Weather

Clear to partly cloudy through Saturday; scattered showers extreme north; widely scattered showers over the keys; little change in temperature.

Strolling In Sanford

Oddly enough, the world's shortest sermon is preached by a traffic sign: "Keep Right."

A meeting of people interested in bringing a series of first-class entertainments to Sanford next season will be held tonight at 7:30 in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association office. A representative from the Alhambra Theatre will be present to discuss the possibilities for and against. The meeting will last one hour.

They were giving away balloons at a local store recently and the place was crowded with children anxious to receive one of the playthings. One small boy walked up to the clerk and asked, politely, if he might have two balloons. "I'm sorry," was the reply, "but we only give one balloon to each boy. Have you a brother at home?" The youngster was truthful but he did want another balloon. "No," he said, "but my sister has, and I want one for him."

Russians, Indians Toast Each Other As Peace Champs

MOSCOW (U.S.)—The premiers of Russia and India toasted each other as champions of peace last night and chorused hopes the rest of the world would follow in their footsteps.

The exchange took place at a Kremlin dinner honoring India's Prime Minister Nehru. Russia's top leaders were present.

Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin led off by voicing hope that the joint efforts of India, Russia and Red China could "ease the tension" over Formosa.

Man Safe 1 1/2 Million Miles

CHICAGO (U.S.)—William C. Hatten, a truck driver who has won many prizes for safe driving, today completed 1 1/2 million miles of driving in 30 years without a serious accident.

"I always drive as if everyone else on the road is going to do the unexpected," Hatten said.

"You just can't let down for a minute when you have a wheel in your hands. But even so, there have been some close ones. I guess the Lord has been with me all at times."

Courter Party Will Be Lured

SAN FRANCISCO (U.S.)—The United Nations' 10th anniversary commemorative session here later this month will be more than a polite birthday party, says Sir Leslie Hutton, New Zealand ambassador to the United States.

Sir Leslie told a news conference yesterday developments at the meeting may have a large bearing on future world politics. He added, they will reflect the internal meetings of foreign ministers and concern over the approaching "summit meeting" of the Big Four chiefs of state.

DeLand Stolen Car Found In Sanford

A car stolen at DeLand was found parked on Oak Ave. here yesterday, City Police reported. No keys were in the car and it was towed to the Police Station.

The license number was checked after A. C. Williams, 1401 Oak Ave., informed Police the car had been parked by his home all day. The car, a 1953 Pontiac, was stolen yesterday morning from Earnest Jenkins of DeLand.

Robbins Is Named To Vice-Presidency Of Sanitation Assn.

V. J. Robbins, sanitation officer for Seminole County, was elected vice-president of the Florida Association of Sanitation at a "short course" held in Tallahassee on June 6, 7 and 8.

The annual "short course" is put on by the general Extension Divisions of Florida State University and the University of Florida as a "brush-up" course and has 25 members affiliated with it. The National Association has 1600 members.

The governor proclaimed the week of June 6 as Sanitation week and the course co-ordinated with this week.

Elected president was John Duguid, Jacksonville vice president, Robert Sanford secretary, R. E. McGovern, Pensacola; and treasurer, A. W. Morrison, Miami. Robbins was previously treasurer.

City Supervised Recreation Slate To Start Monday

The city's supervised recreational program will get under way Monday and will continue through August 5, Edward Christensen, director, announced today.

The program will be divided into two divisions, the 6 to 11 age group and the 12 and up age group. The 6 to 11 group will register at 9 a. m. Monday at the Elks playground.

Sponsored jointly by the city and the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction, the program will offer swimming and swimming instruction, arts and crafts, bowling, dancing, softball, tennis, movies, hayrides, and other activities.

Free transportation will be provided for children participating in the program.

Forest Fires Plague Dry Districts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A new series of forest fires plagued drought-stricken Florida today and little relief was in sight despite weather bureau predictions of some thunderstorms.

The weathermen said the showers will be "widely scattered" with emphasis on the widely. The forest likely won't be affected unless it rains hard over one of them.

Woods fires were reported in Volusia, Flagler, Marion, Levy and Wakulla counties.

Backfires were set on the west outskirts of Daytona Beach yesterday to protect Hialeah Hospital and a suburban development of hundreds of new homes from a nasty blast, along U. S. 1.

A burning forest fire that leaped 150-foot roads threatened the community of Seville, 30 miles northwest of Daytona Beach last night, but shifting winds removed the danger. Forest rangers had reported several homes directly in the path of the fire that swept over 1,300 acres.

A serious fire near the small community of Faviola in south Flagler County ate up "many thousands of acres" of woodland last night. Firefighters cut lanes around quarters of turpentine workers in the area. U. S. 1 was almost impassable at times because of flames licking up to the edge of the highway and smoke that reduced visibility to 25 feet.

IN A JOVIAL MOOD, Adlai E. Stevenson (left), Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, bates his arm as though inviting an inoculation from Dr. Jonas E. Salk, discoverer of polio vaccine. They got together at dedication ceremonies of the New York University Medical Center at which both received honorary degrees and Stevenson, in the major address, paid tribute to the work of Dr. Salk.

Condemnation Tags To Be Issued Soon

City Building Inspector John Gillon said today he is going out "in about a week" and place condemnation tags on all houses in Georgetown lacking proper sanitary facilities. He estimated about 75 houses are subject to tagging.

"We want to give everyone a fair chance to fix up their homes," Gillon said, but he pointed out that only a small number of property owners have thus far promised to equip their houses to conform with the city code.

Unless the other property owners act promptly, Gillon said he planned to hit Georgetown first and then go on to Goldboro, where he said about 75 below-standard houses also exist.

"I'm going to tag everything that's not up to standard," Gillon declared. "That's the only way I can keep up with it."

Property owners will be given 60 to 90 days after their homes are tagged to bring them up to standard, Gillon said. If they fail to do it within that period, the Board of Adjustment and Appeals "will probably close them up," he added.

Gillon said no protests had been set for hearing by the board. A property owner filing a protest must pay a $10 fee, he said.

Turning to building permits, Gillon said permits valued at a total of $10,081 have already been issued thus far this month. Permits issued during the entire month of May totaled only $149,952.

Business Education Need Brought Out At Meeting Today

The need for business education was cited by Ron Bailey, Jacksonville, district manager for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting today at Toddy's Restaurant.

Bailey was the guest at a called meeting of the County Chamber of Commerce's educational committee, headed by School Superintendent R. T. Milwee.

The business education program, Bailey said, is designed to dispel the widespread misunderstanding about business and business men and to acquaint the general public with the real facts.

YOUTH CONVICTED

KANSAS CITY (U.S.)—A circuit court jury last night convicted Donald W. De Lapp, 19, in the slaying of a fellow convict during last September's riots at the Missouri Penitentiary.

The jury recommended life imprisonment.

De Lapp was one of seven convicts accused in the fatal stabbing of Walter Lee Donnell. He denied complicity.

Some Baseball Fan To Receive TV Set

Sanford baseball fans are reminded of the special event scheduled for the game tomorrow night at Memorial Stadium between the Cardinals and St. Petersburg.

A modern 21-inch table model television set will be given away to some person attending the game.

Sanford Enterprises, Inc., is sponsoring the affair.

Former Bus Station Will House Offices

Roman Catholic Bishop Arrives After Release

HONG KONG (U.S.)—Roman Catholic Bishop Frederick Donaghy of New Bedford, Mass., arrived in Hong Kong today after nearly five years confinement in Red China.

His return leaves only one American bishop in Red China. The Most Rev. James Edward Walsh of Cumberland, Md., who is in Shanghai.

Bishop Donaghy, 52, arrived by train from Wuchow, Kwangsi province, wearing a plain white shirt, shabby brown trousers and black leather shoes.

"I am very happy to be in Hong Kong and pleased to see all you people," the bishop said. Looking pale and tired, he said he would talk to newsmen after a few days rest.

He was arrested on Christmas 1950, and after five months imprisonment placed under house detention. He was tried three days ago, convicted of subversive activities and ordered expelled from Red China.

Precision Needed For Effectiveness

NEW YORK (U.S.)—Gen. Thomas D. White, vice chief of staff of the Air Force, said technological intelligence must be precise to be effective.

White told the Military Intelligence Review Society last night that it is not enough to know the approximate performance of an enemy plane.

"If for example," he said, "information over-estimates the speed of an enemy bomber, he is merely by a few per cent, we might be induced to conclude erroneously that our entire inventory on interceptor planes is obsolete and must be replaced at a cost of many billions of dollars."

"If, by contrast, we underestimate the speed performance of a hostile attack plane by an equally small margin, we may find ourselves the victim of illusory security."

Marine Being Paid Unusual Tribute

CRESTAPTON, Md. (U.S.)—People of Cumberland and Cressknap are planning a unique tribute to the memory of the late "Bull" Evans, once known as the "One Man Army of the Marine Corps."

A drive for about $1,000 has been launched to send Evans' mother, Mrs. Rosa Evans of Cressknap, to Japan to visit Bull's widow, a Japanese girl, and his son.

The marine, a native of nearby Cumberland, earned a niche in corps history for his exploits during World War II on Bougainville, Midway, Tulagi, Makin, Guadalcanal and during the Korean fighting.

Navy Base Makes Location Changes

Several changes of location were necessary for NAAS Sanford offices this week as preparations were made for the arrival of the staff of Commander, Heavy Attack Wing ONE, from Norfolk.

The entire first floor of the Administration Building will be occupied by the HAWING staff.

As a result of the move, the Disbursing and the Special Service Offices are now located in Building Three.

The "Sanfly", station newspaper, as well as the Personnel Office and the Education Office have moved to the second floor of the Administration Building.

Sanford Enterprises, Inc., is sponsoring the affair.

Satisfaction Shown By School Official At News Of Action

"We're very happy about it," Superintendent of Schools R. T. Milwee said today as preparations were made to begin work Monday on converting the old Greyhound bus station into administrative offices for school officials.

Milwee said he and his staff hope to move into their new quarters about the middle of July.

Moving with them will be Fred C. Murray, director of adults and veteran education, who now has his office on the top floor of the Court House.

The present administration of the Court House basement has become "just too cramped" to permit adequate transaction of the huge volume of school business, Milwee pointed out. He and his staff have been located there for two and one-half years.

The old bus station was obtained by the school board from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and the board was informed in a letter from Fleming, Scott and Botts, Jacksonville law firm representing the RFC, that it could take possession at any time. The letter was read at yesterday's school board meeting.

Milwee said the bus station will undergo a complete renovation at the hands of the school board's maintenance crew. Partitions will be erected to divide the 1300 square feet of space into offices. As for the exterior, Milwee said a little fence may be put around the building and the grounds will be beautified.

The school superintendent pointed out that acquisition of the building by the school board has done away with the "vacant spot" in the center of town. The building, he added, is so constructed that additions can be added "as the county grows."

Milwee cited the fact that the county has been growing at the rate of about 8 per cent a year for the past two or three years. This, he said, makes it necessary to have larger administrative quarters.

County school supervisors will take over the present offices when they are vacated, he said.

Lake Monroe Area Recreational Plan Starts This Month

A recreational program has been organized by the people of the Lake Monroe and surrounding areas for their children of pre-school age up to 14 years from June 14 through the coming six weeks.

Hugh Carlton, with the cooperation of the Seminole County School Board and the people, is to be director. He will be assisted three days a week by C. E. Hittell.

Registration will start on June 14 at 2:30 p. m. in the Lake Monroe School building. The recreation will last five days a week from 2:30 to 5 o'clock and will offer a full course in various crafts, arts, swimming and a regular play day program.

Anyone interested is invited to bring his children for registration to next Tuesday. Transportation to and from the grounds will have to be furnished by the parents. For further information call C. E. Hittell or Hugh Carlton.

Florida Methodist Conference Initiates College Fund Campaign

LAKELAND (U.S.)—The Florida Methodist Conference, for the first time in its history initiating a fund drive for a college, has voted to raise at least a million dollars for Florida Southern.

One of the major uses of the new funds will be to raise faculty salaries, a speaker told the delegates yesterday. Another 1/4 million dollars will be given to the college to lend to churches erecting new buildings.

The money would be added to the endowment fund of the institution, bringing it to about five million dollars.

Dr. Ludd M. Spivey, school president, reported it has grown from 120 students and two buildings 30 years ago to more than 3,000 students and 60 buildings now.

It has trained more than 18 per cent of all public school teachers in Florida, he said, and is almost master for more than half the

Clara Jobe Fund Over $1,000 Mark, Gifts Still Coming

The Clara Jobe Fund, at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, reached a total of $1,000.00 this morning, with additional gifts sent directly to Mrs. Jobe and others yet to come in. Mrs. Ruth Scott, trustee of the fund, will accept gifts as they are brought in.

Contributions have been received from as far away as Palm Beach County and certainly the surrounding communities have had a great part in making the Clara Jobe Fund what it is today.

Mrs. Jobe's needs are unlimited. She has no money and medical expenses come high. And so, the fund will remain open indefinitely for those who would like to contribute. In telephone conversations, the 38-year-old mother has expressed an unending love for her friends here who have made possible the opportunity to accept hospitalization that could produce some relief for the tired body that has been enveloped with an incurable disease.

Lupus erythematosus, a disease of the skin caused by shock and nervousness, has made an invalid of Mrs. Jobe. And with an arthritic condition, the pain at times, is unbearable. But this courageous mother prays that she may continue to have an unclouded mind so that she might guide her two daughters through the perilous years of their lives.

Doctors have convinced her that she will never be well. But they revealed that there may be some relief from the pain. As soon as a remedy occurs at the hospital where doctors have agreed to look into Mrs. Jobe's case, she, accompanied by a nurse, will leave by medical designated transportation for the treatment that might give her some relief.

She has dedicated the best part of her life toward the relieving of suffering here in Sanford and Seminole County. She put others ahead of herself.

And now she says, "I do not know how to express myself. No one will ever know how deep the love in my heart goes for those who have helped me in my time of need."

And she continued, "knowing that someone was doing something for me, lifted me mentally and spiritually."

Through tears that contained both smiles and relief she said, "God bless you."

Modern Skipper's Dream Is Reality With First Voyage

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (U.S.)—The dream of a modern sailing skipper becomes reality today when the 131-foot Te Vega inaugurates passenger service to Tahiti.

Once every two months Omer Barr, 30, and his crew will ply the waters between Hawaii and Tahiti. But the maiden voyage will be somewhat different.

This time the Te Vega is scheduled to sail to the Marquesas and other islands in the South Pacific, including Tahiti, and will arrive in Honolulu on Aug. 15.

From then on she'll sail from Honolulu to Tahiti on trips lasting six weeks. The luxury sightseeing voyages will cost each passenger about $65 per day.

The Te Vega has many conveniences unheard of in the days of the clipper ships—radios for instance and a diesel engine for days when winds are of little assistance.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (U-A)
British physician swung a medical hammer at the sport of boxing—whether championship or amateur—declaring:
"Boxers can get damaging 'cauliflower eyes' as well as cauliflower ears."
Knowing how to box is not a defense "against blackguards and subterfuges" who probably will use brass knuckles or knives.
The brain is a delicate complex of nerves and sense organs and "the very thought of setting out to smash all this artistry with fists is a sacrilege, not a sport, and it behooves us to speak out against such barbarism."

Nearly half a regular professional boxer show brain defects sooner or later, by findings of one researcher.
Medical exams before a fight can single out "the cripples and morons," but cannot predict whether a fighter may be killed in the first round.
"One expert has said that probably no head blow is taken with impunity, and each knockout causes definite and irreparable damage."
For every boxing fan really interested in the technique of the sport, "there must be many who consciously or unconsciously utilize boxing to foster their sadistic impulses."
Boxing is not harmless and "will soon, we hope, be as obsolete as galley slaves or the chain gang."

FATHER Daniel Egan, Franciscan priest of Graymorn Monastery at Garrison, N. Y., testifies before the Senate Judiciary subcommittee investigating juvenile delinquency at New York City hearings. He said teen-age girls were being induced to pose for pornographic pictures, reproduced in hundreds of copies and sold to youths. (International)

WOMAN CAN SEE BETTER WITHOUT SPECES
LONG BEACH, Calif. (U-Mrs. Mary M. Kelly passed her 104th birthday yesterday with the observation that she sees "things more clearly now."
That's because she tossed away her spectacles when she was 103.
"I can see much better without them," she said with a grin. "In fact, I can see better all the time."
She has an opinion that anyone can live to be a mere 100.
"Eat plenty, see plenty of people and laugh a lot," she says. "And don't tell your true age."

WOMAN LIKES PLUMBING
CHICAGO (U-Mrs. Lucile Oel-Jorich of Augusta, Ga., one of the nation's few women master plumbers and a former schoolteacher, says that plumbing is more fun than teaching school.
Mrs. Oelrich, pretty and petite, married a plumber and helped out in his office. When her husband died six years ago she began studying the trade's techniques herself. She is in Chicago for the convention of the National Assn. of Plumbing Contractors.

RESCUE WORKERS in Dallas, Tex., search the rubble of a partially collapsed building for four persons they believe may be buried. Three persons were killed and ten others injured when the structure, which housed a bar, caved in, apparently having been weakened by the demolition of an adjoining building. Firemen pumped air into the ruins in hope of getting oxygen to those trapped. (International)

British Physician Makes Swing At Popular Boxing Profession

The criticisms came from Dr. James Hamilton Doggart, of Moorfields Eye Hospital, London in a speech to the American Medical Assn.
Cauliflower eyes are destructive hemorrhages in blood vessels of the eye nourishing the retina and lens, and account for many of the vision defects in boxers, he said.
Doggart said boxing blows can cause many kinds of damage to eyes, and to various parts of the brain.

First Transocean Cable Work Begun

NEWINGTON, N. H. (U-Workmen are in the first phase of a 40-million-dollar project to link North America and Britain with the world's first transoceanic telephone cable.
When the project is completed—expected in the summer of 1936—2,000 miles of cable will stretch under the Atlantic, which in places is 2½ miles deep.
The cable will contain 36 conversation circuits—20 for Anglo-American calls and six for calls between Canada and England.
That almost triples the present radio-telephone capacity between the United States and Britain.

Longwood News

By MRS. BEVERLY EATON
Longwood Town Council interviewed Albert E. O'Neill, Orlando engineer, on the suggestion for improving the town water system at its regular monthly meeting.

Tradition Broken With High Hopes Of Settling Issue

NEW YORK (U)—Lawrence Valensin is breaking a tradition in hopes of settling the record about advertising agencies and executives.

The president of Gray Advertising Agency particularly wants to debunk the concept of the typical ad agency executive as a fast-talking, smooth-talking buckaroo who transacts his business on the golf course or over a Martini.

So he is permitting TV to take viewers inside his agency for NBC's telecast of Mr. Executive tomorrow to see how ad campaigns for newspapers, magazines, radio and TV are planned. The show is one of a series on various business fields.

Heretofore, ad agencies have carefully kept in the background and avoided publicity although they handle billions of dollars worth of it a year. But Valensin says he thinks it's time for ad agencies to tell their own story.

"The impression of the business as wild and fabulous, has been drawn entirely, it seems to me, from bad books, bad motion pictures and bad plays," declares the veteran of 37 years in the field.

"The people in advertising, by and large, are as sincere, hard-working individuals as you'll find in any other field."

Another impression he hopes to reverse is that the public gets extra for advertising.

Here's where all that wonderful performance begins!

They're all true—all the wonderful things you hear about Pontiac's great performance.

The way it swoops uphill or down with the same effortless ease. The tremendous burst of passing power that answers the nudge of your toe. The thought-quick response in stop-and-go traffic that makes the car seem part of you. The smooth, quiet way it goes about its business however hard or far you drive.

Lift the hood of a Pontiac and you'll be face to face with the reason. That compact power plant nestled there may look much like other V-8's—but that's where your eyes deceive you!

The Strato-Streak V-8 is in a class all by itself—filled with engineering "firsts" that make it the mightiest engine ever to appear in Pontiac's price field. And it's one of the many Pontiac advantages you can't get anywhere else. Pontiac alone gives you the terrific drive of Strato-Streak performance.

This sensational performance, remember, comes in a distinguished, future-fashioned beauty that is tagged with a price any new-car buyer can readily afford.

Here's your wide-open invitation to come in and try the result—the fastest-selling Pontiac of all time. The car is ready whenever you are! Make it soon.

Jane Continues To Throw Off Type Casting

HOLLYWOOD—Jane Russell continues to confound the type casters by refusing to live up to her film siren reputation off screen.

Between scenes of "The Tall Men," which she is making with Clark Gable, she explained her great interest in WAIF. The initials stand for Women's Adoption International Fund.

"The organization was set up three years ago," said Jane, one of its leaders. "There seemed to be a real need for a group which could attend to one of the world's most pressing human problems. That is: that there are areas in the world where people want children, and there are other areas where children need parents. "The purpose of WAIF is to help these two groups get together." She said WAIF operates as an arm of International Social Service, Inc., a 35-year-old organization with headquarters in Geneva.

"One of our principle problems is adoption laws," she said. "Most of them were enacted merely as a protection against white slavery. There are 33 different adoption laws in this country, and many of them are pretty poor. We hope all of the states will adopt a standard, up-to-date code for adoptions."

Jane said she became interested in adoption matters when she encountered difficulty adopting children herself. She and Bob Waterfield now have a daughter, Tracy, 4, adopted in this country, and Tommy, 5, from a British couple who felt he would have more advantages in this country.

The actress said the main sources of children for adoption include Italy, Germany, Greece, Japan and Korea.

DETROIT PAINTER FULL OF ENERGY

DETROIT (AP)—At 70, Jack Clapp contends he still has years of useful activity ahead of him.

To prove it, he's going to parachute from an airplane into Lake Michigan Sunday as a protest against his forced retirement as a painter for Detroit's public schools. Seventy is the mandatory retirement age.

"I'm still too full of pep and ginger to be put out to pasture," said Clapp. "I'm going out and show folks a 70-year-old codger still has gumption."

Past Matrons, OES Will Have Picnic

Past Matrons' Club of Seminole Chapter No. 2 OES will hold their annual fried chicken and corn picnic at the "Homeside" of Mrs. Louise Bills in Geneva, late Monday afternoon. All members are urged to a "fond".

Cut the top off a green pepper and remove seeds and membranes; fill the pepper with a cheese spread; you'll need three cucumbers of the spread for a small pepper. Chill until cheese is very firm, slice crosswise and serve on salad greens with dressing.
Water cress, to be fresh, must be bright green, crisp and clean. Wilting or yellowing leaves means the cress is getting too old for use.
Many a Dad who thinks he's an example to his family is only a problem.
The man next door.

John Barrymore Jr. Sued For $55,750 For Misconduct

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A breach of contract suit for $55,750 is on file today against actor John Barrymore Jr., 22, son of the late John Barrymore Sr.
The suit, filed yesterday by Lanny Budd Productions, Inc., charges that he quarreled with his wife in public, insulted other actors and generally misbehaved while on location in England for a series of television films.
The action was a counter suit to a $50,000 complaint filed previously by Barrymore demanding an undisclosed sum which he said the producers owed him.
Young Barrymore's quarrels with his wife, Cara, occurred in Piccadilly and in the lobby of London's Hotel Savoy, the complaint said. It alleged that his "loud, abusive and profane language scandalized onlookers and irreparably damaged the producer's public relations."

Elderly Graduate Dies At Age 94
PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Mrs. Mabel Emily Ranger, 94, who was graduated from St. Johnsbury, Vt., Academy last January, died yesterday.
As a teen-age girl, Mrs. Ranger had nearly completed her four-year course at the academy when her family took her to Boston to study music.

Remembering that she had not received her diploma, academy officials decided her musical career more than made up for lack of an outmoded conception of high school studies and she was awarded her diploma.
Private commencement exercises were held at the nursing home where Mrs. Ranger lived.

Missouri GOP's Locked In Battle Of Party Control
ST. LOUIS — Missouri Republican leaders barely successful in swinging the state to President Eisenhower in 1952, are locked in battle for control of the state party, and national leaders may have to step in before the presidential campaign next year.
The party hasn't won an election since 1932 and lost a Senate seat that year.
The long-simmering feud flared into the open last week. It developed over distribution of government jobs in the state.
A. D. (Bud) Welsh, Republican National Committeeman from Missouri, tossed a lighted bomb today right into the middle of plans for a "harmony meeting" of the GOP state committee at Columbia or Jefferson City June 26.

Amendment Plan Is Declared Legal
TALLAHASSEE — Atty. Gen. Richard W. Ervin says the 67-senator constitutional amendment proposal which will appear on the 1956 general election ballot is legal.
Ervin advised Sen. Black of Jasper, the author, that he didn't think the proposal would be declared void because it fails to make mention of 15 senators elected in 1954 to four-year terms.

Controversial Bill O. K'd By Assembly

CAPETOWN, South Africa — The South African Assembly approved the government's controversial "Senate packing" bill last night, 71-68.
The bill would enlarge the upper house from 48 to 80 members, insuring Prime Minister Johannes Strijdom's government a two-thirds majority in any joint sitting of parliament.
The government needs such a majority to push through projected constitutional changes removing colored mixed blood voters in Cape Province from the general voters' roll.
Removal of the Cape Coloreds has long been a key point in the Nationalists' apartheid racial separation policy. The Cape Coloreds are the only nonwhites whose vote is not restricted to balloting for seven "representatives of the natives" in parliament.

First Phase Ending Wages Campaign By Steel Workers

PITTSBURGH — The CIO United Steelworkers today wind up the first phase of their drive for a "sizeable" wage increase from the basic steel industry.
Talks were scheduled with Inland Steel Corp., the last of the industry's "Big Six" to hear the union demands.
The 800,000 USW members in the industry now earn an average of $2.23 an hour. Observers believe the union is asking as much as 25 cents an hour in pay hikes. They say it probably will agree to a final settlement of from 15 to 25 cents an hour.
The talks with U.S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Republic Steel Corp., which began earlier this week, are in recess over the weekend. If no agreement has been reached by midnight of June 30, the union will be free to strike.

Testimony Given By Federal Agent

GAINESVILLE — A federal agent testified yesterday he saw George T. Robbins, suspended sheriff of Levy County, accept $250,000 protection money from a special state investigator who posed as a moonshiner.
William Jackson of the Internal Revenue Service said the payment Ocala policeman hired by the state was made by Claude Wood, former attorney general's office to help break up a moonshine protection racket.
Wood has testified he made several payments of $50 to $100 to the sheriff to leave his still alone and to warn when state and federal agents were in the area.

Redlegs Receive Black

BROOKLYN (U)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, riding a 10-game lead in the National League and convinced they have all the pitching they need, sent one-time hero Joe Black to Cincinnati yesterday for an estimated $25,000 and a minor league player to be named later.

It was Black, now 31, who wrapped up the 1952 pennant for the Dodgers. Moving up from the obscurity of the Negro leagues, he joined the Dodgers in the spring of '52 and set off on a brilliant relief record.

Appearing in 54 games—a Dodger record at the time—the right-hander posted a 15-4 record. He saved 15 other games and had a 2.15 earned run average.

Off that performance, Black was given a starting role in the World Series and beat the New York Yankees 4-2.

The following year, Black slumped, winning only six of nine while his earned run average slumped to 5.20. He opened the '54 season with the Dodgers, but was shipped to Montreal, where his 12-10 record earned him another chance in the big time.

He had a fine spring this season, but with Brooklyn regulars working well and rookie Ed Roebuck leading the relievers, Black had little chance to work.

Black was 1-0 with the Dodgers, getting the decision in one of six relief appearances.

Conrad Advances In Semi-Finals

PARIS (U)—L. Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., who last week won the British Amateur title, advanced to the semi-finals of the French Amateur golf tournament today with two other Americans—Walker Cup Captain Bill Campbell and Don Bishophoff.

The fourth semi-finalist is Henri LaMarre of France, the defending titleholder.

Conrad eliminated Bruce Cudd, a member of the U.S. Walker Cup team, 3 and 2. Bishophoff, from Orlando, Fla., won over Ken Thom of Britain, 3 and 2. Campbell, from Huntington, West Va., edged out Arthur Perowne of Britain, 1 up. LaMarre defeated L. J. Gray of Jacksonville, Fla., 9 and 8.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (U)—If Nashua runs away with tomorrow's Belmont Stakes, as practically everyone seems to think he will, there is talk that the Eastern champion will take on Swaps, the doughty California flyer who outran him in the Kentucky Derby, in a special match race at Chicago in August.

The only thing mitigating against such a dream gallop between the country's two outstanding 3-year-olds is, at the moment, that no one closely connected with either animal admits any knowledge of the proposed test. That, however, is regarded as incidental by those who have made the match and even set the precise date of its running. The respective owners, William Woodward Jr. (Nashua) and Rex Ellsworth (Swaps) will, we gather, be told when to ship their steeds to Chicago.

Neutral observers around here—that is, those who favor neither the promoters nor the owners in the squabble which appears to be impending between them—doubt that the race ever will come off. And, if it is run, they doubt that it will prove very exciting.

The history of such equine duels, they contend, shows that it is next to impossible in mid-summer or later to bring two horses to the peak of condition on the same day, or even the same week. One of them, yes, but not both. The result usually is, the skeptics say, that the fit colt runs away and hides and nothing is decided, really.

Looking over a list of more than 40 such two-horse tests run in this country, Mexico and Canada since the turn of the century, we find in most instances the winner was lengths ahead at the finish, as many as the 12 lengths by which Capot whipped a tired Coasttown in the Pimlico Special of 1919.

Most such two-horse races, incidentally, have been regularly scheduled events in which two standouts scared away the other horses.

Even the most famous such race of our time, the Pimlico Special of 1936 in which the great Seabiscuit collared Man O'War's finest son, War Admiral, was not quite as close as fond memory seems to recall. While the pair put on a thundering race most of the way and were only noses apart going into the home stretch, Seabiscuit took firm charge in the last furlong and won by four lengths, going away.

When Armed, the noted Calumet gelding, outran King Ranch's Assault by eight lengths at Belmont Park for a $100,000 prize in 1947, it was learned later that Assault actually was so lame that he had no business on the track. The latest effort to arrange such a match, between Native Dancer and Tom Fool two seasons ago, fell through when Native Dancer went lame.

Fans Start Voting For All-Star Teams

CHICAGO (U)—America's baseball fans start voting today to name starting National and American League lineups for the 22nd inter-league All-Star scrap to be played in Milwaukee County Stadium July 12.

The Chicago Tribune, which originated the poll and the All-Star game in 1933, again will be the clearing house for the nation-wide voting which ends at midnight July 1. For this year's polling the Tribune will have 761 newspapers.

Demarco, Basilio Clash Slated Tonite

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (U)—Welterweight Champion Tony DeMarco bucks the "one-defense" jinx that has plagued 10 other modern 147-pound kings when he faces favored Carmen Basilio, the home town pride, at the War Memorial Auditorium tonight in a 15-round title bout.

The chunky, 23-year-old Bostonian is familiar with the hex. He knocked the crown off Johnny Saxton's brow by stopping the Brooklyn defender in the 14th round in the Boston Garden, April 1. That was the first time Saxton had risked the title he had won from Kid Gavilan.

Jimmy McLarnin and Barney Ross, two greats of the division, were among the 10 to lose their titles in the first crack.

Although he did a thorough job of demolishing Saxton, who never had been stopped before, tough Tony is a 17-10 underdog to the more experienced, 28-year-old ex-marine from nearby Canastota.

This hasn't bothered either the young champion or his handlers. "He was a 4-1 underdog against Saxton," pointed out manager Bob Agrippino, "and you know what happened. Tony is a greatly under-estimated fighter. He'll knock out Basilio, you'll see. Sure, I know Basilio, hasn't been kaybed before but neither has Saxton."

From the other camp came the same confident tones. "Carmen will flatten him," said co-manager Johnny DeJohn. "I've never seen him more determined or in better shape. He should have made it from Gavilan and now he'll make sure."

Gavilan, when champ, took a close decision from Basilio.

Yanks Tangle In Cleveland

By ED WILKS

Are the New York Yankees being conned into a false sense of security, or is that really a bunch of dead injuns back there in third place in the American League?

The next three days may tell. The Yanks move into Cleveland tonight for a four-game series.

Having disposed of a two-game losing string and Detroit 7-3 yesterday, the Bombers barge into Municipal Stadium with a 1-5 game lead over the second place Chicago White Sox and a 5½-game spread over the Cleveland Indians, who lost their third straight to Boston 4-2.

That's the best Yank margin yet. A week ago, when they were three games up, it looked like New York would be lucky to reach Cleveland still in the lead. Manager Casey Stengel goes into Cleveland playing the percentage. He needed a victory yesterday, so he called on Whitey Ford 7-1, presumably passing him over for the Indians' series, while naming Ed Lopat 3-4 to face the Tribe tonight. Lopat, only 14-20 lifetime vs. Detroit, is 40-13 against Cleveland.

Ford didn't go all the way, Jim Konstanty won it in relief, but Stengel got the victory he wanted, gaining a half game on the White Sox who were rained out of a doubleheader with Baltimore.

The other AL game was won by Kansas City, 4-2, over Washington. In the National, Chicago's Cubs beat Pittsburgh 6-2 and Robin Roberts beat St. Louis with a three-hitter 2-0 for Philadelphia. Rain and cold postponed Cincinnati at Brooklyn and Milwaukee at New York.

Eddie Robinson hit his 10th home run the Yankees' 71st with two on in a four-run first inning that beat the Tigers. Konstanty, making his sixth appearance in seven days, replaced a shaky Ford in the fifth and blanked the Tigers on one hit the rest of the way for his third decision.

Three errors beat Cleveland and Herb Score, who was knocked out in the first inning by Boston Tuesday night. Only one of the Red Sox runs was earned, driven home in the fourth on a double by Frank Sullivan—who shut out the Tribe of four hits until the ninth when he needed help from Ellis Kinder to win his sixth.

Score, lifted for a pinch-batter in the fifth, fanned nine to boost his league leading strike out total to 101.

Washington's second straight defeat at Kansas City pulled the Senators into sixth behind the Red Sox. Four runs in the fourth on just two hits did it for the A's. Dick Dikmar singled home the final two runs to win his third.

At Philadelphia, Roberts won his ninth, walking none and retiring the first 12 men he faced before giving up the first of the Cards' three singles.

Paul Minner tossed a six-hitter for the Cubs. Walker Coopes' home run broke up a 2-3 tie in the seventh as Chicago tagged Bob Purkey for 13 hits and his seventh defeat.

eight 3-year-olds is expected. A late checkup on trainers showed the following willing, if not able, to meet Nashua, the beaten Kentucky Derby favorite who regaled a lot of statures two weeks ago by coping the Preakness:

Football Coaches Hear Top Players At FSU Meeting

TALLAHASSEE (U)—Any coach who has a six-foot quarterback who can throw the ball and has leadership qualities is all on his way to developing a good passing attack.

That's what some of pro football's top players told more than 250 high school and college coaches and players attending a Florida State University clinic here yesterday.

Otto Graham, quarterback and ace passer of the Cleveland Browns said height was a vital factor in developing a quarterback.

"In my opinion, a quarterback should be six feet or more so he can look over charging linemen to find his pass receiver," Graham said.

Coaches attending the session are Bob Woodruff of University of Florida, Frank Howard of Clemson and Marcelino Huerto of University of Tampa.

LET'S ALWAYS GO TO DAYTONA BEACH!

Sanford's red-hot Cardinals batten only once in four games this week, will take on last-place St. Petersburg tonight at Memorial Stadium. Game time is 8 o'clock.

In action last night at Orlando's Tinker Field, the Cardinals went down to defeat as the C.B.s, renewed the Flyers, piled up a 7-2 verdict to split a two-game series. The Cardinals won Wednesday night's game, 10-3.

Connie Mack Butler, former Rollins College star who joined the Cardinals this week, spoiled Howie Tresp's bid for a shutout in the eighth inning. Butler batted a drive off the fence after a pair of walks and a hit had filled the bases. He was the only Sanford player to get more than one hit, collecting two in three trips.

John Bartek and Chuck Francis of Sanford gave up nine hits with three runs in the seventh. Tresp went the distance for the Flyers in notching his eighth success of the season.

Orlando, the Florida State League leader by eight games, comes in for some top-flight opposition tonight.

Runners West Palm Beach, winner of 11 of its last 13 games, is the foe for a two-game series. Despite Orlando's huge lead, the outcome could prove interesting clues as to the course the pennant race will now take.

West Palm, which started its FSL career by losing its first five games, reached second place only last night on a 4-2 victory over Cocoa.

Curtis Rogers, a reinforcement from the New York Yankees, took the lead in the ninth. He did not allow a hit until the sixth. Gibby Gates drove in two of the West Palm runs with a single in the second.

A crowd of 724 watched the game at West Palm Beach.

In other action, Lakeland defeated St. Petersburg 2-1, Gainesville topped Daytona Beach 6-2.

Gainesville's triumph brought 825 on its home grounds east Daytona Beach second place. The G-Men jumped on starter Mark Teitelman for eight hits, their total production.

A crowd of 803 at St. Petersburg was treated to a mound duel between Lakeland's Jack Roy and Gaspar Del Monte. Roy, the winner, gave up five hits and De-

Captured Soldiers List Is Dwindling

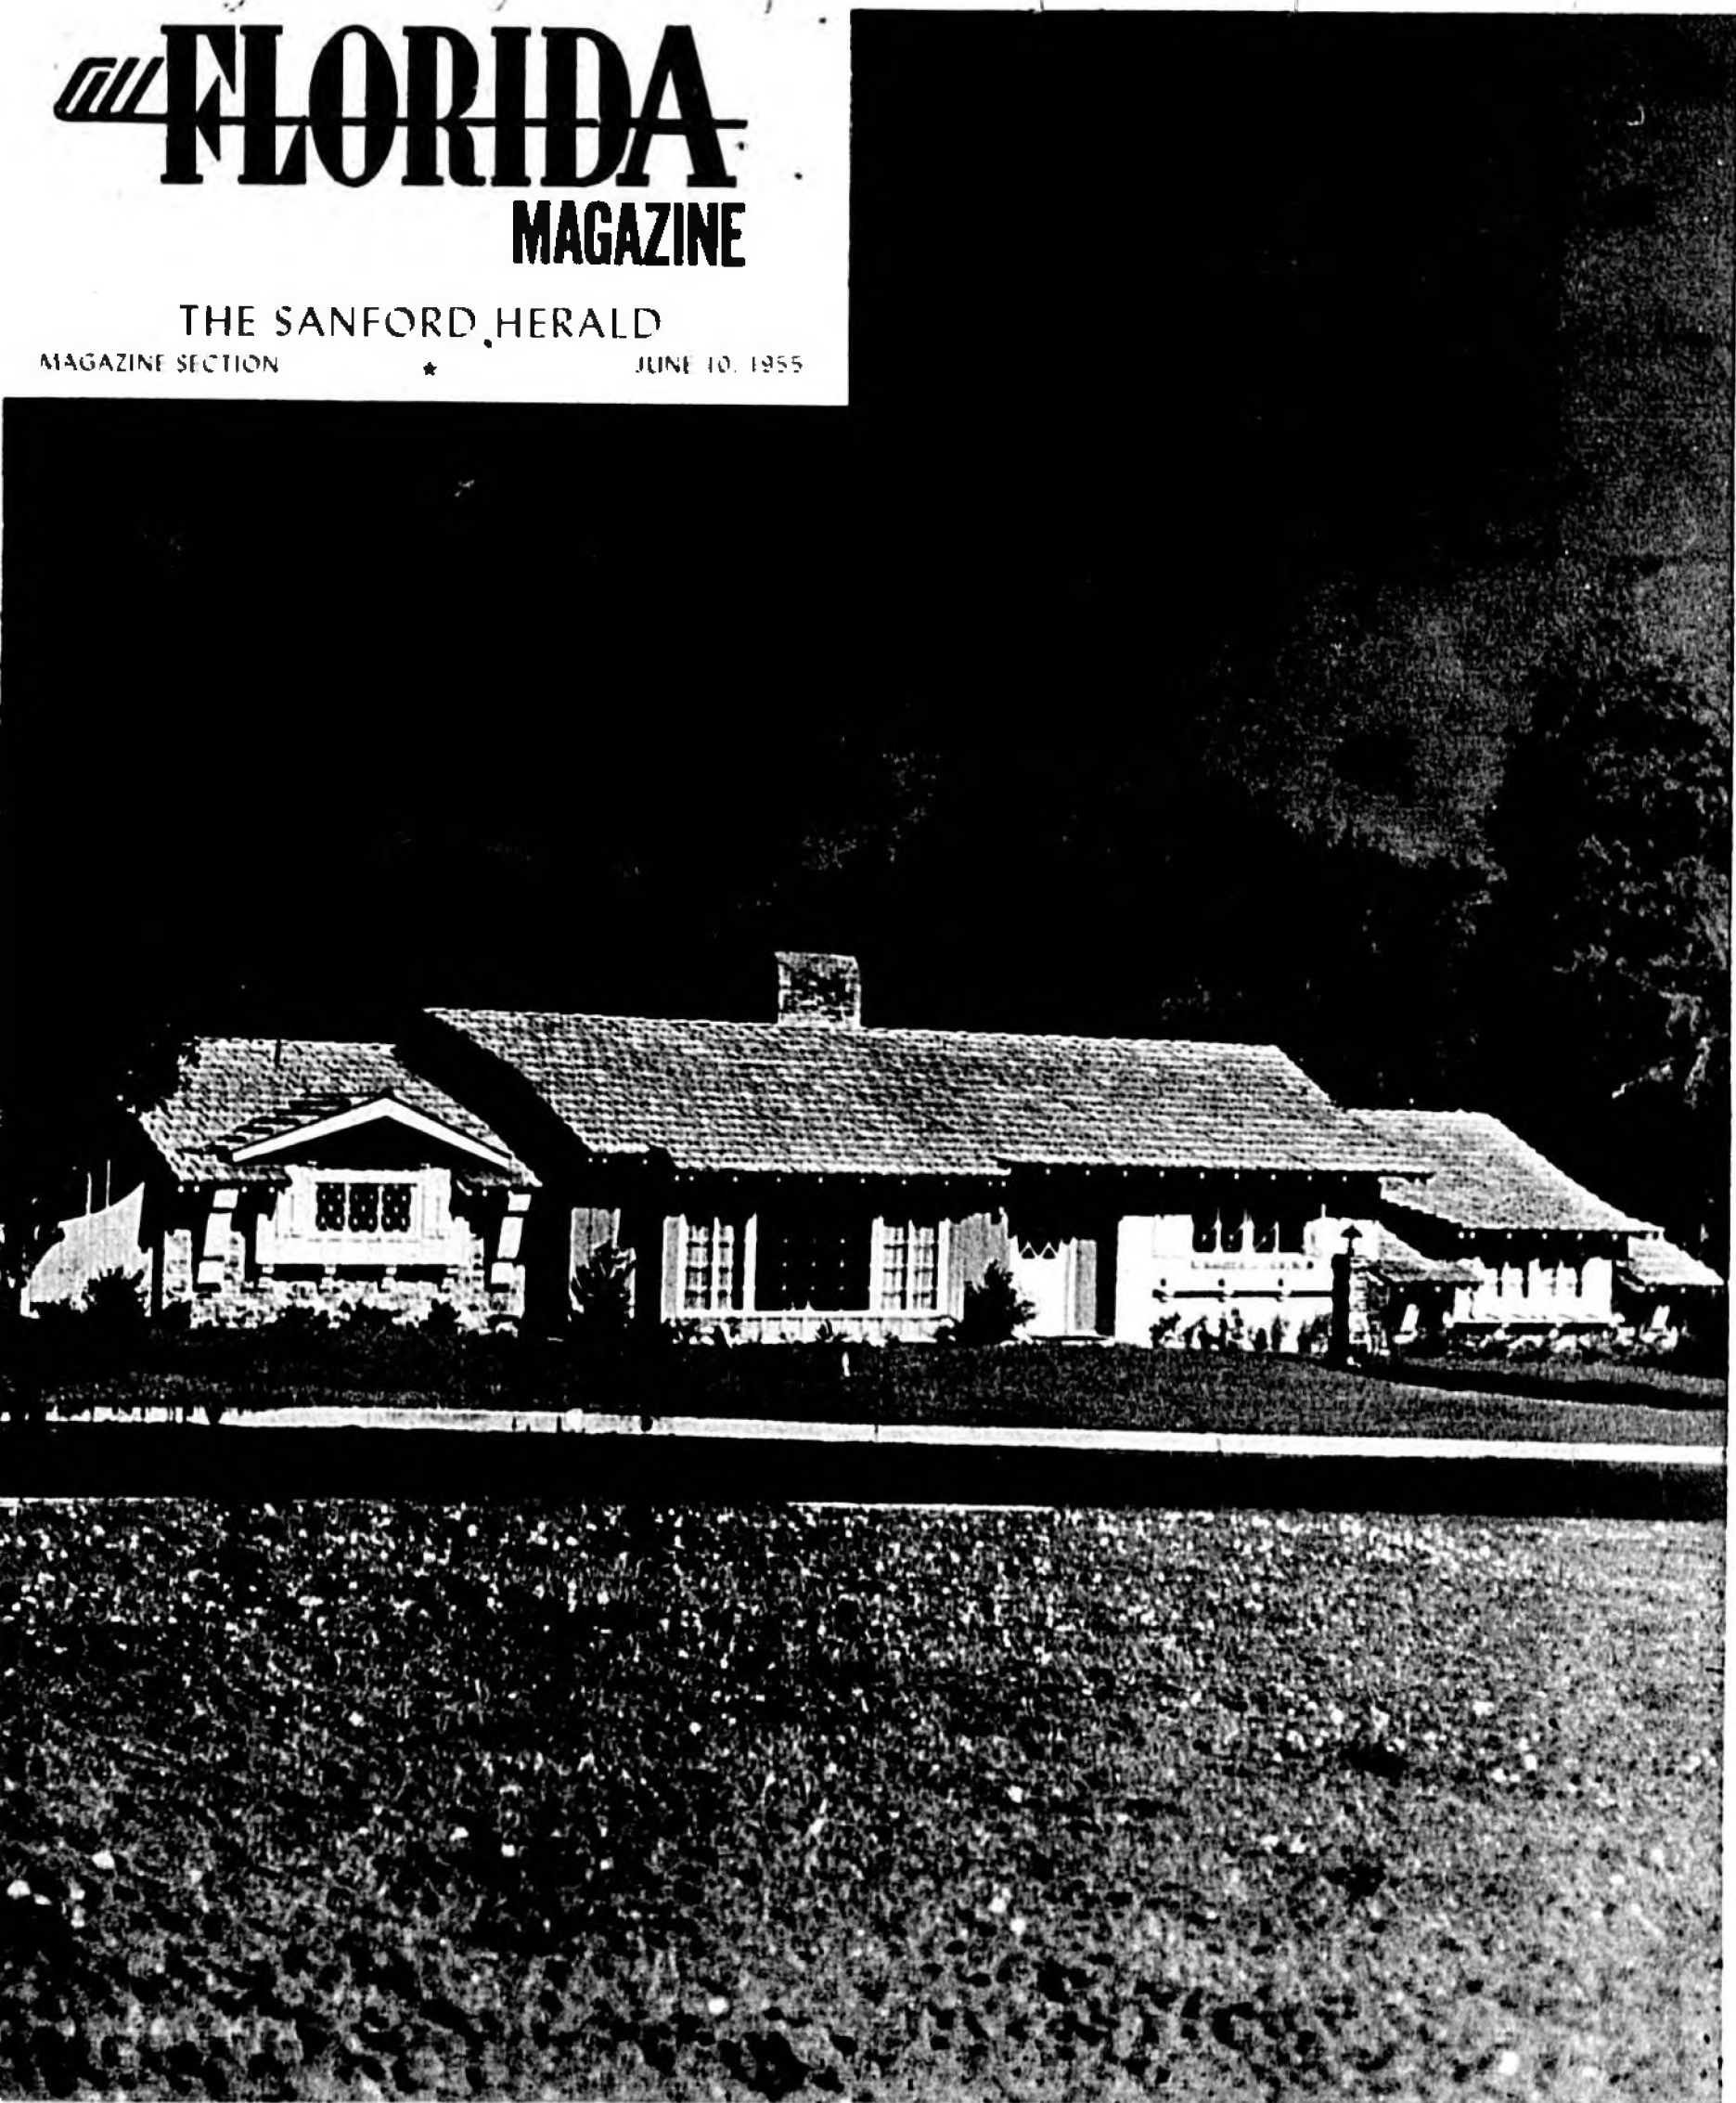

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The list is dwindling. Once the Communists said there were 23 American soldiers captured in the Korean War who refused to go home after the armistice.
Two since have returned. Ten more are reported wanting to go home soon. At least six others have signed in letters a desire to return at some future time. One has died.
That accounts for almost half of them.

JUNE 10, 1955

Elsa Maxwell is an elderly party girl who by sheer dent has become a historic landmark. Much like Boulder Dam.

And they don't hardly make party girls like that no more.

Hers has been a strange life. She was born in a box in Little Rock. Very poor. Scarcely no money. None. But proud, see. So the Dutch-ess of Windsor wouldn't invite her to her fourth birthday party and little Elsa cried and said they'd be sorry so she right then and there sat down and grew up as big as she could and started going steady with Ali Kahn.

My facts may be confused—but it doesn't matter as long as the names get in.

Anyway, she is now a world authority on giving parties. And instead of being bitter and not inviting anybody to them—she invites everybody. Who's anybody, of course. But just because she mingles with the cream, doesn't mean she has forgotten us pasteurized masses. Just the other day she graciously decided to share with us her secret for a simple successful mixer.

She chose for her example an intimate little get-together she had whipped up for her dear friend, A Mr. Cole Porter. Just a small intimate affair. The kind you could so easily have in your back yard. Nobody except her and Cole and Lynn Fontanne. And around 400 treasured friends.

Now if I were faced with the care and feeding of 400 treasured friends, I would simply wait until the last one arrived—then I would grab a quart of Scotch and lock myself in the bathroom until they all went home.

This, however, is not the proper attitude.

Miss Maxwell gave it much thought. And decided the Mambo was the most entertaining thing at the moment. No—she didn't do it. Not that she wouldn't have. For, of all the things one may say—one may not say Miss Maxwell has ever been one to shirk a duty as she has seen it.

She got the youngest Mambo dancer she could find. A four year old whose name she neglected to mention. However, she did mention Oliver Mimi. And added he was the one who did the dance of "House of Flowers" the real place de resistance of the Truman Capote-Harold Aron opera.

Which, I felt, was truly dandy. And then she got to the Food. The Food, she said, was a Surprise—as well as Flawful. Live love birds in cages were part of the table decoration.

And with that she left me. And she never did tell what kind of a surprise she served. Nothing. Except that the love birds "escaped at exactly the right time." And then they had the surprise for dinner.

And—well—maybe I'm a slay—but I declare—if she tried what I think she tried—she's a better man than I am George Din.

Remember Pinky and his buck teeth (All Florida, March 20)? Well, Pinky has become a foster papa to help soothe his frustration over having his buck teeth clipped every month. Mauled by a neighborhood cat, Pinky's homeless and wild little wards were in bad shape when he took over. He tore their bandages (inset) and latched their wounds.

Keith Vining, Daytona Beach photographer who took pictures of Pinky's buck teeth, this time caught his favorite rabbit in a pose of happy resignation. Except when the tooth clipping time arrives, Pinky won't leave his little ones for a minute.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

IT WAS A PLEASURE

I would like to thank you for using in the May 8 issue of All Florida Magazine the pictures and article on the serious fire in Madison and Taylor County in March. The date turned out to be very timely since we had another serious outbreak of fire during the first week in May. I have heard a number of favorable comments regarding this picture story. All who mentioned it liked the color you added to the top picture.

A. BROWN MOORE,
Chief, Information & Education

DOCTORS, HOW ABOUT THIS?

With so many rattlesnakes in Florida, and the danger they present, would like to tell your readers a remedy I learned when I was a youngster living with my family near Frostproof.

A little girl was wading in Lake Clinch when bitten on her leg. An elderly retired doctor living nearby was summoned. He put 20 drops of iodine into a glass of water for her to drink, covered her wound and treated it with iodine. He repeated the dose in 20 minutes and she had no trouble at all from the bite.

At another time, a young Englishman was planting a grove when struck by a rattler. Only crystal of iodine was available, but friends dissolved this and he drank it. Results were satisfactory.

A couple of years ago when I was at a life saving station on Jacksonville Beach, a man who had been bitten was brought into the station. Two different doctors were unable to help. Then I remembered the iodine treatment. I didn't wait for a doctor, but gave him a teaspoonful, covered the wound, and 20 minutes later repeated the iodine dose. He recovered.

Your publishing this may save many lives.
H. B. WAHNER,
Jacksonville.

(Editor's Note: While we think Mr. Wahner's story is interesting, we do not mean to suggest by printing it that anyone should try this home remedy.)

IT WAS VIKING

We want to compliment you and your staff on your "All Florida Magazine" which accompanied our Sunday morning News Journal, Daytona Beach.

It is most interesting and instructive and I find myself turning to its pages before I look at the rest of the paper. We were delighted with the double page "Battle of the Broom" in your May 15 edition, but you failed to give the author's name. Could it be Keith Vining? We have noted his picture of pigs in the past and the "Battle of the Broom" appears to be his work.

Please be kind enough to set us right in your next edition.

JO TABELL,
Daytona Beach.

ANY ROYALTY?

In your All Florida Magazine of April 24, 1964, there occurred a very fine article by Wally R. Carroll entitled, "Any Royalty in Your Family Tree?"

Would you be kind enough to furnish me the address of Mrs. L. H. Lotter of Tampa, who is the subject of this article?

MISS S. B. YARNER,
Lakeland.

Looking Over

All Florida

This is a call to the husbands and boy friends of Florida girls and women.

Just recently, a manly Hollywood actor said that his state (he meant California, although his home state is Michigan) has the most beautiful women in the world. We don't agree. We think Florida can hold its own with any state in the union, plus all the foreign countries you can name.

So, just to prove our point, how about sending All Florida Magazine a picture of the best looking Florida girl you know. We'll pick out the best of the lookers and print several each week. Then, we will pick out the one whom we think is the most beautiful of all, take a special portrait of her with our own color camera and print it for the cover of All Florida Magazine.

You girls, too, can send in your own pictures or those of friends—but we expect the men of Florida to answer on mass the challenge from California. So, fellows, get busy.

OUR COVER

In the northeast section of Winter Park, Ernest L. Wade has developed the Brittany Farm House colony. Typical of these residences is the particularly colorful one on this week's cover, photographed along with others used with the story on page eight, by All Florida's photographer, Trent Rogers. Heavy tile roof with low hanging eaves, rounded, covered chimneys and diamond shaped window panes, are authentic details of these French ranch house reproductions.

FINE WIRE bisects smoke as Ranger Zipperer locates a fire on the azimuth circle in tower.

Rangers Keep Eagle Eye For Uncharted Fires

By JUANITA CUNNINGHAM

ROCK-A-BY, Ranger, above the tree tops — when the wind blows your shanty will rock!

This silly little ditty came to mind while panting, exhausted, on the last of 135 steps leading into District No. 2 Leon-Wakulla fire tower. But there to assure us that the seven by seven shanty rocked only occasionally and was not likely to do so today, was Forest Ranger O. K. Zipperer and his towerman, Lynn Ricks, who keeps an eagle eye scanning the horizon for uncharted smokes.

Though Ranger Zipperer's main job is supervising towermen and firefighters, he finds time to welcome on an average of 75 visitors each month. Aside from the fact that each guest counts one point toward a coveted public relations award given by the Forestry Service, it also lessens the number of forest fires.

Clarifying his statement he said, "Folks visit our stations, learn more about fire fighting and fire prevention, and really become interested in our fight to save their forests. They become fire conscious and will take precautions about camp fires; will be careful about setting trash afire and on the lookout for fire hazards. We are especially happy to have Boy and Girl Scouts and any other youth organizations pay us a visit so we may 'early' instill in their minds the importance of keeping Florida's forests green."

While standing in the tower 100 feet above the ground, we spotted a drift of white smoke rising above the tree tops. Immediately, the ranger eliminated such known perpetual smokes as Tallahassee city dump, Correctional Institution and various sawmills. In what seemed only seconds, he was in touch with other towers and the location of the smoke described from the azimuth circle onto the map. We stood by until the smoke became invisible below the tree tops.

"That," said Mr. Zipperer, "is an every day occurrence, but they do not always turn out so favorably. Since last July we have had 234 fires, most of them between January and April, when there is no green vegetation covering the ground."

Seven out of every 10 acres of Florida's forests now have some form of organized fire control and, according to the ranger, more towers are to be manned in the future. He cited as particularly deplorable the two largest fires in all 27 years of Forestry Service, burning 60,000 acres in Madison, Taylor and Lafayette counties in March of this year.

"A plain case of incendiarism," Zipperer quoted from the Florida Service News bulletin of March, 1955. "Somebody cruised State Highway 57 and began stringing fires about two and a half miles southeast of Moseley Hall, flipping matches into the underbrush for a distance of six miles or more. By the time rangers had spotted the sets through the pall of smoke, the firebugs had disappeared. Sixty hours later, after a bone-wearying battle, the smoke-eaters had a firm hold on the blazes."

Yet, in spite of these damaging fires, less than two per cent of Florida's protected timberland has been destroyed since July, 1954, an improved record showing concrete results from towermen's 24 hour vigil program.

Able to see nine miles on a clear day, the towermen are particularly happy to see sheets of rain covering the forests. That means the day is their own—fishing, playing with the children or just plain relaxing. Many times rain may be sighted miles away. Zipperer stated that he saw the "big snow" of Tallahassee before it arrived.

Tallahassee folks, as well as those of surrounding communities, come in for loud praise from the ranger. He has known motorists to discover a grass fire and drive miles back to report it to him. Most everyone phones him when starting to set a trash fire and there are always many who volunteer as fire fighters.

Asked of Towerman Lynn Ricks what he thought about other than things pertinent to his line of duty while in the sky he replied, "Well, about the same things as men employed on ground jobs, I guess—vacations, income tax, new cars and most of all when is it going to rain, so I can go fishing."

THE CLOUDS FORECAST THE WEATHER

By LOUIS D. RUBIN

THE barometer read "fair." The sunset was a beautiful white. Tomorrow looked like it would be a fine day for that automobile trip.

So what happened? An overcast sky failed to clear and rain ruined your plans for the picnic.

With only one exception, that of a tornado, there are no sudden changes in the weather. All weather moves from west to east with varying winds and speeds. (Editor's Note: This is the author's statement. If you get wet tomorrow, don't blame us.)

The fleecy white clouds in picture No. 1, with winds from west, northwest to north, assure good weather for 24 to 72 hours.

If the sky approximates No. 3 or 6, showers or thundershowers are on the way. Conditions in No. 5 call for rain within 24 hours, with a brilliant white or pale watery yellow sunset. If the sunset is gold, rosy-pink, amber or lavender, don't figure on rain for 24 hours. But if the sunset is a dark Indian red, it has the same meaning as pale yellow or white and indicates rain.

Good weather usually comes from northwest, west or southwest winds. Whether it is clear, cloudy or raining, no change will occur until the wind changes. A good rule is, no wind, no change.

If it rains in the morning with winds from the northeast or south and then shifts to west, the rain will soon stop. If the sky is cloudy and if the winds shift from the southwest to the southeast, or northwest to northeast, look for a squall. If there is an early morning fog, frost or dew, don't expect any rain during the day.

The moon does not influence the weather. However, a large halo around the moon has the same meaning as the conditions in picture No. 2.

The seven pictures, of course, cannot give a complete weather story. No system is 100 per cent correct. But it is surprising how accurately you can predict the weather by checking these pictures.

The photographs are the result of three years of three-times-a-day observations. They are contained in the author's copyrighted booklet, "How To Forecast the Weather."

Try them out. They are lots of fun.

Strength in Reserve Means POWER FOR PEACE

WINDS FROM northeast, east to south with sun appearing as if behind frosted glass or a halo, indicate rain in 12 to 24 hours. Winds shifting west to north, west to north, no rain. Same signs with moon, indicate rain in 24 hours.

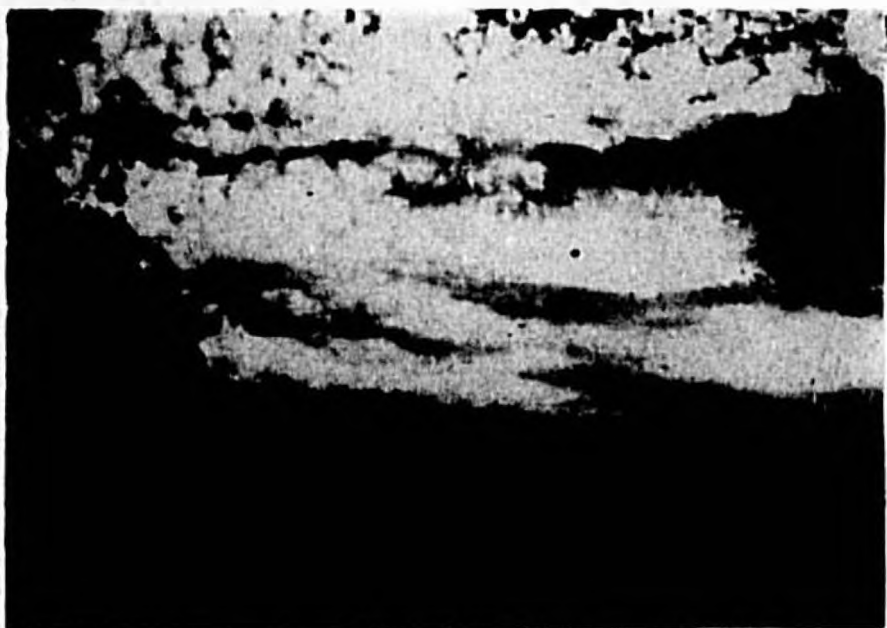

THIS SUNSET formation indicates tomorrow's weather: if brilliant white or pale watery yellow, rain within 24 hours; if rosy-pink, amber, gold or lavender, no rain for 20 hours. Dark Indian red indicates rain on way. Same applies to sunrise.

TALL BILLOWING clouds, cauliflower type, with semi-flat tops, indicate thunder storms, with no break until winds shift to northwest, north. These, mingling with other clouds, forecast a lengthy rain. These clouds precede a cold front.

THESE CLOUDS in summer bring rain with winds from northeast, east to south. Rain will be light but steady, of long duration, with north, northeast to east winds. May develop into thunderstorms if wind shifts to northeast or north.

FISHSCALE OR mackerel sky, composed of small globular clouds, is an uncertain predictor, though favoring rain. If winds are from northeast, east to south, it will rain in 24 hours. Winds from northwest to north may result in overcast sky, but no rain.

SMALL DARK to light grey clouds behind white milky ones indicate approaching rain. With winds from northeast, east to south, rain within 24 hours. Winds shifting to northwest, west to north cause overcast sky, but no rain.

AUNT HETTY OF JUG ISLAND

By JUANITA STOKES

JUG ISLAND — three founded acres of tranquility and happiness.

Matriarch of this postage stamp kingdom of 12 adults, seven children, three dogs, a litter of pigs and a tide that covers the island ankle deep when least expected is "Aunt Hetty" Hogan, admittedly marshall, mayor, traffic cop and consultant.

"Aunt Hetty" descends from a long line of island owners. The first was her grandfather, John Towels, who settled on the land and carried on a salt kiln business. Next in line was his son, Jim, who converted it to a sponge exchange. Knowing his daughter's love of outdoors and simple living he left the land to her. She merged sponging and fishing and gradually narrowed it down to what it is today—fishing, living and letting live.

Quite simply came about the island's name. According to legend Grandfather Towels sighted this land about 27 miles southwest of Perry, Florida — and pulled his fishing crew ashore to rest. The only sign of civilization was a cracked brown jug half hidden under a palmetto. With typical Towels humor he immediately dubbed the discovery "Jug Island."

No television towers, paved roads or concessions have been allowed to modernize the quaintness found here. The happy laughter of children and plop of their little feet in the sand as they chase one another is about the only evidence of hurried activity.

Womenfolk do not rush off to the city to work but go serenely about seeing their families well fed and the youngsters off to school. There is no time for a city job—there's enough to do in mending the nets for their men to take to sea. Each wife is an experienced net mender and could knot one from scratch if necessary. Most any sunny day will find the whole village out with shuttles mending, talking and laughing while they work. The young fry scamper in and out of the water like little sand-pipers.

Many personal problems have been ironed out in the net mending sessions and always plans are made for Saturday nights when the men come back with the week's catch.

"Aunt Hetty" takes care of her people and tries to keep them happy. She has provided a recreation hall which houses a dance floor, bar and cafe. Often people from nearby communities come in to dine and dance with the islanders.

No rough stuff goes. The matriarch has been known to assert her rights as marshal and physically toss an offender out on his ear. A sign "GO HOME TO FIGHT" warns trouble makers before they enter.

Two kindly sisters, Mrs. Ellen Porporious and Miss Ada Russell, prove that once a Jug Islander, always a Jug Islander. They have been associated with the comings and goings of the inhabitants all their lives. They have charge of the recreation hall, do all the cooking and wouldn't leave for anything.

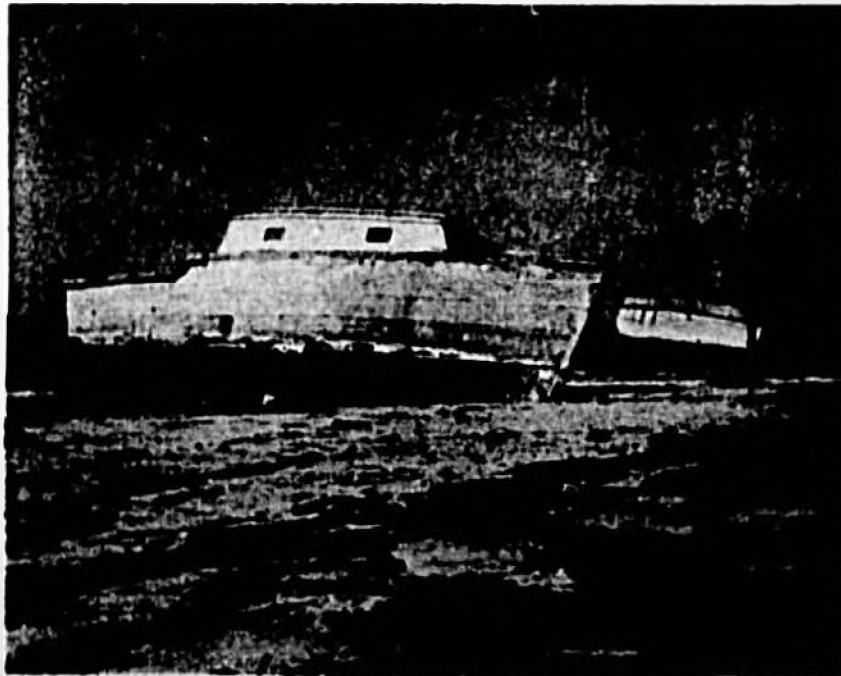

"If you could live your life over again would you do the same thing?"

To this question "Aunt Hetty" replied firmly, "I was happy to give my daughter an education so she could go out and teach school. But me—I don't envy her one bit. I like to live this simple life.

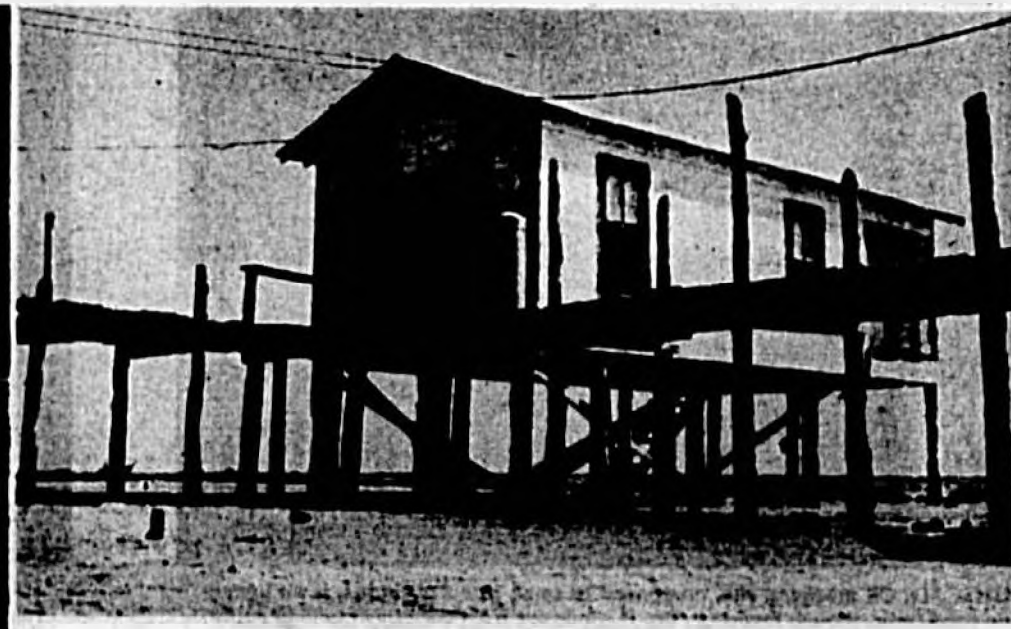

Why, we don't even have to wear shoes. Can't," she laughed roguishly, "when the tide is in the island is covered with water."

Sometimes tourists manage to stumble onto this happy little place. When they do, "Aunt Hetty" always puts them up for as long as they can stay. Out of the 18 tiny houses built over the water on tall posts she reserves a few for guests.

Only a small fee is charged for this privilege for she wishes to share her island with anyone who enjoys peace and simplicity as she does.

Florida Has

A Touch of Brittany

By LILLIE MAY MARSHALL
(Photos by TRENT ROGERS)

A bit of Old Brittany right here in the Sunshine State!

In the northeast corner of Winter Park, there is a section which causes one at first glance, to feel that he has been transported to Northern France.

At first glance, yes, because the architecture of the new homes there is so typical of the Brittany farm houses. But then it is noted that Ernest L. Wade, builder, has worked out a happy combination which fits his homes into the climate and Florida manner of living, while maintaining the quaint overall of the farm houses of Northern France.

A part of the charm of the settlement is that it is secluded—nestled away from the hustle and bustle of the city and those factors which distract from a leisurely, relaxing and restful home life. Indeed, one listens for a distant cow bell while enjoying the quiet pastoral atmosphere.

In 1952, Mr. Wade bought a tract of land there, with a view to building residences of the American ranch type. Then he and Mrs. Wade took a vacation trip and, in their travels, found the Brittany farm type of homes under construction—the first in this country.

Returning to his project in Winter Park, he worked out a combination

THE WOODEN farm fence and the dove cotes on both the house and the garage are authentic touches used on the first home constructed, that of Mr. Wade, the builder.

which, with all the appearance of the sturdy Gallic farm houses, fits these homes into the accepted manner of Florida living. The result is a colony of homes which lose none of the charm and splendor of Brittany, but have about them an atmosphere of nostalgia for many of today's generation who remember the wonderful vacations of childhood, spent at Grandmother's farm.

Mr. Wade has taken the best of both countries' farm houses and made them perfect for Florida living. First, he built his own home at 1783 Via Palermo. Now there are 15 and he plans to build others—some of American ranch style, but all, sprawling farm houses.

Although they differ in detail, all the houses follow the same general theme. There are spacious lawns enclosed with country-style rail fences. On one yard there is a replica of an old water pump, and tall cacti growing here and there. On another, the body of an old farm wagon, flower planted, stands casually on the lawn, where small palms are used informally.

The construction is to a great degree masonry, but California redwood, Ponderosa pine and old brick are used plentifully, to lend a picturesque dignity of age.

Although the garage is separated from the house by a breezeway at one side, the overall red tile roof is the same and the architecture follows in an unbroken line, even to the small paned windows and curtain treatment. A dove cote on the house and another atop the garage have clay pigeons so naturally perched as to prove a temptation to a small boy with an air rifle.

Differences in detail make it difficult to say that one of the houses is more attractive than another, but let's take a look at one which incorporates many features common to the general theme. The front door has small glass panes, each of a different deep hue, above a Dutch type shelf.

TOUCH OF BRITTANY

A general hallway leads to every room, independent of the others. The living room is seen through tall columns of driftwood forming a balustrade. Paneling of driftwood and antique fir is the finish for the walls, with ceiling of subdued red plaster. A large fireplace of old brick, with raised hearth, has a copper hood and is topped with a mantel extending entirely across the end of the room. There's a built-in fuel box into which wood is placed from the outside and taken out through doors on the inside of the house.

The fireplace treatment is repeated in the adjoining den, which accordion type shutters separate from the living room. This fireplace continues in a brick wall, to divide the den from the adjacent breakfast room.

In the kitchen, where furnishings and knick-knacks among which is an old fashioned wall phone with crank—place the visitor definitely in Grandmother's kitchen, the built-in stove is bricked around with colorful tile. Two ovens are constructed into what resembles an inside brick chimney. There are quaint hutch cabinets. Over the row of small windows hang cafe curtains with decorated cornice boards.

Some of the kitchens are of the old "keeping room" type of Early American days—the room in which members of the family felt most chummy and at ease for informal living. The cooking space isn't as large as in those days. Appointments are more compact, but there's the big fireplace with inside chimney of old brick.

In one of these keeping-room kitchens visited, a lazy-eyed cat was curled in the chimney corner, where the family pet of early days always lay for warmth and to be a part of the family gathering. To the comfortable rockers and lounge chairs, has been added the television in this room, making it now, just as was the original in former days, the favorite gathering place of the family.

A low eave and wooden beam treatment known as the clipped ceiling is attractively featured in many of the bedrooms.

Passing to the back of the house, one knows immediately he has returned from France and from Grandmother's American farm house of other years, to Florida, 1944. Windows are large and plentiful. The Florida room is screened or jalousied for comfort.

The homes are charmingly secluded, yes, but each week from 300 to 600 interested people find their way to this section to inspect the homes built to provide the maximum of efficiency; houses in which no detail has been overlooked; houses that are roomy and inviting—not just houses, but definitely homes, where the old meets the new in a charming manner.

DO YOU KNOW

That the old time Floridians, finding it difficult to hunt at night without some sort of light, used the fat pine splinters for fires and the pieces of same that would serve as torches which enabled them to do this night work?

That at Santa Rosa County's brick yards at Milton, the county seat, bricks have been made that have gone into many of Florida's famed old buildings? That these old brick yards over a century ago furnished bricks for the old forts at Pensacola, Barrancas and Pickens?

THIS is less likely to happen on CONCRETE

You're driving along on light-colored concrete at night. Suddenly you pass onto a dark pavement. Your heart leaps. You can't see. Are your headlights out?

You slow down. You're thankful nothing happened in those few seconds of blackout.

You're driving on a wet, dark-surfaced road. A child darts out. You slam on the brakes but the wheels don't grab. Your stomach falls as you skid helplessly.

It's a relief to get on concrete again. You know its gritty surface will grip your tires and hold, wet or dry.

Concrete's high light reflectance and skid resistance make it the safety pavement. In Georgia a study of accidents due to road conditions on 2115 miles of federal routes showed there were 2.38 times as many accidents, 3.25 times as many deaths, 4.11 times as many injuries and 4.02 times as much property damage on the other most commonly built pavement as on concrete.

Your license fees, gas and other taxes pay for roads. So put safety first—for yourself, family, friends and neighbors. Insist on portland cement concrete, the safety pavement. You'll get an extra measure of protection.

Why 'Spend' Your Vacation

By WALLY E. CARROLL

It's June, now, and the children are out of school. With the thought of facing the long, hot days and nights ahead of you, you pull out stacks of travel booklets and brochures and start pouring over them. There are plenty of wonderful places, but the truth is that your anemic budget doesn't fit any of them.

What you need, of course, is a free vacation and, amazingly enough, there is a spot that will give you almost that.

Florida has 16 state parks, where accommodations range from simple picnic sites and bathing facilities to excellent cabins rented by day or week. Instead of pulling out the travel folders, dig out your old road map.

Your eye alights to Gold Head Branch State Park, noted for its lakes, hills, ravines and excellent accommodations. Fishing is popular here, swimming, boating, nature trails and tent camping. There are 14 fine family cabins, furnished, except for linens. Accommodations for four rent for $25 to $37.50 per week, according to season. This runs less than a dollar per person per day. Extra cots are available for 50 cents.

Further south, near Florida's west coast, there's Myakka River Park, largest of Florida's state parks and one of the finest natural wildlife sanctuaries in the country: five rustic cabins, furnished except for linens, and equipped for four. This park offers nature trails and a natural history museum, excellent fishing and boating and tent camping, costing 25 cents per person per day, or $1 per person per week.

Highlands Hammock State Park, off the Orange Blossom Trail near Sebring, is one of the three outstanding natural parks in the U. S. Catwalks lead through cypress swamps and reveal breathtaking jungle beauty. Tent and trailer camping are permitted, with fireplaces, rest rooms and showers nearby.

Getting information about state parks is easy. In addition to road maps, folders are available at travel bureaus and chambers of commerce. Or you can write to the Florida Board of Parks and Historic Memorials in Tallahassee.

FAMILY FUN is free in this state park, a natural beauty spot.

TIMUCUAN INDIANS

By ROBERT E. ALLISON

To understand the tribal life of the Timucuan, who lived during the 16th century in that section of Florida extending from Cape Canaveral to the St. Mary's River, it is necessary to consider first the planning and erecting of the typical Timucuan town of that period.

Of the 10 Timucuan towns, built mainly on river-islands or the coastal-waterway islands between the Province of Ala (the Indian River section) and St. Augustine, St. Wans was the largest and most flourishing.

Located strategically on an island near the mouth of the St. Johns River, St. Wans had a population of approximately a thousand inhabitants, of which possibly three hundred were Timucuan braves. Then, too, St. Wans served as a landmark to early English and Spanish pioneers, since it was situated on the direct coastal-water route followed by the early English and Spanish explorers in Florida.

The Timucuan had selected this island at the mouth of the St. Johns as a townsite, mainly for a security reason: to protect themselves more adequately from sudden assaults by the brutal Jobese on the warpath, from their Province of Rio Jobe (the Jupiter Inlet section); from hostile sorties of the truculent Gualea from Southeastern Georgia; or from crafty plundering by the sanguinary Yemassee braves from South Carolina.

Despite the fact that St. Wans was built on an island, the Timucuan took every safety precaution to convert the town, from their first planning of the site, into a fortified stronghold. For that reason, a circular stockade built of pine, cypress, oak, and hickory logs to a height of 12 to 15 feet, encircled the island-town.

A sentry, system was rigidly adhered to and strictly maintained around the stock, to sound the alert if Jobese boats suddenly attempted to storm the town under an early morning fog, or if the crude rafts of Guale or Yemassee war parties took advantage of a particularly dark night.

In the event of attack, the alert was sounded in the home of the "cacique" or chief.

The cacique's house was a huge, rectangular building, erected in the center of St. Wans. It served not only as the domicile of the cacique, but as a place of general meeting, a recreational center, and a storehouse.

The house of the cacique was constructed more carefully and more solidly than the other homes in St. Wans. It was built of cypress, oak, and hickory tree trunks with three openings for doorways: one for each of the three main divisions of the house. The huge roof was conical in shape and palmetto thatched.

Around the cacique's house were built the circular, tree-trunk, conical palmetto thatched roofed houses of the Timucuan braves. Each house had space provided at the rear for a small vegetable garden, a few fruit trees and berry bushes, and a crude enclosure for poultry. (The cultivation of fruit trees and berry bushes and the raising of poultry were taught the Timucuan by the Spanish explorers.)

In their vegetable gardens, the Timucuan Indians raised maize or Indian corn, pumpkins, and "Indian herbs" (garlic and "long pepper") for savoring wild pork and venison. They were among the first tribes to grow corn, to any marked degree, and convert it into meal for bread, hominy, mush, and "Indian hasty pudding." The chief fruit trees of the Timucuan were fig and peach. Later, the Spanish taught them to grow citrus fruits, particularly oranges and lemons.

DO YOU KNOW?

That the loon, known in the North as the great northern diver, is found in many places in Florida? That these birds, also known as rump and foot birds because their legs are placed far back and partly enclosed in the body, have little or no ability to walk, but shove themselves along mostly on their breasts, and prefer to dive rather than swim?

TRADITION IN THE KITCHEN

Old-Time "Cracker" Dishes Offer Delightful Contrast In Modern Menu Planning

Photos by THOMAS ROGERS

MRS. PARRETT, Lakeland, serves chicken pilau, favorite of pioneers, and popular Florida dish today, to her family.

By LILLIE MAY MARSHALL

"MOTHER really knows best," believes Mrs. Raymond G. Parrett of Lakeland, when it comes to food. Fortune smiled on us when Mrs. Parrett, who had been following our Florida Recipe Contest, invited us to enjoy one of her traditional family dinners. She featured chicken pilau—a dish without which no church supper or gathering of consequence was complete in Florida's pioneer days. Originally a Turkish dish known as "pilaf," it was taken to Spain by the Moors and brought to Florida by Spanish explorers. Pronounced "pur-loo," the early Florida spelling was "pillo."

Her Pilau Recipe

A large chicken cut into serving pieces is cooked slowly in water to cover, until tender, with onion, salt, plenty of pepper, bay leaf and small pieces of celery added. Washed, uncooked rice is added, the liquid equaling three cups for every cup of rice—and stirring only once, cooked until the liquid is absorbed. Sliced hard-boiled eggs make a pretty garnish.

Her Broccoli Is Special

Florida Broccoli A La Hollandaise derives its special touch from the temperamental sauce made in proportions of one-fourth cup of butter, yolk of one egg, juice of half a lemon and one-eighth teaspoon salt. Butter is divided into three parts, one piece being dropped into double boiler over boiling water with egg yolk and lemon juice and stirred constantly until the butter is melted, then adding another third. When mixture begins to thicken, the last piece of butter and the salt are added, and the whole scented from the fire and served immediately over broccoli.

Sweet Potatoes Were In Orange Baskets

Proportions of one cup mashed, boiled sweet potatoes, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one tablespoon honey, two tablespoons cream, dash of ground clove, and grated rind of one orange, with one unbeaten egg stirred in, are mixed and piled into shells of half an orange each. With half a teaspoon butter on top of each, they are baked in hot oven until slightly brown.

Florida Salad Was Attractive

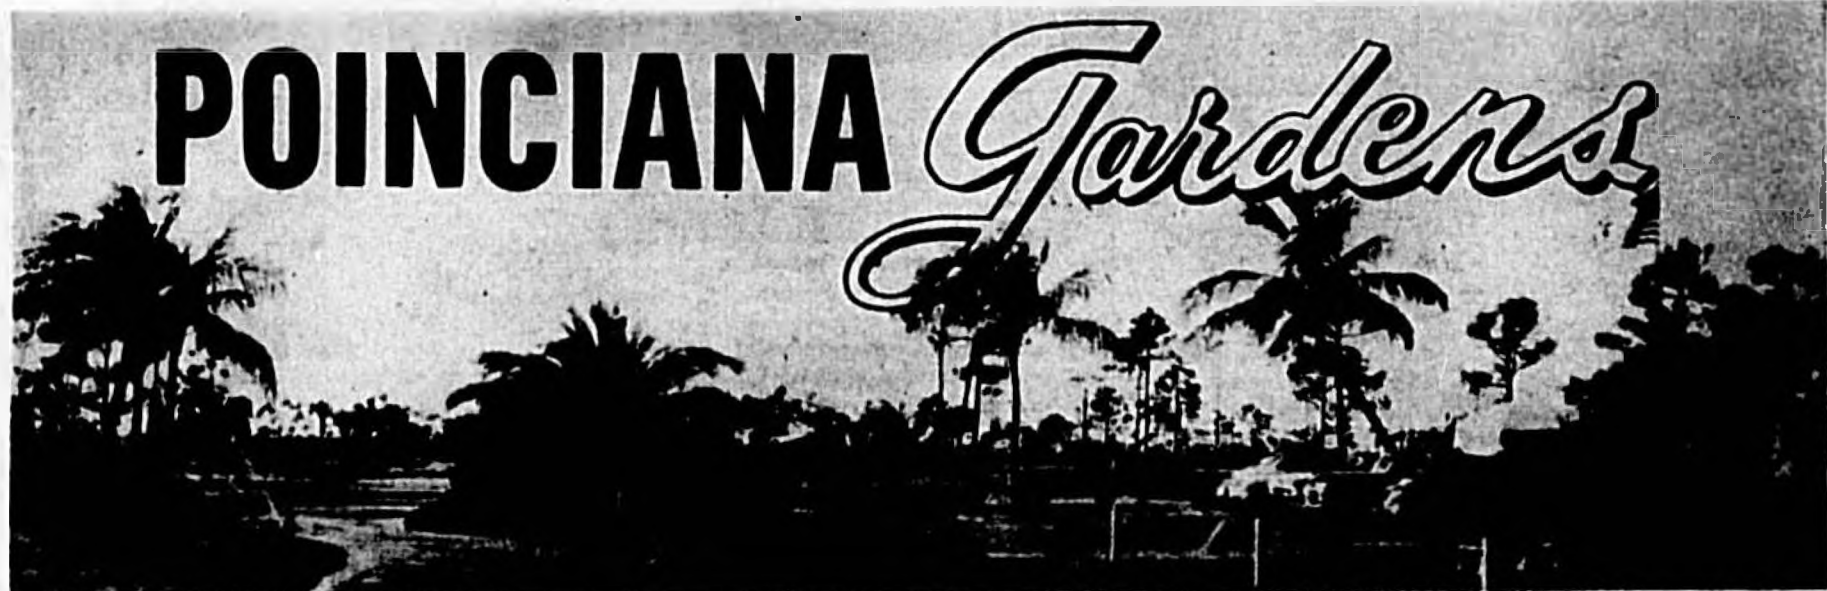

The recipe offered for her Florida Avocado-Grapefruit Salad is simple. Sections of grapefruit and crescents of avocado are placed alternately around salad plates fringed with lettuce leaves, with a mound of cottage cheese in center. Pretty and tasty, served with French dressing.

She Added "Mother's Florida Biscuits"

This method differs little from the ordinary methods, the chief variance being that with old-time cooks it was heresy to handle dough more than necessary. So biscuits were molded by hand rather than being rolled and cut. They are more fluffy.

Florida Sherbet Was Dessert

The "cook" confided that her cooling tangerine-lime sherbet was "store-bought" but she offered a recipe for tangerine sherbet, in which one cup of sugar, one and one-half cups water, juice of one or two lemons, four cups of Florida tangerine juice and grated rinds of four tangerines, are used. Sugar and water are boiled 10 minutes and grated rind added before letting cool slightly and adding fruit juices, chilling thoroughly, straining and freezing.

INDIANS

The Timucuas, being largely an agricultural tribe, due to the fertility of their land, maintained a type of feudal system in that a certain portion of the produce of each family was given at harvest time to the cacique to be stored in that part of the chief's house reserved as a storehouse.

In the general meeting place, or recreational center of the cacique's house, festivals were held twice each year: at the first corn planting and at harvest time.

Tribal life in St. Wans was an exceedingly happy one until the latter part of the 16th century.

First, the Jobeses from their Province of Rio Jobe (the Jupiter Inlet section), being forced from their territory largely by famine, besieged St. Wans with little success except a few bags of maize, plundered from the Timucuan cacique's storehouse.

Then came the Guales from Southeastern Georgia and the Yemassee from South Carolina, to encroach upon the Timucuan wild game supply and to threaten, at times, the safety of St. Wans itself.

Finally, the Spanish came in sufficient numbers to besiege successfully St. Wans and place its inhabitants under Spanish rule.

Although the Timucuan were tutored in the Christian faith and trained in horticulture by the Spanish, they lost their tribal independence, and with it, their tribal spirit and pride quickly disappeared.

Marilyn Monroe Once Told Him: 'You're Like My First Husband'

MACHINIST'S MATE THERON DURKEE
'Movie People Are Just Too Doggone Phony'

By CLAUDE ROSE
Herald Feature Writer

"Marilyn Monroe once told me that I reminded her of her first husband," declares Theron Durkee, a sailor at NAAS Sanford. "She said that I was quiet and when I looked at her, I seemed to be able to see right through her."

Durkee, an aviation machinist's mate third class attached to FAFRON-51, worked on Hollywood movie "locations" for two summers as a member of Association of American Railroads train crews before joining the Navy. "I wouldn't go back again for anything," he says.

He met Marilyn Monroe during the filming of "Niagara" in the summer of 1951. His comment about her... "She didn't show me much!"

Get that, you guys! Most of us would give our right arm just to see the sexy blonde bombshell in only from a distance. "You're probably saying, 'Boy, he must be nuts!' In case you are, Durkee quotes another big star he came to know during his Hollywood days, Randolph Scott. The Western star told him that Monroe wasn't the bundle of fire that her publicity men would have everyone believe. "She's as cold as a cucumber," Scott told him.

Durkee, nicknamed "Diesel" by his railroad chums, is rather reluctant to talk about his experiences in the film capital. He says, "It was fun for awhile but, for the most part, the people I met in Hollywood were not the type with whom I would care to associate."

The duties of his train crew were varied. Sometimes they would actually run a train for a scene which was being filmed. More often, they were transporting the actors and actresses, cameramen, make-up and costume men, and others, as well as equipment. (Continued On Page Eight)

Dr. Terry Bird, County Health Officer, back from a convention at which he heard polio vaccine discoverer Dr. Jonas Salk speak, said today Seminole County's polio vaccine inoculations will resume Wednesday at Southside School.

Dr. Bird was attending the American Medical Association convention in Atlantic City, N. J., when he was called back to Sanford because of the arrival of vaccine sufficient to give the second series of shots.

At the convention, Dr. Bird said he heard Dr. Salk review the work done on the vaccine during the past year. Dr. Salk, he said, cited improvements in the vaccine and reaffirmed his belief that it would mean an end to the menace of polio.

Students will receive their second shots at Southside School beginning at 1 p. m. Wednesday, Dr. Bird said. The first shots were given there April 25.

On Thursday, inoculations will be given at Lyman School, also at 1 p. m., and probably at Rosenwald school at 3 p. m.

Oviedo students will get their second shots Friday, with Dr. Bird and his assistants visiting the white school at 1 p. m. and the Negro school at 3 p. m.

Dr. Bird said Goldboro school will be visited at 1 p. m. Wednesday, June 22. The following day, inoculations will be given at Midway and Hopper schools.

Other students will be asked to come to the County Health Unit on Tuesday, the regular immunization day.

Dr. Bird pointed out that students at the various schools will have to arrange for their own transportation to the schools on the scheduled days.

Francis Roumillat Jr. was elected President of the newly organized entertainment association for Seminole County at a meeting of interested persons Friday night in the director's room of the Federal Savings and Loan Association office. Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith was elected Membership Chairman. An enthusiastic group met to hear proposed plans by a representative of the Alkahest Bureau from Atlanta.

The Alkahest Bureau is a reliable firm that has offered the best in lectures, entertainments and concerts for the past 50 years. It was pointed out by Forrest Breckenridge, who has worked with the company on previous occasions.

Tentative plans were discussed to offer a minimum of four outstanding programs that would offer a variety of good entertainment and be appealing to a large group in the area. Some attractions discussed as strong possibilities included The Chanticleers, a male quartet of soloists from the Robert Shaw Chorus; Nelson and Neal, popular duo-pianists whose life story in pictures is soon to appear in one of the best known national magazines; The Vagabond Touring Theatre from Hendersonville, N. C. presenting one of their most popular summer stock comedy successes, "Apple of His Eye"; The Reisman Trio, three attractive young sisters presenting a varied program of classical and popular music on the violin, piano and cello; and the Grass Roots Opera Company presenting comic opera sung in English, next year featuring "The Barber of Seville."

Plans for the membership campaign will be formulated soon with more definite announcements by the end of the summer. Those present reviewed the talent that would be available for booking and decided that at least 350 adult and 150 student memberships could be obtained to form the Sanford group. It was felt that a high type of entertainment could be set up.

Attending the meeting were William Fegan, representing the Alkahest Bureau; Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith; Mrs. Evans McCoy; R. H. Reedy, Don Fletcher, Ralph Austin Smith, Dr. H. W. Rucker, Forrest Breckenridge, and George Touhy.

Today Is Big Day For County Children

Today was a big day for the kids. Mom and Pop also enjoyed it, and they looked forward to a noise-free summer around the house.

The occasion? The supervised city recreation program got under way with registration of hundreds of youngsters.

A gigantic program, ranging from swimming to movies, is in store for the kids in the seven to 11 age group registered at the Elks Playground, recreation director Edward Christensen radiated his appreciation for the big response and expressed the hope that the program will be the best ever conducted.

The program, which will run until August 5, is sponsored jointly by the City and the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction. Children participating are divided into two general age groups: 6 to 11 and from 12 up.

Activities will include swimming and swimming instruction, bowling, dancing and dancing instruction, tennis instruction, softball games, movies, water skiing, and hayrides. Fishing and tennis tournaments are also scheduled for the future.

The program for the 6 to 11 age group will run from 9 a. m. to noon. Four days a week they will have one hour of swimming, one hour of arts and crafts and one hour of supervised play. During the hour for swimmers, non-swimmers will get swimming instruction.

The group will also have one hour of bowling a week, and every Monday will see a full-length movie and comedy at Seminole High School. Free transportation will be furnished.

Christensen pointed out that the high school library will be open to both age groups every morning during the week to encourage reading clubs.

For the 12 and up age group, dancing instruction will be given from 8 to 9 o'clock Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the City Center. An organized dance will be held from 7 to 11 each Friday night.

Christensen said tennis instruction will be given the group from 2 to 4 p. m. on Monday and Wednesday and later on a city-wide tennis tournament will be staged.

Teen-agers will bowl from 2 to 4 p. m. each Tuesday and Wednesday. They will meet during these same hours on Monday and Wednesday. The gym will be open from 9 a. m. to noon each Tuesday and Thursday to interested persons.

Christensen said a water ski club will be formed, but plans are not final. But since plans are not final, this has tentatively been scheduled for 2 to 4 p. m. each Thursday and Friday. Interested persons should meet at the Municipal swimming pool.

"We plan to have a hayride every other week on Thursday," Christensen said. "Later on, we are going to have a fishing tournament."

A city softball league is also being organized for adults and teenagers. Plans will be worked out at meeting tonight at the Ft. Mellon Park softball diamond.

INSTITUTION STUDY
WASHINGTON (AP)—A study of the Brookings Institution concludes that for the foreseeable future the United Nations cannot be relied on to counter military aggression.

A report released yesterday by the nonprofit, private research group said U.N. members must rely for protection "primarily" on their own armed forces and on regional alliances like NATO.

"In the present state of the world," it said, "they cannot rely on the United Nations."

The study praised the general usefulness of the world organization but expressed doubts it could develop a voluntary arms control system "so long as relations between the Western Powers and the Soviet Union continue to be characterized by fear and distrust."

STAFF CONTINUES
GOVERNMENT PROBE

He said already has been found. The Senate investigations subcommittee which McClellan heads completed four weeks of public hearings Saturday into military procurement activities centered around Harry Lev, a Chicago hat-maker who obtained lucrative government contracts.

GIRL CUTS OFF LEG
TO WIN BOYFRIEND;
Wedding Is Soon

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP)—Dawn McFarland, 17, had her leg cut off to win her boy friend's love.

Dawn had polio when she was a baby. As a result, her left leg was shorter than her right.

She couldn't dance, run or go cycling—things that 20-year-old Gerald Manley liked to do.

Last year Gerald went to Malaya with the British army.

"Soon afterwards," Dawn told a reporter yesterday, "I decided to do something about my leg."

"I went to hospital and persuaded the doctors to amputate it. It's wonderful—now I have an artificial leg from the knee down and can walk miles and dance and do anything other girls do."

When she knew the operation was a success, Dawn wrote Gerald.

His reply—an engagement ring and a letter saying, "We'll be married as soon as I get home."

Weather

Fair north and central and partly cloudy extreme south portion through Tuesday, with local showers extreme south this afternoon and Tuesday; high temperature this afternoon 85-90.

Tough Demands From Both Sides Hit Premier Scelba

ROME (AP)—Embattled Premier Mario Scelba faced tough demands from both left and right today as he fought to hold together his 15-month-old four-party coalition on a crucial confidence vote.

After a busy weekend of bargaining with political leaders, the anti-Communist Premier stood firm on the formula of center alliance despite growing dissent in his own Christian Democrat party and stiff demands from the allied Social Democrats (anti-Communist Socialists).

As the rumblings grew louder, Scelba saw little assurance either his own party or the Social Democrats on the confidence vote to be debated by the Chamber of Deputies Wednesday.
