Large aircraft due in today

SANFORD — Four large passenger aircraft are due to arrive in Sanford today. Although empty, they are part of a special charter group destined for Daytona Beach from Nassau in the Bahamas.

According to Airport Director Steve Cooke, "The flights are operating from the Daytona Beach Regional Airport, but originating from overseas, they are required to go through customs, which Daytona does not have, but Sanford does."

Two 737's and two 727's were due to arrive at the Central Florida Regional Airport at 11:40 a.m. and 1:15 p.m. today. The planes will contain only crew members. Sunday, all four planes will return, fully loaded, to allow passengers to go through customs.

Mammograph tests planned

SANFORD — Important mammography tests will be available Monday and Tuesday. A special mobile screening unit will be at the Sanford Senior Center both days.

One in nine women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. Regular periodic medical exams, monthly breast self-examinations and getting a mammogram are credited with helping reduce the risk of developing breast cancer.

A mammogram is a low dose X-ray examination that detects breast cancer early, when it is most curable.

The Sanford Senior Center, in cooperation with the Women's Center for Radiology will be providing the screenings for only $55. Mammograms will be interpreted by radiologists who are accredited in mammography by the American College of Radiology.

The $55 fee is required at the time of service unless the person is covered by Medicare. Medicare participants will only be required to pay $11.

Hours for the mobile screening at the Senior Center Parking Lot area, are 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 18 and 19.

Advance appointments are recommended. Phone 330-5699.

Salvation Army's kettle drive starts

By NICK PFEIFAU
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — For many, the Christmas season doesn't officially begin until they see their first Salvation Army Kettle. That season began today with the 1991 Salvation Army Christmas Kettle Kick-off.

The first kettle in the Sanford area was dedicated at 10 a.m. this morning, at Wal-Mart, in the Seminole Center on U.S. 17-92. The ceremony, which also marked the 100th year of the drive, was led by Salvation Army Capt. Gary Bergen, along with members of the Seminole County Salvation Army Advisory Board, chaired by Ron Jernigan.

Following the official dedication, Mrs. Capt. Bergen said, "We plan to have about 20 additional kettles set up at areas in Sanford and around Seminole County."

On the national level, First Lady Barbara Bush is the 1991 honorary Christmas chairperson this year.

In accepting the position, Mrs. Bush said, "For 100 years, the Christmas Kettle has inspired busy Americans to pause and remember the less fortunate. In so doing, it has prompted generous donations of money, food, clothing and other necessities. I salute the Salvation Army volunteers for devoting their time and their energy to the success of the Christmas Kettle campaign."

Locally, the kettles will be manned by representatives of local clubs, groups, churches and civic organizations. The kettles will be in operation every day except Sunday, from the dedication this Friday, until Christmas.

This year's "Angel Tree" campaign also began today. The trees will be displayed at all K-Mart stores in Seminole County, as well as at the Altamonte Mall.

Mrs. Capt. Bergen explained, "The trees are decorated with paper angels. Needy families write

SANFORD — The sun was settling into an orange sky as the 1991 Seminole High School Homecoming Parade made its way down First Street in Sanford last evening.

Several hundred fans, many of them students and parents, lined the street. There were cheers and waved as cars and colorful floats went by.

"This is great," said Dave Farr, executive director of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce who was judging the floats to choose the three best. "The weather is perfect and the floats are great too."

Yesterday's parade was the eighth annual one since the tradition was revived. According to assistant principal Bobby Lundquist, the parade was popular until the early 1960s when students abandoned it.

FDOT pledges to repair leaks

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Staff Writer

MIDWAY — A spokesman for the Florida Department of Transportation said FDOT District Secretary Tom Berry has pledged to quickly repair leaks in Midway's main water line and to replace a fragile concrete section of the pipe.

"No one is going to fix the pipe but us," said FDOT district spokesman Steve Homan Wednesday. "No one is capable or moving to fix it but us. We're going to do it."

Residents were told to continue boiling water they would consume by the Seminole County Public Health Unit Thursday morning although most water samples taken Monday and Tuesday revealed no contamination. County health officials said the boil water order would remain in effect until the leaks are repaired.

County health officials issued the order last Friday after State Road 46 widening crews turned off the community's main water supply last Wednesday. They feared harmful bacteria would get into the water system through the leaks as a result of the lowered water pressure in the line.

Homan said DER officials requested FDOT to have the main line repair work done because they are the only agency capable of it, which Morrison confirmed. The Midway Canaan Water Users Association, which buys the water wholesale from Sanford and sells it retail to the 750 homes and businesses of Midway, said they can't afford the $200,000 to $300,000 cost to repair or replace the line.

FDOT officials have said they are prevented by law to pay to move utility lines owned by public or private agencies. Homan said their SR 46 construction contractor, APAC-Florida Inc., will prepare cost estimates to first repair the leaking line, then replace more than a mile of decaying asbestos-concrete pipe that extends from Sanford Avenue to Spies Avenue along the north side of State Road 46.

Homan said after FDOT replaces the pipe, it will seek reimbursement from whoever the current owner

Truck driver charged in collision with bus

CASSELBERRY — The driver of the tractor-trailer truck that rammed a stopped Tri-County County Transit bus Tuesday morning has been charged with careless driving by Casselberry police.

Charles Graham was charged Thursday for causing the 7 a.m. rush-hour accident that sent 14 people, including himself, to area hospitals. Graham was also charged with failure to wear a seatbelt. One man, Ulysses Cummings, 61, of Orlando, remains in critical but stable condition at Florida Hospital-South, said Casselberry police sergeant Dennis Stewart.

Cummings, previously identified by police as Eval Cummings, 49, was stepping down from the bus at the time of impact and was thrown from side to side in the open doorway, Stewart said.

Graham, 34, of Lutz, Fla., was in good condition this morning at Florida Hospital-North, a hospital spokesman said. The spokesman said Graham suffered a broken leg and cuts from the accident, she said. Graham is expected to be released today or Saturday.

Graham said he was feeling better, but declined comment on the accident. He referred a reporter to Terry Toomey, director of safety for Ploof Truck Lines Inc. in Jacksonville, his employers. Toomey declined comment on the accident or Graham's employment status.

The accident occurred on busy U.S. Highway 17-92 near Concord Road between Dog Track Road and State Road 434. The northbound bus, destined for Sanford from Orlando, was stopped to allow passengers to depart. One disem-

New school board phone system has its pros, cons

By VICKI DeSORMIER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — The old telephone system was outdated and lacked sophistication, representatives of the Seminole County school district said.

"It wasn't that bad," said Joan Walker, secretary to the school board said.

The new voice-activated system wastes time, Walker said.

"When the phone rings," she said, "I pick it up and say hello and the system kicks in. You have a call," the woman says. "I know that. That's why I picked the phone up."

The woman Walker is referring to is the computer-generated female voice which is supposed to assist people with the system.

Richard Wells, assistant superintendent for facilities who was responsible for the purchase of the updated system, said most of the problems were caused by the fact that the new system was not "100 percent compatible" with the old system.

"We're working out the details," he said. "People won't have to deal with the voice at inappropriate times any more."

While the computerized voice is friendly, some said she is annoying.

"She really gets on my nerves," said Carolyn Williams, secretary to Jack Heisler, coordinator of high school education. "I can't stand her."

Williams said she doesn't let the system bother her too much, though.

"I've never had a phone system that didn't have some problems," she said.

Vera Wawrzaszek, secretary to Owen McCarron, assistant superintendent for administration, said she wastes more time waiting for the voice to finish telling her that she has a call while she is trying to accept that call than she should have to.

"I have to wait every time," she said.

Donna Wyatt, secretary to Dr. Bill Dailey, director of Planning, Research and Evaluation, said she has had trouble getting her messages.

"It is supposed to be more efficient, giving me the messages in numerical order, but if I want to find out when the message came in, for example, I have to put in two more numbers. It's annoying."

Several secretaries said they'd received complaints from callers who were cut off today by the mechanical matron. They report that the system, in what seems to be a random method, will suddenly cut people off mid-sentence, re-

SANFORD — State Attorney Norm Wollinger is continuing his review of Sanford Commissioner Lon Howell's Oct. 24 cocaine purchase in Old Sanford.

"There's no decision yet," Wollinger said Thursday afternoon. "We have things we have to do yet, matters we have to look at."

Wollinger would not specify what subjects he assigned to Sanford assistant state attorney Jack Scelera and a Brevard County prosecutor. He would not say who would be interviewed by the attorneys.

Hepatitis deaths linked to doctor's office

FORT MYERS — Three former patients of a Fort Myers dermatologist have died from a highly contagious strain of hepatitis B, and health officials are urging other patients to get tested.

Another 600 patients of Dr. Robert F. Boudreau will receive letters from the state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services in the next week, suggesting they be tested for the disease.

So far, 23 former patients of Boudreau have been found to have had the disease during the past seven years, including three who died from it, said Dr. John Naponick, director of the Lee County Public Health Unit.

The state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services will have tested 1,000 former patients of Boudreau for the disease by the end of today, Naponick said.

Labor official sets sugar accident fines

BELLE GLADE — Labor Secretary Lynn Martin announced fines and a series of other steps to improve farm workers' safety and working conditions during a visit to sugar cane operations.

Martin also met with laborers and their advocates during her visit Thursday, which was prompted by the deaths of seven Guatemalan sugar cane workers in an Oct. 18 car accident.

Martin said the Labor Department had fined Okeelanta Corp. nearly $15,000 and one of its independent labor contractors, Araceli Rivera, almost $18,000 for violating federal farm worker protection and child labor laws.

The workers drowned when their station wagon ran off a company road and into an irrigation canal. One was 15-year-old Julio Mendoza Cornice, who was using the identification of a 33-year-old to work.

Future looks good for tourist attractions

ORLANDO — The attractions industry is enjoying one of its best years, and current economic problems will have little effect on its continued growth and prosperity, key industry officials say.

Some 20,000 people are attending the 73rd annual convention of the International Association of Amusement Parks and Attractions, Outgoing President Spurgeon Richardson calls it "the most successful of all the shows we've ever done."

The group's executive director, John Graff, said American parks and attractions tallied 253 million visits last year, more than all athletic events put together.

"This is a dynamic and growing industry," boasted Graff on Thursday.

Echoing the assessment was Dick Nunta, chairman of Walt Disney Attractions, who told IAAPA members that the future was bright despite a recent Disney downturn in theme park attendance because of the recession and Persian Gulf War.

Court grants Jones stay of execution

TALLAHASSEE — In a ruling that eases the burden of proof for convicted killers who claim new evidence of innocence, the state Supreme Court ordered a stay in today's scheduled execution of a cop-killer.

"No one knows what happened until we hear all of this evidence. No one knows what the real facts are," said Thomas H. Dunn, attorney for Leo Alexander Jones.

The court, in a 6-1 decision Thursday, ordered a circuit judge in Jacksonville to hold a full evidentiary hearing for Jones, who contends another man is guilty of the slaying of Jacksonville police officer. Jones was set to die in the electric chair at 12:01 p.m. today. No one was set for the hearing, but the execution stay is indefinite.

The justices, in their unsigned opinion, backed away from a previous standard saying that new evidence must "conclusively" show innocence and adopted a new standard, that such evidence merely suggest "probability" of innocence.

Wetherell chosen to run for state office

TALLAHASSEE — Virginia Wetherell, the wife of House Speaker T.K. Wetherell, was unanimously chosen by Gov. Lawton Chiles and the Cabinet to run the state Department of Natural Resources.

She will replace Tom Gardner, who resigned in October in the wake of several investigations into reports of mismanagement. Gardner, a longtime state official, was appointed to the post in 1987 with a split vote of the Cabinet.

More than 500 people applied for Gardner's $87,473 job, but the field was narrowed to three names put before the governor and Cabinet Thursday. The other finalists were Steve Pfeiffer, general counsel for the Department of Community Affairs, and Tracy Mehan III, director of the Missouri Department of Natural Resources.

Virginia Wetherell, who served as a state representative from Pensacola from 1982 through 1988, was one of Gardner's top employees as deputy director in charge of land resources.

NEWS FROM THE REGION AND ACROSS THE STATE

Auto insurance rates may rise

Associated Press

TALLAHASSEE — Auto insurance rates will rise and insurance companies will suffer if they can't base premiums on drivers' ages, occupations, driving records and types of vehicles, the companies say.

Many insurers operating in Florida are filing petitions to challenge new rules proposed by the Department of Insurance.

The department is holding public hearings on the rules, and department attorney Cindy Gokel said the regulators hope to work out the differences with the companies.

Among other things, proposed rules would require companies to add new drivers to an insured person's auto policy if they become residents of the policyholder's house.

One appeal filed with the Division of Administrative Hearings said that "greatly exposes the insurers to additional risk without the ability to underwrite the added drivers or to correctly assess the cost of the risks of the additional drivers."

The rules would force the insurance industry to cover sinkhole damage in all property policies without being allowed to charge additional premiums.

The companies consider that "confiscatory," said Bruce Culpepper, a Tallahassee attorney for Allstate.

Gokel said many of the problems are simply the result of misunderstandings or misinterpretations due to the massive rewrite of insurance regulations.

The department filed more than 60 changes dealing with everything from premium refunds to claims settlements in mid-October. The industry has filed a flurry of petitions challenging them this month.

"It turns out some things were bad ideas," Gokel said. "We understand their concerns and they understand our concerns. In the end, what we hope to have is a tight set of rules."

Among those filing petitions of opposition have been four of the state's largest automobile insurers, Allstate, State Farm, Geico and Nationwide; The Florida Insurance Council, representing more than 200 companies; and the Florida Automobile Underwriters Association, representing eight companies.

Heterosexual AIDS here twice nation's

Associated Press

TALLAHASSEE — The percentage of Florida AIDS cases traced to heterosexual contact is more than twice the national average, partly a result of the state's cultural and ethnic diversity, officials say.

Fifteen percent of acquired immune deficiency syndrome cases reported in the state arose from heterosexual relationships compared to 6 percent nationally, said Spencer Lieb of the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services.

"The different ethnic and demographic groups in Florida means we're not just looking at one community, like in San Francisco, but here we're dealing with IV drug users and heterosexuals too," Lieb said.

"In terms of education, it's just much more complex when people have different lifestyles and cultures," Lieb said Thursday.

As of Sept. 30, Florida had recorded 17,779 AIDS cases among adults. Of those, 2,668 were linked to heterosexual activity, HRS statistics showed.

In total, new AIDS cases reported between October 1990 and September 1991, Miami was second to San Francisco nationally in the number per 100,000 population at 91.4. Fort Lauderdale was fifth at 67.4, West Palm Beach eighth at 40.2 and Orlando 11th at 32.7, according to federal officials.

Lieb said the statistics could also reflect the long incubation period for AIDS, which can lie dormant for up to 10 years before symptoms begin to show. Only now are heterosexuals who may have been exposed to the virus years ago beginning to come down with AIDS, he said.

Too much attention is focused on the prevalence of AIDS among homosexual men and not enough on its incidence in the entire population, said Frank Richards of CENTAUR, an Orlando AIDS support group.

"Right now the gay community is going to have the largest number of AIDS patients, but we will see a decrease in the incidence rate of AIDS (among gay people) and a rise in the heterosexual population," Richards said.

MIAMI — Three plane crash survivors were rescued Thursday after two nights and a day at sea, while the Coast Guard continued its grim search for two others, feared dead.

Dan Tuckfield, 35, Delano Hicks, 58, and pilot Brad Youngbird, 48, all of Fort Lauderdale, battled sharks, the elements and food and water deprivation for about 40 hours after their twin-engine plane bellyflopped late Tuesday on its way from Chub Cay in the Bahamas to their hometown.

Tuckfield was picked up at 6:30 a.m. EST by a passing tug boat about five miles southeast of Cat Cay, said Chief Petty Officer Joe Dye.

Governor approves streamlining

By JACK HALLPAX Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE — The executive branch of state government would be organized along different lines in an effort to streamline operations under a plan approved Thursday by Gov. Lawton Chiles and the Cabinet.

"Will this matter to the average citizen or is this just moving blocks around?" Lt. Gov. Buddy MacKay asked as he presented the plan, which must be approved by the Legislature.

"Part of the proposal is eliminating duplication in inspections and permitting," MacKay said, citing the case of a Gulf County family business that must pass the muster of 15 different government inspectors in order to sell both gas and oysters at its convenient store.

Under the proposal, environmental regulation will be done by one department rather than two, and law enforcement done by a variety of agencies now will be transferred to a central department. A variety of other responsibilities, ranging from issuing drivers' licenses to selling millions of dollars worth of government bonds, are shifted around.

"The attempt to restructure a state government is unprecedented," said Arnold Heggstad, a finance professor at the University of Florida.

Heggstad said he has studied corporate restructurings, which became more frequent in the last decade.

"I'm not aware of any other government that has gone through such broad exercise in an attempt to find greater efficiency," he said.

He said he thought the state would save more money than the staff prediction, which was a five-year savings of between $40 million and $50 million.

Dominic Calabro, president of Florida TaxWatch, a business-backed nonprofit government watchdog, also testified in favor of the plan, which he praised as improving operations as well as saving costs.

Chiles, who on Wednesday unveiled his proposals for reforming the state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, which is under his sole control, called the plan a good first step.

He said he didn't think the state would be able to reform its tax structure, which has an unusually heavy reliance on the sales tax, until taxpayers were convinced the state wasn't wasting money by duplicating itself.

"What we're really trying to do is streamline the services," he said.

Attorney General Bob Butterworth, who provided the initial plan for reorganizing the agencies that report to the governor and Cabinet, said the plan worked out over the last two months would meet his goal of making government more accountable.

Multiple charges filed in traffic stop

An Altamonte Springs man was arrested by Sanford police early Wednesday morning on drug trafficking and firearm charges.

Police report seeing a car driving south on U.S. Highway 17-92 with a loose tag. The car turned west on 13th Street and sped up to 45 m.p.h. in a 25 m.p.h. zone before police stopped the car after it turned on Williams Avenue, they reported. The driver of the car, Ed Howard Jr., 24, 807 Toledo Drive, was found to have a history of firearm and cocaine convictions, police report.

A policeman reported seeing the barrel of a gun protruding from underneath a towel. After Howard was arrested on a concealed weapon charge, police searched the auto. They reported finding a peanut can containing 30 grams of crack cocaine and two marijuana cigarettes.

Howard was charged with trafficking in cocaine, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, possession of a concealed firearm, possession of marijuana, speeding and improper display of an auto tag.

Couple extradited from Texas

Two persons wanted for grand theft in Seminole County have been extradited from Galveston, Texas, where they were living under assumed names.

Valeria Renee Lucarelli, 29, formerly of 108 Cedar Oak Trail, Longwood, and Ronald Anthony Williams, 21, formerly of 2800 Georgia Ave., Sanford, were arrested Wednesday at the Seminole County jail on charges of third degree grand theft. The pair were living in Texas using the names of Virginia and Anthony Cantrell, according to arrest documents.

Williams was also charged with violating his probation terms for a drunken driving conviction and for failing to appear at a drunken driving hearing.

Arrest made in strong-arm robbery

Brian Eric Weightman, 24, 343 Overstreet, Longwood, was arrested Wednesday for strong-arm robbery.

According to Seminole County sheriff's arrest reports, employees of the K-Mart store on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Fern Park saw Weightman conceal a drill and an electric razor in a bag and attempt to leave the store without paying for them. When employees tried to stop him, Weightman punched one, knocking him to the ground. It took several employees to hold Weightman until deputies arrived, according to reports.

Man charged in attempted theft

Richard John Volkema, 26, 228 Cryder St., Sanford, was arrested by Altamonte Springs police Wednesday and charged with strong-arm robbery and battery.

According to arrest reports, employees of the Albertson's on State Road 436 witnessed Volkema attempt to leave the store with three packages of meat without paying for them. When two employees attempted to stop him, he resisted and fought with them, reports state. Volkema bit one employee on the chest, breaking his skin.

Auto theft arrest made

Juan Carlos Perez, 18, 3202 S. Orlando Drive, Apt. 503, Sanford, was charged with auto theft by Sanford police Wednesday.

Two policemen report they were parked in the lot of an Airport Boulevard church at about 11:45 p.m. when a Toyota pickup driven by Perez entered the parking lot and squealed its tires. The truck was stopped and a check of the tag revealed it had been stolen at about 10:30 p.m. from an Aberdeen Circle residence.

Underage drinkers arrested

Michael James Hanson, 20, of 2612 Marshall Ave. in Sanford; Leo Vincent Ford, 19, of 2857 Magnolia Ave. in Sanford and Richard Wayne Carver Jr., 18, of 742 St. John's River Dr. in Sanford were arrested on Wednesday morning.

They were charged with possession of alcoholic beverages by persons under 21 years old.

Police, responding to a disturbance at the Coastal Station at 2623 S. Orlando Dr. in Sanford, warned those involved to leave. Though they did, three returned to taunt the officer.

A check of their car following a stop by officers revealed an open 12-pack of beer with several open cans throughout the car.

The trio was transported to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility where they were each held on $100 bond.

The auto had been reported stolen from the same apartment building at about 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Man sought for grand theft

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — A former Sanford man is wanted by Seminole County deputies and the Federal Bureau of Investigation on charges he stole $175,000 from a Sanford bank in July and fled to New York.

Pedro Rodriguez, 24, who was last known to live at 1903 Northlake Drive in Sanford, is suspected to be in the New York City area, said Seminole County sheriff's spokesman George Proechel. It is not known how long Rodriguez lived at the address, Proechel said.

Rodriguez is wanted by deputies for first-degree grand theft. He is also wanted by the FBI. If captured and convicted of the county's grand theft charges, Rodriguez faces a maximum 30-year prison term and $10,000 in fines.

Proechel said Rodriguez previously worked for a St. Petersburg security sales firm. St. Petersburg police and state insurance agents are investigating that business, said county sheriff's fraud investigator Rob Yolton. The name of the business was not known.

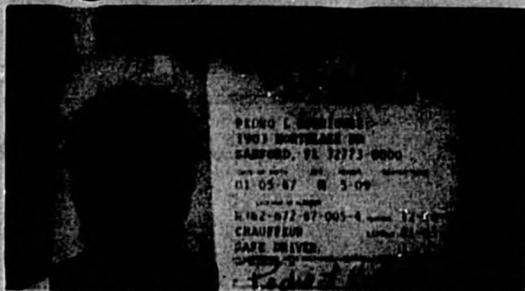

During his involvement with the security company, Proechel said Rodriguez obtained a stolen $175,000 Merrill Lynch cash management account check from the account of Theil K. Luikens-Tice of St. Petersburg.

In April, Yolton said Rodriguez opened a personal account at the Southeast Bank branch at 3603 Orlando Drive, listing a Florida west coast company as his employers. On May 30, Rodriguez opened a business account at the branch for "Financial Securities of Florida," with himself as sole signatory, Yolton said. On June 28, deposited the $175,000 Merrill Lynch check made to Financial Securities of Florida, Proechel said.

On July 11, Rodriguez withdrew the entire $175,000 in the form of three $50,000 cashier's checks and one $25,000 cashier check, Proechel said.

Rodriguez subsequently opened four separate personal accounts at a New York City bank and deposited one cashier's check in each account, Proechel said. Seminole County investigators seized $22,000 from the accounts on Aug. 5. Yolton said the theft occurred when Rodriguez withdrew the $175,000 from Southeast, victimizing the bank. Yolton said anyone with information about Rodriguez should contact him at 330-6642.

Rodriguez as shown on his driver's license, supplied by law enforcement officials.

Parade

Lundquist said, "we revived it. It has been very popular with the students."

The senior class' interpretation of the theme of "Hatchet the Jackets: Part II" took the top honors in the judging. The float, with a huge blue wave smashing over the opponent Leesburg Yellowjackets, was filled with enthusiastic Seminoles.

The second place award was given to the float designed by the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. The third place award went to the Spanish club.

Mayor Bettye Smith and principal Gretchen Schapker led a series of celebrity participants in the parade, including Sheriff Don Eshinger and school board member Jeanne Morris.

Students from Midway, Goldsboro and Hamilton elementary schools joined in the festivities.

"The little ones really get into marching in the parade," said assistant principal Verna Jackson.

Shannon Lattimer, last year's

Homecoming Queen, was on hand to lead the new court in the parade.

This year, for the first time, eight young men are a part of the court and the first king will be named at halftime of tomorrow night's football game.

Many community businesses and organizations donated their money and their time to making the parade a success.

The Chamber of Commerce, the McKibben Agency, McRoberts Tires, SunBank, Sunland Corporation, the U-Haul Agency, the American Legion and the Disabled Veterans of America donated money to the cause.

The Mid-Florida Corvette Club, Ken Rummell Chevrolet and Blue Book Cars lent the students' cars to use in the parade.

The City of Sanford donated a public address system for use at the pep rally last night in Magnolia Mall.

The city's police department and fire department provided both security and noise for the parade.

Corey Bennett's mom cheers him on.

The program is available to both boys and girls. Three divisions are being offered for elementary grade students.

Interested parents should call Keith Caselman, Community Program Director, at 321-8944 for more information.

Quiniela pays record return

FERN PARK — A record-setting quiniela of $811 popped up in the first game Thursday afternoon at Orlando-Seminole Jai-Alai, eclipsing the former record quiniela payoff of $432, which had stood for 11 years.

The winning combination was 7-8, considered the most difficult of the 28 possible quiniela combinations in an eight-team game. The old record was also the result of a 7-8 outcome.

An average quiniela payoff is $38.

Players, coaches needed

SANFORD — The West Sanford Boys & Girls Club is seeking volunteer coaches and officials for its basketball season, which runs from December through February.

Players can still register through today. Both boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 15 are encouraged to join. Instructional classes will be given to members ages 8 and 9 while teams will be created for members ages 10 through 15.

The cost is $5 plus $1 to join the Club if not already a member.

For those registering on Dec. 6 and 7, the registration fees are $40 and $45, respectively.

Registration forms are distributed in the Sailfest 1991 newspaper. Interested parties may also obtain information by calling (407) 425-0585 during the day, (407) 423-0468 at night or by faxing (407) 872-0879.

Tribe hosts Leesburg; Rams at Lyman

Quarterback Vashaun Williams and the Seminole Fighting Seminoles host the Leesburg Yellow Jackets in a must-win game tonight.

By DEAN SMITH
Herald Sports Writer

SANFORD — All eyes will be on Sanford and Longwood tonight as the 1991 high school football regular season comes down to its final two weeks.

Both Seminole and Lake Mary (depending on the outcome of a lawsuit filed by some Lake Brantley parents) can secure spots in the state playoffs with victories.

The Tribe will host fifth-ranked Leesburg in its homecoming game at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium at 7:30 p.m. in a must-win game.

If Seminole (4-3, 1-1) defeats the Yellow Jackets (7-1, 2-0) the worst they can do is tie for the 4A-District 7 title. Also on tonight's schedule is Edgewater at University. If Edgewater (7-1, 1-1) and ranked No. 8) loses and Seminole wins, then the Tribe would be the outright district champion. But if both the Eagles and Seminoles win, there will be three-way playoff between Seminole, Edgewater and Leesburg to decide the district champion.

The Rams will travel to Longwood for a game with Lyman starting at 7:30 p.m. If Lake Mary (6-2, 5-1) beats the Greyhounds (1-7, 0-5) the Rams will be the 5A-District 4 champions. However, if Lyman pulls off the upset, things would get interesting as Oviedo, Mainland, Lake Brantley and Lake Howell all have two district losses.

Also on tonight's schedule, Lake Howell (6-3, 4-2) will be looking for its sixth straight victory when the Silver Hawks host DeLand (2-5, 2-4) in Parents Night at Richard L. Evans Field and Mainland (5-3, 4-2) will be at John Courier Field to take on Oviedo (6-3, 4-2). Both games start at 7:30 p.m.

Lake Brantley has the week off.

If the Tribe is to pull off the upset of Leesburg the Seminole defense — which has given up fewer yards per game than any other county team this year — must stop the state's leading rusher, Oren Singelton. The 5-foot, 5-inch running back has gained 1,442 yards on 161 carries (an average of 8.9 yards per carry). He has also scored 16 touchdowns, tops in Central Florida.

While the Tribe defense has been exceptional this season it is still giving up almost 14 points per game because the offense has struggled with turnovers and penalties, leaving the ball in good field position for its opponents.

Quarterback Vashaun Williams has been erratic this season, leading the county in touchdown passes with six and in interceptions with 10. His favorite receiver has been Corey Bennett, who is averaging 17.1 yards per catch and has caught four scoring tosses.

Lake Mary hopes Anush Collins keeps up his hot running when it meets Lyman. Last week, the senior earned the Sanford Herald Player of the Week award and moved into third place in the county in rushing by gaining a school-record 307 yards and scoring three touchdowns. He has now rushed for 806 yards, trailing only Lake Brantley's David Sprinkle (1,162) and Lake Howell's Pat Jorgensen (1,004).

Collins' improvement and the addition of fullback Terrell White (who gained eligibility last week) to go along with Titus Francis gives the Rams quite possibly the best running back combination in the county.

LAKE MARY — When Cindy Henry last coached a team in a sectional playoff game, she made a fatal mistake.

"I was the coach of the softball team at the time," recalled Henry, who has guided the Lake Mary High School girls' volleyball team into this evening's 4A-Section III championship match at Boca Raton-Spanish River. "We made it into sectionals and we got a good scouting report on our opponent."

"But I didn't pay that much attention to the scouting report because I didn't know if I could trust it. And that was a mistake

Lake Mary next stop on state cross country path

From Staff Reports

LAKE MARY — Lyman High School's girls' cross country team will try to take the next step in defending its Class 4A state championship when it competes in the 4A-Region III meet at Lake Mary High School Saturday morning.

In all, eight teams and one individual will represent five Seminole County schools at the meet. Both the girls' and boys' teams from Lyman, Lake Mary, Lake Brantley and Lake Howell will be there as well as Oviedo's Tracy Kotsos, who finished fourth at the 4A-District 5 meet last weekend.

Also, Seminole High School freshman Carolyn Hubbard will run in the 3A-Region II meet at the University of Central Florida on Saturday morning. Hubbard qualified for the meet by placing fourth in the 3A-District 4 race.

Leading the Greyhound girls will be district champion Kyanah Bresnek and Janet Greenberg, the same duo that led Lyman to the Class 4A state title a year ago.

According to Lake Mary girls' coach and meet director Mike Gibson, the coaches meeting will be at 9 a.m. with the start of the girls' two-mile race set for 9:30 a.m. The boys' three-mile race is scheduled to start at 10 a.m.

The top four teams and the first five individuals will qualify for the state championship meet, which will be run on the north campus of Florida Community College-Jacksonville next Saturday, Nov. 23.

SCC women, men wrap up road swings this weekend

By DEAN SMITH
Herald Sports Writer

SANFORD — Both Seminole Community College basketball teams will complete two-game roadtrips with games this weekend.

The SCC women (3-0) will be looking to remain unbeaten when they travel to Clearwater tonight for a game with St. Petersburg Junior College while the Raider men (2-2) will be trying to end a two-game losing streak with a Saturday trip to Ft. Lauderdale for a matchup with Broward Community College.

The Raiders will play their next home game Tuesday in a women/men doubleheader. At 5 p.m. the women host Hillsborough Community College and at 7:30 p.m. the men welcome St. Petersburg Junior College.

Tonight's women's game with St.

Petersburg will be the second meeting between the two teams in the past week. SCC opened its season with a 63-59 victory over the Frogs last Saturday at the Health and Physical Education Center.

Forward Brandy Friedmann, a sophomore transfer from South Florida Community College, led the Raiders with 18 points and 11 rebounds while sophomore center Carla Letbetter contributed 12 points and 10 boards. Also having good games were Pamela Williams and Monique Hays with eight points and 11 rebounds each.

The game will be a homecoming of sorts for Friedmann and Hays, who are both from St. Petersburg.

Laquanda Carmichael and Vickie Green led the Frogs with 17 and 12 points, respectively.

Couple seeks united front before going separate ways

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are separating after six years of marriage. I am 31 and he is 33. After months of discussion and many sessions with a marriage counselor, we came to realize that we had no common goals. (He initiated the idea of separation after expressing a desire to be on his own again.)

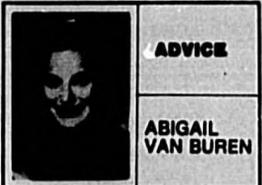

I have cried, bargained and offered to compromise, but his mind is made up; he wants his independence. I refuse to commit emotional blackmail or entrap him with a pregnancy to continue the marriage. Therefore, I have decided the best thing to do is let him go. It hurts, but this way we can part as friends and get on with our lives.

Our problem: how to explain this to our families, friends and co-workers who have always viewed us as the "perfect couple." We rarely fought. We trusted each other, supported each other's careers, shared the work and had fun together. No one would suspect that we've been talking about separating for the past four months. It will be a shock to our families and a total surprise to everyone else.

Abby, we want to be truthful and call it a mutual decision, but I know people will look for something more scandalous than incompatibility as soon as this spreads via the grapevine.

How do we maximize understanding and minimize rumor fall-out?

D.J., ILLINOIS
DEAR D.J.: First, announce it to your parents, then inform other family members and friends. To minimize rumors flying, present a united front. The message should be along these lines: "Sam and I have agreed to end our marriage. Although it may come as a surprise to all of you, this decision is mutual. Even though we care for each other we have decided that we no longer want to be husband and wife. Please don't press us further because we both would rather not go into details at this time."

ADVICE

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

If anyone is so insensitive as to question you further, simply say, "We'd rather not discuss it right now."

Good luck to both of you...wherever your separate paths may take you.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's brother's wife continuously flirts with my husband. She finds excuses to hug on him or be in his face. I have spoken to my husband and asked him not to respond to her flirtations. He has backed off a little, but says he can't help it if she is always coming up to him.

Would I be wrong to speak to my sister-in-law about this and ask her to kindly stay out of my husband's face?

JEALOUS IN RICHMOND.
DEAR JEALOUS: Your husband is a grown man and a free agent. If he wanted to discourage the advances of his sister-in-law, he could easily do it with a few well-chosen words spoken in earnest.

WORSHIP GOD THIS WEEK

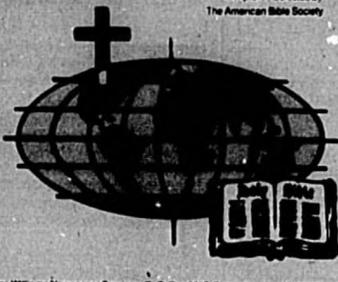

LARGER THAN LIFE

Do you remember how large the world appeared when you were small? For most of us, life was always a happy adventure. Every day was exciting... and fun. There was always someone there to watch over us... someone to look up to.

There still is. God is there. He created the world. No problem is too large for God to handle, no matter what your age or circumstances. Accept your Heavenly Father's power and His loving care as you worship Him this Sabbath. As a child of God, there is never a need to feel overcome by the problems of the world, for God is larger than life.

As Emanuel Swedenborg wrote in Divine Providence, "We are, because God is."

Seminole's first adult Bat Mitzvah scheduled at Beth Am

LONGWOOD — For over seven centuries, Jewish males who reach the age of maturity and majority have celebrated by becoming Bar Mitzvah, Hebrew for "Son of the Commandments." Since the early 1920s women have celebrated becoming Bat Mitzvah, "Daughter of the Commandments." The age of 13 years has been generally recognized as the time for this celebration to occur, when one becomes a fully participating adult in the life of congregation and community and fully subject to the 613 commandments found in the Five Books of Moses.

But some adults, for a variety of very good reasons, did not have the opportunity to celebrate this important rite of passage at the age of 13 years to demonstrate, as young people do to this very day, capability and competence in leading synagogue worship and in preparing and presenting the ancient Biblical texts of the Jewish People.

Four such adult women, wives, mothers and grandmothers will have that opportunity in the first such ceremony in Seminole County at Congregation Beth Am, in Longwood, today and Saturday, as Cyndie Eiman, Janice Fisher, Barbara Bernstein and Arlene Harris study the Torah scroll parchments on the pulpit.

They lead the congregation in the ancient and traditional rite of worship and present the customary readings from the parchment scroll of the Torah, the Five Books of Moses and a reading from the Prophet Hosea all in the original classical Hebrew. The four, Barbara Bernstein, a legal secretary, from Longwood; Cyndie Eiman, Altamonte Springs, executive secretary for a local air conditioning manufacturing firm; Janice Fisher, of Casselberry, a transcriptionist-secretary for a psychiatric hospital and Arlene Harris, of Longwood, a travel agent, have undergone nearly a year of intensive study and training in virtually every subject area considered necessary to refer to anyone as a fully mature adult Jew. They have attended weekly classes, undertaken numerous outside projects and devoted endless hours to acquiring the necessary skills to be considered competent in the synagogue ritual currently in use throughout the world, wherever Jews and Jewish communities are found. They have excelled in the study of Hebrew language and literature and will demonstrate that excellence during services this weekend at Beth Am. All are welcome to attend.

The Adult Bar Mitzvah program at Beth Am is part of an extensive educational program that involves congregants and friends of the congregation ages five to 85. Beth Am is particularly proud of the growth of its educational program under the leadership of Congregational President Dr. Neal Silverstein and Education Vice President Randa Marler. Six hours of Jewish and Hebrew education each week are available to all who wish to attend regardless of religious background or affiliation.

Fall festival treats

The Holy Cross Fall Festival, sponsored by Episcopal Churchwomen of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, held its annual fund-raising event to benefit ECW. Rebecca Angle, bottom photo, looks over yard sale goods with the help of Vivienne Sweeney and Ron Howe. Others enjoyed the good food and fellowship at the luncheon in Fellowship Hall at the church. The event also included crafts, holiday gifts, plants and of course the baked goods table where Mary Jo Cochrane prices the goodies.

Bush trying to punish Libya

By TAMARA HENRY
AP White House Correspondent

WASHINGTON — President Bush, on a collision course with Libya, is trying to assemble an international arsenal of economic sanctions, diplomatic pressure and perhaps military force to punish Moammar Gadhafi and smash his reputed network of terrorists.

The administration put Gadhafi on notice Thursday that Bush is talking with allies about a coordinated international response against Libya over the destruction of a New York-bound airliner three years ago.

U.S. and Scottish officials Thursday announced indictments accusing two Libyan intelligence officers of planting the bomb that blew up Pan Am flight 103 on Dec. 21, 1988, over Lockerbie, Scotland, killing 270 people.

The administration said responsibility for the attack reached deep into the government of Gadhafi, who long has been branded a terrorist by the United States.

"This was a Libyan government operation from start to finish," State Department spokesman Richard Boucher said. "We hold the Libyan government responsible for the murder of 270 people."

"The international community must protect itself from this uncivilized terrorism," White House press secretary Marlin Fitzwater said.

"We don't rule out any options," he added, specifically refusing to exclude the use of military force.

President Bush said Thursday night he was "not sure what course we'll take," but added, "when we get ready to say what we'll do, we'll make it very clear and be definite and do it."

The Libyan mission to the United Nations issued a statement saying its government "unequivocally denies any and all association and knowledge of the tragic Lockerbie incident" and demanded proof of the administration's allegations.

It added, "If the unsubstantiated accusations are a pretext to military aggression against Libya, the Libyan (government) reserves its right to defend itself."

Administration officials said Bush hoped to win support from allies for isolating Libya in the international community, and hoped they would follow the lead of the United States in breaking economic and diplomatic ties.

Most immediately, the administration's action appeared designed to pressure Gadhafi to surrender the accused Libyan plotters. Yet officials doubt Gadhafi will comply willingly.

Leaders try again to revamp banking

WASHINGTON — House leaders plan a third try at replenishing the nearly insolvent deposit insurance fund after lawmakers twice rejected rescue bills that contained provisions revamping the banking system.

The House on Thursday defeated, 227-191, a bill expanding the borrowing authority of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. by $70 billion and sweeping aside 84-year-old barriers to interstate banking.

The vote came 10 days after the House, by an overwhelming 324-89 margin, killed a broader bill that also would have permitted banks to enter the securities business for the first time since 1933.

The House Banking Committee scheduled a session for Tuesday to consider a third version that would lighten banking regulation in addition to financing the FDIC. But it would have none of the wide-ranging proposals President Bush sent to Congress in February.

Jobless benefits bill nears passage

WASHINGTON — Congress neared passage of a jobless benefits bill that could help the nation's unemployed put food on the table at Thanksgiving.

The House approved the $5.3 billion measure by a resounding 398-30 vote on Thursday, and the Senate was expected to ship the bill to the White House for President Bush's signature today. Enactment would provide up to 20 weeks of new benefits to people who use up the basic 26 weeks of coverage.

Completion of the bill today would get some checks in the mail by Thanksgiving, lawmakers said.

Sun-damaged gene link to skin cancer

NEW YORK — Scientists say they've found a chemical "smoking gun" that suggests how sunlight encourages development of a skin cancer that strikes more than 100,000 Americans a year.

Researchers reported that samples of the skin cancer frequently contained a mutated form of a gene that normally protects against cancer. The gene bore telltale marks of damage from sunlight.

The work suggests that this damage is "one step along the way to the cancer," study co-author Douglas Brash said Thursday.

The study, involving squamous cell carcinoma, is the first to report direct evidence of sunlight-induced damage in a human skin cancer, Brash said.

Postal worker's outburst not unexpected

ROYAL OAK, Mich. — The fired postal worker who killed three people and wounded six others before shooting himself was described by co-workers as a "waiting time bomb" whose deadly outburst was not unexpected.

Colleagues predicted that Thomas McIlvane, who threatened supervisors and co-workers, would one day shoot up the Royal Oak post office if he didn't get his job back.

On Thursday, police said, the 31-year-old ex-Marine made good on his threats, spraying the post office with bullets from a 22-caliber semiautomatic rifle. Three postal workers were killed and six were wounded before he turned the gun on himself.

McIlvane was pronounced brain dead early today and doctors prepared to remove his organs. Two of the wounded remained in critical condition.

Baker arrives in Beijing

BEIJING — A tight-lipped Secretary of State James A. Baker III arrived in China today under domestic pressure to win concessions from the Beijing government on human rights, trade and arms proliferation.

Baker went directly from the airport to a meeting with Foreign Minister Qian Qichen.

Christmas movies may stir viewers

By JOHN HORN
AP Entertainment Writer

LOS ANGELES — Hollywood is loading its sleigh with a bundle of holiday films this year, hoping to coax a Scrooge-like public back into theaters.

Inside the wrappings are treats such as "Hook," the Steven Spielberg picture starring Dustin Hoffman and Robin Williams, and "The Addams Family," a remake of the hit television series.

More than two dozen big-ticket movies, including the Bruce Willis comeback attempt "The Last Boy Scout," will debut before year's end. Children will have two animated films to go see. "Home Alone" star Macaulay Culkin will die of bee stings in "My Girl" and Oliver Stone will offer his controversial assassination schemes in "JFK."

But there may be little joy in Tinseltown. Although several films certainly will emerge as hits, many others are likely to deliver nothing more than coal to studio stockings.

Hollywood can't afford such lumps as it suffers through one of the worst box office declines in years. The Motion Picture Association of America says 1991 revenues may be down as much as 10 percent from a year ago.

Studio executives hope a few smashes — perhaps "Hook," "The Addams Family" or "Beauty and the Beast" — will revive the entire film business.

"If you have some good pictures in the marketplace, people will come back to theaters," said Si Kornblitt, executive vice president of worldwide marketing for Universal Pictures. "The market has an ability to expand."

The market also has an ability to crush competitors.

"If we don't have movies that are really good, they are going to get buried," said Tom Sherak, an executive vice president of 20th Century Fox. "The scary thing is what if they're good and they get buried? Because only so many pictures can do business."

A lot of films open late in the year for two reasons. First, students are on vacation — bored and eager for entertainment. Second, Academy Award voters exhibit notoriously short memories: The later a movie comes out, the better its chances when Oscar nominations are revealed Feb. 19.

That award-at-all-costs thinking creates a glut of serious, adult-oriented films as the year winds down.

Thus, Barbra Streisand's "The Prince of Tides" was moved from September to Dec. 18. "Naked Lunch," an adaptation of William Burroughs' account of his heroin addiction, was moved up from Jan. 17, when it would be ineligible for the next Oscars, to Dec. 27. Stone is racing to finish "JFK" for a Dec. 20 premiere.

"Rush," a dreary look at two undercover officers turned junkies, will debut Christmas Day.

Producer Saul Zaentz spent more than two decades pursuing and making "At Play in the Fields of the Lord," the film version of Peter Matthiessen's Amazon novel.

Other year-enders include "Fried Green Tomatoes," adapted from actress Fannie Flagg's Southern novel; "The Mambo Kings," from Oscar Hijuelos prize-winning novel; and "Until the End of the World," by German director Wim Wenders.

The demand for a slice of the holiday pie is so great that the animated films "Beauty and the Beast" from Disney and "An American Tail: Fievel Goes West" from Universal will open on the same day, Nov. 22.

Playing unsafe Warning about hazardous toys issued

By ROBERT NAYLOR JR.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Nearly two dozen children suffered fatal injuries last year from playing with unsafe toys, a federal agency says in warning parents to look for potential hazards.

The Consumer Product Safety Commission said Thursday that at least 23 children died last year from toy-related injuries and 129,000 were injured. The commission, which reported 33 deaths the year before, issues an annual warning before the Christmas buying season, when most toys are sold.

"Many parents are not buying the appropriate types of toys for their children's skills and ages," said commission Chairwoman Jacqueline Jones-Smith. She said youngsters should not be given toys with small removable parts.

Consumer groups criticized the CPSC for not being tougher on toymakers.

"The commission obviously needs to improve its regulations," said Lucinda Sikes of the U.S. Public Interest Research Group. "They're definitely not doing enough."

Sikes said the number of toy-related accidents increased 11 percent from 1989 to 1990. She said many injuries involved small balls that met federal standards designed to weed out objects that can lodge in a child's throat.

CPSC's warning came a day after Boston lawyer Edward Swartz, who has spent 20 years searching the country for dangerous playthings, issued his annual list of most dangerous toys.

The commission doesn't compile such a list, but it noted that it has recalled 165 toys this year, ranging from teddy bears and dolls to trucks and trains to tools and cooking utensils.

Last year, 252 toys were recalled. None of the toys on Swartz's list was recalled; some were no longer in production.

Tip

WASHINGTON — Here are suggestions from the Consumer Product Safety Commission for parents to use in deciding which toys to give their children:

- 1) Avoid giving young children toys with small parts. Youngsters can choke on them. Also stay away from toys with sharp edges and points.
- 2) Never buy a toy for a child to "grow into." Toys that are too advanced may frustrate and confuse a child and may also contain parts that can injure small children.
- 3) Don't buy electric toys with heating elements for children under 8.
- 4) Buy safety equipment such as knee pads and helmets for use with bicycles.
- 5) After toys have been bought:
 - Keep toys for older children away from younger kids. Teach older children to share their toys out of the reach of younger brothers and sisters.
 - Always supervise young children during playtime.
 - Inspect old and new toys regularly. Toys can break. If a broken toy can't be repaired, discard it.

Jones-Smith said the commission has "had to do a lot more digging and a lot more searching" this year to find unsafe items.

Debbie Tinsworth of CPSC said the death figures were an estimate based on reports from consumers, lawyers and coroners. She said the injury figures were based on children treated in hospital emergency rooms nationwide.

Jones-Smith said the commission has increased its efforts to keep foreign-made toys that don't meet U.S. safety standards from entering the country. She said CPSC, cooperating with the U.S. Customs Service, had seized 1.7 million toys in the last year.

Sikes said three-fourths of the toys that her public interest group considered dangerous were made overseas, and that foreign manufacturers are "not getting the message that there are these safety standards that they must meet."

Mary Ellen Fie of the Consumer Federation of America said CPSC should work with foreign toymakers to improve the quality of imported playthings.

Parasitologist named Professor of the Year

By TAMARA HENRY
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON — Students who take biology from Harvey D. Blankespoor aren't just given lectures to regurgitate and laboratory specimens to examine.

Blankespoor, an internationally known parasitologist at Hope College who has been named the nation's top college professor, has learned how to personalize data and bring into his classrooms his research experiences in the wilds of Ecuador and the Sudan.

"When we look at blood smears of people, I can say 'Well, this is Mohammed. I know him and he had malaria,'" Blankespoor said in an interview Wednesday before presenting a lecture at the Smithsonian Institution.

"Sometimes they say, 'You mean this is his blood. It's got to be somebody's blood, right?'" Blankespoor chuckled.

At other times Blankespoor may tell his students at the Holland, Mich., liberal arts school that about 1 million children die every day from malaria. The students dutifully write the number down in their notebooks for safekeeping until a test.

"So, I ask them 'Who would be the person who would affect you the most if they died?' Most of them say their moms. Then I say, 'Well, these 1 million people, each one of them had someone depending on them.' Then, the number of people who die takes on a different dimension," he said.

"When I tell the students a little bit about the story (behind the data), it makes all the difference in the world, than just giving them a textbook," he said.

For these reasons and others, the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education judged Blankespoor the best of 439 nominees in the national "Professor of the Year" competition.

stitution to win the award, received $10,000 in cash from the Carnegie Foundation. He will meet with President Bush on Friday.

Born in Boyden, Iowa, to parents who never went to high school, the 52-year-old Blankespoor earned a bachelor's degree from Westmar College and both his master's and doctorate from Iowa State University. He was an assistant professor of zoology at the University of Michigan from 1972-76. He has been at Hope College since 1976.

Blankespoor has worked extensively investigating parasite-induced diseases in the Sudan and Ecuador. He has involved students of those nations in his research.

In Michigan, students participate in his research on "swimmer's itch," which is caused by a parasite prevalent in 30 states. This research has been ongoing since 1965 and Blankespoor spent this past summer applying the methods he has developed to curb the disease.

Described as a master teacher by Hope College President John H. Jacobson, Blankespoor acknowledged "I do spend a lot of time teaching and I'm very concerned about what I teach. But also I am concerned about what students learn in my class and who they are as people."

Blankespoor said he is tough but caring.

"Biology is fun," he said. "I keep making improvements. If a teacher isn't excited, then something's wrong."
