Death List Mounts Wall Of Water Loves South To Sea

Had Floods Of Up
New England Go
Wreck Of Hun-
Millions Left

Supplies In Mont Run Low

Line Is Rationed
To Trucks Do-
Relief Work

TON, Mass., Nov. 7.—The mad floods of New England have not abated, but as they moved east and south to the sea they have taken with them the wreckage of a million homes and the lives of thousands of people. The waters today are a list of dead, now estimated at 125 and a hundred million in wreckage. Snow is bringing new peril of ice to the northern valleys. Manpower is being conserved to rehabilitate the devastated regions and to the hills where unsheltered thousands are being driven from the raging waters.

Supplies in Vermont which are all are running low. The Governor has appointed to conduct until roads have been opened and new supplies are on hand for each person. A premium is being offered for commercial vehicles and trucks engaged in relief work. A complaint of flooding in the State Police and other agencies is being received. They are hampering workers in warehouses and blocking the Governor's Weeks of Vermont advertisement. A summary of the toll in New England follows:

VT.—More than half the flood swept, at least 125,000 homeless, with freshening and work of rebuilding. Massachusetts—Millions of property damages, one town wiped out, 10,000 homes destroyed. Connecticut—River passes through Springfield.

Ala.—Already battered by millions in first onsets of freshets is menaced by flood rushing down the river. Several towns beneath water, landslides in northern part of state still being freshets.

Pa.—Almost back to the Blackstone and other basins after causing great damage. Swept by gales as floods, nearly back to the level of the western and central parts of New England. Patchwork of telegraph and telephone service is barely able to carry on official messages. Railroads will reach $25,000,000 in many instances will be restored for weeks, while never be restored in other parts. At least another $15,000,000 damage has been done to property.

ATLANTA, Nov. 7 (INS)—Sanford (D.) of the Park Trammell (D.) is today urged President Hoover to name former Congressman Frank Clark, of Miami, as a vacancy on the Federal Commission, as the successor of John P. Nugent, of New York, whose term has expired.

FLOOD GROUP OF HOUSE LOOKS TO RIVER MEASURES

A Dozen Different Plans For Flood Control Confront Committee As It Undertakes The Costliest Job Of Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(INS)—In consideration of measures to control the Nation's raging rivers at flood-tide—one of the costliest jobs ever laid on the doorstep of Congress—was begun by the House Flood Control committee today. Brushing aside its admitted lack of authority and refusing to wait until Congress meets to give it legal existence, the committee today of the last session started its public hearings with determination to lay a plan before the parent body by Christmas.

With a dozen different plans already proposed to end future Mississippi River disasters, Rep. Frank R. Reid, (R), chairman of the committee, declared that the ultimate cost may be anywhere from $250,000,000 to $1,000,000,000. Delegates from every section of the vast Mississippi Valley—more than 2,000 in all—poured into the Capitol on special trains to tell the story of the great flood of last spring and to demand that the nation act.

Frightened anew by the fresh New England disaster, members of Congress and anxious citizens from other parts of the country prepared to urge that a policy be adopted which would cover every danger spot in the Nation. Chairman Reid issued a special invitation to New England representatives to appear.

The Chicago Flood Control Conference was given the right-of-way at the beginning of the hearings today, with Mayor William Hale Thompson, chairman, leading the conference's corps of engineers, financiers and mere citizens who seek action and purpose remedies.

The report of the army engineers will not be presented until December 1. It is expected to contain flood control proposals which bear the stamp of approval of President Coolidge, secretary of Commerce Hoover and Secretary of War Davis.

Over Two Million Persons Are Said To Have Passed Before The Body Of Ex-Soviet Head

MOSCOW, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Against a background of the symbol of communism—and a tomb in Red Square, where the embalmed, life-like body reposes in a glass reliquary. Dense columns of brass bands, accompanied by the international "Marschall" filled the square. The marchers carried red banners, red placards and photographs of Lenin decorated with red ribbons.

It was estimated that more than 2,000,000 persons passed before the body of Lenin. There were hundreds of thousands of visitors in Moscow, many from the United States. Gifts came from all parts of Russia, outside Europe and Asia.

Mass meetings with innumerable speeches were held throughout the day all over the city. Warnings that Great Britain is intriguing against the Soviets and attempting to precipitate red Russia in a way never sounded from the lips of platforms. Soviet Russia must be prepared, was the dominant note.

The entire city, but especially Red Square, was decorated. Red flags fluttered everywhere. Red streamers were draped across the fronts of public and private buildings. Theaters put on revolutionary plays. Open air theatrical displays were given for the workers who were unable to get into the theaters.

Officially the day was dedicated to constructive achievements. Corner stones were laid for thousands of new schools, hospitals, clinics, workers' clubs and children's homes. Trains and street cars bore banners inscribed: "away with illiteracy" and help us defend our country against the bourgeoisie."

Events May Cause Son Of American Woman To Take Throne Of The Romanoffs

PARIS, Nov. 7 (INS)—Princess Holski, the former Audrey Emery, a New York heiress, whose brilliant marriage to Grand Duke Nicholas, cousin of the late czar of Russia, took place at Biarritz, on Nov. 22, 1922, credited to the city today that she expects the story in January.

Through her marriage, Miss Emery became the first American to marry a grand ducal princess, although she is not recognized by Soviet Russia. At no other living Russian ducal in the direct line of succession has any child the American noblewoman could possibly become an heir to the Russian throne.

Her grand duke and his wife are now living at the Ritz Hotel in Paris, although they have a small home at Biarritz. It was through her marriage that the Romanoffs were restored to the throne of Russia.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Dr. Dorothy Corbett Logan today was fined $500 and $50 costs in the House of Commons for the charge of permitting a member of the House to read a paper on the life of the late Grand Duke Nicholas.

After a silent four-day search for a Negro wanted for beating his wife to death with an iron rod and seriously injuring his son at their home at 412-1-2 Cypress Avenue, Chief of Police J. V. Mellon Is Criticized For His Argument That Automobile Tax Should Remain Till Federal Aid For Roads Is Ended

Reduction In Costs Of Cars Is Assured

Fight To Eliminate Auto Tax Promises To Become Most Spirited Of Many Battles

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(INS)—The automobile industry today pleaded with the House Ways and Means Committee today for elimination of the three per cent tax on new cars.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was roundly taken to task for his argument that the tax should be retained as long as the Federal Government aids road-building and until the tax burden on railroads is lightened, also was criticized.

An immediate reduction in the final sales prices of automobiles to the full amount of the $70,000,000 annual tax was promised by speakers. This, it was said, would mean an average saving of $1800 on the every new car purchased.

Representatives of a half dozen automobile organizations appeared at the hearings, with Rep. Grant M. Hudson (R) of Michigan heading a congressional delegation. The fight for elimination of the auto tax promises to become one of the most spirited of the many battles involved in the proposed new tax reduction bill.

W. J. Burns Accuses Justice Siddons Of Faults In Oil Case

EX-BURNS AGENT IS SUMMONED BY PROBERS OF JURY

District Attorney Told That Marine Said He Would Be "Fixed For Life" If He Got Out Of Country Before Call

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Snatched back from "The Halls of Montezuma," as the service song goes, a former official of the Burns Detective Agency, wearing the uniform of a private in the United States Marine Corps, was brought to Washington today to give all important testimony to the grand jury that is probing Harry F. Sinclair's alleged efforts to tamper with the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy jury.

Also appearing today before the grand jury will be William J. Burns himself. From the two men, Assistant District Attorney Neil Burkinshaw hopes to ascertain who paid the salaries and expenses of the 16 private detectives who kept a constant surveillance over 11 of the 12 jurors that sat in judgment of Sinclair and former Secretary of Interior, Albert B. Fall.

The Marine who will be heard is Douglas S. Catehain, former Assistant Manager of the local Burns office. He had been told, according to information in the hands of the district attorney's office, that he "would be fixed for life" if he got out of the country and failed to be available for questioning by the grand jury. He enlisted in the Marine Corps, apparently in the hope of sailing for Haiti on November 1, but his plans went amiss and he was nabbed by secret service agents.

It is thought he has invaluable records in his possession. An armed guard escorted him back to Washington from the naval base at Newport News, Va.

Burns was in town awaiting the call of Burkinshaw. He will be questioned about the "flying Squadron" of agents he sent to Washington to observe the doings of the Fall-Sinclair jury. His son, W. Sherman Burns, was due to have appeared also today, but was kept in New York by illness. It was W. Sherman to whom Charles G. Rudy, boss of the Washington crew, personally reported.

Legion Begins Drive To Sell Tickets For Drum Corps Benefit

A ticket selling campaign was inaugurated this morning by members of the American Legion for the benefit of the Legion drum and bugle corps which will make its first formal appearance in new uniforms which have recently ordered and which have arrived in Sanford. With the object in view of raising enough money to pay for the uniforms, the Legionnaires have started to sell tickets in an effort to get a record attendance for the fight.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Nov. 7.—(INS)—Two former police chiefs, one former policeman and nine other men were under bond today charged with conspiracy to intimidate the federal dry agents and planning to hire gunmen to kill them.

CHICKAMAUGA, Ga., Nov. 7.—(INS)—Ex-Congressman Gordon Lee of the Seventh Georgia District died at his home here today of heart trouble.

Police Have Little Success In Search For Negro Charged With Slaying Wife

After a silent four-day search for a Negro wanted for beating his wife to death with an iron rod and seriously injuring his son at their home at 412-1-2 Cypress Avenue, Chief of Police J. V. Martin and Sheriff C. M. Hand today revealed the crime when practically all hope of apprehending Amos in Seminole County had vanished.

Prominent Citizens In Police Court For Traffic Violations

Nine violators of the city's traffic ordinances paid $3 each this morning in Municipal Court for week-end infractions. Two more failed to appear in court and their cases were continued until Wednesday by Judge Weyman E. White.

Among the prominent offenders were E. A. Douglas, for parking over one hour on First Street; Mrs. A. W. Epps, for parking without lights; Mrs. Perry Weinburg, for parking on First Street and Mrs. J. H. Hintermeister, for parking without lights. Mr. Douglas and Mrs. Weinburg forfeited $3 bonds, and the cases against Mrs. Epps and Mrs. Hintermeister were continued.

Other violators who paid $3 were: Roland L. Dean, C. F. Teague, Mrs. J. C. Wainwright, Mrs. E. N. Scott, T. O. Landis, C. E. Hunter and J. L. Dunn.

Three men and one woman were brought into court on charges of staging a drunken party between midnight and 3 o'clock this morning. The woman, Violet Muffley, and two of the men, B. M. Hay and B. P. Key were fined $5 for drunkenness. Key, who officer F. J. Arledge testified threw a bottle of whiskey into the street when the officer arrested the trio, was also fined $20 for breaking glass on the street. D. A. Muffley, the third man, was dismissed on driving a car while intoxicated and drunkenness charges.

Eleanor Lewis, colored, was fined $20 for cutting up James Boyd following an argument about Boyd's going with other women. Boyd was fined $16 for disorderly conduct.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7 (INS)—Thirteen passengers and one trainman were injured, many of them seriously, here today when two elevated express trains crashed during the height of the morning rush hour.

City Installs Traffic Light At The Corner Of Park And First

Sanford's first and only stop-and-go traffic light went into operation this morning at First Street and Park Avenue a few minutes after its installation was completed, but local motorists whizzed blithely past unconscious of the red stop light gleaming over their heads.

Police officers on duty at the corner observed the wholesale violations of the lights unperturbed and attempted to arrest none of the unconscious law-breakers, but they had to scratch their heads over some means of making the motorizing public begin observing the signal.

The light, with the customary green go, red stop and yellow caution signals, was suspended early this morning from a cable stretched between poles on two of the corners. City Manager W. B. Williams said no arrests would be made immediately but that motorists would be required to abide by the red and green lights.

The signal will be operated during the day and in the early evening, said Mr. Williams. The exact hours during which it will operate will be fixed after a few days of experiment. No other lights will be installed at the present time.

District Governor Of Lions Visits Sanford

Judge Burton Barra, Florida district governor of Lions International, visited members and officers of the Sanford Lion's Club here Saturday.

Judge Barra is on a tour of the state visiting all Lion's Clubs. Local officers persuaded him to return to Sanford and talk before the local club within a short time.

Pioneer Resident Of This Section Is Buried Sunday

Funeral services for Mrs. E. B. Dickens, 87, who died in Tampa Friday morning, were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Benson Springs. Interment followed in the family burial ground.

Mrs. Dickens had made her home in Tampa for 20 years, but prior to that she lived at Benson Springs for many years, being one of the earliest settlers. She was well known here among the pioneer residents of Sanford who will regret to learn of her death.

Mrs. Dickens is survived by seven sons, C. V. W. H., and F. M. all of Tampa; E. B. of Waycross, Ga.; H. E., Daytona Beach; J. W. of Miami and J. E. of Tallahassee. Two daughters, Mrs. Edgar Powell of New York and Miss Arabella Dickens of Tampa.

Mrs. Dickens was born May 19, 1840 at Greenboro, Ala. She and her husband came to Florida shortly after their marriage, settling at Enterprise.

DEBENDEE ARRAIGNED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Dick Donald, fight promoter, Joe DeBenede, welterweight champion and Max Waxman, his manager, pleaded not guilty to charges of false advertising, growing out of the recent failure of DeBenede to meet Ace Hudkins here, when arraigned today in municipal court.

SANFORD OVERWHELMS WINTER GARDEN, 63-0

Sanford Backs Run At Will As Ten Scores Chalked Up, Four Of Them By Stoinoff

Higgins, Maxwell Also Star In Game

Sanford's Passes Are Effective, Several Of Them For Scores

Sanford High School's golden jerseys played like lightning through a hopelessly puzzled Winter Garden football team yesterday afternoon, scoring touchdown after touchdown across Municipal Athletic Field until when the final whistle sounded Sanford had rolled up its largest score of the season, 63 to 0.

"Shook-U" Stoinoff was undoubtedly the outstanding star of the game. He scored four touchdowns, one at the end of a 40-yard run and another after a 20-yard run, and brought his touchdown record for the season to 10.

What Stoinoff didn't do, John Higgins did. He ran, he passed, and he dropped kicked. He scored two touchdowns, one after a 40-yard run returning a punt, and kicked two goals after touchdowns. And he heaved a 40-yard pass down the field to the waiting arms of Peters across the goal line.

Captain Maxwell contributed his share to the route. He heaved one pass to Stanley waiting behind the goal line and another to Higgins, who stepped across it for another score.

Sanford kicked off in the first quarter. On the first play Connell, Winter Garden half, made first down on his 40 yard line. Winter Garden couldn't gain and Tilden's punt was blocked on his 40 yard line.

Maxwell made two yards and Stoinoff made first down. Hagan skirted left end for another first down. Then he went three through the line and Tatterson made five more. Stoinoff banged through for the first score of the game. Maxwell missed a kick for goal.

Sanford kicked off to Winter Garden again. They failed to gain and Tatterson intercepted a pass on their 35 yard line. Tatterson made two and then three. Stoinoff made five for first down on the 15 yard line. Tatterson made one and Hagan six through left tackle. Winter Garden was penalized and Sanford given first down. Tatterson crashed through left tackle for the second score. The kick was blocked. Score 12 to 0.

In the second quarter Walker intercepted a Winter Garden pass and ran it to their 30 yard line. On a perfectly executed criss-cross, Higgins made 25 yards. From the five yard line Stoinoff failed once, but scored the third touchdown on his second attempt. Higgins missed the kick for goal. Score 18 to 0.

The next score came from another intercepted Winter Garden pass. This time Sykes got it on Winter Garden's 45 yard line. Sanford was penalized back to middle. Walker made one through the line and then 20 on a criss-cross worked with Stoinoff. Higgins made five to the 20 yard line. Then Stoinoff swept around left end for another touchdown. Score 25 to 0 just before the first half ended.

Winter Garden kicked off at the opening of the second half and Sanford carried to ball back for a touchdown without being stopped out. Higgins carried the ball 10 yards. Then Stoinoff carried it 10 more. Maxwell went 20 to Winter Garden's 30 yard line. Higgins added four yards and Maxwell five. Then Stoinoff ran 19 yards to the one yard line from where Hagan went over for another score. Maxwell missed goal. Score 31 to 0.

The next score was the result of a freak pass in which Higgins showed quick thought. In trying another criss-cross, he and Stoinoff collided and the ball bounced back away from the line. Higgins need-back and scooped it up and then dashed far out beyond his right end from where he had just received the pass to Stanley, who scored 10 to 35. 10 yards from where Maxwell sent another pass to Stanley behind the goal line. Maxwell kicked goal. Score 38 to 0.

Stoinoff made the next score in a breath-taking dash through his left tackle with Walker sweeping ahead for the first 10 yards. "Shook-U" shook off four tackles before he crossed the line. Higgins tried a run for score after a touchdown but failed. Score 44 to 0.

The next pass was a pass from Maxwell to Higgins from the 30 yard line. The kick was blocked. Score 50 to 0, as the quarter ended.

The last quarter was a slaughter with Sanford's first team with the exception of Higgins pulled from the fray. Higgins took matters in his own hands and ran a Winter Garden punt 35-yards for a touchdown. Then Higgins passed to Peters began and finally Peters scored when he grabbed a 40 yard pass from the air and stepped across for score. Higgins deep kicked the goal for the final score, 63 to 0. The game ended in a mid-field as Higgins fumbled another criss-cross.

TRAINS STOP WHEN

An English inventor, Raymond Phillips, can make trains obey his spoken commands. At an exhibition he demonstrated his microphone control engines. A delicate supply of current to the ingenuous mechanism receives the sounds and says he has made two different things at the time by the one microphone.

Loch Arbor Marches On

1. First in Natural Beauty. General Sanford, developer, owned 25,000 acres of what is Seminole County, and with all this he chose from, selected a spot adjoining Loch as his home site.

2. Fifteen minutes from Heart of Sanford, at an average speed of twenty miles per hour. And the wide Country Club Road, for the construction of which funds are in the bank, will make that a wonderful drive.

3. Improvements have never stopped. Work progressing rapidly on permanent electric Loch Arbor has paved streets, modern water with sealed reservoir, and telephone service, city conveniences except gas.

4. First National Bank of Sanford holds in the Loch Arbor Improvement Fund which insures that all improvements will continue to completion, on a constantly moving schedule.

No mortgages. Loch Arbor is free of incumbrances.

6. No assessments. All improvements are in original purchase price.

7. No city taxes. The owner of a Loch Arbor pays only one-fourth to one-fifth as much as he would have to pay in the city limits of Sanford.

BLACK FLAME She hid her secret deep, deep deep, And walked on Pokeville's straight, straight street.

Her eyes were curtains—drawn to tell That shallowness lies in a well. She said, "I must be like the rest, Silent—littles—somber-dressed."

But sometimes winds found petals where She'd woven flames—into her hair, And once a marsh-path hurrying in Saw dancing prints where she had been.

She played the organ, sang the psalms, Picked quilts to sell for mission aims. And wore black half-mits on her palms.

Till clouds one night that patched the moon Saw her choke—on a gray fog-tune. She hid her secret deep, deep, deep Beneath the walks on Pokeville street.

But while folks passed her soot-black coffin A scarlet bird trilled clear and often. A scarlet bird outside the church Sang from an altar of white birch —By Queenie H. Lister. (From Voices.)

Sanford Needs Another Newspaper!

The rumor had just reached our ears that "Sanford needs another newspaper" and was going to have one, when we noticed in the Winter Haven Chief something rather interesting which sort of conformed to our ideas on the subject and may give readers of The Herald something new to think about.

It seems that every time some disgruntled politician finds himself at a loss to control things in a newspaper office, then the city needs another newspaper. The old newspaper which has served the public for a score of years or more is spoken of as going to the dogs, is no longer fit to read and has come to be nothing more than a small town edition of William Randolph Hearst.

The Herald, however, is not concerned over the newspaper activities of our political enemies. Sanford has had one taste of amateur journalists trying to run a newspaper and of a futile attempt to put The Herald out of business which cost well over a hundred thousand dollars. It is not likely that even angry would-be-bosses will throw their money down such a rat hole again.

But it is the article in the Winter Haven Chief which we wanted you to read. It expresses our sentiment perhaps better than we could write it. "Judge Stalnaker," says the Chief, "has been defeated for the municipal judgeship in Tampa and nothing more need be said about the little affair. However, the Chief cannot forbear to say something concerning a paragraph which appeared in a four-page paper issued by the Stalnaker forces just before the election, and which has just come to our attention.

"The paragraph was headed, 'Tampa Needs Another Paper.' It was inspired by the fact that both The Tribune and the Times were unfriendly to the judge's candidacy for reasons that were explained in their editorial columns. This led the Judge's publicity writers to voice the opinion that 'another paper is needed in Tampa.' The paragraph went on to define the kind of paper that was needed—no presumably that would print the things the opposition wanted. That is the kind of paper that always is 'needed' in a community—if one can believe the folks who have an axe to grind or a special or fancied grievance to air.

"One of the oldest and most parrot-like cries on earth is the antiquated wheeze, 'we need a new paper in town.' It is always assumed that the old paper is either old-fashioned and does not print enough news or that it is not serving the political interests of certain citizens. This lays the old paper open to attack and the only way to fight it—according to the opposition—is to trot out another paper against it. The fact that it requires plenty of money and some little amount of the newspaper instinct and common sense to run the sheet and make it fairly successful never enters the minds of the geary who bring it into being. The main thought is to salve some sore, either real or imaginary, and take a crack at what the established order may have done for the upbuilding of the community.

"However, there is another side to the story that thoughtful people have noted—that the new paper which was to save the community and complete the reformation of the unregenerate, in nine cases out of ten ends its career rather ingloriously, while the old sheet—that was viler than the devil himself (in the opinion of the opposition), continues its iniquitous career fairly successfully after the former has gone to join the dodo and the kaiser and others of their kind."

America's Average Citizen

The newspapers of the country have had a great deal to say recently about Roy Gray, owner of a one-man clothing store in a small Iowa town who has been proclaimed as America's average citizen. Selection of Gray was made in connection with a story appearing in the American Magazine which picked out Fort Madison, Iowa, as the average American town. The clothing store operator was chosen by his home people as being their representative citizen.

Following the magazine's discovery of Gray, a representative of one of the larger press associations was sent to the little town to interview Mr. Average Citizen. Among other things the reporter submitted a list of twenty questions to Gray. Their answers have excited no little amount of attention because of the fact that they reflect the make-up of the average American citizen.

Whether we agree with Gray or not on all of his answers or even part of them is of little consequence. It is, however, interesting to compare our views with those of the Iowa clothier and ascertain to what extent we are average Americans as depicted by the American Magazine. Here are the questions and answers:

- 1—Who is the greatest living American? Lindbergh. The greatest European? I don't know. 2—Do you personally believe in the theory of evolution? No. 3—What is the most important issue in the 1928 presidential race? There are many important issues, but no outstanding issue. 4—Who is your choice for president and why? Hughes (Former Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes) is best qualified from every viewpoint. 5—Can good beer be bought in Fort Madison? No. 6—Did you agree with the verdict in the Dempsey-Tunney fight? Yes. 7—Do you think Dempsey stands a chance to come back as champion? No. 8—What do you think of the Locarno pact? I don't know what it is. 9—Do farmers need relief through federal legislation? They need it, but I don't know of any way of getting it to them. 10—What is your opinion of H. L. Mencken? (Gray declined to answer.) 11—What is your impression of Mussolini? He has a good publicity agent. 12—Who is your favorite baseball player and why? Walter Johnson, because he is always a clean player. 13—Do you believe professional baseball is honest? Yes. 14—Do you believe in military training in the public schools? No. 15—What is your impression of Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago? I think he is making Chicago a good mayor. 16—Do you think King George is interested in spreading British propaganda in American schools, as Mayor Thompson charges? I don't think so. 17—Do you think the United States should join the League of Nations? No. 18—Do newspapers print too much crime news? I wouldn't say that they do. 19—Do you approve smoking by women? No. 20—Do you think present styles in women's dress tend to cause loose morals? I don't think so.

As Brisbane Sees It

The Government's Eyes. Money's Cheerful Day. Kompira, Pitiless God. Fighting With Sabres. Copyright 1927 by Star. By Arthur Brisbane.

NEW ENGLAND'S flood becomes more abhorring in its extent, lives lost and damage done. The President immediately orders army planes to rescue the stricken district and report. Flying machines are now the eyes of the government, as they will be the reliance and defiance of government in war.

So far, Days will have the war department do everything possible in the way of supplies and men that may be needed, army headquarters in Boston, supplying them.

STOCKS WENT UP yesterday. Steel, General Motors, many others. Wall-street learns that new financing this year amounts to more than one thousand million dollars. By June 1926 by more than a billion and a half. All else, in a country with people that earn every year the billions more than it costs to live.

LARGE DEPOSITS IN southern banks are reported from Memphis through the central section. In that and the high quality of cotton adding to the value of the crop there is good news for the whole country.

Conditions for harvesting the crop at low cost are ideal, and the bloom of a year ago turns to sunshine.

A SEAT ON the San Francisco stock and bond exchange sold yesterday for $100,000 to George D. Robertson and Co., Inc. Eighteen months ago the price of a seat was $20,000.

This reminds New York that San Francisco, on the other ocean, 2,500 miles away, is also a great financial center. San Francisco stock exchange sent his representative to value money rapidly than New York says. With a proportion to population, such exchange seat—San Francisco are worth six times as much as on the New York exchange. There it's all a chance for young men to go west.

A JAPANESE FISHING boat drifted ashore on the state of Washington coast and every man, woman and child was found, including a baby. The baby was in a box, and was found on the beach. The mother was in the boat, and was found in the boat. The father was in the boat, and was found in the boat. The baby was in a box, and was found on the beach.

HE DID NOT have pity, all die. Many died. The Kompira, with no real experience, have had men's prayers since the beginning of time. Real or unreal, all gods have been a great comfort to those who believe in them. Their worshippers have alternately coaxed and threatened them, often over-coming their fanges in anger.

Exceedingly numerous how the brethren would fall in estimation, when the Jewish god's power was able to bring down fire from heaven to light his bonfire, although he had soaked it with water. Men could not live without religion; even a false one is better than none. Voltaire truly said, "If there had been no god, it would have been necessary to invent one."

IN HUNGARY TWO students, violently anti-Semitic, were surprised when challenged to duels with sabres by two Jewish students. They were more surprised when the two Jews, first-class swordsmen, carved them up.

Now eight other young Jews have challenged eight other anti-Semitic students to fight with sabres.

In course of time that should make anti-Semitic students thoughtful. To fight with sabres is no joke, not at all like the rapier comb duelling in German universities.

When men fight with sabres they are striped to the waist, nothing to protect jugular vein or anything else. And a heavy sabre is no child's toy. Many a man has been killed in such "affairs of honor" among German officers.

AT NAPLES YESTERDAY a tall, handsome girl, called Princess Anne, of France, daughter of the Duke de Guise, "rightful king of France," married Prince Amedeo of Savoy, son of the Duke of Aosta, a cousin of Italy's king.

THE KINGS OF Italy and Spain witnessed the marriage, with dozens of princes, dukes, etc. present. The most interesting witness was Benito Mussolini, an ardent socialist, locked up in various prisons not long ago, now ruling Italy and determined if he can to get part of Alfonso's lands in Africa.

The world's speed record is broken again by an Italian ace, Major Bernardi flew a speed exceeding 315 miles an hour, more than five miles a minute. How long will it take men to fly as the sun seems to fly, around the earth at the rate of 1,000 miles an hour.

Good news for old men that want to live longer. Tom Cheek, known to frequenters of racetracks, finishing his season in the United States, takes his three horses and "henkroll" of $5,800 to Cuba. Mr. Cheek, 103 years old, looks after his own horses and their shipping, with the aid of one stable boy, 60 years old. He attributes his long life to the fact that he lets bettors do the worrying.

Facts that Concern Your Pocketbook as well as Ours INTERESTED citizens often ask us what becomes of all the money we collect for the public for telephone service. Of course, we are glad to tell them the details of our operating expenditures. One of the big items of expense, which consumes several million dollars of the money paid us, is taxes. Out of every $100 of gross revenue received last year $9.50 was paid to the tax collectors of the various counties, states and federal government. This was equal to $3.50 for each telephone in service during the year. Taxes are necessary for the proper administration of our local and federal governments and every patriotic citizen expects to pay his share. But the tax bill of your telephone company has mounted to such proportions as to present a serious problem that concerns the subscriber as well as ourselves, for taxes are operating expenses and must be paid with money we collect for service. Our taxes have increased 355 per cent since 1916 while the average investment in service has increased but 153 per cent. And, as you know, the more you are asked to pay for service have moved up but slightly as compared with the enormous increase in taxes, wages and other factors necessary for rendering high grade telephone service. Mrs. Brodie Williams Hostess To Methodist Church Circle Friday

The Esther Metting Circle of the Methodist Church met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Brodie Williams on Myrtle Avenue.

Cosmos, marigolds and other orange colored cut flowers were used with ferns in decorating the rooms.

The business session was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Walter Raines. After routine business had been carried out, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. S. Thornton, who led the study class of Jonah. A silver offering was taken up after the study class.

A most delightful social hour followed the business session. During this time Mrs. J. K. Meyer, for whom the circle was named, and who was guest of honor for the afternoon, sang a group of lovely solos accompanied by Mrs. Claude Herndon. Mrs. Metting presented a bouquet of exquisite red roses as a token of love and esteem.

Refreshments consisting of pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream and coffee were served late in the afternoon by Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. J. K. Metting and Mrs. Claude Herndon were visitors. Members present were Mrs. J. E. Preston, Mrs. R. T. Torrence, Mrs. C. C. McGroarty, Mrs. J. R. Adams, Mrs. L. M. Tynes, Mrs. P. D. Cobb, Mrs. R. L. Griffin, Mrs. J. M. Moyer, Mrs. R. L. Shinholzer, Mrs. Mrs. Lola Le Gette, Mrs. Tom Williams, Mrs. Walter Raines, Mrs. W. S. Thornton, Mrs. J. F. Courier and Mrs. Williams.

LAKE MARY

Miss Vela Mott arrived Thursday from Montrose, Pa., and will occupy her new home on Palmetto Avenue which was built during the summer. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Birchard also of Montrose, Pa., who will make her home with her this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Benj. L. Wagg arrived this week from Amesbury Mass., and will occupy their home on Crystal Lake Avenue.

E. D. Green is erecting a house on Lake Mary Ave. Clyde Gleason of Canton, N. Y., has been the guest of his brother, Mory Gleason.

Charles Whitaker was pleasantly surprised on last Monday evening, when a number of his friends gathered at his home and staged a party in honor of his fourteen birthday. Refreshments were served by his mother, Mrs. Albert Whitaker.

Miss Helen Dunn who has been ill for the past week with pleurisy is able to return to school again.

The Social announced for last Thursday which was postponed on Friday evening, November 4th with the following committee in charge, Mrs. Elmer Hyottaine, Mrs. Clarence Isbell, Mrs. John Staubes.

The Halloween Party on Friday evening at the Community Building which was announced by Mrs. Theodora Cachere, and to which the community was invited proved to be a most enjoyable occasion.

Most of the guests were in costume, the ladies' first prize going to Mrs. A. F. Kemp and the gentlemen's to J. D. Evans. All sorts of Halloween games were played, and the children present especially entertained by W. J. Hopkins, Jr. Refreshments were served and music and dancing enjoyed until a late hour.

The Live Wire Class of the Community Church, staged a most enjoyable Halloween social at the Chamber of Commerce building on Monday evening. As the guests arrived, they were received at the door by a ghost with the "hand of death." Mrs. Theodora Cachere played this part well. The program opened with a grand march by those in costume led by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boteler, followed by Luvera Booth and Horace Cochran. Prizes were awarded for the best costumes as follows: Howard Boteler, linen handkerchiefs, Mrs. Howard Boteler, dress flower, Rev. James Thompson, and R. D. White as leaders were greatly enjoyed. Clapping, whistling, ball twine, clothes pin contests. A ghost story read by Miss Mary Dunn was followed by a playlet, "Scare Crow," with the following quartet and cast: Luvera Booth, Elma Cochran, Alma Ring, Cora Ring, which rendered "Way Down Yonder in the Corn Field," and "Neath the Crust of an Old Apple Pie." Other games followed in charge of Misses Ethel Hyottaine and Mary Dunn. Miss Mary Whitaker dressed as a witch told fortunes in a specially decorated booth. The Magic Room, with Mrs. P. D. Anderson as the ghost, proved most thrilling each group of guests handled the various specimens and listened to the ghostly discourses on each. Delicious refreshments of sandwiches, peartreats candy and punch were served those present. The building was tastefully decorated in Halloween suggestions, and the members of the Live Wire Class are Mrs. P. D. Anderson, teacher; Mrs. Luvera Booth, Mrs. Florence Boteler, Mrs. Eudora Zimmerman, Misses Margaret Sprout, Elma Cochran, Catherine Cochran, Alma Ring, Cora Ring, Mary Dunn, Sadie Fisher, Mary Whitaker, Mable Ferguson, Mary Miller, and Mrs. Theodora Cachere.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Stevens of Lake City, Fla., are visiting their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Kemp. They are on their way home from Tampa, where Mrs. Stevens has been receiving medical treatment, and are accompanied by their daughter, Miss Ruth Stevens.

Tom Tibbals and Ed Walker motored Friday to Tampa where they spent the day.

Mystery Picture "Cat And Canary" At Milane Today

Acclaimed by critics everywhere as the most mystifying drama of the age, "The Cat and the Canary" with an all-featured cast, will be at the Milane Theatre today.

"The Cat and the Canary" is a screen adaptation of John Willard's great stage success of the same name and was directed by Paul Leni, famous foreign director, who recently came to this country to produce pictures under the Universal banner.

The story concerns six relatives, who go to the supposedly haunted house of a deceased uncle at the hour of midnight to hear his will read. The attorney who reads the will is mysteriously murdered and suspicion in turn falls on each of the six principals. How the real murderer is finally detected is one of the most absorbing mystery tales imaginable.

Laura La Plante plays the starring role and is supported by an exceptionally strong cast, including Arthur Edmund Carew, Creighton Hale, Forrest Stanley, Gertrude Astor, Tully Marshall, George Siegmann, Flora Finch and Martha Mattox.

Circle Two Meets On Friday Afternoon With Mrs. S. O. Shinholzer

Circle Two of the Methodist Church met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. O. Shinholzer on Oak Avenue.

After routine business, the members spent the afternoon sewing on caps, runners and hot pots for the bazaar.

During the social hour, piano selections were given by Helen Wilson, Pauline Staudenmire and Frances Wilson. Later refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Sam Bradford and Mrs. J. F. Conner.

LIVES OF REMUS AND DODGE FORM STRANGE STORIES

Activities Of Federal Prohibition Agent & Liquor Runner Cause Their Paths To Cross Many Times In Recent Years

CINCINNATI, Nov. 7.—(INS)—The strange story of the activities of two men—one the avowed foe of society, reaping millions by breaking it laws deliberately and defiantly and the other in the role of a relentless nemesis, tracking him down and again behind the bars—was woven about the relations of George K. Remus, "Bootleg King" held here on a charge of murdering his wife, and Franklin K. Dodge, former department of justice agent.

Remus, in the early days of prohibition, organized the first of the bootleg syndicates, and became the czar of the illicit liquor traffic in Ohio and a half dozen neighboring states. His organization extended from truck-drivers who delivered his illicit product into high officials and political circles, and a dozen or more men were tarred with the brush of Remus' guilt, before his syndicate was run to earth and smashed, largely through the operations of Dodge.

When the department of justice operative had amassed sufficient evidence to send Remus to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta for a two year "rap," Remus the first of the millionaire "bootleg kings" to be caught in the grip of the law.

He had been in the big $300,000 federal prison in Atlanta but a few months before the strange tales began to filter outside of Remus' life of luxury there. It is said that he did no work, that he enjoyed sumptuous meals, luxuriously furnished quarters, and every other advantage that a convict is supposed not to have.

Then Dodge came into the picture again. As a result of the federal agents' undercover investigation, Albert S. Cramer, then warden of the penitentiary, and his friend "Heinie" Riend, both of Columbus, were displaced and became prisoners of the institution they had governed. Several minor penitentiary employees also were caught in the net that tightened about those who had smoothed the way for Remus in prison.

The information which Remus gave against those who had been caught in Dodge's net earned for the bootlegger the name of "rat" and made the penitentiary unsafe for him. He was transferred to a county jail in Ohio.

Meanwhile, Dodge, using "leads" he had uncovered in sending Remus to the penitentiary, continued his drive against Remus' successors in the Ohio bootleg ring, and three more Ohioans, all officials of the federal prohibition administration in the Buckeye state, went to Atlanta.

They were—John B. Russell, former prohibition administrator for Ohio; Merle B. Caveland, his chief clerk and Warren E. Barrett, enforcement officer.

When Remus was in prison, his wife filed suit for divorce, and Remus, in which he named Dodge as correspondent alleging that the former government not only had tracked him into prison, but had entered his domestic life, "breaking up his home," and obtaining large sums of Remus' money.

ENGLAND TO GIVE UP CONCESSION IN SOVIETS' STATES

German Observers See In New Action Another Step Toward Diplomatic Break That Will Not Be Ended In Some Time

BERLIN, (INS)—That the Lena Goldfields largest foreign concession in the Soviet Union, and the last English concession of any importance left in Russia, is about to give up its English nationality, is reported by the Deutsche Handels Dienst.

Withdrawal of English capital from the Lena Goldfields would indicate, in the opinion of German observers, that the English banking world had placed itself squarely on the side of the conservative cabinet, leaders who brought about the break with Russia and have insisted that diplomatic relations should not be resumed until the Bolsheviks show a change of heart.

German bankers, on the other hand, have been quick to take advantage of the field left open to them by the political hostility of the British to the Soviets. Negotiations are said to be under way now between members of the board of directors of the Lena Goldfields and German capitalists, while similar negotiations have already been reported from France. One of the objects of the negotiations is said to be the completion of a contract for the Lena Goldfields to deliver gold to the Bank of France and the State Bank of Poland.

Although the management of the Lena Goldfields carefully discourage any publicity over their difficulties in Soviet Russia, it is well known to persons familiar with conditions in Moscow that the general director of the company was nearly driven to desperation by the obstacles which the government put in the way of his concession.

The arrest of his confidential employees was a daily hazard. One of his office clerks was taken from the Moscow office by agents of the G. P. U., under the very nose of the manager. His superintendents of the labor at the fields on the Lena river were similarly persecuted. Labor disputes referred to Soviet courts were invariably settled in favor of the complaining workmen.

Although these conditions are the ordinary lot of the foreign concessionaire in the Soviet Union, the fact that the Lena Goldfields was an English concern was believed to have been an aggravating circumstance in view of the intense dislike with which any English undertaking is regarded in Russia.

State Prohibition Agents Now Occupy New Headquarters

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 7.—(INS)—Special agents of the Florida branch of the prohibition bureau, of which W. E. Bennett is special agent in charge, are now occupying their new headquarters offices in the Baptist building here.

This division has charge of the coast line between Galveston, Tex., and Savannah, Ga., and from 15 to 20 agents will be assigned to duty in various cities along the coast as the work demands. W. B. Robinson, chief special agent with headquarters in Washington, will have immediate supervision of these agents.

Announcement of these positions as agents in the various cities, together with the fact that they will only be appointed under civil service rules and after passing a rigid examination as to integrity, character and general fitness for the positions, has been made. The commissioner of prohibition has expressed the trustworthiness and capable investigative force that will have the confidence of the general public and the respect of the courts.

Clearing House For Citrus Fruits To Be Organized In State

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 7.—(By International News Service)—Establishment of a clearing house for citrus fruits in Florida, as recommended by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, is highly probable within the next thirty or forty days, according to a statement by State marketing commissioner L. M. Rhodes.

The proposed citrus clearing house will probably be established in Orlando, Rhodes said, where most of the large shippers have offices and in the heart of the citrus fruit district. The majority of Florida growers favor the plan, he said.

Rhodes urged cooperation between the growers and the various marketing agencies in formulating the Jardine proposal. "It is the only way the present citrus fruit problem can be solved," he said.

"If those now leading the different marketing agencies will not meet on neutral and mutual grounds and give and take in the forming of this modern beneficial movement, the growers of the state who are the first owners of the fruit and the greatest losers would see that it is done."

Students Solve Ban on Autos

Students at the University of Oklahoma at Norman lost their fight against the ruling prohibiting student automobiles, but they don't mind. Bill Jackson and Alton Moe Kistler have decided to let Dobbin do the worrying about the traffic, while Warren Hatfield and Leo Sinks are talking it over in the rumble seat.

Girl Leader of I. W. W. Strikers

Milka Sallich, 19, whose speeches have stirred the miners in the southern coal fields of Colorado, is pictured above with a broken arm she sustained in an attack upon a mine. The girl, attired in a red dress, was leading strikers to the mine property when she was trampled by a mine guard's horse.

New Form Of Morphine Is Blamed For Increased Use Of Drugs In Large Cities

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Investigation of the sudden increase in drug addicts here has disclosed the fact that a new form of morphine called "cop-dodger" is responsible.

This narcotic is apparently so harmless in appearance that it has been smuggled past the eyes of the most vigilant detectives. The drug traffickers have discovered that this dope gets by so easily they have adopted the "cop-dodger" cognomen for their wares.

All Young Men The new victims in the latest thing in drug-using, are practically all young men.

"These boys never took a drug before," said Chief City Magistrate William McAdoo after conducting an investigation of the new evil. "For that reason it is doubly dangerous thing. This fraudulent drug is more deadly than heroin or opium."

About 85 per cent of our drug addicts take the drug heroin. Recently, however, they tell me that the peddlers from whom they have bought heroin are offering them "cop-dodger" instead. The addicts say they can get an equal effect from $5 worth of cop-dodger as against $15 to $25 for heroin. "Cop-dodger is really morphine. It is made in such form that once smuggled across the customs barrier it is simple to turn this preparation into morphine." A Federal law passed several years ago forbids the manufacture and distribution of heroin. It is now principally a product of Germany and Switzerland, according to drug experts, and exported by smugglers into this country.

Cleveland Meat Dealers Are Planning To Teach Women How To Pick Cuts And How To Prepare And Serve Them

CLEVELAND, O.—Nov. 7.—Hundreds of retail meat dealers will participate in an educational campaign here prior to the livestock show and agriculture exposition in Public Hall, November 15-19.

Teaching housewives how to select meat cuts, how to best to prepare and serve it and teaching the retailer how to cut meats and how to tell the different grades, the campaign will consist of window displays, show exhibits, lectures by experts on various topics of the meat selling industry.

The choicest meats of all kinds will be shown in displays by local dealers, who hope to equal last year's record of the biggest meat exhibit in the United States.

Authorities Cooperate The meat dealers' organization will have the cooperation of state and federal authorities, its own terminal hall, and of the National Live Stock and Meat Board of Cleveland in the campaign, and show exhibits.

Cleveland packers and provisioners will have a hand in the movement, and will help with the preliminary window display campaign to be staged by dealers for the livestock show.

A meat market of 1875 will be replaced by a modern one, a complete contrast to the progress made in only a few years.

To Display Meats

"The meat dealer of 1875," declared Arthur Woods, a spokesman for the local community, "had to buy his meat from round pen blocks, which covered corners, with refrigeration poor, if any. Women markets equipped with electric devices for cooling, lighting, and lighting men sanitary conditions, and a bright, perfect in sleeping and efficiency in management. At present, the price of meats today all considered is lower than then."

The modern meats will be supplemented to displays of almost every known meat-producing animal on the show.

industries have all dropped, states his report, from the high levels of prosperity of last year, and the first months of the year, and manufacturers are reported to be reducing the high rates of industrial wages to reduce their costs. Profits have been cut to narrow margins, according to these authorities.

The British Board of Trade Journal, sums up the report cautiously indicating "the possibility of a serious pause in the long sustained forward movement," and this would appear to be the official attitude of the British Government toward the report.

"The installment system was apparently reached a point whence it cannot be much further expanded with safety," in the opinion of the authors of the report.

"A super-abundance of investment funds based in the last analysis on a large supply and continued influx of gold, has produced inflation in the securities market," they declare. "With the notable exception of one or two branches of industry and a few individual concerns the profits of industrial corporations even some of the strongest and most efficient, have been reduced by keen mutual competition high wages, largely developed producing capacity and a declining tendency of wholesale prices to narrow margins."

"Foreseeing a still more severe struggle for markets, and with no great prospect of curtailing producing costs much farther by improved mechanical equipment, many manufacturers are beginning to turn an inquiring eye on the high levels of industrial wages, and a prolonged lay in activity would undoubtedly give rise to a vigorous canvassing of the possibility of a general wage reduction."

Cost of Distribution

"Costs of distribution, generally speaking are very high, and there is a noticeable lack of correspondence in many lines between whole sale and retail prices."

"Notwithstanding an encouraging rise in the prices of some agricultural commodities, there is still a wide margin between general agricultural and general industrial prices, and the position in some sections of the farming community which has been a weak link in the chain of general prosperity, continues to be unsettled and uncertain."

"The position in the motor-car industry another prop of general activity, is mixed, a few manufacturers having gained ground in a severe competition and many more have lost it, with the general result of somewhat curtailed output."

"The iron and steel industries after a very active period early in the year, have slowed down to a notable degree, with forward orders lower than they have been for a long time past and prices at unprofitable levels."

"The soft coal mining industry has been in the throes of a costly strike. The petroleum industry is in a critical state owing to over production and congestion of crude oil and gasoline. Over production also hampers the woolen and silk textile industries."

This Is Why Tourists Had to Detour

When the City of Joliet, United States Shipping Board vessel, rammed the Old Spanish Trail highway bridge at Westlake, La., destroying the lift, tourists had to detour 100 miles. It was said the ship was engaged and the steel cut not taken through the bridge to make the turn to a wharf near the bridge.

Double Slayer Meets His Brother

This picture was taken when Henry Mott (left), confessed slayer of his wife and sister-in-law in New Orleans, met his brother Joe (right), whose wife he killed. The photograph was taken while the brothers sat on a bench in the yard of the parish prison. Joe was held as a suspect for a time before Henry, who died, was captured.

Girl Bandit leader Swears Off Crime As She Goes To Pen

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 7.—(INS)—"Never again!" No more jail breaks. No more holidays. No more safe robbers for pals.

On the eve of her departure for the state penitentiary at Nashville, where she must serve five years, Gladys Malone, alleged leader of attempted jail breaks, bandits and yegzmen, made many resolutions. "Never again!" were her words of criminal activities.

Gladys, divorced wife of Malone, professional bondswoman, was once tried as a bandit but freed. Then she married Red Ashworth, alleged gangster from Birmingham. She was charged with being the "Queen" of the Asworth gang. "Queen," and pleaded guilty and sentenced to serve five years. She was given ten years.

"But I'm through now," Gladys told Sheriff Knight. "I will get Red out. I loved him but I don't care what happens to me now."

"I am going to be a model prisoner and earn my parole as soon as I can. Then for the great spaces of the west, where I am going to settle down, get a job and start over again. I never had a chance of a chance."

Miss Maud Clarke Given Appointment By Librarian Chief

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Nov. 7.—(INS)—Miss Olive Brumbaugh of Orlando, President of the Florida State Library Association, has appointed Miss Maud E. Clarke, librarian of the Memorial library here, as State Librarian of Districts.

The state has been divided into districts of the state will be held in each division this fall. Miss Frances Givens of Tallahassee was the first chairman of the districts. Miss Brumbaugh succeeds her.

The Florida State Library Association is a branch of the American Library Association, organized at the First Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1876. Its foster developments of libraries make books a vital educational force in American life, and make libraries easily accessible to all the people.

The activities of unscrupulous real estate speculators who had to sell at a profit and earn nothing for the public's safety and protection from financial loss, Mr. Kohn said.

It's fun to shop with Sally!

"Shop" is scarcely the word to say—she's so assured and jaunty about it. You love to go along. Her clothes are quite the thing as she swings expectantly down the street. Her complexion is young, lovely. And so eager, alert, is her gay, clean mind that into this shop she hastens, then out with a bundle. Into that shop, then out with another. "Yes, this is the right cold cream," selecting the simplest of two jars—the white, fluffy insides looking alike, equally fragrant. You'd think her rather casual about her purchases, till home again she unwraps the finest powder money can buy. The cake of soap kindest for Sally's skin. Sheer chiffon hose of wonderful wear. And they prove the finest powder, kindest soap, longest wearing sheer hose.

Every shop trip Sally makes a triumphant adventure. Out of magazines and newspapers she gathers the news that means getting what she wants, in the style and quality she wants it, at a price it is right to expect to pay. She never wishes after she's bought one thing that she'd considered longer and bought another. For Sally is sure. She has faith in her own good judgment and taste. Her choices come from an easy, happy survey of all that is buyable.

Sally reads the advertisements and remembers their news.

If you read the advertisements regularly, you can appraise what you buy with clear, calm judgment of a professional
