

Seven Youths Face Judge As Families Look On In Distress

Boys Questioned In School Entry

Again the door opened and seven boys, dressed in typical garb of schoolboys were escorted by deputies to seats in the rear of the room. They fidgeted. It was a first for most; others had been through it before but in the seclusion of the judge's chambers.

Judge Misa walked to his bench. He looked around, saw the seating arrangements and asked the boys to move inside the gate to chairs directly in front of him.

Accompanied by deputies, they walked there quietly.

The judge scanned through papers before him then looked up.

"I am Vernon Misa, juvenile court judge for Seminole County," he started.

"In juvenile court we try to be informal. Yet it is my duty under the law to keep two thoughts in mind when a juvenile comes before me: I must decide, on evidence presented, if the public welfare will be best served by your being held in custody or by my returning you to another chance in normal life.

"Each of you is presumed innocent until either proven guilty or you admit the charge.

"You have been charged with breaking and entering a public school building."

As the judge continued his opening statements, the boys shifted in their seats. The parents, seated in the darker part of the room, listened intently. Some wore stolid masks, others gazed at handkerchiefs, dabbed at the corner of their mouths.

"Some of you," the judge told the boys, "went inside the school; others sat outside. Yet each of you is represented in this case as having joined in the action charged against you.

"Do you all admit being involved?" he asked.

Some of the boys just nodded, some mumbled an almost inaudible "Yes."

The judge called on a deputy sheriff who had been summoned to the school site soon after the damage was reported.

He told of his findings—a window broken, a soft drink machine smashed, the teachers' lounge entered, ransacked; the cafeteria entered, money taken; the principal's office entered, six transistor radios taken from his desk, a tape recorder stolen.

He told of summoning another deputy. He told of three boys admitting entering the building while others remained outside. He told of recovering the transistors.

The school principal was called forward.

The accused youths looked at him with mixed emotions. Fear. Apprehension. A slight smile, even though on the sickly side. Indifference.

Parents continued staring ahead, most in disbelief. One mother moved the handkerchief from near her mouth to her eyes. Eyes that were moist.

The principal gave an estimate of damages to the windows, screens, value of the tape recorder; other damages.

He was asked by the judge to give a resume of each boy's attitude in school. He excused himself, went to his seat and got cards filed with him by teachers on the conduct of each student.

"As you know, two of the boys have not been in school for some time," he said.

They had previously been sentenced to the Florida Industrial School for Boys, but were released in custody of their parents pending transportation being available to the school.)

Turning to the first boy, he said:

"He wouldn't have been in trouble if he hadn't picked up smoking. He had done minor things — tossing paper in classes. Generally, thought, he gave me no guff. He was courteous to me.

The second boy:

"He was pretty much the same. He was a little biter, but generally a gentleman. There was some question of his smoking. . . ."

Third boy:

"Again, he was pretty much the same as the other two. Once or twice he gave the teachers a little trouble. He showed a little discourtesy, a little disrespect.

Fourth boy:

"He has always been weak, yet always admitted being wrong. He has been in the office numerous times."

Fifth boy:

"His case is more serious, more repetitious. He disturbs other children and has lots of minor infractions such as disturbing class, throwing chalk, paper and pencils in class, greasing restroom door handles, smoking, leaving his seat in class. The primary cause, we believe, is absenteeism."

The parents listened with intense interest; the mothers became more upset as the hour wore on. The fathers grew more grim. The tears flowed harder, faster.

The judge resumed his comments:

"Four of you," he told the boys, "have been in court before—very recently. One of you for stealing a watch; another for taking a golfcart and racing it around school grounds. The other two have been previously committed to the Florida State Industrial School for Boys. That still stands.

"I have bent over backwards, let you go home till you could go to the industrial school. Then you go out and do it again. And you promised; you went back on your word.

"You don't care, do you," he declared and the boys nodded.

Directing his attack at the two, he snapped:

"You are real genuine bums. You led those others with you."

The judge asked one boy how he got started.

"We just got together and someone mentioned skipping school."

"Do you have any reason?" he asked another.

"No."

"Do you want to go to industrial school?"

"I don't know."

"You kids think you're big shots, that other kids will look up to you," the judge continued. "School officials want to get rid of you."

The judge asked if anyone wished to speak for the boys.

An attorney for one youth stood up.

The youth's mother stood just a little straighter.

"He is a follower," said the attorney. "He admits skipping school. He loses his temper. The boy's father is away from home part of the time and the boy wants to be with him. His father has asked for a transfer from his company so he can be nearer home should the court be lenient."

Another man stood up as a "friend of the family" of one of the boys.

"His father is a nut—a religious fanatic. He left his family high and dry.

"The boy has been neglected. He agrees to go into Scouting should he be released."

A father stood up, walked forward and in a voice that barely stayed under control said:

"I'm at a loss. I've searched my soul through and through. I can't understand it. I have never been so ashamed in my life as I am standing here now. He hasn't had much religion. Maybe that's the reason. I promise he will go to church

An estimated 300 persons visited the Florida State Bank Friday during an open house celebration marking the bank's 25th anniversary.

At the close of the day, gifts were distributed to some of the winners who registered. The winners are:

Color television set, Robert B. Nolte, 104 Naranja Road, DeBary; silver service, Samuel B. Parrish, 1801 W. Third St.; candlesticks, Alice M. Rushneck, 49 Madera Rd., DeBary; owl, Lucy R. Heavy rain during much of the day kept the total down, but bank officials expressed satisfaction over the turnout.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Twelve Pulitzer Prizes and a special citation in journalism and letters were awarded Monday but for the first time since the prizes were established 47 years ago there was no award in three major fields of art.

Merriman Smith, White House reporter for United Press International, was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for national reporting for his coverage of the assassination of President Kennedy last Nov. 22. Smith, 51, has covered the White House for UPI for 22 years—spanning five presidential administrations—and in tenure is the senior member of the presidential press corps.

Omitted in the Pulitzer awards presented Monday by the trustees of Columbia University were prizes in the fields of fiction, drama and music.

The Pulitzer advisory board, which makes recommendations on candidates to the Columbia trustees, reported that the jurors in the three arts fields did not submit a single nomination. Awards were presented in the fields of biography, history and general non-fiction.

English Estates Sets Roundup

By Jane Casselberry

Preschool roundup for English Estates Elementary School is scheduled for Thursday, May 14, from 8 until 11 a. m. Principal Morris Ruby requests that all parents in the Tanglewood, English Estates, Prairie Lake and Lakewood Shores areas, with children starting first grade this fall, register at this time.

It will be necessary to bring your child and his birth certificate or other proof of birth. A county health nurse will be present to consult with parents.

One boy walked quickly to his parents and tried to speak. The uncontrolled sobbing of his mother made talk impossible.

He rejoined the others and was escorted under police guard back to the jail.

The courtroom was empty except for one tiny portion of one section of the seats.

There, alone, sat a mother, near collapse. And her husband, the boy's father, trying without success to console her.

Still they sat.

This case was closed.

But, there'll be more. There always has; apparently always will.

every Sunday if he gets another chance."

A mother walked forward but stayed behind the railing, leaning against it for support:

"He has no father. He is dead. He was supposed to be camping out that night. I hope, Judge, you will straighten him out."

She turned, gazed through tears for her seat.

The judge addressed the boys:

"Two of you have already been committed. The others think you'll get a free ride the first time you get caught. Then maybe on another time you'll only get a talking to."

"Maybe if I'm stricter on you, the others in school will think a lot harder before they try to pull something like this."

"I can't understand how you can destroy property with no reason whatsoever. You wouldn't break into your own home, would you? If it were in retaliation, I might be able to understand it. But you had no reason."

He paused and the parents grew more tense. The sobbing mother in one section was comforted by her husband.

The boys had mixed emotions on their faces. One hid his face in his hands, burying a sickly smile. Another rubbed the side of his face. Two others looked down. The rest watched the judge.

You can buy any number of used political campaign posters quite cheap these days, what with Tuesday being what it was.

One political backer was sipping coffee election morning at a local drug store. He was reminded that he could probably electioneer better if he were nearer the polls. To which the politician replied: "Yeah, but I'm afraid we'll get more voters than there are people registered."

Sanford and Seminole County residents can be proud of the way they turned out to cast their ballots. The poll-voting started early and maintained a steady, sturdy pace throughout the day. To those who voted: thanks. To those who didn't: you shouldn't, but you will, gripe.

The windy weather of the past few days continues to show damage in a number of places. The latest is the American flag flying atop City Hall. It has about an 18-inch slit running parallel with the stripes.

Former naval personnel discharged within the past four years and who are in one of the present "open rates" may re-enlist in the same paygrade they held when they were discharged. The Navy recruiter will be at the Sanford USO Tuesdays from 11 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. for details.

Parents who live in the Monroe - Wilson School area and have a child entering the first grade for the school year 1964-65 are urged to observe the following: Register the child at the Monroe School office between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. during the week of May 18-22. They should have a birth certificate showing the child will be six years of age before Dec. 31 of this year. They also should secure a health record form from the school at the time of registration.

The Clock hears some persons were challenged and turned away from the polls when they tried to vote in Tuesday's primaries. True, the primaries were for Democratic and Republican candidates. Those who were turned away had registered "NP" or no party.

The Sanford Lions Club will hold its installation party June 16 at 7 p. m. at the Capri Restaurant. The social hour starts then and dinner and the installation will follow.

Professional nursing licensing examinations will be given Aug. 18 and 19 at the Seminole Hotel, Jacksonville, according to the Florida State Board of Nursing. Applications must be filed not later than July 21, a letter from the board tells us.

Archie Doye Cannon of Seminole High School is one of the high school teachers from 15 states to receive a grant to attend the fourth Mathematics Institute at Stetson University this summer. Sixty-four teachers were selected from a total of 450 applications from all over the nation.

Operators of downtown stores had their chores Tuesday morning when they arrived for business. Sometime during the dark of night someone had stuck, and we mean stuck, small signs boasting the merits of one of the candidates. The stickers were extremely hard to get off and the person whose name appeared on them denied any knowledge of the project.

2 County Commission Runoff Races May 26

Tuesday's initial primary vote resulted in two run-offs for county commission posts in the May 26 second primary, with the winner automatically elected in the November general election. Incumbents J. C. Hutchison and John M. Fitzpatrick will face Edward Yarborough and Harry F. Cushing, respectively, in the run-off primary. General Hutchison, seeking his second four-year term as commissioner of District 1, tallied 3,882 votes but failed to win a majority over his three opponents. Yarborough, a young newcomer to politics, racked up

Shepard, Ray To Vie In Runoff

Mrs. Marjorie C. Shepard and Troy Ray will oppose each other in the May 26 run-off primary for the Democratic nomination for county tax collector and subsequent automatic election in November. Mrs. Shepard topped the field of six candidates Tuesday for the position now held by her superior, retiring John Galloway. Ray was a little more than 500 votes behind Mrs. Shepard. Ray presently is a deputy in the clerk of courts office.

James P. Avery Jr., vacating his county commission chairmanship to run in this race, placed third. Since Mrs. Shepard did not garner 50 per cent plus one of the total vote cast, she and

North Orlando's New Lady Mayor Faces Ouster Trial

Instead of "gavels at 20 paces," North Orlando Mayor Irene Van Epoeel Tuesday night was challenged by former Mayor W. W. Anderson with a petition, signed by some 30 residents, calling for her removal from office along with that of Councilman Arthur Ferrin, the appointed council franchise, finance and budget commissioner. Charges against both, as quoted from the petition, are "gross abuse of office by your dual complicity in misappropriation of public funds by causing your signatures to be affixed on two checks against municipal funds completely unknown to the governing body whose authority it is to issue such documents, and that in so doing, you did improperly obligate the city, and you jointly did far exceed authority granted you in the charter, therefore violating that which each of you took a solemn oath to protect and defend."

Burns, High Get Set For Runoff

MIAMI (UPI) — Haydon Burns of Jacksonville and Robert King High of Miami, big city mayors with opposing civil rights views, began a Democratic runoff battle for the governor's chair today. In a race he was supposed to lose to the legislative veterans from Tallahassee, the biggest loser was Fred O. Dickinson of West Palm Beach, the biggest spender of the campaign and the candidate who said last week that if his organization couldn't win, "we ought to re-write the books."

The record vote unofficially totaled 12,235, well above the previous high of 11,264 in 1956. Percentage-wise, the total was 66 per cent, well above the predicted 55 per cent but less than the previous high of 86 per cent in 1956. Present registration of qualified voters is 18,450.

Three Democrats won nominations with subsequent automatic election in November, barring unforeseen write-in candidates. These were Kaylyle Housholder for county judge, Kenneth W. McIntosh for prosecuting attorney and R. T. Milwee for superintendent of public instruction. Housholder, presently prosecuting attorney, tallied 6,774 votes to Harlan Tuck's 2,856. McIntosh downed Thomas A. Speer 6,185 to 3,805. Milwee racked up 5,584 votes against Jim Piggott's 4,670.

Strangely, three top Democratic vote-getters in Seminole County, along with a Commission candidate, have Republican opposition in the general election in November. Top vote-getters were Sen. Spessard Holland, Rep. S. J. Davis Jr. and Mary Earle Walker, all seeking re-election. These three and W. Lawrence Swofford have GOP opposition in the fall.

Holland tallied 7,078 votes in Seminole against Bratley Odham's 2,901 and will be faced in November by Republican Claude R. Kirk Jr., of Jacksonville. Davis easily downed Robert G. Petree, 6,536 to 2,799. He will be opposed in November by Republican Robert Hoover. Mrs. Walker, seeking her third term as tax assessor, carried all 23 precincts to runoff roughshod over Richard

"I saw it in the paper..."

...means she has faith in what she reads there. You've said it yourself many a time. You have confidence that it's true, if you read it in the paper. And that's a good place for an advertiser to be, surrounded by news and editorial features that people feel are authoritative. According to an actual survey, 8 out of 10 people felt that newspapers are "reliable" and "dependable;" more than 7 out of 10 felt them to be "believable." This receptive frame of mind extends to the advertising message. In the same survey, newspaper advertising is rated high in positive, and low in negative feelings. So whatever you want to sell them, tell them about it in the newspaper.

Wallace Jolts National Democratic Party

Unpledged Electors In Sweep

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama jarred the national Democratic party again today with a declaration of independence in his home state and an impressive but second best vote in the Indiana presidential primary.

As expected, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona easily defeated Harold E. Stassen in the Indiana Republican presidential primary. By adding Indiana's 32 national convention votes on the first ballot, Goldwater's headquarters claimed 284 of the 655 votes needed to win the presidential nomination.

Party primaries to nominate candidates for various offices were held Tuesday in Alabama, Indiana, Ohio, Florida, Oklahoma, New Mexico and the District of Columbia. Echoes of the national debate on civil rights were heard in contests in Ohio and Florida as well as in Alabama and Indiana.

Wallace made himself the symbol of opposition to the Johnson administration's civil rights program. In the Alabama primary, a Wallace-backed slate of unpledged presidential electors won a runaway victory over a slate pledged to support the nominee of the national Democratic party. Thus Alabama's 10 electoral votes can be withheld from President Johnson after the election next November.

In the Indiana primary, Gov. Matthew Welsh ran as a favorite son candidate and stand-in for Johnson to defeat the segregationist Wallace.

In other major contests: Ohio: Rep. Robert Taft Jr. won the Republican nomination for a seat in the Senate, where his father was once a dominant figure. Sen. Stephen M. Young was renominated in the Democratic primary but Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the astronaut who withdrew because of an injury, polled a sizable vote. Oklahoma: Bud Wilkinson, former Oklahoma football coach, easily won the Republican senatorial nomination. Sen. J. Howard Edmondson was in a three-way fight with former Gov. Raymond Gary and state Sen. Fred Harris for the Democratic nomination and a runoff contest between the two leaders was indicated.

New Mexico: Rep. Joseph M. Montoya was nominated without opposition in the Democratic senatorial primary to oppose Sen. Edwin L. Meches, who was unopposed for the GOP nomination. Primary voters in the District of Columbia elected party officials, a Johnson delegation to the Democratic National Convention and an uncommitted delegation to the Republican convention.

Council 5357 To Have Charter Presentation

Charter Presentation Ceremonies for St. Richard Council 5357, Knights of Columbus, will take place Saturday at the Council Hall, 2504 Oak Avenue, Sanford.

A spaghetti dinner will be served to all members, their wives and special guests of the council from 5 until 7 p.m. preceding the ceremony which is scheduled for 8 p.m. with District Deputy William Joyce making the charter presentation. Games and entertainment for everyone will follow and door prizes will be awarded.

Nominal price per plate has been set for the dinner. Arrangements for the event are being directed by the Council Activities group with Jerry Farrell in charge of tickets.

Grand Knight, Dr. W. V. Roberts, requests that all members of the Council be present for the charter presentation.

The portrait of Alexander Hamilton appears on the U. S. $10 bill.

Geneva Gems

By Mrs. Joe E. Mathieux Nephew Oliver Mathieux is home after seven weeks in Panama on a job assignment and "Little Lis" surely was glad to see him. She greeted him with open arms and a list of waiting repairs to be made on their home . . . happy repairs, Oliver, and welcome home.

R. N. (Dick) Strevall is a patient at Shaner Nursing Home, 800 Piney Ridge Road, Casselberry. I suggest we all send him a card of cheer, how about it?

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dunn Sr. recently celebrated their 32nd wedding anniversary with dinner at Jim Spencer's in Sanford. With them for the occasion were their five sons, Donald Jr., and his wife, Treasa, and Nolley, Danny, Dicky and Jimmy. Their two daughters were unable to be here for the celebration. Margaret just doesn't look like the mother of seven, she's fabulous!

Mrs. C. W. Kettering recently made a trip to Bok Tower with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Daisy Kettering, her niece, Mrs. Ike Lloyd and Mrs. Lloyd's grandson, Billy Mathieux. The trip was in celebration of Mrs. Lloyd's birthday. Anna (Mrs. C. W. Kettering) said the trip was truly a delight and she recommends it for all who come to Florida.

Mrs. W. H. Weathersbee and Mrs. George MacDonnell of Jacksonville Beach were recent guests of Mrs. Weathersbee's son-in-law and daughter, Joe and Lis Mathieux.

Judging by the crowd and the diners sold, all the happy talk, smiles and handshakes, etc., I would say that the Geneva Citizen Association's recent chicken barbecue dinner was a huge success. Jimmy Brown had a big smile on his face as he counted the money so I guess everyone can be happy. While I'm speaking of this event, let me say that the kitchen workers surely were efficient under direction of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Macek. Those helping were Mrs. Everett J. Kinard, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vinson, Mrs. L. V. Ford, Ms. and Mrs. W. G. Kilbee.

Official Flag The U. S. Army received its official flag in 1956. The flag is white with the seal of the Department of the Army in blue. A red scroll reads blue. A red scroll reads "United States Army" and underneath is the date 1776.

The U. S. $5 bill bears the portrait of Abraham Lincoln.

Kynes, Faircloth In Nip And Tuck Race

MIAMI (UPI) — Bryant Administration appointee James Kynes an outstanding legislator Earl Faircloth battled for the post of Attorney General today in the closest race of Florida's first primary, and with the absentee ballots likely to settle the issue.

Returns from 2,216 of the state's 2,279 precincts gave Faircloth 432,974 votes and Kynes 436,907.

With an estimated 15,000 absentee ballots still to be counted, the race appeared to be far from settled.

The lead swung to Faircloth early in the counting and at one point he led by some 40,000 votes. But Kynes climbed back into contention when the votes from North Florida and northwest Florida began rolling in late in the evening and early today.

Kynes, 33-year-old former University of Florida football star and administrative assistant to Gov. Farris Bryant is the incumbent in the post. He was named attorney general in January by Gov. Bryant when veteran legal officer Richard Ervin was promoted to a seat on the state supreme court.

Faircloth, a Miami attorney would be the first state cabinet officer from south Florida.

Graham Warns Parents On Youth Morality

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Billy Graham warned in a sermon of pressure being placed on American youth that he said is resulting in serious problems of sexual morality.

The evangelist, now at the half-way point in his 10-day San Diego crusade, told a special youth service in Balboa Stadium here:

"Young people are being pressured by the time they are 10 years of age. They go to formal dances at 10, have steady dates at 13 and drive their own cars at 16. They are in college by the time they are 17—already satiated and jaded by life."

Graham said leading colleges "are being caught up in a painful struggle over sexual morality" and that the conflict "pits deans against students, parents against children and young people against their own consciences."

Graham called approval by "many churchmen" of a new, non-religious attitude toward sex "one of the major tragedies of our day."

Legion Sponsors Flag Program

By Mrs. Adam Muller Dolbary's Herbert D. Gibb American Legion Post is sponsoring a "Fly Your Own Flag" program under direction of Vice Commander William G. Williams, flag sale chairman.

Williams will be at the DeBary Post Office Friday from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. with a good stock of new flags to sell at immediate delivery.

Upcoming holidays on which the flag should be flown include VE Day, Friday; Armored Forces Day, May 16; Memorial Sunday, May 24; Memorial Day, May 30 (flag at half mast in a. m.); Flag Day, June 14 and Independence Day, July 4.

Andrew Jackson's portrait appears on the U. S. $20 bill.

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

By Julian Stenstrom

The Sanford Junior High School Braves have completed their second season of baseball and this year's record of nine wins and only a single setback was quite a feather in the school's cap and a tribute to the youngsters and the coaches.

That only loss, by the way was a defeat handed them by the JayVees of Orlando's Evans High School. The Braves did gain some consolation, however, in later beating the little Trojans in a return match.

All told, the Braves whipped South Seminole Junior High's Hurricanes by scores of 11 to 9 and 5 to 4. They beat Leesburg Junior High 5 to 4, Lyman's JayVees 5 to 2, Oviedo Junior High 15 to 1 and 10 to 4, and they topped two from Osceola High's JayVees of Kissimmee, 5 to 1 and 9 to 6.

This season's hurling duties were evenly divided between Ron Dudley who posted a record of five wins and no losses and Steve Leach who hurled five games. Leach won four and dropped one—that defeat at the hands of the Evans JayVees.

Both Dudley and Leach not only stood out in the pitching department, both of them played the outfield when not hurling and represented the Braves well at the plate. Leach's hitting average wound up at .409 and Dudley's at a cool .310.

Despite Leach's tremendous average, it wasn't good enough for the club's batting title. The crown went to Mark Casia who registered a seasonal mark of .433. Tom Bryant, Sanford JH's talented receiver, followed closely with a .412. Bryant led the club in total hits with 14. He also paced the nine in two other departments—extra base blows and run-batted-in.

In the Brave infield were Roy Dunn at first base, Chuck Pigott at second, Frank Whigham at third and Don Robinson at short.

Beginning the season at hot corner, Dunn adapted quickly and did a fine job at first. Robinson exhibited great potential at short and proved to be the big surprise of the infield with his wide range and ability to come up with the key fielding play when needed.

Leading the infielders in hitting were Pigott with his .393 and Whigham with his .292. Pigott, who batted second in the lineup, delivered numerous key hits to enhance both his high average and the club's scoring punch. After missing three games because of illness, Whigham returned quickly to post his .292 average and fill the hot corner gap.

Seeing service in the outfield along with Casia were Mike McQuire and Fred Weber. Used in the leadoff spot, McQuire took advantage of his ability to work opposing hurlers for free passes and legitime Brave rallies. Weber, an eighth grader, improved steadily during the course of the season and the Braves' mentors are looking for Weber to become one of the club's mainstays next season. Weber, undoubtedly, was the surer of the outfielders and has a strong throwing arm.

Contributing to the overall success of the season were other members of the squad such as Van Robbins, Mike Shrines, Mason Wharton, Don Luke and Lamar Oxford. Oxford began the season as a first baseman but a sliding injury sidelined him the remainder of the schedule. These fellows boosted the Braves in such roles as pinch hitters, baselime coaches and other utility spots.

Tutoring the mound corps during the season was Coach Ron Hunt. A former Seaton moundsman, Hunt worked constantly with Leach and Dudley and apparently it paid by dividends.

All in all, it was a fine season for the Braves. The school, students, teachers, coaches, parents and fans can be proud of the fine performances of the locals. They fe-

Navy Takes Top Spot In Little American

The Little American League's Navy nine fought its way to the top of the loop leader by taking a 19 to 6 decision Tuesday from Perfection Dairies.

Andy Rufus posted his second mound win of the season against no losses when he held the Dairy men to six hits while his mates committed only a single miscue behind him. Rufus also did his share at the plate by slashing out a pair of home runs, his second and third of the season.

In the Little National, First Federal, behind the five-hit hurling of Ed Grooms, pulled into third place in the standings when they captured a 18 to 8 win from Standard Oil. It was the eighth straight loss for the Oilers who have yet to register a victory this season.

In other City Recreation Department play, Wilson-Maler clobbered the USO, 16 to 1, and the Florida State Bankers mowed out Robb's Construction, 11 to 10. For the Bankers, it was the end of a four-game losing streak.

Larry Melman and Junior Shaver homered to pace the Furniture men over the USO's. The victory put Wilson-Maler into second place as quite a battle seems to be brewing between the Furniture men, Chase, Longwood, McIlaney and Robb's for second place.

In the Junior boys League, Steve Leach twirled a no-hitter as the Shriners moved within a half game of the league leading Elks and into a second place tie with the Kiwanians. Leach fanned five and walked only one as the Shrine downed CPO, 16 to 0. Steve joined Latherow in the "charmed circle" for no-hit tilts.

Civitan knocked off the front running Elks, 6 to 1, for their fourth win in a row after losing the first five games. Jimmy Williams set the Elks down on two safeties.

Panthers Grab 10th Straight; Beat Kissimmee

The Crooms High School Panthers clawed their way to their 10th consecutive victory of the current baseball season without a loss when Tuesday afternoon they defeated Kissimmee by a score of 5 to 3.

William Hartfield scattered five Kissimmee hits while striking out four and issuing only two tickets in posting the mound victory. Perlman Brinson paced the Panthers at the plate with two hits in four appearances at the plate.

The victory placed the Panthers in the Group V tournament which will be played this weekend in Plant City.

Crooms jumped into an early lead when they posted a pair of runs in the first inning and bounced right back in tally another in the second. They added the margin of victory by picking up single markers in the fourth and sixth frames.

Sandspur League Gets Ready For Summer Slate

Friday night at 6:45, the Sandspur Women's Handicap Bowling League will hold a familiarization night. There will be four members on each team and the election of officers will take place at the start of this meeting.

Already signed for this league are Juanita Baird, Cammy Myers, Dot Johnson, Louise Owens, Sue Jackson, Carrie Perro, Marion Fabela, Edith Zueli, Georgia Maples, Margaret Calderon, Annette Stewart, Barbara Jordan, Edith Trowinger and Pat Robbins.

The Monday Night Women's Scratch League, with four bowlers to a team, will hold their organizational meeting Monday night at 7. These two leagues are the only women's leagues bowling at night at Jet Lanes.

Those who are signed to bowl in this league include Midge Woods, Helen Kaslin, Latha Ward, Ruth Phillips, Sue Jackson, Ellen Betts, Dot Powell, Helen Altman, Pat Foster, Dot Johnson, Charlotte Bassett, Fran Morton, Jean Krick and Lorraine Spotts.

Tempests Climb Into Loop Lead

The Tempests won all four points from the Ramblerettes last week at Jet Lanes to grab the number one spot in league standings with only one week of bowling remaining on the winter schedule.

The Starchiefs won three games from the Electras to grab the second spot in the league. These two teams will be trying hard next week to see who can emerge as league champions. Elaine Kostval rolled a 170 game and Joan Magin shot a 454 series to pace the Starchiefs. Harriet Gail with a 161 game and Mabel Duggan with 419 led the Tempests in their four game sweep.

Dot Johnson swept all the honors this week with 181/500 while piling the Pontiacs in a four point victory over the Catalinas. Joan Adams came through with a 499 series. Other high games were rolled by Liz Graham 172, Rita Gail 172 and Rita Stein 179 /448.

Spills picked up were: Mabel Duggan the 2-7 and 8-10, Barbara Kelly 4-5-7, Joan Magin 5-8-10 and 6-7-10. Jo Ann Cleveland 2-7, Panine Burke 3-10, Mary Murphy 6-7, Rita Gail the 7-5 and Joy Robinson 5-8-10. The only turkey was rolled by Joan Adams.

The team sponsored by Bill Hemphill comprised of Evelyn Mills, Dot Johnson, Rita Stein, Elizabeth Horlich and Elaine Kostval bawled in the state tournament last Sunday and did themselves real proud with a 2,359 series which should figure among the money winners. This is the top score to date among the dozen or so local teams participating in the state tournament at Satellite Lanes, Satellite Beach.

South Seminole Little League Nearly Ready For Night Play

By Julian Stenstrom

Some 200 or more Little Leaguers and parents heard South Seminole Little League President Bill Livingston report Tuesday night that the loop's lighted park will be ready for play within a week or 10 days.

The field, leased from Hibbard Casselberry by the Town of Casselberry and sublet to the League, is located on Sunnyside Road in Casselberry.

The loop president discussed the history and growth of Little League baseball as an organization. "This is the 23th year of organized Little League baseball," he said. "During the first year three teams played 33 games. Last year, the organization's 24th season, 33,180 Little League teams played 265,440 games."

Livingston continued, "It would take 13 years of major league games just to equal the two boys who sell the most candy will be awarded bicycles, the third highest salesman will be awarded a ball and glove, the fourth a bat and ball, and the fifth a baseball."

DeBary Summer Youth Program Being Planned

The DeBary Fishing Club will sponsor fishing derbies, and with the approval of a basketball court on the Community Center lot, the summer youth program, sponsored by the DeBary Civic Association, will be ready to respond to the requests from boys and girls in DeBary for another youth activities program such as last year.

Many of last year's activities and new ones will be on the agenda during the summer. Volleyball, roller skating, table tennis and shuffleboard are planned for the supervised program.

Small contributions from DeBary organizations, businesses and individuals would provide necessary funds for supplies and additional equipment. The committee is to meet with the parents of DeBary children May 19 to decide on plans and to enlist cooperation.

Gator's Clarke Signs With Bills

BUFFALO (UPI) — The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League have announced the signing of Harold Clarke III of University of Florida, a 6-foot, 190-pound defensive back picked 18th in the 1964 draft.

A native of Miami, Clarke was seventh choice of the National League San Francisco 49ers. At Florida he was the Gators' top kickoff and punt return man and ranked sixth in the nation with a 40.9 punting average on 46 kicks.

OFFERS SERVICES
Richard Fawley, manager of the DeBary Branch of the DeLand Federal and Saving and Loan Association and a leader and worker in the Little League baseball programs, has offered his services to organize and assist in a Little League program for DeBary. He parents and boys from 9 to 12 are interested.

SOUTH SEMINOLE LITTLE LEAGUERS who will help pay for lighting their new baseball park in Casselberry by participating in a candy sale place their orders with Mrs. Arthur Lego, wife of the Casselberry town councilman. Youngsters will get nearly 6,000 boxes of candy within the next couple of weeks. The two top "salesmen" will win bicycles. (Herald Photo)

Truth Seekers Class Meets At McKinley Hall

The Truth Seekers Sunday School class of the First Methodist Church met recently at McKinley Hall for the regular monthly meeting, with the president, Mrs. Clarence Purcell, presiding.

Mrs. T. E. Wilson gave an inspiring devotion using "Love" as the subject, followed by the reading of a poem, "Teach Me This." The singing of hymns and prayer concluded the devotion.

Due to the resignation of the class teacher, Miss S. Louise Lear, who has accepted a position in Clearwater, the class is without a teacher. Various committee reports were given, and sunshine reported a minimum of illness.

Mrs. W. P. Chapman extended an invitation to the class members to hold a covered dish supper at her country home on May 25. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Octavia Rumbley and Mrs. R. W. Turner of the Mmes. R. M. Mason, Eva Harkey, W. P. Chapman, R. F. Crenshaw, J. G. Waite, W. J. David, J. P. Crawford, L. E. White, R. F. Riser, G. W. Simmons, F. D. Hooock and Anna Stevens.

Guests were Mrs. J. H. Powell, Mrs. Ruby Nesbitt, church educational director, and Mr. R. F. Boyd, church secretary.

Mrs. Harry Robson was hostess last Saturday to a graduation luncheon at the Capri Restaurant honoring Miss Mary Scott, a member of the '64 graduating class of Seminole High School.

The school colors of red and white were carried out in the table decorations and the clever place cards were silhouettes of the graduates in cap and gown.

Miss Scott was presented with a beautiful white leather scrap book bearing her name. Each of the guests was presented with photo albums. The menu was a salad luncheon, featuring chicken salad as the entree.

Enjoying the delightful luncheon were Mrs. Robson, Mrs. F. D. Scott, mother of the honoree, Miss Scott, and the Misses Joy Duggar, Jill West, Myra Meeks and Carol Oxford.

Order Eastern Star Honors The Worthy Grand Matron

Approximately 150 members and visitors attended the official visit of Mrs. Adele Robertson, Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Florida, to Seminole Chapter No. 2, Order of Eastern Star, in Sanford.

The meeting was preceded by a banquet at the Capri, in her honor, for officers and their escorts. Other grand officers attending were: Mrs. Virginia Boyce, Grand Chaplain; Mrs. Ione Keene, Associate Grand Conductress; Mrs. Hilda Alderman, Grand Representative of Maine in Florida; Mrs. Ulla Shilton, Past Grand Organist and Mrs. Ruth Huber, Past Grand Chaplain.

Grand and Past Grand officers attending the meeting but who were unable to attend the banquet were: Mrs. Murray Jarvis, Past Grand Electa; Mrs. Claire Klose, Grand Instructor District No. 24 and George L. Myers, Associate Grand Patron.

Before the officers entered the chapter room, Byron M. Leach sang "Holy Bible Book Divine." Mrs. L. E. Estes, Worthy Matron, and Mrs. Robert E. Peurifoy, Worthy Patron, presided over the meeting.

A courtesy was presented by the Worthy Matron, Star officers and Conductress, honoring Mrs. Robertson. The worthy matron gave Mrs. Robertson a beautiful styrofoam Star covered with five colors of satin representing the order, and was outlined with white lace raffia. In the center was a small white Bible. The conductress escorted Mrs. Robertson to each Star point officer who in turn gave a talk appropriate to her station. After her tour she was escorted behind the altar where Mrs. N. W. Pfeiffauf sang "Others." She was then seated in the East.

The Worthy Grand Matron was impressed with the solos sung by Mrs. N. W. Pfeiffauf and Byron Leach and asked them to sing at her Grand Chapter session, which meets at Miami Beach in May, 1965.

Mrs. Joy Bailey was escorted to the East where she was given her 50 year pin, representing her life of service to the order, by the Worthy Grand Matron and then seated in the East.

The president of the Past Matrons' Club, Mrs. R. E. Peurifoy, presented Mrs. Robertson with a gift from all past matrons of the local chapter. Mrs. J. H. Bilibrey, secretary, presented her with a check for her special fund to support the Eastern Star members who are residents of the Masonic Home in St. Petersburg. She also gave her an honorary membership in Seminole Chapter No. 2.

The chapter room carried out Mrs. Robertson's colors. Large baskets of giant mums were placed behind each Star officers chair, the flowers being the color appropriate to that station.

All members and visitors remained seated while the officers retired. Mrs. Pfeiffauf and Byron Leach sang, "How Great Thou Art," after the officers had formed a cross in the labyrinth.

The dining table was centered with an arrangement of flowers of the emblematic colors, flanked by olive candelabra holding orchid tapers. Lime punch, cake and nuts were served by Mrs. Walter Raines, chairman, Mrs. Sarah L. Polley, Mrs. Paul Markos, Mrs. J. J. McEholsen Jr., Mrs. Edith M. Dutton and Mrs. Irving Pryor.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM BRIES, right, of DeBary, were wed by Father G. Devlin at St. Ann's Church, DeBary, with Mr. and Mrs. Terrance Kelly, left, of DeBary as their witnesses. A reception breakfast was held at the DeBary Restaurant following the ceremony. Mrs. Bries is the former Mrs. A. Horschak of DeBary, and Mr. Bries is Commander of the World War I Veterans, Barracks 1197, DeBary.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Behind every "misunderstood" husband is a wife who is all-too-understanding.

When a man goes around letting any sympathetic woman in on the fact that his wife doesn't understand him, what he really means is that she understands him too well for comfort.

Give a man the idea that you know him even better than he knows himself, that you can put your finger on the real reasons back of the excuses he gives for his behavior, that you know both the best and the worst about him; do those things and you've put him at an awful disadvantage. He'll cling stubbornly to what he wants to believe about himself, and decide you don't understand him at all.

A man's idea of an understanding woman is one who takes him at his word, who doesn't probe trying to find out what makes him tick, who credits him with the highest motives and is quick to assure him that the way he handled a situation was in the best manner possible.

What he means by "understanding" isn't understanding, at all but a mere reflection in a woman's eyes of the picture of himself that most pleases him.

It's all right for a wife to understand her husband—if she keeps quiet about what she knows about him or thinks she knows.

The trouble comes when she is so proud of herself for having figured him out to her entire satisfaction, she can't help letting him know how well she understands him.

That's when he starts looking for a woman who "understands" him. But what he really wants to find is someone who will show him a picture of himself that is always flattering.

Highlights TV Time Previews

7:30-8:30 p.m. CBS. CBS Reports. "De Gaulle: The Challenge." The second part of this important study of our controversial ally (or is he?) covers more recent ground as an attempt is made to throw light on the motivations behind some of the French leader's seemingly complex and inexplicable actions in international diplomacy. There are several informed opinions on De Gaulle, plus the insight into the man drawn from his own words. You'll probably know more about De Gaulle after this program than you've ever known before, but will you know enough to satisfy you? Probably not.

7:30-9 p.m. NBC. The Virginian. "A Man Called Kane." (Color). Average action fare, but with some good acting moments to brighten the slow spots. Jeremy Slate, who usually plays a hero, has his first villain role as Johnny Kane, a wanted killer who visits the Shiloh ranch to renew his acquaintance with his young brother soon after the youngster (Handy Boone) has discovered a cache of gold coins in a cave. Also arriving on the scene is a man claiming to be a government agent (Dick Foran) who says the find is only part of a huge sum hidden during the Civil War. Most suspense is generated by Johnny Kane, who may or may not be as bad as you think.

9-9:30 p.m. CBS. The Beverly Hillsbillies. Some very funny moments. Tommy Ely May (Donna Douglas) is given the "Liza Donalitz" treatment by a French dress designer (Maurice Marsac) who not only dresses her elegantly from head to toe, but has her speaking sophisticated French. So transformed is Ely May that Mrs. Drysdale (Harriet MacGibbon) mistakes her for a visiting princess and schemes to throw a lavish party in her honor. Ely and the other Clametts (Buddy Ebsen, Irene Ryan and Max Baer) don't take long to give Mrs. Drysdale a rude awakening.

9-10 p.m. ABC. Ben Casey. "Justice to a Microbe." (Rerun). This series comes up with a rare ailment that creates friction on the hospital staff. Casey (Vince Edwards) has the choice of diverse diagnoses from a doctor (Robert Loggia) and a radiation physicist (Nancy Hennick). To operate or not to operate on a patient with a radioactive substance lodged in his spine? An unusually exciting episode and keep your eyes on guest star Loggia, who easily walks away with the top acting honors.

10-11 p.m. CBS. The Danny Kaye Show. (Rerun). This one has nice Christmas opening and closing numbers, but in between it's strictly solid laughs. First sketch is funny as Kaye plays an extremely nervous bridegroom and guest Dick van Dyke plays his exasperated best man. But the second sketch, a courtroom battle, is even funnier with Van Dyke as the prosecutor and Kaye in hilarious character form as a decrepit, feeble, but not feeble-minded, old defense attorney.

10-11 p.m. NBC. The Eleventh Hour. "Cold Hands, Warm Heart." (Rerun). Ralph Bellamy's arresting charm and sincerity give this sordid plot a needed lift. Dr. Starke has his hands full with a woman (Lola Albright) whose physical pains seem psychosomatically induced. She knows her husband is unfaithful, but she doesn't know her frigidly drove him to infidelity. Though this one moves slowly, it has better than average dialogue.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We were married 14 years and I never dreamed that anything was wrong with our marriage. Suddenly my husband started to take an interest in poker. Last March he went to a poker game that lasted all week. At the end of the week, a woman called me three times in one day telling me that she and my husband were "in love" and he didn't have the nerve to ask me for a divorce. I told her if my husband wanted a divorce he would have to ask me for it. He still hasn't asked me, and I am keeping my mouth shut. But he still "plays poker" all night twice a week. I am 33, she is 29 and my husband is 35. If he gets up the nerve to ask me for a divorce, it will tear up two sets of children. Ours—ages five, seven, 10 and 12. Hers are four, three and 10 months old. What should I do?

WAITING
DEAR WAITING: Get some counseling from either your clergyman or your family service association and try to put your marriage back on the track. Find out why it became necessary for your husband to seek female companionship elsewhere. You may not like what you learn, but it could save your marriage. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: When I had my marriage announcements printed, I had the following message placed at the bottom: PLEASE—NO GIFTS! I did it for three very good reasons: (1) I do not need anything. (2) I have no room in my small apartment to store anything. (3) I have no time to write "thank you notes." In spite of this, the gifts poured in. Why can't people be more considerate and oblige?

ANNYOED
DEAR ANNOYED: Av c'mon. Ingrained responses aren't easily changed. Surely you can find something other than your friends' generosity to "annoy" you.

DEAR ABBY: If that 16-year-old girl, whose drinking father hocked her boyfriend's ring, wants to get the ring back, all she has to do is go to the pawn shop and demand it. If they do not deliver up the ring, she can get the cooperation of the police in recovering stolen property (her father DID help himself to the ring, she stated). Otherwise, she can (through a lawyer) replevy the ring by legal process. It all depends on how far the girl wants to go in making things uncomfortable for her father. In my book, anyone who hocks property he does not own is no better than common thief.

ANONYMOUS LAWYER (HARTFORD)
DEAR ABBY: I agree with your answer to "PUNISHED ENOUGH." Twice I've had to call my parents because I was going to be home later than I said I would, and it sure helped to give them confidence in me. One night I ended up an hour and a half late, because of car trouble. But just because I called home and told them, they weren't even mad! I shudder to think of what would have happened if I hadn't called them.

DIME-A-TIME
Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212, for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Here is a hand from the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament that illustrates the paramount importance of counting your winners and losers and then asking yourself the question, "How can I make this contract?"

Your first count shows that you can make four diamond tricks if the ace has to take the first or second lead. You also have two spades and a heart and will need two club tricks to make your contract. Now you see that you will have to take the club finesse eventually.

Your next mental question is, "Can I make this hand if I can only gather in two diamond tricks?" The answer is a qualified yes. Four clubs, two diamonds, two spades nine, and one heart adds up to a club finesse sometimes you take it right now.

When the club finesse works, you lead your nine of diamonds and overtake with dummy's queen. This holds the trick also. (It wouldn't do East a bit of good to take his ace.) Now you take another club finesse, lay down the ace of clubs and lead another club.

East wins the trick and leads another spade, but you have established your last club as your ninth trick.

East wins the trick and leads another spade, but you have established your last club as your ninth trick.

Tribute To A Mother

By Robert B. Thomas Jr.
323-5786

As we approach another Mother's Day, I shall endeavor to honor all mothers everywhere. To each of us, our mother is the most wonderful person in the world. With your permission, I would like to introduce my mother, Mrs. Lessie L. Thomas.

An old Jewish saying—"God could not be everywhere, and therefore he made mothers," is significant because the future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.

Do you ever reflect back to the days when you were a little boy or girl? Remember the time you hurt yourself and your mother came to aid you.

Her eyes, that dear voice, the feeling of her touch that is given to you by that gentle hand? In your adulthood these events are repeated in a somewhat different manner, but they have the same meaning. My mother has played that role many, many, times and still does.

The experiences which stand out in my memories is the day I went home crying because my playmates teased me about the holes in my pants. (They referred to them as blow-outs.) When I told my mother what the boys said, she embraced me and said, "I might not be able to buy you nice clothes like their parents buy for you, but I love you just as much as their parents love them." That meant so much to me, Mother.

Thank you for not letting me have my way, and not sparing the rod. Those whippings you gave me did so much good. How well do I remember your teachings on fearing God and respecting the rights of others. Say, remember the time a lady friend of yours told you about my being at the old swimming hole? I thought you would never stop whipping me. I might not come to see you every day, or call you every day, but I am constantly thinking of you because you mean so much to me, Mother.

To those of you whose mothers have passed on, think back to some moments when she comforted you. Think of the immense love of her eyes; the kind concern of the tone and look, however slight your pain. Since her passing, you may have friends, fond dear friends. But remember, never again will you have the inexpressible love and gentleness lavished upon you, which none but your mother bestowed.

The adult school will have its commencement exercises Sunday, June 14, at 3 p. m. Twenty-five persons will receive their diplomas. Clifford Hurston Jr., instructor at Volusia County Community College, will deliver the address. Horace Jackson is principal.

National Music Week commenced Monday. The choruses of the elementary schools will visit each other and give performances. Monday, Bookertown visited Jackson Heights of Oviedo; Tuesday, Midway visited Goldboro Elementary; today, Goldboro goes to Altamonte; Thursday, Jackson Heights travels to Midway, and Friday, Rosewald of Altamonte returns to Hopper Elementary. The public is invited to these programs. Mrs. Mae F. Muller and Willie J. Markerson are directors.

Hopper Elementary's instrumental and chorus will perform at the PTA meeting tonight. Goldboro Elementary PTA elected officers for the 1964-65 school year, as follows: D. C. McCoy, president; Mrs. Roberta Roberts, vice president; Mrs. P. McGill, financial secretary; Mrs. N. Bentley, treasurer; J. Givens, parliamentarian; Rev. Lee E. Myers, chaplain; Mrs. Sylvia Stallworth, organist and A. Haynes, reporter.

The Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y of Crooked High will present a Mothers Day Assembly program Friday at 1:30 p. m. A special invitation is extended to mothers of Y members.

Twenty ladies of our community, who trained under the auspices of the American Red Cross to serve in the capacity of Gray Ladies in the School Program, were capped and pinned in a most impressive ceremony Monday night at Crooked High School.

Presiding was H. H. Hodges, chairman, Seminole County Chapter, ARC. Principal Douglas discussed the role of the

News Session Of LBJ To Be Family Affair

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson, who is busy introducing new styles of press conferences, came up with still another innovation today. He invited reporters to bring their wives and children.

Johnson planned to meet with newsmen and their families at 4:30 p. m. EDT on the spacious south lawn of the White House for a nationally televised news conference. Questioning will be limited to the reporters, however.

The outdoor session is Johnson's fourth meeting with newsmen in six days. He had an off-the-record discussion with them in the White House Friday, and followed up Saturday and Monday with lengthy conversations as he walked about the White House grounds.

The President's most recent televised news conference was held April 16 in the State Department auditorium, where the late President John F. Kennedy also met reporters.

Today's question-and-answer session was part of a heavy schedule starting with the Chief Executive, starting with a 10:30 a. m. EDT address to the advertising council at the Red Cross Building.

Johnson planned to award American Automobile Association lifesaver medals for school safety patrolmen at a 5:15 p. m. ceremony.

Ages Of Strife

For a small land — less than half the size of New Jersey and with a population about that of San Antonio, Tex. — the island of Cyprus casts a large shadow over current events. This is nothing new. The history of Cyprus is the history of the whole ancient world, and much of modern history has focused on this crossroads of the Mediterranean.

Beginning at least as far back as 4000 B.C., Cyprus has seen successive waves of settlers and conquerors, both because of its strategic position, 45 miles off the coast of Turkey, and because of its rich copper and iron deposits.

A roll call of the conquerors includes Thotmes III of Egypt, Sargon II of Assyria, Darius and Xerxes of Persia, Alexander the Great, Caesar Augustus, Mithridates of Syria, Richard the Lion Heart, the Byzantine, Venetian and Ottoman Empires and finally the British Empire.

Years of peace for Cyprus, with or without independence, have been few over this vast stretch of centuries. Turkish conquest of Cyprus and settlement of Turks among the pre-dominantly Greek population took place in the 16th century. After 400 years, the two groups remain separate — linguistically, religiously and culturally.

Greek Cypriot agitation for "Enosis," or reunion with Greece, bitterly opposed by the Turkish minority, began in the 1930s and accelerated after World War II.

The blood of a hundred generations that has stained the soil of Cyprus continues to flow, despite the presence for the first time of an internationally constituted peace-keeping force.

Cyprus, bearing the weight of centuries, will not know peace quickly or easily.

Thought For Today

The God of Israel has spoken, the Rock of Israel has said to me: When one rules justly over men, ruling in the fear of God.—II Samuel 23:3.

I believe that law was made for man . . . that government is the servant of the people and not their master.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Important To Survival

United Press International After the wonders of the birds and bees and the flowers, it would be good for American kids to learn something equally basic about the social and political confrontations of the world in which we live.

They should learn, for example, about the great confrontation now prevailing between the open society of free men and the closed society of communism.

The idea that American kids should know about that originated with kids themselves. Young people by the tens of thousands visit Washington, D. C., every year. Top attractions include the White House, the Capitol, cherry blossoms in season and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Groups of visitors move endlessly through the corridors and exhibits of the FBI. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover recently told a congressional committee:

"Of the record high of 820,816 people who toured the bureau during the fiscal year 1963, over half were young people, most of them students at various levels. Other young people write to the bureau for information regarding communism. So that they may have a better understanding of the menace of communism we have prepared a pamphlet which we make available to them."

The pamphlet is titled: "What Young People Should Know About Communism." It presents a brief, meaningful message regarding the extent of communism and some suggestions as to positive steps which young people and every citizen can take to combat this subversive influence.

Hoover testified that the youth of America was a primary target of the American Communist party. Communist party spokesmen appeared in calendar year 1963 before 45 student groups, mostly at on-campus sites. The Reds consider American youth a field for recruitment because so many of them may be unable to find jobs on entering the labor market.

It is not necessary for a young American to visit the FBI in Washington to obtain a copy of "What Young People Should Know About Communism." J. Edgar Hoover will send you a copy. Address him at:

Federal Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, Washington 25, D. C.

American Communist seek to infiltrate at all levels, official and non-official. They are busy-busy among Negro groups. They are trying to get their operatives into the State Department, the CIA, the FBI, the Pentagon. You name it. The American Reds are trying to infiltrate it.

Before falling for the line that maybe the Comies aren't so bad after all, an American should ponder this from Hoover, the best informed American on communism:

"It is the avowed purpose of the world Communist movement, of which the Communist party, U. S. A., has always been an integral party, to destroy our free society by violent means if need be and to supplant our constitutional government by a Soviet-style dictatorship."

"To counter Communist reasoning we must have a basic understanding of Communist concepts and practices, plus a thorough understanding and appreciation of our own principles, traditions and objectives."

"It is vitally important that we know what we stand for and why." Vitally important, that is, to our survival.

You may be surprised to receive this letter from a complete stranger.

I am a Japanese girl in the high school. I have longed to go to the United States of America since my childhood, so I took this liberty of writing to you.

Because I want you to know Japan as it is much more than I wish to introduce you to as far as I can. Coming to Tokyo Olympic games, I wish you to guide Tokyo. Are there anybody who want to have a student guide in Tokyo?

Do not you think how wonderful it is if we could understand each other? The understanding is, I think, the first required necessary thing before starting anything. The friendship built upon such understanding can really serve the way to the brighter life and the world peace better.

I really want to see by my own eyes the life of American people, especially school life. I could take up some good part of your realistic thinking of way and manners to my life.

Besides I want to meet the friend who lives in North Carolina once again.

With the sincere hope that you will accept to find out who I am, I can pay the expenses of the one way ticket. So I want to have a person who bears the expense of my cost of living and school expenses there. I am 11th grade now, I want to graduate from the high school there if I can.

Let me introduce myself here: I am a 16 years old Japanese girl living in Tokyo. I take lessons of "Tea ceremony" and "Flower arrangement." I can teach you about "Flower arrangement," Japanese and Chinese characters, if you want.

Name: Fumiko Mochizuki Address: 2-105 Kodan-jutaku, 403 Kugahara, Ota-Ku, Tokyo, Japan

I should be very much pleased indeed if you would be kind enough to favor me with your answer.

Fumiko Mochizuki

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE S-457: Bob G., aged 17, is a confirmed stutterer. "T-t-tell me, Dr. C.C. Crane," he began, "how I can get rid of this terrible habit?"

Despite the involved explanation that some speech therapists employ and their lengthy stress on relaxation—all of which is good, the psychiatric answer is comparatively simple.

For the usual case of stuttering is due to a social "burn" that develops because of humiliation or extreme embarrassment at the very moment the victim is using normal conversation in his native tongue with other human beings.

There are thus three elements to the stuttering complex, which you can visualize as corners of an equilateral triangle.

And here are the three basic elements in that "stutter triangle":

- (1) Normal conversational tones;
- (2) In one's native tongue;
- (3) While speaking to human companions.

Alter any one of those three corners of that famous "stutter triangle" and the stutterer can free himself from slavery of the little cluster of unruly muscles that have revolted.

For example, a stutterer can pitch his voice higher or lower and then speak naturally. As a ventriloquist, he will not stutter, either!

If he reads aloud or sings, this is not normal conversation so he does not stutter. He can recite his lines in a play and not stutter.

Demosthenes thus altered this corner of the "stutter triangle" by holding pebbles in his mouth, for this was not the natural situation when he first started to stutter.

Modern stutterers can also help themselves by biting down upon one side of their tongue and holding it imprisoned between their molars as they launch into speech.

Bubble gum in the mouth also serves in lieu of the pebbles that Demosthenes employed.

Change No. 2 and you will find that the stutter victim usually stops stuttering at once.

Thus an American stutterer can usually speak fluently in French or Spanish.

Or even if he adopts dialect brogue or a cockney accent, he can usually speak smoothly.

Stutterers can thus converse easily with their dogs or with horses, too.

For stuttering is a very specific pattern of behavior. You victims can "trick" that unruly cluster of muscles by altering any of those original factors that comprised the "stutter triangle."

Relaxation also helps and social poise is likewise beneficial, but stuttering of any set of muscles may require chronic treatment to keep the victim free from this unruly cluster of muscles.

So send for my booklet, "How to Stop Stuttering," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c.

For a slip of the tongue by a timid child who is under tension, may cause the laughter that starts a chronic case of stuttering.

Gimmickry For Economy?

Simple arithmetic demonstrates that after four months of President Johnson's government spending proceeds at about the same rate as under President Kennedy. The U. S. Treasury goes deeper in the red.

In three months since Johnson took over the White House, the public debt has increased by nearly $2.5 billion. The debt as of the end of last week was $31.1 billion.

It would not be fair to assess responsibility for this high-level spending and the debt increase against the new President. Three months are not enough to enable even the most determined economizer to reverse the big spending, deficit trend in which the U. S. government has indulged itself for 30 years.

But the time is approaching when LBJ must take the responsibility for spending and increases in the public debt. It is notable, therefore, the Republicans already are accusing the new President of substituting gimmickry for economy in government.

The Republicans do not spell it out well, or at all, if they expect to make effective presidential campaign issues of government spending, Treasury deficits and the rising public debt, the Republicans will need some facts and figures.

For example: Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr. (R-Ohio) told a group of Republican women this week that Johnson had made no real cutback in spending in view of various new spending programs being advanced. Taft will have to do better than that. If he talks about new and costly spending programs, he should be prepared to name them and the sums involved.

One of the best publicized—best press-agented—political maneuvers of recent years was LBJ's revision of the Kennedy budget immediately on taking over. The new Pre-

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — At the end of this month, a small, undramatic meeting on centrifuges will be held in the Atomic Energy Commission offices at Oak Ridge, Tenn. It may revolutionize the speed with which American medicine develops vaccines and methods of treatment for leukemia, other forms of cancer, the common cold, encephalitis and other virus diseases.

At this meeting, AEC and National Cancer Institute scientists will unveil for private industry a series of radically new centrifuges able to separate "large" quantities of pure viruses.

These centrifuges, and others under development, may make possible:

Quantity separation of platelets—which could pave the way to saving 25 per cent of those who now die of leukemia.

Separation of the viruses which cause leukemia in quantities sufficient to develop a "leukemia vaccine" in a handful of years.

Development of vaccines without impurities that marred early batches of polio vaccine.

Positive identification of the exact viruses which trigger major virus diseases probably years earlier than otherwise.

Rapid separation out, as new viruses needed for quicker development of vaccines for key virus diseases.

The secret is the unusual ability of the new centrifuges to separate out pure viruses and, eventually, even parts of viruses (heads, tails, parts of heads), in large quantities—a quart or more at a time.

A major barrier to successful virus research has been the inability of scientists to get sufficient quantities of pure viruses for experimentation.

Methods for separating viruses have been so inadequate that scientists often have had to work with 35 millionths of an ounce of a virus in a year. These pitifully small amounts have held research to a crawl.

With the new centrifuges, a scientist will have 1,000, or 10,000 or 100,000 or more times as much of a pure virus for his research.

A good deal of the work in virus diseases is separating things. You have to separate out the particular virus you're interested in. You have to inject this virus into some animal to determine if it is, indeed, the causative agent for the particular disease you're studying. This may take large amounts of the virus.

Then you may want to separate out the parts of the virus (head, tail, parts of the head) to see which part of the virus does the dirty work. You may have to identify and separate a second virus for the same variety of the same disease, because it may be that two viruses work as a team to trigger the disease.

Once you've established what virus or viruses cause the disease, you must separate out large quantities of the virus or viruses for use in developing vaccine, you must separate out even larger quantities of the virus or viruses to produce the vaccine doctors need to inoculate their patients.

The problem is more complicated if several varieties of a particular disease are common. (It's believed, for example, that there may be 100 or more kinds of cancer.)

These significant new centrifuges are an outgrowth of work on the atom bomb. When alert scientists at Oak Ridge and Washington decided that the centrifuges they were developing might have wider applications, these Atomic Energy Commission scientists teamed up with men from the National Cancer Institute.

The result may be a revolution in virus research.

Smaller P. O.s Exempt From Service Cuts

Majority of smaller post offices will not be affected by the recently-announced adjustments in parcel post and post office window service, Robert A. Mann and Clarence Donaldson, Lake Monroe and Lake Mary postmasters, respectively, said today.

Mann and Donaldson explain their statements were prompted by some misunderstanding about the scope of these changes.

Recapping the local postal situation, the postmasters pointed to these facts: Money order service at their post offices on Saturdays will continue in the past. Money orders will be issued and parcel post will be delivered between 8 a. m. and noon on Saturdays. Post offices will close for business at noon Saturdays.

At the same time, Mann and Donaldson said they have received information on the national scope of the service adjustments which indicate very little overall effect is anticipated from the order, which was effective Monday.

St. Pete Editor Thanks Staff For Prize

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI)—Nelson Poynter thanked the entire 650 person staff of the St. Petersburg Times and Independent, as well as two reporters, for giving him an "Editor's dream"—the Pulitzer Prize.

When told the St. Petersburg Times had won the Pulitzer, Poynter, editor and president of the Times, burst out, "It's an editor's dream!"

The award, announced Monday, was for a series of articles, editorials and photographs revealing the spending and financing practices of the Florida Turnpike Authority.

Bourbon Now A U. S. Booze

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Now it's official. Bourbon is a distinctively American booze. The House, after sober consideration, gave final congressional approval Monday to legislation giving bourbon whiskey U. S. citizenship.

It suggested that appropriate government agencies take action to stop other nations from sending their liquor into the United States labeled as bourbon.

Plot To Kill RFK Is Told

NEW YORK (UPI)—An alleged plot to assassinate Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was uncovered by the Justice Department in 1962, a national magazine says in its current issue.

Look magazine, in a copyrighted article by its Washington correspondent, Clark Mollenhoff, said a top Teamsters official, Edward G. Partin, informed the government about the alleged plot.

Partin was the top prosecution witness who aided the government in getting Teamsters President James R. Hoffa convicted recently of jury tampering.

CASSELBERRY,

On the St. Johns River, "Nile of America," a catchy slogan for Sanford, may soon adorn all promotional material for this area. That's the suggestion made yesterday by a committee of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce. The slogan would replace an obsolete phrase which has long been discarded in promotional data from this area—The Celery City.

As most folks know, the Nile River and the St. Johns River are the only two to flow north; others maintain a southerly direction to the most part. The Nile of America . . . no other city in the state or nation, yes almost the whole world, can make that statement.

Mack Cleveland, backer of Jack Mathews in the gubernatorial contest Tuesday, was asked this question shortly after the vote was tallied and Robert King High was high man on the totem pole: "When we meet you now, Mack, do we say 'Hello' or 'Hi'?"

Defeat of the water control referendum stirred Jim Avery, one of the prime backers of the project, to say: "I think if I had any money, I'd invest it in celery."

Members of the Ginderville Volunteer Fire Department are reminded of their bi-monthly meeting to be held tonight at 7:30 at Ebenezer Church.

The American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 53, will hold three Memorial Day services at three cemeteries at which time members will present flagpoles in honor of the nation's war dead. Speakers are being lined up for each of the ceremonies to be held at Evergreen, Oaklawn and Paola. Gold Star Mothers have been asked to take part and, Auxiliary officials say, they have agreed to provide their Gold Star Flags for the occasion.

A grant of more than $1 million will make possible construction of a new laboratory building from the Institute of Marine Science, University of Miami, according to Dr. Henry King Stanford, university president. The National Science Foundation in Washington has awarded $1,040,000 toward the new facility. It'll house the entire Division of Physical Sciences.

Don't forget Sunday is Mother's Day.

One politician in town is said to have bet on his candidate to the tune of $100. His opponents were two men. The two won and the loser paid off by ripping a $100 bill in two, giving half to each man.

The Herald has received many, many compliments on its account of juvenile court happenings published in Tuesday's edition. Readers called the office volunteering their help and offering suggestions on how to change juvenile delinquency to juvenile decency. Seldon has a report in the Herald created such a stir. It is hoped the item will do some good; will cut delinquency even just a little bit.

A number of businesses are said to be following the lead of a Long Island, N. Y. bank which has banned smoking by employees at its 50 branches—except in washrooms. A noble experiment, but cynics claim such a rule will do more to make washrooms popular than to make cigarettes unpopular.

Automation is when you replace a $75 a week clerk with a $200,000 machine.

Mayor To Open Mall Tomorrow

Mayor A. L. Wilson will cut a ribbon at 2 p. m. tomorrow formally opening the Randa Mall east of Park Avenue, between First and Commercial Streets. Sanford-Seminole Art Association will have an art exhibit 2-6 p. m. in conjunction with the opening, under the sponsorship of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

A FREIGHT TRAIN made mincemeat of a dragline in Longwood yesterday at 6:40 p.m. Highway Patrolman C. L. Tomlinson said the truck carrying the dragline was turning onto Palmetto Ave. to cross the railroad tracks when it was struck by the Atlantic Coast Line freight. The truck driver, George Dangleman Jr. of 2600 Celery Ave., didn't hear the train signal, Tomlinson said. Damages to the dragline, truck, trailer and train were estimated at $17,200. No one was hurt. (Herald Photo)

7 Signs To Promote Seminole And River

Seven Seminole bulletins placed at strategic spots and pointing out the St. Johns River as the "Nile of America" may soon boost Sanford and Seminole County for motorists visiting Florida.

Sidewalk Arts Festival Friday

Scores of artists are expected to display their work tomorrow and Saturday in the first Sidewalk Arts Festival at Seminole Plaza. The art will be shown on the Plaza mall from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. both days. Officials hope the public response will be such that the festival can become an annual event. A similar festival in Winter Park attracts several hundred visitors, they point out.

Sanford Sewage Plant Approved

Federal and state engineers yesterday placed their stamp of approval on the City of Sanford's new $410,000 sewage treatment plant, it was reported today by City Manager W. E. Knowles. The federal government is underwriting the plant with 30 per cent of the total cost. Knowles said this grant comes under the anti-stream pollution act directed by the U. S. Health, Education and Welfare Department.

Military Plane Crashes; 4 Dead

HURLBURT FIELD, Fla. (UPI)—A twin-engine military plane crashed into pine woods at the end of a runway Wednesday while making a "touch and go" landing attempt at this commando training center, killing four of its eight crewmen.

Official Count Fails To Alter Seminole Vote

No change in results in the unofficial tabulation of Tuesday's primary voting in Seminole County were shown today in release of the official tabulation by Registrar Camilla Bruce.

Sen. Spessard L. Holland, seeking re-election, and Kayble Housholder, nominee for county judge, topped all candidates in the county with 7,324 and 7,039 votes, respectively.

The official tabulation, including absentee ballots, revealed 12,496 electors cast ballots out of 18,450 registered voters in the county, or 67 per cent.

The water conservation and control bill was defeated with 2,355 for and 2,633 against. Democrats will go to the polls again on May 26 for the second or run-off primary, and vote on these candidates:

For county commissioner, District 1 — Gen. J. C. Hutchison and Edward Yarborough. For county commissioner, District 5 — John Fitzpatrick and Harry F. Cushing.

For justice of the peace, District 6 — Linton L. Cox and Al Davis. For constable, District 4 — R. E. Carroll and Charlie Thomas.

For constable, District 6 — Grady Hall and Charles Fagan. County Democrats will vote for a national committeeman and committeewoman and for a slate of delegates to the national convention pledged to President Lyndon Johnson.

44 Feared Dead In Plane Crash

DANVILLE, Calif. (UPI)—A twin-engine airliner flying from Stockton, Calif., to San Francisco in clear weather crashed and burned on a ranch today and all 44 persons aboard were reported killed.

Pacific Air Lines officials said the plane, an F27 turboprop, carried 40 passengers, a crew of three and one Federal Aviation Agency observer.

Contra Costa County sheriff's officers said there were no survivors. The plane, Flight 773 originating in Reno, Nev., smashed into the ground on a ranch near this community on the east side of San Francisco Bay.

Faircloth Takes 2,570-Vote Lead

Burns, High Both Claiming New Support

MIAMI (UPI)—Miami's Robert King High and Haydon Burns of Jacksonville each claimed new support today in their gubernatorial runoff race and beyond.

Burns, the lanky mayor of Jacksonville who piled up a 95,000-vote lead over all other candidates in Tuesday's first primary, claimed he had received "substantial new support from every section of Florida."

High, Miami's diminutive, bilingual mayor since 1957 who shocked poll takers by running a stunning second, said he had also gotten lots of new support, "even from some Burns people."

Lakeland Sen. Scott Kelly, who moved into third place with a late surge of votes from Northwest Florida, trailed High by about 11,000 votes, but stubbornly refused to concede.

Kelly maintained that his own tabulations showed less than a 5,000-vote spread between High and Burns and urged campaign workers to "stay by."

"This campaign is not over until every precinct is officially reported, every vote counted and rechecked and every absentee ballot counted and rechecked," Kelly said.

With all of Florida's 2,279 precincts reporting, Burns had 301,226 votes, Fred O. Dickinson 180,888, High 209,362, Fred Karl 65,869, Kelly 198,948 and John Mathews 133,722.

High said that Burns had made a great deal out of what has been done in Jacksonville during his administration, and "that suits me fine."

"I'm perfectly willing to have the campaign on a comparison of our records right down the line: 'Miami's tax decrease vs. increased taxes in Jacksonville; the comparative morality of our governments; how the two cities have done in attracting new industry, and a comparison of the harmony or lack of it in which our people live.'"

Air-Sea Rescue Effort Saves 2 Sanford Airmen

An alert air-sea rescue effort Tuesday saved two Sanford airmen from injury after they ejected from their A-5A Vigilante attack bomber during a training mission from the attack carrier USS Enterprise, the Navy announced today.

The airmen, both assigned to Heavy Attack Squadron Seven, are Lt. Cdr. Jerrold E. Chappelaine, pilot of the twin-jet aircraft, and Aviation Electrician's Mate First Class Clifton Stringer, bombardier navigator.

The Navy reported the two crewmen ejected after the aircraft became uncontrollable in maneuvers 70 miles off the coast of Northern Italy.

Minutes later destroyers and helicopters from the nearby Enterprise task group were on the scene to accomplish the rescue.

FOREST RANGERS Albert Harris (left) and Terrell Davis bore a sampling from "The Senator," more commonly known as "The Big Tree," in an effort to determine its age, believed to be between 3,500 and 3,600 years. However, the rangers said the bald cypress tree's "interior" is such that no true estimate of its age is possible. Prompted by the County Commission, "The Big Tree" will be publicized as a Seminole County "must" for tourists by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce. It is located on Gen. J. C. Hutchison Parkway. ## All Precincts In; Absentees Being Counted

MIAMI (UPI)—Miami attorney Earl Faircloth carried a slender lead today in his race for attorney general with incumbent James Kynes but with absentee ballot counting still incomplete.

The latest statewide figures gave Faircloth 463,102 votes to 460,532 for Kynes. This included returns from all of the state's 2,279 precincts, plus a number of absentee ballots—but not all.

The State Canvassing Board meets on Tuesday to approve the official votes from the counties and make the statewide totals official. It may not be until then before the two candidates consider the cliff-hanger race finally settled.

The race has been one of the closest in Florida history, and probably the closest for a state Cabinet post. In 1876, less than 200 votes separated two candidates for governor, but not since then has there been a race that close.

Faircloth is seeking the post to which Gov. Farris Bryant appointed Kynes in January to succeed veteran attorney general Richard S. Vinson, who was given a State Supreme Court seat.

Faircloth, 43, started off Tuesday night as the leader in the balloting and once held a lead of some 30,000 votes. Kynes began to surge ahead after that but by mid-day Wednesday, Faircloth had established a slim lead that held at between 2,000 and 3,000 votes.

Allamonte Votes To Close Street

Abandoning of Station Street in Allamonte Springs so it can be used by the Home Builders Association was approved last night by the Town Council, subject to action at a public hearing.

Town Atty. S. J. Davis was asked to advertise the hearing. The firm wishes to place a railroad spur on the street to service its business.

Architect Herbert Webb reported to council members during the brief meeting that plans for the new recreational building are virtually completed and will be in a few days.

In other action, the council authorized the town clerk to seek cost figures for painting the community house and town hall and also listened to lighting plans for the new Highway 436 from Highway 17-92 west to the town limits.
