

Pinay's Refusal To Step Down Led To Firing

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor

The man-of-the-week: Antoine Pinay, fired as finance minister of France.

The place: Paris.
The quote: "Do you think I'm going to keep Jacques' company?"

It was the bitter remark of a man at another turn in the road of a political life which has had many turns.

It was Pinay's exit line from the government of President Charles de Gaulle's Fifth Republic when success in restoring the French economy is just over a year's time largely has been attributed to Pinay.

The reference was to Louis Jacques, a member of Pinay's own Independent (Conservative) Party, who holds a post of minister of state but with little or no power.

In effect, it was an assumption of Pinay's own attitude. Pinay, a "hard money" man, was saying that either he would rule French financial policy, or he would be fired. He would not resign.

To be sure, there was one more line. It came 24 hours later, after a final conference between Pinay and de Gaulle at which Pinay reportedly refused to accept a post which represented a step down.

"I am quitting for all political and life," he said, "at least momentarily."

The letter phrase meant that Pinay believed there would be no other wing of the pendulum as there has been many times for him in the last 25 years and that once again, sometime, he would return to the "bear pit" of French politics.

It was obvious that de Gaulle let Pinay go with reluctance. There was the possibility Pinay would lead his fellow Conservatives in the French Assembly in revolt against de Gaulle, in which de Gaulle might have to abandon all pretense of democratic procedure and rule as a virtual dictator.

There also was the risk to the French economy, of which Pinay was regarded as the bulwark. De Gaulle offset the latter by appointment of the governor of the Bank of France, Wilfrid Baumgartner, to take Pinay's place as minister of finance. On finances, Pinay and Baumgartner think much alike.

The immediate crisis leading to Pinay's ouster sprang from a quarrel with Premier Michel Debré and the advance guard of the de Gaulle cabinet whom Pinay accused of wishing to "Sovietize" large sections of French industry by nationalization.

However, there was more. It stemmed from Pinay's dissatisfaction with de Gaulle's lukewarm attitude toward the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance and Pinay's opposition to a soft line toward the revolt in Algeria.

De Gaulle has blocked integration of French forces into NATO, the West European defense concept for which Pinay has fought since he first was premier in 1952.

His announcement that he was "retiring" from political life indicated he neither would lead nor participate in a revolt against de Gaulle now. But, significantly, he left the door open.

Ernie Ford's Corn Version Of Pinafore Is Success

By FRED BANNING
NEW YORK (UPI)—The credo of the gang-and-dance man, "always leave 'em wanting more," was practiced Thursday night when Tennessee Ernie Ford presented his entertaining condensation of "H.M.S. Pinafore."

Twelve brick members from the 527th Gilbert and Sullivan opera were chopped up, packed tightly and crammed aboard "Pinafore" during the half-hour NBC-TV concert. It seemed as if each familiar phrase, starting as "I am the Captain of the Pinafore," "Buttercup," and "We Sail the Ocean Blue," would just start to roll when they had to end. And that noble singer, sea-picker Ernie Ford, packed the sea-tinged plot along with his usual back-porch badinage.

Speaking of the snobbery rampant in 19th Century England, Ford said "there were no holes in the fence so a rooster to get into the wrong hen house." Referring to a vision, he quipped, "that's a thinking woman's husband." Of a social butler, this comment: "His leasins is 'ver dry."

While some Gilbert and Sullivan purists might consider Ford the hour ball in the cultural gravy, I felt Ford's charming, riposte added sparkle to the production and were not disrespectful to the G-and-S opera. In fact, despite the harsh editing made necessary by the time limitation, the entire production remained faithful to the "Pinafore" spirit.

Ford, as the Rt. Hon. Sir Joseph Porter, K.C.B., conveyed a solid grasp of the stuffy role and brought out its humor.

It may have been a short pinafore, but it was well-designed and pleasing to eye and ear.

Dressing and fitting: Don Amosco captured everyone by wearing a bold striped tie on Thursday night's ABC-TV Pat Boone Show. The show had one of its finest moments with its "At the Moving Picture Ball" number, although the singer could have used more. CBS Reports presented a special report Thursday night, its controversial "The Population Explosion," first seen last November. A round-table discussion rounded out the expanded 90-minute show as Dr. Harrison Brown of Cal Tech, Dr. Colin Clark of Oxford and Paul Hoffman of the United Nations presented their respective views with calm conviction. Which is as it should be.

The Channel Swim: Bob Hope, who just signed to become the 20-minute Oscar telecast on NBC Monday, April 4, also will narrate NBC-TV's "Not So Long Ago," a nostalgic look at the years 1945-50, set for Friday, Feb. 19.

The grapevine says Sylvania Awards will go to Ingrid Bergman for her acting in "The Turn of the Screw," Laurence Olivier for his job in "The Moon and Sixpence," and the Starline Christmas musical with Leonard Bernstein. "Harrison and Son," starring Pat O'Brien as an elderly lawyer, is due for fall presentation on ABC-TV. Cy Howard created the series and DeSilla will produce it. "Reading a Loud," a half-hour series featuring world-famous people reading favorite literary works to youngsters, goes into national syndication following its debut on the five station Westinghouse Broadcasting Company network starting Jan. 26. Japan's Takarazuka dancers make their American TV debut on the Ed Sullivan show Sunday, Jan. 24.

Garden Club Starts At North Orlando

A garden club has been formed by a group of residents of North Orlando.

Mrs. Robert W. Dean and Mrs. G. E. Dorman served as co-hostesses for the organizational meeting.

Mrs. Velle Williams Jr., president of the Sanford Garden Club, met with the group to assist with the planning. She briefed them on rules and regulations and offered suggestions.

She explained that the club should be a working club, each meeting bringing forth new ideas and that its main objective should be a community project to beautify school grounds, parks and homes.

Mrs. Dean was elected temporary chairman and Mrs. Anton Kreck, temporary secretary. Future meeting dates will be announced later.

50 Passengers Cremated As Plane Falls In Woods

HOLDCROFT, Va. (UPI) — A Capital Airlines turbo-prop plane pancaked into a dense wooded area only a few minutes away from its destination Monday night and flames cremated the 50 persons aboard. Three of the dead were children.

The British-made plane's jet-powered engines apparently failed on the last 50 miles of a flight from Washington to Norfolk, Va., and the Viscount plummeted almost straight down in a shroud of fog and drizzle.

The plane smacked into the slope of a small ravine and burst into flames. The fire raged for more than eight hours while rescuers stood by helplessly, unable even to get near enough to see if anyone inside had a chance to survive.

Troopers, deputies and rescue teams fought through a tangle of briars and underbrush for nearly a mile to reach the scene, about 20 miles east of Richmond.

It was the second major airline disaster within 12 days. A National Airlines plane disintegrated over Bolivia, N. C., Jan. 6, killing 34 persons. As in the National crash, Monday's disaster came without

Seminole County Hospital Budget Anticipated At $693,640 For '60

The County Commission today received the 1960 anticipated budget for Seminole Memorial Hospital which was set at $693,640.

In a statement on last year's finances, the hospital reported a budget of $688,918 with $647,318 from patients revenues, $24,602 from tax receipts and $16,998 from contributions.

Anticipated patients revenue during 1960, according to the budget, is expected to be $688,400 with tax revenue at $25,000; interest, $6,000 and contributions, $5,000.

In other business during the meeting, Commissioner Vernon Dunn requested that County Clerk David Gatchel write a letter to the Orange County commissioners urging them to speed up action to join in a program of eliminating flooding in areas of South Seminole and Orange Counties.

The commission today said that this county is "ready to go" and set up a special drainage district but is waiting for word from the Orange County board to work together on the program.

The board also authorized John Kridler to negotiate with the Over-

PRaise for NAVY MEN's prompt action in volunteering blood to an aged woman after one of them mentioned she was ill is read by Cdr. L. D. Tamay, right, NAS executive officer, to the man who gave the blood. The commendation came in a letter from the Seminole County Ministerial Association to, from left, Harvey King, John Erickson, Marvin Jester, Leonard Zieler and Stanley Schrader of the station ordinance shop. # $30 Million To Be Added To Tax Roll, McCanna Says

Funds For Field Work Asked By Assessor

County Tax Assessor Richard McCanna today told the County Commission that he expects to add $30 million to the tax roll this year and asked the board for additional money to carry on a large scale field review of new homes.

McCanna told the board he wants to increase his field crew staff from three to five men. He said that 2,000 to 3,000 new homes have been built in the county in 1959 and all these have to be measured and checked.

In a letter to the board, McCanna said that "due to the greatly increased scope of operations in the tax assessor's office it will be necessary for the board to provide additional funds for this office's operations during 1960."

McCanna pointed out that another reason for lack of funds in addition to the increased amount of work is a new schedule of commissions which has been brought into effect due to the high level of assessments.

News Briefs

Smoking Factor
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Cigarette smoking increases the death rate resulting from a wide variety of diseases, according to Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, chief of statistical research for the American Cancer Society. Hammond spoke Monday at the closing session of a three-day international meeting on "the air we breathe."

Smathers Asks Curb
MIAMI (UPI) — Sen. George Smathers proposed Monday that the United States withhold its sugar subsidy to Cuba until that country repays Americans for confiscated properties. The subsidy amounts to about $150 million. He also urged a reappraisal of U. S. policies on Cuba because the government there is "playing the Communist game."

It's Asian Flu
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — An influenza epidemic sweeping Los Angeles since early last week has been officially named Asian Flu. American school, business and government continued today at a high rate of up to 20 per cent. Public schools Monday reported 115,000 students absent along with 2,750 teachers. The absence percentage rate was 19 for pupils and 11 for teachers.

Snow Storm Leaves Long Trail Of Death

The new year's biggest snow storm, leaving a trail of death from Texas to the Great Lakes, struck at New England today with up to eight inches of snow. Heavy snow warnings were issued for New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine. Sleet and freezing rain were forecast for Massachusetts and Connecticut, and light snows hit New York State and Pennsylvania.

The storm originated in Texas Saturday night and swept up the Mississippi Valley with paralyzing snowfalls and sub-freezing weather.

It claimed at least 31 lives, in highway accidents, freezing, cold weather, obstructions and heart attacks.

As schools and highways began to re-open in the midwest and northern plains states, three to eight inches of snow hit the Northeast. Two inches fell in southwestern Virginia today.

High drifts still blocked a few roads in Colorado and Nebraska. Schools had been closed in Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., and in many small towns through the storm area.

Northerly winds following the storm pushed temperatures down by as much as 20 degrees to the low from Georgia to Virginia, while the low were coming from Pennsylvania southward to Texas.

The zero to 10-degree range covered most of the area from the Dakotas to Kansas. The mercury plunged to 16 to 18 below in the Rockies and coast to the one near the Pacific Coast.

Two Symphony Concerts Today

The Florida Symphony Orchestra will give two concerts in the Civic Center today.

The Youth Concert will be at 3:45 p. m. and the pops concert at 7:30 p. m. The two evening concerts are sponsored by the Sanford Deary Entertainment Association and the Sanford Recreation Department.

Association members need only show their membership cards at the door for admission to the evening concert. Non-members may buy tickets at the door or at the Recreation Department office. The only reserved seats are those in the patron's section.

Children in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades can get in free for the Youth Concert. Junior high students can also hear this performance free, but concert sponsors believe they would enjoy the evening concert more. Tickets are $2.25 for adults and $1.25 for students.

Blount To Manage McCarty Campaign

FORT PIERCE (UPI) — Former circuit judge Dan McCarty Monday named a fellow jurist to manage his campaign for governor. McCarty named Municipal Judge Vriel (Bumpy) Blount Jr., of DeLand, to handle his electioneering with headquarters in Fort Pierce. Blount asked the DeLand City Council for a leave of absence to take the job.

Blount has been close personal friend of the McCarty's for over 30 years. While McCarty took a course at the law school at Stetson University he resided at the Blount home.

McCarty said "Judge Blount will move to Fort Pierce temporarily after Feb. 18 and will be in the McCarty for Governor headquarters here. After I qualify, I will announce the other members of my headquarters staff and my county organizations."

'Road Block' Set For Polio Funds

Members of the Anna Miller Circle will seek funds for the March of Dimes at a "road block" Sunday at First St. and French Ave.

Police will help regulate the signal light so solicitation may be made with a minimum delay of traffic. Mrs. Salia Wight, chairman of the event, said. Contributions will be taken between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m.

This event is one of several staged by the women's group to bolster the polio drive. Their efforts culminated Jan. 18 with the Mothers' March on Polio. A meeting is scheduled Jan. 26 for captains and workers at the Elks Club.

U. S., Japan Sign Security Treaty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States and Japan, enemies 15 years ago in World War II, today sign a security treaty making them full-fledged Allies in the cold war.

President Eisenhower will witness the White House ceremony at which Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter sign the long-term pact.

The president scheduled a 30-minute conference with Kishi and other Japanese officials prior to the signing ceremony.

Board Agrees To Buy, Install SR 436 Light

The State Road Department today notified the County Commissioners that there is not enough money in the budget to install a traffic light at the intersection of SR 436 and U.S. 1792 so the board decided to purchase the light at a cost of $12,500.

Money for the purchase will come out of secondary road funds. Commissioner Vernon Dunn said the board that "no one life is saved at the critical intersection, the price is cheap."

In other road business, the board agreed to ask the SRD to place Red Bug Lake Road and a portion of SR 46A in the secondary road system because of the high traffic counts on both roads.

The board also heard a request for paving a portion of Lakeview Ave. in Lake Mary because of the heavy traffic and poor condition of the road.

Commissioner Lawrence Bradford told James Avery Jr. of Lake Mary that the board would stabilize and improve the road in the near future.

Avery said he had a petition with 77 names on it asking the county to improve the road.

The board authorized Engineer Robert Davis to let all county road crews work 16 hours a day under the present good weather conditions to carry on all the needed road work in the county.

The board also agreed to spend $900 to build 10x22 double signs on U.S. 17-92 advertising Big Tree Park.

County Democrats Meet Wednesday

The Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee will meet in the courthouse at 9 p. m. Wednesday.

Committeemen and women from the county's 18 precincts will plan rallies to be held before the May primary elections. About 12 rallies will be held in the county, committee chairman Robert Billinger said today. The group will also plan to promote voter registration starting March 6 when county registration books open.

Escaper On Way Back To Prison

Marion Isaac Moore took the long road back to prison today.

A representative from Raleigh's North Carolina State Prison took the escaped convicted murderer from the Seminole Sheriff's office. The two are driving back to Raleigh where Moore will face the rest of his 25 year second degree murder term, plus an escape charge.

Moore, who escaped from a prison road gang in 1955 had served seven and a half years of his term. He confessed his escape when Deputy W. E. Seeborg arrested him on a vagrancy charge Thursday.

No Decision Yet On Shopping Hours

Downtown Sanford retail merchants remained undecided Monday on whether to stay open Friday nights.

A group of 25 store operators met to discuss the Friday shopping hours, but did not settle details of the proposal.

It'll Be Cold

The first full-fledged cold wave of the winter past an end to summer weather in Seminole County today.

Temperatures dropped to 40 degrees over the county last night and early this morning but no frost was reported.

Cold weather is expected to continue tonight, with freezing weather in some portions of Central Florida.

Around the state, temperatures dropped to freezing over the extreme north portion early today. And the weatherman said it would be colder tonight.

Readings as low as 22 were forecast for tonight in the panhandle region with a freeze likely over much of the northern tip of the peninsula.

Even tourist-lammed Miami was warned to brace for nighttime temperatures in the 40's.

Casselberry To Post New Street Speed Limit Signs

The Casselberry Town Council last night decided to post signs on Seminola Blvd. setting the speed limit at 24 m.p.h.

The council set speed limits on other town roads at 25 m.p.h. and ordered an ordinance drawn up to this effect. The councilmen agreed that the speed limit on Hwy. 17-92 through town would remain 35 m.p.h.

The council also decided to delay discussion of a group of Negro residents about annexation to Casselberry until the group makes a formal request. Mayor W. M. Benson said that a group of Negroes living toward Allamonte Springs had asked about coming in since Monday.

Lawmakers Feel Congress Won't Okay Postal Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lawmakers agreed today that Congress won't raise gasoline taxes, raise the spending outlays requested by President Eisenhower in his new budget.

But Republicans and some Democrats said the President had handed the GOP a good campaign issue by making the unpopular proposals that Congress won't accept in an election year.

Instead of the legislators approving Eisenhower's requests to mail away much of the $4,000,000 surplus he envisioned for the fiscal year starting July 1.

As a result, the Republicans probably will be accusing the Democrats of opposing the President's budget proposals.

Democrats, of course, are hoping to make political hay of their refusal to go along with Eisenhower's proposals.

Republicans, however, are hoping to make political hay of their refusal to go along with Eisenhower's proposals.

excellent," one Republican said privately. "It holds out hope for a tax cut next year if — if the Democratic Congress does a lot of things we know it's not going to do. The recommended boost in gasoline taxes and postage rates won't hurt Republicans because it won't happen. Besides, Republicans running for office don't have to endorse it."

Simply by taking no action at all on Eisenhower's plan for a penny boost in the cost of mailing a letter and for cancellation of scheduled reductions in telephone and travel taxes, Congress would eliminate about $1,100,000,000 of the projected budget surplus.

Legislators agreed that postal rates would not be boosted and many members said it was doubtful that Congress would raise the tax on the fuel oil for which the President held out hope.

Democrats, of course, are hoping to make political hay of their refusal to go along with Eisenhower's proposals.

Republicans, however, are hoping to make political hay of their refusal to go along with Eisenhower's proposals.

Eisenhower's tax program also called for extension for another year of the higher taxes levied during the Korean war on corporations, profits, liquor and cigarettes. But Congress is certain to go along with him on that.

Senate Probers Open Defense Inquiry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson proposed today at the opening of a sweeping space-defense investigation that Congress seek the critical views of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor (ret.), former Army chief of staff.

Jackson, a Washington Democrat, is a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee which began an inquiry behind closed doors into the defense and space policies of the Eisenhower administration.

Taylor was certain to be the subject of conflicting stands in the forthcoming presidential campaign.

Coastal Waterway Funds Are Needed

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI) — The long-sought West Florida inland-coastal waterway appeared today to be a certainty—pending some five million dollars in bond funds can be raised.

Congressman William G. Carter's office here announced Monday that the 1960 federal budget contained a two million dollar appropriation for the 140-mile link that would connect Port Manatee with Tarpon Springs.

Last year $600,000 was appropriated. But almost five million dollars will have to be raised in the counties concerned — Hillsborough, Manatee, Pasco, Sarasota, Lee and Charlotte.

Hilworth Simmons of Tampa, chairman of the West Coast Inland Navigation District, said it would probably take about five years to complete the project.

The link, when completed, will close a gap in the Inland Waterway that runs from New England to Mexico. It has been vigorously sought by Tampa port interests, which stand to gain new business through large traffic.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) called Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, as the lead-off witnesses.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) has announced that the Armed Services Committee's preparedness panel and his Senate Space Committee will explore their areas of jurisdiction in hearings scheduled to start late next week.

In a recently published book, Taylor was sharply critical of the nation's defense blueprint and the policies which shaped it. He complained that the country was placing too much reliance on massive nuclear deterrence and not enough on forces to meet "brush fire" small wars.

Johnson said Taylor's views amounted to charges that the United States was in a decline as a world power. "The charges that he makes clearly warrant his being called," Johnson said.

Other congressional news: Air safety: The Senate aviation subcommittee opened its second week of hearings on the nation's grim 1959 air accident record only 24 hours after the second fatal crash of 1960. The inquiry was expected to question experts on how to detect bombs aboard airplanes.

Elections: The Senate moved toward a vote on whether primary elections should be covered by the provisions of a so-called "clean elections bill." Chance appeared dim that the amendment would be approved over the opposition of conservative Republicans and Democrats from the South, where a primary victory often is tantamount to election.

Civil rights: Sen. Jacob K. Javits (N.Y.) said the use of federal voting registrars in the South might be the most important development in the drive for universal suffrage since women were given the right to vote in 1920.

Long Coffee Break

TAMPA (UPI) — When the judge gave bolita operator Jerry Lopez 60 days to settle his private affairs before going to prison, he didn't mean getting into the coffee business in Cuba.

But that apparently is where Lopez went. Criminal Court Judge L. A. Grayson, two months ago, told Lopez to take the 60 days to settle his private affairs.

But when the gambler's name was called for sentencing Monday, he didn't answer. County Investigator Clint Burgess said it was no wonder—Lopez was in Cuba in the coffee business. He had been convicted on lottery law violations.

Toastmasters Have Field Day At Sanford Meeting

Florida Toastmasters kept their listeners chuckling with descriptions of neighborhood children, modern advertising and spiral staircases at a Ma-Lou Restaurant meeting.

Toastmasters from all over the state met with Seminole Toastmasters for business and training conferences before the evening banquet and entertainment.

Sanford Attorney Joe Davis, was Toastmaster for the evening. Orlando Vernon Nuttram spoke on "Children in My Neighborhood" and Bob Adams of Orlando told of his dilemma in trying to follow household directions. DeLand attorney Bill Sherman gave advertising a law bite.

Besides the spiral staircases, Toastmasters from Miami, Coral Gables, Sarasota and Cocoa had to describe propellers and oarrows—without using their hands.

Orlando hypnotist Joe B. McCawley cast the final spell which he hypnotized Dan Ollinger of Jacksonville. McCawley told about increasing use of hypnotists by licensed doctors and dentists.

A church preaching mission series of meetings is being conducted at the Church of the Nazarene in Sanford.

Rev. Myrne has been in full time evangelistic work since last summer after serving more than 22 years as a pastor in Nazarene Churches in various cities of Florida.

The primary purpose is to revive the church with new spiritual vigor under the blessing of God through the preaching of His Word. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Red China Stopping Up Army Conscriptions

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor

From the foreign editor's notebook.

Red China Story

In contrast to Russia's proclaimed reduction of troops, Communist China is stepping up conscriptions for its army this year. It is reported that the Chinese government is planning to increase its army to 5,000,000 men by the end of 1954. This is a significant increase from the 4,000,000 men reported in 1953. The increase is being achieved through a combination of measures, including the conscription of young men from the cities and the mobilization of reserves.

It was a forthright statement of a U.S. attitude which has been developing steadily in the last year, but which is a considerable extension of the U.S. - Nationalist Chinese Mutual Security Treaty announced in December, 1954. That treaty defined the territories of Nationalist China as being limited to "Formosa and the Pescadores."

The question of the off-shore islands, of which the Quemoy and Matsu are a part, deliberately was excluded.

It is possible that Brucker's statement at this particular time is a part of the pre-summit jockeying taking place at both the United States and Russia seek to place themselves in the most advantageous position at the conference table.

The question of the off-shore islands, of which the Quemoy and Matsu are a part, deliberately was excluded.

Shared Term Trouble

China is beginning to show up in the provision of how to give President Chiang Kai-shek a shared term without violating the American constitutional limit. Political quarters in Taipei believe the National Assembly, which elects the president, will decide in its meeting starting Feb. 20 to waive the term rule during the "shared" period.

On Formosa this week, the National Assembly is expected to meet. Chiang, now 77, completed his second term in May.

United States is due to start a battle against any reduction in the budget for the organization of American states. Washington indicates it regards the OAS as probably the greatest single peace stabilizing agency yet devised for Latin America, with special emphasis on its effectiveness in the Caribbean sector. At present, living on austerity program, has led a fight for OAS budget increasing in order to reduce its own burden.

Crucial in the French

General De Gaulle's fifth French Republic is not exactly breaking up but it is beginning to show some small cracks. The recent government resignations signal the possible start of major opposition to the French President way up the line. The real showdown between the old politicians and the new regime may be postponed until April when Parliament reconvenes.

As the date of a four-power summit meeting nears, President Eisenhower drives forward the United States seems to be pressing increasingly tough line toward Red China.

Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker this week carried a message to the National Security Council of U. S. policy in the Formosa area where he declared that the U.S. would not stop Com-unist aggression against any of Nationalist China's territory—including the Quemoy and Matsu Islands.

It was a forthright statement of a U.S. attitude which has been developing steadily in the last year, but which is a considerable extension of the U.S. - Nationalist Chinese Mutual Security Treaty announced in December, 1954. That treaty defined the territories of Nationalist China as being limited to "Formosa and the Pescadores."

The question of the off-shore islands, of which the Quemoy and Matsu are a part, deliberately was excluded.

It is possible that Brucker's statement at this particular time is a part of the pre-summit jockeying taking place at both the United States and Russia seek to place themselves in the most advantageous position at the conference table.

The question of the off-shore islands, of which the Quemoy and Matsu are a part, deliberately was excluded.

Formosa dispute dates from the collapse of Nationalist Chinese armies on the mainland in 1949 and has witnessed a total turnaround of U.S. policy.

In 1950, President Truman declared the U. S. "has no desire to establish military bases on Formosa at this time" and will "not pursue a course" involving it in China's civil war.

In that same year, Secretary of State Dean Acheson omitted both Korea and Formosa in his definition of the U.S. "defense perimeter" in the Far East.

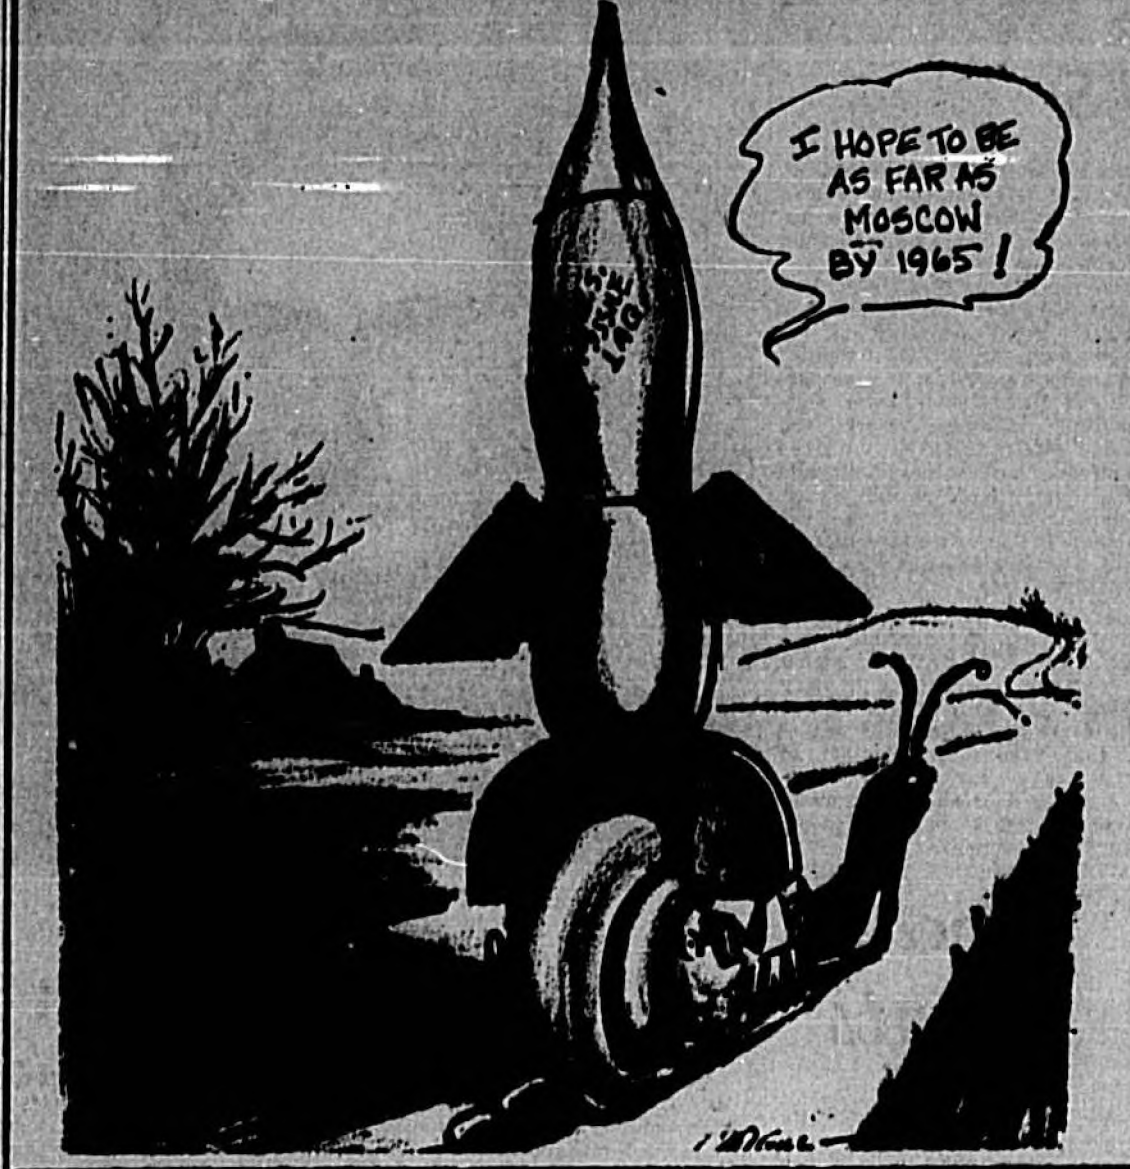

The switch came after Red Chinese intervention in the United Nations Korean police action and which since has resulted in upwards of a billion dollars worth of military aid to Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa base.

Brucker's statement not only is a relaxation of U.S. support for Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek, it also places the U.S. defensive line within gunshot of the Red Chinese coast.

MR. SPEEDS GOES TO TOWN

Assignment Washington

By ED KOTEPBA

WASHINGTON — For almost three hours the lamb sat on the committee table. Congressmen were on one side of it, our country's leading lamb-feeders on the other. The reporters sat against the wall.

It was getting 'way past lunch time. The lamb, a fine-looking, pink, firm carcass stamped U. S. Choice, was there to prove a point. To me it only proved how hungry I was. Images of succulent roast leg of lamb danced through my head, and I could hear the sputter of juices against a hot oven door.

The question before the Committee on Agriculture was: Should not the government drop its practice of grading lamb?

The lamb raisers said, drop it. Their argument: To meet government standards for the more costly U. S. Choice grade, ranchers must grow lamb too fat. And, they said, putting that extra weight on the young sheep sets up their profits.

These Western sheep men got so worked up about their profits going to "wast" that there was some hefty shouting between them and the House committee. And then one of the witnesses picked up a knife—but only to cut up the carcass.

Most upset of all was a woman, Mrs. Delbert Chipman, a sheep-raiser from American Fork Utah. Mrs. Chipman, a good-natured and plumpish ranch operator, said she was there representing the Federated Club Women of America—and lean meat.

"And when I get upset," she told Rep. Harold Cooley (D., N. C.) and his committee, "there's a lot of me that gets upset."

She said profits are so low that to make out financially, the ranchers may have to cross a sheep with a kangaroo to raise a fur coat with a pocket already in it. Mrs. Chipman confessed to me later she has to take allergy pills when a lamb gets near her. She wears milk.

But the man with the knife stole the show. He was Clifton Bovee, a sharp-talking meat consultant from Chicago.

Defiantly, he went about cutting and sawing off a shank here, some chops there, a shoulder roast, a leg. His point was: Look at all the fat you must put on a lamb to get it graded U. S. Choice. The fat, he said, adds nothing to the taste or tenderness.

He said that to show the stamp on a cut of meat in a shop, the butcher has to keep the fat on the cut, and this comes to 30 cents worth of fat per chop.

But all I could see was lamb chops browning in the frying pan. What, I wondered, are they going to do with this fine cut-up lamb? I slipped over to Edwin E. Marsh of Salt Lake City, secretary of the National Wool Growers Association, in charge of the display.

"What do you suggest?" he said, and I suggested they pass the cuts around. And that's what they did. Bovee started cutting away. The committee clerk walked off with a leg over her shoulder. One photographer got a breast. I waited for a roast or something.

For Cooley, the chairman, they fixed up three nice loin chops, two inches thick. I would settle for maybe a chop or two.

People crowded around Bovee. I got pushed back. He kept cutting. I got mutton and cutlets that mutton—until there was nothing left when a lamb gets near her. She wears milk.

Nixon Optimistic For Florida GOP

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Vice President Richard Nixon's weekend visit to Florida left state Republicans buoyed with the hope of carrying the state for the GOP presidential nominee for the third straight time.

Mr. and Mrs. Nixon visited Gainesville and Miami Beach and flew back to Washington Sunday. He told a news conference Saturday odds were "approximately even" for the Republicans to win Florida again in November.

He said Florida was the one "state in the southern bloc where I believe we have our best chance."

The total debt of Federal, state and local governments in the United States came to an estimated $33 billion dollars in 1953, according to Tax Foundation, Inc.

Inez Robb Says

By INEZ ROBB

The Bantam Barnum of Broadway has become the Midget Medici of the Midway.

Billy Rose, showman de luxe, has graduated from Barnum to Medici with the magnificent gift of his valuable collection of splendid modern sculpture to the National Museum of Israel. The new-minded Medici's million-dollar gift includes the financing and landscaping of a five-acre garden, in the heart of Jerusalem, in which his collection will be shown.

"Why not?" asked Billy, a trifle belligerently, as he showed me through his town house, something of a museum itself, where Rodins, Bourdellies, Malleos, Daumiers, Epstein, Archipenko, de Cretz, Noddimans, Roboss, Zorachs and Lipschitz, to name only a few, feast the eye.

"For three-quarters of my life, I've been chasing the elusive buck," he said, in answer to his own question. "Now, while I'm still around to bow from the waist and enjoy the sensation, I'm going to give it away."

"I've been a shorthand speed-writer, a song writer, a nightclub proprietor, a Broadway producer, a World's Fair impresario, a theatre owner, a newspaper columnist, and a stock market speculator. And now I'm a patron of the arts! What you might call a Sixth Avenue Medici."

"I began collecting art about 25 years ago when I bought my first town house. It had a lot of vacant walls that needed a lot of pictures. I considered railroad calendars and theatrical three-acts. And then I decided on paintings—originals."

"My first interest in paintings grew out of my friendship with Billy Eric, the son of Fanny Brice, my first wife. Billy's a modern artist, one of the finest in America. I started going to galleries and museums with Billy. And before I knew it, I was a collector."

"And now, why am I giving all the sculpture away? Because at a dinner party a year ago, I met Nahum Goldmann, head of the Jewish Agency for Israel. Right out of nowhere, he asked me to give the collection to Israel. But I wasn't sold until Kari Katz, curator and director of the National Museum of Israel, flew to New York to see me."

"Even then I didn't get any bubbles in my blood until he said the collection would be displayed in a garden, not a museum. That sold me, I said. 'Fine, if it can be designed and landscaped, at my expense, by Isamu Noguchi. You know Noguchi? He's the Japanese-American sculptor who designed the UNESCO garden in Paris.'

"Well, Noguchi and I are leaving for Israel early in February to get the garden under way. It overlooks the Valley of the Cross, with its 1,500-year-old Byzantine Monastery. And the National Parliament, the new Hebrew University and the small museum to house the Dead Sea Scrolls are adjacent.

"The fifty pieces I am giving will form the nucleus of an excellent collection of modern sculpture." Mr. Rose continued. "I hope it will always be kept current."

"Sure, I'll miss the sculptures," the Midget Medici said. "Who doesn't miss his children when they leave home?"

But he has a dozen other projects up his sleeve to keep him busy. He is considering a green house in the rear of his home, where his own private sculpture garden has been. To grow orchids, natch. And, also, the Billy Rose Foundation for Cosmetic Rehabilitation of Persons in the Performing Arts. Eventually, this means that the actor or actress who needs, say, a face lift, will get it free, compliments of the Barnum Medici.

You Better Hold On To Those Freezers Awhile

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—That bright tomorrow when we can throw away our freezers and keep beef steaks in the cupboard seems to be fading into the distance.

This is disturbing to members of the joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, who had high hopes that nuclear reactors could soon be used to sterilize and preserve foods.

So onto the maroon and blue carpet in the capitol's old Supreme Court room the committee called Richard S. Morse, director of research and development for the Army.

What he wanted was an explanation of why the Army recently cancelled plans to build a seven million dollar plant at Stockton, Calif., to test irradiated groceries.

"I'm sure you've heard about the experiment being conducted along this line. The idea is to bombard a pork chop or some other delicacy with gamma rays to kill bacteria.

This keeps the chop from spoiling and makes refrigeration or canning unnecessary. The Army got interested in the program as a possible means of supplying front-line troops with fresh meat.

A GI theoretically could keep a sirloin steak in his haversack and cook it right in the foxhole. Having frequently died on Korean front during World War II, I can see the advantages this would offer.

But, according to Morse, the program isn't shaping up too well as yet, despite the 15 million dollars the Army has spent on research. He said something about getting the "bugs" out.

"It's more than the committee chairman, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.), could swallow. He asked Morse to please refer to the troubles as "difficulties" instead of "bugs."

One difficulty is determining the amount of radiation that will sterilize food without making it radioactive. We wouldn't want to have to keep a giger counter on the dining room table.

Another problem is how to keep from changing the taste of the food. Morse said irradiated chicken and pork turned out pretty good but beef was less palatable.

He told the committee the need for more research was a good enough reason for dropping the pilot plant after $1,454,000 already had been spent on plans and equipment. But the committee members didn't seem to agree.

They peppered Morse with so many questions he hardly had time to light his pipe.

"I have a hunch we will be hearing a lot more about this and I wouldn't be surprised if plans for the plant are revived. Some of those lawmakers sure seemed to have a hankering for irradiated steak."

U. S. Intelligence Rapped By British

LONDON (UPI)—Faulty American intelligence screening was responsible for letting a Russian spy spend four months within the NATO organization, a British newspaper alleged today.

The Daily Telegraph said Western counter-espionage officers permitted American intelligence in Birmingham Lt. Cmdr. Horst Luewig, 34, to work at the Royal Naval Air Station at Lossiemouth, Scotland.

The Pro Bowl in Los Angeles Sunday wrapped up another great season of the "sport of muscle" and it was very typical. The 38-21 Western Conference victory gave the fans what they were looking for—plenty of passing and scoring.

The effect of this type of football will be felt more and more throughout the colleges and high schools this coming season and unless they can produce plenty of points you can bet that their attendance will drop greatly.

Probably no one in the country realizes this more than Ray Graves and even if it takes a while for him to find the right quarterback, when he does you can be assured that the Gators will be going for the scores. To be a successful coach in big time football nowadays one must be a "circus master" and Graves is busily painting this picture of himself. A show is what fans are seeking and unless they get someone that can give it to them, they'll go elsewhere or, seek someone that can give them one.

Along this line you've got to hand it to Tom Nugent. His famous I formation that he came out with at FSU really gave him a lot of publicity and built him a big name but, actually he never ran it more than two or three times in a game. He did provide a drawing card and really put on a show and, from this he has become noted as one of the top coaches in the country.

Well, if our Seminoles had to lose I am glad that they did it along with the Bearcats of Cinci. It goes to show that in the game of basketball it is practically impossible for even the great ones to go all the way without a blemish. In a game that is now practically all an exchange of shots from one end of the court to the other, the only thing that matters is which team is hitting the best. This was the case in Winter Park the other night. If the Seminoles had been hitting as well as they have been in the last few games, there would have been very little difference in the score.

Tonight our youngsters travel to Leesburg where they will face the Yellow Jackets in a double header that begins at 7 p.m. They will be seeking their seventh win.

Cinci Almost Loses No. 1 Rating

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cincinnati, which lost its perfect basketball record last Saturday night at Bradley, almost lost its No. 1 spot to California today in United Press International's major college ratings.

The Bearcats, who suffered their first loss of the season when they dropped a 91-90 decision to Bradley, received 18 first-place votes and 326 points. In the closest weekly balloting of the campaign California wound up only eight points behind Cincinnati with 13 first-place votes and 318 points.

West Virginia remained third with two first-place votes and 253 points in the latest voting by the 33 leading coaches who rate the teams weekly for UPI. Bradley, which scored its 31st consecutive victory at home when it edged Cincinnati, advanced from fifth to fourth with two first-place votes and 239 points. Ohio State was fifth with 211 points.

Georgia Tech remained sixth with 123 points. Utah was seventh with 71, Texas A&M eighth with 57, Villanova ninth with 53 and Southern California 10th with 32.

Villanova, beaten for the first time Saturday night when it bowed at West Virginia, 68-41, was the only newcomer in the top 10. The Pennsylvania school moved up from 12th. St. Louis slipped from 10th to 14th.

Each of the four top-ranked teams has lost one game. Cincinnati has a 33-1 record, California is 14-1, West Virginia 15-1 and Bradley 12-2.

Old Man Rain Won't Hurt Baseball Park In '60

Canvassing valued at nearly $1,000 today was donated to Sanford Greyhound Baseball Club Inc., by Jerry Collins, owner of the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club which only last week bought $2,000 worth of advertising from the club.

The siding will be used to cover the base paths in the event of a threat, or the apparent imminent arrival, of a summer shower at Municipal Stadium.

Top Racers Set For Kennel Club Action Tonight

Powerful Guttersnipe, a star of last season, will be looking for his first quaila finish tonight in the featured ninth race at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, and if the handicapper is right, the veteran will still be looking after the headlines is over.

Morning line odds give three other top greyhounds a better chance in the hot ninth than Guttersnipe.

Fans will be wondering about Buck Goodspeed, a newcomer to the oval this season. This big 22-pounder will make his first official visit to the starting gates tonight, but schooling tests indicate the gent will be a stalwart of the Grade-A division. He holds three consecutive victories in the test races and the bet odds favor him to win the 11.33 seconds in his last encounter.

Favorite of the sixth race is Ed's Black Pully, an established star at the local oval. This black gent, also weighing 22 pounds, is rated a 5-to-1 favorite from the four-hors.

Second best early odds go to Trip Latch, in the seventh starting position for the feature. Trip Latch has placed in his last three races, each against top competition.

Tonight's 10-race card will be launched with a swift Grade-B race including such fast hounds as John Ring and O. E.'s Trust.

Matinee action will start at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Since the city of Sanford is co-operating with local sponsors' efforts at providing the finest type of sport for the summer, W. Kenneth McRoberts, prime sponsor of the club, immediately offered the siding to the city which could use it in other recreational projects outside the baseball season.

City Manager Pete Knowles was all smiles in accepting this "irrepressible windfall" as he described it.

"This should mean," he said, "that because of Mr. Collins' generosity, few if any games ever will have to be called this summer. The infield drains off fast beyond the played area, and since this siding is 10 feet high, it will cover virtually the entire running area, keeping it dry."

Collins, learning that there was a need for the material, wasted no time in offering it. The siding will come from his circus winter quarters at DeLand, and city trucks will pick it up shortly.

Knowles indicated that City Parks Superintendent Jim Dunn will be instructed to build a simple rig by which it will be possible quickly to lay the siding as well as remove it.

Dunn also likely will install floodlights for the parking area, Knowles said, so that the city, and the club, can effect a saving in electricity costs by turning off the floodlighted field within moments after any game.

Foam Rubber Pits

NEW YORK (UPI)—Promoters of the major indoor track and field meets at Madison Square Garden this winter, announced Monday that foam rubber will be used in the pole vault and high jump landing pits. # Near-Record Double CHARLESTOWN, Va. (UPI)—The second largest daily double of the year — $1,250.00 — was produced at Charlottesville Monday when Greek Deb and Bloom Sage won the first two races. The payoff is surpassed this year only by a $1,923.10 double at Tropical Park, Jan. 9.

Gunsel Loom's As 'Best Bet' For NFL Boss

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Austin Gunsel's chances of being elected National Football League commissioner were boosted today because of attorney Marshall Leahy's insistence if he got the job the office would be moved to San Francisco.

With 16 of the league's 12 teams east of the Mississippi River, several owners felt the commissioner's office should be located in Chicago, New York or Philadelphia; where it has existed since the late Bert Bell assumed the job.

And although Gunsel at first had the support of only about half the NFL owners, a few others now are known to be leaning toward the soft-spoken, 50-year-old former FBI man who has been league commissioner since Bell's death last Oct. 11.

Nine of the 12 votes are necessary for election.

Leahy, highly-regarded lawyer for the San Francisco 49ers, stressed he was not campaigning for the office. But he added: "If I gave it any consideration, the office would have to be in San Francisco."

He pointed out that he has five teen-aged daughters and did not care to move his family to another city even with a position with that much prestige.

Others who have been mentioned are Edwin Anderson, president of the Detroit Lions; Paul Brown, coach of the Cleveland Browns; and Don Kellie, general manager of the Baltimore Colts.

The clubowners met informally Monday night for nearly three hours and heard presentations from Minneapolis-St. Paul, Dallas and St. Louis groups seeking NFL franchises.

The owners planned to revise the order of business on Wednesday to elect a commissioner first before beginning what is expected to be a wrangle about the admission of new franchises.

Aparicio Holding Out For Big Pay Hike In '60

By United Press International

Shortstop Luis Aparicio of the American League champion Chicago White Sox may be the first serious holdout of the 1960 season. Aparicio, whose brilliant fielding played a major role in the White Sox' first pennant victory since 1919, revealed in Maracaibo, Venezuela, Monday night that he has rejected the Sox' first offer.

"The new contract included a raise," said 25-year-old Luis. "But I think I earned a better one."

United Press International learned that Aparicio will demand $35,000 compared to the White Sox' $25,000 offer.

Wally Mees, who jumped from a .338 hitter in 1958 to .307 last season, today was rewarded for helping the Los Angeles Dodgers win the National League pennant and world's championship with a big pay raise.

The wiry, soft-spoken Mees was believed to have signed for 1960 for around $50,000, an increase of between $8,000 and $10,000 over last season.

The San Francisco Giants, Cleveland Indians, Pittsburgh Pirates, Kansas City Athletics and Boston Red Sox all had better news for their followers however, as signed contracts continued to trickle in.

Don Blasingame, acquired from the St. Louis Cardinals last month signed with the Giants and club Vice President Chub Feeney said he received a boost in pay and everybody is quite satisfied.

The Indians raised their list of satisfied players to 30 with the signing of third-baseman Bubba Phillips and pitchers Leo Kiley and Dick Bigman. Phillips was expected to be the Indians' starting third-baseman.

Don Hoak became the fourth Pirate to agree to terms when he lettered his acceptance. Hoak, who will be 32 on Feb. 8, batted .283 and drove in 63 runs last season.

Outfielder Whitey Herzog, who hit .292 before suffering a leg injury June 12 that sidelined him the rest of the season, signed with the Athletics and outfielder Jerry Maltbit and shortstop Jim Mahoney agreed to terms with the Red Sox.

Gophers Heading Toward 'Fine' Basketball Season

By United Press International

Johnny Kundra — a campus hero of 20 years ago — has Minnesota's Golden Gophers in the middle of the Big Ten race.

A sub .500 team at 10-12 last season, Minnesota Monday night moved into third place in the Big Ten with a 17-70 victory over Illinois at Minneapolis, Minn. It was the Gophers' third victory in four conference games and their 19th win in 12 games this season.

That means the Gophers are headed for their finest season since 1948 when they had an 18-3 mark in Ozzie Cowie's first year as coach.

Kundra is in his first season at his alma mater after leading the Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball Assn. to five world championships from 1947 through 1956.

Ray Cronk, one of the many sophomores Kundra counted on to come through this season, tallied 23 points Monday night while Ben Johnson had 18 and Dick Erickson added 16. Minnesota led, 36-35, at halftime but spurred to a 53-40 margin after five minutes of the second half.

Kansas State scored its fifth straight Big Eight Conference victory by downing Iowa State, 64-46, at Manhattan, Kan. The Wildcats never trailed although Wally Frank was high-point-gutter with only 12 points. Vinnie Brewer had 11 and Henry Whitely had 13 for Iowa State.

Maryland whipped North Carolina State, 63-33, and Wake Forest defeated Tennessee, 64-37, in important southern games. The victory lifted Maryland into a tie for second place in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Paul Jelusa was the high scorer for Maryland with 17 points and Bob Distefano had 14 for North Carolina State.

Wake Forest pulled down 67 rebounds to set a new team record in an easy victory over Tennessee. The Deacons led, 36-23, and then drove it up to 53-33 with a big burst in the second half.

Eastern Kentucky State beat Tennessee Tech, 76-67. Xavier topped Miami of Ohio, 80-71, Baylor downed Texas, 67-43. Oklahoma defeated Missouri, 64-32. Oklahoma State scored a 63-49 triumph over Kansas, and Georgia ripped Boston, 97-72.

WHAT'S THE INSIDE STORY ON COMPACT CAR QUALITY?

INSIDE THE LARK BY STUDEBAKER

Comparison is the only way to tell quality. Skeptics are especially welcomed to submit The Lark to these quality tests:

- SLAM THE DOOR—and listen to the solid sound that tells you The Lark is quality-built.
- SIT INSIDE—see how quality pays off in fashion fresh interiors—and more overall roomy comfort than the average new compact car.
- LIFT THE HOOD—examine the thrifty Lark V-8 (leader in most recent Mobilgas Economy Run) engine, or the new improved Super Economical Six.
- TEST DRIVE The Lark—now proven by more than a billion owner-driven miles. Compare them all for quality and price, and you'll love that Lark—QUALITY-BUILT BY THE QUALITY MAKER.

COME ON IN - THE DRIVING'S FINE Lots Of Room For Yours And Mine -

You can fold the rear seat in your Corvair
Save your dough and go everywhere

For real low cost driving — you've got other things besides just gas mileage to think about — like . . . How often will my car be in the shop? What will those shop services cost me? How easily can I find service and parts when needed? Chevy took 9 years to develop Corvair. It's the same overall length and wheelbase as the 1954 Chevrolet, but 18" lower! If you want lowest cost per mile — in gas, oil, and repairs, Corvair will save you money — give you more for your dollar.

ASK YOURSELF — WHICH AM I GETTING?

	GOOD	BETTER	WHY IT IS BETTER
Finish	Diamond Hard Enamel	Acrylic Lacquer	Lacquer—worth about $75 more. Easy to retouch. Can polish mirror smooth so you don't have to wash it so often.
Headlights	2	4	4 headlights light 80 to 100 more feet of road—might save your life. Worth $65 to $80 more. Most '60 cars use 4 lights.
Windshield	Polished Safety Plate—Required by law in all states for true "wiggie-free" vision.
Windows	Safety Sheet	Safety Plate	Wouldn't you like to see as good through windows as through windshield? Plate worth $50 more. Thicker plate won't crack or break so easily.
Brake Linings	Riveted to Shoes	Bonded to Shoes	Rivet heads only let you use less than 1/2 your brake lining—and rivets can score your brake drums. Delays brake reining expenses.
Tires	Up to 4 in. Wide	Over-size 6 1/2 in. Wide	Better traction on wet pavement. More stopping area on road. Softer, easier ride.
Wheels	Up to 4" Wide	Extra Wide 5 1/2"	Better control—less tire flexing and wear. Cooler running tires.
Engine Valve Lift	Solid Mechanical	Shock-Absorbing Hydraulic	Protects your engine—no costly valve adjustments needed for quiet and good mileage.
Starter	Noisy Centrifugal	Solenoid (Electro-Magnetic Engaging)	Won't chew up flywheel or starter teeth and can't hang up. Easier, quicker, more positive starts.
Front End Knee Action Coil Springs	Mounted in Sheet Metal Pockets	Unit-Built on Heavy Cross Member	Rigid Assembly stands road shock and holds alignment better—less tire wear and front end wander.
Exhaust System	Single Metal	Double Metal Cover (with asbestos between) Muffler	Same as luxury cars use—beats up evenly, cools slowly, quieter, rusts less.

And ask yourself — am I getting all these better built features . . . and all the extras too?

- Sport Sedan—Sport Coupe Styling
- Swing Axles
- Reirculating-Ball Steering
- ON Center
- Knee-Action all around
- Gas Filter
- Flat Floor for 12 feet (8 people)
- Automatic Choke
- Fold Down Rear Seat
- Low Center of Gravity
- Zinc Treated Unit Body

Lightweight 315 lb. engine allows more steel in body—such as 2 roof bars for your protection. Complete engine, transmission and rear axle assembly can be removed in 1 1/2 hours. See the Thrifty car with all the dough-saving engineering features.

Poor Brakes Blamed For Bus-Train Wreck

STEVENSON, Ala. (UPI)—There was never any reason for the farm families of Jackson County, Ala., to worry about their children once the kids were safely aboard Charlie Beavers' big black and yellow school bus.

There was no reason for a whistling freight train to slice through the midsection of Beavers' bus at 7:10 a. m. Monday at an unobstructed grade crossing. But it did, and four children are dead. Eight others are fighting for their lives in hospitals.

Beavers, 32, was an experienced and careful driver. He reported the brakes trouble last week, and the brakes were repaired. Some of the children who rode his bus were members of his own family. Two of them were killed and two others hurt, and Charlie Beavers' back was broken in the wreck.

Two brothers and two sisters were killed instantly in the crash which a witness said "sounded like the train had blown up." They were Foster, 16, and Leonard Beavers, 9, sons of the bus driver's brother; and Frances, 10 and Mary Grace Corbett, 8, daughters of Albert Corbett.

Beavis Beavers, 7, daughter of another brother of the driver, and Harold W. McCrary, 11, were taken to Erlanger Hospital at Chattanooga, Tenn., 50 miles away because of the seriousness of their injuries.

Five other injured were in fair condition at a hospital in Scottsboro, Ala., the county seat, with the exception of James Larry Corbett, 7, son of Jack Corbett. He was in poor condition.

Sheriff Fred Holder, Beavers' lifelong friend, was one of the few to talk to Beavers in the hospital. Beavers, stunned by pain, shook his head under heavy medication, pleaded with Holder to tell him the worst and then began to cry.

"Fred, I just couldn't help it at all," he told the sheriff. "My brakes failed. I didn't hear the train. I stopped on my brakes and nothing happened."

"I couldn't help it, Fred," he knew H. Christie, the sheriff said. "I know it."

Air Disaster Probes Take On New Air Of Mystery

NEW YORK (UPI)—The latest development in the investigation of two recent airline crashes that killed 76 persons took on a new air of mystery today.

The key figure in one disaster, New York attorney Julian Frank, was said to be the legal advisor of ex-convict Dr. Robert Spears, a naturopath involved in the other crash.

Authorities linked the two men late Monday when Donald Loomis, 36, Spears' co-defendant in a Los Angeles abortion case, disclosed the relationship between the two men.

Authorities were investigating a theory that Frank, 32, set off a bomb aboard a DC-8B Jan. 8 on a National Airlines flight from New York to Miami. Thirty-four persons died in the crash.

Spears, 64, an ex-convict with a criminal record, dating back to 1917, was listed as a passenger aboard the Nov. 16 National Airlines flight from Tampa, Fla., to New Orleans. The plane crashed in the Gulf of Mexico killing all 42 persons on board.

Authorities were checking the possibility that the Gulf crash also was the result of a bomb plot.

Frank insured himself for almost one million dollars shortly before he left New York for the hop to Florida. He named his wife, a former fashion model, as beneficiary.

Spears, according to his Dallas, Tex., attorney, carried $100,000 insurance on himself. Like Frank, Spears named his 35-year-old wife as his beneficiary.

Loomis told the Los Angeles district attorney's office that Frank was Spears' attorney. He said that after he and Spears were arrested last July Spears said "I think I'd better call my attorney in New York, Julian Frank."

Humane Society Needs A Shelter

The Sanford Humane Society needs a shelter, Society Officer Mrs. Diana Cudebec reported Saturday.

The society would like to buy or rent a piece of low cost land and could use an old barn or garage as temporary quarters.

"The officers are willing to take hammer in hand and work on anything we may acquire," Mrs. Cudebec said.

Anyone knowing where the society could get a building or some property should phone Mrs. Cudebec at FA 2-7630 or write the Sanford Humane Society at 106 Country Club Drive.

School Aid Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Democratic Advisory Council has called for a federal aid to education program that would cost one billion dollars a year at the start and grow to three or four billion annually. The council said many states and communities have expanded and improved schools in the past 10 years but more classrooms are needed and the federal government should help.

Iceland became an independent nation in 1944 when it severed its ties with Denmark.

Student Wishes He Had Not Taken Philosophy Course

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Donald Williams wishes he never had taken that college course in philosophy because today it had him right in the middle of the Finch-Tregoff murder trial.

Williams, 21, was a childhood friend of red-haired Carole Tregoff who is accused with her lover, Dr. Bernard Finch, of slaying the surgeon's brunette wife, Barbara.

Williams also was a frightened young man on the witness stand Monday and he probably will be even more shaken after cross-examination on his story he helped Miss Tregoff find a man capable of murder for hire.

The state charges Finch, with Carole at his side, did the job himself with a gun after the man in Las Vegas was paid $1,400 for the killing but squandered the money and forgot his end of the deal.

Mrs. Finch was shot to death outside her Los Angeles home July 18. There was almost a brother-sister relationship between himself and Carole, Williams testified. She was three years old and lived with his family from the first time of his memory until she went on her own eight years ago.

Williams is now a third year student at the southern branch of the University of Nevada in Las Vegas. One of the courses he took last semester was philosophy with another young man named Richard Keatchie, who boasted of his connection with the "rackets" in Las Vegas.

Railroads in the United States were using 23 different gauges of track in 1871.

U.S. Cuban Relations Hit Low Point

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro's new attacks on the United States and such leading officials as Vice President Richard M. Nixon appeared today to have brought U. S.-Cuban relations to the lowest point in years.

In a radio broadcast Monday, Castro described Nixon as "insolent" and said the U.S. attitude toward Cuba was "excessive and insulting."

Both comments stemmed from American protests against seizure of U.S.-owned property in Cuba by Castro's land reformers. Nixon said in a recent speech that Cuba had adopted a policy of "confiscation without compensation."

The Premier assailed Cubans "who applied a foreign ambassador in movie houses"—an apparent reference to the enthusiastic reception accorded newspaper shots of U. S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal's recent return from Washington.

Two Koreans Get U.S. Compensation

TONGDUCHON, Korea (UPI)—Two Korean prostitutes who had their heads shaved by American soldiers have each been paid $960 compensation by the U. S. Army.

One, Qim Ae Soo, 38 said she would use the money "to start a retail business." The other, 22-year-old Kim Jung, did not disclose what she intended to do with the money.

The two prostitutes were caught by U. S. soldiers Jan. 2 when they sneaked into the U. S. Seventh Division area to solicit patrons. The soldiers shaved their heads as punishment.

Castro said he will go on the air again soon to present "important documents" purporting to prove that "a foreign embassy" is taking part in an alleged campaign of "provocation against Cuba." He gave no details.

The bearded leader appeared on the radio show for the specific purpose for arms purchases from commentator Jose Pardo Llada. Pardo said the money was contributed by listeners.

"We are ready to fight," Castro said. "The arms are for the defense of our sovereignty, but the important thing is that behind each gun is a man ready to defend the country."

Wise Choice

WINCHCOMBE, England (UPI)—Margaret Jones, 19, a cook and the daughter of a miner, all of a sudden found herself in the predicament of having to make a hard-riding choice.

It was a romantic choice, and as is the case in any good romance, Maggie Jones was loved by a poor but honest and jobless truck driver, Johnny Rowlands, 23.

But Johnny Rowlands, sure nothing could shatter Maggie's devotion to him, one day introduced her to his buddy, a rich, handsome young baronet, Sir John Christopher Dodsworth, 24.

For months Maggie Jones was torn between her two loves and was unable to make the choice between rich man, poor man. . . .

But Maggie, the miner's daughter made up her mind Monday. The engagement was announced of Miss Margaret Jones to Sir John Christopher Dodsworth, baronet, rich man, and friend of a poor man.

Nerve Tests Prove Success

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—U. S. Veterans Administration Sumner G. Whittier announced today successful tests which restored the use of nerves and muscles paralyzed by strokes.

Whittier said the tests were conducted at the Veterans Administration hospital at Durham, N. C., and that "results were rated as excellent or satisfactory in 20 of the 27 cases and even in the seven others there was some improvement."

The VA administrator said the method consisted of "a series of electrical impulses applied to the arms 10 times a minute for a half-hour at a time, twice daily, plus the patients' slightest efforts to move, if only a fraction of an inch, his paralyzed arms."

Famed Novel Gets Good TV Treatment

By FRED DANIEG
NEW YORK (UPI)—The unforgettable Sinclair Lewis novel, "Arrowsmith," was translated in a moving, edited TV play Sunday night.

The CBS-TV DuPont Show of the Month, adapted by Phil Raitman Jr., couldn't touch upon all of the turns in Lewis' story about the very human, dedicated medical scientist, Dr. Martin Arrowsmith. (The back-of-the-hand that Lewis gave to various traits in our society were crowded out of the teleplay, as were those encounters with "men of measured merriment"—Lewis' forerunners of modern-day bucksters.)

Still, I found it a satisfying production. It moved quickly under director Alex Segal's control, showed discretion, feeling and a high degree of artfulness as it portrayed highlights from the book.

I can even forgive the curious ending, which managed to be faithful to the spirit of the book even while being unfaithful to the story. I was happy with Farley Granger's performance as Arrowsmith, Oscar Homolka as Sondelius and Diana Baker as Leora. Francis Lederer as Gottlieb hit the mark, too, but he got off to a bad start.

Viewers of "One Loud, Clear Voice" were reunited with the cast of political convention Sunday night, about six months before the caucus rooms start filling with smoke.

The NBC-TV Sunday Showcases drama by Roger O. Hirson broke the news that political reformers also make their deals with political bosses as they get into the fight. Said the political boss, played by Joseph Sweeney, "nobody gets anywhere in politics unless he pays for it, somewhere, somehow." This axiom, which seems too true at times, was served up amid unrealistic attitudes and too many stylized, stereotyped situations and characterizations. The big handicap was the feeling engendered, that we've seen all this stuff before. Mary Fickett and Jack Klugman breathed fire into their lines. Larry Blyden wrestled with a multitude of awkward lines and Wendell Corey was the bland, uninflected million-ire who ended up with a nomination and a slight touch of tarantula.

The Channel Seven: "The Freedom Explosion," an hour-long look at Nigeria's preparations for independence, is the subject of a CBS Reports special for Monday, Feb. 15. . . . Theodore Bikel brings his international folk songs to the Pat Boone show on ABC-TV Thursday, Jan. 20. . . . Betsy Palmer will take over the CBS-TV panel show, "I've Got A Secret," on Wednesday, Feb. 3 while bossman Garry Moore vacations. . . . Rocky Graziano is the special guest when CBS-TV's new variety show, "Be Our Guest" premieres on Wednesday, Jan. 27, in place of "Linsup. . . . With NBC-TV's Fibber McGee and Molly nearing the TV bonanza, there's a possibility that the one-hour Startime special will start at 8:30 p. m. instead of an hour later. The sponsor is pitching for the change.

Butler Issues Party Reminder

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler has issued a formal call for the party's 1960 convention—with a reminder that delegates must promise to try to get party nominees on their state ballots.

Butler included in the call Monday for the "good faith" resolution approved by the national committee at a September meeting. He also noted that the committee had approved a revised plan for allocating votes at the 1960 convention.

The convention will open at 8 p. m. July 11 in the Los Angeles Memorial Sports Arena "for the purpose of selecting nominees for president and vice president of the United States of America, to adopt and promulgate a platform and to take such other action with respect to any other matters as the convention may deem advisable."

There will be a total of 4,500 delegates and alternates to the convention.

One of the main attractions of the Florida Quadriconfessional at Warm Springs near Venice is the exciting Cybersama narrated by Lowell Thomas. It is a great national drama depicting the adventures of these four men.

Crackdown Asked On Brass Parties

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House subcommittee has urged a crackdown on entertainment of military brass and new laws to restrict hiring of retired officers by defense firms.

House investigators called for action by Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. and the individual services in the wake of disclosures that high ranking officers were entertained at a plush island in the Bahamas.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the Super Sport Coupe.
Chevrolet speaks of the Sixties like no other car—with a broad accent on spaciousness, stirring new concepts in styling and strong emphasis on spirit and thrill.
Step inside this superlative '60 and look at the world of room around you: head room, hip room, shoulder-squaring room. Note how Chevrolet's engineers have further fastened and narrowed the transmission tunnel to give the middle man more foot room. Chevrolet's greater roominess is inside where you want it—not outside in useless body overhang.
You'll find economy teamed with performance in a new standard V8, engineered to deliver up to 16% more miles for every gallon, or the strapping Hi-Thrift 6.
And riding comfort in the new one is a never-ending treat, thanks to Full Coil spring suspension. There are also thicker, newly designed body mounts that filter noise and vibration to the vanishing point, more rigid frames and many other engineering advances.

Temperatures Down To 34 In County

County residents shivered today in the coldest weather of the new year. Temperatures dropped to 34 degrees and light frost was reported in certain areas of the county.

County Agent Cecil Tucker reported that the frost was not heavy enough to do any serious damage to citrus and vegetables in the area. However, he warned that continued low temperatures could hurt the whole agriculture picture here.

The Weather Bureau reported a gradual warmup would begin tomorrow and continue for the next few days.

Forecast for Thursday is fair with slightly higher temperatures in the afternoon.

Future temperature outlook: Slightly higher temperatures Thursday night but with frost in north and central districts Friday morning.

However in their five-day outlook today, forecasters said temperatures for Central Florida and most parts of the state would average about six degrees below normal.

Tucker said this morning he checked with many citrus growers in the county and all felt the cold was not serious enough to damage the area's million dollar citrus crop in the midst of harvesting.

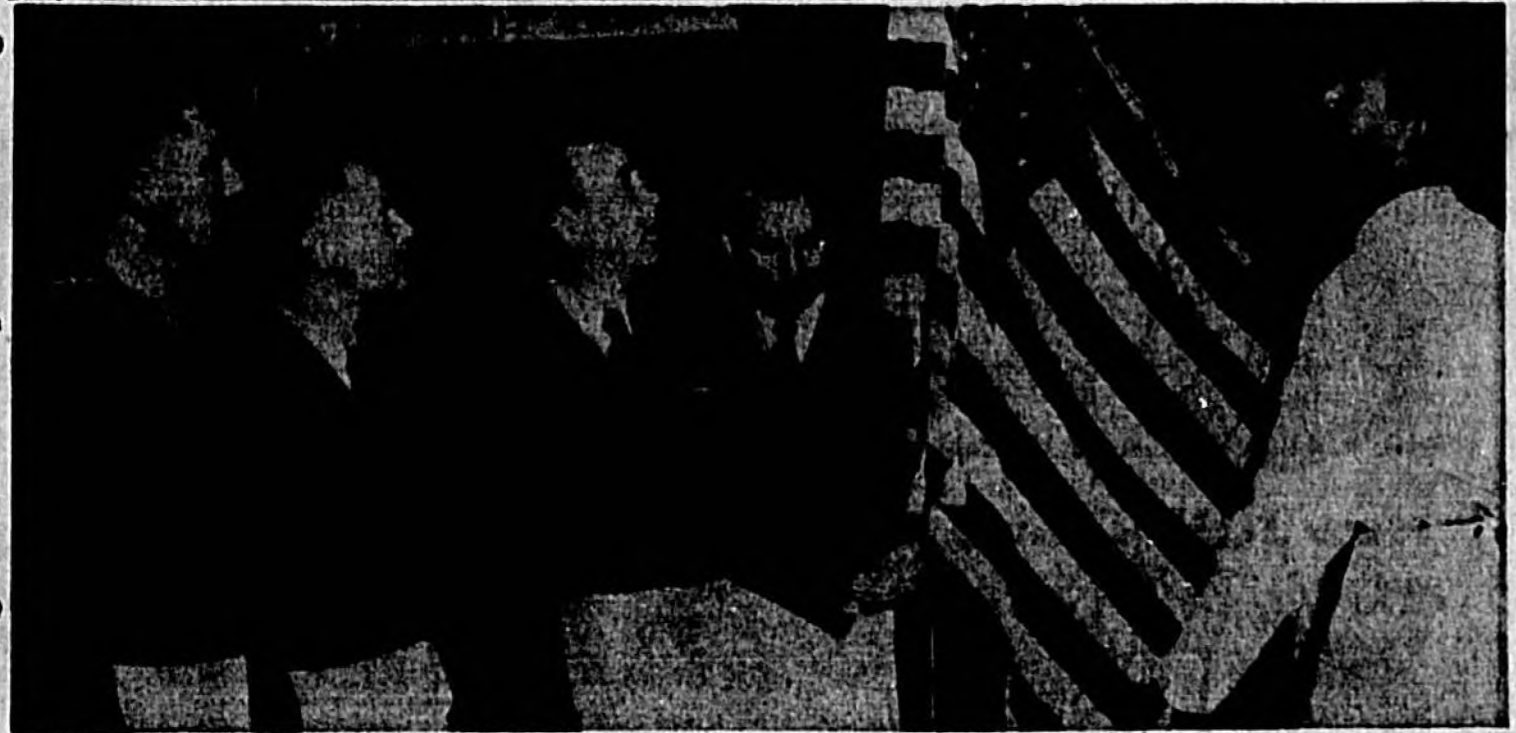

Around the state, temperatures went below freezing in Northern Florida and down to 45 degrees in tourist jammed Miami.

High temperatures this afternoon were expected to be in the 50's in the north and the 60's in the south.

The Sanford Herald

WEATHER: Sunny and continued cold today with highest 58 to 64. Fair and cool again tonight, lowest, 34-42.

Scott, accepting for the Sanford Masons was Eddie O. Keith. The gift was in appreciation of courtesies Lodge 62 has extended to the service men, the presenting group said. (Herald Photo)

News Briefs

Backfield Coach

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—Franklin C. (Pepper) Rodgers, Air Force Academy's aggressive backfield coach, was named to an identical post at the University of Florida today. Athletic Director and Football Coach Ray Graves said Rodgers' appointment was pending his release from active duty in the Air Force Feb. 1.

Big Phone Bill

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI)—The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. says it won't collect on that $1,824 telephone bill run up by a 13-year-old Fresno girl, Helen Jackson made 462 calls to Los Angeles friends and then tried to charge them to other Fresno numbers. She was discovered when people who were billed complained.

Hearings May Be Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Rules Committee was expected to decide today when to cut off hearings on proposals to use federal registrars in the South. Chairman Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo.) has said he wants to terminate the hearings soon so that a report can be ready when the Senate begins debate on civil rights legislation, scheduled for Feb. 15.

Book Propaganda

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—A special committee will investigate charges that a seventh-grade geography book is "propagandizing" for world government. The committee was named Tuesday after State Rep. George B. Stallings Jr. of Jacksonville and Tampa businessman Claude Boring demanded that the textbook, "Your Country and the World," be removed from Florida classrooms.

Budget Cuts Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee called today for cuts of "at least" two billion dollars in President Eisenhower's 1961 budget requests. As a starter, Cannon proposed that Congress block the President's plans to create 42,000 new federal jobs. At last count the government had 2,300,000 civilian employees, and Cannon said this ought to be plenty. The payroll now exceeds one billion dollars a month.

Church Meeting At Lake Mary

The Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary will hold its annual congregational meeting at 7:30 p. m. today. The meeting will be preceded by a covered dish supper at 6:30 p. m. All members are asked to attend and bring a covered dish and table service for each member of their families. New officers will be elected and a budget adopted for 1960.

'All Details' For Circusland Deal Approved By Cristiani

Reports from Sarasota that the Cristiani circus prefers to remain there and will not move to the Circusland site near Sanford apparently will have no effect on the circus moving here.

Paul Cristiani, business manager of the family circus, told the Herald this week that he had worked out "all details" of a contract with Circusland which would move the family here to manage the show area of the attraction.

Maurice Marshall, head of Entertainment Enterprises, said today that the contract should be approved by his board of directors by the weekend.

This also includes location of the circus winter quarters on 50 acres adjacent to the Circusland site.

Cristiani was asked about a series of negotiations with Sarasota officials and the Chamber of Commerce to keep the circus there on a 40-acre site presently

Navy Plane Wreckage Sighted In Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI)—Wreckage of a missing U. S. Navy plane with 16 persons aboard was sighted today in the snow-capped Taurus Mountains of Turkey.

There was no immediate report of other signs of life or bodies near the wreckage.

The crash site was in a high mountain valley, at about 8,000 feet altitude. Royal Air Force and American mountain rescue teams headed for it immediately.

The plane, a Martin Mercator twin-engine propeller craft, was on a flight from Naples, Italy, to Ankara, Turkey.

If the wreckage is that of the missing plane, it will mean two major plane crashes occurred in Turkey Tuesday night with the possible loss of 26 lives.

A Scandinavian Airlines Caravelle jet crashed at Ankara Airport in a fog, killing 42 persons including one American. Officials were reported checking the possibility that the Turkish control tower and the plane crew made twin errors to cause the crash.

The twinjet Caravelle, banking for a gentle, curving approach to Eszenboga airport snagged its right wing on a low hill within sight of impact with such force the clothes were ripped from the victims. It caught fire immediately.

One of the victims was an American identified as James Hopkins, 34, of Indianapolis, Ind., who lived in Rome.

Some officials said the crash may have been caused by a navigation error aboard the plane. There may also have been faulty control tower instructions, they said.

City Nets Nearly Half Of Income

Sanford has collected nearly half of its anticipated income for 1959-60.

City Clerk Henry Tamm said today that income for general government and from city utilities totaled $372,387.00 through December. Taxes and other income for the year are expected to bring in $1,333,215.26.

The city spent $388,127.82 through December. This went out in the general government and utilities expense. Both the general government and utilities costs include operating cost and payment on city debt.

Tamm said that the city expects to increase the surplus it carries into the 1960-61 year by $2,000. Sanford carried $42,000 into the 1959-60 year.

About 75 per cent of the city's taxes usually come in from November through January because of the tax discount offered, Tamm said.

Under county laws there, it would take about three months to advertise for hearings on such a petition. If it were filed today, that would delay a final hearing until April. The circus begins its tour before then, and some people familiar with the problem said that this would make a closing with Circusland more practical for the Cristianis anyway.

Some public figures who declined to be quoted because "we don't want to get in a chamber of commerce argument" said they feel that nothing will prevent the circus from moving to Sanford.

Support of moves to keep the circus at Sarasota have been attributed to the Jaycees and hotel association in the newspapers there since Jan. 13.

No official endorsement of any proposal concerning the circus was reported since the announcement that the Cristianis were negotiating with Circusland to move here.

Cristiani said his family is convinced that Circusland will be "an outstanding attraction." He volunteered the statement that "we expect to be in on the ground breaking sometime in February."

Marshall told the Committee of 100 here last week that "we will break ground on the location in February." He said that the engineers are expected here soon.

Rogers Is Named New Jail Architect

A new jail for Seminole County came a step nearer reality as Winter Park Architect James Gamble Rogers was hired by the county commission yesterday to prepare plans for the new jail and remodeling the courthouse.

He also stressed that the jail could be built in stages, leaving room for expansion.

He said that the figure of $700,000 for the new jail and courthouse addition was a long range project to take care of the population increases over the next 30 years.

He also added the prisoners at the jail would be roomed on the second floor with only business offices, radio room and other offices on the ground floor.

Rogers agreed to undertake the projects at a fee of six percent of the construction costs, which he termed a standard charge.

Chairman John Krider said this morning that work on the jail will be started "as soon as practical."

However, during that time, the commission plans to survey recently constructed jails around the state.

Krider also said at the board meeting that the commission will borrow money to build the jail but "does not plan to extend any bond issue more than five years."

Rogers, last August, submitted four sets of figures for alternate construction proposals with the anticipated cost of $650,000 with another $50,000 for remodeling the courthouse.

Board members told critics at the commission meeting that at no time have they discussed definitely how much the jail would cost but had decided to check around the state for the best possible jail without any additional burdens on the taxpayers.

Rogers, who has built 40 jails over the state, told citizens at the meeting that he would be surprised if the actual cost of the jail isn't lower than was first anticipated in his study.

Navy Says Thanks

The County Commission yesterday received a letter from Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, thanking the board for their fine cooperation with naval personnel in the area.

In his letter, Burke cited the honors that were given to Capt. Lionel Arthur, former commander of the Naval Air Station, who was feted here with a dinner by county and civic officials.

"In the future," Burke said in his letter, "we hope to continue to enhance the fine relations between the Navy and Sanford."

DeGaulle Calls Showdown On Uprising In Algiers

PARIS (UPI)—Paratroop Gen. Jacques Massu issued a carefully worded communique today pledging his loyalty to the chief of the French army in Algeria but not directly to President Charles DeGaulle.

An angry DeGaulle abruptly summoned the major general to Paris for a showdown on whether he was plotting an army-backed anti-DeGaulle uprising in Algiers.

Massu was accused of harsh criticism of DeGaulle at a moment when unrest in Algeria was increasing every hour, both among the army and the right-wing French settlers who fear a "sellout."

Massu, 51, Jean and hawk-faced head of my and civilian affairs in Algiers, who led the May 13, 1958, revolt which swept away the fourth French republic and brought DeGaulle to power.

He was quoted this week by a German newspaper as saying the army was wondering if it had made a mistake in backing DeGaulle, hinting at the use of force and accusing him of becoming a leftist. Later he denied making the statements.

Today after a morning-long conference with Armed Forces Minister Pierre Guillaumat, Massu again denied the interview and affirmed his loyalty to the Algerian commander-in-chief, Gen. Andre Challe.

Massu's third-person statement also said "the efforts of General DeGaulle to restore peace in Algeria has conferred on him the confidence of the Muslim masses."

His statement said nothing about the confidence of the European settlers, but in Algiers it was widely visible.

Road Appraising Work Slated Soon

Road appraisers will start work on W. First St. in March, County Commission Chairman John Krider said today.

Krider reported that the board of county commissioners today received word from the State Road Department that deeds would be forwarded March 1 for the right-of-way from W. First St. to Interstate 400.

Krider said that once the appraisal work is over, construction should start within 30 days.

Jaycees To Honor Past Presidents

Past presidents of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be special guests at the Jaycee luncheon at noon Thursday at the Civic Center.

The Past Presidents Luncheon is one of the features of Jaycee Week which started Sunday and will end Saturday with the Awards-Bonnet Night Banquet.

Seventeen past presidents of the organization here have been invited to attend the luncheon. Each of those present will be asked to make a short talk on "What the Jaycees Did For Me."

As part of the community development program during this week, representatives of each industry in the Sanford area also have been invited to attend the Thursday luncheon.

Elvis Gets New Promotion; Now Acting Sergeant

FRIEDBERG, Germany (UPI)—Elvis Presley was promoted to acting sergeant today — just one month before he leaves Germany and the U. S. Army.

Presley, until now a jeep driver, was promoted to acting sergeant from specialist fourth class. Along with a third stripe he will take over the more responsible duties of commanding a three-man reconnaissance team from his 3rd Armored Division's armored scout platoon.

He made $125 a month as a specialist four, and the Army explained an acting sergeant, as distinct from a permanent sergeant, doesn't get a pay raise.
