Sanford's new police chief, Wallace N. LaPeters, 44, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was formally sworn in to his $19,000 post Monday afternoon in a ceremony conducted by City Clerk Henry Tamm before the city commission.

He has been on the job, however, since Saturday replacing long-time chief, Ben Butler, recently named public safety administrator and an assistant to City Manager W.E. Knowles.

Butler, who had been with the police department for 27 years, working his way through the ranks from patrolman to chief, will assume the duties of his new office when city staff moves into the new city hall in mid-December Knowles said.

In the interim, the manager said, Butler is on extended vacation, taking time off that he has accumulated over the years. Knowles said that city policy provides employes with 10 years seniority or more three weeks vacation annually and that employes who are on call 24-hours a day are given an additional week's vacation each year. He said that Butler has never taken the additional week in the years he has worked for the city.

Epilepsy Drug Used In Europe Being Tested At Gainesville

GAÎNESVILLE (AP) - A doctor testing an epilepsy drug widely used in Europe says it should be carefully evaluated before being licensed in this country. Dr. B. J. Wilder, director of epilepsy clinics at the University of Florida and Veterans Administration hospitals here, is testing the drug sodium valproate on 25 volunteers. He reported that half of them have shown good to excellent response, including a South Florida teen-age girl who had been confined to a wheelchair with 50 to 60 seizures a day. Since receiving the drug, Wilder said, her seizures diminished to the point she is able to attend school and lead a near normal life.

Girl, 12, Charged In Murder

BARTOW (AP - A 12-year-old girl has been charged with first degree murder in the death of a 69-year-old Plant City man who was shot twice in the back, police said.

The girl, identified by police as Joynette J. Jones, is being held without bond in the Polk Juvenile Detention Center, authorities said Monday. She has been in the detention center for the past two weeks after being charged with shoplifting, they said.

Levi Robinson was found shot to death near Lakeland on Sept. 23 after leaving a restaurant where he was working. Polk Sheriff Louie Mims said robbery was the apparent motive.

New Project, Old 'Worries'

A subsidiary of Westinghouse Electric Corp., has proposed a dramatic new idea for production of nuclear power on offshore sites situated nearly three miles from the coast. The company, at Jacksonville, is ready to build a standardized unit designed to be operated on large barges anchored offshore.

The company has already sold two $600 million generating plants to the Public Service Electric and Gas Company of New Jersey. While the nuclear power plant is being built in Jacksonville, the utility company can be constructing a break-water and the distribution facility. This will cut down the time necessary to get a unit intoproduction.

The barges will be huge: 160,000 square feet and will sit 400 feet in the water. The design for this type installation, being the same for all units, should lead to great savings over plants which must be adjusted to various sites.

This certainly appears to be a highly sensible idea which should receive a good reception from most everyone. Where else can plant sites be found so far from any residents?

But news of the proposal brought immediate reaction from the "stop-everything" brotherhood of pseudo-environmentalist and other busy-bodies.

Without knowing anything of the exact design specifications for the barges, these worthies expressed fear that they would not hold up for the life of the plant. Fearful warnings of radio-activity in the sea water were made along with all the usual danger-to-residents arguments being put forth as appeals to emotion.

In spite of evidence to the contrary, the same old worries about marine life damage were trotted out. We heard these in connection with offshore oil and gas well drilling. Now it is found that the fishing has improved around these structures. In fact fishermen find the going better near them than farther, out in the open sea.

The breakwaters and the barges should provide more of a haven for marine life than the well-digging rigs. In fact, utility spokesmen say that the sea water warmed by necessary cooling functions of the plant, coupled with the breakwaters and barges, will make the area's fishing grounds the best on the East Coast.

Opponents also express concern that the plants will hurt the tourist industry. Power company officials answer. "What kind of tourism can they expect in New Jersey if the lights go out?"

Short of a program of genocide, or mass sterilization, the people of the Eastern Seaboard must have more electric energy. They are not going to get if they continue to allow a relatively few dissidents to stop every move that the electric industry makes to provide that energy.

Diabolical

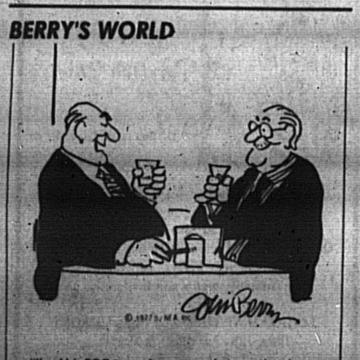

Surely one of the most fiendish forms of torture ever inrented is the telephone "hold" button.

For any person who must make a number of telephone calls each day the "hold" button becomes a part of nearly every call. A voice answers the phone, then, "Can you hold a moment, please?," and then, silence, long silence. Hours can be spent holding a dead phone, staring at the wall and tapping fingers or

The caller asks to talk to a certain person. The gum-chewer. who answers inevitably will way, "I'll see if he is in," or "Just a moment please, can you hold?" Then follows the long silence. Often the caller is forgotten and must hang up and then call back, to be placed once more on "hold."

The torture is particularly galling for example to any news reporter who is making a number of phone calls to check in-formation, especially on a deadline, often with only minutes to spare. Finally to locate the source, to find the phone number, and then when the phone is answered to hear those terrible words: "Can you hold a minute, please?" followed by a deafening silence and an unknown wait surely must be the

The inventor of the "hold" button should be tracked down, then locked in a phone booth with a phone strapped to his ear and forced to remain there, forever on "hold."

Central Florida last week observed the seventh anniversary of the coming of Disney World, the results of which continue to be felt in the area's population, economy, job market and residential construction outlook.

Mickey Mouse's arrival in Central Florida had another effect not generally recognized in Seminole County: Mickey was indirectly responsible for the entry into elective politics of Dick Williams, the chairman of the Seminole County Commission. "When the Disney people first announced in 1968

they were coming here, the announcement stimulated some of the wildest speculative proposals for Seminole County that you ever saw," Williams mused recently. "They even had plans for a big concrete slab in Seminole to be a heliport so eople could park their cars in Seminole and be helicoptered down to Disney World."

Williams and his neighbors on Markham Woods Road (formerly Longwood-Markham Road) originally became active in the county's governmental affairs to fight the "wild" schemes. "We decided the only way to stop those proposals was to become involved. We even tried to incorporate part of western Seminole as a separate city, but the plan never succeeded," said Williams. By that time, Williams had switched parties and became a Republican. "The first thing we did was start appearing before the county's planning and zoning commission to protest the Disney-related development proposals, but we soon found that wasn't enough,"

Williams recalled. Williams also became active in the affairs of civic associations, groups of homeowners who look out for the interests of neighborhood residents and try to protect their financial investment in their

"The next step was to start running candidates for office who agreed with us. I never had any intention of running, but events changed that." Williams and his friends searched for a candidate to run against Democrat Al Davis, who was elected to a two-year county commission term in 1970, filling out the term of Robert Tope, who had resigned to take a job with the state Republican

On the last day candidates could file for the primary election for Davis' seat, Williams was sweating out the 4 p.m. deadline at the county clerk's office. "I was waiting to see if any of the people I'd talked to would come in. When none did, I

Councilman Torn Radloff in the primary and defeated Davis in the November election. And that's the little-known story of how Mickey Mouse unintentionally drew Dick Williams into a chain of events leading to the Seminole County

Canal Vote: Senate Looks To Save Face

WASHINGTON (NEA) - A lot could change over the next few months, but right now it looks as though President Carter has only two chances of steering his Panama Canal treaties through the Senate intact: slim and none.

This is not a prediction that the Senate, come January or February, will refuse to consent to ratification of the twin pacts hammered out by Carter's representatives and the Paramanians after 13 years of on-and-off negotiations. But it seems increasingly probable that a swing bloc of uncommitted senators will demand some modifications of the new treaties before

But what the administration is desperately anxious to discourage are any changes by the Senate that could require U.S. and Panamanian negotiators to return to the bargaining table. There are essentially four ways of modifying the treaties which have already been signed by the U.S. and Panama - two which are ac-

The Foreign Relations Committee and-or the Senate could vote for the treaties as drafted but adopt a separate report detailing the U.S. interpretation of crucial but ambiguous sections of the pacts, such as those guaranteeing the canal's permanent neutrality. Carter's national security adviser, Zbigniew Brzezinski, says that this excursion "symbolizes our willingness to cooperate with systems that are different than ours socially, economically."

Phils Open Vs. LA Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The Philadelphia Phillies will go with 23 game winner Steve Carlton and the Los Angeles Dodgers with 20 game victor Tommy John, but the big news at the National League playoffs today was the Phillies' loss of star center fielder Garry Maddox. The Phillies' prospects of winning their first NL pennant since 1950 took a sharp drop when team physician Dr. Philip Marone said Maddox probably would miss the first two in the best-of-five game series with the Dodgers. Maddox, who hit .293 and finished the regular season with a 14-game hitting streak, sustained a contusion of the left kneecap, which caused fluid to build up on a joint, limiting the outfielder's ability to walk, let alone run. Maddox, referred to in Philadelphia as the Phillies' secretary of defense, might not even be able to play Friday when the series shifts to Philadelphia for game No.

If Maddox doesn't play - and Phillies Manager Danny Ozark insisted on the use of the word "if" - Bake McBride will move from right to center field, and either Jerry Martin or Jay Johnstone play right. Martin or Johnstone probably can pick up Maddox' lost offense, but like the injured star. And if the Maddox problem wasn't enough, the Phillies had another gripe after Monday's workout. They protested to league officials the conditon of the dirt in front of home plate, contending it was raked for John's style of pitching. Phillies' officials and the umpires assigned to the series will meet at the Stadium at 2 p.m. PDT to inspect the playing surface. John's slow stuff, which induces batters to hit into the dirt' is the Phillies' concern. The Dodgers, who won the West Division by 10 games over runnerup Cincinnati, were 61/2-5 favorites over the East champion Phillies, winner by five games over Pitt-

The matchup of Carlton against John featured two of the leading candidates for the Cy Young Award as the league's best pitcher.

John, whose operation scarred left elbow looks like a map of the Los Angeles freeway system, posted a 20-7 record with a 2.78 ERA. He started 31 games, completed 11. Against the Phillies he was 1-1 with a 3.00 ERA.

Yankees Short In Numbers

NEW YORK (AP) - The New York Yankees go into the American League playoffs against Kansas City Wednesday, technically one player short of the 25-man limit. But actually, the East Division champions have far fewer usuable men than the 24 their roster lists.

Tuesday, Oct. 4, 1977-1B

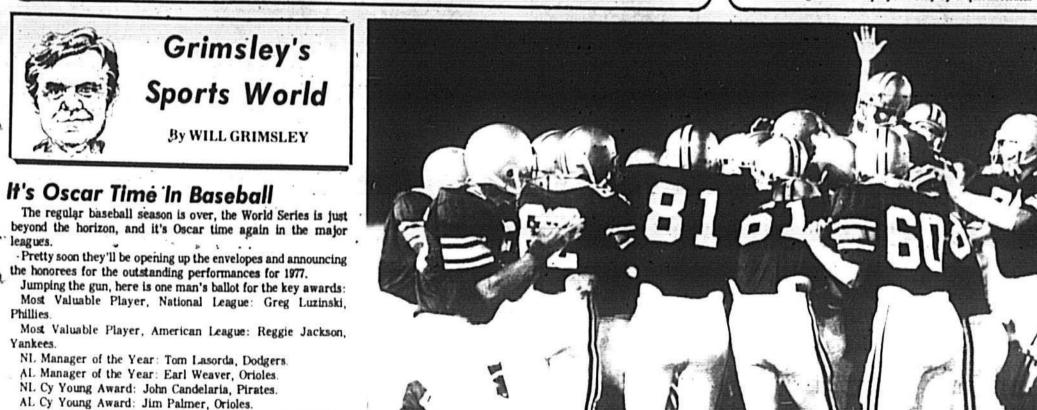

Included among the Yankees eligibles are pitchers Ken Holtzman, Catfish Hunter and Ken Clay, none of whom are likely to see any meaningful action. Holtzman has pitched only once since Aug. 13 and appeared in only 18 games all season. His lone appearance in the last seven weeks was in a mop-up role during a 19-3 loss to Toronto on Sept. 10. That same game marked the last appearance of Hunter, who is suffering from what the Yankees call a hernia and is questionable at best after going more than three weeks without work. Clay, a rookie, has been used in just 20 games, almost exclusively in mopup situations to save more important pitchers for later

Remove those three and the shrinking Yankee roster dips to 21. But that includes infielder Mickey Klutts, who played all year at Syracuse of the International League and is eligible for the playoffs only by a quirk. Klutts was Nettles injured a knee and the rookie happened to be with the parent club on Aug. 31, the date post-season rosters are frozen. His New York appearances this season comprise a total of just five games.

With the Yankees already short a man because of the mid-September sale of Carlos May to California, the club petitioned AL President Lee MacPhail for permission to fill the roster vacancy. MacPhail rejected the request and Yankees owner George Steinbrenner and President Gabe Paul charged that he was pressured into refusing to allow New York to add a 25th player.

Nobody is enjoying the Yankee roster wrangle more than Royals'-Manager Whitey Herzog, who made his last trip to New York under duress. That was in late August when KC had to make a one-day stopover at Yankee Stadium to make up a game that was postponed in late July. The Royals argued that the game should never have been postponed originally and was called by the Yankees because New York was experiencing pitching problems and needed a day off.

Outstanding Individual Player, Both Leagues: Rod Carew, Misery Loves Company, Nov. 4. (That figure does not include the two dozen or so players who were minor leaguers for all or much of the 1977 season.) after trading away the game's best pitcher, Tom Seaver, and home run hitter Dave Kingman. Biggest Falacy: The belief that pennants can be bought. Prime examples: The California Angels and San Diego Padres, who invested a fortune in the free agent draft, not to mention Texas, Atlanta, Cleveland and Milwaukee. Disregard the Yankees. They Worst Collapse: New York Mets, finishing last with 98 losses

The prize of "Most Valuable Player" has a connotation deeper than cold statistics. The question: Most valuable to whom? Based on pure value to the team and not individual statistics, one can't ignore Jackson, who provided most of the momentum in the Yankees' strong streak after the All-Star break. In the period when the Yankees won 40 of 50 games, Jackson hit 13 homers, accounted for 49 of his 110 RBIs and led the team in game-winning

The Phillies conceivably could not have made it without the powerful, 230-pound Luzinski, with his 39 homers and 130 RBIs. It's true the Reds' George Foster - 52 homers, 149 RBIs and .320 average - and Minnesota's Rod Carew - 239 hits and .388 batting average - had more impressive personal credentials but how effective was their motivation? The forum is now open for debate.

Crooms High will host Oviedo's freshman team Wednesday night at Seminole Stadium. Crooms will be trying for its initial win of '77, after dropping its opener last week to Osceola of Kissimmee, 32-

"It was our first game, and Kissimmee's third. They were more polished, didn't make as many mistakes," said Barry Wenhold, Crooms head coach "We fumbled 12 times in the first quarter, mostly on center-quarterback exchanges. We should be over the itters this game and get down to playing ball."

It will be an unusual - winning!! - experience for one of the two teams Wednesday, as Oviedo is 0-3 on the season; losing to Kissimmee (36-6), Bishop Moore (13-7), and Lake Brantley (42-6). Oviedo's starting lineup on offense will be:

Center - Robert McKinney, guards - Terry Boag and Frank Joyce, tackles - Charles Turner and Keith Eubanks, ends - Joey Carley and Larry Leroy, quarterback - Robert Finch, wingback - Greg Duke and running backs Zayles Alvarado and Craig Francis. Seven of the Lions start two ways. The four defense-only starters are - Ales Finch at end, Chris Ferlita at corner, Doug Jordan at safety, and linebacker Richard Locklin.

Seminole Reacts To Sirica

'I'm Sorry'-Was It Reason Enough?

Seminole County citizens disagree 3 to 1 with Judge John J. Sirica's compassionate act of reducing prison sentences of Watergate coverup figures John H. Mitchell, John D. Ehrlichman and H.R. Haldeman from 21/2-8 years to 1-4

In a Washington hearing Tuesday before Judge Sirica's ruling, lawyers for the three former U.S. officials in the Nixon administration said Haldeman is repentant, Ehrlichman has "demonstrated continuing contrition," and Mitchell is "truly sorry." Herald staff writers, in today's telephone survey, called

The ruling was the last of many in the five years since Judge Sirica's involvement began in Watergate and its many tangled offshoots. No more Watergate criminal cases are pending and the a reduced workload. Ehrlichman becomes eligible for federal parole on Oct. 28 if federal judge Gerhard A. Gesell, who sentenced him in the Ellsberg psychiatrist break-in case, reduces that sentence also, as is expected.

If not, Ehrlichman's parole eligibility begins next June along with that of Haldeman and Mitchell. Their release from prison will not be automatic. When their eligibility date nears, each man will be interviewed by parole officers whose recommendation must then be approved by the U.S. Parole Commission.
