Will Organize Formal Committees and Proceed SPECIAL SUBJECTS

HAVE BEEN ASSIGNED THEM AND UNDERSTOOD THAT IM- MEDIATE STEPS BE TAKEN

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Further discussion, through formal addresses of agricultural situation confronting the country was undertaken today by the National Agricultural Conference when it resumed its session. At the conclusion of the open session it was planned to organize formally committees and have them proceed to consideration of special subjects assigned to them.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Immediate relief must be given the farmers in the present agricultural crisis, delegates to the national agricultural conference which convened here yesterday were told by speakers representing every phase of the industry. President Harding, who opened the conference with an address, Secretary Wallace, farmers and representatives of industries dependent on agriculture emphasized the seriousness of the situation and suggested remedies.

The remedial measures outlined by President Harding and subsequently endorsed by many of the speakers included more adequate financial facilities, especially working capital, for the farmer on long time loans to provide for his turnover, extension of the co-operative marketing, buying and loan associations of farmers; development of waterway transportation and power possibilities; more efficient machinery for collecting and distributing market information including the demand and consumption outlook, development of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway project, and assurance to agriculture of equality of opportunity with all other industries.

It is hoped to have it completed before the end of the summer.

SENATOR TRAMMELL WANTS MILEAGE BOOKS ISSUED BY RAILROADS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.—Senator Park Trammell yesterday in the Senate offered an amendment to the pending bill requiring the railroads to issue mileage books of five thousand miles. Senator Trammell's amendment proposed that mileage books of one thousand miles should be issued and that the proposed law should not be limited to books of five thousand miles. Senator Trammell in addressing the senate said that he heartily approved of the measure requiring that mileage books should be sold at two and one-half cents per mile but in order that the privilege would reach persons of more moderate means and who did not require so much mileage as five thousand miles, smaller mileage books should be required. Senator Trammell in his speech also condemned the present high rates for passenger transportation and Pullman fares. He urged that lower rates would encourage travel and thereby benefit not only the public but add to the revenue of the railroads.

Has New Ideas About Marriage That May Revolutionize the World

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(By The Associated Press).—Elsie Hill, one of the leaders of the National Woman's Party confirmed today reports of her marriage to Albert Levitt, professor in the University of North Dakota and in doing so announced she would not change her name. "There is no law to insist on it and it is only custom that leading people do it at all at this time. I think it would be inconvenient to change my name. Of course if people call me Mrs. Levitt I will not make an issue of it but I intend to keep my name for all legal matters, visiting cards and so forth."

ALLIED DEBT REFUNDING BEING DEBATED IN SENATE McCUMBER URGES LENIENCY

Says That the United States Should Not Assume Role of Shylock

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The fight over the allied debt refunding bill broke yesterday in the senate, with Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, in charge of the measure, pleading that the United States "not play the role of Shylock in dealing with its allies" and the Democrats opposing the proposed grant of authority to the debt commission to fix the time when interest payments shall begin. The first day's consideration of the measure saw only the completion of the opening statement by Senator McCumber, as chairman of the finance committee, who was subjected to a rapid cross fire from the minority side. Today Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, will open the minority attack and general debate will follow. Republican leaders hope to press the bill to a vote by the end of the week.

THREE GREAT MAGICIANS OF MUSICAL HISTORY

Years ago the world was all excited over a genius who did "impossible things" with a violin. So marvelous were his feats that he was called "magician," "wizard." Some said he played as if bewitched. Such was Paganini, the great genius of the violin before whom all the world bowed. The master who did things were—until his day—considered impossible for the violin. He opened new fields and gained a new respect for the instrument that is today one of the greatest in the concert field. Still farther back in history a master—whose name still reigns supreme—came forth to reveal another little respected instrument: the organ. Bach's great fame has not diminished since the days when he revealed its practically untouched possibilities and the organ has grown to its present grandeur because of his genius. A truly great thing, indeed, is it to reveal to the world the possibilities of some instrument that has long been used in a smaller way than that of which it is capable. The organ was one of the oldest musical instruments, yet through the years it lay waiting for the genius, Bach, to reveal its wonders. The violin, in primitive forms at least, was one of the oldest of musical instruments. Yet Paganini, not so many years ago, revealed it in a new great light. Today there has come before the world another genius who has taken yet a third instrument that has long been waiting for some master's hands to reveal its true possibilities. The harp is one of the oldest of all instruments in musical history. It has always been one of the most beautiful; the subject of poets and historians for many centuries. Yet it has never been recognized as having unlimited concert possibilities. But there comes a genius who—with seemingly magic hands—sudden-

Business Men Learn That Measure Could Be Put Through HAVE CONFERENCE

AT JACKSONVILLE JANUARY 26 TO DISCUSS CALLING OF SPECIAL SESSION

(By The Associated Press)
OCALA, Jan. 24.—It was learned today that numerous business men in the belief that in a special session of the legislature called now the tick eradication law could be passed immediately, have written several members of the legislature asking them to attend a conference in Jacksonville January 26th. The letters expressed confidence the governor would call the special session if a majority of the members of both houses request it and pledge themselves to pass effective eradication bill. The call for the meeting states the conference would consider whether it deemed it possible to obtain pledges from the legislators and the most expeditious manner to do so. Also, how to most effectively bring the force of public opinion to bear on the question.

A NIGHT IN HONOLULU

Among the many things to catch the eye of the travelers are the old native houses on the Islands of Hawaii, and for this reason the Author has reproduced both exterior and interior of this picturesque abode, which serves as the first scene in the last act of "A NIGHT IN HONOLULU," the pretty musical play which comes to the Star Theatre next Friday, Jan. 27. The spirit of modern improvement has replaced them with less pleasing shanties, and this is to be deplored as much as the hideous "Mother Hubbard," which was introduced by the missionaries, nevertheless these homely garments are often rendered beautiful by the hibiscus blossoms and the happy countenance of the wearer. Although the native girl is generally represented to us in the Hula costume it is now only worn on rare occasions. The Hula is a national dance which has been greatly modified in many respects and yet the traveler is exhilarated and entranced when the hospitable natives entertain them with it on their feast days. On a recent trip to the Islands, Mr. Barnes, one of the producers and author, received an invitation, and his host promised many interesting sights. The gentleman in question was eager to embrace an opportunity that would give him material for the forthcoming play. He heartily enjoyed the entertainment until he was given a dried fish to eat. Fearing to offend his host he awaited an opportunity and tucked it carefully away in his coat sleeve. One of the natives observing its quick disappearance remarked to the host that their guest was very fond of fish, thereupon Mr. Barnes was presented with another twice its size, and before the eyes of his delighted observers he was compelled to eat it. These natives are hospitable to a fault. On his return home he confided to his wife that he had paid dearly for the evening's entertainment. The native Hawaiian loves to designate himself as a "kanaka," he is too much filled with the joy of living to consider laboring in any manner. His wants are few, as are his clothes. He can live on the simplest food. With inordinate fondness for idle pleasures, good humored and tractable as children—in fact the highest tribute that can be paid to them is that they are children.

"A NIGHT IN HONOLULU" HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

In "A Night In Honolulu," the pretty musical play, the author, Howard McKenty Barnes, has tried to clearly set forth the true character of the natives of Hawaii. There have been many works by the early missionaries which only served to be instances of gross libels against the characteristics of the most gentle, hospitable people in the world. The Hawaiians love nature, freedom of the woods, the caress of the sweet-scented flowers that nestle close to their breast, then too they revel in the rolling surf of the sea, while the mountain stream croons a low melody to the worshipper at its shrine. This devotion to nature can almost be said to be their religion. In the sunlight they see the smile of the Great Spirit, and what greater tribute could one pay to the Creator; than with a gentle heart and pure thought to show appreciation for the symbols of his benevolence. Their great love for their offspring disproves malicious falsehoods circulated about for their wilful destruction of babes. Their salutation "Aloha nei"—the former meaning "Great gratitude," the latter "Everything I have is yours"—only proves the beautiful character of the race. Had Captain Cook not violated the hospitality of the natives he would never have suffered the penalty of death. The Hawaiians appearing in the play at the Princess Theatre, January 27th, have but recently arrived in this country. Catchy music, good singing, pretty girls and a great cast makes this one of the best shows of the season.

PUBLIC FORUM

HOW TO BUILD UP SANFORD.

Dear Mr. Editor:
What that fellow wrote the other day about loyalty to Sanford and confidence, and all of that is all right. A lot of us fellows are boosters and we want to do all we can to make Sanford a great city, and yet we are human and like the other fellow we do not want to pay $1.50 for an article that we think and believe we get by ordering it out of town at $1.25. Of course, it is possible, and probable that if we went to the home merchant always with the cash in hand and sent the charge orders out of town, that we could buy as cheap at home as we could out of town. And this is something to take into account, for really I do not think it fair to buy on account at home and send our money away to strangers.
Anyway, Mr. Editor, I have decided to start the New Year off right. I am going to be a real booster for Sanford. Keep my money at home and pay cash as I go, or I won't go. And then, too, I have been thinking it over in a general way and I do not believe I ever heard of Sears, Roebuck & Co., Montgomery Ward & Co., or any of those fellows ever contributing a cent to the upkeep of any of our home institutions, or even paying taxes or licenses to take our money away. A wonderful privilege, gratis, that I, you and our home merchants and business men must pay for. It isn't fair to home industry and home institutions, and I for one am against it, and I am going to do all I can to stop this thing. If money was wanted for our roads, our schools, our hospitals, the Woman's Club, the Children's Home or the church, we send to Sears Roebuck & Co., Montgomery Ward & Co., and other out-of-town institutions and people, who profit on our prosperity. Oh, no we don't. The subscription petition is first taken down one side and up the other of First street in Sanford, and usually the desired amount obtained.
You understand what I am talking about, Mr. Editor, I believe in helping the fellow who helps me, the fellow who is helping to build my town. It is a fact that should not be overlooked, that the home store is one, if not the prime institution necessary to the well-being and comfort of the community, and that efficiency is increased by the support and co-operation of the community. Give the home merchant your business, and you help him to give better service. You help him to keep what you call for and at lower prices. Another thing, if Sanford people could ever wake up and get wise to all of these get-rich-quick schemes, buying oil well stock, auto stock, crankless engine and hotel stock, wonderful money maker for the fellow who sells the stock, but at the expense of the fellow who buys and Sanford. There are genuine, profitable opportunities in Sanford for the citizen or man who has surplus cash. He can make his money work for Sanford, help build his town, put his money in the home institutions and home industry. There is no spot on Florida where the returns can be surer, safer or better than in Sanford homes, Sanford hotels, or rooming houses, or in the Sanford Building & Loan Association, an institution that has made a most enviable record, not only in the matter of returns to its stockholders, but in the amazing building accomplished for Sanford.
Mr. Citizen, put your money in Sanford industry and Sanford institutions and see your home town grow. Am I right? Think it over!
YOUR COUNTRY FRIEND.

GET WISE TO THE TRUTH

WHY CAN THRASHER & GARNER sell. Furnishings, and Shoes cheaper than the concern which sells on time? BECAUSE THEY SELL FOR CASH. THINK IT OVER.
When you buy ON TIME you do two things contrary to the law of thrift: You buy MORE RECKLESSLY than when you pay cash and you PAY MORE for what you buy. Bookkeeping and carrying accounts is expensive. WHO KEEPS UP THIS EXPENSE? THE CUSTOMER.
Bad accounts are also expensive. WHO KEEPS UP THIS EXPENSE? THE CUSTOMER WHO BUYS ON TIME.
Thrasher & Garner have ELIMINATED THESE EXPENSES. When you spend your money with them NO PART OF YOUR MONEY GOES TO PAY FOR BOOKKEEPING AND BAD ACCOUNTS because Thrasher & Garner sell for CASH ONLY. If you are interested in LOWERING YOUR LIVING EXPENSES, PAY CASH and trade where Shoes, Clothing and Furnishings are sold at reduced cash prices. THRASHER & GARNER'S. We have many small lots of Men's, Women's and Children's Shoes, standard stock and quality, that are on sale at big sacrifices. Prices of ALL SHOES reduced TEN to FIFTEEN PER CENT. Our entire line of clothing cut to or below cost. Must be moved to make room for Spring Stock.
We are headquarters for Army Coats, Mattresses, Blankets, Shirts and Pants. The prices all reduced. Give us your business. We will save you money.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

Down here in Florida and especially down here in Sanford it is just now 84 on the 24th day of January and while the rest of the country is wrapped in snow we are wrapped in—well, any old thing. We have one firm here that gives away suits and other firms that come so close to giving all kinds of things away that anybody can wear anything any time. After the "Night in Honolulu" it will probably be the style to wear a necklace and as far as the weather is concerned that style would be comfortable enough but it would impede traffic and otherwise gum up the cards n'everything—you know what we mean. But coming back to the weather, do you think it will fog again? Have a fog on us!

WATER POWER OF OCKLAWAHA TO BE HARNESSSED SOON

OCALA, Jan. 24.—Licensed, under a preliminary permit issued them by the federal power commission, to push ahead on its development schemes, the Ocklawaha Farms Reclamation company as such permittees, is given six months' priority in which to establish to the satisfaction of the proper

A dam, electric power plant and accessory engineering works are planned, under construction plans of this development corporation, whose headquarters are located by Ocala, at a certain point on the Ochlawaha river, where the water power can be best utilized.

Further survey work will be conducted under supervision of the district United States engineer and representatives of the United States geodetic survey, according to the language of the permit, a copy of which has been received by Major W. "A night in Honolulu"—In this latest musical play from the pen of Howard McKent Barnes, which comes to the princess Theatre next Friday Jan. 27th, the author has made a number of radical changes in the unfolding of the story of life in Hawaii. Not the least of which is the seen in the play. Some of the most successful plays on this subject have sought fit to either ridicule the Americans or else made him a cad and money grabber. In "A NIGHT IN HONOLULU" the American is seen as a human being capable of sympathy and ability to deal squarely. One can see this play and leave with the comfortable impression of the strong protecting the weak. Of intelligence guiding nonintelligence. Surely a welcome innovation. A troupe of native Hawaiians and a great company makes this play a success of the season.
