MEXICAN GUIDE IS CONNECTED WITH KIDNAPING PLOT

J. E. Bristow, Who Was Held For Ransom, Accuses Interpreter

TEPEC, NAYARIT, Mexico, Apr. 11.—(AP)—C. Fields, guide of Mexican-French extraction, is accused by J. E. Bristow, San Antonio oil man of having discovered him over to bandits, who after holding him captive for a month, released him Wednesday upon payment of 3,000 pesos (about $1,600) ransom.

In a report to the Mexican military authorities, Bristow said that Fields, accompanying him in quest of copper and zinc deposits in the hills of Nayarit, plotted with the bandit gang headed by Cruz Delgado for his capture and then tried to collect the ransom for himself.

All Fields had to say was that Mr. Bristow was "un buen hombre" (a good man), that he had hoped he would be freed without harm, but that he had washed his hands of the entire affair. Fields has lived in Mexico for 28 years; police and military authorities know him well.

Bristow's story was that he had hired Fields as his interpreter while he made a trip to a prospective copper mine site in far eastern Nayarit, where he worked for two days at copper prospecting, satisfying himself the deposits which he had seen.

Fields, however, was not ready to leave the party until he had arranged for another day's work, saying that he wished to get a lead sample for his employer.

The American said his guide was often absent for many hours at a time. He consented to a rain another day, and just at dawn while his party was eating around the camp, six bandits with rifles surrounded them. Bristow dashed for a small hut where the party's rifles were kept but found them missing.

(The bandits disregarded others in the party but came straight for him, signifying that he should put his hands up. After conferring with Fields, who acted as interpreter, they mounted him on a mule and made off up the mountainside, at the top of which he found Cruz Delgado, leader of the gang, seated on a rock. Bristow recognized Cruz Delgado as a man he had seen two days before in the village of San Maria Del Oro.

Cyrus Eaton on Strives To Keep Matters In Court Until Apr. 22

HOOVER SEES Billion Dollar BIG SAVING BY Steel Merger Is NAVAL ACCORD Nearing Reality

In estimating the financial saving, Mr. Hoover compared the sums to be spent for naval construction under the accord affected this week with what would have been expended on a basis of the fleet strength proposed at the unsuccessful Geneva conference of 1927. The saving to the United States, alone, he estimated at approximately one billion dollars.

"The cost to the United States of replacements and new construction during the next six years will be (under various estimates) from $550,000,000 to $650,000,000 as compared to a sum of between $1,400,000,000 to $1,610,000,000 to attain parity on the Geneva basis," the President said. "To this latter would need to be added the additional cost of maintenance and operating which would make the saving upon the present basis far compared to the Geneva up to $1,000,000,000 in the next six years."

The savings are not alone to the United States, but to Great Britain and Japan as well. The total savings to the world is perhaps $2,500,000,000 below the Geneva basis which the world was steadily drifting. The sum devoted to reproductive enterprise will be a great stimulus to world prosperity."

The net result of the London agreement Mr. Hoover expects to be "a very considerable decrease in the world's actual naval tonnage as it stands today."

ANTATULA T. & Co. depot faced to make way for construction of modern structure.

The vote, election inspectors announced, was based on stock held as of record Mar. 22 and part of Eaton's legal battle has been based on the contention that more than 91,000 shares transferred since that date should not have been voted. Presumably Eaton now controls enough of his pivotal block to wipe out the 28,000 shares winning the balloting for the merger proponents.

The vote, was announced after common pleas Judge C. S. Turnbaugh dissolved a temporary injunction obtained by the Eaton forces which restrained recording of the tabulation. The opposition today was prepared to appeal this decision. Eaton's forces also announced a variety of suits will be filed attacking the whole validity of the merger on the grounds that it was "railroaded through" and detrimental to Sheet and Tube interests.

Eugene C. Girard, president of Bethlehem, and James A. Campbell, chairman of Sheet and Tube, accepted the vote as victory for the merger and announced that it "certainly will be consummated" although facing the prospect of legal delays. Both said the actual combination cannot take place until the court battles have ended, but were confident of success.

JEWELER ROBBED NEWARK, N. J., Apr. 12 (AP)—A two-gun hold-up man today overpowered two men in the office of Zeltling and Company, jewelry manufacturers, and escaped with merchandise valued at between $30,000 and $40,000.

WIN GAME OF ADVERTISING

This game of advertising is full of pep and vim.
 The customer needs the notifying

 It is not at all surprising

 for Sanford believes in advertising and so do all the freshmen.
 The future will be seniors

 And you are showing us how.

 We are wondering how much

 ing thought clearly in writing. The students of the high school will be Sanford's citizen authors of tomorrow. They will be stenographers, Elk's Club secretaries, Herald correspondents, or writers of Woman's Club reports, Sunday school discussions, or railroad posters. To develop the art of expression in our crop of coming writers, a school paper should be established. The very commendable efforts of the editor of the Celery Fed to fill this need have brought forth a feeble skeleton of what a school paper might be. The purpose of it is to train the students to express their thoughts and ideas in language that is suitable for publication. It gives students the chance to practice for their work with the newspaper, the office, the railroad, or the club.
 However, this attempt to develop a talent in explanation, narration, description, and written conversation is shamefully neglected. The ideal condition of students submitting material through the encouragement of the faculty to a staff existing for the purpose of eliminating and assembling all such material never aroused interest.
 The failure of the paper, Celery Fed, to fulfill its primary purpose is a situation calling for attention. The cause of the failure is a delusion that the work of assembling a Celery Fed rests solely upon the shoulders of the paper staff
 —a delusion which the teachers have taken no pains to dispel. The Celery Fed would gladly accept literature, art, or jokes which students originated. But no such material is forthcoming.

To correct this failure the H-Y, to which we are deeply grateful for starting a school paper, should be relieved of the authority of appointing the school paper's editorial staff. There should be a paper printed regularly every two weeks or every four weeks under the administration of three staffs—a Monday staff, a Wednesday staff, and a Friday staff to have charge of the paper alternately. This competition would make each of the various staffs exert itself to produce the most praiseworthy edition. Better work would be done. More people will receive training in executive and editorial positions. The students would feel that it is their paper and not that of the H-Y organization. The direction of the assembling and printing should be vested in a teacher who would have perhaps four other classes and might devote time to this work as though it were a regular department of study. If possible the school should procure a small printing press to train those who will be connected with printing offices in their life work. Just as satisfactorily the printing could be given to a printing office of the city which would be willing to co-operate with work under, and give help to the student printers. The printing could be done on more expensive paper which would be attractive enough to make students want to buy even at an increased price.

Merchants would gladly advertise in a school paper with a circulation among many alumni and students whom they felt would be interested in their latest stock. Advertisements could pay for the paper and the receipts from the sales of copies could buy expensive prints or artistic covers for the paper, build up the school library, or equip the gym.
 The teachers should be willing to cooperate and to encourage and correct the work of future writers. The writers should be willing to work for their own improvement and pleasure. "Practice makes perfect." You who are looking into the future and dissecting the needs of your vocation which a high school course can supply will readily find that you are going to need a proficiency in language. In the light of the need of an established school paper it is imperative that an up-to-date school like ours establish one at once and in a big way. The H-Y, which works for the school, shall give the direction of the school paper, which they have so commendably started, to a bigger and more representative organization.

What Time Is It?

How often we ask, "What time is it?" without thinking what an important question it is. We are not speaking particularly of the clock but also the time marked by the calendar.
 If we would only stop and consider the value of our time. The first thing we have to do is conquer self while we are young; that is the time to realize we are growing older and to begin the quest of ideals. It is also the time to prepare for the responsibilities that will seek us through life. If wrinkles must be on our brow do not let them affect our heart, for the spirit should not grow old. The time for success is now, no matter what we are doing or what we intend to do. We should reform while we are young for we are more plastic than when we grow older.
 Sometimes we wish to hurry out a desire that is good but while we are doing this we have little time for any thing else. There is an old Spanish proverb that says, "The joy the little you have while the food is hunting for more."
 However it seems that at this time if we turned it around and said, "While the food is enjoying the little he has I will look for more," it would be of greater profit to us on the road to success. Often the greatest opportunities are turned down because they do not occur at the time nor the place we expected.

What time is it? Time to use as intelligently as possible every moment we live. Time to grasp everything that is worthwhile. For the young and old this is the time for success, life and happiness. But besides our regular routine our mind craves a change and in old moments we may achieve great things.

It is the conscientious effort which turns work into art.
 The smallest thing well done becomes artistic. We are all dealers in time and no individual has more anything.
 Never fear that the end of time will come. The fear that there will be no beginning.

What Time Is It?
 What time is it
 May I ask
 Time to rest
 With each class
 Just time to scan
 My lesson at the board
 And rack my brain
 While I take a test
 In the class room
 Row after row
 Then were all there
 But me—I was slow
 Again, what time is it?
 Time to graduate
 But for me, alas!
 I am too late.

Work is to begin on the rocking of the approach to the Olympia bridge tomorrow. A gang of convicts will be put on the job, to be helped out by the maintenance crew. Four carloads of rocks have been ordered from Naranja, and the first will be at Hobe Sound tomorrow morning. Three more cars will come in at the rate of one a day. The work of rock-ing the approaches to the new bridge is expected to require about a week for completion. Then, after a few days of settling, the filling will be done and the work of building the Olympia bridge and its approaches pronounced complete.

Anti-Semitism in Universities

Hardly has a comparative peace been established in one corner of the Jewish world than trouble breaks out in another quarter.
 This time it's the nationalist students of the University of Warsaw who have been rioting and beating their fellow students of Jewish tradition. Last year the awakening Magyars in Budapest created such animosity against the Jewish students that the university had to be closed for a certain length of time. As the Roumanian institutions of learning there is always more or less of an anti-Semitic effluence. The result has been that more and more young Jews from these Eastern European countries have been coming to France and Belgium Louvain and Brussels, and have the largest number of foreign students enrolled in their universities that ever they had.
 In the case of Louvain, the truly remarkable for its foreign students were crowded with the signers already in the middle ages.
 Its reputation, second-only to Rome, as a centre of Catholic learning, the creation of its professors, and the wealth of its library of course, in olden days, it was perfect in theology and philosophy that the foreigners came to seek. Nowadays the medical faculty and the faculty of sciences are crowded. The same applies to the Sorbonne. A heavy percentage of the foreign students are Jews.
 In Roumania, but now even in Paris, that world centre of enlightenment and culture, an agitation against Jewish students has been set up. Information University, official organ of the medical faculty,
 in its last number points a burly and bitter denunciation against the Jewish students. The article has already been taken up by such national papers as Liberty and Action Française. Many Roumanian Jewish students, who had come to study in France, upon graduating. It is not difficult to see the reason. But it is a serious indication of the racial animosity that is being kindled in Europe.
 But it may well serve to make the Jewish boys and girls who are eager for knowledge, to thank themselves at the university of their own, over their own Mount Sion.

Victor Hugo

A French writer who takes pleasure in staging up incidents
 about and "in me" attributes to the great of the past, has been busy on Victor Hugo, the celebration of whose first play is commemorated this year in Paris.
 Victor Hugo, he says, once walked in his garden in that grandiose Roman attitude that he affected, when Lescaut de Lisle asked "You'd never guess what I was thinking about," said Hugo, "of what new work were you thinking about?" "No, I was thinking of what I would say to you when I shall come in His presence." "You will simply say, 'My dear son, you're that,' and come back in Life. La Croix, after a great newspaper, published the following death notice on Victor Hugo
 on May 22, 1885: "Victor Hugo died this morning at one thirty.
 He was the greatest poet of the century. But he was more the last thirty-six years of his life. May his life be an excuse in the eyes of God. Let us commemorate with those who wish to declare him immortal, and let us pray God for the peace of his soul!"

The few systems of paying county officers has been tried and found wanting. It, more than any other one thing, is responsible, for the high cost of administering county government. It should be thrown into the discard.—Ocala Star.

SANFORD FORUM

As a constructive criticism and your advantage, I offer the hope that will be used by all newspapers.
 Dear Editor:

I notice that your paper takes a seeming pride in placing on the front page the complete "Transactions" that take place in our local courts. You even go so far as to give the names of many of our good citizens for the mere transference of some petty ordinance. These names appear right along beside those of the so-called evildoers, who may, probably have been taken in for nothing more than a little "Yap" slapping, or possibly one of our more "effective" road men, who have had their heads, while the whole case is being tried.

The point I want to make is that it is necessary to put in print that Mr. or Mrs. and so on, fell by the way side, made a mistake,
 or forgot to stop for a stop sign.
 Certainly I believe that it is right that all ordinances be observed, and that those failing to do so be punished, but why or how does it benefit anyone to publish the names of the persons guilty of such offenses beyond the law?
 In fact, I believe it is wrong. Who can simply show the number of persons "pulled" for speeding, etc.

I have noticed other articles in your paper dealing with the defeat of certain citizens and I know that such articles could have been published in a manner that would have appeared. For instance, without being named on the front page in very large type.
 I might mention that in some cases your paper is not so very anxious to publish news, as you would have it appear. For instance, only a few weeks ago
 there was held in our own City Hall, a mass meeting of the home and the subject was on the topic of the day. In fact, Mr. Federer, a NATIONAL TALKER, if you please, not only that but the meeting was carried on by the leading merchants and professors of all this community. It is strange possible that your paper

had not gone down to Long street to the "Yap" and in the matter miss the said meeting, or could it be possible that the names of Independent Merchants Co., "Chas. H. Jones and Appel to your service of home," Macy, and the board on the air that news papers in general are staying off the "Chas. H. Jones, et al. Editor, is a NATIONAL QUESTION, slightly of more concern and interest than the happenings in our local courts.

I feel sure that this letter will appear in the "Herald" as the new paper has always published my contributions in the form of advice or constructive criticism.

Dear Editor:

Sanford has one of the most beautiful hotels in this part of Florida. It is the Forest Lake Hotel, situated about a mile from the business section of town, on one of the most beautiful lakes
 in central and northern Florida,
 Lake Monroe.

Lately Sanford has suffered various misfortunes on account of which the furnishing of this excellent hotel had to be returned to its owner. After the furniture was taken, the town-people seemed to think that this was an excuse to let the ground run down.
 Woods have now been seen who we once thought great. The stately palace that for some time has been such an inspiration has now become an unkept that I do not wish to pass them.

I hope the people of Sanford can appreciate the feelings of the tourist who would see this beautiful building going absolutely to ruin. He would instantly think that the people of this city were thrifless, that they were slow to make improvements in their community.

Forest Lake Hotel is a "white elephant" on our land, but we could not do the best we can of it, can we not make this an advantage over other hotels?
 As you see, it is really

JUNIOR PLAY TO BE PRESENTED ON NIGHT OF MAY, 1

Students And Directors Are Working On School Production

By CLIFFORD DEASLEY

"HAB" is the name of the play which is to be presented at the Seminole High School Thursday evening, May 1, by the Junior Class of the high school. This play is said to be one of the best ever presented in a number of years by high school students. The play was written by Edward Childs Carpenter and is based on the novel by Mary Roberts Rinehart. The cast has been practicing almost every night for some time and every member is said to know his part to perfection.

HAB has to do with a girl's amusing—if sometimes desperate—efforts to make her friends, and finally take her serious. Barbara Archibald returns home unexpectedly from boarding school two weeks ahead of time and proceeds to stir up the family. Within a fortnight she has upset married plans of her debutante sister and has invented a love affair for herself which made it appear more serious than it really was, upsetting the family in a terrible way.

The comedy is directed by Miss Helen Vernon, assisted by Miss Jean Maxwell, Nell Williams, Gene Turner, Ed Shindler, Henry White, Wallace Phillips, and Roy Britt. These are assisted by Henrietta Herchowitz, promoter; Mill Morrison, stage manager; Mike Wilson, publicity manager; and Catherine Talach, the ticket manager.

All friends of the local high school student are urged to attend the one performance of "HAB" for such a play is seen so little once in a great while in the small city. Don't miss "HAB".

House Plans Cut For Harbor And River Projects

$100,000,000. Several other projects, however, including the $27,000,000 Erie Canal proposal, are not to be considered.

Chairman Dempsey of the U. S. and harbor committee plans to go over the items again before the bill is reported to the House. Demands of supporters of the Upper Mississippi the Lower Mississippi, the Tennessee, River and the Erie Canal projects are estimated to be many millions are being met by partial allotments, according to the measure's present provisions.

Representative McMillan, of Michigan, ranking Democrat on the committee, said he favored meeting all the projects approved by the committee but the present measure will be a limited program. He said it would not call for an outlay of more than a small fraction annually for many years.

Several projects of an indefinite size already cut down by the committee include the James River, Virginia, channel, for which $100,000,000 is authorized; the $100,000,000 project for the Mississippi; and the $100,000,000 project for the Tennessee.

The committee also is expected to reduce by about one-third the $100,000,000 project for the Tennessee.

Improvement in both cases is the time being was left to the army engineer.

GREAT FALLS, N. D., April 11 (AP)—Larry McLeod, 40, shot at their home here a woman who was with the small child of the pocket knife. A heart that had been holding the blade fast to the hand, McLeod said Police Chief J. C. Steel, "I don't know I did it."

Mrs. McLeod, aged 35, was the mother of two small children, one 11 years and one 12 months old. Chief of Police Steel said that when he reached the home of Larry McLeod, "I found the knife in his hand."

Male Quartette Is Feature Of Club's Meeting Yesterday

Local Lions were entertained at their weekly luncheon held yesterday in the Yacht Club Tea Room by the "Dixie Harmony Four", a negro male quartette from Arcadia, that arrived here yesterday afternoon for a stop over in connection with their statewide tour.

The entertainers sang "Swing Low Sweet Chariot", "Babe In The Chicken Pie", and several other numbers. Following the short program the quartette met the applause of the entire assembly. The clubmen were evidently pleased with the entertainment which the visitors gave for the four singers have been engaged to come here at a later date to give their entire program at one of the Lion's club meetings.

Nomination of officers for the ensuing term took place during the course of the meeting. Election is scheduled to take place on the first Friday in May, according to a report from members of the civic club. Maxwell Stewart, a relay and treasurer, was elected to represent the local Lion's Club at the three-day state convention which takes place in St. Petersburg next month, and in numbers. Following the short program the quartette met the applause of the entire assembly. The

is expected to attend the convention for one day.

V. McKeen, local business man and well known clubman, invited the members to be his guest on a visit to the Havana-Tampa Cigar factory in Tampa while they are enroute to the St. Petersburg meet. The Lions will also be the luncheon guests of the cigar factory while in Tampa.

V. McKeen introduced H. H. Green, representative of the sub-promotion department of the Buhler Motor Company, as the guest of the luncheon. J. H. Cushman was also welcome to the club as a new member.

PROPERTY OWNERS WHO ARE CUSTOMERS OF THE SANFORD GAS COMPANY

The gas pipeline from the property line to the appliances is a part of your property. After investigating a number of complaints of poor pressure which we have on record, we find that in some cases the piping is too small or not properly installed, causing water pockets to form in the line and shutting off the gas service.

We are anxious to remedy these conditions, and will replace and repair all piping on the customer's premises at less than cost. There will be no charge for the labor when no material is used.

If you care to have your plumber renew this installation and make the necessary repairs, the Gas Company will renew the service pipe from the main to the property line wherever necessary, free of charge. Our inspection of the piping done by your plumber will be free of charge.

We will be glad to give you an estimate on such work.

Today's issue of The Sanford Herald, published by the Senior Class, is a reminder of the work done by the students of the school in the past year. The newspaper, complete in its own right, is a credit to the graduates who have demonstrated their ability in the profession.

The Senior Class is to be commended for their efforts in the past year. The purpose of which is to raise funds for the building of the new school. The school authorities and the community, take this method of raising funds and helping the seniors, "put it up."

PRINCESS SCREEN TO SHOW 'SALUTE' NEXT THURSDAY

Sport Film To Be Presented By Local D. A. R. And Seniors

By PHYLIS SMITH
Salute, the latest in sport pictures which is to appear at the Princess Theater next week is sure to prove something new in the way of moving pictures and talks for the theatre fans of Sanford. It is stated that Salute has played to larger houses in the past few months than any other picture of its type. This picture which is brought here under the auspices of the local Chapter D. A. R. and the Senior Class of Seminole High School, reveals the life of students of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and at West Point, the United States Army School, the super acting which is displayed in this picture and the thrilling Army-Navy football game are factors which will make the show a great success in every town in which it has been shown.

This picture is founded on true facts which is something unusual in pictures of this type. In 1927, Charles F. Horn, All American All Point goal, played against the older brother, Arthur Horn, Army-Navy club of that year. They fought each other for a trophy on the field and immediately after the game were having brotherly reunion. This is the fact upon which the story is built and depicted. A romance is woven into the picture and all this goes to make the picture all the more interesting. It is a short review of the lives of writers and producers which are worked with this picture is necessary to fully realize exactly how thrilling, interesting and happy and this show is. John Ford is the picture of the story and John St. John is the picture of the story. George B. Brown is the picture of the story. It is a story of the life of a man who is a student of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and at West Point, the United States Army School, the super acting which is displayed in this picture and the thrilling Army-Navy football game are factors which will make the show a great success in every town in which it has been shown.

The scenes which appear in this wonderful picture, are really taken on the grounds of the two schools around which the story centers. More than three months were spent at the two schools during which time the various scenes were made. The drill, the building, the band, the football games are all real and depicted in the picture exactly as they really exist. Nothing about the picture is false and if any fact in the show, he may be assured that it is the most true of the best shows of the year.

HOME ECONOMIC UNIT OF SCHOOL SEEN AS BENEFIT

Girls Are Taught To Be Real Housekeepers By Required Study

By Rhedra Culpepper
The Home Economics course, as offered by this department in our high school, is composed of various studies.

There are many subjects discussed in Home Economics that the average person does not know. During the first year the two projects are planning, marketing, preparing, and serving a formal breakfast and luncheon.

The textbook is essential and valuable as a study of the fundamental facts of food and nutrition. It is necessary to know the principles of food and sanitary conditions.

After a thorough study of foods, the first step in cooking is reached; planning, marketing, preparing and serving simple, attractive, economical, and adequate home meals. Each must learn the necessary cookery connected with the serving of food both for formal and informal meals.

Second year cooking deals with the further study of foods and nutrition, the principles of food preservation and their values. The only laboratory project in this year is the formal dinner. After the completion of the project, a number of the class is required to write a semester theme.

The other course urged in this department is sewing. The student study simple designs and materials, and make simple garments of cotton materials, the first year.

The second year is spent in the study of designs, millinery, and interior decorating. All work must be neat and completed by a required time or no credit is given for the work.

Every girl and boy graduates from our accredited high school in Florida must take one year of Home Economics, preferably her Freshman year.

One of the outstanding features of the Home Economics Department is the Smith-Hughes Class taught by Miss Shaffer. This class specializes in Home Economics and is a related subject which is General Science.

Home Economics is very beneficial to every girl, particularly those girls who are not taught in their homes the essentials of housekeeping, which include both cooking and sewing.

POEM

Very often this question is asked, "What does one learn in a Home Economics class?" There are many things a girl may learn. If all her lessons she does not learn, she learns to feed folk, both young and old. And she learns to save her silver and gold. With a silver she keeps a home nice. And learns to cook more than just grubs and rice.

In cooking she learns to make oatmeal and cakes; The next semester her dresses she makes. Some cute little pillows and pads may be made. And all other things in style that she may make.

Of course some day it's a waste of time. That there's a better way of spending her time; That she'd be better account study in her books. Than to try to beautify her own looks.

But just you wait—they'll change their minds. When she starts up in her house-keeping lines. 'Cause when she becomes their wife, They'll be glad she had Home Economics in her life.

OUR SPONSERS

Listen my readers and you shall hear, Of the sponsors we have had this year; They are Windish and Williams, we hold us dear; One is what you call so pleasantly plump; The other is bent, far you'd have to jump.

Mrs. Williams has curly locks so dark, In her classes we long never to grumpy back; She's always ready to enter into a lark.

Mrs. Windish has cherry lips and cheeks so fair, Say anything against her—just you dare!

These two sponsors do their best To bring us successfully through every test. They often bring opportunity to be our guest. I know they have made our class a success. Our love for them we all willingly confess.

Advantages Of School Unit System Is Related By Seminole High Pupil

By MAJORIE HOSKINS
There has been a change in our school schedule this year that has proven to be very satisfactory. Formerly, the school year was divided into two semesters, and examinations were given twice a year.

Now there are six, six weeks' periods in the year with each one as a unit. Every six weeks, an examination is given for the work covered in that period and each student is required to successfully pass each unit before he can get credit for the year.

The new system has several advantages. The students of high averages were formerly exempt, but are now required to take the examinations. This experience helps prepare them for college where no one is exempt.

Another advantage is that it saves time for the faculty and money for the School Board and parents. Should a student fail one unit, he has a chance to make up his failure before the middle of the following unit. Under the old system, if a semester examination was failed, the student had to either take the subject again the next year or go to summer school. Now there are less "repeaters," which saves time for the student and money for the school.

The student is responsible now for only six weeks work at a time. The average student finds it much easier to be examined on short periods of work than on long months work as before. This gives the poor student a better chance to pass his "exams."

The many improvements which have been made in the schedule during the past year, are due to the efforts of the faculty and the School Board. Of these changes, the unit system is the most beneficial to both students and faculty.

People who are able to do their own thinking shouldn't allow others to do it for them.

A top-notch man never says inwardly, or outwardly, "I wasn't paid to do that."

Character is the result of two things: mental attitude and the way we spend our time.

Student Discusses Peace Efforts Which Have Been Made At Various Stages

"International Peace"
By DOUGLAS SCHOLS
Whenever you go you will hear about the naval parley that is now being held in London. You will hear also this question: "will they come to an agreement whereby the world will rest quietly in peace forever?" This is a great question that is not only troubling the individuals but the world. The greatest minds of the world are pulling together, trying to obtain a document guaranteeing world peace. But if this document is obtained will it hold? In case some nation gets a chance to obtain wealth, or maybe she is offended in some way, will this more document stop her if she is secretly prepared for war?

As early as 1601 an attempt was made to have international peace and from then on many more attempts have been made. Through the Hague Court it was thought the world would be at peace, but following this came the greatest and most disastrous war the world has ever known.

The only solution to this problem of universal peace is through education. By educating our boys and girls, international brotherhood will be established and the different nations of the world will understand the ways and customs of each other. There is being established now a college in Washington, D. C. where students representing every country in the world will attend. This school will do a great part in the promotion of international brotherhood, and when this is obtained, along with disarmament, peace will be established.

The next great international encounter such as the World War will be disastrous to both young and old. Chemical, poisonous gases, airplanes, and other means of warfare have been so perfected in the last few years that if war should break another war the whole world will be annihilated. It must be prevented.

Whether it is disarmament or establishment of international brotherhood, we must have international peace and if this conference, that is now being held, accomplishes this, it will be the greatest step toward the elevation of civilization that has ever been known.

It simply took my breath away!
That man, his voice, his lips, his hair!
He simply walking on the air;
The way he strides, and oh, those eyes—
I'm telling you, he's some sweet prize!
The way that man can wear his clothes,
And oh, that grand old Roman nose.
My dear, I'm telling you—right now
I never saw such an utter wow!
That wonderful voice, oh what a treat!
I don't see how it is so sweet
And dearie you should have seen his line!
A cupid's bow, 'like Quixote in Spain,
His hair is black, and wavy, long
He sure is cute, I'm telling you
Those big thick arms, that grand physique
That man is one who is unique!"

PUPIL PASSES 3 STAGES PRIOR TO BECOMING SENIOR

Mental Feelings Of High School Youth Explained In Theme

By Helen Ileen
There are four stages through which every high school student must pass in preparing himself for the future, duties of life. These stages are well-known and discussed by every student and graduate and require anything from four to six years. Most of us are familiar with this educational evaluation, but have you ever paused to consider the spiritual and mental evolution? Let us review this situation and follow a typical student through the four stages.

We behold him one Monday morning full of wonder and fear coming to school. He has passed the school building many times and wondered what horrible mysteries were contained within its hug, walls. On arriving at school he seeks the company of other freshmen. "In union there is strength," is his feeling, or at least, "misery loves company." He sees or rather feels, the contemptuous glances cast upon him by upper classes.

The bell rings! What a sinking, foreboding feeling he has! He goes to chapel, finds himself in a sea in which he tries to sink from view. He sees Mr. McKay and the other members of the faculty in all their high and terrible estate. What terror those dread minutes hold for him. The students, assemblable in their classes. Now he sees him in terrible torture. He sees his class rooms in confusion, no one, "Oh, these are the times that try men's souls," and long for the good old grammar grades, where he felt at ease to breathe. Thus the first year passes.

Now as a Sophomore he is beginning to feel somewhat at home, having safely passed the first year. Now he looks humbly down upon the new freshman whom his law has forbidden him to molest. He now takes pride in school activities. He takes some interest in football and basketball and upon the highest pedestal places the heroes, Folsom, Edensfield, and Yancy. Perhaps he goes out for one of the sports himself. This passes the second year of his evolution.

Now we view him as a junior. He is beginning to regard himself as of some importance. He has, perhaps by this time caught some real school spirit. He turns his eye toward graduation and the lofty station of a senior. Fondly dreaming of the time when he can boast of being one of them. Thus passes the third year.

Lastly, our adorning page contains a dignified senior. He is, indeed, a new interest has come into his life, since he has put away all childish, thoughtless, talk on attraction for him and perhaps, more than likely, he has developed a crush on some wonderful-to-be-described girl. One new time, when wondering in the hall, when he shouldn't be, especially if he plays basketball, thinking all the while, "a senior, a mighty man," he! His evenings are no longer spent at home in anxious study, more likely he is on a date, playing golf, or at the show. In his own eyes he has taken a man's place in life and dreams of a glorious future.

Thus our cringing freshman has evolved into a fully senior in four stages. Any Nature grand?

If put to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness.

CITIZENS URGED TO BACK SCHOOL ATHLETIC TEAMS

Student Says Gate Receipts Did Not Cover Costs This Year

By "BUDDY" LAKE
This year the athletic teams of Seminole High School are in what we would call, financial straits. On account of this question as to whether the teams will continue to exist, is uncertain. There is only one way to mend the situation. That is by support from the student body and citizens of Sanford. Attendance to the games has been very unsatisfactory so far this year and the support given a team is a vital factor in its success. If we hope to produce a winning team we must give them all the possible support, for a team cannot "carry on" on its own.

Football and basketball seasons have passed, for this term, and now baseball is here. In the two previous sports, attendance to the games was so small that the gate receipts were barely enough to cover expenses, while in a few cases, it failed to pay for those.

The various teams need new equipment. In the past football season the team had to use faded and worn-out uniforms that had been used for several seasons. On account of this they have appeared to represent some small country school without standing. The baseball suits are in good condition but a sufficient number of them is lacking. The baseball team is better equipped than any of the others, mainly because of the generosity of the business men, who paid for the suits, and in return received advertisement on the backs of the uniforms.

There is nothing that brings up the standing of a school more than the appearance of its teams. If the school students and the citizens of Sanford want the teams to represent them well and make a good appearance on the field, court, or diamond they must give them support. Come on spectators! Be a sport, and help the team. During baseball season make up for what you neglected while the previous sports were in session. And by your help make it possible to see the teams that represent Seminole. If you can't get upon the field or court to be compared with the best of the state and one of which you can justly be proud.

The team needs your support and I am sure that every member of the different squads will be more than grateful to you for assisting them in their finances. Show your appreciation of having

CAFETERIA GIVES STUDENTS DAILY NOON HOT LUNCH

Food Is Well Prepared By Mrs. J. N. Robson, Declares Graduate

By EDYTHE SMITH
The high school cafeteria, under the direction of the Parent Teachers Association, has been in existence for about six years. At present it is being managed by Mrs. J. N. Robson. It is through the efforts of this organization that it is possible for students to have a hot lunch at a low price. Just a few years ago the student had to bring cold sandwiches for lunch if they lived any great distance from the school.

The school cafeteria is located in the basement of the high school building. One would never think of it as a basement for it was built for the purpose of using as a cafeteria. It is well equipped to prepare and serve food to students, faculty and any visitors who desire to have a lunch.

The food is well prepared and looks very inviting. Mrs. Robson tries to please the students and faculty in preparing her menus and make the cooking homelike. She serves everything from salad to dessert and the menus are all ways different. Besides the regular menu one can buy candy and ice cream.

There are about 200 students of the school served in an hour. The lunch period is divided into two half-hour periods, from 11:30 to 12:00 and from 12:05 to 12:45. There are 15 minutes between the periods in order to give time to clear the tables for the next period. About half of the students served each half hour period. This method prevents a long waiting line and the students eat their lunches while it is steaming hot.

The students cooperate with the cafeteria in more than one way. They help by serving the food and by doing odd jobs.

There is no reason why anyone should not enjoy eating in the Seminole High School Cafeteria. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to visit the cafeteria.

And then there is the son who, upon asking his father who Hamlet was, received the following reply: "Hamlet is so ignorant, son, bring me the Bible and I'll show you."

It's easy to recognize an Auntie in a hall fight. He cheers for a team to carry your name by BEING OUT!

Young Writer Discusses Problems Confronting School Students Today

By CLIFFORD BEASLEY

The question in the mind of many students of today is, "What am I going to do when I get out of school?" This question preoccupies me as what kind of work will be the student's, what type of employer will be, what class of society will he fall in and how will he be regarded in the business world which he follows.

If the student of today could only realize that at this time, during this very day, he is moulding himself for what he will be in his life, what a blessing it would be. As the old adage goes, "What you are today, so shall you be tomorrow." If it were possible it would be a great thing if the student could be taught how to properly mould and prepare himself for later years while he is in high school. It would be a great thing if he could be brought to realize the slow impending danger of making the deadly peril of alcohol drinking, the bad effects of moral dissipation, and the slow but sure stamp of bad environment, such as gambling houses, road houses, night clubs, and dark and smoky ballroom.

Such problems as have already been named are not a few of the troubles which the high school student of today has to combat in order that he may keep clean and be able to position a clean slate of character when he comes out of high school. The last named example, above, the problem of the pool room, reminds us of a story which was once related to us and in the hope that it might have the same good effect on someone else as it did on me, we will pass it on.

Said our Father, I have a question to ask you. I have thought things over and after weighing each side of the matter carefully, I have come to the conclusion that there is no great amount of difference in either weight.

As the son hesitated, the father, feeling that the boy might need a little encouragement, said, "Well, son, go on with your question. I'll try to be considerate and will weigh the matter and come to some conclusion."

This encouraged the high school youth, continued, "Well, Dad, it's like this. Ever since I have been a boy in the grade, I have been in pool rooms with certain guys and chaps. I have been taught that pool rooms were places where clean, young men were never found. I have been taught that never should I go into one. I have come to look upon them as places of filth, dirt, and unrespectable characters and gamblers. But since I have grown older, since I have been in high school, I have seen my friends, fine young men, and many young boys I do not know go into the pool rooms and around town and seemingly with out harm to them. They seem to be fascinated by the game and in no way does it seem to be affecting their standards or character.

Only yesterday, my closest friend, went into a pool room for the first time and there he learned the game. He is highly enthusiastic about it and wants me to go with him and learn to play. That was my play together. That is the question which I wish to ask you. May I play pool? Is it quite all right for me to be seen in a pool room? Or am I to let my Dad go ahead and find some one else to play with and continue, so I have not had this time to disregard such places as the pool room?

With a look of kind regard and of understanding, the Dad made reply, "Son, I'm not going to forbid your playing pool, I'll merely say this, think of the future, the affect which it will surely have upon you. The game of Pool is itself a bad habit. In fact, it is a wonderful game of skill. But it is the environment of the place of which I am afraid. The cigarette, the alcohol, the pool table, and the like which you are bound to hear there is, what has offer?"

"Please, my Dad, just remember this, you may a future, you have got a life work to find, some one to marry, and some one you may be need of a good man and you may be just the man for the position. But here is the point—that once that employer is not going to a pool room to find a fit man for the job which he has to offer. Never will an employer look in a common, smoky filled ballroom for the man which he is seeking to fill a responsible position. Therefore, my boy, my advice, not commend, is to spend your recreation hours elsewhere, never learn to play the game, I feel unless it be in a home, Y. M. C. A. pool room or some place where you may play with a friend, who may assist you in the game. Play pool if you want to, but remember, what you are today, so shall you be tomorrow!"

RESTORATION OF WILLIAMSBURG IS TO BE HUGE TASK

Rockefeller Fortune Is Backing Project To Rebuild Village

By BETTINA CAMPBELL. A half-century ago, the fortune of John D. Rockefeller's fortune was now being spent on a little town in Virginia. An effort is being made to bring Colonial Virginia back to a living reality to the middle of the Twentieth Century.

This little town of Williamsburg, Virginia was the capital of Colonial Virginia in the days when the state extended to the Mississippi River and the Great Lakes. With the help of John D. Rockefeller it is being rebuilt so that when it is completed it will look exactly as it looked before the Revolution.

This is an enormous task, probably the greatest restoration project ever attempted. The work has been in progress for nearly three years and more than $1,000,000 has been spent. But as yet only a beginning has been made. It will be 10 or 15 years before the project will be completed and many more millions have to be expended before it is being left to the people.

Research workers are busy at Annapolis, France, Scotland and England, going through old documents in dusty libraries for information. The plan for the restoration of the city is being based on a British manuscript.

Most of the buildings in Williamsburg, which have been destroyed, date back to Colonial days. The plan is to build the new buildings in the same style as the old ones and to use the same materials.

All the money for the project is being raised by the Rockefeller family. The plan is to build the new buildings in the same style as the old ones and to use the same materials.

At first, people were amazed, then they became alarmed. A town meeting was called and Dr. Goodwin was asked to explain his plan. He brought enthusiasm and the city voted to sell the required property. So now the work is going on in the open. Scores of laborers and carpenters are on the work.

Dr. Goodwin points out that Williamsburg is about the only place where such a thing would be possible. He explains that you could not reconstruct the old New York, Boston or Philadelphia. You might rebuild the colonial houses, but you would have them surrounded by towering skyscrapers. In Virginia the surrounding territory is the same as it was two hundred years ago. There are no tall buildings to mar the skyline of the rolling country.

The restoration work first began with Dr. Goodwin's church. All the modern pews and furnishings were taken out and the building was restored to its colonial aspect. Few churches in America are as historic as this one. Its baptismal font is the one which Pocahontas lowered her head when she embraced Christianity. The bell in the tower is the one which was rung in celebration of the repeal of the Stamp Act in 1776 and again when Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown.

Probably the biggest task will be the reconstruction of the royal governor's place and the development of its garden. The original building of the William and Mary College was built in 1707. During the Yorktown campaign, Washington used it for a hospital for his wounded soldiers. Fire ravaged it, but its old walls were so thick and firmly built that it is still standing, and needs only restoring instead of rebuilding.

Some of America's most famous men studied at this university. Washington went there in 1794, to take his surveying examinations. Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe, John Tyler, and John Marshall, three presidents and one justice of supreme court, were students there.

So when the project is completed, Williamsburg will be its own self, as far as it is humanly possible to make it.

Senior Class Now Working On Annual Of School Events

By Robert McCreary. It has been the custom of the Senior Class of Sanford High School to publish each year an annual of school activities. The class of '36' is now working on this project. It is a difficult task to edit this book, but the result is worth the effort.

The goal of this group is to present not only upon the literary contributions, but also on the side of the school generally, which are the result of publication. Other financial aid comes from club dues, profits from the Senior Play and donations. The publishing of The Sanford Herald has aided the group for the past two years.

Without the help of the business men of Sanford we could not publish our "Sally" or our advertisements. The class of '36' will not be the class that breaks the long chain of annuals. Help us to succeed by buying a "Sally" or an advertisement.

TEN COMMANDMENTS OF GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

1. Thou shalt not quit.
2. Thou shalt not sulk nor make excuses.
3. Thou shalt not gloat over winning.
4. Thou shalt not be a rotten loser.
5. Thou shalt not take unfair advantage.
6. Thou shalt not ask odds thou art unwilling to give.
7. Thou shalt always be willing to give thy opponent the shade.
8. Thou shalt not underestimate thy opponent or overestimate thyself.
9. Remember that the game is the thing and those who thinketh otherwise are not true sportsmen.
10. Honor the game played, for he who playeth the game squarely wins truly even when he loses.

Celery Feds Show Sportsmanship In Athletic Contests

By IRVING FLEISCHER. The Celery Feds are known for their clean playing. Each opposing team knows that Seminoles High plays a fair game. Seminoles High won a cup last year at the district basketball tournament held at Leesburg for the "most sportsmanlike" team participating in that contest.

The football season was far from being successful this year. Since we went through the season without winning a game, no one can be blamed for that. The coach did not have a good season this year, and the prospect is not bright.

The Celery Feds showed sportsmanship in their athletic contests. They played a fair game and showed good sportsmanship. They are known for their clean playing.

1930 GRADUATING CLASS HISTORY IS TOLD BY SENIOR

Real Work Begun At Entrance Into Last Year Of High School

By DOROTHY TORLAY
It was in 1926 that we entered Seminole High School as timid freshmen. For some reason we caused much amusement among the upper classesmen, especially the Sophomores. They seemed to enjoy us so, we tried to be bold.

During the first year in high school we were not allowed any privileges, but we tried to be good sports, laughing off all the hard things placed upon us.

The first to hold the offices as sponsors for the class of thirty were Miss Scott and Mr. Butz. Other officers were: president, Joe Aycock; vice president, Jim Higgins; secretary, Junitta McMullen; and treasurer, Katherine Schiratz.

The new high school was completed and ours the first freshmen class to enter.

Each year the classes compete for the Kiwanis Interclass Athletic Cup. Although our first year we did not gain the high places, we made a good showing in all our games. Another annual event was the Hall-wren Stunt. We thought ours the very best although it did not gain first place.

As Freshmen we had the honor of giving our beloved Junior class a picnic.

Since the close of the year we had become more accustomed to high school life and were already making big plans for the next year.

As our Sophomore year began we walked through the hall with a lofty air. We thought we were the biggest half of the school.

Because Mr. Butz had failed to return to our school we had to elect another sponsor. We chose Miss Brady to aid Miss Scott in keeping our class together. We again went through the process of electing officers to be at the head of our class. We chose as president, Junitta McMullen; vice president, Joe Higgins; secretary, Katherine Schiratz; and treasurer, Jim Higgins.

This year we participated in all the interclass games. Among the joys of the year was the winning of the Hall-wren Stunt. Our class proved to be the best and we were presented with the Faculty Lawn Cup.

In our Sophomore year we were entered in the E.K. Essay Contest. Our class worked hard and two members received prizes for their efforts.

Before we could finally realize it our second year was over and we were back through that most of years, but not in the same way.

The class of Thirties is small. In 1929 to start it, Junior year we could see that there were a few old faces missing, but we were new ones to take their places. We made the best of this.

At our first class meeting we elected our officers. Our sponsors were the same: Miss Scott and Mrs. Winchell. The latter has changed her name to Mrs. Holsinger. Our president was Charles Butler, vice president, Margaret Holsinger, secretary, Margaret Gable, and treasurer, Junitta McMullen.

The third year we made a good showing in our interclass games, and we won several first places.

The Junior class elected its officers by giving an exhibit and banquet to their upper classmen in the Senior.

All Juniors entered the Essay Contest. A prize was awarded to the Oxford Daughters of America.

At last we had to face our most important enough to be given a name. The Freshmen favored it with this: Many thanks.

It was in September, 1929 that the senior class of 1930 began its work in earnest. We were a little realize then how much was ahead of us, and the short time in which we had to accomplish it.

Our first problem of the year was to choose another sponsor, as Miss Scott had not returned, and elect our officers. We have the competent sponsors in Mr. Winchell and Mrs. Williams, who do so close. Our class is quite proud of its president, Charles Butler, vice president, Katherine Schiratz, secretary, Dorothy Higgins, and treasurer, Junitta McMullen. Besides these we have our athletic managers, Ethel LaTetter and Jack Robinson. As a whole the class was well prepared to tackle all the work.

The Senior class decided to change the material of our ring. After much discussion we made our decision; which was to retain the symbol of our high school, the Indian Head, but to have the ring made of different material. We hope that the ring we chose will be used by the future Senior class.

One of our biggest projects of the year was the presentation of our play "The Radio Mystery." The play went over with a bang. It was enjoyed by everyone, although some people were a little nervous. Much credit should be

Good Citizenship Is Seen As Fine Aim Of All High Schools

By NELLIE WILLIAMS

Seminole High School strives to teach many things. One of the most important of these is good citizenship. Some pupils do not seem to know what is really meant by good citizenship. It does not mean just to obey the laws of our country, remove our hats, and salute the flag as it passes. There are some characteristics of a good citizen, but when a person salutes the flag one day and turns around and injures school property or commits one of his schoolmates the next entirely he does not know the meaning of good citizenship.

A good citizen must be courteous. Emer on says, "Life is not a hurt but there is always time enough for courtesy." Many would judge a school by the courtesy the pupils show visitors and their fellow schoolmates.

A good citizen must be honest, loyal, and obedient. He believes in the proverb "honesty is the best policy" and sticks to his belief. It is loyal to his school, his teacher, his superintendent, his community, and his country. He obeys his parents, teachers, and the laws of his city and of his country. He always speaks the truth, thinks for himself, and stands for the truth in matter what it costs him.

There are many other qualities of a good citizen but the most important have been named and each of them can be practiced in the school room. Why not begin now and show others what good citizenship the members of Seminole High School can do?

Our boys and girls are athletes and we win most every game. You'll find us first in every race and come are known to fame.

We will debate and song. If we're the jolly high school bunch, you'll hear from us right along.

We will cheer, never fear, for the simple reason we're Sanford High. When the team begins we are loud and cheer.

At the back we learn to fly. As they see never low, through a lightning sky.

We will meet for a year end and home. And we'll win for Sanford High School.

As we march on, fighting hard, given to all those who were so good to us in any way with the plan.

The jolly staff has been chosen and all the members are here at school on the annual. We are proud to make it the best one ever published, but we need everyone's support to excel on and give medals and put in your side for an annual.

Soon comes that final day when those who are worthy will receive their diplomas and walk into their chosen paths of life.

Pupils Receive Much Good From Activity In Local Hi-Y Clubs

By MINNIE BESS ECHOLS

How many of our friends, or even mothers and fathers, know what Hi-Y means when they see these words on a pin? It means that your friends, daughter or son are among the students of our high school who, have a good character, high sense of honor, and have been honored by membership in the only organization of this kind in our school, "The Hi-Y."

The Hi-Y has been organized four years, and during its existence the members have, in a great number of ways, influenced the student body to maintain a high sense of honor and to develop a stronger moral.

The aim of our Hi-Y is: "To create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian citizenship throughout the school and community." Our emblem is a triangle, and it, these sales represent all-around Christian development.

The Girl's and Boy's Hi-Y is a branch of the Y. M. C. A. and this organization has aided us in many ways.

The Girl's Hi-Y meets twice a month. We have our own club room which is attractively furnished. During school hours we discuss the part of the school to us for a room mate.

Below is a program for the year which will give you an idea of what the Girl's Hi-Y is doing each month.

Talking Pictures Lauded By Student As Being Of Educational Advantage

By JANE TORRANCE
In attempting to answer the question "What real value has the 'talkies' brought us?" we are faced with a great number of possibilities. Perhaps the most interesting angle of the nation's fourth largest industry can be said to be the far-reaching effect its offspring will have upon the coming generation. This conclusion is arrived at as the result of the expressions of religious, civic and economic leaders of the world. They are talking known then in terms of utilizing the "talkies" as an educational campaign directed toward the proper upbringing of the youth of the world.

"S" CLUB FORMED TO PROMOTE HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS

Lettermen Joined To Foster Clean And Better Athletics

By ETHELDA PATTERSON
Every school needs some type of organization to control its athletics. Seminole High School's sports are managed by the "S" club, which is composed of boys and girls who have earned letters participating in the school athletics.

The purpose of this organization is to promote clean and better athletics. To remain a member of the "S" Club, one has to live up to all of its regulations, rules and regulations. It is one of the school's highest honors, and the student who earns it is held in high esteem.

The "S" Club has a very interesting history. It was formed by a group of students who were tired of the old-fashioned sports which were being played at the school. They wanted something new and better.

Out of the multitude of students who were tired of the old-fashioned sports, a group of boys and girls decided to form a new club. They called it the "S" Club, and they set out to make it the best of its kind.

They first met to discuss the matter. They talked for hours and finally decided to go ahead with their plan. They then set out to recruit members.

They have now a number of members and are working hard to make their club the best. They are planning to have a number of sports events during the year.

CHARLES BUTLER WRITES ORIGINAL EASTER FICTION

Scene Is Near Palestine In Leper Camp Before Christianity

By Charles Butler
The great, desolate Desert of Judea, with its mountains stretching away to meet the setting red of a winter sunset in Palestine. The flaming color was painted on the face of the plague patient in the countenance of the young man. The air was heavy with whispering whispers of nodding trees or falling water but of pain and death-life, and despair.

But today the lepers had deserted their hovels. They had gathered in a group to watch the sunset, which the boy feels while watching the approaching sunset. They looked at each other and they chanted the Song of David. It had been a month since the last system of tapping his little tent of water had been driven from the city to live with them.

Student Stresses Need Of Equipment In High School Gym

By MARGARET GILES
Although our high school has one of the largest gymnasiums in the state, it does not have the equipment needed for physical education work. This work could be carried on with more enthusiasm if we had a regular gym equipment and a full-time teacher.

The work of a gym class is divided into three parts: first, calisthenics or stretching exercises, second, marching and drilling, third, the playing of games which provides good exercise. Basketball and volley ball are played in season. We try to vary the program as much as possible with new exercises, drills and games.

This system of student assistance offers an opportunity for the development of leadership and initiative among the students. We feel that this is the best way of meeting the law requirements, and in addition to giving the student exercise, develops leaders in our school.

Two, right after exams that started from sweets and "depos" the girls departed. We admit it was using the lunch room duty.

As usual the variety from grade to grade in the class games there to be our first. And not to mention the "talkies" which they had been playing for some time.

They first met to discuss the matter. They talked for hours and finally decided to go ahead with their plan. They then set out to recruit members.

NEED OF LIBRARY AT HIGH SCHOOL BEING STRESSED

Weakness Of Department Is Jeopardizing School Rating

By CLIFFORD BEASLEY
Ask any citizen around Sanford what kind of high school this city has and their answer will be, "One of the best in the State." They will go further and enlarge the definition of the department of the department. But little does the citizen realize that the department of the high school is one of the weakest of the city.

In the past few years the school library has been neglected. It is one of the most important departments of the school. It is the only place where the student can find the books he needs for his studies.
