Commission approves rezoning

SANFORD - The city commission last night voted 3 to 2 to approve rezoning of 3.5 acres at Airport Boulevard and Mellonville Avenue, property which one firm's representative called a "real show place" for regional sales hubs.

Walter H. King, owner of the property, requested a change from agricultural to general commercial use two months ago. Based on complaints from residents in the area, the city planning and zoning commission and the city planner recommended denial of the request.

John Morris, representing Sunstate Electronics said the firm "is a division of a Fortune 500 Company, a high-tech electronics firm. They're going to build regional sales hubs, and this will be the first one, so it'll be a real show place."

Tony Russi, who lives near the property on South Mellonville Avenue, opposed the rezoning. "If you allow this rezoning, you're going to destroy one of the last beautiful natural areas in the city.'

Commissioners Bob Thomas, Whitey Eckstein nd A.A. McChashan voted in favor of the Mayor Bettye Smith opposed it.

Kastner to deed parcel at no cost

By J. MARK BARFIELD. Herald staff writer

SANFORD - With agreements from property owners to give their land to the county without cost virtually assured, the Rinehart Road extension project is on the road again.

Sid Vihlen, representing Viola Kastner, said a signed agreement could be delivered to Seminole County commissioners today deeding a 140-foot wide path through her property north of County Road 46-A without cost to the county. Assistant county attorney Lonnie Groot said the agreement would allow the county use of an additional 12 fect on either side of the Kastner had orginally sought county approval to reserve a quarter of the new road's capacity for traffic from future construction on her property. County planners balked at Kastner's proposal, saying most of her land was in Sanford and out of their zoning jurisdiction. Other land owners along the proposed two-mile road between CR 46-A and State Road 46 have hedged at granting the county free title to their land until they review Kastner's deal with the county.

If all lands are acquired within the next six months, county engineer Jerry McCollum said construction on the four-lane road could begin by next summer and take 12 months to complete.

Columbia launch option debated in bid to keep Discovery on track

By WILLIAM MARWGOD UPI Science Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL - Launch of the shuttle Columbia Saturday on a 10-day astronomy flight may be delayed one day and possibly two in a bid to keep the shuttle Discovery on track for a high-priority Oct. 5 liftoff, officials said Monday.

Columbia's countdown is scheduled to begin at 1 a.m. EDT Wednesday and the ship's sevenman crew plans to fly to the Kennedy Space Center from Houston later in the day for final preparations.

Launch is scheduled for 1:17 a.m. Saturday, but the flight may be delayed a day or so that Discovery can be moved to nearby launch pad 39B before Columbia's takeoff.

, At issue is a drive to preserve as much spare time as possible in Discovery's ground processing schedule to handle unexpected problems that might otherwise de-lay launch of the European Ulysses solar probe, grounded in 1986 by the Challenger disaster.

NASA only has 18 days to get Discovery off the ground or Ulysses will be grounded for another 13 months because of technical issues involving the probe's trajectory to the sun.

For that reason. NASA managers want to have Discovery ready to go at the opening of its "launch window" if at all possible. Given that engineers typically lose a day a week at the launch pad, they need as much contingency time as they can get.

But Discovery's move from its hangar to the Vehicle Assembly Building for attachment to a pair of boosters and an external fuel tank fell behind schedule over the Bee Shuttle, Page 5A

Florida SAT scores drop

ORLANDO - The scores of Florida students on the Scholastic Aptitude Test carlier this year followed the nationwide trend to lower scores.

Florida's 1990 high school graduates dropped their average verbal score by two points to 418, while average math scores dropped one point to 466.

Florida's average scores were also below the national averages, which were 424 on the verbal section and 487 on the math.

National SAT officials said the lower scores show students have been spending too much time watching television or playing video games and not enough time reading or taking part in more beneficial activities. Nationally, the SAT averages are at their lowest point since 1980.

Repellent ad bugs Butterworth

TALLAHASSEE - Florida's attorney general demanded an explanation Monday for an advertisement in which the state Department of Natural Resources appears to endorse an insect repellent.

The ad shows a picture of a man in the Florids Park Service uniform and the DNR seal and advises readers to "Take OFFI to Florida state parks."

It said that Deep Woods OFFI is "approved for use by the Florida Park Service." It also said the manufacturer, S.C. Johnson & Son Inc., would donate 50 cents to the park service for each purchase of the product.

"The exploitation of the state's good name for the benefit of a product promotion is deplorable." Butterworth wrote.

He said he was also disturbed that the DNR had made a commercial agreement without consulting Gov. Bob Martinez and the Cabinet, to whom Gardner answers as chief of the DNR.

DNR spokesman Randy Lewis defended the deal, saying it would bring the state $10,000 in direct contributions, $25,000 in advertisements for state parks paid for by the company, 100,000 state park brochures printed at the company's expense and 265 cases of insect repellent for park rangers.

The ads have run in newspapers and on radio in all the major markets in Florida and park brochures have been distributed in grocery stores. Lewis said the company has had similar deals with West Virginia and Michigan.

Asked what the phrase "approved for use by the Florida Park Service" meant, Lewis replied, "not much." The agency did not test the insect repellent, he said. "It would be based on individual experience by people that work for us and visitors to our state parks," Lewis said. "It just seemed like a good opportunity and we went forward on it."

Butterworth demanded a full accounting of the deal at the Sept. 11 Cabinet meeting.

Pearl Balley managed somehow to be both larger than the and right down there in the trenches of ordinary living. It was a style called "carthy" when she started out, but lest that leave the impression she sounded like anyone clee with a warm, rumbly voice and a transparently tough exterior, probably the style should just be called "Balley." The exuberant and languorous, proud and unpretentious, deep and gittering tones of Pearl Balley's music wave add by those who knew her to only duplicate the same chords in her offstage off. Her death at age 73 music be feit as a terrible loss to all of them. But for her larger suddence, she left behind a stack of tapes and records that the life will never go out of. Thank you for that, Pearl Balley.

By DEAN SMITH Herald sports writer

DELAND - Who says you can't Bo home again?

Stetson University has signed ex-DeLand High School and Seminole Community College pitcher Steve Clemente to a grant in aid for the 1991 Hatter baseball season.

"It will be great to play before my family and friends again," said Clemente, "Plus I get to play with two of my old high school teammates (pitcher Tommy Hickox and Infielder Casey McComb).

The 6-1, 195-pound right hander had a less than scintillating 2-13 record this year. But he had very little offensive support as shown by a very impressive 3.50 carned run average. Also as the ace of the SCC staff he drew all of the tough starting assignments.

He chose SCC after posting an 8-8 record in three years at DeLand in which he helped lead the Bulldogs into the regional playoffs once and the district finals against Lyman one season.

Clemente will try to follow in the footsteps of two former SCC players who excelled at Stetson.

First baseman Andy Moflitt still holds the school's single season and career doubles record and finished with the second best career batting average at .337. He currently is an athletic trainer for the University of Miami football team.

The other ex-Raider is eatcher Jeff Altier who was one of the best catchers to play for the Hatters before becoming an assistant coach at Stetson. He just recently became SANFORD - When you mention slowpitch softball in Sanford the first team that comes to mind is the Tim Raines Connection which dominates the top league in the men's softball division.

But if things continue like they did this season the Thermocarbon women's team may make people think twice about great softball teams

'We started two years ago with a bunch of girls who didn't have a team to play for," said Thermocarbon Coach Jim Adams. "Most worked for the City and wanted me to help them get a team started.

"Most of those girls lasted half a season, but we didn't want to fold the team so we filled out the team with girls who called the Recreation office looking for someone to play with."

Now they are the best Sanford has to offer after falling just one game short of the first undefeated women's league champion in several years. The team held an 8-7 lead late in its last game but Seko Air Freight scored 11 runs in the sixth inning to upset the champions 18-8.

Tampa Bay Bucs waive eight, must cut one more

United Press International

TAMPA - The Tampa Bay Buccancers waived eight players Monday, including their 12th-round draft choice, quarterback Todd Hammel.

The cuts reduced Tampa's roster to 61, one over the NFL limit that must be reached by 4 p.m. EDT Tuesday.

Hammel, the Southland Conference Player of the Year in 1989 at Stephen F. Austin, attempted just two passes in three exhibition games. He failed to complete either pass and was sacked twice. The Buccaneers currently carry three quarterbacks - Vinny Testaverde, Chris Chandler and first-year pro Jeff Carlson.

The other seven waived players all joined the Buccaneers as free agents. Released were running back Tony Citizen, tight end Ed Thomas, wide receiver Stevie Thomas, guard Carl Watts, nose tackle Benji Roland, linebacker

Pete Najarian and defensive back Evan Cooper. Najarian played 12 games with the Buccaneers last year and participated in one game for Tampa Bay in 1988. Cooper was signed as a 1990 Plan B free agent from Atlanta.

"Hammel was one of several of these players that could have been here on a developmental squad if we still had one," said Coach Ray Perkins. "It's fair to say they are a combination Bee Bucs, Page 28

SANFORD - Michael Page is a music man.

When he strums his guitar, the soothing sound of a golden oldie song stirs memories in the minds of his audience. He deftly picks at the strings making music that can put your mind at case or set your soul on fire.

Page plays several instruments. sings and writes music, all pro-fessionally. Page has appeared throughout Central Plorida for the past 12 years. He started "picking" (as it's called in the music business) past 12 years. He started "picking" is it's called in the music business his first guitar, a gift from his parents, when he was a young isd of seven. Page says that although he likes to solo he also enjoys playing with a group. He says he loves to jam, which is when a few musicians get together and play for the fun of playing.
"Oigs are good now, however. I'll always accept another engagement. Music is my life and I want to share it." he says in his soft-spoken manner. Page's rates are fair and well worth the fee considering the effort he puts forth for each performance he gives.
A club patron who has seen Page perform over the years says. "Page has appeared on the animal circuit, the Moose, Engles and Elks. What I admire about him is his attitude.
