CHAPTER 26

BILL SETTLED back in a corner on the sofa and said, "Like Wiesel, I want to tell you all about tomorrow's headlines. I'm sure you all know something has been going on."

"Not F.B.I. Secret Service. We've just broken up a counter-felt racket and that's one thing that doesn't come under the F.B.I. There are other things involved in this, too, that comes under the Smuggling Act and the Bureau of Narcotics. It's a pretty big thing. Smuggled goods and marijuana are mixed up with the counter-felt."

"When Alvarez came here presumably to fish, I was sent down to keep him covered. We had a hunch that counter-felt would be going on somewhere close by. I was beginning to think Alvarez was too smart to be caught. He paused, smiled, and said, 'Then Rita and Priscilla came.' No one said anything, and he continued, 'And Lookout House entered the picture. At the party on the yacht that night I heard Rita and Alvarez talking about the place and something clicked in my mind—all that talk about the secret room and passage.'

"I located the room the morning I went there and found Priscilla ransacking the cedar chest. And I went back and explored the secret passage after Priscilla had gone."

"You didn't tell us!"

"It wasn't the time. This thing was so big I couldn't afford a slip. The door was open leading from that room to the secret passage and I closed and bolted it. If I had taken the counter-felt equipment then, it—with the marijuana and smuggled jewels—would have been found on property belonging to Priscilla."

Priscilla was staring at him. "And that's why you said you could have placed me under arrest?"

Bill smiled at her. "I wanted to scare you into holding onto the property until the right moment. It was the only way Alvarez had to get into that room, after I had blocked the passage."

"Why didn't he get suspicious? Finding the door locked, I mean."

"That's probably what made him so desperate to conclude the thing and be on their way. Alvarez would have surely supposed if the things had been found, they would be reported at once. Instead, he fell into my trap."

"What about the lights flashing?" Rita asked.

"That's all," Rita asked.

Herlong Report

The 85th Congress got off to a quick start in its first month with the House of Representatives approving President Eisenhower's Middle East "doctrine" by a large majority.

I voted for it. We either had to vote for it or, in effect, tell the world that we did not have confidence in the President.

The President, in my opinion, already had the powers asked for in his resolution. But in making this request of Congress, I must say in all fairness that it was a smart propaganda move that should reach against the Communists.

I never saw a bill that received so much criticism—yet received so many votes. It passed the House 335 to 61.

The letters I received in opposition to the resolution expressed the view that Congress should declare war and not the President. This is absolutely correct.

But there are certain powers that the President has already, and it is my firm belief that what he asked for in this bill was one of them. President Truman exercised this authority without Congressional approval when he sent American troops into Korea.

Since Mr. Eisenhower has been President we have on one other occasion at his request granted this was in connection with our defense of Formosa. In this instance, we let the Chinese Reds know that the President had the power and that it was the sense of Congress that he use it if necessary.

I am sure this action of Congress had a lot to do with the fact that Red China did not pursue Chiang on Formosa. It is hoped that this firm policy spoken by the President and backed up so far by the House will have the same effect in the Middle East.

Please understand that we must be strong enough militarily to back up any position Congress and the President take in this field. This will mean continued high defense expenditures.

I realize that it is a lot easier to explain a vote against this resolution than a vote for it. I felt in voting as I did that I was voting to prevent war and save American lives.

The best and most simple proof of the fact that it will be to our advantage is that the Communists are so bitterly opposed to it.

Among our guests from the District this week were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Guernsey of Orlando, George Brannen of Inverness, Carlisle Rogers of Leesburg, Bill Dial of Orlando, Mrs. Campbell Brown of New Smyrna Beach, County School Supt. Woodrow Darden of Titusville.

We also were pleased to have as a luncheon guest one day, Dan Daniel, a very popular sports announcer with television station WTOP-TV in Washington. Dan is formerly of Orlando and will be remembered as the well-liked sports announcer of radio station WHIO. Since leaving Orlando, he has been in Birmingham, and we are now happy to have him in the Nation's Capital. He is continuing to do the same good job he did in Florida.

Unknown Actor Is Sensation In Hit, 'My Fair Lady'

NEW YORK UP—Edward Mulhare, a comparatively unknown Irish actor as of three weeks ago, ate Broadway's traditional opening night "supper at Sardi's" early this morning and tried to realize that he had become an overnight celebrity. "I was scared stiff and clutching desperately at a rabbit's foot in my pocket, but now I'm beginning to come to," said Mulhare, who replaced Rex Harrison as Professor Higgins in the 11-month-old smash hit "My Fair Lady."

Mulhare, a slender, blue-eyed young actor who remarkably resembles the late Leslie Howard, won the right to become a vacation replacement for Harrison after a long-drawn fight with Actra Equity, which insisted an American actor be hired for the role.

"I guess this performance demonstrated we were right when we picked Mulhare," commented director Moss Hart, who had stuck steadfastly to his choice.

The usual sell-out crowd, some of whom had paid as much as $50 each for choice seats and nearly a third unaware until they reached the theatre, that Harrison was out of the cast, gave Mulhare a prolonged ovation after

'Pot Luck' Affair Held At Meeting Of Catholic Women

Approximately 50 women of the All Soul's Catholic Women's Club met at the Elks Club for the monthly meeting, with a special "pot luck" affair when the navy and civilian displayed their culinary art.

A business meeting followed, with President L. Bauman presiding. Reports were heard from chairman of the U.S.O., Mrs. Miliken; chairman of the Library committee, Mrs. Hart; chairman of the Sunshine committee, Mrs. Brofka.

Mrs. Dietrich gave a report on the card party which is to be held at the Mayfair ballroom on Tuesday, Feb. 19. This is sponsored by the All Soul's Catholic Women's Club and the public is cordially invited to attend.

President Bauman then introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Theodore Kaiser, of Orlando, President of the Central Florida Donerary. Mrs. Kaiser gave a most interesting talk stressing the importance women play not only as mothers but being active in church and urged them all to do their utmost.

Mrs. Kaiser announced that the next donerary meeting is going to be held on March 20 in Winter Park.

At this time bassinets are entered in a contest. These are outfitted by the women of each parish and all are donated at a later date.

104's Advantages, Drawbacks Brought Out In Discussion

The economic advantages and disadvantages of the proposed highway system's Route 104 was discussed at last night's meeting of the Long Range Highway Planning Committee.

James A. Wright, a member of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce highway planning group, said "The Interstate Highway system is just another plan to put the state in political hands."

Speaking on the disadvantages of the 100 foot wide fenced highway, Wright stated that "people will have to leave the small communities and move to the large cities in order to make a living."

"Get everybody in the city," he said, "starve the little towns out and put the city into a political machine is the purpose for which these highways are being built."

Wright explained that "our economic future is at stake" (Continued On Page Ten)

Man, Wife Jump 15 Stories To Death

NEW YORK (UP)—An unemployed Brooklyn man and his wife jumped to their deaths today from the top of their 15-story apartment building in an apparent suicide pact. In their apartment police found the body of their 5-year-old daughter.

Police identified the victims as Joseph Kennedy, 46, his wife, Nan, 45, and their daughter Valerie.

The Kennedy's, married seven years, did not leave any suicide notes behind but police said Kennedy had been sick and unemployed for many years. In the apartment police found numerous medicine bottles and stacks of unpaid medical bills.

The child's body was found in a large twin bed. Police said the girl had died from "asphyxiation or fright." They said there were no marks on her body but said her tongue was sticking out as if she had strangled. Police said she apparently died about three hours before her parents jumped.

Right of ways for 17-92 from Five Points to Sanford will cost Seminole County $104,684 with the exception of six parcels and a theatre area, County Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr. told the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Long Range Highway Planning Committee last night.

Cleveland explained to the committee, headed by J. Braley Odham, that with the appraisal "we

Mrs. Carol Sanford Dow arrived at Sanford yesterday afternoon by Atlantic Coast Line train at 12:37 p. m. to attend the dedication of a memorial library building in honor of the founder of the City of Sanford and her father, General Henry Shelton Sanford.

Mrs. Dow was met by a huge contingent of Sanford people including representatives of the Sally Harrison Chapter DAR and the Catholic Women's Club as well as Mayor David Gatchel and County Commission Chairman Fred Dyson.

In the group welcoming Mrs. Dow to Sanford were Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, Mrs. Fred T. Williams, and Mrs. B. F. Whitner Sr., as well as other prominent citizens in the group of nearly 100 who were on hand to greet General Sanford's daughter.

Comments from the group as Mrs. Dow stepped down from the pullman coach were "This is a momentous occasion," and "we're proud to have you here with us."

Mrs. Dow, accompanied by her personal maid, Rosa Mills who has been with her for 18 years, said "I'm happy to be here, this is a wonderful occasion and I'm happy."

As members of the group at the station to meet Mrs. Dow were introduced, a tear could be seen falling from her eyes as she shook hands and caressed those who spoke with her briefly.

Mrs. Dow was taken immediately to the Mayfair Inn where she is expected to stay during her visit in Sanford.

On arrival, Mrs. Dow registered herself and was taken to her room where banks of flowers and gifts were arranged to greet her. There were Japaneans from a bush planted at Belair Groves by her father many years ago. These were brought by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Chase, Oronagoes and grapefruit from citrus trees in (Continued On Page Ten)

County Attorney Cleveland said "Before the end of the month we can have the suit filed for we don't have near the number of parcels involved in the first suit."

Young Worker Says Mystery Sniper

DETROIT (UP)—A young factory worker who terrorized four suburbs with wild rifle fire Thursday night told police today he was Detroit's long sought mystery sniper.

Gary A. Taylor, 21, wounded two young women with .22 caliber fire and shot at seven other girls during a three-hour spree before police captured him in nearby Royal Oak.

Taylor was unable to explain his actions.

"I don't know what it was," Taylor said. "I just had an urge to shoot at women."

Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor William Lang said Taylor told him he was the mysterious sniper police had been seeking since Dec. 22 when a young woman was shot in the back while walking home with a friend. She recovered.

Investigation Into Utah Prison Riot Is Launched Today

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP)—Warden Marshall Graham launched an investigation today into the worst riot in history of Utah State Prison.

Graham returned to Utah Thursday night from Washington. He had been enroute to New York to attend a prison officials conference.

Penal officials and convict committees studied a list of 43 prisoner grievances amid an uneasy peace at the "model" institution. The grievances, touched off the riot Wednesday.

Some 500 convicts ended the 11-hour riot Thursday after releasing the last of 28 hostages and surrendering a small weapons arsenal.

Tension mounted again shortly after Gov. George D. Clyde negotiated the truce by promising to listen to the prisoners' complaints if they would release the hostages. Order was restored when heavily armed guards and highway patrolmen moved into the cell blocks of the prison in a display of strength.

ARE YOU PUZZLED TOO?

Here is a young lady who's puzzled. She has all the pieces at her fingertips but how to make them fit into the finished pattern—that's her problem.

And it's your problem, too! Life is full of odd pieces which just don't seem to fit into any kind of sensible pattern. There are the odd pieces of sorrow and joy, of suffering and health, of doubt and faith, of evil and good, of death and life, and it sometimes seems as if we never could make them fit into a pattern which makes sense.

And yet there is a pattern for your life—and every life. God knows the pattern and wants to help you find it.

The key to the puzzle of life is a Cross. And the Church, with its message of the Cross of Christ, can help make the odd pieces in the puzzle of your life fall into the finished pattern: a life of confidence and courage and serenity.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

CHAPTER I

I was in a hurry. There are things worse than death. This was one of those things, and it wasn't going to happen to me. Gently, but firmly, I nudged a lovely old lady out of my way as I hurried to the door.

When Paul's line had been busy, I hadn't waited to call again. I had wrapped my inefficient jet black hair up in a scarf. I had nudged into some lipstick, tightened my nylon, slipped into my coat and set out for Paul's. At the moment Paul was the most important man in my life.

The newsdealer at the corner of Lexington and Sixtieth said, "Hello, Mrs. Barton. How is Mr. Barton?"

"Mr. Barton?" I snorted. "In France you can shoot your husband for less and get national sympathy. But here in America? I shook my head.

I crossed Fifty-ninth, turned west on Fifty-eighth, and at Paul's. A new girl sat at the reception desk.

"Where's Paul?" I said.

"Busy. Your name, please?"

"Connie Barton. Where's Paul?"

"Do you have an appointment, Miss Barton?"

"Mrs. Barton?" To be completely frank about it, Mrs. Steve Barton. Like an utter innocent, I had married the man. "Where's Paul?"

Paul came muncing out of the booth section of the shop. He looked elegant and efficient in his white, high-collared frock. He had a wife and four children, but for professional reasons he played it chic, wan and very aesthetic during business hours. This beauty parlor supported the wife and four children.

"Mrs. Barton!" He was glad to see me. He was always glad to see me. I was a constant challenge to the artist in him. "Mrs. Barton, what can I do for you?"

"Have you an empty booth?"

"Yes... number five."

"Follow me," I said.

I sat down in front of the mirror. Paul stood behind me, looking at me in the mirror as I yanked the scarf off my head. He put his hands in his hair.

"Magnificent," he said. "Coal must, ebony flame."

I said, "I want to be a blonde."

Paul didn't speak.

"A blonde, very blonde, as blonde as you can get," I said. "Make me a blonde."

"No," his lips were tight. "That I cannot do to you."

"You have no choice. Do as I tell you or all New York will hear the truth about you. About your wife and four children..."

"Five now."

"I'll even tell about your playing football in high school, how you got an offer from Tulane... you'll be de-frocked, kicked out of your union, run out of town... oh, impostor, you!"

"Mrs. Barton..."

"Break out the platinum!"

"But tell me why? You, of all people, a Dartmouth graduate, a Connecticut College for Women woman..."

"Now don't you try to blackmail me!"

"But why? Why do you want to be a blonde?"

"It's a matter of strategy. I'm counter-attacking."

"Ah... your husband."

"Smile when you call him that."

Paul smiled and said, "Your husband is off the reservation?"

I nodded and said, "My husband is over the hill."

"And he is a blonde?"

"I've never seen her. But Steve is a loyal citizen. He wouldn't be so un-American as to spurn his wife for anything but a blonde."

"You might be wrong, Mrs. Barton, completely wrong about your husband."

I proved to Paul now right I was. For weeks now, since early in October, it had been happening. Every Wednesday Steve had dreamed up a reason to be away for the evening. He would come home humming tunes, looking hurriedly contented as pleased with himself as all get out. It was ghastly. It was all I could do to pretend I was asleep. When he slid into bed beside me, it was only fear of the pillows that kept my hands from his throat.

The first Wednesday he said that his editor had asked him to take over for Jim Hall and cover some fight at the Garden. In the first edition at noon the next day I just happened to notice that Jim Hall had the boxing story by-line after all. Steve mumbled something at me about a typographical error but he never used the "must work" dodge again.

The next Wednesday he blithely informed me after dinner that he was going to see a scalp specialist about his loose dandruff and falling hair. When Steve's hair fell, he would fall with it, and his dandruff, if any, was tight as a drum.

The excuses got lazier and lazier. He had a friend who wasn't feeling well enough to sit up with a sick friend, so Steve had to fill the breach. When he came home he wasn't smelling of rubbing alcohol. It was a scent I couldn't place, but you didn't buy it by the quart. That was the way it went. Each Wednesday there would be another, a more incredible excuse.

"Wednesday," Paul said. "I wonder why always Wednesday."

"It's her night off," I said. "That's obvious."

"Yes," and that's encouraging. He hasn't asked her to quit her job yet."

"Don't try to cheer me up."

"Sorry. On the other hand, maybe she's married and her husband... well, for instance, maybe he swims at the Y.M.C.A. Wednesday nights. I do."

"You keep out of this."

It was probably my fault. I had let myself get downy on Wednesday dull and unprovocative. He had found someone younger and gayer, someone beautiful and glamorous with a more up-to-date bag of feminine tricks. He was bored with me. Five years, less just three days, was a long time to be married.

But there were still moments when I thought I might be wrong. When I had reason to believe that I was still the girl for him. There was our anniversary party next Saturday, for instance. He was knocking himself out to make it a real celebration... dinner at Karla's, the theater, the Roccoco Room for supper, champagne and good music.

But he was probably doing that just to build character with me, to keep me happy as I milled and toiled as his housekeeper. Finally, today, I had faced it. There was another woman. I would have to take steps.

"Paul," I said, "proceed. Do your damndest, rise to new heights."

"Mrs. Barton..."

"Listen, you... today's Wednesday. Time is short."

"All right, Mrs. Barton, all right."

One hour and twenty minutes later, my old set at the Wee-Ten-kenne Country club would have depicted me, sly dear aunt and uncle who had raised me, not for this, would have disowned me. I wouldn't have been allowed near the Connecticut College for Women. I would have been run off the University of Bridgeport campus, too... by the nearest undergraduate unit to the nearest dormitory. I was that blonde.

"Well," Paul asked tremulously, the plaintive, eager artist. I inspected myself a little more in the mirror. "Do me a new make-up, Paul. The eyebrows... a new mouth..."

He went back to work.

"Well?" he asked.

"The mouth... make it more generous."

"It was already generous, Mrs. Barton."

"Make it more inviting then. A big hello. Give me more lower lip."

That time it was I who asked, "Well?"

"Mrs. Barton, coloring the hair, a new make-up does not make a blonde. There are other things."

I stood up, took a deep breath and walked a small circle around Paul.

He said, in a small voice, "Mrs. Barton, look..."

"Yes?" I murmured.

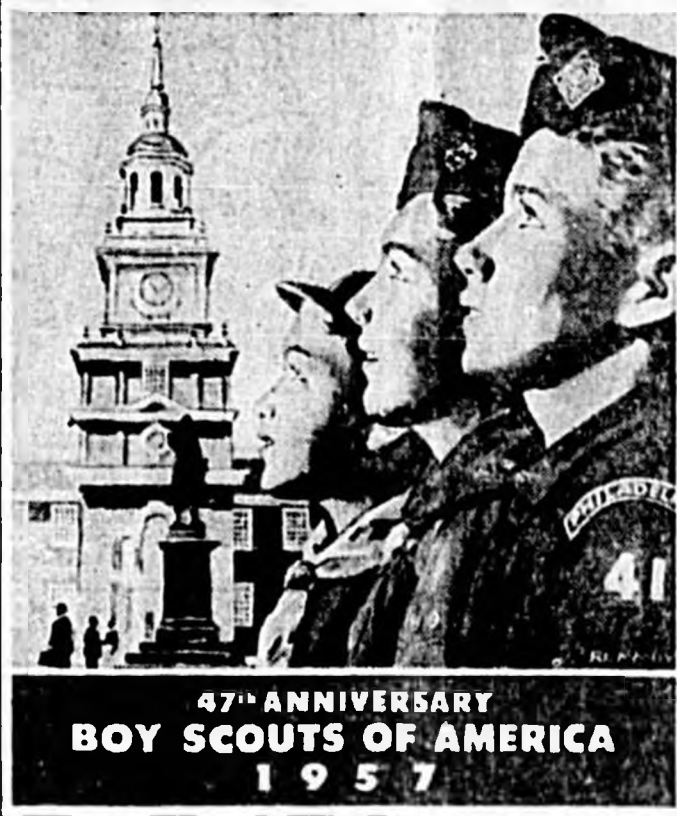

"Look, perhaps a bite to eat, then... well, I could give up swimming at the 'Y' tonight."

I thanked Paul from the bottom of my heart, but declined his kind offer. It was quite dark when I went back out into the world, a new woman, a blonde.

Connie is heading into trouble where she expects it least. Continue "The Blonde Died Dancing" here tomorrow.

47th ANNIVERSARY BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA 1957

OFFICIAL BOY SCOUT WEEK POSTER

More than 4,500,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders throughout the nation will observe Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12, marking the 47th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

Since 1910, Scouting has served over 26,000,000 boys and adult leaders.

Through its Four-Year Program, "Onward for God and My Country," the organization seeks to train more boys in patriotism and character so that they will become intelligent citizens with an appreciation of the free way of life and a dedication to high spiritual ideals.

Boy Scout Week observances will feature preparation for the Fourth National Jamboree, which will find 50,000 Scouts and leaders camping where Washington camped at historic Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, next July 12 to 18. The nation's 111,000 Scout units will feature rededication ceremonies on February 8, the actual birthday of Scouting in America.

Many Affected By Recent Floods

BRISTOL, Tenn., Va. (UP) — The Red Cross reported today that 11,972 families in Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia need help in the wake of recent damaging floods.

Tri-state Red Cross disaster headquarters here said 763 homes were destroyed, 4,021 homes suffered major damage and more than 18,000 families were affected by the ravages of floods in the three states.

In the Kentucky flood area, the Red Cross said, 13,292 families were affected, 367 homes were left uninhabitable and about 9,000 families need assistance.

Minor flooding continued to plague parts of the southeast. The rain-swollen Tennessee River turned the Pickwick Dam resort area near Savannah, Tenn., into a watery ghost town.

Complete Equalization Of Taxes Badly Needed In Seminole County

Another attempt to gain approval for an equalization of taxes was fostered by the Board of Seminole County Commissioners at its most recent meeting.

However, the efforts went unlike the "bread upon the water" and did not, in any severe manner, gain a foothold where an approval is necessary without possibly a court battle for fair and equitable taxes for the operation of Seminole County.

The near refusal of using a reassessment countywide will delay new school room construction, new schools, additional pay for teachers, new roads and road maintenance, purchase of rights of ways for proposed roads, replacement of bridges and other improvements vital to the growth of the county.

Equalization of taxes is long past due, for the county can no longer exist on 1916 and 1941 income no more than a family today could exist on an income comparable to the same number of years ago.

Citrus fruit is being taken from groves still assessed at acreage, valuable property on the market today, is being assessed at only a trivial portion of its true value even though percentage-wise only a fraction of the assessed value would produce tax revenue.

On the other hand, a mere handful of property owners and businessmen are being forced to support the county because of inequities existing today.

Businessmen would "lose their shirts" if their operations were carried on in the same manner as the assessment of Seminole County properties is carried out. Their front doors would close quickly if operations depended on the same type of income.

A complete equalization is needed—and needed badly, followed by a system of building permits and a closer watch on sales and transfers of property enhancing the value of the parcels included in the transaction.

A fair share of the tax burden of the county is "a fair share" any way one can look at it—whether it is based on income property, investment property, business property, or homes. Each and every person, regardless of their types of business or home, is shouldered with the responsibility of accepting their part of the county's operation.

No doubt that those who are now paying a lions share of the tax burden would have their tax loads lightened with an equalization of taxes through a reassessment. Millage would be lighter, some tax bills reduced, but still others increased so that they would pay their "fair share" of county operation.

It is time for those in Seminole County who believe in fair taxes to speak up—and speak up loud and strong so that they might be overheard in a grand clamor to keep assessments at their present levels and unfairly apportioned.

To wait any longer for the tax equalization to take place would be unjust and unfair.

To be sure, a few people will always be in favor of keeping tax assessments at their present level. We'll agree—but if the yardstick for the measuring of the necessity is to be those "few people" then something is drastically wrong in our system of placing the responsibility of paying taxes upon the right people and upon ALL of the people who own property in Seminole County.

If necessary—the plan to employ a private assessor by the Board of Commissioners and then take the case to court for a decision is a step in the right direction.

No one person is infallible—and no one person is in a position to cover the entire county in a program so drastically needed at the present time to equalize the tax burden upon the people of Seminole County. "We get around" is not the answer to this end of the problem—and to the problem of keeping up with the aggressive growth with which Seminole County is faced at the present time.

Homes are being built, subdivisions are being established, new businesses moving in, faster than one person can keep up with the phenomenal growth already behind us and destined to be ahead of us.

The Seminole County Board of Education is receiving the full millage allowed under the law for the operation of Seminole County Schools—but they need more money as hundreds of children apply for admission each year to increase the cost of operating the schools. However, no additional monies are available and they are attempting to find additional funds to pay teachers' wages and to make the necessary improvements to take care of the growing student load.

Should an equalization of taxes come about—it is possible that the operation of schools would demand an even less amount than the 20 mills now assessed, and even have monies for additions to schools that would make "learning" a more pleasant moment during the lives of children as they prepare themselves for the future.

No more should be said when it is again emphasized that a reassessment is no more than an equalization of the tax load on the citizen-property holders who support "good roads", "good schools", "good law enforcement", and "good government."

DeStalinization Takes New Turn

A United Press Extra

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The de-Stalinization of Russian Communism has taken a new turn with charges that the late Generalissimo was guilty of violent anti-Semitism.

These charges were published in the New York Communist newspaper, the Daily Worker. They were a reprint of a report published by British Communists after a delegation of Jews had investigated in the Soviet Union the story of anti-Semitism during the Stalin regime.

The British investigating delegation included J. R. Campbell, editor of the London Daily Worker, and Hyman Levy, described as a Marxist philosopher and mathematician. The investigators bluntly accused the Stalin regime of seeking to liquidate by violence the Jewish culture of the Soviet Union.

The Black Years

"The years 1948-52," the report said, "were known among them Russian Jews as the black years, the period during which many Jews were eliminated from their posts, Jewish poets and writers were arrested and charged with treason and executed; Yiddish disappeared from the streets and market places."

Husbands were arrested, tortured and murdered, the report continued, and whole families were transported to remote areas of forced labor. The investigators insisted, however, that since Stalin's death a real effort was being made to make amends for the anti-Semitic campaign and to prevent a repetition.

The British investigators were not satisfied that Stalin should bear the blame alone. Anti-Semitism under Stalin, they concluded, may have been a holdover from the Czarist society which the Communists liquidated by wholesale murder after taking over during World War I from the revolutionary Kerensky government.

Were American Targets
However that may be, the report of British investigators now substantiates rumors consistently current during the Stalin regime of violent anti-Semitism in the so-called classless Communist state. This anti-Semitic violence was taking place at the same time American Communists were making American Jews and other Americans minorities special targets of their propaganda and recruiting campaigns.

American Communists scorned and scoffed at reports over the years of anti-Semitic violence in the Soviet Union. Communist publications brushed such away as examples of the overall plot of world imperialism against Communism.

WORTH TALKING ABOUT — Senator George Smathers' secretaries are working overtime these nights handling the flood of incoming mail. Most of it is because of his proposal to furnish scientific scholarships for children of veterans from captured areas. Biggest deluge of letters came after the Senator had appeared as a guest of Dave Garroway on his New York television show.

This heavy mail is not confined to residents of Florida, but is coming from every state. All of it is favorable to his plan. The bulk of it is from veterans or their widows. But many letters have been received from men in scientific work. These are the most encouraging, according to Senator Smathers, since the main purpose of his plan is to stimulate scientific training in the United States to overcome the lead now enjoyed by Russia.

A letter from a professor at the University of Michigan said in part, "I heard you on television the other day. . . and certainly agree that the use of enemy property is a fitting and appropriate way to train our youngsters in scientific fields, those fields that mean survival. When he introduced his bill in the Senate, Smathers said, 'Today the Soviet Union is graduating over twice as many engineers and scientists each year as we are being graduated in the United States. With world conditions being what they are, it is alarming to know that the United States is lagging behind the Soviet Union in the training of its youth in the fields of engineering, and other scientific research. The complex weapons which will keep the peace not only for us, but for the world, demand an enormous number of individuals trained in these fields, he said. 'This demand is a growing, ever-expanding one, and if we do not meet it, we are lost.'"

At present some $375 million worth of captured enemy property is held by the United States. Under Senator Smathers' plan $100 million, which could be made available immediately, would be invested. The interest from this money would go to pay for scholarships for qualified children of veterans of World War I and II and the Korean conflict.

"This proposal is entitled the 'Veterans' Children Scholarship Act. It would provide $1 million each year for engineering more than that amount will be available after the program is in operation," he said. "In its first year of operation, approximately 1500 scholarships would be available."

The money would be administered by the National Science Foundation at no extra cost to the Government. No new department of the Government would be set up to handle the scholarships. Also, no additional appropriations would be necessary on the part of the Congress. All Senator Smathers is asking is permission to use the monies from investing the captured war assets.

"We know only too well," he said, "that our own national security now and in the foreseeable future depends upon the development, production, maintenance, and improvement of highly complex technical instruments such as supersonic missiles, electronic brains, atomic reactors, thermonuclear development, modern up-to-date aircraft, radar warning nets, and so forth."

Following the Senator's speech, his bill was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. No dates for hearings on Senator Smathers' proposal have been set.

Communists themselves now proclaim the truth of these reports, but accompany the acknowledgment with assurances that it shall not happen again. That, of course, remains to be seen since the present acknowledgment also is accompanied by admission that the seed of anti-Semitism was widely and deeply sown in Russia and is not yet all reaped.

W. Germany Enters Critical Period

Foreign News Correspondent

West Germany is entering a critical period which seems certain to last for many months. The danger of a new East German offensive, the threatened withdrawal of Allied troops assigned to the North Atlantic Treaty Force and the pace of Germany's own rearmament are among the problems to be faced.

In addition, there is a serious threat that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who comes close to being an indispensable man from the Allied viewpoint, may be overthrown in the election to be held next September.

The East German situation is the most dangerous one at this time. Statements by East German Communist leaders leave no doubt that they fear a popular uprising like those in Poland and Hungary.

Rebel Fight Feared
West German leaders, in turn, fear that their own people might cross the border to fight with the rebels.

They would be fighting the Russian Red army as well as the east German armed forces. What Russia might do then can only be guessed at. The United States and the other Allies are pledged to defend West Germany.

There is little doubt that British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan intends to pull two of the four British NATO divisions out of West Germany as part of his drastic economy program. American military commanders in West Germany are already

Guarantee Security Asked
Erich Odenhauser, the Socialist leader, says he wants a unified Germany to be included in a "European security system" which would be guaranteed by both the United States and Soviet Russia. To this end, he says, he would be willing to surrender West Germany's membership in NATO.

The East German Communists opened a pre-election propaganda campaign against Adenauer last week-end. Like the Russians, they held out the promise that German unification would be possible if Adenauer were thrown out.

President Theodore Heuss of West Germany is to visit President Eisenhower in Washington March 4. But like some other West European presidents he is a figurehead. Adenauer is head man. It is pretty certain that he, too, will go to Washington within the next few weeks to talk over the situation.

Adenauer's coalition, may hold the balance of power. They probably would join the Socialists to overthrow Adenauer.

An emergency board meeting of the enlisted men and Enlisted Mess Wives Club Advisory Boards met Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 to iron out plans for the future plans of the E. M. Club.

Situations of the club were discussed as to whether couples and single men or couples would be admitted on dance nights to the new "couples room". The final decision rested that on declared reserved parties the room would be just for couples leaving the bar and lounge for stages.

We feel this is really a feather in the cap of the E. M. Club as this will be the drawing card for the married men as well as the single men with their escorts.

As there are bound to be problems which will arise during the first few weeks of the opening it was also decided that the boards of advisors will meet the first working day of the month.

Following the meeting, the members viewed the progress made in the club itself. Needless to say, everyone was very enthusiastic about the new look. Where before was one large room that was nothing but confusion at a party, there are now three individual rooms each having a very definite use. To the left as one enters, the double doors, which will be of padded imitation leather, is the lounge with walls of basket woven panels of natural wood finished with shellac.

The floors throughout were sanded and varnished to a high luster. The furniture is wrought iron with coverings of pink and turquoise. Draw draperies of modern design are being made with colors to harmonize with the walls which will be eggshell and the wainscot of cocoa brown.

The entire three rooms are equipped with indirect lighting with an overlay of scallop trimmed natural wood.

For the immediate use of members, an old juke box will be available with promises of a new one with 2 music selectors situated at strategic spots. The couples room has a small cove leading to the bar for easy access but complete privacy.

The bar is of scratchless formica with all furnishings including the grill and cooler of stainless steel.

All told, the club room is the very nicest for which we could have hoped. Rules have been made so it will be nice enough to take even the children on a Sunday afternoon.

The board that helped all this come about are as follows: Mr. H. L. Bates, Mr. J. A. Rogge, Mr. Marconi, Mr. H. Fighiola, Mr. W. J. Merrick and the Club Manager, Mr. C. M. Gandy. Mr. Gandy will be most co-operative to help you plan any future parties that your club would like to hold.

The club is now in the finishing stages and we'd like to say, hats off, we certainly approve and appreciate the consideration given us, the petty officers and their families.

NOTICE to all VAMT wives. Monday evening at 8:00 is your night at the U. S. O. Anyone interested is invited. If you're already a member, please attend.

Resolutions Read In Memory Of Mrs. Hayes
Resolutions were read in memory of Mrs. John M. Hayes at the meeting Tuesday of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Ethel Ault White, Mrs. Virginia Anderson, and Mrs. Frances A. Hickson were on the committee on resolutions, a copy of which was sent to Mrs. Hayes husband, John M. Hayes.

The resolutions stated that Mrs. Hayes "has been a faithful member of the Women's Society of Christian Service for many years, giving cheerfully of her time and energy to the work of the society".

A quotation from Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar" concluded the resolutions.

Golden Circle Has Annual Banquet Tuesday Evening
The Golden Circle Class of the First Baptist Church held its annual banquet Tuesday evening in the private dining room at Tolly's drive-in restaurant.

Mrs. S. G. Harriman, Mrs. Ruth Arnold, Mrs. Eugene Pennington, Mrs. Bob Landreth, and Mrs. M. N. Cleveland were seated at the head table wearing lovely corsages presented on their arrival.

Beautiful decorations, place cards, menus and softly lighted candles on the several tables were in keeping with the approaching valentine season.

Following the invocation by Mrs. Cleveland a sumptuous turkey dinner, topped with delicious pecan pie for dessert, was served the 24 ladies attending. Mrs. Pennington toast mistress extended a warm welcome to all and a vote of thanks (with a big hand) to the committee in charge of this special occasion for work "well done".

The group was delightfully entertained with a humorous monologue and a "let's pretend" class meeting by Mrs. Harriman which brought peals of laughter from every corner of the room.

"Making a Life" rather than being concerned only with earning a living was stressed in a most interesting and inspiring message by Mrs. C. L. Arnold (who is also a member of the class).

Mrs. Bob Landreth, who returned Sunday from Greenville, S. C. where the funeral of her father-in-law was held last week, graciously accepted a double gold hibiscus plant for the garden at their new home in memory of their departed loved one. She then pronounced the benediction.

Present were Mrs. S. G. Harriman, guests, Mrs. Eugene Pennington, Mrs. M. N. Cleveland, Mrs. Donald Knight, Mrs. R. C. Whitmore, Mrs. V. M. Smith, Mrs. W. J. Brooks, Mrs. Lillian Gwin, Mrs. Ruby Jordan, Mrs. R. E. Brown, Mrs. H. V. Nelson Jr., Mrs. C. A. Taylor

Shakespeare Group Receives Good-Will Gift
NEW YORK — An American Shakespeare Festival Theatre and Academy at Stratford, Conn., has received from the board of governors of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre of Stratford-on-Avon, England, a gift of 500 guineas ($1,500) as a contribution to the American organization.

Glen Byam Shaw, co-director at the British Stratford, sent this message:

"The governors hope that this gift will be acceptable to you as an expression of the good will and sincere interest which they feel in the work that your organization is doing."

The gift will be used by the Connecticut theatre as a contribution to its drive to raise $200,000 a year for the next five years under the chairmanship of its president, Joseph Verner Reed. The funds are needed to provide the necessary working capital covering three new productions each year as well as the academy and the cost of beautifying the theatre grounds and building a museum and picture gallery.

Charles Laughton has been signed to co-star with Marlene Dietrich and Tyrone Power in the screen version of "Witness for the Prosecution." Laughton now on Broadway in "Major Barbara," will play the role created on the New York stage by the late Francis L. Sullivan.

Filming is scheduled for the late spring in Hollywood, under the direction of Billy Wilder.

Lloyd Nolan has been signed by Carmin Capalbo and Stanley Chase to co-star with Wanda Hiller in Eugene O'Neill's "A Moon for the Misbegotten," which will open at the Bijou Theater April 30 as the second in the series being presented there by Capalbo and Chase. O'Neill's last play, "A Moon for the Misbegotten" will be enjoying its first production in New York.

Formation of Pakula-Mulligan Productions, Inc. has been announced by producer Alan Pakula and director Robert Mulligan. First property bought by the company are the stage rights to "Laurette," biography of the late stage star Laurette Taylor, which they will produce on the stage next year.

The company will function in all three media—television, motion pictures and theatrical production, with headquarters in both Hollywood and New York.

Pakula, who formerly was an executive with Paramount Pictures, recently produced "Fear Strikes Out," a movie starring Anthony Perkins and Karl Malden. Mulligan, one of television's top directors, directed "Fear Strikes Out."

Tonight's Basketball Game With Melbourne Important For SHS 5

Dick Layer Named '57 Co-Captain

The Stetson Hi-Hatters apparently believe in extremes—they have chosen the long and the short of the squad as co-captains for 1967.

The back court is the "home" of Dick Layer, a scintillating 6-9 brother of fireballing SHS cage mentor Bud Layer, who is one of the captains. Dick, who will be an intern teacher at Seminole High in two weeks, is the playmaker for the team and probably will break his record this year in assists.

Mac Stones, of Daytona Beach, whose name is as familiar on the honor roll and dean's list as it is in the starting lineup and whose 6-5 height is as tall but looks taller than any man on the squad is the other co-captain. He roams the front court.

Layer, a senior, is from La Grange, Ky. He was accredited with 128 assists last year to set a new record. He averaged 11.9 points a game last year and was selected on the District NAIA A squad.

Stones, with 298 rebounds in 23 games last year, holds the Stetson record in this department. Also a senior, he was the team's leading scorer last year and is leading the squad again this year. He was all-state and all conference last year.

For eleven games this year, Hi-Hatters were ranked 15th in the nation among small colleges in team offense, averaging 84.5 points a game.

The Hatters, with a 9-5 record for the season, have a 6-2

Tonight will be an important night for the Sanford Seminoles cage quintet and particularly for Ray Lundquist and Jim Gracey, two hot-shot artists who have moved to the varsity starting position from the JV ranks because they have an aggressive attitude and a desire to win.

Tonight in Melbourne the Seminoles will either "snap their downward slide and start building again or probably remain in a slump for the rest of the season."

It's a do or die situation, even though exception is not irregular.

A losing attitude is instilled in a youth over a period of years; it comes from peers and not parents and teachers, and it's hard to break in a meager span of two months.

Spectators who know the game of basketball say the move by the mentoring staff to start the boys who have the apparent desire to win, no matter how small the player is, is a last ditch stand and will either do the trick or it can't be done until the boys have confidence in their own ability.

Confidence in one's own ability is a product of experience and discipline only.

If the mentoring staff can realize the gigantic job they have set for themselves they will have created unprecedented response.

Usually you can count the young teams by their season record and one-sided scores, and Seminole High has not been out of conference loop record.

Young Layer will join his older brother in the Seminole camp, interning in the physical education department and will have Fred Givens as his directing teacher.

ceptional in this respect.

Right after the Christmas vacation, coach Bud Layer and his assistant Dick Silver had created enthusiasm that looked for awhile as though it might sweep away the lethargic attitude that predominates the students and local citizens as well.

The Seminoles played steadily improving ball and the crowd began to respond. But then the altitude slowly crept back into the camp—it's an intangible thing and not easily coped with—and the Seminoles slipped back.

The crowd responded by staying home—just some of them—and the faithful suffered through the almost heartbreaking games.

Tonight the Seminoles are sacrificing height and what little experience they have in a calculated risk. Gracey and Lundquist will share the full load with newcomer Mike Tammy, a junior who comes from a ball-winning school in all sports and plays quarterback in football, and Allen Swain. Veteran Ken McMurray will be counted on to give the five some stability.

If the game tonight is respectable, a new brand of basketball will come to Seminole High School. If the game is another embarrassing force the Seminoles will have to hold their hopes and dreams until season makes the team tough timber.

But no matter how the results turn out tonight, the Seminoles have some excellent material on the way. Basketball has a bright future in Sanford.

Adhesive tape marks can be removed by dapping them with a little non-inflammable cleaning fluid.

Boat Regatta Is Now Definite

"With the commitments for donations that we already have, big time boat racing will come to Sanford and Lake Monroe Feb. 17," Boots Paggett, secretary-treasurer of the Sanford Boat and Ski Club jubilantly told the small attending members at a special meeting last night.

"We may not be able to print our bl-laws as we had hoped, but at least we know that the boat races on Lake Monroe will definitely go on," Joe Nicholas, Commodore of the club said. "I even think we will have little trouble getting our handbook from the press."

Don Smith, coordinating chairman for the first annual Sanford Outboard Regatta, which shares fifth place in the famous Florida Grapefruit Circuit and which will bring the nation's top boat racers to Sanford, said that almost all plans had been completed for the event, and all that was left were some loose ends that can be tied between now and racing time.

Rhondel McMillan, publicity chairman, reported to the club that Don McAllister, sport director of WDBD-TV in Orlando, had used several photographs of boat racing and had given the local event a personal boost. "Yes, we saw it," was an almost unisoned report from the group.

The nation's greatest boat drivers will begin pouring into Sanford on Saturday, Feb. 18, as they attempt to get "the feel" of the waters of Lake Monroe and Sunday, Feb. 17, beginning at One p.m., big time boat racing in Sanford will be a reality.

Collin's Baseball Dinner Is March 5

The New York Giants investment in Sanford's future will be honored March 5 at Tampa by Gov. LeRoy Collins during the annual Governor's Baseball Dinner honoring officials and dignitaries of the baseball clubs that conduct spring training in Florida.

Gov. LeRoy Collins will be host to the officials of the clubs, also to the members of Baseball's Hall of Fame, sport writers and television and radio sports commentators at the eleventh annual dinner.

The entertainment will be held at the Tampa Terrace Hotel. A reception is planned at 6 p.m. with the dinner to be held in the hotel's Palm Room at 7:30 p.m.

The annual baseball dinner is one of the highlights of the spring training activities in the state. It was started shortly after the end of World War II.

Governor Collins praised the spring training activities of the 12 major league and nearly 100 minor league clubs in Florida as one of the state's top assets.

"The value of these clubs training in Florida is unlimited," the governor said, "and certainly the value of baseball to the nation is beyond estimate. Sports is a major weapon against juvenile delinquency and baseball is in the forefront of doing an excellent job for the youngsters of the nation."

The governor said the fact 12 of the 16 major league baseball clubs come to Florida to get into condition for the regular season schedule is concrete evidence that Florida has the climate and other facilities for outdoor recreation. He also pointed out that many of the players and officials are Florida residents.

"It is indeed an honor to pay tribute to the men who have made baseball the great game it is today," the governor stated. "We of Florida are most appreciative of the tremendous job they are doing to keep the nation's pastime at the high level of recognition it has achieved throughout the world."

About 7,500 persons are connected with the spring activities of the major and minor league clubs that come to Florida. That includes officials and umpires.

The first major league club to train in Florida was the Philadelphia A's. The club trained at Jacksonville shortly before World War I.

Final plans for the annual dinner will be announced later by the Governor through the Florida Development Commission which is representing Governor Collins in arranging the annual dinner. An outstanding celebrity in the sports world is expected to be master of ceremonies.

'Dream' Race Shaping Up

NEW SMYRNA BEACH—A "Dream" race for Sports Car racing fans is shaping up for National Sports Car Day at the New Smyrna Beach Airport course 8-10, February 10, with champions from the speedway car ranks, the stock car circuits, and other groups ready to try their fortune in the classic directed by Paul Whiteman, famed entertainment figure and sports car expert.

Indications point to probably 100-plus entries from all over the nation for the two-day meet at the 2.4-mile paved course. Races start at 1:00 p.m. preceded by practice sessions at 11:00 A.M. A 93-mile on Sunday tops the bill.

Troy Ruttman, Lynwood, California, furnishes the Indianapolis touch. He won the 1952 500-mile classic when only 22 to become the youngest driver in history ever to hit the jackpot: there. Ruttman, Pacific Coast Stock Car Champion in 1949 and Midwest title for sprint cars in 1951, was a 1937 Ford Thunderbird for the Pete DePaolo Engineering team Sunday.

Bill Buff, Shrewsbury, N.J., winner of the small car class in last year's Grand Prix of Switzerland again wheels his speedy German Porsche Spyder in quest of additional trophies.

Another champion from small-bore sports car classes is Britisher Ken Miles, Hollywood, California, controversial figure who's competed in Europe, helped engineer and drive Bonneville record-setting machines, and won many events on the West Coast. He goes in a light, fast Porsche—Cooper won many events on the West Coast. He goes in a light, fast Porsche—Cooper won many events on the West Coast.

Paul O'Shea, New York, 1953 and 1956 SCCA Class D production class champion, pilots his usual factory-sponsored German Mercedes-Benz 300SL. O'Shea has posted class triumphs all over the country and also has done well in Europe.

Race Co-ordinator George Cary, Jr., Beverly Hills, California anticipates record speeds at New Smyrna Beach because of the few sharp turns. Of the eight corners, only two require considerable braking, the remainder being looping, high-speed turns.

From NASCAR's upper echelon of stock car leadfoots Ford's factory-sponsored squad has tabbed Curtis Turner, wealthy Roanoke, Virginia lumber dealer, and Daytona Beach's Glenn "Fireball" Roberts in two more modified "T-Birds." Both have won numerous late model and convertible stock car contests.

Handsome Carroll Shelby, Dallas, Texas, heads up the sports car fraternity's defense squad. He was 1956 Sports Car Club of America (SCCA) unrestricted class champion, winning 40 out of 48 starts. He's also raced in Europe's rugged Grand Prix circuit, and has been selected by the Italian Maserati factory to team up with four-time world's Champion Juan Manuel Fangio on Argentina. His mount Sunday will be a 4.9 Ferrari owned by John Edgar, wealthy speed enthusiast from Encino, California.

NASCAR Speed Week Underway

DAYTONA BEACH—The entire Daytona Beach Recreational Area is filled with an air of excitement and anticipation for this eighth annual NASCAR Speed Week. Somebody's going to be king of speed during the current Speed Trials on "The World's Most Famous Beach"—and of course there'll be a queen!

"Miss NASCAR International" will be chosen Friday, February 8. The ceremonies will take place at 8:15 P. M. in the famous Bandshell on the ocean. A section of the official Air Force Band, "Airmen of Note," will provide the music as eleven beauties compete for the national title. The girls participating are: Miss Smyrna Beach Speedway, Gayle Hooper; Miss Flagler Beach Speedway, Patsy Mosby; Miss Titusville-Cocoa Speedway, Janet Knox; Miss Daytona Beach Speedway, Deanie Cates; Miss Langhorne Speedway, Mary Jane Mangler; Miss Darlington "500," Robin Williamson; Miss Myrtle Beach-Coastal Speedway, Martha Rae Williams; Miss Wilson Speedway, Betty Jean Brinson; Miss Elkhart Lake, Beverly Jo Springer; Miss Winston-Salem (Bowman Gray Stadium), Betty Jane Zachary; Miss Hollywood Speedway, Helen Graef. That's a lot of loveliness and we doubt if the final judging will be easy. The decision will be based on beauty, poise and personality, together with the answer to a single question that each girl will be asked. The contestants will appear in bathing suits and in evening gowns — dazzling and glamorous — under the direction of Stanley Nass. The occasion is sure to add to the already festive feeling of Speed Week in Daytona Beach.

Everybody is invited to enjoy the spectacular events taking place this week and next on "The World's Most Famous Beach." You won't want to miss the big races scheduled for the 15th 16th crowning of this year's queen of

Acronized Chicken Is Added To Menu

ATLANTA — Soon you'll be eating acronized chicken. Don't let the word frighten you. It means that science has made further progress in efforts to prevent food from spoiling.

Acronize PD is an antibiotic which, in poultry processing, is mixed in solution in the chill tank used to remove the body heat from the bird.

Use of the new drug cuts down on microbe growth the factor that causes meat to spoil.

At a conference on the use of antibiotics to preserve food at the Federal Communicable Disease Center here Melvin C. Fireman, a technical expert from industry, said poultry losses alone from spoilage amount to 132 million dollars a year.

"The modern handling and distribution practices necessitated by the growth of cities and long hauling distances have made longer shelf life for poultry almost a demand," Fireman said. "The use of antibiotics can satisfy that demand."

He said antibiotics are destroyed in the cooking process. Fireman said the drug also has been found highly effective in extending the fresh life of fish.

Crippled Airliner Crash Lands; No One Is Injured

JACKSON, Miss. — A Delta Airlines four-engine Constellation with 33 passengers and a crew of five crash-landed here yesterday after circling the field with a crippled gear for more than one hour.

The airline said there were no injuries. One passenger suffered a sprained ankle while leaving the disabled aircraft.

The plane circled the field in order to use up fuel before attempting to come in on its belly. The flight was en route from New York to Dallas. It left Jackson at 12:31 a. m. for Shreveport, La., but was unable to land because of weather conditions.

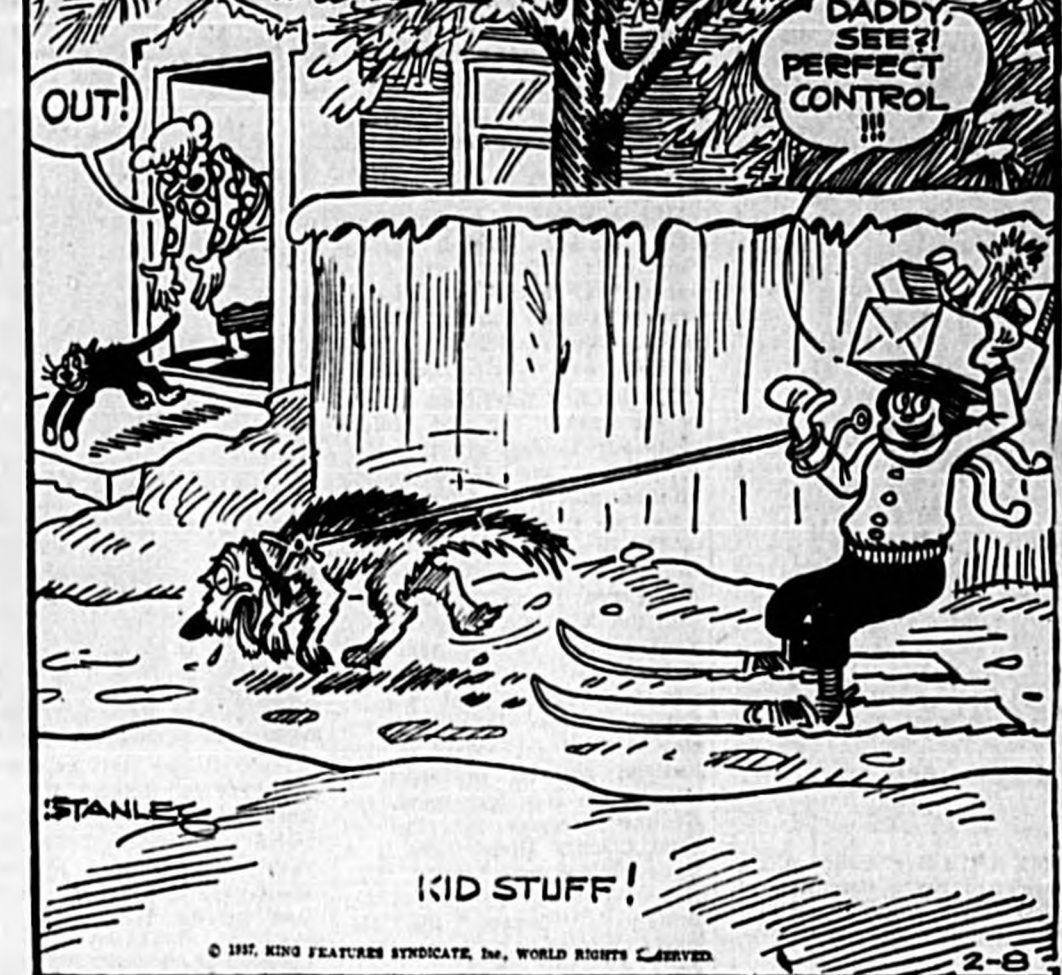

It returned to Jackson about 3 p. m. and the pilot, Capt. R. C. Gordon, of Newark, N. J., radioed that the indicator showed the left main landing gear was not properly functioning.

The landing was made at 4:02 a. m. The big plane settled on its belly and veered off the runway. There was no fire.

William Holden Stars In 'Toward Unknown'

The story of the pioneers of the future, the rocket pilots who shape America's future in the air by flying the latest jet-rocket planes comes to the screen of the Movieland Ride-In Theatre, Sunday in "Toward the Unknown," a Toluca production in Warner Color, starring William Holden with Lloyd Nolan, Virginia Leith and Charles McGraw.

For his first production as head of the newly formed Toluca company, Holden selected Merwyn LeRoy, one of Hollywood's all-time greats as producer-director. All the outdoor sequences of the film, released by Warner Bros., were shot at the Edwards Air Force Base, in California, with the X-2 latest experimental plane playing an important part in the story.

Holden, 1955's most popular actor, according to the Photoplay Gold Medal Award poll, has had an amazing procession of hits in the last few years. His greatest successes have included "The Country Girl," "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing," "Picnic" and "The Proud and Profane." "Toward the Unknown" promises to surpass Holden's previous efforts.

Lloyd Nolan, veteran of many a fine cinematic performance, achieved his most important triumph recently in the Broadway stage version of "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial," in which he played the ill-fated Captain Queeg. Nolan was last seen at Warner Bros. in "Sanctuary."

A rising young star on Hollywood's horizon is Virginia Leith, a striking brunette, making her fourth film appearance, in her most important part to date. Miss Leith was discovered in a production called "Fear and Desire." Observers who have seen her performance in "Toward the Unknown" predict that she will reach the top in a short time.

Also co-starred in the film is Charles McGraw, well known to TV audiences for his portrayal of "Rick" in the "Casablanca" series of Warner Bros. Previews.

The story of "Toward the Unknown" was written by Reine Lay, Jr., who also served as associate producer.

Safety note: All stairs having four or more risers should have a handrail on one side. Stairways 44 to 60 inches wide should have a handrail on each side.

William Holden stars as a Rocket Pilot in "Toward the Unknown," which co-stars Lloyd Nolan and Virginia Leith. This exciting movie may be seen starting Sunday at the Movieland Ride-In Theatre.

JOE MCCARTHY (top), who piloted the New York Yankees to 8 American League pennants, and Sam Crawford (bottom), who holds the major league record of 312 triples, have been voted into Baseball's Hall of Fame. McCarthy, 69, is living in Tonawanda, N. Y., while Crawford, 78, resides in Los Angeles. The latter played for Cincinnati and Detroit from 1899 to 1917.

"A STRANGE AND COOLING FEELING" is the sensation Baby Doll (Carroll Baker) describes to the "stranger" (Eli Wallach) in a scene from the forthcoming Eli Kazan production, "Baby Doll," reportedly author, Tennessee Williams' bold-est. Karl Malden stars as Miss Baker's husband in the story, of a nineteen-year-old girl caught in the conflict of an unfulfilled marriage and what may be the strangest agreement ever made between a man and his wife.

New Star Makes Debut In Baby Doll

Marlon Brando, James Dean and Eva Marie Saint, all very much individuals as performers, have one thing very much in common... their discoverer.

In a word, the names of Brando, Dean and Saint have come to mean explosive to the motion picture public. Their individual warmth and talent have captured the heart and imagination of every man, woman and child who ever witnessed the sizzling performances in "A Streetcar Named Desire," "On The Waterfront," and "East of Eden."

The man who is largely responsible for the success of these stars has himself come to enjoy the respect and admiration of an appreciative world. He is Eli Kazan, director, producer. He is the man whose latest, and much anticipated film, "Baby Doll" by Tennessee Williams is to premiere at the Ritz Theatre Sunday.

With the unveiling, local citizens will also delight to see the magic of Kazan's latest discovery, Carroll Baker.

Miss Baker is an actress somewhat difficult to describe. Foremost, according to Kazan, she is a young lady of fantastic talent, and unique charm. Her background consists of dancing, magic tricks and finally a long training at New York's Actors Studio, the dramatic alma mater of Brando, Dean, Miss Saint, Julie Harris, Montgomery Clift, Marilyn Monroe and Shelly Winters to name a few. She was chosen to star in the title role, Baby Doll, when Kazan saw her perform at the Studio. She had previously portrayed a role opposite James Dean in "Giant," also a Warner Bros. presentation.

As "Baby Doll," Carroll portrays a young southern woman caught in the conflict of an unfulfilled marriage and the strangest agreement ever entered be-

Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.—(Romans 5: 1.)

ALAN FREED IN ROCK ROCK ROCK!

Just as he promised, Our Lord Jesus Christ is with us always. This day, this hour, His spirit is beside each and every one of us who devoutly seek Him. Through our unswerving faith, He will lead us to find Our Father and to know His unending love.

Presbyterians Will Hear Dr. Russell Tuesday Evening

On Tuesday, at 6:45 P.M., a covered dish supper will be enjoyed by the membership of the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. Russell will speak on "The Church's Program of World Missions." Dr. Russell, pastor of Trinity Church, Montgomery, Alabama, who will speak on the Church's program of World Missions, said church officials today.

For the past eleven years Dr. Russell has served as minister of Trinity Presbyterian Church, Montgomery, Alabama. Dr. Russell came to Alabama after serving pastorates in Georgia in McDonough, Atlanta and LaGrange. Dr. Russell has spoken often at Youth Conferences and student gatherings and has been served as Chairman of the Student Work Committee of the Synod of Alabama. He has served as Moderator of the Synod of Alabama and on the Board of World Missions of the Presbyterian Church of the United States and on the Board of Managers of Church World Services of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Dr. Russell is the son of the late Chief Justice and the late Mrs. Richard B. Russell, of Georgia. He is the thirteenth of their fifteen children. He is a brother of Senator Richard B. Russell and the late Judge Robert L. Russell of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. He has other brothers and sisters who are prominent in their respective fields of service. Dr. Russell married Miss Anna Brewster of Vidalia, Georgia, and they have five children.

Dr. Russell has traveled extensively and has reported his travels for newspapers and other periodical publications. These travels included a prolonged trip through South America which was reported in the Atlanta Constitution. Later a similar visit was made to Mexico. In 1952 Dr. Russell traveled on a tour to the Holy Land and Europe. In the summer of 1954 a tour was made to Europe which included Italy, Austria, Germany and the Scandinavian countries and featured a trip beyond the Arctic Circle into the Land of the Midnight Sun. This trip, as well as the one in 1952, was reported in the Montgomery Advertiser.

Dr. Russell has used the experiences of these trips for numerous speaking engagements and has written for other publications. He is a co-author of "Studies in Georgia History and Government" and has been a contributor to various church papers.

In 1954 Dr. Russell went on a preaching mission to the personnel of the Northeast Air Command of the United States Air Force in Newfoundland and Greenland and reported this journey in the Atlanta Constitution.

"Every family is urged to come, bring a covered dish and enjoy the evening together," the church official said.

Southern Bell Paid $315,000 In Suit

The Communications Workers of America Union has paid Southern Bell Telephone Company $315,000 for physical damage inflicted on the Company's facilities.

Payment by the Union was the outgrowth of a damage suit filed in 1955 by the Company. An agreement to this effect was reached by Company and CWA attorneys, Southern Bell Group Manager Gordon Rothermel announced here.

However, Rothermel pointed out "none of the damage to the company's property was done in the Sanford area."

In the suit filed May 31, 1955, in the Davidson County, Tenn. (Nashville) Circuit Court, Southern Bell charged the Union with "a pattern of violence" designed to destroy telephone facilities and interfere with communication service to the public in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, and Tennessee.

The suit, seeking $5,000,000 for punitive as well as actual damages, alleged that the Union, its members and others joined an "unlawful combination and conspiracy" to damage property. The suit said the Union embarked on a program of wanton, willful and malicious misconduct and property damage, including the use of dynamite, fire arms and cable cutters.

In a separate action growing out of strike violence, the CWA recently agreed to accept without further hearings an order by the National Labor Relations Board against the International Union and 27 of its locals for unfair labor practices during the 1955 strike. Subsequently the NLRB issued such an order (on January 28, 1957). The matter was consummated this morning when an order dissolving the case was entered in Davidson County Circuit Court following agreement between the parties.

Triple Trio Will Sing At Methodist Church Sunday

The Triple Trio of the Seminole High School Girls' Glee Club will offer two sacred numbers at the Sunday evening worship service at the First Methodist Church: "I'll Walk With God" by Brodsky and "The Great Awakening" by Harold Barlow.

The popular group well-known for the excellence of its singing, its first soprano—Pat Harrington, Penny Marian and Kay Jenkins. Second soprano are Carol Nutt, Sylvia Price and Lois Barneau while the three altos are Ann Davis, Marcia Loechele and Juanita Wynne. Nancy Cash is the accompanist with Miss Reese Whittle, director of both the boys and girls glee clubs, in charge.

The service which is broadcast over WTRR, begins at 7:30 p.m. A program of organ music by Mrs. Albert Hickson precedes the service, starting at 7:15 o'clock.

Jan. 31 Deadline For Farm Owners To File Report

Have you paid as much as $100 to a farm hand during 1956?

Farm operators who have paid as much as $100 in cash wages to any farm employee in 1956 should file an employer's tax information return for agricultural employees, J. H. Donaldson, group supervisor of the Internal Revenue Service, announced today. This tax return must be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue at Jacksonville, accompanied by payment of the social security tax.

Deadline for filing this annual report of wages paid for agricultural labor was Jan. 31, 1957. The return must show the name, social security number, and wages paid every employee whose cash wages amounted to $100 or more.

Tax return forms are mailed out about Jan. 1 to those who have previously registered with the District Director of Internal Revenue as agricultural employers. Farmers who must make these tax returns and have not yet written for the proper forms, should write immediately to the District Director of Internal Revenue at Jacksonville in order to be sure of getting the report filed before the deadline.

by the boy scouts and their leaders, it was said.

154th Battalion Finishes Operation Crossroads Sunday

By SFC. JOHN G. KRIDER JR.

Despite the fact they are currently being called "Draft Dodgers," Co. "B," 154th Armored Infantry Battalion completed "Operation Crossroads" during their field day near Lake Mary Sunday, Feb. 9.

Target for the day was "Frank Evans" a crossroad, the old railroad grade. Immediately upon arrival, men of the company went to their assigned posts. Due to the fact the 81 mm. Mortars are high-angle, support weapons they were displaced to the rear of the area, while the main body of the company moved into their attack positions. To make the problem a little more realistic an aggressor force was used. The maneuvers lasted two hours. The company is equipped with portable radios, and were used extensively during this maneuver.

Public Information Sergeant John Krider Jr. says the 21 ton armored infantry vehicle created a great deal of interest in route to and from the area.

Methodists Will Hear Gideon Speaker Sunday

Ralph Maloon, president of Correct Craft Boat Co. of Orlando will be guest speaker Sunday, Feb. 10, at the 7:30 p.m. service at First Methodist Church.

Serving as a non-sectarian extension of the arm of the Church, The Gideons International, composed of Christian businessmen, is carrying out a broad ministry which no single denomination could undertake.

In the past year they have distributed 1800 Testaments and 50 Bibles in the Sanford area. They have placed 80 Testaments in hospitals and 15 Bibles in motels.

The fact that they are non-denominational gives them access to almost all institutions. They give freely of their time and money and enjoy the good will of the public, it was said. Their cause is liberally supported by the Church.

The Belair Groves were brought by Mr. and Mrs. Randall Chase. Boquets of flowers from various organizations, including the Seminole County Historical Society and a huge bouquet of roses from the Catholic Women's Club surrounded the room made ready for her visit.

Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, who brought Mrs. Dow to the Mayfair Inn, presented Mrs. Dow with a valentine box of chocolates. Mrs. Dow said "This is the first valentine I've had in a long, long time."

"I'd never dreamed of anything like this," exclaimed General Henry Shelton Sanford's daughter as she looked again and again at the gifts, flowers and fruit assembled for her.

"Everything is so lovely," said Mrs. Dow, "it makes me feel youthful again."

Rosa Mills, Mrs. Dow's personal maid, was quick to say that "I've stayed with Mrs. Dow for 18 years and I've been maid, nurse doctor and everything during those years."

Mrs. Dow showed every sign of appreciation for all that had been arranged for her on this, her first visit to Sanford since 1941. She is 87 years old and gets around sprightly except that she must use a wheelchair when standing for any length of time.

Dedication of the General Sanford Memorial Library will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Fort Mellon Park when the building will be thrown open to the public for the first time.

Mrs. Dow, as a gift to the City of Sanford, has sent General Sanford's personal library here where it is housed in a new, modern, fireproof building.

She will be present at the dedication of the General Sanford Memorial Library, which will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Fort Mellon Park when the building will be thrown open to the public for the first time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gifford A. Cochran of Chuluota, cousins of Mrs. Dow, will also be present at the dedication this afternoon.

A program has been arranged for the event this afternoon during which Mrs. Dow will turn the keys of the new General Sanford Memorial Library over to Mayor David Gatchel.

It is expected that a huge crowd will be on hand to witness and hear the dedication.

Grounds surrounding the new library building have been beautified by the Sanford Garden Club using pink camellias as a setting. It was at the request of Mrs. Dow that these flowers were used.

In order to raise some of the needed money for the 1957 budget, Bates has announced that a chicken barbecue dinner is being planned for Saturday, Feb. 9, from 5 to 7 p.m. These dinners have proven a big success with the residents of the town, and have been the means of paying for all the upkeep of the fire fighting equipment, along with the donations from the civic minded townspeople.

At the last meeting of the Town Council, an ordinance was read and unanimously accepted for a second reading, to place a five per cent tax on the utilities. Some portion of this tax, if accepted, will be used to help maintain the fire department.

"It's more than just building roads," he said, "and I don't believe that Seminole County can stand the loss."

He emphasized, "I don't want to be looked on as a minority or an oppositionist for an economist can tell you to the dollar what will be taken out of our county with the federal bypass."

Others at the meeting agreed with Wright and expressed their belief that such a highway will take vital traffic away from the City of Sanford and from the county.

However, Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider said that "good highways throughout the county which will join county seats and other communities, are important right now."

"A causeway across the St. Johns and Lake Monroe, joining 17-92 which should also be four-laned will do us more good than anything else," he said.

Mayor David Gatchel said, "Our efforts should be directed toward the four-laning and building of 17-92."

J. Brailley Odham, chairman of the Long Range Highway Planning Committee said "Federal Highway 104 will not eliminate the four-laning of 17-92."

Relative to State Road 16, County Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr. advised the Long Range Highway planning Committee that "there is a little bit more rights of way to be obtained."

Chairman Brailley Odham asked "Have we asked for a municipal section from Beardsall Ave. on in?"

County Engineer Hagan commented "We'll be out of luck if we attempt to do that now for the plans would have to be revised."

The committee requested that the Board of Seminole County Commissioners determine from the State Road Department minimum right of way needs for a modern municipal section on State Road 46 from Mellonville to French Aves.

A route to be followed by State Road 46 from French Ave. west was discussed at length.

Mayor David Gatchel proposed that the route continue out 25th St. to join 20th St. and then continue through Loch Arbor and then join the present route near Wilson Corner.

Odham suggested that "We plan our program to be submitted at the coming budget hearing."

Hammaraskjold Seeks New Advice In Dealing With Mid-East Conflict

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Secretary-General Dag Hammaraskjold today asked the United Nations General Assembly for new instructions in dealing with the Israeli-Egyptian deadlock in the Middle East.

He informed the assembly in a new report published this morning that Egypt has reaffirmed "its intent to observe fully" the provisions of the 1949 armistice agreement which outlawed "hostile or warlike acts" by either Egyptian or Israeli forces.

He pointed out that the assembly could recommend "collective measures"—the sanctions demanded by the Arab countries—but that such a recommendation would not be compulsory upon U.N. members.

The action came as the United States made a strong new appeal to Israel to remove her troops from Egyptian territory without delay.

Hammaraskjold warned that in taking sanctions against Israel, "while supporting efforts to achieve peaceful solutions, may perhaps, on the other hand, be introducing new elements of conflict."

The assembly was expected to meet Wednesday to consider Hammaraskjold's report and resume its Middle East debate. There was an outside possibility it might be summoned Tuesday.

Jaycees Launch Drive To Rid Area Of Blind Corners

The Seminole County Jaycees have announced the formation of a Safety committee which will launch an all-out campaign to rid the Sanford area of blind corners—corners or intersections where the vision of motorists is obstructed by shrubbery or other objects.

In making this announcement it was stated that the Jaycees hope to have the cooperation of all property owners where such hazardous conditions exist.

The Jaycees are requesting that all persons knowing of any blind corners, contact the Tourist Information Booth by phoning 1372 and the location will be marked on a map especially designated for this project. After these locations have been pinpointed, letters will be sent out to the property owners asking their cooperation in removing or trimming the obstruction.

The Jaycees, in launching this drive, hope to make the streets of Sanford safer for all.

County TB, Health Assn. Seeks Seal Drive Contributions

In a plea for contributions to the Christmas Seal campaign, Don Fletcher, Seal Chairman, said "Money derived from the annual sale of Christmas Seals is the only source of income supporting the entire program of the Seminole County Tuberculosis and Health Association."

Weather

Fair and continued warm through Tuesday; low tonight 60 to 64.

Five churches were broken into and ransacked early this morning by two youths, one 15 the other 16.

The two boys, both from Lawton, Okla., broke their way into the U.S.O., First Methodist Church, First Baptist Church, Holy Cross Episcopal Church and All Souls Catholic Church. They were breaking into the First Presbyterian Church when the oldest of the two severely cut his right arm on glass.

Both boys admitted the breaking and entering of the churches.

They said that they took a lot of money from the All Souls Catholic Church and one of the others amounting to nearly $12.

Found in their room on Magnolia Ave., where they had been staying for nearly a week, were: a photograph, a film projector and four quarts of sacrament wine.

One boy admitted "My mother doesn't know where we are." However, questioning the other youngster, he said "My mother knows where we are."

Confronting the two youths with the fact that their parents would have to be notified of their acts one said "I don't want my mother to know I am here, it will make it harder for me."

The two youngsters were high school sophomores, according to a statement from one "but we quit about a month ago."

Screams from the older of the two boys were heard by Deputy Sheriff Oscar Decker at the Seminole County Jail and by Patrolman Earl Bourquard of the Sanford Police Department. The 15-year-old boy said "I thought I was going to die."

The younger of the two ran to the Seminole County Jail to tell him that "there was an accident." However, after taking the 15-year-old to the hospital to have his arm treated, the two admitted breaking into the churches.

W. R. Cosgrave, Sanford Police Department sergeant and Patrolman Edward Hayden were the investigating officers who unearthed the breaking and entering.

Both boys carried hunting knives. The knife carried by the 16-year-old youth was covered with blood. However, he admitted the injury to his arm as he tried to gain entrance to the First Presbyterian Church.

Fathers of both boys are in the United States Army. According to one of the youths, one father is stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla. the other in Saigon, Indo China.
