

Hurricane Agnes Fails To Budge Home Owners

By TOM RAUM
Associated Press Writer
APALACHICOLA, Fla. (AP)—A Red man really is his catch. Red Cross workers said Monday after wading through deep waters to rescue Hurricane Agnes victims who refused to be rescued.

As the drying Agnes vented the last of her fury on rural woodlands in Georgia, Red Cross crews helped victims on a hard day's work.

"What they say about a man's home being his castle is true," said Dick Smith, in charge of the Apalachicola area evacuation operations for the American Red Cross. "You can ask him to leave, even plead with him, but if he doesn't want to do it there's nothing you can say or do to make him."

They just decide on their own when the wind and rain have stacked off a little, that it is safe to leave," said Smith. "I'd hate to think of the number of people that have been killed using that same line of reasoning."

8 Years Meted In Drugs

By MARION BETHA

"You wrote me a letter saying that the right thing would be done... I can tell you I've done a lot of praying for God to show me the right way to help you." With these words, Circuit Judge William Griffin found guilty by a Circuit Court jury in two separate cases of possession of a narcotic drug.

The court contended the defendant had refused to acknowledge his wrong doing, and that the only way to accomplish this was to impose a prison sentence. Therefore, Judge Salfi sentenced Griffin to a state prison for a term of four years at hard labor in one case, following adjudication of guilt, which term will run from Nov. 2, 1971. The court sentenced Griffin to a term of four years at hard labor at a state prison in the other case, which is to commence with the conclusion of the sentence in the previous case.

Griffin's attorney, Emmett Moran, told the court Griffin is not a violent man, and that this is the first felony with which he has been charged. Further, he cited the age of the defendant (36) and the fact he has a large family to support.

Griffin's wife, Moran said, is unskilled and unable to support the children. Moran requested the court consider all these mitigating factors in possible probation.

Judge Salfi stressed that he is aware of the age and ill health of the defendant, but the factor of the defendant not having the "ability to see yourself the way you are" weighed heavily in the decision the court would make. Judge Salfi contended the report upon Griffin indicated he continually shifted the responsibility for his actions, blaming "someone bugging you, or some unknown force."

"Your conduct is not in accordance with the laws of society," the court noted. Griffin pleaded for a chance to rehabilitate himself, maintaining he would never be in trouble again. In rebuttal, the court said, "I know jail is not the answer; 10 years won't straighten you out any at all." However, Judge Salfi explained there was nothing to justify probation. "I would love to be wrong in something like this," the court told Griffin.

Still adamant, Griffin begged, "I won't let you down." Nevertheless, the court said, "you haven't yet acknowledged what you did was wrong. Until you recognize what look place, and that you are guilty, this is the problem which faces the court."

Continuing, the court commented, "You've really come to the end of the line. It won't change you to put you away for a number of years, but I believe what I'm doing is the right thing for you."

Camps Lure Delegates

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The plush hotels of Miami Beach are losing some of the young delegates they expected during the Democratic National Convention. Their competitor: The outdoor campsites of the convention.

We're receiving lots of inquiries from young delegates about campsites, said Jeff Nightingale, spokesman for the Youth International Party (Yippies). "Most of the kids are delegates bound to Sen. George McGovern."

Nightingale said the delegates planned to take part in convention activities organized by the Yippies and other groups, including the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the Vietnam Veterans Against the War.

State and local groups have urged the council to take immediate action of the campsites to prevent mass confusion when nondelegates begin arriving in the city.

Nightingale said the high percentage of return as an indication of the "concern and strong feelings all parents in Seminole County have about the plan."

The results of the poll with 137 votes cast were 16 in favor of 45-15 and 121 for placing the issue on a public ballot before the program is put into effect.

"It is interesting to note," she said, "that the parents voted this way with a clear understanding that an alternative might lead to additional taxes."

Further Study Of 45-15 Urged By PTA President

By DONNA ESTES

It is not impossible that the School Board will change its mind on the 45-15 school year to go into effect July, 1972 but the chances are remote.

This was the answer given by School Board Chairman Allan Keeth to a plea from Mrs. Bettie Bannick, president-elect of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. Bannick said the information presented by Mrs. Bannick would be filed and taken into account.

A P. B. Bannick, however, added if the Board is going to change its mind, a substitute plan to answer the problem must be presented.

"What's wrong with double sessions?" Ray Stenton asked. To Mrs. Bannick's suggestion that 45-15 be tried as a pilot program perhaps at the Forest city-Teague complex, Keeth answered that a majority of the Board believes it should be tried county-wide or not at all.

In addition, Mrs. Jean Bryant said the county is too much divided now and the board "does not want to split it further" by initiating the plan in only certain areas.

county-wide basis will do better than a pilot program.

Noting "misery loves company," Keeth said 45-15 on a county-wide basis will do better than a pilot program.

School Bonding Costs $2 For $1, Teague Reports

Alternative To 45-15

An alternative to 45-15 is available, Associate School Supt. Walter Teague said Monday night. He said although the voters can approve only a four mill increase in taxes this year for the school system, the county will, next year, have the capacity to go for a $2 million bond issue for school construction.

But, he added, it has been found that it costs the county in interest $2 for every $1 borrowed through a bond program. This particular year, the school system could not go beyond a $7 million issue.

To repay a bond issue would cost the taxpayers about $1 per thousand evaluation of their properties, Teague said.

Rescheduling Questioned
The rescheduling of children from the Woodlands subdivision bounding SR 434 to Milver Middle School in mid-school year 1972-73 was questioned by Woodlands residents.

Supt. John Angel could not answer questions concerning why the switch was made, but told the questioner that Andrew Bracken, of the school staff, who holds responsibility in this area, could answer the inquiries.

"As long as the county is enjoying, and I use the term loosely, dynamic growth," Angel said, "changes will have to be made." He said as well that Bracken is working under the premise of as few students as possible. The superintendent said generally the Teague district is that area west of 14 to the school.

Teague principal William Layer, in answer to a question from Angel, said the problem was brought about when one section east of 14, the Woodlands, got switched with another area east of 14, Glen Arden Heights in Altamonte Springs, in the districting for Teague.

Doctor: 'Can I Play God?' Transsexual Operation Is Performed

The Sanford Herald Wednesday, June 21, 1972—5A

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A surgeon who performed an operation that physically changed a man into a woman said he first had to ask himself this question: "Can I play God?"

The surgeon, who asked to remain anonymous, said he would not have hesitated to use plastic surgery had the deformity been a withered hand, a club-foot or a hideous burn scar.

But although the deformity was like any of those, the doctor said, it had caused a quarter-century of loneliness, ostracism, fear, anguish and eventual despair for the unidentified patient afflicted with it.

Before accepting Jackie as a patient, the doctor faced some stiff imposed questions. Why not leave the person as nature had made him? Fully developed man from the waist down and a fully developed female torso.

It was wrong—morally or ethically—to use the scalpel in this instance to alter nature? Angered by the persecution the young man had suffered for a decade, the surgeon reasoned that society was at fault. Surely it couldn't be wrong to ease such torment and make it possible for a person who was born different to live a near-normal life, he believed.

After hearing Jackie's story, the doctor agreed to operate. At birth Jackie seemed to be a healthy baby boy.

But with puberty, he began to develop breasts, and by the time Jackie reached high school a physical was the only way to tell he was a boy.

By every outward appearance—hair, complexion, build, development, shape, etc.—Jackie was a girl.

Schoolmates made his life a living hell with jeers and snickers, and neighborhood busybodies even ridiculed his parents. Only once did Jackie have a date, a boy new to the community. But he never called again and Jackie reasoned it was because of cruel gossip.

Jackie showed up, dressed as a girl, at a social event and was called for induction into the armed services.

Cabinet Is Rapped By Peeved Solon

By JOHN VAN GHESSON

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Why bother to have a legislature if the Cabinet is going to undo its actions, a peeved Rep. James Reeves, D-Pensacola, wanted to know Tuesday.

He spoke out in reaction to a Cabinet decision putting the $2.5 million Carlton Data Center under Comptroller Fred Dickinson's control, even though the Legislature had transferred the computer to the Department of General Services.

In another action, the Cabinet was forced by a federal judge to convey 25,313 acres of prime South Florida land to Aerojet-General Corp., and the deal was expected to be completed today.

Reeves had advocated taking computer centers away from Cabinet members and other state officials to "purge responsibility" for the mechanical minds under one agency.

"If just goes to show you," he said in a telephone interview after the Cabinet acted Tuesday, "there's no need for a Legislature in Florida."

It was the second year in a row legislators failed to take the Carlton Center away from Dickinson. Last year, the Legislature appropriated funds for the center to General Services, but the Florida Supreme Court gave it back to Dickinson.

"It's just another battle you go back and fight next time," Reeves said. "One of these days, we're going to get the message across."

Dickinson said he hoped legislators would understand the necessity of the action that's been taken. He said he must control the computer that prints the million state checks he will make out this year.

"These in the legislative leadership on the House side who have been critical of this transfer have either been silent in their duty or incapable of understanding the constitutional responsibilities of a constitutional officer who issues warrants," Dickinson said.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Shapely beverage agent Shirley Thompson had no business posing as a bar pickup to lure men into the crime of smoking marijuana, the 1st district court of appeal said Tuesday.

The court reinstated the possession of marijuana conviction and one year jail sentence against Tom Spencer, 36, of St. Augustine.

Spencer was arrested in August, 1970 at a bar and met Mrs. Thompson in a bar and she accepted his invitation to go to his apartment. She testified that once they were there she offered her some marijuana.

A roommate testified that the female agent and Spencer were "smoking" in the couch when he walked in. He said he drove Mrs. Thompson to a store to buy rolling papers to smoke the marijuana.

The judge said there was an inherent inducement involved in the apartment pickup.

It would be naive of this court not to recognize the implied promise in return for which the appellant must commit a crime, the judge said.

Winston Wynne, director of the Beverage Division, said he "wouldn't make any comment on the court's decision."

Asked if he considered Mrs. Thompson's conduct a proper way to make a drug arrest, Wynne said, "I wouldn't have the slightest idea."

Keglers Loop

What's a fellow have to do? That's the question Ron Sigmund might be asking himself after he unloaded with a 220, 212 and 201 for a 632 but it netted his Goodyear Number Two team with one victory in their match with Seminole.

Jim Smith had a 196 to lead the Development keglers.

J. Hackett ripped off a 221 game and it was the only victory the Keglers managed over the Gutters. B. Kelly's 183 also helped in that game. High for the Gutters were Chuck Baker 184 and Ed Mallon 180.

The Road Runners won three from the All-Stars behind the efforts of T. Patterson 204, 189 — 572 and D. Dolgner 181. B. Powell's 184 led the Stars.

Other top efforts in the league came from G. Burgess 185, J. Ceresoli 181, Ed Adams 231, G. Varner 196, 167, D. Gorman 202, John Jacob 194, W. Burrows 209 and R. Jones 185.

Shooting Stars

T & D Sanitation swept its match with B-Fs Link Construction last week behind the efforts of Brenda Thacher 181, Rosalie Burkart 176 and Emily Griffith 164. For B-F it was Jewel Kaufman 186 and Bonnie Link 175.

Kathy Cooper's 181 — 496 sparked the State Farm Insurance to three victories over Sobaks. Phyllis Walsh had a 176 to pace the Sobaks team. In the other meeting S & W Trucking won three from Kennedy Tractors.

Adcock Home Improvement

Bill Kinney saved his best for last and the Penny Pinchers are mighty glad he did. Kinney had a 206 in his final game as the Pinchers won by a scant nine pins and swept their match from the Family Four. Kinney had games of 193 and 173 in his 571 series. Polly Prince had a nifty 176 — 436 set for the losers.

Rob Jones started big, with a 226 and got help from Ben Trayman 184 as the Abstracts won three from the Top Dollar. Bob Hostford's 187 and Louise Hostford 185 led Top Dollar.

The other top performances last week came from Steve Richards 185, Ed Lee 186, Bob Stettler 182, Chuck Baker 207, Kathy Cooper 178, Roger Merrill 181, Jeff Johnson 202, John Ceresoli 185, Agnes Butcher 187, Jim Carver 192 and John Jacob 187, 200.

City League

Jim Lamb needed a 223 in his final game last week to reach the magic six and Jim did just that as he hit the big six in the hard way, starting with a 185 and backing it with games of 212 and 223. Jim Carver added a 196 but it did little for the Betty Natale Pro Shop which dropped four to the Burger Chef. High for the Chef were Nick Arceri 161, 162, Phil Santos 194, 191, and Dale Gaiken 182.

Roy Caynowa hit 17 pins over the big six last week with games of 180, 207 and a big 230 as James Jewelles swept four from Rich Plan Food Service. Jim Cotton 190 led the Service keglers.

Other highs last week came from Don Gorman 214, Rod MacLay 181 — 524 and Dick Zuckerman 187, 183 — 547.

Early Toyota

The Sprinters captured four wins last week with K. Williams turning in a 171, 170 — 509 and S. Kostival a 176 to go with that team's fine handicap. High for the losers was John Jacob's 196.

Ron Gilibe had a 189 — 543 and R. Davis a 182 in leading the Overhead Cams to a sweep of the Road Cruisers. E. Webb 189 led the losers.

Sanford Little League All-Stars Picked

All-Star teams for Sanford's three Florida Little League League loops were selected by league coaches last night. These three entries will represent Sanford as they host the District IV tournament. This year's district tournament will be a 22-inning game. The winner will advance to the state tournament.

Florida State, the only league champion that has been decided, placed five players on the American League all-star team. Larry Vollerbusch, Joe Smith, Chris Gardner, Dave Fall and Casey McFadden will represent Florida State. The team currently has 220 record with only two games remaining.

Goodyear also placed five players on the American League team. Price Baker, Chip Flinders, Dalin Howells, Ned Stevens and Chad Roll, United State Bank and Sanford Atlantic National Bank each placed two players on the squad. Mark Renaud and Jim Kennedy will represent United State Bank with Pat O'Brien and Scott Anderson selected from the Sanford Atlantic team. Paul Galm of Seminole Petroleum will represent that team on the squad.

In the National League, where the league lead is currently shared by Medical Center and the American Railroaders and Seminole Prosser Goods both placed four players on the team. Don Lyles, John Selroutz, Mike Barbour and Ken Perry will represent Railroaders on the team. Mike Wagner, David Stamm, Ulysses Ward and Mike Herring will represent First Federal.

In the Continental League, the title race is a battle between American Produce Exchange, Jack Prosser Ford and George's Jack Prosser. The selections in that league will have five players on the team. They are Jim Edmonds, Danny Wells, Tyrooe Hayes, Mike Link and Jay Bergman.

United Transportation Union placed four players on the team. They are Mike Lanier, Randy Berry, Billy Griffith and Bobby Tischer. Three players, Mike Berry, Billy Griffith and Sam Watts, will represent George's American Produce Exchange placed a pair of players on the team. They are Paul Payne and Wes Spake. Troy Sloan was picked to represent Hal Spragins Lincoln Mercury.

Prosser Ford Advances

Wallstedt Hurls No-Hitter At Oviedo

By HERKY CUSH Herald Sports Writer

Mike Wallstedt shut the Oviedo Little League champions down without a hit as Jack Prosser Ford of the Seminole Little League advanced in Area II of the district Little League tournament.

Wallstedt whiffed 16 batters in pitching Seminole's championship to the easy 14-1 victory last night at the Seminole Little League Field at Five Points.

Seminole broke the game wide open and gave Wallstedt plenty of working margin with an eight run eruption in the third inning.

The two teams exchanged runs in the second and it appeared as if a tight battle was in the making. Seminole scored its first run when Jay Johnson threw wildly past first on a dribbler hit by Toby Kasel. Oviedo's only other real threat came in the next inning when Kip Grant and Chuck Starrett walked. A pickoff attempt of Starrett put the runners after the third. He set the final 11 batters down in order, nine via strike out.

The win moves Prosser into a meeting against the Mailand-Semoran game. Tonight's game will also be played at the Seminole Little League Field at Five Points with a 7:30 p.m. starting time.

error on Ricky Byrd's grounder enabled Turner to score the fourth run of this inning. A single run in the fifth closed out the Prosser scoring.

Leading the winners at the plate were Lanier with a two for two night and the American League runner-up meet the Continental League champions. At 3 p.m., the National League runner-ups battle the American League champions. At 7 p.m., the Continental League runner-ups take on the National League champs.

Three exhibition games are on tap for July 4 when the Sanford Recreation Department stages its annual bar-becue. At 1 p.m., the American League runner-up meet the Continental League champions. At 3 p.m., the National League runner-ups battle the American League champions. At 7 p.m., the Continental League runner-ups take on the National League champs.

NFL Rift Concerns Power Of Rozelle

By DAVE NORD Associated Press Writer

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Testimony continues today on charges by the National Football League Players Association that NFL owners have failed to bargain on player fines and artificial turf.

In opening testimony Tuesday, attorneys for the two sides clashed over the role of NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle and a spokesman for the players accused owners of violating their contract with players by refusing to bargain on the two issues.

The hearings are being held by the Minnesota office of the National Labor Relations Board. Trial examiner Melvin Welles of Washington, D.C., indicated testimony might continue through the week and said a judgment was not likely until late July.

Yunick Unveils Hybrid

By BLOYS BRITT AP Auto Racing Writer

MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP) — Smokey Yunick, who calls his firm in Daytona Beach, Fla., "the best damn garage in town," unveiled his Oriente Express Tuesday, and may have opened a new era in championship auto racing.

Yunick's hybrid, a basic Eagle from Dan Gurney's shop, mounts a stock block Chevrolet engine equipped with twin turbochargers similar to those used on the Ford and Oldsmobile engines of Indianapolis fame.

There is an even bigger difference, however. Yunick says his engine costs about $6,000. The Ford and Oldsmobile powerplants retail at about $12,000.

If the Chevrolet proves itself competitive in the July 2 Schebler 500 at Pocono, International Raceway, Yunick may wind up with more orders than he could fill.

Stock block engines have been several times in recent years, but without the exotic turbochargers that have become standard equipment on Ford and Oldsmobile machines.

David Holdo, a veteran British driver who also is familiar with oval tracks, will handle Yunick's Oriente Express when the 33-car field for the Schafer 500 qualifies this weekend.

Holts took several laps in the car during Tuesday's first full day of practice. But minor problems, mostly with the engine's plumbing, kept him from reaching fast speeds.

Meanwhile, six drivers, led by Bobby Unser, recorded unofficial lap speeds above Pocono's standard of 172.972 miles per hour set by Mark Donohue at the winter pole position last year.

Unser, the Indianapolis pole sitter, was clocked at 182.299 m.p.h. Gordon Johncock, driving a team Gulf McLaren, posted 182.516, while 1972 Indy winner Donohue and Mario Andretti each were caught at 180-plus.

Al Unser and Joe Leonard, who with Andretti form Parnelli Jones' Victory team, ran in excess of 172, as did Wally Dallenbach in Andy Granatelli's STP Lola.

Vacation Blues

He's An Old Fashioned Homebody

By TOM HORTON
Copley News Service

I just found out I'm unique. I'm the only man in America who is going to America this year on vacation. Everybody else I know in America is going somewhere else for a vacation. In one hour, at lunch, I encountered people who are going to Greece, Germany, Italy, Yugoslavia and Ireland. They all asked me, "Where are you going this year for a vacation?" I hung my head and said, "America." They all expressed sympathy. I am therefore bringing myself to a difficult summer and an even more difficult winter. All summer my friends will be leaving for foreign vacations. All winter they will be telling me about it. And in the competitive world of stimulating conversation, it is nearly impossible to compete with people who have been abroad for a vacation while you have gone nowhere except America. The blame for all this, as usual, lies at the feet of the media. Too much advertising of foreign vacations is accepted at this time of year. There should be a home bias. One American vacation ad for every foreign vacation ad. Just reading one of the weekly magazines I subscribe to gives me an inferiority complex because I will be vacationing in America. The magazine is filled with glamorous invitations to vacation anywhere but America. "Eight uncommon tours to Europe!" And me stuck with a common USA trip. Vacations abroad used to be luxury items, but no more. Not if you believe the ads. "Super-economy Europe '72. Maxi-fun at mini-cost for budgetsters young and old. 28 cities thoroughly combed for thousands of money-saving tips found nowhere else!" It's a paperback guide selling for $2.95. It's for people who go to Europe for a vacation, so they can come home and tell people like me who went to America for a vacation. "For what you spent on your American vacation, you could have had an economy European vacation." Even the expensive resorts lure the American vacation dollar by claiming prices are lower during the summer off-season. Every week for a month now I've seen the smiling faces of Bay, Jamaica. He's saying, "I'm not easy to believe that this Bay Roc offers you such luxury at these low-off season prices. But think of it this way: Our 1,700-foot white sand beach does not get one whit smaller between April and December. The weather is just as glorious and, if anything, the Caribbean air is sweeter, as even our beer and greener. See your travel agent." My travel agent doesn't want to see me. I'm only going as far as America. There's a full-page ad and a

"mail-it" coupon which is trying to convince Americans to vacation in Canada. I read it as a multi-tooled knock on poor people like myself who will be vacationing in America. The Canadian ad is in the form of a letter from one friend to another. It's probably the kind of letter I'll be receiving from my friends this fall when they return from their vacations abroad. It says, "Dear Paul: You wondered why we turned our backs on all the usual places and went to Canada last year. We wanted a hell of a lot more than just a vacation out of our vacation." That's clearly a knock at me. I always try to get a suntan out of my American vacations. The "Dear Paul" letter goes on: "We wanted to sample new people, new points of view, a new environment. We wanted to soak up ideas as well as sunshine. We figure their effects last longer!" I'm dead again. When my vacation tan is gone, my friends will still be carrying on about the new ideas they soaked up in all those foreign places.

Reapportionment To 3-Judge Court

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The validity of Florida's new legislative reapportionment probably will be before a three-judge federal court. A hearing on a state motion to dismiss the suit challenging the formula was cancelled Tuesday after U.S. District Judge William McKee recommended the three-judge panel approach rather than a single district judge.

Chief Judge John R. Brown of the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals has been asked to determine which type of court is required. If he appoints a three-judge panel, it will include one circuit judge and two district judges. An appeal from a three-judge panel of this type could be taken directly to the U.S. Supreme Court and probably reach a final settlement sooner.

That's clearly a knock at me. I always try to get a suntan out of my American vacations. The "Dear Paul" letter goes on: "We wanted to sample new people, new points of view, a new environment. We wanted to soak up ideas as well as sunshine. We figure their effects last longer!" I'm dead again. When my vacation tan is gone, my friends will still be carrying on about the new ideas they soaked up in all those foreign places.

Sardine Pate Is A Treat

By HELEN CLAIR
SEA Food Editor

An imaginative yet low cost appetizer helps impress guests with less worry about busting the budget. A Norwegian sardine pate with mini-rye biscuits can cost as little as four and one-half cents each, depending upon the price of the sardines. The smoky flavor of the sardines makes the cream pate a rich, indulgent treat.

NORWEGIAN SARDINE PATE

- 1 can (12 1/2 oz.) Norwegian sardines
- 1/2 pound butter
- 4 hard-boiled egg yolks, sieved
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon chopped parsley
- 4 drops Tabasco pepper sauce
- 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
- 2 teaspoons cold water
- Paprika or chives or parsley for sides

Drain sardines well and mix. Tearing with butter, mix yolks, lemon juice, Tabasco and salt. Mix well. Soften gelatin in cold water, dissolve over hot water following directions. Stir into sardine mixture. Refrigerate until ready to be served. Turn out onto waxed paper and shape into round loaf to desired height. Refrigerate until ready to use. Roll into paprika or chives. Makes 1 1/2 dozen.

MINI RYE BISCUITS

- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 4 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup rye flour
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon melted butter

Mix all all-purpose flour with baking powder salt and soda. Stir in rye flour. Mix sour cream with milk. Stir into dry mixture blending well. Turn out onto lightly floured board and roll to 1/2 inch thickness. Cut with small floured (1/4 inch) and place on greased baking sheet. Melt butter. Bake in 450 degree oven for 10 minutes until browned. Serve warm. Makes about 2 dozen biscuits (1 1/2 inches diameter).

Summer Is A Time For Change In Eating Patterns

By GAYNOR MADDOX
This is the season for the outdoor barbecue. It's a way of life adjusted to a warm weather.

But our way of living has changed generally over the past several years. Today, there are more meals on the run, more meals that really are not meals, more snacking and less actual food preparation in the kitchen.

The underlying causes of these changes are more leisure time and a change in eating patterns.

The point is that with more leisure time and a greater desire for convenience, the consumer's demand for services has been growing faster than the demand for food itself," states Dr. David L. Call, Babcock Professor of Food Economics, Cornell U.

Writing in the May edition of Journal of the American Dietetic Assoc., he observes, "An extension of this trend toward greater consumption of services has been the growth in the institutional or away-from-home food market, particularly that segment referred to as 'fast food service.'"

The ultimate in services will be delivered of cooked hot food to the home ready to serve on the table.

Nutritional quality of our food is still the major health consideration. Processed foods, including new types of food substitutes and food analogs (look alike but different basically) are being questioned. But unfortunately, they are being questioned only by a small section of the consumer public. Nutrition is being relegated to second place in the buyer's mind.

And what about the overall quality of our changed diet patterns? Will changes in the kinds of food we eat affect those of us who have heart disease, obesity, or anemia?

"Our food system has a high degree of inertia. Those who wish to alter the types of food produced face many obstacles. It should be realized that pressures to alter our dietary patterns can have a very important economic and other effects through-out the system."

Those who wish to see

Along The Food Trail

By THE BASCOMBS Copy News Service

NEW YORK—It's probably safe to assume that there are not many French restaurants here or abroad whose food purchaser was not long ago, a fashion model for the likes of Chanel and Balenciaga in Paris.

Such is the case here at Restaurant Francias where the lady of the house is the wife of Swiss owner-chef Georges Rey. She deals with fish mongers and all the other essential suppliers in the city at a break 6 a.m. each day.

M. Rey is an exemplary product of the renowned Hotel School in Lausanne, Switzerland. He sharpened his skills at work in Geneva, Basel and Crans From 1968 he was, with two partners, neatly settled in his present location, then known as La Polinare. For over two years now he and his wife have run the present operation as Georges Rey's Restaurant Francias.

His expertise is evidenced through the quality of his cuisine, of course, but much too can be said for an atmosphere condition not only pleasant but sparkling with the sounds of French-speaking diners. Europeans have a way of discovering restaurants in this country that will not disappoint the high standards of home.

MOLLES FARCIES
2 lbs. mussels
1 lb. butter
2 tsp. minced garlic
2 tsp. finely chopped parsley
1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup almond powder
salt and pepper
1/2 cup grated cheese
2 cups heavy cream

Put the clean mussels in a pot with a little water and cook over a medium flame until they open. Let them cool. Keep the shell where the mussel is attached and fill that side with the stuffing, which is a paste made by mixing the softened butter with all the other ingredients, reserving part of the cheese and part of the cream.
Place the filled mussels on a tray or chafing dish, sprinkle with the remaining cream and grated cheese and place in a hot oven for about 5 minutes, or under a hot broiler for one minute. Serve hot.

little wonder that producers groups fight so hard against such suggestions. The effect economic livelihood is at stake. Even so, food processors are facing a severe challenge and they might as well face up to it. Nutrition must be considered as an integral part of food, too.

The growing shift of many consumers to "health" or "natural" foods implies a fear of processed foods.

"I think our food supply is safe and nutritious. Granted, improvements may be needed—it probably could be safer, but these problems will not be solved in the head-lines," concludes Cornell's distinguished professor.

Pork Provides Family Welcome Meal Variety

By TOM HOGG Associated Press Writer
On May 25, 1539, Hernando de Soto landed on the shores of Florida with 600 soldiers and 13 pigs. Today the pig population of the United States is close to 60 million and the average American eats 65 pounds of pork a year. When the covered wagons began rumbling westward, the pig went with them. He was a hardy traveler and able to hold his own against the animals of the forest where he had to forage for food. Small hams and stringy hams were the yield of these "barbarians" and stump pullers. Pork as we know it today did not become available until the settlers began using the Indian corn, which was abundant, as feed. Thus, changing the hog from a scavenger to a plump farm animal.

Someone once asked James Beard, the famous epicure, what meat he would choose if he could only eat the flesh of one animal the rest of his life. Without hesitation, Beard chose pork.

Pork is beyond doubt the world's most versatile meat and you could feature it at every meal for days without repeating a single dish. Here you have the makings for great fare: succulent pork roasts, tender chops and spicy sausage.

Pork adds substance and flavor to scores of sausage types. Fresh pork and pork ingredients for country sausage meat and links and fresh thuringer style sausage. In many varieties, including sausage, bratwurst, Polish sausage, bratwurst, buckwurst, mettwurst and countless other blends of meats and spices.

No matter how fresh pork is prepared, it is vital to remember one thing: it must be cooked until it is well done and slow cooking is recommended.

Pork can be prepared by roasting, broiling, boiling, frying and baking. Each method produces distinctly different flavors and all are delectable.

Simply, the meat opens up a whole new field of delicacies including Canadian bacon, cured ham and pork tenderloin. One dish that is both a hearty meal and gourmet treat is the French country-style pork chop.

1 tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. sugar
2 Tbsp. ginger
2 Tbsp. cornstarch
2 Tbsp. cold water
Cut duckling into quarters, removing neck, wing tips and backbone. Cook quartered duck, skin side down in Dutch oven or chicken fryer over moderate heat until browned. Add garlic and let cook one minute. Blend together and add the orange juice and rind, lemon juice, kitchen bouquet, salt, sugar and ginger. Cook lightly and bring to a boil. Lower heat and let simmer until duck is tender, about 45 minutes. Remove pieces of duck. Pour fat from broth, leaving broth in Dutch oven. Blend together and add cornstarch and cold water. Cook, stirring constantly until sauce boils. Replace duck in sauce and let heat thoroughly. Serve duck over fluffy hot cooked rice, garnished with crisp water chestnuts and accompanied by the sauce. Serves four generously.

Lemon Chiffon Pie Has Tang

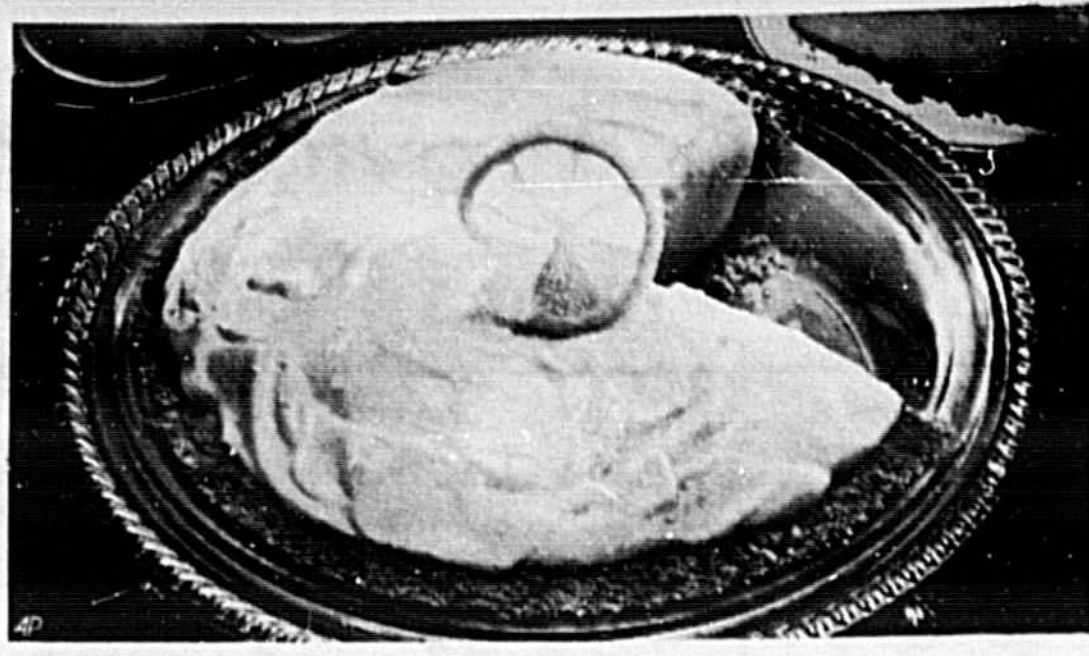

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor
If you like your lemon chiffon pie to have real tang, the following recipe should suit you. It uses a little more fresh lemon juice than usual.
One tip about grated lemon rind, used also in the pie. After washing and drying the lemon, use a grater with medium-size slots. Place it over was paper and with light downward movements (instead of rubbing back and forth) remove only the outer yellow peel in tiny flakes.

TANGY LEMON CHIFFON PIE
Graham Cracker Crust, see below.
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 1/4 cups sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup plus 1 tablespoon fresh-squeezed lemon juice
4 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon freshly grated lemon rind.
Prepare and bake Graham

Cracker Crust, chill.
In a 1 or 1 1/2-quart saucepan thoroughly stir together the gelatin, 1 cup sugar and the salt, gradually stir in water and lemon juice.
In a small mixing bowl, with a fork, beat egg yolks well, blend into gelatin mixture. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved and mixture is slightly thickened — 8 to 10 minutes; do not boil. Stir in grated lemon rind and immediately transfer to a medium or large mixing bowl (preferably metal). Chill over ice cubes and water, stirring often, until mixture mounds just slightly when dropped from a spoon.

In small electric mixer bowl beat egg whites until they hold very soft peaks; gradually add remaining 1/4 cup sugar, beating at high speed until whites barely hold stiff peaks. Fold chilled mixture into whites; spoon into crust. Chill until set.
If desired, top pie with sweetened whipped cream — a great addition.

GRAHAM CRACKER CRUST
1 1/4 cups finely crushed graham crackers
3 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup butter, melted
Stir together crumbs and sugar; gradually stir in melted butter, blend well. Press onto bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until brown — about 8 minutes. Cool, then chill before filling.

Whet Ol' Familiar

By AILEEN CLAIRE

Ground beef offers a variety of possibilities other than the rounded hamburger patty seasoned with salt and pepper. For a change of appearance and taste, pat out and broil a Pickle Squareburger. The addition of chopped dill pickle, chopped onion and some garlic dresses up the less expensive ground chuck. Top with cheese and serve with toasted bread.

PICKLE SQUAREBURGERS
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, crushed
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 pound ground chuck
1/2 cup chopped dill pickle
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
4 slices process American cheese
4 slices of white bread, toasted
Sliced dill pickles

Saute onion and garlic in butter in skillet until golden. Remove to 1 large mixing bowl and cool slightly. Add chuck, chopped dill pickle, salt and pepper; mix lightly until combined. Shape meat mixture into four 4-inch squares. Broil 3 to 4 inches from source of heat about 5 minutes on each side or until desired doneness. Top with cheese. Broil until cheese bubbles and browns slightly. Place each burger on a slice of toast. Garnish with sliced dill pickles. Makes 4 servings.

HALIBUT STEW — Serve with hot cooked rice and a tossed salad.

Hearty Main Dish

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor
If you are interested in preparing a fish dish that is bland enough for even the young members of the family to enjoy, consider Halibut stew. This is a top-of-the-range dish and the fish is cooked in a sauce of onion, green pepper, mushrooms, celery and tomatoes plus seasoning. The sauce is on the thin side so an accompaniment of cooked rice is in order.

HALIBUT STEW
3 tablespoons olive oil
1 cup thin strips onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 pound mushrooms, sliced
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons flour
1 can (1 pound and 12 ounces) tomatoes
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
Pinch of thyme
1/8 teaspoon tabasco sauce

In a 12-inch skillet or large saucetop heat the oil, add onion, green pepper, mushrooms, celery and garlic; cook gently, stirring often, until onion is softened — about 10 minutes. Stir in flour.
Add tomatoes (including liquid in can), parsley, bay leaf, sugar, salt, pepper, thyme and tabasco. Cover and simmer, stirring occasionally and breaking up tomatoes, for 20 minutes.
Add halibut and simmer until fish is tender — 10 to 12 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Serve.

HALIBUT STEW — Serve with hot cooked rice and a tossed salad. Makes 6 servings.

44th Year, No. 218

By John A. Spolski

This seems like one of those days when the "really big news" will be taking and making all of the headlines. Unfortunately, most of it will be bad, and I can anticipate that there'll be that certain percentage who'll sigh and say, "Why don't they just print the good news?"

Tough, but true, I'm sorry to say. However, maybe we can make at least one nine-year old a little happy. That is, if the boy's tent reads this, and does return same, thank you. I've never met John Lepinsky of 800 Myrtle Avenue in Sanford, but I'll betcha he has loads of intestinal failure. He picked up the phone, called in directly to "Mister Editor," and explained his plight.

The emotion was evident in his voice when he said he "only had the tent for two days."

What both John and I can't seem to understand is why the one who "borrowed" the tent neglected to take along the poles, too?

And one more on money... Allen Claxton, assistant budget director of New York City, on the mysteries of balancing the budget: "I've been here two years and I'm just learning where they hide the money."

Sorta reminds you of things right around Seminole County, now doesn't it?

Oops, another example of the speed with which some of our mail is dispatched. A lady living in Sanford sent a get-well card to a youngster in Longwood, who was suffering from the total number of view cases to 146 for the month of June.

I'll never understand it... I accompanied the law enforcement officers on their "narc" bust yesterday in Casselberry. As today's news account of the incident reveals, there was enough found on the premises to make the charges stick.

The accused were arrested around 1 p.m., taken to the county jail around 3... and were bond-out before night fell. ALL WITHIN A PERIOD OF ABOUT 8 HOURS!

Day before yesterday, we ran an ad on how other countries handle drug offenses, and if I remember it correctly, the accused would spend about six months in jail BEFORE THEIR TRIAL. CAME UP!

Sure I know of some of the faults in that system... but, I can't help but appreciate the weaknesses in ours, too!

JOHN EDWARD Mezger Jr., 26, of 25 Teresa Court, Casselberry, is all smiles here despite the fact that he was just arrested on three charges after a search of his home. He is escorted by C. E. (Eddie) DePuy, Jr. of the state attorney's office, who participated in the raid along with agents from the Sheriff's department and Sanford Police Department.

DAVID RAY SCHILLING came visiting and found himself under arrest for possession of marijuana. Schilling drove up to a house at 25 Teresa Court, Casselberry, while agents were executing a search warrant. Schilling is being led from his car by Lt. A. S. Davis of the Seminole County vice squad. (John A. Spolski Photos)

Inside The Herald

A $5.3 BILLION-a-year program of federal aid to cities and states appears poised for easy passage in the House today.

A MAN who went on a shooting spree lingers in critical condition with gunshot wounds while police search for a motive for a rampage that left six dead and seven wounded.

MILWAUKEE MAYOR Henry Maier, who for three years led the now nearly victorious fight for revenue-sharing, says the next No. 1 priority for the nation's mayors is to force the suburbs to shoulder some of the burden of caring for the poor.

GEORGE MCGOVERN'S chief delegate-counter says the South Dakota senator will set up the Democratic presidential nomination within nine days.

3 Mayors To File Charges Against County Commission

Three Seminole County mayors have an appointment with Gov. Reubin Askew next week and one of the three, Mayor Lawrence Swofford, of Altamonte Springs, will charge the members of the Board of County Commissioners with malfeasance in office due to the board's refusal to release road and bridge funds collected to the municipalities.

CURTIS HILOW
KEN BROWN
LAWRENCE SWOFFORD

Swofford told The Herald today he, Casselberry Mayor Curtis Blaw and Longwood Mayor Kenneth Brown will confer with the Governor on the matter. Exact date and time of the conference has not been set but an appointment has been approved with Askew's office. The county has refused to return half of the road and bridge funds to the cities as required by law because of a question of the legality of annexations made by the cities over the previous year.

County Commissioner Sidney L. Vihlen Jr., acting chairman in the absence of Greg Drummond, insisted he as one member of the board, has been acting "exclusively and totally" on advice of County Atty. Thom Rumberger and Asst. County Atty. Harold Marsee and with the understanding Atty. General Robert Shevin has ruled this is the appropriate course of action.

Vihlen explained the question of the legality of the annexations results from the cities annexing road rights-of-way to reach parcels of land that are not contiguous to the city limits. Swofford at the same time contends the state law regarding road and bridge funds is clear that the County Commissioners "shall" return half of the road and bridge funds collected within the city, to the city. "It does not give them the prerogative of determining," which part, if any, they will return, the mayor maintains. The Altamonte mayor called the Commission's position in the matter "ridiculous" and insists the county attorney has advised them annexations are valid unless overturned by a competent court and further, if the board refuses "to abide by the law" the members are subject to removal from office. "It is hard to understand,"

I want to make it very clear, I am not, absolutely not, in any way against annexation. I feel the Seminole cities are doing a great job and, in fact, should annex where the city can extend sewer lights and water and sewer service, at least as far as Altamonte is concerned. "Ninety-five per cent of the annexations we have made is at the same zoning the county last restrictions for development are higher and more stringent than the county's. But I cannot go against the advice of the county attorney and the attorney general of Florida.

Top Postoffice Aides Retiring In Sanford And Casselberry

Two Seminole County postmasters are taking advantage of new and more liberal postoffice regulations and retiring from their offices effective June 30.

Miss Cecile Heard and James Myers, postmasters of Sanford and Casselberry, respectively, are retiring as well as Sanford's Asst. Postmaster Clyde Percy. Names of replacements are not as yet available.

Richard Rutherford, of the district postal service in Orlando, today confirmed to The Herald the retirements have been approved. He also made it clear Miss Heard and Myers are being permitted to retire under the new regulations. "We are not kicking out anyone," he said. Rutherford said rather than the normal retirement age of 55, the new regulations due to the need to reduce the work force are allowing early retirement. A letter from Postmaster General E. T. Klassen received by postoffices, apparently across the nation, in the last few weeks, points out since the retirement policy was formulated, pointed out in addition was the fact that requested resignations and retirements would become effective June 30 as well as those wishing to take advantage of the new rule.

The new regulations provide that persons 50 years old with 20 or more years of federal service can receive an increase in retirement annuities of 4.8 per cent. However, for each year under 55 years old a retiree, a two per cent penalty on retirement money will be deducted. A check of other Seminole postoffices reveal no other employees filed documents to take advantage of the new retirement regulations. Rutherford said, however, the names of those persons who are also taking retirement will become known after June 30. Oviedo Postmaster Thomas Moon had an interesting comment on the matter. "None of us here are retiring yet; we could not live on the retirement pay."

Bulletin
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate directed its Government Operations Committee today to consider establishment of a special bipartisan committee to make recommendations for the handling of secret documents.

The committee was directed, on motion of Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., to make a decision by Aug. 7.

Two Men Arrested For Dope

By GARY TAYLOR

Two persons were arrested on narcotics charges Wednesday after agents from the Sheriff's department, Sanford police and the state attorney's office executed a search warrant at the Casselberry address. This brought the total number of view cases to 146 for the month of June.

John Edward Mezger Jr., 26, of 25 Teresa Court, Casselberry, whose residence was searched, was arrested on three counts.
