Drug Deal Sours

Sanford Man Killed, Two Jailed, Another Being Sought

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

An argument over drugs left one Sanford man shot to death, a second man and a juvenile jailed on a charge of first-degree murder and a third suspect being sought, Sanford Assistant Police Chief Herb Shea said.

After receiving an anonymous telephone call concerning a shooting at about 4:55 p.m. Tuesday, officers were dispatched to 29 William Clark Court where they found that Michael McCloud, 22, of that address, had been shot to death.

Witnesses told police that three men had been arguing with McCloud when one of the men handed a pistol to a second suspect who fired at McCloud, killing him. A single shot hit McCloud in the upper left arm, traveled through his chest and pierced both lungs and the heart, Shea said.

He said the argument involved "a drug rip off" but he did not know who had ripped off whom or what kind or quantity of drug was involved.

After the shooting, the trio fled and Shea reported that officers conducted a search and found Freddie Lee Conquest, 25, of 107 McKay Blvd., Sanford, near the scene. Witnesses told police it was Conquest who handed the gun to the suspect who fired the shot that killed McCloud.

Conquest was transported to the police station where he was charged with first-degree murder at 6:13 p.m. Tuesday. He is being held in the Seminole County jail without bond.

A 17-year-old suspect, who was allegedly the third person involved in the fight with McCloud, called police and told them he knew they were looking for him, Shea said.

The juvenile was picked up by officers and Shea said he was transported to the police department where he was charged with first-degree murder and turned over to juvenile authorities.

Officers have the name of the suspect who is suspected of being the triggerman in the slaying and they are continuing their investigation, Shea said.

Flower Power

Robert Horn, 68, of 47 Castle Brewer Court, Sanford, is a familiar sight as he rides his elaborately decorated bicycle around town and as far as Orlando and back for enjoyment. The decorations, purchased at "dime" stores are changed from time to time. He said he enjoys his eye-catching bike the way other men do their cars and his children aren't allowed to ride it.

Longwood Man Critical After Courthouse Melee

By Deane Jordan

A Longwood man is in critical condition today after being shot in the face by the berserk gunman who also killed a bailiff and wounded another man at the Orange County Courthouse in Orlando Tuesday before being shot himself.

And, the man who felled the gunman, ending the shooting spree, was a courthouse bailiff from Winter Springs.

Harry Dalton, 53, 121 Ruby Red Lane, Longwood, was attempting to search the man when the man pulled out a .38 caliber revolver and shot him in the face.

Suspect in the shootings, Thomas Provenzano, 34, of 1510 Miller Ave., Winter Park is in fair condition at the Orlando Regional Medical Center, according to a hospital spokesman who declined specific information about the accused assailant's wound on advice of the Orlando Police.

The other man wounded, Mark Linsey Parker, 19, shot in the neck and spine, is in serious but stable condition. Dalton is at Florida Hospital and Parker is at Humana Hospital Lucerne, both in Orlando, said Joyce Drazen, public information officer for the Orange County Sheriff's Department. Parker, a corrections officer, is partially paralyzed, Ms. Drazen said.

According to Lt. Thomas Hurlbert, assistant to the chief of police, Orlando, the agency investigating the incident, Provenzano wearing combat fatigues and a red scarf entered the fourth floor courtroom of Judge Lee C. Conser at about 10:20 a.m. to be heard on misdemeanor charges of resisting arrest and disorderly conduct. He had been asked earlier to leave the courtroom when he had a large knapsack with him and when he returned, about 20 minutes later, he didn't have the knapsack.

When the judge asked the bailiff to search Provenzano, who was acting nervous, Provenzano opened fire at Dalton, shooting him in the face, Hurlbert said.

Early police reports that Provenzano grabbed the bailiff's gun were not accurate, Hurlbert said, adding that the bailiff had locked away his gun earlier in the morning when he was moving prisoners and had not re-armed.

Parker, who was in the court room, tried to disarm Provenzano and was shot when he ran down the hallway.

A second bailiff, William Arnold Wilkerson, 61, of Pine Hills, who stepped into the hallway to investigate the shots was killed by a shotgun blast at close range. He was dead at the scene, Hurlbert said.

According to Hurlbert, Alex Jacobs, 48, of Winter Springs, a bailiff, shot Provenzano and stopped the shooting spree after bailiff Kenneth E. Kinzler Jr., 28, Orlando, told Jacobs of Provenzano's location. Jacobs, behind Provenzano on the other side of a window, shot him in the side.

Provenzano was charged Tuesday night with first-degree murder and two counts of attempted first-degree murder.

Landlady Felt Sad, But Had No Fears

While the landlady of the man accused of killing one bailiff and critically wounding two other men in a shoot-out at the Orange County Courthouse Tuesday described the suspect as quiet and neat, Seminole County Courthouse personnel said he was a frequent visitor and a pest.

"I knew he had a problem of some kind. I prayed to the Lord to help," said Thomas Provenzano's landlady of 1 1/2 years, Sada Wales, 1510 Miller Ave., Winter Park.

Provenzano reportedly is an electrician.

He had no visitors — kept his room in her home very neat — and returned presents when they were offered, she said.

At Christmas, when she left a gift package of food by his room, it was silently returned to her door two days later unopened.

"I felt very sad about that but there was nothing I could do," Ms. Wales said.

That was also about the time he began to wear military fatigues and a red scarf, all the time, since the holidays, she said.

She discussed his behavior and the change of clothing with family members, a son and a cousin. They thought he may have joined some kind of military organization, she said.

"The fellow never gave me any trouble. I was never afraid of him," she said.

Tuesday, the quiet, rule-abiding tenant became the accused killer of an Orange County bailiff slain in a shoot-out in an Orange County courtroom that also gravely wounded two other court officers.

Provenzano, 34, who was Ms.

Wales' only boarder, told her he was a student at the University of Central Florida, studying law.

"He had law books in his room," she said.

UCF has no law program and the registrar's office said they have no record of him being a student there, but Provenzano evidently had some type of interest in law. According to several clerks in the criminal records office of the Seminole County Courthouse, Provenzano was a frequent visitor during the celebrated 1983 McDougall-Asaaid child-torture-murder trial, checking files in the case and copying many documents.

According to the clerks, Provenzano's demeanor caused some security concerns. He was, the clerks said, demanding, boisterous and rude.

Seminole Courthouse System 'Secure'

The shoot-out at the Orange County Courthouse has brought no immediate change in security procedures at the Seminole County Courthouse.

"We will make no drastic changes because of this," sheriff's spokesman John Spolski said. "Anytime something like this happens it makes you look at your own system for possible improvements, but we feel we have a secure system."

"In addition to the unarmed bailiffs, who are there to assist the judges and to keep order, we have a sworn and armed sheriff's deputy assigned to each of the three courtrooms."

Seminole County doesn't routinely search persons entering the courtrooms, but Spolski said that in some specific cases judges have requested such searches and anyone who aroused suspicion would be searched.

The suspect in the Orange County Courthouse shooting, which occurred at about 10:15 a.m. Tuesday, Thomas Provenzano, 34, of Winter Park, had made several appearances in Seminole County courtrooms.

"He apparently made frequent appearances in both Seminole and Orange County courtrooms," Spolski said. "That only means that he was there. Like many other people."

Summer Institute Pay At Issue

School Board-SEA At Impasse

Negotiations between the Seminole County School Board representative and the Seminole Education Association teachers' union have broken down over pay for teachers enrolled in the summer institute program. A state mediator has been called for.

Ernest Cowley, school board negotiator, said today the institute to give teachers rigorous training in math and science is required under the education bills passed by the Legislature in 1983.

A federal mediator was unable to settle the differences between the two after a three hour meeting with both sides earlier this week and impasse was called by the SEA.

The state's Public Employees Relations Commission (PERC) will be providing a special master to mediate the differences.

Some 146 teachers are to be involved in the training institute this coming summer, earning credits for in-service training as well as credit in the subjects of math and science, Cowley said. The union is insisting that the teachers receive their regular hourly rate of about $9.45 per hour for a beginning teacher to $17.81 per hour for those teachers with 15 years or more experience.

In addition to the summer institute, a summer camp for students to provide enrichment for those students is part of the negotiations process.

Cowley said $227,615 has been set aside to operate the institute and camp.

The area of major discord, he said, is the salary teachers will receive who are involved in the programs as well as the selection of those teachers and teacher instructors.

Of the teacher instructors for the summer camp for 120 students, Cowley said the union is proposing that they be paid double their regular hourly rate.

The other area of contention is who will select those teachers involved in the programs, Cowley said.

Cowley said the School Board has compromised to allow the systems' Technical Education Center to choose the 146 teachers participating in the in-service training, but the school administration is insisting on naming the teachers to teach the students in summer camp.

Under state law, PERC provides a special master when an impasse in negotiations is reached. The special master holds a hearing with both parties presenting their proposals and rationale. The special master then prepares a written recommendation that is not binding.

The negotiator for the School Board and SEA then meets again and accepts or rejects the recommendation with the remaining items in contention presented to the School Board at a public hearing. The School Board decides the issue, Cowley said.

Joswick To Lead '84 United Way Effort

Dave Joswick, of NCR, was named chairman of the 1984 United Way Campaign at the annual meeting of the United Way of Seminole County held Tuesday at Jim's Restaurant in Casselberry.

Joswick is a veteran campaigner having served as campaign chairman in 1980 and United Way of Seminole president in 1981, as well as being on the board and working as a volunteer during recent fund drives.

He said he plans to use UW agencies and their resources and will also rely on the advice and guidance of Sheila Brown, a former campaign chairman and president.

A president for UW of Seminole has not yet been elected, but the board is expected to do so at its next meeting to be held some time in February.

Plaques were presented by President Emeritus George Touhy to 1983 president Larry Strickler, 1983 Campaign Chairman Sharyn Dickerson and Deputy Chairman Lou Whitney, and Bob Dahn, a past campaign chairman and president.

Speaker at the luncheon was Joe Weckerle, executive director of the United Way of Orange County, who was presented with a check for $1,825.80 donated by Gooding's employees living in Orange County. Seminole United Way Executive Director Bob Walko said usually the situation is reversed with the Orange County United Way collecting for Seminole residents who work in Orange.

Bullet Hits Classroom Ceiling After Deputy's Gun Discharges

A Seminole County sheriff's deputy, who accidentally discharged a pistol at Lake Howell High School, sending a bullet into the ceiling of an occupied classroom, has been suspended from duty with pay pending the outcome of an investigation.

Sheriff's Capt. Jay Leman said investigator Jason Pauska, 30, who has been a sheriff's deputy for six years, was in the process of loading and unloading a new 9mm pistol, which he was showing to school resource officer Deputy Paul Schuck, when the pistol fired. The bullet ended up in the ceiling of the classroom next door to the office where the two officers were.

No one was injured in the shooting, which occurred at about 1 p.m. Tuesday. Leman arrived on the scene at 1:30 p.m. to begin a sheriff's department investigation into the incident.

Sheriff's spokesman John Spolski said deputies are permitted to carry their firearms at all times, as a precaution in case circumstances arise in which they need a weapon. But it is a violation of department policy to unholster a firearm in a situation where it is not warranted. Spolski said Tuesday's incident appears to be a situation where the pistol should not have been unholstered and depending on the outcome of a full investigation, Pauska may be fired.

Pauska was at the school to conduct an investigation, Spolski said, but the shooting was in no way connected with that investigation. The pistol that was fired was Pauska's personal firearm, which had recently been purchased, according to Spolski.

About nine months ago, Sheriff's Sgt. Jerry Riggins was reprimanded after a weapon used by SWAT teams that he was demonstrating to a class at Tusawilla Middle School discharged. When Riggins placed the bolt of the rifle back in position it accidentally went off. Because of his outstanding record prior to the incident, Riggins was only reprimanded, Spolski said.

NATION IN BRIEF

Woman Denied Damages For Rape While In Army

SEATTLE (UPI) — A former enlisted woman who was told by the Army that her rape and beating in a barracks was "incident" to military service and did not entitle her to $80,000 in damages says she will fight the ruling all the way to the Supreme Court.

"There's no job I've heard of where rape is incident to any type of working conditions," said Betty Ann Buckmiller, 26, now a telephone saleswoman.

Ms. Buckmiller was attacked by two male soldiers on Nov. 21, 1982 while she was confined in an unguarded two-story barracks at Fort Ord, south of San Francisco, for being absent without leave.

Ms. Buckmiller filed a claim for $80,000 in damages for humiliation, a back injury, cut hands, bruises, a broken nose, a chipped tooth and other injuries.

The Army rejected her claim.

Molested Child Back Home

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (UPI) — A 12-year-old girl whose refusal to testify freed her stepfather of child molesting charges has been released to the custody of her mother who says she's proud her daughter would not talk in court.

The girl, who earlier spent nine days in solitary confinement at a juvenile detention center for contempt of court, was reunited with her mother Tuesday under a court hearing banning the stepfather from any contact with the youngster.

Juvenile Court Judge Richard Harris specified at a closed hearing that the girl's stepfather, a physician, should have no contact with the child, known only as Amy because she is a minor. The stepfather has not lived with the family since last summer.

Harris, who said he would review the custody decision June 14, also ordered the mother, the stepfather and the girl to seek counseling.

Heart Implant OK'd

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Selection of the next patient to receive an artificial heart could begin within two months under new rules approved by the University of Utah that will allow the candidate to be healthier than Dr. Barney Clark.

Dr. William DeVries, head of the implant team, has been seeking approval of new patient selection rules since Clark died last March. The surgeon wants a healthier second patient — not one in the final stages of heart failure.

Clark, a retired Dea Moines, Wash. dentist, died March 23, 1983, 112 days after becoming the world's first permanent artificial heart recipient.

Oviedo Couple Jailed In Marijuana Sales

An Oviedo couple arrested by Seminole County drug task force agents for allegedly selling marijuana from their home are being held in the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

After receiving a tip that illegal drugs were being sold from a house at 180 Division St., Oviedo, agents said they went to the house on Dec. 27 and made contact with a man who reportedly sold them a small bag of marijuana for $10.

The agents returned to the house on Dec. 30 and Jan. 6 and purchased two additional $10 bags of marijuana on those dates. They reported that a woman, who also lives at that house, was present during the Dec. 30 drug sale.

Tuesday morning, the agents returned to the house with a warrant, searched the premises and found about 200 marijuana cigarettes and six bags of marijuana which had been packaged for sale, a sheriff's report said.

Carlos Teal, 27, of 180 Division St., is scheduled to appear in court on Jan. 27 to face three counts of sale of a controlled substance.

Violet Rose Jefferson, 21, of the same address, is charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to sell and possession of drug paraphernalia. She is scheduled to appear in court at 1:30 p.m. today.

An Altamonte Springs woman unintentionally left a bank bag full of money in a Sanford steak house only to return a half hour later to find it missing.

Roberta L. Ehrhart, 43, of 117 W. Hillcrest Ave., told police that between 12:30 and 1 p.m. Tuesday, someone took a Barnett Bank bag with $1,800 in it from the seat she was sitting in while at the Western Sizzlin Steak House, 2900 U.S. Highway 17-92.

Ms. Ehrhart said when she realized she left the bag at the restaurant, she returned but could not find it. Steak house employees told her no one had turned in the bag, according to a police report.

STEREO STOLEN

A stereo valued at $400 was taken from the car of Aulin Glen Long, 21, of Lake Mary, while it was parked at the indoor soccer field on State Road 419 around 5 p.m. Thursday, a Seminole County sheriff's report said.

THEFT ARREST

An Altamonte Springs man faces a charge of dealing in stolen property for allegedly selling a .45-caliber handgun that was taken in a break-in at 444 E. Ridgewood St., Altamonte Springs, about two months ago.

Seminole County sheriff's deputies reported that they arrested the suspect Monday at 1:21 p.m. at his home after receiving a tip from a juvenile.

Kurtis Don Lincoln, 21, of Creekwood Apartments #838-B, is being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $8,000 bond.

GRAND THEFT ARREST

An Orlando man who is charged with grand theft in a case where $900 worth of furniture was taken from a storage building at 1030 Mellon Road, Longwood, in November, is being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

DRUG POSSESSION

A Daytona Beach man arrested on charges of possession of a controlled substance has been released from the Seminole County jail without posting bond.

A Sanford police officer reported that the suspect was arrested in the parking lot of the 7-11 convenience store on U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, at 8:37 p.m. Friday.

The officer reported that he found a syringe filled with yellow liquid, two metal spoons, and some yellow powder in the suspects car. The officer also said he found a green capsule in the seat of the car used to transport the suspect to jail, a report said.

Steven Lyle Brinkoette, 31, of 186 Broadway, Daytona Beach is scheduled to appear in court on Jan. 27.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Richard Stephen Sandkalla, 21, of 3807 Cypress Ave.,

Sanford, was arrested at 1:07 a.m. Saturday after his car was seen making an improper turn at South Sanford Avenue and Airport Boulevard. Sandkalla was arrested for driving under the influence and for possession of marijuana.

—Scott David Smith, 22, of 2541 Ridgewood Ave., Sanford, was arrested Tuesday on State Road 419 and Academy Drive, Oviedo, after his car failed to maintain a single lane.

What Will Happen To Assaid Baby?

The fate of convicted child killer Susan Barrett Assaid's baby boy is scheduled to be decided in a Seminole County courtroom Thursday or Friday in a two-day custody hearing scheduled before Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Leffler.

Mrs. Assaid, who is serving a 15-year prison sentence for manslaughter in the Sept. 1982 death of her 5-year-old daughter, Ursula Sunshine Assaid, gave birth May 30.

Mrs. Assaid, 30, pleaded guilty to the manslaughter charge March 25.

The body of her daughter, who was beaten and tortured to death, was recovered from an Altamonte Springs pond in December 1982 after Mrs. Assaid told police in Riverside, Calif., where she had moved, of the incident. She was sentenced June 18.

Donald Glenn McDougall, 27, Mrs. Assaid's boyfriend who was charged with first-degree murder in the girl's death, was convicted of second-degree murder and aggravated child abuse by a St. Petersburg jury in October and sentenced to 34 years in prison on Nov. 4.

Seminole Circuit Court Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. gave temporary custody of the child to the state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services (HRS) in June. The child is in a foster home in Seminole County.

HRS has asked for permanent custody of the baby so it can be put up for adoption, according to HRS attorney Don Lykkebak.

If the baby is adopted, Mrs. Assaid could have no further contact with it, Lykkebak said.

Mrs. Assaid and her attorney are trying to block permanent adoption of the infant. Instead, they want some arrangement to be established whereby she would be able to visit the child on a permanent basis when she is eventually released from prison.

Lykkebak said HRS wants the baby to be adopted by a family that does not know the child's identity. He said the agency does not want the child or the adoptive parents to ever know of the child's background.

John Anderson Busy Trying To Establish 'Unity Party'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Anderson, the former Republican congressman who is likely to run for president again this year, is spending the early weeks of 1984 struggling to get his new National Unity Party on the ballot in 50 states.

As an independent, Anderson got 7 percent of the presidential vote in 1980.

He said Tuesday he is not now a candidate in the 1984 race, but would likely accept if nominated by the convention of his fledgling third party effort.

No matter how long a shot Anderson is, there is reason to make the run. If the new party gets on the ballot in just 10 states, it would be eligible for $5.8 million in federal funds, based on Anderson's 1980 showing. The election law provides such funds for candidates who get more than 5 percent of the vote.

Anderson said he led the effort to form the new party because he thinks the two-party system in America has failed.

"We don't believe the two parties are giving the people the options — the range of alternatives on the major questions that face us today," he told a breakfast meeting of wire service reporters.

As an example, he said both the Republican and Democratic parties are committed to increased defense spending — they only differ in the amount of the increase.

He said neither party was willing to tackle the problem of deficits in 1983. Now, Anderson said, the

John Anderson

...may run again for president in '84

current thinking is to create a bipartisan commission to find a solution, which he called an "abrogation of responsibility."

Anderson favors reducing deficits by cutting defense spending, closing tax loopholes, which he said could recover up to $315 billion a year, and a $10-a-barrel tax on imported oil.

Anderson says the nation is ready for another political party and pointed to a Lou Harris poll in November in which 43 percent answered "yes" when asked if they believed there was need for a new party.

"I'm not going to sit here and predict a new party will win in 1984," he said. "But given the swiftness with which political tides shift it is not impossible."

"What we can do is establish a base that will make us a viable institution for 1988 and beyond," he said.

Right now Anderson is battling the complex laws in 50 states to get his party on the primary ballot. He had to register 80,000 National Unity voters in California by Jan. 4 and won't know if his effort succeeded there until the secretary of state certifies the results by Jan. 25.

"It's an enormously difficult job to get that many people registered," he said. "Should we not qualify ... we could challenge the constitutionality of a law that puts such a barrier in getting on the ballot."

In Maine, all Anderson had to do to get on the ballot was to file a letter of intent with the secretary of state and he was automatically eligible because he got better than 5 percent last time.

Anderson talks like a candidate, but insists he is not.

"The most important thing for me to do was to lead the effort to get the party established ... rather than throwing my hat in the ring," he said. "People can logically assume the convention would turn to me and it would be most unlikely I would decline."

The party will pick a convention site late in February.

Play The Good Nutrition Video Game

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — Children may find nutrition more interesting if they can learn about good eating habits through video games. Dr. Robert Sparks, president of the W.K. Kellogg's Foundation, suggests.

"Since the kids already love them, video games and classroom computers could be the best way to capture their attention and teach them that good nutrition can keep them healthier," Sparks said.

Sparks said it is ironic that children today are more literate about computers and reading, writing and arithmetic than they are about the food they put into their bodies every day.

"In most schools, nutrition is scattered in bits and pieces instead of being offered as a course, and much of what is offered is out of date and boring. You start showing the basic food group charts and the kids' eyes just glaze over," he said.

"If you offer them the latest nutritional information in the form of a computer game or on a TV, they would love it."

Children find it difficult to apply the information imparted during abstract lectures to their own lives, so they grow up to be adults who are illiterate about what good nutrition is, Sparks said.

"Today, Americans tend to eat randomly, rather than eat three balanced meals a day. And we think of the refrigerator as the modern-day recreation center. We get bored, so we wander into the kitchen and entertain ourselves by seeing what we can eat and most of what we find there is food high in fats and sweets."

Another way Sparks said children might get more out of nutrition instruction is by teaching them to plant and harvest their own food.

"It is important that people realize that what they eat does have an effect on their health and the best people to teach that to are growing kids," he said.

Orwell And Solzhenitsyn

For a generation, American high school and college students have studied George Orwell's 1948 novel, "1984," as required reading. Humorous and sad, this anti-utopia would be almost unreadable, were it not for two facts.

—It reinforces the individualism and anti-government bias which is deep in the American grain.

—It gives us an opportunity to congratulate ourselves for not having fallen into the totalitarian trap like the Russians and the Chinese.

At the beginning of the year 1984, we can view Orwell's prospectus in a new light.

Written by a dying man in the last years of a dying empire, it was the vision of a failed socialist who saw his ideals betrayed by the Bolsheviks and the Nazis. The purges of Stalin, the death camps of Hitler, the atomic destruction of Hiroshima and Nagasaki made the optimism of the 19th century seem naive. The evil in human nature could not be ignored. The idea of progress was in question.

But in the years since the publication of "1984," the capitalist countries of the West have not succumbed to Orwell's pessimism. Except perhaps for his own United Kingdom, these countries are stronger, freer and more prosperous now than they have ever been. Socialist tendencies, far from having triumphed, have become weaker.

The grayness and tackiness Orwell describes as omnipresent ("In all the useful arts, the world is either standing still or going backward") are nowhere to be seen (not even in England), except in the socialist countries behind the Iron curtain and in China. Even in those unenlightened regions, living conditions are improving, ever so slowly, and the cult of the personality (Big Brotherism) is discreetly being downplayed.

The myth of "1984" is pernicious if it refuses to give up its grip on our minds and continues to enthrall the young long after it has become irrelevant.

By diverting us and directing our anger at abuses in an imaginary society which in no way resembles our own, the book "1984" may now be serving the same purpose as "Emmanuel Goldstein," the enemy created by the Orwellian society as a straw man to be the object of public "hate" sessions.

The crucial danger in our country today is not authoritarianism or totalitarianism, but the weakness and anarchy of a too-individualistic "me generation," which refuses to acknowledge its public debts, its duties and its responsibilities.

The classic view of the present danger comes from a man who stands between two worlds, Alexander Solzhenitsyn, the Nobel Prize-winning Russian novelist who has emigrated from the Soviet Union and lives in New Hampshire.

He sees the Western world as in danger of losing its civic courage, particularly "among the ruling and intellectual elites." He sees the abundance of material goods, the constant pursuit of pleasure, the high degree of habitual well-being and personal independence as weakening devotion to the common good. Our society has become legalistic and antagonistic. Entitlements are sought, rights are claimed, self-discipline is abandoned. Governments are hobbled under the guise of democratic checks and balances. "It is time, in the West, to defend not so much human rights as human obligations."

Solzhenitsyn is no stranger to the evils of socialist totalitarianism. But he stands in a unique position to view the weaknesses of democratic capitalism. He hasn't written a novel critical of the West, but he has spoken out, notably at the 1978 commencement exercises at Harvard University. Like Orwell, he is pessimistic. It is not necessary to buy all of his ideas to accept the fact that his criticism of our culture is close to the bone. What Solzhenitsyn calls "the tilt of freedom toward evil" deserves greater attention in our schools and colleges.

BERRY'S WORLD

"WOW! What a COMMUNICATOR! I even think our deficit situation is TERRIFIC now..."

By Tom Giordano

Seminole Community College's student enrollment for the last school year hit 6,583, according to Jim Talmadge, coordinator of reports.

And the average annual cost to in-state students was $500 for tuition and fees ($1,004 for out-of-state students). The $500 doesn't include the cost of books and other materials, but Talmadge said comparatively speaking, that's a bargain.

And he's right. If you live in California, a two-year public college can cost as little as $1, but a private two-year college could cost as much as $4,500 each year.

Last fall, more than four million students enrolled in two-year colleges, both public and private, and that figure is increasing. Many are finding the curriculum and the cost of a two-year college the answer to their education needs.

If you're interested in knowing more about SCC student enrollment, whether you live in Florida or want to know for a relative who lives out of state, give Talmadge a call. He'll answer all your questions.

If you're interested in a junior college elsewhere, to help you evaluate the cost, the National Center for Education Statistics has gathered information on tuition, room, and board for in-state and out-of-state students across the country. Previously, this information was only available for four-year institutions at the undergraduate and graduate levels; but now you can compare two-year college costs, too. Although both these reports use figures for 1982-83, they are helpful in comparing costs for the coming year. For your copy of College Costs for Two-Year Institutions (Item 249L) and College Costs for Four-Year Institutions (Item 122L), write the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 79, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. Two-year and four-year editions are $2.50 each. Be sure to indicate the item number for the edition you are ordering.

There are other factors besides cost which should be considered before choosing a college.

There are choices about the curriculum, the size and make-up of the student body, whether to go to a state or private school, and whether to go away or commute to a local college. Most community colleges offer specialized courses of study, such as dental technician training, which provide an opportunity that many students prefer to a liberal arts curriculum. But, since two-year colleges generally cost less, many students go to them first, then move on to major universities, having saved themselves a lot of money on the way.

To learn more about federal student assistance, you can send for a copy of Five Federal Financial Aid Programs (Item 518L). This free Department of Education publication offers useful hints about filling out forms, meeting deadlines, and deciding on the types of programs which might suit your needs. For your copy, send a postcard number to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 79, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Finally, when the choice is narrowed to a few schools, visit the college campuses. There is no substitute for a first-hand appraisal, and many schools offer visits of several days to find out what the actual program and students are like.

When you send for your copy of College Costs ($2.50 for either the two-or four-year booklet), and Five Federal Financial Aid Programs (free), you will also receive a free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog listing more than 200 free and moderately priced booklets on a wide variety of consumer topics. The Catalog is published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the U.S. General Services Administration.

Senate Races Shaping

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Political giants used to roam the corridors of the U.S. Senate, and politics ebbed and swirled around men like Lyndon Johnson, Everett Dirksen, Hubert Humphrey, J. William Fulbright, John Sparkman, Richard Russell, Russell Long, James Eastland and John Stennis.

In recent years, however, being a U.S. senator has become more and more of a chore. The power has shifted across the Hill to the House and down Pennsylvania Avenue to the executive branch. Being a senator now means seven-day weeks of 18-hour workdays, with little of the old glamour or prestige — or even a feeling that an individual senator can do much to shape the nation's future.

As a result, some of the best and brightest — such as Howard Baker and John Tower — have opted out and chosen to retire while still in their political prime. Another result is that many top-flight men and women — who, in previous years, would have done anything for a chance at a Senate run — are declining to make the race, preferring to retain their leadership posts in their home states or the House or to remain in private life.

Both parties have been affected by this phenomenon: In state after state, those judged to be the best potential challengers to incumbents have declined to run.

For the Democrats, regaining control of the Senate carries a priority only slightly lower than that of capturing the presidency. The GOP holds a 55-45 margin, following the special-election victory of Dan Evans in Washington to succeed the late Henry Jackson. Therefore, to accomplish their goal, the Democrats must gain six Senate seats.

Thirty-three Senate seats will be contested this November, of which 19 are now held by the GOP and 14 by Democrats. Now that the November contests are set in most states, the experts say that 19 of the 33 are really not worth worrying about. In many cases, these races are situations in which the strongest available challenger has decided to pass up the contest. The parties now controlling these seats will retain control unless something extraordinary happens — a major blunder by the incumbent, the sudden entry of a very strong challenger or a landslide victory by either presidential contender. Any other result would be a major upset.

Included in this group are 11 of the 14 Democratic seats and eight of the 19 GOP seats. The "safe" Democrats include Sens. Paul Tsongas of Massachusetts, Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island, Bill Bradley of New Jersey, David Pryor of Arkansas, Joseph Biden of Delaware, Howell Heflin of Alabama, Sam Nunn of Georgia, James Exon of Nebraska, Bennett Johnston of Louisiana and David Boren of Oklahoma.

Thayer's Record Haunts Reagan

WASHINGTON — Deputy Defense Secretary Paul Thayer's abrupt resignation in the face of a securities investigation was an embarrassment President Reagan might have avoided if he had only checked the man's record.

Thayer is charged with providing illegal "insider" information about securities while director of LTV Corp. of Dallas. He maintains he is completely innocent. He may well be.

But court records and Securities and Exchange Commission files examined by my associate Jock Hatfield show that LTV under Thayer's management was repeatedly charged with fraud, mismanagement, deception and securities law violations after he became the company's executive director in 1970.

Members of the Senate Armed Services Committee never learned about all the skeletons in Thayer's corporate closet because the White House never

JULIAN BOND

Going Against Odds

A squib in a recent edition of The New York Times reported that you can get odds of 1 to 4 that Walter Mondale will win the Democratic nomination for president. And 20 to 1 that the Rev. Jesse Jackson will not.

But you have to be in England and you have to place your bet with Ladbrooke's, described as one of London's biggest bookmakers.

If you're there and are inclined to risk your money on a contest 11 months away, you can also bet at 1 to 4 odds that Ronald Reagan will be re-elected.

The Democrats won't know who their nominee will be until mid-March at the earliest. That's when the Southern states — Mississippi, Georgia, Florida, Virginia, South Carolina and the District of Columbia — have their caucuses and primaries, interspersed with similar contests in Massachusetts, Illinois and New York.

By most accounts, the majority of Americans do not agree with the basic philosophy of the Reagan administration. That opinion is shared by Democrats, who badly want to see Reagan defeated and his domestic and foreign policies reversed.

If women, blacks and Hispanics — who have been offended by the administration's civil rights policies — were to vote in concert for the Democratic nominee, he would surely win.

A pessimist might argue that such a female-minority coalition of Reagan voters is unlikely. Neither blacks nor Hispanics are monolithically opposed to Reagan, and neither of these groups is registered in any percentage approaching that of Reagan's strongest support groups: middle and upper income whites.

But any — or all — of these groups might register in larger numbers between now and election day — as black Americans did in Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago last year.

If blacks can register without the hope of a black nominee, if other minorities and women can increase their numbers as well, the slim victory that Reagan aides coyly predict could disappear.

For black Americans, this seemingly awesome task can be accomplished only through hard work. The traditional groups who carry on black registration efforts — the NAACP and local community organizations — must be strengthened through an influx of volunteers and financial support.

An increase in Hispanic voting alone will not decrease the odds against the Democratic nominee. A recent Gallup poll found that fewer Hispanics (42 percent) than blacks (75 percent) rejected Reagan programs. And as with unregistered blacks, those Hispanics who are not voters are the very ones most likely to vote against Reagan.

The uncertainties of unseating a popular incumbent are matched in England and the United States by the "certainty" that Mondale will win his party's nomination. But his march toward San Francisco and a peaceful first ballot nomination could still be upset.

If Jesse Jackson's impressive personal diplomacy in Syria creates an interracial base for his campaign, he could draw important votes away from Mondale.

If John Glenn's campaign suddenly comes to life, he could challenge Mondale with promises and programs of his own. After all, voters want to know why a candidate's program will work, not just that the other fellow's won't.

Of course, Reagan can decide not to run again, and the ensuing Republican dogfight — between the forces of Howard Baker, George Bush and Jesse Helms — could be so bloody that the nomination would lose its value.

Isn't this where we came in, betting what will happen if something else happens? One thing is a sure bet: If you want to break a British bookie's heart, make sure you and everyone you know is registered to vote in November.

ROBERT WALTERS

Two Kinds Of Courage

WASHINGTON (NEA) — What do the University of Nebraska football team and Democratic presidential contender Jesse L. Jackson have in common?

On the second day of the new year, both rejected the conventional, safe course of action and voluntarily entered into extraordinarily risky ventures. Both were aware that their success or failure would be highly publicized and thus would affect their public standing in the future.

Nebraska lost and Jackson won, but both subsequently have been praised for their bold, courageous action — and therein lies a message for the faint-hearted participants in sports, politics and most other forms of human endeavor.

"It is courage the world needs, not infallibility," British physician and missionary Sir Wilfred T. Grenfell observed many decades ago. "Courage is always the surest wisdom."

Nebraska's football team displayed that attribute when, in the closing seconds of the Orange Bowl, it scored a touchdown to come within one point of the University of Miami. The Cornhuskers then had two choices:

— A kick was virtually certain to succeed and would have given them the one point needed to tie the game. That tie, in turn, would have made Nebraska the nation's only major undefeated college football team and almost surely would have led to its post-season ranking as the best team in the country.

— A pass or run posed a far greater risk but would have produced two points, making Nebraska the victor in the game. Most importantly, a successful two-point play would have enabled Nebraska to claim first-place honors with pride.

To its credit, Nebraska rejected the cheap and easy alternative of kicking and instead attempted to pass. That play failed, the Cornhuskers lost the game by one point and ended the season ranked as merely the country's second best college football team — but there was no real alternative for a great team which values its honor and integrity.

While Nebraska was making that difficult but correct choice, Jackson was in Damascus pleading with Syrian President Hafez Assad to release Navy Lt. Robert O. Goodman, Jr.

Jackson's success in that high-risk mission makes him the first politician in anybody's memory to actually do something — as opposed to talking about everything — while campaigning for the presidency.

Like other presidential contenders — Republican and Democratic — Jackson could have chosen instead to relax during the Christmas-New Year holiday while preparing for the rigorous campaign in the months to come.

the over-priced stock filed a class-action suit and won a settlement of $7.75 million. An SEC investigation concluded that LTV management had failed to enforce "the standards of ethics that a properly managed company should maintain in its accounting practices."

— In 1978, an LTV subsidiary was found guilty on 48 charges of conspiracy and fraud in its operation of a business school chain from 1968 to 1973. The corporation illegally collected money from the federally insured student loan program — for students who did not attend the schools.

LTV was fined $500,000, and the Justice Department is preparing a suit to recover the student loan money.

— In 1980, suits filed in Pennsylvania and in federal court accused LTV, Thayer and other directors of fraudulently depressing the value of Jones & Laughlin preferred stock, then buying it at a bargain price.

According to the complaints in the suits, Thayer and other directors lowered the steel company's stock price by $20 a share, through a complicated scheme involving transfer of funds from partly owned to wholly owned subsidiaries.

The suits also accuse LTV's directors of illegally voting a large block of preferred shares to take over the company, in violation of federal securities law. The state case is still pending and the federal case was dismissed on the grounds that it was a state matter.

Footnote: The Senate might have approved Thayer's nomination even if it had learned of his past legal troubles. "But we would certainly have looked closely at any incidents which might have reflected on Paul Thayer's suitability for office," an Armed Services Committee spokesman said.

FLORIDA

IN BRIEF

5 Missing In Chopper Crash May Still Be Alive

MIAMI (UPI) — Coast Guard rescue officers say all five missing members of a U.S.-Bahamian anti-drug smuggling squad were wearing life preservers when their helicopter ditched at sea and could still be alive.

Coast Guard, Navy and Air Force vessels searched a 1,500-square-mile area Tuesday, but found no sign of the five men, missing since the helicopter ditched about 10 miles north of the island capital of Nassau late Monday.

Four others aboard the craft were rescued within four hours after it went down.

Coast Guard Petty officer David Kayfuss said rescue squads reported calm seas in the search area Tuesday and that the search would continue at least through today.

Air Florida Escapes Default

MIAMI (UPI) — Air Florida's principal lender has agreed to lift the troubled airline from default in exchange for $6.5 million in cash and 15 percent of the carrier's common stock, airline officials said.

The agreement erases $33 million from the airline's $141 million long-term debt, said Donald Lloyd-Jones, Air Florida's chairman, at a news conference Tuesday.

Lloyd-Jones said the airline also was negotiating with a "mystery investor" for over $20 million to overhaul further debts.

The chairman said the arrangement and a tentative agreement with the unidentified investor would leave the airline $60 million in debt, but he vowed it would show "a bottom-line profit" over the next three months.

Lloyd-Jones said the airline never considered declaring bankruptcy.

Army Vet Holds Off Police

MIAMI (UPI) — Neighbors said an unemployed Army veteran had been behaving strangely for weeks before he barricaded himself in his apartment and held police at bay with gunfire for 15 hours.

Anthony Myers, 26, recently discharged from the Army, surrendered to police and his mother at 1:55 p.m. Tuesday, ending a 15-hour standoff, Metro-Dade County police officer Bill Wallace said Tuesday.

One police officer was grazed in the forearm by a stray bullet, Wallace said. He was the only person injured in the confrontation.

Myers was charged with attempted first-degree murder.

Shuttle Launch On Target

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Spaceport workers prepared the shuttle Challenger for its move to the ocean-side launch pad today and NASA officials say plans are still on schedule for a Feb. 3 blastoff.

Critics Blast Hunger Panel's Proposals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan's hunger task force concludes there is hunger in America and proposes lumping federal nutrition programs into block grants, an approach harshly attacked by critics.

The task force, which met Monday to approve its report to be sent to President Reagan, said states should be given an option to receive a single federal payment and devise their own programs in lieu of food stamps, school lunches and other federal nutrition programs.

Calling the report "a transparent coverup of the serious and worsening problem of hunger in America," Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., said, "In effect, this commission says to the hungry — let them eat block grants."

The President's Task Force on Food Assistance agreed to recommend tougher sanctions against states if their errors in food stamp benefits exceed 5 percent.

It suggested the government continue emergency assistance to help private organizations run food pantries, soup kitchens and food banks for needy Americans. The panel rejected a draft report suggestion that it not recommend an extension of emergency assistance.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., a key legislative supporter of nutrition programs, said "Congress is not likely to favor" the proposal to permit $16 billion worth of nutrition programs to be converted to block grants.

Rep. Paul Simon, D-Ill., said the block grant proposals, echoes the approach the White House has brought to other poverty programs.

"This administration loves to sweep poverty programs under the rug that it calls 'block grants.' The idea is, sweep it under the rug today, and pull the plug tomorrow," Simon said.

The task force recommended a small increase in food stamps that would add 80 or 90 cents per month to an individual's benefit.

That was insufficient for the Rev. Paul Kittlaus, chairman of the Interfaith Action for Economic Justice, who said "an objective look" at hunger data should have led the task force to recommend substantial increases in government programs.

"We have not been able to substantiate allegations of rampant hunger," the task force said, noting public and private food assistance and income maintenance are available to most low-income people.

Inmate Lawsuit Solution Not Working, May Be Dead

STARKE (UPI) — An alternative plan to help alleviate the backlog of prison inmate lawsuits may be "dead," Florida prison officials say.

The pilot project — begun at Union, Sumter and Broward correctional institutions in April 1982 — depends on volunteer attorneys, who act as "fact-finders" and try to arbitrate inmate complaints before they go to court.

But the state Department of Corrections reserves the last word on whether a complaint is justified and what corrective action will be taken.

Therein lies one of the plan's failings, most often criticized by inmates and sympathetic attorneys: inmates do not feel DOC officials act impartially in disputes between inmates and correctional officers.

Last week, members of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Corrections, meeting at the Lowell women's prison, voted 5-5 on killing the 18-month-old project, brainchild of the late civil rights attorney Toby Simon.

The tie vote kept the program alive, at least temporarily, pending an evaluation by the DOC.

"I see a great value (in it)," Attorney General Jim Smith said of the project. "There's been a chronic problem with inmates saying they don't know about it."

In fact, relatively few inmates are aware of the existence of the grievance procedure and fewer still take advantage of it.

DOC Secretary Louie L. Wainwright said a study by the National Institute of Corrections shows it does not work. The study notes some prison staffers "will always" view the project "as an annoyance at best."

Later this month, the program faces another challenge to its survival when the Florida Bar's Committee on Corrections decides whether to continue it.

"I suspect it's dead. But we maybe are saying an obituary too soon. I don't know," said Bar committee member Richard Betz, director of the Gainesville-based Florida Institutional Legal Services.

Prisons Inspector Dave Brierton said another problem with the project is the fact-finders' unfamiliarity with prisons.

For example, an attorney heard the complaint of an inmate who wanted to keep articles touting white supremacy in his prison dormitory.

While an inmate may have that right by law, such literature is volatile in the state's integrated prisons, Brierton said.

More Abortion Clinics Turn To Prenatal Care

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — Women's health clinics that traditionally have performed pregnancy terminations are compensating for a decline in abortions by offering prenatal care programs to women who keep their babies.

"We're all really excited about it," said Barbara Zeitlin, director of the Women's Awareness Clinic. "Offering the (prenatal) program is great for the staff — seeing the other side of it. It's the other choice. I think it's good for us to be dealing with it all."

When demand for pregnancy terminations began to drop off, clinic officials began looking for ways to expand their services further.

"Business was dropping off because private doctors are doing (abortions) in their private offices much more than they used to," Ms. Zeitlin said. "We only do abortions two days a week."

Prenatal examinations are performed by a physician who makes the deliveries at a nearby hospital. For $750, an expectant mother gets prenatal care, delivery and a post-delivery examination. The cost is about half that charged by private obstetricians in the area.

The care includes monthly visits with a doctor up to the eighth month of pregnancy and weekly visits during the final month. Women considered high health risks will be referred to the health department or another physician, she said.

Other clinics are considering similar services, said Joyce Tarnow of Women's Clinic in nearby Oakland Park.

The children of Sanford

The children of Sanford are the City's future leaders, and Barnett Bank wants to keep them safe.

One year ago, Barnett Bank first opened its doors to the city of Sanford and our office has been growing ever since. Total deposits are now over $3 million and in the past 6 months commercial business has increased over 770%. Yet we never would have been able to develop so quickly without the help of the community's residents and businesses. Your support has been greatly appreciated. We would like to express our thanks for this warm reception by offering a means to help protect our city's future leaders.

We recognize that today's children will be Sanford's future leaders. Barnett wants to help protect these valuable young citizens by providing them with a safe place to play. For every new account opened at our Sanford Office during the month of January, Barnett Bank will donate $10 towards the purchase of new playground equipment for the Clifford W. McKibbin Jr. Memorial Park.

If you would like to help provide the children of Sanford with a safe place to play, open an account at our Sanford office today, and we'll donate $10 towards protecting our future leaders... It's our way of saying Thank-you Sanford, and to ensure that the city will continue to prosper.

Kissinger Panel's Report Due Out Today

WORLD IN BRIEF

Marines Not Involved In Renewed Fighting

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Heavy fighting between the Lebanese army and Moslem militiamen erupted today in and around Beirut just hours after Syrian-backed rebels blocked a plan to separate the nation's warring factions, state-run Beirut radio said.

The army battled Shiite Moslems with heavy weapons in the southern suburbs around the U.S. Marine base at the Beirut airport but the American peacekeepers were not involved, a Marine spokesman said.

Lebanese officials had hoped to announce the new security plan Friday, leading U.S. officials to hint that the plan would allow the withdrawal of the Marines from the airport.

Druze Mosley chieftain Walid Jumblatt said he and other opponents of Lebanese President Amin Gemayel's government "agreed to the necessity of finding a comprehensive political solution" that would keep the Arab identity of Lebanon.

Jet Crash Kills 50

VIENNA, Austria (UPI) — A Bulgarian airliner carrying 50 people on a flight from East Berlin crashed in snowy weather on its final approach to Bulgaria's Sofia airport, killing all aboard, the official Bulgarian news agency said today.

The crash was the first major airline disaster reported in 1984 and the worst since two jets collided in heavy fog at Madrid's airport early last month, killing 93 people.

Bulgaria's Foreign Ministry, according to a spokesman at the U.S. Embassy in Sofia who was reached by telephone, said there were no American or British passengers on the plane.

There were unconfirmed reports in the Bulgarian capital that the Soviet-built TU-134 of Balkan Airlines was on fire before it crashed, 12 minutes before its scheduled arrival time, another diplomat said.

Congress Wary Of Aid To C. America

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kissinger commission's recommendation of a long-term aid program for Central America is finding favor among Senate Republicans, but there are indications Congress as a whole is not yet convinced.

Commission Chairman Henry Kissinger made two trips to Capitol Hill Tuesday to brief the GOP senators and the House Foreign Affairs Committee on the panels' report, due for public release this afternoon.

Kissinger stressed that the 12 commission members had reached a consensus on the main conclusions of the report. He said he expects President Reagan to "be very positive about it" despite indications the White House might object to recommendations making further aid to El Salvador conditional on progress in human rights.

The report was strongly criticized by a key Democrat — Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., assistant Senate Democratic leader and a presidential candidate. Cranston objected to continued aid to Nicaraguan rebels and more military assistance to El Salvador "that will keep the fighting going."

The senators who were briefed on the report said the panel proposes about $8 billion in aid over the next five years and identifies a need for $24 billion through 1990.

But the larger amount "would have to be met from other sources" as well as the United States, Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., said.

Sen. Pete Domenici, R-N.M., called the aid package "very realistic. ... It's not pie in the sky."

"The most enlightening part of it is that there has to be significant short-term assistance, because the long-term approach is terribly fragile," Domenici said. "These countries, principally because of their heavy indebtedness, are in very bad shape right now."

Rep. Michael Barnes, D-Md., chairman of the subcommittee on Western Hemisphere affairs, indicated changes are in store for the plan. "Congress doesn't approve much ... as proposed."

Probe Of Executive Branch Ordered

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Attorney General William French Smith was under court order for the second time to either investigate whether President Reagan broke the law in backing the CIA's covert war in Nicaragua or appoint a special prosecutor for the task.

U.S. District Judge Stanley A. Weigel Tuesday tossed out the government's arguments against his earlier order to investigate President Reagan, Secretary of State George Shultz, CIA Director William Casey, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger and other high ranking officials.

The government had argued the Neutrality Act, which specifies the United States cannot provide aid to overthrow a government with which it is not at war, does not apply to actions authorized by the president.

But for the second time, the judge said it does.

"Nothing ... justifies a refusal to investigate ... which results in preferred treatment for executive officials," Weigel said. "Indeed, a policy of preferred treatment may present the kind of 'special circumstances' in which Congress intended that the case 'should be sent to a special prosecutor.'"

The suit was filed by Rep. Ronald Dellums, D-Calif., a Nicaraguan citizen and a Florida woman who lives near paramilitary camps where Nicaraguan exiles have been trained since 1980. The federal suit against the president and the Cabinet members charged violation of the Neutrality Act.

The government did not contest the allegation that the president ordered the CIA to sponsor paramilitary activity in Nicaragua.

If convicted of violating the Neutrality Act, Reagan and the Cabinet members theoretically could be sentenced to three years in federal prison and fines of $3,000 each.

Soviets Want To Test Grain For EDB

ORLANDO (UPI) — Soviet Embassy officials are concerned the grain they import from the United States may be contaminated with EDB, and have received information from federal agriculture officials on how to detect the pesticide, it was reported today.

Soviet Embassy officials in Washington requested testing information last week after reading in newspapers that ethylene dibromide had been found in grain-based foods in the U.S.

More than 132 million metric tons of corn and wheat have been shipped to the Soviet Union since 1972.

Humane Society Probes Cases Of Suspected Animal Abuse

Volunteer investigators from the Humane Society of Seminole County responded to 37 cruelty complaints in November, traveling 1,523 miles to all areas of the county.

The following cruelty complaints were received from Sanford:

— Dogs on chains, emaciated with no shelter. The animals were impounded after surrendered by owner, who said he wasn't aware of the problem and did not have any food for the animals.

— Dog on chain, skinny, no shelter. Owner thought the dog was sick and requested veterinary attention.

— Dog tied on short rope with no water. The owner, from whom the society had previously taken three dogs that were so sick and emaciated that they had to be euthanized immediately, didn't care. Investigators will be keeping tabs on the situation.

— Dog emaciated with no shelter. Complaint was not valid.

— Dogs, extremely thin, investigators found this was an invalid complaint.

— People found abusing animals at Flea World said they weren't aware there was any law against it.

— Dogs left in hot cars at Flea World resulted in the death of a poodle and near death of a shepherd, whose owner "didn't care if the dog died in the car." A terrier was removed from a car by the owner. All were instructed on the danger of leaving pets closed up in cars in the sun.

— Cats abandoned. Complaint invalid, neighbor was feeding them.

— Horse emaciated, couldn't find the owner and the horse disappeared.

— Horses abused and neglected were surrendered by owner, who "didn't seem to care," and seen by vet.

— Dog tied to tree with no water. Complaint invalid, couldn't find dog or owner.

— Dogs wet, cold, thin, matted and badly neglected. No shelter or water and some appeared sick. Owner, who lives elsewhere couldn't be found.

Complaints investigated in Longwood:

— Dog, thin and neglected, complaint invalid.

— Dog confined in small pen in filthy conditions, but owner didn't care. Dog was moved.

— Neighbor hitting dog with rocks. Owner "didn't want to get involved" and no witness came forward.

— Large dog confined in small pen with owner who "didn't care." Dog was removed.

— Dog tied on 2 foot chain. Owner's response was "so what?" Situation was corrected.

Complaints investigated in Forest City:

— Dog chained and beaten. Owner was given education after saying domestic problems were causing the situation.

— Puppy being beaten, investigator couldn't see puppy it was in the house.

Complaints investigated in Altamonte Springs:

— Squirrels being shot at. Owner didn't want to get involved and there were no witnesses who came forward.

— Dog, thin, chained with no shelter. Owner had not noticed, but took dog to vet and got food.

— Horses, thin with cracked hooves. Owner was not home and investigator found horses okay for now, but will check back later.

— Dog chained to fence on short chain, because according to owner it jumps over the fence. Volunteer suggested hot wire on fence.

Complaints investigated in Lake Mary included:

— Dog chained, sick and emaciated, was taken to a vet by the investigator and it died the next day. Cruelty charges are being filed against the owner, who said he didn't know about the conditions as he had not looked at the dog for the past week.

— Dog chained and thin. Owner didn't care and the investigator is keeping tabs on it.

Complaints looked into in Winter Springs:

— Dog, emaciated, and appears sick, was taken to the vet, who recommended euthanizing it. The owner said she wasn't aware the dog was down and couldn't get up as she had not paid that much attention to the dog, which was bleeding from the side and back end from cancerous tumors.

— Dog chained with now water or shelter. Owner "wasn't aware" and made changes.

Complaints investigated in Maitland:

— Pigs confined in small pen. Owner said they were awaiting butchering. No action taken.

— Dogs neglected. Complaint invalid.

— Duck caught in fishing line was taken care of and released.

— Dog locked in car. Owner returned to car.

Complaints investigated in Winter Park:

— Pit bull chained with no shelter or water. Owner didn't care so dog was removed.

Two cases are pending with the State Attorney's office.

In addition there were three complaints from Orlando and one from Volusia, which were referred to those Humane Societies.

There were also 17 follow-up checks on previously investigated cases.

Early Warm-up, Stretching Help Combat Adverse Weather Conditions

I don't like cold weather. I particularly don't like a cold day with a brisk wind blowing. In fact, I came to Florida in the first place to be able to play tennis every day without having to play in the cold.

You know what? It gets cold in Florida. In fact, I believe that I have been colder playing on some occasions down here than on the days I shoveled snow off the courts in Tennessee.

My idea of a perfect day to play tennis is 90 degrees, and no wind. I feel it is so much easier to move about the court and a lot more simple to get the muscles loose and warm.

The fact remains, though, that if you love to play tennis and want to play every day, there are going to be days that are less than perfect; indeed, some days are going to be downright miserable. You have two choices on days like this. You can forget about playing or you adjust your thinking and your game and still have an enjoyable match.

The adverse situation that you are most likely to come into contact with this time of year is, of course, cold weather. I'm talking about the kind of days where the temperature never goes above 38 or 40 degrees and the breeze makes it even colder. It seems very hard on this kind of day to really get loose and into the match. The hands get so cold that you lose feel for the ball. You really have to make some adjustments on a day like this. Some of the following suggestions may help:

- It helps to arrive at the courts a little early. It is important on a day like this to get warmed-up and properly stretched. Once you get to the courts, jog for 10 minutes at a very slow pace — after the jog your muscles will be warm enough to stretch.

- Do your stretching exercises at this time. Use stretching exercise for all parts of the body, particularly the back, calves and hamstrings. You will find that when its time to start hitting you will feel warmer and loose.

- When the warm-up hitting starts take a little extra time in hitting the ball and by all means take a lot of practice serves and overheads.

- Once the match starts, play quickly, do not stand a lot of time between points or games.

A lot of people make the mistake of wearing too much clothing on cold days. Even on the coldest days a shirt, light sweater and warm-up jacket are all that is needed. Of course, warm pants and some type of headgear are necessities.

When it is very, very cold, I find that it helps a lot to wear two pairs of socks and even light gloves, such as golf gloves help a lot. Another tip that makes playing on a cold day more bearable is a nice thermos of hot chocolate or maybe even hot tea. Once the match is over, don't stand around in the wind and cold for very long — get off the court and into a hot shower.

You will also need to be mentally tough to try and forget about the wind and the cold. Don't blame the elements for the way you are playing. Remember that the weather, conditions are the same for your opponent as for you. Just concentrate and enjoy the fact that at least you're on the courts regardless of the weather.

Cold Weather Tip: If you don't have any suitable gloves to wear, you can cut out the toe of an old sock. It slides nicely over the hand and will keep your hand nicely warm.

APOPKA — Lake Mary's Jeff Reynolds doesn't look much like a rabbit's foot. The only furry part of him is his moustache.

But the 6-3 junior is definitely the Rams' lucky charm. Whenever Reynolds was on the floor Tuesday night against Apopka, Lake Mary pretty much had its way underneath the boards and with its zone press.

Fortunately for the Rams, Reynolds avoided his foul problems long enough to help Lake Mary hold off the Blue Darters for a 64-58 Five Star Conference victory at Apopka High School.

"Our press definitely runs a lot better when Reynolds is in there," said Lake Mary coach Willie Richardson. "Jeff has really been coming on since the Mainland game. That's the first game he really started hitting the boards."

Foul trouble has been the aggressive junior's major obstacle this year. Reynolds helped the Rams to early 14-6 and 18-10 leads Tuesday before drawing his second personal with 11 seconds to play in the second quarter.

In the second quarter, he stayed away from foul trouble and the Rams stayed away from Apopka, holding a 22-16 lead before Reynolds was whistled for number three. Apopka's Derrick Fencher converted the three-point play and Reynolds took a seat on the bench with 3:10 left in the half.

Fencher then converted another three-pointer to pull Apopka within 27-23 going into the third quarter.

Senior guard Billy Dunn got hot in the early going of the third quarter, hitting two free throws and a nice bank effort, but the Rams still trailed 35-34 until Reynolds returned with 2:12 to play in the third quarter.

Then things started to happen. Donald Grayson tossed in a fadeaway jumper, Fred Miller stole the ball, was fouled and converted both free tosses. Dunn swiped a pass and fed Darryl Merthle who slam-dunked it home for a 40-35 advantage.

After another steal on the press, senior Neal Wellon went over the endline for a great save and dropped the ball to Dunn who dropped in a 10-footer in the paint. Grayson then hit a rebound effort to cap Lake Mary's 10-0 blitz which put the Rams firmly in the control, 45-38, heading into the final eight minutes.

Apopka wasn't dead yet, however. The Blue Darter rallied behind Fencher and 6-1 guard Scott Hughes to pull within a bucket on three occasions. Each time, though, guard Fred Miller popped in the decisive free throws to hold off the Darters.

Miller swished 8 of 8 from the foul line to complement an excellent 20 of 26 showing by the Rams.

Merthle finished with 16 points while Miller chipped in 14 to pace Lake Mary. Dunn added 12 while Grayson and Reynolds each contributed eight. Grayson had six rebounds while Merthle and Dunn added five apiece.

Lake Mary, 6-5 and 5-3, entertains Wymore Tech Thursday night. Apopka fell to 6-8 and 3-4.

LAKE MARY (64): Merthle 16, Miller 14, Dunn 12, Grayson 8, Reynolds 8, Wellon 4, Gray 2. Totals 28 4 12 56.

APOPKA (58): Hughes 12, Jackson 6, Jones 3, Elmore 8, Lowman 7, Clayton 2, Fencher 18. Totals 26 4 12 58.

Halftime — Lake Mary 45, Apopka 38. Fouls — Lake Mary 14, Apopka 17. Fouled out — Jackson. Technicals — None.

In junior varsity action, Apopka remained undefeated (7-0) in the Five Star Conference with a 72-58 victory over coach Charles Steele's Rams.

Mark Napoli finished with 13 points to lead Lake Mary while Jackson added 11.

Mitchell, Gilchrist Lead Tribe By Pats

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

Except for one spurt early in the game by Sanford's Fighting Seminoles and one near the end, Tuesday night's game between the Tribe and Lake Brantley's Patriots was a pretty even struggle.

Those two spurts, nevertheless, carried the Seminoles to a 63-48 victory over the Patriots in Five Star Conference basketball action at Seminole High.

Struggle is the key word. While the game never seemed to be very much in doubt for Seminole, it couldn't put the game away until the last few minutes. Seminole's old nemesis, missed free throws (15 for 27 for the game), and an impatient offense enabled the hustling Lake Brantley squad to stay with striking distance. The Patriots finally folded in the last two minutes when they missed four layups.

Seminole improved to 11-4 overall and 5-2 in the conference while Lake Brantley fell to 3-10 overall and 1-6 in the conference. Seminole travels to Apopka Friday night while Lake Brantley hosts Lake Mary.

Although Seminole came out on top by 15, coach Chris Marlette was disappointed in the Tribe's performance. "We didn't play good defense in the second and third quarters and we weren't patient enough on offense," Marlette said. "And we were terrible from the free throw line."

Willie Mitchell led the way for Seminole with 19 points and 12 rebounds Tuesday while Jimmy Gilchrist turned in a fine performance with 16 points and 10 rebounds.

Mike Garriques and Greg Courtney led Lake Brantley with 10 points each and Austin Hodges led the Patriots underneath with nine rebounds.

"We played a pretty good game, but those four missed layups near the end really hurt us," Lake Brantley coach Bob Peterson said. "After Seminole went up by 10 early, we showed good character in coming back the way we did."

Seminole came out blazing in the first quarter as it scored the first 10 points of the game, six by Gilchrist. Lake Brantley cut the lead down to six, 16-10, by the end of the first quarter.

Prep Basketball

The Patriots hung tough in the second quarter and closed to within three points, 23-20, on a layup by Rex Black. Seminole then reeled off six straight points to take a 29-20 lead and the Tribe led by seven, 29-22, at halftime.

Lake Brantley got as close as five points in the third quarter, thanks to the poor free throw shooting of Seminole (2-8 in the quarter), but Seminole pushed its lead back up to eight, 39-31, going into the fourth.

Once again, Lake Brantley pulled to within five points in the fourth quarter, but couldn't get any closer. Seminole started to pull away with 2:01 left as Tommy Stiffey dropped in a layup for a 54-44 Seminole lead. William Wynn and Mitchell then hit back-to-back layups to give Seminole a 14-point lead, 58-44, icing the victory for the Tribe.

"We had a good run there at the end," Marlette said. "Gilchrist played a pretty good game, but James Rouse has to start shooting better."

Hill, JV Snap Skid

In junior varsity action Tuesday, Robert Hill put on an impressive display, pouring in 28 points and grabbing 15 rebounds, to lead the JV Seminoles to a 64-51 victory over Lake Brantley's JV Patriots. Hill's outstanding performance helped Seminole snap a five-game losing streak and even its record at 6-6.

Hill was almost all of Seminole's offense in the first quarter as he scored 12 points, but Lake Brantley matched the Tribe basket for basket and the score was tied, 16-16, after one quarter.

Gregory, Fenning Lift Lake Mary — Lady Greyhounds Rip Colonial

Prep Basketball

Lisa Gregory and Andrea Fenning scored 14 points each Tuesday, and came up with some crucial points in the last few minutes, to boost Lake Mary's Lady Rams to a hard-fought 45-39 victory over the tough Lady Panthers of Eustis at Eustis High.

Lake Mary improved to 9-4 overall and remains 5-3 in the Five Star Conference. The Lady Rams return to conference action Thursday night at Lake Brantley.

Both teams got off to a rather slow start and the score stood tied, 6-6, at the end of one quarter. Eustis came on strong in the second quarter and outscored the Lady Rams, 14-7, to take a seven-point lead at halftime, 20-13.

Lake Mary responded with 14-third quarter points to cut Eustis' lead to two, 29-27, going into the fourth. The Lady Panthers maintained the lead much of the fourth quarter and built it up to five, 39-34, with 3:30 remaining in the game.

Fenning then drilled a jumper from 18-feet out to pull the Rams within three, and then came back to hit a pair of free throws to cut Eustis' lead to one, 39-38. Gregory then came up with a steal and fed Peggy Glass inside. Glass was fouled while shooting and connected on both free tosses to give Lake Mary a 40-39 lead with 2:57 remaining. Its first lead since the second quarter.

Gregory put the Rams up by four with one minute remaining as she made the first of two free throws, grabbed her own rebound on the missed second shot, a made the follow up to ice the victory for Lake Mary.

While Gregory and Fenning were the only Rams in double figures in scoring, Laura Glass pulled down a game-high 16 rebounds. Teresa Newman and Laurie Robinson led Eustis with 12 points each.

LAKE MARY (45): Averitt 2, Fenning 14, L. Glass 4, P. Glass 6, Gregory 14, C. Hall 4, L. Hall 1, Stone 9. Totals: 16 17 25 45.

Halftime — Eustis 20, Lake Mary 13. Fouls — Eustis 18, Lake Mary 14. Fouled out — none. Technicals — none.

In junior varsity action at Eustis, Tonya Lawson connected for 13 points and Cynthia Patterson added 10 to lead Lake Mary's JV Rams to a 37-28 victory over Eustis. The Lady Rams now stand at 7-0 for the season.

In other girls games Tuesday, Daytona Beach Seabreeze's Lady Sand Crabs built a big lead early and cruised to a 70-44 rout of Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks in Five Star Conference basketball action at Seabreeze High.

The loss dropped Lake Howell to 12-5 overall and 6-2 in the conference. Lake Howell is back in action Thursday as it hosts Daytona Beach Mainland.

Tammy Johnson led Lake Howell with 14 points and Janene Brown added 11.

LAKE HOWELL (44): Barma 2, Brown 11, Dietrich 6, Green 2, J. Johnson 2, M. Johnson 4, T. Johnson 14, McNeil 2. Totals: 10 8 18 44.

Halftime — Seabreeze 29, Lake Howell 18. Fouls — Seabreeze 14, Lake Howell 24. Fouled out — none. Technicals — none.

In a non-conference game, three players scored in double figures as Lyman's Lady Greyhounds hammered Orlando Colonial, 71-25, at Milwee Middle School. Valerie "Pam" Jackson and Kim Forsyth led Lyman with 18 points each and Kim Goroum added 14.

The Lady Greyhounds improved to 8-4 overall and remained 4-4 in the Five Star Conference. Lyman is back in conference action Thursday as it hosts Spruce Creek at Milwee Middle School.

Lyman rolled to a 39-11 lead by halftime and coasted through the second half.

COLONIAL (25): Godfrey 6, Whitaker 2, Metcalfe 6, Sartor 8, Loft 2, Anthony 8, Seneriz 2, Reome 3. Totals: 8 9 25 25.

Andrea Fenning takes Lyman's Valerie "Pam" Jackson to the hoop. Fenning, a Lake Mary junior, scored 14 points to help the Lady Rams whip Eustis while Jackson tossed in 18 as the Lady Greyhounds bombed Colonial, 71-25.

'Skins Wild About Theismann, But It Wasn't Always That Way

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — When Joe Theismann runs into Tampa Stadium on Jan. 22 to help Washington defend its Super Bowl title against the Los Angeles Raiders, all 16,500 Redskins fans will cheer him.

It wasn't always that way. When Theismann came to the Redskins in 1974, he entered without humility. Fresh from three years with the Toronto Argonauts, he was ready to take on the world.

Redskins veterans welcomed him like the plague, particularly when he wasn't prepared to sit on the bench. He announced his intentions to be the starting quarterback, ahead of Billy Kilmer and Sonny Jurgensen.

"The 'Over the Hill Gang' didn't like me, period," said Theismann. "They knew how I felt, but they didn't like me."

Theismann never reached the good graces of the veterans, many of whom went out of their way to hinder his development. Only after George Allen was fired as coach and general manager, and Jurgensen and Kilmer retired, did he get the No. 1 quarterback spot.

"I don't really care about that stuff because it's all in the past," Theismann said Monday. "Actually, I didn't replace Billy or Sonny, I replaced Sam Wyche. He was the third-string quarterback then and now he's the head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals."

"But I have one of these," he said, holding up the ring from last year's 27-17 Super Bowl victory over the Miami Dolphins. "That something the 'Over the Hill Gang' doesn't have."

As a senior at Notre Dame, Theismann was beaten out for the 1970 Heisman Trophy by Stanford senior Jim Plunkett, the Raiders' quarterback who will oppose the Redskins in the Super Bowl.

Also in the running that year were Ohio State's Rex Kern, Mississippi's Archie Manning, UCLA's Dennis Dummitt and SMU's Chuck Hixson.

"I know from that how a political candidate feels," said Theismann.

Marcus Allen has reason to smile after running for 154 yards in AFC championship victory over Seattle.

NCAA Rejects Proposition 35

DALLAS (UPI) — An emotional and potentially divisive attempt to alter the method in which collegiate athletics are governed was rebuffed Tuesday, but for the second straight year college presidents made major dents in the tradition-bound structure of the NCAA.

The NCAA's 78th convention rejected a proposed 44-member board of presidents that would have had powers to enact or suspend legislation on its own. Even though such action would have been subject to majority approval by the following NCAA convention, delegates to this year's meeting were not willing to place so much authority in the hands of so few.

Moments after turning down the controversial Proposition 35, however, the convention almost unanimously approved a so-called presidential commission which has the right to place proposed legislation before the NCAA and to call a special session of the convention at any time.

This watered-down version of the board of presidents is still a major step in involving chief executive officers in the affairs of the NCAA. Last year, chiefly because of the work of collegiate presidents, the NCAA instituted revolutionary bylaws which call for a high school athlete to complete a specific curriculum before being eligible for a scholarship.

Tuesday's action did not come about without weeks of cross-country debate and two hours of intense arguments on the floor of the convention. Proposition 35 needed a two-thirds majority to pass, and it failed — 328-313.

One after another speakers on either side of Proposition 35 argued that it was either the only thing that made sense in putting the NCAA in order or that it was a violation of democratic principles.

"The American Council of Education (which sponsored Proposition 35) tells us that much of what is currently carried out within the NCAA is done within committee and that the board of presidents is a satisfactory extension of that procedure," said Marvin Johnson, faculty representative from the University of New Mexico who led off the debate against the proposal.

"But I tell you that if you or any other member of the NCAA expect to be invited to a meeting of the board of presidents, you believe in Santa Claus."

"What would be done by that group would be shielded from the press and you would learn about it when they told you about it and not before."

The proponents of Proposition 35 were led by Harvard University president Derek C. Bok, chief author of the proposal.

"In the glare of bowl games and victories," he said, "there is a large public that knows things are amiss in the world of intercollegiate athletics. That public knows we are not acting strong enough to put or house in order."

"This is a new opportunity to work together, to work to cure the problems in athletics."

Bok's arguments failed to win the day, however. During the debate occasional speakers tried to insert a calming influence on what was often bitter rhetoric.

"Emotions are high," said Towson State president Hoke Smith. "I regret that. We are, after all, interested in the same thing. We are interested in higher education."

"I hope this does not lead to a confrontation between chief executive officers and athletic directors," said chancellor James Wharton of Louisiana State University. "That is not what anybody wants."

One of the chief opponents of Proposition 35 was Arliss Roeden, president of Tennessee Tech and a member of the NCAA Council.

His powerful voice was often heard on the convention floor, arguing that the board of presidents concept was based on the false assumption that collegiate presidents did not have time to tend to NCAA matters.

"This legislation is terribly wrong," said Roeden. Then, after his side had won on the issue, Roeden said he was never concerned it would turn out any other way.

"There was never any reason to be in doubt as far as I was concerned," he said.

Perez Busted For Cocaine, Torre Worried About Loss

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (UPI) — Atlanta pitcher Pascual Perez' arrest by police Tuesday for possession of cocaine could leave Braves manager Joe Torre with a hole in his starting rotation.

If Perez is found guilty, baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn, in line with his recent action against other major league players convicted of drug violations, will probably suspend the 26-year-old Dominican for at least a portion of the season.

"I don't know what the procedure is down there," Torre said in Atlanta. "We need all of our players. You certainly don't want to lose one of your five starters."

Perez, a 26-year-old right-hander, posted a 15-8 record with the Braves last season.

Trial Set For Billie

LABELLE (UPI) — Trial was scheduled for March 19 for Seminole Indian Chairman James Billie, accused of killing an endangered Florida panther on the tribe's Big Cypress reservation.

Hendry County Circuit Judge James Adams set the trial date on Monday. Billie entered a written plea of not guilty last week and requested a jury trial.

Charges were filed against him by state game officials who saw the animal's carcass and skull hanging outside Billie's camp in the Seminole Big Cypress Indian Reservation last month.

Although Billie has not commented on the charges, Seminoles in south Florida and Indian leaders in other parts of the country have said the killing was part of the tribe's religious and healing ceremonies.

Tribal attorney James Shore said Billie is a "bundle carrier" for the Green Corn Dance, an ancient tribal ritual held each spring in the Everglades. A "bundle" is a pouch of ground-up herbs, roots and animal parts used in ceremonies of the environment and by medicine men.

The Florida Game and Fresh Water Commission said there are 28 known Florida panthers in the state and a total population of about 30. The animal is on both the state and federal endangered species list.

KOC FT Contest Saturday

The Knights of Columbus Basketball Free Throw Championship will be held Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the All Souls Catholic School gymnasium for contestants 11- to 14-years-old.

Youngsters interested in competing should call Frank Joyce at 327-0792 to register.

There will be four age groups (11, 12, 13 and 14). Players eligibility is determined by the age of the contestant as of Jan. 1.

Martin In Good Spirits, Doesn't Hold Vendettas

NEW YORK (UPI) — Of all the knocks he has gotten and of all the kicks in the head he has taken, you'd never guess the one that bothers Billy Martin the most.

Ready?

It has to do with a story about him. One that was written, and one that circulated the belief he had a habit of falling asleep on the Yankees' bench.

"I never did that in my life," Martin declared evenly, without raising his voice the way he does sometimes when he becomes passionate about a subject he feels as strongly about as he does this one. "I have never gone to sleep on any bench."

"I'll tell you how this whole thing came about," Martin said Tuesday in a mammoth TV studio where he and others, including John Madden, Red Auerbach, Dick Butkus, Dick Williams and Marv Throneberry were gathered for a reunion of those who have been making the Miller Lite Beer commercials the past few years.

"One time, one writer came by and wanted to talk to me out at the ball park. It was around three in the afternoon; I had been there since one or two, and we had a night game. I was taking a nap, that's true. But I think I'm allowed to take a nap if I'm sick. I certainly wasn't sleeping on the bench during a ball game. The players weren't due at the park for another two and a half hours and we weren't scheduled to play for another five hours. Remember, I was sick. But I don't see where I committed any crime."

Martin was breaking a silence of more than a month. He had said nothing after the regular season ended and it was becoming increasingly apparent George Steinbrenner was on the verge of firing him as Yankee manager for the third time. He also had nothing to say, at least publicly, when his old buddy, Yogi Berra, replaced him on Dec. 16 and he was kicked upstairs as Steinbrenner's "top adviser."

But now, Martin was willing to talk about anything. Well, most anything.

"One of the things he talked about was his recent operation at St. Mary's Hospital in Minneapolis. He underwent surgery on the very same day he lost his job as Yankee manager."

"The operation was for bleeding hemorrhoids, not cancer like I've been hearing," Martin said, seeking to put the record straight. "While I was in the hospital, I lost 23 pounds. I went from 165 to 142, but I'll get it back. I quit drinking in September. I haven't touched a drop of whiskey since then. The only thing I drink now is Miller Lite."

Martin laughed. He doesn't look bad at all for someone who has lost the amount of weight he has, and he was in marvelous spirits Tuesday, kidding with fellows like Madden, Williams, Throneberry and many of the others who were on hand for the special occasion.

"I have no kicks," Martin said. "Honestly, I mean that. I'm very content with the way George handled everything in a true Yankee manner. He certainly treated me fine. I've got seven years to go on my contract — four years at manager's pay and three after that as a consultant."

Martin's annual salary as manager with the Yankees reportedly approaches $450,000. That's a secret between him and Steinbrenner, though. Neither has revealed the figure publicly.

"One more firing and I'll be the richest manager in baseball," Martin cracked to Williams while they were sitting alongside each other with the others for a group picture. Williams, who manages the Padres, isn't doing badly in the salary department himself. He's not in Martin's class, but he's in the $200,000 a year range.

Martin conceded he doesn't ever have to work again for the rest of his life if he doesn't wish to do so.

"I started out in Minnesota at $35,000," he said, recalling his first major league managerial job with the Twins in 1969. "Then I went to $72,000 with Detroit. In Texas, my salary went higher. Then I went to the Yankees and it was doubled. Then it was doubled again. Now, with the benefits and everything, it's way up there. I put my dues in, though. I earned my stripes."

Seemingly, Martin is at peace with everyone. He said he has no hard feelings toward anyone. Not any of the writers, not Goose Gosage, who recently signed with the Padres, and not with Steinbrenner.

"Believe me, I don't have any vendetta with any of the writers," he insisted. "As for Goose Gosage, he's one helluva pitcher. I never had any criticism of him and I never heard of anything bad he said about me. And George and I have never been better friends. He's a good man and does a lotta great things nobody knows about. I wanna help him and the Yankees any possible way I can."

The one thing Martin did not talk about was managing again.

"I'll cross that bridge when I come to it, but there have been no calls," he said.

In other Five Star Conference action Tuesday, Lyman's

Greyhounds blew an eight-point halftime lead en route to a 57-49 loss to DeLand's Bulldogs at DeLand.

The Greyhounds had built a 32-24 lead at halftime, but DeLand came on strong in the second half and outscored the Greyhounds, 33-17.

Lyman, which has lost eight straight games, fell to 1-9 overall and 1-6 in the Five Star Conference. DeLand improved to 5-8 overall and 4-3 in the conference.

Lake Howell Seabreeze — no report

Serino, Kelly Hat Tricks Pace Howell, Ram Wins

By Lou Stefano
Herald Sports Writer

After his performance Tuesday night against the Lyman Greyhound soccer team, Lake Howell's Mike Serino might very well be chosen Maitland's version of the "Italian Stallion." Serino scored all three goals in the Silver Hawks' 3-0 win over Lyman.

"Excellent performance by Mike Serino," understated Lake Howell coach Norman Wight.

That's like saying that the Washington Redskins have a good football team. Or, that the University of Miami played well against Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

Serino, a junior, had a sterling performance. His first goal broke open a tight defensive struggle with 9:19 left in the first half.

The Hawks, ranked fifth in the 4A state poll, worked the ball toward the Lyman goal. Serino took a pass in the middle, dribbled past one defender and drilled the shot past the diving Lyman goalie, Ben Ritter.

Serino's loping stride is becoming well known to area soccer fans. This kid has a gait that can be compared with Secretariat. Putting a soccer ball at his feet is like putting a crepe pan in Julia

Prep Soccer

Child's hands. He dribbles better with his feet than many basketball players do with their hands.

Even so, Wight passed around the credit for the win. "Our defense as usual played outstanding. Paul Palido, Jimmy Morrissey and the forwards," Wight said.

The game stayed at 1-0 into the second half until Serino got Ritter one-on-one in front of the goal and scored at the 23:35 mark. He completed his hat trick by looping a long shot into the corner of the net with 18:09 left in the game.

"All this was planned," Wight said. "All our plays are planned. We never go on the field just you know with the hope that something will happen. We plan a defense and then use our occasional attacks."

"Hey, we took it on the chin again," said Lyman coach Jim Buckman. "Defensively, we had a couple of breakdowns."

Lake Mary.....7
Spruce Creek.....1
DAYTONA BEACH — Not to be outdone by Serino, Lake Mary's Don Kelly scored the county's other hat trick last night as he led the Rams to a 7-1 romp over Spruce Creek. The win upped Lake Mary's record to 9-4.

The Rams only led 1-0 at the half but exploded for six second-half goals. "We missed a lot of easy goals in the first half," said Ram coach Larry McCorkle.

"We played good today," he added. "Really in the second half we did. The first half we had a little let down from our loss to Lake Brantley (Saturday). In the second half we started playing better."

"We lost that consistency that we had in the Pizza Hut Tournament. We played poorly against Father Lopez, played good against Lake Brantley, and poorly in the first half tonight. Part of that could be that you get pumped up for a game like the Pizza Hut Tournament and then you get pumped up against a rival like Lake Brantley."

The Rams' other goals were scored by Tony Fiorentino, Atsushi Ichihara, Jerry Meyers and Andre Sanders.

The Rams will look forward to playing the West Orange Warriors Friday night, while Lake Howell hosts Metro foe Edgewater Thursday.

Aparicio, Killebrew, Drysdale Join Elite

NEW YORK (UPI) — The wait is over for Luis Aparicio, Harmon Killebrew and Don Drysdale.

Super-slick shortstop Aparicio, long-ball slugger Killebrew and power pitcher Drysdale finally were elected to the Hall of Fame Tuesday night by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Drysdale had the longest wait, spending 10 years in limbo before gaining entrance into the Hall. Aparicio waited six years and Killebrew four, but the waiting became worthwhile when all three easily surpassed the 75 percent of the votes needed for election this year.

Aparicio led the voting with 341 (85 percent), Killebrew received 335 votes (83 percent) and Drysdale got 316 votes (78 percent).

With 403 BBWAA members voting, 303 votes were necessary for election.

"It's probably the icing on the cake," said Drysdale, who was playing in a golf tournament at Rancho Mirage,

Baseball Hall Of Fame

Calif. with Hall of Famers Ralph Kiner, Duke Snider and Sandy Koufax when he got word of his election.

"I didn't know what to think (about earlier misses). I've been eligible for a while. It's up to other people to make that fate. The way I feel right now, I'm elated, floating around. But we'll settle down in a couple of days."

It was the largest group of players elected by the writers in one year since 1972, when Kofax, Yogi Berra and Early Wynn were voted in.

Knuckle ball reliever Hoyt Wilhelm missed by 13 votes when he received 290 (72 percent). It was the seventh year Wilhelm failed to gain election.

Aparicio, Killebrew and Drysdale will be inducted Aug. 12, 1984 at Cooperstown, N.Y.

The Voting

The 1984 Hall of Fame ballot included 39 players, 19 of whom were on for the first time.

The complete vote total for the 1984 election:

Aparicio, 341; Killebrew, 335; Drysdale, 316; Wilhelm, 290; Nelson, 244; Billy Williams, 202; Jim Bunning, 201; Orlando Cepeda, 134; Tony Oliva, 124; Roger Maris, 107; Harvey Kuenn, 106; Maury Wills, 106; Lew Burdette, 97; Bill Mazeroski, 74; Eloy Fajal, 45; Elton Howard, 45; Joe Torre, 45; Thurman Munson, 29; Don Larsen, 25; Wilbur Wood, 14; Jim Fregosi, 4; Jim Bouton, 3; Dave Johnson, 3.

TONIGHT

Bernard Merthle
...consistent performer

Coach Bill Payne's SCC Raiders take to the road tonight with a 7:30 contest in Ocala against Benny Gabbard's Central Florida Community College.

The Raiders, who lost their first Division II game Saturday night to Santa Fe, will try to rebound against CFCC. Although CFCC is a member of the division, this game will not count in the standings since the Ocala school is on probation for giving too many scholarships.

Payne juggled his lineup last week and came up with a victory over Skagit Valley, but the Raiders blew a lead in the last two minutes while losing to Santa Fe Saturday, 83-79.

Jim Payton and Sanford's Bernard Merthle have been SCC's two most dependable players. They will start along with a combination of Luis Phelps, Delvin Everett, Lanny Grace, Stuart Smith or Doug Bell.

SCC, 11-7, plays its third straight division game Saturday when powerful Daytona Beach comes to the SCC Health Center.

Seminole High's wrestling team goes after its second victory tonight at 8 when the Tribe hosts New Smyrna Beach. Coach Roger Beathard's grapplers knocked off Boone Saturday for their first victory.

Another key matchup has arch-rivals Lake Mary and Lyman squaring off at Lyman. Mainland is at Lake Howell and Colonial visits Oviedo to complete the county matchups.

In the lone soccer game today, Oviedo travels to Bishop Moore for a 4 p.m. encounter.

Four girls' basketball games and one boys' game are on tap. Coach Willie Richardson's Lake Mary Rams host Wymore Tech in the boys' game. Seminole travels to Apopka, Lake Mary goes to Lake Brantley, Mainland is at Lake Howell and Oviedo journeys to Leesburg in girls' games.

Homemaker Takes Pride In Family, Civic Duty

By Doris Dietrich
PEOPLE Editor

Patricia (Pat) Foster got her first taste of the good life in Sanford when her husband, William M. (Bill), was transferred to Sanford Naval Air Station in 1950.

"He (Bill) kept getting duty here. We loved it (Sanford) so much," Pat says. Except for three and one-half years in New Jersey, Sanford has been home for the Foster family since that first navy duty.

Pat's role in life has been mother, homemaker and community volunteer except for about two years when she tried her hand at selling women's fashions at the J.C. Penney Co. Inc. in Sanford Plaza.

"You could say I have put quite a few meals together," Pat laughed while talking with pride about the accomplishments of her five children, 10 grandchildren "and a great grand on the way."

She good-naturedly added, "I love to bake. Sometimes, I want to get with it and then I want to forget the whole thing. I have my ups and downs with cooking."

Pat credits her mother-in-law in North Carolina with teaching her a lot about cooking. "She's just the best cook," Pat boasts sincerely.

Bill is the family's gourmet cook whose technique is "a pinch of this and a pinch of that." He retired after spending 27 years in the navy as a flight engineer and has been employed by the Martin Marietta Co. as a technical engineer for 16 years. An avid fisherman, Bill supplies the family and friends with freshly caught St. Johns River bass.

Pat has been a member of the Woman's Club of Sanford since 1970 where she has held a number of elected offices and has also served as chairman of several departments. She is presently the club's president, is on the Board of Directors of Seminole Community Concert Association and is an associate member of the Central Florida Regional Hospital Auxiliary.

Pat shares a frosting secret: add one tablespoon of flour to a pound of confectioners sugar. "This cuts down on excessive sweetness and helps make the frosting smoother."

Some of her favorite recipes follow:

"This recipe was a first place winner in a cooking contest and given to me by a friend from Orlando. It is delicious," Pat promises.

SHRIMP MUENSTER ROLL (Appetizer)

1 1/2 cups shredded Muenster or other semi-soft cheese (8 ounces)

1 cup cooked shrimp, chopped

1/4 cup thinly sliced green onions with tops (about three)

2 eggs

1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon pepper

1 package refrigerated crescent rolls

1 tablespoon butter, melted

1 egg yolk beaten with 1 tablespoon water

In large bowl, stir together cheese, shrimp, onions, eggs, salt and pepper, set aside. Unroll crescent roll dough onto lightly floured surface. Pinch together perforations on both sides of dough. Fold in half crosswise and with lightly floured rolling pin, roll out to 14x9 rectangle. Brush with melted butter. Spread cheese-shrimp mixture in 2-inch strip along one long edge of dough; roll up as for jelly roll. Firmly pinch seam and ends together, then moisten slightly with water and smooth lightly with dull edge of knife to seal dough well. Carefully lift roll onto ungreased cookie sheet. Brush with egg yolk mixture. Bake in preheated 400 degrees oven 25 minutes or until golden brown. Cool on rack 20 minutes. With sharp knife cut in 1/2 inch slices. (Yield 28 appetizer servings)

EASY CHEESY SCALLOPED POTATOES

1 can cheddar cheese soup (diluted)

1/2 cup milk

4 cups sliced potatoes

1 small onion, chopped

1 tablespoon butter (or more)

Place potatoes and onions in a casserole baking dish. Dilute soup, add milk gradually; heat and pour over potato mixture. Dot with butter. Bake at 375° for 1 hour, covered. Uncover and bake 15 minutes more. Sprinkle with paprika.

ORANGE SLICE CAKE

3 cups flour, divided

1 pound jellied orange slice candy

2 cups sugar

1 cup shortening

4 eggs

1 teaspoon baking soda

1/2 cup buttermilk

1 1/2 tablespoons grated orange rind

1/2 pound grated coconut

2 cups pecans, chopped

1/2 pound dates, chopped

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Have all ingredients ready before starting to mix cake. Take 3 tablespoons from 3 cups of flour. Slice the jellied orange candy into

'Woman Of Year' Nominees

PESO '68 will hold its second annual "Woman of the Year in the Arts and Sciences" luncheon and awards ceremony on Jan. 28 at the Palace Hotel ballroom, Lake Buena Vista.

"Woman of the Year" has become an annual event to honor and show appreciation to the hundreds of volunteer women who give much of their time and talents to promote and help sustain the Arts and Sciences in Central Florida.

One outstanding member from each of the PESO Auctions, Inc. beneficiaries has been nominated by her respective organization, and one of these nominees will be chosen as "Woman of the Year" by PESO '68 members.

Nominated are Karen Schneberger, Central Florida Civic Theatre Guild; Harri Klotz, Council of Arts and Sciences for Central Florida; Marilyn Mennello, Council of 101; Madalyne Lawton, Florida Symphony League; Betsy Malchow, The Guild of the John Young Science Center; Robin Baab-Hohman, Orlando Opera Guild; Shirley Cannon, Pine Castle Center of the Arts, Inc.; and Martha Dowman, Southern Ballet Theatre.

Each nominee is a member in good standing in her organization, either active or sustaining.

Cocktail time begins at 11:30 a.m., the awards ceremony will start at 12:15 p.m., and lunch will be served at 12:45 p.m. tickets are $17.00 and reservations are required and due before Jan. 20. This event is open to the public.

For ticket information and reservations, call Cindy Levine at 305/644-6822.

small pieces and coat with the 3 tablespoons of flour, add the chopped dates. Set aside. Cream sugar and shortening well. Beat in eggs one at a time. Add baking soda to buttermilk then add to sugar mixture. Mix in flour by mixer. Add orange rind. By hand, stir in coconut, pecans, dates and orange pieces. Put into a greased, floured 10-inch tube pan. Bake 1 hour and 20 minutes.

GLACE: In a saucepan, combine 1 cup orange juice, 2 cups sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Stir over low heat until sugar is completely dissolved. Pour glaze over cake in pan. With oven off, put cake in oven overnight. Wrap and store for one or two days to mingle flavors.

9200 CHOCOLATE CAKE

- 2 cups granulated sugar
- 1 stick butter
- 1 cup water
- 2 eggs
- 1 tsp soda
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 cup Wesson oil
- 4 tablespoons cocoa
- 1/2 cup buttermilk
- dash salt

In large bowl mix 2 cups sugar and 2 cups flour. Set aside. Mix in saucepan, 1 stick butter, 1 cup Wesson oil, then add 1 cup water and the 4 tablespoons cocoa. Bring to boil for one minute. Pour over mixture of sugar and flour and add 2 eggs. Mix the teaspoon of baking soda in the 1/2 cup of buttermilk and add to mixture. Add the dash of salt and vanilla. Beat until smooth, pour into 13x9x2 inch baking pan and bake for 35 to 40 minutes in 350° oven.

ICING:

- 4 tablespoons milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 stick butter
- 4 tablespoons milk

Put ingredients in skillet or saucepan, stirring constantly (easy to stick). Cook one minute. Remove from heat, add powdered sugar to spreading consistency.

ST. JOHNS RIVER BASS CHOWDER

- 1 quart fish stock (or water)
 - 2 large onions, chopped (2 cups)
 - 4 large carrots, pared and cubed
 - 1 bay leaf, pinch thyme and parsley
 - 1 pound bass fillets (if not so fortunate to have St Johns River bass, use other fish of your choice)
 - 4 tablespoons butter (1/2 stick)
 - 1 cup heavy cream
- Add the vegetables and herbs to the fish stock or water and bring to a boil, skimming off foam. Simmer until vegetables are nearly done, add the fish fillets in chunks and cook only until the fish flakes with a fork. Stir in the cream and butter. Salt and pepper to taste.

COMPANY CABBAGE CASSEROLE

- 1 head of cabbage
 - 1 can cream of mushroom soup (undiluted)
 - 1 green pepper, chopped
 - 1 1/2 cups shredded cheese
 - 1/2 pound bacon
 - 1 onion, chopped
 - 1 clove garlic, minced
 - 3/4 cup bread crumbs
- Gently cook cabbage, do not overcook. While cabbage is cooking, fry bacon crisp. Drain all but 2 tablespoons of bacon drippings from skillet. Sauté onions, green peppers and garlic in the bacon drippings until tender. Add to cooked cabbage. Mix in cream of mushroom soup and 1 cup of shredded cheese. Top with bread crumbs and remaining cheese. Bake in 375° oven until brown and bubbly.

Old Forced Heirship Law Stirs New Controversy

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to "Stuck in Louisiana," who complained because in Louisiana, children automatically fall heir to their parents' inheritance whether they are deserving or not. As a third-year law student at Tulane University in New Orleans, I have studied this subject under the direction of several legal scholars who are expert in this area of law.

Louisiana's forced heirship laws are derived from ancient Roman law in existence before the birth of Christ. They are virtually identical to those found in almost every modern country today with the exception of the United States and Great Britain.

The purpose of forced heirship laws based on the concept that a parent who brings a child into the world must ensure that the child is adequately cared for. Our laws simply place the burden on the parents rather than society.

I see no unfairness in this.

KALISTE J. SALOOM III

DEAR KALISTE: Read on for a copy of a letter sent to Louisiana State Sen. Fritz Windhorst:

"DEAR FRITZ: I attach a Dear Abby column that I found rather interesting. This law affects me personally and has been sticking in my craw for quite a while. I really think forced heirship in any form is unjust, and even though the regulations were relaxed somewhat, it is not enough.

"As Abby stated in her column, no one should be told to whom he or she must leave hard-earned dollars.

"Is there any chance of this law being struck down in the near future? That we are the only state that has it says something for its validity.

"Happy New Year! — (Signature Withheld)"

And now a Baton Rouge attorney has his day in court:

DEAR ABBY: "Stuck in Louisiana" is partially correct. Louisiana law does exalt the family unit with some consequent diminution in property rights, by requiring that when parents depart for the next world, a portion of their estate goes to the children they left in this one unless the parents have good cause to disinherit them.

Article 1621 of our Civil Code lists the following 11 just causes for disinheriting one's children:

1. If the child has struck the parent or even raised his hand to do so.
2. If the child is guilty of cruelty, crime or grievous injury toward the parent.
3. If the child has attempted to kill the parent.
4. If the child has accused the parent of a crime that bears the penalty of capital punishment — with the exception of high treason.
5. If the child has refused to feed a hungry parent.
6. If the child neglects to take care of an insane parent.
7. If the child has refused to ransom the parent while he or she was held captive.
8. If the child has used an act of violence or coercion to hinder a parent from making a will.
9. If the child refuses to bail his parent out of jail.
10. If the son or daughter is a minor and marries without the parent's consent.
11. Conviction of the child of a felony carrying a possible sentence of life imprisonment or death.

It is a shame that with 50 states in which to live, this disgruntled person did wind up in the only state with forced heirship. Very truly yours, ROBERT H. HODGES, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

NOTE: These exemptions from the inheritance law were originally written in 1825 — and derived from the French (Napoleonic) code of Law — with the exception of the 11th exemption, which was added in 1982.

Seafood And Rice: An Historic Combination

As early immigrants settled along the oceans and waterways of America, seafood became an important part of their diets. Rice, a familiar staple from their native cuisines, was planted for the family table. The combination of seafood and rice was a natural, one with strong influence on the development of American cuisine.

Today virtually all of the rice consumed in the United States is grown in the fertile states of Arkansas, California, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri and Texas. From the icy waters of Alaska come many varieties of succulent seafood that are now available nationwide. Rice and seafood from Alaska are both exported around the world as well.

Alaska seafood is an important source of high-quality protein and provides valuable vitamins and minerals as well as the light satisfying flavors today's cooks seek. Rice too, provides essential nutrients. In addition to being the world's most versatile grain, it is an excellent source of complex carbohydrates and supplies several of the B vitamins. Being low in cost, it will extend and enhance any meal.

The light and delicate flavor of seafood from Alaska calls for a complementary accompaniment, and rice is perfect. Whether plain, buttered, or seasoned with lemon, dill or other seasonings, rice accents but never overpowers a seafood entree.

High in flavor and enjoyment, the historic combination of rice and seafood can also be relatively low in calories, fat and cholesterol — a boon to health-conscious, modern-day consumers.

PAN-FRIED-SALMON

- 1/4 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 2 tablespoons water
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 6 (3 to 4 ounces each) Alaska salmon fillets or (about 6 ounces each) Alaska salmon steaks, thawed if necessary
- 2 tablespoons oil

Combine flour, salt and pepper. Beat water into eggs. Roll salmon in seasoned flour, dip in egg mixture, roll again in seasoned flour, shaking off excess. Pan-fry on both sides in hot oil until salmon flakes easily when tested with a fork. Allow about 10 minutes total cooking time per inch of thickness.

Makes 6 servings.

RICE MEDLEY

- 1 cup uncooked rice
- 2 cups chicken broth
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3/4 cup each chopped celery, onions, and green pepper
- Salt and ground black pepper

Measure rice and broth into 2 to 3-quart saucepan. Bring to a boil; stir once or twice. Lower heat, cover, and simmer about 15 minutes or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Meanwhile, melt butter in skillet. Add celery, onions, and green pepper. Cook until tender crisp. Stir into hot rice. Season to taste.

Makes 6 servings.

ALGERIAN FISH RING

- 1 1/2 pounds Alaska cod, pollock or rockfish fillets,* thawed if necessary
- Salt
- Paprika
- 1/2 cup chopped onions
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, thawed
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon each dill weed and seasoned pepper
- 3 cups hot cooked rice
- 1/2 cup each dairy sour cream and finely crumbled feta cheese

Cherry tomatoes and parsley sprigs, optional. Sprinkle fish lightly with salt and generously with paprika. In large skillet cook onions in 1 tablespoon butter over medium heat until soft but not brown. Add garlic. Squeeze excess moisture from spinach; add to skillet. Stir in lemon juice, dill, and pepper. Remove from heat; add rice, sour cream, and cheese. Mix well. Melt remaining butter; brush inside of 6-cup ring mold. Arrange fillets in mold with small ends at center of ring and wide ends and any overhang at outer rim. Fish will not cover entire surface of mold; leave equal space between fillets. Fill with rice mixture. Fold ends of fish over top of rice. Cover with heavy-duty foil. Set in pan to catch drippings. Bake at 350°F, 40 minutes, or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Invert onto heated serving plate. Fill center with cherry tomatoes and parsley sprigs.

Makes 6 servings.

*If fish is thicker than 1/2-inch, slice in half horizontally while still partially frozen.
Sour half-and-half can be substituted.

WEST COAST SEAFOOD GUMBO

- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1 cup each chopped onions, celery and green pepper
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen cut okra, thawed (optional)
- 1 can (14 1/2 to 16 ounces) tomatoes
- 1 quart chicken broth or water
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/4 teaspoon each ground black and red pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme, crushed
- 1 pound boned Alaska halibut, thawed if necessary, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 pound Alaska Snow crab clusters*, thawed if necessary, cut into serving-sized pieces
- Salt
- 1 teaspoon gumbo file, if okra is not used
- 3 to 4 cups hot cooked rice

Heat oil in large non-iron skillet. Add flour; cook and stir over medium heat until a rich brown. Do not let flour burn. Reduce heat to medium low. Add onion, celery, green pepper, and okra. Cook and stir until onion is tender but not brown. Add tomatoes, broth, garlic and seasonings. Bring to a boil. Lower heat and simmer, uncovered, 1 hour. Add Alaska halibut and Alaska Snow crab. Cook 10 minutes. Salt to taste. Remove bay leaf. Stir file into gumbo just before serving. Ladle gumbo into bowls and top each with mound of rice.

Makes 6 servings.

*If desired, remove meat from legs and claws and add meat only to gumbo.

CANNED SALMON TOSTADAS

- 1 can (15 1/2 ounces) salmon
- 1 can (4 ounces) diced green chiles
- Dairy sour cream
- Salt
- Hot pepper sauce (optional)
- 6 crisp fried corn tortillas
- 6 cups shredded iceberg lettuce
- 2 tomatoes, chopped
- 1/4 cup sliced green onions, including tops
- 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
- Picante sauce or green chiles salsa

Drain salmon; break into large chunks. Toss with green chiles and 1/4 cup sour cream. Season with salt and hot pepper sauce. Place tortillas on individual plates; top with lettuce, layer salmon mixture, tomatoes, onions, and cheese onto lettuce. Garnish with sour cream. Serve with picante sauce.

Makes 6 servings.

ROLLED SALMON TORTILLAS (ENVUELTO):
Heat 6 large or 12 small flour tortillas (tortillas de

Fillets of pan-fried salmon served Over Rice Medley, Algerian Fish Ring, Rolled Salmon Tortillas and Canned Salmon Tostados served with Fiesta Rice are all appetizing, nutritious and high in flavor.

Invent Own Fillings For Taco Shells

Prepared taco shells offer a new world to those who want to invent fillings for Tex-Mex type dishes. One such is a variation of scrambled eggs done with a Latin flavor. The egg mixture is a filling for tacos and is topped with shredded Jack cheese.

Serve with a guacamole and sweet and dill pickle spears as different dippers.

PICKLE POWERED TACOS

6 slices bacon, quartered
8 eggs, lightly beaten
1 tablespoon sweet pickle liquid
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
Few drops hot pepper sauce
1/4 cup sweet pickle slices
6 taco shells
1 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese
Sweet pickle slices for garnish

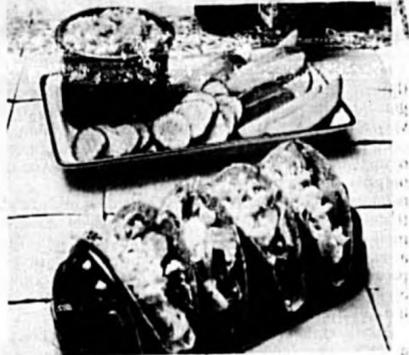

Cook bacon in large skillet over medium heat until browned. Pour off all but 1 tablespoon drippings. Combine eggs with pickle liquid, chili powder and hot pepper sauce. Add to skillet along with pickle slices.

Cook and stir until eggs are scrambled. Fill taco shells; sprinkle with cheese. Garnish with pickle slices.

GUACAMOLE WITH DILLY DIPPERS

1 large ripe avocado
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon sweet pickle liquid
1/2 cup finely chopped tomato
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1/2 clove garlic, minced
Dash salt and pepper
3 to 4 drops hot pepper sauce
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Sweet pickle slices
Dill pickle spears

Peel and pit avocado. Mash in bowl along with lemon juice and sweet pickle liquid. Fold in tomato, onion and garlic. Stir in salt and pepper and hot pepper sauce. Spread mayonnaise evenly over surface of avocado mixture. Cover and chill. Stir to mix mayonnaise. Serve with sweet pickle slices and dill pickle spears as dippers. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 2 cups.

Tacos pack pickle power.

Great Italian Stew

If you like to cook and want your dishes to taste better than they have ever tasted, try California brandy.

This 200-year-old spirit will not only change your style of cooking by adding different tastes to your recipes, but will also supplement your cooking techniques and turn passable dishes into pleasurable dishes.

Once called the original refrigerator, brandy made its debut some 800 years ago as a preservative, keeping our ancestors' food fresh for the table. Today, California brandy is considered by many people as a "one-bottle bar" because of its versatility.

The most spectacular of all brandied dishes are those that are flamed. Gastronomic historians tell us that one Christmas Eve, a chef's new apprentice was unaware that the chef had poured an extra amount of brandy into a Christmas pudding. Playing with matches, he accidentally ignited the pudding. As the flames leaped toward the ceiling, he panicked. Grabbing the flaming pudding and thinking he was running out the back door to extinguish the flames, he burst into the living room. The hostess and her guests stood and applauded for they had witnessed the first presentation of a new dish, a flaming pudding.

In the past 150 years, flaming dishes have moved from the kitchen to the dining room. If you have ever had trouble flaming dishes, here is a chef's trick for perfect results. The secret is to heat the brandy to the sizzle, that is when the little bubbles rise from the bottom of the pan to the top of liquid. Then the brandy is ready to be flamed.

Whether you flame a dish or not, the addition of California brandy to any dish is a treat. Here is a great Italian stew.

STUFATO ALLA MANZO

2 1/2 lbs. lean beef, cut into 1/2-inch cubes
3 tablespoons olive oil
1/2 cup cubed bacon
1 large onion, chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced
Large pinch each of rosemary and marjoram
1/2 cup red wine
4 tablespoons tomato paste
3 tablespoons brandy

Heat the oil in a large saucepan and saute the bacon, onion and garlic for 4 minutes. Add beef, marjoram and rosemary and cook until the beef cubes are brown. Dilute the tomato paste with the wine and brandy and add it to the stew. If the mixture is too thick, add a little water. Simmer one hour. Serves 6.

Men Discovering There's More To Cooking Than Outdoor Barbecue

Men in the kitchen, whipping up a meringue. Men in the supermarket, pinching the melons. Men in the gourmet shops, debating the merits of linguine or vermicelli.

Suddenly, the eighties' man has discovered the world of cookery, finding that there is more to the art than outdoor barbecue. He is trying his hand at more complex cooking methods and he has also discovered that the preparation and serving of food is entertainment in itself. The male cook isn't hiding in the kitchen anymore but rather demonstrating and sharing the process with guests. Men in astounding numbers have embraced this new lifestyle, which will undoubtedly influence our eating habits in the years ahead.

One of the benefits of cooking as an avocation is acquired appreciation of food and a much larger and varied diet. The man in the kitchen can discover, update and enjoy some wonderful classic recipes such as boiled beef with horseradish sauce, a robust, power-packed dish that has appealed to the masculine appetite since Great Grandma's day.

Steak Oriental takes broiling beef one step further than charcoal-grilled and is a perfect choice for a sophisticated dinner. Flank steak is marinated overnight in grapefruit juice from Florida, which tenderizes the beef, made pungent with soy sauce, mustard, ginger and Worcestershire sauce.

BOILED BEEF DAYTONA

- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 5 pounds brisket of beef or chuck roast
- 1 large onion, quartered
- 1 Florida orange, cut in quarters (do not peel)
- 1 large carrot, sliced
- 2 cups Florida orange juice
- 2 cups water
- 4 whole cloves

- 2 whole allspice
- 10 peppercorns
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Orange slices

In a large kettle or saucepot heat oil, brown meat on all sides. Drain off fat. Add onion, orange, carrot, orange juice, water, cloves, allspice, peppercorns, bay leaf and salt. Bring to a boil. Cover. Reduce heat. Simmer 3 1/2 to 4 hours or until tender. Remove meat from kettle; let stand 5 minutes before slicing. Garnish with orange slices. Serve with Horseradish Sauce.* Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

*Horseradish Sauce

- 1/2 cup plain yogurt
 - 1/2 cup prepared horseradish
 - 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
- Gently fold yogurt and horseradish into whipped cream. Serve with boiled beef. Yield: 1 1/2 cups

STEAK ORIENTAL

- 2 to 2 1/2 pounds flank steak
- 1/4 cup Florida grapefruit juice
- 1/4 cup soy sauce
- 22 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon oriental sesame seed oil
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon Dijon-style mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Score steak on both sides; place in a shallow, non-metal dish. Combine grapefruit juice, soy sauce, sugar, sesame oil, cornstarch, mustard, ginger and Worcestershire; mix well, pour over meat. Cover. Refrigerate 6 hours or overnight, turning meat often. Remove meat from marinade; reserve marinade. Place meat on rack in broiler pan. Broil 10 minutes on each side, brushing often with marinade. Heat remaining marinade, serve with steak. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Reading Labels A Help To Dieters

Next time you are shopping for groceries, read the nutrition labels. Compare nutrients and calories in one food to those in another product. You may be surprised. The foods you have been purchasing may not contain the nutrients you thought they did. On the other hand, you may find you are a "nutrition wise" shopper.

U.S. government regulations require that all enriched or fortified food, and food for which a nutrition claim is made, include nutrition information on the label. Fresh meats, fruits and vegetables usually are not labeled.

Information on the label is divided into two categories: Nutritional Information Per Serving (serving size, servings per container, calories per serving, and protein, carbohydrate and fat in grams per serving) and Percentage of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowances (U.S.RDA). Most people will get an adequate amount of protein, vitamins and minerals if the food they eat meets the U.S. RDA standards. Special U.S. RDA's are used for food for infants and young children.

The number of calories per serving must be listed on the label. Calories depend on the amount of fat, protein and carbohydrate in the food. Fat, which has the most calories, supplies nine calories per gram. Protein and carbohydrate each supply four calories per gram. By multiplying the grams per serving by the calories per gram, you get the total calories per serving.

Reading food labels is especially helpful if you are on a fat-controlled diet. For example, by comparing the contents of skim milk and whole milk, you'll discover that whole milk contains 10 grams of fat per serving, or 90 calories (10x9 equals 90). That is 81 more calories from fat per one-cup serving than skim milk.

The amount of cholesterol per food serving is important information for persons interested in a fat-controlled diet. Cholesterol content does not have to be listed on food labels, but it may be if the food producer wishes. If you want additional information on fats and cholesterol, call your local American Heart Association.

Simple Glazed Chicken Takes On Company Airs

Most home entertaining has evolved into a very personal style, allowing for spontaneous, more relaxed parties. Guests at these informal gatherings are very often found in the kitchen, lending a hand with mealtime preparations or just chatting with the cook. If the kitchen is large enough, this is where they can stay. When space is tight, serve buffet-style. Let guests help themselves to the foods set out on counters or stovetop, then move into the dining area.

Informal kitchen parties dictate fewer courses and hearty, simple dishes. Meats, fish and poultry grilled, broiled or roasted are easily enhanced by the "company they keep." An imaginative side dish and the perfect bottle of wine transform baked chicken or grilled fish or beef into a special spread.

Glazed Chicken with Holiday Wild Rice, for example, pairs current-glazed baked chicken breasts with original long grain and wild rice. This versatile combination of long grain white rice and luxury wild rice is virtually foolproof to prepare. With grapes stirred into the rice at the last minute before serving, the side dish and entree cook unattended, so time can be spent with guests. Select a light and delicate wine with a slightly sweet finish for the evening. A California Chenin Blanc, such as Simi Chenin Blanc 1982, can be poured for sipping before dinner, then paired delightfully with the chicken entree.

The table settings for these gatherings should look imaginative and natural. Make a centerpiece with a cutting board, tray or piece of pottery piled high with flowers, fruits or vegetables; surround a favorite houseplant or pretty log with candles; or group pots of fresh herbs from your windowsill garden. For a tablecovering, try a quilt, a pretty afghan or highlight the bare tabletop with candles and colorful napkins.

GLAZED CHICKEN WITH HOLIDAY WILD RICE

6 chicken breast halves
 3/4 cup current jelly
 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 2 1/2 cups water
 1 package (6 ounces) original long grain & wild rice
 1 cup green or red seedless grapes, halved
 Arrange chicken skin side up in shallow baking dish. Bake at 350°F. for 30 minutes. Heat currant jelly, orange peel and nutmeg in small saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly until smooth. Brush chicken generously with glaze. Continue to bake, brushing two or three times with glaze, until chicken is tender, 25 to 30 minutes. Meanwhile, cook onion in butter in medium saucepan until tender but not brown. Add water and contents of rice and seasoning packets. Bring to a boil. Cover tightly and simmer until all water is absorbed, about 25 minutes. Stir grapes into rice. Arrange chicken and rice on serving platter. Makes 6 servings.

MARINATED FLANK STEAK & BROCCOLI WILD RICE

1/2 cup chopped onion
 1 to 2 cloves garlic, minced
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 3/4 cup dry red wine
 1 flank steak (about 1 1/2 pounds)
 2 1/2 cups water
 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 1 package (6 ounces) original long grain & wild rice
 2 cups small broccoli flowerettes
 2 tablespoons toasted slivered almonds, coarsely chopped
 1 jar (2 ounces) sliced or diced pimiento, well drained
 Sour Cream Sauce (optional)
 Combine onion, garlic, salt, pepper and wine in shallow baking dish. Pierce steak with fork place in wine mixture. Cover and marinate in refrigerator, turning occasionally, several hours or overnight. Combine water, butter, and contents of rice and seasoning packets in medium saucepan. Bring to a boil. Cover tightly and simmer 20 minutes. Add broccoli. Continue to simmer, covered, until all liquid is absorbed, about 5 minutes. Remove steak from marinade; grill or broil steak to desired doneness. Thinly slice steak across the grain. Stir almonds and pimiento into rice. Arrange steak and rice on serving platter; spoon Sour Cream Sauce over steak, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

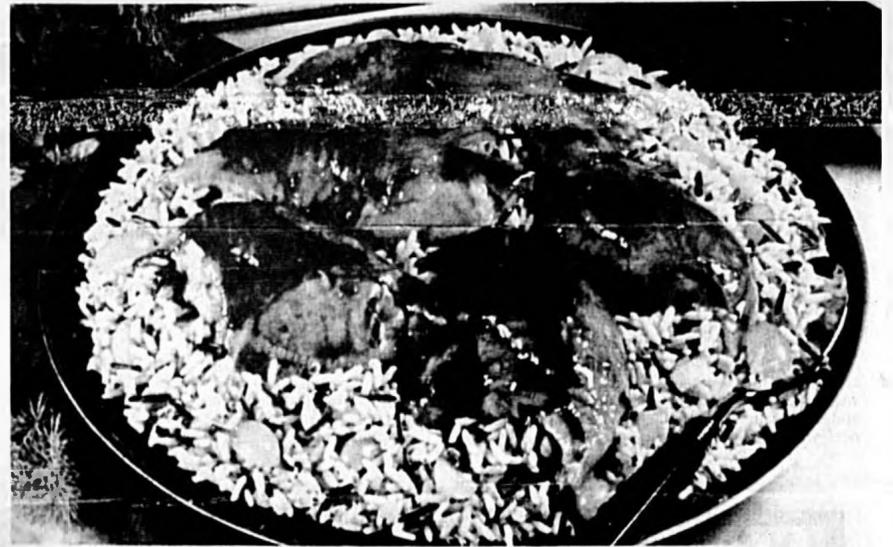

SOUR CREAM SAUCE

1/2 cup dairy sour cream
 1 to 2 tablespoons milk, as needed
 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley
 1 to 2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 Combine sour cream, milk (as needed), parsley, horseradish and salt in small bowl; mix well. Chill until ready to serve.

IMPROMPTU PORK & SPINACH WILD RICE STIR-FRY

2 cups water
 1/2 cup dry sherry

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 1 package (6 ounces) original long grain & wild rice
 1 pound boneless pork
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
 3 medium carrots, cut into 1x1/4x1/4-inch strips
 1/4 pound mushrooms, thinly sliced
 1 1/2 cups lightly packed spinach leaves, torn into bite-size pieces
 2 to 3 green onions with tops, thinly sliced
 Combine water, sherry, butter and contents of rice and seasoning packets in medium saucepan. Bring to a boil. Cover tightly and simmer until all water is absorbed, about 25 minutes. Cut pork into 1x1/4x1/4-inch strips; set aside until rice is done. Cook pork and garlic in oil over medium-high heat in large skillet, 3 to 5 minutes. Add carrots and cook 3 minutes. Add mushrooms and cook 2 minutes. Stir rice, spinach and green onions into pork mixture. Heat through. Makes 6 servings.

Chili 'N Chips In 20 Minutes

"Help yourself." Most often we hear those inviting words while seated at a dinner table. The statement gives your company the go-ahead to enjoy a meal. Helping yourself also pertains to the cook, especially when time is of the essence in getting the food prepared. That's where Cheesy Chili 'N Chips come in to lend a hand. This recipe can be prepared in 20 minutes. You can either use your favorite chili recipe, or the one offered here by the Kraft Kitchens. A pound of ground beef is browned, and tomatoes, tomato paste and seasonings are added. After simmering for 10 minutes, add one cup of shredded, sharp natural cheddar cheese for a zesty flavor. Stir the ingredients until the cheese is melted. Then arrange corn chips on a platter, spoon the chili over the chips and top with another 1/2 cup of cheddar cheese.

With the satisfaction of knowing that a tasty meal was prepared with ease, you can say those two welcome words to your guests, "help yourself!"
CHEESY CHILI 'N CHIPS
 1 lb. ground beef
 1 16-oz. can tomatoes
 1 8-oz. can tomato paste
 1 tablespoon chili powder
 1 tablespoon dehydrated minced onions
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 1/2 cups (6 ozs.) shredded, sharp, natural cheddar cheese
 2 cups corn chips
 Brown meat; drain. Stir in tomatoes, tomato paste and seasonings. Cover; simmer 10 minutes. Add 1 cup cheese; stir until melted. Arrange corn chips on platter. Spoon chili over chips; top with remaining cheese. 4 to 6 servings.

Microwave Magic

Appealing Potato Toppers

The baked potato has certainly found a place in the world of fast food. Recently, I counted three restaurants that offer a baked potato with a variety of "toppers." Well, anything they can do we can do better and perhaps quicker.

The baking of the potato you have probably done many times; but, just to renew the method, I'll just give the techniques that I have found work well, then a number of potato toppers.

MICROWAVED BAKED POTATO

4 medium baking potatoes (a Russet variety is good)
Prick the potato several times with a fork. Arrange the potatoes on a paper plate or towel in a spokes of a wheel pattern.

Microwave on 100% power for 10-12 minutes, turning over and rearranging after half the time. Potatoes will feel somewhat firm. Wrap in foil; let stand for 5-8 minutes to complete the cooking.
(A baked potato has only 70 calories.)

PIZZA POTATO TOPPER

While potato is completing standing time, prepare the topping.

- 1/2 pound of lean ground beef
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1/2 cup chopped green onion
- 1 large tomato, chopped
- 2 tablespoons catsup
- Dash of pepper

Midge Mycoff
Home Economist
Seminole Community College

Dash of cayenne pepper
1/4 teaspoon oregano
1/4 teaspoon basil
1/2 cup shredded mozzarella cheese
Combine beef, onion, and pepper in a 2-quart casserole. Microwave on 100% power for 3-4 minutes or until beef is no longer pink. Stir several times. Drain. Stir in tomato, catsup, and seasonings. Remove foil from potatoes. Split each in half lengthwise. Place on a microwave roasting rack. Flake the potato centers with a fork. Spoon meat mixture over the potatoes. Top with mozzarella cheese. Microwave on 100% power for 1-2 minutes or until cheese melts.

CHEESE TURKEY POTATO TOPPER

4 medium baking potatoes
1 package (10 oz.) frozen chopped broccoli
1 cup cooked turkey, cubed

1 teaspoon instant chicken bouillon granules
1/2 teaspoon instant minced onion
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon paprika
4 teaspoons flour
1/2 cup milk
2 slices American cheese, cut into strips.
Bake potatoes as directed. Microwave broccoli in package at 100% power for 3-4 minutes or until warm. Drain broccoli well. Place in a 2-quart casserole. Stir in turkey. Set aside. In a medium bowl, combine bouillon, onion, mustard, paprika, and flour. Add milk stirring to prevent lumps. Microwave on 100% power for 3-4 minutes, or until thickened. Combine milk mixture with turkey and broccoli. Spoon on the halved potatoes. Top with the cheese strips. Microwave potatoes on 100% power for 60 seconds, or until cheese melts.

BEEF AND MUSHROOM POTATO TOPPER

4 medium potatoes
1/2 pound lean ground beef
Fresh parsley, finely chopped
1 medium onion, sliced and separated into rings
8 ounces sliced fresh mushroom
1 clove garlic, minced
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup tomato juice
2 tablespoons white wine
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Bake potatoes as directed. In a 2-quart casserole combine ground beef, onion, mushrooms, and garlic. Cover. Microwave on 100% power for 3-6 minutes or until meat is no longer pink. Drain. Combine remaining ingredients except parsley. Stir into meat mixture. Microwave on 100% power for 4-6 minutes or until thickened, stir twice. Halve and flake the potatoes. Spoon topping over potatoes. Sprinkle with the parsley. Serve.

Microwave Hint: A common mistake is to over microwave the potatoes. Use the time and allow the standing time to complete the cooking.

Dad Fixes A He-Man Breakfast

When Dad takes over the kitchen on a Sunday morning, it's a pretty sure thing that breakfast will be a sick-to-the-ribs affair that will set the family up for an active day. Men like hearty food meant to supply the body with energy, and when cooking, they often prepare a first meal of the day to fuel the young — and old — athlete for Olympian feats.

Most experts in nutrition agree that breakfast is the most important meal of the day. After a night's rest, the body is depleted of nourishment and needs a real boost to get it started. Adding citrus — fresh juice and whole sections of orange from Florida — is an intelligent way to insure the intake of necessary vitamin C which must be replenished daily since the body doesn't store it, increasing the overall appeal of the dish.

High on the list of masculine favorites are pancakes and when Dad makes Power Packing Pancakes they will be filled with robust flavor and packed with nutrition. Made with wholesome whole wheat flour, eggs and milk, they also contain fresh orange juice and diced orange sections from Florida right in the batter, with a few currants for a perky flavor. While the pancakes are browning, chopped pecans are sprinkled on resulting in a healthful and delicious, one-course banquet.

Another breakfast of choice will surely feature Humdinger Breakfast Steak, orange sauce adds a citrus zest to the tender ham steak, which takes just minutes to broil in a skillet. Orange juice is added to the pan juices, then combined with heavy cream and simmered until the sauce is reduced by half. The sections of two fresh oranges are added, providing a delightful contrast in taste and texture to the hearty ham flavor.

POWER PACKING PANCAKES

- 1 cup whole wheat flour
- 1 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 eggs, separated
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 cup Florida orange juice
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 3 Florida oranges, peeled, diced
- 1/2 cup dried currants
- 1/4 cup coarsely chopped pecans

Sift together whole wheat and all-purpose flour, baking powder and salt. In large mixer bowl beat egg yolks. Add sugar, orange juice, milk and melted butter; beat until smooth. Add dry ingredients; stir just until moistened. (Batter should be slightly lumpy.) Stir in diced oranges and currants. Heat frying pan or griddle; grease lightly. Pour about 1/4 cup batter for each pancake onto griddle. Sprinkle with pecans. When bubbles appear on top and pancake is puffed, turn and brown other side. Repeat until all batter is used. Yield: About 36 pancakes; 6 to 8 servings.

HUMDINGER BREAKFAST STEAK

- 1 center cut, fully cooked ham steak (about 1 pound)
 - 3/4-inch thick
 - 8 whole cloves
 - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 - 1/2 cup Florida orange juice
 - 1/4 cup heavy cream
 - 2 Florida oranges, peeled, sectioned
- Slash fat around the edge of the ham steak with a steak knife. Insert cloves in fat. In large skillet melt butter; brown steak on one side 5 minutes; turn, brown other side. Remove to serving platter; keep warm. Add orange juice to skillet. Heat, scraping up bits from bottom of pan. Add heavy cream. Simmer until mixture is reduced to about 1/2 cup. Add orange sections; heat. Serve sauce over ham steak. Yield: 4 servings.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JANUARY 12, 1984
Your hopes and aspirations will be predicated upon practical foundations this coming year. You'll get what you go after, but it might take you a trifle longer than you first thought.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Organization and management are your two strongest suits today. Devote your skills to tightening-up projects that are too loosely structured. Major changes are in store for Capricorns in the coming year. Send for your Capricorn Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1 and your zodiac sign to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Happy endings of your own making are likely today because you have a substantial reservoir of endurance upon which to draw. What you start, you'll finish.

FISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You are mentally receptive today. What you learn you'll retain and later use to your advantage. Seek exposure that can broaden your intellect.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Persons with whom you deal today will be protecting their own interests, so it's important to look out for No. 1 without being too self-serving.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Do not be discouraged if things get off to a slow start. Victory can be achieved through persistence and determination.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It may prove wise today to keep your own counsel rather than to discuss important matters with others. Solutions can be found in solitude.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you've been subjected to too much pressure in the past week, try a change of pace today. Put your worldly interests aside and do something fun with pals.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Challenge brings out your better qualities today. This is to your advantage. Strength of purpose is necessary if you hope to scale the heights.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your greatest asset today is your ability to put things in proper perspective. As long as you move along logical lines, the results will be rewarding.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Whether you are putting together a business package or merely shopping for a better price, it may be necessary to negotiate forcefully today.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You may be called upon to make a difficult decision today pertaining to an old standby. Let your compassion and your feelings influence your judgment.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Approach your tasks in an orderly, logical fashion today, or else you might spend lots of time working hard but producing little.

Choline Supplement Won't Help Memory

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have a dreadful fear of Alzheimer's disease. Due to it, I watched my mother-in-law change from a delightful and humorous woman to a vegetable.

I am 62. About a year ago I had a checkup that included a three-sentence memory test and paragraph with a five-minute discussion. My memory and recall checked out fine.

Nevertheless, I find my memory failing me. If I'm working in two locations and leave my camera in the tote bag while I am working with the other camera, I totally forget it and frantically run from place to place to find it.

Or when I mentally compose a letter on my way to work, which is only 10 minutes away, by the time I get to the office the words and phrases have escaped me. Can a person have these symptoms and not have Alzheimer's disease? I think I've been aware of this problem for nearly three years. Although I find it difficult to concentrate when I am reading, I've never found myself physically confused.

Recently I heard about a medicine that is supposed to help one's memory. It's a choline supplement. Could you tell me more about it?

DEAR READER — If everyone with memory lapses had Alzheimer's disease, it would be the biggest worldwide epidemic in history. Millions of people have trouble remembering things. Often it's because of too many things on a person's mind.

outlined in numerous books available in bookstores.

Choline is important because the brain has to form acetylcholine to help your memory. The problem with choline is that it's produced in the brain. Because of the blood-brain barrier, the choline you eat doesn't get to the brain where it affects your memory. Therefore, a choline supplement isn't likely to help your memory.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Could you please tell me why a woman can begin to lactate when she isn't pregnant?

DEAR READER — It's important to know you actually are lactating. Any woman with abnormal lactation should have a breast examination by her doctor.

If there are no local problems in the breast then your doctor may want to evaluate you for the possibility of excess production of prolactin. This is the hormone from the pituitary gland under the brain that normally stimulates a woman to lactate.

Prolactin can be produced in excess amounts because of various medical conditions. Sometimes it's related to a benign tumor of the pituitary gland. In that case, medicine can be given to control the lactation.

Stress, physical stimulation of the breast and various medicines also may cause lactation. So can very low thyroid states (myxedema) and chronic kidney disease.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

one trump; his problem was to lose only two diamonds.

His best percentage play would be to lead a diamond from dummy and plan to play his nine if the ace or queen did not appear from East. If it does appear from East, he could still lead toward dummy's king. South wasn't that good a player. He had some idea of developing an end play against his opponents to force one of them to lead a diamond, so he ruffed a club and then threw West in with the queen of trumps.

West wouldn't cooperate. He simply led another club. South had to ruff and lead a diamond to dummy's king. East picked it with the ace. Now all East had to do was lead another heart, but East had been wolf-gathering along the way and had discarded two hearts on the trump leads.

East had to lead a diamond. South guessed, played his nine and the contract he had tried to chuck had been thrown right back to him.

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

The club lead was won by dummy's ace. South wasted no time in playing the hand. He cashed dummy's ace and king of trumps and ran off the hearts in order to discard his jack of clubs.

At this stage of the proceedings he had to lose

 Linus and Lucy sit sadly in the back of their family's station wagon as it pulls out of Peanuttland for the new city where their father has been transferred in Is This Goodbye, Charlie Brown? animated "Peanuts" special to be rebroadcast Friday at 8 p.m. on CBS.

'Terms Of Endearment,' 'Yentl' Top Golden Globe Nominations

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Terms of Endearment and Barbra Streisand's Yentl got six nominations each to head the list of candidates for the 1984 Golden Globe motion picture awards, viewed as a barometer of upcoming Oscar candidates.
 The mini-series The Thornbirds and Winds of War and the prime time soap opera Dynasty led contenders for television Golden Globes to be presented Jan. 28 by the Hollywood Foreign Press Association.
Terms of Endearment, the bittersweet story of a mother-daughter relationship, already named the year's best picture by Eos Angeles and New York film critics, is competing for best dramatic movie against Silkwood, The Right Stuff, Tender Mercies and Rueben.
Yentl, the story of a woman who disguises herself as a man to study Jewish law, picked up acting and directing nominations for Miss Streisand and it was nominated for best musical or comedy along with The Big Chill, Flashdance, Trading Places and Zelig.
 Nominations for best foreign film went to The Dresser and Educating Rita, both from England; Fanny and Alexander, Sweden; The Grey Fox, Canada, and Carmen, Spain.
 Besides Miss Streisand, best actress nominations in the two movie categories went to Shirley MacLaine and Debra Winger for Terms of Endearment, Meryl Streep for Silkwood, Linda Ronstadt for Pirates of Penzance, Jennifer Beals for Flashdance, Jane Alexander for Testament, Bonnie Bedelia for Heart Like a Wheel, Anne Bancroft for To Be Or Not To Be and Julie Walters for Educating Rita.
 Nominated in two categories for best movie actor were Albert Finney and Tom Courtenay for The Dresser, Al Pacino for Scarface, Woody Allen for Zelig, Michael Caine for Educating Rita, Tom Cruise for Risky Business, Eddie Murphy for Trading Places, Tom Conti for Rueben, Rueben, Robert Duvall for Tender Mercies, Richard Farnsworth for The Grey Fox, Eric Roberts for Star 80 and Mandy Patinkin for Yentl.

 Those nominated for supporting awards included Jack Nicholson for Terms of Endearment, Cher and Kurt Russell for Yentl, Gene Hackman for Under Fire and Charles Durning for To Be Or Not To Be.
 Miss Streisand's competitors for best director are Ingmar Bergman for Fanny and Alexander, Mike Nichols for Silkwood, James Brooks for Terms of Endearment, Bruce Beresford for Tender Mercies and Peter Yates for The Dresser.
Dynasty was nominated for best dramatic TV series along with Dallas, Cagney and Lacey, Hart to Hart and Hill Street Blues.
 Best musical or comedy series nominees are Buffalo Bill, Cheers, Fame, Newhart and Taxi.
Thornbirds is competing for best television movie or mini-series against Winds of War, Heart of Steel, Kennedy and Who Will Love My Children.
Thornbirds picked up a total of eight nominations, including acting selections for its stars Richard Chamberlain, Rachel Ward, Piper Laurie, Jean Simmons, Barbara Stanwyck, Bryan Brown and Richard Kiley.
Winds of War picked up three acting nominations for Jan-Michael Vincent, John Houseman and Victoria Tennant.
 Picking up double acting nominations were Hart to Hart, Robert Wagner and Stefanie Powers; Cheers, Ted Danson and Shelley Long; Buffalo Bill, Dabney Coleman and Joanna Cassidy; Kennedy, Martin Sheen and Blair Brown.

'Baby Doe' Rules Criticized

CHICAGO (UPI) - The American Medical Association says new "Baby Doe" regulations proposed by the Reagan administration would allow the government to interfere with decisions best made by parents and doctors.

The new rules, issued Monday, specify that care for handicapped newborns must be based on reasonable medical judgments and that treatment not be denied "solely on the basis of an infant's present or anticipated mental or physical impairment."

Hospitals also will be required to post notices listing a special federal telephone number to be used in reporting suspected cases in which handicapped infants are not receiving proper care.

The new regulations, which take effect in 30 days, replace regulations that were proposed last March by the Health and Human Services department but were voided by a federal court.

Sammons said only "cosmetic changes" have been made in the new rules and that the AMA does not believe the government has the authority to intervene in the medical decisions they cover.

He especially objected to regulations requiring the posting of the "hot line" number.

"This notice implies there are those within the hospital who discriminate against certain infants and that the personnel in the hospital do not act in the best interests of the patients," Sammons said.

The "Baby Doe" regulations grew out of the case of a Bloomington, Ind. baby who died in 1982 after being denied food on his parents' orders and with a court's consent.
