare them.

Someone mentioned Cooperstown, the site of the Hall of Fame, to him, and Anderson said what he'd really like to do was have the names of Lefty Phillips and his father inscribed somewhere there for all they had done for him.

"What about yourself?" one radio man asked him. "You now have done what no other manager has."

Sparky shook his head. "I don't know if I'm gonna have enough games won when I leave," he said. "I'm 1,342 now (actually he has won 1,349) and I'll probably have something like 1,500 or 1,600 by the time I'm finished. I don't think that'll be enough. I'm not gonna make this a long drawn-out thing. If this team goes downhill for a couple of years, I'll walk away. I could walk away right now and get whatever I want. I'd never do that. That's not me."

Part of Sparky Anderson did go to Cooperstown Sunday.

Bill Guilloffe, associate director of the Hall of Fame, secured his cap to be exhibited there. He got Alan Trammell's bat also, the one the Tigers' shortstop used to hit two home runs with in Saturday's game, so that made him 2-for-2.

...Nelson

The Lady Seminoles, after losing three starters from the 1983 team, got off to a bad start in 1984 and, going into today's tri-match with Lake Howell and Apopka at Apopka, the Tribe has won just two matches (one by forfeit).

Although Seminole has had its problems this season, Nelson is not let down. She's always talking on the court, trying to fire up the Lady Seminoles and she continues to be one of the top players in the county.

"No matter where the ball is, she is," Corao said of Nelson. "She hustles after every ball and she has good quickness and is a smart player at the net."

While Seminole's hope for the regular season was dashed early, now it's shooting for the district tournament.

"We want to do well in the districts," Nelson said. "If we play like we can, we will do well. We're going to have to get our attack down and get our service in."

Nelson is hoping to play volleyball in college and two of her top choices thus far are Troy State (Alabama) University and Stetson University. "When I first started out (as a sophomore) my main goal was just to make the starting lineup," Nelson said. "Now my ultimate goal is to play college volleyball."

Volleyball is not the only activity at Seminole High Nelson is involved in. She also plays softball for the Lady Seminoles, is the President of the girls Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA), a member of the National Honor Society and the Drama Club. She maintains a 3.4 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

One thing her opponents might like to know, Nelson has been taking karate lessons the past eight years.

How does she find time for all of these activities — "I don't have a whole lot of free time...and I get very little sleep," she joked.

TONIGHT'S MATCHES
The Seminole-Lake Howell and Apopka tri-match starts at 4:30 p.m. at Apopka High. Lake Howell can clinch the Five Star Conference championship tonight with a victory over Apopka. The Lady Silver Hawks (8-3 overall) have a 7-1 conference mark and are tied with DeLand.

Christmas Fun Vs Funds

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: The holiday season is approaching, and with it approaches a five-year-old problem. Ever since my child was born, I have been asking my in-laws to refrain from buying him toys for Christmas. Every year my request has been ignored. Now we have two children, so the problem has doubled.

The in-laws say, "If we didn't buy toys for our grandchildren, it would take all the fun out of Christmas for us!" (What a selfish attitude!)

Abby, these people are in their early 50s and they have had fun for a lot of years. I've suggested that they give savings bonds plus one token toy. (We could use the money for the children's education.) I gave up a lucrative career to stay home and raise our children. My husband and I get by, but we worry about our children's college education, etc.

We live in an upper flat and have no room to store so many toys. When I see the amount of money tied up in this junk, I could cry. I'm not talking peanuts here — every year each child gets a minimum of $200 worth of toys! My husband is noncommittal because he doesn't want to hurt his parents' feelings.

How do I reach these people? I have told them firmly but nicely. I have pleaded with them. Nothing works. What now?

DEAR DREADING: You've told your in-laws how you feel, and they have told you how they feel.

I agree, it would be more practical for them to invest in your children's education, but that decision is not yours — it's theirs, so try to be a gracious loser.

DEAR ABBY: Before I've had a chance to read the newspaper, my scissors-happy wife cuts it up for items of interest and coupons.

I'm particularly annoyed when parts of "Dear Abby" are missing. Don't tell me to talk to her; I've done that, and it's like talking to the wall.

GETTING ULCERS

little guest towel laid out for that purpose.

Until I read it in your column, I did not know that those "pretty little guest towels" were put out for that purpose. I am serious. I'm 28 years old, no dummy (I'm an R.N.), but I was never taught by my parents or my grandma (who always had one lying out on the counter) that they were to be used. I always thought they were there for decoration. I assume that many others thought the same.

NOW A USER

DEAR USER: Be a "pusher," too. In your own home, use a guest towel and leave it conspicuously in view beside the unused guest towels. This will encourage others to do the same.

Green's House Of Beauty Is Complete Service Salon

Get up-to-date with Fall fashions, come to Green's House of Beauty, 1015 S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, for your new hairstyle. Located across the highway from G.D. Ritz's, Green's is a complete service unisex salon for the whole family.
 The owner, Ethel Green, opened the shop on July 9, after owning and operating a salon on Long Island, N.Y., for 29 years.
 With five talented operators experienced in caring for all types of hair, Green's especially caters to the particular hair problems of ethnic groups.
 For the convenience of Hispanic customers, Haydee Muniz is available to speak Spanish. Originally from Puerto Rico, she owned and operated a beauty salon in Chicago from 1964-1970. She specializes in Bath Protein for Zotos.
 Mary Gomez, formerly of Rod Lavender's salon and On Stage, specializes in sculptured nails and is a certified color analyst.
 Pearl La Beach, formerly at Freddie's, Orlando, has 17 years experience in hairstyling in Brooklyn, N.Y.
 Candace Harris, a recent beauty school graduate, is expert in the latest youthful styles.
 Green's offers complete professional hair analysis, high fashion styling, precision cuts, perms, and applies colors and rinses. They also relax and straighten the hair, press and curl the hair, and give manicures and pedicures.
 The shop is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday and on Thursday and Friday evenings by appointment.
 Walk-ins are welcome or for an appointment call 695-6699.

The Furniture House Has Second Anniversary Sale

The Furniture House at 1740 N. Highway 17-92, Longwood, is celebrating its second anniversary with a big anniversary sale that will last through Christmas. Owner Norma Mingo said she has had good business and made a lot of good friends during these two years and really appreciates her customers.

You can select Christmas gifts now and have them put in lay-away, so take advantage of the savings in new, choice used, and antique furniture.

Furniture House has seven rooms chock full of bargains and is conveniently located just south of the traffic light at the Five Points junction of State Road 419, County Road 427 and U.S. Highway 17-92.

"We buy, sell, trade and sell on consignment," said Norma, "and if we don't have it we'll find it for them."

Furniture House has living room, dining room and bedroom suites as well as occasional pieces, such as chairs, end tables, coffee tables, love seats, Hide-A-Beds, tea carts, curio and china cabinets and desk. She has oak and mahogany pieces.

Norma Mingo, owner of The Furniture House, and Edward Desmarais, manager.

Among the special items now in stock are a handsome drop-front secretary, a dropleaf Duncan Phyfe table and chair set, a bow front corner cabinet, ball and claw chairs, folding card table and chair set, and an old-fashioned vanity with mirror.

The have wicker and rattan furniture and patio furniture. Fixing up a nursery? They also carry baby furniture. They also have accessories such as antique clocks, mirrors, lamps, vases, paintings and framed prints. Norma even has Cabbage Patch Dolls.

They have a pick up and delivery service and accept Master Charge and Visa cards.

They are open seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. With quality merchandise and reasonable prices there is frequent turnover of the inventory, so come in often to see what's new.

Come Into Vacarro's World Of Dance & Performing Arts

Whether you want to become a ballerina, gain personal poise, take up gymnastics or brush up on your Texas Two-Step, just waltz in to Betty Vacarro's World of Dance and Performing Arts in Zayre's Shopping Center, Highway 17-92 and Airport Boulevard, Sanford.

Betty and her experienced staff of instructors offer a wide variety of classes for pre-school through adult—tap, ballet, ballroom, baton, body alignment, and modeling.

Betty has been teaching dance for 28 years. Before opening her Sanford studio three years ago, she taught all types of dance in the Rochester, N.Y., area for 23 years and had a studio in Tampa. She also danced professionally.

Betty also teaches baton. One of her majorettes in Tampa was state champion.

Teaching the advanced ballet and toe dance classes is Sheila Lehner, who has 20 years experience and was the first American to receive a teaching apprenticeship and scholarship to the Royal Academy of Ballet in London England. She was trained to teach by Dame Ninette de Valois, the founder of the academy.

In addition to tap, ballet and toe, dance classes also include buck and wing, softshoe, modern jazz, modern dance, and even a little break dancing. Students have a recital each year at the Lake Mary High School auditorium. New students will be enrolled through the end of October for the fall semester. Students who have studied at other dance schools may join anytime.

Terri Ricci, who was proprietor and instructor of her own modeling and career school for four years in Warren, Mich., and who has experience in free-lance modeling, instructs basic modeling, advanced modeling and commercial modeling classes here. Beginners learn poise, personality, grooming and basic modeling as well as getting a chance to model in area fashion shows.

Paying CASH for:

Fermentation Of Food Major Cause Of Gas

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am over 60 and have excessive gas almost every day, always in the evening. I have it at other times, too. There is no pain, just a lot of uncontrollable gas.

A colleague of mine has a similar condition. Apparently it is not uncommon, but embarrassment simply causes victims to suffer in silence. Can you send me some helpful suggestions or make some recommendations in your column?

DEAR READER — You are certainly right that it is not an uncommon problem. As many as one person out of 10 in the general population has significant discomfort from gas. About half of the people who see a specialist in gastroenterology do so because of "gas." Almost everyone has some gas, but many are simply not aware of it.

You can't swallow food or drink without swallowing some air. At one time many doctors believed that the chief source of "gas" was air-allowing, which is often a nervous habit. That can happen, but it is now more generally recognized that most gas problems come from the bacterial fermentation of undigested food.

Often you can determine which foods are causing the gas. Complex carbohydrates are often the cause, since they may not be completely digested. Bran, which is often recommended for bulk, is a good example, as are many "bulk laxatives."

Often, certain foods are the main source of the gas. I have discussed the food problem in relation to gas in a new Health Letter, Special Report 23, Avoiding Gas and Distention.

The reason you may have no pain is that you have no colon spasm. Gas usually does not cause pain unless it is trapped. Since many people do not have a colon spasm, the swallowed air or gas from fermentation is simply passed unnoticed. But even if gas causes pain it is often food — specifically, undigested food — that is the real cause of gas.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I love to take long, brisk walks for exercise, but on the last leg of a two-mile walk the skin on my upper legs and thighs begins to itch. By the time I get home it itches wildly and is beet red.

DEAR READER — You could have a sensitivity to a detergent in your clothes, but the most likely cause is "allergy to exertion." It is called exercise-induced anaphylaxis and usually accompanies moderate to intense exercise. The mecha-

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

With length in the trump suit, resist the temptation to overruff dummy with high trumps. Better to let declarer be shortened while you protect your own length in the opponents' suit. This deal, from H.W. Kelsey's book "101 Bridge Maxims," illustrates this principle.

North was a little ambitious when he competed with a two-spade bid over two hearts. Once that bid was made, there was no keeping South out of four spades. That contract was happily doubled by East.

South ruffed the opening heart lead, played the ace of diamonds, and ruffed a diamond in dummy with the spade nine. When East overtrumped with the king, the hand was over.

Declarer trumped the heart return and played the queen of trumps. South now could trump another heart, pick up the outstanding trumps and make the doubled contract.

This was a surprising error by the defense. If East simply discards a club when the second diamond lead is ruffed with the spade nine, his side will gain three more tricks. When a trump is played at the fourth trick, East will win and force declarer to ruff another heart. Eventually South will be out of trumps and West will come on lead with the king or jack of hearts to come through dummy's A-Q of clubs. Declarer's only tricks will be four trumps, the ace of diamonds, a diamond ruff and the club ace.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY

OCTOBER 17, 1984
Rewards you are entitled to are in the offing this coming year. Nature may have been tardy but she will follow through on her promises.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Financial conditions look promising for you today, provided you don't strew obstacles in your own path. Use sound judgment in money matters. Want to find out to whom you are best suited romantically? Send for your Matchmaker set by mailing $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Reveals compatibilities for all signs.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Instead of wasting valuable time trying to fix the blame for a blunder, expend the same effort correcting the mistake.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec.

21) You may have trouble today discerning who your true friends really are today and end up rewarding the undeserving while ignoring one who should be treated kindly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Strive to be tactful and diplomatic when dealing with an authority figure today. If you get off on the wrong foot he may come down on you hard.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You're not apt to take readily to suggestions or advice from others today. You might feel they are dictating to you, rather than trying to be helpful.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If you have to do business today with someone who has caused you problems in the past, keep your guard up. He may try to get the better of you once again.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Neglected promises may cause you difficulty today. The victims of your procrastination might pressure you into following through on your commitments.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your initial reactions to others today may focus solely on their negative aspects. Keep in mind that they have nice qualities as well.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Beware of inclinations today to gamble much in order to gain a little. Play it safe and stick with procedures that offer small, but steady returns.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Poor results are likely today if you are too demanding when trying to get others to do your bidding. Kind words work, curt ones won't.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Normally you are a rather self-assured person but today you might let negative thinking hold you back from something you're capable of accomplishing.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Money has a way of slipping through your fingers today. If you fail to keep a tight lid on unnecessary expenditures, you'll destroy your budget.
