PRIVACY is more and more cherished as the population explosion continues and crowding becomes a way of life. In Mill Valley, Calif., there is a school that encourages pupils to set up their own little rooms or booths in order to have a place for private study, reading or rest. The children bring large packing cases from home, set hem up in a convenient spot, then cut holes for air vents and doorways. Decorating is a matter of individual preference. These photos by John Arms show how youngsters get away from it all for at least an hour a day in a private sanctuary.

score, But that's not odd, what with the lively antics of Meadow Lark Lemon and his gang. The opponents for the game were the New Jersey Reds. The Giobetrotters built and led and then proceeded to have fun. Whenever the Reds closed to within a few points, the Globetrotters would hit a few more from the mid-court stripe and build the lead back up. One of the most successful antics, as far as the crowd was concerned, was switching heats to determine the field for Wayne Strong's My Velvet Sue balls during the game. There was the ball with the annual running of the young and Cecil Austin's Tamma no air, the weighted ball, with weights on one side that caused it to bounce in every different direction, and the yo-yo ball, with an elastic string attached to it.

The Stetson Hatter basketball team takes on Buffalo State tomorrow afternoon in the opening round of the NCAA College Division National Finals. The Hatters are one of eight teams here this week vying for supremacy in the NCAA College Division ranks. Stetson gained the National Finals by taking the South Atlantic Regional last weekend in Statesboro, Georgia. The Hatters defeated Mt. Saint Mary's of Maryland in the opening round 78-77, then dumped tournament host Georgia Southern 93-86 in the finals.

In the opening round, Stetson came from behind on a 15 foot jumper by Derrell Boone with four seconds remaining to edge out Mt. St. Mary's. With 11 seconds remaining, Bob Sutor missed the first of a one-andone, which, if completely converted, would have meant elimination for the Hats.

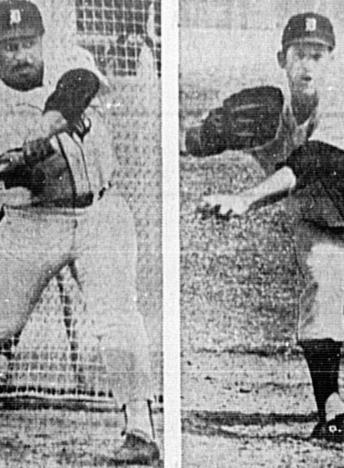

Supersub Ken Showers hauled in the rebound, then raced the length of the floor, passing off to Boone on the baseline. Boone, sporting a 17.2 average, admitted it was high point in Coast Classic.

ALTHOUGH THEY WON'T HAVE DENNY MCLAIN for awhile, the Detroit Tigers still figure to be contenders for title in Eastern Division of American League. Two of the reasons are Willie Horton, left, (notice the mustache?) who led team in homers and RBIs last season, and Mickey Lolich, right, a 19-game winner in 1969 and now No. 1 on the staff.

committee chairman has announced that a $25 savings bond will be awarded the person submitting the winning theme, for the 13th annual celebration.

The Maitland Day celebration lasts far longer than one day. It covers a period of time in excess of two weeks, climaxing with the 4th of July. All activities during this period are designed toward renewing dedication to the patriotism so poignantly felt at this time. To properly orient thoughts toward such patriotism, a specific theme is highlighted. This year the Maitland Day committee would like help in dociding the Residents of the Maitland-South Seminole area are urged to submit their theme idea. Deadline is March 27. In addition to the prize, suitable recognition of the winner will be made on the 4th of July. Two themes used in the past have been: "An Old Fashioned Family Fourth" and "Rededicating Our Heritage."
