By United Press International

Washington, Oct. 22 (UPI)—The world's major powers are stoking the cold war by the use of atomic energy, the chairman of the Senate subcommittee on the Soviet missile buildup in Cuba.

European governments, greatly concerned at the implications, were slow in commenting on the measures taken by Washington to stop the buildup but the action drew prompt support from many Asian and Latin American states.

U. S. officials in Soviet capitals were busy Monday and today filling in the chiefs of friendly governments.

American diplomats are being ordered to President Kennedy's work Monday night, aware that the consequences could involve their lives.

West Germany and Japan were the first nations to respond to President Kennedy's action quickly. Other kinds of state or government approval were not sought until they had completed their cabinet. Some newspapers decried the move while others supported it.

A British government spokesman, while declining to comment on the move, said the "British building in Cuba will come as a shock to the whole civilized world." France

In Cuba Jungles Covered With 'Pads'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U. S. photographs taken high over Cuba show launching pads in jungle clearings and missile half-hidden by canvas.

A Pentagon spokesman said the pads were pointed at the United States, and the trailers standing by carried missiles that could reach practically any point in this country.

He told about 100 newsmen at a special briefing that the government did not know positively that there were nuclear warheads in Cuba.

But he said it was "almost inconceivable" that Russia's latest medium and intermediate range missile, capable of traveling up to 2,500 miles would be used with anything but nuclear warheads.

The photographs, enlarged 30 times, were posted on stage placards beside the spokesman. He pointed at the first of them and said in the drops of a lecturer:

"This is the photograph of a portion of Cuba, which became available to us Monday night or Tuesday morning.

"These are launchers, here and here, aligned to a specific section of the United States. These missiles on trailers are backed up against the launcher, the missile is grasped by the launcher, erected, and the trailer moves away."

"This is a mobile installation," he continued. "It can be put in place in a matter of days. We have sequential photographs separated by a period of a day or two, and you can see the movement of the equipment onto the site, the erection of certain buildings used in checking out missiles, and the movement of convoys carrying the missiles onto the site."

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN FLORIDA, the State Legislature proclaimed that all the public lands in which the state claimed title through accession should be restored to market at $1 and $2 an acre, subject to have the right to buy at 1/4 these prices. Throughout the state the event was celebrated with feasting steins of beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of recreation - light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southern hospitality to any occasion. Floridians have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Four seven-branched candelabra held white tapers in front of a background of palms. The altar rail was entwined with green fern and white satin bows holding a sprig of green fern marked the pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of deep lustre satin extending into a chapel train. The lace jacket had a sweetheart neckline and long fitted sleeves ending in a point at the wrists.

Her fingertip nylon illusion veil was held by a crown of pearls and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

What is a stock broker really like?

Fact vs. fiction

Are you planning to invest in stocks or bonds? Then you may be thinking about your first trip to a broker's office.

Many people don't know what to expect. And a good deal of what they do expect often turns out to be fiction. Check yourself on these key points:

Fiction: Brokers aren't interested unless you've got lots of money.
Fact: A great number of investors, especially beginners, are small investors. So don't let that bother you.

Fiction: Brokers want you to plunge for all you've got.
Fact: Not so. A good broker does not want you to get in over your head. The best way he can keep you as a customer is to put your interest first. Before you invest, allow for living expenses and emergencies, then tell him how much you can consider to start your program.

Fiction: Brokers have a few pet stocks they want you to buy.
Fact: A good broker will be glad to suggest stocks he thinks will fit your personal goals.

Fiction: Brokers just play their hunches.
Fact: Facts, not hunches, should be the basis of a sensible recommendation.

Fiction: Nobody can know all the facts, and no one can tell how a company will fare. There are always risks in investment. Prices go up and down. But your broker expects you to want to know about a company's past performance—sales, profits, dividend record. And, after considering many factors, you can decide what the company's prospects appear to be.

Fiction: All brokers are alike.
Fact: Far from it. Registered Representatives in Member Firms, for instance, have had to meet the requirements of the New York Stock Exchange for knowledge of investing.

Understanding your broker, knowing what's fact and what's fiction, can help you proceed in a practical and sound way when you're ready to invest. You're always welcome in a local Member Firm office.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spalding
For a little bit of a while, I had the monkey feeling that people in this part of the country just weren't interested in (100.00. But then as the deadline for entries into the Sunday Sweeper approached, they started to file in.

This was our first-run of the Charles Munk Co. Sunday Sweeper and considering the fact that we had 21 entries, Tournament Manager Al DePalma and I feel real good about it. When it's run again on the first Sunday of the month, I believe that we'll get much better support from the bowlers from Sanford.

Probably the most excited man in these parts is Navy man John Downs who was first place—$100.00. Who says that if you're a comparatively speaking "low average bowler" you don't stand a chance in tournament play?

John's average is 155 and wouldn't you know it, he put together games of 195, 165, 205, 165 and 215 to beat out all competition. Nice going, John!

Special thanks to fellows like Jack Kanner, Roger Jones, Chas. Kelsey, Benky Ferguson, Harry Schok, Neal Maxwell, Bud DeJong, Bill Howard and Gordon Henson.

Pete Duggan, Carl Von Herbulis, Eddie Kirshoff, Woody Wilson and Don Mac Intyre. These are the men who bowled in our tournament and lent their support to us in helping to make this tournament a success.

Prizes paid out were $100.00 for first place; 2nd slot earned $50.00; 3rd was worth $20.00; High Game out of $200 was worth $10.00. And get this, the jackpot was worth $1,000 each.

All of my friends for the entry fee of $8.00! I'll betcha we have lots and lots of bowlers wanting in on our next go-around. I hope so!

The Sunday night Mr. & Mrs. Lewis had some fine bowling done in it, too. As an example, Mardi Jovis 184/524 series was good 'nuff to lead the other gals and two men shared the spotlight. . . . Bob Guthrie with an even "Duce - 200" won hi game honors and Tom (Black Derby) Best rolled the high series, a 233.

Mary Smith was rolling a Big Bomb in the Bill Hemphill Motorvites League. Mary's 190/492 was the top and man-of-the-day was she ever pleased.

Hewjia like our "new" Monday evening women's scratch league, the Wilson-Maler Women's Scratch. Well, really it isn't a new league but we certainly do want to recognize our new league sponsor, the good folks from Wilson-Maler Furniture Co.

It was Powell and Schautt who had things falling their way. Dot blasted home a 195 and Doris Schautt's 556 was mighty fine series bowling. Doris had a consistent night with games of 190, 194 and 175.

I like the way that NAMTG-Mixed League, which also bowls on a Sunday evening, lets their team standings. You know who is first place? It's Margie's! And they're followed by Ma's, Betty's, Betty's, Gross's and Lou's.

And as far as the last names are concerned I'll just pass on the info that it was Turnover (Chuck), who bowls for Ma's team, topping the men's scores with hi game and series of 205/595. On the distaff side it was Betty Downs who had a 168/505.

Say, if you'd like to see some "real cuties" bowling, come on out and watch those Powder-Puff Eagles-ettes on Monday afternoon at 5:15. These are the cuties from the Seminole High School and in addition to making a very attractive appearance they bowl-up a storm, too.

Shirley Stampf was the league-leader with games of 178/390 series. They only bowl two games. I was watching her on the first day of league play and believe me . . . she started out with 4 strikes in a row!

Oooh, these kids how they like to show their elders up! Big Dick Parker found the pins to his liking in the Jet Lane's Keglers league. Dick averaged over the 190 mark and wound-up with a mighty hi 238/572 set. When this boy is on, he's a tough man to top.

Talking about those big games, Elaine Kostival just couldn't miss in the Thursday A. M. Shooting Stars League. Get this man, Elaine smashed the wood to the tune of 235/568 . . . that's scratch men, scratch!

You know how important each and every pin is? If you don't know, then this'll probably open your eyes to this important fact. Two gals tied for the hi series in the Hi Nooners League with identical series of 476. Hata off to Vess McMillan and Etta Dorman.

It was a pleasure seeing Kathy (Mrs. Personality) Gray scoring well again. Kathy captured high game with a nifty 176 in this same Hi Nooners League.

Don MacIntyre gets a lot of action out of his ball. This past week he shot the hi game in the All-Star League with a 223. And John Wright has found his line again. No doubt about it John's back in that pocket again and sweeping the deck clear. His 619 was the hi series.

This coming week-end we're wishing John the very best to capture the top slot in the state finals in Orlando in the BPAP Tournament. As one of the current state of finalists this could mean national recognition to John and Sanford if he can go all the way. We're pulling for you John.

That'll do it for this week. Come on out to the Moonlight Bowling this Saturday at 10 p. m. You'll have a lot of fun!

NEW YORK (UPI)—Broadway oddsmakers have installed the New York Giants as seven-point favorites for their head-on collision with the unbeaten Washington Redskins at Yankee Stadium next Sunday.

The Redskins lead the Eastern Division of the National Football League with four victories and two ties. The Giants are in second place with four victories and two losses.

The remaining six have made their homes in the Orlando area during the off-season.

Patrons of the $1,500,000 Sports Palace will have an opportunity to see the 12 new players, as well as the returnees from last year, in action during the pre-season handicapping games Monday, October 29th, and Tuesday, October 30th, nights prior to the Fronton's official opening.

The new players are Arrabal, Arrieta, Fernando, Guenaga, Iriqoras, Izaguirre, Lorenzo, Ramon, Urquidil, Urizar, Ykeda and Zuloaga. This is Orlando-Seminole Jai Alai Fronton's second season.

High Scoring Paces League

Selecting the name Shooting Stars for the Thursday morning league really must have inspired the bowlers, as the high scores were numerous. Elaine Kostival's five strikes in a row made for a rousing 235 game and a whopping 563 series, helping to put the Cherokee Sparettes out in front by one game.

Although Spencer's team went wild with high scores, they slipped into second place. Mabel Duggan led Spencer's with her first 209 game and she came up with a big 504 series. Following close behind with high scores for Spencer's were Beverly Garbarkiewicz with a 195 and rolling a turkey gave Marge Farris 185. Kitty Purdy ended with 184.

Peggy Pfitzer leading the Go-Getters collected her first big 200 game by rolling six strikes in a row.

Ratings Called 'Gimmick'

By United Press International
Jim Corbett, Louisiana State's athletic director, has echoed the sentiments of many less outspoken football men regarding weekly "Top Ten" grid ratings.

Corbett, whose Bengals are ranked eighth this week in United Press International's weekly poll of coaches, said Monday ratings "represent more of a news gimmick than they do actual strengths and weaknesses of the teams rated."

He said the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau and the Football Writers Association should re-evaluate teams based on their schedules, giving "a bonus" to teams playing tougher slates. This, he said, would help offset high rankings of teams which annually schedule "easy" opponents.

Corbett said pressures of weekly ratings are "jeopardizing the livelihood" of coaches. Elsewhere, most Southeastern Conference teams took a day off from rough stuff and worked out in sweat lodges.

Kentucky Coach Charlie Bradshaw told a Quarterback Club luncheon his Wildcats could have defeated LSU Saturday night with "a few less mistakes, a little more luck and a few more capable bodies." The Kentuckians fall 7-0 on a last period touchdown.

Mississippi Coach Johnny Vaught, not particularly pleased with the Rebels' 21-0 win over Tulane, made two lineup changes yesterday. He promoted junior tackle Whaley Hall to the first unit, replacing Jim Roberts, and advanced Larry Johnson, a junior, to an alternate starting assignment at wingback, ousting Larry Smith.

Tennessee bore down on pass defense yesterday, its downfall against Alabama. The Vols lost a starting linebacker, Ed Beard, who was dropped from the squad for not attending classes.

Coach Art Guspe of Vanderbilt, who has suffered from a lack of manpower, said his primary aim this week would be to "come up with the minimum of two full units for the Ole Miss game." Guspe added, "Lack of depth, compounded by injuries, has really killed us this year."

At Florida, coaches predicted the Gators would be in top physical shape against LSU Saturday. "We will be closer to full strength than we've been all year," said Head Coach Ray Graves.

Georgia Coach Johnny Griffith reported that fullback Leory Dukas, who bruised a shoulder last weekend, was not expected to play Saturday against Kentucky. Graves said halfback Don Porterfield, also on the injured list, was a doubtful starter.

Coach Paul Bryant lauded his Alabama Crimson Tide for their performance against Tennessee Saturday. "Everybody tried real hard," said the "Bear." Lee Roy Jordan was great on defense and Bill Battle played well both ways.

Georgia Tech devoted 30 minutes to practice and an hour and a half to staging a benefit scrimmage. First stringers at Mississippi State and Tulane worked in sweat clothes and Auburn took the day off.

CPO Wives In Clean Sweep

The CPO Wives made a clean sweep against the Mar-Lou Restaurant to place them in a three way tie for first place with Grapeville Nursery and Stenstrom Realty in the Hi - Nooners League. Grapeville Nursery and Stenstrom Realty split their points 2-2.

Nationwide Insurance, sparked by substitute Marjorie Kipp, won three points from the Mayfair Inn. Letha Ward rolled 174 to help M & R Bar win three points from Shoemaker Construction.

Ginny Frederick topped the 2-10; Kitty Furdoy 3-10; Mary Tomalanski 6-4; Cella De Palma and Cathy Poulter 5-7. Ginny Frederick and Mildred Nichols converted the 2-7; Rhoda Meltzer 4-5, and Jean Ogden the 7-8. Shirley Sims had the high game of the day, 183, and both Etta Dorman and Vess McMillan had high series of 476.

Mauch Named Top Manager

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gene Mauch of the Philadelphia Phillies, who combines fiery on-the-field leadership with patient understanding of his players, was named the National League's "Manager of the Year" today by the United Press International.

The honor went to Mauch for his key role in making the Phillies the hottest team in baseball for the last two months of the season. The sport, 30 victories in their last 44 games, enabled them to end the season with an 81-80 record—30½ games better than their 1961 finish.

Texas, Northwestern 'Bama Rated 1-2-3

NEW YORK (UPI)—Texas, Northwestern and Alabama stood a close 1-2-3 today in the United Press International major college football ratings. Texas remained the front-runner for the third straight week by scoring its fifth consecutive victory Saturday night, a 7-3 triumph over Arkansas. Northwestern, surprising leader of the Big Ten Conference, advanced to second place, only 15 points behind the Longhorns, while Alabama slipped from second to third, but only 26 behind Texas.

Michigan State and Auburn were installed among the top 10 this week by the 35 top coaches who make up the UPI rating board. Unranked a week ago, Auburn made the most noticeable jump, into 10th place. Wisconsin moved up four notches to fourth place and Michigan State advanced three places to ninth. Completing the select 10 were fifth-ranked California, sixth-ranked Mississippi, seventh-ranked Washington and eighth-ranked Louisiana State.

Thus four Southeastern Conference, three Big Ten and two Big Six teams were included.

Arkansas' loss to Texas plummeted the Razorbacks from sixth last week to 12th. Ohio State, rated seventh last week, also dropped out of the top 10—all the way to 18th place—after suffering an 18-14 setback to Northwestern.

Texas received 11 first-place votes from the board of coaches, Northwestern drew 9 and California three. Wisconsin picked up two and Mississippi and Michigan State one each.

Bad Rocks, Divans End Week's Play With Tie

At the end of last week's play the Bad Rocks and the Divans wound up tied for first place in the Scratch League for the ladies, with 19 wins and 5 losses each.

The Bad Rocks rocked the Lamplighters by taking four straight, and the Divans took three and lost one to the Hideaways. The Recliners are next in line with 14 wins and 10 losses and the Four Posters are in third spot with 12 wins and an equal number of losses.

The Four Stools moved in to fifth with 10 wins and 14 losses and the Lamplighters and Hideaways share sixth with eight wins and 16 lost, and the Lounges are in the cellar with six and 18.

The Bad Rocks still have the high series of 1813 pins, and the Four Stools have the high game 702. Ellen Betts of the Recliners holds high average for the league with a 174, in addition to having high game of 223 and a high series of 381. Pat Foster, Four Stools, has second high game of 211 and Midge Woods, of the same team, has second high series of 384.

Wright Paces Diamond Keglers

John Wright fired a 213, 214 and a 198 for a big 619 series to help Rogers' Club Diamond to take all three games from Handy Food Stores team. John had a little help though, from his team mate Al DePalma who had a 230/308 series. Big Woody Wilson did all he could for the losers with games of 219, 207 and 182 for a 608 series.

In other league action Frailky Concrete No. 1 took all three games from Frailky No. 2. Joe Wallace had a 192/321 series for the winners. Meador's Marine salvaged two games from the Sanford Dry Cleaners trio with George Swann having a 212/300 series for the Meador's team and Harold Herbet had a 209/358 series for the dry cleaners. Faust Drugs took two ## Demonstrating new '69 Chevrolet truck features the hard way!

When we came to a river we got wet. This river bed was paved with rocks the size of melons. What a test for new light- and heavy-duty suspension systems this wet!

Conventional light-duty units have collapsing independent front suspension—bender on truck, load and driver.

Users of new conventional medium- and heavy-duty units who have to operate in close quarters are going to like the narrower front ends (up to 7 inches).

Now engines, suspensions, frames and narrower front ends show their stuff on Mexico's tough Baja Run!

With months of proving-ground tests under their belts, why did new Chevrolet trucks take on the rugged Baja (bah'bah) Peninsula? This is the toughest line of trucks Chevrolet has ever built. Sending them over the most punishing terrain in North America (a road totally unlike the fine highways on the Mexican mainland) was double proof of this fact. Frames, engines, suspension systems were subjected to stresses far greater than trucks normally encounter. You can be sure that trucks that can handle this kind of beating can handle any kind of work.

Waterway Charts To Aid Craft Operators

United Press International
The Coast and Geodetic Survey has announced it will produce a "compact series" of Intracoastal Waterway charts designed specifically for small craft operators but expected to be a useful aid for commercial fishing fleets and sports fishermen.

to Florida and around the Gulf of Mexico to the Rio Grande, a distance of 2,900 miles.
Charts for the Waterway have been available since 1936, but only in the large sheet size which are difficult to handle and read in small craft.
The new charts will be accordion folded and measure only 7 1/2 by 15 inches.
"The plan," said Rear Adm. H. Arnold Karo, director of the Coast and Geodetic Survey for the Department of Commerce, "is to produce a chart format that will not be awkward and unwieldy when used for small craft navigation."

Cmdr. Marvin Paulson, head of the Survey's Nautical Chart Division, said that "within its protective wrap-around cover, the folio contains just about everything the mariner needs to know, including annual tide tables, a complete tabulation of supplies and facilities, direction and velocity of tidal currents, information on marine weather services, and much more—all in one package."

The first of the remodeled charts are scheduled for issue early next year. They are No. 824, covering the area from Sandy Hook to Little Egg Inlet, N. J., and No. 829, from Norfolk, Va., to Albemarle Sound, N. C. Thereafter, the next charts issued will generally progress southward to Florida and into the Gulf of Mexico.

Paulson said that additional off-shore hydrography will be added to the new editions—if space permits—to provide continuity for vessels plying between the waterway and the open sea. The expanded hydrography should render these charts more useful to the fishing fleets and the sports fishing industries, he said.

"Several years will be needed to convert all charts to the new compact format, to check-out the boating facilities through field inspection and to assemble other complementary information planned for this unique series," Paulson said.
A new precision radar no larger than a typewriter but rugged enough—according to its manufacturer—to withstand round-the-clock use is now on the market.

It is manufactured by the Raytheon Company's Marine Products Operation.
The new model has four range scales—4, 2, 6 and 12 miles—which give the user a detailed electronic picture of landmarks, buoys, and other vessels over an area up to 450 square miles around his position. Information is displayed on a 7-inch cathode tube.
According to the manufacturer, it can distinguish targets as close as 30 yards and can discriminate between targets only 35 yards apart on the 1/2-mile scale.

The radar uses a newly designed 30-inch parabolic antenna mounted in a weather-sealed plastic radome. Simplified construction does away with the bulky waveguide—the copper "plumbing" used in most radars to carry the radar signals between the indicator and the antenna.

Wert Stresses The Fine Art Of Watch Work

Although horology sounds like something to do with witches or crystal balls, it is avidly practiced here in Sanford.

Actually horology is the fine art of watch making, and Robert Cushing, of Wert Jewelry, went to school to learn it.

Cushing attended Bradley University in Peoria, Ill., to study watch making. He then came to work for his grandfather, Charles F. Wert.

Wert had come from Indiana, working as a watch maker in several states before arriving in Sanford. He worked in Sanford for another jeweler for a while and then began his own business in 1934. Wert opened the store at 202 E. First Street where it still is.

The business is now owned by the Howard Cushings and the Robert Cushings. Mrs. Howard Cushing and Robert are the daughter and grandson of Wert.

Both Howard and Robert work in the store. Howard retired from school teaching in Indiana to come to Sanford. The Cushings had spent many summers here and made many friends, so when they took over the store in 1954 it was not a strange town to which they came.

Besides the watch and clock repairing which Wert Jewelry handles, the store carries a line of retail jewelry.

Give, Give, GIVE

One of the frequently heard rebuttals to charitable giving is the assertion that we are not our brother's keeper. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Being reared in the Judeo-Christian tradition, and far removed from the traditions of barbarism, we have been taught from childhood the truth that charity is the dominant expression of the religious background of Western civilization, Toynbee to the contrary notwithstanding.

During the next ten days the people of Seminole County are going to be called upon to demonstrate their willingness to support their convictions by reaching down into their pockets and raising $38,000 for the United Fund Drive.

This money will be used to support the disaster programs of the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army, the ongoing needs of the Boy and Girl Scout organizations, and associations for the suppression of disease. All of these are great needs, and the United Fund contributor knows he is doing a real good job when he donates.

The disaster services are not only those of area wide importance, but they reach down to the family level when necessary, as in the case of the fire here last March, that destroyed five homes and left 27 people without a place to go for shelter. Immediate arrangements were made by the local disaster unit of the Red Cross. This service might not have been available without the United Fund Drive.

We have a responsibility toward our brother human being who stands in need. There is no better way to meet this responsibility than through the United Fund campaign.

As we said before, "When the knock comes on your door, GIVE!"

No More Please!

No doubt our nation's lawmakers are accustomed to being assailed for operating a cumbersome, out-of-date legislative mechanism that serves poorly in this space age.

Yet after their shamefully protracted session in Congress this year, even they ought to be somewhat shaken.

It is traditional in election years that Congress get out of town early so members can get back home and campaign. Things have reached such a pass that they are now defeating their own urgent desire in this regard. Many could not hit the road until five or six weeks later than usual.

What was once occasional is now virtually the rule: Important appropriations measures which are supposed by law to take effect July 1 are not adopted until August, September, and even October.

Departments of the government and many assorted programs go along under various temporary expedients while the lawmakers wrangle endlessly over the complexities of allotting money.

As if this too well established dilatory pattern were not enough, this year a bitter dispute arose between House and Senate appropriations leaders over argument from the latter that they had equal right to initiate money bills.

The result was an incredible delay, childish displays of stubbornness and a grudge-bearing attitude on the part of some which shows no signs of abating simply because Congress has gone home.

The country really can have little patience with this kind of high-handed nonsense. Nor is it particularly interested in the fine points of the argument. What it wants is a Congress that works effectively, that is in tune with these fast-moving times.

Congress for some years now has complained bitterly over what it feels is the gradual but steady loss of authority to the President in many matters, mostly in the foreign field, but some of them domestic.

Experts in government believe that a good deal of this change is inescapable, since the President is charged with conduct of foreign affairs and this dominates much of our life today.

Some of these specialists do believe, however, that Congress suffers unfairly from lack of adequate grounding in many problems which it ought properly to maintain a large role in solving.

Yet there would seem slender chance of reshaping congressional processes to fit the complexities of the age when the portrait it offers of itself is one of self-defeating internal controversy benefitting no one.

Congress is approaching some kind of crossroads. It cannot often in the future put on a performance as confused as that of 1962 and hold the respect it should have. And this must be said in spite of many solid achievements it recorded this year.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Adenauer Still Rules

Ideally, if the problem of a divided Germany were to be solved, it would be solved by the Germans themselves.

Without a divided Germany, there would be no divided Berlin, and, without either, there also would be removed the greatest single source of the recurring crises which threaten to engulf the world in World War III.

But, since world conditions make such a happy solution presently impossible and as the Kremlin has increased its pressures for a German settlement, the United States has sought alternatives.

One of these has been a suggestion to West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt that the West Germans take a greater initiative in seeking a Berlin and German solution even though finally it must be the decision of the four powers, the United States, France, Britain and the Soviet Union.

Brandt, one of a succession of recent German visitors to Washington, took the suggestion home with him where it promptly became a political issue.

In West Germany, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer stands close to President Charles de Gaulle of France in the position that Soviet obligations under four-power agreements leave nothing to be negotiated.

GOOD GOVERNMENT'S WORST ENEMY

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Dr. Dan's dilemma shows how colleges often ignore the practical problems of everyday life. This educational cuneiform thus adds "horse sense" to help offset the excessive theory from college textbooks. It is a clinic in psychology and psychiatry for home and factory use.

CASE N-462: Dr. Dan is a medical friend of mine.

"But, Dr. Crane," he began at our luncheon, "my wife and I are in a quandary.

"You probably didn't know it before, but our 13-year-old daughter Mary is a foster child.

"We adopted her when she was only a couple of weeks old. However, we have never told her.

"So now Mother insists I tell Mary, but I have replied that a mother is usually closer to her child, so I have urged Mother to do it.

"Meanwhile, we have passed the buck to each other for several years without either of us being able to tell Mary.

"But we are aware that if some outsider should give Mary the facts, then she might never recover from this psychological trauma.

"So how does a man tell his daughter she is adopted? Have you any psychological formula?"

Yes, I worked for many years trying to evolve a perfect formula.

"So I urged Dr. Dan to wait till after the evening meal and then draw Mary down upon the arm of his chair or his knee, and say:

"Mary, I have a fascinating story to tell you. And what makes it so thrilling is the fact it is all true, too.

"Fifteen years ago I happened to meet the most wonderful young woman in my life. She was jolly and pretty and such a wonderful person that I fell head over heels in love with her.

"And this woman was your mother. Although we were total strangers up till that moment, I felt a magnetic attraction toward her.

"Luckily, too, she fell in love with me. And we have been happily married for 15 years. Meanwhile, I have felt closer to Mother than to my own blood kin, namely, your Uncle Harry and your Aunt Susan, who are my brother and sister.

"And Mother has also felt closer to me than to her own blood kin. Yet we were just like two ships, passing in the night, till we suddenly felt attracted to each other when we first met.

"And we were very happy for several years, except for the fact that we wanted a baby girl. So one day I happened to see you at the hospital. You were only a few days old.

"But I fell in love with you, just as I had with Mother. And Mother also fell in love with you, too, just as she had fallen in love with me several years earlier.

"So I took you to be my daughter, exactly as I picked Mother to be my wife. Now you and I are not of blood kinship, but neither are Mother and I blood kin.

"So we three are held together by the strongest bond that exists on this earth, namely, love or voluntary affection.

"And that is far stronger than any blood kinship, for you will recall from Sunday School that Cain and Abel were blood brothers yet Cain slew Abel.

"And King David's own son Absalom tried to kill his father David, yet they were of blood kin.

"If true kinship has nothing to do with blood ancestry but is solely a spiritual matter, we love each other, so you and I are truly kinfolks."

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— Pennsylvania Democrat Sen. Joseph S. Clark's resolution to set up a Joint Congressional Committee to study reorganization of Congress got no place in the past month's prolonged rush to adjourn. But if ever there was a Congress that demonstrated the need for modernizing the legislative machinery once again, this session was it.

The last time Congress modernized its rules, in 1946, it was prescribed that all sessions should end not later than the last day of July. The fact that this session ran two and a half months longer shows how out of date that rule is.

Other evidences of obsolescence this year include:

—The failure to pass a single appropriation bill before the start of the new fiscal year on July 1.

—The filibuster against the communications satellite bill.

—The failure to pass any legislation for the advancement of primary, secondary or higher education.

—The excessive time required to handle trade, tax reform and farm legislation—the last two handled inadequately.

—The inability of Congress to get around to considering much-needed transportation reorganization, consumer protection, mass immunization and youth opportunities.

Congress didn't even touch civil rights or labor legislation although disorders in both areas are prevalent.

Clark has been plugging congressional modernization since the rump session of 1960 and getting no place. Early this year he proposed a series of Senate rules changes. Only one was approved. It allows the presiding officer to declare any senator out of order, requiring him to take his seat and allowing him to proceed only on Senate leave.

Other Clark-proposed rules changes which Senate traditionalists—or obstructionists—turned down include these:

—That committee majorities be permitted to convene meetings when the chairman refuses to call them. That no senator be permitted to speak more than three consecutive hours. That Senate debate at all times be germane to the issue under consideration.

In a study made for the senator last year, it was found that one-third of the debate reported in the Congressional Record was not germane to legislation under consideration.

Clark now has some other congressional reorganization ideas he would like to have considered, like these:

—That no committee chairman be over 70 years old. That committee chairmen be elected by committee majority vote on secret ballot. That Senate and House committees considering the same legislation hold joint hearings to save time. That all legislative committees be required to consider and report on presidential requests before July 4 of each year.

The Joint Committee which Clark has proposed to consider these or other modernization reforms would consist of seven senators and seven representatives. It would be directed to make a complete study during the coming year.

Twenty-three senators from both parties—including such Republicans as Kuchel of California and Cooper of Kentucky—have so far become cosponsors of the Clark resolution. In the House, Reps. Henry S.

Reuss, D-Wis., and John V. Lindsay, R-N. Y., have introduced identical resolutions.

This was just a trial run with a dead horse. But even Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield says "I am looking forward to the coming January when I assume the diligent senator from Pennsylvania will once more undertake his crusade to bring about reformation of the Senate rules. I wish him well."

To The Editor

October 22, 1962
Dear Editor:

I should like to clear up certain misunderstandings regarding a booklet entitled, "The Seminole County Story," now in the process of development by the Jack Pyle Advertising Agency.

First, the publication is not a duplication of any other published material in use by your Chamber of Commerce. We have an outstanding color brochure, mainly pictorial, for circulation in the tourist field. It contains only very general information on the county. In addition to this brochure, our publications are: a street map, fishing map, folder on schools, and an industrial brochure.

The Jack Pyle booklet will contain a great deal of factual information on the entire county that is not included in any other publications of the Chamber. It is therefore a very necessary supplement to the regular, published material.

Second, this is the fourth publication of this type of booklet over a period of six years sponsored by the Chamber, and it has always been one of our most popular mailing pieces. Some 10,000 copies have been published each time, or a total of approximately 30,000 booklets.

The major portion of this publication is distributed by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce throughout the United States and in some foreign countries. The mailings are made in answer to direct inquiries which indicate a genuine interest in this county and a desire for complete information.

We do not encourage retail merchants to advertise in the booklet, as obviously, there are other classes of business which benefit more directly from incoming residents. However, we welcome the support of the publication through advertising of any business firm in Seminole County.

Yours very truly

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Do you believe all men have marriage in mind when they give a girl an engagement ring? I have been going with this man for three years. For a year I have been wearing his ring. He never says, "I love you," or "Let's set the date."

Sometimes I don't believe he cares for me at all and that he gave me a ring just to keep me dangling. I love him but I can't tell him that when he never tells me he loves me. We never talk about our love or our future. I am tired of his stalling. I want to share his life. I am 25 and he is 29. What must I do?

NAMELESS
DEAR NAMELESS: Give him back his ring — and tell him why.

DEAR ABBY: My husband loves animals. He keeps a pet skunk in our house. This skunk has not been deodorized and I live in constant fear that this pet will "forget" himself one day. Wouldn't you call this mental cruelty?

FEARFUL
DEAR FEARFUL: The skunk is a peaceful little creature who sprays the evil-smelling liquid only in moments of extreme fright or anger. (It's his weapon to drive off enemies.) so be nice to your bushy-tailed pet and he'll be nice to you.

DEAR ABBY: When I married for the second time, I was a young widow. We were married in his church. After the ceremony my husband pointed out a bookstand memorial which he had donated in memory of his first wife. Her name stood out in large letters. Here we had been married in front of this!

After 25 years and 3 children we still sit in the same pew directly opposite this memorial. I have said nothing, but I have felt plenty. Sometimes I think I can't go to church another time. Am I wrong? I've asked to change churches, but he refuses. I'd feel silly telling anyone the reason. What should be done and by whom?

WANTS TO CHANGE CHURCHES
DEAR WANTS: You can't blame your husband if you have never told him of your feelings in the matter. Confide in your clergyman. He will not think you "silly" and will probably have the solution for you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO STUDENT IN TROUBLE: Don't do anything foolish. Send me your name and address and I will tell you where to go for help.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365 Beverly Hills, Calif.

New Square Dance Classes To Begin

New square dance classes will begin Nov. 1 at the American Legion Hall, with any couples interested in learning to square dance invited to attend.

The class will be held open Nov. 1st and Nov. 8th, and after that no new couples can be taken. The course will run for 12 weeks, beginning at 7:30 p. m. each Thursday at the Legion Hall on Hwy. 17-92 and running for approximately two and a half hours.

Caller Joe Curtis will be the instructor. "Square dancing is really the only dance considered fully American," Harold Jenkins, veteran square dancer said.

"Some parts of it go back to the year 1450, and it has been made up of parts of dances performed on the greens and fields of England and from the royal ballrooms of France.

"From England, there were the Morris dances, the Scottish steps, reels, Irish jigs, and from France, the court ballet, the Minuet, Quadrilles such as polkas, Spanish church dances and European folk dances all contributed the what is called square dancing today.

"Early settlers of this country, with their divergent backgrounds added to one dance, borrowed from another, and came up with the old time barn dances, which eventually evolved into square dancing and West of the Mississippi, into Western-style square dancing.

"It's not so hard to square dance," Jenkins said. "There are few basic steps, which are, either in a circle, in a line or in a star, for execution of the various figures."

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

John Crawford and Tobias Stone are among the pairs likely to come through the Phoenix trials as a member of the 1963 American Bridge Team.

In today's hand Tobias, sitting West, did the work. Johnny, sitting East, made one bid, then co-operated with signals that helped his partner find the winning defense.

North's jump to four spades was designed to put pressure on his vulnerable opponents. Johnny, sitting East had no problem, and Stony doubled the four-spade contract.

Stony opened the king of diamonds and Johnny played the deuce. This discouraged a further diamond lead and Stony shifted to ace and another heart.

South ruffed in dummy, cashed dummy's king of trumps, led a club to his queen.

Stony won with the king. He had to lead, and all leads looked bad. But he came up with the only winning play when he led a low diamond. Dummy's jack held and South discarded a club, but he still had to take another club finesse and Stony's jack set the contract.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

"Too many American women go to the supermarket in Bermuda shorts a little too small and with hair-rollers a mile too large."

The foreign visitor who made that less-than-flattering observation of the American housewife added in obvious bewilderment: "When I visited America 10 years ago, the way American housewives dressed impressed me. But today numerous young and old, fat and thin housewives shop for groceries in shorts."

"It's inconceivable when the very best and cheapest clothes in the world are readily available to them. How can they bear to dress as they do?"

Probably it's because the American woman — with a closet full of becoming clothes suitable for all occasions including marketing and errand running — never admits to herself that for most of the daylight hours she runs around looking like a scarecrow.

No matter how often she has hopped in her car to run errands with her hair done up on rollers and wearing the same old faded, too tight shorts and rumpled shirt she put on to wash windows or do the laundry or wax floors she doesn't think of herself as a woman who is a sloppy dresser.

As long as she can manage to look like a fashion picture when she goes to a ladies luncheon or goes out in the evening with her husband or attends a club meeting, she thinks of herself as a well-dressed woman.

But all the while she is mentally considering herself well-dressed—because she can be when she bothers—she is running around day after day in one awful looking get-up after another, leaving the impression wherever she goes not of a neatly dressed woman but of one who seems to think she is invisible (hair rollers, shorts, sneakers, and all) so long as she is only marketing or errand running.

Highlights TV Time Previews

7:30-8:30 p. m. NBC. Laramie. "The Long Road Back." (color) A predictable plot that isn't helped much by a lethargic action. Slim's (John Smith) attempt to bring in a wanted bank robber (James McMullan) is thwarted by a pretty girl (Yvonne Craig) who helps the prisoner escape, leaving Slim tied in a cave. You can bet Slim escapes to get his man. There's an interesting performance by Edgar Buchanan as a grizzled prospector. 8:30-9:30 p. m. CBS. The Red Skelton Hour. Best laughs of Red Skelton's new season, thanks to the fact Red and guest George Gobel make a perfect team in a doctor-spoofing sketch. Red's in his Freddie-the-Freelancer role as a hospital patient. Gobel plays the doctor who feels Freddie is in need of brain surgery. Fairly amusing is Skelton's pantomime of a man in a phone booth. Musically, soprano Karen Morrow guests in three separate spots, her best song being "What Kind of Fool Am I?"

Scouts Hold Fitness Camporee

By Jane Casselberry
 Troop 341 of the Wekiwa District Physical Fitness Camporee held Saturday and Sunday at Showalter Air Park in Winter Park.

The 400 Central Florida Boy Scouts attending the event set up their tent camps in a fashion open to the public.

Troop 341 did its cooking with meals made from aluminum foil over charcoal fire. An improvised shower was set up and the boys learned the value of water as it was brought to the field in a tank and then had to be transported back to camp in large cans and carefully conserved.

All day Saturday the boys took part in rigorous athletic events such as football throw, horseshoe toss, tire waddle, standing broad jump, running broad jump, 30 yard dash, log throw and yerd and under.

Seventy-two of the boys also passed requirements for personal fitness merit badges. Those included Glenn Duncan and Darwin Shea of Troop 341.

Ricky Casselberry served as acting senior patrol leader for the troop during the camporee. Troop 341 raised 100 per cent on the campsite inspection and Scoutmaster Daniel received a tomahawk award and Henry Duncan received the tomahawk award for their part in the planning the camporee during the closing ceremonies held Sunday afternoon.

A campfire program was presented Saturday night and religious services were held for the boys early Sunday morning.

Other Casselberry boys attending were Steve Duncan, Carlton Callenberger, David and Bob Barrowman, David Krohn, Billy and Danny Dempsy, Peter Montgomery, Ricky Pettis, Jerry Skisak, Ricky Jackson, Norman Mitchell, Lee Totten, David and Garrison Martin and Jim Hedley.

In the top photo at left, Jim Hedley and David Krohn cautiously consume a bit of precious water which had to be hauled all the way across the airstrip to fill the large blister bag. # Tension Mounts At Lyman As Homecoming Draws Near

By Jane Casselberry
 Tension is mounting at Lyman High this week as ten of the school's loveliest and most popular girls vie for the title of Homecoming Queen.

Candidates who were chosen by the football players are Betty Field and Linda Higgins, seniors; Dallas Cassell, Cheryl Werley, Gayle Palmer, Brenda Petty and Margaret Garrett, juniors and Pam Jones, Sandi Tennant and Mary Lou Haines, sophomores.

The five girls selling the most tickets to this Friday's Homecoming Game with St. Leo will be determined when the tickets are counted Wednesday evening. The girl selling the largest number will be crowned queen during the halftime ceremonies at the game. The remaining four runnersup will constitute the court.

Everyone will be kept in suspense until the excitement reaches its peak on Friday night and the girls ride onto the field. The queen will ride in a white 1963 Oldsmobile convertible and no one, not even the lucky winner will know she has won until she is she is taken to this particular car.

Candidates already have chosen their own escorts for the ceremonies.

NAS Poll Reveals....

Extension Justified

Sailors and Marines at the Sanford Naval Air Station said today extension of their duty tours is justified in light of the current crisis, a Herald poll revealed.

...of duty had been scheduled to end in February. A few took Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's extension announcement with solemn resignation.

...partment made the right decision. "Due to circumstances that can't be altered, I'd say it was not only justified, but necessary," one flyer added, referring to President Kennedy's order to quarantine Cuba.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Twenty-five Soviet ships continued on course toward Cuba today after the U. S. quarantine against arms shipments formally went into operation.

All signs pointed to a clash within hours between American warships and some of the Russian vessels. There were reports the country deliberately would angle out a vessel carrying arms for the test.

The quarantine went into effect at 9 a.m. Two hours later, a Pentagon spokesman said he had no evidence that any of the Russian ships had turned back or altered their course.

Awaiting them in international waters was a U. S. task force under orders to stop them for an inspection and sink them if necessary.

Asked whether the first ship to be halted necessarily would be a Soviet vessel, he replied: "That is where our interest is concentrated."

Government sources and congressional leaders meanwhile reported that plans were "going forward" for a full-scale invasion of Cuba if present U. S. measures prove inadequate to neutralize the island as a threat to the United States.

It was learned that Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, had forcefully urged Kennedy to make an immediate invasion of Cuba. The senator, it was said, expressed his views during Monday's White House conference.

Essentially, his view was reported to be that invasion may well be a necessary action beyond the initial steps—including the quarantine—that Kennedy outlined Monday night.

Russell, it was said, argued that it would be easier and less costly in terms of casualties to make the move at once rather than waiting.

As the showdown neared and tension mounted, Kennedy met with Cabinet officials and his top level military and intelligence advisers.

Soviet officials here and elsewhere gave every indication that the Russian ships would refuse to stop or be searched. In the last alternative this would mean the Navy would carry out Kennedy's order to sink any ship that refuses to be diverted.

But this was only one of the tests ahead.

An invasion would be aimed at removing the 1,000-mile Soviet missiles already based in Cuba. Cuba already has reacted derisively to a U. S. proposal that the rockets be dismantled under United Nations supervision.

Russia took a similar hard stand toward the U. S. blockade.

Valerian Zorin, Soviet delegate to the UN, said "no disrespecting state will permit its shipping to be tampered with."

...Thant was pressured to do so in an appeal from some 40 smaller powers delivered to him this morning by the ambassadors of Cyprus, Ghana and the United Arab Republic.

UN sources said Thant had not decided definitely to go personally before the council, but he promised to give careful consideration to the request.

The Security Council this morning heard Britain accuse Russia of reckless double dealing in sending nuclear missiles to Cuba creating a threat to Western hemisphere security which "those responsible for its defense cannot tolerate."

...There was immediate speculation that an early next step could be orders freezing Army and Air Force men on active duty beyond normal expiration of their tours.

...Lafayette deputies said Lewis Raymond Dowda, 28, Rt. 1, Sanford, was picked up over the weekend in a cafe.

Dowda was held on $1,000 bond for the vagrancy and illegal weapons charge.

...Only steel and a handful of rails resisted a widespread selling onslaught which forced the nine minutes late in recording transactions during the first 34 minutes of dealings.

Board To Explain 'Steak' Dinners

The County Commission decided Tuesday afternoon to get the former commission off the Attorney General's hook by writing him a full and complete explanation of the $170 worth of dinners consumed by former incumbents while in the process of setting up zoning regulations for the county.

Bush Explains Tanglewood Woe To Commission

The County Commission Tuesday took up the question of the recurring collapses of Lake Howell Road, Tanglewood, which was brought up by County Engineer William Bush.

Bush declared the fault lies in the inadequate construction of a sewer line that runs under the center line of the street, and the company that developed the area and installed the line, Phillips Industries of Azalea Park, have notified him that they have no intention of doing anything about the situation.

Commissioner Vernon Dunn pointed out that the disposal plant serving the area has its outfall in a ditch running behind the houses on Lake Howell Road, and the situation should be corrected.

An application to establish a commercial cemetery in the town of Casselberry, submitted by Hibbard Casselberry, was approved by the commission.

Strickland-Morrison Motors, Sanford, was awarded the bid for two compact cars for the County Road Department. The bid submitted would provide the cars to the County's specifications for $3,418. A bid from the Rosier Machinery Co., Orlando, for a road grader at $16,995 was accepted, also.

City Judge Kenneth McIntosh addressed the board briefly and offered the services of the Seminole Timing Association in helping to solve the problem of the uses of Osceola Air Strip. The group has cleared all the runways out there and closed and moved the concession stands so the strip is now available if needed by some distressed flyer.

His Honor also reported the group has been reorganized and now will assist the county in solving the question of liability in the event of accident. The Timing Association pays $119.60 for insurance everytime they meet, now. They are also trying to get NASCAR sanction for their meets, and this will be possible when a permanent arrangement for the use of the strip is worked out with the Commission.

A property owner's attorney sent in a right of way deed for improving Montgomery Road. Also included a bill for $65.00 for the deed. County accepted the deed and rejected the bill.

No road program will be adopted until the County Commission tours the county roads and decides which highways are most in need of work. Will be done shortly.

Goodwin Tells Clinic

Business Goes.. Where Invited

"Business goes where it's invited and returns where it's well treated," Dr. Frank Goodwin of the University of Florida told more than 150 local and county sales people, managers and store owners at the Civic Center, Tuesday.

Presenting his lecture, "The Little Things Count," the inimitable Dr. Goodwin kept his audience laughing and alert with pointed anecdotes, stories and illustrations that proved out the points that he made on the following points of selling:

(1) Make it possible for the customer to buy. (2) Make it easy for him. (3) Ask for the decision. In illustrating his points, Dr. Goodwin said that each customer in effect has a problem, which the salesman can help him solve if he asks questions, takes a genuine interest and knows his product.

"A good salesman doesn't do all the talking—he listens," the sales leader said. "You must interpret your product in understandable terms of what it will do for the customer's benefit and satisfaction. Our minds are so confused with advertising we don't know what soap to bathe with or what cigarette to smoke!"

"Don't kid yourself about the amount of damage you do by doing the wrong things or not doing the right things," Dr. Goodwin cautioned. "It's no use talking to a customer, unless you know their name," he said. "Find out what it is and use it, there's no better way of getting a person's attention."

Tonight, Dr. Goodwin will lecture on "The Contagious Personality," and show the film, "By Jupiter."

Parents may come to the school anytime between the hours of 8 a.m. and 2:45 p.m. Principal Junior Carlton of Sanford Junior High has announced that teachers there will reserve the period from 12 to 12:30 for lunch.

Soviets Reject Note; Kohler's Car Stoned

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Soviet youth today stoned a car carrying U. S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler during a protest demonstration at the American embassy against the U. S. blockade of Cuba. Kohler apparently was not hurt.

The Soviet government refused to accept an American note outlining the protests of the blockade. It returned it to the embassy and repeated charges that the blockade is "a threat to universal peace."

Kohler's car was struck and dented by a single stone as it left the embassy compound and drove past nearly 500 demonstrators who waved anti-American signs and shouted "shame, shame."

The car was "only nicked" and it was nothing serious," a U. S. spokesman said. The 20-year-old who threw the stone was arrested by Soviet police.

It was the only violence in the demonstrations, which began at mid-morning and continued until evening.

All embassy personnel except Kohler remained inside the building, behind the barred compound gates during the demonstration. The ambassador's car was struck as he drove from the embassy to his official residence, Spasso House.

Public Appeal Sought To Ease Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Acting Secretary General Thant is considering a public appeal to Russia and the United States in the Security Council tonight in an attempt to ease the Cuban crisis, diplomatic quarters reported today.

Thant was pressured to do so in an appeal from some 40 smaller powers delivered to him this morning by the ambassadors of Cyprus, Ghana and the United Arab Republic.

UN sources said Thant had not decided definitely to go personally before the council, but he promised to give careful consideration to the request.

The Security Council this morning heard Britain accuse Russia of reckless double dealing in sending nuclear missiles to Cuba creating a threat to Western hemisphere security which "those responsible for its defense cannot tolerate."
