Trailways Can Stay At 10th And French

Commission Reverses Advisory Group; OKs Depot

The Sanford City Commission has given its blessing to a Trailways bus depot locating on 10th Street at French Avenue. The commission granted a conditional use to permit the operation but limited the approval to one year.

A review by the board is slated at the end of one year before a renewal of the use will be considered.

City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles said the bus depot has been operating for the past six months at the site. It came to the city's attention when someone asked the operator to see his city license and the matter was reported to the city.

John Root was cooperative, Knowles said, and applied for the zoning approval and site plan approval and attended a hearing before the city's Planning and Zoning Commission. When the advisory group denied his request for a conditional use, he appealed to the City Commission.

The Trailways company will now be using the city parkway on 10th to load and unload passengers and shipments with the approval of the commission.

Root, owner of the property, said he will pave the parking lot at the property within 30 days.

W. L. Swindle of the Trailways line backed up Root's statements that five buses daily arrive and depart from the depot beginning at 11:05 a.m. and concluding at 12:40 a.m. Root said 10 to 15 passengers or shipments of freight originate from Sanford daily. He added that 10th Street will not be blocked in the process.

Swindle said Trailways has a standard agency contract with Root and that contract can be canceled with 30 days notice.

The city's Planning and Zoning Commission expressed concern at a public hearing last week about granting the conditional use.

City Commissioner David Farr, also concerned about the conditional use and the possible trouble the city would have withdrawing it if problems developed, agreed after City Attorney Bill Colbert said the city could set a time limit on the permit for a review period.

Root also said a covered concrete platform with a bench will be provided at the site for waiting passengers.

In other business, Knowles reported that Metro Systems have signed an agreement with the city promising maintenance of its advertising benches located in the city and have posted a $1,000 cash bond guaranteeing that maintenance.

The commission voted unanimously to transfer $25,000 from its public projects fund to the Marshall Park project fund to begin construction at the 10-acre site.

The total cost of the improvement at the park between Marshall and Georgia avenues, south of 25th Street, is $48,742, including the $25,000 from the city, a $12,500 grant and $11,422 in city labor and use of city equipment.

The park will serve the surrounding residential areas.

The commission accepted the low bids of ABC Fire Equipment for two self-contained Breath Air Packs at $1,410; two 1½ inch automatic fire nozzles from Safety Equipment Co. at $554; 600 feet of 1½ inch fire hose from Safety Equipment Co. at $738 and 600 feet of 2½ inch fire hose at $856 from the same firm.

Murder Suspect Sought

Juan Nova, the 21-year-old migrant who was found dead outside a Sanford home Sunday morning, was killed by a single stab wound to the heart, Seminole County Medical Examiner G. V. Garay said today.

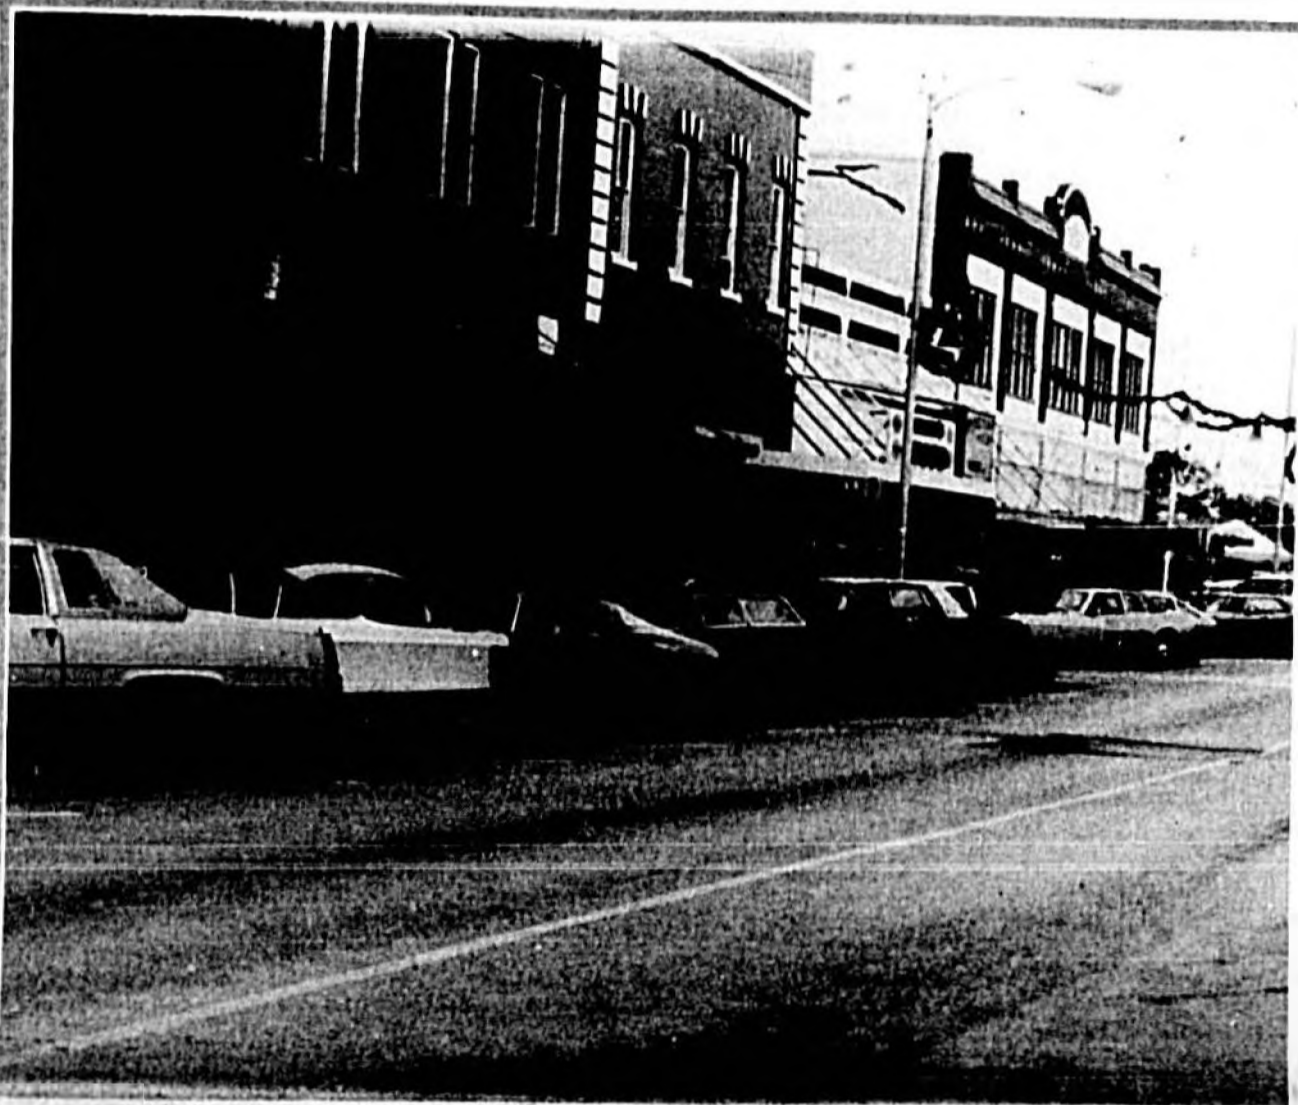

Garay said Nova's body had other "superficial stab wounds" but the one stab wound was the fatal blow.

Garay added that Nova died at about 3 a.m. Sunday.

His body was found at 9:47 a.m. Sunday by A. L. James of 611 S. Sanford Ave. James found the body in the front yard of Dora and Elijah Richardson of 601 S. Sanford Ave.

Sanford Police Sgt. Herb Shea said today no arrests have been made in the case. Shea said the police department has several good leads in the case.

Nova was apparently stabbed at another location and was either dropped or walked to where he was discovered Sunday morning. —MICHAEL BEHA

Stores in downtown Sanford, in the Sanford Plaza and other area shopping centers and malls experienced heavy traffic Monday with after-Christmas shoppers. Store managers reported many shoppers returning Christmas gifts, as well as shoppers taking advantage of after-Christmas sales.

Area stores have not experienced any after Christmas letdown, but business was brisk Sunday and Monday as shoppers rushed out to return gifts and spend money they received as gifts.

Also helping to lure customers were special sales at most stores.

Dennis Waldrop, manager of Luria's in the Market Square in Casselberry, said his store did a brisk business Sunday and Monday with shoppers coming in to exchange gifts and to shop. He said there was a slight increase in business during the Christmas season over last year.

Spokesman for the Altamonte Mall said although the parking lot was not packed as it was before Christmas, the mall was busy Sunday and Monday with shoppers returning items and taking advantage of sales after Christmas.

Altamonte Mall stores experienced very good business during the pre-Christmas shopping season, the spokesman for the mall said.

J.C. Penney's Sanford Plaza store extended its Sunday hours for the day after Christmas, according to Manager Edward Hemann. The hours were extended to 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday and the store was "very busy," he said. "We're back to normal busy," he said.

"There are a lot of returns, but shoppers are also taking advantage of specials," Hemann said.

The Penney's store will be open on New Year's Day and a special sale is planned, he added.

Overall, Christmas business was up over last year's, he said.

For Rezoning

Homeowners Win; Trailer Firm Loses Bid

A county prospect to lease its old motor vehicle inspection station off East 25th Street in Sanford fell by the wayside Monday night when the Sanford City Commission unanimously denied a request to rezone the property.

Heeding the wishes of adjacent homeowners who were protesting the proposed zoning change from restricted commercial to general commercial, the commission denied the zoning change which would have permitted the fabrication of trailers at the site.

Acting County Administrator Jim Easton said today that the county had agreed to lease the facility to Kenneth Ireland of K & D Trailer Manufacturing for a two-year period at $500 per month, subject to the zoning being approved.

Easton said today that it is apparent if the county is to successfully lease the property it will have to do so without the necessity of changing the zoning.

The request was turned down after City Commissioner Eddie Keith said he found it difficult to vote for a zoning change with the homeowners in the vicinity objecting so strenuously.

William Oylar of 2513 Poinsetta said he was afraid a rezoning might adversely affect his property's value. He also noted that a similar operation by Ireland at another location was not well kept and had piles of trash and debris.

Chuck Weist of 2534 Poinsetta said 18 homeowners on Poinsetta, an adjacent street, were unanimously opposed to the request.

John Fontaine of 2521 Poinsetta said the rezoning would open the area to businesses in the future and would increase traffic in the area in the neighborhood where many young families with children live.

He said the increased traffic would prove hazardous for the children.

Ireland said he has been a Sanford resident for the past eight years and has operated K & D Trailer Manufacturing on Celery Avenue for the past two years.

He said if the neighbors were concerned about traffic and the appearance of the station, he would place a fence on the back of the property and would restrict his operations to 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., five days weekly and 8 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

Ireland defended his current business, saying he has a clean and neat operation.

blaming the vehicles, trash and debris around the property on his landlord. He said he has a month to month lease there currently.

He said he would keep traffic off Grandview Avenue and 25th Place to allay the neighbors' fears.

John Dwyer, the county's land development manager, said the county was requesting a change of zoning only for the property on which the old motor vehicle inspection station is located.

He said the traffic to K & D would not be more detrimental or more intense than it was at the inspection station.

Robert L. Lawman said he has owned the property next to the facility for the past 18 years and listened to "honking and bumping" all that time from the inspection station.

He said he would not oppose the change in zoning as long as a privacy fence was installed. Lawman added, however, that if the zoning change were approved, he would soon request a similar rezoning.

Keith said, "It is the hardest thing to rezone when homeowners oppose it."

When the final vote was taken and the denial was unanimous, the homeowners broke into applause.

'82 Tax Forms In Mail

Now that the crush of Christmas is over, Seminole County taxpayers can look forward to coal in their stockings.

Some Seminole residents experienced the arrival of the substance already Monday.

But it's no joke.

The Internal Revenue Service is delivering its annual gifts to taxpayers.

The Postal Service Monday began to distribute the first of 91 million 1982 tax forms to be delivered by mail.

April 15 is the deadline for filing.

The Sanford Post Office mailed out approximately 1,000 forms Monday and will daily mail out the tax forms as they come in from the IRS. At least 5,000 taxpayers will receive 1982 forms through the Sanford Post Office this week.

Despite earlier efforts to disconnect the IRS telephone, a tax collector is waiting on a toll-free line to answer questions.

The IRS formally announced Monday its toll-free, tax-inquiry service would be maintained at the same level next year as this, when it drew 36 million calls.

The toll-free number was printed on the 1981 tax forms but this year's printing was while the department was under orders from the White House to phase down the service and the number was not included.

Now, IRS Commissioner Roscoe Egger speculates the advertising necessary to publicize the number in lieu of listing it in tax forms will generate even more questions than the 36 million answered in 1982, making the program bigger rather than smaller.

Treasury Secretary Donald Regan told United Press International in a recent interview the question of phasing down the toll-free service as well as other taxpayer services "was very much in contention here."

Originally, Regan said, the Treasury Department wanted "to see whether or not there wasn't enough information in booklets and the like," so that taxpayers could do without the telephone service.

"We found contrary to our thinking most taxpayers want to call up and ask," he said. He did not refer to the solid support on Capitol Hill for the service.

A total of 94.8 million tax forms were printed, 3.8 million of them for distribution other than by mail.

For Sanford City Government

5 Institutions To Handle Funds

Five Sanford banks or financial institutions have been designated depositories for city funds and given the privilege of bidding on time deposit accounts.

The institutions approved by the Sanford City Commission Monday night were: Atlantic National Bank of Florida, Sanford office; Southeast Bank N.A.; Flagship Bank of Seminole and First Federal Savings and Loan of Mid-Florida.

Last week, the commission approved ComBank Sanford. In other business, the commission at the request of County Tax Collector G. Troy Ray Jr. voted to refund $4,305.90 in personal property taxes paid to the city by Auto Train for the 1978 year in July 1980.

In a letter to the city Ray said a bankruptcy court ordered the refund of both county and city taxes and the city's share is the $4,000.

City Clerk Henry Tamm reported that a special reorganizational meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on Jan. 4 at the city commission chamber, city hall, 300 N. Park Ave., to officially seat Commissioners David Farr and Milton Smith for a second four-year term in office. The two were re-elected Dec. 7.

The commissioners agreed that City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles would work out an agreement with Tom McDonald, developer of an industrial park in the Cornwall Road-Silver Lake area, to purchase from McDonald a 100-foot square site for an overhead water storage tank to provide gravity water pressure in the area.

Knowles reported that McDonald is willing to work out an amicable arrangement. He added he will report back to the

Drew Lewis Resigning

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Transportation Secretary Drew Lewis is resigning from President Reagan's Cabinet, White House sources said today.

Although the sources did not say where Lewis would be going or when his resignation would be effective, the transportation secretary has been weighing an offer to become chief executive officer of Warner Amex, a cable television and communications company.

Lewis becomes the second member of the original Reagan Cabinet to resign. Alexander Haig left office as secretary of state earlier this year and Lewis' departure was likely to be viewed by some as the beginning of a long-rumored shakeup within the administration expected after the Nov. 2 mid-term elections.

Immigration Reform Defeated

Defeat is always bitter — more so when the cause is just and victory comes so close.

The Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1982, after being passed by an overwhelming majority in the Senate, has died in the House. No majority voted it down — the 213-110 vote on one amendment showed the strength of support for the bill in the House. But it was put to death by the House leadership, who quietly let a parliamentary rule, wielded by a minority of opponents, stab immigration reform in the back.

Farm interests, determined to keep their supply of cheap and exploitable labor, and Hispanics, afraid of discrimination, joined forces to stop America from regaining control of its borders. They showed the weakness of our democracy: that the majority can be defeated by a determined minority.

A coalition of the exploiters and the exploited is unusual in American affairs. The common ground was suspicion about the government's ability to intervene in a shadowy area without hurting the economy or discriminating against ethnic groups. Skepticism is an important part of the democratic process, but when no action is preferred to humane and enlightened reform, when the interests of a few are put before the general welfare, it shows a profound doubt about our system's ability to confront difficult problems and shape our future.

If this democracy cannot gain control of its borders and free undocumented families now living here from the enduring bondage of fear, then there is little hope that we can attack the larger injustices of poverty and prejudice.

Delay in the House Judiciary Committee, which waited for the Senate to act before it took up the immigration bill, gave opponents the shortage of time they needed to defeat the bill. As the new Congress convenes, it is up to the House committees to re-pass the legislation without delay. Until the House proves it can confront this issue, the Senate cannot hope to carry it alone.

Rep. Romano Mazzoli, D-Ky, deserves special praise for bringing this bill as far as it came in the House. Mazzoli and Sen. Alan Simpson, R-Wyo., worked in a bipartisan way to create a humane and balanced bill and to educate doubters to its merits.

This alliance should not be broken. Neither should supporters cut themselves off from the legitimate criticisms and concerns of those who have defeated this bill. We cannot picture better legislation than the Simpson-Mazzoli bill. Its cornerstones: sanctions against employers who knowingly hire illegal aliens, and amnesty for undocumented families who have been here before 1980, must be contained in any enlightened and humane immigration reform.

But if modifications can be made that will better protect ethnic groups from discrimination, better ensure that Americans and legal residents get jobs first, and better "demagnetize the magnet" of jobs, as Rep. Peter Rodino called it, then sponsors should consider ways to improve this bill.

Defeat is bitter, but this country cannot afford bitterness. Only in a spirit of cooperation can we confront the painful problems of illegal immigration and exploitation.

And confront them we must, or this democracy will relinquish control of its borders, its laws, its future.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Excuse me, congressman! How did you vote on the pay raise?"

Major college basketball comes to Orlando this week when the Tangerine Bowl Basketball Tournament at Rollins College in Winter Park brings together Stetson, Temple, Purdue and Rollins.

If everything goes as planned, Stetson should knock off Temple Wednesday night and Purdue should hammer Rollins to set up Thursday's championship clash between the undefeated Hatters and the once-beaten Boiler-makers.

"In 26 years of coaching, this was my first Christmas with an undefeated record," said Stetson coach Glenn Wilkes about his 7-0 Hatters. Temple is 3-3 with victories over George Washington, Rhode Island and William & Mary. Losses have come at the hands of three pretty good clubs — Missouri, Villanova and Stanford. "Temple is a very good team and you'll have a tough battle on your hands," Mountaineer coach Gale Catlett warned Wilkes. Stetson's unblemished record is seen as a springboard for national attention to the Tangerine tournament this year.

The Hatters have a formidable duo in Frank Burnell and Glynn Myrick, a one-two punch which has saved the win streak on frequent occasions. Burnell, senior captain of the team, had 21 points against West Virginia and sports a 16.4 scoring average with 5.8 rebounds per outing. Myrick, a 6-3 junior, has a 12.6 average and leads the team in assists with 20, from his forward position. Gary Mims leads in rebounding with 7.3 per game. Stetson's wins over Auburn (59-58) and West Virginia were both played before standing-room-only crowds in the Edmunds Center. The 5,938 people who witnessed the Mountaineer match included about 40 percent West Virginia partisans drawn from throughout Florida and South Georgia. It was the largest crowd since a Homecoming game in 1979 against South Carolina.

The Hatters, fresh from a 76-69 upset of 16th-ranked West Virginia, open the tournament with a 6:30 p.m. tipoff Wednesday. The Tars and Purdue play at 8:30 p.m.

The consolation and championship games are at the same times on Thursday.

Saudi Arabia's Oil Crisis

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A new "energy crisis" is likely to develop within the next few years in a highly improbable locale — Saudi Arabia, the Middle East's leading petroleum producer.

Unlike the industrialized nations of the world, the Saudis have no concern about obtaining an adequate supply of crude oil at an acceptable cost — but they must deal with the consequences of declining demand and weak prices for their principal export.

Saudi Arabia's petroleum production peaked in late 1980 and early 1981, when it was exporting more than 10 million barrels of crude oil daily at a price of about $34 per barrel.

In recent months, however, production has averaged less than 5 million barrels daily and the price has fluctuated 10 to 20 percent below the 1980-81 peak. Moreover, most experts predict additional declines in global prices and consumption during the mid-1980s.

"The Saudis are in a very difficult position," says Dr. S. Fred Singer. "If they make a mistake and misjudge, we could have a general price collapse," possibly to a level as low as $10 per barrel for relatively short periods.

Singer, a senior fellow at the Heritage Foundation, was the principal speaker at a seminar held here recently by the Cato Institute, a libertarian-oriented "think tank" and research organization.

All oil exporting nations will be adversely affected by declining consumption and prices, but the impact is expected to be greatest in Saudi Arabia because it has become the world's "residual producer" of oil, adjusting its output to compensate for other countries' fluctuating supply and demand.

The unexpectedly "soft" world market is attributable to a number of causes, including a global recession, substantial increases in energy conservation and efficiency and a continuing trend toward a "backout" from oil in favor of natural gas, coal and nuclear power as boiler fuels.

Nuclear generating capacity in the United States, France, Japan and other industrialized nations will double by the end of the current decade. Although that growth is far below the five-fold increase once predicted, it nevertheless will supplant a substantial amount of oil usage.

Oil consumption per unit of gross national product has declined by one-third in recent years, Edward R. Fried, a senior fellow at the Brookings Institution told the Cato Institute seminar.

In addition, an increasing amount of oil being used throughout the world is coming from sources other than Saudi Arabia and its fellow members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

Production from oil fields in the North Sea between Great Britain and Norway, Alaska's North Slope and Mexico accounts for a decline of about 15 percent in OPEC supply.

In recent months, Mexico has quietly replaced Saudi Arabia as the leading exporter of crude oil to the United States.

As a result of those increased sources of energy supply and slackened demand, "The outlook (for the United States and other net importers of oil) is clearly much, much better than it appeared only a few years ago," says Fried.

"But the vulnerabilities (should) increase a good deal," producing "a relatively tight market" by the end of this decade because of projected worldwide economic growth, he adds.

JACK ANDERSON

Feds Toyed With Court To Nail Activist

WASHINGTON — "Shopping" for a friendly judge is an old, if not particularly honorable, practice in the American system of justice. But the FBI and federal prosecutors carried it to an unsavory extreme in the murder trial of American Indian activist Leonard Peltier.

He was one of four Indians charged in the killing of two FBI agents on a South Dakota reservation in a 1975 shootout that also cost the life of one Indian. Two of the accused were acquitted on grounds of self-defense.

Charges against the third were dropped. Only Peltier, who had fled to Canada, remained as a means of avenging the FBI agents' killing. An FBI report on a meeting of federal prosecutors and top FBI officials in August 1976 states that the decision was made to drop the charges against the third man "so that the full prosecutive weight of the federal government could be directed against Leonard Peltier."

The FBI, with concurrence of the prosecutors, used false and conflicting affidavits to obtain Peltier's extradition from Canada. FBI documents also show that the FBI insisted on a particular judge, Andrew Bogue, for the grand-jury proceedings, and later tried improperly to influence the trial judge.

"The government does not want to have the grand jury sitting in the (reservation murders) case unless Bogue is present," the FBI wrote in an August 1975 memo seen by my associate John Dillon. The bureau didn't want Judge Fred Nichol, who had thrown out an earlier case against two Indians because of FBI misconduct.

Bogue got the case, and FBI documents show he acted almost like a member of the prosecution team during the grand jury's investigation. Bogue "requested that (the special agent in charge in) Chicago be available for consultation, case preparation and testimony," according to one FBI memo. He did, however, remove himself from consideration as the trial judge because he owns land in an area claimed by Indians.

The trial was assigned to Judge Paul Benson instead of Judge Edward McManus, who had presided at the trial of the two Indians who were acquitted. The FBI played

Monday-morning quarterback after that trial, and concluded that the loss was partly the judge's fault.

McManus "forced the government to furnish the defense with all (witness reports) prepared by special agents," the FBI post-mortem noted. The judge also ruled against the prosecution several times during the trial, and allowed "freedom of questioning of witnesses," the FBI complained.

Worst of all from the bureau's viewpoint, Judge McManus allowed the defense to introduce "testimony concerning past activities of the FBI." No such testimony was permitted at Peltier's trial before Judge Benson.

Not content with getting a judge they perceived as less friendly to defendants, the prosecution team planned to feed Judge Benson information the FBI had on groups that were supporting Peltier — material that could not conceivably have been introduced in court, but which might prejudice the judge against the defendant.

Most outlandish of all, at the FBI's suggestion, Special Prosecutor Evan Hultman warned Judge Benson that his cour-

Body Count Of Anti-Nukes

NEW YORK (NEA) — The crazy fool who was shot dead by police at the Washington Monument after he threatened to blow it up with half a ton of dynamite unless every organization in the country made abolition of nuclear weapons its No. 1 priority, is the latest casualty of the anti-nuclear campaign, but not by a long shot the only one.

Considering how dedicated to human life the anti-nuke crowd is (and I am referring here to both the anti-bomb and anti-power plant wings of the movement), it is quite extraordinary what a trail of death and destruction they are managing to leave behind them as they march nonchalantly on. Norman Mayer, the crackpot who died in the Washington melee, is just one of many thousands of unstable, anxiety-ridden, hostility-filled and/or near-psychotic characters who have been swept up in the hysteria deliberately generated on this subject. File news photos reveal that Mayer had been hanging around Washington for months, marching in protest parades, picketing the White House and gradually working himself up to his final, and fatal, outburst.

There are plenty more like him, though fortunately few ever misplace so many of their marbles as to threaten the lives of others or actually lose their own. Don't forget, either, the unnecessary misery caused to thousands of young and impressionable school children by well-intentioned idiots — teachers and others — who alarm them with gruesome descriptions of the immediate threat of a nuclear holocaust and the supposed impossibility of surviving it. The psychic scars of such experiences will be carried by many members of that generation for the rest of their lives.

When it comes to out-and-out killing, though, the anti-bomb gang simply isn't in the same league with the anti-power plant crowd. Curiously enough, nuclear power is the safest of all sources of electricity: It remains true today, after more than a third of a century, that there has never been, in the entire history of commercial nuclear power in this country, so much as a single radiation-related fatality. Three Mile Island — that famous non-event in which there was no "meltdown" and nobody died — merely confirms the point.

And yet, thanks to anti-nuclear hysterics, there is a very real sense in which the accident at Three Mile Island continues to cause about 50 fatalities every year, or almost one every week. For that is the approximate number of people who die premature deaths owing to the air pollution caused by coal-fired production of the electricity that the closed-down reactor at TMI could otherwise provide.

I am indebted for that statistic to Peter Beckman, the well-known writer on nuclear matters, who goes on to offer another: If the anti-nuclear zealots succeed in their current campaign to close down the other reactor at TMI as well, another 50 people per year — or about a hundred in all — will have to die prematurely to feed the Moloch of the anti-nuclear movement.

And that doesn't even take into account the coal miners who die of black lung disease producing the coal — 20 times as many as would die of excess cancers acquired in mining the uranium needed to produce an equivalent amount of electricity by nuclear means. There is no means of energy production that is fatality-free, but coal mining is the really big killer.

One of Mahatma Gandhi's wealthy supporters once complained, in a neat paradox, about how expensive it was to keep Gandhi in poverty.

This clearly inflammatory warning was heeded by the judge, who "personally requested" an electronic sweep of his courtroom and chambers, the FBI noted. The sweep turned up nothing.

Peltier has asked Judge Benson to remove himself from the case. His attorney, William Kunstler, noted in his motion for disqualification that a Senate report on FBI abuses spotlighted just such "reaching" of judges.

Neither Benson, Bogue, Hultman nor the FBI would comment on Peltier's allegations, Lynn Crooks, the assistant U.S. attorney for North Dakota, whose Peltier's request for a new trial was filed, said the motion to remove Judge Benson was "garbage."

Seminole girls basketball coach Ron Merthie felt that the long period of time the Tribe went without playing a game may have had an effect on his squad's performance.

But, for every Lady Seminole who was cold, Diedre Hillery made up for by playing her best game of the season. The 6-1 senior center poured in 26 points and grabbed 14 rebounds to lead Seminole to a 57-43 victory over Lake Brantley Monday in the opening round of the Lady Hawk Invitational Tournament at Lake Howell High School.

"We played pretty well for coming off the long layoff," Merthie said. "The team is responding and if they keep it up we can win this tournament."

The contest got off to a slow start, showing signs of the long layoff but Seminole came out firing in the second quarter and a layup by Hillery gave the Lady Seminoles a 25-14 lead at 1:36 in the second quarter.

Hillery dominated inside against the smaller Lady Patriots. On numerous occasions, she snagged offensive rebounds and either hit the follow-up shot or was fouled. Hillery scored 12 of the Tribe's 18 third-quarter points and Seminole increased its lead to 45-29.

Lake Brantley's comeback attempt was hurt when Rhonda Vazquez fouled out early in the fourth quarter. The big lead enabled Merthie to clear his bench as the Patriots never got closer than 14 points.

Hillery's 26-point performance was backed up by Mona Benton's 12 points and four assists. Michelle Brown turned in a fine performance for Lake Brantley with 13 points and six rebounds. Vazquez and Linda Trimble added 10 points and Kara Pritchett led the Patriots with eight rebounds.

"One of the keys to winning is having someone who can rebound and Diedre (Hillery) did a good job," Merthie said.

In the second matchup of the day, coach Denise McCarty's Edgewater Eagles, who have won the Lady Hawk title three of the five years of its existence, rolled over Titusville Astronaut, 61-40.

The Eagles flew to a 32-18 halftime bulge and cruised home in the second half as Astronaut could never mount a serious challenge.

Missed Free Throws Doom Howell

By BRENT SMARTT
Herald Sports Writer
 At this time of the year, with so much giving going on and charity needed so much, not all are taking.

In the final game of the opening round of the Lady Hawk Invitational Monday, the host Silver Hawks of Dennis Codrey couldn't cash in on their charity tosses and fell, 57-55, to Winter Park.

In the second half, Lake Howell failed to convert on seven straight one-and-one attempts, and it would cost them dearly.

The first period opened as expected with Howell running and gunning while the Parkers set up their patterned inside offense. Rusty fouls and turnovers slowed down both efforts as the Hawks claimed a narrow 13-12 edge.

In the second, coach Bill Streitberger's Wildcats caught fire, running off eight straight points to open a 22-15 margin at the 5:40 mark.

The action-packed quarter continued with Winter Park's Felisha Johnson carrying them to a 30-24 intermission lead at halftime.

After such a fun-filled second, the third quarter developed into a foul-prone struggle. In the period Winter Park visiting troops committed 12 of their total of 28 infractions. Center Chiquita Miller rallied the Hawks, though, knotting the score at 40 going into the final eight minutes.

Miller continued her offensive punch with two straight outside buckets to boost the hosts out in front early in the fourth. It soon came apparent, though, that Codrey's Hawks were steadily stumbling at the free-throw line.

Prep Basketball

Midway through the quarter Howell would bungle away seven one-in-one front ends which proved the difference. For the game, Lake Howell hit just seven of 31 free throws.

Behind Johnson the wildcats clung to a 55-51 edge with 1:41 left. Two Miller inside buckets quickly sparked the Hawks and knotted the score at 55-55.

Winter Park bounced right back with Laurie Christler shooting a clutch 15-footer with 22 seconds remaining. On their following possession the Hawks turned the ball over and things looked dim, but Miller tied up guard Lori Spalding on the inbounds pass and after a jump violation the Hawks had the ball again with seven seconds remaining but trailed, 57-55.

After a Codrey timeout Lake Howell fumbled the inbounds play and never got off a shot.

After the game, Howell Coach Codrey could only exclaim to the officials, "I don't mind getting beat, but you guys put it on us."

For the victors, Johnson led the way with 16 followed by Nina Tobin's 12. Howell's Miller led all scorers with 21 and 12 rebounds.

Joining Winter Park in tonight's 8 o'clock semi-final was top-seeded Evans which blew away Metro foe Oak Ridge in the second half of their clash.

After a game Pioneer performance in the initial half, Evan's held Oak Ridge to four third quarter points, while operating a balanced attack. After the third period blow out of 16-4 the Pioneers fell gracefully to the more physical Trojans, 55-38.

Bryant, Mitchell Wear Down Lake Weir, 63-51

By CHRIS FISTER

OCALA — Calvin "Kiki" Bryant and Willie Mitchell combined for 35 points Tuesday morning to pace Sanford's Fighting Seminoles to a 63-51 victory over Lake Weir in the Kingdom of the Sun Holiday Classic.

The Seminoles will play the winner of today's Colonial-Indian Hills clash on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m.

Seminole's relentless pressure defense caused 11 third-quarter turnovers by Lake Weir which blew up a 28-25 halftime lead to 41-31 after three quarters.

The Tribe, 7-5, went up by as much as 12 points in the fourth quarter, but the Hurricanes, taking advantage of Seminole turnovers, pulled to within four points with 1:35 left in the game.

Lake Weir had a chance to cut it to two, but Troy Leonard traveled while going in for a layup.

Seminole took advantage of Lake Weir fouls to ice the game as Bryant tossed in four charity shots in a row for the final 12-point difference.

Bryant scored 20 points for the 'Noles while Mitchell, who had a strong second half, notched 15.

In the first half both teams started off sloppily. Seminole, with seven turnovers in the first quarter, and Lake Weir, with six, traded leads until deadlocking at 12-12 after eight minutes.

Lake Weir came out in the second quarter and took a 22-16 lead on three straight baskets by Willie Jackson.

Then the Seminole press was too much for the Hurricanes to name as the Tribe outscored Lake Weir, 12-3, during the last four minutes to take a 28-25 halftime lead.

Bryant, who totaled eight points in the first quarter, connected on 7 of 10 field goals and added 2 of 2 free throws to lead the 'Noles in the first half with 16.

The Seminoles connected on 25 of 53 shots for 47 percent for the game. Lake Weir, meanwhile, hit 22 of 50 for 44 percent. The 'Noles turned the ball over 24 times while Lake Weir had 28 miscues.

When you connect on your first four field goals and still trail, 13-8, it's time to wonder just what you're up against.

Which is what had Sanford's Fighting Seminoles scratching their heads Monday night in the first round of the Kingdom of the Sun Holiday Classic at Ocala Vanguard High School.

St. John's of Washington D.C., utilizing a pickpocket 1-2-1-1 press which would do John Wooden proud, turned the Seminoles every way but loose Monday in an easy 83-61 victory.

Seminole's Calvin "Kiki" Bryant hit his first two jumpers before 6-2 center Willie Mitchell and James Rouse followed with two more for an 8-6 lead.

In the next 1:02, however, Rodney Rice tossed in seven points for a quick reversal to 13-8. Tribe coach Chris Marlette called a time out, but it couldn't deter the adhesive press by the Washington crew.

After the time out, senior guard Mark Daly broke loose for three layups after Seminole turnovers and Aubrey Reveley added a slam dunk for a 21-10 lead.

The Tribe closed within nine on a nice jumper by junior William Wynn, but that would be the nearest it would draw the rest of the game as Ronnie Steptoe and Rice tallied for a 25-14 first-quarter lead.

The gap widened to 46-27 at halftime as Rice and Steptoe continued to beat the Seminole man-to-man defense. St. John's, 7-0, forced 14 first-half turnovers with its press. It also hit 20 of 28 field goals for 71 percent.

The 'Noles, meanwhile, connected on 12 of 24 for 50 percent. Bryant was dead with 5 of 6 for 10 points. Vernon Law, however, had his troubles, missing all five shots. The senior point guard didn't get much help with the press attack either as St. John's continually pinned Seminole down or forced the 'Noles into bad passes.

In the second half, the D.C. lead grew as high as 28 points (77-49) before Marlette and veteran coach Joe Gallagher (713 wins) flooded the floor with reserves.

Wynn led the Seminole with 15 points while Mitchell added 14 and Bryant 12. Steptoe (21), Rice (15) and Daly (13) were in double figures for St. John's. Daly, a 5-10 senior, handed out nine assists with a repertoire of dazzling passes.

Sanford hit a respectable 27 of 57 for 47 percent. St. John's connected on 34 of 59 for 58 percent. The 'Noles had 33 glaring turnovers while St. John's just had 14.

In other action Monday, Edgewater stunned Gainesville Buchholz, 58-41, as Rod Dyer tossed in 24 points to pace the upset.

Martin County, a pre-tourney favorite, was too quick to Berea, Ky., racing to a 76-53 victory. Host Vanguard used a press to blow away Indian Hills, N.J., 82-60, behind 18 points by senior guard Jim Wilson.

Another tourney favorite, Decatur, Ga., the defending 3A state champ, ran its record to 7-0 by outlasting Crestview, 38-36. Colonial lost its eighth straight, 75-61, to Bahamas Catholic.

Walker's 10-Footer Saves Missouri; Indiana To No. 1

United Press International
 In the aftermath of Virginia's startling loss to Chaminade in Hawaii last week, another college basketball power nearly yielded to the siren song of the islands Monday night.

In the opening game of the Rainbow Classic in Honolulu, No. 12 Missouri escaped with a 68-47 victory over Arizona State.

The Tigers, coming off a loss to Washington in their previous game, needed a 10-footer by Michael Walker with 11 seconds left to win it. Trailing, 47-46, the Tigers worked the ball at the top before Walker dribbled toward the lane and drilled the game-winner. The Sun Devils had a chance to tie, but Byron Scott's baseline jumper smacked off the rim in the closing seconds.

Steve Sipanovich had 14 points and 13 rebounds for Missouri. For the Sun Devils, 5-4, Scott scored 25 points.

Elsewhere in the Top 20, No. 7 St. John's defeated Brigham Young, 75-64; No. 11 Syracuse ripped Pittsburgh, 87-66, and No. 16 Houston edged Pepperdine, 93-82.

At New York, Chris Mullin scored 22 points in the ECAC Holiday Festival as St. John's raised its record to 10-0. Devin Durrant had 19 points for Brigham

College Basketball

Young. St. John's meets Wake Forest for the title Wednesday night. The Deacons, 7-0, beat St. Joseph's, 88-65, in the opener behind Delaney Rudd's 20 points.

At Syracuse, N.Y., Erich Santifer hit 10 of 13 shots for 20 points as the unbeaten Orangemen rolled to their ninth consecutive victory. Clyde Vaughan had 26 points for Pitt in the Big East game.

At Malibu, Calif., Michael Young delivered a 3-point play with 29 seconds left, to carry Houston. Pepperdine had a chance to win in the final seconds but Mark Wilson missed a 15-footer.

In other tournament play, Tim Cain hit a 25-foot jumper from the corner in the closing seconds to power Manhattan past Penn, 74-73, in the Music City Invitational at Nashville, Tenn. Vanderbilt ran off 15 straight points in the second half of the other game to down Eastern Kentucky, 83-71, and advance to tonight's finals.

At Milwaukee, Glenn Rivers sparked an 11-0 surge midway through the second half as Marquette knocked off Wisconsin-Green Bay, 57-47, advancing to tonight's finals of the Milwaukee Classic against Cincinnati. Cincinnati downed LaSalle, 76-73, behind Mike Williams' 23 points.

At Mobile, Ala., Terry Cattedge's 28 points lifted South Alabama over Baltimore, 95-82, in the Senior Bowl Tournament. South Alabama meets Northeastern tonight for the title. The Huskies stopped Valparaiso, 74-71, on 27 points by Mark Haisel and 20 by Roland Braswell.

At Portland, Ore., Oregon State defeated Tennessee State, 59-47, in the Far West Classic with A.C. Green tossing in 22 points. In the nightcap, Lamar dropped Drake, 86-64, as Tom Sewell scored 28 points.

In other games, it was: DePaul 68, Creighton 66; Loyola (Ill.) 90, Northern Illinois 73; Michigan 83, Florida A&M 49; Toledo 77, Detroit 69, and Illinois Wesleyan 67, Arizona 64.

NEW YORK (UPI) — After an absence of three years, the Indiana Hoosiers have returned to the top of UPI's regular-season ratings.

Wednesday night, Indiana met Kentucky and the Hoosiers' 62-59 victory over the second-ranked Wildcats helped Bobby Knight's charges move from fifth place to the No. 1 ranking in Monday's balloting.

DON SHULA
... eyes home

MIAMI, (UPI) — The Miami Dolphins earned the home-field advantage in the first game of the playoffs with a 27-10 victory over the Buffalo Bills, but Coach Don Shula wants more.

He would like a victory for his 6-2 Dolphins at Baltimore Sunday coupled with a San Diego victory over Oakland. That could give Miami the home field in all three playoff games, if they make it that far.

"Although we have clinched a playoff berth, the important thing is to be the best team for the home-field advantage. We need help on that next Sunday," said Shula.

Ballard Shot Beats Bulls, 89-87

In light of Chicago's excellent defense and just five seconds remaining, Greg Ballard wondered if he could inbound the ball to teammate Jeff Rutland and get it back to overcome an 87-87 tie.

Fortunately the answer was "yes" and Ballard's 20-foot jumper at the buzzer Monday gave Washington an 89-87 victory over the Bulls and capped the Bullets' fourth-quarter rally.

"It was a normal out-of-bounds-play," said Ballard, who finished with 14 points, 10 in the fourth quarter.

"Ricky (Mahorn) set a tremendous screen. I was able to get wide open ... and follow the shot all the way."

Chicago's Coach Paul Westhead said he and his team guessed wrong on who would take the shot.

"I thought they would try to shake (Kevin) Grevey loose or go inside," he said. "... I didn't think there was enough time for them to run that play."

Ballard's shot culminated a successful drive in which the Bullets battled back from an 85-78 deficit with 4:30 to play. He scored six points and Mahorn added three of his 15 points to lead the 9-2 Washington burst that had tied the game.

Grevey led all scorers with 22 points. Dave Corzine and Reggie Theus led Chicago with 18 points apiece. Corzine also added a career-high 22 rebounds.

In other games on a light NBA schedule, New Jersey defeated Cleveland, 94-82, and Denver edged Golden State, 130-128.

Dolphins Bury Buffalo; Shula Wants 1 More

MIAMI, (UPI) — The Miami Dolphins earned the home-field advantage in the first game of the playoffs with a 27-10 victory over the Buffalo Bills, but Coach Don Shula wants more.

He would like a victory for his 6-2 Dolphins at Baltimore Sunday coupled with a San Diego victory over Oakland. That could give Miami the home field in all three playoff games, if they make it that far.

"Although we have clinched a playoff berth, the important thing is to be the best team for the home-field advantage. We need help on that next Sunday," said Shula.

Clark's 3 Goals Whip Red Wings

DETROIT (UPI) — Philadelphia's Bobby Clarke may be slowing down a little as he completes his 14th season in the NHL, but it would be tough to convince the Detroit Red Wings of that.

Clarke scored three goals and set up two others Monday night, leading the Flyers to an 8-4 victory over Detroit before a crowd of 18,762, the largest of the season at Joe Louis Arena. It was the only NHL game scheduled.

Seniors Start Year At Dance Sessions

Open House at the Casselberry Senior Center was a resounding success. Nearly 250 people attended.

Programs for the 1983 winter season will start off with square dancing to records every Monday and Wednesday from 1 to 3 p.m. Anyone who enjoys square dancing is welcome to these four sessions.

On Monday, Jan. 17, from 2 to 4 p.m., Richard Hubert will be setting up a square dance group for only those who can follow advancing calling and certain routines he will discuss and show.

On Wednesday, Jan. 19, 12:45 to 2:45 p.m., John Huco will start a beginning square dance class.

For more information, call Valerie Barber, 831-3551.

Free health tests will continue to be offered on the third Tuesday morning each month at the Senior Center in Casselberry by the Seminole County Board of Health. Diabetes, Tuberculosis, blood pressure checks and Physical checks will be conducted by a registered nurse between 10 and 11:30 a.m.

The American Association of University Women has a dining interest group that has become so popular they have had to divide into not two but three groups. They will meet on Jan. 15. Hostesses will be Ruth Ault, Pat Herning and Gladys Taylor.

It has been rumored that the Cordon Bleu will be sending their master chef for lessons and recipes from these women.

May your New Year be filled with good health, prosperity and much happiness.

'Other Man' Brokenhearted

DEAR ABBY: Your column on "MOMMA" (Mistresses of Married Men Anonymous) prompted me to write to you for the first time. You've had many letters from rejected women, but I've never seen anything in your column about the rejected male. I'd like to ask a few questions from the point of view of us hurting men.

Dear Abby

highest bidder?

HURTING
DEAR HURTING: No. But they tend to favor men who are free to marry.

DEAR ABBY: In response to "Disgusted with Women," who claims he's not a bad-looking guy but doesn't have any "luck" with women (they keep giving him phony names and numbers). Maybe he needs to ask himself if he's trying to wing it on his looks alone.

As a single woman (divorced five years ago), I have encountered guys to whom I have given phony names and numbers because they came on too strong and refused to take "No" for an answer.

I recall the men I lied to as egotistical, unwilling to listen, insensitive and inconsiderate of my wishes not to be pawed in public (or in private). After being told "No" politely and in no uncertain terms several times, if they still persisted, I gave them a phony name or number to get rid of them. It beat screaming in public.

DISGUSTED WITH E G O M A N I A C S
DEAR DISGUSTED: What's wrong with looking a man straight in the eye and saying, "No, you may not have my name or phone number because I really don't care to see you again?"

It would save a lot of time. DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were married earlier this year in a formal ceremony. We considered asking my husband's 9-year-old niece to be the flower girl, but we decided against it when we learned that another niece (age 13) felt left out.

However, we did use my husband's dog, Lady, in the ceremony as the ring bearer. Lady is 11 years old and my husband raised her from a pup. Everyone who knows us knows that my husband rarely goes anywhere without Lady. Our friends are still talking about how cute Lady looked trotting down the aisle with the ring box in her mouth.

Now, nine months later, we receive this very upsetting letter from my sister-in-law telling us how badly we hurt them by using a dog in the ceremony instead of their daughter.

Abby, we never promised that their daughter would be in the wedding—we only considered it briefly. Don't you think we had the right to plan the kind of wedding we wanted?

S. IN NOVATO, CALIF.
DEAR S.: Yes. Your relatives have no bone to pick with you since Lady did not replace their daughter in the ceremony.

DEAR ABBY: I'm curious. Have you received any letters yet from British soldiers who sheepishly have brought home war brides from the Falkland Islands?

L. MOSS IN DETROIT
DEAR L.: No. Perhaps they've succeeded in pulling the wool over our eyes.

DEAR ABBY: My live-in boyfriend is a very kind and gentle-natured person. He is always well-groomed and well-dressed. He is also a very private person.

After two years of a very intimate relationship, I am certain that he wears a toupee. (He's 27). He has never told me, and I would never ask him outright, but he has never let me touch his hair. His hairpiece is getting pretty scruffy around the edges and I think he needs a new one. I'm afraid if something isn't done about it soon someone else will notice and mention it, which would embarrass him no end.

Have you any ideas on how I can get him to replace it without confronting him? Perhaps if you print this he will see it and get the message without losing face.

HIS LIVE-IN LADY
DEAR LADY: Take no chances. Play it straight. Say, "Darling, your hair is looking a little scruffy. I think it's time for you to see your barber."

Everybody needs friends. For some practical tips on how to be popular, get Abby's Popularity booklet. Send $1 plus a long, self-addressed stamped (37 cents) envelope to Abby, Popularity, P.O. Box 28923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

STRIP-EASE

"A BETTER WAY TO TAKE IT OFF"

Welcome!
Open for Business

David Orseek has opened a Strip-Ease furniture stripping business in Sanford.

Strip-Ease-A Better Way To Take It Off Furniture

If you have ever tried to remove accumulated layers of paint or varnish from a piece of furniture and found it a messy time consuming job, you will be glad to learn there is a better way to take it off.

Strip-Ease located at 3416 Orlando Ave. (Highway 17-92) Sanford, utilizes a new innovative process, which recently was awarded a federal patent. Developed by a professional antique refinisher from Georgia after 12 years of experimenting with chemicals and machinery, it is basically heated chemicals sprayed on with air pressure added.

Chemicals used are non-toxic, non-hazardous, and non-flammable as well as bio-degradable.

David Orseek, the owner, formerly of Upper New York State, opened the new business here on Dec. 1, and is adding to his list of satisfied customers daily.

"Most processes use an acidic solution in high concentration," he said, "but Strip-Ease is alkaline with a low concentrate. All of the items I've done are by a spray process rather than an immersion process. It is faster and less expensive. The jet spray goes into every niche and cranny including intricate carving."

"We strip furniture, woodwork, metal, plastic, or glass — anything with a finish on it," he added. "We can do anything from a little wooden bowl to a fireplace mantel and doors including gunstocks, picture frames, old ice boxes, beds, desks, bars and chests. Basically we can deliver the stripped down item within two days."

Take advantage of Strip-Ease's grand opening offer and have a wooden or metal straight chair stripped for only $8. Prices for other items depend on the size and number of finishes on it.

Removing the repeated coats of paint and varnish and getting back down to the wood sometimes results in the discovery of a valuable piece of furniture underneath. For the amateur, Strip-Ease can prepare their furniture for refinishing with paint or varnish inexpensively without damage to the piece. For the commercial furniture dealer Strip-Ease takes away the drudgery and makes his business more cost effective instead of having to do it themselves.

Strip-Ease is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday. For further information call 321-2055.

Picky Points About Imports

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mixing a little powdered steel in composition shoe heels to make them heavier slashes the customs duty and can make the difference between profit and loss for importers.

Whether a knitted garment is classified as a sweater, a dress or a shirt may determine if it can enter the United States at all under a quota agreed to in a bilateral trade treaty. The answer may depend on a measurement of a fraction of an inch.

Then there have been such import classification wrangles as whether frog's legs are fish or fowl (they taste like chicken). Presently, they come in duty free as "frog meat" but efforts to tax them are expected to be resumed.

Are crossword puzzles really puzzles or are they books? As puzzles, they pay a higher duty than they would if they could be reclassified as books.

Does sewing buttonholes in a part for a garment make the whole garment a manufactured product at a high duty instead of an assembled product that comes in duty free?

These are the kinds of things that occupy Mandel & Grunfeld, New York attorneys, who have 10 offices in the country's port cities specializing in customs law. They are one of only a handful of firms in this important but somewhat quaint legal specialty.

Irving Mandel, the 41-year-old managing partner, became interested in customs while a student at St. John's University law school in Brooklyn and after graduation worked for the Justice Department as a trial attorney specializing in customs law. Then he became an assistant to one of the government's nine customs court judges.

Now he spends his time battling in the courts over interpretation of the government's thousands of import classification rules, advising importers, exporters, freight forwarders and manufacturers on international trade and lecturing on customs law.

He says that, unlike the Internal Revenue Service, which can't possibly examine every income tax return, the customs people can and do examine the documents in every single foreign trade transaction in the country's ports.

That hassle about the buttonholes mainly concerns garment firms in Florida that cut cloth to patterns and ship the pieces for assembly to Haiti and other Caribbean countries where labor is cheaper. So far, Mandel's firm has won for these garment makers on the buttonhole issue.

"These category questions are life and death matters to all importers and often to exporters," Mandel told UPI. He said what he often tries to do is get an imported product or component classified as "a basket case," a non-descript item of a certain material or type that comes in at a much lower rate than finished or semi-finished items for quite specific uses.

In another curious case, the length of the tail of a toy rat was crucial. A short tail meant it was a true toy. A very long tail meant the pseudo-rat was intended to frighten people. The higher duty then would be substantial.

Even government agencies can get stuck. The national capital's transit authority is hung up over whether the seats in imported subway cars are "furniture" or "rolling stock components."

"I forget at the moment in which category the customs people want to put the seats, but naturally it's the one that pays the biggest tariff," Mandel said drily.

Here's why and more for cleaning Stanley Steamer.

$34.95

Any size living room and hall or family room and hall.

Stanley Steamer Cleans And Protects Carpets

Your carpet is an expensive investment. Don't trust its cleaning to just anybody. There are a lot of carpet cleaning companies. And a lot of cleaning methods. There's steam extraction, foam, shampoo and even dry chemicals. Plus, combinations of them all!

Deciding which one is best can be confusing. Stanley Steamer area franchise dealer Jim Rinehart want you to know the facts.

Stanley Steamer's professionally trained people are neat, clean and courteous. "We are the kind of people you can trust in your home," said Rinehart. "We care about the job we do and how you feel as a customer. You can be assured that we'll give your carpet the complete and professional attention you expect."

Call Stanley Steamer now at 339-4969 and take advantage of their offer of 34.95 for any size living room and hall or family room and hall. Call today for an appointment.

You will also receive a free copy of "The Complete Guide to Carpet Care" to help you keep your carpet looking great.

"We can tell you what needs special attention and how to keep your carpet looking like new," said Jim. "Stanley Steamer professionals are experts. We are specially trained to understand the characteristics of wool, nylon, polyester, acrylics, polypropylenes and carpet blends. From the low nap of a kitchen carpet to a living room plush, we know carpet. Before starting we will tell you exactly what needs to be done, how we will do it and how much we will charge. There are absolutely no hidden charges."

No bulky, noisy equipments is brought in. Only their cleaning wand and hose enter your home. Plus, they don't use your electricity or hot water and that saves you money. Their famous yellow van supplies the cleaning team with power and heats the water. All they have to do is hook up to your outside water faucet.

The equipment that makes sure their cleaning agents are properly applied and removed is patented. That means that it has been proven to be different from what other carpet cleaners are using. The equipment was designed from the start to provide more power and suction to get your carpet deep-down clean.

Their research and development department continually tests and improves the cleaning solutions used. The cleaning agents won't be found in any store. They are exclusive to Stanley Steamer.

Your fine furniture is carefully moved and put back at no extra charge. Because your carpet is not quite dry, they use wood blocks and plastic protectors to prevent the finish of your furniture from bleeding into the carpet.

Stanley Steamer is authorized to professionally apply Scotchgard Carpet Protector. Scotchgard treatment resists oil, water and dry dirt stains. Vacuuming is easier because these stains don't set in. It helps extend the life of your carpet and helps it look and stay clean long after Stanley Steamer has gone.

The Stanley Steamer office is at 777 N. Highway 17-92 in Casselberry. For all carpet and upholstery needs, call Stanley Steamer today. They work on Saturdays too. Visa and Master Charge are accepted. Estimates are free. — ADV.

'82 Setbacks Bring Caution To Oil Firms

DALLAS (UPI) — Rose-colored predictions made a year ago for companies involved in oilfield service and supply industries darkened to a gloom-and-doom mentality almost overnight in the oil glut year of 1982.

Now the big companies in the industry, not surprisingly, are cautious about making business forecasts for 1983.

"Last December, when things were at their peak, no one in the oil industry would have said this year would be a disaster," said Seth McCormack, a New York-based spokesman for Schlumberger Companies. "We've been burned very seldom because we don't make predictions."

At Hughes Tool Co. in Houston, Chairman James R. Lesch has said he expects the company's 1983 results to be similar to 1982. Isaac "Ike" Kerridge, an economist to Hughes Tool, thinks, however, "the seasonal pattern will be the reverse of this year. Last year started high and the least favorable prediction will be in the fourth quarter. The best favorable comparison next year will be in the fourth quarter, we think," Kerridge said.

John Miles, spokesman for the Western Co. of North America in Fort Worth, agrees.

At the start of 1982, Miles said, drilling was at "tremendously high levels."

It fell throughout the year until reaching a low in autumn. "What we expect is an upturn as the year progresses, as opposed to a decline in 1982," Miles said.

The big companies, conditioned to ride out the boom and bust periods of well drilling activity, have hunkered down to wait out the present decline. Many smaller companies in the oilfield supply field just disappeared.

Robert Harris, chief executive officer of Houston's National Supply Co., said recently excessive inventory is a huge problem facing the supply industry, and getting rid of the surplus will be slow, painful and very competitive.

When the downturn occurred earlier this year, Harris said, "the pipeline of production was full to meet what seemed to be a firm backing that melted overnight. This resulted in a tremendous amount of inventory on hand as anticipated business disappeared and orders were canceled."

Hughes Tool, which provides statistics for drilling activity, said 4,530 rigs were operating in the United States late in December of 1981. The rig count plunged through the first three-fourths of 1982, dropping to a low of 2,379 in mid-October. By late December it had risen again to 2,708.

But two small rays of hope can be seen in next year's forecasts: a drop in interest rates and a decline in costs associated with oil well drilling greater than the drop in the price a well-owner can get for his oil and gas.

Miles said the decline in interest rates from the 18 percent level, which had discouraged many operators, coupled with substantially reduced costs of drilling for oil and gas ought to provide incentive for increased drilling activity.

"You can drill and complete a well now for maybe 35 percent less than a year ago," he said. "That's a big drop. The price of oil and gas has not dropped that much."

"Drilling costs have come down more than the composite price of oil and gas," Kerridge said. In the peak period of 1981, he said, a barrel of oil might bring $34. The current price is in the range of $26 and $27.

"The incentive to drill now is just as good as before between drilling costs and the price of oil once it is sold."

'82 A Year For Tax Changes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The late 97th Congress will be remembered for the most massive tax changes of any Congress — first the largest tax cut in history, then, a year later, the largest tax increase.

Administration and congressional leaders predict the 1983 focus will shift to Social Security reform and international trade problems.

Congress took the first step, a $750 billion tax cut for businesses and individuals, in August 1981 after nine months of negotiations with the administration. President Reagan had campaigned hard for it in 1980.

It included a three-year, 25 percent across-the-board tax cut for individuals; a faster, simpler depreciation schedule for businesses to spur investment; and miscellaneous changes, including an easing of the "marriage penalty," a one-year tax-free "all-savers" certificate and liberalized Individual Retirement Account rules.

The second step, a $98.3 billion tax increase, sometimes characterized as a tax reform bill, was approved in August 1982. It plugged loopholes, repealed some of the excesses of the 1981 tax cut and increased excise taxes on cigarettes, airline tickets and telephone service.

In addition, the House Ways and Means and the Senate Finance committees busied themselves during the last two years with tariff bills, technical correction acts, minor legislation and at the end of the lame-duck session last week, a gasoline tax increase.

The administration-backed gasoline tax hike, initially billed as a simple proposal that would speed through Congress, detained lawmakers until almost Christmas eve because of conservative filibusters in the Senate.

As passed, the bill, slightly weakened from the administration proposal, will finance road, bridge and mass transit repairs, and create 320,000 jobs, mostly for skilled construction workers.

As a result, federal taxes on gasoline and diesel fuel will go up a nickel April 1 to nine cents a gallon, and heavy trucks, which the administration says inflict the most damage on the roads, will pay significantly higher — but not as high as the administration wanted — user fees to help finance the repairs.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Son's Anxiety Worries Mom

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is there a relationship between high blood pressure, premature birth and anxiety attacks? My 27-year-old son has had elevated blood pressure for several years. He is taking medicine for it. He also has spells of anxiety in which he feels as if his chest is in a vise, and he has pain and hyperventilates.

He was two months premature and was fed with an eye dropper. As a result he missed the closeness of his mother cuddling and nursing him. He was in an oxygen incubator for three months. Otherwise today he is a healthy, well-developed male of 5 feet 10 who weighs 155 pounds. I think his anxiety is some form of stress conflict and would appreciate your comment.

DEAR READER — It will take professional counseling to determine what really is causing his anxiety. Meanwhile I wouldn't make any hasty assumptions that being premature is the cause. Your letter tells me that he has a thoughtful, sensitive mother, which should have given him more than many receive.

Anxiety is fear and it has many causes. High blood pressure has many causes, too, but an attack of anxiety can cause an elevation of blood pressure just as it can cause a pounding heart, headaches, upset stomach and hyperventilation (overbreathing). Your son's high blood pressure may be independent of his anxiety.

But the presence of a health problem can cause anxiety. That is why many people who are ill also have anxiety.

As an example, think of the person who has just sustained a heart attack. He will normally have fear that he may die. If he were not concerned, he would be abnormal. It is normal to have anxiety if you have cancer. So it is not unusual that your son might be anxious about having high blood pressure. But if that is the cause of his anxiety, he needs to understand his medical condition better so it won't be so frightening.

Everyone has anxiety to some degree, sometimes enough to be incapacitating. Read The Health Letter 19-8, That Anxious Feeling, which I am sending you. Others can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like to know the real difference between natural and synthetic vitamins. What is in natural pills that is not in the synthetic kind? I'm sure the people who sell the natural kind advocate them because there is more profit in them.

Aren't minerals in the natural ones exactly the same as in the synthetic ones? Are there benefits in the natural ones that cannot be found in the other kind?

DEAR READER — I think you have discovered the main difference by observing the difference in price. The world is made up of 105 chemical elements. When a combination of these is put together in nature to form a compound it is NO different from the same combination of elements put together in the laboratory or synthesized. A rose is a rose is a rose.

There will be no difference in the actions of two identical substances in the body just because one is found in nature and the other manufactured.

In many instances being able to synthesize things produces a purer product, which can be helpful. A case in point is Interferon: The purer products produced by genetic engineering in the laboratory are far superior to Interferon extracted from blood.

YOUR BIRTHDAY

Dec. 29, 1982

This could be a banner year for you where your work or career is concerned. Begin to determine now the position you'd like to be in before your next birthday — and take positive steps to get there.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You are capable of overcoming challenges and obstacles today, yet you could lack self-confidence. Know that you can do what needs to be done and you'll do it. Predictions for Capricorns in 1983 are now ready. Send $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date. Send an additional $2 for the NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet. Reveals romantic combinations and compatibilities for all signs.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If your intuition tells you to avoid certain people or situations today, you'd be wise to heed it. Go where you know you're welcome and where you'll have fun.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Take charge of matters today instead of letting developments control you. Nothing will come up that you'll not be able to handle satisfactorily.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you are passing on instructions today, either verbally or in writing, take extra pains to make sure your message is explicit.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If there is something you are hoping to purchase today, you should be able to do rather well. The edge is with the buyer. Bargain a bit.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Associates may lack your persistence and drive today when it comes to getting important things done. Rather than waiting for them, take charge. YOU initiate the action.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) Once you get in gear you'll be productive today, but you could be so slow in getting started that you won't accomplish all you intended to do.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Try not to become involved in petty intrigues with friends today where you may be forced to take a position against your better judgment.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) To be truly effective today, you must first clarify your goals and objectives. Once you know where you're going, you'll know how to get there.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't be caustic or rude today. By the same token, don't beat about the bush in letting associates know where you stand on major issues.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Joint ventures should work out well today, provided all concerned contribute equally. Skip deals which appear to be one-sided.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Normally you are self-assured, but today you might associate with one who could intimidate you a bit. See him as your equal, not as your superior.

George knew that his failure to use his king at that stage was likely to lead to South's defeat.

At trick two the jack of clubs was led from dummy. Needless to say, George withheld his club king also, but West took his ace and led a second heart.

The queen was played from dummy and this time George produced his king. South ducked, but George just led a third heart. South could only get eight tricks since George's king of clubs was a re-entry for his last two hearts.

"Nice defense," said South. "I was helpless."

"Not entirely," said George. "You could have played low from both your hand and dummy at trick one."

"If I had done that couldn't you have beaten me by leading your king of spades at trick two?" asked South.

"No," replied George. "You would have to have been really generous and let my king hold that trick also. We would still get two clubs, but just one heart and one spade to add to them."

There was a gleam in Generous George's eye as he played his 10 of hearts on dummy's jack at trick one.
