In Coping With 'Middle-Aged Pot'

DEAR DR. LAMB - Is it necessary for middle-aged women to get big stomachs and all out of shape? I am 50 years old and have begun to notice how women my age look. I am 5 foot 3 and weigh 130 pounds. I am small-boned and think I'm about 15 pounds overweight. I have been trying but it seems impossible to lose these pounds.

The 'Crash': A Matter Of Timing

Herald Staff Writer

"There are some people hurt in here! My friends are bleeding," cried one of the hysterical survivors of a twoplane crash at 1 p.m. Tuesday in a field at Sanford Air-Between two and six minutes of the "crash," city and county law enforcement and fire personnel were on the scene administering to the injured. Across town at Seminole Memorial Hospital, medical personnel began preparing for the incoming "survivors." Curiosity seekers were turned back at the Wylly Ave and 26th Street gates to the airport and on another side of town a young newspaper carrier excitedly asked if anyone had seen the airplane crash.

No one had. Despite the smoke and flames, the screams for help and the excited movements of emergency personnel, nothing serious happened. It was all a fake.

And who were these merry pranksters who staged a scaled down version of what might be titled "Airport '79?" they were personnel from the airport, fire and law enforcement department, hospital officials and ambulance workers.

However, the reason for the event was not merely a fun time. It was to test the response of those agencies to

Polk $ Bid Delay

Seminole County Com missioners have delayed for one week a decision on whether to permit Sheriff John Polk to seek A U.S. Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) grant of $103,454 to purchase a mini-computer. The mini-computer would provide Polk's office and other Seminole County law enforcement agencies with immediate retrieval of information within the criminal justice system.

The grant application being considered is the secondyear funding of phase two, Criminal Justice Information System (CJIS) Equipment mplementation to continue the orderly acquisition of computer hardware as part of a master

The commissioners delayed the decision until further in-formation is available after Fred Griffith, Office of Management, Analysis and Evaluation (OMAE) analyst. submitted a report to the board noting the local spending the grant would require.

The report told commissioners the grant requires a county "hard cash" match of $5,747 and the addition of two positions to the sheriff's office payroll in the fiscal year to begin Oct. 1.

Griffith's report said a data required at county cost of $24,000 annually and a computer programmer at an annual cost of $12,600, bringing total costs to the county of $42,347 for LEAA to provide $103,454 in grant funds.

The county grants review board which includes OMAE director Jeff Etchberger as chairman, Griffith and two members of the county purchasing department has approved the grant application.

Bob Lowe, grants administrator with Polk's office. said today Polk, chairman of the Crime Incidence Council, and the council composed of the chiefs of police in the county and others voted to continue the development of criminal justice information systems.

Lowe said the sheriff's department has been successful in obtaining 18 federal grants in the past six to seven years.

Dubs: 'How Little He Spared

Himself Or His Family...'

WASHINGTON (UPI) - U.S. Ambassador Adolph Dubs, killed in a hotel shootout between police and terrorists in Afghanistan, was eulogized as a man dedicated to his country and representative of its finest qualities.

Dr. Marshall D. Shulman, a specialist in Soviet affairs who instructed Dubs early in his career, said the slain ambassador "represented the American people as we wish we were more often. His way was so calm and relaxed that few realized how little he spared himself or his family," Shulman said in services Tuesday at Fort Myer chapel.

11 'Butchers' Sentenced

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) -Eleven members of a fanatical gang known as the "Shankill Butchers" have been sentenced to a total of 42 life sentences plus 900 years, bringing to a close Britain's largest mass murder case. The gang, which carried out sadistic torture-murders in Catholic Belfast for a year, finally was caught when one of its victims survived.

Italy Socialists Say 'No'

ROME (UPI) - A flat "no" from the Socialist party to Premier Designate Giulio Andreotti has pushed Italy to the brink of early national elections. Socialist Party leader Bettino Craxi Tuesday withdrew support from the weary Andreotti, who had been seeking leftist backing to keep his Christian Democrats in control of the spiraling government crisis.

Egypt, Israel At Camp David

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The foreign ministers of Egypt and Israel, once again in the seclusion of Camp David, today began the latest attempt to break the deadlock in the Middle East peace negotiations. Egyptian Prime Minister Mustafa Khalil, also named foreign minister by his government, and Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan arrived separately in Washington Tuesday and immediately were flown by helicopter to the snowcovered mountains of western Maryland where they were in total isolation from newsmen.

Dollar Pattern Up And Down

LONDON (UPI) — The dollar opened higher on European markets today to continue its pattern of ups and downs over the past week. Gold was up $2.625 in Zurich at $249.625 and $2.500 higher in London at $250.125 an ounce.

Altamonte Cop's Punishment May Be Meeting Topic The Altamonte Springs

City Commission at its 5 p.m. workshop session today is expected to discuss disciplinary action against Police Sgt. Norman Floyd Jr., recommended by Police Justus East.

East has recommended that Floyd Jr., 27, son of Mayor Norman Floyd Sr. be suspended from the force for five days without pay; have evoked the privilege of taking a squad car home with him for personal use for 90 days and be subjected to administrative review by senior officers every 60 days for the next year. Loss of pay would amount to $260.

The action was taken

according to East, because Floyd Jr. violated city police department policy forbidding officers from patronizing establishments which sell alcoholic beverages.

"I do not think this is severe," said East today of the discipinary action against Floyd Jr. which he has recommended "I think it is justified when you are talking of a command officer. I think it is fair and equitable," he said.

Floyd Jr. was suspended for three days about four years ago for another infraction of police policy, police records show. The department's accident review board, which administers the police policy against an officer for degrees of negligence monetary reimbursement to the city, recommended several months ago that Floyd be required to pay the city for repair to a police car which he was driving and which was involved in an accident.

'P' Stands For Pool–Winter Springs Won't Take The Cue

By ROGER E. ROY Herald Correspondent

The Winter Springs City Council unanimously turned down a request to establish a pool hall because of inadequate parking facilities and because it would be "incompatible with the surrounding area."

The matter came before council Tuesday after the city's board adjustment granted a special exception to Joe Hage who proposed to start the pool hall in a commercial complex on SR 434 next to the North Orlando Supermarket.

Hage's request had to go before the board of adjustment first. city officials said, because such a venture is not included among the list of permitted uses in that zoning category. What Price Readiness?

We cannot understand nor can we condone the refusal of the Seminole County Commission to obey the state law requiring state, county and city governments to pay its employees full salary during national guard and reserve military fraining periods.

At the same time, we commend the seven cities in the county that do adhere to the state law. paying full salaries up to 17 days for such military duty. We also hail the decision by the Seminole County Legislative Delegation not to tamper with the law.

County Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff was echoing the majority sentiment of the county commission in explaining his opposition to the payments. He cites the expense of dual pay as his principal objection to heeding the law.

"It could conceivably cost local government a great deal of money today," he suggests. To that we ask: What price readiness?

And, even more fundamental is the cavalier and arbitrary attitude being displayed by the county commission. What kind of example is being

Here we have an elected body deciding not to obey a law on the books. We consider such behavior arrogant. If these presumed leaders cannot show the people they are representing the right and democratic way, who can?

Until the law is changed, it is the law and must be obeyed.

As for the payments themselves, it is inconceivable to us that - especially in this crucial period when the resolve of the United States to maintain a strong defense posture and to withstand foreign challenges is being questioned — that any reasonable payments toward national defense should be questioned

Isn't the guard-reserve expense just another of the costs that must be borne for us to protect freedom? Earn with the upper ent low number of 10, county employees currently affected by the policy, the monies involved would not be that much.

Mr. Kirchhoff also suggests that the law requiring the full payment was passed in Florida in the late 1930s when the nation had only a skeleton military force. That effort, says Mr. Kirchhoff, was toward beefing up the military as the military crisis of World War II was being foreseen.

"The same situation does not exist today." he claims. We disagree. We are disappointed that Mr. Kirchhoff is not as conversant with current historical events as he seems to be with past events. Granted, they are of a different nature today, but crises certainly still exist. We suggest first that Mr. Kirchhoff check the latest figures on our military preparedness with the voluntary services - which reportedly are so undermanned that calls for return of the draft are being heard. We also suggest Mr. Kirchhoff read his

Evening Herald more closely to note that the world obviously is not devoid of any "crisis."

Quite the contrary. Just check the Middle East - from Israel and the Arabs to Iran - to the Far East, from China and Vietnam, and, some fear, even Russia.

Look, too, at the situation in New Orleans, where national guardsmen have been called to keep the peace while police are striking. Such domestic duty is not uncommon for guardsmen. Again, the payments involved are but a small price to pay.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Everybody's relationships are changing so much these days, I'm PENCILLING everything in the address book."

Rock vocalist Meat Loaf says it best in his current hit "Two Out Of Three Ain't Bad." Of course, Meat Loaf is telling his lady he wants her and he needs her, and while there ain't no way he's ever gonna love her, she shouldn't feel bad, because two out of three ain't bad.

And, two out of three certainly isn't bad when you are talking about basketball at Seminole Community College, either.

In 13 years, that's the win-loss ratio.

The Raiders recently completed the regular season, and if coach Joe Sterling seems to have a long face, it is because the 12-15 record compiled this season marks the first losing campaign in 13 years as head coach at SCC.

For Sterling, however, there is always a ray of hope. This year's hope rests in post-season play, and if Seminole were able to breeze through the Thursday through Saturday Division 2 tournament at Valencia, alas, he will have escaped that dreaded first losing season.

Seminole plays Central Florida Thursday night at the March 1-3 state tournament in DeLand.

WASHINGTON (NEA) - Naive parents and altruistic teachers may define "education" as the process of intellectually preparing young people for their years of maturity - but the professionals know better.

"Education," boasts John Ryor, president of the Washington-based Nation Education Association (NEA), "is one of the nation's largest 195E OUR FEDERAL

"Education" also is a single-minded special interest group, worried about the loss of teaching jobs because of a declining school-age population and the threats to school financing from increasingly parsimonious taxpayers.

In this city, "education" is the tie that binds dozens of influential organizations and individuals affiliated with one of the country's most powerful lobbying operations.

"Education" has friends in the White House and on Capitol Hill - many of them recipients of the more than $5 million doled out by NEA in the 1974, 1976 and 1978 political campaigns.

Not entirely by coincidence, President Carter has proposed and Congress is likely to approve a BUSINESS WORLD scheme to give "education" its own cabinet-level federal department, with more jobs, money and political influence than ever before.

Carter, the first presidential candidate ever endorsed by NEA, agreed during the 1976 npaign to support that organization's efforts to gain independence for the educational functions with the Department of Health, Education und Welfare (HEW).

Throughout the campaign year, focused on governmental efficiency. Virtually every time the education lobby pressed him for a renewed commitment, Carter referred to the change in the context of reducing from 1,900 to 00 the number of federal departments and

In his Department of Education proposal sent to Congress last year. Carter called for consolidation of many of those programs. But that approach was scuttled because of widespread pureaucratic and political opposition.

As a result, this year's revised proposals in volves little more than an upgrading of the HEW's Office of Education. Most of the approximately 200 additional educational programs administered by more than 40 other lepartments, agencies and bureaus will remain incoordinated

The reorganization plan also was widely touted a means of reducing HEW's mission and budget, thus making that huge, unwieldly ispertment more manageable and efficient.

But the "E" in "HEW" accounts for less than 8 percent of the department's $184 billion annual

Now that Seminole Community College has already endured its first losing season in basketball, its fans should be aware of the Raiders' war-cry going into Thursday's Division 2 tournament which will send the survivor to the state tournament early next month in DeLand.

That cry goes to the effect that SCC can't be buried yet. "Considering the close games we had and the caliber of competition, 12-15 is not as bad a

NASCAR Action After Fight

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) - The Allison brothers say they will fight a NASCAR ruling blaming Donnie Allison for a last lap wreck when he ran Cale Yarborough off the track to protect his lead in the Daytona 500. Richard Petty took the checkered flag Sunday although he was a half-mile behind the leaders when their cars tangled. NASCAR officials who reviewed videotape of the race Tuesday placed Donnie on probation, meaning he may race but will be watched closely for six NASCAR fined Yarborough and the Allisons $6,000 each for a fist fight that followed the crash. They said $1,000 of the fines would be refunded for each of the next five NASCAR races in which the drivers compete, providing they show "sportsmanlike conduct."

"Donnie and Bobby are shocked over the amount of the fine and shocked at the unfairness of the whole thing," said Bobby Allison's secretary. "We have requested a full-scale hearing and legal counsel is considering further action."

Sullivan Still Hopeful

BOSTON (UPI) - New England Patriots' owner William Sullivan says he can wait until July to hire a new coach, but he still hopes to persuade Chuck Fairbanks to return to the NFL team.

"We'd like to see Fairbanks back in the fold," Sullivan said Tuesday. "A head coach is not really necessary until we go to camp (July). We'd like to have one by the draft (May), but we have (player personnel chief) Bucko Kilroy in charge there, and he's fully equipped to handle the situation.' Fairbanks has resigned the New England job and plans to take the head coaching post at the University of Colorado.

Double Sessions At Brantley: No Sports Damage

By JIM HAYNES Herald Sports Editor Double sessions at Lake Brantley High School next fall will not drastically affect athletics, according to the school's athletic director, Jim Raley.

The outline for accommodating an anticipated 2,800 students calls for freshmen and sophomores to attend afternoon classes while juniors and seniors go to

The obvious question would be how would those ophomores who participate in athletics be able to practice and play ir games in the afternoon i they are to be in class?

"The solution is simple." explained Raley, "there will be a number of exceptions from the general outline. Not just for athletes. But those sophomores and freshmen who will be with the varsity teams will simply attend morning classes.

"This double-session thing isn't as much of a problem as some people figure. I've been through it before in Ocala, and I feel double session is going to be an asset for the school.

Raley, speaking as a coach, said he feels the double session will give him more time for individual instruction for athletes. Also, coaches will be able to view the development of the younger players, and more properly assess their advancement in the program.

nvolve two or three players," Raley added. "Of will play on the varsity. We afternoons."

JIM RALEY 'solution simple'

ikely fall into the ex ceptions class. Most practices as well as interschool competition is held during the late afternoon

The basic concept of the double-session plan is to have juniors and seniors attend a five-hour morning session from 7 a.m. to 11:55 a.m. The freshmen and sophomores attend a fivehour afternoon session from 12:05 to 5 p.m.

Lake Brantley High School was originally built in 1972 for 2,085 students but now has a student opulation of 2,650.

For the past several years the school has exerienced steady growth rom 2,136 students in 1976-1977 to 2,320 students during the school year 1977-1978 to the current 2,650. according to school cipal Darvin Boothe.

It is hoped the double esion will be only for the next school year pending completion of the new Lake Mary High School. That school is expected to open in December 1980 and it is hoped students transferring there from Lake Brantley will solve the

... The 'Disaster' At The Airport

The test run had been in the planning stages for three months, according to Airport Manager J.S. (Red) Cleveland. The airport originated the demonstration idea at the suggestion of the Federal Aviation Administration (FFA), according to Cleveland

The FAA requires airports to formulate a disaster plan for "everything from crashes to hijackings", said Cleveland. Last fall FAA officials suggested the airport test its disaster plan with a mock disaster, according to Cleveland.

"I think an exercise like this is a good idea," comnented Cleveland. "After all, a disaster plan is just a pile of paper until you try it." Emergency forces fared well, according to airport emergency vehicles were assembled and fighting the blaze and administering to the injured, according to airport officials. All but one "victim" was located within a few minutes

At the hospital, patients were sent through the front door instead of the emergency room entrance. This allowed for easier handling of a large number of victims, according to hospital officials. "I think it was one of the best coordinated efforts all the way around," Cleveland said of the drill. Cleveland and other administrators whose agencies took part in the activity will meet Friday to assess the drill, according to Cleveland. However, today he said there appears to be no need to change any of the procedures used in the drill plan. Though the drill was coordinated by the airport, each agency participating will pay its own expenses incurred during the drill. Cleveland did not have a figure for the costs of the dry run. However, he said he did not think it cost much more than it would for regular patrol duties.

Lawmen And The Drinking Policy

By DONNA ESTES Herals Staff Writer

A poll of attitudes and practices of area law enforcement regarding a department policy prohibiting policemen in Altamonte Springs from frequenting establishinments which sell only alcoholic beverages in their jurisdiction disclosed that city is not alone. The poll came on the heels of an ordered suspension of a police sergeant in Altamonte Springs accused of patronizing a bottle club in that city, contrary to department policy. The Seminole County Sheriff's and Casselberry Police departments have nearly identical policies. "The philosophy behind such a policy," said Altamonte Springs Chief Justus East, "is that an officer has arrest powers 24 hours daily. If he goes to an establishment for the sole purpose of consuming intoxicating beverages, he is susceptible to trouble. He might be called on to make an arrest when his normal faculties are impaired from drinking or he might get into trouble himself. An officer cannot drink and become intoxicated in a public place." Meanwhile, in Winter Springs, Longwood, Oviedo and Lake Mary where there are no establishments in business solely selling alcoholic beverages, according to officers in those communities, no such policy exists. The police officers interviewed are split in their feelings about such a

Lt. George Myers of the Lake Mary Police Department said he thinks such a policy is wrong. "Police officers are no different than anyone else. I don't feel it is detrimental 'f a man goes to a place and gets a few drinks."
