Economic Omens Are Showing 1955 As Biggest Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—As Washington reads the economic omen, 1955 will easily be the "biggest ever year for business and consumers, unmarred by either severe joblessness or menacing inflation.

At mid-year, officials and economists of the Eisenhower administration report no sign of a second-half slump which six months ago, some of them thought might occur. Instead they find production and income at all time highs and evidently still gaining. They have virtually stopped worrying about a possible autumn sag in automobiles or housing production, figures that by now down drafts in some industries can be offset by up drafts in others.

One White House adviser estimates unofficially that the total national output hit a rate equal to roughly 377 billion dollars annually in the quarter just ended. That is seven billion dollars above the January-March quarter which matched the peak of the best previous year, 1953.

Political office holders are elated. The boom looks ample enough to last into the Presidential election year of 1956. If it does, Republicans can take to the voters a story of high employment, high wages, probable tax cuts and at least the promise of a balanced budget.

Old Monoplane Starts Flight To Smithsonian

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP)—Fred and Al Key warmed up the 150-horsepower Wright Whirlwind engine on Ole Miss today to re-enact an airborne refueling stunt that helped make aviation history 20 years ago.

Such stunts are commonplace in this day and age when swift jets suckle up to tankers far out at sea, but in 1935 the Key brothers used the feat to set a 27-day world endurance flying record that still stands.

At a banquet here last night aviation notables from throughout the world honored the brothers and their Curtis Robin monoplane Ole Miss for ushering in a new flying era.

Col. Roscoe Turner, of Coronth, Miss., and Indianapolis, Ind., credited the Keys with leading the way to a modern long-distance flight and inspiring many youngsters to look to the skies for a career.

Meridian for 27 days in an endurance test sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, aviation was still in its swaddling clothes. Ole Miss proved that man is mightier than bird and that the man-made bird can take a lot of punishment. For its long-distance jaunt around Meridian, Ole Miss will rate a place in the Smithsonian Institution at Washington alongside Charles Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis.

As befitting a hardy member of a vanishing race, the Ole Miss will make the trip under its own power. It was ready to take off at 3:30 p.m. today, spend the night in Atlanta, Ga., and arrive in Washington in time for a reception at 5 p.m. tomorrow. Fred Key and mechanic Carl Saxton, who helped reassemble the Ole Miss after 14 years in mothballs, will be at the controls.

The refueling operation will be a reenactment of the last hour of the historic flight, although the brothers refueled many times during the 27-day marathon in which they used 6,000 gallons of gasoline and 300 gallons of oil.

Al is now an Air Force colonel in charge of the U.S. air mission to Columbia and Fred is manager of Meridian's Key Field, named in their honor.

Permission Is Granted Inland Construction Co. For Loch Arbor Paving

Permission was granted Inland Construction Co. to pave streets in the Loch Arbor Farlane section housing subdivision being built by Inland Construction Company this morning at the meeting of the County Commissioners.

Al Doudney, surveyor representing Inland, presented drawings of the area effected The commissioners approved unanimously.

Promotional Drive For Sanford Cards Is Told By Krider

Florida State League president John Krider said today he is taking over direction of the Sanford Cardinals for 13 days and announced plans for a vigorous promotional campaign.

Emphasizing the need for funds to carry the team through the rest of the season, Krider said the campaign will include a ticket-selling canvas of the business district and mailing of a 10-cent ticket to every family in the city.

Krider said the tickets to be mailed to families sell for $4 each and may be used by any member of the family. An "added inducement" will be included in the envelope with each ticket, he added.

"This special price," Krider continued, "makes baseball really cheap entertainment and should be of great interest to every family."

Krider pointed out that the Cardinals are piling up an outstanding record under the management of Mario "Red" Mauriel and now have a firm grip on first place in the second half of the season. Home game crowds, he said, are growing larger each night. Last night's crowd passed the 100 mark.

Free 10-game tickets will be awarded to certain fans at each home game beginning Thursday night, Krider said. A photograph will be taken of a section of tonight's crowd and the heads of one or more persons will be ringed. These fans will get the tickets. The photograph will be posted Thursday night on the bulletin board inside the stadium. Similar photographs will be taken at each home game.

Krider said he planned to speak to the Kiwanis Club tomorrow and the Jaycees Thursday on the baseball situation.

Argentine Prelates On Way To Genoa With 'Permission'

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican secretary of state office said today that two Argentine prelates recently expelled by the Argentine government have "evidently really obtained permission to return home."

A spokesman said that no permission, however, had been received through the Vatican. Nor was there any immediate confirmation from President Juan Peron's government in Buenos Aires.

The prelates are Bishop Manuel Tato, whose expulsion on June 15 was quickly followed by Vatican communication of Peron and all others responsible, and his assistant, Msgr. Ramon Novas.

They sailed yesterday from Genoa for the International Eucharistic Congress at Rio de Janeiro Brazil July 17-24.

WINSTON BURDETT, Columbia Broadcasting System commentator, confers in Washington with his wife and Sen. James O. Eastland (top, right) after confessing that he worked abroad as a Communist agent.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee heard him describe his activities while a correspondent in Europe between 1940 and 1942, how his first name was mentioned by the Reds, and the men he worked with. Burdett named Monroe W. Stern (bottom, left), a newspaperman, who denied being a Red, and Lyle Dowling (right), former newspaper executive, who invoked the 5th Amendment.

Drivers Are 'Good' In Seminole County

In Sanford and Seminole County over the holiday weekend only three accidents occurred making a record "that the people can be proud of."

Plum. Carl Williams stated that "the Friday through Monday" traffic was heavy but "good". "There were very few violations that were serious," he said.

He also pointed out that the different law enforcement officers in Sanford and Seminole County would like to thank the people for observing traffic laws and that "it does pay to be safe."

Two of the accidents occurred on Saturday. The first reported was at 11:25 when two vehicles, a 1950 Dodge pickup truck driven by Daniel Robinson, R. I. 69 years old, and a 1948 Mercury convertible, driven by John M. O'Malley, student, 19 years of Tampa, hit on 17-92 by Lake Monroe. The Mercury hit the truck broad side. It was reported, injured were Lawrence E. Hardin Jr., of Tampa, with multiple cuts on his face and left arm and the Mercury and John Kelly, seven, lacerations on right temple and fractured pelvis; David Kelly, age 11, laceration of face and fractured right leg; and Leonard Kelly, 13, with a head injury. All the boys, brothers, were of Rt. 1 Sanford. Leonard and David were later taken to the Orange Memorial Hospital for further treatment.

Both cars were a total loss and charges were against O'Malley.

The second wreck caused little damage. A 1948 Ford two-door Sedan missed a corner near Paola and hit an orange tree. The driver was not identified and the damage was considered "slight."

On July 3, in Fern Park at 12:45 p.m. a 1955 Buick driven by Helmy B. Piercey, Sanford, 23 years old; and a 1953 Cadillac Sedan, driven by Jane Elizabeth Leatherbury, Orlando, 36 years old were damaged slightly.

The Buick hit the back of the Cadillac in falling to stop soon enough. It was reported. No injuries occurred.

Secretary Says Reds Can Wait

Little Ida Mae Found In Woods By Happy Daddy

LIBBY, Mont. (AP)—Found unharmed in a wooded hollow 2-year-old Ida Mae Curtis bounded to her father's arms with a cheerful "Hi Daddy" late yesterday after she was lost for 22 hours in a rugged mountain area south of here.

Searchers found her only 300 yards from where she disappeared Sunday evening.

Fearful his daughter might have been carried from her tent by one of several bears seen in the vicinity, Mortimer Curtis, the child's father, broke down and cried upon embracing her.

Mrs. Curtis, mother of seven, had said she saw two bears near the camp where Curtis works as a logger shortly after Ida Mae vanished.

The youngster was reported in "perfect condition." Sheriff Ray Frost of Lincoln County said she hadn't a scratch.

"She may have been frightened by a bear, but I doubt if it touched her," he said. "She was awake when we found her lying on her side. She was a little frightened but not as much as you would think."

Khrushchev Is Seeking 'Honesty'

Communist Tells Of Red Strength

MOSCOW (AP)—Communist Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev said yesterday that Russia wants an agreement "on an honest basis" at the Geneva summit talks but is strong enough to wait if the West is not prepared to negotiate seriously.

Khrushchev's host at the U. S. Embassy's Fourth of July Party, Charged Affairs Walter N. Walsley, replied: "I do not think the President of the United States would go to Geneva without serious reasons."

The Communist party chief and other top Russian officials, including Premier Nikolai Bulganin, put in a surprise appearance at the party. No such high-ranking group of Soviet leaders have ever before attended an embassy function.

In a speech he said he wanted to make to the guests, Khrushchev said the Russians are not going to the July 18 conference "with broken legs"—crippled by harvest failures or other breakdowns in the Soviet economy.

"We are going upright like soldiers to meet with worthy partners and that is the only right way," he declared. "If we talk on an equal basis, all parties, and if the talks are honest and sincere, equal to equal, something will come of it."

The party was held in the alms-shaded garden of Spassko House, Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen's residence. In addition to Khrushchev and Bulganin, former Premier Georgi Malenkov, First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan and Lazar Kaganovich and Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov were among the Soviet bigwigs on hand.

Sanford Atlantic Shows Large Gain Since December 31

Advancement is being made as deposits in the Sanford Atlantic National Bank show a gain of $590,197.37 since December 31, 1954. It was announced by R. J. Daumen, president.

It went on to say that total assets for the same period show a gain of $230,126.12 as of June 30, 1955. The bank's deposit total was $7,164,452.25 and total assets were $8,195,220.69.

"The increase reflects better economic conditions in the community and also a steady growth of Sanford and Seminole County," he pointed out.

The Sanford Atlantic paid a stock dividend in January of 100 per cent thereby increasing its capital from $100,000.00 to $200,000.00.

"A semi-annual dividend of eight per cent was paid on the stock as of July 1, 1955," he said. "Business for the last half of 1955 should be as good or even better. More people are moving to this community steadily and the increase in personnel at the Naval station is particularly welcome."

Holiday Tragedies Exceed Estimates Issued By Council

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic deaths in the United States over the Fourth of July weekend soared to a record high for the holiday.

The over-all accidental death toll also was the heaviest in years for the Independence Day period. Traffic accidents from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday killed at least 382 persons. That was more than the number estimated by the National Safety Council and compared to the previous record of 366 in a three-day Fourth of July period in 1952.

In the 78-hour period, 233 persons drowned and 133 others lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents. The over-all total of 748 was a record for a three-day Fourth of July holiday and compared with the record of 793 for a four-day Fourth of July period in 1950. The traffic toll in 1950 was an all-time high of 491.

Every state and the District of Columbia reported at least one accidental death.

Mother Is Grateful For Many Prayers

CHICAGO (AP)—A young mother's appeal for prayers for her little daughter victim of sleeping sickness, has been answered by a flood of letters from around the world.

Two weeks ago that Mrs. Joan Hatfield, 24, asked that prayers be offered for her daughter, Debbie Ann, who was stricken with encephalitis last Nov. 13. She was released from Billings Hospital April 29, still in coma, and is being cared for in her home in suburban Park Ridge.

Mrs. Hatfield said more than 1,000 letters from throughout the nation and from Canada, Mexico and European countries have been received. She said all the writers promised prayers for Debbie, who will be 3 Aug. 5.

County Commission To Get Complaints

Notice is being given that the Board of County Commissioners will meet in the regular adjourned session on July 29 at 2 p. m. in the County Commissioners room at the Court House.

The purpose of the meeting is to hear complaints and receive testimony as to the value of any real or personal property listed by the County Tax Assessor on the 1955 Tax Assessment Roll.

They will also receive testimony and hear complaints as to the perfecting, reviewing and equalizing of the assessment.

Strolling In Sanford

Forrest Breckridge, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, returned to Sanford last night after a two-week business-vacation trip. He attended the Southern Institute at the University of North Carolina and contacted industrial prospects in the Pittsburgh area and Indiana.

Yesterday was Sanford's quietest Fourth of July in years, Chief of Police Roy Williams said. No automobile accidents were reported, and Chief Williams said drivers were apparently "taking it easy."

Registration of voters began today in the Chamber of Commerce building. Voters will be registered there from 9 a. m. until noon and from 2 to 5 p. m. each Tuesday.

City Building Inspector John Gillon has received his certificate of membership in the Southern Building Code Congress, which will hold its annual meeting Nov. 6-11 in Birmingham, Ala.

Cold Reception Is Being Planned For Returning Men

HONG KONG (AP)—U.S. officials are arranging a coldly correct reception for three American turn-of-war prisoners of war due to cross into Hong Kong Saturday from Red China.

The Communist Chinese Red Cross informed the Indian Red Cross in New Delhi yesterday of the July 9 arrival date for the three Korean War veterans who stayed with the Communists after the 1953 armistice then recently changed their minds.

Mexico's PRI Says Victory Is Assured

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's government Party of Revolutionary Institutions (PRI) has claimed overwhelming victory in the national congressional elections. The National Electoral Commission says final results will not be known before tomorrow.

Although public interest had been slight, the PRI said 70 per cent of the nation's nine million voters turned out Sunday for the election of 161 members to the Chamber of Deputies. A sweeping government victory had been anticipated.

So far the outcome was known only in the Federal District embracing Mexico City. The government party announced 16 of the 26 seats in the capital, while the other 3 went to the conservative Party of National Action.

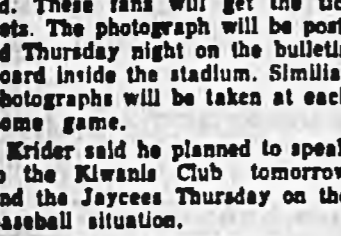

The PAN, which is strongest in Jalisco state, claimed to have won 20 seats in all.

Apparent Victory Declared By Segni

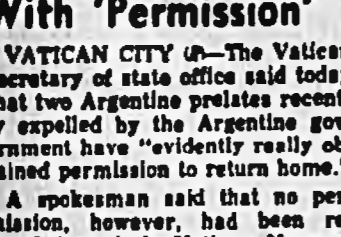

ROME (AP)—Left-of-center Christian Democrat Antonio Segni appeared today to have won his bid to rebuild the four-party center coalition with which Mario Scelba governed Italy for 18 months.

The scholarly, 60-year-old advocate of land reform must report to President Giovanni Gronchi by tonight on whether he can become Italy's sixth premier and end the nation's 18-day-old government crisis.

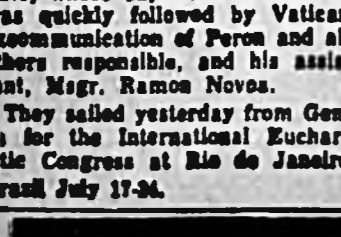

Segni cleared his final barrier yesterday and early today in conferences with leaders of the four center parties.

Five Of 9 Convicts Are Still At Large

GREEN COVE SPRINGS (AP)—Five of nine convicts who broke out of the Doctors Inlet state road camp remained at large today and officers expressed belief they have left this area.

Camp Capt. J. J. Segrest said "Although we don't feel like they're still around here, the search in Clay County will continue until we hear they're recaptured somewhere else."

The men escaped Saturday midnight by cutting through their metal sleeping quarters and scaling an eight-foot fence.

Carl Henry, 40, and Jack Twining, 19, sentenced in Dade County for breaking and entering, were caught Sunday.

Resolution Offered By Raymond M. Ball On Highway 17-92

Raymond M. Ball, chairman of the Seminole County zoning commission presented a resolution of recommendations concerning construction on highway 17-92 this morning.

The resolution stated "that a regulation be adopted and enforced as soon as possible by the Board of County Commissioners of Seminole County, Florida, prohibiting any structure or building being placed, erected or constructed, repaired, structurally altered or improved, including any structure or building upon which construction has been suspended, within the proposed right of way according to the approved right of way map of the State Road Department of Florida, covering that part of section 7701, State Road 15-000, in Seminole County, Florida from the intersection of said road with French Ave. at Sanford, Florida, southerly to the Seminole County-Orange County Line."

The County Commissioners approved the recommendations and have set a public hearing to be held in the Court House at 7 p. m. Friday, July 29th.

12 Accidental Deaths Occur During Holidays

By the Associated Press
Twelve persons died accidentally in Florida during the holiday week-end but the state escaped the major traffic toll that had been predicted.

Four persons had been killed on the highways when the 78-hour Fourth of July weekend ended. The predicted toll had been 11. The figure for the corresponding weekend last year was 12.

Electing The President

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota has introduced a constitutional amendment providing for the direct election of presidents. Other proposals already offered would continue the electoral college, but have it chosen in different ways.

Humphrey asks, "Why keep it at all?" When the Constitution was drawn up, electing the head of the state by popular vote was a new idea, alarming to conservatives. The electoral college system was a concession to them. Now it has become largely a formality, yet in 1824, 1876 and 1888 it enabled a president to win though the majority of the popular vote was against him.

Had a couple of thousand votes gone otherwise in New York in 1884, James G. Blaine would have beaten Grover Cleveland. A like change in 1916 would have made Charles E. Hughes president in World War I instead of Woodrow Wilson. Yet both Wilson and Cleveland had popular pluralities.

Humphrey argues that today's system discourages a large vote. Why should Democrats turn out in Maine or Kansas, or Republicans in Alabama or Georgia? The state is sure to be against them. Under the direct election system the votes of a local minority might be enough to turn the scale in a close national election.

His plan deserves consideration. If adopted, some federal supervision of elections would be needed to guard against hallo-stuffing where the minority party was too feeble to protest effectively. This need not be a reason for rejecting the plan.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Knock and it shall be opened unto you.— Matt. 7:8.— The door to the heart of the Infinite is not locked. Sincerity is the key that opens the door when we knock.

JAMES MARLOW

Moreell Is Rugged Individualist

WASHINGTON, July 5.— Here's a candidate—Ben Moreell—for any portrait painter looking for the No. 1 apostle of rugged individualism in the mid-20th century.

That 62-year-old retired admiral and expert on construction work is as square and solid as a block of cement, one of his favorite building materials. He's the author of a book on cement.

After 20 years in the Navy Moreell in 1947 became chairman of the Board of Directors of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co. He has a ruddy face, a barrel chest, and he doesn't waste time soft-pedaling what he thinks.

And what he thinks—that the government should sell to private utilities its public power plants and property, including the Tennessee Valley Authority—is going to be the source of controversy for a long time.

But his thinking goes far beyond just getting the government out of the business of selling electric power to consumers at lower rates than those of private power companies.

Moreell explained his philosophy of government at a recent Washington dinner with newsmen. He said the government, meaning the taxpayers in general shouldn't have to pay for the benefits received by some locality or special group.

One of the newsmen, not sure he understood the depths of the admiral's philosophy, reminded him American history was full of instances where the government had helped special groups or businesses.

He cited price supports given farmers and the huge help the government gave the early railroads. "Do you think," the newsmen asked, "those price supports and help to the railroads were wrong?"

"Wrong as hell," said the admiral. He pleasant face full of contentment.

This writer wasn't sure whether the admiral was kidding his visitor to history. So he asked Moreell if what he said was for the present day. "No," he said, "price supports and help to railroads, price supports and help to railroads, price supports and help to railroads were wrong?"

"Wrong as hell," said the admiral. He pleasant face full of contentment.

Attacking A Hero

One book collector, asked what type of book he favored; is said to have answered "Defamatory biographies." Most lives of the great are written by admirers, and apt to be sugary-sweet, seeing no flaw in their heroes. A few are written by enemies, and accordingly are often interesting, even if not necessarily true.

"Lawrence of Arabia," by Richard Aldington, is a book the collector mentioned above would have treasured, criticizing the fabulous adventurer who was largely responsible for rescuing Arabia from the Turks, and helping the British to capture Jerusalem in 1917. This was Col. Thomas Edward Lawrence, ever since known as "Lawrence of Arabia."

Lawrence won the confidence of the ever suspicious Arabs by knowing their language and customs almost better than they did themselves. He made promises of independence which the British government did not carry out. Disillusioned, he resigned from the army, and entered the aviation corps as an ordinary workman, changing his name to Shaw. He was killed in a motorcycle accident in 1935. He found time to write "Seven Pillars of Wisdom," a massive account of his Arabian adventures, and to translate Homer's "Odyssey."

Aldington denies Lawrence's greatness, and believes him a faker. Yet better judges, perhaps, always admired Lawrence. One is Sir Winston Churchill.

Hawaiian Anniversary

July 7th marks the 57th anniversary of the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands by the United States. Five years before that, the islanders had established a republic after a revolt against Queen Liliuokalani. In 1900 Hawaii was granted territorial status with American citizenship conferred on all its inhabitants.

It now appears that Congress will adjourn again without granting the people of Hawaii statehood. At every session of Congress there is speculation that the time has finally come for statehood for both of our great territories but always the sessions end without action, despite the fact that both political parties have endorsed statehood for them.

There are thoughtful and intelligent Hawaiians who believe they are better off as they are now. However, the people of Hawaii do wish statehood and are excited if they began to wonder if their dream would ever be realized. They are demonstrating remarkable patience, and the time may finally come when the political parties will mean what they say and translate their promises into deeds.

Start Feeling Sorry For Cattle

By ALTON L. BLAKELEE
NEW YORK, July 5.— Feel sleepy? Then consider the plight of cows and sheep which never sleep at all—or only rarely.

So, at least, reports a British scientist in the scientific journal Nature.

From his own and other observations, he concludes that healthy adult cattle and sheep under normal conditions "sleep little, if at all. If sleep does occur, it can only be of a very light and transient nature."

He thinks the sleeplessness is perhaps due to the fact that they are cud-chewers and must hold to an upright or particular sidewise position so their double stomachs can work properly without causing kickbacks or a kind of indigestion.

The complaint now is, by this view, as badly off as the warrior who has continuous insomnia. The cud-chewers or ruminants in general probably are all pretty much alike, including sheep, he says. It's not suggested that the reason sheep can't sleep is because human insomniacs are counting them all night.

C. C. Balch of the National Institute for Research in Dairying, University of Reading, outlines his study of cow sleep in a letter to the editors of Nature.

He said he found other workers also had not reported any evidence that healthy cattle "ever lost consciousness by day or night." Others said they thought it probable that cattle over sleep.

By sleep, Balch said, he meant suggested, among other things, that the government stop building power plants and get rid of those it has.

This was too strong for the Hoover Commission, which then made its own much milder recommendations to Eisenhower and Congress.

Enough Is Enough; Hose Snipped

DOWNEY, Calif., July 5.— Enough, said truck driver George Di Pese, is enough, so he ended the saga of his burrowing garden hose with a pair of heavy shears.

The 50-foot green plastic hose began mysteriously worming its way down into the ground in his front yard last Thursday. It kept on disappearing in the general direction of China at a rate of 3 or 3 inches an hour.

Approximately 30 feet was gone by yesterday. Hundreds of persons trampled over the lawn to watch Di Pese receive batches of advice and suggestions; telephone calls from as far away as New York, Tokyo, Canada and England.

Finally, yesterday, he cut the hose and said: "If it wants to sink down farther and disappear completely, my prayers go with it. If it decides to stay the way it is and doesn't move any more, I'm going to bury it."

He and his family had planned to go to the mountains for the July 4 weekend but called off the outing.

"I couldn't stand it any longer," he said. "This thing was getting out of hand. My life has been made a big mess."

A consulting geologist R. Bruce Lockwood, Glendale, said water-saturated sand or mud, like quicksand, below the surface might draw the hose down, but he knew of no such formation, nor any underground river, in this area.

Two other cases of that nature popped up yesterday. Calvin Barham, of nearby Norwalk, said his hose started descending after he stuck it into the ground to water tree roots. With five feet gone, Barham dug down and said he found the end embedded in soft sand.

188-hp Buick SPECIAL 4-Door Riviera, Model 48

This 4-Door Beauty Is the Newest Hit in Hardtops

YOU certainly ought to come in and see for yourself why this new kind of hardtop is headed for the best-seller list.

It's a Buick Riviera, of course. Which means the low and rakish look of a Convertible — a solid steel roof overhead — and no center posts in the side window areas to obstruct your view.

But that's only the beginning. Here you get two extra doors. They open to the rear compartment. So no one in the front has to move when someone gets into or out of the rear.

Here you get massive half-pillars on either side on which the front doors latch and the rear doors hinge. (That's why you see no center posts above the door line.)

Here, too, you get wholly new principles in body design and strength that give the extra safety against-arm solidity at the top, sides and bottom.

And here—blow those Buick engineers!—you get a lot more room in the rear compartment.

For the 4-Door Riviera gives you over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom — yet with no increase in wheelbase or over-all car length.

So we repeat—you certainly ought to come in and see this stunning new kind of hardtop.

It's the very last word in beauty, comfort, convenience. It's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series — the SPECIAL and the CENTURY. And it's all Buick — with Buick power, Buick ride, Buick handling — and the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow.

Drop in today—tomorrow at the latest—and learn what Buick's all time record sales year can mean to you in the way of a whopping big trade-in deal.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick built today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional on models with 190 cc. other Buicks.

Smart Women Today Make Own Bridal Gowns Out Of Washable Materials

Every bride-to-be dreams of a fairy-tale gown, fragile and delicate as a cobweb and lovelier than any dress in the world. Sometimes such a dress comes high and so many brides today are returning to the gentle customs of yesteryear, and are making their own wedding gowns. Thus they not only save money, but can afford the finest fabrics and can work out their own ideas of their own particular dream dress. For many girls, however, there also is a sentimental reason that goes far deeper than economy. Fortunately, the technique of making a wedding dress is much simpler than it was 100 years ago. Grandmother used to start her wedding gown as much as six months before the big day, patiently gathering and ruffling with thousands of tiny hand stitches. Today, with modern electric sewing machines and widely available dressmaking instructions, even a beginner will have little trouble fashioning the dress of her heart's content.

A fabulous dress designed for the bride who loves tradition, is a gown with tiers of net floating from a lace bodice. The thrifty bride can plan to remove the lower tier of net after the wedding, making a short summer evening dress.

The dress may be made by a standard pattern, and local sewing center experts offer tips on handling the lace and tulle for the best results.

The dress chosen features a closely fitted bodice which dips to a graceful V in front. Since the effect of a tiny waist depends on having the waistline exactly aligned with your own waistline, be sure to make use of the ruler printed on the pattern for accurate adjustments. Make all alterations right on the pattern before cutting into the lace.

Do all fitting over the foundation garment you plan to wear on your wedding day. A long torso strapless bra probably will be your choice.

Only 1 1/2 yards of lace is required for the artfully draped bodice, so you can afford to buy the loveliest lace you can find, such as a chantilly-type lace, now available in dacton. When cutting the bodice, leave an extra wide seam allowance, so that you can match the lace pattern when you baste.

You will find that stitching on lace is no problem if you back the lace with tissue paper, which will keep the lace from stretching and sliding. The paper is stratched away easily after the stitching.

The skirt of this gown requires 3 1/2 yards of 36-inch taffeta, plus about 30 yards of 78-inch net, or nylon tulle. When stitching the tulle, set your machine with loose tension and heavy pressure, and thread both needle and bobbin with dacton thread. With nylon tulle you will not need a paper backing. If you use silk tulle, you should use the tissue paper backing, and a fine mercerized thread. The gathering foot attachment of your machine will make quick work of the gathers.

The skirt will have a romantic sweep if you stiffen the lining of the underskirt with a band of horsehair. Crinoline Petticoats, of course, will account the graceful bell silhouette.

After the dress is finished, hang it from a chandelle or in a big closet where the founaces cannot be flattened. You don't want to be pressing your gown the morning of the wedding.

When making a gown as important as this, don't take shortcuts. Pin, baste, press, fit and stitch very carefully, and always test the tension and pressure of your machine on a scrap of fabric before stitching the dress. After all, your daughter may want to wear it some day, and in the meantime you want to be the most beautiful bride of the season.

Blind Woman 'Sees' With Her Fingers In Inspecting Job

DENVER — Super-sensitive fingers of blind Libby Solomon, 34, enable her to do a topflight job of checking and reconditioning hypodermic needles at Denver General Hospital.

Every morning when Mrs. Solomon reports for work she has a 24-hour supply of needles—nearly 1,200—on hand.

Her highly developed sense of touch—she's been blind since she was 3—permits her to feel out minute defects in the needles. After each use, a hypodermic needle goes through a sharpening-stripping process.

The fragile needles are highly tempered tubes of steel which pick up rough spots in many ways. The points are blunted sometimes in puncturing the skin. Often they are dented in cleaning pans.

Mrs. Solomon examines each of the needle's three bevels with her fingers. Rough spots are smoothed with a quick rub across an oil stone. Then Mrs. Solomon sorts the needles by size and places them in tubes. Formerly she used a gauge stop the sharpening stone to sort the needles but she doesn't use it any more because of her own proficiency.

How Iced Coffee Began

We can thank the French for iced coffee. More than 125 years ago, French colonial soldiers stationed at Masagan, Algeria, found that drinking coffee syrup mixed with cold water made the desert heat more endurable. The soldiers carried the vogue back to Paris, where it is to this day called Cafe Masagan, with the added flourish of ice in tall, frosty glasses.

Many hostesses make coffee regular strength, and use coffee ice cubes. Cream and sugar may be used with iced coffee as preferred.

Intelligent Student Is High On List In Polished Era

Do you know how to put your best foot forward? This is the era of the polished young timer, the chic, intelligent student. Uppermost in the minds of struggling young adults is "how?" This show-me attitude puts emphasis on the importance of doing everything well, or doing it at all.

A revised edition of the book "Your Best Foot Forward" by Dorothy Stratton and Helen Schlemmer (McGraw Hill) answers many of the etiquette questions puzzling our young friends. Here's the gist of some pertaining to table manners.

Tippling the soup plate . . . The less moving you do the better . . . be content with the soup you can procure without tipping it.

Breaking Bread . . . Little bits broken off at a time and buttered as needed is proper. (Don't butter a whole slice of bread or a whole roll.)

Cutting Meat . . . The American style is to cut a few pieces (for one piece) of meat, transferring your fork to your right hand, and eating bites of meat interspersed with bites of the rest of the dinner.

Eating with Fingers . . . Foods that can be eaten neatly without getting fingers sticky or greasy may be treated as finger foods—olives, nuts, whole pickles, celery, radishes, fresh fruits breads, crackers, sandwiches, cookies, corn on the cob, etc.

To Blow or Not to Blow . . . Soup that is. Please don't. You may drink it if it is of a consistency that warrants drinking and if the cup has one or two handles.

About Demitasse . . . If sugar and cream are provided for demitasse it may be used, but technically it is served without.

The Table Accident . . . If it is small such as dropping a bit of salad on the table, retrieve it inconspicuously. If a glass of water or wine is overturned, make apologies to the hosts sincerely and briefly and she, being correct, will mop it up unobtrusively.

Something in the Food . . . It could be anything and it should be ignored. Eat only what you care to eat, dawdling along so that you are not being conspicuous. Say nothing and try to hide it from your neighbors. In a restaurant be quiet about informing the waiter, who will if he is good, remove your plate for a new one immediately.

What to Leave on the Plate . . . It is no longer necessary to leave a bit of food on the plate. But don't scrape or mop up a plate with a crust of bread.

Introductions . . . The person on your right gives his or her name, the next person gives first person's name plus his own, the third person gives names of first and second person plus his own—and so on around the table.

How many helpers . . . If you have kept fairly well abreast of the others in eating speed you might ask to have a dish passed if you want more.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (U.S.)—The sooner that Wes Santee or some other American runner huts off a four-minute mile the better, say officials and employees of the local branch of the A.A.U. They're beginning to get a bit impatient.

For nearly 14 years now the Metropolitan Assn. has been giving honor money to a large and handsome runner hoping for a four-minute mile, but the best he could do was 4:07, just waiting for the day when it can thrust the prize into the hands of a fellow citizen and scream out of there having finally disheveled a solemn obligation.

Back just over a year ago, when Luther Hannister and John Landy began ripping off four-minute miles for weeks at a time, it was almost as though the feat might become commonplace, the girls around the office hauled the two-foot trophy from its hiding place and gave it a terrific polish job.

Since then they have watched despairingly as Santee and his fellow American hatters fired and fell back and the cup gradually reverted to its former tarnished state.

The story of the orphaned object goes back to Sept. 25, 1941, when Col. Hans Lagerloef, a member of the local Swedish American Athletic Club, decided it was the Metropolitan group for presentation in the first Yankee doudler to hit the magic mark "before Nov. 1, 1948."

The colonel evidently felt there was going to be a four-minute mile almost any day, and he assumed, naturally, that an American would be the bucko to do it. He played safe only to the extent of saying that, in the improbable event nothing had happened within the specified period, the A.A.U. could do with the cup as it saw fit.

There came the rub. There was a war, and for several years America's athletes had things to think about besides running the mile. When Nov. 1, 1948, came and went without the mug having found a home, its temporary guardians had to make a decision. Either they could award the precursor to, say, the first amateur athlete turning in an honest expense account, or they could stick to Col. Lagerloef's original dream. They've been stuck ever since.

California Women Declared First In Powder Derby

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (U.S.)—Two California women—one a youthful grandmother—were hailed today as the first finishers in the ninth cross-country Powder Puff Derby.

Mrs. Isabelle McCrae, of Lemon Grove, Calif., a former Air Force flight nurse, and her co-pilot Mrs. Betty McNeil, of La Mesa, Calif., grandmother of six, were first to complete the 2,800-mile airplane race yesterday. Both listed their age as 35.

However, the first plane in is not necessarily the winner of the derby because of the handicap system that equalizes speeds between single and multiple plane flights. Winner of the $500 first prize will be announced at a banquet Thursday.

A crowd of 2,000 persons was on hand to see the first arrivals in the race from Long Beach, Calif., to Barnes-Westfield Airport here, 2:45 p.m. on Sept. 1.

Second to finish were Gladys Muter and Doris Langher, both of Chicago, at 4:43 p.m. Mrs. Muter, pilot of her own plane, also is a grandmother.

Whenever Brooklyn Dodger first baseman Gil Hodges hit a home run in Ebbets Field he "throws" a kiss to his wife as he crosses home plate.

Jack Barry, former star player for the Philadelphia Athletics, has been the coach of the Holy Cross baseball team since 1931.

Baylor and Colorado University have signed for two football games in Boulder, Colo., on Sept. 26, 1955 and in Waco, Texas on Sept. 24, 1956.

Go Ahead Signal Sent To Amateur Bicyclists

Go ahead signals have been given for the State Bicycle Championships to be held in Winter Park, Sunday July 24.

Winter Park City Manager Clark Maxwell informs All News Publications that all is clear from the city's side, the Police Department has been notified and is ready to take care of its part in the big event and the State Department has given its approval.

Ma. P. J. Conner, Florida State representative of the Amateur Bicycle League, expresses his satisfaction over the Winter Park decision.

"It is very encouraging," he says, "and it will mean a great break for Florida as it is the first time that a State Championship has been arranged within the state."

A very smooth stretch on Orange Ave. between Holt Ave. and a spot just west of the State Auto Body Works will be used. On this stretch there will be arranged a loop, 40 feet wide.

Any boy under 17 years can enter the junior class, those over 17 can start in the senior class.

The junior class will compete over three distances, 1/2 mile, 1 mile, and 5 miles. The winner in each race will receive 7 points, second man will get 5 points, third man 3, fourth man 2 and fifth man 1 point. The rider with the highest points will be junior champion.

The senior class will compete over 1/4 mile, 1/2 mile, 1 mile, and 5 miles. Points will be given as for the junior class.

The winners of the two classes will be invited to go to New York, all expenses paid, for the National Championships, August 26, 27, and 28 on one condition, that there will be at least ten starters in each class. Second and third men are welcome to the New York class.

Before the races every rider will be examined by a doctor.

Conner does not want to guess how many competitors will turn up but he hopes for a field of about 60 riders this first time. The course is wide enough to start 20 riders. Should more riders turn up they will be divided into heats.

The first thing to do now for bicycling boys and athletes is to register with the Amateur Bicycle League and send in their entrances to the races. The registration fee is $10 for juniors, and $1 for seniors. The entrance fee is $2.

Registration and entrances should be sent under the address, Box 1068, Orlando. They will also be received by Cook's Killarney Sport Shop, 1781 Fairbanks Ave., and Winter Park Sport Shop, 160 South Park Avenue before July 16.

Williams Is Glad He Didn't Retire

NEW YORK (U.S.)—Ted Williams, still baseball's best hitter although approaching 37, is glad he changed his mind about retiring.

The lanky Boston Red Sox slugger just recovered from an inflammation of a muscle in his back (in the old days they called it lumbago) that sidelined him for 10 days, is so pleased with his hitting, he now says he will play as long as he believes he can help the club.

"My back is still a little sore," he said before yesterday's doubleheader against the New York Yankees, "and my legs hurt a bit when I try to run real hard. Outside of that, I feel wonderful for an old man, better than I have in years."

Jim Hegan, catcher for the Cleveland Indians tells insurance during the off-season.

How Are Bosox In Fourth Slot With Hot Team?

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

What in the world are the Boston Sox doing back there in fourth place? The way those guys look they ought to be away out front in the American League race.

They showed just about everything a manager could want—power hitting and great pitching—while waiking the league-leading New York Yankees in a doubleheader yesterday 4-2 and 10-5.

The sweep gave Boston 24 victories in the last 29 games.

Cleveland took second place in the league by beating Detroit twice, 6-5 and 8-5, while the White Sox slipped to third by splitting at Kansas City. Chicago won the opener 8-3, lost the second 4-3. Baltimore beat Washington 5-2 in the only single game action.

In the National, first-place Brooklyn ran up a 1-0 Philadelphia twice, 11-2 and 6-3. Chicago split with Cincinnati, losing 6-3 before winning 4-3. St. Louis took two from Milwaukee, 4-2 and 5-4; Pittsburgh beat New York 4-3, then lost 5-3.

The day's work left the Yanks atop the American League, five games up on Cleveland and Brooklyn ahead of the Cubs by 12½ in the National. The Fourth of July rule of thumb has sent 36 American League leaders on the Fourth to the World Series in the past 51 years. Thirty-four of the National League leaders at this point have gone on to win in the last 55 years.

Both the Yanks and Dodgers, incidentally, have been among the more notable exceptions to the rule in the past.

Cleveland moved a half game ahead of the White Sox on Hal Naragon's pinch single to beat Detroit in the 15th inning opener with Bob Lemon winning No. 11 in relief. Larry Doby hit a pair of homers and Al Rosen one in the nightcap, but it was Bobby Young's two-run triple that broke up a 5-3 tie for the victory.

The White Sox had 16 hits to beat Kansas City in their first game, but the A's bounced back to win the nightcap on an earned run in the eighth after Hector Lopez had tied it two innings earlier with a two-run homer.

The Giants salvaged a split on Willie Mays' 23rd homer in the 11th inning of the second game. Pittsburgh won the first when Paul Gird walked home the big run in the ninth inning.

Willie Miranda hit a bases-loaded double and Ray Moore, a reliever turned starter, lined a two-run single as the Orioles scored four times in the eighth to beat Washington and end a 13-game losing streak.

18-Year-Old Girl Is First To Swim 15-Mile Stretch

CRYSTAL BEACH, Ont. (U.S.)—Eighteen-year-old Greta Patterson of Batavia, N.Y., yesterday became the first person to swim the 15-mile stretch of Lake Erie between this spot and Philadelphia, Pa.

Greta tapped a pier and ended her long swim just 13 hours and 3 minutes after she strode into the surf on the American shore at 8:35 a.m.

"I thought I'd never make it, but I did," she told reporters excitedly. Sirens screamed and an estimated 20,000 persons strained to catch a glimpse of the girl who was graduated from high school only last week.

"Come on, baby doll," pleaded voices in the boat of her trainer, Lawrence Slocum, an Allica State Prison guard.

When Miami's tennis team defeated the University of North Carolina it snapped a string of 29 consecutive Tar Heel net victories.

The cost of keeping and training the average race horse is approximately $5,000 a year, reports the Monmouth Park Jockey Club.

Reputation Of Golfing Is At Stake

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (U.S.)

The harboring reputation of this ancient cradle of golf was at stake today in the British Open.

It is really a fire-breathing monster or have golfers down through the years let superstition get the better of them?

They walk in awe on the 6,936 yard, par-72 Old Course and are only slightly less respectful of the 6,526-yard, par-71 New Course.

But yesterday in the first 18 hole qualifying round for the Open, Americans, Englishmen, Scots, Continentals and the one Australian in the tournament—defending champion Peter Thomson—blasted their way around the two layouts as though they were bush league courses.

Out of a field of 270, 19 players broke 70 and little-known Frank Jowle, a 43-year-old Yorkshireman, ran up an amazing 63 on the New Course.

When it was all over, here were some of the vital statistics:

1. Forty posted scores bettering par.
2. It was the finest round of competitive golf ever recorded in the 50 years of St. Andrews.
3. Jowle's round was the lowest ever posted in the 95-year-old British Open.

Americans also joined in the assault. British amateur champion Joe Conrad, of San Antonio, had a 67, while Byron Nelson, now a play-for-fun golfer, came up with a 69. Jimmy McFale, of Philadelphia had a 70. Ed Furgol, 1954 U.S. Open champion, shot a 71.

Big 14-Hit Barrage Smothers Islanders

Terrell Leads Pace With 3 Out Of 4

Sanford's Cardinals have certainly put the hex on Daytona Beach. Tonight at Memorial Stadium they got after their fourth victory over the staggering Islanders. Game time is 8 o'clock.

In last night's game here, Terry Terrell and Bud Miller led a 14-hit attack on two Daytona pitchers as Sanford defeated the Islanders, 10-5.

Terrell got three hits for four at bat, including two doubles and a triple and three runs latted in. Bud Miller also got three for four, including a double and three rbi's.

Starter Orlando Pena was the victim. He was chased after giving up six runs in five innings. Sanford went ahead to stay in the second on Dick Snyder's two-run homer.

A crowd of 518 saw the Florida State League game.

In other action, Gainesville defeated St. Petersburg 15-6, West Palm Beach whipped Lakeland 6-4, and leading Orlando turned back second place Cocoa 5-2.

Orlando's victory behind the seventh-nitching of Alex Gorday stretched the Flyers' league lead to 6½ games. The Flyers combined three walks, singles by Jim Gaudreau and Dave Drapp for two runs in the second when they went ahead to stay. A Cocoa crowd of 767 saw the game.

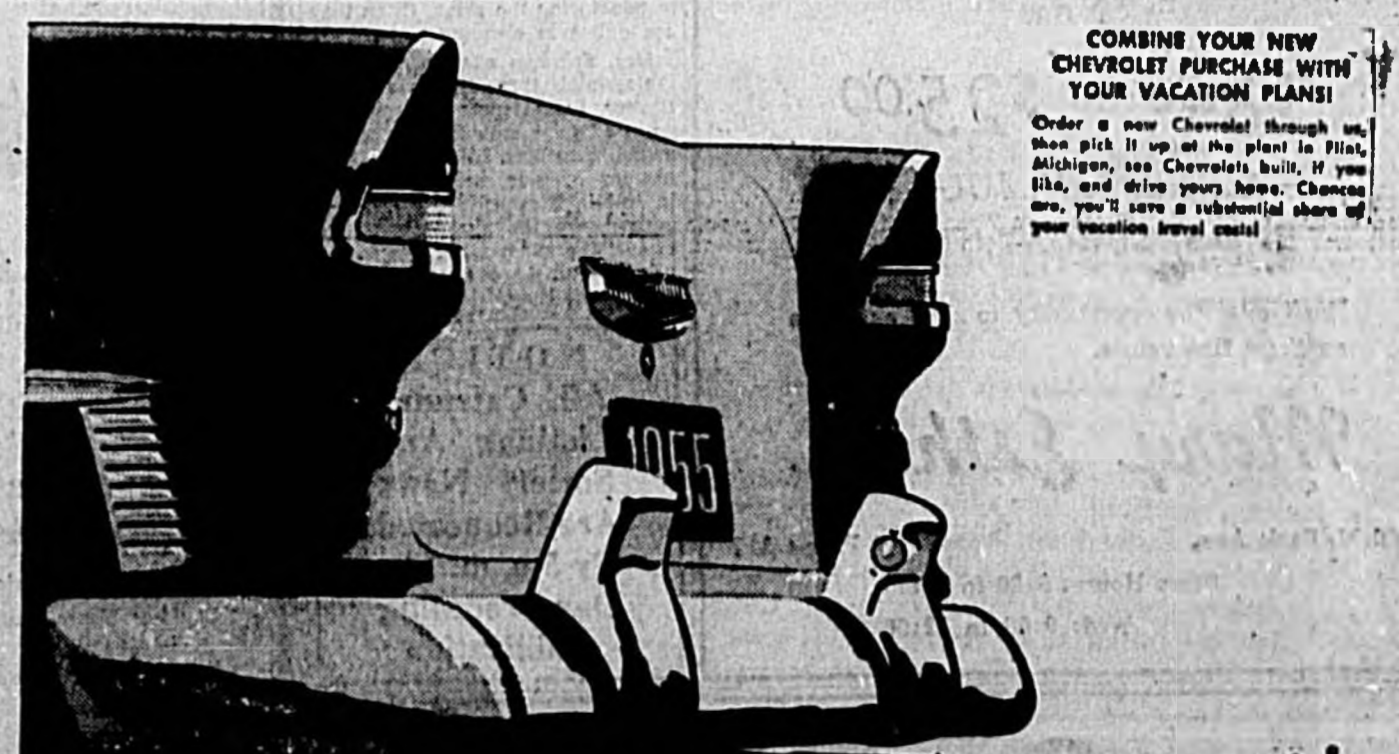

Dave Reider's single with the bases loaded which scored two runs won West Palm Beach's game at Lakeland in the sixth inning. Leroy Irby homered for insurance in the next frame.

Ronny Bloodworth pitched all the way for Gainesville although he allowed 16 hits. Accurate throwing by his outfielders and poor St. Petersburg base running helped him keep control. He hit a double with the bases loaded that scored three runs in the eighth and his mates produced other big hits when they were needed.

New Eruptions Seen On I Sland Chain

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese government ship Monday reported seeing new eruptions in the Bayonnaise Rocks, a chain of uninhabited outcroppings in the Pacific Ocean about midway between Japan and Two Jima.

The rocks, some 360 miles south of Tokyo, went into a tremendous volcanic activity in September 1953 and created a new islet. The islet disappeared after a second series of violent eruptions in March 1953.

Hiroshi Kato, 27, fishery expert, said today he saw a new eruption June 25 while conducting a survey about two miles north of the Bayonnaise.

"At about 4 p.m. The Bayonnaise suddenly shot up two water columns 20 yards high and several other columns of 2 to 3 yards high followed," he said.

GREASED PIG MAKES KOREAN DEBUT

SEOUL (AP)—The greased pig chase has come to Korea. The old American pastime was introduced by the 21st Infantry Division at its celebration of July 4.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR Sir Roger Makins (center) conferred decorations on 54 American officers and men who served or were associated with the British Commonwealth Division in Korea. Among those who received awards at a ceremony in the British Embassy in Washington are (l. to r.): Gen. James Van Fleet, former commander of the U.S. 8th Army, and Gen. Otto P. Weyland, former commander of the U.N. forces in the Far East, both of whom were named Honorary Knight Commanders of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire; Sir Roger Makins shaking hands with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, retiring U.S. Army Chief of Staff and former U.N. commander in the Far East, and Gen. Mark W. Clark, who also commanded the U.N. forces. The latter two were named Honorary Knight Commanders of the Most Honorable Order of the Bath. The decorations were presented on behalf of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain. Discipline Study To Be Undertaken

CHICAGO (AP)—A two-part study of the breakdown of discipline in the nation's classrooms is about to be undertaken by the National Educational Assn.'s "trouble-shooter."

It was prompted by a recent survey of 3,000 "typical" teachers by the 10-member National Commission for the Defense of Democracy through education, the investigative branch of the NEA. The survey revealed rowdiness is second in magnitude only to the related problems of teachers' salaries and overcrowded classrooms.

No Plans Indicated In Pushing Passage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Bonner (D-N.C.) said Monday he does not plan to push for passage of the House Merchant Marine Committee's bill to build two peacetime atomic ships.

Unless Bonner changes his mind, this would apparently dash whatever chances remain that Congress will okay this year the atomic-driven "peace ship" sought by President Eisenhower to dramatize to the world the nonmilitary uses of nuclear power.

Rep. Tolleson of Washington, the senior committee Republican, said he would try to persuade Bonner this week to change his course.

Although the number of textile mills in New England has declined sharply in recent years, remaining mills still employ 170,000 people.

Accident Takes Place At Ninth St., French

Damage Estimated At $75 Is Slight
As Car Is Hit By Pan Of Payloader

Damage estimated at $75 was reported in a traffic accident yesterday afternoon at the intersection of Ninth Street and French Ave.

Involved were a 1952 Chevrolet sedan driven by Willie Griffin, 26, Route 2, Sanford, and a 1953 Payloader driven by Ollie Harley Langford, 36, of 610 West Ninth St. Griffin's vehicle sustained all the damage.

The Payloader, owned by Craig Construction Co. of Gainesville, was loading bricks from the south side of Ninth St. into a truck parked on the north side, City Police reported. The flagman waved for Griffin's car to proceed. Police said the car was hit in the right side by the pan of the Payloader which was being lowered to pick up another load of bricks.

A jockey who had booted home a long-shot winner was greeted excitedly by the horse's owner. "Tall me what it was that you whistled in my horse's ear to make him run so fast." "Oh," said the jockey, "all I did was recite poetry to him." "Poetry?" the owner in disbelief. "Sure," answered the jockey. "Sure" were red, violet are blue, horses that lose are made into glue!

Efforts To Raise Program Support Overshadow Action

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Behind the scenes efforts to drum up support for the Barber-Caraway package program of reapportionment over shadowed floor action today on this first day of the extraordinary legislative session.

Sen. Barber of Vero Beach said he and Sen. Caraway of Tallahassee were attempting to line up co-sponsors for their revived package plan before introducing the program in both houses tomorrow.

Indications were today's House and Senate sessions would be held. The Senate went in at 11 a. m. and the House was to return at 1 p. m.

The Senate met but five minutes yesterday after returning from its long weekend recess.

Barber and Caraway continued to be optimistic about chances of getting their package of two bills and a constitutional amendment through but some senators expressed doubt whether the plan could win Senate approval now.

Jameson's Studio Ready For Opening With Refreshments

Jameson Studio, having moved from its old location at 1019 French Ave. to 108 N. Park Ave., is having its grand opening tomorrow. Refreshments will be served and the studio will be open on Friday evenings from 7 to 9 p. m.

Henry and Emily Jameson opened their first studio in Sanford in the fall of 1947. He had been head of the Photo Lab at McDill Air Field in Tampa before entering school and graduating with Mrs. Jameson from the Rochester Institute of Technology in Rochester, N. Y.

He was a local boy and graduated from Sanford High.

The Jamesons specialize in children's portraits, along with portraits, commercial, social and photo finishing work. They are members of the Florida Photographic Association of America and attend the annual convention and show in the new complex of Photo-

2 Sides Claim Senate Victory In Dixon-Yates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both sides claimed victory today in Senate action to approve—but with strings attached—$1 1/2 billion dollars for a power line to the proposed Dixon-Yates plant.

The Senate passed yesterday the money bill containing funds for this line, but with language stating it cannot be used if the city of Memphis makes a "definite commitment" in 90 days to build its own power plant, as it has said it will do.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), a Dixon-Yates foe, called this a full victory satisfying to him although he conceded some on his side wanted "unconditional surrender."

Sen. Knewland (R-Calif.), the Republican leader, insisted that Memphis' decision to fill its own needs was a triumph for President Eisenhower's "partnership policy" on electric power.

Gore said there was no question but that Memphis' plan to build its own plant rather than take Dixon-Yates power had sounded the death knell for the controversial project which Eisenhower ordered.

The FBI was disclosed last night to have been directed to undertake what a Justice Department spokesman termed "merely a fact-finding" mission into Memphis' plans.

The national committee of the biggest opposition party said it stood on its June 29 declaration issued after the quelling of the bloody revolt by naval and Marine units—that "there can be no pacification without liberty."

The committee added that Peron could demonstrate his sincerity by letting it reply over the state radio network over the same hookup.

Peron in his broadcast absolved the major opposition political party—the anti-Peronista factions—to come to terms with him.

The 1955 Legislature appropriated funds for a study of the situation but the Legislative Committee has been delayed in getting to work because of the special session of reapportionment.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. in the Hargis and Black Funeral Home in Daytona Beach.

Mr. Riven was the uncle of Mrs. G. W. L. Smith of Sanford.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. tomorrow at the Division Funeral Home with the Rev. J. B. Root and the Rev. A. G. McInnis officiating. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Radical Party Asks 'Deeds, Not Words'

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The opposition Radical party asked for "deeds, not words" last night in reply to Argentine President Juan Peron's broadcast call for a political truce.

The national committee of the biggest opposition party said it stood on its June 29 declaration issued after the quelling of the bloody revolt by naval and Marine units—that "there can be no pacification without liberty."

Former Houseboy Under Suspicion In Woman's Death

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Detectives questioning a rejected suitor of slain divorcee Mrs. Norma Thompson McCauley through the night said early today that he told them: "I think I killed her."

John R. Crocker, 34, arrested yesterday shortly after Mrs. McCauley's body was found in a bedroom in her $50,000 Bel-Air home, had been booked on suspicion of murder.

The questioning, by relays of homicide detectives, continued last night and early today at downtown Los Angeles police headquarters, later at the West Los Angeles station.

Finally, Crocker appeared on the verge of collapse and Detective Sergeant Jack Gotsch and William Stambler said he told them:

"I tried to talk to her but something came over me. I think I used a knife and choked her."

Girl Electrocutted In Wet Swim Suit

DETROIT (AP) — A 9-year-old girl, wearing a wet bathing suit, was electrocuted as she opened a self-serve freezer in a dairy store.

Sharon Kira and a playmate had been called from a back yard swimming pool to run an errand for Sharon's mother, Grace.

Mrs. Gertrude Kirby, a clerk, said she saw the girl approach the freezer.

"The next thing I knew, she just fell over backwards," Mrs. Kirby said.

Police said the freezer had a short-circuit.

Step-Up Is Sought Of Pollution Probe

LAKELAND (AP) — Both citrus growers and phosphate producers want a state legislative committee to hurry an investigation of air pollution in this area.

Citrus, pasture grass and cattle have suffered damage which scientists say may come from gases released in producing super-phosphate.

The 1955 Legislature appropriated funds for a study of the situation but the Legislative Committee has been delayed in getting to work because of the special session of reapportionment.

Citation Awards For Cancer Drive Announced Today

"Because of extraordinary meritorious service rendered to the Seminole County Unit, American Cancer Society, during Cancer Control Month, the following citizens, organizations and individuals were recipients of the coveted citations: The Sanford Herald, Radio Station WTRR, Florida State Bank, Ritz Theater, Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Raymond Studio; Seminole County Medical Association, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, Phi Club, Business and Professional Women, Seminole County Medical Association Auxiliary, Seminole County Home Demonstration Club; The Yowell Store; L. Baby Is Scaled Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Two-month-old Rita Freeman was scaled to death yesterday when her mother tripped over a cat while carrying a bottle sterilizer and spilled boiling water on the child. The accident occurred in the suburban Oak Park home of Mr. and Mrs. John Freeman.

She died after being rushed to a nearby hospital.

Uneasy Quiet Rests Over Penitentiary

Coalition Lined Up By Italian Premier

ROME (AP) — Taking on the job as Italy's sixth postwar Premier, Antonio Segni lined up a three-party coalition government for presentation today to President Giovanni Gronchi. The new government still faces votes of confidence in both houses of Parliament.

Segni announced acceptance of the premiership last night. The scholarly, 64-year-old Christian Democrat said his Cabinet would be made up of members of his own party, the Social Democrats and Liberals, and would have the support of the Republicans.

Ex-Premier Mario Scelba ruled Italy for the past 16 months with the backing of this same grouping.

The distribution of Cabinet seats was expected to be similar to Scelba's. Under the previous Premier, the Christian Democrats—largest single party in Parliament—held 14 ministries, the Social Democrats 4 and the Liberals 3.

Some personnel changes were considered likely, however. A rebel right-wing group within the Christian Democrats appeared slated for two or three seats in an effort to win them into line. This faction forced Scelba's resignation June 22.

At least one member of Scelba's Cabinet—Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino—appeared almost certain to be held over in the same post.

House Committee Ready To Consider Seizure Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee prepared to consider seizure legislation today as the capital's transit strike rolled into its sixth day without a break in sight.

The House District Committee scheduled a special meeting to take up a bill by Rep. Broyhill (R-Va.) to authorize seizure by the District of Columbia government of the Capital Transit Co. system. The bill would empower the city to run the system under a "no strike" ban.

Meanwhile, the District commissioners, ruling body of the city, arranged for a new meeting of the AFL Transit Workers Union.

A similar session yesterday with Capital Transit's Board of Directors produced no progress beyond what Commissioner Samuel Spencer said were "one or two ideas we're going to pursue further."

Directors Of GM Reveal New Plans

NEW YORK (AP) — Directors of General Motors Corp. have announced plans for a three-for-one stock split, subject to stockholders' approval at a special meeting Sept. 23.

The surprise announcement came yesterday afternoon after the New York Stock Exchange had closed for the day. Even without news of the split, GM stock had risen $3.75 a share during the day, closing at $113.87.

On the West Coast, where news of the split arrived shortly before the market closed, GM prices jumped to $118.75 a share in San Francisco and $121 in Los Angeles.

The corporation, largest manufacturing firm in the world, gave no reason for the split, which would increase the number of shares outstanding from nearly 93 million to about 279 million.

Polio Cases Lower Than 1954 Period

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — The year's polio case total in Florida increased by seven last week to 249. In the similar period last year there were 368 cases.

Ten new cases were reported last week but three previously diagnosed as polio were changed to other diseases, the State Board of Health said.

One of the new cases, nonparalytic, was an 8-year-old child, John G. Gagnier, two. The other three cases, by counties: Dade 4; Duval 2; Hillsborough, Pinellas and Polk 1 each. The Hillsborough case was bulbar polio; the others were nonparalytic or unspecified.

Marine Is Married, Like It Or Not

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Whether or not Marine Walter Sheets knows it, he's still married.

Judge J. E. Kinnison of Jackson County yesterday vacated the divorce granted last week to Sheets' wife Nancy Ann after the judge said he learned Sheets was going to remarry her.

Sheets re-enlisted in the Marine Corps at Cincinnati last week. He told the recruiter he was eligible for a second hitch because his divorce had left him with only three dependents — his children, ages 2, 2, and 8 months.

The Marines would not let him join with four dependents.

Woman Faces $64,000 Question

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Catherine E. Kreitzer has a week to decide whether to take the $32,000 she has already won on a television quiz show or risk losing it in a try for $64,000.

The 54-year-old grandmother from Camp Hill, Pa., survived the next-to-last hurdle in the CBS TV program The $64,000 Question when she gave correct answers to a three-part Bible question last night.

A devout Bible reader all her life, Mrs. Kreitzer had chosen to be quizzed on the Bible when she started on the program two weeks ago. That night she reached the $8,000 mark and last week came back to win $14,000.

Aiming for the $32,000 last night, she was given the names of Matthew, Peter, James the Greater and James the Less and then was asked to complete the list of the 12 Apostles.

For a moment, it appeared she might lose out when she skipped John. She quickly ran through the list a second time, however, and named the missing disciple as well as Andrew, Phillip, Bartholomew, Thaddeus, Thomas, Simon and Judas Iscariot.

She had no trouble with the remaining two parts of the question: How did Matthew and Peter make their living and who was the father of James the Less? She replied without hesitating that Peter was a fisherman and Matthew a tax collector and James' father was named Alphaeus.

Mrs. Kreitzer's husband James, a carpenter, had stayed home with an injured leg. "I knew she would win," he commented after the show.

Asked if he thought his wife could answer any question on the Bible, he replied, "I suppose she can stump her on something—she isn't that smart."

If she decides to try another question next week, Mrs. Kreitzer may bring along any Bible authority she chooses to help her answer it.

Officials Are Armed With Guns

Prison Guards
Reinforce Patrol

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — An uneasy quiet broken occasionally by screaming taunts of a handful of rebellious prisoners settled over the Washington State Penitentiary early today.

Prison guards reinforced by state patrol and county and city officers armed with rifles and submachineguns patrolled the walls and the area surrounding the prison. And a National Guard company was on standby orders for possible duty.

But inside the prison, most of the more than 1,700 inmates, apparently in obedience of a white-shirted convict-leader of some 33 persons directly involved in an angry revolt against prison disciplinary procedures and in control of the institution—remained in their cells.

Talks between prison and state officials and spokesmen for the rebels, aimed at obtaining the release of seven hostages taken at knife point when the trouble started at mid-morning yesterday, were broken off shortly before midnight.

Dr. Thomas Harris, newly appointed state director of institutions, said the talks probably would resume today.

The hostages, including Associate Warden Ted Bexserides, were believed in no immediate danger.

Holland Hits Back At Pending Sugar Legislation Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Holland said today he does not see "eye to eye" with the Miami-Dade County, Fla., Chamber of Commerce on pending sugar legislation.

In a resolution adopted in June, the chamber requested that the "Florida congressional delegation be urged to vigorously resist all efforts in Congress by the domestic sugar producers to reduce the Cuban sugar quota at this time."

Holland in a letter to A. Canell, chamber general manager, said the pending bill "will not reduce by one ounce Cuba's present quota and will preserve for her the position she now enjoys in the American market. The bill will only give a brief pause to her increased share and retard the rate of her future increase."

Plea For Mercy Asked By Judge

TAMPA (AP) — James Ronald Mott got a 10-year sentence for a supermarket robbery yesterday although a judge from another court came in with his support with a plea for mercy.

Circuit Judge Victor O. Wehle of St. Petersburg said his investigation showed Mott, 21, has been tormented throughout his boyhood because of his buck teeth.

"He wanted to prove his manhood when he went into one of the toughest branches of the service, the paratroopers, and I can't help but think that it was one of the things that caused him to join in these holdups," Judge Wehle said.

Judge Wehle explained he appeared to speak for Mott because he had a son about the defendant's age and the case had "gotten under my skin."

Golden Gift Inc. To Continue Action

BARTOW (AP) — Golden Gift Inc. of Deland will continue court action seeking authorization to add sugar to its chilled orange juice.

Although the Florida Citrus Commission eased up on its chilled juice standards last week after Golden Gift had obtained a temporary injunction against their enforcement, the commission still ruled out addition of sugar to the product.

Golden Gift maintains that certain seasons some oranges do not have a high enough sugar content for a satisfactory product. It has been adding cane sugar to low solid fruit.

Cheslerfield H. Smith, Bartow lawyer representing the company, said he will revise the complaint in view of the commission charges and seek a new hearing.

Active Small Fry Go On Aspirin Run

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Small fry with big headaches was the only excuse Emergency Hospital attendants could cite for a run of aspirin cases last night.

Maureen and Anne Taylor, 15-month-old twins from China Lake in Kern County, were placed under observation after they swallowed an undetermined amount of baby-size aspirin tablets.

The twins, who seemed to be enjoying the fuss they'd caused, were brought here by their parents Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Taylor to visit their grandfather Oscar Van.

Art Bailey, Los Angeles, hurried in with his daughter Terry, 2, who, he said, swallowed 24 baby-size aspirin. Doctors got busy with a stomach pump right away in Terry's case.

Gyroscope Program Readies For Action

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Army's Operation Gyroscope goes into operation today when 368 army dependents, wives and children of soldiers of the 508th Regimental Combat Team board the transport Gen. A. E. Anderson for Japan.

Tomorrow a second group of 368 women and children will board the transport Gen. J. C. Breckinridge for the same destination.

The movement of the dependents is the first of the on-mass movement of the entire unit to replace another in foreign service.
