

Children's Love Of Acting Can Be Used In Education

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Education Writer

Children love to act out any incident. And this love of dramatization may serve, educationally, in many ways. It holds attention while a story is being told, helps to fix a story or fact in mind, stimulates inventiveness and quickens restless groups.

Here are a few suggestions to parents and teachers which have been prepared by the National Kindergarten Association. "Tell a Bible story for instance, the finding of Moses. Then choose children for the characters in the story. Let the group select the place to be the river and other spots for scenes of special interest. Appoint one child to retell the story, while the others pantomime it. State the general plan beforehand and all will be delighted with the performance."

All the nursery tales, from "Red Riding Hood" to "Little Miss Muffet," lend themselves to this treatment, points out the association. Stories of history of heroism are excellent, too. The Boston Tea Party, Washington crossing the Delaware, and the little Dutch boy holding back the water by keeping the sand at the hole in the dike are illustrations. The children can improvise a little in the case of the little Dutch boy — naming his father, mother, and brothers and showing what they all did, also what the village people did.

The association points out that tolerance and interracial understanding can be absorbed through dramatization of national games played by children in other parts of the world. One can find a book of such games in almost any library.

Sometimes the children like to act out a theme such as "Helping Mother." The story can be improvised by one child or by the group. In either case you may be surprised at the ability shown.

"Of course," observes the association, "in dramatization by children the parent or teacher should never try to bring about a highly finished production. If the children are to be benefited, the aim must always be for free expression on the part of each child. This, with a little help, will develop physical as well as emotional control and coordination. The entire activity must be just 'make-believe' to the child — fun — and it should never be allowed to become an overstimulated show, which would tend to develop self-consciousness and vanity. Dramatization can become one of the most unfortunate, but it should be and can easily be made to be — one of the most delightful influences in a young child's life."

Plane Crash

There were only four Maj. Perry said they were a lieutenant colonel, a major serving as pilot and two others whose rank was not known.

Their identities were withheld pending notification of the next of kin.

Lt. Walker said the plane arrived here last night from Craig Field at Selma and took off this morning for a return flight to Selma.

Lt. Comdr. John Parsons of the Naval Air Station at New Orleans said three sentries reported hearing the plane "smack the water" at 2:05 A. M.

Lt. Walker flew here from Biloxi, 80 miles to the east, in a coast guard PBV amphibious patrol plane and searched for the crashed plane. The air search was halted, however, because of the fog.

As soon as the fog clears, he said, civil air patrol planes will be sent up to continue the search.

At New Orleans airport, where the plane was cleared by the Air National Guard for a takeoff, attendants said the twin engines were heard to cut off "as quick as you can snap your fingers" after the plane was airborne.

Moments later, they said, they heard "a splash."

Each issued separate instructions to state and Service of Defense Marshall's directive of Monday outlining an "orderly" policy for mobilization of reserve units and individuals that reservists must not be kept on active duty involuntarily any longer than necessary to meet the increased manpower requirements of the services and the reservists or units recalled have been fully trained.

The services' response indicated that those objectives are in sight. At Fort Lewis, Wash., the commanding general announced he had received an order from the Department of the Army to hold up all overseas shipments of enlisted reservists taking refresher training there.

The order affects almost 12,000 reservists, including 2,000 now on the way to Fort Lewis from the Fifth Army area.

Peace indicated that more American troops may begin to flow to Europe soon, but he said the Army does not plan to send any National Guard units overseas.

Senator Says China Is Getting U. S. Oil

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Senator O'Connor (D-Mt.) last night that a ship destined for Communist China now is loading a large quantity of petroleum products, scrapped automobile tires and galvanized pipe at American ports.

O'Connor said he had turned over this information to customs officials in urging the Treasury Department to re-examine the cargo being taken aboard the vessel.

O'Connor, who is chairman of a Senate Commerce subcommittee investigating shipments of oil and other strategic materials to the Chinese, did not identify the ship. The loadings now are being made or shortly will be, he said, at Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

Candidates In City Election Favor Growth

Krider, Sam Martina Chase And Ivey Are Speakers at Meeting Of Sanford Jaycees

The future progress of Sanford was the keynote of talks Saturday night by all four candidates for the City Commission at the barbecue held by the Jaycees for more than 250 persons at the Seminole Country Club.

The speakers were Commissioner John Krider and Sam Martina in Group No. 1, and Commissioners Randall Chase and John Ivey in Group No. 2.

John Krider, incumbent in Group No. 1, pointed out that Sanford, with more than $3,000,000 in new construction during the past three years has achieved more of a building record than in the 20 years combined, and added that vacant lots are now disappearing.

Among other City accomplishments he listed the reevaluation of all property, rezoning the city, modernizing its charter and traffic laws, and adopting an up-to-date building code. The new swimming pool costing $52,000 including the $30,000 donated by Chase and Co., was pointed out as a major accomplishment. He declared that he favored going forward on the stadium and terminal projects.

Sam Martina, opponent of Mr. Krider, declared that the City is hampered by its four and a half million dollar bonded indebtedness which he declared is a burden upon the shoulders of the citizens. "We must strive to get additional industry and taxpayers in Sanford," he declared, "and not let people with a luke warm attitude hamper us."

As an example, he told of having talked last year with a large sheet manufacturer in Haverhill, Mass., who said he had intention to seek a location in Central Florida. "I came back enthused, but when I broached the idea I was told here that people were not interested because paper mills smell bad." He added that Palatka is getting a "terrific pay roll" from the Hudson Paper Co.

Sam Martina, incumbent in Group No. 2, urged that all citizens vote on fire control in Seminole County, terming it a very progressive measure, and he pointed out that more than one-half of the land owners in the county had signed a petition asking the County Commission that the measure be included in the ballot.

Market Dealers Elect A. L. Skinner As New President

A. L. Skinner was elected president of the Sanford Market Dealers Association at a meeting Friday night at the Anchor Inn. He succeeds Harold Kattner.

Greatest Southward was elected vice president; Jim Fields, secretary and Joe Coyle, treasurer.

Through the efforts of Sandy Anderson, market manager, and Nathan Mayo, state agricultural commissioner, all trucks leaving the market will have Sanford Market stickers on the windshield, it was announced at the meeting.

More than 22 dealers attended the meeting and represented citrus and vegetable dealers, truck brokers and gasoline dealers.

Plans for advertising the market in trade newspapers, signs on highways and stickers on trucks, he declared that more business than ever is anticipated this season.

COMMUNISTS LOSE VIENNA, Oct. 30—(AP)—Communism in the Soviet zone of Austria took a small defeat over the weekend.

The twenty-one small rural communities held elections for local councils. The Communists, who in an earlier vote in May received 131 votes and gained 20 seats, lost both seats and got only 78 votes.

The Conservative Austrian Peoples' Party picked up votes, and seats from both the Communists and the left of center Social Democrats. The Peoples' Party got 166 seats against a previous 148, while the Socialists dropped from 74 seats to 58.

Swedens King Dies

Sweden's beloved King Gustaf V worked on state affairs until a few days before his death. His son and new King of Sweden (top right) has for some time represented his functions outside the palace, but the six-foot seven inch monarch, who excelled at tennis, continued to govern actively. At bottom the popular ruler posed with Carl Gustaf, now Crown Prince.

Gustaf VI Made King Following Father's Death

92 Year-Old Monarch Reigned 43 Years On Swedish Throne

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 30—(AP)—Gustaf VI today was proclaimed "King of the Swedes, the Goths and the Wends," the first ruler to ascend the ancient Swedish throne in nearly half a century.

He succeeded his father, 92-year-old King Gustaf V, whose death yesterday morning after a reign of nearly 43 years plunged the nation into deepest mourning.

To all effects and purposes the son, born Prince Oscar Fredrik Wilhelm Olaf Gustaf Adolf, has been Sweden's monarch since his father's death. But at colorful ceremonies today in the cabinet council room of Stockholm's Royal Palace he took the Royal oath, pledging himself to adhere strictly to the constitution and to rule "as a righteous king and gracious father of the Swedish people by the sword."

Speaking in behalf of Donnell veteran Democratic Party worker in Palm Beach County, Vasco Peoples, chairman of the Charlotte county committee, denied there was any "deal" between them.

"Rumors of anything like that are just what they were—idle rumors," he said.

Donnell, who had the backing of his county committee, relinquished the seat to Peoples.

Anniversary Is Celebrated By Lions Club

McNulty Says Inflation Is Grave Threat To Nation; Club History Told

Inflation is a greater threat to this country than North Korea or Russia and its leaders, H. C. McNulty, banker and past international director of Lions International, told more than 100 Lions, wives and guests Friday night at the Sanford Club where the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the club was held.

Pointing out the good work created in South America and in all 29 foreign countries by Lions Clubs, he declared that one of the greatest jobs of Lions is to create international understanding.

Lions clubs now number 9,000 with a membership of more than 403,000 he said.

Urging that Lions take more interest in civil government he contrasted the 39 percent average vote in the last presidential election with the 89 percent who in Italy went to the polls last spring.

Two new Lions, Harold Lewis, grocery store manager, and Carl Williams, wholesaler of distributor were inducted as members by Mr. McNulty.

King Lion Harry Robson, president, and Henry Witte, past deputy district governor, served as toastmaster and provided some "Witte" remarks.

Ross G. Witters, chairman of the Board of Governors of Lions International, declared that Finland is the 29th country to have a Lions Club, and stated that one is now being established in Helsinki.

"If we could organize Lions clubs in every country and other civic clubs do the same, we would not have to build all this war material," he declared.

A high spot of the program was the presentation by Al Reibhaus, Jr., Mr. Dora, district governor of the Lions, to King Lion Robson of a silver plaque marking the 25th birthday of the Sanford club. A big candle-light birthday cake also signified the event.

Four of the original charter members of the Sanford Club were present.

Nationalist Party Is Attempting To Oust U. S. From Islands

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 30—(AP)—Nationalist rebels fired on the government's police here today and attacked police stations in several other towns with hand grenades and fire in an outbreak taking the shape of an organized uprising.

Three Nationalists were dead in the government's palace. Two police officers were wounded. At least six others were believed to have been killed in other areas and a number of Nationalists were killed and wounded.

The Nationalists, campaigning to oust United States government in this island, bombed and burned police headquarters at Jayuya and burned down the post office and telephone building at Utuado, both towns in the center of the island.

Police headquarters at the town of Naranjo, southwest of San Juan, was attacked, but police drove the attackers back into the mountains.

The government conferred with the chief of the National Guard on the situation throughout the island. The commissioner of education ordered public schools closed.

At the southern coastal town of Ponce, Nationalist forces were reported to have been active.

Chase, Pope, Lansing And Dawson Urge Support Of Fire Control Law

Four prominent Sanford citizens went on record today as favoring county fire control in Seminole County and urged the voters to support it in the referendum election on Nov. 7.

Randall Chase, H. B. Pope, Potter Lansing and C. R. Dawson presented arguments in favor of the program setting up a series of watch towers throughout the county and providing the special fire fighting men and equipment needed to rural fires.

Mr. Pope, Seminole County Commissioner, emphasized the protection this service would give to homes in the county as well as farms and groves. Although the control unit will be primarily a forest conservation service, all fires would be reported from the watch towers and the equipment dispatched accordingly.

Pointing out that all surrounding counties in Central Florida have such control programs, Mr. Chase said that in only one case has such unit, once started, ever been discontinued. He stressed the importance of maintaining Florida forests as a scenic attraction to encourage the tourist business.

Mr. Lansing, president of the Seminole County Wildlife Association, said he is particularly concerned over the effect forest fires have in driving game birds from the county. They take a heavy toll of game of all types, not only by direct destruction, but by ruining the food supply as well, he added.

Mr. Dawson, Seminole County Agent, said the control unit would greatly benefit local farmers in their pasture burning by being at hand if any blaze got out of control. He emphasized that the unit will have no authority over such burnings which are now subject to state law. They

What Is A Party?

There is no such thing as a national Democratic Party or Republican Party, Arthur Krock, Washington correspondent of the New York Times, told the law students of the University of Virginia. He sees the bodies going under these names as merely aggregations of state parties which often have few views in common, and sometimes are not closely knit even within a state.

HALLOWEEN

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—A new rent control law? There's been continuing talk of it, and the idea got a shot in the arm this week. President Truman said last week he may call Congress back before it's due back on Nov. 27—to consider rent controls, among other things.

Christ taught the miracle of multiplication by distinction. There is abundance for all if we share what we have, and if we all carefully conserve the very fragments God never made anything to be thrown away.

President Truman has returned to his earlier position in favor of universal military training, a project he abandoned when the war with Korea broke out. But in the long run, universal military training is the only way to raise and maintain an adequate standing army during peace times.

All-Inclusive Title

"Yours sincerely, Mary Smith." "Let me see, should we address her as Miss or Mrs. What is she ordering? A child's toy. We'll put her down as Mrs."

This old grief now has a remedy, suggested by Roy F. Bailey, a Norton, Kansas, newspaper man. He thinks that a good solution would be to write a new title abbreviation, "Ms.", which would be applied to either married or unmarried women, and be a symbol of all uses, like "Mr."

"Ms." would settle this problem, but how about the annoying persons who sign their names merely "J. C. Jones"? You reply to them briskly, "Dear Mr. Jones," and learn that your correspondent is displeased because you don't know that she is a woman.

Do some people assume that everyone knows them, or that no one wants to?

War Marriages

A spurt in marriages following the outbreak of Korean hostilities has reversed the general down trend of recent postwar years, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company reports.

From July through September, marriage licenses issued in the major cities outnumbered by 14.2 percent those issued in the same period last year. For men under 20 years of age the increase was about 20 percent.

Through June of this year, 4.2 percent fewer marriages were reported than during the first half of 1949. As a result of the rise in the third quarter of the current year, however, marriages in the first nine months were 2.2 percent higher this year than last.

Although it is still too early to assess fully the effect of the Korean incident upon the marriage rate, the Metropolitan says the relatively high level of marriages will probably not continue for any appreciable length of time.

"In many areas the marriage rush was already beginning to taper off by September," says the company.

Gustaf

Continued from Page One... Socialist Premier Tage Erlander led the oath in the presence of his cabinet and Sweden's hereditary prince, who immediately gave their pledge of allegiance to the new King Erlander then formally tendered his government's resignation and the King in turn asked the cabinet to remain in office.

The King then led a stately procession to the great hall of state in the palace, where his wife, Queen Louise, members of the royal family and court awaited. Gustaf ascended his silver throne, which was covered by his ermine mantle. His jeweled crown and scepter were placed to the left and right of the throne. High officials and military officers then pledged their allegiance, and all present paid homage to the new ruler.

The new queen, British-born Louise, is a sister of Earl Mountbatten and a great-granddaughter of England's Queen Victoria. The new crown prince is a blond, curly-haired, four-year-old boy—little prince Carl Gustaf. His father, the new ruler's eldest son, died in an airplane crash in 1947.

Meanwhile the body of Gustaf lay in Drottningholm Palace, where he died. His democratic rule had been one of the longest in Europe and the longest in Swedish history. He had suffered from chronic bronchial catarrh for several years and took a sudden turn for the worse on Friday.

The date of his funeral will be set by his heir. It will take place after 10 days but not later than Nov. 12, an official announcement said. The death of the monarch plunged his country into deep grief. Newspapers were black-bordered. Movie and theater performances were cancelled. Mourning masses were held in all churches and bells tolled throughout the country.

In a few days, the remains will be placed in the chapel of Stockholm palace, where a guard of honor will parade day and night in the ermine mantle of the dead king.

His crown and other royal insignia will be arranged around the coffin another bejeweled crown used at funerals of earlier kings of the Bernadotte line will be placed atop the coffin.

On some days, the honor guard will include Earl Marshal of court officials, admirals and generals. King Gustaf will be buried in the church last resting place of most of Swedish kings. He will lie by the side of his wife, Queen Victoria, who died 80 years ago.

Sanford Forum

Continued from Page One... The Sanford Forum is a public discussion on world government, Joseph Kamp is often quoted as an authority by opponents of the world government idea.

Kamp's background before placing confidence in his statements Kamp heads an organization called Constitutional Education League, which has been called "anti-American" by the American Commission on the Department of the Illinois American Legion. The Illinois Legion's 1949 report, as entered in the Congressional Record, stated: "In its accusations of 'Communist infiltration,' it (Constitutional Education League) makes malicious and irresponsible charges against responsible and respectable groups and individuals."

The League is a personal vehicle of Kamp's which sells its pamphlets at profiteering prices in order to insure a good living for Kamp. Kamp was imprisoned early last summer, for contempt of Congress.

In public discussions on world government, a charge of "communism" is sometimes made against federalists and United World Federalists. This charge is usually made in a generalized statement, without names or proof. Sanford federalists, alarmed by this charge, have searched diligently for evidence of communists in UWF, but have found none. However, since a federal law was passed in September requiring registration of communists and Communist front organizations, we should know whether UWF is subversive or whether those individuals who have charged it with subversion have resorted, through ignorance or malice, to slander and smear tactics.

Within the last few weeks, the United States has proposed that the United Nations General Assembly be given the power to rule, without veto, on matters of aggression. The U. S. also proposed that the U. N. be provided with a permanent police force. On Oct. 24, President Truman stated that our goal in worldwide disarmament under a "foolproof" and "genuine" plan including inspection and control. These are precisely the basic powers, operating under institutions of justice, which United World Federalists has urged be given the U. N. Perhaps attacks made on the idea of strengthening the United Nations will, in the future, be directed to our government rather than to world federalists.

Teen Talk

By VIVIAN BROWN AP News-features Writer

It's all the little "firsts" that keep popping up about how that make you conscious that this is a pretty important time of life. There's that first touch of lipstick which must be applied with a deft hand to avoid the "painted lady" look.

Those first high heels that you learn are for parties and special dates, definitely not daytime shoes. That first perfume that should emit a magical aroma about you, not the overpowering scent used by a sophisticated woman.

The first real "date," an exciting experience whether you go to a moving picture or just for a walk. So, to it goes with your first off-the-shoulder evening gown, fancy be-ruffled panties, pills and bra—getting to be a big girl is even more fun than you thought.

During this figure-conscious period young bodies need very careful support. Shoes are selected so that arches and ankles are adequately supported. Girdles and bras should be fitted by experts to help mold curves and contours properly.

Blouse muscles are sensitive and "tone" is a word which you often will hear used in describing the healthy performance of the muscles. When proper "tone" is not present, the cause often is due to undue strain, suggests Edith Lancia, brassiere designer.

Miss Lancia says the first function of a brassiere is a corrective one. It should give a natural lift and support muscles to preserve tone of breast muscles.

She advises being fitted at a reliable store whether you've got $2 or $10 to spend. Ask the fitter advice about the type of bra you should wear.

There are a number of bra styles. A bandeau is the short bralette that ends just below the bustline. A long-line bra is another variety that comes down to the waist—designed for women who need midriff control. Wired bras are used for deeper support purposes—not usually worn by very young girls.

Miss Lancia advises that you never buy a bra without first trying it on. After you've made the proper choice, go into the dressing room and have an actual fitting. Straps should be adjusted to the exact length to insure keeping the bustline in a natural position if elastic is used, see that it is full and smooth. Sometimes frequent washing stretches the elastic and HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 29 (AP)—Antonio Moreno, a top romantic star of the silent movies, shook his head today as he considered the current crop of screen lovers. "They just don't have it," sighed the Madrid-born actor, still handsome at 63. He is making a comeback to the industry he first joined in 1912.

"The new stars don't have the romantic appeal," he declared. "The real lovers are the more mature men. Take Charles Boyer, for example. I can see why women would be crazy for him. He has a romantic air about him."

"Clark Gable is another. He is simple and plainspoken. And the success of Eric Pfromm proves that women go for the man who is mature and polished."

Hardhitting Eagles Win Fifth To Take Lead In National

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—After a shaky start, the Philadelphia Eagles appeared today to be taking deep air on their third straight National Football League title.

The hardhitting Eagles opened the 1950 campaign by absorbing a 33-10 walloping from Cleveland's Browns, but they haven't lost since Coach Greasy Neale's squad clinched for the fifth straight time yesterday, taking clear title to the American Conference lead, by doubling the Washington Redskins, 35-3.
That triumph helped to break a first place tie with the New York Giants, who were dumped into third position via a 17-0 setback from the Chicago Cardinals, Cleveland, with a 46-7 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers, took the runner-up spot.
Meanwhile, the New York Yanks won the "big one," earning a 38-27 decision over the Chicago Bears, whom they never whipped before. That success gave the Yanks a full game lead in the National Conference—they've won six of their seven games—and pushed the Bears back to third.

Second position was taken over by the rampaging Rams of Los Angeles. Still on a terrific upsurge following their 70-27 massacre of the Baltimore Colts the week before, the Rams yesterday vented their power on the Detroit Lions, 45-24.
In another National Conference clash, Baltimore remained winners, suffering its sixth loss. The Bullets bowed to the San Francisco 49ers, 17-14. It was the 49ers' second triumph in a row after blowing five straight.

In another first round match, Dick Savitt of Orange, N. Y. defeated Les Hamilton of Australia, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.
The Phillips won 21 games by one run last season and lost 16 in the same margin.

With Porter Lansing elected to the presidency of the Florida Wildlife Association and John Kauter president of the Florida State Baseball League, Sanford is lacking in the sporting spotlight as never before.
This is the first time that Paul men have held either of those two important offices and it is truly an honor for the entire county to be recognized in this manner.
Mr. Lansing is well known throughout the sporting circles of Florida for his untiring work in the conservation of game and the restocking of lakes in Central Florida.
He was elected the first president of the Seminole County Sportsmen's Association and is a charter member of that organization.
He has also been an active member of the Florida Wildlife Association for the past several years, serving in the capacity of vice president for the fifth and last time before he becomes a charter member of that organization.
The local sportsmen's group has also obtained 3 state wildlife officers for Seminole County. At the time that the organization was formed, the county didn't have any wildlife officers. They now have two of them in the county and at times have had three wardens patrolling the parks and woods.
The local organization has been largely responsible for the restocking of fields with 450 pair of quail in this county. Mr. Lansing also stated that there have been nearly 250,000 bass and broom set free in the lakes of Seminole County for restocking purposes.
And congratulations to the new Florida State League President, John Kauter. He has had lots of experience in baseball and should make a good president.
John started his baseball career in 1926, when he was a youngster of 13 years. He signed with the Chicago White Sox for whom he pitched for one month before the season closed, and played in the Falls City series between the Cubs and Sox.
In 1927 he went to spring training with the White Sox and was touted as "the boy wonder" by Ray Shawk and Ed Walsh. After spring training he was sent to Jackson, Miss., in the Cotton States League. Later in the same year he was farmed to Rocky Mount, N. C. After getting off to a good start he hurt his arm and was forced to stay out of baseball for nearly a year.
In 1928 new life came to Kauter. He won ten games in a row for Rocky Mount. After the good showing with Rocky Mount he was purchased by the Brooklyn Dodgers and was farmed to Macon in 1929, for whom he won 13 games.
Kauter was recalled to Brooklyn during the spring of 1930, but was later returned to Macon where he won 16 games and added the Peaches in winning the pennant.
The Dodgers sold Kauter to the Philadelphia Phillies. Kauter's work so they bought him back for another tour of duty in the big show. Late in 1931, after a few months with Brooklyn, he was sent to Hartford, Conn., in the Eastern League where he led all organized baseball leagues with his impressive win-loss record of 18-2. Included in his games in 1931 were 11 shutout ball games.
Kauter again found himself in a Brooklyn uniform in 1932, and after two months was farmed to Jersey City in the International League. Jersey City traded him to Nashville in 1933 for Lonnie Frey and in 1934 he was bought by Philadelphia Phillies.
After tossing several games for the Phillies he was hit with a batted ball in a contest between the Phillies and the New York Giants and as the result was inactive for over a month. The Phillies sent him to Baltimore of the International League, then to Hazelton.
Kauter started the 1935 season with Hazelton, and was later sent back to Wilkes Barre.
Johnny couldn't take spring training in 1936 because of an arm injury so he came to Sanford in 1936 and returned to Hazelton to complete the season, winning 16 games. He won two games in the playoffs for Hazelton.
There he decided to give up baseball and returned to Sanford where he has lived ever since.
In 1940 Mr. Kauter became a director of the Florida State League. He also served as manager of the Sanford Celery Feds in the 1947 season, last year he was vice president of the Florida State League and he knows well the president's office during the coming season in a highly satisfactory manner for all the teams in the league.

Snead Is Favored In North, South Open Tournament

Qualifying Round Begins Today In 48th Playing Of Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C. Oct. 30.—(AP)—One hundred and thirty-five hopefuls nipped their skill against a demanding 6,952 yard champion course in today's qualifying round for the 48th North and South Open Golf Tournament.
With the field of non-invited players so large, tournament officials increased from 30 to 50 the number of places in the tournament proper starting tomorrow.
The low 50 today will join a select group of 65 others who need not qualify. A four over par 76 is qualifying good enough to make the final round.

Four 18-hole rounds in as many days will decide the $7,500 event, carrying a top prize of $1,500.
Already installed as favorite is Sam Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, S. C., golfer, who has won a year ago, posted a winning 274, only three strokes over the course record.
Snead will be challenged by a formidable field of professionals and amateur swingers that has made the entry list one of the most impressive in the tournament's history.

From the professional ranks come such threats as Clayton Heafner, Johnny Palmer, Jim Turnesa, Bob Hamilton, Chandler Harper, Joe Kirkwood, Jr., Claude Harmon and Eddie Burke, the consistent veteran, who trimmed Snead in this year's PGA championship.

Fire Prevention

will, however, if requested, assist growers in controlled burning. The state law says that any controlled burning operation must be conducted in accordance with land and all adjoining neighbors must first be notified.
The referendum, which will be voted on by separate ballot at the general election voting booths, is as follows:
"Upon the question of the establishment and maintenance of a county fire control unit in the County of Seminole, Florida, and authorizing the Board of County Commissioners of said county to levy annually a tax on all the taxable property in said county (except homestead) in the amount of $100,000, to defray a portion of the cost and expense of establishing and maintaining the said county fire control unit.
The County's share in the cost of the project will be $4,000 per year with the state and federal governments adding approximately $5,000 for a total of $12,000 annually. All the money, except for items of equipment not locally available, will be spent in Seminole County.
The tax lien for the fire control unit cannot exceed 2 mills or approximately 20 cents on each $1,000 dollar assessment. Homesteads valued at less than $5,000 are exempt from taxation, but regardless of the tax burden all landowners large and small would benefit equally under the law.
Seminole State and federal funds are available, construction work on the necessary towers and telephone communication can be begun July 1, 1951 and the actual operation of the program would go into effect on July 1, 1952.

Soil Conservation News

"I like my Pensacola Bahia grass," Perry Cameron, a Seminole Soil Conservation District cooperater made that statement this week after weighing six head of cattle that had been grazing a two and three quarter acre block for thirty-three days at his home place east of Sanford.
On September 23 Mr. Cameron stocked the small Pensacola Bahia planting with 3 cows, 2 steers and a calf which tipped the beams for a total of 3,130 pounds. On October 23 he again weighed the cattle. They totaled 3,405 pounds to show a gain of 305 pounds. At this point he decided to do a little more figuring. We came up with a gain of 1.84 pounds per head per day and the grass had produced 111 pounds of beef per acre in the 30 day period. Mr. Cameron pointed out that the business had put the cattle off feed for almost three days, and two of the cows were sickly when they were put on the grass. "These factors kept the gain down considerably," he said. We agree with Mr. Cameron. We like Pensacola Bahia grass, too.
We have recently received a great many requests for fish to stock small ponds and lakes belonging to landowners in Orange Soil Conservation District. It was necessary to explain that fish can not be provided every month of the year.
Previously mentioned in this column was the fact that bass and bream are provided by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Agency at the W. H. Rouse Ball Farm, in the beam being provided in the Fall and the loss in the Spring. The beam are always stocked before the bass. The summer months are used to make the necessary arrangements in order to determine whether a pond is in balance, whether removal of rough fish is needed, or if stocking of either bass or bream or both would be desirable. Such examinations can only be made at that time.
Landowners who desire assistance in developing fertilized and managed fish ponds should place their applications with our office in the Old Post Office Building some time before next Spring in order that their ponds may be included in the analysis schedule for next summer.

Rickey, DeWitt Talk Over Possible Deal

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Branch Rickey, currently without a baseball home, was here today for a meeting with St. Louis Browns president Bill DeWitt.
There was considerable speculation as to whether Rickey's visit to the Browns' front office will culminate in just a social call or whether it means the American League baseball club is in Rickey's future.
There have been rumors that the former Brooklyn Dodger head man might have joined the Browns organization, but they have been denied by DeWitt and disclaimed by Rickey.
Rickey also plans to see owner of the St. Louis Cardinals but this has been labeled as "not on business."
The most persistent rumors have Rickey going into the Pittsburgh Pirates organization in some capacity—but baseball fans in St. Louis are keeping an eye on the Rickey-DeWitt conference today all the same.

Maurice Costello, Silent Movie Star, Dies In Coma At 73

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Maurice Costello, matinee idol of two generations ago and father of two famous actresses, is dead. The 73-year-old white-haired actor who in the sunset of life said "It's better to be a has-been than a never-was," succumbed yesterday to heart disease and complications that had kept him in a virtual coma since Tuesday. Frequent death-bed visitors were his once estranged but later reconciled daughters, Dolores and Helene Costello, former actresses. One of the earliest of the great screen lovers, Costello had won stage ritz before he entered the infant film business. Born in Pittsburgh, Pa., he began his career there in vaudeville in 1904 with a song "Here Lies the Mick and the Lady" and others. He left the stage for the movies in 1905, taking a $30 a week job with the old Vitaphone Co., where he had to help build scenery as part of the job. Vitaphone started him by name in 1907, with no movies, but he said later, "I then became known as the first screen player to show signs of temperment." He also was the first to receive fan mail and by 1910 women mobbed him at every public appearance. A nervous breakdown in 1915 shortened his big time career and by the 1920s he was doing bit parts heavy roles or whatever was available. In recent years he lived in obscurity, doing an occasional radio "soap opera" role. Costello's domestic life was unhappy much of the time. He blamed fame. He and May Altshok...

Korean War

Republic of Korea (ROK) Sixth Division. This is about 45 miles south of the border. More than 10,000 Communists, reported to include some Chinese, in three days of fighting and forced it to flee in disorder. The Chinese regiment reported by the 10th Corps spokesman was pin-pointed in action in the northeast, south of the big Chosin hydroelectric plant reservoir about 40 miles south of Manchurian border. The plant supplies vital electric power to Manchuria. The ROK third division was stalled in its push toward the reservoir from Hamhung, on the east coast. In addition to these reinforcements, North Korean women were reported going to the front. The Reds evidently were trying to hold at all costs until wintry blizzards overtake the allied forces. On the left flank of the retreating ROK Sixth Division, the Fifth Regimental Combat Team of the U. S. 24th Division battled to within 34 miles of the Manchurian border. A correspondent William Jordan reported the Americans suffered heavy casualties from mortar and small arms fire. By nightfall, the regiment was dragging in two miles east of Kumsong after a five-mile advance. The Americans killed some 400 Reds and took 115 prisoners, including two Chinese. More gruesome evidence of Red atrocities was a uncovered—80 bodies of North Korean civilians at Pakchon, 46 miles north of Pyongyang, the former Red capital. Indicative of the increasing fury of Red resistance was their use of their heaviest weapons, tanks and self-propelled guns. Allied fighters and bombers supporting the American column and the British Commonwealth 27th Brigade of the west coast destroyed 18 tanks and seven guns. Despite the ferocity of the Communist opposition, General MacArthur Tokyo headquarters noted that "none of the enemy counterattacks was sustained." A spokesman said the Reds are "in a desperate situation." He said the Red attacks in the Onjong sector were stopped except for "a few minor gains." The ROKS are regrouping in that area, he added. A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman reported the ROK Sixth Division's withdrawal was disorganized, and that a third of its strength was lost in three days of fighting. A regiment of the ROK Sixth Division reached the Manchurian frontier Thursday above Chosin. Menaced by the Reds in the rear, it was forced to withdraw to Songju, more than 30 miles south of the Yalu River boundary. To the south, at Onjong, the Division's second regiment was surrounded Thursday, the bulk of it wiped out. Two other regiments, the 10th and 10th, were hard hit in trying to rescue the survivors of the second regiment. South Korean commanders said Chinese Communist officers led the Red forces.

United Nations

had voted for a candidate put up by what Russia terms an "illegal" member, Nationalist China. The Council approved a letter to President Nasrallah Entezam of the Assembly saying it had met again on the Lie question and had voted on the Russian resolution. It referred to the previous Council report that it was unable to make any recommendation. New York, a non-professional, were married in 1902 and Dolores and Helene were born to them. But a rift developed as early as 1910. Mrs. Costello brought the girls to Hollywood in 1925. Dolores marriage to the late John Barrymore didn't meet with Costello's approval, widening the breach, and in 1927 Costello and his wife were divorced. Two years later she died. After Dolores divorced Barrymore in 1935 the girls and their father healed the family wounds. Costello and Ruth Heven, daughter of Federal Judge Alfred I. Reeves of Kansas City, were married in 1939, but were divorced in 1941. Once when Costello was asked in recent years what became of all the money he earned in his hey-day he said: "We lived well and every down and out actor knew that 'Cos' had a check book."

Dowdy Injured

has serious internal injuries, and is under the care of specialists at Orange Memorial Hospital, Orlando, he said. Two other regiments, the 10th and 10th, were hard hit in trying to rescue the survivors of the second regiment. South Korean commanders said Chinese Communist officers led the Red forces. Mrs. Rita Craig, 515 West Fir Street, suffered somewhat from shock and was attended by Dr. J. N. Tolar following an automobile collision at Elm Avenue and Fifteenth Street this morning at 8:54 o'clock. Damage to her 1940 La Salle Sedan was estimated by the police at $350. The other car in the accident was a 1948 Ford Coupe driven by Almer Freeson, Negro, and damage was put at $500. Tile-like flooring consisting of spray wood with the end-grain exposed has been developed at Purdue University. A portable plow unit has been developed for quick clearing of forest fire lines.

Farmers Markets Hold First Pecan Sales Of Season

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 30.—(Special)—The season's first pecan auctions to be held at State Farmers Markets were held in Bonifay and Starke the past week. On Tuesday, the Bonifay Market held a light volume though prices were fairly satisfactory. Stewarts led with a price of 30 1/2c per pound, Schley 29 1/2c, Moore 27 1/2c, Success 27 1/2c and Seedlings 25c. The sale on Thursday at the Starke Market totaled 40,000 pounds with prices ranging from 26c for Schleys to as low as 11 1/2c on Tesch, Curtis and Stewarts brought 26c, Mahans 25c, Mixed and Kennedys brought 27c and 27 1/2c, Moneybags 25c, Seedlings and Success 25 1/2c to 25 3/4c, Randalls 24c, Van Demons 25c, Presidents, Prochers and Brantleys 24 1/2c. Sales will be held each week during the season on Tuesday at Bonifay and on Thursday at the Starke Market, according to William L. Wilson, Director of State Markets. Reports from other markets in the system show 13,929 field crates of cucumbers brought a distressingly low average price of $1.42 per bushel on the Wauchula State Farmers Market during the past week with light volumes of pepper, eggplant, white and yellow squash, tomatoes, okra and pole beans bringing the total packages to 14,161 with a gross revenue of $20,404 and forecasts for this week indicate a reduction in cucumber volume due to storm damage, though harvesting of new fields is expected to commence shortly and volume and quality will improve. Other commodities are expected to show an increase from now on. The Pahokee State Market reports during the past week the salvaging of storm damaged corn there and from the Indian River section, and also of beans. Damaged corn, bean and celery fields have been cultivated and dusted and may yield fair crops. Planting in dried out irrigated fields is now fairly heavy. A hard movement of better quality corn and beans is anticipated this week. The Sanford State Farmers Market reports the citrus packing houses resumed operations at a high speed as hurricane damage to fruit in Central Florida appears negligible. Growers and dealers are reported as being discouraged owing to heavy loss to the bean crop. A 1947 Ford coupe was estimated at $150. A 1937 Chevrolet Sedan, driven by Julius Bridges, Orlando Negro, ran into the back end of the parked Ford. J. Pierpont Mitchell of Sanford, driving south on the old Orlando Highway toward Five Points at 7:30 P.M. Sunday, narrowly escaped injury when the rear wheel on his 1947 club coupe locked and it hit a telephone pole causing damage to the car, estimated at $150. Mrs. Rita Craig, 515 West Fir Street, suffered somewhat from shock and was attended by Dr. J. N. Tolar following an automobile collision at Elm Avenue and Fifteenth Street this morning at 8:54 o'clock. Damage to her 1940 La Salle Sedan was estimated by the police at $350. The other car in the accident was a 1948 Ford Coupe driven by Almer Freeson, Negro, and damage was put at $500. Communists China
pendent of the Calcutta newspaper, The Statesman, reported the Chinese Communists were believed planning a three-pronged drive on Lhasa, from both the northeast and southeast, as well as other advances into Eastern Tibet and into the north of the remote Himalayan Lama-ruled country. The Indian government spokesman added that Tibet has asked India for any diplomatic assistance it could give—specifically for the "continuance of the good offices which India has made available in the past." The spokesman did not say what assistance India planned but denied that the Tibetan message included a request for military assistance or that the Chinese invasion be brought before the United Nations. India already has sent a note to the Chinese Communist government in Peking expressing regret and surprise at the Red order to invade Tibet. The spokesman said no answer had been received to this note. He added that according to latest reports the Tibetan delegation which has been negotiating here with the Chinese Communist ambassador still planned to go to Peking for further talks. The Tibetans, he said, had gone to Kalimpong, near the India-Tibet frontier, to pick up their baggage and planned to leave for Peking, via Hong Kong, at the end of the first week in November. The Indian spokesman said his government's representative in Lhasa also reported considerable Communist infiltration into this country. He said that pamphlets were being distributed in an effort to spread disaffection among the Tibetans. The Statesman's correspondent in Kalimpong reported the Communist advance units were in the 15,000 foot Dongma Pass, about 850 miles northeast of Lhasa. He said Communist thrusts on the capital were expected from these points—Yushu (Jyekundo), in the Chinese province of Tsinghai about 400 miles northeast of Lhasa, and Nagchuka, considered the easiest route toward the Tibetan capital; from Yushu, in Kham, and from Druya, in southeastern Tibet.

Puerto Rico
Police, in the area where the outbreaks began, police reinforcements were moving in. Shooting also broke out at Arecibo on the northern coast. Well informed sources said the nationalists, members of a small but well organized party which follows much the same line as the Communists, planned demonstrations to coincide with registration of voters Nov. 4, in connection with Puerto Rico's new constitution. The Nationalists, opposing the constitution, demanded complete independence of this territory from the United States. The outbreak began in two southern coastal towns. Later police and Nationalists clashed at a northern coastal town, and then firing broke out in San Juan before the police occupied by Governor Luis Munoz Marin and in front of the San Juan post office. The governor issued a statement urging the populace to keep calm. General Luis Esteves of the National Guard said he had not yet considered calling out the guard to cope with the Nationalists, a small but well organized party which wants the United States to give Puerto Rico complete independence. Eight Nationalists were reported under arrest in the coastal areas. Although the Nationalists follow much the same line in Puerto Rico as the Communists, there was no evidence that the Communists were involved in the outbreak. Both parties demand the complete independence of Puerto Rico from the United States. The island is a territory whose 2,000,000 people are U. S. citizens. The clashes occurred at Ponce, 50 miles southwest of San Juan, and the nearby town of Penuelas, both in the southern coastal area, and at Arecibo on the northern coast. Nationalist opposition to the government intensified recently over the issue of a new constitution which congress approved. Nationalists stormed the police station at Ponce and an armed clash ensued. Meanwhile a group of 30 men carrying out a search for the president of the Nationalist Party, Pedro Albizu Campos, went to the home of Albizu's mother near Penuelas and were met by gunfire. The police returned the shots. A report from Ponce said the situation at Penuelas was serious. It said a number of Nationalists with arms and ammunition were entrenched in the mountains nearby. Their fire wounded four police. At least three Nationalists were killed in the clashes. About a mile from Ponce, a police corporal was shot and killed by a group of men in an automobile. The assailants abandoned the car, containing bombs and ammunition, and fled on foot. Late last week Police had been alerted to the possibility of violence after four men in San Juan were found in possession of arms and ammunition. The four were turned over to internal security agents last week and unofficial sources said the U. S. Federal Bureau of Investigation was called in. LATER NOTICE

He said that pamphlets were being distributed in an effort to spread disaffection among the Tibetans. The Statesman's correspondent in Kalimpong reported the Communist advance units were in the 15,000 foot Dongma Pass, about 850 miles northeast of Lhasa. He said Communist thrusts on the capital were expected from these points—Yushu (Jyekundo), in the Chinese province of Tsinghai about 400 miles northeast of Lhasa, and Nagchuka, considered the easiest route toward the Tibetan capital; from Yushu, in Kham, and from Druya, in southeastern Tibet.

Puerto Rico

Police, in the area where the outbreaks began, police reinforcements were moving in. Shooting also broke out at Arecibo on the northern coast. Well informed sources said the nationalists, members of a small but well organized party which follows much the same line as the Communists, planned demonstrations to coincide with registration of voters Nov. 4, in connection with Puerto Rico's new constitution. The Nationalists, opposing the constitution, demanded complete independence of this territory from the United States. The outbreak began in two southern coastal towns. Later police and Nationalists clashed at a northern coastal town, and then firing broke out in San Juan before the police occupied by Governor Luis Munoz Marin and in front of the San Juan post office. The governor issued a statement urging the populace to keep calm. General Luis Esteves of the National Guard said he had not yet considered calling out the guard to cope with the Nationalists, a small but well organized party which wants the United States to give Puerto Rico complete independence. Eight Nationalists were reported under arrest in the coastal areas. Although the Nationalists follow much the same line in Puerto Rico as the Communists, there was no evidence that the Communists were involved in the outbreak. Both parties demand the complete independence of Puerto Rico from the United States. The island is a territory whose 2,000,000 people are U. S. citizens. The clashes occurred at Ponce, 50 miles southwest of San Juan, and the nearby town of Penuelas, both in the southern coastal area, and at Arecibo on the northern coast. Nationalist opposition to the government intensified recently over the issue of a new constitution which congress approved. Nationalists stormed the police station at Ponce and an armed clash ensued. Meanwhile a group of 30 men carrying out a search for the president of the Nationalist Party, Pedro Albizu Campos, went to the home of Albizu's mother near Penuelas and were met by gunfire. The police returned the shots. A report from Ponce said the situation at Penuelas was serious. It said a number of Nationalists with arms and ammunition were entrenched in the mountains nearby. Their fire wounded four police. At least three Nationalists were killed in the clashes. About a mile from Ponce, a police corporal was shot and killed by a group of men in an automobile. The assailants abandoned the car, containing bombs and ammunition, and fled on foot. Late last week Police had been alerted to the possibility of violence after four men in San Juan were found in possession of arms and ammunition. The four were turned over to internal security agents last week and unofficial sources said the U. S. Federal Bureau of Investigation was called in.

Communists China

pendent of the Calcutta newspaper, The Statesman, reported the Chinese Communists were believed planning a three-pronged drive on Lhasa, from both the northeast and southeast, as well as other advances into Eastern Tibet and into the north of the remote Himalayan Lama-ruled country. The Indian government spokesman added that Tibet has asked India for any diplomatic assistance it could give—specifically for the "continuance of the good offices which India has made available in the past." The spokesman did not say what assistance India planned but denied that the Tibetan message included a request for military assistance or that the Chinese invasion be brought before the United Nations. India already has sent a note to the Chinese Communist government in Peking expressing regret and surprise at the Red order to invade Tibet. The spokesman said no answer had been received to this note. He added that according to latest reports the Tibetan delegation which has been negotiating here with the Chinese Communist ambassador still planned to go to Peking for further talks. The Tibetans, he said, had gone to Kalimpong, near the India-Tibet frontier, to pick up their baggage and planned to leave for Peking, via Hong Kong, at the end of the first week in November. The Indian spokesman said his government's representative in Lhasa also reported considerable Communist infiltration into this country. He said that pamphlets were being distributed in an effort to spread disaffection among the Tibetans. The Statesman's correspondent in Kalimpong reported the Communist advance units were in the 15,000 foot Dongma Pass, about 850 miles northeast of Lhasa. Puerto Rican Rebels Driven From Jayuya

National Guard Units Strafe Nationalist Forces Fifty Miles South Of San Juan

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 31.—(AP)—National Guard forces determined to smash remaining resistance of U. S.-hating Nationalist rebels, drove instructional forces out of their stronghold at Jayuya today in a combined attack by strafing planes and troops.

The government troops began mopping up pockets in Jayuya, a center of the Nationalist revolt which erupted yesterday, and sent spearheads toward Utuado, about 10 miles to the west, where a force of about 60 or 70 die-hard Nationalists were dug in.

The casualty toll for the uprising—wound in the island's history—rose today. It was difficult to estimate the number of dead and wounded. Latest reports indicated the figure for both sides at about 30 dead and 25 wounded, but it may be higher.

Jayuya, about 50 miles southwest of San Juan, was the scene of some of the bloodiest of the fighting in the rebellion, which the governor of Puerto Rico said was a conspiracy help by the Communists. The Nationalists, who echo the Communist line, want the United States to give full independence to this territory of 2,000,000 people.

The revolt flared in more than 10 centers on the island, including San Juan, where 1,500 troops stood by today for action wherever they might be needed.

The government forces opened their attacks on Jayuya and Utuado early this morning. Eight fighter planes strafed the two towns before they were ordered by the insular police chief to stop. The strafing was done with machineguns, bazookas and tanks.

Before radio communications were temporarily broken, a message from Utuado said the town was equipped with machineguns, bazookas and tanks.

Florida Exhibit Is Well Received At St. Louis Meeting

Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson was enthusiastic over the Florida exhibit which he viewed for about an hour during the recent convention of the National Association of Postmasters at the Jefferson Hotel, St. Louis, Oct. 29-30.

Mr. Field, who had been appointed by the Florida postmasters group to make arrangements for the exhibit, personally conducted Mr. Donaldson around the exhibit and invited him to attend the state convention of postmasters in Panama City in November.

H. B. Lucy, manager of the hotel, was quoted by Mr. Field as stating the Florida exhibit, occupying a large portion of the main floor, was the most outstanding ever shown at the hotel.

Photographers from Life and Time magazines were present to make pictures of the paintings and dioramas, and the huge 19 foot replica of the Seal of Florida, at the base which were displayed.

Two large paintings included the landing of Ponce de Leon, and a portrayal of Chief Oseola. Dioramas in action showed the St. Johns River, Florida groves, and an ocean scene with waves rolling.

Among outstanding exhibits, said Mr. Field, was that of the paper industries of Florida. This portrayed all phases of manufacture and transportation, and specimens of pines from saplings to sections of 17 year old trees were shown.

More than 4,000 postmasters from throughout the nation viewed the exhibit, and many expressed interest in Florida and read the many pamphlets, including 300 from Seminole County, he declared. They enjoyed free orange juice given to them by costumed girls from Florida, 15,000 Florida cigars and more than 6,000 sacks of salted peanuts from this state.

So outstanding was the exhibit that many St. Louis citizens and children came to see it, he added. Mr. and Mrs. Field arrived back in Sanford early Sunday morning.

John Boettiger Dies In Plunge From N. Y. Hotel

Former Newspaperman Was 'Son In Law Of Roosevelt'

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(AP)—John Boettiger, 50, former son-in-law of President Roosevelt, plunged to his death this morning from the seventh floor of an exclusive Manhattan hotel.

Police said he had been in a depressed state of mind for several days and was under the care of a male nurse.

They said he awakened this morning, asked to have the window opened wide, and then huddled sidewalk below and he was killed instantly.

Boettiger, a lifelong newspaperman, was the divorced husband of the late president's only daughter, the former Anna Roosevelt Dall, mother of "Sittie" and "Huzzie" Dall.

Boettiger and Anna had one child of their own before the divorce, John Boettiger, Jr.

Boettiger was a political reporter for the Chicago Tribune assigned to cover Mr. Roosevelt's second campaign tour when he met the president's daughter.

The romance blossomed quickly. Boettiger left the Tribune, and after the marriage became publisher of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, one of the West's papers.

He left the P-I during the war to serve in the American Military Government overseas, and after the war returned to Seattle without resuming his publishing position.

He and his wife later went to Phoenix, Ariz. The couple was divorced two years ago.

Boettiger married Virginia Daly Lunn of Phoenix, Ariz., at the Hague Nov. 1, 1949. She has a daughter, now 8. She formerly was married to Richard Lunn, stepson of former Senator Walter H. White of Maine.

Mrs. Boettiger, 34, a vivacious blue-eyed brunette, was born in Pasadena, Calif. She won a scholarship to the Royal Acad.

BEograd, Yugoslavia, Oct. 31.—(AP)—A former army major and 12 comrades accused of plotting the overthrow of Marshal Tito were given prison terms of from five to 15 years by a district court last night.

Vilhelm Tomasic, 40-year-old former officer in the Yugoslav army, was the leader of the group of peasants, merchants and intellectuals alleged to have distributed leaflets urging farmers to stay out of government-sponsored collective farms and to sabotage government grain collection. He also was accused of seeking aid from American and other foreign embassies.

General Assembly Is Urged By U. S. Attorney General

To Keep Lie As Secretary General

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The United States, urging that Trygve Lie be continued as U. N. Secretary General, appealed to the General Assembly today to override Russian efforts to oust him.

"The issue that confronts us now is part of the struggle to peace," U. S. delegate Warren Austin told the Assembly. "We cannot permit our efforts to be undermined, sabotaged, or attacked indirectly by a veto of the man who had the courage to bring the Council to rest aggression in Korea on the 25th of June."

"We know from experience that Trygve Lie will perform his duty independently and conscientiously. We know that he will defend the charter."

Austin referred to Russian efforts to veto Lie's reelection in the Security Council, and to the vetoless Assembly.

"The veto was not employed because Mr. Lie had been elected, timely, or devoted to his duty. It was employed because his actions, in response to the expressed wish of 53 member states, did not conform to the national policies of one of the permanent members."

Austin said Russia's veto "was employed to punish the Secretary General for carrying out faithfully the resolutions of the Security Council to resist aggression in Korea."

He said the U. S. resolution to extend Lie's term for three years is "a continuation of its effort to maintain the integrity and independence of the office so that the Secretary General, wherever he may be, could function."

Support of States Rights Party Cuts Down Patronage Privileges

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Mississippi congressmen still appear to be in the Administration's doghouse as far as patronage is concerned.

This is shown in the record of civil nominations sent by President Truman to the Senate this far this year and of confirmations voted by that body.

This record shows that the President, up to the time Congress recessed in September, sent 26,000 nominations to the Senate, of which 25,500 were confirmed, 400 rejected, six withdrawn and 50 not acted on.

Included were 1,197 postmaster nominations of which 1,114 were confirmed, five withdrawn and 78 unconfirmed. None were rejected.

Of the postmaster nominations only 10 were Mississippians. And of these only four were confirmed by the Senate. The others were held up by committees because of objection by the Mississippi senators.

This all goes back to the 1948 election campaign, when Miss-

Henry Simpson And Sonny Powell Are Taken Into Club

The four candidates for the City Commission spoke to the Rotary Club yesterday in behalf of their candidacies which will be voted upon in the election on Nov. 7. They are: John Kridler and Sam Matlock in Group No. 1 and Ray Hill and Bill Hays in Group No. 2.

Upon suggestion of Randall Clark the club voted to send a package of CAR for a former Rotarian in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and defray the cost of $10.

A resolution in memory of the late Edward Higgins, a charter member and past president of the Rotary Club, was read by George Tully and a page in the minutes dedicated to his memory. The meeting was presided over by the club's business manager, Jack Hartigan, and in charge of the program and in resolved the speakers.

Mr. Kridler said that it is apparent that Sanford has finally found a candidate for everyone of the candidates for the Commission. He said that he is glad to welcome these new members to the club and that he is sure that they will bring to the club the best of everything.

Through the efforts of the City Commission, one man was brought here who is now building a $25,000 home for himself and has built 100 additional homes for others, Mr. Kridler said. Sanford has secured hundreds of homes.

Sanford Children Prepare To Enjoy Halloween Fun

Tonight is Halloween, and Police Chief Roy G. Williams today warned youngsters against vandalism or destruction of property, adding that while it is "nice to have fun," damaging things is not in the spirit of the holiday.

At the South Side Primary School the big annual carnival and refreshments will be served. A large number of refreshments will be served, and much fun is in store for the youngsters.

The "Crazy Cate," Sanford's organization, had its big Halloween party Saturday night at the City Hall club room.

There are many games and stunts appropriate for the night of celebration that world has adopted for the Eve of "All Saints Days," adopted even before the Christians had a calendar.

The Eve was once a pagan festival time, which explains many of the superstitious practices still made part of a Halloween program including mystic midnight rites, weird ceremonies designed to induce spirits to tell fortunes.
