Severest Criminal Code Is Announced By Rumanian Head

Death Is Penalty For Drawing Anti-Government Cartoons In Strict Decree

Greek Fighters Capture Village

Repeated Bombing Of Valona Drives Fascists From Section

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The severest criminal code in modern Rumanian history was announced today by Premier General Ion Antonescu, providing such penalties as death for drawing anti-government cartoons and five to 16 years at hard labor for slandering political leaders in the streets.

The code also provides one to five years imprisonment for the parents of children convicted of crime.

Several soldiers fighting brilliantly yesterday were awarded the Iron Cross by the German high command.

At one point the Greek artillery was said to have moved to points from which they pointed their guns nearly directly at the Italians.

Many prisoners were reported taken in the Trepone sector, with 142 prisoners, including officers seized in one fight.

Aid To England Encourages War, Lindbergh Says

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today that by aiding Great Britain and other countries in the United States "is encouraging the war, prolonging it and increasing bloodshed in Europe without materially affecting the course of the war."

Testimony in opposition to the Administration's aid Britain bill, Lindbergh declared if this resolution was passed "the responsibility will be with those who send our arms abroad."

He asserted that from the standpoint of the United States "I believe a better peace could be negotiated now than next month or next year."

Colonel Lindbergh, who has been in England since the outbreak of the war, said that he had seen the "real war" and that he believed that the United States should remain neutral.

Group Places Limit On Power Under Aid Bill

Effect Of Legislation Upon American Ships For Convoys Will Be Clarified

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—John G. Winant, 51-year-old former Republican governor of New Hampshire, was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be ambassador to Great Britain, succeeding Joseph P. Kennedy.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Democratic members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, in a bid for increased support for the British aid bill, agreed today on an amendment putting a five year limit on the President's power to make contracts under the law and decided to sponsor another amendment designed to clarify further the effect of the legislation regarding the use of American ships for convoy purposes.

House leaders last night considered accepting additional opposition amendments to the British aid bill in an effort to make the vote on passage an impressive symbol of national unity behind President Roosevelt's foreign policy.

Several changes urged by Republicans were discussed at a meeting of the Foreign Affairs Committee attended by Speaker Rayburn. Rayburn said amendments under study would limit the power of the President to make contractual commitments; oppose convoys and fix a ceiling on appropriations under the program.

Another group of opposition witnesses, including James S. Kemper, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, attacked the British aid bill before the Senate committee yesterday.

Mr. Kemper, who is a vocal opponent of the bill, said that the bill would give the President too much power and that it would be a "peace measure" rather than a "war measure."

Gayda Claims British Aid Measure Violates Neutrality

ROME, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Virgilio Gayda, Fascist editor of Il Giornale D'Italia, today asserted the defense of "plutocracy" was the "unconfessed but dominant aim" of United States intervention against the Axis powers.

First Checks Of AAA Mailed To Local Farmers

Over $4,730 has been mailed by the County Agent of Seminole County to Seminole County farmers in the last few days as the first checks to be sent out in Florida this year under the AAA soil conservation program.

The total number of applications for payments this year is about 1200 but some of those who have applied have not completed with all requirements of the program and will not receive checks, the office reports. Although the total amount of disbursements this year is not yet known, last year about $60,000 was paid to farmers in this county.

Most of the applications have been completed but those who have not signed and are "work sheet signers" are asked, by C. R. Dawson to come in and complete the form.

J. J. Bolly of Sanford, B. F. Haines of Altamonte Springs and C. R. Klantz of Oviedo were recently elected to the Seminole County Soil Conservation Committee from among the community groups. These men will decide on the allotments for the farmers in the 1941 program, the agent's office reports.

Farmers who have not heretofore cooperated with the program and wish to do so are asked to call at the County Agent's office before Feb. 15.

Dr. E. O. Grover of Rollins College, as guest speaker of the Sanford Women's Club 11th edition of the Animated Magazine held yesterday afternoon at the club building, discussed the author of "Tales of A Wayfarer."

Famous names to appear in the Rollins edition of the Animated Magazine were listed by Dr. Grover as including Osa Johnson, author of the book "I Married Adventure," recently married to Clark H. Getts, and planning to come to Winter Park on their honeymoon. Prince Otto of Austria, member of the royal family and refugee from his homeland, will speak on "The United States of Europe."

Italian Colonists Flee From British Troops In Africa

Bad Weather In Europe Reduces Aerial Warfare

Nazi-Dominated Government In Norway Seeks More Control

By Associated Press

Bad weather cut short attacks by German bombers on London and southern England, today and prevented the R.A.F. from making major sorties against the Nazis. Dispatches from German-held Oslo asserted that all Norwegians more than 15 years old had been ordered to register by the Nazi-dominated government in an effort to strengthen its control.

Street fighting and numerous arrests in western Norway were reported in earlier dispatches. After sweeping offensive actions that ran twice around the clock, the British tabulated last night a series of aerial blows at Germany's war industries, transport, airfields, potential invasion bases and facilities for the counter-blockade of Britain.

It was the R.A.F.'s major action in recent weeks. Through darkness and daylight, heavily laden Wellingtons and Blenheims crisscrossed the English Channel, the so-called invasion coast of France and Belgium, the northern French interior and a vital industrial section of western Germany, emptying their bomb racks and then ground-rafting with their guns. Shore watchers in Kent, England, reported seeing a thick column of black smoke rising near Calais some time after a strong force of bombers, protected by heavy formations of fighting planes, soared eastward across the Strait of Dover.

Latest reports said the British were within 60 miles of Bengal, heralded as the site for a probable defense of Marshal Rodolf Graziani's retreating armies.

The British also announced steady advances on far-flung African battlefronts in Eritrea, Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland.

Italy's dismembered army of Libya last night was reported falling back "with increasing speed" upon the stronghold of Bengasi under heavy aerial assault and a sweep of British mechanized units that engulfed its stragglers.

In East Africa Britain's empire forces smashed deep into Benito Mussolini's colonial empire on four fronts, driving to within 85 miles of the Eritrean capital of Asmara after seizing about one-fifth of the territory of the Red sea colony.

The tempo of the British drives was said to have been "increased on all fronts," especially across Libya where the Army of the Nile is advancing at the rate of 20 to 30 miles a day upon Bengasi.

The Italians, heavily pounded by land and air as they fled, may try to make a stand at Bengasi but British military experts said the city lacks defenses comparable to those of fallen Bardia and Tobruk.

The new hammer blows against Italy's battered defenders in Africa, as described in official British communiques yesterday:

Italian forces, "urged on by our pursuing troops, are increasing the speed of their withdrawal toward Bengasi" with some 400 Fascist stragglers falling into the hands of the British.

British advance forces have pushed on well beyond captured Cirene near the coastward and there, 60 miles from Bengasi, some 75 miles from Bengasi where Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's Italian "terribili" are expected to attempt a stand in defense of western Libya.

Belgians Seek Gold Shipped To France

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—A fight by the Belgian government in exile to get possession of about $200,000,000 in gold shipped to France for safekeeping in the Nazi invasion of Belgium was disclosed Wednesday night through announcement of a court move to tie up French funds here as security for the treasure.

George Thunin, one-time prime minister of Belgium, now a representative in the United States of the exiled government at London, told the story of the struggle for the missing gold in announcing litigation over French funds frozen in the country since the fall of France.

Highway Construction

Government officials have indicated that federal aid highway funds will be used so as to promote the early construction of defense roads and that where such work conflicts with civilian highway demands the preference will have to be given to the needs of the Army and Navy. Federal Works Administrator Carmody says that some 4,000 miles of roads leading to and from military camps and reservations have been certified as defense highways and must be constructed at once. The cost of this work is estimated at around $230,000,000. "Some of these urgently needed roads," says the Tampa Tribune, "are being built, particularly within the reservations, but other access roads are being delayed because funds are not available; for by law, present federal-aid appropriations can be spent on the construction of access roads only if state or local money is available to pay part of the cost, and some states, he said, do not have the money required." "It is clear that federal aid funds are to be directed chiefly to these 'access roads,'" Governor Holland's recent declaration that such roads must be given preference in Florida, will, it is understood, be put into effect by the new State Road Department, Florida must not be found "out of step" in this nationwide program. It seems fairly evident that if Seminole County is to benefit from any of the new highway construction, its projects must be fitted into the defense program and be backed up by sufficient evidence to prove that they are needed for defense purposes.

Straws In The Wind

Our neighboring university of Stetson has created some consternation in athletic circles by announcing that intercollegiate sports will be discontinued there because "the cost is too great for a small institution to bear." It may be that this is but the beginning of a general movement to de-emphasize college athletics. "The Hatters will be missed," says the Miami Herald. "For more than 40 years the Deland college has been represented on the football fields and for more than three decades on the basketball courts of the state. The decision to withdraw will leave a big hole in the state's intercollegiate athletic contests." "If the university has not the money, its officials display the wisdom of courage in shutting down on intercollegiate schedules. The action is at variance with the policy of other schools which keep up sports at a loss because they figure that it is good advertising." "Unfortunately, the public, which must be depended on to support games, will not patronize any team that is not up among the winners. People want big time football. They won't pay for the other kind. Stetson evidently recognizes this reality." "As President W. E. Allen does not claim that the decision was to de-emphasize sports for the academic life, he leaves no room for a discussion of that phase of athletics in college life." "Nevertheless, we wonder whether President Allen's silence on this point does not speak louder than if he raised it."

THAT PERSONS UNDER 25 years of age are less frequent offenders than their elders, has been recently disclosed by the Safety Education Department of the Aetna Life Affiliated Companies, which recently completed a survey of drunken driving arrests in forty-one key cities of over 100,000 population located throughout the United States. With an aggregate population of more than twenty-two million, only three of this group of cities report that the majority of drivers arrested for drunkenness are under 25. This cross section of the country's population offers a fairly accurate proof of the fact that the average age of drinking drivers may be somewhat higher than commonly supposed. For example, Detroit, with a population of 1,548,662, reports the average age of persons arrested for drunken driving as 38.7 years.

YEARS AGO when the late A. T. Stewart was New York's leading merchant, he entered the office of an institutionally famous banker and asked for the loan of $1,000,000. The banker had no hesitation in advancing the money, but before the transaction could be closed, Stewart noticed a handsome rug that covered the floor. He asked where it had come from. Unthinkingly, the banker named a store that was a bitter rival of Stewart's. "If you won't buy that rug from me, I won't borrow money from you," said Stewart stiffly as he got up and stalked out.—Your Life Magazine.

Florida Sweets Seen In Exhibit

TAMPA, Feb. 5.—Florida Sweets, an exhibit of the Florida Sweets Association, will be on display at the Florida State Fair, which opens here today.

ZAMINATION TIME

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

Disregarding for the moment the question of a "new order" in Europe, Florida's citizens gleefully enjoyed the advent of a "new order" in Florida last week when with solemn ritual all who attended the annual Press Breakfast at the Florida Orange Festival were initiated in the "Order of the Sacred Cow." To Allen Andrews, editor and publisher of the American Eagle of Estero, goes credit for the idea that resulted in the staging of an amusing and taxpaying "humble" motorist and taxpayer serving as candidate, is initiated in the sacred rites that esteem and venerate Her Divine Majesty, Garbed in colorful robes, Grand Imperial Bullion and Venerable Long and Short Horns of the "new order," occupying the fraternal chairs with true dignity, revealed the ancient mysteries, pointing out the exalted position, which in days gone by was the cow and her kind. The aim and purpose of the "Order of the Sacred Cow" is to reestablish the patient and humble to her rightful position and create in the public mind the proper respect and veneration due her as Florida's "Patron Saint." Discouraged after years of militant effort to drive the scrub oaks from our state highways through editorial appeals to sympathy and reason, Allen finally decided to adopt the old political philosophy that teaches "if you can't lick 'em, join 'em" and he hopes that where common sense has failed, ridicule and humor will do the trick. So he urges that since it seems to be our lot to have to live with the cow on our highway, we should learn to defend rather than deny her.

Your Income Tax

Who Is The Head of A Family? For income purposes there can be only one head of a family in addition to being the chief taxpayer, the head of a family must be related by blood, marriage, or adoption to his dependents, and he must have a legal or moral obligation to exercise family control over them and provide for their care. As such he is entitled to the same exemption allowed a married person—$2,000. There are some unusual cases under this classification. A single person, who supports and maintains in one household two or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood, by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for them is based upon a legal or moral obligation, is the head of a family, and as such is entitled to the exemption allowed a married person—$2,000. Another example not so much out of the usual is this: A widower who supports in his household his aged mother and his child 17 years of age is the head of a family, and as such is entitled to an exemption of $2,000 and a credit of $300 for two dependents. Not infrequently a case like this is reported: It involves the support of an indigent adult by a single person who is morally and legally obligated to provide a home for this individual. In such a case the exemption as the head of a family may be allowed the same amount as that allowed a married person.

Florida Senators Term Ship Canal Vital To Defense

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(Special)—Describing the Florida ship canal as a "vital element in our defense," Senators Andrews and Pepper will urge Congress to pass legislation providing for its immediate construction and prompt completion. "In the event of United States involvement in a war in this hemisphere," they said, "the strait would have a difficult and hazardous task in protecting shipping in the Florida straits between the Caribbean Sea and the Gulf of Mexico." The new canal bill will call for a new-level canal, 33 feet deep, 400 feet wide in the Ocala cut, and 600 feet wide in the approaches and in the St. Johns, Oklawaha and Withlacoochee Rivers. The estimated cost is $180,000,000. "The construction across the northern portion of the Florida peninsula of a shelter and far more protected route for Gulf, Caribbean and Panama Canal traffic, which has been advocated for over a century, should be completed without further delay," the senators said. While they were satisfied that no basis existed for years that water supply of South Florida would be endangered, the senators said, their bill would contain a provision "for the building of any control works which our Army engineers may deem advisable to prevent any appreciable harmful effect on the water supply." A professional delegation from Florida headed by Maj.-Gen. Charles F. Sumner, retired former Army chief of staff, Walter Coachman of the ship canal authority, and H. H. Buckman of Gulf-Ala. Canal Association, are in Washington to press their forces behind the new canal legislation.

PLAN PASTURE INCREASE

CROSS CITY, Feb. 6.—(Special)—Having gotten off to a good start in their pasture improvement program by planting 870 acres in 1940, Dixie county cattlemen are planning to increase their plantings considerably this year, according to County Agent D. M. Treadwell. "Dixie is financially dependent, even though the taxpayer maintains a common home and furnishes the chief support, the latter may not claim the exemption. A taxpayer who supports in his home his minor children and whom he exercises family control is classified as the head of a family, even though the children may have an income of their own sufficient for their maintenance. If he does not support them, by reason of their own income, but does exercise family control, he cannot be classified as the head of a family."

New Semester At Stetson Starts; Enrollment Same

DELAND, Feb. 6.—(Special)—The Spring semester got underway here yesterday at Stetson University with enrollment apparently unaffected by the institution's recent move to discontinue intercollegiate athletics at the close of the present session. Although Registrar Olga Bowen stated that no exact figures on mid-term registrations would be released until the end of next week, she did say that the number of incoming transfer students would probably offset any decrease from failures or transfers. Late registrations are permitted at Stetson for two weeks into the semester, and Saturday Class enrollment, always included in the institution's reported numerical size, will not have been completed until after the week end.
The newly-inaugurated semester will be the last at Stetson to be planned on the five day week class schedule. Following a faculty vote recently, the institution will launch a new program next Fall calling for classes six days a week. Reason for the move is given as the relieving of congestion in both student and faculty class schedules. The change means that every school of higher education in Florida is now on the six-day basis. Florida State College for Women at Tallahassee was the most recent to adopt the six-day plan, and Stetson now completes the ranks of Florida colleges and universities to spread out their classes.

Rotary Valentine Dance Is Planned

Plans have been completed for the Rotary Valentine Dance to be held at the Mayfair Hotel on Feb. 14, with music by Eddie King and his orchestra. It was announced today by Andrew Caraway, general chairman of the dance.

Tables may be reserved for the dance by telephoning the hotel. The dance is by invitation only.
Preparations are nearly completed for the mid-winter pilgrimage to the St. Anne Shrine, Rev. A. J. Salois, Shrine director, announces. This annual religious event will be held Sunday, Feb. 9, at the beautiful St. Anne des Lacs, several miles east of Lake Wales.

Embassy Guarded While Italians Parade

Student Demonstrators in Rome Disband Before Arriving in Vicinity

Patriotism of Group Is Shown

Move Is Directed At British Efforts To Discredit Morale

ROME, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Italian troops were drawn up around the United States Embassy today to ward off anticipated student demonstration, but the demonstrators disbanded before reaching that part of town.

Military patrols remained in the vicinity of the embassy, however—the first show of military protection since before Italy's declaration of war against Britain and France last June.

The students scattered as they did yesterday. After demonstrating in the vicinity of the embassy, they moved to the Piazza Venezia.

Students gathered in the Piazza Venezia, the main square of Rome, today to demonstrate against the Italian government's policy of neutrality.

The demonstrators, who were mostly students, were dispersed by the Italian police.

END OF A POWER DIVE

Here is all that remains of one of the army's newest and latest pursuit planes after one wing snapped off, plunging Second Lieutenant Sherman E. Deary, of San Diego, Cal., to his death at Northport, L. I. He and five other fliers had taken off from Mitchell Field, N. Y., in six Curtiss P-40's for test flights.

The plane was flying at an altitude of 10,000 feet when the wing snapped off, causing the plane to enter a steep dive. Deary was unable to bail out and was killed on impact with the ground.

The other five fliers were rescued and returned to base. The cause of the accident is still under investigation.

Army's Planes Ranked Under British Craft

Navy Flyer Says American Air Force Is Being Stripped For Aid To Britain

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Associate Director Sidney Hillman of the Office of Production Management said today the labor situation "is very satisfactory" as reflected by national defense, and that he saw no need for legislation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Major Al Williams, former Navy speed flyer, declared today the United States armed forces have no single water fighting plane that can "hold a candle" to British or German pursuit ships clashing over England today.

Opposing the Administration's loan-lease bill before the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee, Williams asserted the nation's air forces are being "stripped" of planes needed for the secondary training of military pilots because such ships are being turned over to Great Britain.

He said he did not believe Britain could win the war. A policy of "no more concessions" on the bill was agreed to by the House Democratic leadership shortly before the fight was over and amendments were resumed on the House floor.

President Roosevelt disclosed today that plans had been formulated to build up a reservoir of public works projects to take up the slack of defense employment after the war.

He said these projects would consist chiefly of the type that would provide some kind of return of capital to the government, and would include highway construction, hospitals, airports and housing.

The House revealed an unmistakably sizable majority for the lend-lease method of helping Britain yesterday by voting off in almost unanimously good-humored session, all efforts to curtail the powers which the pending bill would yield to President Roosevelt.

Acting quickly on amendment after amendment, with no attempt at a vote, the House advanced the measure at such a rate that the Administration leadership was highly confident of final action tonight, leaving the next step to the Senate.

With striking absence of snapping tempers and the shouted repartee usual to the construction of a bill of such importance, the House quickly approved amendments proposed by the Foreign Affairs Committee Democrats to increase support for the measure. They would:

Set a two-year limit upon the period by which President Roosevelt could contract to manufacture arms for the British, and a five-year limit upon the delivery of war items called for in the contracts.

Require that President Roosevelt consult the chief officers of the Army and Navy before sending defense implements abroad. Stipulate that the bill grants no new powers to the President to loan American naval vessels conveying ships to belligerent ports.

Marines at Guantanamo Bay which is a United States navy base in Cuba eat Sanford celery which was revealed in a letter received here from Richard Maxwell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Maxwell of this city.

In his letter to The Herald, Mr. Maxwell writes:

"We were unloading a ship of provisions a few days ago—were out a few miles and the cargo nets were swinging over the side and depositing the various items on barges.

"I looked up one time and immediately recognized the celery crates (what Sanford boy wouldn't?) and imagine my surprise when it swung lower and I saw 'Chase and Co., Sanford, Fla. Boy! What a feeling—kind of Nikes a letter from home."

"Most of the fellows knew I was from Sanford," the young marine wrote, "and so I was on the stage for a while, telling them about Sanford and celery."

R.A.F. Reports Overnight Raids

Japanese Attempt To Settle Dispute Between France, Siam

Attacking in a heavy sandstorm, Britain's victorious Army of the Nile today captured the Italian citadel of Bengasi, capital of the East Libyan province of that name, in a westward sweep that has carried across 400 miles of desert in 61 days.

The fate of 25,000 Fascist troops garrisoned at this important Mediterranean seaport, former headquarters of Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, was not immediately disclosed.

Reports that the Italians in the entire eastern region were capitulating or fleeing, British military quarters in London said. Graziani's position was so bad now that Mussolini might be forced to risk the Italian fleet in an effort to move reinforcements and supplies across the Mediterranean to Libya.

Italian strongholds taken by the British since Dec. 9. No new major developments were reported from either the Ethiopian or the Somaliland fronts.

The British announced overnight R. A. F. raids on German "invasion ports" but said there was little Nazi activity over England.

Roosevelt Quickly Approves Ship Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—President Roosevelt gave quick approval yesterday to a bill appropriating $13,500,000 for construction of 200 new cargo ships.

Congressional action was completed only Wednesday.

The new ships will cost an aggregate of $350,000,000, but $36,500,000 already has been allocated from a special fund by the President to start work on new facilities for building the ships.

As finally passed, the bill also would give the Maritime Commission $65,000,000 of additional contract authority to carry on its regular shipbuilding program.

Commission Hears Jacksonville Men On Cities' Laws

Legislative problems confronting Florida cities were discussed at a special meeting of the City Commission in the City Hall yesterday afternoon by E. P. Owen, secretary of the Florida League of Cities, and William M. Mitchell, attorney for the league.

Both men are from Jacksonville. It was explained that the league maintains a bureau in Tallahassee during sessions of the Legislature to keep cities informed on bills introduced that might affect them.

An important bill comes before the Legislature this week, telegraphs city officials, throughout the state for their opinions on the measure, and these opinions are presented to the lawmakers, Mr. Owen said.

Purchase of a 30-volume set of the 1940 edition of the Dictionary of American Biography for the Sanford Library was authorized by the Commission, Mr. Owen said. The set, based and revised every 10 years, records the lives of 18,633 prominent American men and women.

Keeler Is Misquoted In Story In Herald

O. R. Keeler, getting authority, who visited Mrs. and Mrs. Bradford Byrd at their home on Golden Lake yesterday was misquoted in an article about him in The Sanford Herald yesterday, Mr. Byrd pointed out today.

The article reported that Mrs. Mitchell asked Mr. Keeler to mention "Gone With the Wind" in his column in the Atlanta Journal, but Mr. Byrd explained that when Mr. Keeler said this, "he was referring to 'Mama' or 'Mom' (that's Keeler) to all who know the Keelers" when he said, "She brought a copy to me" and asked me to read it and make mention of it in my column.

"The way it appeared would lead a reader to believe that Margaret Mitchell had made a request of Mr. Keeler, but as a matter of fact Margaret Mitchell never asked anyone to read her book nor did she ever ask for a line of publicity," Mr. Byrd declared.
