YOUNG SANFORD CYCLIST INJURED

Rescue workers moved quickly Sunday afternoon to attend 13-year-old Robert W. Somma, of 304 Hidden Lake Drive, Sanford, after the bicycle (foreground) he was riding was struck by an auto driven by Mark Hickson, 123 Elm, Lake Mary. The accident occurred about 3:25 p.m. on Lake Mary Boulevard just west of U.S. Highway 17-92. Somma was released today from Florida Hospital-Orlando after being treated for a cut to his head sustained when he was thrown from his bike and crashed into the windshield of Hickson's car. An eyewitness said Somma attempted to ride his bike across Lake Mary Boulevard from the Amoco service station to the Cumberland Farms entrance to catch up with a friend who had already crossed on foot. Hickson's car was in the righthand lane heading east, but his vision was blocked by another eastbound vehicle on his left, police said. Somma was first taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital, then transferred in guarded condition because of a possible concussion.

County Called Biased SCA Starts Fund Drive

By DARLENE JENNINGS
Herald Staff Writer

Two weeks ago, the Rev. Amos Jones claimed that even though the Seminole County Commission did not grant Seminole Community Action (SCA) the $17,000 it had requested for the 1981-82 budget year, SCA would somehow come up with the money Jones says the agency needs to survive.

The county only granted the community service agency $6,500. In a prepared statement released this morning, Jones urged churches, schools and civic organizations, and individuals to support SCA by contributing to the newly-formed Fund For Community Action to be established Oct. 12.

The purpose of the fund will be to "support the programmatic efforts of Seminole Community Action and the promotion of a massive voter education and registration drive" within the county.

Contributions to the organization will be accepted at the Atlantic National Bank of Seminole, 101 East First Street, Sanford.

However, the release — signed by the Rev. James T. Hagin, president of the Seminole County Ministerial Alliance — doesn't stop at announcing the formation of the new SCA fund. It also takes a few shots at county commissioners.

"The Seminole County Board of Commissioners' decision to grant themselves a salary increase of $3,000 each, while refusing to allocate $17,000 requested by SCA in order to generate funds in excess of $700,000 to support much needed human services for low-income residents of Seminole County is an action voters should carefully consider," the release said.

The fact that the commissioners have voted themselves a raise also takes on extra meaning, according to the release, because "the commissioners were aware that the $17,000 requested was essential to maintain salaries at a level having been the same for three years, as funds requested were to be a necessary portion of the required non-federal matching funds."

The release also goes on to accuse the board of racial discrimination during a budget hearing Sept. 15.

"We question both the motive and the audacity of the Commission or any member thereof to have stationed an armed deputy sheriff at elevator doors in the public county courthouse to prevent some members of the public from going to the meeting room on the second floor where a public hearing was to take place which any member of the public had the right to attend uninhibited and unmolested," the release states.

"This constituted a racially discriminatory act since other individuals (all white) were permitted to enter the meeting room and be seated at the same time other individuals (mostly black) were denied entrance," the release said.

The issue of the blocked elevators came up during the budget hearing last week and at that time, commissioners denied any intention of preventing anyone attending the public meeting.

The release also questions the "wisdom and the human concern" of the commission which allocated $244,000 for Animal Control, while budgeting $110,000 for community service agencies administered by the Department of Health and Human Services.

The total HHS budget for the 1981-82 year which includes SCA, was set by the board at $110,000. Some other programs under the department received the following amounts:

- $27,000 Community Coordinated Child Care Program
- $12,500 Retired Volunteer Program
- $10,500 Legal Aid
- $12,000 Grove Counseling Center.

The release urges the public to attend a Seminole County Ministerial Alliance-sponsored Revival, Monday through Friday, October 5-9 at 7:30 p.m. at the First Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church, 1101 W. 13th Street, Sanford.

The proceeds will be contributed to the SCA fund, Hagin said.

Wedding Gets High

HOUSTON (UPI)—Gary and Tammy Hyche wanted their wedding to be the high point of their lives.

So Hyche, 27, and his bride, 23, were married Saturday in a hot air balloon by District Judge Frank Price.

"It seemed like an interesting way to get married," said Hyche, an electronics engineer for Texas Instruments.

The couple and judge climbed in the balloon with Wayne Cook at the controls for the lift-off. They were married somewhere over Fort Bend County.

Suicide Attempt Puts Out Longwood Traffic Lights

In an apparent suicide attempt, a 27-year-old Longwood man smashed his van into a concrete power pole at the intersection of County Road 427 and State Road 434 in Longwood Sunday morning causing $10,000 to $20,000 in damages to the lighting system at the intersection, police said.

Traffic lights at the intersection were out from 9 a.m. until 9:30 p.m.

Longwood Officers had to be called into the scene to direct traffic for the duration said Longwood Police Lieutenant Terry Baker.

According to a police report filed on the morning incident by patrolman James Virgin, the driver of the car, Joseph Eric Wondra, 114 W. Bay Avenue, told officers at the scene he was attempting to commit suicide. Wondra said he was driving at about 45 to 50 miles per hour before impact with the power pole.

Wondra was not seriously hurt, according to Virgin. However, damage to his 1978 van is estimated at $1,000.

Lieutenant Baker said today once admitted to Florida Hospital-Altamonte, Wondra again tried to commit suicide. Hospital officials would not confirm or deny the report.

Temporary lights were installed at the intersection "just to get by" for this morning, said Baker.

Gary Lester, Seminole County traffic engineer, said the lights at the Longwood intersection should be replaced and working properly by the end of the week. — DARLENE JENNINGS

Boy, 15, Dies In Car Wreck

A 15-year-old Sanford youth died early Sunday morning in a one-vehicle accident on Rantoul Lane about a half-mile from County Road 46A, according to Sanford police.

John Joseph Oravec, 2005 S. Adams, was a passenger in a 1965 Ford Thunderbird when it left the road hitting a tree at about 2 a.m. Oravec died at the scene.

The driver, Jack L. Leigh Jr., 16, 101 Elm Ave., Apt. A, Sanford, was treated and released from Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Sgt. Herb Shea said charges are pending an investigation by officer Gordon Reid. A decision on the charges may be made by tomorrow, Shea said.

Seminole High School Assistant Principal Jim Thompson shares with student, Melissa Roffe, news she is a semi-finalist in the 1982 National Merit Scholarships competition. "Seminole High is very proud of Melissa," Thompson said.

Seminole Student In Running For Merit Scholarship

Melissa Roffe's dream is to go to Northwestern University near Chicago to study bio-medical engineering and she may get her wish.

Beginning her senior year at Seminole High School with a 3.8 grade point average for three years, Melissa has been named one of 15,000 semi-finalists competing for 5,000 National Merit Scholarships to be offered in 1982.

She became a semi-finalist after placing 127th among the 30,000 Florida students who took the statewide PSAT (Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test) during their junior years in high school.

She attends two classes daily at Seminole High in physical education and as a student assistant to complete the credits she needs for graduation. At the same time she is tutoring other students at school in calculus. Having won a scholarship in a math contest to Seminole Community College, Melissa is taking a Comparative Political Institutions course there. After school, she works at Burger King.

"I took all the hard courses last year," she said. "I was going to seek early admissions to college, but decided against it. I believe a student needs a good foundation before seeking admission to college."

Melissa is a member of the National Honor Society at Seminole High for the third year and is president of the group this year. She is also a member of Mu Alpha Theta, the math honor society, for the second year.

What is bio-medical engineering and why is Northwestern her choice for her college education?

Melissa said bio-medical engineering is a new field and few schools offer it as a major. Those trained in the field design artificial limbs from plastic which is compatible with the body. They also design equipment to help diagnose diseases, she said.

Melissa said she saw a program on television about a man in

Sex Abuse Of Child Can Start Subtly In Home

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer
(Second in a Series)

Approximately 48,895 child abuse cases were reported in Florida in 1979, according to the National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect as latest full year data.

The Center reported Florida has the highest percentage, 16.5 percent, of child abuse cases of the 34 states providing information to the Center. However, it was also reported Florida has one of the oldest and best reporting systems in the nation because of the state's strict laws on reporting child abuse cases.

A member of the Child Abuse and Crisis Center Team at Orlando Regional Medical Center said "I can't release the number of child sexual abuse cases we treat, but I can tell you it's way up there. There are a lot of them in this area, including Seminole County."

The Team coordinates efforts between families of abused children, physicians, the state department and Health and Rehabilitative Services personnel in a four-county area, according to the team member.

But, do the reported child abuse cases paint the full picture?

According to the Center, approximately 100,000 to 200,000 sexual assaults on children are reported nationally each year but it is unknown how many cases go unreported.

According to the American Humane Association (AHA) in Denver, which collects the abuse data for the Center, 13,244 abuse cases; 29,920 neglect cases; and 5,731 abuse-neglect cases were reported for Florida in 1979.

The AHA also reported in 82 percent of all cases reported, a parent is the perpetrator and in 15 percent it's another relative.

The AHA also showed in 85 percent of the cases, the victim was female, usually between the ages of 12 and 14.

While statistics show child abuse occurs in this country, how and where does it begin?

Winter Springs psychiatrist Eugene Silverstein, says sexual child abuse usually begins in "subtle forms" in the home. "A parent or relative may begin allowing a child to see him or her undress, take a shower or whatever. Through these observations the parent, at times, and often the child become sexually aroused."

Silverstein said these observations sometimes lead the parent to touching the child and the child touching the parent, causing further sexual stimulation. This stimulation can, in some cases, lead eventually to incestuous acts.

"It most commonly occurs, however, through subtle implications and acts that no one may be aware of at the onset," Silverstein said.

In an article by Ellie Grossman for the Newspaper Enterprise Association, Silverstein's "subtleness theory" was supported. The article reported incestuous relations often begin through stressful situations in the family, gradually developing into sexual abuse of the child.

For example, a mother and father are fighting. The mother for some reason or another is absent from the home frequently. The father begins to rely more heavily on the daughter to assume many of the duties performed previously by the absent mother.

Because of these assumed duties by the daughter, the father also begins to think of her not as a daughter, but as a "replacement" for the mother. He begins bestowing more affection on the daughter, eventually leading to sexual relations with the child.

But, why doesn't the mother or spouse of the abuser stop the abuse or report it to police?

A Philadelphia social worker quoted in the article said, "The mother suspects but chooses not to know. She doesn't question her husband, for instance, when he gets up at 3 a.m. and disappears for an hour and a half."

"It's an embarrassment and it's humiliating," Silverstein said. "It's embarrassing to have someone find out that your husband or wife is sexually abusing your child."

"In an ideal situation, where there is open communication between a child and a parent, the child could tell the parent who is hurting them," he said. "It wouldn't matter if it were Uncle Henry or the babysitter or whoever, because the child would feel free to tell of the abuse."

Silverstein added an additional problem exists, though, when the child is threatened with bodily harm or family break-up if he tells of the abuse.

While studies show the parent as the number one of California who designed an artificial arm that can be moved by mental stimulus, "something like bionics."

"I would like to help people who have been hurt in accidents and need artificial limbs," she said. "I don't know if I'd want to make them super human," she added, referring to the bionics of the future.

A member of a family of achievers, Melissa said the family motto is "Do your best and develop what you're good at."

Melissa's oldest brother, Randy, was also a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship program and is a chiropractor. He graduated from Seminole in 1971. Another brother, Mark, a 1974 graduate of Seminole, is good at art and now plays in a rock band. Her sister, Becky, a 1975 graduate of Seminole, was a tennis player during her school years. She is married, has one child, and is a professional bookkeeper.

Melissa's parents are Mrs. Dorothy Blankenship of Sanford and William Roffe of Lake Mary.

Melissa chose Northwestern not only because it offers a major in bio-medical engineering, but also because it has a high percentage of women studying engineering. With her interest in the scientific field, she considered bio-chemistry for awhile before settling on bio-medical engineering.

"I like this area but I would like to go to a new area to college," she said. "Northwestern is near Chicago and I've never lived near a big city. I think that would be exciting," the native of Amarillo, Texas said.

And Assistant Principal Jim Thompson says Seminole High School is "very proud" of Melissa. Some school officials are saying she might just be among the top 10 graduates of Seminole High next spring.

County To Discuss Zoning

Seminole County Commissioners are scheduled to discuss proposed property rezoning and requests for specific amendments to the County's Comprehensive Plan at Tuesday's 7:30 p.m. public hearing in the county courthouse.

Sid Vihlen, Jr. has applied to the board to rezone about 22 acres fronting on Markham Woods Road and three miles north of Lake Mary Boulevard from an A-1 agricultural site to a R-1AAA single family district.

Representatives from Condev Properties, Inc., of Winter Park, will ask the commissioners to increase the density of a 20-acre parcel located at the southwest corner of Douglas Avenue and North Street near Altamonte Springs.

Rezoning from A-1 agriculture to R-1 single family is the request representatives from Visual Arts Production, Orlando, will make to the board for property described as abutting Avenue A, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth streets and Highway 419.

Phillip H. Logan has also requested the board rezone eight acres east of 24th Street and east of Summerlin near Sanford from an A-1 agricultural site to a Single Family Dwelling District.

Four other requests for zoning changes and specific amendments of the County's Comprehensive Plan will be brought before the board. They are:

— John C. Daniels is applying for a specific amendment from low density residential-preservation to commercial and to rezone 18 acres from A-1 agriculture to C-1 retail commercial. The property is located approximately 1800 feet east of the Tuskawilla and Red Bug roads intersection.

— An application to change from low density residential to a commercial site an area located on the east side of Montgomery, north of State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, is a request Agustin Marques is asking the board to consider Tuesday.

— Robert L. and Helen S. McIntire plan to ask the board to change the zoning for a parcel on the east side of East Lake Brantley Drive and north of State Road 434 and south of Nob Hill Circle from low density residential to medium density residential.

— The last item on the agenda for the evening's public hearing is an application to change, by specific amendment, a 180-acre parcel from a Planned Unit Development to A-1 Agriculture. The property is located at the northwest corner of State Road 46 and Brisson Avenue.

fender, it is also shown other relatives, friends and babysitters are sexual child offenders.

"These people are usually people the parent or family trusts with their child," psychologist Mimi Hull said. Mrs. Hull is also a Seminole Community College infant-toddler enrichment laboratory instructor.

"They have the opportunity to molest the children and also exert a type of authority over the child with the parent usually being oblivious to what is happening," she said.

But, why are children the victims of sexual abuse?

"Children are vulnerable," Silverstein said. "They are in a no-win situation. They can't just up and leave the home because they need their parents to survive. Yet, they are also caught up in this sickness of the parent. Often, though, the child rationalizes he is to blame for his parent's act and he must protect his parent from anyone who would think his parent is bad."

Silverstein said children are very rational and have "tremendous survival instincts. They don't bite the hand that feeds them."

Time magazine reported recently a new trend is emerging among sexologists. This new thought argues sexual relations between an adult and child can be beneficial to the child physically, emotionally and psychologically.

Time reported one sexologist as saying, "It is almost certain human beings, like the other primates, require a period of early sexual rehearsal play," adding this "rehearsal play" is beneficial to the child.

The article quoted a Harvard Health Service psychologist as saying, he has "not seen anyone harmed by this so long as it occurs in a relationship with somebody who really cares about the child."

"That's crazy," Silverstein said concerning advocating adult-child sexual relations. Silverstein said he equates such a relationship with rape.

"The abuser does not have sexual relationships with a child merely for sexual gratification, he does it for the fear he places in the child, the feeling of dominance and control," he said. "That's not caring for the child."

There is growing concern among child abuse workers that children who are being sexually abused will one day become child abusers themselves.

"In my work I have seen evidence such abuse is passed on from generation to generation," Silverstein said. "The child retains these pent-up guilt feelings and has no other way to release his feelings throughout life, without proper counseling, than to vent them the same way his parent did."

"Sexual abuse has long-term effects, clinical psychologist David Fleischmann, Mental Health Center, Altamonte Springs, said. "For example, we find girls who were sexually abused around eight years of age often have problems later in life when the dating and sexual activity normally begin for women."

Fleischmann said sexually abused children sometimes never recover from the emotional stress of the abuse and some become abusers.

"It would be ideal if we could prevent the abuse, but we usually get the child after he has been abused and sometimes the child doesn't recover fully," he said. "Also, the law mandates persons knowing of abused children are to report the cases. This is not always the case."

(PART III of this series on child sexual abuse will examine the child's defenses against abuse, how the child can learn to say no, the parent's role in educating the child and where families and children can go for help and counseling in the Seminole County area).

Orlando Airport Open

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—The city's new $300 million international airport opened on schedule Sunday and received praise from visitors and officials alike.

Billed as the "airport of the 21st century," the modern new facility with a wide-open Florida look opened its doors to the traveling public at 3 a.m. Sunday.

Built on 7,000 acres east of the old terminal, the new airport is the third largest in land size in the country and is designed to handle 12 million passengers a year through its 68 gates.

Similar in look to the Tampa International Airport, the facility features two airside terminals where passengers will get on and off planes, and a landside terminal where they will check in.

The buildings are connected by a 75-second tram ride aboard an automated people mover capable of moving 32,000 passengers an hour along its curved 2,000-foot track.

NATION 'Bubble Boy' Is 10

IN BRIEF

This Is The Week For More Budget Cutting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After weeks of studying and juggling figures, this is the week President Reagan is expected to decide on where new cuts can be made in the 1982 federal budget.

Reagan is expected to address the nation — most likely Wednesday or Thursday — to tell Americans how much more sacrifice he will ask in his attempt to revitalize the economy.

In his upcoming address, Reagan is expected to tell the country he must trim $15 billion to $20 billion more from the slashed-back 1982 budget he submitted to Congress earlier this year.

That budget was passed in July, but mushrooming deficit projections and high interest rates have forced Reagan to seek even more rejections to hold the red ink for 1982 to the $42.5 billion he earlier projected.

No-Nukers Try Again

AVILA BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Nearly 5,000 anti-nuclear demonstrators and residents living near the Diablo Canyon reactor marched in protest on the eve of a Nuclear Regulatory Commission meeting expected to approve testing of the controversial nuclear power plant.

The Abalone Alliance, a coalition of 71 anti-nuclear groups, vowed Sunday to storm the gates of the $2.3 billion Pacific Gas & Electric plant again today in an attempt to prevent its operation. So far, 1,100 protesters have been arrested in the week-old blockade attempt.

The NRC meeting today was to consider granting a license for low-power testing of the plant. Anticipating a favorable NRC vote, the utility has said it could begin testing of one reactor in two weeks, with commercial operation by January 1982.

O'Connor A Shoe-In

WASHINGTON (UPI) — By the end of this week, if all goes as expected, the 199-year-old Supreme Court will have its first woman justice — Sandra Day O'Connor.

The Senate today was expected to give its approval — overwhelmingly, if not unanimously — to President Reagan's nomination of Mrs. O'Connor. Plans already were being made to have her sworn in Friday.

In Senate Judiciary Committee hearings earlier this month, the 51-year-old Mrs. O'Connor emerged as an intelligent, hard-working jurist with conservative views and enough gumption to refuse to be pinned down on the emotional issue of abortion.

Rent-A-Womb: $15,000

VANCOUVER, Wash. (UPI) — Jacquelyn Burkart is offering to "rent" her womb to a childless couple for $15,000, the amount of money she needs to put herself through nursing school.

"My priority is the money," said Ms. Burkart, 27, a divorced mother of two who placed a newspaper ad reading: "Healthy woman wants to carry pregnancy for infertile couple."

"In essence, I am selling a baby," she said in a weekend interview. "But I don't feel bad about it. I'm doing someone a service. I love kids, but this isn't my baby, it's someone else's. I'm just growing it for them, renting out — for a high fee — my uterus."

Ms. Burkart worked as a pregnancy and abortion counselor for five years before becoming a full-time nursing student at Portland State University, across the Columbia River from Vancouver.

"I just don't have time to work. I need money to get through school," she said. "I have easy pregnancies and deliveries, so I decided it would be a fairly easy way to make money."

Bible-Reader Jailed

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A man mistakenly locked inside the public library because he was reading a Bible spent 13 days in jail until a social worker rescued him a newspaper reporter.

Carlos Sanchez, 30, of Philadelphia, who speaks little English, was sitting on a stool, blocked from view by library stacks and reading a Spanish-Language Bible on Aug. 21 when librarians locked up Philadelphia's Free Library and went home.

He said he managed to attract the attention of a passerby after he realized his plight and watched as she called police.

Police, however, told The Bulletin they received no call from a woman and spotted Sanchez inside the library while on routine patrol.

Two hours later, librarian Michelle Gendron, who recognized Sanchez as a regular, arrived to liberate him, the newspaper said.

Unable to meet bail, Sanchez was jailed. He has since been placed on probation. Prison social worker Emily DeMayo finally heard Sanchez' story and arranged for him to be released on his own recognizance.

Agency Job Policy Angers Powerful Pol

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — A Department of Administration proposal to move frustrated state employees from dead-end jobs to other positions has so angered state Sen. Jack Gordon that he says the department "doesn't deserve to be paid after Oct. 1."

The Miami Beach Democrat fired off a letter to officials at the Department of Administration telling them to come up with another proposal by Oct. 1 — or else.

"As far as I'm concerned, the Department of Administration doesn't deserve to be paid after Oct. 1," said Gordon, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee. "I guess they can work for nothing for a while."

Administration department officials say they will oblige the senator and revise the proposal. The department was ordered to create the program by the Legislature during its last session.

Legislators wanted a program where employees with experience but lacking academic credentials could still be promoted, and they threatened to cut off the Administration Department's pay if a "transition" class of jobs was not created by Oct. 1.

Fight Over Oil Wells

BIG CYPRESS NATIONAL PRESERVE, Fla. (UPI) — Exxon USA is trying to convince government officials to approve an increase in the number of oil wells in the company's Raccoon Point Field, much to the consternation of environmentalists.

Exxon wants to add 21 new wells to the field, in the wilds between U.S. 41 and Alligator Alley near the Collier, Dade and Broward county borders. That would bring the total number of wells to 35.

Company officials say they hope to deliver an estimated 13 million barrels of oil from the field over the next 25 years.

Environmentalists say further industrialization of the area would destroy the natural habitat of red-cockaded woodpeckers, which live in colonies within two miles of the road, and the Florida panther.

Debate Draws Crowds

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — More than 1,500 people jammed Jefferson High School to hear what the experts are saying in the continuing debate over evolution and creationism.

The crowd was so big Saturday night about 200 people were turned away, and more than half those who showed up had to sit outside the auditorium in chairs and on the floor to listen over a loud speaker.

The debate featured Dr. Kenneth Miller, assistant professor of biology at Brown University, a proponent of evolution, and Dr. Harry Morris, founder of the Institute for Creation Research in San Diego.

The intense interest was sparked by the Hillsborough County Board of Education's recent 4-3 vote authorizing that alternate models to the evolution theory be taught in public schools.

Arguing for evolution, Miller, a devout Roman Catholic, said the creationist views that all living things were created at the same time, and that the entire universe is just 6,000 to 10,000 years old, aren't supported by scientific facts.

Taking the other side, Morris pointed at gaps in the fossil record, noting how it fails to account for the sudden emergence of many new species of plants or animals within a short period of time.

Confession Is Good...

MIAMI (UPI) — A 22-year-old Miami man who told police, "It feels good to get it off my chest," is being held without bond in the grisly burning death of a butcher during last year's riots in Liberty City.

Ivory Lee Pickett has been charged with first-degree murder in the death of Emilio Munoz, a 66-year-old butcher.

Munoz died May 17, 1980, when he unknowingly drove his car into a riot-torn area of Liberty City, a sprawling downtown Miami ghetto. He was killed when his car was set on fire.

Police say Pickett, who left town after the riot and became a garbage collector in Lighthouse Point, a coastal community north of Pompano Beach, has been tormented with guilt for over a year.

"He knew he was being sought," said metro Detective John Lengel. "He knew that, in essence, even after moving away and trying to start over, the facts were still there. Let's face it, you're talking about one heckuva burden."

After Pickett was arrested on a murder warrant Friday, he told police, "It feels good to get it off my chest."

The Rise Of America II

Something profound but quite natural is happening to patterns of economic growth and population in America.

People are moving to places where they prefer to live and wealth is shifting to industries and states that promise the greatest return on investment.

Accordingly, the nation's center of gravity — whether measured by population, wealth, culture or technology — is moving away from Northern and Eastern cities built largely to accommodate the industrial and commercial needs of half a century or more ago.

The shift is mostly south and west, but also includes considerable movement into suburban and rural areas of the Northeast and Upper Midwest.

It isn't so much Sunbelt vs. Frostbelt as it is America II emerging from the diminished promise of America I.

Just over half of all Americans now live in the South and West, reversing a population tilt that prevailed for most of the nation's history. But what the new majority is doing is more important than where it lives.

The citizens of America II, whether natives or transplants, tend to be innovators. They are building new kinds of cities less centralized and more livable than the congested urban centers of the North and East.

They are hard at work in new, high technology industries that represent the nation's best chance to regain its traditional competitive edge in world markets.

And the pioneers of America II are remaking the nation's economic and demographic landscape with a zest and self-reliance that augurs well for their success.

But what of America I? Is it doomed to irreversible decline? Hardly, provided it profits from its own past mistakes.

Outmoded technology, inhospitable cities, intrusive government, and a fading entrepreneurship are more precise descriptions of America I than any of the regional boundaries so frequently cited. Snow is no barrier to profitable industries, livable environments or the wit and will to nurture both.

Even now, for example, there are substantial pockets of economic revival in New England, a region supposedly suffering an incurable case of industrial decline. New York City, usually portrayed as the arch-typical Frostbelt victim, has been recovering nicely in recent years because of improved fiscal management and because it stopped treating the private sector as nothing more than a source of tax revenue.

Moreover, there is something perverse about the notion that one section of the country can only prosper at the expense of another. In truth, prosperity in Texas, Arizona and California is more likely to aid than hinder economic recovery in the industrial Northeast and Upper Midwest.

This is true for any number of reasons, including the growth-promoting business climates that result when states compete with each other for new industry.

Meanwhile, America II would do well to remember that migrating populations tend to transport a measure of the crime, congestion, pollution and poverty that made America I a good place to be from. How cities in the south and west cope with these social and environmental ills will help determine whether America III flowers there, or in Buffalo.

"Yes, James Watt bothers me — but not as much as YOU bother me!"

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

Edith and Jack Harrison are leaving Sanford to move back to Baltimore, Md., to be near their son. During their seven years here they have earned a place in the hearts of all who know them, especially those who have worked with them on the annual Golden Age Games.

The Harrison had been sailing for seven years when they dropped anchor at the Monroe Harbour Marina. They lived on their houseboat here for two years before moving into a mobile home.

In their 70s they found their niche in helping the Golden Age Games grow from its small beginnings to the national event it is today.

A former overall champion, Edith, 79, has carried the torch to light the official flame, has participated in many events, served as official hostess and attended countless Golden Age Committee meetings. Her vitality and enthusiasm have been symbolic of what the Golden Age Games are all about. There were times when serious illness kept Edith and Jack, 83, from participating as they would have liked, but they bounced back again.

The Harrison drove coast to coast promoting the Golden Age event by visiting chambers of commerce, and speaking to senior citizen groups.

"They've done more than anybody could have been expected to do," Golden Age Games Chairman Jim Jernigan said, almost too choked up to respond to their farewell at Wednesday morning's meeting.

The Golden Age Games was just one of the many civic endeavors in which Edith and Jack have been involved in Sanford.

She was on the board of the Seminole County Extension Homemakers, was a past president of the Sanford Senior Citizens Club, was Americanism Chairman for the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 53, was a member of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program Board, and served for two years representing the city of Sanford on the Long Range Transportation Committee of the Regional Planning Board.

Retired from the Kendall Oil Company, Jack is a life time member of the American Legion Post 53.

Not bad for a couple who came here to retire. Jack and Edith will be missed.

Agricultural producers and a random sample of Seminole residents will be receiving needs assessment forms in the mail this week in a survey to determine needs facing the county in the next three to five years.

The survey is being conducted by Midge Smith, assistant professor and program evaluation specialist, for the Florida Cooperative Extension Service (FCES) in Gainesville and the Seminole County Board of County Commissioners.

Recipients are being asked to answer all the questions with any comment and return it to the FCES, Room 311, Rolfs Hall University of Florida, Gainesville, FL 32611.

Let's Scrap The MX

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A fortuitous coincidence has given President Reagan an opportunity to cut federal spending substantially in the mid-1980s while scuttling a government project whose unpopularity is matched only by its extravagance.

The deadline for a White House decision on the future of the budget-busting MX missile program coincides almost exactly with the president's current search for justifiable reductions in defense spending.

Although the MX has been the subject of a furious public debate in recent years, the discussion generally has assumed that the massive new weapons system is necessary and has focused only on subordinate issues.

Thus, the debate has produced challenges to the "multiple protective shelter" basing mode, requiring construction of 23 shelters for each of 200 missiles, and to the tentative plans to locate those shelters in Utah and Nevada.

But few have questioned the fundamental rationale for the entire program, even though the cost of the project could far exceed $100 billion by the end of the decade without substantially enhancing the country's security.

The Soviet Union's intercontinental ballistic missiles long have been more powerful than this country's counterpart weapons, but the United States always has enjoyed — and retains today — a clear advantage in guidance technology.

The MX program was inspired by military planners who argued that Soviet targeting capability was improving at a rate that might enable the U.S.S.R. to destroy as many as 90 percent of all United States intercontinental ballistic missiles by the middle or late 1980s.

Those missiles — 1,000 Minuteman IIs and IIIs and 30 Titan IIs — are the land-based component of the "triad" that also includes 400 strategic bombers and 600 submarine-launched ballistic missiles.

Even though the air-and sea-launched nuclear weapons remain secure, the "window of vulnerability" affecting the ground-based missiles presumably justified the ambitious MX program. But a growing number of respected military experts believe the concept of "vulnerability" is exaggerated — if it indeed exists at all.

In fact, there is no empirical data whatever to support the claim that the missiles of either the United States or the Soviet Union can perform the basic task for which they were designed — to destroy strategic targets in the other country.

That's because neither nation has ever fired a single missile along the requisite arc spanning almost half of the globe. The engineers and their computers say it ought to work — but we won't be certain until World War III begins.

Attaining pinpoint accuracy with a trajectory of thousands of miles is a technical feat of awesome magnitude that could easily be thwarted by anomalies of the earth's magnetic field, unexpected gravitational effects and a variety of other factors that can be measured only in theoretical terms.

There are other problems as well. To cite one obvious example, nobody knows how the blast from a just-detonated nuclear weapon will affect incoming missiles.

Even if all of those questions could be answered, the current basing mode would be a logical approach

Reds Trained Cubans In Germ Warfare

WASHINGTON — Top-secret intelligence reports indicate some of the Russians' deadly trichothecene toxin, or T2, which has killed thousands in Afghanistan and Indochina, is stored in Cuba for possible use against the United States.

Secretary of State Alexander Haig first brought the suspicions of Soviet chemical-biological weapons use into the open in his West Berlin speech last week. It was the first official confirmation of my March 1980 report on evidence of this terrible form of warfare conducted by the Kremlin and its surrogates.

CIA sources told my associate Dale Van Atta T2 was the primary element in the mysterious "yellow rain" that brought painful death to tribesmen in Afghanistan, Laos and Cambodia. The lethal substance, dropped like crop dust over impenetrable mountain and jungle areas, brought convulsions, bleeding from every body opening and quick death.

SCIENCE WORLD

Aiding The Handicapped

By ANN SAGI

BALTIMORE (UPI) — About six months ago, Bruce Baird's older brother, the victim of a debilitating disease, was speechless and almost completely paralyzed.

James T. Baird was stricken with amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, commonly known as Lou Gehrig's disease. After his larynx became paralyzed and he could not talk, he was able to form words that family and friends could lip read.

"But finally, he couldn't even do that," his brother recalled. "The situation got very grim. James went through a period of total rage and anguish."

So Bruce, with help from two friends, developed a computer that allows his brother to communicate messages that range from "Hi, how are you?" to requests for grape juice for lunch.

Baird's invention is one of more than 900 computer-based inventions from across the nation entered in the Johns Hopkins Applied Physics Laboratory's first national search for applications of Personal Computing to Aid the Handicapped.

Ten from each region will be selected for regional awards in the Johns Hopkins search, said Paul L. Hazan, director of the program at the laboratory near Columbia, Md. The 30 national semi-finalists will be invited to exhibit their creations at the National Academy of Science in Washington this fall.

Ten national award winners will be selected. Prizes of $10,000 for first place, $3,000 for second and $1,500 for third will be awarded Nov. 2.

Hazan said inventions submitted have addressed an "amazing range" of concepts to aid the blind, deaf, mentally retarded and individuals with neurological and muscular conditions.

David Ross, a 33-year-old graduate student at Georgia Tech, devised a "singing" computer to help the blind.

Ross explained a programmed card is added to an existing at-home terminal and when commonly used word pairs are typed, musical tones are played. The word pair "this is", for example, matches the first six notes of Scott Joplin's "Entertainer."

"It's pretty easy to hear when they make a mistake. The person can hear what they type and correct a 'sour note,'" Ross said.

Paul Klepe, a 72-year-old inventor in Payette, Idaho, came up with another musical aid. A musical score fits onto a special printed circuit board with notes about fingertip size. The circuit board is connected to a small electric organ and the song is played when someone touches the notes.

Klepe's innovation is primarily aimed for use with mentally retarded children. He built six of his musical machines and put on a Christmas concert in Boise.

"It's a beautiful sight to see a retarded child play music. It is very touching," he said.

Bruce Baird enlisted the help of Craig Linebaugh, a professor from George Washington University's department of audiology and speech pathology, and Capt. Richard Armour, an Air Force computer scientist, to develop the computer aid for his ill brother.

A television screen sits at the foot of James' bed in his Rockville home. He can generate messages, ask visitors questions and make requests — all by twitching his muscles, Bruce said.

"The sensitivity of this thing is incredible. I tried it myself the other day and the threshold is so low I wasn't even aware I had moved," he said.

A typewriter keyboard is projected on the screen and a cursor, a small ray of light, hops from key to key. If James wants to call up a hold file containing chit-chat, he stops the cursor at "C," Bruce explained.

"He can send a message, answer a question, he can modify it anyway he wants to," Bruce said. "The other day he wanted grape juice for lunch, so he stopped the cursor at "F" for food and typed in grape juice."

BOB WAGMAN

Seeking Military Might

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Lost in the controversy over the sale of the five AWACS aircraft to Saudi Arabia is the fact this particular deal is only a part — a very small part — of that country's military plan.

Saudi Arabia's vast oil income has long made it a giant within the Arab world. It has, in effect, been able to buy its way to leadership.

But the Saudis have been weak militarily. Their army has fewer than 80,000 troops to guard a country almost a quarter the size of the United States with a population of more than 7 million, at least 1 million of whom are immigrants. Beset by internal problems and aware that their wealth is no longer unique in the region, the Saudis have decided that they must become the preeminent military power in the Persian Gulf by the end of the decade.

In addition to the five AWACS, the $8.5 billion Saudi arms package includes advanced weapons systems and long-range fuel tanks for 63 American-made F-15 fighters that were already on order. But the Saudis consider all of this to be just a drop in the bucket.

Since 1973, Saudi Arabia has been the No. 1 buyer of arms from the United States. Over the past seven years, the Saudis have bought $34 billion worth of weapons and weapons systems (such as computers and tracking devices) from this country.

The Saudis purchases represent almost 40 percent of all U.S. military sales abroad since 1973. The Saudis have bought more military hardware from the United States in the past seven years than the Shah of Iran bought during the last quarter-century of his reign.

And all of this does not include the $35 billion worth of construction projects being completed in Saudi Arabia by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. That country is the site of 45 percent of the Corps' current work.

Crown Prince Fahd (who essentially runs the country for his half-brother, King Khalid) recently said that security is Saudi Arabia's chief problem. The solution, he said, "requires the building of a modern army capable of defending our country."

However, Fahd wants an army that can defend not only his country but also the entire Persian Gulf region. In May, five moderate Arab oil states — Kuwait, the United Arab Emirates, Qatar, Oman and Bahrain — agreed to link themselves politically and economically with Saudi Arabia through the new Gulf Cooperative Council.

That agreement was based in part on Saudi Arabia's promise to increase its military strength to the extent that the other countries would not have to rely for protection on a non-Arab power (in other words, the United States).

The Saudi buying spree has set off a sharp debate among U.S. defense and foreign policy experts, both inside and outside the government.

Some argue that the Saudis will simply go elsewhere — to the British or the French — if this country refuses to sell them what they want. They say that ceasing to supply weapons, training and advisers would cause the United States to lose whatever leverage it might otherwise be able to exert over the Saudi military machine.

But others argue that what is happening in Saudi Arabia mirrors what happened in Iran. Building up a major military force may well pave the way for either a fundamentalist revolution against the Saudi royal family, whose rule is already being challenged, or a military coup if such a revolution appears imminent.

The Cuban officer said he was told that toxin strategically placed in Mississippi could contaminate fully one-third of the United States.

The lieutenant was not able to identify any of the poisons he was trained to use as T2; the Soviet instructors were not specific as to the makeup of the various chemical and biological agents. He did say the biological weaponry included "the use of insects, germs and bacteria using rats and flies, roaches and contamination of pills and water sources through the use of capsules, etc."

He pinpointed the site of Cuba's principal chemical warfare training center in the town of Limonar, about 80 miles east of Havana. Footnote: In an authoritative forthcoming book on the subject, titled "Yellow Rain," journalist Sterling Seagrave cites, as proof that the Cubans have T2, the death of a Cuban in Havana last year.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Beleaguered Poland In For Cold, Hard Winter.

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Poland's Communist authorities, under pressure from Moscow to curb Solidarity, warned that "law, order and discipline" are needed for Poland to survive a winter of critical food, medicine and coal shortages.

The official news agency PAP said the Cabinet met Sunday for an emergency session — the third gathering in a week — for "urgent matters resulting from the country's present political, social and economic situation."

PAP, reporting shortages that included even bread in some areas, said the Cabinet warned that, "In the crisis conditions, it will not be an easy thing to survive the winter."

There was still no direct response to the sharp Soviet attack on Polish authorities for not subduing Solidarity and Moscow turned Sunday to criticizing the United States for giving food assistance to Poland through the union.

300 Feared Dead In Amazon

OBIDOS, Brazil (UPI) — Divers searched the churning Amazon River for the bodies of as many as 300 people on a riverboat that capsized in waters infested with man-eating piranhas and blood-sucking catfish.

Officials said Sunday the "Sobral Santos" was overloaded with up to 500 passengers and hundreds of tons of cargo when it keeled over and sank early Saturday in the river port of Obidos in the heart of the Amazon jungle.

Port Capt. Elio Palhares said an estimated 300 people, many of them trapped in the ship's hold, were believed to have drowned.

Bomb Kills 4, Wounds 25

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A time bomb exploded and set fire to a crowded West Beirut movie theater during the weekend, killing four people and wounding 25 in the fourth bombing in as many days by a mysterious right-wing terror group.

The Front for the Liberation of Lebanon from Foreigners claimed responsibility for the blast Sunday in telephone calls to news media, raising to 42 the number of people to die in a four-day bombing blitz by the shadowy group.

Dissidents Die in Iran

By United Press International
Iran's Islamic authorities executed at least 149 dissidents during the weekend carrying out their threat to rush opponents of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini from summary trials to firing squads.

Tehran radio said Sunday 106 members of the Mahajdeen Khalq were executed in Tehran's infamous Evin Prison and 41 other "criminals" were killed elsewhere in the country Saturday. Some were members of the Fedayeen Khalq and Peykar groups.

Two other people arrested late Sunday carrying Molotov cocktails were executed the same day after being convicted, like the others, of "corruption on earth," for which the penalty under Islamic law is death.

Mary Williams and her father John Young (left) watch in dismay as firemen (above) battle a blaze this morning at their home in the Castle Brewer Apartments, Sanford. The fire started about 9:19 a.m. and burned two apartments before being brought under control. There were no injuries reported, but the apartments sustained extensive smoke and fire damage. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Haynie Captures 40th Tourney

HIGH POINT, N.C. (UPI) — Sandra Haynie made a stunning return to professional golf Sunday by winning a $185,000 LPGA tournament — her 40th career victory and her first triumph in nearly six years.

The 41-year-old Texan came from four shots off the lead to shoot a 4-under-par 68 in the final round to finish 7-under-par for 72 holes and one shot ahead of Judy Clark, who had a closing-round 69 over the 6,249-yard Willow Creek course.

Marlene Floyd, who like Clark was bidding for her first victory, held a three-stroke lead going into the final round, but soared to a 74 Sunday, to finish in third place at 5-under for the tournament.

The victory meant more than money to Haynie, who all but gave up professional golf in 1976. In the past four years, the LPGA's 11th all-time leading money winner has played in only 17 tournaments. Haynie returned to the tour fulltime this year.

Weiskopf Posts Two-Shot Win

ABILENE, Texas (UPI) — Tom Weiskopf is self-admittedly the most superstitious person to step on a golf course, which is a nasty position to be in if you have won 13 tournaments in your career.

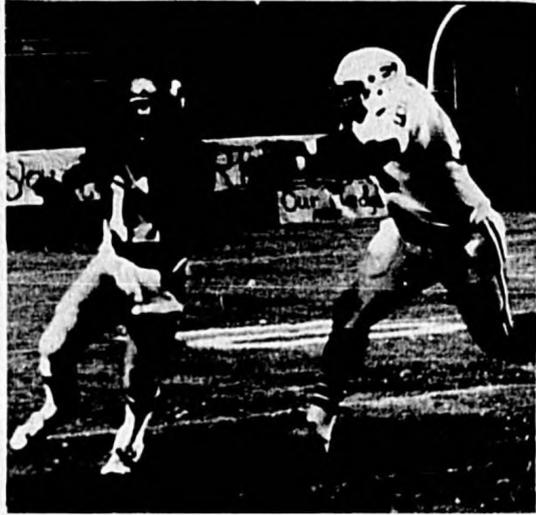

Weiskopf won his 13th PGA event 3½ years ago and he hadn't won another until Sunday when he kept his composure through difficult weather conditions to master a difficult golf course and win the LaJeta Classic by two shots over Gil Morgan.

Not only did Weiskopf break his long victory drought but he surpassed $2 million in career earnings — making him only the fourth man in golf to do so.

"I am very, very superstitious," Weiskopf said Sunday. "I always go in the same door at my hotel. If I'm playing good I always eat the same food. I've been stuck on 13 tournament wins for more than three years and now that I have won again I am flying now."

Although Weiskopf had made more than $100,000 this year coming into the tour's newest tournament, his career was still sitting in a low gear. The former British Open champion was no longer eligible to play in the Masters and that grated on his nerves.

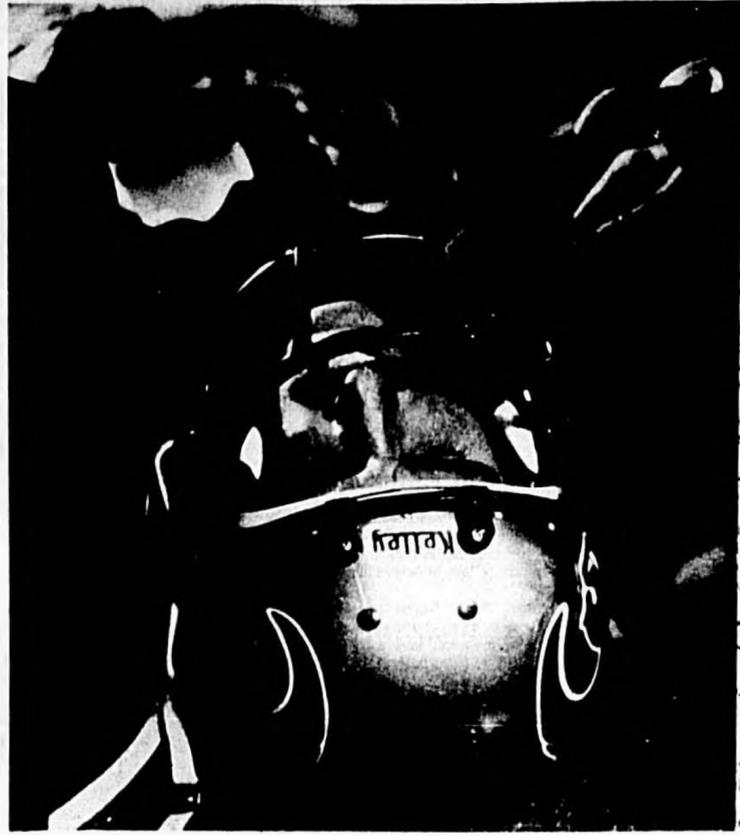

"It was frustrating not to have won. And last night I was so nervous I couldn't sleep. It was like when I was trying to win my first tournament."

FALLEN KNIGHT(S)

University of Central Florida's Bob Burkhart had waited a long time for Saturday night. It was to be his first start as a Knight quarterback after two injury-plagued years. Above, Burkhart rolls to the right looking for a receiver. Upon nearing the sideline, however, the former Lyman standout was leveled by an Elizabeth City linebacker. At the right, Burkhart grits his teeth in pain from a fractured clavicle. Burkhart, a senior, will be lost for six to eight weeks. The Knights also lost the game, 14-9 when the potential winning touchdown was botched by a fumble on the five yard line with three minutes to play. UCF travels to Millsaps next Saturday.

Strock Shocks Houston; Dolphins Grab Third Straight Win

HOUSTON (UPI) Let it be known Don Shula is firmly in control of the Miami Dolphins and that he is still pulling the right strings — just in case there is anyone out there who thinks a coach with 196 NFL wins is getting too old to keep his grip.

Shula's team bottled up the Houston Oilers and Earl Campbell Sunday as it is rarely done to beat the Oilers 16-10 and remain unbeaten in three games.

Despite the awesome defense led by middle guard Bob Baumhower, Miami might not have been able to beat Houston in the Astrodome without Don Strock's three-yard touchdown pass in the fourth quarter. Earlier in the game, Shula had benched a quarterback who led the Dolphins to two wins in favor of Strock.

Shula did not explain the move except to say regular quarterback David Woodley was healthy and that Strock was more experienced at reading defensive movements.

"The Oilers gave us a lot of different coverages and Strock had more experience," Shula said.

Second-year pro Woodley started the second half standing by his coach despite his team leading 9-7 on three Use von Schumann field goals. He had overthrown several wide-open receivers, had completed 11 of 22 passes and had not been intercepted.

He did not question Shula's right to make such a move.

"All he said to me was, 'I'm gonna go with Don in the second half,'" Woodley said.

Strock, who had completed 24 of 36 passes in preseason, came on to complete 7 of 10 passes against the Oilers including the game-winner, an easy 3-yard toss to running back Audra Franklin with 5:40 to play.

"I was surprised to go into the game because we were winning," Strock said.

The defense, which sacked quarterback Ken Stabler eight times and held Campbell to 78 yards on 19 carries, gave Strock the opportunity to win it by holding Houston inside its 10-yard line late in the game.

Houston's punt came out to the Miami 49, and Tommy Vigorito returned it 11 yards to the Houston 40.

On third-and-6, Strock passed 19 yards to Duriel Harris on the right sideline. Then three plays later he found Franklin slipping out of the backfield.

Fisher's 88-Yard Punt Return Keys Comeback

Changed-Attitude Bears Bounce Buccaneers

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Bears' first victory of the season — a 28-17 decision over Tampa Bay — can be traced directly back to a team meeting the Bears held six days earlier.

The Bears had just lost their second straight game of the season when veteran players called a team meeting at which time the team's attitude problems were discussed.

"I'd say it had a lot to do with it," said quarterback Vince Evans, who scored a 7-yard TD to snap a 14-all tie in the third quarter and added an insurance TD on a 18-yard pass to Dave Williams in the fourth quarter. "I think we needed to discuss some of the things we did. Despite our slow start, everyone kept plugging and no one gave up."

Chicago Coach Neil Armstrong, who received the game ball, echoed Evans. "They played like they practiced after the meeting on Monday," Armstrong said. "The team's leaders did an outstanding job and everyone got together and played together."

For a time, it appeared that attitude alone would not win the game for the Bears. Tampa Bay, 1-2, dominated Chicago in the first quarter after taking a 7-0 lead on Mike Washington's 29-yard interception return and appeared to be in good shape to hand the Bears their third straight defeat.

But Chicago, which has been looking for "big" defensive plays all year, finally got one. Safety Gary Fenick intercepted a Williams pass at the Tampa 40 and returned it to the 20. Six plays later, fullback Matt Suhey scored from the 1 and the game was tied with 3:24 left in the half.

"We needed a lift, and I guess that was a big help," Fenick explained. "We hadn't been holding Tampa at all and that turned it around."

Chicago's next big play came minutes later. Rookie Jeff Fisher took a punt at his own 12 and raced 88 yards down the right sideline for the longest punt return in Soldier Field history. The entire Bears team, which had been accused of not showing emotion in the preseason, rushed out onto the field to congratulate Fisher.

"I was more worried about that than I was about getting to the goal line," Fisher noted. "We called a middle return in the huddle but the punter kind of outkicked his coverage. We needed a big play to get going, I just hope the win keeps us going."

Despite 14 penalties for 101 yards and its first turnovers of the season, Tampa Bay was still in the contest when Williams, who was 17 of 40 for 324 yards, hit Kevin House to tie the score at 14-all.

But safety Len Walterscheid snared a Williams pass later in the quarter and Evans capped an 84-yard, 11-play drive with a 7-yard TD on a quarterback draw. Evans led a time-consuming drive in the final quarter that featured the running of Walter Payton, who had been held to 18 yards in the first half but wound up with 64 yards.

"Give Tampa Bay credit. They shut me down," Payton said.

Tampa Bay Coach John McKay was upset about the job of his special teams rather than the interceptions by Williams.

"Our special teams should have stayed him, they'd have been better off," McKay said. "We're asking too much from our high paid athletes."

"I thought Williams played one of the best games anybody can play," McKay added. "Our penalties were no excuse. We just got beat, that's all."

"We didn't score when we had an opportunity and they did," Williams said. "A lot of our drives were stopped by penalties and mental errors."

Williams said the interceptions were his fault.

"The first interception was just the way I threw the ball," he said. "But on the second one, I thought it would float out of bounds but I'm human and so is the guy who caught it. He made a great play."

The victory by Chicago overshadowed a strong rushing performance by Jerry Eckwood, who gained 114 yards in 23 carries for his first 100-yard game since the Bucs-Bears' game in December, 1979.

Vikings 26, Lions 24

Rick Danmeier kicked a 20-yard field goal with four seconds left to lift Minnesota to its first triumph. The Vikings started the winning march with 1:56 left at their 18. Tommy Kramer, making his first start of the season, hit five of seven passes for 65 yards and Curtis Brown ran 19 yards in two plays before Danmeier hit his game-winner. Kramer, recovered from a knee injury, completed 25 of 42 passes for 333 yards and two TDs.

Cardinals 40, Redskins 30

Jim Hart threw three TD passes, including a 58-yarder to newly converted wide receiver Roy Green, and rookie Stump Mitchell returned a punt 50 yards for a score to give St. Louis its first victory. Washington fell to 0-3 despite quarterback Joe Theismann's best day in his eight-year career. Theismann completed 25 of 37 for 388 yards and four TDs.

Chargers 42, Chiefs 31

Dan Fouts passed for 284 yards and three TDs and Chuck Muncie rushed for 93 yards and two more scores to help San Diego, 3-0, gain sole possession of first place in the AFC West. Fouts completed 22 of 43 passes but had his NFL-record tying string of 300-yard passing games halted at four.

Broncos 28, Colts 10

Craig Morton threw for four TDs — including three to Steve Watson — and passed the 25,000-yard career mark to spark Denver. Before leaving early in the fourth quarter, Morton produced 291 yards, bringing his career total to 25,166 yards, 14th on the NFL's all-time yardage list.

Raiders 20, Seahawks 10

Jim Plunkett passed for one TD and ran for another and Derrick Jensen, filling in for the injured Mark van Eeghen, ran for 81 yards, including a score, to give Oakland its second victory in three games.

Steelers 38, Jets 10

Russell Davis led a Pittsburgh ground assault — which totaled 343 yards — with 100 yards and a TD to give the Steelers their first victory of the season while handing the Jets their third consecutive loss. Frank Pollard added 79 yards and two TDs. The Jets have allowed 100 points in their first three games.

Browns 20, Bengals 17

Mike Pruitt scored on a 12-yard draw with 4:20 left to lift Cleveland to its first triumph in three games. Cincinnati, which rallied to win its first two games, staged another comeback when Pete Johnson scored from a yard out with 1:57 left, but it fell short as the Browns ran out the clock.

Falcons Ride 'Crippled Horse To Easy Victory

ATLANTA (UPI) — Steve Bartkowski, a self-described "old crippled horse," has the Atlanta Falcons off to a 3-0 start for the first time ever, but he says it's too early to be thinking Super Bowl.

Bartkowski, wearing a flak jacket to protect a cracked rib and a brace on his right knee, threw three touchdown passes Sunday in directing the Falcons to a 34-17 victory over San Francisco, completing 13-of-22 passes for 208 yards.

The victory was the third straight for Atlanta, leaders of the NFC Western Division, but the Falcons now have consecutive road games coming up at Cleveland and Philadelphia, a pair of playoff teams.

"I am excited about the potential of this team but I don't think it's time to make reservations for the Super Bowl," said Bartkowski. "If we do that, we're going to get our rear ends beat."

While Bartkowski and Atlanta Coach Leeman Bennett were being cautious, San Francisco Coach Bill Walsh was more lavish in his praise. "Atlanta is an outstanding team, extremely strong offensively, and they are ready to make a run for the Super Bowl," he said.

The Falcons took advantage of early turnovers to jump out to a 17-0 first-quarter lead over the 49ers on Bartkowski's touchdown passes of 29 yards to Alfred Jackson and 18 yards to Lynn Cain and a 47-yard field goal by Mick Luckhurst.

The 49ers rallied to cut the gap to 17-10 on an 11-yard pass from Joe Montana to Charles Young and Matt Bahr's 47-yard field goal before Bartkowski countered again on a 15-yarder to Alfred Jenkins.

Trailing 24-10, San Francisco drove from its own 27 to the Falcons 6-yard line early in the third quarter and appeared to have the momentum when Falcon safety Tom Pridemore came up with the key play of the game.

Pridemore picked off a Montana pass intended for Young one yard deep in the end zone and returned it 101 yards for the clinching touchdown.

"The ball was overthrown," explained Pridemore, who said he never considered downing the ball in the end zone. "Buddy Curry made a good block on Young and once I made it to the sideline, it was wide open."

Pridemore said the 49ers were driving "and we knew we had to change the ballgame around. If they had scored it would have given them a lot of momentum and it would have been a new ballgame."

Bennett said Pridemore's return "was a 14-point swing. They kept the ball for 5½ minutes but we ended up getting the points."

After Atlanta went up 31-10, Luckhurst kicked an 18-yard field goal following the Falcons' most disappointing series of the day. A 67-yard pass from Bartkowski to Jenkins put the ball on the 49er 1-yard line, but the Falcons were unable to punch the ball in on three running plays.

Montana wrapped up the scoring with a 12-yard TD pass to Freddie Solomon in the fourth period.

Bartkowski, who had an injured thumb and a touch of the flu in the Falcons' first two victories, said he had experienced problems throwing the ball all week after cracking the rib against Green Bay. But he came out Sunday and the pain was gone.

"The guys did a great job of protecting me," he said. "They know they are protecting an old crippled horse back there."

Running back William Andrews picked up 85 yards in 12 carries to pace the Falcon ground attack and he picked up some new admirers.

"I think Andrews is better than (Walter) Payton or (Billy) Sims because he has more strength than either of them," said 49er defensive end Jim Stuckey.

"Atlanta is the strongest team we have faced so far this year," added Walsh. "Our tackling was not good at times but that was probably the result of Atlanta's hard-running backs."

Walsh said Pridemore's 101-yard return and two missed field goals — one of them blocked by Atlanta rookie Bobby Butler — "hurt our chances and gave Atlanta the momentum."

He said Montana, who completed 34-of-54 for 274 yards and two touchdowns, "threw the ball well but we had to throw more than we wanted to."

Alabama Stay On Top May Be Short Term

By United Press International
Alabama is on top of the Southeastern Conference standings, as usual, but the way the Crimson Tide has been playing of late makes one wonder how long it can stay there.

Upset a week ago by 24-point underdog Georgia Tech, the 11th-ranked Tide had to come from behind in the final two minutes Saturday to nip Kentucky, 19-10. Alabama's Bear Bryant, now six victories away from tying Amos Alonzo Stagg (who had 314) as the winningest coaches in college football history, said luck helped the Crimson Tide from suffering two straight losses for the first time since 1969.

"But I think you make your own luck," said Bryant. "Kentucky played well and got stronger, but coming from behind in the fourth quarter was a big thing for us."

"Great football teams do what they have to do to win," said Kentucky Coach Fran Curci. "Alabama did that."

According to the oddsmaker, the biggest upset in the Southeast Saturday was Wake Forest, an 11-point underdog, winning 24-21 at Auburn. But the one that attracted the most attention was Clemson knocking off 4th-ranked Georgia, 13-3, the first loss in 16 games for the defending national champions.

In other action, 14th-ranked Mississippi State beat Vanderbilt, 29-9; 15th-ranked Miami (Fla.) edged Houston, 12-7; 16th-ranked Florida State lost to 19th-ranked Nebraska, 34-14; Florida beat Georgia Tech, 27-6; LSU scored in the final minute to beat Oregon State, 27-24; Ole Miss beat Memphis State, 7-3; Tennessee broke into the win column with a 42-0 rout of Colorado State; and Southern Mississippi beat Tulane, 21-3.

Kentucky, down 9-0 after three quarters, moved ahead of Alabama, at 10-9, when Tom Venable scored with 8:28 to play. But Peter Kim's fourth field goal with two minutes to go put the Tide back in front, 12-10, and Jeff Fagan scored the clinching touchdown with 37 seconds left.

"The team had a little fire in its blood," said Alabama quarterback Ken Coley. "We knew we had to do it. Last week's loss to Georgia Tech was a terrible experience."

After Wake Forest quarterback Gary Schofield completed 23 of 32 passes for 286 yards and three touchdowns, Auburn Coach Pat Dye said, "We don't have a good enough team to be playing at our best every week and still expect to win."

"Anytime you turn the ball over nine times, you're not a sound offensive football team," said Georgia Coach

College Football

Vince Dooley after Clemson intercepted five passes and recovered four Georgia fumbles. "The game was won by the Clemson defense. They were aggressive and harassed and intimidated us. They deserved to win."

Georgia's All-American running back Herschel Walker gained 111 yards Saturday, but it took him 28 carries to get that much and he fumbled three times with Clemson recovering two of those.

Mississippi State quarterback John Bond completed 4 of 9 passes for 34 yards while Vanderbilt's Whit Taylor was 26 of 44 for 288 yards, but the Bulldogs, led by Bond with 93, rushed for 423 yards.

"I was disappointed we didn't stop their running game any better than we did," said Vandy Coach George MacIntyre. "We had worked very hard on that in practice, but it didn't look like it."

Danny Miller kicked four field goals for the Miami Hurricanes. The only touchdown of the game came when Houston cornerback Reggie Vonner intercepted a pass by Miami quarterback Jim Kelly and returned it 40 yards.

After quarterback Bob Hewko threw two touchdown passes to Tyrone Young and scored once himself, Florida Coach Charley Pell said the Gators Saturday, "was the team I felt very confident we would have this year. We've still got a long way to go but it's going to be an easier mountain to climb."

John Fourcade scored the game's only touchdown on a 35-yard run in the third quarter as Ole Miss improved its record to 3-0.

Tennessee, beaten 44-0 by Georgia and 43-7 by Southern Cal, got two touchdowns each from freshman quarterback Alan Cockrell and sophomore tailback Randall Morris as the Vols drew nearly 94,000 for their first home game of the season.

"It was a complete turnaround," said Vols Coach Johnny Majors. "Our defense was hitting harder and our offense fired out and executed the game plan better. I told our players all those fans didn't come to see us lose."

Mississippi State and Ole Miss both put their unbeaten marks on line in Jackson, Miss., next Saturday; State taking on Florida in the afternoon and the Rebels going against Arkansas in the nightcap of the twin bill.

In other Southeast action, Alabama will be at Vanderbilt, Auburn at Tennessee, South Carolina at Georgia, Kentucky at Kansas, Rice at LSU, and Memphis State at Georgia Tech.

Old Reliables Schmidt, Rose Lift Phillies Past Pittsburgh

By United Press International
Those who thought the Philadelphia Phillies were just resting for the playoffs should reconsider.

The Phillies are assured of a post-season berth because of their first-half success, and when they got off to a slow second half, a lack of enthusiasm was suspected. But after two straight comeback victories at home over the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Phils are rolling again.

Sunday's 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh, accomplished with the help of old reliables Pete Rose and Mike Schmidt, moved Philadelphia within four games of first place in the Eastern Division.

Phillies Manager Dallas Green said his team's "light bulb" was turned on, although he wasn't sure how long it would last.

"We got a good effort today from just about everyone in the lineup," he said.

It was a four-run seventh inning that flipped the switch for the Phillies this time. Included in the rally was an RBI single by Rose, who had two hits to raise his average to .331, and a home run by Schmidt, his 27th.

Mets 7, Cardinals 6

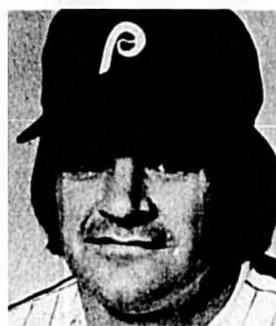

NL Baseball

At New York, the Mets completed their first series sweep of the year, scoring 23 runs in the three games. Center fielder Mookie Wilson, whose error allowed Tito Landrum to score in the top of the ninth for a 6-5 St. Louis lead, more than atoned with a two-out, two-run homer in the bottom half off Bruce Sutter.

Espos 4, Cubs 0
At Montreal, Bill Gullickson, 5-8, tossed a three-hitter and struck out 13, and Warren Cromartie scored two runs. Larry Parrish, Tim Lincecum and Chris Speier each singled home a run. The Expos trimmed the Cards' East lead to 1 1/2 games.

Astros 7, Giants 3
At San Francisco, Tony Scott had four hits, including a home run, in support of Nolan Ryan's seven-hitter. He doubled in the first off starter Gary Lavelle, 0-6, and homered in the sixth when the Astros scored their final two runs. Terry Puhl also drove in two for Houston. Ryan, 9-5, struck out eight and walked four.

Reds 5, Dodgers 1
At Los Angeles, Dan Driessen drove in

PETE ROSE ... RBI base hit three runs and scored another while Mario Soto, 9-9, snapped a personal three-game losing streak. Cincinnati won its fourth straight to remain 2 1/2 games behind Houston in the West.

Braves 3, Padres 1
At San Diego, Claudell Washington singled in pinch runner Ed Miller from second base with none out in the top of the 11th and Jerry Royster followed with another RBI single. Al Hrabosky, 1-1, got the win and Rick Camp notched his 15th save.

Tigers Regain First Place

Morris Muzzles Cleveland

By United Press International
Suspense is for mystery writers. Managers prefer pennants.

"I don't care for the suspense. We've got the lead and we're on top again," Detroit Manager Sparky Anderson said Sunday after the Tigers hammered Cleveland 5-1 to regain first place in the American League East.

Jack Morris, 13-5, allowed five hits in tying Pete Vuckovich and Dennis Martinez for most victories in the league. "All I thought about all day was, 'We have to win today,'" said Morris, who last week surrendered three walks in lasting just two-thirds of an inning against the Indians. "I wanted to show Cleveland I could put the ball over the plate."

Not only did he put the ball over the plate, but he also proved Detroit plans on hanging around a bit. When the Tigers led five in a row, including four to the Boston Red Sox, it looked like they were finished in the race. Instead, they have rebounded with two straight victories and have some distinct pluses going for them the last two weeks.

AL Baseball

With the score tied 1-1, pinch hitter Rick Peters opened the Detroit ninth with a walk and was forced by Lynn Jones. Richie Hebner's pinch single sent Jones to second and Whitaker, who had singled in his two previous at-bats, doubled off left fielder Alan Bannister's glove to score Jones with the tie-breaking run.

Red Sox 4, Yankees 1
At Boston, Tony Perez drove in three runs with a pair of homers off Tommy John, 9-6, and Bruce Hurst and Bill Campbell combined on an eight-hit shutout to pace the Red Sox.

Blue Jays 6, California 3
At Toronto, Ted Cox knocked in three runs, one with a tie-homer, and Buck Martinez delivered a tie-breaking single in the fourth inning to lift the Blue Jays. Geoff Zahn, 9-11, was the loser.

Orioles 8, Brewers 2
At Baltimore, Lenn Sakata drove in five runs with a pair of home runs and two singles to back Jim Palmer's five-hitter and power the Orioles. Sakata, who boasts three of his six career home runs against Milwaukee, homered off losing pitcher Mike Caldwell, 11-9, to ignite a four-run first inning and blasted a three-run shot in the third off Reggie Cleveland.

White Sox 11, A's 3
At Chicago, Richard Dotson permitted just two hits and received relief help from Lamarr Hoyt to lead the White Sox. Dotson, 9-7, gave up a homer to Dave McKay and a triple to Rob Picciolo in the Oakland sixth and then allowed a sacrifice fly by Dwayne Murphy. Jim Morrison drove in two runs with a sixth-inning homer and Carlton Fisk drove in two runs to highlight a four-run seventh for the White Sox.

Mariners 3, Royals 2
At Seattle, Tom Paciorek doubled in the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning, lifting the Mariners. Left-hander Floyd Bannister, despite being touched for 11 hits, went the route to raise his record to 7-8. Dennis Leonard fell to 10-11.

Mookie Miracle Drives Crowd, Mets Into Ecstasy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Not since 1969, the year they astounded the baseball universe by coming up with a new miracle every day to win the world championship, were the amazing Mets this ecstatic.

To a man, they came pouring out of their dugout at Shea Stadium Sunday like some enormous tidal wave of sheer joy to wait at home plate as a welcoming committee for the man who only a moment before had deposited one of Bruce Sutter's pitches into the right field bulpen.

He had done it with one on and two out in the bottom of the ninth inning for a pulsating 7-6 win that made it three in a row over the National League's Eastern Division-leading St. Louis Cardinals in a game in which the Mets had once trailed by five runs, and the victory moved them within 2 1/2 games of first place.

There were only 13,337 in the stands to witness this spectacle, but from all the noise they made and the way they rocked the stadium with their cheers for the grinning Mets' rookie rounding the bases with his third home run of the season, it sounded more like 10 times that number.

"Mookie! ... Mookie!" the fans hollered affectionately, even lovingly, at him as he kept running with a beautiful smile.

When Mookie Wilson crossed home plate, he was smothered by his elated teammates, each seeking to be the first to hug him, pound him on the back or give him one of those high-fives for suddenly projecting them squarely into the middle of the pennant race.

"It got a little scary when I saw my buddy (Mets' pitcher) Ed Lynch halfway down the third base line," the smothered, high-pitch voiced Wilson laughed afterward. "I didn't wanna run over anybody but I wanted to make sure to touch the plate. When that ball cleared the fence, I was so happy, I could've run into a tank and not felt anything." Wilson and third baseman Hubie Brooks each collected four hits in a 22-hit attack and the Mets' uphill triumph was strictly vintage 1969.

After the Mets tied the score at 5-4 in the seventh with three runs on John Stearns' RBI single, Doug Flynn's RBI double and Rusty Staub's run-scoring pinch single, the Cards, who had led 5-0 after three innings, went in front again, 6-5, in the top of the ninth with the aid on an error by Wilson in center field.

Cardinal rookie Tito Landrum hit a towering drive to deep center and Wilson, playing much too shallow, chased it to the fence. The ball hit the fence on one bounce and when Wilson tried to grab it, he mishandled it, and Landrum made it home.

Milton Richman UPI Sports Editor

"I let the ball play me instead of playing it," explained the Mets' center fielder. "A more experienced guy would've given him a double instead of trying to catch the ball like I did. But that's me — too aggressive. I gave it my best shot. I felt bad that the run had scored, but I wasn't gonna go home and shoot myself."

Sutter, who never has much trouble with the Mets, looked as if he had everything under control again when he got the first two men up easily enough in the last of the ninth. But Frank Taveras kept things alive with a double, and then after Wilson worked the count to 3-and-1, he rocketed the next pitch over the right field fence and the whole place went bananas.

"I don't think I've been this excited since I've managed the club," said Joe Torre.

Herb Norman, the Mets' longtime equipment man, said, "I haven't seen our clubhouse this happy since 1969."

If the 5-foot-10, 170-pound Mookie Wilson, who runs like the wind, sounds like Willie Mays when he talks and sometimes plays like him, the Mets have their most exciting performer, certainly their most animated one, since the colorful Tug "You Gotta Believe" McGraw.

"I love the competition, the game and everything about it," says Wilson, who gives all he has and never short-legs it even though he's getting only the $32,500 minimum. "Naturally, I'd like to make as much as I can, but the money isn't everything with me. I like to play hard, create a little excitement. Management is never gonna complain about you playing too hard."

Wilson always has time for everyone, teammates, the media or the fans.

"It doesn't take much to make me smile," he says, and then goes out and proves it every day.

He doesn't pamper himself, either. He suffered a severe ankle sprain making a catch on the Pirates' Mike Easter two weeks ago and read in the paper he'd be out for three weeks, but he was back playing three days later.

STIFFING OPPOSITION

At the left, Sanford's huge tight end Frank Rowe gets ready to stiff arm Lake Howell's Tom Stigall in the Tribe's 9-6 victory over the Hawks. Below, Seminole quarterback Jeff Litton turns the corner looking for running room.

It's Great To Win, But...

With the unexpected loss two weeks ago to Bishop Moore, Lake Howell had planned to regroup with a victory over Sanford Friday night.

After four quarters and three overtimes, though, the Fighting Seminoles knocked off the Silver Hawks, 9-6, when Alan Cahill drilled a 23-yard field goal.

New head coach Mike Bisceglia is finding out it's a tough task of rebuilding his Hawks. The players and Bisceglia have been bothered, at what seems to be an early age, by some unhappy fans.

With Howell's first winning season coming last year, the fans and players were looking for a repeat performance from this year's edition.

Bisceglia has been under a little pressure since replacing Sammy Weir. During a pep assembly last Friday, some Lake Howell students wore bags over their heads to the gathering because they were embarrassed at how the Hawks played.

Bisceglia, nevertheless, met the problem head on. "I would have won one too," the successful Blalock coach told the gathering. "The way we played last week was embarrassing. But I guarantee you you will see a different Silver Hawk team tonight."

And while the Hawks' offense was nothing to write home about, the defense kept Seminole out of the end zone until the overtime tiebreaker method broke the deadlock.

Lake Howell had a couple chances to win. One came with 19 seconds to play. Senior tailback Scott Grant had a chip shot field goal, but hooked it to the left and gave Sanford overtime life.

Lake Howell travels to Titusville Astronaut looking for its first win next Thursday. The War Eagles, ranked fifth in the 3A, whipped Seminole, 19-0, in the season opener two weeks ago.

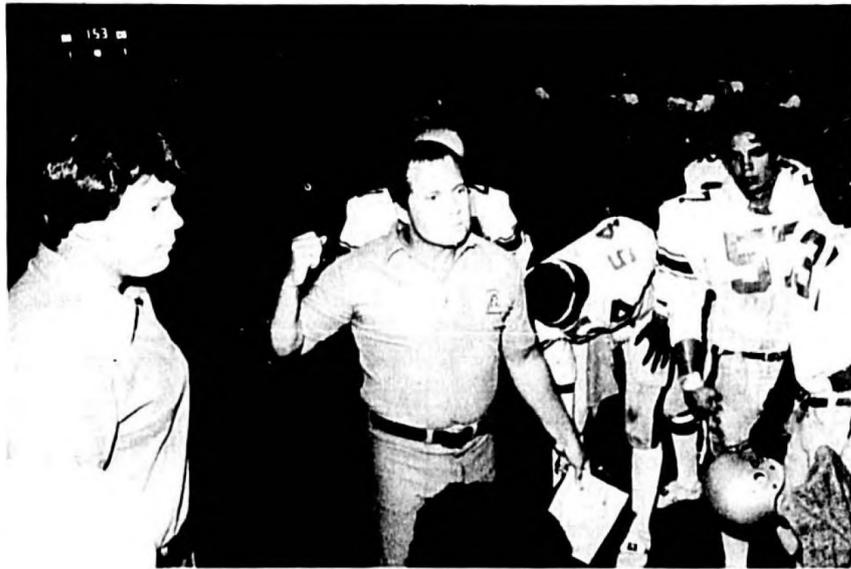

Seminole, meanwhile, was more than happy to escape Howell with its first victory. Coach Jerry Posey was elated with the win, but a little cautious too.

"We won and that's great," Posey told his team. "But we're lucky we came away with a victory."

"We have some work to do, but we are 1-0 in conference play."

Just as Posey was lecturing his team, one of the Seminoles made a move to leave. "Where do you think you're going?" inquired Posey. "You have no reason to leave so quickly. We won and that's great, but we didn't run these guys off the field, you know."

With always tough Edgewater coming up Friday, the Seminoles might need to hear everything Posey says and more.

Seminole defensive coordinator Dave Mosure exhorts his eleven to "hold the Hawks." The Tribe got the point and Alan Cahill "punched" over the game-winning field goal as Mosure's fist furesthadows.

Mrs. Aaronson is among the 325 Volunteers in the Seminole County Retired Senior Volunteer Program who will help celebrate the 10th anniversary of RSVP Wednesday. The public is invited to a reception at 2 p.m., at the Senior Citizen Multipurpose Center, 200 N. Lake Triplet Drive, Casselberry.

LIONS PLAN BENEFIT FETE

W. Hugh Duncan, left, and Wayne Westmark hope to prove that too many cooks won't spoil the stew — except, in this case, it's spaghetti. The Sanford Lions Club is sponsoring the Annual Spaghetti-Bingo Dinner Saturday with serving hours from 4-8 p.m., at the Sanford Civic Center. Donations are $2.50 per person. Tickets are available from any Lions Club member or at the door. Profits will go to the Lions Sight Program.

Railroad Widows To Gain New Benefits

DEAR ABBY: Effective Oct. 1, 1981, remarried widows and divorced wives, mothers and widows of railroad workers will become eligible for railroad annuities in the same dollar amount and under the same rules as Social Security, and I can't think of a better way of reaching the approximately 74,000 eligible women than through your column!

Social Security annuities continue to widows who remarry after age 60, and can be reinstated for widows who remarry before that age but whose second marriages end. Social Security benefits are also payable to women divorced after at least 10 years of marriage if their former spouses are retired or deceased. Prior to the new Railroad Retirement Act amendments, railroad workers' widows who remarried permanently forfeited annuity rights. Women divorced from railroad workers, regardless of the length of marriage, lost all benefits. Many women also lost Medicare since it is contingent on benefit entitlement.

Women who will be affected should immediately contact the Railroad Retirement Board at 844 Rush Street, Chicago, Ill. 60611. The railroad worker's full name and Social Security or Railroad Retirement Account Number should be included.

REP. JAMES L. OBERSTAR, 8TH DISTRICT, MINNESOTA

DEAR CONGRESSMAN OBERSTAR: Thank you for this wonderful news! I'm glad to know that the rules have been changed, and I'm sure the 74,000 women who are now eligible to collect benefits will be jubilant.

DEAR ABBY: "The Tattooed Man" asked whether the removing of a tattoo would leave scars, and you said: "It depends on the skill of the doctor who removes it." Not so!

Removal of tattoos always leaves scars. How noticeable these scars depends not only on the doctor's skill, but also:

- 1) Location of the tattoos,
- 2) Area the tattoos cover,
- 3) Depth of tattoos.

Abby, two of the myths of plastic surgery are that plastic surgeons do not leave scars and that they remove scars. I am sorry to see your column perpetuate such myths. All we can do is try to make the surgical scars as inconspicuous as possible.

J.T.J., M.D., LETTERMAN ARMY MEDICAL CENTER

DEAR DR. J.: Thanks for needing me. I get the picture.

DEAR ABBY: Last week we celebrated our golden wedding anniversary. Our children had a beautiful surprise party for us and they invited many, many friends. "No gifts" was printed on the invitations, but many people brought gifts anyway. Some of the relatives gave us money.

Abby, we are well-off financially and there is nothing we need or want. The ones who gave us money need it more than we. I don't want to insult them, but I would like to return the money.

Is there some way to do it without hurting people? I thought I knew all the rules, but apparently not this one. Please help.

D. IN LONG ISLAND

DEAR D.: There is no way to return a gift without offending the giver. On the next gift-giving occasion (their anniversary or Christmas), give them an exceptionally nice gift.

Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (35 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Letter Booklet, 12060 Hawthorne Blvd., Suite 1600, Hawthorne, Calif. 90250.

This fall several cities in the Seminole area will conduct Bike-A-Thons to raise funds for the fight against cystic fibrosis, or CF, the number 1 genetic killer of children and young adults in the United States.

The CF Bike-A-Thon is a community event which allows participants to raise needed funds and enjoy a day of bike riding.

At present, cystic fibrosis affects one in every 1800 births. Approximately half of those born with CF do not live past their teens.

The Florida Chapter is one of 73 Cystic Fibrosis Foundation Chapters in the country. The Foundation's mission is to find the means for the prevention, control and effective treatment of cystic fibrosis.

In addition to providing annual research grants to study the causes of the presently incurable disease, the Foundation also supports a network of 6 CF Centers in the state of Florida. These CF Centers specialize in diagnosis and medical care for Florida's more than 900 patients, as well as services for CF families.

Volunteers are being sought to help with the Bike-A-Thons. For further information, or to find out how you can help, call the CF Bike-A-Thon hot line at 1-800-282-8122, toll free.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Footwear Can Be 'Sole' Odor Cause

DEAR DR. LAMB — Please tell me what I can do to prevent excessive foot odor. I am 32 years old and have always been bothered with this problem. I keep my feet scrupulously clean but nothing seems to help. I have used foot sprays, sprinkled baking soda in my shoes and have worn a very well-known odor-absorbing pad containing charcoal in my shoes. My feet perspire so badly I can only wear a pair of shoes three or four months before I have to discard them. Any advice from you would be greatly appreciated.

DEAR READER — Foot odor comes from sweat. Bacterial action in the sweat causes it. And some people do have more of the sweat glands that create an odor. While I am sure you do keep your feet clean, people with your problem have to go to extra efforts to minimize the odor. You need to wash your feet as often as you can, at least twice a day. Change socks at least twice a day. Wear cotton socks or put a cotton sock inside your regular stocking to absorb moisture. Synthetic footwear tends to trap moisture and make the problem worse. I am sending you The Health Letter number 11-8, Your Feet and How to Care For Them, which discusses this problem.

Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1961, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

You might also get some advantage by using a cotton ball soaked in alcohol to sponge your feet after each washing. Be sure to sponge between the toes and let your feet dry thoroughly before dressing them. Alcohol tends to dry the skin but that is an advantage if you have a foot odor problem. Go barefoot as much as you can or wear shoes that are open without socks. The ventilation helps evaporate the sweat and prevents odor. Change to a different pair of shoes every day so your other pair can air out. Sponge the inside of them out with alcohol, too.

I have received many suggestions about foot odor. Some work for some people but not for all. It can be a difficult problem to solve. If you can't solve it any other way your doctor may be willing to give you a prescription for medicine (such as Probanthine) we use sometimes for ulcer patients that also tends to block nerve stimulation of sweating. It may help some but I wouldn't expect miracles.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have read that absorption of high blood pressure pills tends to promote impotence in males.

I take Dyazide daily. Is this true and will it affect me?

DEAR READER — There are a number of blood pressure medicines that can cause impotence. However, it should be pointed out that most of these only have this effect in a small number of people who take them. If you have been taking high blood pressure pills for some time without problems it is not likely to cause impotence.

With the exception of Aldactazide and Aldactone the diuretics do not cause impotence. That means the Dyazide you have been taking will not cause impotence.

Neither will Diuril and Hydrodiuril.

Many people with elevated blood pressure can avoid all the possibilities of complications from medicines by losing body fat. The lowered body weight often reduces mildly elevated blood pressure to normal without medicines.

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, September 22, 1981

YOUR BIRTHDAY

September 22, 1981
This coming year some exceptional and unusual opportunities will be afforded you. Thus, for the first time in a few years, you should begin to experience a peace of mind from the added security they'll bring.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Your day could begin with the feeling you've been taken advantage of, but a chance encounter with an individual who knows more about the situation will prove you wrong. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph, Mail #1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Trying to bulldoze people into agreeing with you today will avail you little. When the more-diplomatic you takes over, you'll be able to turn things about.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Not until you snap yourself out of your doldrums will you have a successful day. The quicker you get hold of yourself, the faster good things can happen.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
An unpleasant involvement might bother you today, but only for a short time. Your philosophical nature won't allow you to dwell on the negative.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
There are always those who try to run the show, so don't let it annoy you.

Maintain your own course. The interloper will soon be out of your sight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
There is a chance you could get blamed today for a mishap or mistake at work that may not have been your fault. One you'd least expect to do so will come to your defense.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
You're able to laugh it off today when that gamble you took doesn't pay off. In the back of your mind, you know there's another way to get what you want. Work for it.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
When the situation at home gets hairy, bend a little to placate the guilty party. You'll discover that making a few minor concessions pays off.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
If you place an important project in another's hands, it's best to look over his or her shoulder. It isn't likely the person will get your instructions right the first time.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
From out of the blue an opportunity could arise to help you make up recent losses you've suffered. A bleak day could turn into a happy one.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Don't take offense and retaliate against those who are trying to offer you constructive criticism today. Keep an open mind. It's to your advantage.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
If something's bothering you, it's far better to bring it out into the open than to let it seethe beneath the surface. Only then can it be resolved.

of both major suits but he wasn't happy with his jack-high trump suit and passed at game level.

Alan: "On a lucky day the diamond finesse would work and South would wrap up thirteen tricks after the heart opening."

Oswald: "West's lead of the heart deuce implied that he had a high heart and most East players would play the king of hearts at trick one. South would win with the ace and lose the diamond finesse. Then the unfortunate East would lead a second heart. South would take his queen and never lose a spade trick."

Alan: "This particular East, poker expert Bobby Baldwin of Tulsa and Las Vegas, finessed against his partner and played his jack of hearts at trick one. He felt sure that West hadn't underled an ace after that bidding. Now when South won with the queen, Bobby knew that there was no future in the heart suit. When he got in with the king of diamonds he led a spade and West cashed two spade tricks."

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag
Oswald: "North's jump to five diamonds was an inelegant way of asking South to bid a slam if South could take care of both major suits. South could take care
