Casselberry Council Talks About Taxes—And Snakes

It wasn't "spiders and snakes" on the minds of Casselberry City Council members at Monday night's meeting, but "dual taxation and snakes."

Mayor Owen Sheppard told council members Monday night that at least six cities have indicated they will financially support a study of Seminole County financial records in an effort to determine if city residents are being double taxed for county services they are not receiving.

Sheppard said the cost of the study for the six cities totals $24,500 and if approved by the council at next week's meeting will be performed by DeLand-based consultants Kelton & Associates.

"In a study like this it costs $16,000 for two larger cities and $2,000 for each additional smaller city," he said. "This six-month study will cost $2,000 each for Lake Mary, Longwood and Winter Springs. Sanford, Altamonte Springs and Casselberry will equally divide the remaining $18,500."

According to Sheppard, the fee will be paid on a monthly basis until the study is completed.

"The first month's billing will be for 10 percent of the cost," he said. "Each remaining month will require a 20 percent fee payment."

"I wish we could have done this like Orange County and Orlando," Councilman Frank Schutte said. "I wish we could have sat down and negotiated, but the county is not going to sit down until they have to."

"We don't want litigation if it can be avoided," Sheppard said. "The study is necessary to put our concerns in perspective."

Councilman Jim Lavigne cited several other cases in which cities have sued their respective counties over dual taxation and won, "achieving many benefits and a reduction in taxes for their residents." He said he would like to see the council expedite the study in order to meet the time restraints and present the proposals to the county as soon as possible.

In other action Monday night, the council denied a city

'I wish we could have sat down and negotiated, but the county is not going to sit down until they have to.'

resident's request to house up to 20 reptiles in his home.

Russel Calogero, 470 Diane Circle, requested the council's approval of a permit to allow him to house reptiles in his home as pets. Calogero is licensed by the state to possess venomous reptiles.

While testimony was presented by city animal control officers that immediate neighbors of Calogero did not object to his request, the council denied it because of liabilities the city could incur if someone is bitten by the reptiles.

"The permit does not state whether or not these reptiles that Mr. Calogero wants to keep are venomous," Councilman Bill Grier said. "I would be concerned about the possible liability to the city if we approve the request and one of the snakes gets out and harms someone."

"Let's face it," Lavigne said. "You can't keep a snake behind a chain-link fence. They're not that type of pet. There is always the possibility one could get out."

Calogero, in his application request, said he would provide proper shelter and care for the "pels" and that they would be "secured at all times." He was not present at the meeting.

The council said Calogero is welcomed to resubmit an application if the reptiles are indeed non-venomous.

SNOW? IN SEMINOLE COUNTY?

Florida youngsters do not usually have the opportunity to arm themselves with frozen spherical ammunition and engage in a good old snowball fight. The Butler Plaza Merchants Association in Casselberry, however, provided one of those rare opportunities Saturday. An artificial-snow machine similar to the kind used on barren ski slopes was hauled into the shopping center parking lot and used to spray a small mountain of the kind of precipitation rarely seen in Florida across one section of the parking lot. The result was an "every man for himself" snowball barrage. Youngsters armed themselves with compacted balls of manmade snow and proceeded to choose their favorite targets to attack. Santa Claus also made a pre-Christmas appearance at the plaza.

Going Up? Casselberry Eyes Rate Increase For Pickup Of Garbage

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

City garbage collection rates could be going up in Casselberry if the City Council approves a proposed 81-cent increase at next Monday's council meeting.

During Monday night's work session, the council discussed a plan from Danjohn Services, the company contracted for garbage pickup, to increase collection rates by 81 cents per residence each month and to extend the company's contract with the city from Jan. 1, 1983, to Jan. 1, 1986.

According to company's representatives, the increase is necessary because Seminole County raised their dumping rates from $6.70 to $9.75 per ton. "We had previously planned to come here and ask for $1 increase," Gerald Korman, lawyer for Danjohn, said. "But with the county's increase that won't be possible."

Korman said Danjohn has tried to find "an alternative to raising the rates" by taking the refuse to the Orange City landfill in Volusia County. However, he said, the distance, fuel costs, man-hours and "wear and tear" on the vehicles makes the project cost prohibitive.

Several council members expressed their concern over Danjohn's utilizing the Orange City landfill without their prior knowledge.

"Your rates to our residents are based on what it cost to use the Seminole County landfill, and you've been taking the garbage to Orange City, where dumping is much cheaper," Councilman Jim Lavigne said. "Isn't it possible the city deserves some type of rebate?"

Korman said that while the Orange City landfill dumping rates are less expensive than the county's rates, the other cost incurred did not produce a profit for Danjohn.

Orange City charges $1 per compacted cubic yard for refuse dumped in its landfill.

"I've lived in the city for 10 years now and I've seen a lot of garbage service companies," Councilman Frank Schutte said. "I've had pretty good service with this company." However, he added that he too would have liked to be notified of the company's use of the Orange City landfill since July.

"It's a matter of good faith," Lavigne said. "The contract is based on the county's rates, and we should have been notified of any changes."

The rate increase is slated for further discussion and council action at the Dec. 14 meeting at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall, 95 Lake Triplet Drive.

Winter Springs Aiming To Buy Utility Company

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Negotiators for the city of Winter Springs and the North Orlando Utilities Co. hope to work out an acceptable sales agreement with a $2.3 million to $3.8 million price tag by the end of December, Mayor Troy Piland said today.

Piland said city representatives and officers of the utility company, owned by the Florida Land Co., have been negotiating in earnest since June. The utility serves about half of Winter Springs' 12,000 residents, Piland said.

The mayor has been urging the City Council for at least five years to purchase the utility company.

He said the city also has been discussing with the Southern States Utilities Co. the possibility of purchasing the portion of the firm that serves some 170 households in Winter Springs. The Tuslawilla area of the city is served by Seminole Utilities, and the city is not discussing purchasing that utility at this time.

Piland is heading the city's negotiating team, which includes City Attorneys Bill Morrison and Al Cook; the city's fiscal agents, the Leedy Corp.; and City Manager Dick Rozansky.

Piland has been urging the City Council for at least the last five years to purchase the utility company.

Ultimately the sewer-system portion of the water and sewer utility will be connected to the Orlando Regional Sewer Plant at Iron Bridge near Oviedo.

Sanford Makes Deposit

Sewer Expansion Is Moving Ahead

The city of Sanford on Monday deposited $85,657 with Circuit Court Clerk Arthur H. Beckwith Jr.'s courthouse office to acquire 5.1 acres for expansion of the city's sewer system.

The $85,657 is the appraised value of the land. Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. earlier had approved the city's condemning the property.

The former owners have up to six months to ask for a 12-person jury to set a value on the property if they wish to contest the value set by John Sauls, the appraiser for the city, City Attorney Bill Colbert said today.

The 5.1 acres of land fronts on the Sanford lakefront and is adjacent to the city's Poplar Avenue sewer plant.

During the eminent-domain proceedings before Davis, City Engineer Mack LaZenby said the city needs the property for additional sludge-drying beds for its sewer plant operations.

Under the law, the former owners, Evergreen and Forrie, can withdraw $50,344 and $27,313 respectively from the court fund, Colbert said.

The property was appraised at about 40 cents per square foot, which is about what property in that area is selling for, he said.

The usual practice for a jury in a similar situation is to award the property owners the appraised value or more.

Reagan May Light Yule Tree From White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan may light the national Christmas tree by remote control instead of in person, because of reports Libya is plotting to kill him and other U.S. officials, White House aides say.

Plans for the Dec. 17 lighting of the "Pageant of Peace" tree are uncertain, but Reagan — for security reasons — may flip the switch from the White House, the aides report.

Miners' Bodies Recovered

TOPMOST, Ky. (UPI) — Rescue teams went half a mile into an explosion-ravaged coal-mine shaft today to retrieve the bodies of eight men killed by a blast that officials say may have been caused by dynamite.

Only one man working at the Adkins Coal Co. No. 18 mine during the afternoon shift Monday survived, Roy Conley, the operator of a scooping vehicle, had left the mine to charge a battery.

Porn Star Held In Deaths

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Porn-film star John Holmes was held today in the beating deaths of four people in Laurel Canyon near Gov. Edmund G. Brown's home, but police said they were still searching for other suspects.

Police Chief Daryl Gates said Monday that investigators believe Holmes — who has appeared in dozens of pornographic movies — was in the Laurel Canyon home July 1 when the beatings occurred.

Evangelist Objects To Teaching Of 'Value Clarification'

Evangelist John Butler Book will tell the Seminole County School Board at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Wednesday why he objects to "value clarification" teaching in the county's public schools.

In a letter to Dot Pennington, secretary to the board, the Rev. Mr. Book insists that "value clarification" classes invade the privacy of the home and "shows hostility toward the religious views of those students who would be involved in such a class."

"Value clarification" is part of the guidance program in the county's elementary schools. At a recent board meeting guidance teachers said value clarification is a technique of helping students know themselves better.

The Rev. Mr. Book insists that parents have not been made aware of their right to withdraw their children from classes where the subject is taught.

He also has asked for a clarification on the progress being made to include creationism in the school curriculum.

School Superintendent Robert Hughes said the matter has not yet been dealt with.

"It is one of the items to be studied by the Curriculum Advisory Committee. It will be brought to the board for consideration when the committee's recommendations are received," Hughes said.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: New England, digging out from waist-deep drifts left by a surprise blizzard, braced today for another volley of snow and more rain was expected in the flooded Pacific Northwest. At least 19 people died in storms on both coasts. The National Weather Service said from 1 to 4 inches of snow would fall in New England today. More than 2,000 homes were still without electricity as the new storm approached just 24 hours after the blizzard moved out to sea. In the Pacific Northwest, forecasters said a new front moving into the state today would bring less rain than a storm that flooded Coos County, forcing 200 residents to flee their homes.

Man, 45, Charged With Child Molesting

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford man was being held in the Seminole County jail this morning without bond following his arrest Saturday on charges of sexual battery and committing lewd and lascivious acts to minors.

Willis Carter, 45, of Rt. 1, 1st Street, in the Paola community west of Sanford, was arrested at 5:10 p.m. after sheriff's deputies received statements from four Sanford children all under the age of 10, who said a man they described as Carter forced them to engage in sexual acts with him at his home on Dec. 1, deputies said.

Carter is employed as a truck driver for Orlando-based T.G. Lee Dairies, deputies reported.

A JUICY HEIST

Burglars broke into a Sanford home at about 8 a.m. Thursday and made off with about $430 worth of property, including cans of fruit juices, Sanford police said.

Bruce Bell, 22, of 117 Anthony Drive, told police someone broke into his home by smashing a bathroom window and once inside stole an AM-FM radio, cassette player, camera, binoculars, shortwave radio, coins and several cans of fruit juices. The thieves exited through a sliding glass door, police said.

STABBED BY 3 MEN

A Sanford man was attacked and stabbed by three men while he was walking in the area of Second Street and Cypress Avenues at about 1:10 p.m. Thursday, Sanford police said.

Clarence Nobles, 40, of 1412 W. 13th St., was taken after the incident to Seminole Memorial Hospital, where he was treated for a stab wound on his upper left leg and released, hospital officials said.

According to police, Nobles had left the Winn Dixie grocery on First Street when the three men attacked him, robbing him of about $100. Nobles told police the assailants made no attempt to get his wallet but took the money from his right front pocket and fled.

TV TAKEN

Burglars broke into a Sanford woman's home about 6 p.m., Thursday and stole a television set and portable AM-FM cassette stereo, Sanford police said.

Verdine Pearsey, 20, 1414 W. 17th Street, told police someone removed the nails from a screen on an east bedroom window, climbed through, and stole the TV which she was renting from Westgate TV Inc., 3115 Orlando Drive, Sanford, and the cassette stereo. The stolen property is valued at approximately $15.

COAT CAPER

Thieves broke into the Men's Den clothing store, 3107 Orlando Drive, Sanford, at about 12:30 a.m., today and stole an undetermined number of leather jackets and other clothing. According to police, the perpetrators attempted to pry open the door of an adjacent vacant building, breaking the glass door in the process. Once inside the building, the thieves knocked a hole in the wall, gaining entry into the clothing store.

Police said about five or six jackets were recovered.

SANFORD BURGLARY

Burglars broke into a Sanford woman's home and stole an undetermined amount of jewelry, coins and a 35mm camera at about 7:15 a.m. Thursday.

Joanne Johnson, 42, of 130 Lakeside Drive, told Seminole County sheriff's deputies someone entered her home through the living room window and stole her property. Police said the burglars left the home through a rear sliding glass door.

COPPER CAPER

Thieves made off Wednesday with about $350 of copper tubing which recently had been installed at the Seventh-day Adventist Church, 623 Burnell Road, Forest City, sheriff's deputies said.

According to Minister Erwin Hise, the tubing was on the grounds, behind the church. He told deputies it had been installed a few days prior to the theft and was ready for use.

BIG B PRODUCE ROBBED

The Big B Produce store, located at the Farmer's Market on $1,290 worth of property at about 3 p.m., Saturday, Sanford police said.

Police reported the thieves cut the security chain on the south door of Stall 17, which houses Big B Produce, and removed a black and white television set, two adding machines, two jackets and keys to the business and to a company van.

JEWELRY HEIST

A Longwood residence was burglarized about 3 p.m. Saturday by thieves who made off with an undetermined amount of jewelry.

Barbara Calvert, 41, 206 Magnolia Lake Drive, told sheriff's deputies she left her home at about 5 p.m. Saturday, locking the doors behind her. When she returned, she found someone had stolen several rings, bracelets and necklaces from her jewelry box. However, no signs of forced entry into the home were evident, deputies said.

PICKUP ROBBERY

A Longwood residence was robbed of about $2,300 worth of property Sunday, Seminole County sheriff deputies said.

According to deputies, thieves entered the home of Frank Simas, 51, 210 Ibis Road, through an unlocked patio door at the rear of the residence.

Witnesses told deputies they saw two men in Simas' driveway loading items from his home into a pickup truck at about 3 p.m., Sunday. The bandits were last seen driving south on Tollgate Trail, deputies said.

Killer Avoids Chair With Unusual Appeal

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — Condemned killer Alvin Bernard Ford won a last minute stay of execution Monday from a federal appellate court, less than 14 hours before he was scheduled to die in the electric chair this morning.

The indefinite stay came Monday afternoon while a lower court hearing was still in progress, an apparently unprecedented move. Less than an hour later, U.S. District Judge Norman C. Roettger denied Ford's appeal and request for a stay of execution.

The newly-formed 11th Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta, however, in its first death penalty decision, said it issued the indefinite stay so that Ford would have a chance to continue the appeals process in the event that Roettger ruled against him.

Altamonte Council To Discuss Tree Preservation Law

While Christmas trees may be paramount in most people's minds during this holiday season, the Altamonte Springs City Commission meets tonight to discuss the fate of all trees within the city. The commission meeting begins at 7 p.m. at City Hall, 225 Newburyport Ave.

The commission is slated to discuss final approval of a proposed 12-page ordinance which will require residents and developers to obtain city permits to remove trees within the city.

According to City Manager Jeff Etchberger, the city is trying to develop a policy which will ensure the preservation of as many trees as possible in the face of ever-increasing development in the city.

If the commission approves the ordinance as written, subdivision developers will have to seek commission approval to remove trees from property within the city limits, Etchberger said.

Shortened Shuttle Flight Was A Scientific Success

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Even though the second space shuttle flight was cut short by three days, scientist today said the ship's first scientific payload gathered almost all the Earth-watching information anticipated for the planned five-day mission.

Dr. James Tarant, the scientist in charge of the overall package of seven scientific instruments called OSTA-1, said the Nov. 12-14 mission by the shuttle Columbia was a success scientifically.

The $11.6 million assembly of scientific experiments, including a 30-foot radar antenna, was designed to prove that the shuttle can serve as a stable instrument platform for Earth resources observations.

The only big disappointment was an attempt to photograph lightning in storms far below to see if space observations can be used to provide an early warning of severe weather situations.

Dr. Bernard Vonnegut of the State University of New York at Albany said the limited amount of data obtained by astronauts Joe Engle and Richard Truly was of low quality and "I'm not sure we have very much."

The experimental radar system, which the space agency said was the first side-looking system flown in space, obtained eight hours of radar pictures over North and South America, Africa, Europe and Asia.

NASA said its ability to penetrate clouds and vegetation makes it "extremely attractive" for mineral resource exploration.

"All of the objectives of this experiment were met during the STS-2 flight, despite the shortened mission time," the agency said in a summary report. "The radar equipment worked perfectly."

Another instrument designed to analyze infrared radiation from the sun as it is reflected from the ground also was reported to be completely successful. NASA said 108 minutes of cloud-free observations were recorded.

Scientists hope to be able to use such information to determine the location of iron oxide and clay minerals to help spot certain mineral deposits.

The Economy

1982 Seen As A Dark Year For Automobile Industry

United Press International

The 1982 model year is likely to be a dark one for auto buyers, autoworkers and automakers. And much of the plight can be traced to high interest rates which have thrown a wrench into the industry.

Chase Econometrics, a private economic forecasting firm, Monday predicted that 9.2 million cars would be sold during the model year, down from last month's prediction of 9.3 million. Just a few years ago, sales topped 11.3 million.

The Pennsylvania-based company said there may be a bit of improvement during the first quarter of 1982, but that will not offset the overall bad year.

Concerned by such dismal forecasts, United Auto Workers top leaders gathered in Detroit Monday to set the agenda for a three-day meeting of the union's executive board beginning today.

The talks are likely to include ways to keep the auto industry afloat.

Two automakers — American Motors Corp. and International Harvester Co — have requested concessions in advance of the next contract and other automakers have asked for the same treatment.

But union leaders have stood firm against a pressure from employers for takebacks similar to those granted Chrysler Corp. in the midst of its problems.

Chase's Automotive Economist Wesley Stuchlak said high interest rates are a major reason for the auto industry blues.

"I guess that you have to expect the auto industry to recover when both the economy recovers and interest rates come down," he said.

In Washington, deputy White House press secretary Larry Speakes told reporters President Reagan's economic plan is on target and the proof is in the declining inflation rate.

In Casselberry

New Year's Cheer Must Cease At 2

A request by ABC Liquors to extend drinking hours in Casselberry on New Year's Eve from 2 until 3 a.m. was unanimously denied by the City Council at Monday night's meeting.

"We haven't done it for the last two years," Councilman Frank Schutte said. "I see no reason why we should do it this year."

Councilman Bill Grier said he feels "especially on holidays" the bars should close as scheduled for safety reasons. He said the police "will already have their hands full that night" and keeping the lounges open longer will only make their jobs more difficult.

In other action Monday night, Council Chairman Tom Embree said the council will not meet in regular session Dec. 21, 28 and Jan. 4 due to the holidays.

Also, the council voted unanimously to certify the Dec. 1 election results which won incumbents Mayor Owen Sheppard, Councilmen John Leighty and Tom Embree another term to their respective position. The council also certified the paramedic ordinance, passed in referendum Dec. 1.

The $150,000-a-year advanced life-support (paramedic) program will be funded through an increase in property taxes from $1.95 to $3.20 per $1,000 assessed property valuation.

The paramedic unit will be housed in the city Fire Department and will employ six paramedic-firefighters who will begin work during "the early months of 1983" according to Sheppard. — By TENI YARBOROUGH

Brantley Featured In Prison Film Saturday

State Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, will be featured on Channel 2's (WESH-TV) "Florida's Watching" program at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Brantley will discuss a documentary film in which he appeared and which climaxes a three-month study of the Florida prison system.

As a member of the House's Select Committee on Prison Oversight, Brantley has spent the last five months studying and visiting youthful offender prisons in Florida and several other states.

He said he has become increasingly concerned with the number of young people in the state's prisons because of drug or alcohol-related problems.

"It is my hope that this film will vividly demonstrate to parents and young people alike that our courts are beginning to hand out severe prison sentences for violation of these laws," he said.

1 Year Later: No Memorials For Slain Beatle John Lennon

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police expected small gatherings of John Lennon fans in the "Strawberry Fields" section of Central Park but no formal memorials were planned for the first anniversary of the ex-Beatle's slaying.

Only a handful of local radio stations even planned musical tributes and few were reported across the nation.

"It's not a happy thing to remember," said a spokesman for one New York radio station. "We'd prefer to commemorate his life rather than his death," said a local radio station program director, explaining the reason his station had no special programming planned.

The Cincinnati Pops orchestra, however, was scheduled to perform a Lennon tribute concert Thursday at Radio City Music Hall with singers David Clayton Thomas and Roberta Flack.

Lennon's wife, Yoko Ono, 48, who cut 30 inches off her hair to mark the anniversary, was "out of town" Monday and believed to be in seclusion at Cold Spring Harbor on Long Island. She said Sunday she intended to spend the anniversary meditating with Sean, 6.

Working The First Nuclear-Free Zone

The dreams of leaders such as Libyan strongman Khadafy to possess nuclear weapons are the stuff of which world nightmares are made. Atomic arms proliferation has long been viewed as a dangerous and uncontrollable phenomenon. Third World countries, miming the arms race of the superpowers, have sought to prove their strength by joining the nuclear club. China and India have openly tested nuclear weapons. Atomic bombs are believed to be possessed by Israel and South Africa, with Pakistan coming next. The Israeli raid on the Iraqi nuclear facility shows the explosive dangers provoked by the nuclearization of the Third World.

But there is another wind blowing from Europe, the disarming voice of people from developed nations who suffered two world wars and do not want nuclear weapons stationed on their soil. The United States has responded to the groundswell for a nuclear-free Europe by offering the Soviets mutual arms reductions for the region. It is now up to the Kremlin to back its peace claims with actions.

The concept of nuclear free zones is proliferating to the Third World. The logic for developing countries to create areas where atomic weapons are barred is compelling. Why waste scarce resources and capital to create nuclear weapons that will probably not protect a nation, but certainly make it a target for atomic bombs?

The nuclear free zone may become more popular than the atomic club, if superpowers will guarantee that atomic weapons will not be aimed at regions that bar nuclear arms.

The first step was taken in 1967. The Treaty of Tlatelolco prohibited the proliferation of nuclear weapons to Latin America. It was signed by all Latin American countries except Cuba and Guyana, and ratified by all signatories except Argentina. The treaty is not yet in force for Brazil or Chile, but is for 22 states, the State Department reports.

At the time of its signing, nuclear proliferation was an academic question for Latin America. But now both Brazil and Argentina are reaching the threshold of technology to build a bomb. And the two superpowers of South America, both ruled by the military, are locked in a historic rivalry of machismo which pushes each to become the first to possess the ultimate weapon.

Ironically, Brazilian atomic research is coming increasingly from West Germany. The Germans, forbidden to create nuclear arms after World War II, have been pursuing atomic development — ostensibly for peaceful purposes — in Brazil. Also ironic is the fact that while West Germans are pushing for a nuclear-free zone, their government is pursuing atomic development in a country which lies in a fragile, almost-created, nuclear free zone.

The first step toward a nuclear-free Europe must be to create a nuclear-free Latin America. Any secret atomic bomb development involving Germans in Brazil must be halted. Pressure must be put on the Argentine government by both the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. to stop its covert atomic bomb program.

Secretary of State Haig recently delivered in Mexico the instruments of the Tlatelolco treaty that were ratified, Nov. 13, by the Senate. Haig said, "The zone, when fully realized, will help to stabilize world politics and reduce the risk of war." We hope this is just the beginning of a concerted U.S. initiative to finalize the nuclear free zone in Latin America. This effort is sure to be more popular than the U.S. policies for Nicaragua and El Salvador.

"Why don't I call the neighborhood SWAT team, and let's go for a walk!"

Fred Rozelle is the executive director of the Florida High School activities association. He does a good job at keeping his coaches and the media informed during the school year.

Once in a while Rozelle puts friendly little reminders in his monthly newsletter to keep the coaches on the ball.

Here's an excerpt:

A STATEMENT OF POLICY

The current basketball season is in an early stage and it is an appropriate time to remind all concerned of a long standing policy of this Association. It is concerned with the ethical relationship between coach and official during and immediately following an interscholastic athletic contest.

Coaches are expected to make the necessary arrangements, directly or with a local official organization, to secure the best available of-officials for each contest. The officials, once selected and assigned, are entitled to the active support of the coaches. Under no circumstances shall a coach attempt to publicly criticize, berate or intimidate an official.

Rozelle doesn't spend all of his time on coaches, though. He likes to keep the zebras on top of things too.

Officials are expected to arrive on time at each game site, neatly dressed in the designated uniform. Officials should be in good physical condition, mentally ready to work the best possible game and fully cognizant of the playing rules. They are expected to call each play as they see it without fear or favor, regardless of the score, and hustle at all times.

Judgment calls on the part of officials are not subject to question or discussion. However, if a coach desires to discuss a rules play, he should instruct his captain to request time-out and inform the referee that his coach wants a conference at the sidelines. Officials are instructed to honor such requests. The rules play in question should be briefly and courteously discussed and the correct decision should be reached. Officials are instructed to correct all errors, if errors are made, providing they are correctable, and the contest should be resumed without undue delay. Officials are instructed to refrain from discussing judgment calls with coaches, players or spectators.

This correctable error is an interesting situation. Let's say a player was fouled and it was the fifth foul on the team in the quarter, but the officials failed to realize it and gave the team the ball out of bounds.

Play could be held up and the fouled player awarded the free throw if the coach was quick enough to catch the mistake.

On The A-Bomb Teach-ins

The sense of here-we-go-again was unmistakable.

On last Veterans Day, — well, words fail me, and let Anthony Lewis of The New York Times take over: "The years of silence make what occurred on Veterans Day 1981 extraordinary. On campuses across the United States people gathered to take part in a national teach-in on the threat of nuclear war."

Lewis attended the festivities at Harvard, but similar events took place at some 150 campuses across the nation.

At my own campus, Dartmouth, the student government called for a cancellation of classes to participate in the day-long teach-in. In fact, few if any classes were canceled. But it is important to notice that these political movements first try to take precedence over the normal activity of a college, i.e., classes. There is always something, for them — whether it be Vietnam, racial questions, nuclear war — that must displace classroom activity. The teach-in cannot be scheduled, for example, for evening.

I noticed that at this year's fall convocation at Dartmouth, one of the principal speakers, a sociologist named Elise Boulding, waxed nostalgic about the teach-ins of the Vietnam era. Well, she may now be getting her wish.

And, last week, the new president of Dartmouth, perhaps in all innocence, endorsed the whole idea of the nuclear-weapons campus mobilization.

I say "in all innocence" because, in fact, it is not widely recognized that these demonstrations take place in an actual political context. They occur at a specific place and time because of the actual issues that are then at stake.

The present phase began in Western Europe, and most intensively in Germany, where the ruling Social Democratic coalition has a strong left-wing component. The issue is a very simple one.

The Soviets have almost completed the deployment of their new medium range "theater" weapon, the SS-20 missile, in the Warsaw Pact countries. (Needless to say, no demonstrations took place against the deployment of the SS-20.)

The United States has been proposing to deploy its Pershing missile in Western Europe, as a move to counterbalance the SS-20. Whereupon, of course, a major international campaign is mounted against "nuclear weapons."

And, who knows, if the anti-nuclear campaign is politically successful, it might well succeed in preserving the Soviet advantage in theater nuclear weapons.

To counter this political offensive, President Reagan has come forward with his own missile limiting proposals, which the Soviets instantly rejected.

The Soviets succeeded during the Carter years in pulling over a similar campaign against the neutron anti-tank weapon. All sorts of "useful idiots" in the West, as Lenin called them, went along with the play.

My guess is that President Reagan is made of sterner stuff. He might eventually inform Helmut Schmidt that he can either get the West German act together or face the withdrawal of all American forces.

No president, performing his constitutional duties, can permit U. S. troops to remain in Western Europe under tactical circumstances that would be suicidal.

Bangladesh Corruption Can Be Stopped

WASHINGTON — The starving peasants of Bangladesh are robbed of American food shipments by one of the most corrupt bureaucracies in the world, as I previously reported. What makes this particularly shocking is that another bureaucracy — the U.S. Agency for International Development — has allowed this scandal to go on.

I sent my roving correspondent, Peter Grant, to find out why the poor people of Bangladesh are still starving after $1.5 billion in American aid has been sent to them over the past 10 years. He found that rampant official corruption and deliberate Bangladesh government policy were giving American grain to the well-to-do and the profiteers, instead of to the poverty-stricken peasants for whom it was intended.

AID officials on the scene and in Washington could have put a stop to this heartless corruption, but they were more interested in guaranteeing their annual budget than in making the program work. Food, intended as a weapon against human

States Feel Tax Cuts

NEW ORLEANS (NEA) — "We're going to lose 25 percent of our income tax base," warns Nebraska Gov. Charles Thone. Tennessee Gov. Lamar Alexander says his state must forfeit $21 million in revenues it expected to collect this year.

When the Republican Governors Association held its annual meeting here recently, most of the publicity about the fiscal crisis confronting the states was focused on the impact of drastically slashed or wholly eliminated grant-in-aid payments formerly provided by the federal government.

But Thone, Alexander and other state executives also are scrambling to cope with another, little-noticed federal action that, according to one estimate, could deprive the states of more than $7.5 billion in revenues they had expected to collect between 1981 and 1986.

At issue are the major changes in the federal tax code, approved by Congress and signed into law by President Reagan earlier this year, that substantially reduce tax liability for both individuals and corporations.

Tax experts estimate that approximately 40 of the 50 states link or "couple" their corporate or personal tax rates to federal formulas. "The beauty of that system in the past," says Thone, "has been its administrative simplicity."

But the states that have tied their rates, deductions, exemptions and depreciation schedules to federal standards now must deal with a drastic cut in federal formulas that will produce commensurate reductions at the state level.

"We estimate that the federal tax cuts now in place will cost us an additional $50 million (per year) since we piggy-back on federal returns," says Illinois Gov. James R. Thompson. "I'm working on my fifth budget this year."

Alexander says that in addition to the $21 million in lost revenue this year, there will be "more after that." He is especially concerned about the potential tax windfall corporations will receive at the state level.

Noting that corporations will enjoy a financial bonanza at the federal level under terms of the accelerated depreciation formulas crafted by Reagan's aides, the Tennessee governor says "that doesn't mean that in addition to that corporations need an incentive at the state level."

Citizens for Tax Justice, a Washington-based public-interest group, estimates that of the more than $7.5 billion worth of revenues the states will lose in the 1981-86 period, almost $2.5 billion — more than 35 percent — will come from forfeited corporate tax collections.

The Reagan tax program "is designed to shift almost all of the tax burden onto working people," says CTJ Executive Director Dean Tipps, who estimates that corporations will receive more than $50 billion worth of tax benefits during the next decade as a result of the president's initiatives.

Noting that many states are seriously considering "decoupling" their tax rates from the federal formula, the National Governors Association estimates that "changes in the federal tax system could impose revenue reductions and increased expenses for states amounting to $2.3 billion beginning in 1982."

In one state, New Mexico, changes in federal individual tax rates are automatically adopted. Three other states — Nebraska, Rhode Island and Vermont — accept both the federal definition of taxable income (including personal exemptions and standard deductions) and the federal tax rates. In 22 other states, adjusted gross income is defined by reference to the federal formula.

The impact of "coupling" is even more severe when states deal with business taxation because 35 of the 45 states that impose corporate income taxes adopt federal taxable income as the base upon which they levy taxes.

We Are Without Leaders

NEW YORK (UPI) — America not only has no leaders to inspire the public during these changing times, but there is no accepted standard by which to recognize a modern man for all seasons, says Michael Maccoy.

Maccoy is a psychologist who is director of the Project on Technology, Work and Character in Washington and of the human development project at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard.

He is the author of the bestselling book, "The Gamesman," and has a new book out called "The Leader," which studies six leaders of our times in business and labor around the world. It seeks a definition of the kinds of leaders society needs now.

The book has two theses: a model of leadership is needed, one that can bring out the best in all current social characters; good leadership at the top is not enough, interdependent teams at different levels of business and society need their own leaders.

Savants have been writing about leadership since Lao-Tzu around 600 BC. The most famous such book is Niccolo Machiavelli's cynical 15th century masterpiece "The Prince." Since then, there have been tens of thousands of books praising or condemning individual political and moral leaders and captains of industry and seeking to define leadership.

Maccoy says flatly none of the old models of leadership will work in modern America. There is a bit of paradox in this statement because a perusal of the book shows clearly that the American leader Maccoy admires far above all others is the earliest national hero, George Washington.

The kinds of leaders needed in the eighties are different from the gamesmen who were so successful in the seventies, Maccoy says. He told United Press International that above all, the leader for these times must be a man or woman "who keeps on growing."

He or she must be a skeptic but not a cynic. In fact, he said, a good leader for our times must be one who is religious in the sense of accepting the cumulative ethical and moral beliefs of the great religions even if he or she rejects the supernatural side of religion and the idea of divinity.

Maccoy also said that, in sharp contrast with most past notions of leadership, personal achievement is not an adequate test of leadership; a leader must first of all be a person who can bring out the best in other people.

Maccoy opened his book with Lao-Tzu's 3,800-year-old remark that "the best of all leaders is the one who helps people so that eventually they don't need him."

Maccoy traces four main types of leaders who have been successful and have dominated the American imagination in the past: the great craftsman, the jungle fighter, the company man and the gamesman.

In gathering material for the book, he said, he talked to many young people and discovered none of these leadership types had the slightest chance of appealing to them.

"The kids feel we have no leaders they can look to and that depresses them terribly," he said.

The craftsman leadership model was fine for an age when the majority of Americans were self-employed farmers and tradesmen but only a tiny minority of Americans are self-employed today. The jungle fighter leader is totally unsuited to a world that has to face up to the reality of limited resources.

promptly slid into the river it was supposed to deflect.

In a rare moment of candor, and AID official explained why meeting the food distribution goal is so important — to the bureaucrats. If all the budgeted wheat for a given year is not dispensed, he said, AID's Bangladesh operation would "lose the assistance to Cambodian refugees" the following year!

WHAT'S NEXT? AID officials have been afraid to offend the Bangladesh government by using U.S. food as a lever to produce needed reforms. Fortunately, CARE has shown more guts.

Last year CARE proposed changes that would give it greater control, including the right to punish abuses. Since CARE was the only outfit with sufficient expertise to run the Food for Work program, AID reluctantly agreed to lobby for the changes with the Bangladesh government. But Bangladesh officials are still dragging their feet.

When CARE rejects work projects it considers impractical, AID officials — determined to meet their distribution goal — pressure for reconsideration. In one district last year, three out of four "reconsidered" projects were failures, as CARE had predicted. One was an embankment that

Riley Rips Up Tribe

ORLANDO — Sheila Riley fired in 27 points Monday night to lead the Jones Tigers past Seminole, 64-63, in girls high school basketball action at Jones.

Riley, a 5-3 guard, went wild in the third quarter with 10 points which erased a 33-33 halftime edge by Sanford's girls.

"She really got hot," said Tribe coach Ron Merthle about Riley's surge. "We didn't get into our offense well in the third quarter and by the time everybody got straightened out, we couldn't come back."

Jones outscored Seminole, 23-9, in the pivotal third. Sanford closed to within five points with just two minutes remaining, but couldn't get any nearer.

The Lady Seminoles dropped to 1-1 for the season. They travel to Spruce Creek for a 7 p.m. ball game Wednesday. The junior varsity, who also lost to Jones, will not play Wednesday.

On Thursday, however, both teams will return home for a battle with Daytona Beach Mainland at 8:15 p.m.

Monday's game featured the return to the lineup of point guard Johnnie Bennett. The 5-5 senior threw in 18 points to lead Sanford. Tony Hardy followed with 14, while Robin Riggins, Sabrina Melton and sophomore Maxine Campbell each had 10. Freshman Mona Benton missed the game because she stepped on a nail.

The Fighting Seminoles had a tough time at the foul line. They hit just 9-of-24.

Lake Mary freshman Kevin Hill puts the defensive pressure on Crooms' James Rouse Monday night at Seminole High School. The Panthers whipped the Rams, 53-48, to stay unbeaten at 3-0 for the season. Wednesday night Crooms hosts Ocala Vanguard at 8:30 at Crooms. Vanguard was the only team to beat the Panthers last year — twice by four points — and coach Chris Marlette is looking for another tough battle.

Ocala Vanguard Invades Wednesday

Grayson Shears Rams

By GEOFFREY GIORDANO
Herald Sports Writer

The Crooms Panthers shot it out Monday night in a freshman basketball contest against the Lake Mary Rams, and edged them, 53-48, to maintain their unbeaten 3-0 mark. Lake Mary, who lost Saturday to Lyman, 43-38, dropped to 2-2.

"We missed too many easy things," said Panther coach Chris Marlette. "If we hadn't, the score probably wouldn't have been as close."

Indeed, many easy things were missed, but a solid defensive performance held off the Rams. Donald Grayson, a 6-0 forward, led the way with an awesome all-around job. He pulled down 17 rebounds, blocked eight shots, made nine steals, handed out three assists and scored 13 points.

"He was definitely a factor since (James) Rouse had an off night," remarked Marlette.

The first period was played a little uncertainly, but Crooms managed an 11-10 lead. It had been on top 11-8, but a resurgent Lake Mary team added two baskets to close the gap. Ram Bob Counts led the pack with eight of Lake Mary's first period points, but he also drew two fouls, and eventually fouled out of the game.

Lake Mary again found itself being run around, when Crooms pulled out a 20-12 lead midway through the second period, but another rally brought them within five points, as the half ended in Crooms' favor, 24-19.

A seesaw battle began in the third period. Crooms scored early when Rod Alexander hit a free throw for a 25-19 lead. Then, he made two field goals, while Lake Mary also got two, and Crooms' advantage was extended to 28-23. The Panthers slowly built upon that, and got up to 35-25 with half of the third left to play.

In the closing seconds of the third period, however, Counts and George Williams each hit two foul shots, bringing them to within six, 39-33. Fred Brinson of Crooms hit a shot on the buzzer, to put Crooms eight ahead, 41-33. Then the real contest began.

"Our mistakes were probably nervous mistakes at the end," replied Marlette. "We had some offensive mistakes."

The scoring went back and forth until Lake Mary closed to within six agin, in the middle of the fourth period. A sure-handed Underwood accounted for four of those points, and Counts nabbed six more, to make it 49-43, Crooms. Grayson hit a charity shot, then his teammate Rouse hit a two-pointer, and Crooms was back to a nine point, 53-43 lead.

With 2:37 left on the clock, Crooms called a time out, the score, 53-47, the tenacious Rams clinging on in hope of a turnaround, which never came.

"We were rusty," Marlette explained. "Nobody likes to play on Mondays."

A big contest awaits the Panthers this Wednesday when they face their nemesis, the Ocala Vanguard Knights, at Crooms at 8:30 p.m. Vanguard defeated Crooms twice last year, each time by a slim two point for Crooms' only losses. "It'll be a big one," said Marlette.

ORLANDO — Seminole High faces a tough, tall and tedious task here tonight when it takes on Dick Hulette's Evans Trojans at 8. Junior varsity action begins at 8:15 p.m.

Tough because the Trojans won the Rotary Tip-Off Classic, knocking off a superb Blahop Moore ball club, 62-61, in overtime Saturday.

Tall because that's what Daryl Wesley is. The 6-9 junior has a fine touch inside and the other four starters — Glenn Jenkins, James Hamilton, Herb Walker and Garry Ahlerton — have no trouble finding their large target.

Tedious because the Trojans do not take bad shots. Patience is the way at Evans, and it has been since the days of coach Fred Pennington.

Coach Bill Payne's Seminoles will have to find a way to beat the stingy Egans' 1-3-1 zone.

For the Tribe, junior Calvin "Kiki" Bryant leads the scoring parade with 14.5 points per game. Fellow junior Toris "Slim" Hendricks is next with 10. Senior guard Richard Grey turned in several good floor games over the weekend.

Elsewhere in the county, coach Greg Robinson's Lake Howell Silver Hawks (see related article on same page) took to Lyman for an 8 p.m. tipoff with the Greyhounds.

Layton Can Play, Can Anyone Else?

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

Lake Howell basketball coach Greg Robinson knows his super swingman Mark Layton can play with anybody. What Robinson has to figure out is whether he has anyone that can play with Layton?

More than any other Seminole County school, the Silver Hawks ranks were depleted by graduation. Guards Bruce Brightman and Tim O'Shaughnessy both graduated to junior college basketball.

Brightman is a standout point guard at North Florida Junior College where he recently was named to the all-tournament team which NFJC team won. O'Shaughnessy is a reserve at Seminole Community College for the 7-1 Raiders.

Chuck Scott, a powerful rebounding center-forward, went the football route in a wide receiver, to Vanderbilt University where he saw a lot of playing time as a freshman.

"It's been frustrating for Mark," admits Robinson. "Things that came normal before, the passes from rightman and O'Shaughnessy just aren't there this year."

Robinson is realistic about the coming campaign. He knows the Hawks have their work cut out for them. "We're not as talented as we should be," said the ex-Crooms and SCC star. "We're really going to have to work hard to compete in the conference."

Lake Howell's season opens tonight when it travels to Lyman for a Five Star matchup with Tom Lawrence's Ivyhounds, who are 0-1 after dropping to season opener at Oviedo Friday night. The junior varsity tips the evening off at 8:15.

Here's a look at the Silver Hawks:

FORWARD

This should be a good area, but it's questionable. Senior Tim Roe was an 18 point-per-game scorer two years ago on a junior varsity.

Last year, though, he quit after a couple weeks of playing to take a job. "It really hurt Tim to miss a year," said Robinson. "His reflexes aren't back to what they should be. Hopefully he'll get it back."

Coming with Roe is another senior, 6-foot Trutter. "He has a lot of potential," said Robinson. "We've just got to get it out."

Lake Howell

Football tight end Fred McNeil will lend help on the boards.

CENTER

Jon Hamerick, a 6-2 center, will try to carry the rebounding load for Howell. "We've got average size," points out Robinson. "But we don't have that 6-6 or 6-5 guy that you need."

Backup help at the pivot comes from junior Jeff Wood. "He's a sleeper," says "Robbie." "He's going to surprise some people. He's one of our top people off the bench."

Bill Dorsey, a 6-3 senior, is behind Wood.

GUARD

The backcourt is Howell's strongest area. Layton, of course, is the main man. But he will have to be more than that for Lake Howell to be competitive.

He will play a wing in the Hawks' attack and will have to be the big scorer. The smooth 6-1 senior must also rebound and handle the ball against the press.

Dick Casher, a 5-8 senior, inherits Brightman's point guard spot. Robinson thought he had another prospect for guard, but Aaron Payne, a slick 6-0 transfer from Washington, D.C., didn't make grades. The senior may be eligible in January.

Depth comes from 5-10 Ricardo Diaz, 5-1 Tim Dike, Vaughn Lahr and Tony Macagnano, a junior up from the junior varsity.

Raiders Continue Success, Melt Steelers

Pro Football

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders may be the NFL's most successful team on Monday nights, but don't go betting the rent money on them making the playoffs this year, although they are still alive with two games left to play.

Monday night, the Raiders defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers, 30-27, to stay in the chase, but if any of three teams ahead of them wins only one of its two remaining games, Oakland is out of the playoffs.

The Steelers dropped two games behind Cincinnati in the AFC Central race and have little chance to win the division title even though they play the Bengals next week. But they are more alive than the Raiders for a playoff spot because of an 8-6 mark compared to Oakland's 7-7.

While the Steelers didn't like losing to Oakland they suffered an even bigger blow when quarterback Terry Bradshaw broke his right hand when he hit an anonymous helmet in a pileup and is out for at least a month.

That leaves the Steelers' fortunes in the hands of Mark Malone, a third-year quarterback from Arizona State who has had limited playing time this season. But Monday night he took over for Bradshaw in the second quarter and did a fine job, completing 17-of-27 for 244 yards and two touchdowns. He also scored on an 11-yard run.

Before Monday night, Malone had thrown only one pass this year, so his season is only beginning and at a very difficult time. But Coach Chuck Noll thinks Malone will be all right.

"I was very proud of our team considering our injuries," said Noll. "And I'm especially proud of Malone, he had virtually no preparation. I know he threw two interceptions, but that's my fault. I may have asked him to do more than he could do."

The second interception came in the closing minutes with the Raiders in front by 10 points and the Steelers at the Oakland 3. Malone tried to zip the ball to Lynn Swann cutting across the middle of the end zone. But Lester Hayes broke in front at the last moment to make the interception.

The other interception was made by Odis McKinney midway through the final quarter and it set up a 20-yard field goal by Chris Bahr, which turned out to be the winning score.

Marc Wilson, Oakland's young quarterback, fared better than Malone although he fumbled the ball twice and threw an interception. He threw scoring passes of 26 yards to Derrick Ramsey, 17 to Arthur Whittington and 38 to Bob Chandler and wound up with 18 completions in 29 attempts for 275 yards. Malone's touchdown passes both went to Jim Smith.

The victory over the Steelers gave the Raiders an 18-1-1 in Monday night play and Coach Tom Flores said he was at a loss to explain that record.

"I wish we could play all our games on Monday night," Flores said. "As for this game, the interceptions by Hayes and McKinney made the difference. Of course, it was a big victory because we are still in it."

Guidry Gap With Yanks Widens

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (UPI) — Left-handed pitcher Ron Guidry, one of baseball's prize free agents, will be signed by Friday and chances increase every day that it will not be with his old team, the New York Yankees.

Guidry's agent, John Schneider, said at the winter baseball meetings Monday that the Yankees no longer have a vice-like grip on his client and that several teams are in the hunt.

Moreover, Schneider said it could cost the Yankees as much as $800,000 more a year than it would cost other clubs to get Guidry's name on a contract.

"Each day that passes, the stranglehold the Yankees had on Ron's emotions and feelings lessens," said Schneider. "The other clubs want him badly."

Schneider said that Texas, Pittsburgh and Atlanta had been eliminated from contention for Guidry's services during the last few days but that there were several clubs still in the running. Kansas City, Houston, Cincinnati, Baltimore, Oakland and Toronto are believed to be the front-runners.

In order for Guidry to sign with the Yankees, Schneider said club owner George Steinbrenner must agree to a five-year, $7.5 million contract. That's considerably more than Steinbrenner has offered.

IN BRIEF

Allen Heads United Press All America Football Team

NEW YORK (UPI) — Heisman Trophy winner Marcus Allen, the first college player to rush for over 2,000 yards in a season, is one of three Southern California players named today to United Press International's All America team.

Allen, who rushed for 2,342 yards — an average of 212.9 yards per game — and led the nation in scoring with 23 touchdowns, is joined by Southern California teammates Roy Foster, a guard earning first team All America honors for the second straight year, and linebacker Chip Banks.

In the backfield with Allen, a second team selection a year ago, is Georgia's sophomore sensation Herschel Walker, Penn State junior tailback Curt Warner and Brigham Young senior quarterback Jim McMahon, who holds 55 NCAA records — 23 set in 1961.

Walker, who finished second in the Heisman balloting, ran for 1,891 yards this season — the third highest single-season rushing total ever — to make the first team for the second straight year. Warner, despite playing in nine games and being hampered by injuries, rushed for 1,044 yards on 171 carries (6.1-yard average). McMahon, the nation's top-rated passer who completed 272-of-423 passes for 3,555 yards and 30 touchdowns, was a second team choice last season.

On offense, the rest of the first team consists of Michigan wide receiver Anthony Carter, UCLA tight end Tim Wrightman, tackle Terry Tausch of Texas and Ed Muransky of Michigan, guard Sean Farrell of Penn State, center Dave Rimington of Nebraska — the Outland Trophy winner — and kicker Morten Andersen of Michigan State.

Texas tackle Kenneth Sims, the only defensive player to finish in the Top 10 balloting for the 1981 Heisman Trophy, led the way on defense.

Dooley SEC's Top Coach

ATLANTA (UPI) — Georgia's Vince Dooley, pushed into the shadow this year by Bear Bryant's successful effort to become the most prolific winner in the history of college football, regained the spotlight Monday when he succeeded himself as UPI's Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year.

Despite the attention focused on Bryant during his march to career victory No. 315, Dooley received three more votes than the Alabama coach in balloting by sportswriters and sportscasters from throughout the seven-state SEC region.

UCLA Topples To 20th

NEW YORK (UPI) — UCLA, loser of two of its first four games and playing under the shadow of NCAA probation, dropped from No. 2 to No. 20 today in the first regular-season balloting of UPI's Board of Coaches.

The Bruins lost their college basketball opener to Brigham Young and then struggled last week before evening their record against Notre Dame.

'That's Mine Boys'

— Jimmie Giles

When push came to shove Tampa Bay's Jimmie Giles had his way for a little while Sunday as he outmaneuvered Atlanta's Bob Glazebrook for a touchdown. Giles' touchdown was short-lived, however, as the referee ruled pass interference, which the speedy tight end confirmed. "I had to push him," admitted Giles. "If I didn't all I could see in front of him was open sideline." The Bucs nipped Atlanta, 21-23, to move into first place in the Central Division of the National Football League.

Bucs Need 1 For Playoffs

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — The Tampa Bay Buccaneers need to win only one of their remaining two games to be assured of a playoff spot in the NFC.

But Coach John McKay says he hopes the players will not have that in mind as they prepare for Sunday's game against San Diego, the highest scoring team in the NFL.

"If you get into that 'We only have to win one of the two, I think you're foolish,'" McKay said Monday. "Win two-of-two if you can do it."

The Bucs are 8-6 in the Central Division of the NFC and one more victory will assure them of the division championship because the best any of the other contenders could do would be to tie them and the Bucs have a better conference record.

The Chargers also are 8-6 and still are in contention for the Western Division championship in the AFC as well as for a wild card, so Sunday's game at Tampa Stadium is crucial to both teams.

"No one has really closed down San Diego (offensively)," McKay said. "They probably do have the best offense in football."

That offense, which has scored 431 points and is the only NFL team over the 400-point mark, is led by quarterback Dan Fouts, who leads the NFL in touchdown passes with 31.

Sunday the Bucs faced Atlanta's Steve Bartowski, who was tied with Fouts at the time with 29, and shut him out as the Bucs won a squeaker 24-23. The Falcons are the second highest scoring team in the NFL.

The Falcons, who dropped to 7-7, missed a chance to win the game when Mick Luckhurst — who already had kicked three field goals — missed from 45 yards out with 8 seconds to play.

Monday, McKay said game films showed defensive end Scott Hutchinson got a hand on the ball as it sailed over the lunging, jumping linemen.

"Scott touched the ball," McKay said. "Whether his touching it knocked it off line, I cannot tell you. But he did touch it."

The kick had the necessary distance but sailed two feet to the right of the upright and the Bucs had the Central Division lead and were in the driver's seat for the stretch run.

"I like to think I got enough of it," Hutchinson said. "I had been getting pretty good penetration. I made up my mind to give it all I had."

Kentucky Faces Indiana In Big Cage Test Tonight

By United Press International
The 3rd-ranked Kentucky Wildcats, still playing without their No. 1 player — 7-foot-1 Sam Bowie, face their biggest test of the early season Tuesday when they host defending national champion Indiana.

The Wildcats and Indiana, dropped to 11th in this year's pre-season rankings, are both 2-0 with Kentucky picking up its second victory on national television Saturday when Dirk Minniefield hit seven of eight second half shots to spark a 78-62 victory at Ohio State.

"We didn't know he was that good a shooter," said Ohio State Coach Eldon Miller. "But he kept hitting jumpers from way out."

Kentucky Coach Joe Hall expressed surprise that Ohio State started three guards, giving the Wildcats a definite height advantage, even without Bowie. "We thought they'd go with a bigger lineup," said Hall.

"We started the best five people we had," said Miller.

In other weekend action involving Southeastern Conference teams:

— Vanderbilt settled for runnerup honors in the Fiesta Classic at Tempe, Ariz., by losing to Arizona State, 65-63, in the finals after getting past Long Beach State, 72-70, in Friday's opening round;

— Florida took third in the Big Four Tournament at Tampa by beating Jacksonville, 84-73, after losing, 56-58, to South Florida;

57 Couples Renew Wedding Vows

By DORIS DIETRICH
OURSELVES Editor

"Don't we get to kiss the bride?" Interrupted a participant in a golden wedding celebration Sunday at the Sanford Civic Center.

The Rev. Leo King, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, Sanford, who performed the renewal of vows ceremony for 57 couples, pointed out good naturedly that the vows were sealed first with a prayer — and then "you may kiss the bride."

The 57 couples and guests lined the walls of the civic center waiting for the First Annual Wedding Celebration. Participants were area couples married 50 or more years.

Resplendent in a variety of attire, from formal gowns to stylish pants, the women wore corsages and were as beautiful as any young bride. Each bridegroom wore a boutonniere in the lapel of his jacket.

It was a special day as "I do's" echoed loud and clear throughout the vast auditorium. There were smiles and hands were tightly clasped as loving thoughts were exchanged.

Sponsored by the Recreational Department of Sanford and the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, the celebration was under the chairmanship of Pauline C. Stevens. Mrs. Stevens introduced each couple and told how long each has been married.

Winners of an anniversary dinner for two at the Cavalier Restaurant were Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon (Blanche) Wright, 718 Magnolia Ave., Sanford. The Wrights have been married longer than any couple at the celebration — 64 years.

Married June 6, 1917, in Shelby, N.C., the couple have lived in Sanford for most of their married life. He worked 45 years for the U.S. Post Office Department.

The Wrights have three children, nine grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Each agreed "love and patience" are the driving forces necessary in a long, happy marriage.

After all the brides had been kissed, Rubye King played an appropriate waltz for dancing.

Entertainment was provided by about 30 members of the

Boyfriend Afraid To Park New Car

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend recently bought a new car. It's really beautiful and he keeps it in perfect condition. The problem is that he is afraid to park it anywhere for fear it will be stolen.

When we go out together, he drives my car if we have to park it somewhere. When we use his car, I have to sit in it while he does his errands. Abby, this doesn't make any sense to me. Why have a nice car if you can't take it anywhere? No neighborhood is safe. Cars are stolen in broad daylight — even out of parking lots! He said that at his place of work three of his co-workers have had their cars stolen in the last two weeks!

What is a person supposed to do nowadays when nothing is safe from thieves? Don't suggest any burglar alarms — a real pro knows how to deactivate most of them.

FEDUP

DEAR FED: Has your boyfriend considered getting a Doberman plasher or a German shepherd? The dog need not be vicious. All it has to do is sit in the car.

DEAR ABBY: In response to "Sleepy-Time Gal," who discovered on her honeymoon that her 27-year-old, 6-foot husband was afraid of the dark, I learned the hard way to have a healthy fear of the dark.

My mother-in-law, visiting my home, fell down the stairs and broke her leg while trying to find the bathroom in the dark. My best friend stubbed her big toe on a chair leg and broke it (her big toe) on the same errand in her own home in the dark. My neighbor caught her foot in the blanket kicked off the bed by her husband and broke her collarbone.

There is a big difference between a child's fear of darkness and an adult's respect for the fact that people don't have cat's eyes. We have a small night-light in every room and hallway of our home. It's good insurance against accidents.

MRS. G.M.

DEAR MRS. M.: Thanks for an illuminating suggestion. A reader from Ormond Beach, Fla., offers yet another theory on the fear of darkness:

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Sleepy-Time Gal" her hubby is probably not afraid of the dark. He just wants the bathroom light on to know where it is because he can't remember whose bedroom he is in. If he is 6 feet, very sweet and enjoys cuddling, he has probably been in quite a few.

A.M. MOORE

DEAR ABBY: For the last few years, our family has met at each other's homes for holiday dinners, and we all bring something for the dinner.

When there are leftovers, should they remain at the home of the hostess? Or does the person who brought whatever is left over get to take it home?

Thanksgiving, Cousin Joe brought two bottles of vodka.

The crowd drank only one and a half, so Joe grabbed the half-bottle and took it home with him. Was that proper?

Cousin Marge brought a turkey. She kept remarking on how "cheated" she felt because she wouldn't have any leftovers. (There was a little turkey and dressing left over.) Should the hostess have picked up the hint and told Marge she could take home the leftovers?

Please answer in the column. There must be others who have family dinners and want to know what to do about leftovers.

FAMILY DINNER

DEAR FAMILY: Leftovers should be left with the host and/or hostess. If they want to share them with the guests, it's their option. I think it's tacky to take home an open bottle of liquor or wine.

Study-Abroad Program Open To Interested

Seminole Community College, in conjunction with Valdosta State College in Georgia, is offering a study-abroad program in Spain, July 10-Aug. 7, 1982.

The program is open to students, teachers, retired persons, and other members of the community. As many as 10 quarter hours of college credit may be earned from the Colegio Mayor or from Valdosta State College if a student meets the requirements.

Participants will attend intensive classes, Monday through Wednesday, at the Colegio Mayor with four-day weekends reserved for cultural excursions to El Escorial and the Valley of the Fallen, Toledo, Avila, Segovia, plus optional excursions to Paris, Lisbon, or London in a three-day excursion to Paris is only $210.

Courses offered include Beginning and Intermediate Spanish, Advanced Conversation, Literature, Art at the Prado Museum, etc.

Also available are courses in Education and a Master's program in Secondary Education with the teaching field in Spanish. American professors will conduct all courses in English.

Cost of the one-month trip is $1,395. This includes round trip air fare from Miami, lodging in a student dorm in the University City in Madrid, three meals per day, maid and linen service, personal laundry (washing and ironing), health insurance, private or double room, weekend excursions and up to 10 quarter hours of college credit. A panoramic tour of Madrid is also included.

Dr. Ann Bachmann, Spanish instructor at SCC, will accompany the group. For further information, contact Dr. Bachmann, 323-1450, Ext. 466 (preferably between 1:00 and 4:00 p.m.).

BARBS

Phil Pastoret

There's nothing like a long lazy day on the beach to convert a person to the beauties of indoor relaxation.

Recording studios love avant-garde music. No retakes are necessary, because it's impossible to know if a musician hit a wrong note.

Considering the prizes listed for some of the gals, they should rename the summer galle extravaganza "booty" pageants.

An optimist is a person who expects the cone and the ice cream to be finished in the same bite.

Rick Voltline, owner and operator of Voltline Business Equipment, displays Brother electronic office typewriters.

Typewriters, Calculators For Gifts At Voltline's

Brother electric portable typewriters and popular brands of pocket calculators at Voltline Business Equipment, 105 W. Second St., Sanford, make great Christmas gifts.

Rick Voltline, owner and operator, now carries a new line of Brother electronic office typewriters and is fully trained in their sales and service.

The new Brother EM-2 electronic typewriter saves time, energy and money by eliminating some of the most tiresome, time consuming aspects of 9-5 typing.

There are no more manual carriage returns — it's all automatic. The 815 character memory "remembers" addresses, page formats and short texts. The EM-2 can type one envelope before you can stuff and seal another or type an invoice form as fast as you can line up the entry blanks.

With EM-2 it's good-bye to messy manual corrections. Instead you get photo-ready copy by keying in your text before printout and correcting it with the aid of the display feature. The Brother Daisy Wheel cassette gives a choice of typestyles and pops in and out in a jiffy without dirtying your fingers.

The Brother EM-2 uses ribbon and correction tape cassettes for quick changes and is whisper quiet.

There are only 21 adjustments on the whole machine and this cuts down on repairs, said Rick, as compared to one of the leading brands, which has close to 1,000 adjustments. The Brother machine has a six-month warranty. Call Rick at 323-7022 or step in for a free demonstration of the remarkable Brother electronic office typewriters.

Rick also sells rebuilt IBM typewriters. If Rick does not have a certain brand or model business machine in stock, he can usually get one for you in a day.

Voltline Business Equipment services and sells all kinds of business equipment. If you have a business or office in the Sanford area you do not have to go out of town for your business equipment needs.

Rick is also the local dealer for Hayer mimeographs and duplicators. Voltline's also carries adding machines, calculators, cash registers and supplies such as ribbons and tapes.

He will do free in-shop estimates on any machine brought in. If you cannot bring the machine to the office he will be glad to make service calls.

There is a 10 percent discount for churches and affiliate groups.

Rick is a 1973 Seminole High School graduate and prior to opening his own business in October, 1980, he did subcontracting work for NASA at the Kennedy Space Center and Patrick Air Force Base.

Steve Shelley, who is also a lifelong Sanford resident experienced in business equipment, came to work for Voltline earlier this year.

For quick and reliable service, or to have Rick drop by to discuss your equipment needs, call 323-7022.

Racial Wound May Reopen In Mississippi

PORT GIBSON, Miss. (UPI) — A black boycott of white merchants 15 years ago left a deep and bitter scar on the town.

Ulysses S. Grant called "too beautiful to burn," and the U.S. Supreme Court may reopen that wound.

The golden hand that reaches towards the heavens atop the steeple of the First Presbyterian Church reaches gives Port Gibson an air of tranquility.

But the tranquility is superficial. Each time the racial wounds begin to heal, a monumental legal battle resumes and rips out the stitches.

"There'll be some hostility on both sides as long as that lawsuit's not settled," said Claiborne County Sheriff Frank Davis, a black elected in 1979. "The black people in Claiborne County are more united than ever before."

Fifteen years ago, the body of a black man shot by a white policeman lay in a front yard for two days as angry blacks barred white officials from moving it.

When the city refused to fire the officer, blacks launched a boycott of white merchants that lasted almost four years.

Litigation arising from that boycott has now reached the nation's highest court.

"This case has tended to open old sores," said Col. Sam Magruder, vice president of the local chamber of commerce — who moved to Port Gibson years after the boycott.

"The longer the case is dragged out, the more strife and discontent there will be."

The lawsuit was filed in 1969 by 12 white merchants seeking damages for lost trade from the NAACP and 128 blacks, including Aaron Henry, the president of the Mississippi NAACP.

The suit has traveled from Hinds County Chancery Court to the Mississippi Supreme Court to the U.S. Supreme Court, which agreed this month to hear an NAACP petition.

The NAACP asked the U.S. Supreme Court to review the constitutional questions raised by the state courts' ruling that the NAACP is liable for damages the merchants suffered in the boycott.

Mississippi's high court did throw out the $1.25 million damages set by the chancery court, but a new trial on the monetary damages has not been rescheduled.

When the Hinds County Chancery Court ordered the damages paid, national NAACP officials said it could bankrupt the venerable civil rights organization. NAACP national counsel Tom Atkins says the organization's coffers are in good shape and that's not the case today.

The U.S. Supreme Court's ultimate ruling in the case will be important from a "human standpoint," said Mississippi NAACP Field Director Robert Walker.

"The decision will indicate to everyone the court's concern about the rights of individuals to redress wrongs that concern them," he said.

The legal question facing the justices is whether the boycott was a legal "primary boycott" or an illegal secondary one, according to Atkins and Dixon Pyles, a Jackson attorney who represented the merchants.

The white merchants contended — and Mississippi's lower court agreed — that the blacks boycotted the merchants to pressure the city into firing the white police officer. If that was the case, Pyle said, the city was the real target and the merchants were boycotted illegally.

Atkins said that's not so. The merchants were the boycott target because they were unympathetic, he said, and therefore it was a legal, primary boycott.

Mississippi's Supreme Court decided that question was beside the point.

The merchants had witnesses who testified that some blacks brought violent pressure on other blacks to stay out of white-owned stores. The presence of the violence, the Mississippi high court held, made the boycott illegal.

"That some of the people who took part in the boycott engaged in violence does not tar everyone," said Atkins, adding that no connection was ever established between the NAACP and the violence.

Whatever the outcome, things have changed in Port Gibson — a town proud of having Mississippi's first library and 309 homes listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Many black leaders credit the boycott with bringing major advances for their race.

"There has been dramatic change in Claiborne County as a result of the boycott," said Atkins. "Some of the stores that were refusing to deal with blacks on a basis equal with whites have changed their policy. Some who refused to hire blacks have changed."

Among the changes: Blacks, who make up 78 percent of Claiborne County's population, had never elected a black official to office until 1967. Now, all but one of the county supervisors are black, and a majority of elected county posts are held by blacks. In fact, Claiborne has more black officials than any other county in the state.

SAUCY REPUBLICANS

Most of Seminole County's top Republicans had their work cut out for them over the weekend as they sought to serve the public in a different way. The First Annual Celebrity Spaghetti Round-Up was held Sunday evening at Eastmonte Civic Center in Altamonte Springs, sponsored by Seminole County Young Republicans. Serving spaghetti and meatballs to the public from left are County Commission Chairman Robert Sturm, County Commissioner Barbara Christensen, Congressman Bill McCollum, State Representative Bobby Brantley and John Sobik, who was chief cook for the event.

Refugees Finding It Difficult To Cope With Life In America

MIAMI (UPI) — Miami mental health centers have become drastically overloaded by Cuban and Haitian refugees seeking help for feelings of rejection and discrimination. Heriberto Ortiz, an acute treatment specialist at the Miami Mental Health Center, said both refugee groups are struggling to cope with a society very different from the one they left behind. "It is like taking a native from a backward African tribe and dropping him in the middle of Manhattan," said Ortiz. "There is no way they can find their bearings, and this leads to all sorts of psychological problems." Between March 1980 and October 1981, the Miami Mental Health Center treated more than 1,200 Mariel refugees. About 29 percent of those were diagnosed as suffering from schizophrenia and 40 percent from depression. Since January, another 2,000 Haitians and 400 Mariel refugees have been treated for various mental disorders — including alcoholism and drug abuse — at the New Horizons Center. Terestia Pulido, director of the Westchester branch of the Miami Mental Health Center, said Monday state, federal and county funding for the four area centers has been severely slashed in recent months. "We have a waiting list of refugees who need help," Ms. Pulido said. "But if you don't have the funds, you can't help those that need you." Both Cubans and Haitians are suffering from discrimination, officials say, but its source is coming from different areas of the community. The Mariel refugees suffer from rejection by their families and discrimination by the rest of the Cuban community, said Ms. Pulido. But, said Dr. Evelina Bestman, executive director of the New Horizon Center for Haitian entrants, Haitian refugees feel rejected by the whole society.

Device Can Mask Noise In Ears

DEAR DR. LAMB—About two years ago I developed a buzzing sound in my right ear, which was more noticeable when I went to bed. It sounds very much like an old-fashioned steam locomotive, with a constant throbbing. In fact, so much I wake up in the middle of the night, perhaps two or three times. I've been to four different doctors for different tests and scans. However, when all these tests were completed the doctor said they could find nothing wrong. Recently I had these tests done again on our family doctor's advice with the same results. Could there be some kind of blood pressure build-up to cause this odd noise? Perhaps my age would help you to determine the cause. I am 72 years old.

DEAR READER—Your complaint is common, particularly in older patients. It is called tinnitus and it may be mild without really bothering a person or it can drive a person up the wall. The causes are varied, from a simple problem of having an ear plugged with wax to even a brain tumor. In many cases the cause is not found. But you should not assume there is no cause until you have had a good examination. That includes testing by a qualified audiologist using modern hearing tests. These are more sophisticated than just testing your hearing ability. And he may be able to fit you with a tinnitus masker—a device designed to mask the sound and make you more comfortable. These do not work for everyone.

The tinnitus masker is discussed in more detail in The Health Letter number 12-10, Help for Tinnitus—Noise or Ringing in the Ear, which I am sending you. In some instances the noise develops with a hearing loss. If the hearing defect can be improved the noise may disappear. Careful adjustment or selection of a hearing aid while evaluating the noise may help some patients. I would expect you to have some hearing loss at your age. If you don't you are unusual. It may not bother your ability to hear normal conversation but testing will reveal its presence. Some correction of this may be useful. Finally, you can use a radio or night stand sound maker to mask the sound at night so you can sleep, as discussed in The Health Letter I am sending you.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I would like to know if a person could get any disease working in an attic where pigeons have left a lot of droppings. My husband works in such a building and he tells me it's a safe place. DEAR READER—It is not entirely safe. The biggest danger is probably histoplasmosis. This is really a fungus disease. The spores are in bird droppings and may also be found in caves. The fungi are in dust and particles from droppings. They are inhaled and set up a respiratory infection. Usually the infection is limited and the person recovers but there may be scars and calcifications in the lungs. The acute illness may resemble a cold or bronchitis. It can be more serious when the disease spreads to involve other organs. And it can be confused with tuberculosis.

People working around chicken houses or bird roosts should wear a moistened mask or device to filter out fungi spores that may be in the air. In outdoor work, wetting down the area to avoid dust in the area before working is a good idea.

YOUR BIRTHDAY December 9, 1981

Many fresh interests will be developed over the months ahead and you'll acquire a new set of friends. However, you may not mix your old pals with this group.

that time. Later, you might get careless.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You should be very efficient today in doing things for yourself that need doing. However, you might not be quite so skillful in trying to manage another's complex affairs.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your judgment is good today, but there's a chance you may lack faith in your decisions and be thrown off by asking advice from one who is not as wise as you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You will deal tactfully today with people you feel are your equals. Unbecomingly, you might not be as kind to those you consider subordinates.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you're involved with people today who can help advance your goals or ambitions, keep an eye on the clock. Make the meeting brief but effective.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You'll handle yourself well in most situations today, but it could throw you if you have to contend with the unexpected. Keep cool in all circumstances.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You'll enjoy doing things for others today unless you feel it is demanded of you. In that instance, you might back off and let them fend for themselves.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Take care of matters affecting your finances or security early in the day. Your judgment is keener at

WIN AT BRIDGE

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, West, and East cards and play sequence. Opening lead: ♠Q.

The Lightner double to be an invaluable device. The principle is simple. A double of a slam by the partner of the opening leader asks for an unusual lead. The diagrammed six-spade contract is a perfect example of this convention. It prohibits a trump lead or the lead of any suit bid by the doubler. In most cases, it asks for dummy's first bid suit, otherwise opening leader is supposed to lead from the longer of the remaining unbid suits, hoping to find partner with a void. South's jump to six spades was conservative. He wanted to be in seven if North could produce the ace of hearts, but gave up that thought. East considered a seven-club call. He knew he could find a reasonable sacrifice at one of his suits, but he had a better idea. He trotted out a Lightner double to ask his partner not to open a heart. But West was asleep at the switch. He had a bad hand and never even considered the killing diamond lead. Instead, he plunked down his queen of hearts and that was all the help South needed. He lost the first trick and no more. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag Theodore Lightner, one of the great masters of contract bridge since its inception, formulated a theory of doubling slams. The decades have proven
