

A Delinquent's Best Friend Could Be Juvenile Council

A juvenile's best friend, especially when he runs into trouble, could be members of the Seminole County Juvenile Council Inc.

The group is organized—has been since 1958—for that purpose.

Chartered in '58 by the late County and Juvenile Judge Wilson Alexander, the council consists of dedicated citizens to assist the Juvenile Court, schools, and other agencies concerned with delinquent and dependent children in the county.

Its job so far has gone unheralded and, in many instances, unnoticed by the general public.

But its effort has won the grateful thanks of those involved.

The group's first president was Herold Heckenbach, a school principal. Presidents in subsequent years were Ken McIntosh, an attorney; William Thomas, a druggist; John Angel, school principal; and William Tanner, a life insurance agent presently serving as president.

It is an incorporated, non-profit organization with membership open to all citizens in the county. Officers and directors represent the whole of the county and serve without compensation of any kind. These officers are elected annually from the general membership of the council.

Directors meet four times a year, on the second Thursday in March, June, September and December at 7:30 p. m. in the County Commission rooms of the courthouse.

In addition, the president can call special directors to meet. All meetings are open to the public.

Aims and purposes of the council, as provided in constitution and by-laws are:

- To promote the general welfare of all needy children
- To develop in the public a better understanding of the problems involved.
- To encourage the correction, training, education and placement of delinquent and dependent children.
- To render financial assistance for the correction and rehabilitation for children when no other means of assistance are available.
- And to promote the organization and operation of agencies as can be deemed advisable to provide the necessary correctional training, education and placement of dependent and delinquent children.

No salary or other compensation is paid to any of the officers or directors. The administration expenses consist primarily for postage and stationery.

The council depends entirely on contributions to accomplish its purpose. Donations are used in working with delinquent and dependent children in cases where no other money is available.

Contributions are deductible for income tax purposes and any contributor will be granted a council membership.

The investment may be made payable to the Seminole County Juvenile Council Inc., Post Office Box 1742, Sanford. A return address is requested so a membership card can be sent to the contributor.

The council exists for one purpose—to help a child.

Bullion Grains? Who Wants 'Em

By Joseph Bruc

NEW YORK (UPI)—In exchange for that dollar bill in your pocket marked "silver certificate" the government of the United States will give you one dollar's worth of silver bullion grains.

But just try to spend them.

The U. S. Treasury Department announced Wednesday that it no longer will give out silver dollars in exchange for paper currency because of a run on the "cartwheels." The Treasury fears collectors will try to gobble up its entire available supply ($8 million worth) since Congress has refused to authorize minting of more.

This reporter, who traded a crisp $1 bill for an envelope of silver grains at the U. S. assay office here, offers this advice for those who may wish to do their consumer buying in bullion: Forget it! Nobody wants the stuff.

Freed Singer Back In U. S.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Singer Gabriele Hammerstein back in the United States after two years and three months in an East German prison cell, said "it felt wonderful to be home."

"There's no question about it," said the 40-year-old woman who was released Thursday by the East German Communists.

Mrs. Hammerstein was a singing Wagnerian roles in East German opera houses at the time of her arrest reportedly on charges of espionage.

VAH-1 Command Is Changed

The command of Heavy Attack Squadron One changed hands at the Sanford Naval Air Station today in a colorful ceremony attended by the next Chief of the Bureau of Naval Weapons and other civilian and military leaders.

Arriving shortly before the dress ceremony amid traditional military ruffles and flourishes was Rear Adm. Allen M. Shinn, who was announced last week as the next head of the Bureau of Naval Weapons.

Adm. Shinn currently serves as Commander, Carrier Division Six, thus placing him in charge of a carrier striking force that includes VAIL-1's twin-jet A-5A Vigilantes.

Today he had an opportunity to review the Heavy One officers and men who recently returned from an eight-month deployment aboard the admiral's flagship, the USS Independence.

Standing in smart formation, the squadron personnel heard Cdr. Reinhart read orders assigning him to the U.S. Sixth Fleet staff in the Mediterranean.

This is the Naval leader's latest step in a 21-year career that includes many years of test and development work in Naval aviation and a sizeable role in shaping the training program for flight crews learning to operate the machtwo (twice the speed of sound) Vigilante attack bomber.

Then Commander Taft read his orders, placing him in charge of the squadron. His background for assuming the task includes duty on several major Navy and joint-service staffs plus more than four years in Sanford's heavy attack aviation program.

Before flying the Vigilante, Cdr. Taft served as an A-3D Skywarrior pilot and Assistant Operations Officer of Heavy Attack Squadron Five based also at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

In 1966 he left Sanford to serve on the Joint Strategic Target Planning Staff at Offutt AFB, Neb., then returned in Oct. 1962 for A-3A training and assignment as Executive Officer of VAIL-1.

He will be temporarily succeeded at this post by LCDR Patrick O'Gara. His eventual replacement will be Cdr. Valentin G. Matula, who is currently going through A-3A training.

Speaking at today's change of command was Capt. James O. Mayo, commander of Heavy Attack Wing One. Capt. Mayo's post includes overall supervision of six Sanford-based squadrons, including VAIL-1.

In addressing VAIL-1, he cited a long list of squadron achievements dating back to its inception at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station in November, 1955.

Taft is the unit's 10th commanding officer.

Jacksonville Police Face Lineup In Protection Payoffs

Four Officers Arrested; More Are Expected

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — County authorities questioned a lineup of city policemen today to determine the extent of protection payoffs with which four top officers were charged Monday night.

Duval County Sheriff Dale Carson said there would be "further developments" in the case today. He said more policemen were involved and that more arrests were probable.

The City Commission, meanwhile, was to formally suspend the four officers, who were immediately relieved of duty by Police Chief Luther Reynolds when they were arrested.

Reynolds himself brought in one of the men, Capt. Harry Branch, head of the city's breaking and entering squad who was named by Sheriff Carson as the "principal pickup man" in the protection payoff.

Carson identified the other three arrested Monday night as Capt. Gerald W. Dugan of the uniform division, and Lt. Grover Starratt and Sgt. Bert Hagen of the vice squad.

All four men were charged in informations filed by County Solicitor Edward M. Booth with violating state bribery statutes. All four were freed under bonds of $1,500 each after they were booked.

"This isn't the first time, and not the first city, where police have been accused," said Mayor Haydon Burns, who was in Melbourne Monday night campaigning for governorship when the arrests were announced by Carson.

"We had all been aware that all activities of the police department had been under investigation for more than a year by the county solicitor, the sheriff's department and federal authorities," said Burns.

"There is nothing political about this," said Burns when asked about the significance of the arrests in the gubernatorial campaign. He said it is up to the other candidates whether they make an issue of the matter.

Carson would not discuss Monday night the amount of payments involved in the payoffs, which he said were made to the policemen in return for protection for Negro card games being carried on illegally.

The sheriff said, however, the payoffs involved "substantial amounts."

South Seminole Ministers Conclude Easter Services

By Jane Casselberry

An Easter Sunrise Service Sunday morning climaxed the series of Passion Week services held at Lyman High School and sponsored by the South Seminole Ministerial Association.

Friday night's Biblical production, "The Sermon on the Mount," featuring Frank Roughton, widely acclaimed for his portrayal of Christ, was held out-of-doors on the Athletic Field. Mrs. Roughton adds much to the presentations with her portrayals and solos in which she provides her own accompaniment on an autoharp.

Many children, as well as several men and women from local churches, took part in the program, costumed in Biblical attire.

The services were moved into the school auditorium for Saturday night and Sunday morning because of rain and cold weather.

Saturday, an inspiring drama of the "The Last Supper" was presented. Local men, who played the roles of the Disciples, were Charles Dudley, Frank Balentine, Thomas L. Airey, Jessie Brown, Charles Stoll, Felton Carter, Floyd Bailey, Ron Huggins, Eliza Parkerson, Ralph Peter, Paul French and Leonard Casselberry. Pat Edmiston played the water boy.

In addition to his portrayal of Christ, Rev. Roughton also presented a stirring soliloquy as Judas. Hazel Roughton gave a very emotional performance as Mary, mother of Jesus, in prayer.

At the Sunrise Service, dawn was heralded by the Lyman Trumpeters and welcome was given by Principal Carlton Hendley. The South Seminole Junior High School Coral Group sang "Ecce Sacerdos" and "The Lord's Prayer." Rev. J. D. Peacock, of the Fern Park Nazarene Church, delivered the sermon.

Other ministers and their churches who participated in the various services included Rev. Jack Lindsey of the First Baptist Church of Longwood, Rev. E. Ruth Grant of the First Pentecostal Church of Longwood, Rev. Delmas Copeland of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church, Rev. John Montgomery of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Rev. Leonard Jones of Prairie Lake Baptist Church and Rev. E. W. Miller and Rev. N. Carl Elder of the Altamonte Community Chapel.

Mrs. Darwin Shea was organist for all three services.

Christian Homemakers Honor Gees At Party

By Jane Casselberry

The Christian Homemaker's Class of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church recently honored two popular class members, Sgt. and Mrs. John Gee, at a surprise dinner party at the church.

The Air Force is transferring the Gees to Germany and to prepare them for the change in their culinary habits class members prepared a complete menu of delicious German dishes, ranging from sauerbraten to apfel strudel.

Mrs. Gee was presented a lovely orchid corsage and the class gave the couple a farewell gift of Haley's Bible Handbook and a new American Translation of the New Testament.

To familiarize the honorees with the country to which they are going Mrs. Frank Messick conducted a comic interview with "an exchange couple from Germany" who could not speak English, played by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Casselberry whose knowledge of German is limited to such things as "gesundheit" and "verboten." Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McClain also participated in the skit.

Others who worked on the committee to plan the affair were Mrs. Donald Montgomery, Mrs. Robert Deppen and the hostesses Mrs. Charles Williams and Mrs. Angel Menden.

Mrs. Montgomery was so involved in planning the German supper that she even got the German measles and was unable to attend.

Class members gave Mr. and Mrs. Gee gag gifts related to givver or his occupation. Mrs. Darwin Shea is teacher of the class.

Can't Be All Bad

Did you see in the paper: — Doctors have discovered that husbands and wives can be allergic to each other. (THIS is a discovery?) The MDs blame such things as dandruff and face powder. (We've heard that strange lipstick marks will do it, too.)

— A college professor announces it is now possible to earn a doctor of philosophy degree without taking a course in philosophy. (Well, just as long as it doesn't spread to medical schools.)

— Cleveland, Ohio, learned almost simultaneously from two U.S. government bureaus that (1) it has a higher average annual family income than New York, Chicago or Detroit and (2) its bankruptcy cases have increased 1,000 per cent in 15 years. (More money to go bankrupt with.)

— An argument between two gourmets over whether the onion in a hot dog sandwich should go on top of or under the wiener ended in a brawl and in a lawsuit. (Sorry epicureans, but the judge never did say where the onion should go.)

— A baseball player who gets $50,000 a year has been offered a $8,000 bonus if he will keep his weight down so he can play better. He graciously accepted the offer. (This guy is really big.)

— A criminologist warns that kids who are spanked for being naughty may grow up to become murderers. (Leave 'em unspanked so they grow up to be merely insufferable.)

— And in Illinois a coed has nosed out a cow in a spirited race for campus charity queen. (Nothing beats a pretty girl—not even a pretty cow.)

We say it again: A country that can turn out news like this can't be all bad!

Consumers' Power

"A steadily mounting number of consumers are simply dissatisfied with retail product packaging."

The words are those of Mrs. Esther Peterson, special assistant to the President for consumer affairs. She cites such things as odd fractional weights printed in small type and deceptively large packages that contain more air than product.

Mrs. Peterson recently urged industry to voluntarily set up standards on different products, simplify labeling and packaging and eliminate dishonest practices.

Others go further and urge more stringent federal regulations. Manufacturers generally oppose this claiming the consumer is adequately protected by present laws, which at the same time allow industry enough latitude to exercise ingenuity in presenting new products and new packages to the public.

The subject arouses passion on both sides, and the facts are often lost in the scuffle. Imaginative packaging does help sell products and does add to the pleasure and efficiency of shopping.

Yet any housewife could cite abuses. As in everything else, a few bad apples cast suspicion on the whole lot.

While the lawmakers investigate and cogitate and others agitate, the consumer need not stand by helplessly. The purse in his hand is a powerful weapon.

In a negative way, he can refuse to purchase any product he feels is deceptively packaged. More positively, he can inform the store manager, or better yet, write the company concerned.

If the manufacturer is reputable, as most are, this ought to result in more action than a dozen letters to Congress.

Thought For Today

For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good or whether it be evil. — Ecclesiastes 12:14.

We are responsible for everything that we do and everything left undone. We will have to give an account to our Creator one day. — Capt. Harry E. Foden, The Salvation Army

Religion In America

A congressional committee is about to approve the political axiom that lawmakers shy away from religious controversy in an election year.

Plunging headlong into one of the most divisive disputes in American religious life, the House Judiciary Committee has announced plans to begin public hearings sometime next month on proposed constitutional amendments to permit prayer and Bible reading in public schools.

Before the committee are no less than 96 different measures which House members have introduced to overturn the 1962 Supreme Court ruling forbidding religious exercises in public schools.

The proposal with the strongest backing is sponsored by Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N. Y. It would amend the Constitution by adding these words:

"Nothing in this Constitution shall be deemed to prohibit the offering, reading from, or listening to prayers or biblical scriptures, if participation therein is on a voluntary basis, in any government or public school, institution or public place."

Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N. Y., supports the Supreme Court ruling and would like to give Becker's amendment a quiet burial. But Celler is forced to go ahead with hearings because Becker has obtained the signatures of 161 House members on a discharge petition. If Becker could get 218 signatures — a majority of the House — the Amendment would be taken out of the committee's hands and brought directly to the floor for a vote.

Congressional mail is reported to be running heavily in favor of the Becker amendment.

most. Citizens groups have been formed in New York, California, Massachusetts and other states to campaign for restoration of prayer and Bible reading to public schools. The campaign has received the public blessing of Baptist evangelist Billy Graham, Catholic Cardinal Francis Spellman and Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike — three men who have rarely if ever before been found on the same side of a public issue.

Opponents of the Becker amendment have been slower getting organized, but they are now beginning to make their voices heard on Capitol Hill. The Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, representing the eight largest Baptist bodies in the country, last week came out against the Becker amendment as a threat to religious liberty and church-state separation. This week, the American Jewish Congress denounced the amendment as "the most serious challenge to the integrity of the Bill of Rights in American history."

Earlier, representatives of 24 Protestant denominations, attending a national conference on church and state convened by the National Council of Churches in Columbus, Ohio, voiced "acceptance and support of the Supreme Court decisions insofar as they prohibit officially prescribed prayers and required devotional reading of the Bible in public schools."

The forthcoming hearings will give both sides an opportunity to show just how strongly they feel on this issue. It is doubtful whether any other public question arouses stronger emotions, pro and con.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A new Army study sheds light on the current controversy over the value of flu shots.

It explains why some people swear by the shots and why others doubt their value.

For the past three years the Army has given influenza vaccine to every man in service more than 20 days.

In addition, the Army Medical Corps has experimentally run major test with "vaccinatees" and control groups of unvaccinated men regularly for more than 20 years.

The Army doctors have found that vaccinated men have had from 11 to 92 per cent fewer cases of flu, depending on the type of vaccine and the strain of flu virus prevalent.

In three test years out of four, there were 60 to 92 per cent fewer flu cases among the vaccinated men.

The Army, which lost 50,000 men in battle in 1917 and 1918, and 45,000 men to influenza these same years, considers its flu program a success.

But why does protection vary from 11 to 92 per cent? In 1943, the Army vaccine gave 73 per cent protection. By 1945 that protection was up to 92 per cent. In 1947, protection dropped to 11 per cent when a new type of virus appeared which varied significantly from the strains in the Army vaccine.

Adding a strain of that new virus to the vaccine brought protection back up to 68 per cent by 1950 and to 83 per cent by 1953.

Protection dipped markedly a few years later with the spread of the Asian flu virus. An Army crash program developed a still newer vaccine in the spring of 1957 that incorporated the Asian influenza virus with the older types.

This brought 47 to 77 per cent protection, depending on the potency of the vaccine used.

Though flu nationwide hit its highest levels since the 1917-18 epidemic, by early 1958 the Army had brought its influenza rates down to those of normal, non-epidemic years . . . considerably lower than in the civilian population.

In 1958, the new vaccines were giving 83 per cent protection.

The Army says its secret is the speed with which these new strains are added to its old vaccines.

Army men report they regularly include more types of flu viruses in their vaccines than are available in vaccines used by most civilian doctors.

What the Army men expect is that their constantly improved vaccines will hold the line. The vaccines tend to prevent epidemics from getting out of hand. They never wipe out flu.

Dick West Says

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As everyone must by now be aware, the United States has a coin shortage. The demand for coins has grown faster than the federal mints can produce them.

This has created some rather bizarre situations. For about a week now, big crowds have been lining up at the Treasury Department to buy bags full of silver dollars.

They are said to be looking for rare coins that can be sold to collectors for more than a dollar. Which may be true in some cases.

It is my belief, however, that many of them are buying silver dollars simply because they can't pass up a bargain. And this is undoubtedly the biggest bargain in town.

For $100 in paper money, the Treasury will sell you 100 silver dollars. Which is practically wholesale. Even your own brother-in-law wouldn't make you a better deal.

If words gets around that the Treasury is letting 25-cent pieces go at four for a Treasury is selling at two for a dollar.

Long lines also were formed this week by persons eager to buy the new Kennedy 50-cent pieces, which the dollar, there could be a real stampede.

In some places, the current coin shortage is so acute that certain denominations are being rationed. That could lead to all sorts of dire consequences.

Any time that there is rationing, a black market usually springs up. I wouldn't be surprised, therefore, if the country soon has a heavy traffic in under-the-counter coins.

Shady characters will approach you on street corners and whisper that they know where you can get change for a dollar. If you are interested, they will take you to a nearby coin - easy. Knock twice and tell the doorman that Joe sent you.

One solution to the problem might be to augment the supply of silver coins by adopting the monetary system used on the island of Yap, an American trusteeship in the Pacific.

The Yapese have a very stabilized currency. They make their money out of calcite, a type of stone. Some of their coins are 16 feet in diameter and weigh hundreds of pounds.

The smaller coins have a hole in the middle so they can be carried on a pole. The larger denominations, being too heavy to lift, simply are deposited by a house or roadside and left there permanently.

You might get rich on Yap but you can't take it with you.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Hear Lola's confession and then study the rest of this case very closely. For sexually frustrated women often don't consciously know what ails them, so they spread all sorts of symptoms. And they try to cover up their fitters with cigarettes, cocktails and tranquilizers, all of which may denote a sexually frightened female.

CASE 5-428: Lola D., aged 29, is the frustrated wife who has been having illicit dates with other men.

"Dr. Crane," she confessed during our interview, "I feel that life has passed me by."

"I married at 18, and before the year was over, I was tied down with our first baby."

"And our marital relations were never very exciting to me. Yet when I go to the Beauty Parlor, I have heard other wives describe how exciting it can be."

"So I feel that I must have missed some of the romantic thrills which a wife is entitled to receive."

"Before I pass into the 30 age bracket, I think I ought to see if I can't taste some of those thrills that women are supposed to feel."

As a rule, the average wife is quite content to remain monogamous and devoted to her husband—if.

And that big "IF" means, "If he is reasonably considerate and at least gives her complete erotic satisfaction occasionally."

Women are comparatively frigid in contrast to men, but they do have a moderate erotic hunger.

But most wives go from year to year without EVER obtaining satisfaction in the erotic realm.

So they grow vaguely frustrated and jittery. The chain smokers among women are thus likely to be erotically starved females.

The average woman doesn't understand herself when she feels various symptoms of erotic starvation.

So she may throw herself madly into social work or even religious and Red Cross activities.

at the conscious level, but subconsciously they want to be seduced.

So send for the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c and insure a PERMANENTLY happy marriage!

Supreme Court Begins Close Study Of School Desegregation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The supreme court begins a searching look today into the racial problem in public schools, particularly in Prince Edward County, Va., and Atlanta, Ga.

The high court met at 10 a. m. EST to hand down decisions. It then will hear three hours of arguments on an appeal by Negro parents seeking reopening of non-segregated schools in Prince Edward County, a tobacco-growing region 70 miles southwest of Richmond.

Prince Edward County was one of the cases involved in the supreme court's momentous 1954 decision that the constitution does not permit racial discrimination in public schools.

County authorities abandoned public schools rather than have Negro and white children attend classes together. The county has been without public education since 1959.

In Atlanta, authorities in 1961 started a 12-year step plan which they claim will bring full integration to city schools by 1972.

Two hours have been allotted by the high court for arguments Tuesday on whether Atlanta must speed up its desegregation schedule.

The legal defense fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) is backing both cases, supported by the Justice Department.

Since 1954 the supreme court has made a point of letting lower federal courts decide details of desegregation plans in accordance with the "all deliberate speed" yardstick it set for them in 1955.

But last term the high tribunal gave courts and school authorities an unmistakable prod. In a case dealing with desegregation of parks and playgrounds, the court went out of its way to express dismay at the "indefinite delay in elimination of racial barriers in schools."

Boating Party Has Mishap

By Donna Estes

The Longwood Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call at 1:45 p.m. Sunday to give assistance to victims of a boating accident on Fairy Lake.

Bill Simpkins of Longwood had taken his daughter, Sharon, 12, and her friends, Hiram Meeks, 13, of Orlando and Latrelle Hoffstetter, 14, of Longwood, boating and water skiing. When Simpkins made a swing to pick up Sharon, who fell while skiing, the steering mechanism failed and the craft overturned. Witnesses on shore thought those riding in the boat were trapped in difficulty and called the fire department. However, Sharon swam to shore and was assisted by a resident of the Lee Apartments on Wildmere while Simpkins and the other two girls swam to shore near the Krohne home on Highway 17-92.

Kenneth Brabason of the Longwood department, who answered the call in the emergency vehicle, reports that all escaped without injury due to the fact that they were such good swimmers.

Foreign aid to India would best be served if the contributing nation would administer the fund's use, Sanford Rotarians were told Monday at the Civic Center.

Speaking was Princess Vijaya of Nabha, India. She spoke of the inadequate handling of aid monies in reply to a question on what her native country is doing to reduce poverty.

Winthrop Rockefeller Acts Like Candidate For Governor

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Winthrop Rockefeller has sent his resignation as head of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission to Gov. Orval Faubus.

Rockefeller, brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, once said he would resign from the commission if he were to run for governor.

In the letter mailed during the weekend, Rockefeller said he intends to devote an increased amount of my time to the broader objectives of our expanding community, not limited . . . to the industrial field alone."

He said he had found the Fire destroyed property to an estimated value of $1.76 billion during 1963.

people to be most receptive" to "the advantages of a true two-party system."

Rockefeller is the Republican national committeeman from Arkansas.

He wrote Faubus that he had considered resigning for several months. He had been head of the commission since its creation eight years ago.

Lake Mary Women Meet

An impressive list of accomplishments was read instead of blowing out candles when the Lake Mary Women's Club met recently for a luncheon at the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce building to celebrate its second birthday.

Mrs. Frank Evans, president, called upon each of the department chairmen who gave an outline of their committees' activities during the past year.

Books totaling 187 and $398 were given to the Lake Mary Elementary School for its library. The money was raised by the club sponsoring a chicken barbecue dinner, a theatre party, and a booth in the school's annual Winter Festival.

Mrs. Hugh Tillis displayed safety posters created by the first grade and reported that the prizes would be presented in the near future.

The club awarded a $25 savings bond to Phyllis Mitchell, a sixth grade student, who won the essay contest on "Our American Heritage."

The Public Affairs chairman, Mrs. Frank Looms, ticked off the many and varied duties the club has supported—"Strengthen the Arm of Liberty," water safety, county health, March of Dimes, TB, and the Arthritis Fund.

Mrs. George Lindahl reminded the club that birthdays have been remembered at the county home and that an Easter party was given this year as well.

Arts and crafts have played an important role in the club's life under the guidance of Mrs. J. O. Gregory, Fine Arts chairman. The members have had a lesson in sketching from a live model; made Christmas decorations at a workshop; viewed and appreciated paintings created by other members that are on display in Lake Mary; encouraged Lake Mary school children in their art work; viewed and applauded the many members who participated in the annual sewing contest; and took great pride in their two blue ribbon winners in the craft show—Mrs. Harry Sandusky for her pine needle purse and Mrs. John Noel for her knitted socks.

The programs have been lively, varied, entertaining and educational. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Glen Boutwell, the club's first annual year books were presented; a fashion show presented; entries in parades which brought the club honors; lovely dinners and parties for the members' enjoyment were put on; and to aid the club members in creating lovelier gardens, a program on landscaping and outdoor lighting was staged.

Ways and Means chairman,

Mrs. A. F. Keith, has been active in supporting the ever growing club. The big project of the year was the dollar stretcher. Members took a dollar and then stretched it in a wide variety of ways, selling cook books, cosmetics, and many other articles; dinners, dessert bridges, etc.

Mrs. Don Smith, first vice president and membership chairman, reported that the club has taken in 19 new members and is rapidly expanding with the total membership at 61.

Mrs. N. V. Farmer, former society editor of the Herald, was honored as a special guest, and the members presented her with a gift token for her untiring and enthusiastic efforts in cooperation with the club.

Keeping the birthday in mind, Mrs. Carl Moss, decorations chairman, had members and their guests hitting at tables which depicted their birthday months. Colorful floral arrangements representing events in the calendar year were created by Mrs.

Edith Dixon, Mrs. Robert Martin, Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, Mrs. Lena Eith and Mrs. Joe Smathers.

The president, Mrs. Evans, in calling for the yearly reports, presented her chairmen in a most interesting and poetic way, and did not forget the wishes associated with a birthday celebration. Her wishes for the club were more like challenges as she movingly spoke of the many goals yet to be obtained and the manner in which the members would attain them.

Politically Speaking..

Tampa business man Jim Fair is probably the "run-ningest" man in the history of Florida politics. He has entered at least one race in every city, county and state election during the past several years. And has never won yet.

This year Fair outdid himself by recording qualifying papers for four offices and he entered a fifth race without going through the formalities of qualifying.

Fair has deposited $700 to enter the primary election campaign for a post on the Florida Public Utilities Commission; $725 was filed to enter the Hillsborough County Commission race, from which he later withdrew; $400 was spent to qualify as a candidate for supervisor of registration, and $100 qualified Fair as a candidate for Democratic national committeeman.

Fair says he wanted to make a test case in Federal Court when he filed papers to enter the campaign for Democratic Congressional Representative from Hillsborough County. He deliberately withheld the required filing fee, he claims, to show the people a man can run for office without "selling his soul, hocking his homestead or pawing principles."

Registrar Cami Bruce, winding up new registrations this week for the May 5 primary voting, believes a new high for registered electors in Seminole County will be tallied when she closes her books Saturday.

Not too long ago Cami "purged" her books of voters who had not exercised their privilege and of those who failed to return their re-registration cards.

But, she says, there has been a steady stream of residents placing their names in the registration books these past few weeks. Volunteers also went out into the county and "set up shop" to facilitate registration. Volunteers in Longwood, for example, registered more than 300 voters in one two-day weekend.

Potential voters have only this week to qualify in order to cast their ballots in the May 5 party primaries.

Forty-one Democrats are seeking nomination for 12 county offices in the May 5 primary. Five Republicans have no contest in their party primary.

A discussion of world and national problems affecting Florida agriculture will be a feature of the "thank you" luncheon honoring Sen. Spearman on April 17 at Orlando's Cherry Plaza Hotel. The 80 Florida agricultural organizations sponsoring the event are avoiding all semblance of political discussion on the agenda.

Sen. John Mathews is slated for a three-hour visit to Sanford this afternoon, according to wire dispatches. His news letter reports he "is running very strong in Alachua, Marion, Lake, Seminole and Orange Counties" for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination and, combating Fred Karl releases, continues that "despite what others may claim, there is no candidate in this race who has been a greater friend of teachers or public school education than Jack Mathews."

H. B. Foster, of Fort Myers, Republican candidate for governor, has appointed Raymond J. Malloy, of Tampa, as campaign co-ordinator for the Foster for Governor campaign committee. The three-page news release doesn't explain what are the functions of a "campaign co-ordinator."

Re-activation of the Florida Children's Commission to administer a statewide juvenile delinquency control program has been proposed by Sen. Scott Kelly, candidate for governor.

Kelly said the program would be patterned after an effective delinquency control project he developed when he was mayor of Lakeland.

Karl Wilhelm Scheele, Swedish chemist, discovered chlorine; Sir Humphrey Davy later showed it to be a chemical element.

STAR PERFORMERS of the Sells and Gray Circus are shown doing a pyramid. The circus will be here April 6 at the HLIH plant show-grounds.

Famed Troupe To Appear With Circus

Incomparable equestrianism reigns supreme when the Santagos thunder into the center ring of the Sells & Gray Circus.

Originally from Brazil, their feats of hurricane horsemanship include massed pyramids, pas de deux, juggling, voltage, rope skipping, and principal ballerinas, all on the huge backs of the ponderous Belgian rosinbacks.

Eddie Santiago, star of the troupe, is the only man, in the United States who performs the hazardous leap through the hoop of fire, and Mike is, at 18, the youngest professional bareback rider in this country. When he made his performing debut at the gala opening in Bradenton March 14, trade critics in the audience immediately hailed him as the most promising young equestrian alive.

Sells & Gray Circus will exhibit in Sanford April 6, at the HLIH plant showgrounds. The 4 and 8 p. m. performances will be for the benefit of the Glenderville Volunteer Fire Department.

Longwood Man On Carrier

Michael E. Myers, aviation machinist's mate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Myers of 1323 Hunt Road, Longwood, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Franklin D. Roosevelt now operating off the Florida coast.

The Mayport based carrier recently returned from five weeks refresher training at the Naval Station at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The Liberty Bell was cracked while tolling for the death of John Marshall, chief justice of the United States, who died in 1835.

Castro's 'Mobile' Courts Bring Coffins For Victims

The Sanford Herald March 31, 1964—Page 7

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fidel Castro has put wheels on his courts of justice, calling them "mobile tribunals." But anti-Communist Cubans have another name for the three-man tribunals that speed around the island in panel trucks, conducting spot trials and passing sentence.

They call the mobile courts "death on wheels."

This aspect of Castro's technique in dealing with resistance to his regime was contained in a report released Monday by the Citizens' Committee for a Free Cuba.

The report was based primarily on Cuban government sources, such as radio broadcasts, newspapers, official speeches and decrees, as well as information provided by Cuban refugees.

The report described the mobile courts as old trucks or cars, manned by three to five members of the militia or of the young Communist organization. They are sent out immediately when disturbances are reported in either the cities or the country.

"The members of the court act as both judge and jury," the report said. "They often serve also as members of a firing squad which executes the accused on the spot."

Paul D. Bethel, a staff member of the Citizens' Committee and former press attache with the U. S. Embassy in Havana, said the mobile courts serve the Castro regime in two ways.

"They intimidate the people in the areas where they appear," he said. "And they crush any uprising before it really can get started."

Reports from Cuban refugees threw additional light on the mobile courts, their methods of justice and their impact on the Cubans.

"They leave a row of dead behind them wherever they go," said Hector Carrio, a former attorney in Camaguey who escaped to Miami.

"The accused has no legal protection of any sort. The nature of the crime does not matter, since the slightest action against the regime is sufficient to send a citizen to prison for many years."

"The sentences of these mobile courts are immediately carried out," Carrio continued. "In most cases, the accused is taken out and shot."

A worker from Matanzas Province described the trial of 12 youths arrested in his home town.

"The trial was held on the spot where the accused were said to have carried out acts of sabotage," said Reinaldo Guerra, who also fled to Miami.

DeBary Legion Receives Card

By Mrs. Adam Muller

Herbert D. Gibb American Legion Post 239 of DeBary has received a card of thanks from Mrs. John F. Kennedy for the thoughtfulness expressed in sending a message of condolence and sympathy at the death of her husband, the late President.

At the Post's regular meeting in December it was unanimously approved that the Post Colors be draped in mourning for 30 days after all attending joined in a period of silent prayer for President Kennedy.

"A hearse brought four caskets and left them, showing that before the trial was held it had been decided that four were to die.

"A few minutes later they were tried," Guerra continued. "Four youths, against whom nothing could be proved, were condemned and shot immediately. Eight were sentenced to 30 years in prison."

Lary Pitches Two-Hitter For Detroit

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spolaki
 Gee, how time does fly! I mean, here I am about to give you the complete run-down of the happenings from the men's City Tournament and in the next breath, I'll be reminding you that it's not too soon to start making your plans for your summer leagues.

And then to top that off, some of the girls' teams will be going down coast to the Cocoa area to compete in the Women's State Tournament. And if that's not enough for you, don't forget the men will be making a similar trek to Fort Lauderdale around the month of May.

Like I started to say, I always got the impression that when that time rolled around for the men's and women's city tournaments, well, we were about halfway through the winter season. But as you can readily see, it's just about that time again to start making the appropriate plans.

Just for your information, the girls from the Friday evening Sandspur League concluded loop play last week. Next on the agenda will be their banquet and then it'll be the start of their summer league. So, if you're looking to have yourself a good time bowling, why not get your name on the list for those who are already planning on being in the group.

Any more ideas from you bowlers on the Don Brumfield Day? Come on, let's put on our collective thinking caps and come up with a dandy for Don.

Just prior to the final results of the men's tourney, let's give a quick "look see" on the happenings of the various league seasons:

Charlotte Bassett and Eleanor Clemmens shared the spotlight for the Friday Huller Motors/Navv Wives League this past week. Charlotte rolled high for series with a 482 and Eleanor bowled her first sanctioned 200 game on a 211. Congratulations and welcome to the club, Eleanor!

It was Ellen Womack's Scratch League. Ellen not only rolled the high single but also walked home with series honors with a 207/540.

All of the talk regarding the Thursday night Seminole Memorial Hospital League revolves around the "challenge" which has been issued between our two local notables, Dr. Leonard Munson and Attorney Gordon Frederick. (Gee, I don't know which to root for . . . Killdare or Mason!)

Anyway, back at the lanes, George Weigand politely excused himself from the challenge but still stepped to the fore as he was the high man with a 177/518.

Say, I promised you a run-down on the Men's Tournament! Here's the bowler's salute of the week, going to the various city champions!

There were three positions which carried the trophies plus the money in the team division. Coming in first for the loot and the trophy was the five-some from Lake Monroe Inn with a 2,983. Congratulations to John Uhr, John Kneeland, Garry Fox, Harry Pentecost and Larry Pivec.

Second and third slots for this particular division were Michael's Elm Gas with a 2,947 and the Five-7's, 2,940.

Switching our attention to the doubles event, there was a change from those posted for last week's totals. Remember our report of last week? It showed George King and Andy Patrick with a 1,225. Well, on the very last quad Phil Roche and teammate Gordon Honeycutt bombed the pins until they emerged as the champs with a 1,228. Gee, you just can't overemphasize the importance of each one of those little pins, can you?

Third through sixth slots went to Roy Stermann and Dave Oldham, 1,223; Dan Conway and Floyd Martin, 1,211; Charles Button and Howie Harrison, 1,203; and finally Tommy and his father, Al Kipp, 1,201.

John Zuell is our new singles champion by virtue of his 701 series, including handicap. Congratulations, John. This is the second year in a row in which John has been in the winner's circle. Last year it was with Jerry Parella in the Doubles Event. Second through sixth positions were awarded as follows: Mike Reh, 673; John Wright, 656; Vergil Anderson, 656; George King, 655 and Bob May made the cut-off position with his 653.

Looking at the all events scratch division, it's with a great deal of pleasure and really, a surprise, to see Mike Reh dominating the scene with his 1,725 total. That takes into consideration that Mike bowled against the best that this area had to offer and he came out at the right spot . . . "Number One Man" in the all important sector, all events champion.

Other positions a carry in prizes will go to John Wright, 1,706; Pete Peterson, 1,703 and fourth place tied between the two John's—Big and Little—Uhr and Split-ski with their 1,678.

Oh well, there, always next year to bone-up on, huh? Only kiddin' champs. May you carry your laurels well for your reigning year. Good luck!

DESPITE A NIP IN THE AIR the New York Met farm hands went back to work on hitting Monday at Sanford's Memorial Stadium. Sunday's inter-camp game revealed that the hurling corps was somewhat ahead of the hitters, probably due to the fact that Friday and Saturday rains limited batting practice sessions. (Herald Photo)

Dressen Hopes For Tigers On Upswing

By Sandy Padwe
 UPI Sports Writer
 When someone asks Chuck Dressen about Detroit's pennant chances, he begins by detailing how the Tigers obtained Jerry Lumpe, Don Demeter and Dave Wickersham in trades and he ends with the usual "If" before Frank Lary's name.

Well, no one has come right out and predicted the "If" is about to disappear from all conversation about Lary, but then baseball people are superstitious that way. They don't take chances on subjects like sore-armed pitchers.

Lary, however, has been pitching excellent ball this spring, including a strong six-inning stint in Monday's 6-3 victory over Cincinnati.

Plugged by arm trouble since his 23-9 record in 1961, Lary appears headed for a comeback this spring. He has worked 19 innings this spring, more than any other Tiger pitcher, and his earned run average is 1.89.

In Monday's game, he allowed just two hits and one run. Lary was the winning pitcher thanks to Lumpe who hit two triples and batted in two runs.

Detroit also won a "B" game battle with the Red Sox. The Tigers had 13 hits off Jim O'Toole, including a home run by George Thomas.

Vern Law, another "sore-armed" trying to make a comeback with Pittsburgh this spring, retired the first eight Minnesota batters, but suddenly lost his touch and the powerful Twins went on to beat the Pirates, 7-3.

Jimmie Hall connected for his sixth home run of the spring to put the Twins ahead to stay. Earl Batley also connected for the Twins. Law allowed all seven runs on 10 hits.

Tony Conigliaro, the sensation of the West this season, kept it up today by lining an important double which enabled Boston to tie the Chicago Cubs and then win it, 2-1, on a home run by rookie Tony Horton.

Whitely Ford pitched three scoreless innings for New York as the Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2. Dennis Bennett went seven innings for Philadelphia, allowing two runs and five hits. Jack Haldebeck, who relieved, took the loss.

The Baltimore Orioles scored nine runs in the 10th inning and defeated the Washington Senators, 14-5. Ed Roebuck retired the first batter in the ninth, but then came the rally and the Senator reliever was on the mound the whole way.

A bloop double down the left field line with two out in the 12th inning gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 7-6 victory over the New York Mets. Forty-six players saw action in the 21st-hour game.

The Chicago White Sox scored two runs without a hit off Bob Gibson and defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1. Ray Sadeck relieved Gibson in the eighth after the Cardinal starter lost his own game due to wildness and his own errors. The White Sox wound up with just three hits.

Milwaukee rallied for three runs in the top of the seventh inning to defeat Kansas City, 4-1. Lew Krausse pitched the first seven innings for Kansas City and was relieved by John O'Donoghue who took the loss.

Joe's Laundry Back In First

Joe's Laundry rolled back into first place in the Hi-Nooners League with a clean sweep over the DelRay Debs. Hunt Realty helped juggle positions when they won four points from Stenstrom Realty, Cook's Corner, with three wins from the Acey Ducey Wives, is again tied for the number three slot with Art Brown Past Control. Susy Reno's 181 high game and Mada Wilshire 468 series helped Shoemaker Construction win three points from Stenstrom Realty, and Letha, picked up the 5-10. Dot Johnson and Pauline Stevens converted the 5-7 and Linda Smith the 2-5-7. The 3-10 fell for Susy Reno, Shirley Sighin, and Carole Surbrook and the 2-7 for Connie Ringo and Evelyn Uhr. Isabel Goshorn and Mary Tomaleski shared the 5-6 and Mada Wilshire the 4-5.

Turkeys were rolled by Dot Button, Isabel Goshorn, Kathy Gray, Jo Stankiewicz, and Evelyn Uhr.

All Metro Teams Playing Today

All of the Metro Conference's eight baseball clubs are scheduled for action this afternoon.

Seminole High will host the Oak Ridge Pioneers here in Sanford, the Colonial Grenadiers tangle with the Trojans at Evans, Edgewater's Eagles will host Winter Park High's Wildcats tonight at Tinker Field in Orlando, and the Bishop Moore Hornets will be entertained by the Boone High Braves.

In Bogor, Java, thunderstorms occur on an average of about 320 days a year.

Sneed Must Be Reckoned With In Masters Open

MIAMI (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus has to be the favorite when they tee it up in the Masters next week but a pretty good bet is for old Slammin' Sammy Sneed to finish in the first 10 when the final putt has been holed.

Sneed's failures in the U.S. Open are legendary. Four times he has finished second and another time he booted it clean away on the final hole with a resounding eight on the 72nd hole in 1939 which is one of the most sorrowful golf stories of all time.

But from a reverse position, the divot derring-do of the 31-year-old from the Virginia hills has been phenomenal in the Masters.

In the 27 previous Masters tournaments Sam has won the title three times against the best in the world and finished in the first 10 on 15 occasions.

Thousands will watch the 1964 renewal of the Masters at Augusta National Golf Club from April 9 through April 12. It's a safe bet that millions will see the television action from 5 to 8 p.m. EST on April 11 and from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on April 12.

The focus will, of course, be on the leaders.

In "reading the green" you would have to guess that Nicklaus will be right in the thick of things and, at 34, will may become the first Master to win two in a row.

There are a lot of others "on" their game like Billy Casper, Tony Lema, Rex Banner, Mason Rudolph, Gary Player and Jay Hebert. It also is the kind of a challenge which might bring Arnold Palmer back onto his game in time to make a big run at the jackpot.

The feeling among his fellow pros is that Palmer had too far to come back. He has been scrambling madly and admits that he doesn't know just what is wrong. But they also hold in the profession that once he grabs his touch again it will be Katy bar the door, because Arnie is working on his game with all the grim determination of the days before he became "The King."

Palmer's seven-year mark in the Masters borders on the fantastic, too. In that brief period he has scored three victories, in 1958, 1960 and 1962, and he also has finished second and third.

Yet Sneed's record is even more fantastic and, actually, you don't have to limit it to the Masters. In his career he has captured 114 tournaments, including the recent PGA Seniors, and moved in at the recent Doral Invitational for a fourth-place tie behind Casper, Nicklaus and Baxter.

Sneed placed second in the Masters in 1939 and in 1953, 24 years later, the Ty Cobb of golf tied for third place. Over the years in addition to his three wins he has been second twice, third on four occasions, fourth once, sixth once, seventh three times and eighth once.

The Open is a mental block with him. If he played it at Augusta next week he might as well stay home. But, if he plays the Masters, the best bet you can make is that old Slammin' Sam will be somewhere in the top 10.

MET AND NET — New York pitcher Jack Fisher (left) and net behind the protective net at the Mets' training camp in St. Petersburg. He could be a valuable addition.

Southern Bell In New Quarters Here

It was moving time for the Sanford office of Southern Bell Telephone Company and local officials settled into their spanking new quarters at Commercial Street and Palmetto Avenue after a week-end's work.

An old decrepit building at the corner has been completely renovated by the owner, William L. Kirk, and at a cost of $32,000.

The project took two months and phone crews were on hand Saturday morning placing desks, chairs and the like.

The "front" office is spaciouly equipped with desks, bookshelves and chairs. All phones are connected by underfloor cables. The front tinted windows are wall-to-wall. And on the Commercial Street side the window is screened by an intricate pattern of brick.

All rooms are soundproof. The walls are painted an off-white.

A comfortable lounge is located just off the main office and is equipped with overstuffed chairs and a sofa. Another portion of the building has a refrigerator for the convenience of the employees.

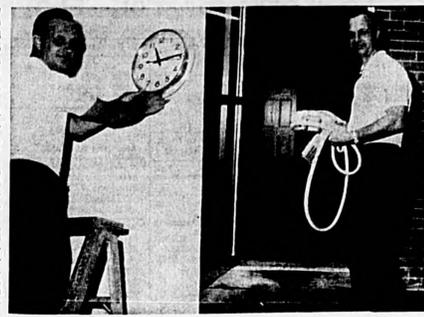

The building is completely air-conditioned.

The location is the ultimate in convenience for patrons and employees. It is located across the street from the post office and adjacent to a municipal parking lot.

An early-American theme is readily apparent on the exterior of the building.

Farm Brief

Build shelters for livestock and poultry to prepare for possible nuclear attack. A number of farm facilities can be adapted to serve as shelters. For example, trench silos can be roofed and covered with dirt.

MOVING TIME for office personnel of the local Southern Bell Telephone Company was the order of the day Saturday as the company moved into its new quarters on Commercial Street and Palmetto Avenue. At left Bob Shedden, local office manager, adjusts one of the clocks inside the building. At right Sheddren sees to it that he has one of the office phones ready for his use. (Herald Photo)

Navy To Show Kennedy Film For C O C

By Frances Wester
The public is invited to attend the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce meeting, Thursday at 8 p. m. to see two Navy films with Lt. Larry Source from SNAS as the narrator.

"An Answer," the story of Kennedy's last visit to Florida, is the title of one film and it has been un-cut. This includes pictures taken at Cape Kennedy and out at sea on the air craft carrier, Enterprise.

The other film, "Vigilantes of Sea," is the story of the vigilantes and their operations off the carrier out at sea.

Important plans for the coming year will be brought up during the business session including information about the purchase of the Chamber building and property. All members should be present for this and all residents of the community are invited to attend.

On April 10 the Chamber is sponsoring a Political Rally at Lake Mary. A chicken dinner will be served in the Chamber building, starting at 7 p. m. for the public.

Story-telling is a highly developed skill in Moslem countries.

Rodriguez Retrial Points Up Split Among Cuban Reds

HAVANA, (UPI) — The retrial of convicted Communist informer Marcos Rodriguez Alonso recessed Monday night without ruling on the case, with a sentence expected today.

Glee Club Meeting Held In DeBary

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The DeBary Glee Club met last Wednesday evening at the Community Center with Mrs. H. Whitaker directing.

Mrs. Whitaker expressed her appreciation to Laura Platt Brown and Miss Adelaide Conte who took over her duties with the group while she was ill.

A program of Easter music was presented. Refreshments were served from a buffet table centered with an arrangement of Tallahassee roses flanked by a centerpiece of decorated eggs.

Mrs. James Sims and Mrs. F. Howe presided at the table and Mrs. Charles Creasey and her committee assisted the hostesses.

Failure "Fiasco"
Referring to a ridiculous failure as a "fiasco" comes from the Venetian glass-makers. If, in blowing, the slightest flaw was detected, the globe was turned into a common flask called a fiasco.

The closing possession statement called for reaffirmation of the death penalty imposed on Rodriguez two weeks ago. The defense said he should be imprisoned rather than shot because he is "not mentally normal."

Rodriguez, the first Communist found guilty of any major offense since Fidel Castro came to power in 1959, was summarily convicted and sentenced at his first trial for betraying four anti-communists to the police in 1957. He had been under arrest for nearly three years.

Castro himself ordered Rodriguez retried, apparently because he charged in his confession that Mrs. Joaquin Ordoqui, Cuba's leading woman Communist, knew of his guilt in 1958 but kept it secret.

Castro himself, in a 4 1/2-hour speech from the witness stand Friday night, said he believes Rodriguez is guilty.

In Mexico City, Cuban refugee leader Angel Gonzalez said the Rodriguez retrial is the outward evidence of a "fight to the finish" between Castro and old-line Communists who he said want to dump the premier now that he has delivered Cuba into their hands.
