PRESIDENT NIXON
...First move to clear taint

Nixon Awaits Panel's Tax Verdict On Whether He Owes $300,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, after an unprecedented disclosure of his financial affairs, awaits the verdict of a congressional committee on whether he owes up to $300,000 in federal income taxes and interest.

Baring his federal tax returns for his first four years in the White House — and more than 50 other documents — Nixon acknowledged that accountants and lawyers disagree on the propriety of his 1969-1972 federal tax payments. They totaled less than $80,000, on an income of more than $1 million.

Nixon's Saturday disclosures were the first in a promised series he hopes will clear him of any taint of wrongdoing in the Watergate scandal and other controversial areas. His first installment went further than any president before him in revealing intimate details of personal finances.

Nixon said he has enlisted the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation to decide two tax questions that could cost him heavily if it rules against him:

—Did he act legally in claiming almost $500,000 in deductions for donation of his presidential papers to the National Archives? Some argue he acted too late to take advantage of a donations law Congress passed in mid-1969.

—Did he make a taxable capital gain of $117,000 on the 1970 sale of part of his San Clemente, Calif., estate? Nixon's tax accountant claimed at the time he had no gain, but a national auditing firm concluded recently that he had made a taxable profit.

White House officials acknowledged Nixon would be liable for sizeable payments to California should state officials decide he should have filed tax returns there.

The Senate-House Committee, chaired by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., seemed uncertain as to how it would proceed in fact-finding and ruling on the questions. Mills could not be reached for comment on how the committee would proceed.

Nixon's massive release of financial statements and documents also disclosed he has paid no state income taxes in California, or anywhere else, since becoming President.

President, savings from his $200,000 annual salary and the pocketing of a taxable $85,000 from his yearly expense allowance of $50,000.

Other major disclosures made by the President included:

—The President and Mrs. Nixon, despite their sizeable income, were able through deductions for the vice presidential papers, business expenses, interest and property taxes, to reduce federal tax payments to $72,682 for 1969 and $73,000 for 1970, $878 for 1971 and $4,238 for 1972.

—The Nixons would have owed no taxes at all in 1970 save for a new "minimum tax" provision enacted as part of the 1969 tax reform law.

Corporate Donations Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Les Aspin says that officials of the nation's 100 largest defense contractors gave more than $5.4 million to President Nixon's reelection campaign last year.

And the Wisconsin Democrat said he plans to ask the Senate Watergate committee to probe the possibility there may have been more gifts which are still secret.

Aspin said a pattern to some of the gifts suggested that some of the money may have come from corporate funds rather than individuals, which is illegal under federal law.

The study is "solid evidence of the endless trade-off between big business and the Pentagon. It shows unmistakably the stake big business has in maintaining a bloated military budget," Aspin said.

"When you get right down to it, many defense contracts are nothing more than political patronage, and here's the proof," he said.

Aspin said the largest contributions were made by oil, electronics and aircraft companies. The largest item on his list is $1,039,000, which he said came from officials of the Gulf Oil Co.

Getter Gets Probation

TITUSVILLE — Accused murderer Samuel Geter, 14, today pleaded no contest to manslaughter charges in the Sept. 5 death of a 12-year-old Sanford schoolmate and was sentenced to 10 years probation by Circuit Judge Volle Williams.

Geter's trial in the death of William O'Grady, a fellow Sanford Middle School student began at 9:30 this morning. The negotiated plea came after prosecutor Newman Brock and Burns agreed Geter needed supervision, but not a jail term. (Complete story on Page 1B.)

Council To Ensure City Jobs

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — City councilman Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. will make their move to ensure city employees jobs.

Listed on the agenda for the council meeting is council policy with respect to hiring and dismissal of city personnel. City Councilman Dan Dorfman told The Herald last week to make sure no wholesale dismissal of city personnel takes place the first of the year when a new administration takes office and to put to rest the rumors a "new spoils" system will be initiated, he will sponsor the new city policy.

The policy to be approved will return all authority regarding the hiring or firing of employees to the city council. Mayor Lawrence Swedford has been in charge of personnel employment during his tenure of office to end Jan. 1 when new mayor Norman Floyd Sr. assumes office.

Also on the agenda in addition to routine reports is approval of the Heatherborn Village plat from the Condev Corp. The condominium development is to be built on Montgomery Road.

Area Drivers Question Energy Crisis Validity

By JEAN PATTESON
Herald Staff Writer

Several Sanford area residents interviewed this morning said they had weathered their second gasless Sunday without hardship or changing their Sunday driving habits, and agreed it would take a sharp increase in gas prices to radically reduce their gas consumption. All questioned the seriousness of the energy crisis.

"I don't wait till Sunday to fill up my car, and all gas stations aren't closed anyway," said Ellen Betts. "I can still go shopping on a Sunday and make local trips, though I wouldn't venture on a long trip. I think if gas stations are going to close, they should all close, or what's the point?"

She said an increase in gas prices to $1 per gallon would certainly cause her to conserve gas by eliminating pleasure trips and condensing all shopping trips into one.

"I don't think the shortage is too serious, but I may have a rude awakening," said Miss Betts.

Ruth Pettis said the closing of gas stations on Sunday did not affect her driving habits as she buys gas and does her shopping during the week. "I don't shop on Sundays; I go to church," she said. "If all shops and gas stations closed on Sundays I think the nation would be in a better condition."

She said if gas prices were increased she would do less driving. "There's just so much money, and it's got to go around. I suppose we all drive more than is absolutely necessary."

For the benefit of you later-ers, there was more than just frost on the pumpkin around 6 this morning. It was ice. (Sassah! Don't let our northern friends hear about it or else they won't want to come South and sponge off us this winter.)

It's only one man's opinion, but I still think this "shortage" is contrived...

For example, did you realize that the nation's 20 largest oil companies control almost 55 per cent of the country's known oil reserves?

And did you hear how our Secretary of State Kissinger made his NATO debut in Brussels yesterday by offering oil help to the Dutch? We don't have enough for ourselves but he's going to offer what little we have to others?

Used to be a time I'd chuckle when I heard one of the Republican stalwarts defending the party by saying something to the effect that you can't put the blame onto the party because of the actions of a few? Evidently they haven't checked the latest voting results, nor been listening to (Cont'd on page 2A)

Telephone Franchise On Lake Mary Agenda

By MARY RICHARDS
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — In the wake of municipal elections, tonight's city council meeting at 7:30 at the volunteer fire department's meeting room will be very brief, city officials say. Only three items are on the agenda — the Southern Bell Telephone Franchise, poll-worker's pay and a request from the fire department.

Council will consider first reading of the Southern Bell Franchise ordinance, but no figures on anticipated revenue have yet been released. The one per cent standard franchise rate will be explained by the Southern Bell representative tonight, acting Mayor Donald Jackson said.

Council will also consider paying poll workers in the December 4 city election. The county does not provide funds to pay the workers for city elections, Jackson said, and the council will have to consider the amount to be given.

Also on the agenda is a presentation of specifications from the city's volunteer fire department for a water tank to go on a truck chassis it already has.

County Will Seek Park Grant Funds

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

Florida has been allocated $12 million for land and water conservation by the Nixon administration, and a "very disappointed" Seminole County Commissioner Mike Hattaway today said he will ask Tallahassee to earmark the entire amount to the counties.

Hattaway, who earlier called Seminole's $250,000 application for the proposed Sylvan Lake Park "one of the best the state has ever received," said the state normally splits the federal grant money on a 50-50 basis.

However, late last week the Interior Secretary Rogers Morton said the administration was spreading $85 million throughout the 59 states and five territories.

Hattaway said Tallahassee can afford to hand over the federal money because the state has its own $40 million bond program for recreation and parks.

The federal allocations ranged from a top of $2.8 million for California to $1,051 for American Samoa. Florida's total allotment was number nine on the list.

While Hattaway said he still had hopes the county will receive its requested funds, he may face competition from municipalities within the county.

In today's work session, commissioners were scheduled to review the expanded animal control ordinance, including a strict dog control measure, and

Geter Gets 10 Year Probation; Lawyer Wants To Adopt His Client

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

TITUSVILLE— Accused murderer Samuel Geter, 14, today gained his freedom and a new father as Circuit Judge Volle Williams sentenced him to 10 years probation but withheld adjudication of guilt in the Sept. 5 death of 12-year-old William Oglesby, a fellow Sanford Middle School student.

The dramatic plea and announcement of adoption proceedings by Geter's defense attorney, T. David Burns of Bartow, came just an hour after the start of the first degree murder trial this morning.

"If convicted of the charges, Geter could have faced the electric chair. However, Burns and prosecutor Newman Brock met for lunch last Monday and agreed that a negotiated plea of "no contest" to manslaughter, and a probationary sentence, would best serve the cause of justice in the controversial case.

Geter, 13 at the time of a fight after which Oglesby died, was originally booked as a juvenile. After a review of the evidence, State Atty. Abbott Herring decided to try him as an adult. Geter turned 14 while waiting trial.

Today, Judge Williams told Geter he felt the charges against him were true, "but I'm withholding adjudication of guilt primarily because of your age."

But as then announced he and his wife have agreed to adopt the slight, 88-pound black youth. The couple already has six children.

Burns last week told The Herald "I'd be delighted to adopt Sammy, if the court will let me. He is a sweet boy, with plenty of intelligence. We would love the challenge of giving him the guidance he needs."

A tutor has already been hired to help Geter catch up with 9th grade school work missed during the weeks he spent in Seminole County jail before his Nov. 15 release to the "custodial care" of a Bartow couple who work for the Polk County Sheriff's Department.

The stormy case, which saw a change of venue, an attempted contempt citation against Burns, pleas before the State Supreme Court and a heated "lawyers battle" between Burns and the prosecutor, reached a peak in early November when chief Seminole Circuit Judge Dominick Sali agreed to the custodial care release and cited threats made against Geter's life.

Geter was indicted Sept. 11 for first degree murder by the Seminole grand jury after Oglesby died following a fight with Geter, who had a record of disciplinary problems at school.

Burns last week said Geter resented being unnecessarily placed in a special class, and that this prompted much of his aggressiveness.

Oglesby died in Florida Hospital, Orlando, after emergency treatment at Seminole Memorial Hospital failed to revive him. A controversy was sparked by apparently contradictory medical testimony from Seminole County Medical Examiner G. V. Garay, who told reporters Oglesby died from a blow to the kidney, then said death was caused by heart failure.

Garbage Converted To Fuel

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — After months of sifting through the city's garbage, a team of university researchers has concluded it's worth too much to just throw away. Dr. John Smith, a Memphis State University engineering professor who headed the team, says 82 per cent of the garbage can be converted into fuel. About 7 per cent is metal and 6.8 per cent glass which can be recycled at a profit, he said. He said plans have begun on a plant to convert the garbage which should be in operation within three years.

Rash Of Suicides Hit Madera

MADERA, Calif. (AP) — Madera, a peaceful city in the heart of the San Joaquin Valley, is suffering from a rash of suicides, many of them teenagers. "Each kid believes he has a right to kill himself if he's tired of it all," said Dr. Fred Bhatler, a psychologist and a consultant with the Los Angeles Suicide Prevention Clinic. This year, Madera County has had ten suicides, with half of them teenagers.

Burned Twice In Life

MIAMI (AP) — "Why does God hate me?" Alan McDonald asked from his hospital bed. McDonald, 23, lay in serious condition in the burn ward of Miami's Jackson Memorial Hospital, severely burned for the second time in his life. In 1969, McDonald was doused with flaming gasoline by a playmate. Last week, on an Everglades hunting trip with friends, McDonald was squatting over a bowl of gunpowder making bullets to save money when a spark from a campfire ignited the powder.

Companies Dominate Oil Reserve

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's 20 largest oil companies control almost 95 per cent of the country's known oil reserves and dominate shares of all known alternative fuels, an Associated Press study shows.

A special Senate subcommittee is investigating allegations of diminishing competition among the oil giants with an eye to defining oil company holdings in other fuels.

The AP study showed that the large oil companies also own: —More than 70 per cent of the U.S. natural gas supply. —Between 30 and 60 per cent of the nation's coal.

—More than 5 per cent of the uranium supply used in nuclear power generation. —Virtually all of the oil shale lands currently under private ownership.

Arab Oil Ministers Reveal They Won't Lift U.S. Embargo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arab oil ministers say they won't lift their embargo against the United States until Israel agrees to withdraw from all occupied territories and sets a timetable for the pullout.

The pledge to continue the boycott was issued over the weekend in Kuwait after a meeting of the 10 members of the Organization of Arab Petroleum Exporting Countries.

Resumption of Arab oil shipments to America will come only after Israel establishes "a fixed timetable" for withdrawal from all Arab lands captured since the 1967 war, including the Arab sector of Jerusalem, the ministers said Sunday.

The Israelis have vowed never to give up East Jerusalem, which they captured in the 1967 war and which contains some of the holiest shrines of the Moslem, Christian and Jewish religions. The return of East Jerusalem is a particular goal of King Faisal of Saudi Arabia, normally the chief supplier of Arab oil to the United States.

The Kuwait meeting stipulated that the embargo would not be lifted until Israel actually began withdrawing from the occupied lands. But Saudi Arabia's oil minister, Sheikh Ahmed Zaki Yamani, appeared to retreat from this in a television appearance in Washington.

Appearing on NBC's "Meet the Press," he said the Arabs will remove the embargo "when Israel agrees to withdraw and the United States guarantees the withdrawal." In an effort to force a favorable Middle East peace settlement, the Arabs initially cut total oil production by 25 per cent, promised to reduce production by 5 per cent each month, and stopped all oil shipments to the United States — and the Netherlands because of their pro-Israeli policy.

The ministers meeting in Kuwait also announced that crude oil production in January would be reduced by 5 per cent of the December production.

A similar 5 per cent production cut was ordered for December, but Japan and all Common Market countries except the Netherlands were exempted because of pro-Arab statements they issued. But the Sunday announcement in Kuwait said the January cut would apply to them.

Meanwhile, in Washington, Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan said on CBS-TV's "Face the Nation" that despite the Arab oil squeeze, the U.S. government had put no pressure on him for concessions at the peace conference expected to begin on Dec. 18 in Geneva.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, who is at a meeting of NATO foreign ministers in Brussels, is to visit the Middle East, including Saudi Arabia, later in the week in an attempt to convince the Arabs that Washington is working evenhandedly to bring peace to the region.

Military Policy To Change

BRUSSELS (AP) — Top allied diplomats report that a fundamental change is under way in France's policy of military isolationism.

Senior informants attending the year-end meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization say they have detected preparations by President Georges Pompidou's government to join in reviving the European Defense Community (EDC) that France vetoed in 1954.

It would be linked with NATO even though President Charles de Gaulle pulled France out of NATO's military system in the mid-1960s, declaring: "There is no defense but national defense."

The EDC plan called for an integrated European Army, and the French have shown no signs of abandoning their objections to integration of their forces with those of their neighbors. But the informants, French officials among them, listed several pointers suggesting Pompidou is now actively contemplating a new-style EDC.

FRED GAINES
There have been many inspiring words about overcoming our handicaps. The pages of history are filled with the stories of men and women who, despite handicaps, have achieved greatness.

Judges in the Bible tells of an interesting event which relates to the organization of an army. It says there were 700 chosen left-handed men.

The interesting fact about this great army is that these men had not always been left-handed. They were likely seasoned soldiers who had been in battle and been incapacitated of the use of their right hands—their sword hands.

They had learned to be fighters with their left hands. We all feel handicaps in our own lives. But the greatest in a person comes through when they overcome a physical and spiritual energy and adaptability which we rarely use.

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER: No one knows his limit—because he never reaches it.
