Negotiators Settle On Master Contract

Teachers, School Board Reach Accord

By ED PRICKETT
 Herald Staff Writer

A 75-page master contract agreement for Seminole County's 1,462 school teachers has been reached between School Board negotiators and the Seminole Education Association (SEA).

At a Thursday meeting, the two teams hammered out 10 SEA proposals and settled on a $300 raise for beginning teachers.

"We came up with a good first year contract," said Harry Pelley, the board's chief negotiator.

SEA Executive Director Gene Grooms said he wasn't satisfied with the $300 raise, but said the agreement is "one of the best first-year contracts that I've seen."

Representing more than 164 hours at the bargaining table, the contract will be presented to teachers for ratification after they return to classrooms Aug. 20.

The agreement must also be approved by the School Board before it goes into effect.

School Supt. W. P. "Bud" Layer said today he plans to take the contract to the board "as soon as possible," probably by the end of August or the first of September.

"I'm very glad agreement was reached," Layer said. "It's to the best interest of both sides."

"I'm not satisfied with the monetary gains at all, but it's something for the teachers to look at," Grooms said.

Agreement cancels the need for a $300-a-day arbitrator scheduled to arrive here Monday.

"I feel the contract was very good for both sides and I think we worked long and hard. Each side has given, and each side has taken — which is good faith bargaining," Pelley said.

Although SEA Executive Director Gene Grooms said he wasn't satisfied with the $300 raise, he said the agreement is one of the best first-year contracts he's seen. Meanwhile, Supt. W. P. "Bud" Layer said the agreement was for the best interest of both sides.

— Also, when cases are taken to arbitration the loser pays the cost.
 — On the other hand, SEA won a host of rights. Many of the items won allow teacher input into the educational process.
 — Among the most important are:
 — Payroll deduction.
 — The board doubled its contribution for insurance.
 — A $300 raise in base pay.
 — Duty free lunches.
 — Extra pay for teachers substituting during preparation periods.
 — Limited number of faculty meetings.
 — Reduced requirements for P.T.A. meetings.
 — A grievance procedure.
 — Curriculum advisory committee representation.
 — Building committee representation.

— Free use of school facilities for association meetings.
 — Use of an exclusive bulletin board or space for communication purposes.
 — "I had to look very seriously at protecting the rights of the board and the superintendent," Pelley said.
 — "But at the same time, we recognized that teachers needed to have input," he added.
 — Seminole is one of a few Florida counties to have bargained through to a successful contract agreement.
 — Many other Florida counties are at impasse.
 — For a time, Seminole was at impasse also, but Pelley and SEA negotiator Steve Rosenthal got together and called Thursday's meeting in an effort to produce a contract without the costly procedure of impasse.

Hattaway Tapped To Head Solar Energy Committee

By JANE CASSELBERRY
 Herald Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — State Rep. Bob Hattaway of Altamonte Springs has been appointed chairman of the select subcommittee on Solar Energy Development by Rep. Hyatt Brown, chairman of the House Committee on Growth and Energy.

The Subcommittee will be responsible for analyzing the development of solar energy in Florida and its potential as a viable alternative source for meeting energy needs of the future.

A major responsibility will be working with federal officials to establish the National Solar Energy Research Center in Brevard County, where the Florida Solar Energy Center is located.

Hattaway will be traveling to Washington, D. C., to try to obtain the $50-million solar research project for Cape Canaveral.

After attending a meeting in Cocoa Beach on Wednesday with the Governor's Task Force on Solar Energy, Hattaway said, "Florida has been in the forefront of solar energy development and I can see no reason for the state not to be the site for the national center."

"Florida has an advantage as a site because we can tap the resources of 15 major corporations in close proximity of the Solar Energy Center and our climate will provide an easier testing area. Arizona and New Mexico (the other leading contenders) are already suffering from air pollution problems," Hattaway said.

"Our purpose in acquiring the site in Florida," he added, "is to provide employment to many people in Central Florida."

Ex-Georgia Governor Seeks Democratic Nod

Carter Brings Campaign To Sanford

Jimmy Carter came down from Georgia today to tell Seminole Countians that as President of the United States he would make this country "a nation of pride — instead of embarrassment."

His stopover in Sanford marked the 178th city he's visited in his effort to "find out" what the people in this country are thinking.

"There are two basic questions," the 56-year-old former Georgia governor said. "One is, can this government in its present fashion continue to exist?"

"The second is can the government be honest and decent — something all Americans wish it to be?"

Carter's answer to these questions is "yes."

Yes, that is, if this nation's people choose him for the highly touted job he's seeking — that of President of the United States, he says.

Carter stumped casually in a chilly metal chair at The Herald office, touching the clump of silver hair that persisted in falling over his forehead.

He pulled at the dark blue businessman's socks and he dusted lint off his pin-striped suit.

"When he looked his eyes and forehead turned into a sea of wrinkles. On issues, his voice becomes soft, persistent — like a schoolboy wooing his first date."

Carter's political mark in Florida is Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

"It boils down to a race between me and Gov. Wallace," Carter says.

He asks when the last time Wallace was in Seminole County. Or for that matter, when was Wallace last in Florida?

"The soft spoken Georgia Democrat today to tell the people he's concerned about unemployment, energy and the present administration's philosophy of running this government — called democracy."

Carter says America is "going to be out of oil" in 35 years. But, he believes there's enough coal to use as an energy source to last 200 years.

He also is an advocate of nuclear energy and believes this country eventually will shift to nuclear plants for generation of electricity.

He also believes the nation should concentrate on solar energy.

The reason we haven't, he says, is because of pressure from big oil companies.

Along with his thoughts on energy, Carter believes in protecting the environment and would like to see "strict conservation measures" adopted and enforced.

His major ambition as president?

"I'd put eight or nine million unemployed people to work," says Carter.

"I'd put them to work in both public and private industry. Get them jobs as teacher aides, nurse's aides, working in daycare centers, picking up garbage off the streets — a lot of jobs that presently go begging."

For those able to work who won't work — Jimmy Carter is not your candidate. Because he doesn't believe in paying persons not to work.

In 1946, Carter graduated from the United States Naval Academy. Adm. Hyman Rickover, Carter says, looked him in the eye and asked, "Did you do your best?"

Realizing he hadn't, he his best, Carter, after a long pause, admitted he hadn't done as well as he could.

That's a moment Carter hasn't forgotten because since then there's one thing Jimmy Carter tries to do, it's his best.

Hold Line On Millage, Mayor Says

LAKE MARY — Mayor Walter Sorenson will recommend to the City Council that the tax levy remain at three mills during Saturday's 9 a.m. workshop on the 1975-76 budget.

Sorenson told The Herald today that the city reduces its property tax level said to retain its federal and state revenue sharing funds.

The state and federal money is dependent upon the city having revenues of a three mill equivalency, Sorenson noted.

The mayor said a utility tax could be levied, but this was vigorously opposed by city residents when considered in the past.

"There are a lot of drawbacks to a utility tax," Sorenson said. In addition, he said, property taxes can be used as an income tax deduction by the city's tax pay $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Little Acquitted
 (See Earlier Story Pg 2A)
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A jury of six whites and six blacks acquitted Joan Little of all charges today in the lewdly stabbing of her white jailer.

NATION IN BRIEF

Tanker Rams Oil Platform, Seven Crewmen Missing

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A tanker carrying 46 men and 147 million gallons of oil smashed into an unmanned offshore oil platform in the Gulf of Mexico early today. The Coast Guard said both caught fire and seven crewmen were missing.

Tugboats and other commercial vessels in the area south of Lake Charles responded to the burning ship's calls for help and picked up 20 men who abandoned ship before dawn, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Coast Guard helicopters flew them to Galveston, Tex., where a Coast Guard spokesman said 10 were hospitalized.

He said one man had burns over 90 percent of his body and that another was described as seriously injured.

Judge Charges Little Jury

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A jury of six whites and six blacks made deliberations today in the Joan Little murder trial after being told by Wake Superior Court Judge Hamilton Hodgson that they will be the "sole judges" of the truth.

Hodgson told the jurors they had three alternatives in reaching a verdict in the case of the black woman charged with killing her white jailer: guilty of second-degree murder with a maximum penalty of life imprisonment; guilty of manslaughter with a penalty of four months to 30 years in prison; or innocent on all charges.

At issue is whether Miss Little, 21, killed jailer Clarence Allgood, 62, to defend herself during a sexual attack, as she claims, or whether it was part of a plot to escape from the Beaufort County jail, as the state contends.

Bronfman Claims Compliance

YORKTOWN HEIGHTS, N.Y. (AP) — Multimillionaire Edgar Bronfman says he has complied with all demands of his son's kidnappers and is begging for a sign that Samuel Bronfman 2nd is still alive and well.

Saying the 21-year-old whisky scion's abductor's "have failed to follow through," Bronfman noted that "time is going by" and pleaded with the kidnappers to renew contact through an agreed upon secret telephone number.

The concern with timing time referred to a warning from the kidnappers that a record $4.5 million ransom would have to be paid within 10 days for Samuel's safe return. They said the victim was buried somewhere in Westchester County with only 10 days' supply of water and air.

Hearst's Mother To Testify

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Catherine Hearst, the mother of fugitive newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst, will testify before a federal grand jury in Harrisburg, Pa. But she says she has no idea what she will be asked and "I don't know why I'm going."

Meanwhile, her husband, Randolph A. Hearst, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner, denied allegations by a man in FBI custody that the Hearsts may be sending money to her daughter.

"Mrs. Hearst and I do not know where Patty is, have never known and have never contributed one dime to her support since the kidnaping," Hearst said Thursday.

Ink Spots Harmony Recalled

ALTOONA, Iowa (AP) — Some of the old 78s, early Ink Spots and Mills Brothers records were scratched, Jimmie "Guitar" Foppert back his hand and he listened.

Then his soft voice sounded a rhythmic bass beat as "If I Didn't Care" was played. He remembered songs "that middle-aged people just don't forget."

Gilmore recalled the 18 years he was with the Ink Spots. The group's smooth harmony ranked it among the best of the 1940s and '50s, he said.

"Music is a pacifier. It can make you happy," he reflected. "It can make me sad. Today's music can't make you sad."

Viking Launch Set Aug. 20

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP) — A twice-delayed Viking space mission still may celebrate the nation's 200th birthday with a soft landing on Mars to seek life on the red planet, space officials say.

As technicians worked Thursday to switch the spacecraft with a twin sister that was to have been launched last month, officials planned an Aug. 20 launch for the hardback spacecraft.

If the 505-million-mile, 203-day journey goes smoothly, the first part of the 41-billion-mile mission will go into orbit around Mars on June 19, 1976, officials said.

Hoffa-Giacalone Link Probed

DETROIT (AP) — A confidante of ex-Teamsters boss Jimmy Hoffa revealed while under truth serum that reputed Mafia figure Anthony "Tony Jack" Giacalone spent several times to set up meetings with Hoffa before the union leader disappeared, sources say.

Louis Litafera reportedly told a psychiatrist hired by the Hoffa family that Hoffa informed him on July 29 that he was to meet Giacalone the next day. Hoffa has been dead since July 30.

Ford To Veto Price Controls

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — Calling the nation's energy problem a "giant puzzle," President Ford said today he will veto an extension of price controls on domestic oil and promised to remove his 15-cent tariff on imported oil.

The President said the twin actions would increase the price of petroleum products only a few cents a gallon, "contrary to what others have predicted."

New Ballistics Tests Ordered

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New ballistics tests have been ordered in an effort to resolve lingering questions about a "second-gun" theory in the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Superior Court Judge Robert A. Wenke on Thursday ordered the eight-shot, 22-caliber pistol taken as evidence in the June 5, 1968 slaying first again.

Mexican-Americans Rap Police Moves

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Residents of this city's predominantly Mexican-American Casa Blanca section, after a shootout between officers and snipers that left six wounded, say police actions in the incident only aggravated longstanding tensions.

"We've been abused for a long time in Casa Blanca and we haven't ever done anything about it," said Tony Romero, whose 20-year-old nephew was among those injured in the disturbance early Thursday.

Two other cities hit by violence earlier in the week, Boston and Ellyria, Ohio, were calm Thursday night.

Romero's comments came at a meeting of about 50 Casa Blanca community leaders Thursday night at which there were calls for a Justice Department investigation into the outbreak of violence that left six people wounded. Residents are claiming that police actions aggravated the strife.

A police airplane and helicopter flying over the field were shot at and disabled.

But when shotgun-toting officers made a sweep of the field in military formation, they came up empty-handed.

The battle, meanwhile, spread to nearby streets. When it was over, two policemen and four civilians had been wounded by gunshot and four persons had been arrested.

The atmosphere remained tense Thursday night, but there were no reports of further incidents. Police said they had not stepped up patrols in the area, although officers were working 12-hour shifts to make more manpower available in the event of further violence.

In Boston, though earlier disturbances appeared to be over, officers arriving at the scene were fired on by as many as 60 snipers, who reportedly fled into nearby cornfields.

several persons were injured and two arrested in an angry protest in the Massachusetts House chamber against impending welfare cuts. It was the first known invasion of the nation's oldest deliberative body.

The 50 or so dissidents, calling themselves the "Western Massachusetts Coalition to Fight the Cutsbacks and People for Economic Survival," protested legislation to reduce general welfare expenditures by an estimated $45.8 million.

About half the House membership was in attendance for debate on an election bill when the demonstrators barged past doorknockers and ran shouting down the aisles, headed for the floor.

There was scuffling on the floor as court officers and some legislators joined forces to egg the visitors, who were expelled by leaflet-dropping comrades in the public galleries.

In Ellyria, Mayor Leonard P. Reichlin blamed racial blacks and whites for two nights of violence in this Cleveland suburb that left 24 injured.

Highway patrolmen and city policemen continued today to patrol areas in which Tuesday and Wednesday night fire-bombings, assaults and gunfire were centered.

License Tax Man Convicted

MOORE HAVEN (AP) — William T. Brooks, a third generation Glades County tax collector, has been convicted on two counts each of forgery and embezzlement in connection with the sale of vehicle licenses.

Brooks, 40, a wheelchair-bound polo victim, was convicted Wednesday after a five-named, four-man jury deliberated for two hours to conclude a month-long trial.

Attorneys for Brooks said they would appeal, and Judge William Lamar Rose delayed sentencing for two weeks to allow filing of motions for a new trial.

Testimony showed Brooks sold a tag to Glades County Commissioner John Langdale for $223, but that state vehicle registration records showed the tag cost only $80.

Prosecutors charged that Brooks used similar methods to shortchange the state by more than $4,000 last year. The prosecutor introduced evidence to show that Brooks had suffered "financial problems" during 1974.

Brooks still faces 38 counts of forgery and embezzlement-related charges, but his attorney said prosecution of the additional charges could be a violation of the speedy trial law.

Brooks was first elected tax collector in 1959, succeeding his mother and uncle in the post.

Move To Split Synod Failing, Leader Says

CHICAGO (AP) — A group trying to enlist support for a split with the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod has no backing from the congregation, a church spokesman says.

"According to our information, there is not one congregation... that intends to leave the Missouri Synod," the Rev. Robert C. Sauer said.

The Rev. Mr. Sauer's forecast was in reaction to a resolution passed unanimously by Evangelical Lutherans in Mission earlier in the day. "Apparently, the lay people want to continue in the present fellowship which has been such a blessing because of the intrusion of liberalism," he said.

About 2,000 ELHM members voted Thursday that the driving habit of Lou Goodwin III, 23, whose driver's license already had been suspended at the time of the fatal crash, was a public nuisance.

The ban came as an injunction against Goodwin's right to drive a Fischer said it will remain in effect until a hearing can be held on a personal injunction.

A petition, which was not entered into evidence, was also presented to the court signed by 1,200 area residents asking that Goodwin be banned from the roads.

Goodwin, whose license was suspended last Nov. 26 after eight speeding tickets, was the driver of the Porsche sports car involved in a crash that killed former Fort Lauderdale high school star John Killings and injured Killings' companion on July 20, police said.

Last week, Goodwin was charged by police as driver of a speeding Ferrari which crashed into two parked cars.

He Gets Paid For Listening To Troubles

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Kirk Martin listens, in person and by appointment only.

"I will talk if a customer asks me to, or if he looks like he wants me to," Martin says. "I can't see eyeball to eyeball to anyone who comes through my front door."

Martin, 46, a professional truck and taxicab driver who sells one-family homes and farms on the side, began his listening enterprise with a newspaper ad.

"Did you know men are allotted 27,000 words per day, and women 31,000? I will listen to you talk for thirty minutes without commitment for $8.00," read the ad.

A trickle of calls from the curious followed the first ad. That was about two weeks ago.

"I get about 10 to 20 calls a day now, but only a few of those make appointments," Martin says.

He says his clients are from all walks of life, many of them troubled people who need someone to hear them out.

"Just the other day a man from the upper income group came because he felt stilted in his exclusive neighborhood. 'He couldn't grow a garden in his yard and hang his laundry out to dry if he wanted for fear of the neighbors who think...'"

Martin says he's not sure why he began listening professionally.

"I guess because I feel the Lord gave me a capacity to work with this," he said. "I almost went into psychiatry. And this is an inexpensive alternative to psychiatry."

Martin said he has a bachelor's degree in business administration, and studied sociology, math, law and psychology at the University of Missouri.

He calls himself "mildly psychic," and says his ancestry — Jewish, Irish, Scottish, English, Cherokee Indian and Finnish — helps him relate to anyone.

"Once read that a man was committed to an asylum and, instead of spending 10 or 20 years there, he was released six hours later just because someone took the time to talk to him," Martin said. "Sometimes communication is the key."

uel Roth, stopped short of calling the new organization a separate church. But, he said, "It will be apart from the Missouri Synod."

Multi-Millionaire Told Not To Drive In Florida

PORT LAUDERDALE (AP) — A multi-millionaire involved in an auto crash which killed a Fort Lauderdale youth has been banned from driving in Florida.

In a legal maneuver described as unique, Broward Circuit Judge Gene Fischer ruled Thursday that the driving habit of Lou Goodwin III, 23, whose driver's license already had been suspended at the time of the fatal crash, was a public nuisance.

The ban came as an injunction against Goodwin's right to drive a Fischer said it will remain in effect until a hearing can be held on a per-

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Insurance Firms Blamed; Allstate Increases Rates

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Insurance companies are helping unethical lawyers and must share the blame for higher auto insurance rates, a Florida Bar official says.

Richard McFarlan, bar assistant executive director, told Insurance Commissioner Phil Ashler in a letter Thursday that the companies help unethical lawyers by refusing to file claims in court although they know the claims are false.

Meanwhile, the Allstate Insurance Co., the state's second largest insurer of motorists, said it was raising auto insurance rates an average 20 percent in less than two years.

Heart Pacers Called Faulty

MIAMI (AP) — The federal government says heart pacers assembled by a Miami company and claimed by that company to be good for 12 to 18 months sometimes need replacing after three days.

The allegation was made in a federal court suit filed Thursday against the Cordis Corp., which has had previous difficulties with the Food and Drug Administration.

Principals Face First Test

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — A new organization of school principals and supervisors is facing its first test in DeSoto County, where three officials have been denied tenure.

Florida Administrative and Supervisory Association has provided attorneys for principals Louis Anderson and Nathan Crosby and vocational education director Jack Barnes in their battle with the school board at Arcadia.

The board has held that although the three completed their required three years of probation before 1974, granting them continuing contracts (tenure) would be contrary to the board's philosophy.

Tourism Said Endangered

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — This resort city will become a ghost town unless money is spent, and spent soon, to attract more out-of-towners, leaders of the tourist industry warn.

"We are begging you people," Herbert Schiffman, head of the Hotel and Restaurant Owners Association, told the City Council Thursday. "Unless we all get together, we are not going to have a Miami Beach, and I don't think that we want to preserve a ghost town."

Visitors are deserting the city this summer, the council was told. The tourist industry officials urged councilmen to approve emergency funding for beach restoration, a national publicity campaign and new attractions to lure tourists.

Turner Trial Scope Narrowed

TAMPA (AP) — U. S. District Judge Terrell Hodges has restricted the scope of the government's mail-fraud conspiracy case against Orlando salesman Glenn Turner and five others.

Hodges ruled Thursday that the re-trial would continue with prosecutors restricted to producing evidence concerning only the wholesale end of Turner's Koscof Interplanetary cosmetics company. Those operations involved the sale of supervisory positions and distributorships.

Under Hodges' ruling, the government will be prevented from citing retail operations of Koscof to demonstrate what the indictment alleges was fraud.

Job Reclassification Sought

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — State agencies are trying to reclassify 1,500-2000 employees into special-risk jobs to qualify them for early retirement and higher pensions, Rep. Jerry Melvin says.

"Special-risk is extremely costly to the taxpayers, and administrators who abuse the special-risk determination should re-examine the questionable categories and change areas where doubt exists," he said Thursday.

Melvin, D-Fort Walton Beach and chairman of the House Retirement, Personnel & Claims Committee, held a workshop Thursday with state agencies to seek an exact definition of what jobs qualified for the designation.

Citrus Emergency Urged

LAKELAND (AP) — A Florida citrus industry leader has asked Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner to declare an emergency because of illegally imported grapefruit trees.

"Special-risk is extremely costly to the taxpayers, and administrators who abuse the special-risk determination should re-examine the questionable categories and change areas where doubt exists," he said Thursday.

Melvin, D-Fort Walton Beach and chairman of the House Retirement, Personnel & Claims Committee, held a workshop Thursday with state agencies to seek an exact definition of what jobs qualified for the designation.

Sticker Sales Going Slowly

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — If you've been putting off buying an auto tag renewal sticker, plan to spend a lot of time in a long line at the tax collector's window next week.

A state official said Thursday that sticker sales are running about the same this year as sales of license plates last year, spelling trouble for procrastinators. Said Wednesday is the deadline.

"There have always been lines the last few days and I don't see this year as any exception," said Jerome Tyre, chief of the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles' Bureau of Registrations.

Story Of Drug Abuse Unfolds In Court

For Miller: A Jail Term And A Chance

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

For Charles Miller the last five years have been filled with "Orange Sunshine," "Purple Microdots," and drugs with the not-so-exotic names of marijuana, cocaine and heroin.

Thursday he was told by Circuit Court Judge Robert B. McGreggor that "I'll take a strong man to get off it and make something out of your life."

Judge McGreggor gave him 30 months in state prison, plus seven years probation, instead of the maximum five-year prison term for breaking probation on a grand larceny conviction.

McGreggor withheld adjudication of guilt and meted out another consecutive seven years probation on a plea of guilty to breaking and entering.

23 Felony Counts Filed

Seminole Sheriff's detectives today reported approximately $8,000 in stolen items have been recovered following the arrest of two south Seminole juveniles accused of breaking into 11 residences in the Longwood-Rolling Hills area.

Detective R. W. Simmons of the burglary squad said the investigation stemmed from the apprehension Aug. 5 of a 14-year-old boy in a burglarized house by Deputy David Duguid. Also arrested during the

Inflationary Fire Continues To Burn

The signs of recovery in the American economy continue to appear. Detroit has reported auto sales figures which show significant gains over the depressed levels of a year ago. New orders for durable goods, another bellwether statistic, were higher in June than for any month since last November. The hum of industry is rising toward a more generally pitiful.

There is a sour note, however, in the otherwise generally favorable run of economic news: the cost of living index in June took its sharpest turn upward in six months, mainly because of higher food and fuel prices. This renews a question that has been plaguing economists during all the efforts in recent months to prod the economy back into a level of activity that would cut the unemployment rate. Can we manage our recovery from recession without opening the door to a new round of damaging inflation?

The question is highly pertinent because economic recovery and a high inflation rate are like oil and water. The more that inflation gets away from us, the less we can anticipate in terms of higher levels of business and production. Rising prices discourage buying. Rising business costs are a blight on investment and expansion of production facilities. Worst of all, they foster an "inflation psychology" — an unjustified lack of optimism — which is as harmful as inflation itself.

The settlement by railroad unions providing for a 41 cent per wage increase over the next three years is a classic example of how the hungry quest for inflation can be invited to the table. The railroad contracts anticipate higher living costs, and then help create them by adding higher freight charges into the price of goods and commodities that travel to market by rail.

We see the same wage-spiral shaping up in the Postal Service, where a three-year agreement will provide $1,500 raises to postal workers over and above automatic cost of living increases. A guarantee against lay-offs of postal workers suggests that the productivity of the postal work force will not increase and may even decline. Higher postal rates are now a certainty, adding another drag on the rate of economic recovery.

Much of the economic debate in recent months has centered on whether the federal deficits aimed at stimulating recovery are so large that they will stimulate inflation instead. That debate may have diverted attention from the fact that the federal budget deficit is not the only villain in the inflation drama. Wage increases that are not matched by corresponding increases in worker productivity are a cause of inflation, too.

American workers may be relieved to have been spared a railroad strike, or a threatened "slow-down" in mail service, but the labor settlements that avoided such disruptions will be paid for dearly in the future. If they become permanent, then our economic recovery could lose momentum while inflation pulls out ahead.

Loss Of Liberty

Freedom is never lost except for what passes for good reason. Indira Gandhi has made it clear how easy it is for a presumably democratic government to justify the destruction of liberty in the name of national security.

Her government issued a code of censorship recently so restrictive that it was forbidden even to publish the code itself. Most foreign correspondents in India refused to agree to the code and consequently face deportation. But Indian newsmen have nowhere to go to escape the censorship.

Mrs. Gandhi argues that a free press causes unrest and that domestic stability must be protected from the rough and tumble of irresponsible criticism.

But public order purchased at the cost of liberty can be deceiving. It can quickly become very unstable indeed. Repression deprives the government of the healthy corrective of public debate and discussion. Pressures can build up and finally erupt in a violent upheaval.

The censorship order only increases the danger to Indian democracy.

Although the pardoning of Richard Nixon produced a political backlash, President Ford not only would do it again but he may also exonerate other Watergate figures by granting them presidential appointments.

He has mentioned to aides that ex-Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst, ex-White House aide Harry Dent and ex-Rep. Wendell Wyatt, R-Or., were caught in technical violations. All three pleaded guilty to minor Watergate-related crimes.

The President believes they are honorable men who have paid for their mistakes. He would like to give them back their good names by appointing them again to positions of public trust. He has in mind some honorary but prestigious spot for them possibly on a presidential board or commission.

By bringing these Watergate figures back into government, the President might revive the controversy over the Nixon pardon. But there is a streak of Harry Truman in Ford. Just as Truman was stubbornly loyal to his friends, Ford isn't likely to let political considerations deter him.

He still thinks it was right to pardon Nixon and spare the former President from being dragged through the courts. Ford is equally persuaded that it was forbidden even to publish the code itself.

FOOD STAMP SCANDAL: Close to three million Americans, who aren't entitled to food stamps, are using them to buy food. —

Around

The Clock

Now it can be told. After about four days, we have learned the real reasons why some moviegoers only saw one feature of a scheduled twinned last Friday night at the Rocking Chair Theater, Sanford Plaza.

Seems the theater had a showing of the first feature (One of Our Dinosaurs Is Missing) and one of the (follow-up (Cinderella). However, some patrons who came in late for the first movie were a bit miffed when the theater manager didn't show any or all of the first one a second time.

We've been told by Anthony (Tony) Pazzino, theater manager, that only one showing of each movie was scheduled and was advertised in that manner.

Too, not only were the advertisements clear in the times of the movies to be shown, there was a placard advertising the movies in the lobby that clearly indicated what times the pictures were to be shown.

Bankruptcy -- The Easy Way Out?

NEW YORK (AP) — Many small-and medium-sized business men prefer to slide down the chute to bankruptcy with their eyes closed and their arms folded rather than recognize the warning signs.

That is the observation of some accountants and others who are called in during the terminal days of one-hearty concerns.

"You'd be surprised how many either turn their backs on realities or minimize the warning signals when they occur," states an executive of Coopers & Lybrand, the big accounting firm.

Maintaining that "there has never been such a period of uncertainty in predicting the future," the firm is preparing to publish for its clients an advisory booklet on sound planning and cash control techniques.

One tip: Read those sales reports carefully. Salesmen often fear to report dropping orders lest it reflects on their performance, the accountants say. A change in the order "mix" also can foretell dangers.

"A shift in sales mix toward less profitable products is a development that frequently occurs hand in hand with a decrease in sales volume," the booklet will say, making the point of trouble doubly deadly and swift.

Some other signals of trouble: —Your customers, who themselves might be pressed, request delays in shipment of orders already placed, thus preventing you from continuing production into cash. And the goods might have to be stored at your expense.

—Your customers reject discounts for early payment and ask for longer periods in which to settle. This increases the financing cost to you and adds to the risk of not being able to collect at all, at least in full.

—The quality of your company's work is slipping. Idle time is increasing. Hiresings act contrary to management's plans, especially in the costly areas of hiring and purchasing.

In fighting back, the accounting firm says, the businessman must focus on mobilizing cash, instituting cash controls, improving revenue and using his credit more wisely.

Unproductive assets should be put to work. Funds should be used more intensively. "You should consider using bank wires or telephone transfer checks which can move funds overnight from branch office to head office," they advise.

"Excess funds can be invested temporarily in short-term money market vehicles to earn interest," the booklet will say, advising businessmen that "a broker or banker can quickly identify and obtain secure investments for you over a weekend or even for one day."

An attack might be launched on accounts receivable, particularly where payments are withheld because of customer complaints. Collection agencies might have to be brought in, or if customers themselves are caught in a cash squeeze, a reduced schedule of payments might be negotiated.

Ford Wants Watergate Figures Back

if an unreleased Agriculture Department study is correct.

The food stamp program helps feed 17 million Americans at a cost to the taxpayers of $4.4 billion.

A survey of 30,000 households revealed that more than 17 per cent of the recipients were ineligible. The sampling is supposed to be an accurate index of food stamp abuses across the nation.

Supporters of the food stamp program, however, have told us the worst record, the study is wanted to discredit the program. It's no secret that the Agriculture Department would like to get out of the food stamp business and let the states handle the problems of feeding the hungry.

In four states, the study found more than 30 per cent of the food stamp recipients were ineligible. Illinois had the worst record, with a startling 61 per cent ineligible. Massachusetts was close behind, with 59 per cent. Georgia was next, with 51 per cent; 49 in Montana, with 30 per cent.

Supporters of the program claim the ineligibility figures are inflated because to look worse than they are, they've included people who are entitled to food stamps but aren't. Georgia was the first to get tangled in government red tape. If they sign their names rather than their formal name, or if they're to fill in a blank on the application form, they are later declared ineligible.

The Securities and Exchange Commission has now compelled the corporation to identify the recipients of the illegal campaign contributions. The list included Democrats and Republicans alike, ranging from former President Richard Nixon to Sen. Hubert Humphrey.

President of Bangladesh Killed in Military Coup

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Mujibur Rahman of Bangladesh, hero of his country's struggle for independence from Pakistan 34 years ago, was killed early today in a military coup, Radio Bangladesh announced.

The radio said Sheikh Mujib had been replaced by a former close associate, Khondakar Mushtaque Ahmed, and that a 24-hour curfew was imposed on the capital, Dhaka, to "maintain calm and order."

Diplomatic reports reaching New Delhi said that Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and two of Sheikh Mujib's nephews had also been killed in the coup.

The reports said the coup leaders had renamed the country the "Islamic Republic of Bangladesh" instead of the "People's Republic of Bangladesh," indicating the new government planned to stress Islamic policies rather than Sheikh Mujib's socialist line. About 90 per cent of Bangladesh's estimated 77 million people are Moslems.

Middle East Problem Added

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has added a new potential problem to the negotiations for an interim Middle East settlement: a direct congressional say in whether Americans can be used to police an accord.

Kissinger told a news conference in Birmingham, Ala., Thursday that he "would not proceed without a congressional endorsement" to use Americans to man electronic listening devices in a buffer zone between Israeli and Egyptian forces.

The idea of such a direct U.S. presence is considered a key to Israeli willingness to abandon the strategic Mitla and Gidi passes on the Sinai Peninsula. The technicians would operate an early warning system to detect infiltration into the area abandoned by Israel.

Angola Regime Disbanded

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Portugal has disbanded Angola's provisional government and resumed direct control of the war-torn colony after leading between rival liberation movements pushed the territory to the brink of full-scale civil war.

However, a high official said today that Lisbon still intends to give the West African colony independence in November.

Vasco Vieira Almeida, economy minister in the defunct administration, said Lisbon decided to take over control of the colony late Thursday "precisely to save independence for Angola. We will make every effort to see that the colony gets its independence on Nov. 11."

Fishing Rights Talks Resume

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Negotiations between Bahamian and American officials on lobster-fishing rights off the Bahamas resumed today amid reports of a Cuban request for similar talks.

A joint statement issued U.S. proposals were discussed for about two hours Thursday and a committee was appointed to examine "a number of scientific points" before this year's session.

Bahamian officials said Cuba asked Tuesday for talks this year on a proposed agreement between the two nations covering all fishing. The request included an offer of Cuban technical assistance in developing the Bahamian fishing industry.

Reds Seek To End Crisis

LISBON (AP) — Communist leader Alvaro Cunhal says his party is willing to cooperate with any political party to solve Portugal's political and military crisis.

Cunhal made his offer at a Thursday night rally, while less than two miles away some 20,000 Socialists marched through the streets demanding the immediate resignation of Communist-backed Premier Vasco Gonçalves.

Cunhal, who said he set no precondition for dialogue, pleaded for unity to hold back "a wave of Fascist violence."

County Plugs Away On Record Budget

Seminole County Commissioners continued plugging away Friday, attempting to dam up the flood of financial needs that is making it extremely difficult to keep a pledge to hold the line on property taxes.

County's Offer Brings Surprise At Lake Mary

LAKE MARY — The City Council Saturday indicated surprise at the offer of Seminole County Commissioners to grant some $10,000 in federal funds for a city planner.

County commissioners this week agreed to allocate $50,000 to five of Seminole's cities in federal Comprehensive Employment Training Act money for planners to assist in conducting studies and preparing land use plans.

WEATHER Saturday's high 91. Overnight low 70. Partly cloudy today with a chance of afternoon thunder showers. Highs mostly in lower 90s and lows in low to mid 70s.

Sheriff John E. Polk and deputies arrested six persons in south Seminole late Friday and early Saturday on 23 felony charges in raids at four locations that authorities said smashed a million-dollar-a-year organized "steal on order" theft ring.

Polk said the raids, conducted with search warrants, resulted in seizure of nearly $30,000 in stolen merchandise including a $17,000 motor home, stereo and sound equipment, television sets, musical instruments and an industrial air compressor.

Polk said the raids and arrests stemmed from a three-month probe started by Detective Ralph Salerno. As the Seminole raids started at 4 p.m. Friday at a bar and package store next door to the Altamonte Police Headquarters and Fire Department, Orange County Sheriff's deputies raided a used appliance sales establishment on Edgewater Drive, Orlando, and two residence arresting two persons and recovering thousands of dollars in stolen merchandise.

An Orange County Sheriff's spokesman said the "orders" reportedly were "filled in a relatively short period of time" and stolen items "sold" at a reduced cost and in some cases shipped to "customers" throughout the United States.

Items allegedly handled by the theft ring included heavy equipment, boats and motors, lawn mowers, televisions, stereo, tape recorders, chain saws and furniture, officials said.

The Orange County spokesman said the theft ring operation included Seminole, Orange, Brevard, Lake and other Central Florida counties.

Sparks, residence and another truck was loaded with allegedly stolen stereo equipment, televisions, a set of drums, microwave oven and a pistol.

At the 119 Ruby Court residence of Stanley Grant Stroupe, near Casselberry, raiding deputies seized a $17,000, 24-foot Wayfarer motor home.

Stroupe was jailed on $5,000 bond on a charge of buying, receiving and concealing stolen property.

Officials said Saturday that investigation into the alleged theft ring was continuing and indicated there may be more arrests.

In Orange County, sheriff's agents executed three search warrants, arrested two suspects in connection with the theft ring and seized thousands of dollars in allegedly stolen items.

Raymond Rollins, 36, was arrested in Altamonte Springs near the bar was Herman Elvin Fields, 34, 125 Grace Boulevard, Altamonte Springs. Fields was held on $5,000 bond on one count of buying, receiving and concealing stolen property.

After agents loaded a pickup truck with items seized at the bar, another search warrant was executed at the Crowder's 551 Karen Ave., Altamonte
