Getting a Taste

When Armour T. Phillips was fined $100, with the option of a 100-day jail term, on a Los Angeles speeding charge, he elected to pay $75 and serve 30 days behind bars. "Just for a taste of the sort of thing my wife is subjected to," Phillips is the husband of Clara Clara Phillips, noted "hammer murderess" now in San Quentin (Calif.) prison. The picture shows Phillips "doing fine."

NEW LIST OF TAX RATES IS TURNED OVER TO SOLONS

Treasury Recommendations Differ Materially From Those Presented Monday; Schedule Is Made Public

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(P)—A new schedule of normal tax rates, differing materially from that presented Monday and contemplating the repeal of the earned income provision of the existing law, was transmitted Tuesday to the house ways and means committee by the treasury.

The committee now is informed that the rates on which the treasury's estimate of $140,000,000 cut in the income tax revenue was based are one per cent on the first $3,000; three per cent on the next $4,000; and five per cent on all over $7,000. This compares with the rates given Monday of one per cent on the first $1,000, three per cent between $1,000 and $8,000, and five per cent on all over $8,000.

How Rates Are Set Out
The surtax rates proposed would begin at one per cent on the sum between $13,000 and $15,000 and go gradually to twenty per cent on all over the $150,000. The surtax rates are set out in the schedule as follows:

One per cent $13,000 to $15,000.
Two per cent $15,000 to $17,000.
Three per cent $17,000 to $19,000.
Four per cent $19,000 to $21,000.
Five per cent $21,000 to $23,000.
Six per cent $23,000 to $25,000.
Seven per cent $25,000 to $30,000.
Eight per cent $30,000 to $35,000.
Nine per cent $35,000 to $40,000.
Ten per cent $40,000 to $45,000.
Eleven per cent $45,000 to $50,000.

BOWLEY VOICES OPPOSITION TO DEFENSE BODY

Fort Bragg Commander Is Opposed to The Creation of Department With Heads For Army, Navy, Air Boards

Full Consideration of Proposed Plans Urged

Declares Backbone of Army Is Infantry and All Other Branches Are Auxiliaries

GREENVILLE, N. C., Oct. 21.—(P)—Definite opposition to the creation of a department of national defense with under secretaries for the army, navy and air branches was voiced here last night by Brigadier General A. J. Bowley, commander of Fort Bragg. Speaking before the American Legion general Bowley, who yesterday was named on the court martial board to try Colonel William Mitchell for his charges against the air administration of the army and navy department, declared that the national defense act passed by congress in 1920 was the "first real military policy the country has ever had," and "now before we have been able to develop the efficiency of this national defense act, should we put it aside for the visionary proposition of a national navy and air service?"

The officer answered his own question with the statement that the changing of our whole system of national defense should not be attempted without careful and mature consideration.

"A single air service! Do we want this? The backbone of every army is the infantry. The last war demonstrated that the next war in importance is the field artillery. But it matters not how important the field artillery may become, it will always be an auxiliary to the infantry. And so it is with all other branches of the service. The modern army must have its infantry, its field artillery, its cavalry, its engineers, its signal corps, its medical corps, its quartermaster departments, ordnance department and its air service. The army commander must have absolute control over all these branches, so that he can develop team work and win victories.

"And so in time of peace, the army must have its air service, and develop it according to its needs. The navy likewise needs its air service and it must be permitted to train its air forces so as to get the best results in the time of war.

LOCAL REALTY MARKET SHOWS MORE ACTIVITY

Rapid Movement of Last Week Continues During Monday and Tuesday When Record Sales Totals Again Reported

Deals During Two Day Period Show $328,000

Trade Brisk In All Branches of Field, Comments of Dealers Here Demonstrates

Continuation of the record volume of business in the realty market in and around Sanford, is shown in figures released today by the publicly department of the Chamber of Commerce, which announces that real estate transactions completed here during the first half of the week amount to $328,000.

These deals are reported by various brokerage agencies in this city, it is explained, and represents the growing interest in real possibilities, according to officials of the trade body.

Many of the sales announced today were completed last week, it is said, but were not confirmed until Monday or Tuesday. It is thought that the present increase in trade activity will develop into a regular basis upon which to estimate the extent of local business.

Wimbish and Shoemaker are credited with negotiating the sale of several close-in residential tracts, totaling $48,000, among which are 14 lots in the Woodruff subdivision in the southern section of the city, formerly owned by Sadie Brunell P. Brunell and Smith Tregue for $7,000. Lots one, two and three at Seventh Street and Orange Avenue, were purchased by N. H. Garner for $14,000.

Calvin Teague sold 14 lots in the southern part of Sanford to L. Lumbard for a consideration approximating $7,500. S. S. Baumel acquired 18 lots on Park, Oak and Georgia Avenues from Calvin Teague for $20,000, on which dwellings are to be constructed within the next month.

Residential properties on Crystal Lake have also been in demand, 22 lots in this section having been sold by the Lake Mary Development Co., according to an announcement made today. The consideration was reported at $12,000.

R. C. Tidwell, has arranged for the purchase of a tract of frontage of 1,200 feet on Lake Monroe for H. D. Evans, of Boston, for a consideration of $38,000. The property was formerly owned by H. C. Perry of Sanford.

The Davy-Winston Organization has arranged the sale of a portion of the Bellair subdivision, owned by F. H. Scroggs consisting of 27 lots on Mellenville Avenue to Dr. L. C. Green of Jamestown, N. Y., who proposes to construct several dwellings within the next 60 days. The purchase price was approximately $21,000. Ten lots in the Park View subdivision, owned by the same organization, were sold by the same organization to a group of local promoters for a sum amounting to $5,000.

Mitchell Summoned To Court Martial At Capital, October 28

Highest Ranking Court Martial In History of Country to Try Former Air Officer

Violation Of War Article 96, Charge

Conviction Will Mean Dismissal From The Army, Act Provides

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—What is believed to be the highest ranking court martial ever assembled for trial of any army officer in the grade of colonel Tuesday was ordered by President Coolidge to convene in Washington, October 28.

On that date, or as soon after as possible, Colonel William Mitchell, storm center of the air service controversy, will be brought before the court on charges specifying violation of the ninety-sixth article of war.

Under the provisions of this article, conviction could, in the discretion of the court, be made punishable by dismissal from the army. Presidential approval, however, would be required before such a verdict could be put into effect.

Davis Chooses Court. Secretary Dwight F. Davis is credited with having picked the members of the court himself. All of them are senior in point of service and rank to Colonel Mitchell, and all hold medals of honor, or distinguished service crosses or medals. The court was composed by special effort of officers free from duties connected with the war department and General Staff administration.

Mr. Davis' action yesterday came at the culmination of several years of disagreement between Colonel Mitchell and war department officials and general staff officers over policies connected with the administration of the air service. It was precipitated, however, by the recent statement in which the colonel, then on duty with the Eighth Corps area headquarters at San Antonio, Texas, sensationally charged that the conduct of the war and navy departments in certain air service functions had "almost been treasonable and criminally negligent."

The Mitchell charges were published on the heels of the Shenandoah disaster and before the finding of the PN-9 No. 1, naval plane, then lost in the Pacific Ocean, after its failure to negotiate flight from San Francisco to Honolulu.

Probable Charge. While the war department withheld the specifications of the charge from publication tonight it might be read first before the court in accordance with custom, it is more than probable that Colonel Mitchell will be judged on evidence presented to show that he has conducted himself "to the prejudice of good order and military discipline."

With the charge against him confined to that specification, it is unlikely that he will be allowed to introduce in his own defense any discussion involving the Shenandoah disaster or the PN-9 No. 1, failure.

Article Violated. The ninety-sixth article for violation of which Colonel Mitchell will be tried reads: "Though not mentioned in these articles, all disorders and neglects to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, all conduct of a nature to bring discredit upon the military service, and all crimes or offenses not capital, of which persons subject to military law may be guilty, shall be taken cognizance of by a general or special or summary courtmartial, according to the nature and degree of the offense, and punished at the discretion of such a court.

Fewer Disasters In 1925 But More Toll Of Lives, Says Red Cross Report

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—American disasters this year while fewer than record number of last year exacted a greater life and property toll, the American Red Cross announced today in its annual report for the year ending June 30.

The tornado that cut a swath through the middle west last spring alone caused 796 deaths and maimed 2,239, the report said, while the disaster casualties of the entire year preceding numbered only 758 dead and not quite 2,000 injured.

In preparation for whatever emergencies may be in store for the nation during the next year, it was announced, the ninth annual roll call of the Red Cross will be held November 11-26.

The report showed that the Red Cross rendered service in 90 disasters during the year including fires, which accounted for 29 of the calamities, floods, which were second with 16; tornadoes which caused 11; 7 typhoons; 5 hurricanes and storms; and one railroad accident. There were three each of earthquakes, famines and mine disasters; one typhoid epidemic, 2 volcanic eruptions, 2 "entombments," and a series of mine explosions, forest fires, and similar visitations.

The mid-western tornado presented the largest problem of restoration and rehabilitation in "peace-time history" the report said. This operation is now virtually completed. In the course of its work in this region, the Red Cross assisted approximately 33,435 people.

Within 12 hours of its occurrence the Red Cross had its relief organization completed in the Santa Barbara earthquake region, and had launched measures of permanent rehabilitation for the sufferers from four disasters, the largest number of people ever in its care in this country.

Included in the two "entombments" was the tragedy of Floyd Collins at Cave City, Ky. Here Red Cross chapters set up canteens and other assistance on the spot, while the organization bore the cost of materials utilized in the relief work.

"Supplementing these services are those incident to a number of recent disasters in the United States," continued the report.

"Outstanding among these was the wreck of the Shenandoah, Chesapeake at Cambridge and Caldwell, Ohio, and field representatives in the vicinities of both the wreck and the ships home port at Lakehurst, went to work, assisting and comforting those bereaved in the tragedy, and helping at the scene of the loss.

"Other catastrophes in which the Red Cross served include the fire at Shreveport, La., which wiped out nine blocks; the Tennessee forest fire; the tornado at Anniston, Ala., the flood along the Rio Grande River, which affected three towns south of El Paso, and a hail-storm which struck two North Carolina counties and impoverished 100 families."

Turning to disasters abroad, the report said:

"Heading the list was the Chinese flood, which cost 13,115 lives, and necessitated aid from the Red Cross to 100,000 people. A series of floods and fires in Porto Rico resulted in 14 deaths, and Red Cross assistance to 2,239; an earthquake at Erzeroum, Turkey, killed 114; a typhoon in the Philippines which killed 75 people also necessitated our care of 5,000 others; another at Agana, capital of Guam killed only one, but left 186 others in need.

"In the Virgin Islands, the Red Cross rendered assistance following a hurricane which killed 30 people, injured 100, destroyed 1,000 buildings, and in which 1,500 people were assisted by the organization. A flood in Peru, a fire at Cananea, Mexico and Colombia, completed the foreign operations."

Building And Loan Association Formed By Howey Citizens

The Howey home building program has gotten well under way, more than $50,000 worth of construction having been started within the past few days, and the activities of the association will add to this program greatly in the opinion of the officials of the town as well as the organization.

Women Want Madrid As Site For Meeting Of League of Nations

GENEVA, Oct. 20.—(AP)—If the next session of the Council of the League of Nations is held at Madrid, the selection may have been made by the wives of the Council members.

The Spanish Ambassador was asked by a friend whether he thought the Spanish invitation to meet in Madrid would be accepted.

"What do you think?" rejoined the Ambassador.

"Well, all I know is that Mrs. Hymans (the wife of the Belgian member of the Council) says she wants to go to Madrid," said the friend.

"Then it is all set," said the Ambassador with a laugh. "If the wives of the Council members have decided on Madrid then we shall certainly go there."

Christianity Firmly Established in China

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Christianity is no longer a religion of "foreign" may be placed, despite the attacks upon it made by some advocates of the "new nationalism," said Ralph A. Ward of Peking, for 16 years a Methodist Episcopal missionary in China, in a report to the Board of Foreign Missions here. Dr. Ward pointed out that many of the leading men of the republic are well known as Christians, and that 2,300,000 Chinese, many of them prominent in public and private life, are enrolled as members of Christian churches.

Dean Outlines Rule Of Government To State School Girls

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The whole purpose of government is to obtain four results, namely, prosperity, health, happiness and development and growth of personality and character, declared Dr. Mina Kerr, new Dean of Women at the Florida State College for Women, in the first of the series of weekly talks, delivered to the student body.

The student's prosperity does not consist of money, but of scholarship and wisdom, Dr. Kerr said, adding that if the school government does not secure these things, to her it is a failure.

The new Dean of Women exhorted her audience to think, and to think constructively, about government on the campus.

"There have been three well defined periods of college government," the speaker asserted. "At first the entire control was in the hands of the faculty. This may have secured health and scholarship, but there was no happiness or development and growth. The second period came as a complete reversion of the first, that is, the whole government was given over to students, who were immature and totally unfit to cope with the complex problems of government alone. The third period, the one in which most colleges are now entering, is a joint and cooperative government of faculty and students. This seems to be the real solution to the problem of governing the colleges of today."

Dr. Kerr in her weekly talks is endeavoring to bring home to each girl own responsibility as one of a student body of 1,246.

Miami, Florida

HAVE you heard it—the call of the only American Tropics? It is sounding in every American city. It has penetrated to the most remote village and the loneliest farm. For the United States has just discovered Florida!

During the last twenty years travelers have brought home glowing tales of this tropical wonderland—a sea of jade and indigo, glorious life-giving sunshine; tall palms that dot the country like exclamation points, and magnificent coconut palms that seem to beckon and invite you from the frozen North.

And now all America has come to realize that the wonderful thing about Miami is this—everything that has been said about it for twenty years is true!

And in Coral Gables there is added to this powerful lure of the tropics two other factors that are making this beautiful city celebrated throughout the country—security and profit investment.

So many homes have already been built, so many institutions are now being erected, so many powerful influences are at work that Coral Gables now offers astonishing opportunities to any investor, large or small. For the solid, substantial building that is now taking place in Coral Gables is the best guarantee of its future. And the man with shrewdness and courage will act now—before the magnificent developments and the city plans mature.

Coral Gables is within forty hours of three-fourths of the population of the United States. It is within forty hours of seven-eighths of the nation's wealth. It is only four days' comfortable travel by automobile out of snow and ice into everlasting June. Is it any wonder that substantial, progressive people are coming to Coral Gables from every point of the compass, eager to share in Miami's prosperity? Glad to help in the task of building a city? Ready to work for the reward that is certain to come, and sure of security for their families, their homes and their investments? Be sure and send for Rex Beach's book about this wonderful city. Sign and mail the coupon—today.

Your Opportunity

Coral Gables property has been steadily rising in value. Some of it has shown a 100 per cent increase every year. All authorities agree that the greatest advance is yet to come.

Roger Babson says that Florida offers the greatest opportunity for money-making of all the states in the Union. Yet residential, industrial and apartment house plots in Coral Gables may now be secured by a moderate initial payment. These plots are offered in a wide range of prices, which include all improvements such as streets, street lighting, electricity and water. Twenty-five per cent is required in cash, the balance will be distributed in convenient payments over a period of three years.

Airplane Crash Was Unavoidable, Says Army Investigator

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE, N. J., Oct. 21.—(AP)—The airplane crash here in which three United States army aviators were killed, was unavoidable in the opinion of Lieut. M. O. Elliott, operation officer at Mitchell Field, who was here Tuesday investigating the accident.

The victims were Capt. Robert A. Kinloch, Charleston, S. C.; Lieutenant Abbott C. Martin, Reading, Mass., the pilot, and Staff Sergeant Joseph Coulston, Norristown, Pa.

They were flying from Mitchell Field, N. Y., to Langley Field, Va., in a Martin bombing plane and carried a number of suitcases, children's toys, a bicycle and chairs and clothing for fellow officers who had been transferred to Langley Field for the winter.

The big plane was first seen to be in trouble while over Wildwood. It then turned inland and when over Benny's Landing wavered and made a nose dive into the woods. The men were dead when members of the coast guard who saw the plane fall, reached the scene.

"One of the motors," said Lieutenant Elliott, "apparently developed trouble shortly after the plane left Ocean City. Over Cape May Court House it is believed to have gone dead and hampered by a stiff wind, the plane went out of control and was tossed like a leaf into the tree tops. I found the two 800-horsepower Liberty motors practically buried in soft ground.

"The men never had a chance to escape. There is no field where a plane of this size could land within a radius of 20 miles. The fact that there was no explosion indicates that Lieutenant Martin realized that the crash was inevitable through off the switches cutting the ignition."

Lieutenant Elliott ordered the bodies of the men removed to an undertaking establishment here pending instructions from Washington.

RAIL HEADS SAY SERVICE NORMAL DESPITE STRIKE

Official Statement Claims Two-Thirds of Strikers Are Replaced at Once; Local Conditions Improve

Officials of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, approached today for further details concerning the strike of railway telegraphers now in effect, stated that as far as the efficient operation of train service is concerned, the walk out is a complete failure.

The official statement of T. R. Albright, vice president and general manager of the carrier, made last night was announced today, and is given in full, as follows:

"A review of the strike situation of the Atlantic Coast Line telegraphers at 10 o'clock Tuesday night indicated a most satisfactory condition, which is hourly improving. Of the 1,151 positions vacated at the time the strike was called, 837 are now filled and forces are available to fill the remaining positions as rapidly as the transfers can be made.

"Loyalty of the Atlantic Coast Line employees to the service has again been forcibly demonstrated throughout the day by the complete failure of the strikers to accomplish any defection among the ranks of the men who remained at their posts. The men who returned to work subsequently to the walk-out are now regarded as new employees.

"Operation of trains, both passenger and freight, is normal." At the office of Superintendent T. L. Dumas today, it was said that while the company has been taking back striking employees who wished to return to their desks, orders countermanding this condition are expected hourly, and that the strike will shortly assume the nature of a lockout.

It is declared that all important posts on the divisions leading both ways from this city have been filled, and that only a few of the minor agencies have been forced to remain closed.

Robinson's Circus In Sanford Soon

Colorful posters, depicting the many wonders of the John Robinson Circus have been posted on the billboards of the city and countryside, while lithographs, highly colored, hang from the store windows, all proclaiming the appearance here soon of "America's Oldest and Best Circus."

This is the 102nd tour of the John Robinson Circus and the long trains, loaded to the guards with elephants, wild and savage animals; horses, ponies, lions, show equipment, and as well as the sleepers, that are the summer homes of the hundreds of performers and workmen will roll into town on the morning of Friday, Oct. 23.

John Robinson's Circus comes this year with its rings, arenas, and hippodrome track filled with the best in the world of the big tops. More trained wild animal numbers are offered by John Robinson's Circus than any other circus on tour. Five hundred people, horses and animals participate in the gorgeous and unique spectacle, "Peter Pan in Animal Land," which opens the performances at 2 p. m. and also at 8 p. m.

There are over 1,000 people in the big show. The equine department numbers over five hundred, while scores of wild and domestic animals are featured in the show proper and also in the menagerie. John Robinson's tent will seat 10,000 people, and the city of canvas will actually cover eleven acres.

For the convenience of the women and children, a downtown ticket sale will be conducted on Circus Day at Roumillat and Anderson's store. General admission and reserved tickets will be sold at exactly the same price as on the show grounds.

Highland City Prepares For Record Convention During First Week of Month; Will Be Important Session, Said

LAKELAND, Oct. 21.—Coming at the opening of what is believed to be the biggest and most important "season" in the history of Florida, the Ninth Annual Convention of the Florida Association of Real Estate Boards will be held at Lakeland, November 3, 4, and 5.

President Walter W. Reese, of the Association, points out the responsibility of the Realtors in meeting the problems of city building, community development and the commercial and industrial expansion of the State. "No other time and no other Convention in the State this year is so important as this approaching get-together of the real estate men who are members of the local boards, the State and National Association," says the state President. "Under all is the land! It is the basis for our constructive and stable development and the real estate man is the contact between this fundamental wealth and the public. We must, therefore, meet our problems intelligently squarely. I know of no better place in which to get a clearer conception of what is going on State-wide than at Lakeland the first of next month."

Carl C. McClure, first vice-president of the Association says that this convention will be the biggest "short-course" for the real estate man in Florida this year. Mr. McClure is a member of the advisory council of the American Real Estate Institute, and he emphasizes the convention as an educational factor that will yield big returns.

Florida Gets More Publicity

Articles on Florida, too numerous to mention, are appearing almost daily in the great newspapers and magazines of the country and it has come to the point that rarely is it possible to pick up any publication anywhere without finding some writer telling about the "great Florida boom."

Some of the special articles which are being published are in the nature of attacks on the state and are written in the hope of putting an end to the ever increasing exodus of people from northern and western points who are heading for the sunshine state.

The Literary Digest in this week's issue devotes valuable space to discussing a new national migration that is menaced by land-sharks, and as a result of an extensive advertising campaign concerning the feature in two hundred and twenty-four newspapers all over the country, the article will be read by millions.

"All our gold rushes, all our oil booms, and all our free-land stampedes dwindle by comparison with the torrent of migration pouring into Florida from all parts of the country. If Ponce de Leon's Fountain of Youth had just been found to be a fact and not a fiction, it could scarcely have attracted a greater multitude," is the way the special article in this week's Digest begins.

Devoting three pages to a comprehensive consensus of editorial opinion regarding what is perhaps the most talked of national subject at the present time, the so-called Florida boom, the magazine interestingly repeats comment that has been made by numerous writers. This comment, culled from every class of publication in the country, is given in accordance with the Digest's strict non-partisan policy and runs the expressional gamut, from the sonorous croaking of Harold Keats to the enthusiastic optimism of Willis Powell.

Floridians are doubtless appreciative of the publicity that is being so freely given and will in all probability snap up all the available copies that are to be purchased this week. And as a result of the article we may expect another hundred thousand residents to be added to the population of Florida. Let the good work proceed.

The New War Secretary

The appointment by President Coolidge of Dwight F. Davis as Secretary of War succeeding John W. Weeks, who resigned last week because of continued ill health, has been hailed as one of the wisest selections made for a cabinet office since the Republican administration came into power.

In the opinion of those who know him, Secretary Davis comes nearer measuring up to the word "soldier" than any Secretary of War since the time of William Tecumseh Sherman who for a brief period in 1869 held the War portfolio. The fact that the new cabinet official has been active in the service over which he now has charge, makes him the better qualified to dispose of the duties which he has assumed.

Secretary Davis received his baptism of fire in the World War and the records that perpetuate gallant deeds indicate that he was not wanting at the moment of crisis in service. As a reward for his gallantry, Mr. Davis was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, than which there is but one greater honor an American soldier can win, namely, the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Another thing that particularly qualifies Mr. Davis for his present post is that for the past three years he has served as Assistant Secretary of War and as such has become thoroughly familiar with the work. Since Mr. Weeks became inactive several months ago, Mr. Davis has been guiding the destinies of the department and his efforts have elicited the praise of higher officials, among them the President.

Prior to his appointment as Assistant Secretary of War, succeeding J. Mayhew Wainwright, who resigned to become a candidate for Congress in New York, Mr. Davis was a member of the War Finance Commission for two years during the days of '20 and '21 when strenuous efforts were being made to aid the farmers and live stock men of the country. In 1920 Secretary Davis was an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination of Senator from Missouri, being defeated by the late Selden P. Spencer. His public service record previous to that time was confined to municipal duties in the city of St. Louis, where, as Park Commissioner, he anchored himself in the esteem of the citizens of that city. He also held several other city offices, which he filled with credit.

So, in choosing Mr. Davis as Secretary of War, President Coolidge has done well. The party leaders are pleased with the appointment because Mr. Davis is a regular Republican. The doughboys have hailed the selection with evident satisfaction because Mr. Davis is one of them. The country, as a whole, is pleased because the new secretary is a trained executive and because he is thoroughly familiar with his new duties, having "risen from the ranks" to the head of the department.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

A survivor of Mosby's Cavalry told me this one, years ago as illustrative of the German's love of regularity and orderly routine in all the affairs of life.

It would seem that a Bavarian immigrant joined a Union regiment in the third year of the war and was sent to Virginia. One night he imbued too heavily of strong drink and fell asleep in a corn crib. When he awakened he discovered that during the night a negro camp follower had stolen his uniform, leaving behind a ragged civilian outfit. The German clothed himself in these tatters and set out to find his command.

Presently another and an even more disagreeable circumstance than the theft of his wardrobe impressed itself upon him. By certain signs he was made aware that the Federal forces had withdrawn from their old positions and the enemy had advanced so that he man stretched forth his hand. "My man," said John D. Rockefeller, for it was indeed he, "you look like an honest fellow; here is a dime for being honest."

Whereupon Stanislaus took the proffered dime, flipped it elegantly into a manhole, and replied: "There's your dime. Pick it up and buy yourself a stick o' candy with it. I am a sovereign, free and independent American citizen, I am, and I ain't taking charity off you or anybody else."

We hope some day to see this item in the paper, but we have not seen it yet.

BRIGHT NEW DIMES

NEW YORK WORLD

"Patrolman Harry S. Gubfield," runs news item, "was last night the proudest member of the Plainfield, N. J., Police Department, for earlier in the day John D. Rockefeller gave him seven bright new dimes."

Which calls to mind once more a news item we hope some day to see in the paper. It would run about as follows: As Stanislaus Parushnik, a 100-per-cent American, laboring man, was standing on a corner in Yonkers the other day a big limousine pulled up at the curb in front of him and an elderly gen-

ANCIENT HISTORY is written by guess work and inference, because the ancients had no newspapers, Caesar, "the demagogue" of his day, wrote on the walls of Rome about doings in the Senate that common people might read. But he wasn't much of an editor.

IT IS different now, and the historian of 2025 will examine old newspapers files, and reports in the main wonderfully accurate, and write history, not imagination. When 200 years hence he comes to Tuesday morning, Oct. 20, he will get a fairly accurate picture of the civilization of our day, thus:

A YOUNG girl standing before a photograph of the young man she loved, an ordinary young man, shot herself in the breast. When she came to she asked, "Doctor, did I do a good job?"

SHE HAD big blue eyes and a white face, so the doctor sympathized with her. The police arrested her for having a pistol without permission. She may live. She is Danish.

MRS. ROSE Pastor Stoke, very radical young person—Communist, in fact—divorced by her husband, wails thus: "The prevailing social standard degrades lovers," and "a woman must go out of her home to get a divorce from a man that she does not love."

"HA, LOOK at that now," The conservative and virtuous will say, "see what comes of being radical and a communist." But run over the telephone list in Newport, and you find married ladies changing their names almost as rapidly as the lighting bug changes its illumination. At Newport they are not "red communists." It's a combination of inside urge and outside attraction, not radicalism, that does the mischief.

ON THE steamship Deutschland yesterday, came Von Hoogstrand, who directs the Philharmonic orchestra, and in the hold of the ship 20,000 canaries, the biggest Christmas trade.

IF YOU doubt that "acquired characteristics are inherited," consider the canaries, all able to sing well. A few centuries hence, in about 1000 centuries perhaps, human beings will be born with musical and other abilities, as rarely as the little canary inside the egg contains the inherited power to sing, in its tiny brain.

HUMAN BEINGS with brains more complicated than brains of birds, ants or bees, will be born with a thousand kinds of well developed knowledge in one brain. That will be the beginning of a civilization, and a race worth while.

EUROPEANS HAVING decided to stop cutting each other's throats, temporarily at least, are having a love feast, Frenchmen and Germans shake hands and smile. And responsible correspondents startle you, a little by announcing that Europe is determining "to force the United States in the league, without any reservations."

That programme may go through and then again it may not.

EUROPE DOES not love Yankee land and gets more bitter as we are loaned something "on account" of it. It is even suggested that it might pay the nation of Europe to unite and fight the United States, rather than pay ten billions of dollars with interest. However, those nations have recently learned that a big war started to save ten or fifteen billions wouldn't be profitable. The last one cost two hundred and fifty billions.

THE SOCIETY for the prevention of crime will offer a prize for "the best scheme for abating crime in New York City."

A COURAGEOUS high-spirited man was always drunk when in New York. On various expeditions to the Arctic Circle he kept sober. He was arrested when he turned criminals or drunkards who are bored or poor. Give them excitement or money, or both, and they will mend their ways, but how are you going to do that?

AT LEAST fifty thousand men that used to work for $5 a day are now making $200 a day in the bootleg traffic. What will you offer in place of that, good society for the prevention of crime?

AT HARRISBURG, Pa., Michael Weiss and John Girsch are under sentence of death. They solemnly say "justice should be the same in all cases." They demand that their lives be spared because two rich boys in Chicago, Lash and Leopold, were not executed for a crime inconceivable vile and cruel.

FUTURE HISTORIANS, reading today's newspapers, will observe that in a glorious republic money counts in politics, murder, sagacity, everything.

FROM NOW until next Summer assisted by eight thousand citizens lending themselves to study and experiment, the health laboratory at the University of Amsterdam, Holland, will investigate and seek to find a "prevention or cure for common colds." Man's worst enemies are microbes, invisible to his eyes. And they creatures that produce the various ailments of "cold" shorten the average life of the human race and create a loss in the diminished days of labor and efficiency amounting to millions a year.

BALDWIN AND MACDONALD

LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL

Political wisecracks of England disagree as to the effects of the recent convention of the Unionist party at Brighton on the Baldwin Government. Those inclined to the Conservative side declare that Baldwin has come out of the fire stronger than ever.

Against such criticisms the British Prime Minister offered his straightforward but non-aggressive defense. Its sobriety and honesty made a tremendous impression, say the supporters of the Premier. It failed to reassure the people, say others.

However, there is no disagreement about another political convention in England that preceded that of the Conservatives. At Liverpool the Laborites gathered. Just who their leader was a matter of doubt. Ramsay MacDonald was said to be losing his hold on the party because of his conservatism.

But it was a conservative gathering, and Ramsay MacDonald led the fight to keep it so. He was the chief spokesman against radicalism, and by his arguments the convention voted overwhelmingly to exclude from the party ranks the Communist element. Ramsay MacDonald, it is agreed, has come back. If there is an upset of the present Ministry, it will be Macdonald and his followers who must be combatted. Macdonald's star is waxing, whatever may be the future for Stanley Baldwin.

In the meantime Lloyd George is searching out for some fresh issues that the Liberals may espouse. So far they consist in a back-to-the-farm movement, a new agrarianism, which both Labor and Tory can support, and prohibition, which is perhaps of doubtful good as a vote-getter. If there is a general election the Liberals, as in the last election, will trail behind the pro-conservative Conservatives and the Laborites, and, as the indications now point, between the two leaders, Baldwin and Macdonald.

THE IMPERISHABLE COLONEL

ASHVILLE CITIZEN

Virginia is sadly deluded when she hopes that her discontinuance of the custom of appointing thirty colonels on her Governor's staff will appreciably deplete the South's supply of such titles. We Southerners have a habit of creating colonels by common consent. Richmond, Asheville, Galveston and all the smiling countryside between are infested with "colonels" who never cocked a trigger or topped a shoulder with a gilded epaulette.

Let a prominent citizen spring a silver gutter on his neighbors, and overnight there are men in the street who give him a good morning thunderout with the "colonel" appellation. Let a peace-loving old gentleman swing a straight shoulder or develop a complexity in his back, and the boys drowsing over their school books envision him leaping from a staggering steed and riding into the midst of carnage and butchery nicely balanced in shining patent-leather boots on the points of his soldiers' bayonets.

Nor does it stop there. Your nervous and chivalric Southern duce to another, solicitous to seem cognizant of all the achievements recorded to the strangers credit. If the newcomer has a slight limp in his left leg, or a martial twist to his mustache, or a fiery gleam in his steely eye, your gentleman instinctively invests him with a bloody history full of halos and heroics, and, thus inspired, greets him with a flattering "How do you do, Colonel? Well, Colonel, as I was just saying," and so on.

Once that "Colonel" has, with all its embellished indications, charmed the circumambient, it is echoed by everybody in town from the hotel clerk to the mayor. Lo, in the twinkling of an eye another colonel bestrides the scene and, without sword, saber or sign of military service, becomes a candidate for a tombstone nicely decorated with a device prominently figuring crossed and jeweled-billed swords. Exterminate the "Colonel"? He is imperishable, even though we never war again.

PREJUDICE

TAMPA TRIBUNE

To ask a man or woman to be unprejudiced, unbiased and open-minded is to ask next to the impossible. We all have our likes and dislikes, our opinions and beliefs, our desires and purposes. This human trait is what keeps the world in a constant state of debate and conflict. It is the fermentation which keeps society ever in effervescence. Without it there would be no human progress.

BIG TEN PREPARE WITH SECTIONAL GAMES LOOMING

Illinois and Ohio State Show Form as Season Advances; Games With Michigan and Iowa This Week to Prove

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Illinois and Ohio State loom as potential trouble makers in their respective games with Michigan and Iowa in this week's Western Conference sessions.

The Illini defeated by Iowa last week, has a chance to scramble the Big Ten standings by downing the Wolverines, so far undefeated and with goal untouched. To do this Coach Zuppke has "Red" Grange in top form and is bolstering up a better interference for him.

Michigan, undamaged in its win over Wisconsin, has a full bag of tricks but Yost is ready for the game.

Iowa realizes that its title chances, given a big boost by the Illinois victory, must meet an acid test in the Buckeyes, although undefeated, have a tie with Chicago to mar their record.

Ohio survived its intersectional clash with Columbia in fine shape and the line is augmented by the return of Klein, center, whose knee was twisted.

No time is wasted by Wisconsin in post mortems of the Michigan game. Instead, the efforts is toward strengthening weak spots for the Purdue game.

Notre Dame's bitter experience in the Army game is paying dividends in intensive training for Minnesota.

Intersectional games occupy attention at Chicago and Northwestern. The Maroons are polishing their vaunted defensive to foil the great variety of attack boasted by Pennsylvania, leading Eastern team last year.

Single Men Barred From Municipal Jobs

BRADFORD, Eng., Oct. 21.—(AP)—The city officers have enacted a law prohibiting an unmarried man from holding a municipal job when there is a married man looking for it.

The Bradford councillors could not understand why there should be any unmarried men, inasmuch as reports showed that there are almost twice as many bachelors in the city as bachelors.

The city medical officer replied that the precarious condition of the wood trade, which is the chief industry of the city, is responsible for many of the local young men shunning marriage.

Prohibition Cause For Success of U. S.

LEEDS, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Lord Mayor Gibson believes prohibition "is a wonderfully good thing" for the United States. The Lord Mayor has visited the United States every year for a long period and he told club members in an address after his last trip that in his opinion prohibition has been one of the main causes of "the wonderful success of the American people in the last few years."

Francis E. Cox, chairman of the club, said he believed from what he had seen that prohibition had "cleansed the life of the working class in America."

SPORT BRIEFS

(By the Associated Press)
An unkind fate which trailed Frankie Frisch, of the New York Giants, with injuries, has pursued him to the semi-pro diamond. He had a chance to be a hero in Hackensack, N. J., yesterday when he came to bat in the ninth inning with two on base. He struck out.

Honus Wagner, famous shortstop of the Pittsburgh Pirates in by-gone days, fared much better. Playing first base for his All-Stars in New York, he garnered two singles and scored a run. His team won, 3-2.

Georges Carpentier, most popular European fighter ever to visit these shores, cannot stay away. According to California boxing promoters, the French war hero has signed articles to fight Jimmy Delaney at Los Angeles in January.

Women golfers are planning to organize their own national association. Mary K. Browne, wizard of the courts and links is one of the sponsors of the idea and the U. S. G. A. is willing.

Ebbe Ruth, deep in the Maine woods stalking deer, has not yet been heard from regarding the new home run clouting record of Tony Lazere in the Pacific Coast League. Tony surpassed Ruth's mark by a single circuit blow when he made his sixtieth home run yesterday.

Huggins Will Winter In Florida as Realtor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, arrived here Tuesday about noon. He will be here for the winter and has already connected with a local realty company as a member of the organization. Huggins, in an interview, did not mention his reconstruction program for the 1926 baseball season, but intimated that there may be something to announce in the near future.

Florida is a source of many building materials besides lumber. Good building and construction sand is found in parts of the state and gravel is also found but in not so large a quantities.

GRID SQUAD IN EAST LOSE MEN THROUGH INJURY

Practically All of Major Crews Report Casualties Incurred in Games Last Saturday, Harvard Bad Off

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Recovering from last Saturday's upset eastern football eleven are now training for this week's appetizing menu of gridiron delicacies. An inventory shows many injuries. Yale, smarting under a 13-13 defeat by Pennsylvania, is preparing for the formal dedication of the new stadium at Brown. Harvard is pointing its seige guns on a green foe from Dartmouth, while Columbia will attempt to regain lost prestige with Williams as an opponent.

Yale will enter the fray against Brown minus Gottle, who was injured in the Pennsylvania game. Outside of this half back all of the bulldog's power will be thrust into the lists against the bear.

In Cambridge, the injuries ran high last week against Holy Cross. Saltonstall, the giant end; Miller the fleet halfback; Cheek, Condy, and Daley are all on the injured list. Saltonstall is the only likely one to be absent when the Green starts its attack on the Crimson. The Army has a few muscle bruises from beating Notre Dame, but on the whole the squad is in good shape for battle with St. Louis University this week.

Princeton reports all hands intact for the Colgate clash. In the haunts of Lehigh and La Fayette in Pennsylvania, the wave of injury struck hard. Captain Gebhard, of LaFayette team, is probably out for the season, as the result of lacerations in his left knee being torn in the Colgate game. Cottrane, a guard, also is in a hospital with an injured leg while Quarterback Marsh has a dislocated bone in one foot. Charlie Prior, field general of Lehigh, is in a critical condition with a possible fracture of a cervical vertebrae suffered in running back a placement kick against West Virginia Wesleyan. Virtually every team in the east reported some injuries.

Cow Returns Home Prefers Old Stall

COLD ASH, England, Oct. 21.—(AP)—As dogs are known to have returned to their master after long spells of enforced absence, so did "Bossy," one of the best cows on any farm in this section, return to her old stall after being sold to a far-away neighbor.

Her owner drove "Bossy" to market and disposed of her to a farmer 12 miles away. The buyer took her home. But when milking time came next morning "Bossy" was back home in Cold Ash, a little tired from her long walk, but seemingly happy, in a bovine sort of way.

White Collar Jor Not Favored By Students

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A majority of night students at the Carnegie Institute of Technology have shown a preference for "blue denim" work. Only a comparatively few are entered for occupations where clean linen and well combed hair are necessities. Building and machinery trades have attracted many of the students.
