Judge denies fine stay

SANFORD - Seminole County Circuit Judge John Antoon II ruled Friday the county fine against Art Lane dumper Frank Sobotka may not be halled at a 1987 amount. The fine now exceeds $1.1 million.

The decision could allow the fine to accrue indefinitely until stayed by a court decision or Sobotka cleans up the property according to county requirements. Sobotka's attorney Mike Jones plead to Antoon Wednesday to freeze the fine at the $129,750 amount established on July 27, 1987 by the county code board. Subequent legal actions taken by his client served to freeze the fine at the lower level, Jones argued.

But county code board attorney Kevin Carden argued the fine would continue to mount until Sobotka complied with the county code.

Child hit by car

A third grader at Heathrow Elementary School will be hobbling around his classes for a while, but his injuries following a run-in with a car as he got off the school bus on Friday, did not require hospitalization.

According to a representative of the Florida Highway Patrol. Greg McDavid, 9, was getting off the school bus Friday afternoon at about 2:40 at Markham Woods Road at Dawn Court when a passing car ran over his foot.

He was transported to South Seminole Community Hospital and treated for a broken leg before being released a short time later.

Beer kingpin here Budweiser distributor confirms Sanford for satellite facility

SANFORD - An executive of the company that distributes Budweiser beer in Central Florida confirmed Friday their company will expand by building a major distribution facility in Sanford.

Max Daugherty, president of Wayne Densch Inc. of Orlando, said construction could begin in January on the 32-year-old company's first satellite distribution facility at a 10-acre site northeast of State Road 46 and Rand Yard Road. The facility should be operational by July, he said. The land and construction will cost a total of $3 million to $4 million, Daugherty said.

Daugherty said the facility could provide employment for 35 to 40 people, including some possible new employees. The facility will serve as a distribution and sales base for all Wayne Densch customers in Seminole County and north Lake County, he said. About a quarter of the company's 8 million cases of beer distributed annually is in the Seminole-Lake region, considered in reverse order.

Daugherty said.

"We anticipated continued growth in that area so we decided to expand," Daugherty said.

THE STRUCTURE OF CASE

The company applying for city approval for the facility is Mountain Distributors Inc., also based in Orlando at the Wayne Densch corporate headquarters. Daugherty, agent for Mountain Distributors, said Mountain is used to make land purchases for Densch.

At its Dec. 14 meeting, Sanford commissioners took two steps to approve the facility, which an engineer said will be 60,000 square feet in size. Commissioners approved a rezoning from medium industrial uses to planned development and authorized annexation of the unincorporated property. The property is currently owned by Diane K. Myers and Michael Myers, according to city documents.

Although the first step in the rezoning preceeded the annexation vote, City Attorney Bill Colbert said when the commission considers the proposal for a final vote, they'll have to be

Butler says police were lax at dance

By VICKI Desormier Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - A Friday night altercation between two teens may have gotten a little out of hand because three Sanford Police officers hired as security personnel at a teen dance failed to do their jobs properly, the dance organizer claimed.

"The officers were paid to be there," Gene 'Mean Gene" Butler said yesterday. "If they did their job they could have deleted a lot of problems."

Though no one was injured and no arrests were made in the fight, Butler said the incident could have been diffused much sooner.

Three life terms

JACKSONVILLE - A landscaper has been sentenced to three consecutive life terms after pleading guilty to strangling a Jacksonville insurance worker.

Thomas Canty, 26, pleaded guilty to first-degree murder, armed kidnapping and armed robbery, all of which carry a life sentence.

He admitted killing Patricia Pascual Frazier, 22, after meeting her at an Arlington nightspot. He left her body in Jacksonville Beach. Police said the woman was sexually assaulted after death.

The sentence comes "about as close as we're ever going to making sure somebody spends the rest of his life in prison," said Assistant State Attorney John Whited. Canty will not be eligible for parole for 75 years.

Hurricane wake

MIAMI - About 5,000 people are still living in cars, bushes or makeshift camps in the wake of Hurricane Andrew, and Dade County officials have asked for federal help to build a new tent city.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency, which closed tent cities built by the military in October, contends the county should care for the new homeless because many are not eligible for federal aid.

But county agencies, already overwhelmed with the task of rebuilding entire communities, are pleading for federal help. "We needed a tent city just a few days after FEMA closed the last one," Andy Menendes, the county director of homeless programs, said Friday. FEMA "didn't believe our numbers, but now we have documentation to prove the need is real."

ST. PETERSBURG - The arrest of three men on charges of extorting money from Chinese restaurants has raised concern among police that notorious Asian gange are making inroads in the Tampa Bay area.

The three men arrested Wednesday are charged with extorting money from three restaurants by forcing them to pay $200 a week in protection money. If they didn't, harm would come to their businesses, their families or themselves. Hos Nguyen, 15, of Kenneth City and Troue Thanh Tran, 20, of St. Petersburg, were charged with extortion and armed robbery. Lake Mary to meet with school board

By NICK PFEIFAUF Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY - Expansion of Lake Mary Elementary School is still on hold. Consideration of joint agreements between the city and the Seminole County School Board were tabled during Thursday night's Lake Mary City Commission meeting.

In making a presentation on the situation, City Planner Matt West and City Manager John Litton recommended tabling any further discussion, as agreements on the school expansion project could not be finalized. Some of the controversy centers on whether the city has jurisdiction over such matters as location of portable classrooms, traffic circulation, parking, and fire safety.

A safety study of the area has not been made. Police Capt. Sam Belfiore told Mayor Lowry Rocket he intends to have some of the study partially completed on Dec. 29, but would withhold completion of the traffic flow aspects of the study until after school resumes following the holidays.

The Commission approved a request by Litton to set up a joint official meeting between the commission and School Board on Jan. 14 to discuss possible solutions. The meeting was unanimously approved al-though a site for the meeting has not been determined. "They don't want to hold it in the city commission chambers," Litton said, "I guess they want to hold it somewhere else, on neutral ground."

countries in Europe and the Middle East, was under the rule of Rome. Cacear Augustus decreed all people under his dominion would have to go to their places of birth to be counted and taxed.

Palestine was subject to an army of occupation headed by a military governor. Pontius Pilate. He was the fifth of six Romans to serve in that capacity. King Herod was permitted to serve by consent of the Romans.

We don't know exactly how many kings from the Orient followed the "Star." Since they brought gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh, many simply believed there were three. And, we don't exactly know how long after the child was born they arrived. But we do know the oriental kings stopped in Jerusalem for information about the birth of a boy child who would become the kind of the Jews. Consequently we know Herod ordered all Hebrews under two years of age be slain.

The child's earthly parents returned to Nazareth by a route that would not expose the child to Herod's wrath. The scriptures tell us that when the child was 12 years old he went with his folks to Jerusalem for the Passover which included visits to the temple. When the feast was over his parents started back to Nazareth. They had completed a day's journey before they realized their son was not with them. They went back to Jerusalem and found him discussing the scriptures with the doctors and scholars. The family returned to Galilee and the boy became a carpenter

- following his earthly father's profession.

At the age of 30 the man left his parents. He heard there was a man named John at a place on the Jordan River, preaching re-pentance and baptizing folks, and telling them that one mightier than he would come soon and baptize people with the Holy Ghost.

When the Galilean was baptized John, known as the Baptist, he knew the man from Nasareth was unique in more ways than one.

At this point in time the Nazarene began his ministry. He had no church and no synagogue. He walked and taught wherever he could. On one occasion he stood on a mountain side and spoke to as many as 5.000 men, not including women and children. He did this without a public address system. In fact, he didn't even have a builhorn.

From time to time he amaged almost everybody by caring for the sick, healing the lame, making blind folks see and the deaf to hear, walking on water, ordering fierce winds to become calm, filling the nets of commercial fishermen and calling some folks who had died, from their graves.

During his life he never went to college, never attended a seminary, never ran for or held public office, never had a home of his own, never married and never had a family. The only thing he ever owned was the robe he wore. He may have owned sandals but we're not sure he didn't go barefoot.

On one occasion he went to a wedding. The supply of wine ran low. He turned water into the finest of wines.

Oh. yes, one day he had a meal with a tax collector and some of his followers didn't appreciate him doing so. The Sanhedrin the parliament of the people of his day, accused him of violating laws of the Sabbath.

This remarkable man's ministry didn't last for 30-some years. It lasted only three, folks, from the time he left Nazareth until the public turned against him and his friends ran away from him. One of his closest and dearest friends denied on one occasion he ever knew him. He was acclaimed King of the Jews with a crown of thorns, scourged and was sentenced to death. He was made to bear his own cross. to Calvary (known as Golgotha, the place of the "skull.") There he was crucified be- edition of the New Testament.

tween two thieves while his executioners gambled for the only thing he owned - his robe. His body was laid in a borrowed grave. Folks, from "Way Back Then" until now, some centuries have come and gone. Yet this man's brief ministry took him less than 100 miles from home. He never was heard on a radio, never seen on television, never traveled in an auto, on a Greyhound bus, on a passenger train or flew in an airplane.

Yet, today this man is the principle figure of the human race.

There have been millions of books written and published about sociology by scholars on every level of education. Yet, every principle expounded in these volumes can be found in what is known as a "red letter"

Teen charged with murder of principal

By LARRY NEUMEISTER Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK - Grade schoolers joined hundreds of mourners to grieve the death of a principal who was fatally shot in a housing project as he looked for a young pupil who had strayed from school.

Police said Patrick Daly apparently was caught in crossfire when a shootout among three people broke out, apparently over drugs. "When he'd bring us to lunch, we'd stand in line and sing songs," D'Anna Smith, a third-grader, said Friday as hundreds of neighborhood residents crowded into P.S. 15 to honor Daly. "I'm going to miss him.

Shamel Burroughs, 17, who lives in the project, was charged with second-degree murder Friday. Two other people were being sought, said Vincent Pisso, chief of detectives for the city Housing Police Department. Daly, who frequently walked children home to make sure they were safe, was halled as a hero at the school in Brooklyn's Red Hook section.

"We must as best we can celebrate a life well-lived, as was the case when we lost Robert Kennedy and John Kennedy, Martin Luther King and Malcolm X." Mayor David Dinkins said.

In the school, which has 650 pupils from pre-kindergarten to sixth grade, children were encouraged to write about their memories of Daly or to draw as therapy to cope with the loss.

The 48-year-old father of three had gone to look for a fourth-grader who left achool after a fight when he got caught in the shootout police said was trig-gered by a drug dispute.

Three life terms

JACKSONVILLE - A landscaper has been sentenced to three consecutive life terms after pleading guilty to stranging a Jacksonville insurance worker

Thomas Canty, 26, pleaded guilty to first-degree murder, armed kidnapping and armed robbery, all of which carry a life sentence.

He admitted killing Patricia Pascual Frazier, 22, after meeting her at an Ariington nightspot. He left her body in Jacksonville Beach. Police said the woman was sexually assaulted after death.

The sentence comes "about as close as we're ever going to making sure somebody spends the rest of his life in prison," said Assistant State Attorney John Whited. Canty will not be eligible for parole for 75 years.

Hurricane wake

MIAMI — About 5,000 people are still living in cars, bushes or makeshift camps in the wake of Hurricane Andrew, and Dade County officials have asked for federal help to build a new tent city. The Federal Emergency Management Agency, which closed tent cities built by the military in October, contends the county should care for the new homeless because many are not eligible for federal aid.

But county agencies, already overwhelmed with the task of rebuilding entire communities, are pleading for federal help. "We needed a tent city just a few days after FEMA closed the last one," Andy Menendes, the county director of homeicas programs, said Friday. FEMA "didn't believe our numbers, but now we have documentation to prove the need is real."

Lake Mary to meet with school board

By MCK PFEIFAUF Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY - Expansion of Lake Mary Elementary School is still on hold. Consideration of joint agreements between the city and the Seminole County School Board were tabled during Thursday night's Lake Mary City Commission meeting.

In making a presentation on the situation, City Planner Matt West and City Manager John Litton recommended tabling any further discussion, as agreements on the school expansion project could not be finalized. Some of the controversy centers on whether the city has jurisdiction over such matters as location of portable classrooms, traffic circulation, parking, and fire safety.

A safety study of the area has not been made. Police Capt. Sam Belflore told Mayor Lowry Rocket he intends to have some of the study partially completed on Dec. 29, but would withhold completion of the traffic flow aspects of the study until after school resumes following the holidays.

The Commission approved a request by Litton to set up a joint official meeting between the commission and School Board on Jan. 14 to discuss possible solutions. The meeting was unanimously approved although a site for the meeting has not been determined. "They don't want to hold it in the city commission chambers," Litton said, "I guess they want to hold it somewhere else, on neutral ground."

The School Board wants to relocate some of the portable classrooms, as well as make

CAPE CANAVERAL — Discovery has returned to its home base from the eighth and final shuttle flight of 1992. Riding piggyback on its Boeing 747 carrier aircraft, the shuttle touched down Friday on the Kennedy Space Center runway at 2:41 p.m. Discovery and its five-member military crew lifted off with a spy satellite Dec. 2 and were supposed to return directly to Florida Dec. 9.

But clouds moving in from the Atlantic Ocean forced a diversion to Edwards Air Force Base in California. NASA administrators worried that rain could damage the shuttle's thermal tiles.

At least 54 nuclear experts from abroad - though none from the United States - have been hired by the mullah's regime. Dosens of Chinese and Russian experts are regularly traveling to and from Iran. These experts are engaged in nuclear research, training Iranian nuclear specialists, supervising the construction of facilities and setting up nuclear reactors. Of all these foreigners, the two most potent are a Russian expert from Kasakhatan and one from Turkmenistan. Both have been hired at huge salaries to work in the training and research department in the Atomic Energy Organization in Teheran. To our friends and neighbors in Sanford,

There has been a lot of talk recently about Seminole Towne Center and its impact on the community. Some say it's bad, some say it's good. But we think it's time to present the facts, so you can see for yourself how it will affect you.

Fact #1 Seminole Towne Center will create jobs.

The mall will create 1,400 construction jobs and more than 2,700 permanent jobs. Obviously, this will be a boon to local residents and businesses.

Fact #2

Seminole Towne Center will help Sanford improve its roads.

The project's development includes the most comprehensive traffic and road construction plan of any regional mall in Central Flordia. This means you won't have to suffer the traffic gridlock that's prevalent around other area shopping centers.

Fact #3

Seminole Towne Center will create revenue for the city, the county and local schools.

In the first ten years of operation, Seminole Towne Center will net the city of Sanford $8% million, Seminole County will net $13% million and local schools will net $15 million.

Fact #4

Seminole Towne Center will bring quality shopping to Sanford.

With six department stores and a unique mix of smaller shops, Sanford residents will be able to find everything from soup to nuts, in one convenient location.

We wish you a happy holiday season and a prosperous new year. We're looking forward to 1993, when Seminole Towne Center gets underway. We hope you are, too.

Dog gone: Statuesque pets live on

By R.B. FALLSTROM Associated Press Writer

DEXTER, Mo. - Somewhere in a living room in Michigan. Max the German shepherd stands eternal guard.

Not the flesh-and-bone Max, but his ashes, mixed with clay and molded into a lifelike statue. Sound morbid? Maybe to some, but it sounded like a good Idea to Susan McNeely, who founded Everlasting Memories 11/2 years ago.

"It's so hard to lose a friend," she said. "I'm a real pet lover. My gosh, I've had everything from turtles to goats." McNeely, 43, moved into entrepreneurship after her cat, Casey, died accidentally in 1987 as exterminators worked at her home. This was to be no shoebox funeral.

"I wanted something more than the old, flat photograph to remember Casey by," McNeely said.

So under a potted plant and next to the TV set in McNeely's living room rests a small like-ness of the deceased calico cat.

Unfortunately, the statue doesn't contain any of Casey's ashes. It wasn't until 1991 that McNeely perfected her process and received a patent.

The statue work is done in Grand Rapids, Mich., where McNeely's sister and the company's co-owner, Patricia McNeely Soechtig, lives and where McNeely has had better luck finding artists.

The company has several artists who take about a month to create the likeness of a small pet and up to twice that long for a full-size reproduction such as Max, the German shepherd.

But it has been slow going for Everlasting Memories. Only two German shepherds, four cats and a raccoon have been immortalized, and a cat named Yum-Yum is now undergoing the process.

The cost may be prohibitive. One everlasting memory can range from $250 to $1,250, depending on the replica's size and how much detail is desired. But McNeely reasons that attention to detail should help her survive in an increasingly competitive field. Pet owners have plenty of options these days, ranging from a $50 cremation for a small dog to burials at $100 and up. McNeely's method of pet immortalization was a new one for Carolyn Shea, executive director of the International Association of Pet Cemeteries in Land-O-Lakes, Fig. But she wasn't surprised.

"I honestly believe that people should do whatever makes them feel better, whether it's a human or a pet," said Shea, who owns a pet cemetery herself. "These days, the majority of the people think the pet is a member of a family."

While McNeely's success hasn't been enough to make her quit her job as a parts inspector for Purolator Products, she's optimistically branching out. She recently formed Timeless Tributes to produce - brace yourself - busts of humans using the same process, for $2,150 each.

For a trial run this summer, her family had a bust made of her father, Virden McNeely, who was cremated after his death 20 years ago.

"Dad had a good sense of humor," McNeely said. "I think he would have enjoyed this." She's hoping others will, too.

"Twe had calls from all around the United States," McNeely said. "No one who walks the face of this earth wants to be forgot-ten, and this is such an eloquent way to remember a loved one."

Auction turns Christie's into a Mad-house

By The Associated Prass

NEW YORK - Bidders from around the country turned ven-erable Christie's into a Mad-house, vying for twisted pieces of memorabilia as anything-for-a-laugh Mad magazine put its archives up for sale. The four panels of Frank Frazetta's "Early One Morning in the Jungle" — a Tarzan scene estimated to be worth 95,000 to estimated to be worth $5,000 to $7,000 before the auction — sold for $30,800 at Friday's sale. The big-ticket items — original cover art most of it featuring the "what, me" worry?" amile of Alfred E. Neuman — went on the block in mint condition after being stored in a vault since their creation. The second bighest price

Mingo cov-ers of Neuman disguised as a guru and a soldier fetched $9,900 each to the for third place. The laughs may be cheap, but the prices were not. Of 322 works offered, 308 went for a total of $636,625 - including a total of $636,625 - including a 10 percent buyer's premium --that will go into Mad's coffers.

"Things consistently went for well over the highest (estimate) or above, in some cases doubling or tripling the highest," said Christie's spokesman Todd Merrill. The auction house would not release the names of the buyers.

In carly bidding, Sergio Aragones' "I Remember the Wondrous Woodstock Music Fair" parody sold for $2,240 -triple the presale estimate of $700.

The magazine's archives were opened after the death this year of Mad's founder, William M. Gaines.

Most of the items date back to Mad's vintage 1966-75 era, when the magazine's circulation was more than 2% million. Circulation these days is about 1 million.

Tourism board to poll restaurants on tax plan

By The Associated Press

TAMPA - The Florida Tourism Commission will randomly poll some of state's restaurants to see if they would agree to a tax plan, including an exemption for small restaurant tabs, to raise money to promote tourism.

The commission wants the Legislature to hand over some taxing authority to raise $40 million annually to attract visitors to the state.

At the same time, the Florida Restaurant Association is peppering state lawmakers' mailboxes with pleas to kill the tax plan.

Because of opposition to the tax plan from the restaurant industry, the 17-member commission decided Thursday to ask some of Florida's restaurateurs if they would agree to a tax exempting tabs below $5.

Florida, the nation's No. 1 tourist destination, lags behind other states in the amount it spends on self-promotion. Texas spends the most at $26.8 million, compared with Florida's $14.2 million.

The commission was created last year to develop and finance a five-year marketing plan for statewide tourism. The $28 billion industry employs more than 660,000 people, making it the biggest sector of Florida's economy.

The commission wants to be able to decide each year how much to collect from taxes on cruise ship tickets, hotel bills, attraction tickets, bus charters and bar and restaurant tabs. A seventh segment of the industry - car rentals would keep charging customers $2 a day for promotion.

Taxing power would be tiny, adding up to 2 cents on a $10 transaction or $2 for a gruise ship fare. A restaurant tax would be capped at 1 cent on a $10 bill.

The pennies of new tax add up quickly for huge attractions like Walt Disney World, which would pay new taxes from its hotels and restaurants as well as park admission tickets.

Disney and two other major Central Florida theme park owners - Anheuser-Busch Cos. and Universal Studios - said they supported the plan but want more flexibility in how to pay it.

"We're very close to agreement," said Diana Morgan, a Disney government relations executive. "But we're going to have to be more flexible to keep everybody in the boat. I don't know how we can call this a consensus when the restaurants, which would collect more than 40 percent of the money, are fighting it."

Opposition from the restaurant industry, which gets about 30 percent of its business from tourists, helped kill previous attempts to have the tourist industry pick up more of its own promotion tab.

The big attractions want to have tax payment options, such as separating the tax payment on their standard ticket price for competitive reasons. Some think they should be able to account for the collection as a "donation."

Juvenile Justice Center has organized to address blacks

By JACKIE HALLIFAX Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE - The Juvenile Justice Center has been formed to stem the flow of Florida's black teen-agers into the state's courts, detention centers and prisons, the founders safd.

"We are here to fill a void with the creation of an organization that focuses on minority youth

Eric Whitehead, who had served as director of the Legislature's Juvenile Justice Commission, rattled off the statistics underlying the creation of the new private, non-profit center.

Forty percent of the 95,000 Florida teens arrested last year were black, more than 70 percent of the 1,200 teen-agers imprisoned as adults two years ago were black, and 70 percent inghouse," Holmes said. The center also wants to see a separate state agency created to deal exclusively with delinquency, Whitehead said. Phased in over the next six months to a year, the center will be divided into a research unit and a government relations arm. It will try to fund itself with memberships, corporate donations and grants.

This year, one of the center's legislative goals is to get Notice is hereby given that the

and the criminal justice system," the Rev. R.B. Holmes Jr., pastor of the Bethel Missionary Baptist Church, said Friday.

Across the state and nation, four of every five young black men either get in trouble with the law or are killed, according to Maurice Crockett, a member of the Florida Parole Commission.

Less people falling ill with flu this year

By LAURAN HEERGAARD Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA - While it's too early to tell if this will be a mild flu year, so far Americans haven't been suffering as much as they were last winter.

"But you just can't tell with fluwhen it's going to pop up." Lynnette Brammer, a flu specialist with the federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, said Thursday.

The CDC had urged Americans to get their flu shots early this fall, but doesn't know if that's what helped this year. Ms. Brammer said. This year's virus could be weaker, or simply one that will hit hardest in January and February, generally the worst flu months.

Also, many flu cases probably haven't been reported to the CDC, Ms. Brammer said.

"The majority of people who catch influenza don't go to the doctor in the first place," she said.

Last year the United States experienced a flu epidemic that began in October, two months before flu season usually hits.

The bug was at its peak by Dec. 14, 1991, and the majority of patients were hit by Type A, the worst strain.

This year the first U.S. out-Sweden and the Netherlands. break was reported the week of Dec. 5 in a high school in Washington state. About 170 of the 1.450 students — almost 12 percent - were absent, reportcases have been identified in six ing flu or flu symptoms, the CDC other countries, the CDC said.

The Washington Health Department questioned the report. saying that just two cases were confirmed by a lab. Spokesman Dean Owen said the absences may have been due to a variety of causes.

Fewer than 25 flu patients have been reported in 10 other states, and no other outbreaks have been reported yet, the CDC said. After Washington, Oregon appears to have the most flu cases so far, with nine patients identified, the CDC said.

Almost all the cases are Type B, or Panama flù, a milder strain than the Type A Beijing flu that ravaged the nation last year.

The CDC still wants people at But Type A has been found in three patients in three states highest risk - the elderly and those with chronic health pro-Hawaii, Texas and California blems or weak immune systems and is circulating in other countries, including France, - to get vaccinated if the disease surfaces in their communities. Type B is also circulating worldwide. It caused outbreaks in two schools in Japan and one in Sweden this fall, and sporadic

Although it takes two weeks for the vaccine to become effective, It could ward off repeat attacks, Ms. Brammer said. Fhu generally kills about 10,000 Americans each year.

'Hounds crash own party Seven finalists help Lyman wrap up title early

By TONY Description Herald Sports Editor

LONGWOOD - Before they took to the mat for the consolation finals ord championship matches Saturday night, the Lyman Greyhounds had already secured the team championship in the Lyman Christmas Wrestling Tournament.

The Greyhounds held an insurmountable 30-point lead over second place Flagler-Palm Coast, 17016-14016.

Actually, that margin was respectable con-sidering what it had been earlier in the day. Lyman, which began Saturday with a 24-point lead over Flagler-Palm Coast, stretched it to 78 points, 16114-8316, after the semifinal round.

Lake Mary (80) was a distant third ahead of West Orange (76%) and University (76).

CENTRAL PLOMPA CLASSIC

Besides the huge point advantage, Lyman also had seven wrestlers reach the championship round and had an eighth wrestle his way back to the consolation finals

By comparison, Flagler-Palm Coast had three wrestlers in the championship round and eight in the consolation finals. Even if Lyman was to lose all its matches and Flagier-Paim Coast to win all of its matches, the Greyhounds would still capture the team championship. "I figured we'd do nwell to get five guys into the finals," said Lyman coach Rick Tribit, "But we had some guys who wrestled well and we got some good draws. Obviously, the semifinals were a key; we won seven of our 10 semifinal matches."

While he was pleased with his team's effort and success this weekend, Tribit was cautious when discussing what it may mean for the Greyhounds down the road,

"It's early in the season, so you never really know what to expect," said Tribit. "At the end of the season, it could be a whole different story.

"There were some peoiple I expected to be at a certain weight who dropped down to another weight class and that affected the draw. You never really know what to expect until after the weigh-ins."

Leading the Greyhounds were 119-pounder, John Altizer, 160-pounder Jason Nutt and heavyweight LaDaryl Fenney. Tribit singled out Altizer and Nutt for their outstanding efforts and lauded Fenney, who is wrestling with a broken wrist.

Lake Howell rebounds in Burger King

LAKE MARY - After a disappointing loss Friday, the Lake Howell Silver Hawks were out to prove that they didn't belong in the overs' bracket of the Burger King Girls Soccer Tournament.

The Silver Hawks accomplished their goal with a 6-1 win over the Taliahassee-Lincoln Trojans at Lake Mary's Don T. Reynolds Stadium Saturday afternoon.

In Saturday's first game, Tampa Prep eliminated West Orange 5-0. Later Saturday night, Lake Mary was to play Bishop Moore and Fort Lauderdale-St. Thomas was to meet Daytona Beach-Seabreeze.

'We were really determined to win after we lost Friday," said Lake Howell coach Gerhard Tauscher, whose team lost to St. Thomas 2-0 Friday. "We wanted very badly to Friday. SAN FRANCISCO - The blowout never materialized, and neither did newly activated Joe Montana.

The San Francisco 49ers, coming in as 20-point favorites, wound up struggling to a 21-14 victory over the Tampa Bay Buccaneers on Saturday. Though the win wasn't pretty, it was just what the 49ers (13-2) needed to clinch their sixth NFC West title in seven years and the home-field advantage through the NFC playoffs.

Steve Young, Montana's stand-in for the past two seasons, threw for all three of San Francisco's touchdowns. He had two scoring passes to Jerry Rice and one to John Taylor.

Montana, activated on Friday after spending nearly all of the past two seasons on injured reserve with elbow problems, watched from the sidelines as the club's third quarterback.

SHUPE'S SCOOP

Most trophy base are caught three days before until three days after the full moon. These fish may not actually be on the bed for spawning activities, but the effects of the full moon triggers instincts which put these big fish on the move. FISHING FORECAST

On the freshwater scene, bass and speckled perch will cooperate cagerly. Big shiners will produce lunker bass in area lakes and in the river. Shiners are most effective when fished near floating mate of water hysciaths in 3 to 5 feet of water. Speckled perch will readi-ly hit Missouri minnows drifted in Lake Menree. Look for concentrations of boats for the best spots.

With the closure of snook fishing. Sebastian Inlet is less crowded. Big winter flounder are hitting finger mullet slowly bounced across the rocky bottom. Bluefish are striking a wide variety of artificials in good numbers.

Captain Jack at Port Canavoral has little to report in the way of offshore action due to high seas. Inside the Port, flounder, sheepshead, and bluefish are providing steady action. Trout and redfish are hard to locate in the Banana and Indian rivers as they move in and out of the flats as cold fronts come and go.

Pence talet is rough this time of year, but some heavy winter sheepshead are being caught on live shrimp around the tis of the north jotties. Hordes of bluefish are also invading the falconry, dogs, artificial decoys that vaguely resembles a battfish. Some good flounder are biting finger mullet on the south side of the south jettles. and manual or mouth-operated

Grandmother's trunk yields '34 Lajole card

Associated Press

BOYNTON BEACH - A dead grandmother's trunk in the attic was a baseballcard treasure chest.

Inside: an uncut sheet of 1934 Goudy Gum Co. baseball cards with Hall of Famer Nap Lajoie its star attraction.

"In 1933 Goudy forgot to put out Nap Lajole so they issued it in 1934, but you had to send away for it," explained dealer Richard Kohl. "There's probably about 100 Lajoies out there but in uncut sheets only two or three."

The cards for Lajoie are generally consid-ered the second-rarest baseball cards, behind certain Honus Wagner cards from 1910-11.

Kohl recently obtained the Lajoic sheet from an anonymous seller who lived in Tennessee. The man needed money for a him he couldn't afford to lend him the money but remembered the trunk in the attle.

He found the card sheet, figured it was worth something and sent it to his son. The son took it to a card dealer in St.

Louis, who contacted Kohl. "Now the guy's probably got enough money to build a house," said Kohi. "What's neat about this discovery is that I bought them from people who are outside the hobby."

Kohl. 45. a lifetime Yankees fan, opened up his Strike Zone shop six years ago in a Boynton Beach strip mall. A recent big deal was selling a 1952 Topps Mickey Mantle card for $58,000 and a $18,000 profit.

The Lajoie card was whisked away to Sotheby's in Manhattan where it will be auctioned off in March, with Kohl expecting are full out there.

purchase price. Two earlier Sotheby's sports auctions brought nearly $7 million in sales, including 450,000 for a Wagner card. "Ever since the sale in which we sold a Honus Wagner card, we decided to continue in this untapped market," said Rob Levine, head of Sotheby's rock 'n' roll and sports memorabilia department. "Being our national pastime, baseball does offer a broad-base appeal."

Kohl will be watching from the gallery. "I buy and sell," Kohl said. "Face it, you got a racehorse like that, I want to see how it does.

Kohl is grateful to all those mothers who cleaned out closets and broke their sons' hearts by tossing their beloved baseball cards in the trash.

'Thank goodness they did throw them out or else the rarity wouldn't be there," Kohl said. "They'd be worthless. And I

RSVP Shopping spree 871 deprived kids have the time of their lives

By ED KORGAN Herald Correspondent

Retired Senior Volunteer Program and its many volunteers opened up the 19th annual Christmas store for the underprivileged youngsters in the Sanford area.

There they were - the first busions of children to shop at the RSVP Christmas store at the Sanford Police Benevolent Association building. The faces of these small children were glowing with excitement as they looked around at all the grandma's and grandpa's just waiting to take their little hands and show them through this dream Christmas shopping trip. The Christmas Store has been a project of the RSVP advisory council the past 19 years. Similar programs in this area are not very old. More than 70 members of RSVP were in attendance to help the project over its five-day period. The gifts that the children would be able to pick out had been made by approximately five craft com-mittees within the RSVP organization. Other gifts had been donated to the store by various organizations in the community. There were stuffed animals, small bottles of perfume, earrings and after shave lotion. Money donations were also made by the merchants and this was used to buy the necessary items that could not be made or was not volunteered. Everything the volunteers could find was on those tables. All these gifts had been collected through the year.

The children were picked from the first grade classes of schools named by the Seminole County School Board. Whole classes were bussed to the Police Benevolent building. The children were allowed to find gifts for every person who lived in the house where the child lived. All the younger children of the Head Start programs were also invited. The number of children who shopped this year was about 871. The Head Start children totaled over 200.

with the child's name on it and they were led over to talk to Santa Claus. The talk with Santa Claus included a small gift for the child for Christmas and a wrapped package contaning some candy. The happy occasion was highlighted by the Central Florida Senior Kitchen Band who kept the children singing all the songs of Christmas. So much merriment, so much fun, it was a wonderful sight to see the many smiles on those childrens' faces. The City Fire Department volunteered their services to help keep the building safe and to show off its fire equipment to the children. Smokey the Bear was in attendance were clowns who kept everyone laughing with the antics. Amanda the Panda stopped by and had fun with the children.

Also cited was his activity in patriotic organizations. Chaplain Jim is currently serving as chaplain for seven groups. He is state chaplain for the Reserve Officers Association. also for the Air Force Association.

Dazzier of the Week

Tarcasa Gibson, an eleventh-grader at Seminole High School, has been selected by her team mates on the school's Dazzler Dance Team as Dazzier of the Week. Daughter of Mike and Sharon Gibson, Taressa has been a member of the dance team for two years. She also belongs to Destiny, a SHS choral group, and the youth group at her church. Tareasa is positive and supportive of her school, community, church and dance team. Determination, discipline and dedication are some of the values Tarassa has carried into her position on the team.

As each child checked in, they were assigned a senior volunteer who would help them shop. The volunteer would start at the first table and work with the child on what they needed to get for the family. As they went around the tables there were gifts labeled for brothers, sisters, mothers, fathers, grandmothers and grandfathers. When the Chrismas lists were completed they went to the wrapping table and a volunteer wrapped all the gifts separately for each child. Once this was completed all the gifts were placed in a paper bag

Shock of Kennedy's death still vivid decades later

DEAR READERS: I recently asked my readers to send me postcards telling me where they were when they heard the news that President Kennedy had been shot. The response was overwhelming! I received an estimated 300,000 responses mostly letters saying, "A postcard can't possibly contain all I have to say."

I heard from Thailand, Korea. Libya, Ireland, Guam, Japan, Mexico, Switzerland, Germany, Great Britain, Brazil, India, the Philippines, Canada, Hawaii, South Africa, and some places I had difficulty finding on the map. There were so many polgnant recollections. For example:

DEAR ABBY: We were living in Karlsruhe, Germany, when JFK was assassinated. My husband was a career Army man. The news came over Armed Forces Radio at 7:30 p.m. We turned on the TV and Watched it in German.

The next day I walked to the grocery store, and on the way I passed our Army chapel. There-was a large picture of President Kennedy on the church builetin board - draped in black - and the entire lawn surrounding it was covered with floral arrangements, all from German families. I met many Germans on the street who stopped me to express their sorrow with tears in they eyes. I shall never forget

M.E. GRAY, EL PASO, TEXAS

... I was in the third grade with other 8- and 9- year olds waiting for the 3 p.m. bell to ring so we could go home for the weekend. Suddenly, over the public address system we heard Walter Cronkite say, "I regret to tell you that President Kennedy died this afternoon at 1:05 p.m." I had planned to go home with a classmate for a sleepover, but we were both so heartsick we decided it would be better if we both went to our own homes.

· TAMMY IN DULUTH

... My wife and I and out two teen-aged sons were in Izmir. Turkey. I was co-director of the Turkish Air Force Academy, where 16 American men and women taught English to Turkish pilots and air con-trollers. When the awful news came, gar Turkish friends offered condolences with tears in their eyes. ELDONSHUPE, MELBOURNE, FLA.

... I was "on the air" doing music and news at a major Annapolis radio station when the sports director came into the control room, laid down a piece of paper without uttering a word, and left. A few minutes later I looked at It. It read, "FLASH! PRESIDENT KENNEDY SHOT!" I slapped on a tape and recorded the rest of the day's broadcast. I spent much of the time weepingin the men's room.

BILL TURKINGTON, NORTHRIDGE, CALIF. ... I was in Hollywood filming

a sequence from "Robin and the 7 Hoods" with Frank Sinatra and Sammy Davis Jr. when our producer, Howard Koch, got a telephone call from his wife who gave the terrible news about President Kennedy. We broke carly and, on the way home. I heard bells tolling from Loyola High School.

JOE JACKSON, LOS G E L E S N We were in Dallas watching the parade. We witnessed the whole nightmare! Later. can you imagine the shock to discover our faces in December's Colliers Magazine! THE CLAUDE BECKS, HENDERSON, TEXAS

Jeno launches Oriental food line

By MICK PPEIFAU Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Sanford resident Jeno Paulucci, the original founder of Chun King foeds, has announced he will once again introduce an Oriental foods brand into the U.S. market. Although "Yu Sing" products will be on the grocers' shelves in 1993, the brand was originated in the early 1940s by Lenny's Foods, Inc., of Duluty, Minn. The Yu Sing label was acquired by Paulucci in 1947 while he was building the

Chun King empire. When Chun King sold to the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company in 1976 for $63 million, Paulucci retained rights to Yu Sing, and has since kept the name current in anticipation of undertaking a new Chinese food venture.

Because of a non-compete clause, Paulucci was unable to enter the food market, but purchased the original Chun King plant in West Duluth in preparation for the new Yu Sing line. Another problem erupted when the plant was taken six years ago through eminent domain, as the site of the Lake Superior Paper Company plan. It again delayed the debut of Yu Sing until adequate production facilities were located.

The first Yu Sing products will be processed initially at a plant in Jackson. Ohio, but Paulucci plans to have a new plant at some other location by 1994.

He said he expects a retail business volume potential of $100 million in the United States, with an additional $50 million in institutional, club store and export sales of the new Oriental foods.

Paulucci said the Yu Sing products will include frozen egg roll snacks, a line of frozen fried rice, and other Oriental entrees.

As for his readiness to start the new line, Paulucci said, "What goes around comes around. I'm ready to bring out the Yu Sing brand. It's something new but it's something we've already proven we can do."
