IRELAND MADE FREE STATE BY MAJORITY VOTE IN THE DAIL EAREANN COUNCIL

Ratified the Treaty On Saturday by Vote of 64 to 57

D'VALERA OBJECTS

BUT MAJORITY OF IRISH PEOPLE ARE TIRED OF FIGHTING AND TIRED OF HIS LEADERSHIP

(By The Associated Press)
DUBLIN, Jan. 9.—A motion to re-elect Eamon DeValera president of the Irish republic was defeated in Dail Eireann today by a vote of fifty-eight to sixty.

DUBLIN, Jan. 9.—As soon as the Dail Eireann convened this morning Eamon DeValera arose and placed his resignation as president of the Irish republic formally before the house. Mrs. Thomas J. Clarke moved the re-election of DeValera as president of the Republic. Liam Mellows seconded the motion.

(By The Associated Press)
DUBLIN, Jan. 9.—The treaty creating the Irish free state, was ratified Saturday night by the Dail Eireann. By a majority of seven votes, 64 to 57, the Dail gave its approval to the document signed by its delegates at London.

Coincidentally Eamon de Valera announced his resignation from the presidency of the Irish republic.

The news was received with greatest enthusiasm, and the patient crowds, which had waited for hours outside the University buildings in anticipation of a decision, burst into cheering, even before the official figures were announced.

Ratification of the treaty came after a day of intense excitement and heated controversy. Although the result was as had been expected, the majority in favor of the agreement was greater than had been counted upon almost up to the last minute.

A tense, strained silence prevailed while the vote was being taken, and a gasp of relief went up from the supporters of the treaty when the result was announced. A dramatic scene ensued when DeValera stood up and in broken voice which vibrated with emotion declared that "the republic" must be carried on.

Eventually he broke down so completely that he was unable to proceed. The Dail Eireann, with one accord, applauded and cheered him.

The situation at the adjournment of the Dail appeared to remain chaotic. The Dail will meet today and there is no disposition revealed by De Valera and his followers to abandon the factional struggle.

The future control of the Irish republican army is the subject of anxious speculation, as Charles Burgess, who strongly opposed the treaty, is the minister of defense. So far as the public is concerned, Dublin seems delighted over ratification. Arthur Griffith and his colleagues on emerging from parliament were wildly cheered and the city last night was in jubilant spirits.

Federal Prohibition Officer Pans Local Officers

Majority of County Officials Unwilling to Support Prohibition

(By The Associated Press)
TAMPA, Jan. 9.—Assessments that the majority of county offices in the state are not supporting the enforcement of prohibition laws and that many of them are violators of the laws themselves, was made by A. L. Allen, federal director of prohibition for Florida, in a recent statement, summing up the work of his department during the five months of 1921 that he was directing the work.

While he did not feel "jubilant" over enforcement conditions he feels that his men have done exceptionally well, Director Allen said. Increase in his force of 10 per cent is expected to be authorized within a month, he said, and it is his understanding that Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, at Washington, is seeking to obtain an agreement with England looking towards the curbing of the flow of contraband whiskey from Miami.

Seven vessels and 27 automobiles were confiscated as whiskey runners during his tenure of office beginning August 1, he said. Whiskey seizures totalled 20,912 quarts while the quantity of mash taken amounted to 55,777 gallons.

A considerable part of the moonshine industry in the state, according to Mr. Allen, can be traced to the low market prices for cane syrup and the over-production of sugar cane.

"The last year," he said, "our farm crops were small, except for cane crop which was larger than usual. One year ago this month cane syrup was selling at $1.50 a gallon. This year, with double the crop, people of West Florida have told me that they are offered only 35 to 40 cents a gallon for their syrup.

"Many of those people in those circumstances have found the parting of the ways and have sold their syrup to a bootlegging neighbor or have used it themselves in making moonshine. Only three gallons of syrup are necessary to make a quart of liquor. The market value of the syrup is $1.05 to $1.20 while the quart of moonshine will sell for $5 to $6."

"We have not received though," Mr. Allen asserted, "that hearty co-operation from the county officers of the state that is desired. The majority of the county office holders are unwilling to support the prohibition movement, and I have positive evidence that many of them are assisting the violators of the laws themselves."

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE GREAT, COOK ON CITY PLANNING GAVE ILLUSTRATED VIEWS

Civic Planning Specialist Gives Most Interesting
Address at Woman's Club

William A. Cook of the firm of Reasoner Bros., civic planning specialists held the attention of a small but interested audience at the Woman's Club last night, while he very ably spoke on a subject of which very few communities in this and other states know so little about.

It was indeed unfortunate that, owing to a confusion of dates, a larger number of Sanford people were not present. However, those in Sanford who are vitally interested in the beautification of the city and interested in its development along properly laid out plans, received a number of valuable ideas from the address of Mr. Cook.

Mr. Cook spoke of the need of a permanent municipal body, to whose responsibility would be charged the execution of plans for the beautifying and laying out of sections required for the subsequent growth of the haphazard methods now in vogue in all our Florida cities, where a few individuals voluntarily assume this work and pass it on to others who may be interested.

The illustrated portion of his address showed what had been accomplished in cities that had a well conceived idea of city planning. The illustrations also disclosed the good and bad in different plans which had been carried out elsewhere. Mr. Cook also spoke on the great values of civic centers or community buildings where strangers as well as local people could have a common ground for meeting. His views of the various flowers which could be grown in this state and used to beautify those municipalities interested in this work, were exceptionally excellent and probably assumed uncommon plants could be grown in Florida. In concluding his remarks, Mr. Cook pertinently stated that the only rewards accruing to those working in the interest of intelligent and artistic city planning was invariably the knowledge of work done for the betterment of the community.

The Welfare Department of the Woman's Club and the City Planning Committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the address was delivered, feel that they have gained materially from the address of Mr. Cook, and regret that there were not more present to have heard him.

SEMINOLE COUNTY FAIR MAY BE THE RESULT OF EFFORTS FOR SHOW

Plans that will eventually mean an annual event of great importance to Seminole County have just been completed by the Retail Merchants Committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce and the Home Economics Department of the Woman's Club, at a meeting held Friday of representatives of these two organizations.

The date of the opening of the Seminole County Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition, as this event will include a display of products of nationally prominent manufacturers in especially provided and in charge of demonstrators, a display of the agricultural products of Seminole County, and a Carnival Feature will be furnished by local talent.

This exhibition is the County Fair revived but greatly elaborated upon, and, if successful, will become a fixed annual event. Inasmuch as the entire County will attract the entire population of the County to Sanford during that period.

Further details of exhibits, committee arrangements etc. will subsequently appear in this paper, but in the meanwhile everyone should boost and work for that which present indications point to as being one of the biggest events arranged for Seminole County.

PUNCH MOTORIST CARD FOR EACH WARNING SO COURT WILL KNOW WHAT

(By The Associated Press)
JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 7.—The local police department is considering as the ire of a motorist. Chronic traffic rule violators would be rated by means of punch marks on their registration cards. When a motorist arouses the ire of a traffic officer by failing to obey signals or cutting the bases at street intersections the officers would demand the motorist's registration card and for each violation of the traffic rules punch it. Every motorist automatically would carry his record with him, the card would be exhibited in police court where the motorist was arraigned there, the court would know how many times the motorist had been reprimanded for violating the law. The court would deal with him according to his previous record.

FINE SINGING SHOW

"A Fine Singing Show," is the verdict of patrons of Joe Coburns Minstrels at all times. Manager Coburn gives his particular attention to the voices and the training of all solo and chorus numbers in his attraction and it is said this year's performance is above the average in this respect. "Cobe" is a capable musician as well as business manager and makes every effort to deliver the goods in every branch of the performance honestly and likewise demands the best efforts of those engaged at all times. There are many new voices in the male chorus, and one of the strongest numbers in the Ohio is a singing act comprising the soloists of the first part in a novel setting and costuming in combinations of voices and the latest numbers in place of the old Male Quartette. The past reputation of Coburns Minstrels in this respect should assure a first class attraction on the 10th day of Jan. at the Princess Theatre.

ORANGE COUNTY MAY BE RE-DISTRICTED SOON

ORLANDO, Jan. 9.—County commissioners are considering the proposal to redistrict the county and this much discussion project may be put into effect at the special meeting of the commissioners here on Monday.

Congestion at the polls of the two Orlando precincts has been a condition of elections for several years, and is growing more aggravated. It is believed at this time that the only relief would be to divide the city into four precincts instead of two, and thus allow four polling places.

There are twenty precincts in Orange county, Nos. 1 and 2 being in this city. In order not to disturb the numerical order outside the town it has been proposed to add two precincts here and number them 21 and 22. Otherwise the city precincts would be numbered consecutively 1, 2, and 4.

Brings Relief by Eliminating the Cause

DO YOU KNOW that pressure on the nerves, caused by a displacement of vertebrae, is the direct cause of a large number of diseases? Thousands of clinical observations have proved this beyond a doubt.

Chiropractic adjustment of the displaced vertebrae will in most cases completely restore the normal brain impulse to the affected part of your body and when that is done, Nature will make you well.

In fact, it is just like a short circuit in an electric current—it will not do its work until the break is repaired. Chiropractic works altogether on the spine at the place where derangements occur. Nothing is taken internally—no drugs, or surgery.

Come here and learn more about the splendid accomplishments of this new science. You cannot afford to ignore it if the price that disregarded be a life of continued misery and suffering.

THE COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT

There has been so much talk about the commission form of government at Jackson, Michigan, and their troubles were so much like our troubles in Florida that Jackson has been in the limelight in Tampa and other cities for some time. They evidently like the reversed order of things and like Sanford wanted the commission form with a few changes in the charter to fit their needs. The following from the Jackson Citizen-Patriot is good enough to reprint:

"The Citizen-Patriot believes any candid review of the past six years will prove to the satisfaction of open-minded citizens that more progress has been achieved in that time, under the commission charter, than in any quarter century under the old form. We believe it is easily demonstrable that shortcomings have been more the fault of the charter administrators, holding office in difficult times, than of the charter itself. We believe the certainty with which responsibility has been fixed, and the celerity with which a change of the majority of the commission has been brought about, is a demonstration of the great merits of the present charter. Every advocate of the aldermanic type of government knows full well that under the ward system it would have required years to accomplish the overturn that has been accomplished in the last three months, together with persistent sentiment favoring a change of aldermen which the people never demonstrated. The aldermanic, not the commission charter, made possible the persistence of a political oligarchy; and though many earnest and unselfish citizens served as aldermen at one time or another, they found their patriotic impulses foiled by a system that made real accomplishment impossible.

"But discussion of the qualities of commission and aldermanic government is out of order at this time. The election on January 5 is for the express purpose of choosing commissioners to revise the charter in such manner that the form of city government shall not be hanged. That was the mandate of the people when, last fall, the two questions, 'Shall the form of government be changed?' were submitted for decision. The decision was that the charter should be revised, and that the form of government should not be changed. Revision that would bring about a change of system, such as some of the charter commission candidates openly advocate, would be accomplishing by indirection something that was refused when it was put to direct vote of the people.

"Exactly the same warrant for electing the commissioners to revise the charter prohibits all present efforts to change the form of government to the ward-aldermanic system. The supporters of the aldermanic idea have had their day in court. The verdict was against them. Unless minorities accept the decree of majorities, democracy becomes anarchy. Any attempt to bring in at the side door of the charter revision committee subject matter that has already been decided by vote of the people themselves would be bad politics, bad sportsmanship, and as flagrant violation of the charter as any of which the commissioners have been accused. For the charter itself specifically prescribes the way for determining such matters, and the charter provision has been followed. And the people have ordered charter revision and have ordered that in the revision the form of government shall not be changed. This needs to be distinctly understood.

"Experience has shown the need of some revision, and the people have so voted. It would have been remarkable if the new charter had functioned perfectly when subjected to the strain of the past years of changing of the vote at the October primaries. But any honest interpretation must be that the essential principles of the present charter—concentration of authority and responsibility so that the divided responsibility and buck-passing of the old system is impossible, and the election of city commissioners by all the people irrespective to wards—must be preserved."

DAILY FOR FORT PIERCE

The Fort Pierce Tribune comes out this afternoon with a daily paper, the first for Fort Pierce. Editor Chapman in announcing the daily says all but three merchants in Fort Pierce have contracted for space in the new daily and this gives him a guarantee of enough advertising to make the daily pay. He says:

"For this daily we have to thank the merchants and people of Fort Pierce. Particularly the merchants and business men. Without them, the daily could not have an existence of a week. It is proper to make these acknowledgements and to state that there have not been more than three who have not gladly done all that they could do. These will do their part later. This has been an unanimous response. Great men, these! They have done well for the town and the people will undoubtedly appreciate their manly sacrifices."

Success to you, Brother Chapman. You will find Fort Pierce dates her growth from the time the Daily News starts.

FLORIDA RENTS FALLING.

Last year The News predicted that some of the tourist towns of the state were overdoing the rent boosting game, and that sooner or later they would find that they had killed the goose that was laying. This seems to have happened. Orlando, St. Petersburg, Miami and the others are proclaiming to the world that they have reduced rents to pre-war prices. But the St. Petersburg Independent very candidly declares that the reductions came too late, for "it should have been made last summer," says the Independent, or at the opening of the tourist season. Had the cuts been made last summer the Chamber of Commerce could have advertised the fact throughout the country and thousands of people who have stayed in the north this season would have come here, attracted by the low rents. But property owners saw fit to put on the same, or even higher, rents this season as were in effect last year, and there were large numbers of prospective tourists who felt that they could not afford these prices, so they stayed at home. Had they known that the prices were to come down they might have come here to spend the season.

"The market for houses and apartments here is badly demoralized. Some owners are 'taking what they can get' and this has worked a hardship upon owners of property who had all the time asked only reasonable rental. All kinds of living quarters are now being offered at prices that are less than will pay a fair return on investment. The excessive cutting of prices is as bad for the town as were the too-high prices demanded at the beginning of the season.

"The Chamber of Commerce, some farseeing real estate dealers and the independent urged the property owners last summer and fall to be reasonable in their rental charges, but were either laughed at or condemned for doing so. They ridiculed the independent's repeated urgency that the law of supply and demand would govern rentals just as it governs all other commercial matters and went ahead playing the game. But when, a little later on, the property owners began to 'get cold feet', the independent began urging them not to go to extremes. But again they let feeling get the best of business judgment and as a result the rental conditions are badly mixed up.

"The conditions are easily analyzed. The high rentals charged last year impelled people who wanted to winter in St. Petersburg to buy or build homes as the more economical plan. The erection of nearly a thousand residences was the result. And now those people are living in their homes, with the natural consequences of a much less demand for rental properties. In other words, conditions are adjusting themselves. It is the same old story of supply and demand. The lesson that must be learned and kept in mind in all business operations.—Palatka News.

US FARM FOLKS

We ain't much, us folks on the farm. When it comes to blowin' our horn; We jes' go on a-fillin' our barn, A-pillin' in oats an' hay an' corn. I reckon they worry a deal about us, Leastwise it 'pears to look that a-way; Nearly ever' meeting is called to discuss How we could make the old farm pay.

The mails is full o' lit'ature, All the law-books bulgin' with bills; Ever' political leader has got some cure He's puttin' out to end our ills. But seems they forgot their anxiety When the crops is sent into town; They're all to busy gittin' theirs, you see, So they can't help our price goin' down. It's all right, I reckon, to fill up the barns An' go on a-raisin' all the oats and corn. But pay nigh' a-comin' to the men on the farm Till they learn how to blow their horn.—Oklahoma Extension News.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Under This Head, Articles Pro and Con Regarding Municipal Ownership Will Be Published in the Herald.

REGARDING MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Orlando is about to vote on the municipal ownership question and the following contribution to the Reporter-Star from an Orlando citizen is good suggestion for Sanford:

"If we never expected Orlando to be any larger than it now is, or if we could be assured that under private ownership the relations would always be as pleasant as they now are, perhaps it would make but little difference whether the city acquired the water and light plants or not. But we do expect Orlando to be much larger and we cannot reasonably expect the present management of these plants to always remain in control.

A privately owned "public utility" is about the worst thing imaginable when the management is bad or their dealings with the public arbitrary and unpleasant. Under municipal ownership when such a condition arises, we change it. I am thinking now of one city in which the management of the water plant became so rank that a citizen always left the company's office with murder in his heart whenever he had occasion to visit it. It is needless to say that the city took over that plant at the first opportunity. Within two years from so doing the water mains had been extended many miles, a sinking fund for the payment of the bonds was well on its way and there had been a substantial reduction in rates to consumers. The cost of water in that city is now the least of their troubles. I note that the chief objection expressed against municipal ownership of the water and light plants is that they would not be economically and efficiently managed, and that they would be subject of graft, etc., etc. Is there any reason to believe that the city cannot attain the services of just as good men as a corporation can? I have lived here under the administrations of Mayors Reynolds, Sperry, Giles and Duckworth, and have yet to learn that there has been any suspicion of public graft during their terms of office, and have no doubt but what they would have found men to properly conduct these plants had the city owned them.

"It is to be regretted that any one should believe that there cannot be common honesty in public affairs. Should the city acquire these plants it may confidently be expected that in time with our town's natural growth there will be a sufficient reduction in rates to consumers to more than pay their individual share of the bonds. "These plants will some day become our city's greatest asset."

THE WEATHER

Not so bad at 75 here on the 9th day of January and Coburn's Minstrels coming in tomorrow while Osborne Herndon jumps "Out of the Old Nest" tonight at the Star. Nice heavy London fog for this morning which made us think of other days when there was nothing on our mind but keeping out of the fog, yes. However, these foggy days will give way to nice, cold, crisp weather in a few days and then we shall begin shipping that celery crop that will put all of us 365 days behind that trip to the poor farm. Have you a little copper still in your home?

THREE SESSIONS DAILY AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

3. 4-5- AND 7:30 P. M.

The Sanford Bible Conference under the auspices of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago began its meetings in the local churches yesterday with a large attendance at all the services. Meetings will be held three daily this week in the Presbyterian church, and it is expected that large crowds will attend all services. The hours for services are 3 to 4 p. m., 4 to 5 p. m., and 7:30 p. m. Speakers of national reputation are on the Conference program and the local pastors are enthusiastic over the outlook for a great spiritual awakening in Sanford.

The Sanford Conference is one of a series of Bible Conferences being put on in the southeast by the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Wherever the Conferences have been held the churches have been delighted, and in most every place return engagements are being booked.

The speakers for Sanford are Dr. Henry Ostrom, Dr. George Guille, Dr. Julien Rodgers, and Rev. A. C. Shuler. The music which is to be one of the features of the Conference is being directed by P. M. Boyd of the Methodist church.

Mr. Boyd urges the members of all the choirs in the city to join his chorus. The music starts promptly at 7:30.
