While her husband, Harry Richmond, looked on, Mrs. Blanche Richmond, 33 year old mother of two children, shot and killed 17 year old Carrie Sparks, with whom Richmond had eloped to Kansas City from St. Joseph, Mo. She told him, "I won't shoot you because I love you," according to Kansas City police, who are holding her on a murder charge. Richmond disappeared in the excitement following the shooting.

SUSPENSION OF LOCAL WEEKLY IS ANNOUNCED

Irving S. Sayford, Editor of "Sanford Today" Asserts Field Big Enough To Support Only One Publication

Magazine Is Popular With Its Readers

Staunch Editorial Policy In Maintained By Publication Under Sayford's Guidance

Sanford Today, a weekly magazine published in this city, will not be continued, according to an announcement made today by Irving S. Sayford, its publisher and editor, who stated that the advertising patronage of Sanford was not of such volume at the present time as to make financially profitable the continuance of his publication.

"Sanford will not support two daily newspapers and a weekly magazine; it will support two dailies," Mr. Sayford said in an interview with a representative of The Herald. "Of the two which issue, the one that will remain is obviously the one which is not availing to a desperate load of foolish debts and tangling its steps in the hopeless harness of incompetent management," he added.

The magazine of which Mr. Sayford was the editor has been a feature of the Sanford publishing field since late last spring and has enjoyed a large following because of its staunch editorial policy and its many interesting features.

In an interview with a representative of The Herald, Mr. Sayford said: "I have decided not to continue publishing 'Sanford Today.' Refund checks for unexpired terms will be mailed to subscribers. I have been invited to establish an identical magazine elsewhere in the state, and may accept the compliment by doing that."

"Sanford Today" was an eight-page advertisement paper when I bought it from Haynes & Hatfield, its printers, last July. It had attractive possibilities. In five months it grew to 24 pages with color cover and carrying the advertisements of as many as 79 firms. This progress was made against adverse currents and an evil wind or two. The magazine won a host of friends, made some enemies, and by virtue of its independence and superior quality commanded respect in all quarters. In essence it does not forfeit that respect.

"The magazine ceases as a Sanford publication because the volume of advertising patronage in the city of Sanford is not enough to square the cost of and remit a profit to the number of publications in the field. Sanford will not support two daily newspapers and a weekly magazine. It will not support two dailies. It is not supporting them now. Of the two which issue, the one that will remain is obviously the one which is not availing to a desperate load of foolish debts and tangling its steps in the hopeless harness of incompetent management. When that confused burden-hauler, which never should have been loaded and shed, sinks down presently in the shafts and is removed from the road, publication traffic will resume its wonted pace. If I have name no names, it is perhaps because I know the human propensity." (Continued On Page Six)

Senator-Elect Smith Will Not Divulge Answer On His Appointment To The Senate

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Frank L. Smith, of Dwight, Ill., bought Christmas presents in Chicago's loop today with no intimation whether he would accept appointment to the present short session of Congress.

While in Washington, a perturbed senate awaited his decision, the most definite thing Mr. Smith would say was that he might have a statement later in the day. Aside from a conference with Allan Moore, Republican national committeeman from Illinois and manager of Smith's successful campaign for senator, Mr. Smith had no meetings with party leaders on his day's program.

He said he had received only newspaper reports of action contemplated by the senate in the event he decides to accept Governor Len Small's appointment to the seat vacated by the death of William B. McKinley. He would not comment on the Senate sentiment which opposes his sitting in the senate at the present session.

But at Washington much was said. The senate had before it the report of Senator Reed's special campaign expenditures committee dealing with the Illinois senatorial campaign. The report was submitted without recommendations or conclusions.

It presented a table entitled "Smith Contributions and Expenditures," carrying a "provisional total" of $459,782, including personal expenditures by Smith of $253,547. The report pointed out that the figures did not represent "the possible total expenditures of Frank L. Smith's candidacy," but it added that 93 per cent of the contributions to the Smith primary fund were made "by traction powers and public utility owners."

It is a round contribution of $125,000 by Samuel Insell, public utilities owner, that the senate contest against Smith has revolved.

Resignation Of Miss Clark
Supervisor For Past Few Months, Accepted To Take Effect At First Of Year

Resignation of Miss Mary Clark as supervisor of the Sanford playgrounds and the appointment of Miss Ava Wright as her successor were announced today by S. R. Dighton, chairman of the city playground commission. Miss Clark's resignation becomes effective Jan. 1, and Miss Wright will assume her duties immediately thereafter, it was learned.

Miss Wright has had considerable experience in the management of playgrounds and she was formerly connected with the recreational department of the Chattanooga school system. Last year she was a member of the teaching staff of the Sanford public schools.

Miss Clark came to Sanford from Jacksonville and has been head of the local playgrounds since their creation last spring.

MUSSOLINI HAS LONG WANTED TO VISIT IN U. S.

Italian Premier In An Interview With Associated Press, Declares Appreciation Of U. S. Sympathy For Fascism

Do Not Fear Enemies
Duce And Followers

Censorship Of Press Denied
By Dictator Who Brands
All Attacks As Boomerangs

(By P. N. Winner)
ROME, Italy, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini has always longed to visit the United States, he told a correspondent for the Associated Press, in an interview at his office in the Chigi Palace.

"I have often thought of visiting America," the duce declared. "In fact as long as I can remember, I have always wanted to see your country, a people which built rapidly with its own hands such colossal fortunes and formidable power could not fail to attract me strongly."

"Then, my sympathy is greatly increased when I notice that, despite the fact that an ocean divides us, our revolution and the work of Fascism have been more quickly and more completely understood in America than in many other countries separated from us by a few hours' train journey."

"America's understanding of our movement is easily explained if it is considered that your plotters raised with their robust arms on the virgin soil of America a temple to a new Goddess which is the same to which all Fascists have raised a similar temple on the banks of the Tiber—energy."

The recent drastic national defense decrees, he said, were issued for the sole purpose of protecting the "productive rhythm" of the Italian nation.

Fascism has nothing to fear from its enemies at home or abroad, he added; but since it is using every bit of its energy in a struggle for development of the national strength, it can not afford, for the sake of some abstract principle of freedom, to permit individuals or groups to retard its march upward toward the supreme goal.

"The provision effecting revocation until further order of the licenses of certain newspapers," the Premier said, "must not be interpreted as a breach of principle or liberty of the press or of criticism."

Ten Found Guilty In Rum Conspiracy

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Dec. 17.—(AP)—A federal court jury today found Benjamin and George C. Probat, well-to-do brothers, and eight other defendants guilty of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act in manufacture and sale of real beer by the New Athens Brewery at New Athens, Ill.

Attorneys for the Probats moved for a new trial and Judge Libbey stayed sentence. The Probats, Pure Products Company, a corporation, was fined $10,000.

U. S. STEEL YIELDS FORTY PER CENT STOCK DIVIDEND

Other Big Corporations Declare Big Profits In Giving Employees Christmas Presents Of Big Proportions

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The United States Steel Corporation, with a 40 per cent stock dividend of $200,000,000 face value, today headed a long list of big business organizations that are giving generous Christmas presents to stockholders and employees.

Directors of United States Steel decided yesterday to pass along to 80,000 shareholders some of its $500,000,000 surplus, the Crucible Steel Corporation announced an increase in its dividend from $5 to $8, and the U. S. Industrial Alcohol Company announced resumption of payment on its common stock at $5 a share.

Louisville & Nashville announced an increase in the annual rate on common stock from $6 to $7; Mobile & Ohio Railroad an extra three per cent in addition to the regular dividend of $2 a share on common stock and an increase in the annual rate from $6 to $10; Central Railroad of N. J., a dividend of $2 payable January 15; the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville Railroad an extra one per cent on common stock; St. Joseph Lead Company an extra of one dollar a year; McAndrews & Forbes an extra payment of ninety cents a share.

Among earlier special distributions were those by the General Telephone Corporation, the American Telephone & Telegraph Company and F. W. Woolworth Company.

Increase of the U. S. Steel Corporation's common stock by $200,000,000 will bring that corporation within $7,000,000 of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company as the world's largest corporation.

The stock distribution marks the silver anniversary of the Elbert H. Gary leadership of the corporation, founded in 1901. The corporation controls 27 principal subsidiaries and 165 underlying companies.

MARX CABINET RESIGNS AFTER BEING BEATEN

Chancellor Defeated
In Non-Confidence
Vote After Motion
By Socialist Chief

Monarchist Clique
Working, Is Claim

Marx Denies Charges
Sheidemann Cites
Names In Big Plot

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The government of Chancellor Marx today resigned after being defeated in the Reichstag, 249 to 171, on a vote of non-confidence.

The motion was introduced yesterday after Philipp Scheidemann, leader of the social Democrats, had charged that a monarchist military clique was secretly organizing a huge illegal army reserve and was undermining the Reichstag as an instrument of the public.

The charges were denied by Chancellor Marx, but Scheidemann continued to cite names, places and figures to prove his contentions, among them being accusations that munitions and arms were being stored in Russia.

His charges produced bedlam in the Reichstag and shouts of "traitor," "blackguard" and "that's treason!" were hurled at him.

The non-confidence motion followed charges by Philipp Scheidemann, the socialist Democrat leader, that a monarchist clique in Germany was secretly raising funds to create an illegal army force and was hoarding airplanes and munitions in Germany and Russia. The charges, that the Reichstag in an uproar yesterday and were denied by Chancellor Marx.

It seemed improbable today that further steps would be taken at present to include socialists in the Marx government, a step that was under consideration. Some significance was attached to the fact that President Van Inghendryn, after consulting Chancellor Marx this morning, received Count Westery, the leader of the national Marx cabinet appears to be.

Scheidemann also charged that Minister of Defense Geiseler was "tool of the monarchist Junkers" and demanded that the entire cabinet resign to be replaced by one man made up of the Republicans.

MISS AVA WRIGHT TO BE DIRECTOR OF PLAYGROUNDS

Resignation Of Miss Clark
Supervisor For Past Few Months, Accepted To Take
Effect At First Of Year

Resignation of Miss Mary Clark as supervisor of the Sanford playgrounds and the appointment of Miss Ava Wright as her successor were announced today by S. R. Dighton, chairman of the city playground commission.

Miss Clark came to Sanford from Jacksonville and has been head of the local playgrounds since their creation last spring.

Appointment of another member to the playground commission to succeed Mrs. W. C. Hill was not officially announced today by Mayor Forrest Lake but it is expected that he will follow the recommendation of the commission, which, at its meeting on Thursday, offered the name of Mrs. W. Morton Thigpen for the vacancy.

CANTON CHIEF OF POLICE IS NAMED IN FAMOUS TRIAL

Ben Rudner, co-defendant of Patrick McDermott, who is on trial for the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton police chief, conferred on the night of the slaying with S. A. Long, who was then chief of police in Canton, according to the testimony of a city policeman today.

Mrs. Thomas Harris, state witness, testified that Mazer and Floyd Streltsberger, former Canton policeman, who furnished an alibi for Mazer, conferred alone in the kitchen of the Carey house on the night of the crime.

She said that the morning after the murder Mazer and Ben Rudner left the Carey house together in an automobile. Both Mazer and Rudner also are charged with the murder.

Norinan Clark, former Canton police prosecutor, facing a liquor law conspiracy charge in federal court, testified that twice before the Mellett slaying Mazer told him "if Mellett keeps this up he'll be bumped off."

Testimony pertaining to Rudner Masillon druggist, who said that was given by Stanley Baltaly, two weeks before the murder Rudner told him: "Something is going to happen in Canton."

BRITISH ARMY REDUCED ONE-THIRD SINCE DAYS BEFORE WORLD CONFLICT

LONDON, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The fighting strength of the British army has been reduced by one-third since pre-war days.

Parliament was told by Lord Middleton before its adjournment that the present total, including regulars, army reserve, special reserve and territorial, was 413,500 men, a decrease of 234,500.

MIAMI IS ARRESTED

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 17.—(AP)—James S. Aber, president of Aber Puroties, Inc., and the Metropolitan Realty Corporation was arrested today and later released on bonds aggregating $7,500 on federal indictments charging conspiracy to defraud the government by also income tax returns. I. P. Henderson, of Miami, posted bond of $5,000 on a similar charge.

Law Offices Opened In Brumley-Puleston Block By W. E. Mallem

Announcement of the opening of offices for the general practice of law was made today by William Ellis Mallem, former resident of this city, who returned to Sanford this week. Mr. Mallem's offices will be located at 6-B Brumley-Puleston building.

Mr. Mallem was reared in Sanford and received part of his education in the local public schools. He is a graduate of the Sanford High School. Following his graduation, Mr. Mallem attended Cumberland University at Cumberland, Tenn., where he was enrolled in the law school. Later he attended the law school of the University of Florida.

Mr. Mallem has been practicing law at Palatka and Orlando for the past several years. At Palatka he was connected with the law firm of Hilburn and Merryday and at Orlando he was associated with W. B. Crawford, previously.

Brother Of Theater Man Killed Today

A message received by J. L. Marrett, manager of the Milano Theater, at noon today, informed him that his brother, George B. Marquette, of Detroit, Mich., had been instantly killed in that city automobile accident in that city this morning. No details of the accident were made known in the message but the funeral is to be held Monday.

The deceased was vice president of the Akron Varnish Company, Akron, O., one of the largest manufacturing establishments of its kind in the north, and was a prominent resident of Detroit. He was 60 years old.

Bandits Slug Bank Employee And Make Away With $79,000

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Six bandits slugged a guard and robbed a bank messenger of $79,000 in cash on a downtown street corner here at noon today while thousands of Christmas shoppers crowded about the scene.

Obtaining the money, the bandits escaped in an automobile.

W. A. Green, a negro messenger, was carrying the money in a sack to the Fidelity National Bank and Trust Company from the Federal Reserve Bank for weekend payroll. W. M. Macavoy, the guard, walked a few yards ahead of the messenger. Macavoy was shot and wounded. Near the entrance to the Federal Reserve Bank two men grabbed the messenger and two others began shooting. Macavoy shouted and Green attempted to sprint for the bank entrance. The two men who grabbed the messenger, one of whom was Macavoy, grabbed the bag and jumped into the car where witnesses saw two more men were waiting. Macavoy rushed into the building and another pistol, having been lost, and fired at the fleeing car.

Motorcycle patrolmen, alerted by the noise, gave futile chase.

Reports of this hurricane work only recently reached the coast guard headquarters here, shortly after a series of congratulatory and thankful letters from the Cuban president, the governor of the Bahamas, American and British ambassadors to Cuba and other officials.

They told, among many other things, how the coast guardmen carried provisions and water to Bimini, most notorious of smuggling nests, which was almost wiped out.

That is what the nation wants; that is what Secretary Hoover advises, even if it does cost a little more. If there is anything that we can't really afford, please mention it.

One year's excess income would build the canal twice.

Washington, Dec. 17.—(P)—"Dry navy? Hell, we're the coast guard!" This is the new, unofficial motto of the 11,000 men who guard our shores and whose only duty, in the popular mind, is to chase rum runners.

They yanked human beings from angry waters and sinking boats at Miami, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach and other harbors as they rode out the storm.

Representative Dempsey, of New York, says we should risk "an entangling alliance" if we joined Canada to build a canal to the ocean via the St. Lawrence.

dale, opened an emergency hospital, commandeered supplies and treated more than 400 patients before medical men had obtained control of the situation.

Others on shore liberty when the storm broke went on duty as provost guards or at digging wells and roofing damaged hospitals.

First outside relief came to Miami and Fort Lauderdale on coast guard boats from Key West, which brought doctors and medical supplies.

At Bimini and Gun Key, Bahama bases of the rum runners, the hurricane's great peril was the pollution of water which it left behind. Coast guard relief expeditions put on full speed to bring good water and food. No attention was paid to smuggling them—by either side.

After the terrific assault of the elements on the Isle of Pines, the boats did similar work and their men went inland to the aid of small native settlements which were in a bad way.

It's a man's job to launch a newspaper with money, but with money the venture is positively bound to fail. Of course, the newspaper has everything to gain and nothing to lose. In fact there is no loss. Generally speaking, the newspaper is a permanent institution. It's a man's job to launch a newspaper with money, but with money the venture is positively bound to fail. Of course, the newspaper has everything to gain and nothing to lose. In fact there is no loss. Generally speaking, the newspaper is a permanent institution.

Newspapers

A good newspaper is more than a business; it is a public institution. It is as essential to the life of a community as a church. It is as necessary to the growth of a city as a hotel, a municipal hall, or a hospital. It reflects the progressiveness of the citizens; it contributes to the moral uprightness of the people.

A good newspaper is not operated as a money-making proposition. Some newspapers are financially successful; most of them are not. A newspaper to exist must be operated on sound business principles, but a newspaper operated for the sake of business alone is a failure before it starts. A newspaper is the life work of a newspaperman who gives to it all his ability and experience and takes from it riches or nothing, as may be his lot, and gets his real compensation in the satisfaction of his work.

A good newspaper adheres to the ethics of the profession. Its first duty is to stop rumors; never to start them. It prints only the truth and the whole truth, in so far as it is possible to ascertain the truth. It fights its battles wholly in the open and never resorts to underhanded tactics. It struggles for its business by fair and honest methods never resorting to cut-rate competition. It is in the field for the good of the community, not for the pecuniary gain of the stockholders.

We were thinking along this line the other day when we noticed a clipping from the Columbus (Georgia) Enquirer-Sun, a good newspaper. It rather tends to complete our line of thought so we reproduce it here:

"The Enquirer-Sun as a property is privately owned but as a newspaper it is dedicated to the service of the public. Its aim is to contribute as much as it may to the life, growth and cultural development of the community, the state and the nation.

"It seeks to reflect the best thought and sentiment of the public, but it will not cater to passing public opinion.

"It desires to assist the people to achieve their legitimate aspirations, but will not knowingly encourage their illusions.

"In politics it is uncontrolled, and its position on public questions shall be conscientiously taken, fairly presented and faithfully maintained.

"It knows no classes, recognizes no interests, seeks no favors, but shall strive to merit the public's confidence, respect and support."

We'll Bet She Had Earned That Prize

Some one quoted by The Literary Digest tells about a young married couple who with much nervousness gave their first party. To insure everything going smoothly they made a program for their own use and the evening went in fine style until far too soon the program came to an end, and things were getting desperately "slow" when the young husband had an inspiration. He proposed a contest to see who could make the ugliest faces, with a prize to go to the winner.

After this game had gone on with a lot of merriment for the stated time, the judges' committee retired and promptly returned with the decision. Walking up to a lady, one of the most important guests, they said they had unanimously agreed to give her the prize. Imagine the situation when the lady frigidly replied, "I was not playing that game."

The Herald having been amused enough by that anecdote to desire to pass it on, might, really, now, to "point a moral." We have one, in fact, all ready to apply if we knew how to incorporate it in some sort of text like "Let your face work for you," or "Why be a prune?" or "It's bound to freeze that way."

As the reader would infer, the predicament of the well-meaning young couple does not suggest the moral to The Herald at all. If they had been older they might have made a survey of the faces at their party to see if such a contest would be entirely indicative of tact. But since they didn't, there is nothing to do but talk about a woman who will let her face grow ugly.

Sometimes, paradoxically as it seems, the homeliest face in a room is the most beautiful. Sometimes faces that are scarred and seamed—sometimes faces with features out of symmetry entirely can truthfully be called beautiful. It all depends upon what is back of the face in the way of intelligence and kindness, especially kindness.

The person who scowls or sneers can convert a naturally comely face into one that is downright "ugly." The person who carries malice in his heart, or jealousy, or evil desires of any kind, writes their legend on his face. The woman at the party who must have stern haughty disdain, refusing to take part in a game her eager young hosts were trying to make amusing, very likely deserved the ugly-face prize simply because of the facial expression of her thoughts.

Truth-telling mirrors ought to line the walls of homes where people are making ugly faces.

THROUGH CENTRAL Florida, in the lake region, a number of new hotels will be ready by the first of the year, notably at Gainesville and Ocala. New apartments by the score have risen during the last few months in Orlando, Leesburg, Sanford and DeLand, while a number of new hotels have been completed. Jacksonville has completed one of the finest hotels in the South during the last few months, and another will be finished during the next six weeks.—New York Herald Tribune.

THE NATIONAL BUDGET MESSAGE

President Coolidge sent his budget message to Congress on Wednesday, showing an estimate of total appropriations for the fiscal year 1928, including those service payable from postal revenues, amounting to $4,014,521,124.00, an increase of $18,543,728.12 over those for the current fiscal year. A table, which contains figures of receipts and expenditures for the current fiscal year, computed on the basis of five months' experience, is used for estimating the surplus for this and the next fiscal year. The conclusion deduced there from is that the surplus for the current fiscal year will amount to a little over $388,000,000, and that the surplus for the year 1928 will be approximately $200,700,000. The latter estimate, taken in connection with the fact that the Treasury will no longer have the benefit of funds from sources of which it has been able to take advantage in the past, is utilized as an argument against a permanent reduction of taxation now, when the set-off of 1926 has been struck for only one year.

As Brisbane Sees It

3 Below in Hot Chicago. Charles R. Erwin. Joy in Wall St. Two Best Things. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright, 1926, Star Co.)

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—In this active city, with the thermometer at three below zero, people walk so fast they don't feel it. For comfort they can look toward the northwest—38 below zero in Minnesota.

Cold is good, for the young, but why do so many of the older people, able to travel, risk their lives in the cold north with Florida, California and warm gulf states inviting them?

THE DEATH OF Charles R. Erwin deprives American business of an able constructive adviser. Mr. Erwin, who leaves eight children, and dies too soon, only 67 years old, was president of Lord & Thomas in 1913. Then developed the Erwin and Wasey organization. It can be said of him as of other men that devote their lives to advertising, that many successful men owe their wealth to his intelligence, and do not realize it.

CHEERFULNESS in Wall street, Christmas dividends continuing in a way to make Jupiter with his golden rain seem stingy.

Yesterday 1,925,000 shares were sold, 2,000,000 the day before, and brokers ask hopefully, "Is the public coming in to restore the happy days of yesterday?"

DON'T SELL anything short in this country, not even products of our farmers, not well enough organized to control government as they might do. The country's merchandise exports for November, biggest in year, amounted to nearly half a billion, in spite of a $27,000,000 drop in cotton shipments. We have the gold, water power, coal, oil, unlimited territory developed and undeveloped, intelligent men and women and a government that doesn't interfere with business. What in Heaven's name have we to worry about, except our own foolish fears? But don't gamble.

THE WORLD HOWEVER asks two questions, how would you answer? What is the best thing that has happened this year (1926) for America or for Americans? "2. What is the best thing that could possibly happen in America this coming year (1927)?"

1. The best happening of 1926 was sending the world court to join the dodo. 2. The best happening for 1927 would be the building of an adequate American air fleet. You can't expect Providence always to smile on our efforts. The world is as Asia is getting ready to send several earthquakes to us.

JOHN UMBLES formerly General Pership's negro orderly, rescued five persons, at the risk of his life, and is to be hanged two days before Christmas unless Governor Brandon of Alabama intercedes. He murdered his sister-in-law. Fortunate is he who dies at the right time. Had Umbles lost his life saving the five, he would be listed among murderers hanged for crime that saving five can be called and excuse for killing one?

ANOTHER FRUSTRATED attempt to kill De Rivera, the Spanish dictator and King Alfonso who leans upon him.

De Rivera was to be shot from a closed car parked before his office. The king to be disposed of with hand grenades, when he attended De Rivera's funeral. The one safe country for kings seems to be Great Britain since they have all died peacefully since Charles the First. The lesson they learned from Cromwell, is remembered. They allow free speech and popular government, Britain being nearer to a real republic than any other nation.

AMERICAN COTTON growers marvel at Egypt, also with a cotton problem. The Cairo chamber of deputies sends the government into the market to buy cotton, and hold up prices.

If we did that it would be "bolshivism." When our government helps railroads, or lends millions to a bankrupt, dishonestly managed New York street car system, that's "conservative finance." How does that strike the little man who can't afford to pick his cotton, because labor would cost more than the cotton is worth?

STRESEMANN, the German statesman, returns with the Nobel peace prize medal, and a promise from the league of nations to end the allied military control in Germany.

Polish newspapers complain that Germany has been successful at the expense of Poland and the nations of Europe generally, realize as the German star rises, that the war was in other things, "the first shall be last."

Germany, that lost the war, is winning the peace.

Contemporary Comment Dr. Copeland, New York's Democratic senator is for modification. By a strange coincidence, the majority of New York voters are, too. Strange, isn't it?—Greensboro Daily News.

The fact that H. L. Mencken is an out and out supporter of Senator Jim Reed for the presidency ought to cause the Missourian to wonder at the Missourian (Als) who is against any such thing.

Happiness Is Knocking

WINTER IN FLORIDA

NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

A winter vacation in Florida this year will cost less than at any time since that state leaped into the limelight as the country's foremost winter playground because of its close proximity to the great centers of population east of the Mississippi River. Floridians who had struggled for years to weed out those who annually came from other sections of the country early in the fall to lease hotels, apartments and rooming houses and then to boost rents during the season, finally have been successful, with the aid of the collapsed speculative real estate boom and a huge volume of building construction, in getting rid of gougers and the scale of rents this season will be in line with what the average citizen of the North is accustomed to.

Throughout Florida during the winter, and full chambers of commerce, other civic organizations, apartment houses and hotel owners have been waging a campaign for a reduction in rentals and other charges. Virtually all of the more than 400 members of the Florida State Hotel Association have posted price scales for this season which range from 25 to 50 per cent below those of last winter, and apartments in the resort centers of South Florida which were almost beyond the reach of the average visitor last season are available this season at nominal prices.

The expansion of facilities for the accommodation of tourists has had not a little to do with the reduction in prices. During the last ten years the construction of hotels, apartment and rooming houses in Florida has not kept pace with the demand, but with the advent of the speculative real estate boom and the marked increase in population a wave of building construction such as the country has never seen before was launched.

What has been accomplished in this respect may best be illustrated by the result of a recent survey conducted by the Florida State Chamber of Commerce at Miami, Miami Beach, Coral Gables, Hollywood and Fort Lauderdale.

OUR POLICY OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

COLUMBUS ENQUIRER-SUN

Pacifists, as those who oppose preparedness for war are called for want of a better name, will not endorse that part of President Coolidge's message to congress last week, in which he stated the policy of this nation quite clearly, when he said:

Our policy of national defense is not one of making war, but of insuring peace. The land and sea forces of America, both in its domestic and foreign implications, is distinctly a peace force. It is an arm of the police power to guarantee order and the execution of the law at home and security to our citizens abroad. No self-respecting nation would neglect to provide an army and navy proportionate to its population, the extent of its territory, and the dignity of the place which it occupies in the world.

To be prepared to make a proper and effective defense to repel invasion and be in a position to maintain by force the rights of our country in the world, provided our efforts to arbitrate, failed, does not and cannot mean that we are, in the remotest degree desirous of waging war against any other nation. The man who travels in a hostile country on a peaceful mission and who arms himself as a matter of self-protection, is not inviting a fight with any one; he does not want to kill, he shows the idea of taking life or of destroying property or causing suffering; he has certain duties to discharge, and he prepares himself for making such defense as may be necessary in case an emergency should arise. He undertakes to insure against any such thing.

than a calamity—is to prepare for just such an emergency. And by preparing we shall be taking a step to insure ourselves against another war.

The late President Roosevelt's policy of "speaking softly and carrying a big stick" has been the subject of many jests, but the thoughtful person will find that it is, after all, the best policy. But there is no reason why we should attempt to establish methods and means in order to prevent the need of using our "big stick."

Glassware is increasingly popular for gifts this year. Fifth Avenue shoppers are selecting bowls, lamps, candlesticks, ash receivers and tableware. A new idea is found in a lamp which has a bowl of clear crystal to be filled with water colored to blend with the shade or furnishings.

Next to the vogue for glass comes the choice of old maps. They are illuminated with quaint ser-pents, Indians, animals, ships, men and legends in the script of their age and country. At Christmas they will appear on lampshades, fire screens and scrap baskets, and in frames for wall decorations.

The least known section of Florida to the tourist, yet one of the most attractive—northwestern Florida—has not lagged behind in the way of hotels.

To the person in the North a vacation in Florida this winter will be only a question of where to go upon arrival in the state, for it possesses so many attractive resorts from which to choose. Because of the excellent transportation facilities by water, rail or motor, and even by air—four passenger air lines are operating on regular schedules between Jacksonville, Tampa, Fort Myers and Miami—many vacationists have adopted the custom of visiting all of the popular resorts while in the state, spending more or less time here and there as fancy dictates.

The man who takes out a life insurance policy is not inviting death by so doing, but is merely preparing himself against the eventuality of his passing. He who builds a roof over his head to shelter him and his family from the sunshine and the rain is not inviting either but he is merely taking those precautions which good sense and good judgment dictate.

East Side Parents and Teachers Hold Meet Thursday Afternoon

On Thursday afternoon the Parent-Teachers Association of the East Side Primary School held its monthly meeting, and despite the inclement weather there was a splendid attendance.

The meeting was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. W. A. Lefler. The regular order of business was followed and it was voted to assist a needy family and provide a basket for them on Christmas.

Miss Emma Owens gave an unusually interesting account of the meeting of the Welfare Department of the Woman's Club meeting Wednesday afternoon when the movie question was discussed and plans were made to have regular days for children's movies at the South Side Primary School.

A welcoming committee was appointed. Those named on it were: Mrs. J. C. Bennett and Mrs. T. G. Gallant.

At the conclusion of business an enjoyable program was rendered, including readings by Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Neely and vocal solos by Mrs. A. M. Phillips.

Announcement was also made by Miss Owen of the Christmas program to be presented Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. All mothers, friends and patrons of the East Side school are invited to attend.

Late in the afternoon the hostesses, Mrs. Robert L. Glenn and Mrs. W. B. Achry, served hot chocolate and sandwiches.

Miss Eleanor Herring Will Appear in D.A.R. Show Monday Night

What promises to be one of the most delightful events of the season will be that of Monday evening when the Sallie Harrison Chapter, N. S. D. A. R. will present its "Society Vaudeville" at 8 o'clock at the Woman's Club.

Among the renditions by local talent will be the violin solos by Miss Eleanor Herring, a talented young artist, who was graduated last summer from the American Conservatory of Music and Beaux Arts at Fontainebleau, France, and who also holds diplomas from the Institute of Musical Arts of New York, and the American Orchestral Society of New York.

Another number to be given by local talent will be that offered by the Lions Club Quartet, composed of S. Dighton, Paul Emge, Claude Howard and Joseph Graham. Tickets are now on sale at Laney's Drug Company.

Mrs. B. C. Keene, who has been spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Hill, at Delray, returned to Sanford Wednesday to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. N. O. Garner.

"Caviare" a Color Now
Two new colors are being featured in Mayfair, and its neighbor, the Royal Borough of Kensington. One is "caviare" which is exactly the gray-black its name suggests, and the other is "cassis," a purplish black currant shade.

Tortoiseshell Accessories
The Queen of Spain appeared at a party smoking slender cigarettes held in a tortoiseshell holder. In a few days the vogue was copied by many English society women.

Gay Furniture
Gay furniture is being featured in the stately homes of Kensington. Color has been introduced this fall in narrow or broad bands of rich marquetry. In some cases work more than a score of figured woods are used. A tallboy of figured walnut, brightly enriched with marquetry of ebony, box, walnut, sycamore, zainwood, tulip, with jade-green bone handles is an instance of the artistic ingenuity that is being applied.

Handle on Hat Crown
The latest version of the English felt hat has a handle fixed over the crown. Since the majority of these hats are brimless, or virtually so, and since a woman does not touch the crown of her hat when removing it, it might be suspected the handle is for some useful purpose. But it is only decorative.

Seen in London Society
The Princess Beatrice at a wedding wearing deep violet with a chinchilla collar and barrel muff. At a reception, Lady Lansdowne wearing pale gray with violets in her hat—in a theater audience, Mrs. Godfrey Tearle, wife of the actor, wearing a lovely ivory brocade cloak trimmed with white fox—Miss Myrtle Atherly, a bride, wearing an old English gown of white and silver brocade, with very wide sleeves trimmed with diamonds.

Elizabethan Frills
The Elizabethan influence on modern English fashions is emphasized by Pierrot frills on the new winter frocks. Short hair is believed responsible for the vogue for neck ornamentation. It is exemplified by high collars finished with bows or by collars made of strings around the neck. The tulle bow has come in again on a gigantic scale. With light dresses a black velvet band is worn around the neck and is finished off at the side-back by an immense bow of tulle. The black band must fit closely around the neck in order to give the bow its full value and fairly stiff tulle is used so that it may stick out as much as Queen Elizabeth's ruff. With gray hair, gray tulle is used.

Coral Returns to Favor
Coral is returning to favor. Last year the smart English women wore jade—jade earrings, necklaces, cigarette holders—This autumn everything favors coral. Long necklaces of small pieces of branch coral of the type grandmothers lover to wear are in all the leading shops, as well as coral cameo brooches, plaques, coral rings and coral bracelets.

Christmas Pageant Is To Be Presented By Local Church Members

On Sunday evening the pageant, "Adoration of Kings and Shepherds" by Emily Cook, will be presented at the Congregational Church under the direction of John Bernard Root.

In the cast are sixteen angels represented by: Mrs. Henry Dickinson, Miss Helen Witte, Mary Alice Shipp, Jane LeRoy, Mary Sapp, Marion Fox, Alva Stafford, Vera Jarrell, Alice Hodgins, Dorothy Torlay, Georgia Powell, Ame Burhans, Beatrice Lowe, Bernice Lowe, Martha Sapp, Mary Louise Nickel.

The four shepherds will be represented by Henry Dickinson, Emil Kaeserman, Lee Renaud and Leonard Dickinson. The three kings will be Harry Kent, George Sanders and Henry Schumacker. Their three attendants: George Saunders, Fred Bender and Henry Witte. Joseph will be represented by A. J. Miller and Mary by Mrs. Robert Wright.

A chorus of 25 voices under the leadership of Martin Stinecipher, will support the pageant with the old time Christmas Carols, in which the audience will be invited to participate.

The pageant promises to be unusually attractive due to the successful efforts of the Costuming committee. The angel robes are being furnished by the members of the Sunshine Class.

In order to accommodate so large a cast it has been necessary to greatly enlarge the stage, while the choir loft is barely able to accommodate the chorus.

Baptists To Make Gifts To Orphans

Members of the Baptist Church are urged to bring to Sunday school next Sunday morning their gifts for the Christmas barrel, which will be sent to the Baptist Children's Home at Arcadia. The shipment of gifts is to be made early next week.

The then Prince of Wales was among her admirers. She was married temporarily to a French naval officer at 16. She was carried off and kept prisoner in a Russian palace by another worshipper. Later she left broken hearts in a trial through many countries. Then she became a child wife and for years only a small group of friends have known the unhappiness of her noble marriage.

Whole Total Too Small
It should be stated in all fairness that 'Sanford Today' obtained its full share of advertising business in the field; it is the whole total that is too small in Sanford, and will continue to be too small until certain changes have taken place in the business composition of the city; when, for example, the lesson has been locally learned that the purchase of advertising space by leaps and bounds is a false method which cannot pay the purchaser; that steady, persistent, message-bearing advertising, speeded up carefully and judiciously, WHEN BUSINESS IS FALLING OFF, is a genuine method and will return in profits far more than its cost; that nine in ten special editions are the bunk and special edition addition on the part of the advertiser is a form of investment dissipation that seldom fails to exact its toll.

These are lessons learned so long ago in the larger fields of advertising that they have become principles; Sanford will learn them some time, after much money has been thrown away and many opportunities for business growth have been lost.

Let it be by anyone thought that the strictures I have laid upon a daily newspaper in my remarks arise from an unfrank motive, let me say that not once but several times I have been approached to take editorial charge of that paper, and each time have declined the honor for such reasons as I have just stated.

Thirty Years in Newspaper Work
Mr. Sayford's thirty years activities in the newspaper and magazine fields have included desk and special connections with such newspapers as the Philadelphia Public Ledger, the Washington Post, the Los Angeles Times, Chicago and San Francisco papers, and other metropolitan journals.

He has been a staff correspondent of both the Associated Press and the International News Service in Washington and there covered some of the celebrated senate investigations.

While serving with the Associated Press in San Francisco he reported the then famous bribery-graft trials which lasted five months and originated and put into practice the idea of having a telegraph key installed in the court room and daily whispering the running story of the trials to the operator, thus "beating" the opposition news services by precedence in wire transmission. This method of fast reporting was later adopted in New York in the Thaw trials.

advertisers—50 columns—in one Mr. Sayford's magazine writings have appeared in The Saturday Evening Post, Scribner's, and International (now Cosmopolitan), and by the latter magazine he has been sent on long-distance interview missions commanding unusually high pay.

Mr. Sayford's present residence in Sanford is his second acquaintance with the city. His first was in 1895 when he stopped here on his way into the Everglades as a field secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, a scientific expedition sent out jointly by that government agency and the University of Pennsylvania. Not then of age, he was the youngest field secretary ever to represent the Smithsonian.

Mr. Sayford does not plan to leave Sanford at present.

Visit Of Wide Will Cause No Controversy

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The visit of Edwin Wide, Swedish distance running champion will cause no controversy in Amateur Athletic Union ranks despite the body's ban on foreign athletes, Fred W. Rubien, secretary of the organization said today.

The case of Wide, visiting the teaching methods and paying his own expenses, is entirely different from foreign "hippodrome" athletes, Rubien said, and has not yet been officially considered by the A. A. U. Wide is due in New York January 2.

Instructor Defends The Split Infinitive

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The split infinitive, in certain uses, is not only correct, but is virtually necessary, George Oliver Curme, professor of Germanic philology of Northwestern University, declared today. Prof. Curme is preparing a grammar of the English language which required several years of research.

"I maintain that to make known one's thoughts," he said, "requires its use, satisfactorily. For instance, would you say, 'I failed completely to understand it,' or 'I failed to completely understand it'?"

Curme has prompted the most Metropolitan offering in

Snow Blizzard In Buffalo Causes One Death, Big Damage

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 17.—(AP)—The city was struggling to emerge early today from a smothering blanket of snow cast over it by one of the most violent blizzards that has visited western New York in recent years. The storm, described as a freak in that it was provoked by a southwest wind, left in its wake one dead and a property damage that will run into many thousands of dollars.

The dead man is Fred Miller, 67, who succumbed to exhaustion and exposure after fighting his way through drifts. The blizzard passed away with the same suddenness with which it began. An hour before it started, the stars were out and the moon was beaming. When the storm stopped yesterday the sky was exceptionally clear.

The storm was strictly local in character. At Niagara Falls, 21 miles away, no snow fell and the sky was clear. Measurements taken by the weather bureau officials showed that an average of 13 1/2 inches of snow had fallen in this city during the storm.

Seminole County Fair Exhibit Will Include White NarcissusBulbs

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce has perfected arrangements with Ed. Stowe, Seminole county bulb expert, to plant and cultivate a special selection of yellow and paper white narcissus bulbs for display in the Seminole county exhibit at the Sub-Tropical Fair to be held in Orlando Feb. 12-19.

The narcissus has played a prominent part in the attractive appearance of the Seminole exhibit at former fairs and it is expected that their beauty and fragrance will add much to the display at the 1927 Sub-Tropical Exposition.

Approximately 1,000 bulbs are being planted and owing to the ability of Mr. Stowe in the raising

Companion Measure To New Farm Relief Bill Is Before House

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(AP)—A companion measure to Senator McNary's new farm relief bill was introduced at the House end of the capitol today by Representative Fulmer, a South Dakota Democrat.

Coincident with introduction of the bill, Fulmer issued a statement saying that its passage is the one way to force tariff reduction by having a farmer-minded board that will look into freight and tariff rates and give Congress facts as they effect agriculture.

Representative Dickinson, Republican, Iowa, who stirred the House Wednesday by inferring as a possibility the Presidential candidacy of former Governor Lowden of Illinois, should the administration fail to support the new bill, expressed pleasure at its introduction by Fulmer.

Pressure Is Still High Over Central Part Of Country

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Pressure continued high over the lower Mississippi Valley and Gulf states but had diminished slightly in intensity early today, said the report of W. J. Bennett, government meteorologist here.

It was not so cold today over the southern states. Temperatures had moderated also to some extent over the northeastern and north central states.

Pressure was relatively low over the St. Lawrence Valley and also over extreme southern Florida. Rain had fallen in Florida and light snow in the lower lake region.

In the west pressure was low on the north Pacific coast and high over the northern plains states. The weather was mostly fair with temperatures below normal. Zero weather prevailed over Montana and the Dakotas.

DELAND—Stetson University's football eleven will not have the University of Florida on its 1927 schedule. A conference during the recent S. I. C. meeting at Jacksonville, between Coach McQuillan of Stetson, and Coach Sebring, of the Gators, developed the fact that the only open date that Gators have is that just preceding the annual Washington and Lee tilt, and that Stetson is considered too strong to drop in there. A game between the two in 1928, however, is likely, it was stated.

BRANDENTON—The speed of the destroyer Sinclair, of the United States Navy, and the prompt orders of Commander H. J. Abbott, probably saved the life of D. F. Collins, 29, a Manatee countian serving Uncle Sam. Collins developed a case of acute appendicitis while at sea, and nearly succumbed while the destroyer raced for the naval hospital at San Diego.

SEMINOLA RACES RUN ON A MUDDY TRACK THURSDAY

Thousand People Brave Inclement Weather To Witness Mudders Carry Off Honors; Only One Long Shot Wins

On a track deep in mud, the mudders for the first time came forward to carry off the honors Thursday afternoon at Seminola race track at Longwood.

Corinth, one of the worst post horses at the track, left with the rest at break and setting a fast pace was going away at the wire, to take the feature fifth at six furlongs.

Despite the sloppy going, Polycarp took the opener in the fast time of 1:7 2-5 to win by six lengths from Barbary. The farther Polycarp ran the better she seemed to like it and was going away at the end.

In the second race the only long shot of the day came into win. Lamp Ward taking a commanding lead at the break had enough left to stand off Lady Abbott, who, after a slow start, came fast and took the place from Spontaneous.

Let's Go, favorite in the fourth, came home first a length in front of Lake Erie. Affectionate Mary followed the winner until heading into the stretch and then tiring she gave way to Lake Erie.

Another unexpected winner came in the sixth, when Agnes Call passed the judges a neck ahead of Brownie Smile to get the decision. Agnes Call, acting bad at the barrier, broke fast and taking a long lead on the back stretch was tiring fast at the finish. Brownie Smile disposed of John S. Mosby in the stretch for the place.

In the last, Quinham following Crystal Ford until the far turn, passed him and had enough left to stand off Irish Pat at the finish. Klaxon was a hot tip all over the track, but failed to live up to it, just beating Molinero for the short end of the purse.

About a thousand people came out to see the races despite a steady rain in the morning.

New Ring Star Was Born Next To Tex Rickard

BILLY WALLACE
GILBERT

SIX INCHES OF DYNAMITE

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Tex Rickard, the promoter, sat in his office in Madison Square Garden the other morning digesting the sport pages of the metropolitan dailies.

With a long, black cigar screwed into his teeth and his eyes scanning the endless columns of type with a quiet, fixed interest, the promoter read an account of what the boys call a fistic upset that had occurred the night before out in Cleveland.

An unknown 133-pounder by the name of Billy Wallace had knocked out Louis "Kid" Kaplan, former featherweight champion of the world, in five rounds.

"Funny how these kids you never heard of come along every once in a while and knock off the stars," drawled Rickard, not without a slight trace of annoyance, because he had been figuring on sending Kaplan against Sammy Mandell, the lightweight champion, in an indoor battle during the winter.

Wallace oughtn't to be an unknown to Rickard of all persons, for it so happens that Wallace was born right next door to Rickard up in the ice country twenty-three years ago.

This was early in the present century, when Rickard was living at Dawson, Alaska, during the gold rush. In those days he was a member of a picturesque community of prospectors, merchants, gamblers, soldiers of fortune and plain, unvarnished, nomadic bums. Rickard and his first wife lived in a little house not less than a boot's throw from what passed as the heart of Dawson's commercial and speculative center.

Next door lived the Wallaces, a father, a mother and a baby. The father was of Spanish descent. The mother a Scotch-English girl. The baby a blue-eyed boy.

The Wallaces didn't linger in Dawson long. They moved to Portland, Ore., when the baby Billy was about a year old. Later they shifted to San Francisco. It was in the coast city that Wallace was first lured by the charms of the esthetic sport of nose spreading and ear ruffling.

He worked in a gymnasium. The teacher in this gymnasium was Frankie Burns, a retired professional. Burns was good enough in his day to battle against the champions. Ad Wolfast and Burns, for instance, had a couple of hard fights. Burns taught Wallace the groundwork of the game, and showed him how to hit.

Wallace today is a standout contender for the lightweight championship and mainly because he is a great hitter. He dropped Kaplan with a right to the chin that didn't travel more than six inches. "Six inches of death" they are calling his punch now. The blow landed with such speed and abruptness few at the ringside saw it.

In a previous fight Wallace dropped Babe Herman, one of the top-notchers of the game, with the same punch and in the same way, not once, but four times. Had he been more experienced he would have knocked that Portuguese boy out. Wallace learns quickly.

Facing a similar situation against Kaplan, he made sure of his knockout, completely flattening his foe.

Patsy Haley refereed the Kaplan fight. Haley is one of the best referees in America today. I know of none better. Haley was impressed by Wallace's finishing blows. "It's a trick to keep a cagey fighter on the floor," says Haley. "Kaplan is all of that. Yet Wallace bounced him back to the canvas each time he got up, and finally kept him there."

Wallace is in line for a championship bout with Mandell. He isn't the boxer Mandell is, nor the ring general, but he is five times the hitter the Illinois Italian is. For that reason he figures to give the champion a stiff engagement, with better than an even chance of holding his own.

Wallace and Mandell fought on the coast two years ago. Mandell won the decision but not until Wallace had knocked him clear across the ring with a right-hand punch, that same "six inches of death" previously mentioned. Wallace was a mere tyro at the time. That was his second wind-up fight.

The Army-Navy game was held this year in Chicago, the idea being to bring future admirals and generals as close to an actual battle front as is possible in peace time.

A closed season for animated raccoon coats was suggested for practically no reason whatsoever. It would not be right to deprive customers of shade and ample fun that comes of bouncing bottles and bubbling heads.

MIAMI'S WINTER GOLF PROGRAM IS TO OPEN SHORTLY

Mid-Winter Tournament That Opens January 17 Will Inaugurate Complete Season Of Winter Sport Activities

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 17.—(P)—Miami's regularly scheduled winter golf program will open on Jan. 17, with the Midwinter Tournament, a week after the opening of organized East Coast play with the annual tournament of the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests, at St. Augustine, Jan. 10.

Only two championship events are scheduled for decision here this season. They are to be the championship of Miami and the Dixie championship.

The Dixie championship play will close the set program of winter golfing on Miami's courses on March 14, a week earlier than the close of scheduled events at Ormond Beach, St. Augustine and Palm Beach, scenes of the other principal links contests of the Florida winter program.

The set schedule was compiled early in the autumn. Club officials and members of civic agency sports committees agree that intervening periods between dates set on the early program will be taken up with less formal events to round out a full season of competitive play here for this section of the state.

The program for the winter months, as it stands now, includes only four major events:

Jan. 17 to 21—Midwinter tournament.
Feb. 14 to 18—Championship of Miami.
Feb. 21 to 24—Women's tournament.
March 14 to 18—Dixie championship.

today is a manager who is still managing.

It probably was just as well that Mr. Rockne was not present to see Notre Dame play Tarnegle Tech. . . . He wouldn't have recognized the boys anyway.

It seems that Mr. Rockne was busy in Chicago at the moment doing some writing for his syndicate. . . . A football coach's first responsibility is always to his portable.

Over in Pittsburgh they have rephrased it to read, "The Four Horse Laughs from Notre Dame."

It might be a good idea if a congressional investigation were launched to find out why McGraw, Mack and (who's that other manager that is still on the job?) haven't quit, too.

There were a lot of remarkable things about the football season recently interred. One of which was that no cheer leader was shot with or without provocation.

Most of the formal exhibitions of shoulder cracking and leg twisting were played on dry fields and under clear skies, which was contrary to the best traditions of the game.

The point after touchdown came in for much adverse criticism, it being the unanimous opinion that a pint after touchdown was much more important.

There was a row in the Big Three. Princeton and Harvard decided not to play again. Through carelessness or something this was listed under the head of football developments.

Knute Rockne didn't go to Pittsburgh with his team and it was beaten. This proves that the race is not always to the swift and that love in a hut is better than deception in a mansion.

Seven big league managers have passed out of the picture since the season closed. . . . Still it's a poor manager that can't pass on seven.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

It's hard to beat the old Army and Navy. . . . It could at least be tied.

Nick Altrock is no longer the greatest chirostity in baseball. . . . The greatest curiosity in baseball.

Contra to the calamity-shouting of his opponents, the Premier said, the new system of a state without elections was already producing beneficial results.

"An acute analysis of the Italian political system," he continued, "shows that, outside of the electoral system, a process of political and administration selection of competent men, which might be called non-official, is operating. Henceforth, technicians will take the places of so-called pure politicians."

"The syndical movement has already taken tangible shape beside the parliamentary state. To a certain extent the corporated state—which in the social field is the supreme intuition of the Fascist revolution—is already surpassing and excelling the parliamentary state."

"At any rate, the Italians haven't any sympathy for universal suffrage, because they have known by bitter experience that it is not a system best adapted to reveal values and that it is impossible to constitute a real directive class on the basis of such a system."

"This is demonstrated by the fact that Italy has never had an election in which more than 40 per cent of the electors participated. It was at this point that Mussolini stopped speaking of the prob-

DAY BY DAY IN FLORIDA

(By The Associated Press) WINTER HAVEN. — Florida's outdoor life as a "public sanitarium" for all types of nervous or hereditary disease should be appreciated, Dr. T. P. Bailey, noted psychologist and professor of ethnology at Rollins College, told the student body of the local high school in an address. Dr. Bailey, formerly connected with the University of Chicago and University of Illinois, declared that over 3,000 species of flowers are found in the state.

ST. PETERSBURG. — Bonds which will bring the county approximately $1,239,400 on a $1,975,000 issue for the prosecution of a road-building program, were sold here by the board of county commissioners for 97.50.

DELAND. — If "publicity hounds" would really be successful in getting their names before newspaper readers, they must extract some peculiar freak of nature from the waters of Florida. This is the opinion of J. Willis McCormick, local resident, who found a yet unidentified specimen of water diviner. The newspapers heralded the catch, and Mr. McCormick's mail became congested.

HARTOW. — Henry Nance, negro, charged with deliberately burning a house for the insurance, was bound over to the January term of the Criminal Court of Record. Nance said a white man gave him $150 to buy oil, and promised him $100 for burning the house. He never got the $100, he said.

PLANT CITY. — One of the curiosities of the times, received here, is a copy of a newspaper, printed 23 years ago, at Vicksburg. The paper was issued during the siege by the Union forces in the Civil War, and was printed on the back of some wall paper, print paper not being obtainable at that time.

STUART. — The local city jail has been condemned by the state board of health, and an edict laid down that, unless something is done to meet the department's requirements, it will be closed. The inspection was made by W. Cook, an officer of the board. The city will either ratify the proposed bond issue for a new jail, or keep the prisoners in the county jail, the inspector said.

KISSIMMEE. — Plans are under way to give Kissimmee a fine baseball and football park. Property on South Dixie Highway was acquired, and public-spirited citizens are rallying to the cause with various donations.

MILTON. — Contract for the proposed new 50-room hotel, to be erected at Floridale, was expected to be let shortly. The hotel will be of the latest Spanish design. Plans are also being carried out for a power plant and minor buildings at Floridale.

ORLANDO. — Karl Lehmann, of Orlando, was elected president of the Central Florida Council of Boy Scouts of America, and J. C. Morris, about executive for 1927, at the annual session of the scouts, held here with the local Kiwanis and Lions Clubs.

LAKELAND. — A 10 per cent Florida is going to compute

The bank paid a 10 per cent dividend Oct. 18 and is contemplating 5 per cent dividends in February and March. General improvement in business conditions made the dividends possible, it was stated.

PENSACOLA. — Recently the fire headquarters of the city received an apparent crime wave, headed by the departure of a group of "hi-jackers," holiday season thieves, itinerant paramourers, and others of that type. A hold up, a shooting, a stolen automobile and other such occurrences were reported to police in quick succession.

JACKSONVILLE. — Daniel "Red" Love, charged with attacks upon young girls, is awaiting a hearing in jail here, while awaiting the outcome of efforts to keep him from the electric chair. Within the space of two weeks Love has been apprised of the death of his mother and father. His mother died two weeks ago and left Love heart broken, and his father, who loved his mother a few days ago.

FORT LAUDERDALE. — The Florida East Coast railroad is preparing to handle over 500 carloads of vegetables from this section the estimated crop for the season. H. W. Collins, general agent, said. Broward county, despite the hurricane setbacks, expects to produce a crop valued at $2,500,000.

Ten Million Homes In United States To Have Christmas Trees This Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. — (AP) — Carrying Yuletide cheer with their twinkling lights, about ten million Christmas trees will find their way into American homes this year. The Christmas tree bill will be about $5,000,000 for the growing of the trees is now an industry. "Cut your Christmas trees properly for conservation is wise," says the American Tree Association. "This when done properly means thinning which the forest needs. Properly gathered for the market these trees do not represent a drain upon our forest resources." The Nature Association agrees with Prof. Woodbridge Metcalf of the School of Forestry of the University of California, who says: "Because of the wastage and an exaggerated notion of the influence of Christmas tree cutting on the future supplies of timber for the nation some well intentioned but misguided individuals have, in recent years urged that the cutting of Christmas trees be prohibited by law or at least frowned upon by forward looking citizens. The success of the movement for forest protection depends largely on the development of a very widespread appreciation of the forest in the minds of the American people. There is probably no better way of instilling a love for trees in the hearts of the rising generation than the use of the little evergreen as the central figure of the Christmas festival."

When Miss Hanky came to America about two years ago from Budapest she knew German and French but only about fifty words of English. Two hundred extras drew their salaries at the Metro-Goldwyn Mayer lot for eating ice cream sundaes and drinking ice cream sodas. They were part of a dance hall scene. This action called for a well patronized soda fountain, so one was installed with real soda "makers" to operate it. More than fifty gallons of ice cream and hundreds of sodas were consumed. make the "good relations flight" to Latin America. They are christened the "New York," "St. Louis,"
"San Francisco," "San Antonio" and "Detroit," in recognition of what these five cities are doing in commercial aviation. But behind the selection of those names stands a picture of official Washington rolling its head on sleepless pillows for many nights before the selection was made.

Names of international or national heroes of Latin America first were given consideration. But since each country has a different acknowledged hero, it would be difficult to select five without offending the countries not represented.

Famous early discoverers also were on the list but were eliminated for various reasons.

The ships of Columbus were suggested, but some historians show these were three in the discoverer's fleet, and five names were needed.

Names of rivers were advanced.
Again objections, on account of confusion that might arise in the transmission of dispatches, should, for example, the "Patana" crash into the "La Plata."

Nor was the selection of names the only problem. Choice of an emblem for the planes appeared to have possible international repercussions. The first emblem submitted had at the upper right edge the American Eagle, bearing an olive branch. But to certain officials there were things that might be misinterpreted. The eagle was too large. He was placed higher than the South American continent. What was more, flying towards and possibly some one might think the old bird was grinning, or even worse, smirking.

So, the apparent trite yet practical names of five American cities were adopted for the ships, and their emblem became a conventional one showing a winged circle enclosing the North and South American continents.

planned at sessions here today by of the Fundamentalistic Association opened today at the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of Wilmore, the national headquarters of the association.

The convention plans to extend the scope of the organization throughout the nation and by means of organization achieve the purpose of fundamentalism and confound the enemies of the Bible.

"We do not expect a very large number of delegates," the Rev. L.
L. Pickett, third vice president of the organization, said. "We aim to begin a small way, not to be hurried and gradually make the association a great agency for

WILD LIME BELT NOT WILD AT ALL, IS RECENT CLAIM

Henry Perrine, Famous Old Botanist, Brought Handful Of Seeds From Yucatan, Planted Them In Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 17.—(P)—Florida's so-called wild lime belt is not wild at all, but is the offspring of a handful of lime seeds, brought to the state from Yucatan, in 1827, by Dr. Henry Perrine, noted pioneer and botanist, who lost his life in the Indian massacre at Indian Key, Aug. 7, 1840.

This was the statement of Mrs. Sarah R. W. Palmer, of Miami, in an article appearing in the October quarterly published by the Florida Historical Society, in which Mrs. Palmer tells of some of the achievements of Dr. Perrine, her grandfather.

Dr. Perrine conceived the plan of introducing into Florida "the plants he knew nature could so well care for," Mrs. Palmer says, "in this God endowed state that his grandchildren's generation would think them wild."

From the seven plants of the Agave Sisalana, introduced by Dr. Perrine from Yucatan in 1834, or possibly as early as 1827, the writer continues, three on the grant, and four at Cape Florida, sprang the thousands now growing "wild" as far north as Jupiter. The Arabian coffee, now growing "wild" in the Florida woods, was attributed by Mrs. Palmer to Dr. Perrine's demonstrations, and to him, she says, is due the credit for introducing quinine into this country for medicinal purposes.

Dr. Perrine's great interest in Agave Sisalana, says the writer, was due to the fact that his demonstration had proved its fiber superior to all fibers, and which is now used exclusively by the United States navy.

New Treatment Is Found For Narcotic Addiction, Is Claim

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(P)—A new treatment for narcotic addiction successful in a seven months' trial in the Municipal Correctional Hospital is described today in the New York Medical Journal and Record.

Narcosis, discovered by A. S. Horvitz, a Hungarian immigrant bio-chemist, is said to eliminate the usual craving for drugs during treatment and to restore a patient to pre-narcotic condition within three weeks.

The article describing the treatment is signed by Dr. Alexander Lambert, attending physician at Bellevue Hospital and former president of the American Medical Association and Dr. Frederick Tilney, professor of neurology at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, and president of the American Neurological Association.

The American Medical Association through its official journal, cautions against use of the remedy until it has received a thorough trial under "controlled conditions" and until the product shall have been considered by the council. In addition to proving efficacious in the treatment of morphine, heroin and cocaine addiction, the report says the treatment can be used in cases of over-indulgence in alcohol and veronal.

wife, Peaches Heenan Browning, in demanding a goodly portion of his wealth.

Mary Louise, pretty daughter of Bohemian immigrants, is suing for $500,000. She charges Browning attempted assault when she was his legally adopted ward, and that he threatened her and her parents after the adoption was annulled. A peacock Christmas card salesman wanted in Browning's office an hour yesterday to see him, but the card showed the real estate dealer was a summons.

Browning, who on Jan. 21, is to defend a separation suit brought by Peaches, called the new action "a highway robbery."

The courts that let women get away with blackmail," he added. "They give the women whatever they want. Something ought to be done to protect a man in public life from attacks like this."

Browning is paying $300 a week alimony and $5,500 counsel fees in the separation suit of Peaches.

Main Aisle Gift Booths

Gordon And McCallum Hose $1.75

When selecting Christmas stockings, you are sure to want quality. That is what you will find in the pure silk hose we are offering for Friday and Saturday at this low price. You will enjoy choosing from the new shades of lustrous silk for aunt Jane and sister Sue, or for the intimate friend you just did not know what to give.

Silk Ties 95c

Another group of those fine silk ties for men. Men need have no uneasiness about their Christmas ties if they are selected from this group. Here are ties for every type, selected by men who know ties and what men like. The popular stripes, brocades and fancy jacquards. The colors are the newest, in moire, crepe, faille and other non-crushable fabrics.

Writing Paper In Fancy Gift Box 49c

There is always the small gift that you have almost forgotten. This box of note paper and correspondence cards of four different colors, will so nicely fill that need, and make some one happy. Then, too, you will find other choice gifts in stationery on the booth for convenient selection. All moderately priced for Christmas giving.

Knickerbockers The Inevitable Gift 50c

You know that you are going to give and to get Knickerbockers for Christmas! So did we—that is why we made such careful selections when buying them,—so you or your friends will not be disappointed when such lovely squares fall out of the Christmas stocking. Gayly colored and white ones, with hand embroidered initial or corner design. You may choose one or a dozen.

The richest kind of silks, moires, failles—wonderful colors and patterns, with new linings—and hand tailored. They are shown in a wide range that is priced from $1 to $7.50.

Wool mufflers and silk scarfs are the thing to set off the topcoat on cool nights. For gifts they cannot be beat. Then there are the new handkerchief scarfs. Prices from $5 to $25.

Pajamas also make gifts that are indeed exceptional and here is a real display for that purpose. They are displayed in plain colors and nobby patterns. Priced from $2.50 to $5.

If he is an out-of-doors man give him one of the following suggestions. Golf sweaters are priced from $7.50 to $25. Golf knickers from $10 to $18, and Golf Hose from $1.50 to $15.

Gentlemen Prefer!

This has nothing to do with the book that was written by Anita Loos regarding the preference of "gentlemen for a certain type of the fair sex" but it has a great deal with the gifts that men prefer.

If you want to eliminate that question, "What Shall I Give Him," consult this list then visit the Men's Fashion Corner where you will find everything that a man could desire in the way of gifts.

Our Tuxedos Have a Quality Air

Because they represent the very newest dress ideas

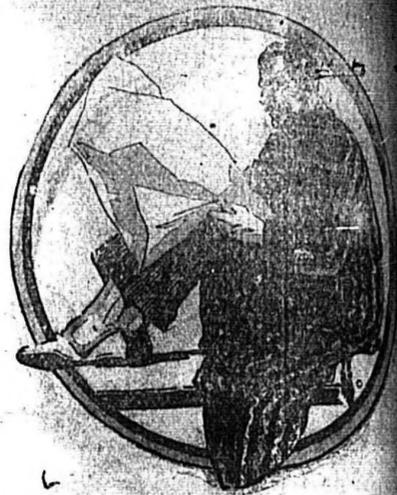

This quality air shows in the cut of the coat, the hang of the trousers—it shows even more plainly in the smart satin lapels, the rich silk linings—in the wealth of little style details. The best custom tailor couldn't do more for you at double the price. They are priced from $35 to $75.

The proper hat to wear with a tuxedo is the new derby—and it is exactly correct. This same hat, pictured here, is being shown by the most exclusive men's stores in the country. It is priced at $10.

Something else that is new—the dress shirt. You've never seen one like this before. Smart, good looking and neat appearing all the time, $4 to $4.50. The new Tuxedo ties are most correct. At $1.50.

Picking the lounging robe for him will be easy—silks from France, Italy, Spain—gorgeous quiet robes and sedate robes. The prices range from $15 to $100.

Shirt styles have turned a complete somersault and he'll like the light, bright ones that we are featuring. With collars to match, collar attached neckband style. $2.50 to $12.

Now if you want your gift to him to "fit right" give him a pair of gloves. That will turn the trick. For motoring or dress wear. They are priced from $3.50 to $5.

Hose that are stylish for Christmas gifts—new group of checks, plaids and stripes—woven of imported lisle silks and wools—range from $1 to $5.

King George, Like His Humblest Subject, Will Have Own Yule Party At His Home

BY MILTON BRONNER LONDON, Dec. 17.—Like the humblest Briton in the island, King George of Great Britain, Ireland, the Dominions beyond the sea and Emperor of India, will on Christmas Day tuck his feet beneath his own mahogany, surrounded simply by his dear ones, and will proceed to lay away "turkey and —"

Forced by his position to lead a life for most of the year, the king more or less formal and artificial has always made of Christmas what most people do—a time of privacy and family reunion. This year it will be more so than usual.
For he has selected to spend Christmas at Sandringham.

Sandringham Modern
Now Sandringham is not a palace in any sense of the word as are most of the king's official residences. It is in the country of Norfolk, where you get the combination of sea breezes and pine air.
Also, if there is any snow going, Sandringham gets it. For the king it is a relief from the rain, fog and muck of London.

And Sandringham, for Great Britain, is very modern. It was completed in 1871, having been built for his father, King Edward VII, when he was Prince of Wales.
He had it built to suit the tastes of himself and his wife, afterwards Queen Alexandra, and all his life it was his favorite residence. After his death, Queen Alexandra spent most of her long widowhood there.
And there she, too, died some months ago.

They'll All Be There Sandringham itself is not half as showy as the country residence of many rich British business men.
It is a three-story, red brick building in the Elizabethan style, surrounded by a park of 200 acres.
Much of the property in the neighborhood belongs to the king, so that he is the landlord, not only of many small farmers and villagers, but even of a public house on a suburb.

This year will find Sandringham the scene of the greatest royal gathering in decades. The only absence will be the king's uncle, the Duke of Cornwall, who goes every winter to the French Rivera to get away from the rigors of the British winter.

The king will be surrounded by all his sons. The last to arrive will be Prince George, the youngest who has been away in Chinese waters on naval service for a year.
Princess Mary, Lady Lascelles, will be there with her sons, as well as the Duke and Duchess of York and their baby. The king's sister

Queen Mary of Norway, also will be on hand.
The king is expected to having his turkey and "like everybody else, who can afford it, will also have a Christmas tree, and he will have to go far to get it. His estate has the finest trees in Britain and a long one will be cut down and sent in the big ball train at Sandringham.

Some years ago, when the ex-kaiser was not an enemy, but still "Cousin Wilhelm," he prepared a tree for Sandringham for his own Christmas celebrations at Epsom.

King George's tree will not only be brilliantly lighted, but it will be gifts for all his family. Furthermore, there will be suitable gifts for all the employees of the estate. And some time during the a speed boat and 25 cases of liquor gave their names as H. Sawyer, and Frank Alberson, 28.

Parry sighted the two boats ad-lay in wait. Before the craft beached, he jumped aboard and engaged in a scuffle, all finally falling into the water. He threat-

Parry several weeks ago made a similar seizure, along and without weapons, when he captured four men and a boat with liquor aboard, near Coral Gables.

of Florida to consider a revision of the plan of organization for the unification of home mission activities marked the close here today of the annual conference of the Presbyterians of Florida.

Over 400 men and women of the clergy and laity of the Presbyterian Church attended the conference which was called for the purpose of creating a "synodical consciousness in home missions and to recommend to the Florida synod the setting up of an unified home missions organization." The conference opened yesterday with Dr.
Charles Hadden Nabers, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Pensacola, chairman of the conference, presiding, and Dr. R. H. Mc-Caslin making the leading address on "The Challenge."

The resolution adopted declares that the work of the organization shall be confined to the specific synodical obligations in home missions such as the promotion of Palmer College, the work among the students at the State College for Women and the Latin-Americans of the St. Johns Presbytery. It also includes work among the negroes and the Seminole Indians.

The resolutions follow:
"That the synod and Presbyteries consider a revision of the ecclesiastical scheme of organization in the direction of unifying our home mission activities under the supervision of synod's committee of home missions.

"This work shall compromise those activities recognized as distinct synodical obligations. For example: The Latin-American people of St. Johns Presbytery; the support and development of Palmer College and the work among the students of the State College for Women in Tallahassee of Florida Presbytery; and student work in the University of Florida in Suwannee Presbytery; and other projects which might be considered such as work among the Seminole Indians and among the negroes.
"That is as much as bringing men to Christ is the chief business of the church, this conference approves the statewide evangelistic

the end that evangelistic services be held in all churches and other promising fields in the state, and earnest prayer be made for the power of the Holy Spirit upon our churches and people in carrying out the great task. This conference gives encouragement, standards and all possible urgency to the work of the campaign commanded by the synod.

"Believing that personal evangelism is of vital importance, the conference urges upon all churches the consideration and adoption of the group plan of evangelism at the end that men and women may be trained and used to bring the gospel to Christ."

Man Seeks Alimony From His Wife, 18

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—(AP)—A 20 year old husband asked an 18 year old wife to pay him alimony in a suit for separate maintenance on file here.

Shortly after Gerald Jiganti had filed the alimony suit against his wife, Isabelle, he learned that she had beaten him to it by filing a suit for divorce, charging cruelty. The suit mentioned that she made more than her husband and not ask support.

Jiganti's lawyer said that the alimony suit was filed only so the husband could meet his wife and try to effect a reconciliation.

BERLIN LETTER

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—(AP)—First-class travel is virtually a prison sentence in the eyes of President Von Hindenburg, who finds himself unable to do so simple a thing as look into a shop window. With the approach of Christmas and Berlin shops vying with each other in attractive displays, there is nothing the soldier-president would like to do more than mix among the shopping crowds and gaze at the window exhibits.

Such a diversion is denied him, however, because his mere appearance on foot would mean the stopping of all traffic. An incognito is impossible. His is the privilege enjoyed by King Saul of old, of whom the Scriptures say, "when he stood among people he was higher than any of the people from his shoulders upward."

The president's huge frame, his striking face cannot be disguised, even from the smallest street urchin. Close friends say that the president realizes he is paying a stiff price for popularity. Though he has lived in Berlin for a year and a half, he has never walked outside of the presidential gardens. What little he sees of Berlin is through the windows of his automobile.

Cries of "The crown prince is coming—gangway," have sounded through the streets of Berlin since Frederick William has taken a fondness for frequent automobile excursions from Castle Cecilienhof in Potsdam. Taking up the familiar cry from the days of the monarchy, communists in the Prussian diet are demanding that the state issue a decree prohibiting traffic cops from shouting orders of this kind. They assert that the former crown prince's limousine has been enabled to speed around town like a fire truck.

The communists further complain that police have been clicking their heels and saluting as the "royal" automobile sped by so as to make sane persons wonder whether they are living in a republic.

Waldemar Stresemann, 22 year old son of Foreign Minister Gustav Stresemann, cannot quite make up his mind whether he wants to be a lawyer or a musician. At present he is studying both law and music. Intimate friends say he will ultimately choose law as the more lucrative profession, though music will always remain his first love.

Ray Stresemann first attracted attention about a year ago when Max Von Schilling, former director general of the state opera, conducted a movement from a symphony composed by the budding composer from Wilhelm Strasse. More recently Stresemann has written a piano sonata which is about to be presented in Vienna. The young composer is frequently heard at musical events of prominence.

A beggar's union, the members of which confessed to earning from 14 to 25 a day, has been broken up by the police as the outgrowth of a slip-up of the "business agent." Several weeks ago a man was arrested for begging. It was his name as Fritz Noack and was sent to prison for two weeks. Later a second beggar was brought in. His name also was Fritz Noack. When a third Fritz Noack was arrested, the police decided to investigate. They discovered that the last man was really Fritz Noack, the brains of the beggars' union. He had furnished each of the dozen members of the union identification papers bearing his name, stationed each at a money making street corner and collected 50 per cent of the proceeds.

By the bob and shingle hair is a "menacing" popularity in Berlin the restaurateurs association has taken steps to combat what is called "grave evil" accompanying bobbed hair. In accordance with a resolution passed at a recent meeting of the association several restaurants have taken up signs reading: "No bobbed hair. It may not be polite to speak about it, but please do not comb your hair at the table."

Reasonably on stepping into a taxicab one is surprised to find a taxicab driver with a sign on his back which reads: "I have finished an assortment of plaques of Florida and other things $1.50 each. Yes, call on STUDIO, 509 Union Street."

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 17.—Another traditional ceremony of the Florida State College for Women, the "mock marriage," in which the Junior and Freshman classes are "wedded," fell by the wayside this year, when, instead of the "mock marriage," the "Ceremony of Fealty of the Class of 1928 and 1930" was held.

The ceremony was held at the home of the members of the faculty. In Edward's speech, he said that the ceremony was a tradition of the college and that it had always been regarded as a sacred ceremony. It is a tradition of the college and that it had always been regarded as a sacred ceremony. It is a tradition of the college and that it had always been regarded as a sacred ceremony.

The ceremony of the fealty was held in the hall of the college. The college auditorium was decorated with flags and bunting. Those taking part in the ceremony included Dorothy Grimbles, Doreen; Lucile Trapp, Tampa; Nola Mann Saunders, Pensacola; Wilma Anderson, St. Petersburg; Lois Hawkins, Jacksonville; Martha Brunson, Union Springs; Ala.; Maude Lake, Sanford; Fla.

War Department Asked For Permit To Build 3 Bridges On Overseas Highway

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 17.—(AP)—With applications entered for war department permits for construction of the bridges over the last reaches of navigable water in the proposed Overseas highway from Key West to the mainland, construction of the proposed route is believed here to have resolved itself into a mere problem of finance.

At a hearing here Dec. 8 specifications for the last three bridges over navigable water were approved by interested parties with the exception of small details to be worked out with little trouble. There now remains only approval by the war department to be attached to the plans. Little doubt is by county authorities, in whose hands the construction of the highway rests.

The three bridges discussed at the Dec. 8 meeting with the war department engineers here were in the Grass Key, Long Key, Lower Matecumbe Key and No Name Key vicinities. Shipping interests, county authorities and public agencies were allowed a last chance to protest any objectionable phase of the plans before submission for Washington approval. No suggestions were offered except as to a slight change in location for one

United States to study school of the bridges.
Construction on the "seagoing" highway is in progress at several points along the proposed route, but several gaps remain to be closed between sections included in contracts now in process of fulfillment.

MEN PLANS TO MAKE COMEBACK TOUR IN EUROPE

of American Tennis For Years Leaves Shortly Visit Across Ocean; Announced Wednesday

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(AP)—T. Tilden, ruler of American tennis for six years until displaced by a mighty Frenchman this year, will sail for Europe Jan. 20 to fight his way to tennis honors from his former national singles title.

Tilden planned to take with him Doeg, junior national champion, of Santa Monica, Calif., and F. Coen Jr., national champion, of Kansas City, to them for the assaults of the cup invaders when the "All of Tennis" and other players shall have been stepped aside.

Now visiting Coen in Philadelphia, Samuel Hardy, former Davis cup captain, who is making the necessary arrangements for the trip abroad.

W. Gibbons, president of the Philadelphia and Middle States Tennis Associations, says Tilden will probably compete in events in Germany and the Wimbledon championships as well as the Riviera events. He says Tilden is in excellent condition and ready to take the burden of regaining his crown.

Since Tilden plans meetings in La Costa, who broke through national singles titles by defeating Jean in all-French contest at Hills last fall, and Borotra, in the "Big Bill" in the indoor championships last year. Henri Cochet, who put off the national tourney, and Brugnon, fourth men in the French Davis cup, are other probable opponents.

Four-Ton Circus Elephant Captured After Wild Chase Lasting Four Days

OTTAWA, Kas., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Diamond, temperamental circus pachyderm, has allowed trainers to anchor him to a tree after staging a four day demonstration proving that southeastern Kansas fences, streams and small buildings are no handicap to a four ton elephant. Escaping from the winter quarters of a circus at Quenemp, last Saturday, Diamond started a cross country trek that interrupted and speeded traffic and caused farmers to temporarily abandon out-ride work along an 80 mile route times but when approached would renew his tour in whatever direction he happened to be facing. Heavy shot from guns of possemen failed to alter his course. Commercial clubs then entered the picture, with suggestions including placing traps of peanuts from the snufflower jungles to the circus quarters. Fearing that he might develop pneumonia, trainers yesterday appeared with two circus horses used in moving the elephant herd from trains. As soon as the horse approached the huge beast stopped, swaying from side to side and generally intimated surrender. While he stroked the horses with his trunk, the trainers hobbled him

U.S. GOLF BODY MAKES $30,000 IN PAST SEASON

National Championship Golf Proves To Be Profitable; Jones Drew Biggest Gate

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(AP)—National championship golf was championed at a profit of $30,000 to the United States Golf Association this year, reports to the annual meeting of the organization next month in Pittsburgh will show.

The bulk of this sum was derived from the amateur and open championships. A statement received from the Scioto Club at Columbus, Ohio, scene of the open tournament, shows that $22,987.50 was paid by spectators to see Bobby Jones win the championship. One half of this amount goes to the U. S. G. A.

The U. S. G. A. also cleared more than $11,000 on admissions alone at the amateur championship, contested in September over the Baltusrol course. Additional profit was realized from entry fees of $5 for each player in the two tournaments. There were almost 700 aspirants for the open championship and 150 for the amateur.

To this income will be added the revenue from the women's amateur championship at Haverford, Pa., figures of which have not yet been available. The attendance was considerably reduced, by rain on almost every day of the event.

In its report on the open games that its treasury was swelled by $9,029.91 profit. There was a total revenue of $43,416.56 from admissions, the restaurant, advertising, parking, concessions, programs and entertainment, while the expenses of the tournament ran to $34,386.65.

The flourishing financial condition of the U. S. G. A. is balanced by the growth of the game in all sections of the country. More than 20 new courses sprang up, increasing the total 3,032, of which 100 are municipal links.

STATE BOARD IS TO GATHER SOON AT JACKSONVILLE

Budget For Next Year Will Be Arranged To Cover Cost Of Operating Several Institutions Of Higher Learning

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 17.—The State Board of Control will meet at Jacksonville, Dec. 21, to prepare its next budget to be submitted to the legislature next April.

Requests of alumnae of the University of Florida and State College for Women for adequate appropriations to take care of the increase in growth at the two institutions, taken under consideration at the last monthly session, held at Jacksonville, will be taken up again when the budget is prepared.

R. M. McGuire, of Orlando; George McKee, Tampa; R. M. Wiley, Tallahassee, and Dr. Cason, Jacksonville, appeared before the board at the Gainesville meeting in the interest of the alumni of the University of Florida, and Mrs. J. V. McCollum, of Gainesville, president of the alumni association of the State College for Women, represented the latter institution.

Matters of only a routine nature were otherwise handled at Gainesville, but at the next regular session of the board, to be held here on Jan. 17, bids will be received for the erection of a proposed academic building, at the Florida State College for Women, to cost approximately $35,000.

Bids will also be received there for the construction of about a mile of a mile of paving at the university.

Other bids will be asked for from time to time on other improvements at the various state institutions, according to J. T. Diamond, secretary of the board.

Schumann-Heink Considers Motherhood And American Citizenship Big Triumphs

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink considers motherhood and American citizenship superior to the triumphs of 50 years on the operatic and concert stage.

The 65 year old singer gave her views at a testimonial luncheon in her honor yesterday. She is midway on a "golden jubilee" tour of 20,000 miles.

"The greatest thing to me is not honors I have received," she told 1,000 men and women present. "It is that I am an American citizen and a mother. The happiest days of my life were the war days, when I sang for the soldier boys. The boys were wonderful. All of them looked upon me as a sort of foster mother."

Five of Madame Schumann-Heink's sons fought in the world war, four for the United States and one for Germany as a U-Boat officer. He was killed when his boat sank.

The singer was praised as the "Mother of Seven and grandmother of 11," and toasted as "the woman with the golden voice and the golden heart," but she proclaimed herself "a good cook," and "not a society girl, but a hard worker."

Henry W. Taft, president of the League for Political Education, which sponsored the entertainment, said: "With Cicero, Madame Schumann-Heink believes old age best of all."

Guido Gatti-Cazza, director of the Metropolitan Opera said her "marvelous voice and wonderful art" should "enable her to continue to sing her roles until the age of at least 100 years."

evening of Dec. 23. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. H. D. Durant reports that there is more genuine religious zeal and fervor in the Methodist Church than ever before. The recent revival with Rev. G. A. Klein, evangelist, was one of the greatest they have ever had. She also states that there were 15 members added to the church and 10 more have signified their intention of becoming members.

The Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting last Monday evening with a good attendance. It went on record as favoring the changing of the name of Third Street to the Country Club Road, also the name of Sanford Avenue, Lake Mary, to Lake Mary Boulevard.

The Planning Committee recently attended the piping of water to the cemetery and further plans for beautifying same. It also passed a resolution to plant a tree in front of the building on the corner of Third and the County Club Road.

It was voted to make a living room in the Lake Mary School to be used as a prize for the debating societies and to be handed down from year to year. The following executive committee to consist of Community Christian League under the auspices of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce on Christmas Eve was appointed: W. G. Ferguson, Frank Evans, H. D. Durant, A. J. DeKham, Donald Anderson.

Lake Mary was well represented in the recent meeting of the Parent Teachers Association at DeLand. Fifteen of the boys were present by Rev. James Thompson, with a report on the school and after a report on the progress of the school, arrived at DeLand in fine form. Those taking the trip were: Kenneth Hyatt, Samuel Gellan, Chas. Whitaker, Ross Whitaker, Woodrow Duxon, Albert Whitaker, Edith Watson, Mrs. Hutchinson, Frank Taylor, R. Z. Johnson, Fred Williams, Berger Weston.

The New Edison Phonograph

40 MINUTES OF MUSIC ON A SINGLE RECORD

A NEW invention of Thos. A. Edison. Creates entire concert, complete recitals, and all the musical accompaniment of a full-course dinner. All this—40 minutes of Re-Created music—on a SINGLE, double-faced record. The music, that formerly required an entire album of records to reproduce, now contained on one New Edison 40-Minute Record, no larger in size than a short-playing record.

Six minutes of music on the ordinary record costs 75c; on the New Edison 40-Minute Record, only 38c, and on the 24-Minute Record, only 44c. Mr. Edison, therefore, has cut the cost of phonograph music in half. The New Edison Long-Playing Phonograph (4 new console models) costs no more than old-fashioned short-playing phonographs. Never before was good music so economical. Your Edison dealer is now giving free public 40-Minute Concerts all day, every day. Hear this new miracle of music. Write for descriptive folder.

HIGH CLASS RADIO SET AT A BIG BARGAIN

This is one of the standard makes and brings in station all over the country loud and clear enough to be heard all over the house. Having been obliged to take this set on a date, and having had no use for it, as I already had a high class radio, I was obliged to sell it to a quick buyer for one third the price asked for sets of equal efficiency. It is brand new, is complete with all accessories, and I have installed it at my residence where I will be pleased to demonstrate it if you will telephone any evening after 7:00 P. M. Young, Tel. Tomato Seed Three of Florida's Best Why Take a Chance? KILGORE SEED COMPANY offers you proven stock and proven varieties of tomato seed that have returned to the Florida tomato growers LONG PROFITS for years. This crop is too important and too expensive for any grower to take chances, there is no necessity for it when we can offer seed absolutely proven by many years' test by thousands of growers in every nook and corner of Florida. NO. 1 KILGORE'S CROWN SELECTED GLOBE KILGORE'S CROWN SELECTED means greater vitality, quick, uniform germination, vigorous plant growth and abundant production of first grade fruit of unsurpassing quality. Early and one of the finest shippers, very hardy, and on account of the great care exercised in producing, selecting and reselecting the seed stock gives wonderful vigor to each plant and makes it resistant to the various ills that affect many tomato crops. It's what the markets want, as it has the quality, earliness and appearance. Oz. $1.25, 1-4 lb. $4.00; Lb. $15.00 delivered. NO. 2 KILGORE'S EXTRA SELECTED GLOBE Has grown more popular each year for fifteen years. This variety is a strong and luxuriant grower and wonderful producer of enormous quantities of early marketable tomatoes. Plants stay green and in bearing condition long after many other globe types are dead and dried up. Among the earliest globes, it's smooth fruit matures perfectly, does not crack and has large well filled hands close together. Oz. 50c; 1-4 lb. $1.65; Lb. $6.00 delivered. NO. 3 GENUINE MARGLOBE A new scarlet globe variety developed by Mr. F. J. Prichard of the U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry, the originator of this variety. Our MARGLOBE seed has been produced from stock seed furnished by Mr. F. J. Prichard. MARGLOBE has been grown in Florida in a limited way for a year or two and the main claim for it is, that it is resistant to nail-head rust and wilt. MARGLOBE is a second early, red fruited variety. Its plants are medium large, erect and fairly dense. It usually produces heavy yields of large, smooth, meaty globular fruits, which ripen uniformly around the stem and, resists cracking well and maintains good quality fruit throughout a relatively long picking season. Oz. $1.00; 1-4 lb. $3.25; Lb. $12.00 delivered. KILGORE SEED CO. SANFORD — PLANT CITY FLORIDA FREE TREATMENT FOR SEED WHERE DESIRED

Southwestern Section Of Florida Leads In Building Of Hotels And Apartments

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 17. (AP)—The southwestern section of Florida led the other districts of the state in the construction of hotels, apartment houses and restaurants during August, September and October, state hotel commissioner.

The announcement was based upon construction permits for the three classes of structures, issued through the hotel department here.

The Southeastern district was next in order in the valuation. That district led the northeast, central and southwest in August, but was far behind the southwest in September and October.

Following are the figures for the permits issued for the three months:

Southwest: Three hotels, 20 apartments, 26 restaurants, $1,326,030.

Total for month: Five hotels, 56 apartments, 28 restaurants, $2,038,820.

October

Northeast district: Fourteen apartments, 4 restaurants, $238,940.

Central: one hotel, 3 apartments, 4 restaurants, $39,500.

Southeast: one hotel, 13 apartments, 2 restaurants, $342,800.

Southwest: Six hotels, 20 apartments, 22 restaurants, total $568,900.

Total for October: Eight hotels, 50 apartments, 32 restaurants, $1,190,150.

New Bakery Adds Feature Of Selling

Hot rolls and bread are to be served the customers of the new Electric, Maid Baking Company, corner of Magnolia Avenue and Third Street, at noon and early evening during the week days and on Sundays from 4:30 o'clock, p. m. to 8:30 o'clock, according to R. E. Moore, the owner.

Mr. Moore, a resident of Sanford, has announced that the public is welcome to visit the bakery at any time. He has made it known that he wants his customers to see how a modern bakery is operated and also to see the line of baked goods and delicacies which are sold.

The bakery is to cater to banquets and all special functions.
