Ellinor Volkswagen Co. Purchased By Tampan

By FRED VAN PELT

Negotiations are underway for the purchase of the Volkswagen automobile franchise held by Ellinor Volkswagen, 3219 Orlando Drive, by Bill Baker, of Tampa, Baker said he took control of the local VW agency this morning. He said the transaction was effective Jan. 1 as regards the local firm but transfer of the franchise is subject to the Volkswagen company, probably 30 days.

Fred Ellinor, of Ellinor Volkswagen, said negotiations for a transfer of his business to Baker has been underway for some time but that the deal cannot be consummated until VW approves the franchise transfer.

Baker told The Herald he already has an accountant at work at Ellinor Volkswagen and that he, himself, took charge today. He said there will be no change in personnel except that he will need a service manager.

A native of Knoxville, Tenn., Baker has been associated with Volkswagen sales since 1960 and has been sales manager of Hirdon and Canada Motors, VW agencies at Tampa, since March 1968. He said he will remove his wife, two sons and baby daughter from Tampa to Sanford when housing is available.

BRRRRR It's Getting COLD

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Teeth chattering winds blew into northern Florida early today, dropping temperatures and bringing the threat tonight of a hard freeze that could dip well into the southern half of the peninsula.

Ugly skies, drizzle and low temperatures accompanied the cold front as it marched across Florida overnight, but the Weather Bureau said the worst was still to come.

A low of 21 was recorded at 8 a.m. at the Pensacola Naval Air Station, one of the lowest readings in years. Further inland, Milton had a 19, Crestview was 21 and Fort Walton Beach 22.

Forecasts for low temperatures tonight ranged from 18 in the far reaches of the Panhandle to the low 30s in South Florida, with freeze or hard freeze warnings covering much of the area in between. Heavy frost was a possibility.

Just how hard the freeze — and frost — would be depended on how fast a sheet of clouds broke up and removed its warming cover, forecaste Joe Golden said in Miami.

Golden forecast dissipation of the clouds by tonight, helped partially by the 20 to 30 mile per hour winds.

Temperature bulletins from the Lakeland Weather Bureau shortly before noon reported that the lowest temperatures to occur after sunrise Thursday will be 25-27 in the Sanford area.

Nowhere was there a prediction for snow, yet some residents in Jacksonville reported seeing a few flakes mixed with rain Tuesday night. Bud Lee Brock, meteorologist at Jason Airport, said the 46-degree low in Jacksonville really snowed in.

In Sanford, Tuesday's chill was accompanied by 2.5 inches of rain — giving the city a total of 4.81 inches during the first six days of January. Sanford's normal rainfall during the entire month of January is only 2.04 inches.

The cold front was preceded by high winds and tornadoes across central Florida Tuesday. Three persons were hospitalized at Apollo Beach, near Tampa, when a twister hit their trailer park.

Pollution Fight Looms

By MARION BETHA

Seminole County may have its myriad problems but one of them will not be pollution of waterways. At least, the two "Mr. Clean" commissioners, Greg Drummond and Dan Pelham, have any say in the matter.

At yesterday's meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, Pelham reiterated his concern over the problem of water and sewage treatment companies pumping effluent into rivers and streams. Pelham continued that he would not cast a vote for changes in service to encompass new areas by the companies unless their plans do not include dumping of effluent. Drummond stated that he felt the board would be amenable to not enlarging geographic boundaries to plants which are an efficient system.

Drummond prefers a percolation system of disposal. Pelham also expounded that application for certificates of public convenience and necessity be opened to interested parties. This was in obvious reference to a protest at last week's meeting by Southern Gull Utilities Company that they were denied access to a request by C. B. M. Utilities Company and did not have time to study the application and prepare a rebuttal.

Pelham proposed a monthly public hearing on recommendations of the planning and zoning board for changes. Drummond and Chairman John Alexander were pessimistic, elucidating that the time elapsed between the meeting, advertising, etc., would make the public hearing six weeks after the recommendations.

Faving a road to the new Eastbrook Elementary School was requested by the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction. Application was for paving of Tangerine Avenue from Howell Branch Road south to Orange County line. County Engineer William Bush was instructed to procure a cost breakdown of the additional paving.

Commissioners took on consideration zoning of 80 acres of land three miles west of 1-4 and south of Mobile Manor from A-1 to T-1 for trailer homes. Andrew Kooms appeared in opposition, representing owners of homes in Brandley Hall Estates. Kooms stressed devaluation of property as his main point of contention. Thomas Neal, a proponent of the zoning change, was adamant in his defense of mobile homes. He stated that trailer dwellers are not in the low income category, that many are affluent, and that several, like himself, prefer mobile homes.

Drummond was opposed to the rezoning of the first parcel of land, and wanted it rezoned R-1. He felt the second parcel was compatible to the abutting property. Zoning change was approved with Alexander and Drummond casting a negative vote on the first parcel, and Alexander to the second. Approval was also given to rezoning of land east of SR 404 and north of Little Wekiva Estates from A-1 to R-1A multiple family. Alexander also voted nay on this change. Drummond and Parker advised the board that regulations were needed in the zoning program, and that the county needed to "re-work" the sub-division ordinance to relate to trailer parks.

Drummond was again concerned with community aesthetics, advocating a more effective "junk" car law. Drummond related that it had taken several weeks to dispose of a complaint of one junk car in the county, and that with the present stringent laws in Orange County in this category, "junkers" would soon be dumped in Seminole County.

'Action' Considering Forming New Firm

By BILL SCOTT

A manufacturing group is interested in getting a plant at the Sanford Airport to make Christmas decorations.

This was learned today after a letter from Amos Jones, Seminole County Action executive director, was circulated to SCA members.

Jones said the essence of a scheduled Thursday SCA 7:30 a.m. meeting in the County Health Department is to meet with a representative of Levi Strauss and Company about setting up a Christmas decoration manufacturing plant at airport property.

Jones revealed that approximately 100 persons, primarily from low-income families, are expected to be hired at the outset. He said an additional 100 persons were to be employed after six months of operation.

It is presumed that Seminole County Action, Inc., would do most of the recruiting and some counseling as well as provide certain other support services.

The Thursday night session will determine to what extent the SCA will involve itself.

J. S. (Red) Cleveland, airport manager, agreed that a firm had been in contact with him about leasing building 388 at the airport for the industry.

This is the same building now being considered for lease to a St. Louis fuse manufacturer but Cleveland said there would be another structure for the industry if plans are finalized.

Don Raibel, Sanford Industrial Commission director, was authorized at Monday SIC meeting to journey to the Missouri city Thursday to complete plans to move the fuse making plant to Sanford.

Jones is on vacation, his secretary said, and could not be reached to give additional comment on the disclosure.

Commission Has 'New Look'

Sanford City Commission last night took on a "new look" as the new commission approved naming Andrew Carraway to city commissioner, replacing Clarence Redding, who recently died.

A second action by the group was the setting of a public hearing for Jan. 20 before acting on a condemnation proceeding against 12 dwellings. Appointment to fill vacancies on zoning and industrial boards were delayed until Feb. 9 meeting.

In a final action, the commission approved a Sanford Industrial Commission backing for using approximately 33,000 sq. ft. of advertising in the Wall Street Journal for in setting up a National Parachute Association promotion for Sanford Airport this summer.

Florida Politics Awaits Eckerd Move In Ring

Florida politics would certainly get an injection of new vigor, new approaches to difficult problems about the report he accurate that "Jack" Eckerd of Clearwater is to enter the gubernatorial race.

Mr. Eckerd is, of course, one of the most outstanding business men in Florida. His courage and vision has created far-flung business interests with the chain of Eckerd drug stores, the best known.

A report printed in the Tampa Tribune has Mr. Eckerd "99.9 per cent sure he'll oppose Gov. Claude B. Kirk in the GOP gubernatorial primary."

State government, especially under the new constitution, is without any question big business. Administrative ability is a prime requisite. Thus the spectacle of a successful business executive contemplating a drive for the top state position along the Republican route is intriguing.

It is almost unnecessary to point out that the very best of administrative ability, bold concepts and vigorous employment of those abilities cannot win the votes.

Yet this must be in the minds of leading politicians, especially in the GOP, when the possibility of an Eckerd bid for the nomination is being assessed. And, to be sure, it is being given that attention it so richly deserves right now.

At the present time the only other announced candidate for the GOP gubernatorial nomination, aside from the incumbent, is Senator L. A. (Skip) Bafalis of Palm Beach.

Senator Bafalis is not a new face, nor a new personality in the political field. Quite the opposite. In addition his former association with the Kirk campaign in 1966 and his change of heart since then complicates rather than clarifies his 1970 campaign.

When the candidacy of Governor Kirk is put into perspective in these opening days of 1970 and before the regular session of the 1970 state legislature, controlled by Democratic majorities, takes place, the task is complicated in the extreme.

Inept management of the legislature by Senate President John Mathews of Jacksonville and Speaker of the House Fred Schultz has handed the govern-nor two issues which have popular support and new skill, his apparent enjoyment in the duties of his gubernatorial nomination and Mr. Schultz for the senatorial nomination on the Democratic ticket.

One is the jump from $100 a month to $1,000 a month voted legislators by themselves in the 1969 regular session which aroused state-wide criticism and is not yet accepted as proper by many voters.

The other is the high-handed manner in which the special session called by the governor in December to discuss and fund the 16-year road program prepared by the now defunct State Road Board has its teeth drawn on roads and this essential issue allowed to die.

Yet the road ahead for Governor Kirk is not one covered with roses. For his first term in office has contained so many quirks in the public image Kirk and his changing group of advisers has produced that no single, firm characteristic has been created.

He has not maintained the kind of dignified, sober and respected attitude which Florida Republicans hoped to see in Florida's first Republican chief executive in a century.

Yet his very outspoken and vigorous championship of Florida, his ability to handle opposition with skill, his apparent enjoyment in the duties of his gubernatorial nomination and Mr. Schultz for the senatorial nomination on the Democratic ticket.

The Republicans, still a growing but far from threatening minority in the majority of registered voters, are almost complacent as they assess the Democratic opposition.

There is, therefore, something more than the entrance of a new personality into the political field should Mr. Eckerd's bid come sailing out into the 1970 ring.

It could be a catalyst which would clarify not only the GOP position but would bring out the best in the Democratic side some personality who needs just such a challenge to do the same for the majority Democratic party.

Journalism Ups!

Journalism enrollments in the nation's colleges have increased nearly 19 per cent since 1968, and have nearly tripled in ten years, according to a survey conducted by the Winter, 1969, issue of Journalism Quarterly by Professor Paul V. Peterson of Ohio State University.

The Newspaper Fund reports that a record 31,257 students are enrolled in journalism departments, compared to 26,325 reported by the same 145 schools last year. The 1969 enrollment represents an increase of 174 students in journalism departments in 1960. The all-time high in journalism enrollment is accounted by a 21.6 per cent increase over last year in the number of students working toward graduate degrees. Of the 8,268 graduate students enrolled this academic year, 367 are in Ph.D. programs.

Junior, senior and graduate level enrollment figures account for more than half of the total journalism enrollment. A total of 16,154 students are underclassmen, compared to 14,000 students making commitments to major fields of study.

Schools were also asked to specify how many students are majoring in the various careers. At the 25 schools with the highest enrollment, 35.4 per cent of the students are enrolling in advertising, while 29.8 per cent are majoring in news-editorial careers. Other areas of study include radio-television (6.8 per cent), public relations (3.5 per cent), magazine journalism (6 per cent), and photo-journalism (1.5 per cent).

Three reasons for the popularity of advertising in journalism departments were listed by Dr. Warren K. Agee, dean of the University of Georgia School of Journalism. Speaking November 25 to members of the Journalism Education Association, Dr. Agee said advertising careers appeal to students because of the money involved, advertising positions offer more money than do other journalism jobs, and many students who are dissatisfied with highly statistical business administration courses are switching to journalism advertising because "it appears to them to be more of an art than a science."

"PLEASE DON'T FEED THE ANIMALS"

Crane's Worry Clinic:

Shortage Makes A "Man's World"

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.
CASE M-509: Miriam R., age 28, is indignant.

"Dr. Crane," she protested vehemently, "why do you always pick on us wives?"

"Do you think our husbands are perfect saints?"

"So why don't you tell them they have responsibilities in the home?"

"But you seem to think we wives should always be reducing the anal aggressiveness to their erotic demands, even though we are tired and sleepy!"

"Despite Miriam's protests, I don't ALWAYS pick on you wives."

"For I often fulfill the duties of husbands and urge them to be fair in shouldering both household as well as parental duties."

"But the burden of maintaining a happy home rests on you wives!"

"So don't try to argue about that 50-50 adage, for it isn't true!"

A smart wife knows she must shoulder 60 per cent of more of the domestic and psychological skills needed to avoid divorce.

To be specific, there are 5,000,000 women above the age of 21 who have no husbands!

That means there is a shortage of men in America, so it is still a "man's world," and all smart wives realize that fact.

Those 5,000,000 husband-hungry females often have no aversion to seducing 7 or 8 husbands, for they realize they will never be able to obtain a man except by theft of your mate.

Since divorce usually starts in the bedroom, then you wives must also focus on your husband's groin instead of growing helplessly weepy in the kitchen.

Remember, the paramour wins men away from their lawful wives not by superior skill in the kitchen but by her bedroom activity.

She may not equal you faith-

Political Notebook: Decade Of Vivid Memories

By BRUCE HOBSART
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Reporters like myself who covered the incredible 1960's on the national political front come away from the decade with a pattern of vivid images that surely must be among the most deeply etched in our lives.

The intensity and configuration of these impressions naturally depend on how closely and in what ways the reporter brushed against the memorable events of the time. These are some of the images which unfolded most vividly in my own wanderings through these 10 years:

His blunt assault helped him to a smashing victory.

• In a crowded Pittsburgh hotel in October, 1964, Vice President Nixon, thinking he needed to play "catch-up" in his race with Kennedy, struggled to sound tough after two months of glib talk.

• Two years later, my talking with a defeated Nixon in the sunny library of his new Southern California home, sensing he already knew he was out of place so far from Washington, where lay the real focus of his life, guessing the near-disaster he had in his current try for the California governor's seat.

• In frigid Michigan eight months earlier in 1962, the strange, pre-dawn walk through the moonlit snow on a golf course with charging George Romney, who was moving to the threshold of a political career that collapsed sadly in the deep New Hampshire snows six years afterward.

The impressions tumble faster:

• The sea of aroused but calm black humanity surging up Washington's Constitution Avenue in the great civil rights march of August, 1963.

The shock of the words "Kennedy's been shot" as I stood a few feet from the news tape that clacked out the cruel message which ended the pastore life of a decade of violence.

The harried look of the new President Johnson as I passed him on the road, in his black limousine late one night and glimpsed him reading by the light of a small lamp.

• At Atlantic City's Convention Hall, scene of Johnson's 1964 nomination for a term in his own right, the seemingly endless line and hand-clapping from delegates paying memorial honor to John Kennedy while his brother, Robert, stood silent but fearful on the rostrum—be it to be struck down by an assassin, too, in the very next campaign.

• The quiet degrading inclusion at Labor Day in Chicago, 1967, when white and black militants gathered in a "new politics" conference which produced an unrelieved chaos, and abruptly broke in on the reality, and a public howling and scurrying by white radicals before blacks who gave them contempt in reply even as they

Candidates' Filing Date Feb. 19-28

By MARION BETHEA

North Orlando Village Council was advised at a recent meeting that candidates for the municipal election to be held on March 19 have Feb. 28 to file a petition. Filing fee is $5 and candidates must have 30 well as council seats in Groups II and IV are open.

Due to the resignation of City Clerk Frances Watson, the mayor announced that he will receive applications for the position, which hopefully will be filled in the next two to three weeks. Applicants will be interviewed by council at a special call meeting.

The new subdivision ordinance which sets stringent comprehensive standards for sale of land, drainage, paving and building, was adopted on the third and final reading.

The ordinance should prove a detriment to developers such as Gulf American Corporation, who propose clay streets and open drainage ditches.

The garbage woes were again brought to council's attention by Commissioner Julian Keller. Complainants are still being made concerning the weekly instead of twice weekly collection.

Jordan remarked that although the contract with the Davis Garbage Collection Agency had five months until termination, the village could not survive another five months as the past 30 days have been with repairs.

Jordan further stated that either service must improve or new collector be hired. Keller was requested to contact Davis and ascertain the degree of service his agency intends to afford.

A mutual aid for police assistance agreement was read by Councilman David Tilson encompassing the cities of Casselberry, Altamonte Springs, Longwood, and North Orlando.

The agreement would be a cooperative one between the separate government agencies.

The police chief would have the authority to direct which officers would answer a call and under what circumstances.

If an officer is called from any or all of the participating municipalities, the police chiefs would meet and designate one commander or in the words of village attorney Thomas Freeman, a "Super Chief." This commander would still be subject to the authority of the police officer on the scene.

North Orlando Election Mar. 19

At the time the police officer responded to a call he would have the same authority and powers of arrest as in a municipality in which he serves.

The agreement also provides the police assistance shall be rendered without charge to member municipalities and waives all indemnification claims. In effect this means a participating municipality can refuse to answer a call if it would leave their community unprotected and could not be sued for malfeasance.

Railroads Oppose Canal, Florida Solon Charges

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A Florida congressman is all steamed up over railroads trying to put the brakes on the Cross-Florida Barge Canal—a $17 million sleeper that has been chugging along since 1942.

U.S. Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., said the railroads have renewed an old vendetta against the project and have begun to inject the progress of the men trying to cut a 100-mile canal across the peninsula.

Bennett said a letter to the editor of the Florida Times Union from Prime F. Osborn, president of the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad, expressed the railway's position.

The letter, printed Dec. 21 criticized earlier Bennett statements and said SCL was opposing its policy of no opposition to the controversial waterway planned to connect the Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico.

The project, born during the early years of World War II as one way of keeping war cargoes out of the reach of German torpedoes, is now 27 years old and 30 per cent finished. Construction began in 1964 and since then the project has encountered strong opposition from conservationists who argue that the waterway will upset the ecology.

Others say it will upset the economy. A group of professional economists met recently at the University of Florida in Gainesville and said the financial benefits claimed for the canal were "economic fiction."

Churchwomen Plan Meeting On Friday

The annual meeting of the Sanford Council of Church Women United will be held on Friday, Jan. 9, in Fellowship Hall, First United Methodist Church, Sanford at 10 a.m. Coffee will be served at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. W. W. Tyre, First United Methodist, outgoing president of the organization will call the short business meeting to order to elect new officers and adopt a budget. The nominating committee, composed of Mrs. John Horner, Holy Cross Episcopal; Mrs. Clifford McKibbin, First Presbyterian; and Mrs. Walter Scudder, Grace Methodist will present the slate of new officers. On the slate are Mrs. Harry P. Cochran, president, and Mrs. Helen E. Scudder, First United Methodist and Mrs. John Wilson, Church World Missions, chairman for 1970.

Duel Ban Will Be Deleted

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—An old statute which makes it a crime to call someone a coward and for not fighting a duel may be on its way out.

"It's an old statute, back from the days when duels were popular and permissible," said Rep. Tommy Stevens, D-Dade City, who has drafted a bill to repeal the law.

The 1865 law is one of several old statutes that are discovered from time to time and eliminated by legislative act.

Duels are illegal in the state. "It doesn't have any effect at all. It's just ridiculous to leave that thing in," Stevens said Tuesday.

The statute says: "Whoever posts another, or in writing or in print publishes or proclaims another person as a coward, or uses any other reproachful or contemptuous language, for not fighting a duel, or for not sending or accepting a challenge to fight a duel, shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by fine not exceeding three hundred dollars."

Stevens said, "I just ran onto the thing."

Global Comment: Mid-East Week Of Disaster

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The beginning of the new year closed off a week that had been a disaster for the Arab and an embarrassment to their good friend in the West, France.

The French Mideast arms embargo applies to Israel, Syria, Jordan and Egypt, but not to other revolutionary Arab states, including Iraq which this week is loading ammunition in Cherbourg Harbor.

Into the opening stepped

France with an offer to take over the abandoned air bases and to negotiate arms contracts with Libya said to be worth up to $400 million.

The French Mideast arms embargo applies to Israel, Syria, Jordan and Egypt, but not to other revolutionary Arab states, including Iraq which this week is loading ammunition in Cherbourg Harbor.

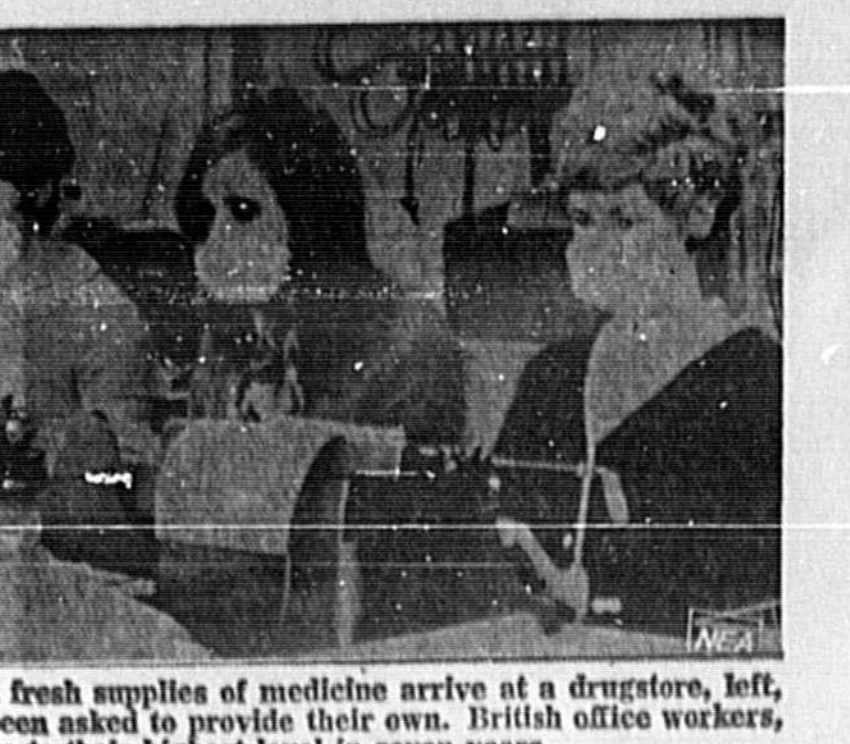

They found them in some Israeli men friendly to the military men and a stipulating firm allegedly based in Norway but actually Panama-based.

The breakup of the Arab summit at Rabat, Morocco illustrated the basic weakness of inter-Arab cooperation. Left Palestine guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat complaining he had received lots of love and sympathy but no money.

Israeli commandos clashed the week by striking at a new Soviet-built radar station on the Egyptian Gulf of Suez coast and transporting the seven-ton installation back to the Sinai, maintaining control of the air as they did so.

The Cherbourg operation and the exploit against the radar station were of the stuff that legends and movies are made.

Neither, however, seemed likely to be of material aid to the Israelis in forcing the Arabs

THE FLU BUG has run rampant in Europe, reaching epidemic proportions. In London, fresh supplies of medicine arrive at a drugstore, left, but pharmacists, hit with a record demand, have run out of bottles and customers have been asked to provide their own. British office workers, right, wear masks in an effort to evade germs. Emergency influenza cases in London rose to their highest level in seven years.

Epiphany Feted

By ERIC SHARP
Associated Press Writer
TAMPA BAY, Fla. (AP)—It took a while, but two of the 50 half-dressed boys who plunged into the cold Anclote River Tuesday finally recovered two golden crosses tossed in an archbishop during this Greek American city's tradition of Epiphany celebration.

Hippies who accept the drug culture "do not rely on prayer," and this leads many of them to misery and suicide," the archbishop said.

Dressed in silver vestment and a gold mitre, he performed the Epiphany ceremony with the assistance of seven priests at a Greek Orthodox believers around the world celebrated what to them is Christ's baptism day. Archbishop Iakovos had a message of hope for parliamentarians worried about a painting of St. Nicholas they say has been crying since Dec. 4.

The archbishop said he believed the drops of moisture did not portend a calamity, but was the same way of asking men to stop for ourselves.

"It appears we have forgotten how to weep for ourselves, and St. Nicholas may be asking us to weep with him," he said.

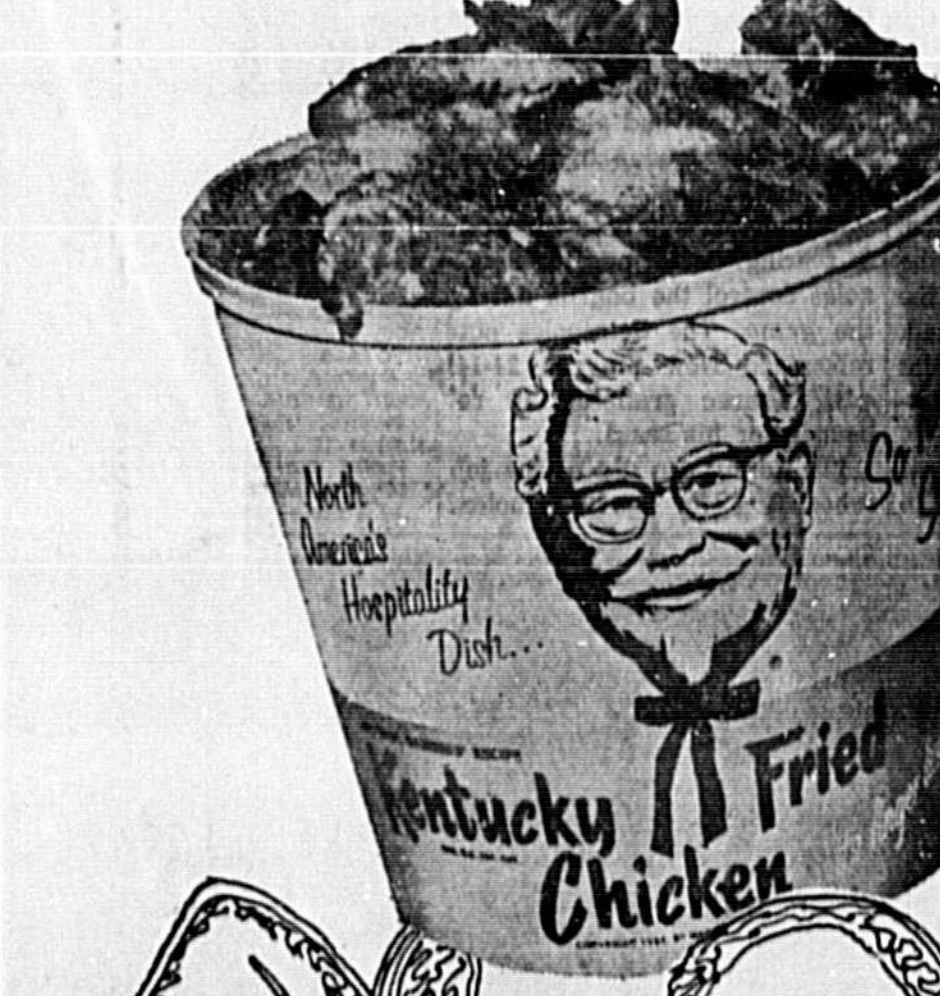

Archbishop Iakovos of New York City, highest Greek Orthodox prelate in the new world, led a drenched procession in pouring rain from St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church to Spring Bay where the youths waited in boats for him to throw the cross into the black, 60-degree water.

The first cross sailed through the air and the boys churned the water to foam, but after five minutes they had failed to find it.

At the time the police officer responded to a call he would have the same authority and powers of arrest as in a municipality in which he serves.

The agreement also provides the police assistance shall be rendered without charge to member municipalities and waives all indemnification claims. In effect this means a participating municipality can refuse to answer a call if it would leave their community unprotected and could not be sued for malfeasance.

Don Oakley Says: Sobering Thought

By DON OAKLEY, NEA Writer

Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of South Vietnam's First Corps, claims that the number of deaths in the alleged massacre in the hamlet of My Lai on March 16, 1969 has been grossly exaggerated.

In a preliminary report to President Nixon, forwarded to U.S. military officials in Washington, the general suggests that the survivors gave inflated figures in hopes of collecting additional compensation from the United States. He believes that when all the names of the citizens who were killed are assembled, the total will not exceed 30.

Lam further states that from 1964, "The Communists had turned the village of Song My into combat hamlets of which My Lai was one) with communication trenches, ditches, fortified fences and autonomous Communist committees.

"The people of the village, male and female, young and old, were forced to become soldiers in the Viet Cong combat ranks. Village youth were forced into the local guerrilla ranks."

The success of any league, or for that matter—bowling generally, is the hardworking secretary of each league. If you have one who is interested in bowling and the people in the league, you'll usually find that league with a waiting list of other bowlers who'd also like to be bowling. Unfortunately, too many good people don't become active in this area because they feel they're not qualified.

Therefore, Evelyn Wagner (a perfect example of a hardworking Association Secretary for the Sanford area, is conducting a League Secretaries Workshop here at the lanes on Tuesday, Jan. 13 at 7:30 p.m.

All those who are interested in becoming a league secretary (or those who are presently in that category and would like a refresher course) are invited to attend this free clinic.

BOWLING POT POURRI

Since we were talking about the game a moment or two ago, this would be an excellent time to slip in a reminder of their Annual Tournament, scheduled for the third weekend in February, the 21st and 22nd.

Entry forms are now on the counter at the lanes with the deadline for accepting same set for Feb. 7th.

Simon-Wilson Cop Tourney

So the story goes, that in order to win a tournament you should be about 10 or maybe 12 pins above your current or entering average. Well, that was borne out when Reggie Simon had his ups and downs in the Friday night sweep...

Simon topped the top prize with his plus-handicap pins to finish with an 1,115 series while Woody Wilson pocketed the high scratch series prize of $10 for his 1,025 set.

Overall, that doesn't sound like too much money for the top two positions, except that this type of a tourney is planned that way. All of the prize money doesn't go to a select few.

The majority of the 2100 overall prize money went out in the form of "lane prizes" ... the high scratch game on each pair was worth $11, high handicap was worth $9 and the 2nd high scratch game—$8.

In the 112 category, these were the winners: lanes 11-12 Bertie Sigmon 248; 13-14 Jay Young 214; 15-16 Sigmon 234; 17-18 Jack Kanner 236; and 19-20 Woody Wilson 223.

The 39 high handicap winners were: lanes 11-12 Woody Wilson 227; 13-14 Price Penick 225; 15-16 David Carter 237; 17-18 Bobby Barbour 255 and a tie on lanes 19-20 with 255e between Carter and Jay Young.

Winning 85 each to the tourney is the new nickname for Nader, Gentlemen Jim (as he is now called) bowled all five games with a dress suit coat, plus white shirt and tie ... (and before some wise guys pipes up—yeah, he also had trousers on).

One final thought on this event ... special recognition to Melias like George Brister who've gotten the tourney-bag and are supporting it with their enthusiasm and presence. Don't forget that the annual men's state tournament is in Orlando this year and will probably get an excellent play from our area.

Get into tournament competition now so that you don't choke up later.

DAWN GAZIL GEORGE BRISTER

And here's another pat-on-the-back ... this time, directed to Dawn Gazil.

Dawn's been a regular member of our youthful bowling leagues at the lanes for a number of years now. And you know, when the majority of the other league members are "guys" who at times have been known to tease the gal-members, well, need we say more!

It's a pleasure having Dawn and all of the others as regulars in our Bantams (up to 12 years of age) and the Jr-Six (13 thru 19) who bowl at 1 p.m. on Saturdays.

Since we're presently talking about the junior-senior division, a great big tip of the chapeau towards up-and-coming leader Joe Cavers.

Young Mr. C. unleashed his strongest bowling effort this past week, and narrowly missed the selective 700 Club with a 214, followed by a gigantic 285, and then probably tightknotted-up a little in the third game with his 179.

Add 'em all together and that's 628 ... and worthy of our Bowler's Salute of the Week.

Lewis Is Hot ...

Dick Lewis of the Sunday Night Mr. and Mrs. League didn't complain about sticky pins this week ... not after unleashing a 208/553 series any how. Also popping the one-three pocket was Bobby Barbour with his 196, 207/547 series.

Seminole's John Bertrang Controls The Ball Record Stands 7-1

Seminole Soars On

By GARY TAYLOR Herald Sports Writer After the opening tip-off at the Seminole High gym there was 45 seconds of play before the first points were recorded. When they came, they were via a Larry Kearse field goal. It gave the Seminoles a two point lead. It was a lead they would keep the entire game, as they defeated New Smyrna 51-33.

The Seminoles, though coach Joe Mills pointed out they made several mistakes during the first half, continued to pound away against the hapless Barracudas.

When the teams left for the dressing rooms at the half, the Seminoles owned a 30-18 lead. Kearse, at the half-point of the contest, had already scored 14 points.

As the two teams came out at the half, the game seemed to slow down considerably. Seminole still dominated the ball during the third quarter, but they slacked off in their attack, in addition to substituting. The Seminoles outscored the Barracudas 11-6 in the third period and ran the score to 41-24.

Humbled, the Barracudas attempted a come-back during the final period. During the first minutes of the period they controlled the ball steadily against the substitutes for Seminole. But Seminole wouldn't give up and fought for more points. The New Smyrna Beach squad outscored the Seminoles 15-10 during the final period, but it didn't hurt Seminole, they had already built the Barracudas in the first half.

Kearse not only led the team in scoring, but helped the Seminoles control the boards during the game. The Seminoles out-rebounded New Smyrna 24-14, with Kearse grabbing 14 re-bounds for his team.

Bill Corso also did a fine job rebounding for the Seminoles. He scored seven points but they came when they were most needed, early in the game, when the Seminoles were trying to build an early lead.

Tommy Whiteham was a big man for the Seminoles last night, according to Mills. "He only scored four points, but he scored a whole of a ball game."

The money will be put to good use, said the coach. Dr. Weldon after Ledoux informed him of the night's mutual banishment. "There are many worthy players for the special fund," he added.

Dr. Weldon pointed out that the lion's share of the fund will be placed in this fine school fund for students in need of financial assistance in completing the junior college curriculum.

Ledoux stated, "We are delighted to be in a position to be of assistance to the Kowboys. In the near future, these nights should produce considerable more funds as the crowds in attendance grow."

After the half-time intermission, both squads played heads up basketball until the final seconds of the quarter when Seminole took a 35-34 lead. But with two seconds left in the period, Lyman salvaged a 36-35 lead as the game entered the final period. The gymnasium became electrified as the home town boys came back.

The fourth quarter was a wild affair with the Seminoles establishing a slim margin throughout. With approximately three minutes left, the Hounds put on a stall, but the Kowboys stole the ball. With less than two minutes left in the half game, there was a one-point separation. To make matters worse, Kissimmee had control of the ball. On possibility the most outstanding play of the whole ball game, Tom Dowell stole the ball as the Kowboys came up court, and was fouled. Under extreme pressure, Dowell hit on two foul shots that placed security on the Lyman lead. Then, as coach Jim Hatfield put it, "The boys kept their poise in a close game, and did an outstanding job."

The final score 49-44—Lyman. On talking to Hatfield after the game, he said, "Good effort, we moved the ball well, and did a good job. But we still got a long way to go to play the caliber of ball expected in our district. One-four games are out to us of the season, when we match against Apopka, Evans, Seagrass and DeLand."

In the junior varsity contest, the Baby Hounds, led by Billy Means and Ronnie Glaze, convinced the Baby Kowboys 64-41, in Austin, Tex.

SOCK-SJC Night Nets $9,000 Total

Seminole Junior College will net some $9,000 as a result of the second annual sock evening race-holding performance for the school Tuesday night at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

The Seminole Junior College night crowd averaged 294-288 for the 12-race performance.

Winning the SJC Handicap was Diane Eno's fleet young R. L.'s Hansom who drove home on the rail to score handsily over Mollie Oak.

Both matinee and evening performances are set for Wednesday at the track.

Three Grade A events highlight the Wednesday night program. The sixth, 11th and 12th events all will feature the best greyhounds at the track.

On hand for the trophy presentation were members of the Seminole Junior College board of trustees and faculty.

Chairman of the board of trustees Joe Davis and Pres. Dr. Earl Weldon and their wives made the presentation of the beautiful silver platter to the winning owner.

Also at the finish line for the presentation were board members Mrs. Rex Clonts and William Schaffner; Dean Charles Sample and Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club Gen. Mgr. Jack Ledoux.

The money will be put to good use, said the coach. Dr. Weldon after Ledoux informed him of the night's mutual banishment. "There are many worthy players for the special fund," he added.

SUPER BOWL SPECIAL

Super Stars Say: Age of Aquarian Vikings

NEW YORK (NEA)—This is the way the Super Bowl will go: The Gemini Kansas City Chiefs will make a strong showing very early in the game, maybe even score first. Then there will be a dramatic turn of events: The trailing moon will move from the Aquarian Minnesota Vikings' 12th house and into their first house.

The Vikings will draw confidence from this sodical boon and take the game firmly in hand by the end of the second period and continue on to a decisive victory as they amass points and positive plays.

So said Jonathan Booth, a professional astrologer in New York, who, as it turns out, prefers sniffing smog to watching football games. In fact, his knowledge of astrology is virtually limited to last year's Super Bowl game. That's because he picked the Jets to upset Baltimore in print for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The first he knew about the 1969 game was when he called him and asked if he could construct and analyze individual horoscopes of the two contestants. He said he would, if given the precise minute, hour, day, year and place of birth of the teams. It was the same this year.

Namath, Dawson In Gambling Probe

By MIKE RATHEF and JACK HAND Associated Press Writer NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Len Dawson, veteran Kansas City Chiefs' quarterback, says he had "a casual acquaintance" with a Michigan restaurateur arrested by Internal Revenue Service agents in connection with a nationwide gambling ring.

The Progress Mercury makes an excellent aspect (energy setup) to the natal Mars. This infers real and confidence. Booth constantly emphasizes that Mars (a war sign) is not usually belligerent, but it is aggressive.

The midheaven in the Minnesota chart is making a good aspect to the natal and progressed Pluto. Coming down to earth, this translates into the Vikings having "a lot of spirit, or a working together."

One note of warning for the Vikings: They will be laboring under a difficult aspect of Venus to natal and progressed Neptune. That is, they must watch out for overconfidence. But Booth does not fear for them much on this point. "The progressed sun is also making an excellent aspect to the natal and progressed Neptune," he said. "This will give the Vikings a 'secure' confidence. The imagination—one's illusions and delusions."

And if the field were muddy, or the day rainy? "It's still the Vikings," said Booth. "They have four planets in water signs. The Chiefs, however, have a stronger 'air' aspect than the Vikings. Booth merely sees the game being decided on the ground by Minnesota, with KC passing in vain."

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Dawson is here to take part in Sunday's Super Bowl game between the Chiefs and the Minnesota Vikings—a professional football spectacular that is guaranteed a sellout crowd of 81,000 people.

Dawson 31, was one of six football figures, including three other professional football quarterbacks, NBC reported would be subpoenaed to appear before a grand jury investigating nationwide sports gambling.

NBC said the other professional football players subpoenaed to appear before a grand jury investigating nationwide sports gambling are: Detroit Lions and Karl Sweetan of the Los Angeles Rams, formerly of the Lions and the New Orleans Saints.

The network also named as prospective witnesses: J. end Pete Lammorn and Bob Dery, who head football coach at the University of Nebraska.

And professional football commissioner Pete Rozelle said in a prepared statement issued at the Super Bowl site that he had no evidence to even consider disciplinary action against any of those publicly named.

Donald Dawson, who is no relation, was arrested at a Detroit motel New Year's day by IRS agents who seized gambling recorded and some $450,000 in cash and business checks.

Dawson, accompanied by his wife, Hank Stram, appeared at a ten-day grand jury hearing on a tension-filled press conference at 11:06 p.m. CST—five minutes after the club's curfew hour—and read a four-paragraph prepared statement with considerable feeling.

The statement said: "My name has been mentioned in regard to an investigation being conducted by the Justice Department. I have not been contacted by any law enforcement agency or been apprised of reason my name has been brought up."

"The only reason that I can think of is that I have a casual acquaintance with Mr. Donald Dawson of Detroit who I understand has been charged in the investigation. Dawson is not a relative of mine."

"I have known Mr. Dawson for about 10 years, and have talked in him on several occasions. My only conversations with him in recent years concerned my knee injuries and the death of my father. On these occasions, he contacted me to offer his sympathy. His calls were among the many I have received, apologized for the 2 1/2 hour delay between his statement and Rozelle's turned and left.

Coach Stram met with the Chiefs at 3:30 in the afternoon, before the NBC broadcast. In apparent the team of "certain rules." As for Sunday's Super Bowl game Stram said:

"I am positively sure that besides the six prominent football personalities mentioned Tuesday only one other sports name has been contacted with the investigation—Jerome 'Dizzy' Dean, Baseball Hall of Fame pitcher.

Parents Told: Learn To Live With Mix

By EPIC M. SHARP
Associated Press Writer
BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Learn to live with it was the message the Manatee County School Board had for 400 parents who met to hear about the new school integration plan formulated for the county by the federal government.

The new plan was drawn up by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare after the Manatee County chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People appealed to a federal court in New Orleans to have the county's original desegregation plan set aside.

The original plan, approved by a federal court in Tampa, left four all-black schools operating in the county.

"The new plan is one of three the school board had originally considered but rejected as educationally unsound," said Dr. Jack Davidson, superintendent of schools.

"It pairs the all-black schools with white schools to achieve an approximately 50-50 white to black racial mixture in the northern half of the county," he said. "Schools in the southern half are not affected."

Davidson made it clear to the audience, about 90 per cent white, that there was little, if anything, the school board could do to oppose the plan.

"Our position is to receive the plan and pass it on to a federal judge in Tampa for approval," he said.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock prices already are reflecting the expectation of a significant decline in corporate profits.

Shearson, Hammit & Co. notes, if disappointing corporate profits do not materialize, the market will compensate for it quickly, it adds.

Since security prices tend to lead savings in corporate profits and a recovery in profits could develop in the latter part of the year, "commitments made now in selected issues should be rewarding," the firm says.

Combine Would Build Power Projects

Snake River Conservation Fight Is Resumed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fate of one of America's last stretches of untrammeled water is at stake in a renewed struggle between a grant power combine and conservationists over harnessing Idaho's middle Snake River for electricity.

Hearings before the Federal Power Commission, resuming today after a year's recess, revive a fight that started 10 years ago and has already resulted in a landmark Supreme Court decision making conservation factors an important consideration in building power projects.

On the side of building the High Mountain Sheep Dam are four investor-owned utilities, joined at the Pacific Northwest Power Co. and a group of public utility districts organized as the Washington Public Power Supply System.

They are opposed by conservationists, led by the well-known Sierra Club, who contend the river should be protected as a remnant of virgin habitat for spawning salmon, wild birds and animals.

The power groups contend modern technology can overcome threats to wildlife.

The Snake River begins high in the Teton Mountains of Wyoming, arcs crescent-like across southern Idaho and turns north to form part of that state's border with Oregon and Washington before spilling into the Columbia River.

For the greater part of the 20th Century the Snake has been an embattled stream, focal point of a historic congressional debate which resulted in preservation for Idaho Power Co., an investor-owned utility, to build three hydroelectric dams in Hells Canyon—a decision still bitterly resented by public power advocates who wanted a single federally constructed dam.

Harnessed for irrigation and generation of electricity by dams at intervals most of its length, all that remains of the awesome rocky gorges between Hells Canyon and Lewiston, Idaho, some 100 miles to the north,

Bombs, Rockets Kill 300

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese forces intercepted North Vietnamese troops in three regions ranging from the Cambodian border to the demilitarized zone and killed nearly 300 of the enemy with a rain of bombs, rockets and shells, military spokesmen reported today.

The U.S. Command reported the North Vietnamese shot down five American helicopters, three of them in one battle, raising to 6,285 the number of U.S. aircraft reported lost in Vietnam war during nearly a decade of fighting.

Battlefield reports said infantrymen, tanks, armored personnel carriers mounted with heavy machine guns, jet bombers and helicopter gunships cut down the North Vietnamese troops in eight battles as the enemy forces apparently tried to maneuver into position for new attacks on allied bases.

Because the massive American firepower carried the brunt of the battles, allied casualties were reported light.

The U.S. Command said 29 were wounded while field reports put South Vietnamese government casualties at eight killed and 32 wounded.

The biggest battles raged south of Da Nang, where the enemy launched a new offensive over the weekend, along the Cambodian border north of Saigon where North Vietnamese troops were reported massing for a new drive, and less than 20 miles today unless the slayers were apprehended.

Brothers Joseph and Kenneth Yablonski, both lawyers, called on the miners to return to work, said the killing of their father, their mother and their sister was the work of "professional assassins" and "an outrage of our father's most recent bid to win election to the presidency of the United Mine Workers of America (U.M.W.)."

In Washington, D.C., Attorney General John N. Mitchell ordered the FBI to join state troopers and the local sheriff in the solar-frustrated investigation.

Miners Show Impatience In Yablonski Slayings

By MIKE FEINBERG
CLARKSVILLE, Pa. (UPI)—Supporters of miners union official Joseph A. "Jack" Yablonski expressed impatience today with an investigation which state police acknowledged has developed "no leads and no motive" for his killing.

Yablonski's two surviving sons asked more than 7,000 miners to end a wildcat sympathy strike that closed mines in three states. However, leaders of 10,000 members UMW District 31 in Northern West Virginia voted to close all of the nation's mines by noon today unless the slayers were apprehended.

Brothers Joseph and Kenneth Yablonski, both lawyers, called on the miners to return to work, said the killing of their father, their mother and their sister was the work of "professional assassins" and "an outrage of our father's most recent bid to win election to the presidency of the United Mine Workers of America (U.M.W.)."

Noah's Ark Sought In High Frozen Lake

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A team of scientists and explorers plans to melt a frozen lake on Mt. Ararat in Turkey in hopes of finding the remains of Noah's Ark.

The $1 million project, announced Tuesday, is based on discovery last year of several pieces of hand-tooled wood, believed to be more than 4,000 years old, deep in a glacier at the 14,000 foot level on the mountain in northeast Turkey near the Soviet border.

Ralph E. Crawford, president of Search Foundation, Inc., Washington, D.C., told a news conference the expedition will climb the 17,000-foot peak this spring to study ways to melt the 100 by 400 foot ice field possibly by using volcanic steam. Recovery of an estimated 20 tons of ancient timbers is expected in the summer of 1971.

Fernand Navarra, French explorer who found the timbers in a deep crevasse said he believes they are from the original Noah's Ark of biblical history.

Crawford said the timbers have been dated at 4,000 to 5,000 years old by methods which measure the rate of decay of radioactive carbon in the wood.

The snow of a ship was seen joining from the Mt. Ararat ice pack by avalanche workers in 1840. Since then, commercial pilots have reported sighting a ship-like shadow in the ice near the top of the treeless mountain.

Public Personalities Named

Mafia Peddled Influence - - FBI

By BOB WUHL
Associated Press Writer
NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Wide-spread Mafia infiltration of New Jersey police and politics is the policy of a state police head — portrayed in FBI transcripts of electronic eavesdropping filed in federal court here.

Twelve volumes covering four years of recording name dozens of public personalities including singer Frank Sinatra, Mayor Hugh Addonizio and Police Director Dominick Spina, of Newark, State Police Supt. David R. Kelly and former Supt. Dominic Caputo, powerful Democratic leader John V. Kenny, and state Democratic Chairman Salvatore Kastanos.

The transcripts, produced Tuesday in the extortion trial of reputed Mafia boss Angelo "Doc" DeCarlo, tell of payoffs to public officials, loansharking and gambling operations, skimming from Las Vegas gambling even infiltration of the telephone company and the Masonic lodge.

The transcripts were made public by U.S. Judge Robert F. Shaw over vigorous defense objections. Shaw reserved decision on whether they could be used as evidence in the trial.

Among highlights of the documents:

State police — An FBI memorandum said "it appeared that Kenny had Capello appointed state police superintendent through Gov. Richard J. Hughes as his request. Kenny also has agreed to have Capello appointed superintendent to succeed Capello at DeCarlo's request."

Judge, Attorney Differ In Hearing

By JOSEPH E. MOHRAT
EDMUNDSTOWN, Mass. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Edmund S. Dins threatened to walk out of court unless Judge James A. Boyle gave him more latitude in questioning witnesses at the inquiry into the death of Mary Jo Kopecnik, it has been learned.

Rather than abort the long-delayed inquiry, Boyle told Dins he could ask desired questions of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, driver of a car that toppled off a Chappaquiddick Island bridge last July, frapping Miss Kopecnik inside.

But the 63-year-old judge did have the last word on the order. At the outset, Boyle had announced that he would permit only testimony directly related to whether Kennedy or anyone else acted criminally concerning Miss Kopecnik's death.

The sources gave this account of Monday's events:

When Kennedy took the stand in the nearly empty courtroom in the old Duke County Courthouse, Dins began to question him. Judge Boyle, citing his earlier announcement that the district attorney offer several times.

Dins protested and Boyle asked Kennedy to step outside. In the subsequent conference between the judge and the district attorney, Dins said he would walk out of the case unless Boyle let him ask his questions. Boyle reluctantly acquiesced.

When Kennedy returned to the stand, however, Dins related his questioning and tended to stay within the judge's original limits.

As far as the order of witnesses was concerned, even Gargan and Markham were not saved for the end. They testified Tuesday. They were followed by three of the five young women who, with Miss Kopecnik, attended the steak barbecue on Chappaquiddick which preceded the auto accident.

Whopping Teamsters' Demand

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — A whopping Teamsters' union wage demand for the nation's truck drivers has added to President Nixon's economic head-aches amid signs of a crack in tough White House policies to curb inflation.

The union's three-year pay demands representing at least a 40 per cent increase and totaling $2.50 an hour for 450,000 workers — most now averaging $4 an hour — were set for presentation to the trucking industry today.

The demands also include an additional $1.25 per hour in fringe benefits and extra cost-of-living pay if prices continue rising in the nation's worst inflationary spiral in nearly 20 years, it was learned.

At the same time, Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz said high interest rates creating a tight money supply — a key Nixon weapon against inflation — were squeezing business too hard in the slowing economy.

"If we keep the strangulation on the money supply, the prospects are for more signs of slowing in the economic indicators that we see," Shultz said at a Tuesday news conference in the first open break among top level Nixon administration economists.

Crooms Voc-Ag Teacher Wins Honors

By MRS. R. B. THOMAS JR.
Twenty-five teachers of vocational agriculture from 18 states were recognized for outstanding achievements during the 42nd annual FFA convention in Kansas City.

The teachers were presented the honorary American Farmer degree, highest honor that the organization bestows to non-members.

John A. Lawson Jr., vocational agriculture teacher at Crooms High School, was one of two Floridians selected for this high honor.

Selection for the honor was based on achievements which included the teacher's years of service, the number of awards received, the number of FFA members who have developed under their leadership, and the record of group achievement.

His reply, "I believe that success is based primarily on the learning by doing method. I have enjoyed my work very much throughout the years, especially in watching the young men that I have taught develop into outstanding citizens in the community."

"I am looking forward to sharing my experiences with our young men and will continue to guide their activities in vocational agriculture as long as my service is needed."

An arch adorned with two white wedding bells, pink and white glads centered with mums, greenery and lighted tapers in candleholders formed the background in the Western Reception Center of Sanford for the ceremony on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 27, when Miss Annie Ruth Hughes became the bride of John A. Lawson Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hughes of Sanford and Mr. Teemer's parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Teemer, of New Smyrna Beach.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Kennedy, of New Smyrna Beach. Records of traditional wedding ceremonies were played.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of tulle and silk with a high collar and long sleeves. The flowing lace skirt was enhanced with a sweeping chapel train. Her shoulder length veil was of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Margaret Hughes, sister of the bride, was escorted by John Hill of Sanford. Her bridesmaids were Ardel Hughes, Gloria Hughes and Linda Hughes.

All the bride attendants were groomed in long dresses of pink and white dotted swiss. Each bride's maid wore an Empire bodice and ruffled stand up collar. Their matching headpieces were pink illusion veils attached to pink ribbons. They carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

The groom was dressed in a short pink dress and carried a basket of pink rose petals. John Hill of Sanford served as best man. Ushers were Melvin Brown, New Smyrna, William McFey, Winter Haven, and William Davis of Sanford.

Mrs. Franklin Montgomery, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. Their home was beautifully decorated throughout with a Christmas motif. Assisting with Christmas duties were Miss Joan Butler and Miss Cynthia Martin.

Over 50 awards, new ranks and insignias were issued to the scouts. Most outstanding achievement awards were presented to Gary Daniels and Eddie Ashby of Troop 117.

Following the ceremony, a social hour was held and refreshments were served to those attending.

The home of Mrs. Lillie B. Hall and Miss Katie Robinson was the family gathering place for a Christmas Day reunion.

Mrs. Gertrude Cassanova, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerold Cassanova, of Sanford, became the bride of Hubert Cox of Quincy, last Saturday at Providence Missionary Baptist Church of Lake Monroe at a candlelight, double ring ceremony with the Rev. S. W. Washburne officiating.

Mrs. Evelyn Clark, pianist, played "O Promise Me," "I Love Thee" and "Melody of Love." Soloist, Marshall Holloway Jr., sang "The Lord's Prayer."

A BIT OF NOSTALGIA: A good friend and neighbor of mine had never seen snow. I rather she dropped the problem with hubby, and their four children of Brooklyn and Rochester, N.Y.

Also Mrs. Margaret Robinson, Rochester, N.Y., Mrs. E. J. Burney and daughter, Mrs. Clementine Wright and sons, Alphonso and Brian of Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. S. S. Robinson of Jacksonville.

Also Mrs. Arterey Barnwell and Amelie Bostic, Deland, Fla., and Mrs. Homer Williams and grandchildren of Lake Placid.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Mitchell of Arizona and the family of Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry W. Walker has as their houseguest for the holidays a cousin, Mrs. Arlette Ebrahn, of Miami.

Let's hope, while you are reading this, that the train of my good neighbor, Mrs. Leola Burke, would have arrived in Sanford on time today.

I don't believe she will have the desire to ever see snow again. Brummmmmmmmm!

Oriental Flair Adds Spice To Popular West Dishes

By TOM HOGG
Associated Press Writer
Chinese cooking is no novelty, but Western dishes made with a Chinese touch can really send you...

JULIAN KUO, Chinese-born official of the United Nations Secretariat, specializes in traditional American dishes dressed up by a mixture of Chinese ingredients.

Top off a perfect sandwich roll with a glossy California ripe olive. The meaty texture and nutlike flavor of the ripe olive combine appetizingly with canned tuna and celery for a delicious salad mixture. Easy and quickly made, these sandwiches are great for outdoor eating.

RIPE OLIVE SALAD ROLLS
1/2 cup canned pitted California ripe olives
1 (7-ounce) can tuna
2 hard cooked eggs
1/2 cup chopped celery
Cut ripe olives into large pieces. Drain tuna and flake. Peel and dice eggs. Combine ripe olives, tuna, and eggs with celery and mayonnaise. Cut rolls in half leaving one side attached. Roll slightly, spread rolls with butter and keep with filling. Tuck a crisp lettuce leaf inside each roll. Make 6 sandwiches.

It's called "Barbers' Salad," but waiters will love it, too. Garnish as all get one. It combines red and gold vegetables with crab and avocado. Sliced hard-cooked egg bolsters its protein content.

BARBERS' SALAD
4 or 5 fresh tomatoes
1 cup shredded lettuce
1/2 cup chopped green onion
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup salad oil
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
3 or 4 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

Slice tomatoes to yield 2 1/2 cups. Set aside a few slices for garnish; place remainder in large salad bowl with lettuce, crab, egg, tomatoes, avocado and onion. Gently toss salad; garnish with remaining slices. Chill. Blend sour cream, oil, Worcestershire and mayonnaise in small dish; pour with salad. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Strawberry Punch Tops Supper

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor

NEW YEAR'S PARTY
Smoked Turkey Chutney
Rice Casserole Salad Bowl
Strawberry Punch Fruit Cake
STRAWBERRY PUNCH
1 can (1 pound) whole frozen strawberries in syrup
1 bottle (4-5th quart) dry or sweet white wine, chilled bottles (each 4-5th quart) champagne, chilled
Ice block, frozen in a 1-pint mold or bowl, if needed
Defrost the berries until they may be separated but are still icy-cold. Turn into a four-quart punch bowl; add the wine. Pour in the champagne; stir with ladle. Serve at once in punch cups or champagne glasses. Makes 24 servings—three fluid ounces each. If punch is to stand for any length of time during serving, add the ice.

NEW YEAR WEEKEND SUPPER
Don't miss this relaxing way to serve oranges to guests.
Poached Fish Fillets with Hollandaise Sauce
Parley Potatoes Broccoli
Oranges Burgundy Poundcake
ORANGES BURGUNDY
1 bottle (4-8th pint) domestic burgundy
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 large oranges
Into a glass or ceramic serving bowl (about two quarts) turn the burgundy and sugar; stir until most of sugar dissolves. Cut rind away from oranges so no white membrane remains; slice into thin rounds, removing any seeds and any of the center white membrane that you can; add each orange as you slice it to the wine mixture. Cover and refrigerate for two to four hours. Serve in dessert bowls with dessert spoons and forks. Makes eight servings.

Corn syrup gives sponge cake extra flavor.
Chicken Pie Salad Bowl
Sponge Cake Fruit
SPONGE CAKE
1/4 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 large egg, separated
3/4 cup light or dark corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
On wax paper, sift together flour, 1/4 cup of the sugar and salt. Turn back into sifter. Add cream of tartar to egg whites and beat until slightly mounded when beater is withdrawn; gradually beat in remaining 1/4 cup sugar; slowly add corn syrup and continue beating until whites stand in straight stiff peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn.
Without washing beater, beat egg yolks until thickened and lemon color; beat in vanilla. Fold egg yolks into egg white mixture. Gradually fold in dry ingredients, sifting about 1/4 cup at a time over surface.
Turn into ungreased 10-inch angelfood cake pan. Cut through with rubber spatula to remove large air bubbles. Bake in preheated 325-degree oven until cake is lightly browned—56 to 65 minutes. Invert pan and let cake stand until cool—about one hour. Loosen sides with spatula and ease out.
Note: Cake may also be baked at above temperature in 10 by 6 by 2 inch cake pan about 45 minutes; in two 9 by 1 1/2 inch cake pans for about 30 minutes. Invert to cool for about 20 minutes or until just slightly warm. Loosen sides with spatula and turn out on wire rack to cool completely.

BUFFET SUPPER
The butter mixture used for snails is delicious as a bread or roll spread.
Beef Burgundy Salad Bowl
French Rolls Small Butter
Frosted Butter Sponge Cake
SNAIL BUTTER
1/4 pound (1 stick) butter
2 tablespoons minced shallots
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1/2 teaspoon crushed garlic
Have the butter at room temperature so that it is soft but not runny. With a spoon, beat in the remaining ingredients. Turn into a small container and cover tightly; refrigerate until firm.
Mixture may be frozen for as long as a month. Before serving allow it to soften enough to spread. Makes about 1/2 cup. Serve as a spread for crisp French rolls.

Port Butt Sandwich Excellent

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor
LADIES LUNCH
The good little cookie that stores well and stays crunchy.
Scrambled Eggs
and Canadian Bacon
Rolls
Fruit Compote
Almond Cookies
1/4 pound (1 stick) butter
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 egg yolks
1 cup sifted flour, stir to aerate before measuring
1 egg white
1/2 cup finely chopped unblanched almonds.
In a medium mixing bowl cream butter, sugar and vanilla. Thoroughly beat in egg yolks. Gradually stir in flour, then 1/4 cup of the almonds. Chill until firm enough to handle.
On floured pastry cloth with a floured stock-covered rolling pin, roll out half the dough at a time to about 1/4-inch thickness. Cut out with a two-inch round cookie cutter. Place one inch apart on greased cookie sheet.
Beat egg white until foamy; brush over cookies; sprinkle with remaining 1/4 cup almonds. Bake in preheated 375-degree oven until very lightly browned around edges—about six or seven minutes. Makes about four dozen.
Note: Gather up scraps of dough left after first rollings and freezer-chill before re-rolling.

Beverage
SAVORY SQUASH
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1-1/2 cups white pepper
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 package (12 ounces) frozen cooked squash
Into a sautépan turn all the ingredients in the order given. Over low heat covered, cook until squash is thoroughly heated, stirring often—about 10 to 15 minutes. Makes four servings.

GOOD DINNER
Leftover smoked pork butt is excellent for sandwiches.
Glazed Smoked Butt
Yams
Green Peas
Salad
Gingerbread with Apple Sauce
GLAZED SMOKED BUTT
3-pound smoked boned pork shoulder butt
Whole Cloves
1-2nd cup apricot preserves
1/4 cup dry vermouth
Remove all wrappings from butt. Insert whole cloves in butt so they are one to two inches apart all the way around. Place on a rack in a small shallow roasting pan or similar utensil. Bake according to wrapper directions.
Remove from oven; increase heat to 450 degrees. Pour off drippings from pan and remove rack. Place a piece of heavy-weight foil in the pan and put the butt on it; bring up sides of foil fairly close to pork.
In a small bowl stir together the apricot preserves and vermouth; spoon over the pork. Place in the 450-degree oven until lightly browned—18 minutes. Let pork rest 15 to 20 minutes before carving; during this time baste with glaze a few times.
Note: If butt wrapper does not have baking directions, simmer butt in water to cover until a fork inserted in center twists easily—about 40 minutes per pound; drain and glaze as directed.

WEEKDAY LUNCH

Red Apples
Beverage
DIFFERENT TOMATO BISQUE
1/4 cup creamy peanut butter
1 1/2 cups water
1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes
1/4 tablespoon butter
1/4 teaspoon salt
Into a medium saucepan turn the peanut butter; gradually stir in the water. Add the tomatoes. Simmer about 30 minutes. Strain, forcing through solids. Return to saucepan with butter and salt. Reheat. Makes about three cups—three or four servings. The stewed tomatoes called for are those prepared with onion, celery, green pepper and other seasonings.

Eggnog Snow Is Delectable
By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor
GOOD DINNER
A little eggnog, leftover from the holiday, makes a delectable dessert.

NEW EGGNOG SNOW
1 container (8 ounces) heavy cream
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup 30-proof bottled eggnog
2 large eggs, separated
1/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
Candied violets

In a small mixing bowl whip cream until stiff; refrigerate. Wash and dry beaters. In a small saucepan sprinkle gelatin over cold water; let stand a few minutes to soften. Add eggnog. Stir over low heat until gelatin dissolves—five minutes or so. Set aside of heat, stirring occasionally.

In a small mixing bowl beat whites until soft peaks form; gradually beat in 1/4 cup of the sugar; set aside.

Without washing beater, in a medium mixing bowl, beat egg yolks until lemon color. Gradually beat in remaining 1/4 cup sugar until thick and pale lemon color. Add vanilla. Thoroughly stir in gelatin mixture. Add beaten whites; fold in; use beater gently to smooth out any remaining blobs of white. Add whipped cream; fold in. Turn into a two-quart glass bowl. Refrigerate until set. Just before serving garnish with candied violets. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

EASY SUPPER
Lettuce, turkey, is the fresher? This relish makes a fine accompaniment.

Hot sliced Turkey Sandwiches
Cranberry Wine Sauce
Sliced Fruit Bowl
Cookies
CRANBERRY WINE SAUCE
2 cups fresh cranberries
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup dry red wine
1/4 cup water

Into a three-quart saucepan turn all the ingredients. Over low heat stir until sugar dissolves. Boil rapidly, uncovered, until berries pop—8 to 10 minutes; if some berries don't pop, mash them with a spoon. Cool without stirring. Turn into serving dish, cover and chill. Makes about two cups.

LOW-CALORIE DINNER
Sautéed Veal
Spinach
Green Beans
Sautéed Potato
Jellied Fruit
Beverage

1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed beef broth bouillon
1/4 teaspoon dried basil

Into a one or one and a half quart saucepan turn the tomato soup, fill can with water and add. Add undiluted beef broth and basil. Heat, stirring often, to serving temperature. Makes six servings.

HEARTY DINNER
Potato pancakes are a traditional accompaniment to sauerbraten.
Sauerbraten
Red Cabbage
Potato Pancakes
Salad

Banana Cream Pie
POTATO PANCAKES
2 large eggs
1/4 teaspoon flour
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons finely grated onion, pulp and juice (1/4 small onion)
1/2 pound (3 medium) baking-type meaty potatoes, pared and coarsely grated (3/4 cups packed down)
1/4 cup salad (not olive) oil

In a medium mixing bowl beat eggs until thick and ivory color. Beat in flour, baking powder and salt. Fold in onion and potatoes.

In a 10-inch skillet, over moderate heat, heat 1/4 cup of the oil. Taking up some liquid at bottom of bowl each time, drop heaping tablespoons of mixture, well apart, into hot oil, using back of spoon, immediately spread potato shreds thin. Turn as necessary and fry until potatoes are soft and pancakes are golden-brown on both sides. And more oil as needed for each batch of pancakes. Drain on absorbent paper and keep warm in a slow oven. Makes about one and a half dozen.

Candied Peel is Refresher

EVENING REFRESHER
Something good to nibble!
Sardine Paste Party Rye Bread
Cheese and Crackers Olive
Cookies Candied Orange Peel
CANDIED ORANGE PEEL
4 large thick-skinned oranges
3 quarts cold water
1 1/4 cups sugar
1/4 cup honey
1 cups boiling water

Extra sugar about 1/4 cup
Wash and dry oranges; cut off a thin slice from the ends of each. Make four equidistant lengthwise cuts through entire peel. With a butter knife, gently loosen peel at ends, then pull off with fingers.
Into a four or five-quart saucepot turn the orange peel and cold water; boil uncovered until tender—20 minutes; drain. With a tablespoon scrape off white membrane. With kitchen scissors cut into 1/4-inch wide lengthwise strips.
Into the clean saucepot turn the 1 1/4 cups sugar, honey and boiling water; boil one minute. Add peel and let bubble gently until almost all syrup is absorbed—30 to 40 minutes; stir often to avoid sticking. Turn into a colander to drain—about 10 minutes. Spread wax paper with extra sugar; roll peel in it; let dry—at least one hour. Store in tightly covered containers. Makes about five cups—1/4 to 1/2 pound.

THE FAMILY LAWYER
Harold's partner lay dying. "Make me the last promise," he whispered to Harold. "My wife doesn't know a thing about business. Will you keep an eye on her affairs after I am gone?"
Solemnly, Harold promised. But a few months afterward, he informed the widow that he no longer had the time to help her. Left on her own, she soon made some costly blunders. Blaming her woes on Harold, she filed a damage suit against him for breaking the promise he had made to her dying husband.
But the court held Harold not liable, since the promise he had made was strictly one-sided—hence not a legally binding contract. The judge said promises of this kind "create bare moral obligations, binding only on the conscience."
This is a general rule, that moral obligations are not enforceable in a court of law. It is based on the practical difficulties of measuring such intangible qualities as honor and duty and love.
Nevertheless, there is a natural reluctance on the part of the courts to let the breaker of a promise "get away with it" — if that can fairly be avoided.
For this reason a promise will usually be enforced, if there is, in addition to the moral obligation some semblance of a legal obligation to back it up.
In one case a furniture manufacturer, unable to collect for some tables sold to a store, was reluctant to take legal action against his customer. He waited so long, in fact, that his claim was finally barred by the statute of limitations.
But not long afterward the customer himself, in a repeat and round, made a promise to pay off the old debt. Could the manufacturer enforce this promise?
A court ruled that he could indeed, because it was based not only on a moral obligation but on an original legal obligation as well. Even though the legal obligation had been barred by the statute of limitations, the court said it was enough of an "extra" to justify making the customer live up to his promise.

Attorney Ruling Blow To Casselberry's Blow

By TOM ALEXANDER

According to a letter released yesterday from Florida Attorney General Earl Fairold, it appears that Casselberry Mayor Curtis Blow has lost the first round in his fight to oust Donald Brumley as police chief of that city.

The letter, sent to attorney Kenneth McIntosh stated, "It appears to be the general rule that without the approval or confirmation as prescribed by charter, the appointee is not authorized to enter onto the duties of office." This referred to any appointments that Blow may want to make to succeed Brumley as police chief.

The attorney general's letter continued: "This being the case it would appear that until such time as the council can agree to confirm or give its consent of office, there appears to be no restriction on the number of times the council may withhold its consent or confirmation and thus the mayor's alternative is to continue to present an appointee until such time as one can be found upon whom the mayor and the majority of the council can agree."

In the meantime, it has for many years been the general rule in Florida that all municipal officers continue in office after the expiration of their official term until their successors are duly qualified.

Blow has yet to submit any name to the council to replace Brumley. Three members of the council, William Greer, Richard Wirtz and Thomas Napier, have previously stated that they will support Brumley, which means that Blow's appointee would not be confirmed.

A meeting has been scheduled tonight by citizens interested in keeping Brumley as chief. The meeting will get underway at 7 p.m. at the new city municipal complex.

BRRR! It's Cold; More Is Expected!

By United Press International

Black smoke wafted across Florida's citrus belt today as growers battled a killer freeze while tourists in Miami Beach had their vacations spoiled with the coldest January in 20 years.

No letup was expected tonight in the rare cold blast which sent temperatures into the 10s in North Florida and to a record tying 35 in Miami Beach.

Forecasters at the Lakeland frost service station in the heart of the citrus belt, where the citrus buds were recorded, said the freeze "will produce hazardous conditions for citrus and vegetables."

"Significant firing is taking place through the northern and central interior areas," a weatherman said. "The lowest temperatures were expected to come after sunrise."

The low of 35 recorded at 6 a.m. at Miami Beach ties the record for January set in 1948.

"This morning's weather is the coldest since mid-December of 1968 when a low of 34 degrees was recorded at the airport," said a Miami forecaster.

"It's 25 out at my home right now," said a Lakeland forecaster, "and we haven't had our coldest yet."

Tallahassee had 19, Gainesville 22, Jacksonville 24, Tampa 30, Daytona Beach 29, and Fort Myers 30.

Citrus growers were not overly concerned Wednesday night. To damage the crops, temperatures would have to remain below 28 degrees for more than eight hours. But some concern was voiced that a worse freeze could occur tonight and Friday morning.

Dade County Agriculture Agent John Campbell said vegetable farmers sent extra crews into the fields south of Miami to harvest as many tomatoes as possible before dark Wednesday.

"We're right at the peak of the tomato harvest season. This could be very damaging," said Campbell. A light coat of frost is enough to kill tender crops.

Along the gold coast from Palm Beach to Miami Beach, diurnal cold weather sent tourists scurrying indoors to continue their card games or show off for coats in hotel lobbies and shopping areas.

Three Youths Held On Other Charges

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford Police Chief Ben Butler this morning disclosed the arrest of a city refuse worker on assault and battery charges brought by a female electronics worker employed at Delton Springs.

Butler said Robert Lee Peterson, 23, of 511 East Sixth Street, was apprehended by Patrolman Gary Swain and Sgt. Charles H. Tate after an alleged incident took place at corner of Sixth Street and Sanford Avenue Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Butler said Mrs. Oreta Bryant, 21, of 601 Palmiste Avenue, was waiting for her nightly ride to her job when a man slipped up behind, grabbed her and tried to drag her down the street. The woman's screams caused the man to release her and run away, the chief said.

Later, after Swain and Tate had been alerted, Peterson was apprehended and identified by the woman as her assailant.

Butler said other charges against Peterson are pending upon investigation and consultation with the state attorney's office.

In another report, Ronald Edward Muse, 19, of 1215 Magnolia Avenue, was arrested here for stealing gasoline from a county school bus. Upon investigation it was discovered that Muse had in his possession a 1961 car taken from Orlando. Patrolman William Dube made the arrest. Authorities for prosecution of car theft charges.

Two youths have been arrested and a third is being sought by police in connection with the theft of two rifles and a shotgun taken Tuesday from a car belonging to Robert Harvey and parked at Second Street and Sanford Avenue.

Police have charged John Williams, 17, and his 16-year-old companion, both from Sanford, with breaking and entering to commit grand larceny after a foot race that occurred when the two were surprised near the theft scene.

Butler said Detective Ralph Russell, Gary Swain, William Lykins, patrolman, and Sgt. Charles finally ran down the pair while a third youth was able to elude authorities and is still being sought.

The chief also revealed he would soon announce an arrest in the recent robbery and knifing of a hospital employee.

Realty Sales Boom

By MARION BETHEA

The tight money situation which has curtailed real estate sales nationally, has not affected the local market. Seminole County real estate transactions have increased 50 per cent during the last two years, according to Clerk of the Court Arthur Beckwith Jr. Recording fees during the period have jumped over $21,000 and instruments received have grown well over 6,000.

Beckwith attributes the deviation from the national trend to the fantastic growth pattern within the area and feels that the monetary difficulties has had no effect in this county.

Beckwith reported that total real estate transactions handled during 1969 numbered 24,765 with recording fees of $44,918.

In 1968 the instruments recorded were 21,718 with fees of $55,991. The year 1967 saw 18,022 transactions with fees of $43,427.

There was, however, a "lag" in real estate in 1966, according to Beckwith. The records for 1966 indicated 17,282 instruments filed with fees of $41,750. In 1966 the figures dropped to 15,910 and $36,507 respectively.

It can be readily seen, by the comparative figures for the past four years, that the real estate trend is mushrooming by leaps and bounds in Seminole County.

If the pattern holds true in the "fabulous '70s" adjoining counties may well be envious of the "sleeping giant" which is Seminole.

WOW AGAIN TONIGHT

Freeze Damage Unknown

By CHARNER LEONE

If there has been any damage to the crops as a result of last night's freezing weather it probably will not be evident for several days. It could take up to two weeks to know, said County Agent Frank Jans.

"It's impossible to give a good answer now," said Jans. "It depends upon what happens tonight and tomorrow."

The area citrus growers do not expect much damage as the result of last night's 25-degree weather in the Sanford area. "Most of the trees are quite dormant now," explained Jans. The trees are less susceptible to damage while they are not actively growing.

Another encouraging factor, said Jans, was the lack of frost. The breeze kept the cold from settling and frosting. It would take colder weather to do the same amount of damage as that frost would have done," explained the county agent.

There are other factors to consider, too, he said. The moisture in the ground tends to hold the previous warmth a bit, and provides the trees with water quickly, as it is needed.

Gerald Bohrens, Bohrens Tractor Repair, Lake Monroe, revealed that the cabbage in his area has been frozen solid. "If the next few days are clear and cool there will be a minimum of damage," he said. "But rainy, warm weather would cause extensive decay."

Cabbage, celery and lettuce, primary area crops, are winter crops and less likely to be hurt by cold weather than squash and other summer crops, which freeze readily, said Jans.
