Got A Minor Legal Beef? Citizens Dispute Can Help

By BILL HORNUNG Everyone at least one-time in their life has probably said: 'I'm not going to let him get away with it — I'll take him to court and sue!'

That is not always the best solution in minor misunderstandings, though — especially in Seminole county where there is an easier and less expensive way out.

The Citizen Dispute Settlement (CDS) program, begun in May, has led about 270 minor confrontations to successful conclusions.

With the threat of legal action always looming, usually the conflicting party complies, Schuckman said.

'We're going to make sure that they abide by what they agreed to do,' he said.

'Sometimes a go-between is all it takes to have the blasting stereo turned down next door...

'We handle all the cases that you can see a solution at the end,' Schuckman said, adding, 'we don't say who's right or wrong.'

Bringing both parties together to negotiate through an arbitrator is not a new idea. Other counties and states have similar programs...

The procedure is simple. CDS is contacted at 322-7534 and an intake interview conducted.

An agreement is drawn up and signed by all participants. Periodically, Schuckman checks up on the parties to see if everyone is complying.

'We can tie them up indefinitely,' Schuckman said.

For the arbitrator, it's tough work, Schuckman said. Each of the 30 arbitrators takes two or three cases a month...

Carter MX Plan To Be Scrapped?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., says President Reagan is likely to reject the Carter administration plan to hide 200 advanced MX missiles...

Appearing on NBC's 'Meet the Press,' Laxalt said, 'The MX decision will be made during the course of this week as part of an overall strategic package...'

While saying he did not know what deployment plan Reagan will choose, he said, 'I do know that the big system proposed by the Carter administration of 4,600 shelters housing 200 missiles — I think that will be rejected.'

'I rather hope that the president adopts the recommendation that Sen. (Jake) Garn (R-Utah) and I made after our hearings of taking the 200 missiles — it's a good missile, with 10 warheads and a good guidance system — and incorporate them within the existing Minuteman system...

Today, Senate Armed Services Committee Chairman John Tower, R-Texas, also said he did not know what Reagan will settle on, but added in an interview on NBC's 'Today' program, 'I think the probability is at this point it will be a land-based mode for the MX missile.'

Sens. William Roth Jr., R-DeL., and Harrison Schmitt, R-N.M., in a letter released Sunday, urged Reagan to scrub plans to hide the missiles and instead put them in existing Minuteman and Titan silos.

The two Republicans said their proposal would cost $15 billion less than the controversial plan to hide the missiles in shelters in the Nevada and Utah desert.

neutral, Schuckman said. 'The hearing leaves you with a good feeling but with a drained feeling, also.'

CDS handles all the problems whereas the court frequently must drop a case since there is not enough evidence or cause to have a hearing, Schuckman said.

Going all the way to a hearing is the last step, though. Sometimes a simple phone call between parties — a 'go-between' — is all it takes to have the blasting stereo turned down next door.

And going through the courts is no guarantee a solution will be found, he said. Of the 3,000 misdemeanor cases filed last year, 1,700 actually went before a judge, Schuckman said.

Of that number, 40 went to trial with half of those ending in guilty verdicts. The county spent $101,000 last year for juries and witnesses in the misdemeanor cases alone, he said.

'We have all the agencies working for one goal,' Schuckman said. Judges, law enforcement, social service agencies and people walking in off of the street are referred to the department constantly.

Located on the 3rd floor of the Seminole County's services building at First Street and Park Avenue, Schuckman and his administrative assistant Cindy Czado handle most of the caseload with Schuckman mediating about 95 percent of the cases.

Many of the cases deal with restitution without prosecution petty thefts, a neighbor running over the mailbox and dog chewing up the garden cases — are just a matter of agreeing on a financial settlement, Schuckman said.

Restitution on welfare fraud is a recently added area handled by CDS, Schuckman said. 'Besides saving money, we're also taking money back,' he said.

'Those accused of making too much money to be eligible for welfare or food stamps, or who cheat the system in some other way, are allowed to pay back the money, promise not to do it again, and be freed from a criminal record. If they return to their old ways, there are no second chances. They go to court and face the possibility of jail, Schuckman said.

Under a 'mediator' system, there is no such authority, he said, and people can renege on their agreements. And, Thirdly, lawyers are used sparingly.

Systems that employ legal experts often get wrapped up with legalities rather than trying to find a solution, Schuckman said.

HOROSCOPE
By BERNICE BEDEOSOL

For Tuesday, September 29, 1981

Your Birthday
September 29, 1981
Personal ambitions may bring out the more forceful you this coming year, although you'll still find ways to be diplomatic at the same time. Others will respect and admire this and do all they can to support you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Your personality may be a bit like a chameleon, changing its color right before everybody's eyes. Yet, any tone you choose continues to remain appealing. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph, Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
By appealing to his or her emotions today you'll be able to get another to agree to give you something you'd like to have on your terms.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Today, when dealing with others try to see their points of view. Bend over backward to understand their concepts and they'll readily accept yours.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Where you have authority today, you conduct yourself exceptionally well. You're adaptable, fair and just, yet firm when necessary.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
There is nothing strange about your being able to perceive the outcome of events; you do this naturally. Today, this gift is even more predominant.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Although you're not necessarily a take-charge individual, today you can see ways that elude others of accomplishing goals. You may be forced to assume the helm.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
If you're willing to change, you could take advantage of a good opportunity today to transform something you've disliked. The results will be beneficial.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
This might be the day you've waited for to do a little negotiating with one who can make your job a bit easier. Play your aces wisely.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
You might get the chance today to tell someone of whom you're quite fond just how you feel. Don't be surprised if the feeling is mutual.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
The curious observer may be baffled by the circuitous route you are using to reach your goals today. To you, however, it all makes sense.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Someone you may not have thought too highly of might do something today that will give you cause to change your mind about him or her.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
There is nothing wrong with your abilities to handle financial matters today. However, it may take a challenge to trigger your ingenuity.

Walk, Don't Run To Beat Fatigue

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would appreciate any information you have on fatigue. I am a 27-year-old female. I've started running for exercise. How far and how fast should I be going? I average one-and-a-half miles in 13 minutes but I'm still tired. I run five days a week. Do I need any other exercise? I'm 5-foot-11 and weigh 143 pounds.

DEAR READER — People who are inactive often do feel tired. But that doesn't mean that everyone who is tired is fatigued from lack of exercise. A person who must do heavy physical labor is tired at the end of the work day from too much exercise and doesn't need more.

I don't know from your letter how much exercise you get from all your activities but a mile-and-a-half five days a week only is not enough. It is strenuous for the 13 minutes you are running but that is it. I would rather see you walk about three miles a day and enjoy the walk.

Notice I said "enjoy," which is a key word in combating fatigue. Everyone should do something every day that he or she enjoys. It makes life more pleasant and if you are enjoying your self you are less likely to be fatigued.

You do need a medical checkup. About one in five persons who complain of fatigue actually does have a medical problem, such as anemia, an infectious disease or even an endocrine disease.

People with circulatory diseases often feel tired. You will have a better understanding of what causes fatigue and what to do about it after reading The Health Letter number 96, Fatigue: Feeling Tired and Weary, which I am sending you.

Don't push for speed when you run. And when you get up in the morning, take your resting heart rate before you get out of bed. If it is slow, 70 or less, you are probably not overdoing your exercise. Fast resting heart rates before you get out of bed often mean overdoing it or a medical problem. Habits affect both heart rate and fatigue. This includes cigarettes, coffee and diet.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have always enjoyed good health and maintained it through a balanced diet, proper rest, exercise and dental work as needed every six months. I was sent to a periodontal specialist recently for treatment of gingivitis. My upper and lower teeth were scaled and most areas healed with no remaining pockets. The doctor recommended surgery on three teeth to remove gum tissue and create a new bond of the gum to these teeth. He mentioned bone loss but did not explain the relationship of this to my problem of gingivitis. Should I be getting additional calcium or make any other dietary changes?

DEAR READER — Your story suggests that your dentist thinks you have pyorrhea (periodontoclasia). The bone resorption around your teeth contributes to the loose teeth and loose gingiva (gums). Infected material develops in the loose pockets and causes more damage. Tissue removal is often indicated in such cases to eliminate the pockets of potential trouble.

One of many factors that can be involved is osteoporosis (bone softening) which often first shows up in the bone around the teeth. See your medical doctor also to check on this. And if that is true you might need more calcium in your diet or medical treatment to avoid bone loss elsewhere in your body.

percentage plays in the trump suit. Why don't we devote some articles to this subject?"

Oswald: "We can start with a hand taken directly from his book as played by Mary Jane Farrell, one of the really great lady bridge players."

Alan: "The bidding was simple and excellent. If North had shown a king it would have been the king of trumps and Mary Jane would have bid seven. As it was, she settled for six."

Oswald: "The careless declarer would win the heart lead with his king and lay down the ace of trumps. If the king dropped, he would make seven. When West showed out he would make just five."

Alan: "Mary Jane won the heart with dummy's ace. Then she led dummy's three of trumps and covered East's six with her eight. Then when West showed out she simply played her ace of trumps and made six."

Alan: "This was a perfect safety play. If East had been void of trumps, she would play her ace and lose just one trump to West."
