BOOM.....

Seminole County should experience a "boom" in new housing beginning in the last three months of 1983, Florida State Employment Analyst Sterling Tuck said today.

Tuck said the area's economy should improve slightly throughout the year. But he predicted new housing starts will skyrocket in the last quarter of the year.

"If interest rates continue to go down there will be a strong increase in housing starts," he said.

Tuck said the housing industry is one of the biggest segments of the county's economy.

He has previously predicted a 5-year period of rapid growth in Seminole County.

Down To 6.4% In Seminole

By MICHEAL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County turned the corner on economic recovery in December, an analyst for the state employment service said today.

Sterling Tuck of the state agency's Winter Park office said the county's unemployment rate dropped in December.

It was the first decline in six months in the county's jobless rate.

The December rate was 6.4 percent, down 5 percent from November's revised 6.9 percent rate.

Seminole had followed the trend of other areas with joblessness climbing steadily throughout 1982. The July unemployment rate was 5.6 percent.

In December, 6,515 people were out of work in Seminole County, with 101,606 people holding jobs, Tuck said.

The county's December rate was far better than the same period in 1981 when the jobless rate was 7.4 percent.

Seminole County continued to fare better than its neighbors in the Orlando Metropolitan area.

Orange County registered an 8.4 percent jobless rate and Osceola County had a 13.5 percent rate. Seminole's low jobless rate brought the three-county rate down to 8.2 percent.

The national unemployment rate was 10.8 in December. The state jobless rate was 9.5 percent.

The employment decline in the second half of 1982 was attributed to continued poor economic conditions in other parts of the country, Tuck said.

As the economic crunch hit, many people reduced their travel plans, reducing the flow of tourists to Central Florida.

But a surge in buying in December spurred the economy forcing businesses to hire new employees.

In December, Tuck said the influx of new people to the area had contributed to the higher unemployment rate. About 30,500 jobs had been created in 1982 but an additional 38,900 people joined the workforce, he said.

The surge in newcomers has not had much effect on Seminole County, however, Tuck said. Most of those people have relocated to Orange County, driving up the jobless rate there.

Tuck said Seminole County's electronics industry has continued to remain strong through the recession.

"I'm pleased that they've done so well in the electronics industry," he said. "They haven't gotten any bigger but they've held their own."

Sale Of Bonds Is Approved For Apartments

Seminole County commissioners have given the go-ahead for the sale of $7.5 million in bonds to construct 328 apartments in Altamonte Springs.

Commissioners have approved the bond sale by the Orange County Housing Finance Authority to finance construction of Jamestown Apartments on Douglas Road by Oxford Development Co.

The bond issue was approved in December but because the bonds were not sold by Jan. 1 the issue was brought back for reapproval Tuesday.

The project is designed to provide housing for low and moderate income families. According to the bond resolution, the developer must rent 20 percent of the apartments to people earning less than 80 percent of the county median income of $20,200. People with incomes of $18,120 or less would qualify.

The remaining 80 percent of the apartments can be rented to people with incomes of $30,000 or less.

Sam Mazzotta, executive director of the housing authority said the bond resolution allows the developer to defer the costs of construction over a 20-year period.

The developer is free to set rents at whatever level he chooses but they must be affordable to the low income residents who are eligible to live there. Low rents for the low-income residents are subsidized by rents of the project's other tenants.

Mazzotta said no tax funds are used in the operation of the projects.

He added that no rent caps are placed on the apartments to ensure they will be quality apartments. Rent caps force a developer to build back to the lower income level, he said.

Mazzotta, a former developer with Cardinal Industries, said the tri-county housing authority, which is composed of Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties, has drawn favorable comments from other housing authorities in the county.

Most authorities serve only one county, he said, causing a great deal of competition between counties for projects.

Mazzotta regards the Seminole County projects as very successful. This is the third apartment complex financed through the authority.

He said the authority is also meeting the needs of the community.

Developers must rent the low-income units before they rent the higher income apartments. If the apartments have less than the 20 percent make-up of low-income residents, the authority can force the developer to re-pay the entire bond issue immediately.

The Charter Mortgage Co. found that the Orlando Metropolitan Area has a 96 percent rental occupancy rate. A 93 percent rate is considered normal, the 96 percent rate means there are very few apartments available for renters.

An East Central Regional Planning Agency report showed a need for 5,000 new apartments in the metropolitan area for each of the next five years. — MICHEAL BEHA

Fire Destroys Bankrupt Firm's Plant

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

A fire today which destroyed a 27,500-square-foot manufacturing plant owned by the bankrupt American Wood Products, Inc., on West Marvin Avenue in Longwood is under investigation.

Longwood Fire Chief Charles Chapman said the fire was first reported at 3:10 a.m. today by a newspaper carrier. When the firefighters arrived on the scene they found the entire building in flames and the roof had collapsed. Much of the sawmill equipment in the steel building already had been sold at auction, the chief said.

The building was one of several in the complex. An estimate of the value of the destroyed building was not available.

The Longwood Fire Department was assisted in putting out the blaze by units from Seminole County, Altamonte Springs and Orange County. There were four engines, a tanker, a ladder truck, rescue unit and squad vehicle involved in the operation.

"It is a very confusing situation, trying to determine the state of ownership of the business, the buildings and the property, because it has just gone through bankruptcy and there are several different parties involved," Chapman said.

Former company owner Wayne Rohlfing of 106 Squire Hill Road in Longwood was not available for comment today.

Mrs. Rohlfing said her husband was no longer connected with the property as it is in bankruptcy.

The fire is being investigated by the state Fire Marshal's office and the Longwood fire and police departments.

None of the three investigators would comment this morning on the possible cause of the fire.

In 1966 Rohlfing and Loren Stake, both from Chicago, teamed to start American Wood Products with the intention of being a small fence manufacturing company.

At one time, American Wood Products was reported to be the largest independent fence manufacturing company in the United States.

Economic Indicators Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's sensitive leading economic indicators climbed a strong 1.5 percent last month, the biggest upward movement since well before the current recession began, the Commerce Department said today.

The advance was hailed as "good news" by President Reagan Thursday night when he reassured Republicans, "I think we've made a solid beginning on the difficult tasks of giving the government back to the people — a healthy economy back to free enterprise, and a strong defense back to the free world."

Six of the 10 indicators were up in December, led by a surge in orders for factory machinery and other improvements.

The latest increase was the biggest since September 1980's 2.8 percent.

U.S., State Officials Pursue Dump Case

By DONNA ESTES

Arthur Greer and his Resource Conservation and Recovery of American, Inc., the successor company to City Chemicals Co., Inc., is being pursued by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the state Department of Environmental Regulation and the state of Florida through Attorney General Jim Smith's office.

Last week, Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. at Sanford gave Smith's office permission to enter a pending suit against Greer's firm and to add Greer, personally, as a defendant in the case. Also added as a defendant was Evergreen Enterprises, a subsidiary of the Seminole Employment Economic Development Corporation. (SEEDCO).

The suit, originally filed against Greer's company by the state DER and the city of Sanford, is an attempt to collect $186,000 the firm borrowed from DER trust funds to clean up a chemical waste storage facility on a two-acre parcel off Jewett Lane and Airport Boulevard in Sanford.

The old City Chemicals Co., Inc. stored some 3,264 barrels of chemical waste at the site it leased from Evergreen Enterprises. Evergreen has insisted that the Forsythe Road company violated its lease agreement by storing hazardous chemicals at the site.

Although Greer had been removed from the suit earlier as a party defendant, Davis allowed his name to be included again. The state says Greer, as an individual, pledged repayment of a state loan.

Meanwhile, the EPA this week levied a $50,000 fine against Resource Conservation and Recovery for its failure to correct violations of federal regulations in the operations of its main plant on Forsythe Road in Goldsboro.

The federal agency issued a compliance order in April 1981 ordering the company to correct various safety and health violations at its Goldenrod plant.

Sanford officials in November 1981 found the old City Chemicals Co. was storing more than 3,000 barrels of waste chemicals at a site leased from Evergreen Enterprises.

Last spring, the firm began moving the chemicals under an order from DER and after DER had agreed to lend the firm $186,000 to accomplish the task. Repayment of the loan with 18 percent annual interest was to have begun by August 1982.

DER finally gave City Chemicals a November deadline to begin repayment and when the firm missed the deadline, DER filed its new suit to collect.

Under Davis' order, DER has 30 days to amend its lawsuit, naming the additional defendants and adding the attorney general as one of the plaintiffs.

Schools Alter Work Plans

By MICHEAL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

About $9,000 in change orders for two construction projects have been approved by the Seminole County School Board, but not without a lot of complaints from board members.

Already smarting from $4 million in budget cuts, board members were reluctant to pay for the changes, which they claimed weren't their responsibility.

Graham Contracting Inc., of Orlando submitted the change order to place 80 feet of conduit to connect the Allan F. Keeth Elementary School in Winter Springs with a transformer being installed by Florida Power Corp.

Benny Arnold, assistant superintendent for facilities, said Florida Power had "changed its mind" about the location of the transformer after the plans for the school were approved.

He said company officials had decided to move it because the new location was more removed from buildings and provided better access for repairs.

Arnold said the county had no choice but to approve the change order. "Some things in life aren't very fair. This is one of them."

But board members decided they didn't have to accept the change. Members Jean Bryant and William Kroll voted against the change. Since Nancy Warren was absent from the meeting, the vote was a 2-2 tie.

Arnold and Superintendent Robert Hughes pleaded with the board to reverse its decision.

Arnold said failure to approve the change order could result in a construction delay on the school, which is expected to be open by the beginning of the 1983-84 school year.

"I ask you to reconsider," Hughes said. "It could delay the project. I would hate to see us get bogged down on a $3 million project over a $4,000 change order."

Mrs. Bryant decided to change her vote, approving the change order with the stipulation that the district would file an appeal with the state Public Service Commission.

But Board Chairman Roland Williams doubted the action would have much effect. "I think we'll have the impact of a pebble in water."

Williams himself opposed a $4,963 change order to the $219,000 Oviedo High School re-roofing project.

The contractor on the project, General Roofing and Improvement of Casselberry, submitted the change order after a section of the roof was removed and a portion of the sub-roofing was discovered to have rotted.

The repairs to the section were necessary, GRI told Arnold.

"We have a case here where the contractor makes his best estimation of what the costs are and then comes back with additional costs," Williams said.

But Board Attorney Ned Julian said the costs could not have been anticipated. "This is something no one knows about until you open it up and actually take a look."

The change order was approved unanimously.

GROWTH.....

Seminole County schools didn't grow as much as expected this year, but that growth should come in the near future and it will hit like a tidal wave, according to Roger Harris, assistant superintendent for finance.

Harris had predicted about a 1.25 percent growth in the district's student population this year above the 36,000 enrolled last year.

But the growth was smaller than expected. Only a .7 percent increase was registered, Harris said. That shortfall caused some rather severe budgeting problems for the district, leaving the district about $1.7 million short on state funds for student attendance.

But the growth did have some impact on the schools. "We had to budget for 14 new teachers." Those teachers have an average salary of $18,700 and were added at the elementary and middle school level, Harris said.

"It's predicted by many that Seminole County is going to have a growth spurt of 4 or 5 percent," he said. "There is a pent-up demand for housing in the county."

Harris said growth should hit hard within the next three years, bringing at least 600 new students in to the district.

"I think we'll have one year of 3 percent growth. That's the equivalent of a new school." — MICHEAL BEHA

NATION IN BRIEF

Autoworkers Get The Word: 'Ya'll Come Back To Work'

DETROIT (UPI) — More than 21,000 General Motors Corp. workers at seven plants in six cities are celebrating the No. 1 automaker's announcement they will be recalled from indefinite layoff within the next three months.

In Fenton, Mo., a Chrysler Corp. executive said an agreement with the UAW will allow a truck plant idled since 1980 to reopen and produce the company's New Yorker line of luxury cars — putting at least 1,500 workers back on the job this summer.

But the most recent figures on industry-wide layoffs still are bleak for thousands of other workers. As of next week 265,550 will be on indefinite layoff and another 13,600 will be on temporary layoffs in the nation's five auto manufacturers.

GM President F. James McDonald said his company's callbacks will be made possible by an increase in dealer orders resulting from an offer of 11.9 percent financing on new car loans.

About 9,000 workers will return to GM assembly plants while another 12,400 are being called back to component plants.

Sears May Have To Divest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One-stop shopping for dishwashers and loans has gone too far and retailers like Sears Roebuck & Co. may be forced to give up their financial services, a top federal ranking regulator warned.

William M. Isaac, director of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, told reporters Thursday his agency is preparing proposals to Congress that would reverse the trend toward department stores offering financial services.

Man Who Played 'E.T.' Dead

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (UPI) — Michael Patrick Bilon, a 34-inch-tall actor who donned a costume almost as heavy as himself to bring the tiny space traveler in the movie "E.T." to life, died of complications from a blood infection Thursday. He was 35. Bilon, died at St. Elizabeth Hospital after being admitted Wednesday with the infection.

Because of a bone impaction, Bilon grew to be only 2 feet, 10 inches tall, but during his lifetime he also held jobs as aouncer, an undercover agent and a grade-school basketball coach.

Jobs Bills Flood Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unemployment and what to do about it is the No. 1 issue on Capitol Hill, with leaders of both parties predicting passage of a jobs bill this year and individual members putting forth plans of their own.

"The question is not if there will be a jobs program, but what it will look like," Sen. Dan Quayle, R-Ind., said at a news conference Thursday where he unveiled his four-point plan to deal with unemployment.

Quayle, who is a member of the Senate Budget Committee, said he was sure Congress could find the $2.1 billion necessary to pay for his plan which would put 250,000 people to work by expanding existing federal labor-intensive programs.

He conceded the number of people that would be helped by his proposal is small, compared to the nearly 12 million unemployed, about 10.8 percent, but he said by the time the one-year plan was over, the economy should be in a recovery.

Other parts of his plan would create a voucher system for unemployment benefits, increase funding for the dislocated worker retraining program, and encourage the federal government to target its procurement contracts in areas of high unemployment.

As the lawmakers discussed plans for a jobs bill, the Labor Department offered a glimmer of hope on the unemployment front.

It reported Wednesday, the number of American workers receiving regular state unemployment benefits dropped below the 4 million mark for the first time since last July.

At the same time, the department's Employment and Training Administration said new claims for benefits plummeted to 491,000 during the week ended Jan. 15, the lowest point in 16 months.

Presidential hopeful Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., introduced a jobs bill emphasizing repair, maintenance and rehabilitation of public facilities in high unemployment areas. It would cost $5 billion this year and $10 billion in fiscal 1984.

Cranston said the legislation would create 1 million public jobs this year.

Earlier in the day, House Speaker Thomas O'Neill pledged to give a top legislative priority to passing a bill to help at least some of the nation's 12 million unemployed.

O'Neill said he hopes a Democratic jobs plan will be ready by late February or early March. He told reporters passage of the $5 billion to $7 billion program will be his top priority after approval of Social Security legislation.

Democratic Leader Robert Byrd of West Virginia said Senate Democrats will propose a federal jobs bill "at least" as large as the $5 billion plan they unsuccessfully pushed late last year.

And Senate Republican Leader Howard Baker said, "I would expect to see some sort of jobs bill this year," but cautioned, "It has to be a reasonable size, quick enough and not just make work jobs."

3 Jailed After Two-Week Drug Probe

By VICTOR ASSERSOHN
Herald Staff Writer

Two men were in the Seminole County jail today under $8,000 bond each following their arrest Thursday night in a deal to sell drugs to undercover narcotics agents. A third suspect is being held under $5,000 bond.

The arrests follow a two-week investigation by Seminole County Drug Task Force agents. The bust netted a total of 372 pills with a street value of over $1,000.

Arrested were Anthony Charles Malone, 25, of 156, Lake Saxon Drive, Land of Lakes, Fla. who faces a total of 10 drug charges; Bruce Michael Brightman, 20, 105 Bayberry Road, Longwood, who faces eight drug charges, and Barry Ray Stockwell, 20, 743 Wymore Road, Altamonte Springs, who has been charged with having a forged driver's license.

The three were arrested in the parking lot of the Longwood Village shopping center outside a pharmacy which police say was the source of the pills.

Undercover agents first began their investigation on Jan. 14 when they met Malone at Suzanne's Oyster Bar, Dog Track Road, Longwood, when Malone offered to sell them 75 Valium (a tranquilizer) tablets for $20. They followed Malone to Edward's Sandwich shop at 905 Laura Street, Longwood, where Malone delivered the Valium to them, according to a police report.

Malone advised agents that the Valium came "directly out of the local pharmacy," the report says.

Three days later, agents contacted Malone who took them to the Longwood Village shopping center where they met with Brightman, who, says the report, worked at the pharmacy. Agents agreed to buy 100 Valium tablets and these were handed over by Brightman to Malone who gave them to the agents, says the report which added that the transaction was made from a vehicle registered to the Longwood pharmacy.

On Jan. 19, agents said they bought 10 Percodan, a morphine based tablet used as a painkiller, and 30 Valium tablets from Malone for $50. Two days later, nine Percodan were bought from Malone for $16 and agents also agreed to buy 50 Percodan and 25 Valium tablets for $125, the report said.

On Thursday, Brightman and Malone conspired to sell marijuana to the agents who bought another 33 Percodan for $50 the report said. The pair was then arrested and Brightman was found to be in possession of another 30 Percodan tablets, the report said. Stockwell, who was with Brightman and Malone at the pharmacy was also arrested.

4 GUN THROWN FROM ROBBERY CAR

Police trailing three people in a car after an armed robbery of an ABC liquor store in Orlando saw money flutter from a car and a handgun thrown out the window as the car approached the Interstate 4 junction with State Road 436 in Seminole County.

The car had been spotted by officer J. Halleran of the Orlando Police Department at about 10:30 p.m. Wednesday on Orange Avenue, Orlando, a few miles from the ABC liquor store at 1103 N. Mills Avenue, which had been held up at gunpoint a few minutes earlier.

Halleran followed a white and blue Buick onto I-4 and requested a back-up from Altamonte Springs police. As the car crossed the county line, money was thrown from the car after police turned on their blue lights and closed in according to Halleran's report.

After the car had been stopped and the three occupants arrested, cash and checks made out to the ABC, along with a pistol and ammunition, were found on the side of the road, the report said.

At Last, A Cure For Common Cold?

HOUSTON (UPI) — Baylor College of Medicine researchers say a nasal spray containing synthetic interferon — the protein touted as a possible weapon against cancer — might prevent some forms of the common cold.

"The results of the testing have been very positive," Dr. Stephen Greenburg said Thursday. "Much more work remains before we can speculate on how useful this approach could be."

Greenburg and Dr. Tobias Samo say tests conducted of college students suggest spraying interferon in the nose reduces susceptibility to some forms of colds.

Greenburg said a problem is that side effects of using the spray might prevent effective long-term use. He also said researchers were trying to find a lower dosage that might reduce side effects.

Greenburg said he and Samo recently completed tests of interferon nasal spray on 26 students at Texas A&M University in College Station. Fourteen of the test group received the experimental nasal spray, then were given nose drops containing a common cold virus. The other 12 got a regular nose spray without interferon plus viral material.

Only one of the 14 given the interferon spray got sick while eight of the 12 control subjects given spray with interferon became ill.

VEHICLE USED TO BREAK INTO GUNSHOP

A vehicle was used to pull away a burglar bar with a chain when thieves broke into the Rebel Gun Shop on State Road 434 in Longwood between 6 p.m. Monday and 1:57 a.m. Tuesday. A chain was found in the parking lot and there were indications that a vehicle was used to pull a steel bar off the door frame, according to a Seminole County sheriff's report.

Once inside, the bandits smashed glass display cabinets and stole eight handguns and ammunition. It was not immediately known what type of guns were taken in the raid on the shop owned by Julian Tigner of Casselberry.

SHOTGUN STOLEN

A single barrel shotgun was stolen from the home of Nancy Bruneau, 2420 Fieldingwood Road, Maitland, between 9:30 a.m. and 11:58 p.m. Wednesday.

AUTO PARTS STOLEN

A thief broke into a mobile home parked at Tom Norrell's junk yard, off State Road 427, Sanford, between 4 p.m. Tuesday and 11:02 a.m. Wednesday and stole 20 car starter motors, 20 alternators and two repair manuals together worth $285.

CAR BROKEN INTO

Clothing, cash and camera equipment worth $250 was stolen from a car parked at the Holiday Inn on State Road 46 east of Sanford between 4:30 and 9:07 a.m. Wednesday. The property was owned by Russell Johnson of North Hampton, Mass.

TRUCK JACKED UP — TIRES STOLEN

When driver Russell Barber of Rhode Island went out to his truck parked in the parking lot of Days Inn at State Road 46 and Interstate 4 at 7 a.m. on Tuesday, he found the truck had been jacked up and was sitting on blocks with eight truck tires worth $4,000 missing.

The truck belongs to R.C. Leasing Inc. of Rhode Island.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons were arrested in Seminole County for driving under the influence (DUI):

— Walter Benson, 41, whose address was not given on the arrest form, was arrested after his car was seen weaving on State Road 434 and Roberts Street at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday. He was charged with DUI, and driving with a suspended driver's license.

— Chester Williamson, 565 State Road 419, Winter Springs, was arrested at the Fairway Market Place, Winter Springs, at 1:27 a.m. Thursday. He was charged with DUI and failing to maintain a single lane.

— James Coulborne of Oviedo, was arrested Wednesday at 1:29 a.m. after his car was seen swerving across State Road 419 and nearly collided head-on with a police patrol car. He was charged with DUI, and having no drivers licence.

— James Crosswhite, 22, Palm Harbor, was arrested at 9 a.m. Saturday on Interstate 4 near Lake Mary Boulevard and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol. Police said he was driving 80 mph and was all over the road. Bond was set at $500.

Police Set Meeting To Review Sentence Reform

A breakfast meeting of the law enforcement units of Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Feb. 9 at the Sanford Airport with legislators from the three counties to discuss sentence reforms suggested by Louis Wainwright of the state Department of Corrections.

The meeting will be held at the Sanford Airport restaurant. Wainwright is suggesting that life sentences for capital crimes be reduced from the mandatory 25 years to 13 years to relieve overcrowded conditions in the state prison system.

Seminole Sheriff John Polk is actively opposing the proposal. The Florida Sheriff's Association is also considering a resolution of opposition. Also considering opposing the proposal is the Central Florida Criminal Justice association which met in Orlando Thursday night.

State Rep. Bobby Branley, R-Longwood, who has been serving on the state Corrections Overcrowding Task Force frowns on the idea.

Counties May Lose Power To Block Prison Sitings

TAMPA (UPI) — The Florida Legislature may be asked next session to give the state the power to condemn land for prison sites and to override local zoning controls if prison overcrowding becomes an emergency.

State Attorney General Jim Smith raised that possibility Thursday during a meeting of the Governor's Task Force on Prison Overcrowding.

The state, which faces a federal court mandate to significantly reduce prison overcrowding by June 30, 1985, has been rebuffed by local zoning boards in several counties where it has proposed building new state prisons.

Smith proposed if a county failed to select a site within six months, the state be allowed to step in and choose its own site.

Informant To Testify Today

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The government has set the stage for the presentation today of its key witness in the trial of Jamiel "Jimmy" Chagra for the murder of a San Antonio, Texas, federal judge.

The federal court jury is expected to hear testimony from Jerry Ray James, a double-killer from Leavenworth Federal Penitentiary in Kansas, and an hour and 15 minutes of secretly tape-recorded conversations he had with Chagra. In exchange for his assistance, James has been granted a conditional pardon for his crimes.

Chagra, 39, is accused of paying convicted hitman Charles V. Harrelson $250,000 to assassinate U.S. District Judge John H. "Maximum John" Wood Jr., who was scheduled to preside at his narcotics trial.

Processing Begins For Vietnamese-American Kids

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — The largest group of children fathered by Americans during the Vietnam War began final immigration processing today for the last leg of their long journey to new homes in the United States.

Fifty Vietnamese-American children arrived in Bangkok Thursday after emotional partings with family and friends in Ho Chi Minh City and were taken to the Phanat Nikhom refugee center, 60 miles southeast of Bangkok.

Authorities said only 21 of the children who arrived Thursday would be joining their fathers in the United States. The remainder would be cared for by foster parents or humanitarian agencies, they said.

Mubarak: U.S. Key To Peace

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak believes moderate Mideast governments like his are threatened by the impasse in the Israel-Arab peace negotiations and by crushing economic problems.

In both cases, he told American officials Thursday, the United States has a special responsibility.

According to U.S. officials, he delivered two messages in his talks in Washington:

— Time is running out for peace in the Middle East and the United States must make sure a golden opportunity is not missed.

— The United States has a further unique role, as aid-giver, to prevent massive economic problems in Egypt and other Arab countries from reversing the progress that has been made since the Camp David process began.

Port Authority Eyes Building Up Complex

The Seminole County Port Authority thinks the climate is right for new businesses to locate in Seminole County.

And to meet that need, the Port Authority has approved the construction of a 16,000-square-foot building at the Port of Sanford's complex west of Sanford.

Board members met Wednesday with representatives of Clifton Construction Co., a Cocoa firm which has already built three existing buildings at the port complex.

The authority has a contract with Clifton to build one more building after the $207,000 metal building is completed.

Port Authority Executive Director Dennis Dolgner said the local business climate is good and will get better in the next few months.

"I feel the market is going to be strong," Dolgner said. "We may have it leased before it's built."

Dolgner said two firms already leasing space at the port facility are asking for 6,000 more square feet for storage and office space.

Dolgner said it would not be unusual for the building to be leased by the time construction is completed. Clifton expects to have the building finished within four months.

Clifton will provide financing for the building as it has with two other buildings at the port. The port and the contractor split the profits from leases in the buildings, Dolgner said.

Soviets Propose Limited Ban On Nuclear Weapons

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Kremlin proposed a ban on battlefield nuclear weapons across a broad band of central Europe in a move diplomats said today was aimed at influencing upcoming West German elections.

The Soviet proposal, which would not cover medium-range nuclear missiles now under discussion at the Geneva arms talks — was announced by the Tass news agency Thursday and published today by the Communist party newspaper Pravda.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization deploys battlefield nuclear weapons in Europe as a counter against the numerically superior forces of tanks and soldiers from the Soviet Union and other Warsaw Pact countries.

The new Soviet proposal would require the removal of all such tactical weapons to the western and southwestern border regions of West Germany.

It appeared to be drafted with the March 6 West German elections in mind, Western diplomats said today. They also said such a battlefield weapons ban would cause difficulty for NATO planners.

But one diplomat who specializes in arms-control issues said it would have no effect on the level of conventional weapons and troop concentrations in the East bloc.

"We are trying to reduce the danger of surprise attack by either side by lowering the level of forces (through talks in Vienna)," the diplomat said. Those sessions, the Mutual and Balanced Force Reduction Talks (MBFR), resumed Thursday after a six-week recess. They have been deadlocked for 10 years.

The Soviet Union's proposal to limit battlefield nuclear weapons in Central Europe was designed to give ammunition to the growing anti-nuclear movement in West Germany prior to election six weeks away, analysts say.

"Their proposal seeks to hinder NATO's capacity to carry out the defense of Europe through its strategy of flexible response," the diplomat said. Flexible response refers to West's decision to recognize the possible necessity of using nuclear weapons in a so-called "first strike" to stop the onslaught of a Soviet tank thrust across the Iron Curtain.

The Soviet Union has pledged not to launch a first nuclear strike but has made no such pledge for conventional weapons.

A ban on battlefield nuclear weapons was first suggested last summer by an East-West commission headed by Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme.

The term generally refers to short-range missiles, tactical bombs and artillery shells, not the medium-range missiles whose numbers already are being negotiated in Geneva.

Remarkably, the Soviet delegate on the Palme commission dissented from that proposal at the time. Today's Kremlin proposal calls for a battlefield nuclear weapons-free zone double the size of the Palme recommendation.

The Soviet proposal urged a 370-mile-wide (600-kilometer) band parallel to the East-West confrontation line in Europe.

The Palme commission had suggested a 186-mile-wide zone, centered on the border between East and West Germany. The Soviets said such a corridor also should be extended to Northern Europe and south to the Balkans.

Temik Temporarily Banned

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The reported finding of traces of Temik in an Orange County well has prompted Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner to temporarily suspend the use of the pesticide in Florida.

Conner ordered the suspension Thursday after chemists in his agency confirmed finding "a low level" of aldicarb, a Temik component, in a water sample taken from a well near a Winter Garden citrus grove.

The agency said the well has been used for drinking water.

The presence of aldicarb was first discovered by the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, which has been sampling drinking water supplies in counties where Temik has been used.

Dr. C.H. Van Middelom, Conner's chief chemist, said this is the first time traces of Temik have been confirmed in a Florida drinking water supply.

The agency said residues of aldicarb previously were found in groundwater samples in Martin and Polk counties but there was no evidence the chemical had reached drinking water supplies.

Temik has been used in Florida mainly on citrus to protect the trees from insects. It has also been used to control potato pests.

The agency said no traces of the chemical have been found in citrus fruit or juices.

Temik critics have been pushing for a complete ban of the pesticide out of their belief that the pesticide lingers in the soil, eventually making its way into drinking water.

A special Temik task force appointed by Conner recommended on Jan. 14 that if traces of Temik were found in a well supplying drinking water, a moratorium be declared on the use of Temik within 1,000 feet of that well.

Conner said through his office that he decided to go beyond that recommendation and impose the statewide moratorium.

The task force also had recommended that the state require advance notice before Temik was used except for its use on potted plants. Conner subsequently issued that requirement as an agency order.

Hastings Testifies In His Own Behalf

MIAMI (UPI) — Alcee Hastings, the first federal judge ever to be tried on criminal charges while on the bench, took the stand today to defend himself against accusations he schemed with a friend to solicit a $150,000 bribe from two racketeers.

Hastings, 46, Florida's first black federal judge, has been directing his own defense in the bribery conspiracy trial, with the assistance of co-counsel Patricia Williams.

Ms. Williams called Hastings to the stand as the defense's 50th and final witness and did the questioning.

Hastings spoke about his background, and his relationship with his alleged co-conspirator, Washington D.C. attorney William A. Borders Jr.

The government accuses Hastings of scheming with Borders in 1981 to solicit $150,000 from brothers Frank and Thomas Romano, who had been convicted of racketeering in Hastings' court.

In exchange for the money, testimony has shown that Borders promised to have Hastings order $845,000 forfeited to the government returned to the Romano brothers. Hastings did issue such an order on Oct. 6, 1981, reversing his previous order that the money be forfeited.

Borders was convicted of bribery conspiracy charges last summer as result of an FBI undercover investigation and was sentenced to five years in prison. Hastings is being tried on charges of bribery conspiracy and obstruction of justice. Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison.

Hastings said he has known Borders for 13 years, but the relationship was "more political than social." He also said he was wary of Borders' "secretiveness."

"You come to know him (Borders) as a quiet man who has influence," Hastings said. "I consider his phone manner as different as any I have ever know. A lot of times, talking with Bill on the telephone, you know what you're saying, but not always what he is saying."

Presiding U.S. District Judge Edward Gignoux told the jury that questioning of Hastings will consume the whole day. He indicated the case will be put in jurors' hands for deliberation on Tuesday.

The defense contends Borders was a "noted influence peddler" who traded on the judge's good name, without Hastings' knowledge, to solicit a bribe from the Romanos.

Before taking the stand, Hastings and Ms. Williams had called 49 witnesses to the stand.

Teacher Test Results Did Not Compute

The report that about 30 percent of 6,943 would-be teachers flunked California's first teacher certification examination can only be described as shocking.

Can our colleges actually be giving education degrees to persons who can't read, or compute? According to test results, the depressing answer is yes, and in large numbers.

The new test of prospective teachers was mandated under a 1981 state law sponsored by state Sen. Gary Hart, D-Santa Barbara. Bill Honig, state superintendent of public instruction, set the minimum passing score for the reading portion of the test at 70 percent — barely a C-minus. He set the minimum passing score for the mathematics portion at 65 percent — a grade of D.

Honig says he is "deeply concerned" that so many candidates for teaching credentials, especially minorities, failed the examination.

We're troubled, too, about these woeful test scores.

Curiously, Honig refused to blame teacher-training schools for the high failure rate, saying it's part of a "general problem."

We disagree. Obviously, there is a general problem, but teachers' colleges contribute to that problem, a recycling of mediocrity, by passing and graduating poor students who then are expected to instruct others.

Carolyn Ellner, dean of education at California State University, was quick to suggest the test is discriminatory because of the higher failure rate for blacks and Hispanics.

Her assertion the test "may be culturally biased" doesn't make much sense, however, considering the contents of the examination.

The reading portion required prospective teachers to read a paragraph and answer multiple choice questions about its contents. The mathematics portion had relatively simple problems involving calculation of percentages and the solving of equations.

That this is the first time the test has been required for teacher certification leads us to wonder if our classrooms already hold teachers who lack sufficient knowledge to pass the examination and should not be certified.

Most education systems are blessed with many dedicated, well-qualified teachers. They should support efforts to ensure that those who follow them will be as well prepared.

Toward this end, all teachers should be tested to identify those with below-minimum reading and mathematical skills. Those who cannot pass the tests should either take remedial courses or find another profession.

A Marine's Marine

Gen. David M. Shoup, the 78-year-old retired Marine Corps commandant, who was buried recently in Arlington National Cemetery, possessed physical and intellectual courage that distinguishes the best in American military tradition.

Shoup received the Congressional Medal of Honor for unusual bravery under fire in the Pacific during World War II when, while wounded, he led a victorious assault on Japanese-held Tarawa in the Gilbert Islands. This episode was exemplary of his physical courage.

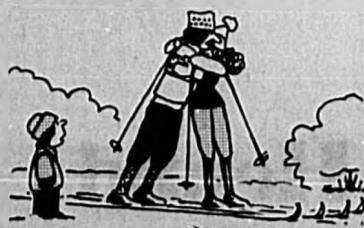

In 1967, four years after he retired as Marine commandant, Shoup had the intellectual courage to buck the establishment military line of the time and assert the vital interests of the United States were not involved in Vietnam and the U.S. role there should be confined to giving advice.

Shoup's sagacity was particularly evident during a memorable speech during the 1950s when he told the audience that nobody could say for certain when universal peace would be assured and he concluded:

"We do know that during the time we wait for this constant hope of mankind to come to pass, we must at all times be prepared. Prepared for any eventuality!"

That's still good advice and a fitting legacy from a Marine's Marine.

Motorists who drink and drive should not be lulled into a false sense of security that they will get away with drinking and driving because the accuracy of breathalyzers is being challenged in courts.

This warning comes from the Florida Highway Patrol which says it will continue to use the breathalyzer while further tests are carried out on the equipment.

Motions in Seminole and Orange county courts have recently been filed by defense lawyers to prevent breathalyzer results from being accepted as evidence because the testing equipment was affected by transmissions from police radios.

Robert A. Butterworth, executive director of the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles said that the equipment is being tested for possible interference from police transmission and "these have not supported the arguments raised by defense attorneys."

The Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services is helping in the testing of the breathalyzers and they say, points out the Highway Patrol, that only some machines are susceptible to interference.

And then, says the FHP, the breathalyzer has to be held very close to the source of interference before it is affected.

"Tests are continuing and the Florida Highway Patrol and other law enforcement agencies will take reasonable precautions to avoid any radio frequency interference that may be suggested by the tests.

"Impaired drivers should take no comfort in publicized accounts of radio frequency interference," said an FHP spokesman.

The Arms Control 'Process'

The press has been frying President Reagan over his decision to replace Eugene V. Rostow as head of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. In a move that shocked liberals and detentists in Washington and Europe, the President reminded all that he remembers his campaign promises on national security, the Russians, and arms control talks.

The reason given for Rostow's firing was the usual one that the President felt a "change" was needed, the way the owners of major league baseball teams replace managers who don't win. But Rostow wasn't let go for bad negotiating, far from it. Like the eternal optimists of diplomacy who talk of the "peace process" in the Middle East, Mr. Rostow believed that negotiations by wise men like himself and his aides must lead ultimately to the affixing of signatures on documents weighted with history.

Unfortunately, Mr. Rostow is wrong. The sad truth about arms control talks with the Soviets, like the Mideast peace process, is that both are futile attempts to reach unreachable goals.

One would have thought Mr. Rostow understood this elemental truism when he accepted the job as head of the U.S. arms control agency. He had been director of the Committee on the Present Danger, a bipartisan group of scholars, businessmen and former public officials who helped persuade the U.S. Senate not to approve SALT II in 1978. But it's understandable. After all, if one accepts a job as a negotiator, one expects to reach "agreement." That's what Mr. Rostow did. With his principal delegate to the Geneva talks on medium-range missiles, Paul H. Nitze, he approved a secret interim agreement with the Soviet representative last summer. The deal, quickly rejected by the Soviet government, would have limited U.S. and Soviet intermediate range nuclear missiles in Europe to somewhere between 50 and 100.

President Reagan's position is the "zero option," announced in November 1981. It specifies that the U.S. forego deployment of 572 Pershing II and cruise missiles in Europe if the Soviets dismantle the 250 SS-20 mobile nuclear missiles aimed at targets in Western Europe. Each SS-20 carries three separate warheads for a total of 750.

The Soviets have rejected the zero option outright. President Reagan, in firing Mr. Rostow, showed he is sticking to his position.

That is a turnabout for an American president, which the Soviets haven't yet figured out. Masra, Nixon, Ford, and Carter assured the American people they would be tough negotiators, and then approved damaging concessions to push the SALT talks along, in the hope of signing that alluring piece of parchment.

Instead, the Russians are polticking, supporting—can you believe it—our good Catholic bishops' call for a nuclear freeze, and pressuring West German chancellor Helmut Kohl to urge "flexibility" on the U.S. It's a nice piece of agit-prop, courtesy of that old pro, Yuri Andropov. It will require an equally agile response from President Reagan. Going ahead with the deployment of medium-range missiles in Europe would be just the right touch.

Attache Promoted But Misused Funds

WASHINGTON — Locked in the Defense Intelligence Agency's files is a strange case of military justice. It involves a high-ranking DIA official in West Germany who confessed to misappropriating government funds. Yet he was promoted, while officers who knew of his misconduct were removed from the scene.

My associate Donald Goldberg has seen investigative files and DIA cables. He has interviewed Pentagon officials and talked with sources at the U.S. Embassy in Bonn. Here's the story:

Air Force Col. Ronald Lord was first suspected three years ago of having misused several hundred dollars of DIA funds. He was stationed in Bonn at the time as the DIA's air attache for West Germany.

Lord's commanding officer, Col. Jack Calloway, called in the Air Force Office of Special Investigations. According to DIA cables, Lord confessed that he had taken the money, and he made restitution.

Calloway sent this message to Washington: "I see a fairly consistent pattern of decisions made by Col. Lord, all of which revealed bad judgment and some of which would seem to indicate that deliberate deception was involved... I request that Col. Lord be removed

'He says he needs new Pershing II missile to protect himself from bulles...I don't see any bulles...do you see any bulles?'

WILLIAM A. RUSHER

Reporter Tells It All...

NEW YORK (NEA) — We are privileged to have with us today, for the purpose of an interview, Mr. Jasper Knowlton, president of the White House Correspondents' Net and Trident Association. Thank you for taking the time to be with us, Mr. Knowlton.

K. A pleasure, Mr. Ruser, I assure you.

R. I think our readers would be interested in your explanation of the slogan of your organization: "There are no bad White House correspondents; only bad presidents." Could you discuss that?

K. Certainly. In the present historical epoch, White House correspondents are the natural enemies of presidents. It was not always so, of course — we were so fond of Jack Kennedy, for example, that we actually covered up for him. But, beginning with Lyndon Johnson and continuing right through the list of his successors down to date, the relationship has been an adversary one. Partly this is because we have disagreed with them politically, but an even bigger factor has been the growing power and importance of the media in American society. The Washington media, in particular, today constitute a major independent force in American life. That force is bound to be antagonistic to such earlier power centers as business and the presidency, because it is their rival. Hence our slogan.

R. I see. But what, then, do you visualize as the ultimate destiny of the Washington press corps?

K. Who can say? But you will note that, in a Washington where presidents come and go at a rate of one every four years, a senior correspondent for a television network like Sam Donaldson or Leslie Stahl or Roger Mudd, who may stick around for five times that long, is probably almost as well-known as any given president and certainly far more widely liked. And they simply leave U.S. senators — even big ones — in the dust.

R. Do you think, then, that we may someday see a television news personality make the leap into big-league politics?

K. Well, a Hollywood actor made it. (Ha, ha.) And as you may recall, Walter Cronkite took his time, to say the least, about declining John Anderson's invitation to take the vice presidential slot on his independent ticket in 1980.

R. True. Meanwhile, how does your organization recommend that its members deal with President Reagan?

K. It's high time to take the gloves off. Did you see Anthony Lewis's column in The New York Times the other day? Two years into the Reagan presidency, Americans are beginning to suspect the awful truth: They have a government incompetent to govern, a President frozen in ideological fantasy-land, an Administration spotted with fools and rogues. I wish I had said that.

R. Yes, but after all Lewis is a columnist these days, while your members are at least in theory, still correspondents — people who are "only interested in the facts," like Sergeant Friday.

K. A proper selection and presentation of facts can do the job faster and better than most columns. Take Mr. Reagan's budget message. We've got him whichever way he jumps. If he stands firm against major tax increases, we will report that he is obstinately defying the unanimous advice of his own aides and every expert who has ever studied the subject. If he decides to support tax increases, even several years from now, we will announce that he has backed down, reversed himself and thrown in the towel.

R. Proving, I suppose, that his administration is in total...

K. Disarray. Precisely. I may add that a few resignations from the Cabinet, like the recent ones, don't help the president's image either. It implies that the rats are deserting the sinking ship.

R. Speaking of muckles, do you think Mr. Reagan is likely to run again in 1984?

K. (After a long pause) No. At least, we certainly hope not. But if he does, you can be sure that our organization will spare no effort to tell America the whole story.

But the DIA handled the situation by leaving Lord at the Bonn embassy. Recently he was promoted to a post at the Allied Forces Central Europe headquarters in Brunsum, The Netherlands. His only punishment was a written reprimand in his personnel file.

Meanwhile, Calloway, his disciplinary recommendations ignored, hurried his already-scheduled retirement. One of his subordinates also took retirement ahead of schedule, while another was transferred back to the United States.

As a DIA officer's cable to the Pentagon observed: "Those who know the situation could only interpret it as a strange application of justice — a case of the jury finding the defendant guilty and then sentencing the witnesses to punishment."

JEFFREY HART

'Experts' Hate List

It's a screwy enough poll in a way, but—even if you correctly refuse to take it very solemnly—it still tells you something important.

For starters, reflect on the fact that a cross section of "expert" opinion on foreign affairs considers Ronald Reagan worse than Pol Pot as a national leader, and worse than Fidel Castro.

Here's how the poll worked. Columnist and investigative reporter Jack Anderson asked his opinion sample to rate the worst leaders in the world, and published the results in Parade of January 9.

Anderson appears to have tried to conduct an objective inquiry: "I sought out experts who have an eye for international disturbers of the peace. Yet I took pains to select experts who span the political spectrum. A team of six reporters, under the supervision of my associate Joseph Spear, placed more than 300 telephone calls to foreign affairs specialists in the State Department, Pentagon, Central Intelligence Agency, and Congress. The team also polled academics, journalists, and foreign diplomats. From the telephone responses, 50 experts were chosen for in-depth interviews, plus one for extra measure. All 51 responded to the question: 'In descending order, who, in your opinion, are the world's five worst leaders?'"

From the varied responses of this sample, Anderson was able to construct his total of 47 national leaders, in descending order of badness, the top spot going to the Ayatollah.

That's not especially surprising, but a lot of other things about these poll results are, well, startling.

For example, the "experts" consider both Pinochet of Chile and Begin of Israel to be worse than Brezhnev (the poll was taken before Brezhnev died), Pol Pot or Fidel Castro. Now Begin presides over a constitutional democracy that has a free press and he would no doubt leave office voluntarily if he lost an election. Life in Pinochet's Chile is light-years freer and more comfortable than life in any of the three communist countries.

As noted above, Ronald Reagan comes in at number 12. Here are some of the leaders the "experts" regard as preferable to Reagan: Pol Pot, Kim Il Sung of North Korea, Fidel Castro, Hoaha of Albania, Hussein of Iraq, Jaruzelski of Poland, LeDuan of Vietnam, and Mengistu of Ethiopia.

Oddly, the royal house of Saud is preferred to John Paul II.

About all this a couple of observations. First, what sticks out like a sore thumb is the irrational hatred expressed here for Ronald Reagan. In no rationale scale is he worse than Pol Pot, the genocidal Cambodian. What explains it, I think, is the serious challenge Reagan presents to the assumptions and status of the sort of people Anderson was polling. At an important level of Western society, the establishment is openly or implicitly socialist, and Reagan is challenging all of that. The establishment regards him with loathing and fear—the fear that his free-market philosophy will work and prevail and bring the socialist intellectual era to an end.

The second conclusion is that the people Anderson polled set little or no store by freedom. If freedom means anything at all, Pinochet of Chile is far preferable to Hoaha of Albania—but not in the eyes of these "experts."

And also, in a discredited phrase we used to employ, they seem to be pretty "soft on communism."

How To Treat Plants After Exposure To Cold Stress

The environment to which plants are subjected after cold stress affects the degree of injury and rate of symptom development. The post exposure environment is less important when cold stress is severe.

Intense light, low humidity and high temperatures following chilling of some tropical plants result in increased water loss through transpiration. Extreme water stress can develop if the chill exposure had disrupted water absorption, temporarily or permanently. Root systems of plants in field production are seldom frozen in Florida.

but roots of container-grown plants can be frozen for several consecutive hours. Clear skies are common when extremely low temperatures occur in Florida.

Sunny conditions on mornings after night freezes can result in rapid transpiration (water vapor loss) as leaves are warmed, but the soil-root mass may be frozen and unable to provide ample water to leaves, resulting in excessive water stress and leaf desiccation. Symptoms may not occur for several days and may be manifest as marginal leaf scorch or overall browning. Watering container-grown plants can thaw the soil-root mass and allow water absorption and transport to the leaves. Excessive water, however, can leach nutrients and cause root injury by water logging the growing medium.

Cold injury to roots may not be evident until spring when plants are stressed by high temperatures. Failure to initiate a spring growth flush may be the only visual symptom of winter injury and little can be done to minimize the effect of winter injury at this time.

Weakened or injured plants are more susceptible to disease attack, so growers should increase frequency of inspection and implement a preventative fungicide program if justified. Increased shade may also reduce heat or water stress during recovery periods. Justification of such efforts should be determined on an economic basis.

Pruning apparently damaged branches should be delayed until new growth appears or the degree of wood damage can be determined. This ensures that an excessive amount of live wood is not removed. Cold injured wood can be identified by examining the cambium layer (tissue just under the bark) for black or brown coloration. Prune these branches 2 to 3 cm behind the point of discoloration.

Inmates Can Rest Assured They'll Not Be Forgotten

DEAR ABBY: As a regular follower of your column, I read one of your recent replies in the San Francisco Chronicle in which you stated that the statute of limitations for the prosecution of rape in California is three years.

I thought you would be interested to know that since Jan. 1, 1982, the statute of limitations for rape has been six years, as a result of legislation which I authored in 1981. MILTON MARKS, STATE SENATOR, FIFTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT, SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.

DEAR SENATOR MARKS: Mea culpa. The lawyer who provided me with the outdated information discovered his error shortly after my column had already gone to press. He's a prominent attorney, presently attired in sackcloth and ashes, eating crow in San Francisco.

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I have always been close. Now that we're both married and have children, we are even closer. Just before the holidays, Sis' husband came over to borrow my floor scrubber and he tried to get fresh. I couldn't believe it, but there was no doubt of his intentions.

I told my husband, and he wanted to go to my brother-in-law's house and kill him, but we decided for my sister's sake not to say anything. I did tell my parents, and my dad's reaction was the same as my husband's. (My mother just said, "That's men for you.") For Sis' sake we all decided to drop it. My parents have completely dropped it, but my husband and I haven't. We've backed out of family gatherings. My sister keeps asking me why I'm mad at them, and I keep saying, "We have other plans," etc.

Even if I told her the truth, she'd probably say I was nuts or I must have led him on. What should I do?

KEEPING MY MOUTH SHUT
DEAR KEEPING: Join in on the family gatherings, but tell your brother-in-law that the next time he makes a move toward you, you will expose him to his wife and the entire family for the kind of person he is.

DEAR ABBY: A word to "Bill," an inmate at the Attica Correctional Facility, who wanted people to send Christmas cards and letters to inmates in prison so they would not feel "forgotten."

Abby, please assure him and others in his position that they shall never be forgotten — by their victims (if they are still alive) or their families.

Students Initiated Into Spanish Honor Society

Trinity Preparatory School's "Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica," (Spanish Honor Society) initiated 14 new members on Thursday at 7 p.m. in the school's library.

According to faculty sponsors, Roberta Turner and Margarita Ojeda, a student must maintain a B+ average in Spanish for a minimum of three semesters to be invited for membership.

"Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica" is sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese and was formally organized in 1963 as the Spanish National Honor Society. The Organization's purpose is to recognize high achievement in Spanish by students of secondary schools and to promote a continuity of interest in Hispanic studies.

Currently, 1,120 active chapters exist across the nation. Last year more than 13,000 students were initiated as new members.

Trinity's chapter, El Corado, was organized in 1981.

Dear Abby

FRIEND OF A VICTIM

DEAR ABBY: I was a lonely, frustrated widower after my wife passed away. Then a pretty young widow came along, and we seemed attracted to each other.

However, the only time I can see her is when I take her somewhere to spend money on her — to dinner, the theater, etc. For example, I bought tickets to a special dinner at a club. We arrived there in separate cars. After the dinner, she got into her car and I got into mine, and without even a handshake, she said good night.

This young woman is wearing my ring and says she loves me. I even loaned her money to pay off some debts.

Am I unreasonable to expect a little more personal attention? Or must I be content to see her only when there is something in it for her?

OLD ENOUGH TO KNOW BETTER

DEAR OLD: You and your fiancée (and that is what she is if she's wearing your ring) are not on the same wavelength. If you can't communicate with her now, shake hands and wave goodbye before you invest any more time or money in this relationship.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple, "do-your-own-thing" ceremony, get Abby's new booklet. Send $1 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (37 cents) envelope to: Abby's Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 35923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapters

XI BETA ETA

Marie Richter, artist and owner of the Chinaberry Tree Antique Shop, was guest artist at the Tuesday meeting of Xi Beta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. She demonstrated "wet" water color painting as well as a second "dry" water color of a pansy.

Mrs. Richter showed the members how shading and adding grey to bright colors gives depth to her subject. She also had numbers of her "animal critters" modeled from clay and placed on natural wood forms for members to enjoy. All were inspired by her ease and dexterity with her water colors.

Kathey Wallace, president, arranged the program, and she was presented with the finished pansy watercolor at the end of the meeting.

A welcome was given to Tess Morgan of Lake Mary, and Jane Birchett of Longwood guests at the meeting held in the home of Carol Ann Smith. The Valentine Girl's Luncheon to honor LJB Gordon will be held at H.B. Cassidays noon on Feb. 5. Members are to arrange for car pool.

The Valentine Ball deadline for reservations for chapters is Feb. 7 and members are to provide refreshments for the decorating committee on Feb. 12 at the Sanford Civic Center. Orange juice, coffee and donuts will be served.

Beta Sigma Phi state convention will be held June 3, 4 and 5 in West Palm Beach and deadline for reservations is May 1. Members are requested to bring donations for the Sanford Sharing Center to the next meeting. Following the meeting members joined in the Mitzpah and were served refreshments.

XI THETA EPSILON

The Moss Road home of Vickie Hall was the setting for the meeting of the Xi Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. President Faye Lord opened the business meeting reporting that this year the Beta Sigma Phi International Endowment Fund has contributed $114,400 to 13 different charitable, research, public service and hospital organizations. Xi Theta Epsilon supports and contributes to this worthy cause.

During the meeting the social committee announced a 1000 and games get together to be held at the home of Ginny Hagan. Additionally, members who were guests of the Seminole Mutual Concert Association, stated how much they enjoyed the performance of the Serendipity Singers.

In honor of the 25th wedding anniversary of member Ruth Gaines, the chapter presented her with a gift of cake and a silver candle holder to commemorate the occasion.

In keeping with the program outline "Communications", Linda Morris addressed the subject of TV and how it affects our lives for the group's consideration.

Refreshments were served to Tracey Wight, Laurel Rodgers, Vickie Hall, Donna Frank, Ginny Hagan, Tina Bojanowski, Ruth Gaines, Diane Gail, Linda Dunn, Linda Morris, Al Kurtz, Faye Lord and Lois Smith.

PRECEPTOR DELTA DELTA

Preceptor Delta Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi honored its Valentine Girl, Phyllis Senkarik, with a luncheon at Cassidays.

After the luncheon Mrs. Senkarik was presented a pewter figurine, a gift from her sisters. She collects miniature figurines.

Members attending were: Betty Jack, Linda Keeling, Eve Rogero, Margie Beine, Marion Farella, Wanda Hubbard, Leslie Pauline and Viola Frank.

The chapter surprised Viola and Dick Frank, who became grandparents again, by preparing and delivering to their home, a delicious meal. Congratulations grandparents!

The Valentine Ball chairman Margie Beine has asked that all chapters make their reservations as soon as possible, by contacting Vertis Sauls, who is in charge of reservations.

The proceeds from the ball will benefit the Seminole Mutual Concert Association. The ball is to be held on Feb. 12, at the Sanford Civic Center. Tickets are $15 a couple. A cash bar and free snacks will be available and a door prize, "Sea Escape Cruise for Two" will be given away.

Bryant's Death Brought Tears To Super Clubs

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — One of those down-home trulisms Bear Bryant liked to spring on his players whenever they had to go out and play in the rain was they'd soon find out players on both sides of the field got wet.

That was how it was Wednesday in the separate camps of both Super Bowl teams, the Miami Dolphins and Washington Redskins, when the news was relayed to the players on both sides that Alabama's great patriarch and legend, The Bear, had died of a heart attack at 89 in Tuscaloosa.

There was as much genuine sadness in one quarter as there was in the other since everyone on both teams either knew Bear Bryant personally, or had met him at one time or another. A number of those who will participate in Super Bowl XVII in nearby Pasadena Sunday played for him at Alabama.

All of them were shocked when they heard The Bear had died, but those who took it hardest were his "boys," the ones whom he had personally coached, like Don McNeal, Miami's speedy cornerback, or nose tackle Bob Baumhower, running back Tony Nathan and center Dwight Stephenson. Among the Redskins, running back Wilbur Jackson is a direct product of Bryant's coaching and administrative assistant Bill Hickman coached against him while he was still in the collegiate ranks.

Bryant could be gruff and tough sometimes, but he never fooled any of his players. They knew he was soft as marshmallow underneath it all. "He couldn't be any better to anyone than he was to me," said McNeal, visibly shaken. "He's always sent me a telegram before the season started, or after one of our ball games. Nothing fancy, just a few words to let me know he hadn't forgotten. He'd congratulate me if I contributed something special to our team or he'd tell me to have a good year and not forget some of the things I learned at Alabama."

McNeal is a native of Altmore, Ala., and since his mother died when he was six, he and his six sisters and three brothers, were raised by his father, Henry.

"When we had the strike this season, I went back home and Coach Bryant took me out to dinner," McNeal recalled. "We had a great time talking about everything ... I suppose the most important thing Coach Bryant taught me was to discipline myself. He could tell a lot just by looking at you. In some ways, his philosophy is the same as Coach (Don) Shula's."

Anywhere you go in football, you'll find one of Bear Bryant's friends. One of them, affable, white-haired Duffy Daugherty, who coached Michigan State for so many years, showed up at NFL headquarters Wednesday shortly after word had come in The Bear had died. Daugherty knew Bryant nearly 40 years and was supposed to meet him in Las Vegas Friday because they were going to analyze Sunday's game together.

"I've never known a more thoughtful person in my life than Paul," declared Daugherty. "I've never met any of his former players who didn't have a good word for him. I remember him, Jim Tatum and I conducting clinics together in Japan during the summer of 1966 and I never coached a game thereafter I didn't get a wire beforehand from both of them — up until Jim died a few years ago, anyway — wishing me luck."

"Paul was one of the most delightful people you could hope to meet. He'd invite me down to speak to his teams and he had a great impact on me."

Near the end, Bryant, who had retired as coach of Alabama this past season but remained as athletic director for the Crimson Tide, was growing tired. That was what he told me, anyway. He also said it wasn't as much fun sitting up there coaching from that high tower they have in Tuscaloosa, and he didn't enjoy it as much as when he was right down there in the pit with his lineemen.

"What I miss most is the sweat and the stink," he told me.

He also talked to me about how much better the players had it today than when he was playing.

Peers In Agreement, Sanford Well Coached

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor
Usually when a losing coach begins talking about how "well coached" his conqueror's team is — it's time to start putting away the note pad and head for the office.

Basketball coaches, as well as football coaches, never tire of ringing the bell for the defeated mentor. They, of course, hope he will be sounding the same trumpet for them. It's like a fraternity. They're as thick as thieves.

Sometimes, though, it really is sincere. For instance, if the opposing coach owes him money or one of his best players is about to move out his district. More often than not, however, it comes out like a canned speech.

It seems there are getting to be a lot of "well coached" expressions being thrown around lately concerning the new Seminole basketball coach Chris Marlette. As the victims have fallen (15 to date and seven in a row), the praise has followed each loss.

At first, this reporter just wrote it off as the traditional. On closer reflection, however, it became apparent some of the people doing the raving were getting their first or second look at first-year coach Marlette. Upon closer consideration, the "well coached" began to lose its "tinny" ring.

The topper came Tuesday night. Dick Toth, Daytona Beach Mainland's successful mentor, had nothing but good things to say about Marlette. Toth is not one for canned speeches. It looks like this Marlette may be legitimate.

"This new guy (Marlette) does a good job with these kids," said Toth. "They listen to him and they do what he says on the court."

"And he doesn't run up and down the sidelines chasing the officials. Yeah, I'm pretty impressed with this guy."

Apopka's Ron Smith was next. "Oh, Seminole's got the best team in the conference," he said. "Marlette has really got those guys playing ball. They hustle for 32 minutes."

County coaches Bob Peterson (Lake Brantley), Greg Robinson (Lake Howell), Dale Phillips (Oviedo) and Tom Lawrence (Lyman) are well aware of Marlette's credentials. They've watched him beat the crap out of their freshman teams for the past three years while Marlette was at Crooms. He left the Sanford ninth grade with a 34-game winning streak.

Marlette was Principal Wayne Epps' choice over several excellent applicants with years of varsity experience. Epps bypassed Colonial's Zeke Kinney (now at UCF as an assistant), Bishop Moore's highly-successful Gregg Robinson and Lake Howell's Robinson, a born and bred Sanfordite.

The choice looks pretty good right now. The Seminoles are one-half game ahead of DeLand in the Five Star race with tonight's game against improved Lyman and a rematch at DeLand on Feb. 4 looming as deciding factors in the conference race.

As those who follow Seminole basketball know, Marlette had a tough act to follow. Bill Payne, now at Seminole Community College, established the Sanford program with a sparkling 31-3 record and a spot in the 4A final four at Lakeland three years ago.

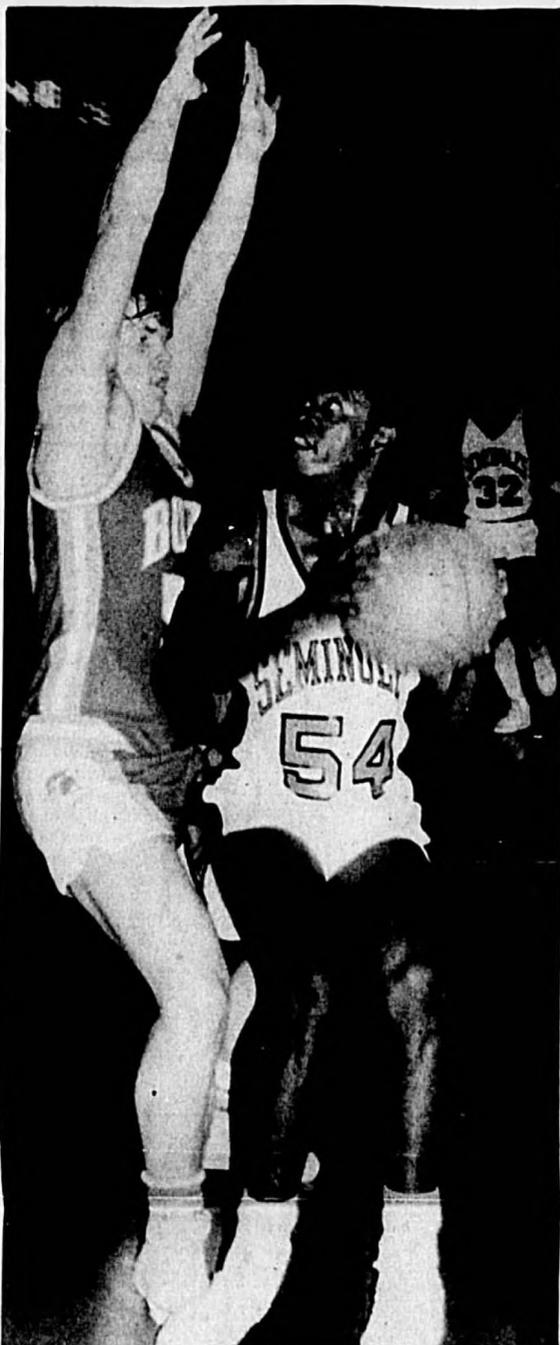

Payne is considered one of the state's top "game" coaches by his peers and most newspapermen know he covers the publicity angle of his team better than anyone.

Marlette has done well in both areas. The Tribe started slowly as most first-year coached teams do. After a toughening up period at the beginning of the year and at Christmas time in two tough tournaments — Kingdom of the Sun at Ocala and Burger-King Metro at Orlando — the Tribe hit its stride.

After meeting some of the best teams in the state at Ocala, the 'Noles have rolled through the conference race with just the lone loss — a narrow one — to DeLand.

Following that setback, Seminole has been unbeatable. Seven victories have ensued. There have been blowouts and there have been close ones. Coaching strategy has won some and talent has won others. All with a good shooting squad but no real height.

Marlette and his players hope the trend will continue tonight.

Willie Mitchell, Seminole center, looks for two points against Boone's Pat Lewis. Mitchell scored 18 points as the Tribe trimmed Boone Wednesday. The conference-leading 'Noles take on Lyman in Longwood tonight at 8.

Crooms Completes Unbeaten Regular Season

Crooms Panthers have done it again. For the second straight season, the Sanford ninth grade has completed its regular season unbeaten.

Utilizing a career-high 26 points by Daryl Williams, the Panthers creamed Lake Howell, 79-43, for their 19th consecutive win this year and the 53rd in a row over a three-year period.

Williams found time to do that also. The 5-7 guard handed out seven assists as did Mike Wright to help the Panthers to an insurmountable 32-16 first-half lead.

Robert Hill, Crooms' 5-10 forward, punished the Hawks inside for 16 points and eight rebounds. Wright, Melvin Brinson and Alvin Jones each collected eight rebounds. Brinson tossed in 10 points and Wright added nine.

Before departing, Brinson, Wright, Williams and Dexter Franklin nabbed three steals.

Crooms attempts to run its record to 22-0 next weekend when it tries to defend its two-year hold on the Seminole Sunrise Kiwanis Freshman Tournament title.

In Thursday's first-round games, second-seeded Bishop Moore takes on Oviedo at 2:30 p.m., top-seeded Crooms plays Oviedo at 4:15 p.m., third-seeded Lake Mary meets Lyman at 6:15 p.m. and fourth-seeded Lake Brantley battles

Lake Howell at 8 p.m.

The Crooms-Oviedo winner plays the Lake Mary-Lyman winner at 6:15 p.m. Friday while the Bishop Moore-Oviedo winner takes on the Lake Brantley-Lake Howell winner at 8 p.m.

The championship game is 8 p.m. Saturday with a third-place game is at 6:15 p.m. All games will be played at Seminole High School. — SAM COOK

Bridgette Gordon pumped in 27 points for DeLand whose conference record now stands at 10-1, 15-6 overall.

Lake Howell jumped to a 16-12 lead after the first quarter but DeLand came back and outscored the Silver Hawks, 13-6, in the second quarter to take a 25-22 halftime lead.

DeLand built its lead to eight points going into the fourth quarter but Lake Howell fought back to within one point, 53-53, with 1:21 left to play. The Hawks had a chance to tie it with 11 seconds left but Elizabeth Dietrich missed two free throws and DeLand went on to win.

Tammy Johnson and Mary Johnson tossed in 13 points apiece to lead Lake Howell while Christy Scott and Dietrich added six each.

8 p.m.
Seminole boys at Lyman
Coach Tom Lawrence's Greyhounds were embarrassed at Sanford earlier this year and you can be sure the 'Hounds won't let it happen again. The final count was 28 points.

The Tribe, 157 and 8-1, sits atop the Five Star by one-half game over DeLand. Lyman, 94 and 6-4, is a longshot to challenge but records seldom mean anything when the county's two best 4A programs get together.

Lyman lines up with Alexis Cleveland (17ppg) and Rod Hillman (9 ppg), center Tom Felter (10 ppg) and forwards James and Greg Pilot.

The Tribe goes with Calvin "Kiki" Bryant (18 ppg) and William Wynn at the forwards. Willie Mitchell (12 ppg) at center, along with Vernon Law (eight assists) and Bruce Franklin at the guards.

6:15 p.m.

Seminole girls at Lyman
An excellent tidbit for the boys game. Lyman is hampered by the loss of Vikki McMurrer (pulled with wisdom teeth), but guards Pam Jackson and Kim Gorum along with Kim Lemon and Kim Gilliam will make it interesting.

Coach Ron Merthle's Seminoles are back into the Five Star race after forfeits by Lake Howell. Mona Benton can put them up with anybody. Maxine Campbell and Arlene Jones are quick guards while Diore Hillery and freshman Patricia Campbell hit the boards well.

8 p.m.

Lake Mary girls at Leesburg
Coach Bill Moore's Rams are looking to move into the top 10 of the 3A prep poll. Lake Mary tore up the Yellow Jackets last time.

Sisters Laura and Peggy Glass dominate the inside while guards Kim Averill and Lisa Gregory take care of the outside shooting and passing game.

8 p.m.

Lake Mary boys at Hastings
Coach Willie Richardson had 1A Hastings in mind when he talks about his "smart scheduling." The Rams are turning into a pretty good 3A team despite the absence of a senior class.

Lake Mary, 10-4, has Fred Miller in limbo because of illness but Darryl Merthle (15 ppg), Billy Dunn, Reggie Medlock, Donald Grayson and Jeff Reynolds (five rebounds) pick up the slack.

7 p.m.

Broward at SCC women
Coach Sol Baltoon's Lady Raiders have been struggling all year to reach the .500 mark. The 9-13 Raiders can take a step in that direction tonight against Broward.

Forward Katrina Andersson tossed in 20 points in a loss to Santa Fe while guard Minda Patrick added 19. Patrick is joined in the backcourt by Sanford's Cathy Jones, Valerie Roessler and 4-3 Sue Winterheimer complete the starting lineup.

8 p.m.

Seminole at Seminole
Every time coach Howard Hawkins' Seminoles turn around, they're playing a state ranked team. Hawkins doesn't mind, though, since two of his team's three wins have come against powerful Lyman and Trinity Prep.

The Sand Crabs, ranked ninth in the 3A poll, should offer the same stiff competition.

Ricky Nooney and Paul Griffin are the Tribe's main men on offense while Jesse Rutherford and Scott Mack head the defense. Juan Falcon does a little of both.

8 p.m.

Lake Mary at Bishop Moore
It's homecoming for coach Larry McCorkle of the Rams. McCorkle won several state championships with the Hornets but don't look for the welcome mat to be out.

Donald Kelly, slowed by mononucleosis, is the Lake Mary scoring kingpin with help from Andre Sanders.

8 p.m.

DeLand at Lake Mary
The Rams, 9-21, should have a palsy tonight with the Bulldogs. DeLand, 10-1, is one of the cellar dwellers in the Five Star Conference, and Lake Mary has taken care of the Five Star competition this year.

Jack Likens (100) is unbeaten in his weight class while unlimited Robert Rawls has lost just once.

Kenny Gordon tossed in 20 points and grabbed 14 rebounds Thursday night as the Seminole High junior varsity blitzed Lyman, 69-44, for its second straight victory at Longwood.

Seminole, 4-10, has put together three good games since James Rouse and Eugene Nathan have joined the team from the varsity.

Rouse chipped in 18 points while Terry Marshall added 10 and Joe Corso six. Nathan helped Gordon dominate the backboards against coach Norman Ready's Greyhounds.

Bob Erickson and Silver Lake's Al Kelly are also in the field. Over 190 golfers are competing in the two-day tourney.

The North Florida PGA Tour continues next week at the New Smyrna Beach Open. The golfers competed last week at Zellwood. The tour returns to the area Feb. 11-13 at Deltona.

Cooper Leads Trail Blazers

United Press International
After sitting out a week with an injury Trail Blazers' center Wayne Cooper returned to the lineup Thursday night and scored 15 points in the Blazers' easy 120-106 victory over the Utah Jazz at Portland, Ore. — but he said he could have executed much better.

"My oxygen was low tonight and I got very, very tired," Cooper said. "I didn't feel I played that well ... But as long as we win, I don't care about my performance."

Jim Paxson scored 22 points to lead a balanced Portland attack, and he also could have produced more if he had not been concerned with slowing down Utah's high-scoring Darrell Griffith, who still managed 20 points.

"I tried to rub off a lot of screens," Paxson said. "A guy who can score like that, you've got to work him down."

Portland Coach Jack Ramsay said, "Paxson did an outstanding job both offensively and defensively, especially in the first half."

The Trail Blazers led at halftime, 60-41. Griffith, held to six points in the first half, had 11 in the third quarter as Utah fought back to within 76-68. But Portland outscored the Jazz, 14-5, and never looked back.

The victory boosted Portland's second-place record to 27-17, 7 1/2 games behind the Lakers.

In other games, Washington topped Seattle, 99-88, San Antonio outlasted Indiana, 143-138, Houston downed Golden State, 98-84, and San Diego defeated Atlanta, 110-100.

Flyers, Froese Drop Jets

United Press International
If you think Boston's Pete Peeters is the hottest goal-tender in the NHL, guess again.

Philadelphia rookie Bob Froese, called up from Maine ostensibly as a temporary replacement for injured Pelle Lindbergh, is making sure Flyers' Coach Bob McCammon does not send him back down too soon. With a 5-2 victory over the Winnipeg Jets at Philadelphia Thursday night, Froese is now 8-0-0 — the first NHL rookie to achieve that record — with a 1.37 goals-against average.

"We're working together well," admitted McCammon. "Froese is doing a great job for us and he'll keep playing goal."

In other games, Montreal topped the New York Rangers, 4-1, Hartford downed Quebec, 5-2, St. Louis tied Minnesota, 3-3, Calgary defeated Toronto, 3-1, and the New York Islanders beat Los Angeles, 6-4.

Angel's 27 Carries Oviedo

Gene Angel poured in a career-high 27 points as Oviedo rolled to a 60-52 victory over Lake Howell Thursday night, snapping the Silver Hawks one-game winning streak.

Oviedo, playing without standout senior Ronnie Murphy, came out blazing after a non-productive first half in which the Lions scored only 19 points while Lake Howell scored 23.

The Lions now stand 13-7 overall while Lake Howell fell to 1-15. Mike Schwab added 17 points for the Lions and Chris Boston chipped in eight while Efreim Brooks led the Hawks with 14 and John Hamrick and Jeff Wood added 11 apiece.

Oviedo's Lady Lions, playing without ineligible top scorer Tanya Roland, got fine performances from Natalie Barth, Stephanie Nelson and Anne Christel en route to a 53-50 victory over Eustis.

Barth poured in a season-high 16 points, Christel added 10 and Nelson eight as the Lions improved to 14-5 for the season while Eustis fell to 6-8.

OVIEDO (53)
Christel 10, Barth 16, Nelson 8, Robinson 9, Lokers 4, Virgin 6. Totals: 22 9-25 53.

EUSTIS (48)

Dave Grether caught fire Wednesday and breezed to a four-shot victory in 1983's fourth Putt-Putt Tournament at Fern Park Putt-Putt Course.

2. Gary English — 28-28-26 — 82 (-26)

Richard Petty (left) and son Kyle will not share personnel this year. Father Petty went without a win last year, just the fourth time in his career that has occurred.

Enthusied Petty Seeks Early End To Drought

LEVEL CROSS, N.C. (UPI) — During the last 24 years, Richard Petty has won seven NASCAR Grand National championships, 195 races and nearly $4.9 million, but the 45-year-old driver says he is more enthused this season than ever before.

"I know there is not as much in the future as there is behind me," Petty said Wednesday. "I don't dwell on what has happened in the past. I'm more enthused now than I have ever been," said the second generation driver. "If we could run on enthusiasm, we would be OK."

Petty, winless last year for only the fourth time in his career, said he would continue to compete as long as he feels good mentally and physically.

"When I do retire, I'll probably do the same thing I'm doing now. I just won't be driving," he said.

But retirement currently appears to be one of the farthest things from Petty's mind.

"Our morale is the best it has been in the last seven or eight years. We've hired six or seven new boys to feel the gaps we had last year," he said. "Everyone now has a purpose and before they were just working. Now everyone has one thing they follow all the way through."

The veteran driver nearly won the Southern 500 at Darlington, S.C., in September, but was edged at the finish line by Cale Yarborough. Various mechanical problems also played a significant role in Petty's drought.

In November, Petty announced the team was reorganizing. Son Kyle would have a new sponsor and his team and Richard's would no longer share personnel. Brother Maurice would eventually move out of the engine room.

Both teams' Pontiacs will have new paint schemes in 1983. Kyle will drive a stock car sporting the number 7 and carrying orange, green and white colors. Richard's car will have some red and white coloring, but the majority of the car will be painted the familiar electric Petty blue.

Auto Racing

Unlike many teams on the circuit that have switched this year to a Monte Carlo, Petty decided to remain with Pontiac.

"I have faith in Pontiac, otherwise I wouldn't have it," said Petty, adding he and the 22-year-old Kyle would each have three cars.

Kyle also is excited about the upcoming season, saying he believes he will be running in the lead pack instead of the one behind it. Petty said if the team's engine program "comes together we will be in good shape."

"We had a lot of weak points last year, but engines and our pit stops were our two biggest problems," Petty said as he chewed on a cigar at the team's garage.

"We took care of those items during the winter," said Petty, noting three new people have been hired to build engines and the team has practiced pit stops. "If we start finishing two-thirds of the races, we will be in good shape."

The Pettys shared workers at the shop last year, except for Kyle's brief stint with car owner Hoss Ellington, and it strained the teams' resources.

"They had to build engines for two race cars year round and it didn't give them time to experiment. When we built an engine we had to run it even if it was not good enough," Petty said. "Now we can cull engines out before we take them to the track. We don't build engines ahead, but we've got enough people to build them as we need them."

"I went to about half the races (last year) and felt like I was not going to win because of the way everything was going," said Petty.

Doherty's Free Throws Thwart Deacons' Upset

United Press International
Wake Forest, a team in search of respect in the Atlantic Coast Conference, got plenty Thursday night.

What it didn't get was a victory. "They deserved to win it and we've got to play better when we meet again," said North Carolina Coach Dean Smith.

The Tar Heels, No. 2 in the country, beat No. 20 Wake Forest, 80-78, in Greensboro, N.C., on two free throws by Matt Doherty with three seconds to play.

Wake Forest nearly put the clamp on its in-state neighbor, but the Tar Heels, thanks to the outstretched arm of freshman Brad Daugherty, won their 13th straight game and remained first in the ACC with a 5-0 record.

With the score, 78-78, Wake Forest worked for a final shot. Danny Young of the Deacons penetrated the lane for a 10-footer but Daugherty, a freshman, rejected it. Doherty took the loose ball, drove the court, but was fouled on the layup. Following the free throws, a last-second 40-footer by Wake Forest banged off the rim.

Sam Perkins led the Tar Heels with 11 rebounds and 24 points, including a 3-pointer with a 1:09 to play to tie it, 78-78. Wake Forest was paced by John Toms with 17 points and Young with 16.

Basketball

Elsewhere in the Top 20, No. 14 Illinois State downed Southern Illinois, 69-63; No. 16 Iowa lost to Ohio State, 89-83 in double overtime; and No. 18 Washington State edged California, 66-64.

At Carbondale, Ill., Rick Lamb had 19 points and Lou Stefanovic provided a strong first half to carry Illinois State, 15-1, in a Missouri Valley Conference game.

At Iowa City, Iowa, Troy Taylor converted six consecutive free throws in the final 34 seconds to win it for Ohio State.

In other games, Derek Harper scored 17 of his 25 points in the second half as Illinois defeated Michigan State, 78-71; Charlie Sittion's 23 points sent Oregon State over Arizona State, 68-59; Purdue beat Michigan, 80-77, in triple overtime; Oklahoma clipped Oklahoma State, 81-80, behind 22 points each by David Little and Wayman Tisdale; South Carolina defeated Clemson, 94-77, and Texas-El Paso beat Brigham Young 65-49 to take over first place in the Western Athletic Conference.

Causes Of Stroke, Attack Are Similar

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband suffered a stroke two years ago. He was partially paralyzed on his left side. He worked hard with the exercises and gradually regained full function of his arm and leg although he didn't have the strength he used to have. He had no trouble with his speech from the stroke. Those who didn't see him often or observe him carefully would never have known he had a stroke.

Then he had a second stroke. This one affected his speech for a while; he can speak again but seems to be weak. He has had some personality changes since then. He seems depressed and worries that he will have another stroke. He says he wonders what is the use of trying to regain strength if he is just going to have another one.

Can you comment on this? Just what causes a stroke anyway? I know it is from brain damage but why is the brain damaged?

DEAR READER — Strokes are often misunderstood by the public. Most strokes are caused by the same thing that causes heart attacks. The disease is in the arteries. If the artery that is blocked in the brain it causes a stroke. If it is to the heart it causes a heart attack. The disease is usually fatty-cholesterol deposits in the arteries.

The risk factors involved are cigarette smoking, high cholesterol levels and high blood pressure. The same diet and life style programs and even medicines to combat fatty-cholesterol deposits to prevent heart attacks should be used.

The area of the brain that is damaged determines what the symptoms will be, whether loss of speech, hearing, balance, paralysis of arm or leg or even the ability to swallow.

Personality changes do occur. And it is common for people to be depressed with serious illness. In addition, damage in the brain caused by blocked circulation may cause major changes in personality and behavior. Encourage your husband to take each day at a time and be thankful that he had a little damage as he did. Maintaining full use of his body and mind through a sensible lifestyle will help his recovery. I'm also sending you The Health Letter 16-6, What You Need to Know About Strokes. Others can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — The enclosed article about the government's announcement of an ointment for herpes upset me. The reference to venereal herpes and the statement that it is related to herpes that infects the mouth and lips will hurt many of us.

I have herpes simplex because I had chicken pox virus as a child. The blisters and swelling of my lips have been treated for two years with no results. I have not been sexually promiscuous. I'm sure many of your readers have been hurt and need your comment.

DEAR READER — The confusion caused by such accurate news stories is caused by a lack of understanding of medical terminology.

There is a whole family of herpes viruses just as there are many types of birds. Your chicken pox did not cause your herpes infection of the lips. It does result in shingles (herpes zoster) in later years and this has nothing to do with venereal disease either.

Herpes simplex 1, which causes cold sores, is usually first contracted in childhood and 80 percent of the population is infected with it. It is usually transmitted by kissing.

WIN AT BRIDGE

scientific way to find out if North would hold the club king.

There are various high-level asking bids to check for that card, but they were not at this pair's disposal.

South studied the hand carefully at trick two and saw that he would probably need a club finesse. Could he do anything about avoiding it?

Then he saw that dummy had three potential trump entries and maybe he could get some mileage out of them.

At trick two he led his jack of trumps to dummy's queen. Then he led and ruffed a small diamond.

Since both opponents had followed to the first trump, he led his eight of trumps to dummy's 10, led and ruffed a second small diamond.

Now he played the deuce of trumps, which he had been careful to preserve, over to dummy's three spot.

The ace of diamonds got rid of his 10 of clubs and when the king dropped he was able to shed the club queen on the diamond queen. If that king had not dropped he would have been forced to take the club finesse.

The Past Reflected In Bits Of Glass

Depression Era Glass Show At Civic Center

They are more than simply sparkling bits of clear and colored glass. They are reflections of a bygone era, mirrors of a time many of us never knew, or can recall only through history books or the tales of our parents.

So, whether you're a collector or just an admirer, the 11th annual Depression era glass show in Sanford is bound to put a sparkle in your eye.

This year's show, to be held Saturday and Sunday in the Sanford Civic Center, 401 E. Seminole Blvd., will feature 34 booths, each displaying a wide variety of colorful glass items created during the Depression years. Exhibitors from 17 states will be on hand to show their wares.

As always, Nora Koch, publisher and editor of 'Daze,' a newspaper for collectors, will be in attendance as she has since the show's inception.

The annual Depression era glass show was begun in 1973 by glass collector Sara Myers of Lake Monroe, and has become an annual rite in Sanford.

"In glass collecting, the field is so large and it takes so much glass because there are so many patterns and most shop keepers would not and could not have a large enough inventory to supply the collectors," Mrs. Myers says.

So, in 1973, the Depression glass show was begun to provide glass buyers, collectors, and admirers with an outlet to view, trade, and purchase the exquisitely designed transparent reflections of an era now passed.

But just what is Depression era glass?

"Depression glass was the very first mass-produced glass in the United States," Mrs. Myers says. "It is collected mostly in dinnerware sets in pinks, greens, yellows and a few other colors. There are well over 100 patterns to choose from."

Mrs. Myers says no imported glass or reproductions will be allowed at the event. She says the show will feature only glass manufactured by American glass companies before, during and after the Great Depression. Glass made by such firms as the now-defunct Hiesey, Cambridge & Duncan Miller company will also be shown.

China and pottery displays will be available for purchase. The theme of this year's show is "Be My Valentine."

The show will be an ideal place to find that missing piece from a favorite dinnerware set you have at home, Mrs. Myers says.

"Just bring along a carefully wrapped goblet or dish to make sure you don't get your pattern confused with those on display," she says. "There's always the possibility you'll find that missing piece."

Admission to the show is only $2, but should the breathtaking beauty of these reflective images strike your fancy, well . . . that's another story. Mrs. Myers says

Super bucks

And you thought the Super Bowl was just a football game. NBC announcer Dick Enberg says it's much more than that: 'It gives America a rooting interest in something and an escape from the pains of everyday life.' Page 5.

Pick me!

NBC has just premiered three new morning quiz shows and TV critic David Handler says one is quite good, the other isn't bad; but the third "reminds me of why I stopped watching game shows." The rest of Handler's review is on Page 7.

Fighting mad

Lorne Greene is a man of passion and conviction. And he has combined both in his weekly syndicated show "New Wilderness." Read about Greene's campaign to save what's left of America's wilds on Page 8.

No Real Love Between Barbour And 'People'

DEAR DICK: I would like to know what has happened to John Barbour. He was on "Real People." I miss him. I wrote to "Real People" and they sent me a paper that had nothing at all to do with John. R.W., Ventura, Calif.

I'm not surprised. There is no love lost between Barbour and the boss of "Real People," George Schlatter. The two simply don't like each other, and that's why Barbour got the axe. Barbour recently narrated a special on Ernie Kovacs, and used that unlikely forum to inject a dig at Schlatter.

DEAR DICK: Me and my brother have been wondering for a very, very long time about reruns through syndication. Do they need permission from the stars or the makers of the show to show them like that? M.R., Saginaw, Mich.

Generally, it is the makers of the show who syndicate it, selling it in packages to local stations. The stars, when they first sign contracts to do the show, sign a standard contract that gives such permission to the makers. The stars get extra money — called residuals — when a show is exhibited in this manner. The amount of the residual is what was behind the actors' strike of a few years ago. Today, it is all spelled out in the contracts and so the permission is granted as soon as they sign.

DEAR DICK: Could you please give me the name of the song played on the TV movie "Hear No Evil," recently on CBS? Was there more than one song? G.M.A., Carthage, Mo.

The music on that show, according to composer Lance Rubin, was just "something I called the 'Hear No Evil' theme."

DEAR DICK: I love the music from the movie "A Little Romance." Is there a soundtrack available? Could you tell me the composer and name of this music? C.M., Racine, Wis.

Georges De LaRue was the composer, and there were many names to the various themes. It is available, the Orion picture people tell me, on Varese-Sarabande Records.

DEAR DICK: Were the regular half-hour shows of "The Brady Bunch" ever on prime-time TV? If so, what night, and what time? Was it Fridays at 8? M.W., Kalamazoo, Mich.

Sure, that show was a big prime-time hit, from '69 to '74, on ABC. It started out — you're right — on Fridays at 8, then switched to 7:30, and then back to 8 again.

DEAR DICK: Can you tell me who was the star of the TV series "Tightrope," which was on the tube several years ago? V.R.C., Whittier, Calif.

Ask Dick Kleiner

That was Mike Connors, in one of his first big roles.

DEAR DICK: We have been enjoying "Falcon Crest" for two seasons. Our question concerns Abby Dalton's husband on the series. Is he the same person in both season's episodes? MA AND PA, Williamsport, Pa.

No. The character of Tony Cumson was created last year by John Saxon. When he was unavailable this year, Robert Loggia took over the part.

DEAR DICK: Is Dack Rambo of "All My Children" the same person as Norman Rambo or a twin brother? K.S., Vancouver, Wash.

I don't know who Norman Rambo is. But Dack did have a twin named Dirk Rambo, who died some years ago.

DEAR DICK: Would you please tell us whatever happened to Betty Grable, the pin-up girl, who was once married to band leader Harry James? J. K.R., Urbana, Mo.

Betty Grable's death was front-page news in 1973. It must have reached Urbana by now.

DEAR DICK: I have a $1 bet with my sister — who played the male lead in Hitchcock's "The Birds," opposite Tippi Hedren? J.F., Lake Helen, Fla.

DEAR DICK: There's $5 riding on your answer. What was Ja'net DuBois' name on "Good Times"? C.L., Warren, Mich.

DEAR DICK: We have a $10 bet on this question. How old is Dick Clark? My husband says he is around 47. I say he is at least 50. Who is correct? D. AND J.S., Saginaw, Mich.

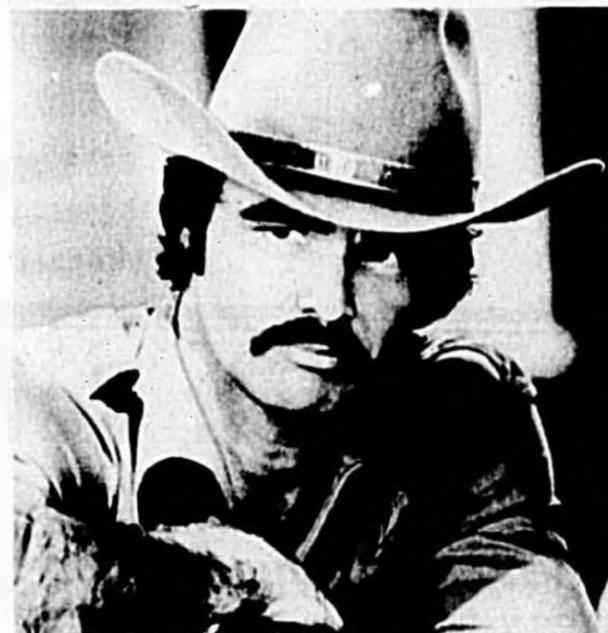

The stakes keep getting bigger all the time. The $1 answer is that Rod Taylor starred in "The Birds." For $5, Ja'net DuBois played a character named Willona. And, for that big $10, Dick Clark was born in 1929, making him 53 in '82.

Alda Produces For TV

By Cindy Adams
NEW YORK — Alan Alda is producing his movie "The Four Seasons" as a TV series. It begins shooting in April starring Jack Weston, who's spending a month at Florida's Palm Aire spa trying to lose weight... Arlene Dahl is getting married. Again. I don't know when long-time beau, Marc Rosen, popped the question but I know he popped that Oriental pearl and diamond engagement ring in the silver Cartier box at Regine's on New Year's Eve.

The Miss Universe Pageant 1983 will come out of Cartagena, Colombia... Lillian Gish called old chum Edie Davis. Having recently seen Mrs. Davis' kid, Nancy Reagan, octogenarian Lillian told octogenarian Edie: "Don't worry about your daughter. She's doing fine... The long-time customer stopped into a favorite store and the owner said: 'Haven't seen you in awhile. What have you been doing?' The blonde blinked, then said, 'Oh... it must be my new short hair. You don't recognize me.' She hadn't been around lately, she said, because she'd been filming "Still of the Night," "French Lieutenant's Woman" and "Sophie's Choice." The face the owner couldn't place belonged to Meryl Streep. Astrologer Frederick Davies phoned from London with his '83 predictions. The Brit swears that: "Prince Andrew will announce his engagement to Koo Stark"; and a car, "The Greatest," will be named for Muhammad Ali. Still more: Lauren Bacall and Harry Guardino will become Mr. & Mrs.... Debbie Reynolds is sitting in on her "Woman of the Year" advertising campaign. There she was in a black turban at the ad agency surrounded by the play's producers and general manager.

 (12) (17) MISSION: IMPOSSIBLE

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dick Enberg, who will join Merlin Olsen Sunday in the announcers' booth at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., when NBC brings Super Bowl XVII to more than 100 million rabid football fans, summed it all up as one big toy store.

"What the Super Bowl represents is that which is offered in the Stanley Cup, or the World Series, or the NCAA Basketball Championships," he said in a question-and-answer news release issued by the network press department to help hype the game.

"It gives America a rooting interest in something and an escape from the pains of everyday life. Sports is the toy department of life."

If true, NBC will be purveying the most expensive toys ever put under anybody's Christmas tree.

Every 30-second spot — and a total of 27 sponsors have queued up to buy as many of them as possible — will cost an all-time high of $400,000. Even at that rate, the network will not need a truck to cart its Super Bowl money to the bank.

NBC officials won't say exactly how much they are spending on the hour-long spectacular between the Washington Redskins and the Miami Dolphins, but it is a multimillion-dollar proposition involving 130

Tammy Wynette Collapses

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Country music singer Tammy Wynette, apparently still suffering from a week-old intestinal ailment, collapsed between performances at a nightclub and was admitted to a hospital Thursday.

Ms. Wynette, 40, was in Akron for a single night at The Breakaway, a popular C&W club on the city's east side.

Joe Marsh, general manager of The Breakaway, said she performed her 7 p.m. show Wednesday night with no problems, but collapsed in her dressing room just prior to going out for a 10:30 p.m. appearance.

She was taken to Akron City Hospital, where spokeswoman Marge Gelhausen said she was admitted in fair condition.

Marsh said Ms. Wynette had been hospitalized four days last week, "for some intestinal blockage."

people — 19 of them announcers — for the two-hour show preceding the kickoff at 6 p.m., EST.

Director Ted Nathanson, who is in Los Angeles with $9 million worth of electronic equipment, will train 23 cameras on the football field as though they were machine guns and the Rose Bowl were under siege.

"You can't miss anything," said NBC manager of sports information Kevin Monahan in a telephone interview from the scene of the impending battle. "The cameras are so we don't miss anything."

He said Olsen, who played defensive tackle for the Los Angeles Rams before turning to acting and sportscasting for NBC, has come up with a new wrinkle for Sunday's game.

Much of it will focus upon Dolphin Jet-assassin A.J. Duhe whose three interceptions against New York last Sunday single-handedly propelled his team into the Super Bowl.

"Merlin wants to do what he calls 'packages' in the middle of the game," Monahan said. "Duhe lines up as a defenseman; he lines up as a linebacker; he can be a down lineman on one play — he's all over the field."

"So Merlin wanted — instead of a producer from NBC — a football guy, and he got Mike Haffner who played for three NFL teams. He's not one of our top announcers, but he works just about every week for us."

Haffner's job in this year's Super Bowl will be to keep his camera on Duhe and anyone else who strikes Olsen's fancy, cutting them out of the game and bringing them to Olsen between plays as cameos within the main picture.

In a business ruled by ratings, the Super Bowl is worth the expense. Last year, Super Bowl XVI, between San Francisco and Cincinnati, pulled a record rating of 49.1 and was seen by an estimated 110,230,000 people.

This year's effort is expected to top that.

By David Handler

I've never forgiven NBC for taking "Jeopardy" off the air. There was a real game show, with hard questions, a bare bones set and a host, Art Fleming, with less personality than a loan officer.

No unemployable celebrities making unfunny quips. No contestants being egged into debasing behavior. No one dressed up in funny suits. No blinking lights.

I've pretty much steered clear of the morning quiz-show circuit ever since. However, NBC has just premiered three, count 'em three, new ones — "Sale of the Century," "Hit Man" and "Just Men." A bold move. I got curious.

"Just Men," starring Betty White, is by far the freshest and most interesting of the three, not to mention entertaining.

Our two wholesome female contestants vie for the key to a brand new Ford Mustang by trying to figure out where our seven dreamboat male celebrities stand on questions like "Should women be eligible for the draft?" and "Are you always able to fulfill your lady's romantic needs?"

Celebs on hand the first week included a soap-opera star, Josh Taylor; a baseball star, Steve Sax; a teen star, Leif Garrett; and a prime-time star, David Hasselhoff.

Contestants can't ask the guys point blank. They must be clever. For instance, for the "Can you iron a shirt?" query, one woman asked David Hasselhoff if he knew where a lint trap is located. He stood up, pointed to his navel.

That should give you a pretty good idea of where "Just Men" is at. There's a naughty, locker-room flavor and a lot of insults and ad libs between the guys.

Betty White helps all of this along by continuing here with her saucy, man-hungry, Sue Ann Nivens character from "The Mary Tyler Moore Show." "I'm your hostess," she advises with a gay twitter. "I'm also your animal trainer. I get a whip and a chain to handle these guys."

"Just Men" never gets too off-color (or when it does it gets bleeped). Mostly, it's playful and harmless, and something a bit different.

"Hit Man" boasts that it "combines split second quickness with video game thrills." Yes, folks, the arcade game has left its mark on the quiz-show circuit. Sort of.

Our host, a toothy young stiff named Peter Tamarin, shows the three contestants a short, informational film on a subject like child film stars or romance literature. The game then calls for them to regurgitate the film's facts and figures during a rapid-fire, head-to-head Q & A session.

Arcade game graphics — little red exploding men, sound effects, the works — keep track of the score. Not exactly the breakthrough promised by the promotion.

Our third entrant, "Sale of the Century," calls itself "America's biggest bargain sale." Hosted by a snake-oil salesman named Jim Perry, it is one-half quiz show, one-half "Let's Make a Deal" and all bad taste.

Though it does offer some refreshingly hard questions, the show mainly intends to bring contestants' greed to the surface.

Each starts with 20 of our

"Sale of the Century" dollars, and is awarded five more for each right answer. Every few minutes there's an Instant Bargain, wherein whoever's ahead is offered, say, a $700 dishwasher for 12 "dollars."

If they say they'd rather wait and go for a bigger prize, our host begins to yank large bills out of his pockets — real bills — as temptation.

"Here's $100 for soap, Steve!" he declares. "How about $200 for soap? $300?" Perry even crosses the stage to wave the money in their faces, so they can smell it.

"Sale of the Century" reminds me of why I stopped watching game shows.

glasswares can sell from 50 cents to $5,000 depending on the design, age, and manufacturer of the particular item.

"I can guarantee that there is something here for everyone," she says. "First of all, there's an education in glass. There's certainly the beauty, and the reunions of friendly people who see each other maybe once a year at this show."

"This show is the oldest privately promoted show in the southeast and was named one of the best in the country by the national magazine 'Rareties,'" Mrs. Myers says.

There will be books available on glass, collecting and exhibitors will identify pieces spectators bring with them, although Mrs. Myers says IDs will be made only on Sunday afternoon.

Door prizes will be given throughout both days of the show. Show times are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Olivia: Chameleon Par Excellence

By Andrew J. Edelstein

Olivia Newton-John is one of pop music's great homogenizers. In her lengthy career, she has kept her popularity alive by filtering out the rough edges of the popular genre of the moment — country and 1950s rock in the mid-'70s, New Wave in 1982 — and creating a distilled, bland product that's easily palatable to the masses.

Not surprisingly, the masses eat it up. That's plainly seen by the audience's response in HBO's "Olivia Newton-John in Concert," airing Feb. 4, a 90-minute program taped in Ogden, Utah, during her last American tour.

Miss Newton-John offers 18 songs — a retrospective of her chameleon-like career — from her country-tinged "Please, Mister, Please" and "Let Me Be There" through her "Grease II" hits and into her pseudo-New Wave period ("Physical," "Heart Attack").

OLIVIA NEWTON-JOHN

She's a consummate entertainer with a lovely voice, there's no doubt about it. The well-choreographed "Physical" (complete with Miss Newton-John performing jumping jacks, leg lifts, rope skipping and jogging) and "You're the One That I Want" (with back-up singer Dennis Tufano taking the John Travolta role) are especially diverting. She smiles at all the right places and the band — led by session player extraordinaire Tom Scott — never misses a beat. The concert is well-paced and she gives the folks their money's worth.

But something still grates. With her new post-punk look — a spangled mini-dress and blonde tresses teased into an oversized Presley pompadour — she's trying to say, "Hey, there's danger lurking 'neath this innocent facade." But it's a charade — cheap thrills for the audience — that doesn't work. The woman is still too sweet-faced and wholesome — and that's never more apparent than when she sings her moony love songs, such as "Hopelessly Devoted To You" and "A Little More Love."

These ballads are Miss Newton-John's strength. She's already got the audience's affections — and if she stuck with singing ballads instead of dabbling in styles that she seems uncomfortable in she'd win the critics' respect as well.

The Greene-ing Of America

By KENNETH R. CLARK
UPI TV Reporter

NEW YORK (UPI) — It's a good thing Interior Secretary James Watt never showed up on the Ponderosa. Ben Cartwright and his boys would have run him the way hounds run a fox.

"Bonanza" is dead and gone to all save the reruns of syndication and Ben Cartwright has gone back to being Lorne Greene, but nothing has changed where men like Watt are concerned. Greene, who disdains to name him by name, is at war.

"When I hear of the gentleman in Washington who has sold off our wildlife resources, I wonder," Greene growled in an interview about his new television show.

"He's a steward," he said of Watt, whose drive to develop wilderness areas recently has left environmentalists livid. "He's there as a steward of our trust because all of these wilderness areas belong to all of the people of this country."

"I find it strange and awesome that the man who was put into office to be a steward of this country's wilderness area thinks he's in a position of being a supervisor, where he can say, 'Well, I think I'll get rid of this and I think I'll get rid of that.' It's not his to get rid of!"

Greene is saying as much every week in 95 syndicated markets where "Lorne Greene's New Wilderness" now is running.

Seldom have craft and personal passion been so closely harnessed.

"The old wilderness is gone," he said. "This is the new wilderness, where man and nature come together, and we're right on the cusp where we have to make up our minds whether we're going to live with the animals ... or just get rid of them."

"If we get them out of the way, we destroy ourselves."

"New Wilderness" is a 30-minute documentary, utilizing camera footage shot by some of the world's leading naturalists and wildlife photographers, focusing attention upon the mayhem man is visiting upon his environment.

"The rain forests of Indonesia are practically gone now," Greene said. "There's a tremendously exploding population there and they need plywood, so they cut down the trees ... and pretty soon the animals won't have a place to live."

"We have to make certain that they do because they're the only other living species on this little planet."

Domestically, Greene is campaigning to enlist the growing ranks of the unemployed in a nationwide clean-up campaign.

"You could go right across the country, with everybody getting together, cleaning up the parks, cleaning up the environment, getting rid of the pollution in rivers and lakes — really being active about it," he said. "This is our habitat and we have to learn how to take care of it."

Greene, who has seen his brief private eye series, "Griff," the expensive "Battlestar Gallactica" and the ill-fated "Code Red" all fall to what passes for network logic, said never again will he stand by and watch it happen.
