Goldsboro Recreational Building, promised last October, was formally approved last night by City Commissioners under the leadership of Mayor Vincent Roberts, and will start negotiations immediately for the site between Seventh and Eighth Streets and Dieander and Mangoustine Avenues.

Commissioner M. L. Raborn made the motion to have the property appraised for its true value and explained that the cost of the land would necessarily have to come out of the projected $100,000 Gverall budget. The only dissenting vote was cast by Commissioner Lee Moore.

City Manager W. E. Knowles asked to be relieved of his sent on the Goldsboro Recreational Building committee and it was recommended that Recreational Director James Jernigan be his replacement.
