

MUSSOLINI WILL HEAD THE NEW ITALIAN CABINET TAKE OATH OF OFFICE TODAY

MEMBERS OF CABINET TOOK OATH BEFORE KING EMMANUEL

AND WILL TAKE OFFICE TODAY

Count Sporza Wired His Resignation as Italian Ambassador to Paris

(By The Associated Press) ROME, Oct. 31.—Members of the new Italian cabinet headed by Mussolini, took their oaths of office before King Victor Emmanuel last night and assumed office immediately says a Rome dispatch.

PARIS, Oct. 31.—Count Sporza has telegraphed his resignation as Italian ambassador to Paris to Premier Mussolini. He explained that in his view the new government should have in such posts men in thorough accord with its policies.

ROME, Oct. 31.—Fascisti high command today ordered the demobilization of the Fascisti and numerous members of the organization will leave for home today after a patriotic procession. The situation according to semi-official expression today was regarded as normal again.

ROME, Oct. 31.—The entire city was early astir awaiting the arrival of Mussolini. All Rome was beflagged and the walls plastered with manifestos, one of them signed by the Fascisti committee declaring:

"Victory is ours. Any conflict is useless, indeed harmful, to the Fascist black shirts imposing absolute calm, order. Therefore, the most categorical orders have been issued to all the order and discipline. Mussolini having been entrusted with the formation of a cabinet from this moment is responsible for the safety of the state, the ministries and parliament, and any action against the government institutions is rebellion against Mussolini. Attacks against shops and the selling of arms are absolutely prohibited."

The Fascisti leader entered Rome in a royal automobile sent for him by the king, as Mussolini's train could not continue in consequence of the tracks having been torn up by the troops. When he reached the capital the new premier was acclaimed on all sides.

The entire press praises King Victor Emmanuel for his firm attitude both in refusing to sign a decree of a state of siege submitted to him by the retiring Facta cabinet and by choosing Benito Mussolini as head of the government. The Giornale di Roma says: "Five sovereigns of the House of Savoy have abdicated in the past for the safety of the mother country. The present king also would have abdicated rather than that a single drop of blood should be shed in civil war."

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE FOR THE SCHOOL AMENDMENT

The proposed amendment to Article 12, Constitution of Florida, to be ratified at the General Election to be held November 7th, 1922, does not, as some think increase millage for school purposes. It does, however, give the people of any special tax school district the right to vote once every two years whether the millage for schools shall be increased so as to provide funds for such improvements as may be necessary. It does not permit any board of trustees or county board arbitrarily to increase school millage. It is based on sound democratic principles, allowing progressive school districts the privilege of improving their school in accordance with the will of the majority of the tax payers of such progressive districts. In voting for the ratification of the school amendment, you are only voting in favor of greater liberty in the conduct of your own school affairs.

The nations are so sick of war that to avoid it they are willing to do almost anything except be reasonable.

TO ADVERTISE FLORIDA IDEA ORLANDO MEET

"SHALL FLORIDA ADVERTISE" IS THEME OF MEETING TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 9TH

Judging from the number of letters, received by the Florida Development Board, expressing intention of the writers to attend the Florida Advertising Conference in Orlando on November 9th, there will be a very representative gathering of business men from all sections of the state.

"Shall Florida Advertise" is the theme for discussion, the subject being divided into three principal sub-topics as follows:

Does Florida Need Advertising?

If Decided Affirmatively, How Shall the Funds be Provided?

How Shall the Funds be Administered and Expended?

The call for the Florida Advertising Conference has been signed by twenty-six business men representing: The Florida Development Board; the Florida Realtors Association; the Florida State Hotel Association; railroads, nurseries, newspaper publishers, bankers and a number of other interests. Every person interested in the subject will be welcome at the conference, which will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, beginning at one o'clock. Since the initial announcement of the Florida Advertising Conference there has been considerable interest taken in what is being done in other states to advertise their resources and advantages. California is the principal competitor of Florida, both for tourists and for settlers. The All Year Club of Southern California is reported to have a subscription fund of $500,000 per year for advertising that section of their state, and during the past summer the business interests in the San Francisco trade territory raised a fund of $400,000 per year for advertising.

The following is from a report on their subscription campaign, received by the Florida Development Board: "The arrangements for raising the fund were planned and completed by a group of representative business men headed by K. R. K. Kingsbury, president of the Standard Oil Company of California, assisted by the heads of practically all the large banks as well as other foremost business and industrial organizations.

"The expenditure of the fund is under direction of an advertising committee. About $300,000 of the fund will be spent in publications and the balance will be used for literature, direct advertising and administration."

POLICY OF HELPFULNESS AND GOOD UNDERSTANDING IS REPUBLICAN'S SAYS HUGHES

In Speaking of Attitude of Harding Administration at Boston Last Night

(By The Associated Press) BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 31.—A foreign policy of helpfulness and good understanding, without entanglements which would fetter American independence, was outlined by Secretary Hughes of the State Department in an address in Symphony Hall last night reviewing the record of the Harding administration in the field of international relations.

By the lead it took in the arms conference, the Secretary said, and by its efforts toward harmony among the nations of the Western Hemisphere, the American government during the past twenty months has set a record of accomplishment far beyond what was expected of it when the new administration came into power.

So far as Europe is concerned, Mr. Hughes declared, President Harding and his advisers always have been ready to lend a helping hand where it would do the most good, but are not willing to fritter away the influence of the United States by intervention in controversies that are rooted in age-old national rivalries.

"The chief trouble at this time in Europe," he continued, "is that the great powers have not been able to agree as to questions which, being distinctly European questions, directly concern them, and their want of agreement is due to different conceptions of essential national policy. For us, international co-operation does not mean that we would embroil ourselves in controversies not involving our own interests."

The secretary added that in humanitarian efforts he believed a way might be found for the United States to participate formally in the election of judges to the recently organized International Court of Justice, a project which from the first had had the sympathy of this government. He declared that already in a humanitarian way and through the channels of trade the United States was really giving aid of a value incalculable. He praised the arms conference agreements as meaning "the rescue of the world from despair" and predicted that despite the present delay the Washington treaties would be ratified by all the powers signatory to them. Ultimate failure of the conference program, he asserted, had been precluded in any case by the ratifications already voted by the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Among the other accomplishments reviewed by Mr. Hughes as a part of the constructive program of the administration were the negotiations of a peace treaty with Germany, the Yop agreement protecting American interests in the mandate islands of the Pacific, the reorganization of Cuba's finances, the Taana-Arica arbitration agreement between Chile and Peru, the calling of a conference here of Central American republics, and the stabilization of Haiti and Santo Domingo.

Toward the people of Mexico, the Secretary said, the United States entertains only the friendliest sentiments although it is unwilling to recognize any Mexican internal policy based upon confiscatory measures against foreigners. He alluded also to the Near Eastern situation, repeating the declaration that the American government, although interested deeply in some phases of the Near Eastern settlement, can not appropriately attend the Lausanne peace conference because it was called to settle a war to which the United States was not a party.

Secretary Hughes began his address with a eulogy to Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations and Republican leader of the senate. Mr. Lodge's defeat by his Massachusetts constituency at the November election, the Secretary declared, would be not only a loss to the state but "an irreparable loss to the nation."

In his discussion of the policies of the administration, Mr. Hughes said: "Of course, there have been differences of view, freely expressed. That is a wholesome sign, there have been no attempts to establish a one man rule. The executive has fully appreciated the great powers confided to him by the constitution and he is exercising them."

"The American government is being conducted without usurpation and with the proper influence and power of effective and constitutional leadership. That is the reason wasteful expenditures have been cut, necessary economies enforced, efficiency vastly increased, and our great national concerns safeguarded."

"This method and result are due to the spirit and purpose which have dominated the Administration. They are due to the sagacity, the steadiness,

PREACHED A SERMON ON THE TEXT "THOU SHALT NOT"

(By The Associated Press) STATESBORO, Ga., Oct. 31.—After leading the court room in prayer the Reverend Elliott Padrick, Methodist minister, took the stand in his own defense today in his trial on the charge of slaying his wife and mother-in-law. The youthful preacher lost no time in beginning his sermon. He announced for his text "Thou Shalt Not." Right at the point where the sermon was getting strong one of his attorneys seeing he was becoming excited shouted "That will do, Elliott, sit down." Padrick walked to the water cooler; took a drink, returned to the attorney's table, sat down and went to sleep. Padrick admitted the slayings and the defense is trying to prove insanity.

E. D. C.
An interesting meeting of the N. De V. Howard Chapter of the U. D. C., was held in the Parish House Friday afternoon.

The Chapter was honored by having our state president, Miss Person, of Orlando visit with us, and she gave a very interesting talk on the work done by the woman's chapter throughout the state and urging that our chapter be more active in the three important phases of the work, namely: to educate women and children, to improve the home, and to improve the community. Her report was most interesting, but the time of the meeting in our Confederate homes would be doubly indeed, if the daughters of these countries did not bring to them good cheer.

Mrs. Person also spoke interestingly on the recent movement for a large endowment fund for enlarging and reconstructing the famous Lee Chapel at Washington and Lee University, at present the chapel is entirely inadequate and without fire protection. Among other valuable contents is the great Lee statue by Valentine, which is priceless. Work has begun on the Stone mountain memorial to the Confederacy, which will be the greatest monument on earth.

Mrs. Ben Churchwell was appointed to represent the Sanford Chapter on the U. D. C. committee.

Miss Beason called on the 11th of November for Birmingham to attend the Gen. convention of the U. D. C.

LIGHTNING STRUCK THE CITY BUILDING

Lightning struck the corner of the corner of the City Building yesterday afternoon, tearing the big concrete block in place and tearing off part of the brick siding. A shower of concrete and brick fell to the street below and had there been any pedestrian on the street they would have been killed but the heavy downpour of rain kept everyone indoors that particular time and no one was hurt. The debris was hurled clear across Palmetto ave. against the opposite building and the members of the Fire Department thought the building was coming down. These parapets are peculiar about the manner in which they seem to draw the lightning. Some time ago a similar corner of the Stone Gove building was torn off by lightning and several other buildings in the city have suffered slight damages. The City Building will have to put on a new coping but it is doubtful if they will put on another concrete block for a corner.

F. E. C. EXTENSION OKEECHOBEE-MIAMI TO BEGIN ABOUT JAN. 1

The construction work of the Okeechobee-Miami extension of the Florida East Coast Railway will begin on or about January 1st, contingent upon authority of the United States government, which authority is expected daily.

This good news comes to Okeechobee through Geo. F. Parker, who has just returned from a trip to St. Augustine, where in conversation with the vice-president of the road, J. P. Beckwith, who informed him of this latest move by his company, and that this encouraging word could be given the people of Okeechobee through the press.

With the extension of the railway south of this city, gives to the busness man of Okeechobee something definite to base his future calculations on, and can govern himself accordingly as to the rapid growth of this, one of Florida's richest sections of country.

In a few short months the big steel moguls will be steaming through the most fertile and prosperous section of the entire south, particularly in this true of the boundaries of the great Lake Okeechobee, known as "Florida's Inland Sea," one can but picture the second Miami of Florida, located as she is at the head of this great lake, where every natural advantage favors the making of a cosmopolitan city. The future growth of Okeechobee is assured, and when the steel rails point on southward through the wonderland of the Everglades, there can be no doubt left in the skeptical mind of the wonderful development of the city and county.—Okeechobee News.

LIVING WAGE QUESTION NOW UP FOR DISCUSSION WITH THE LABOR BOARD

that there had been no appreciable increase in the cost of living.

Mr. Wharton, in his dissenting opinion, maintained that the "fundamental error" of the decision rested on failure to inquire into the adequacy of rates of pay established for section men and unskilled laborers. He asserted that the rates of pay in other industries of similar character should be made a secondary consideration and that the prime factor to be considered was whether the rates fixed were just and reasonable which he said meant an adequate and living wage under the transportation act.

He maintained that the living wage principle was practical, asserting that added labor costs would be absorbed in large part by increased efficiency of the men and by managerial ability.

Attacking the budget method of determining what should be a living wage, the supporting opinion says: "That it would be wise and practical to undertake to establish an arbitrary standard of living for several millions of persons is not apparent. That the desires and requirements of all men are equal and alike is not correct, and that any committee of experts could set up an average living standard upon which a wage scale could be practically based has not been demonstrated anywhere."

wish to remind the Times that the last legislature was the first one to get any kind of reapportionment bill over in all that time and we for one favor their bill because it sounds like progress. If the Times has no confidence in the legislature how can anyone hope to get a better bill thru the next legislature or any session in the future. For our part we have more faith in humankind that most people and we have faith even in the legislature and in west Florida.

BACK TO EAST COAST

Editor Thorndyke has edged back towards the east coast, being now located at Palatka with The News. He has "severed his connection" with The Kissimmee Valley Gazette. Funny how all the great ones finally gather along the Atlantic seaboard, and if can only get Bob Holly, of Sanford, Editor Benjamin, of Ocala, and one or two others from the interior the west coast would have to go some to equal our bouquet of writers.—Bunnell Tribune.

THE POWER OF PRAYER

The power of prayer is exemplified so many times in everyday life that people more and more are coming to believe in it and are asking the help of the Divine Power to direct their business affairs. In North Dakota where there had been no crops for four years the people started their crops with prayers last spring and they have had the best crops this year that have ever been known. The other day they gave thanks to God for their bountiful harvest and they should for they know from whence it came and from whence all blessings come and the giver of All Things. Those North Dakota Puritans are true to their early traditions from which so many of us have wandered in the years that have passed since the first Thanksgiving Day was proclaimed in this land.

HUGHES DEFENDS THE PARTY

In today's Herald the speech of Secretary Hughes in Boston last night is given for the benefit of the readers. It shows clearly the trend of thought in the Republican ranks and the platform which they expect to build their platform in 1923. Secretary Hughes says that the party has a foreign policy of helpfulness and good understanding without entanglements that would fetter American independence. This is a high sounding phrase and is old stuff. It was sounded by George Washington if we can remember back that far but it does not work out altogether as the speakers would have us believe. For instance America did not want to entangle ourselves during the World War but before we knew it we were entangled up to the neck. We helped to win the war, we made the profiteers rich, we helped them to become richer after the war was over, we spent billions and gave up thousands of lives to keep from having any startling alliances maybe, but when it came to putting over a real peace program that would have kept us out of trouble in the future the Republicans for political purposes only killed the greatest American of them all—Woodrow Wilson. Call it what you will. It is there.

FROM OTHER SANCTUMS

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP PAYS IN THE METROPOLIS

The city commission and the realtors' association of Jacksonville are conducting jointly in the Times-Union an advertising campaign, the main purpose of which appears to be "sell" Jacksonville to its own people, and the showing made and the facts presented should not only create a feeling of pride, but should give confidence and encouragement to all who intelligently consider the facts presented. Tampa, the metropolis of the empire of south Florida, has no feeling of jealousy of the metropolis of the state, while striving by all legitimate and honorable means to catch and surpass her in development and population. To the contrary, we rejoice in her prosperity and take pride in the results she is achieving by progressive and courageous policies. We have much to learn from a study of the methods and policies which have contributed to Jacksonville's growth. Conspicuously outstanding as the chief contributor to this marvellous development is the policy of municipal ownership of public utilities. Jacksonville owns the water and lighting plants and extensive docks and terminals. The commission says of these interests! The water works for the past five years has paid small dividends, while the docks and terminals pay their carrying cost. The charges on the service from these utilities are very low and it is not the intention to make a profit. They are looked upon rather as city streets, parks, the postoffice and public highways, to render cheap, essential service without thought of profit. But if the city of Jacksonville did not own them, they would be operated privately, at a cost to the public to earn dividends. Therefore this statement of assets as to water works and municipal docks and piers, etc., is based on actual cost, and are worth actually more than these figures.

The total bonded indebtedness of Jacksonville is $6,774,500.

This includes the recent $200,000 issue which is now being spent on streets, water extensions, docks and piers, streets sewerage etc. If Jacksonville today sold just these three municipal holdings and paid off every dollar of debt against this city, there would remain a surplus large enough to run the government two years without a dollar city tax.

Last year the electric lighting system turned into the city treasury $473,000, and improvements and extensions were made out of earnings costing $295,556.55. The total gross income from the plant was $1,078,157.27. Put this way, the net earnings were more than 40 per cent of the total income, based on actual book cost of the city, net earnings were about 20 per cent while another 11 per cent was used for improvements.

When you have studied these points, you realize the tremendous earning power of your lighting plant, that it is one of the great business concerns of Jacksonville. You see why if owned privately it could be capitalized for ten millions on present rates.

But suppose your light rates were raised to 14 cents per kilowatt and owned privately.

Do you now realize the value to Jacksonville as a great city of her municipality owned utilities.

We want you to realize that her ocean shipping while not paying dividends to the city of Jacksonville, is paying you individually as citizens of Jacksonville.

Finally, if Jacksonville business people need a convincing argument to prospective investors in our city, they need but quote the statistics of our municipal light plant. Gross earnings in 1921 were $28,666.50 in 1921 $1,078,157.27 a gain of 3,700 per cent. These figures are indisputable. They show that Jacksonville business sound. A prospective new industry may base its prospects upon what the city has done. Those figures prove that Jacksonville is a "good buy" for home or business.

The Times has a purpose, of course, in reprinting this extensive Jacksonville advertisement. It wants the people of Tampa to make a local application to vision what a similar policy would mean to Tampa. Tampa Times.

Big Florida Drug Concern Places Record Breaking Order for RECUMA Account of Increasing Popularity

Jacksonville, October 30.—The big Florida Wholesale Drug firm known as The Groover-Stewart Drug Company, whose main office is here, have placed their order for fourteen thousand bottles of RECUMA, which is believed to be the biggest ever given for any similar product in the history of Jacksonville.

When a single drug firm orders nearly Ten Thousand Dollars worth of one medicine, and during its introductory stage at that, it isn't hard to realize that one thing alone is responsible for such tremendous sales. That one thing, more than anything else is—popular approval.

The fact that RECUMA is so widely used and publicly endorsed by some of the most prominent people in every part of the state shows most convincingly that RECUMA is doing wonders for weak, thin and suffering people who had never before been able to get relief.

Popular Here Too

The Union Pharmacy says that RECUMA is fast becoming just as popular here as it is in Jacksonville and many other cities in Florida. Their sales have already exceeded their biggest expectations.—Adv.

WARNING TO BOYS AND PARENTS

Next Tuesday is Halloween and it is always an occasion of much merry-making on the part of the young and old alike, which is perfectly legitimate and in which all concur. But in late years the boys have become entirely too destructive to property in their method of fun-making, so much so that they have entered our school buildings, trampled the books of the students and those contained in the school and have broken many windows in the school buildings and have badly injured many of the desks therein, all of which is wanton mischief and should be severely punished. They have torn down business signs and thrown them about the streets, have upset the flowers and ferns on the lawns of many homes and seriously injured them, beside breaking many pots and tubs containing the flowers and in many other ways have effected much serious mischief which has caused considerable loss to the owners. Therefore as mayor of the city I feel it my duty to issue a kindly warning to all the boys of our city against such forms of mischief, and to beg of the parents that they both carefully instruct their children against such forms of amusement, and if possible keep them from such assemblages as would likely to engage therein.

I want to assure the boys that I am with them in all innocent fun, and will myself join them in it, but we must all know that we never have the right to injure property in order to have amusement.

Really Only One Occasion.

It has often been a matter of speculation as to when, if any time, a man would feel perfectly at ease carrying a doll. This perplexing question, one that has no doubt disturbed the mental equilibrium of many psychologists, was solved the other night by two gentlemen who had given the matter much thought. The solution of the problem was that the only time that a male tipped appeared untroubled while transporting a doll in his arms was when he was returning in triumph from one of the best of a night's amusement park. —Washington Star.

TOURIST CROP SAYS DECKIE, BUT NO RECORD BREAKER

This winter's tourist season will be a good one for Tampa, but Florida and California are expecting too much if they anticipate it will be a record breaker, said I. P. Dickie, secretary of the Tampa Board of Trade, on his return of this city yesterday from a two weeks trip in the north.

"The so-called coal shortage in the north is not a shortage at all," he said. "I hardly heard any comment on the coal question. Prices were high at some places, but federal, state and city fuel administrators are regulating these, so that they will probably not be exorbitant. All of the hotels where I stopped had plenty of heat, even on days when it wasn't needed, and there wasn't a home at which I stopped that didn't have a supply stored away for the winter."

"We have looked at this so-called coal shortage more or less as a good thing for us believing it would cause an unusual large number of people to come south. From what I learned in making observations for myself and in conference with national and visiting men, I don't believe the coal question will seriously affect the people in the large cities. In small towns without fuel administration, coal may become so scarce that people will come to Florida, and others may make the trip simply to get out of the red tape necessary to a supply but these people would probably be tourists anyway. "Another thing which will tend to make a good or bad tourist season is the weather, and there is at present no reason on account of cold weather, in the north for anybody wanting to go south. With the exception of a small snow storm we encountered in the Adirondacks the weather on our entire trip was delightful."

One of the reasons why this winter's season will be better than last year's is that the general industrial situation in the country is greatly improved, Mr. Dickie found, and more people can afford to make a trip to the sunny South. Tampa Tribune.

They Couldn't Know

The mind of 1818 couldn't conceive of the miracles that human ingenuity would perform during the twentieth century. It couldn't imagine the wonders that would be wrought by new agricultural methods and modern manufacturing genius. It was ignorant of transportation as we know it, of the progressive side

Back in 1818 the greatest newspaper of the day declared that the world had reached the limit of human expansion. It even went further, saying that there weren't the many things we need in order to live profitable, happy and useful lives. It presents for our approval articles of all kinds and for all purposes. The requirements of each member of the family are met by advertised offers of methods of today. It could not see the vital part that would be played by advertising.

Even today there are some who fail to realize what an important factor advertising has become. Advertising is as much a part of today's life as electricity, anti-septic surgery or automobiles. It keeps us up-to-date on enough supplies in the world to support further growth of population.

The advertisements save time, money and effort for those who read them and follow their guidance. They are practical guarantees of satisfaction.

BIG BUSINESS TREND BETTER, SAYS REPORTS

INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL CIRCLES SHOW BETTER SIGNS

(By The Associated Press)
 NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The trend toward better business in industrial and commercial circles has undergone no apparent change during the past week. Railway car loadings remain close to the peak, and plainly would be greater if the roads could furnish and move a larger number of cars. Thus, the excess in the demand for freight cars as compared with supply on Oct. 15 was, according to the American Railway Association, 156,000 cars. The effect naturally is to restrain the movement of certain kinds of traffic, such as grain, and to restrict the mining of coal.

Nevertheless, this situation is not as yet extreme and is considered to have its favorable aspects. Steel products are moving in an amount approximately equal to current production and all essential needs of consumers are reported as being met. Soft coal production is slightly higher, finally having risen above the 10,000,000 tons a week level the slowing down in the grain movement has had a supporting effect on prices. Some well posted quarters consider the transportation situation scarcely more difficult than is usually the case when a heavy seasonal movement of freight is under way.

As for the steel industry, output is continuing to run slightly above 70 per cent of capacity and mills appear to have accumulations of orders on their books sufficient for a number of months ahead. The scarcity market created by the strikes show signs of disappearing. Lumber and pig iron prices are lower and the premium offered for prompt delivery of steel products have about disappeared. Railroad buying is being maintained and rail mills are already working on the orders booked prior to October 1 at an increase in price.

In respect to farm products, the movement of the week were some what irregular. Cotton pushed ahead to new high records, the December futures selling at a premium of 14 cents above the previous close. The strength of this commodity is being maintained by the fact that the trade buying has been strong due both to the hearing up of the Near Eastern situation and to better activity in the dry goods trade.

Grain on the whole lost part of its recent advance through profit taking. Cotton has advanced in part of foreign markets, but has been checked by an advance in the price of the raw cotton.

RENTS IN WASHINGTON REMAIN HIGH DESPITE MANY VACANT HOUSES

(By The Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—For many months, even before the late war, Washingtonians were told the reason for the skyrocketing rents for houses and apartments was the shortage of housing facilities. Where demand exceeds the supply, realtors said, the price of the supply will amount.

Washington rents are still high and the shortage is still held up as the reason.

But "There were 3,481 vacant houses, apartments and flats in Washington in July of this year," according to a recent survey of engineers of the local telephone company. "Of this total, 2,279 were houses, 708 were apartments and 495 were classified as flats."

The survey was made to estimate the amount of the company's business in coming years. It resulted in the declaration by the engineers that since 1917 a decreasing number of families are living in houses, as well as a decreasing number residing in apartments. Because of high prices, evidently, the survey showed that more persons have had to resort to "flats," rooming houses and light housekeeping establishments.

More potatoes and apples are moving on consigned orders than for several years. Dealers who lost money during the last two seasons are slow in making advances.

the inexhaustible energy, the constant labors, the intimate knowledge of human nature as well as of governmental affairs, the immediate and just appraisal of difficult situations, the courteous consideration and kindly disposition, and especially the untiring zeal for the public interest which characterized our chief, Warren G. Harding, the President of the United States.

"It would be difficult to imagine a worse tangle in our foreign relations than that with which this Administration was required to deal. It took of itself two years and nearly four months after the Armistice, but we were yet at war. The peace negotiations had evoked a bitter and undying controversy. It had been patent, I think, to those who had endeavored to estimate the public judgment that the American people would never consent to assume any obligation, moral or legal, which would fetter their appropriate freedom of action in unknown contingencies.

"While we have been justly solicitous of American rights and interests in every part of the world, we have been eager to do all within our power, in accordance with the genius of our institutions, to promote peaceful settlements and international co-operation. We favor and always have favored, an international court of justice for the determination according to judicial standards of justifiable international disputes.

"I believe that suitable arrangements can be made for the participation by this government in the election of judges of the International Court which has been set up, so that this government may give its formal support to that court as an independent tribunal of international justice. To support an institution you must have proper provision for a voice in its constitution, and I think that provision to this end can be made.

"The fundamental and pressing problems of Europe are political problems involving national hopes and fears, deep-seated convictions as to national safety and opportunity; national ambitions, in some cases long cherished, in others recently awakened; established policies which have become part of the national life. "Then, and of outstanding significance in the interest of peace, there was negotiated the Four-Power Treaty, which, without committing the United States to any alliance, provided ed that the contracting powers should respect their rights in relation to their insular possessions and dominions in the region of the Pacific Ocean and that they would confer together with respect to any controversy that might arise involving such rights. The result is that we have established good will and co-operation in the Far East in the place of mutual distrust.

"This conference was not a partisan enterprise, and I do not speak of it in a partisan way. It is but just, however, to give to the administration credit for the conference, which could not have been called, and for the results, which could not have been achieved without its leadership.

"There is some tendency, on the part of our critics, to comment cynically upon the fact that the conference treaties have not yet been ratified by all the powers and hence are not yet in effect. This comment is really a tribute, for it only serves to emphasize the importance of the conference and its achievements and how much would be lost if the treaties failed. Well, I think they need not go into mourning as yet. The treaties, in my opinion, are not going to fail.

"Great Britain and Japan have ratified all the treaties; thus the three great naval powers which were in competition with the United States, Great Britain and Japan—have done all within their power to make the action of the conference effective. That is of the utmost significance; that precludes all thought of the ultimate failure of the work of the conference. I have no reason to believe that the other signatories, France and Italy, will fail to ratify.

KITTENS ALL "CAME BACK"

Man Tried to Lose Them, but Kind-hearted Woman Spoiled His Carefully Laid Plans.

A Jackson county farmer recently decided that his household possessed four nonessential cats. His children, however, did not agree with him; at least they would not consent to any form of riddance. Finally a compromise was reached whereby the superfluous cats were to be banished—taken far from home and left to look out for themselves. The children, however, insisted upon a conditional banishment. They demanded that the cats be placed where they could find a new home without too discouraging a search.

So the next day the farmer had one of his cats taken to Kansas City, the excess cat, seven weeks old and sold into the hands of a "blower." About five miles from home he observed a favorable-looking house. The most favorable feature at the moment was an apparently temporary absence of human occupants. The farmer preferred to make an unostentatious presentation. The string which bound the mouth of the sack was quickly untied. Just before the slowly moving car came opposite the house the farmer filled the sack and jumping over the farther side of the sack, pointed the contents of the sack out upon the highway. Then he "stepped on the gas."

Returning home that afternoon the farmer was seized with a feeling of misgiving as he viewed the scene of parting. He saw a woman signal him to stop and he could think of no good excuse for ignoring the signal. Simulating extreme perplexity he stopped the car. The woman approached and deposited a sack in the tonneau.

"You lost your cats this morning, mister. I happened to be looking out the window when they tumbled from your car. They were a little wild but we gathered them all up four of 'em."

"Thank you," mumbled the owner of the cats as he drove on. He wondered how many grinning faces were watching him from the house.—Kansas City Star.

LOCOMOTIVE NOW DIGS DITCH

Work Done is in Marked Contrast to the Old Days of Pick-and-Shovel Brigade.

The new method of digging a ditch alongside a railroad track is to hitch a kind of scoop to the front of a locomotive. By this means twenty miles of ditch can be plowed in one day at a cost of about $0.25 per mile.

The ditch can be thus dug three feet deep and fourteen feet from the center line of the track, the amount of dirt removed being eighteen cubic feet per linear foot of ditch. The operation of the digging machine is controlled from the deck of the locomotive by air valves.

Contrasted with the old pick-and-shovel method, the locomotive ditch digger has achieved what, years ago, was regarded as a physical impossibility so far as speed is concerned.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

DAUGHTER OF GREENE CANNON KILLED AT TAMPA IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Miss Dayse Cannon, thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Greene F. Cannon, of No. 238 Plant avenue, receiving injuries in an automobile accident at 12:30 o'clock yesterday from which she died at the Gordon Keller hospital three hours later. In the accident, due to the machine driven by Mrs. Cannon striking a telephone pole at the intersection of Grand Central avenue and South Boulevard, flying glass from the broken windshield of the car severed an artery in Miss Cannon's neck, and an operation in which more than a pint of blood was transfused from Mr. Cannon's arm into his daughter's veins was unavailing.

Mrs. Cannon received no injuries in the crash.—Tampa Tribune.

ASSOCIATION AGAINST PROHIBITION ADDS TO INDORSED CANDIDATES

(By The Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The national association opposed to prohibition announced in a statement last night by G. O. Hinkley, secretary, that it would support 240 candidates for the senate and house, who stood for a modification of the Volstead Act to permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer.

In a preliminary statement ten days ago the association listed 202 candidates. An additional 47 are running in eight states, and the statement said the association would immediately get behind them as it already has done for others who have been endorsed.

In addition to the names of the 240 candidates made public, Mr. Hinkley said a list of forty others had been compiled by the association and that while it will support them the names were being withheld from publicity for reasons of political expediency. "The names of twenty old war candidates in Pennsylvania," he added, "had been withheld because of local political conditions."

FARMERS NOT IN FORM AND LOSE TO CONGREGATIONALS

AMANN AND CHAPMAN DIVIDE THE HIGH SCORE HONORS BUT TEAM MATES FALL DOWN

The Congregational Club stepped out and romped on the Farmers in the opening game of the Bowling League on the Parish House alleys, last night, but if the Farmers could have had a little more practice, gotten themselves in a little better form, the results might have been different.

The Congregationals with the same line up as last year, were in shape and bowled their usual good game, while the Farmers, some of them bowled for the first time in years, were not equal to the occasion and lost by 175 pins.

Erud Amann and Ralph Chapman, both bowling for the Farmers, were out for high score honors. Ralph Chapman bowling one 200 game, Claude Couch, the Farmers' manager, bowled an exceptionally good game, considering the fact that it was his first attempt in years. But the balance of the Farmers' outfit showed that they were not in form and the good scores made by Amann, Chapman and Couch, were torn down by the balance of the team's inability to get right. However, it is practice they need and with a little time in which to work out, that Farmer outfit will be hard to catch.

Jewett rolled high score for the Congregationals with Pennington a close second. All the Congregational team rolled good scores and piled up a total of 2,172 pins for the three games.

The Rotary Club meets the Chase & Co. team on the alleys tomorrow night, and another lively battle is looked for as both teams are out to win.

The following is exactly how it happened last night:

may do something yet—that is if they can get another Coach Wilkenson.

But with all the finances and good coaching a team will never produce unless they have something in themselves. Sanford boys have got it.

Are you going down to Orlando, Friday. Sanford plays the Tigers on their home grounds then.

The ladies golf tournament is creating some interest and this afternoon should settle for some time to come, who's who amongst the fair sex on the local links.

MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT OF PUBLIC PAYS

Sanford High School Athletics Show Results of Coach and Training

The appeal made by the local football association for support after they had been striving for ten years for victory was an appeal that should never have had to be made as our local men should have been behind this movement during all these years and now that the civic organizations are behind them the results show for themselves. There has never been a year one-tenth as successful as the year we are now going through and the success is all caused by the support given our athletic association.

You can imagine the feelings of a little handful of football men all alone out on the field, unheralded and unsung, because the rest of the town did not turn out. Men fight better when they are cheered on and that is why the army has regimental bands. The public is the regimental band for a football team and the public is a stimulant to further endeavors and finally result in victory.

This lack of support is a thing of the past in Sanford and the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations as well as the ardent fans are now all behind Sanford athletics and things are bound to go well from now on. Sanford is not the only city that realized the mistake and amongst the other cities in the same boat is Orlando. Orlando, like Sanford, has good material, but it must be developed, and the fans are appealed to for the necessary help. We feel sure Orlando will get it and when they do, the Celery City lads will find it a difficult proposition when the Tigers play in Sanford again. The Morning Sentinel has the following to say about it:

"This afternoon at 3 o'clock the Tigers of Orlando high school will meet the fast eleven from the Osceola county high school of Kissimmee at Exposition Park. Coach Boone has been hard at work shaping a battling squadron out of the material he has on hand, and it is hoped that this game will result in a victory for the Tigers.

"Despite their defeat at the hands of the Celery Feeds last Friday, the team is not downhearted. It is up to the school and to the citizens of Orlando to back up the team in their struggle for victory. Imagine the feelings of a little handful of football men all alone out on the field, unheralded and unsung, because the rest of the school did not turn out.

"The athletic committee of the Parent-Teachers Association, which is composed of large of D. P. Sias, chairman, E. J. Milehan, Mrs. John Cook and W. R. Clark, met yesterday at the old high school building in conjunction with representatives from every civic organization in the city to discuss and formulate plans for the raising of $2,500 to further athletics in the high school and to pay off the standing deficit of the high school athletic association. $1,000 of this amount will be used in equipping the new high school gymnasium. Association membership tickets will be sold for five dollars each, which will admit the holder to all athletic contests held under the auspices of the athletic association. These contests include the remaining games of the football season and all the basketball, base ball games and track events staged at home.

"Those present representing the various civic organizations authoritatively pledged the support of the organization which they represented and asked that an appeal be made to the people of Orlando to co-operate with the committee and buy an associate membership ticket. The committee from the local organizations was composed of J. Y. Cheney, American Legion; Karl Lehman, Orange County Chamber of Commerce; Harry S. Wilson, Rotary Club; Chas. S. Rybolt, Lions Club; A. R. Douglas, Kiwanis Club; Miss Dorothy Slemmons, Rosalind Club; Miss Dorothy Johnson, Sorosis, and Miss E. R. Davis from the Orlando Business and Professional Women's Club."
