13 Die As Hindus Look To Avenge Gandhi

Street Fighting Erupts In Indian Cities

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Thirteen people were killed and hundreds injured in street fighting today and troops were ordered into seven cities to head off a religious war against Sikhs by Hindus avenging the assassination of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi.

Troops fired into a battling mob of Sikhs and Hindus in Bokara, west of Calcutta, killing four and injuring 32. In Calcutta, Sikhs and Hindus battled at close quarters with clubs and swords. One combatant was beheaded with a swipe of a Sikh scimitar and another was set afire.

Gandhi's son, Rajiv, sworn in as her successor, called the Cabinet into emergency session to deal with growing sectarian violence that has killed at least 13 people and hundreds injured since the assassination Wednesday.

Most Sikhs, distinguished by their beards and turbans, were in hiding but pitched battles broke out at a Sikh temple in central New Delhi and in the state of West Bengal. Hindus and Sikhs battled each other with clubs and swords in several cities.

More than 60 fires set by rioters sent smoke billowing over New Delhi and automatic weapons fire echoed through the streets of the capital on the first of the official 12 days of mourning for the 66-year-old prime minister killed by two Sikh members of her security staff. Sikhs are a religious minority in India where Hinduism is the main religion.

As Gandhi's body lay in state at her childhood home in New Delhi — where more than 70 people were hurt when mourners stampeded through police barricades to get a glimpse of the flag-shrouded body.

Witnesses to a Sikh-Hindu clash outside the Rakabganj Sikh temple in central New Delhi said two people were killed in a battle with swords and clubs. One man was beheaded with a swipe of a Sikh scimitar. Another was doused with kerosene and set afire, his body left smoking in the street before the temple.

Truckloads of green-clad soldiers moved into New Delhi, Calcutta, Kanpur, Allahabad, Lucknow, Banaras and Jabalpur to reinforce police and paramilitary forces, the Home Ministry said.

The Press Trust of India reported one man shot and killed in New Delhi and two others killed outside a Sikh temple in Calcutta.

In Tiruchlappalli, 1,200 miles south of the capital, a 24-year-old Hindu railway worker killed himself by pouring kerosene over his head and lighting a match, shouting "Indira Gandhi Zindabad" — "Long live Indira Gandhi."

More than 400 people were treated for injuries in one New Delhi hospital alone.

The streets of the capital were littered with the smoking shells of scores of automobiles, buses and trucks burned by rioters. Reports from many sections of the capital said shops owned by Sikhs had been burned and the owners and their families terrorized.

On Their Mark Flamelieters Tapped For Games

Shuffleboarder A.C. Madden of Sanford and synchronized swimmer Mary Rose of Altamonte Springs will light the flame for the 10th annual Golden Age Games. Special section on the Games inside today's Herald.

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Preparations are ready and 'set to go' for the opening of the Sanford's 10th annual Golden Age Games Monday and two 10-year veterans of the Games executive committee have been selected to light the official flame.

A.C. Madden, 84, of Sanford, who coordinates the Games shuffleboard tournament, and Mary Rose, 53, of Altamonte Springs, who helps run the American Red Cross swimming events, will be this year's torchbearers, announced Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce President Jack Horner.

Mrs. Rose, an internationally known synchronized swimmer, was recently named to the Seminole County Sports Hall of Fame.

The opening ceremonies will begin at 9 a.m. at the Sanford City Hall following a planned rip-roaring Fallen Arches parade that will begin at 8:30 at Fifth Street and Park Avenue and move north to the city hall. Entries should form up at 8 a.m., parade chairman Vic Arnett said.

The honorary chairman of the Games Bob Mathias, two-time U.S. Olympic decathlon gold medalist and former congressman, will arrive in Sanford Sunday. He will be met at the airport by Horner in a "stretch" limousine. The Holiday Inn will be providing him with a place to stay while he is here for the Games.

Ex-Deputy Arrested For Drugs, Theft

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A former Seminole County sheriff's sergeant has been charged with possession of cocaine, grand theft and possession of stolen property, including firearms.

Oscar Redden, 38, of 1010 Mellonville Ave., Sanford, was arrested at 9:47 a.m. Wednesday at the State Farmer's Market, 1300 S. French Ave., Sanford. He has been released from the Seminole County jail on $8,000 bond.

Sanford police reported they received an anonymous telephone tip Wednesday morning that a man at the Farmer's Market was trying to sell guns and other items from his pickup truck.

Two detectives went to the scene and met with Redden. He reportedly gave the officers permission to "check anything they wanted" in his truck.

The detectives reported finding a bag of white powder believed to be cocaine on the dashboard of the truck, a .22-caliber, semi-automatic pistol was found on the driver's side floor and a 16 channel police scanner was found in the open area of the truck. The police report said the gun had been stolen in Orange County and the scanner had been stolen in Volusia County.

Redden resigned from the sheriff's department in April of 1977 for "personal reasons." He had served as a deputy for seven years, according to sheriff's spokesman John Spolski. The arrest report said Redden is now self-employed.

Redden is scheduled to appear in court Nov. 16.

'We Don't Know How Many Will Die'

Power Crisis Looms For Poor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A consumer group is warning that several million Americans face a winter without heat because their natural gas service will be cut off for lack of payment.

"The energy crisis for the poor has become a permanent and growing fixture on the American scene. Those without heat will be facing severe health and safety problems. We don't know how many will die," said Howard Fox, an analyst for the National Consumer Law Center.

The center released a survey Wednesday that said more than 1.6 million households had natural gas service disconnected last year. The group predicted that this winter, if the trend holds, the figure will top 1.8 million.

"The utility shut-off problem seems to defy the economic recovery," Fox said.

Center officials attribute the problem to several factors, including federal assistance failing to keep pace with rising fuel prices and an inadequate commitment by states, localities and

Gas Leak Disrupts SCC Classes

Several classes at Seminole Community College were cancelled Wednesday afternoon when a tank of ammonia gas seeped its noxious content in a first-floor mechanical drafting room.

No injuries were reported.

According to a Sanford Fire Department report, a "packing nut" on the top of a bottle tank of ammonia was mistakenly loosened at about 1 p.m. during class in the northeast corner room of building "J." The loose nut allowed the pressurized canister to expel its nose-assaulting content which seeped outside the building and to other rooms on the first and second floor. The pungent vapors prompted an evacuation of the two-story building, interrupting secretarial, business and nursing classes.

The usual instructor for the class was out of town on education-related business when the incident occurred.

Ammonia is an alkaline compound of nitrogen and hydrogen used in copiers making blueprints, and can be harmful in strong solutions, according to medical references.

According to the report, fire fighters ventilated the room with a fan and other afternoon classes in nearby rooms were cancelled.

Night classes in the building were held as scheduled. Other classes on campus were not disrupted by the discharged fumes, according to the report.

One instructor from the business department said the ammonia was not noticeable on the second floor until the evacuees stepped outside the building where the concentration of the gas seemed stronger.

Sanford Fire Department sent an engine, a tanker and a rescue to the scene and left at 3:45 p.m.

Bandits Tie Up Teller And Rob Altamonte Bank

Two bandits tied up a teller and took an undetermined amount of cash from an Altamonte Springs bank early today.

The male robbers, who were both armed with handguns, tied up a clerk at Sun Bank, Douglas Road at state Road 434, before making their getaway at about 7:30 a.m. with two cash boxes from the drive-in window of the bank, according to Altamonte Springs police officer Edna Webb.

At the time of the robbery, former Florida Highway Patrol Sgt. Jim Humphries was riding in the WHOO radio traffic watch airplane and spotted a suspect running from the area of the bank and alerted Altamonte Springs police.

Altamonte officers, along with five units from the Seminole County Sheriff's Department and Longwood police tracking dogs, responded to the scene, but the suspect reportedly climbed over a concrete wall into a residential area and got away.

Attorney General Smith Cited For Contempt Of Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Less than a week before the election, a Republican senator is pressing a criminal contempt of Congress citation against Attorney General William French Smith for failing to turn over files on an investigation of the General Dynamics Corp.

The citation issued by Sen. Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, Wednesday could prove embarrassing to the administration, but it likely will have no effect unless the Senate votes in support of a contempt resolution early next year.

A Justice Department spokesman called the action "terribly disturbing," stressing top department officials had "on numerous occasions" attempted to explain that releasing the files would jeopardize a new grand jury inquiry into the company.

Grassley said the department has "tied the hands of the subcommittee" in its investigation of the decisions not to seek fraud indictments against General Dynamics and two other shipbuilders that filed nearly $1.8 billion in cost overrun claims on Navy contracts in the 1970s.

Tanker May Have Been Bombed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — FBI agents say a bomb may have touched off two powerful explosions aboard a 632-foot tanker shortly after the fuel-laden vessel had sailed under the Golden Gate Bridge out to sea.

Two men, a bar pilot who was debarking and an officer of the tanker, were critically burned. One crewman was missing.

The force of the pre-dawn blasts about 3 miles west of the span Wednesday blew several of the 28 crew members overboard and peeled open a large section of the top deck, officials said.

Coast Guard boats rescued the survivors and commercial tugs then towed the listing 35,000-ton tanker, the Puerto Rican, to an area about 25 miles off the coast outside shipping lanes.

FBI agent-in-charge Robert Gast said, "The nature of the explosion was highly unusual and leads to speculation there might have been a bomb aboard." He noted that the ship was involved in labor problems that included picketing of the vessel while in the San Francisco Bay area the past few days.

A Lot Of Tricks On Halloween

By United Press International

In Chicago Halloween tragedy struck with the screech of tires through a crosswalk filled with trick-or-treaters, but elsewhere the terror was more subtle — a pin in a Snickers, a needle in a Tootsie Roll, a razorblade in a Three Musketeers.

Two young children in Chicago were run down by a speeding motorist who careened through a rain-slickened crosswalk. Another child and an adult were seriously injured. In Stamford, Conn., a gunman wearing a mask and wig shot a restaurant owner to death in a robbery.

In other parts of the nation the notion of Halloween as a children's holiday continued to deteriorate under reports of doctored candy.

Arrest May Clear Up Over 100 Auto Break-Ins

ORLANDO (UPI) — Orange County investigators believe they have cracked a major car-burglary ring that is responsible for more than 100 break-ins in the past five months at central Florida hotels and tourist attractions.

Ronald Coppertino, 28, of Philadelphia, was being held without bond in the Orange County Jail. Although Coppertino has been charged with only three counts each of burglary and grand theft, investigators believe he has broken into more than 100 vehicles since last May.

Investigators said four other Pennsylvanians might be involved in the operation with Coppertino, who also is known as Ronald Fromm.

The rash of vehicle break-ins began last May, deputies said. Dozens of vehicles left in parking lots at Walt Disney World, Sea World, Circus World, Gatorland Zoo and hotels along Orlando's International Drive were burglarized during the five-month period.

Investigators said in most cases, luggage was stolen from the cars. Items such as jewelry, cameras, old coins and cash were removed and the suitcases were discarded in trash bins, authorities said.

It Was All A Misunderstanding

BRANDON (UPI) — Officials of the Dandon Moose Lodge say the report that a black firemen could not attend a fund-raising barbecue there last month was an "unfortunate misunderstanding."

But Ken Thornton, fire chief of the volunteer Bloomingdale Fire Department, says that is not what he was told and the board of the Bloomingdale Fire Association says it will have nothing further to do with the lodge.

Oscar Wildman resigned two days after the Sept. 29 barbecue, saying he was upset by the incident. Lodge officials sent Wildman a letter this week apologizing, but Wildman said the action does not change his feelings about the incident.

Last week, Thornton said a lodge official called the night before the fund-raiser and told him blacks are not permitted on the lodge's grounds. He said he relayed that message to Wildman.

Baby Fae's Progress Amazes Her Doctors

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (UPI) — Baby Fae, her baboon heart beating steadily, is doing so well today that one of her doctors said he almost mistook her for a normal baby on the same floor of the hospital.

The infant, now 18 days old, has lived longer than any other recipient of a heart transplanted from another species. A hospital spokeswoman said she was "really gulping her baby formula" and doing very well.

"The baby is being weaned away from the oxygen concentration, showing remarkable progress, taking formula from a bottle, and showing no indication of any crisis of any sort," said Dr.

'There's another normal baby on the same floor and I tell you I couldn't tell the difference.'

—Dr. Theodore Mackett

David Hinshaw, professor of surgery at Loma Linda University Medical Center, where the life-saving transplant was performed last Friday.

Hinshaw told a news conference the baby was expected to "go home like any other child, although it is not in our province to predict when."

Dr. Theodore Mackett, chairman of transplant services at the hospital, said he was "amazed at how well the baby looks — just like any other baby."

"There's another normal baby on the same floor and I tell you I couldn't tell the difference," said Mackett.

The infant was breathing, eating and playing without the aid of mechanical support systems, doctors said.

Dr. Leonard Bailey, who led the surgical team, was reportedly staying at the hospital, out of reach of reporters, as were members of the baby's family.

Doctors at Loma Linda, about 60 miles east of Los Angeles, said Baby Fae is progressing well but is still receiving drugs to suppress the immune system that they fear could destroy her new heart.

The hospital released the first pictures of the baby Tuesday, showing the tiny, dark-haired infant snoozing on a bunny-festooned blanket under an oxygen tent, stretching and yawning. The only indication that anything was amiss was the dark red strip of surgical tape on her chest.

Baby Fae became the longest-living recipient of a heart from another species when she passed the 3½ days that South African Benjamin Fortes, 59, lived when he received a chimpanzee heart that Dr. Christiaan Barnard implanted next to the patient's own heart.

Hinshaw said Baby Fae could outgrow the monkey heart in eight to 10 years and could require a new transplant.

Refusing to speculate on how long the baboon's heart would last, Hinshaw said the danger the baby's immune system will attack and destroy the foreign organ was greatest during the first 24 hours.

"The acute rejection is the thing most feared," he said. "It happens within a few hours or a day. It was the most-feared thing, and it did not occur."

"We would hope it would be permanent, but only the future can tell us that," he said.

The historic cross-species transplant has drawn criticism from some who contend the doctors should have searched for a human heart, and animal rights advocates who contend it is cruel to use animals for medical research.

In response to reporters' questions, the doctors said the parents were given a complete explanation of alternatives to a baboon transplant to correct the baby's underdeveloped heart, such as corrective surgery or a human heart transplant, and the family consented to the experimental operation.

Barfield Lawyers Pressing Appeal

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — Lawyers for Margie Velma Barfield turned to a federal appeals court today in their effort to stop North Carolina from conducting the nation's first execution of a woman in 22 years.

The 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals scheduled arguments on the case in Richmond, Va. this morning — less than 24 hours before Barfield is to die by lethal injection for poisoning her fiancé.

Barfield would be the 29th execution in the United States since the Supreme Court lifted the ban on the death penalty eight years ago, and the first woman to be executed since Elizabeth Ann Duncan died in California's gas chamber in 1962.

U.S. District Judge Franklin Dupree refused to grant Barfield a stay Wednesday, but said the 52-year-old death row grandmother had legitimate grounds to continue her appeal for a new trial.

Defense attorneys contend Barfield was incapable of assisting her lawyer at her 1978 trial because she was withdrawing from an addiction to Valium and other prescription drugs.

Barfield is scheduled to be executed at 2 a.m. Friday at North Carolina Central Prison, where she has spent the week in a special holding cell near the death chamber.

Save Fisheries In Open Sea

Our oceans and seas were once believed to be inexhaustible sources of food for the world.

No more. Overfishing, pollution and huge population increases are taking their toll. Fish are becoming scarcer and more expensive to catch. The price for seafood is rising everywhere, in rich and poor countries alike.

By the year 2000, the world is expected to require 125 million metric tons of fish for food each year. And by that time, the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization predicts the world catch will be only about 110 million tons, unless pollution and overfishing to the point of depletion can be controlled.

Fish catches increased dramatically for about 10 years after World War II. Then huge factory ships from such countries as the Soviet Union, Japan, Britain and Norway began sweeping the seas.

These ships and their tenders fished and processed their catches 24 hours a day. In many areas of the world, bottom-feeding species, such as cod, haddock and halibut, were depleted. In the late 1970s, the world catch of bottom fish fell from 26 million tons a year to 10.7 million tons. These huge fishing fleets literally cleaned out some of the world's richest fishing grounds.

Overfishing was blamed for the loss of the anchoveta fishery off the coast of Peru. Fishermen were hauling 12 million tons a year of these sardinelike fish despite warnings by marine biologists that the maximum yield should be limited to 9.5 million tons. Now anchoveta schools have virtually disappeared.

Pollution is another threat to sea life. Chemical discharges from factories and oil spills have poisoned estuaries and coastal wetlands, destroying spawning grounds.

An example of the pollution problem can be found in Chesapeake Bay. It is the richest estuary in the United States, yet the catch of oysters, blue crabs, shad and striped bass is declining rapidly. Industrial and agricultural waste water pours into the bay. Silt from construction activity is filling Chesapeake wetlands and tidal flats.

If the Chesapeake is to be returned to former production levels, some other means must be found to dispose of industrial and human waste from such cities as Baltimore, Washington and Richmond.

In San Diego, the tuna fleet is facing extinction, and some people in the industry believe overfishing in Eastern Pacific waters is a factor. Many of San Diego's seiners have left for the Atlantic Ocean or the Western Pacific, delivering their catches in Puerto Rico and Samoa. All but one of the Southern California tuna canneries have closed.

What is needed to save our seas is an international effort to combat pollution and stop the decline of the world's fish supply. It must call for coordinated efforts throughout the world to manage fishing grounds, develop new fisheries and fish farms, and regulate trade in fish and fish products.

The need for this soft effort is equal in importance to the Law of the Sea Treaty to regulate ocean-floor mining which was signed two years ago by 118 countries.

The United States refused to accept the Law of the Sea Treaty because it limits mining production and requires industrialized nations to share their technology with the underdeveloped world.

The sea as a source of food is another matter. It no longer can be treated as a limitless and forgiving reservoir that will feed a hungry world forever. The sea must be protected for posterity, and the United States should assume a leading role in this endeavor.

"With liberty and justice for all," has a hollow ring to many because one of their most cherished rights in our democratic society, access to the justice system, is denied them because they do not have a lawyer," said Florida Bar president Gerald F. Richman, announcing a series of three public meetings on problems of access to the legal system by the middle class and the poor.

"Lack of access to a lawyer is tantamount to lack of access to justice in our democratic society," Richman said.

The next meeting is Nov. 14, at the Hillsborough County Library in Tampa, and then Nov. 29, in Miami at a site yet to be determined.

The consultative hearings will be conducted by The Florida Bar 17-member Special Commission on Access to the Legal System which was appointed by Richman.

"The Florida Bar is well aware of the problem of access, and we have an appreciation of a wide variety of options that could increase access, some of which are already being used on a limited basis," said Russell E. Carlisle, a Fort Lauderdale attorney and chairman of the commission.

"The goal of the commission is to find out the potential of the various alternatives — what will work and work well, and what suggestions just won't be accepted and would be just a waste of time and effort."

Carlisle said the commission is divided into two working task forces — one focusing on legal services for the middle class, the other focusing on the needs of the poor.

According to Carlisle, "The Florida Bar has been listening and listening carefully, to legal consumers and to attorneys. We are sensitive to the needs of both groups. Lawyers want to be of use, to utilize their training and skills. They believe in and seek to attain the loftiest of professional goals, 'equal justice for all.' And understandably, they want to earn fair compensation for their efforts, education and experience."

He said that based on the research and investigation done already, the commission "has formulated a list of proposed solutions designed to increase access to the legal system. We have invited some specific legal service providers, consumers groups and association representatives to comment specifically on the proposals, in writing and at the public hearings. And of course, we invited the general public to feel free to address the commission," Carlisle said.

Those who want more information about the commission can contact Michael Taritaggala, The Florida Bar, Tallahassee, 32301-8226, or call toll-free 800-342-8060.

Nuclear Free Nonsense

In the mid-term elections of November 1982, nine states and 28 cities and towns passed nuclear-freeze "Initiatives." Presumably, these measures were intended to demonstrate to the Reagan administration that the citizens who voted for them wanted the President to implement a nationwide freeze. This he did not do, apparently because he didn't see any consensus on a freeze in comparable elections in the Soviet Union.

Anyway, it appears that the failure of the nuclear freezers to get their way via persuasion has led them to become more insistent, and not only in the U.S. Various towns, cities, neighborhoods and whole parts of countries have in recent months declared themselves "nuclear free zones." This trend may have got started when West Germany's Social Democrats proposed that an 83-square mile nuclear free zone be set up in each side of the West and East German frontier. The idea had a grain of plausibility since neither we nor the Soviets, not to mention the East and West Germans, want their side nuked.

The "nuclear free" zone notion captured the imagination of many other people, including the students of the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, who declared their town "nuclear free," as did dozens of other U.S. municipalities, private clubs, businesses, and schools. You can order a "nuclear free zone" bumper sticker from Nukewatch, in Madison, Wisconsin for $2.

The odd thing about these assertions is that they are thought necessary at all. These communities are nuclear-free, aren't they, since they haven't ever been bombed. Furthermore, barring an extremely unlikely readjustment in the world balance of power, neither Amherst nor Burlington, Vermont nor any of the others will be bombed by the British or French or Chinese. Even less probable is the notion that the United States government would bomb them.

So, who's left? Only the Soviets. Would they bomb self-declared nuclear free zones in Massachusetts or Iowa? What does a declaration of nuclear freedom mean to them? If Springfield, Massachusetts, just down the Connecticut River from Amherst doesn't have a proclamation, will it be more likely to get an ICBM? If it did, would Amherst's proclamation keep the radiation, fumes, etc., from drifting upriver?

Well, then — what good are they? We might say that they prevent nuclear war. After all, we haven't had one since nuclear free zones were invented a couple of years ago. But we might also guess, they keep the elephants away.

Ex-Nazi Threatens To Name Names

WASHINGTON — Why hasn't Klaus Barbie, the notorious Nazi war criminal, been brought to trial by the French? Some of my intelligence sources doubt he will ever be.

The reason is simple and scandalous. The "Butcher of Lyon" has acquired a new title: "The Man Who Knew Too Much." Barbie has hinted from the start that he could blow the whistle on a number of Frenchmen — living and dead — who attained high positions in France after secretly collaborating with the Nazi occupation forces during World War II.

And the sad truth, I'm told, is that the deeper French investigators have dug into Barbie's grisly past, the more they've become convinced that his threats are not idle boasts.

The list of targets Barbie and his defense attorney have promised to expose as closet collaborators reportedly covers the political spectrum from far left to far right.

Dead Heat Brewing?

EMMETSBURG, Iowa (NEA) — In more than a century of presidential elections, Iowa's Palo Alto County has mirrored the national vote — and if the county is still a bellwether, the 1984 election may be much closer than anyone expects.

Palo Alto County, located in Iowa's northeast corner, is a Hollywood director's dream of a small Midwestern farming area. It contains some of the nation's richest farmland and is known for its corn, soybeans, pork — and the way it votes.

In every election since 1865, Palo Alto County has gone with the winning presidential candidate — and the victor's winning margin in Palo Alto has mirrored his national winning margin.

For example, in 1980, the county of 14,000 people went for Ronald Reagan by 51 percent to 41 percent, with independent John Anderson getting 7 percent. Four years earlier, Jimmy Carter won 54.8 percent of the county's votes, with 45.2 percent going to Gerald Ford. The closest election in the county was in 1960, when John Kennedy edged Richard Nixon.

Using Palo Alto County as a national bellwether, what can we expect on Election Day?

The local newspaper, the Democrat-Reporter, conducts a straw poll every four years, just before Election Day, and the poll generally reflects the election's outcome. According to this year's poll, Ronald Reagan and Walter Mondale are in a virtual dead heat.

"Yes, I have to admit the result surprises me," says Jane Whitmore, the newspaper's editor. "I would have thought the president was ahead, but I know that a lot of people around here watched the debates and were very impressed with Mondale. I would think the straw poll reflects a Mondale gain."

But Ms. Whitmore adds that the local economy around isn't very good: "An awful lot of farmers have never recovered from the recession," she says. "They simply don't believe Ronald Reagan is for the small farmer — they think they would be better off under Mondale."

One person not surprised by Mondale's good showing is lawyer John Brown, the county's Democratic chairman. "The main issues here are agricultural," says Brown, "and things now are a lot worse for the farmer than they were in 1980. I can't see how any small farmer or family farmer could vote for Ronald Reagan. The only agriculture he supports are the big corporate farms."

Brown believes that the county's residents have never totally supported Reagan — even when they voted for him four years ago. "They were mainly voting against Jimmy Carter and the grain embargo, rather than for Ronald Reagan," he says. "He has never impressed people around here all that much."

Editor Whitmore fears that this may be the year in which the county loses its bellwether status. "Obviously," she says, "what we are seeing here is different from what the national polls are showing."

"I hope that we don't lose our bellwether status," she adds, "but I also hope that when people go to the polls, they vote their conscience, and that they don't let this bellwether thing influence their vote."

WASHINGTON WORLD

Inaugural Plans Underway

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Although the next president of the United States — whoever it is — will not be sworn in for another three months, preparations are already underway for the nation's 50th inauguration ceremony.

Work on Washington's quadrennial extravaganza began last April when the Armed Forces Inaugural Committee, initially made up of two people and expected to top 300 by next month, began planning the event.

Navy Cmdr. Greg Gagne, a spokesman for the committee, said up to 12,000 military personnel will be involved in some form of planning or participating in the ceremony, from military escorts and drivers to snow removal crews and medics.

The biggest single group is the 2,100-man contingency that will line the mile-long parade route from the Capitol to the White House.

"We're just awaiting the final outcome," Gagne said in reference to the yet-to-be held election.

Gagne said this is the earliest an inaugural committee has ever started planning and arranging the event, which usually attract about 100,000 visitors.

"It has been very helpful," he said, noting that the staff is creating a first-ever step-by-step guide for future committees on topics ranging from security preparations to potential sites for inaugural galas.

On the topic of security, Gagne commented: "We'll do what we need to do. It's fair to say that things are different today than four years ago." However, he would not say whether metal detectors or other security equipment would be used to screen the crowd.

Last summer, Congress got into the act by appointing its own six-member inaugural committee. The panel's first piece of business in August was to select the West Front of the Capitol for the ceremony.

It will be only the second time in history that a president will be sworn in on the side of the Capitol that looks down Pennsylvania Avenue to the Washington Monument and the White House.

Ronald Reagan was the first new commander in chief to have the honor in 1981 after the Architect of the Capitol decided the West Front, with its natural elevation, had a nicer view and required less effort and money to erect presidential and reviewing stands.

A spokesman for the congressional inaugural committee estimates the cost savings of using the West Front at about 5-to-1 over the traditional East Front setting where presidents from Andrew Jackson through Jimmy Carter were sworn in.

can't be sure that one of their colleagues wasn't a hireling of Barbie during the occupation. It's not a secret likely to be shared.

So Barbie sits in jail while the government ostensibly takes more time to prepare the prosecution case. The trial, at first scheduled for late 1983, then for sometime this year, is now vaguely planned for 1985.

Some State Department sources suspect the French are stalling in hopes that Barbie, now 71 and reportedly in frail health, will do them the favor of dying before he can start telling what he claims to know in open court.

Footnote: Beate Klarsfeld, the international Nazi hunter who tracked Barbie down, disagreed strongly with the view that French authorities are delaying Barbie's trial out of fear of his revelations.

"He has no names to reveal," she said. Ms. Klarsfeld said the trial would take place next year.

Income Up Slightly In Second Quarter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The end of a major subsidy to farmers and weak economies in oil-producing states kept the increase in U.S. personal income at a modest 2.1 percent in the second quarter of 1984, the government says.
 Forty-four states reported higher incomes in April through June. The six states that suffered reverses were all farm states for which the withdrawal of the payment-in-kind commodity payment program was a severe blow.
 North Dakota's income plunged 8.1 percent; Montana's income fell 3 percent; Nebraska's was off 2.7 percent; Iowa income fell 1.6 percent. South Dakota was off 0.5 percent and Mississippi's income edged down slightly, showing a zero rate of change in the statistics, the government said Tuesday.

 The economic slowdown in the third quarter is expected to reduce overall income growth further, analysts say.
 Income went up 2.9 percent in the first quarter.
 If farm income were ignored, every state would have shown an increase in the second quarter amounting to a 2.5 percent national improvement, the department's bureau of Economic Analysis said.
 Some of the smallest increases were posted by states whose economies are dominated by the oil industry, weaker now because of falling world oil prices.

 Wyoming and Louisiana reported a 1.6 percent increase in income.
 Delaware's weak 0.6 percent increase and Michigan's 1.4 percent below-average increase were blamed on declines in auto industry employment.
 The personal income figures measure money earned before income taxes are subtracted. The income figures fluctuate in line with employment figures.
 The average increase of 2.1 percent showed that on average Americans were staying ahead of inflation. Price increases were up only 0.5 percent for the quarter.

Porn Stars 'Do Not See Ourselves As Victims'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Seeking to dispel what they termed myths about women in pornography, sex-film stars "Seka" and "Veronica Vera" told Congress they are intelligent young women who voluntarily make X-rated movies for fun and profit.
 "I come from a very loving family. I was raised as a Catholic," said Vera, a brunette in her early 30s. "I've always been in the top 5 percent of my class, in high school and college."
 Before getting into pornography, she said, "I traded stocks on Wall Street and was active in the oil business."
 She became a free-lance writer for men's magazines and while watching an X-rated movie being made one day, jumped into the action and found it "exciting," she said.
 Wearing a modest dark blue dress, Vera said she starred in a couple of other sex films and now hopes to produce adult movies.
 "I have never met any woman participating in pornography who was forced to by someone else," Vera said. "It's a real movie-making. On the set there is feeling of camaraderie and pride."

 She testified Tuesday before the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on juvenile justice, whose chairman, Sen. Arlen Specter, R-Pa., has been holding one-man hearings for months on pornography and whether to try to ban it through legislation.
 Most previous witnesses testified against pornography, contending it leads to rape and the mental and physical abuse of women and young children.
 Al Goldstein, editor and publisher of Screw magazine, and the two actresses said there is no proof X-rated books, pictures or films lead people who view them to commit rape or other criminal acts, as some critics contend.
 "There is no concrete proof that the viewing of people making love leads to deviate behavior," Goldstein said. "Pictures do not trigger rape."
 "We do not see ourselves as victims," Vera said. "Don't make any laws to protect us — we don't want them. Leave us our precious right to choose."

Space Agency Reviews Discovery Launch Plans

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A flight readiness review will determine whether the shuttle Discovery is ready for launch next week on a daring mission to rescue a pair of communications satellites stranded in space.
 The key decision in Wednesday's review was whether to run time-consuming tests on Discovery's crucial heat shield tiles during the final processing for its Nov. 7 launch.
 Concern about Discovery's tiles surfaced when Kennedy Space Center engineers found Discovery's sister ship, Challenger, had suffered unexpected tile damage after returning Oct. 13 from its sixth space flight.
 About 150 of Challenger's tiles failed strength tests. But engineers believe wear and tear from repeated high-speed trips through Earth's atmosphere and the repeated use of waterproofing weakened Challenger's tile system in areas near the forward portion of its left wing.

 Discovery has flown only once and space agency spokesman Charles Redmond said engineers believe its tile system is acceptable for flight.
 "Discovery is not quite as old a bird and doesn't necessarily suffer from the same situation," he said.
 The Discovery crew is scheduled for an eight-day mission to launch two communications satellites and to attempt to rescue two other satellites stranded in space. If the rescue mission works, the satellites will be returned to Earth, refurbished and relaunched.
 NASA is trying to maintain a hectic launch-a-month pace and Challenger is scheduled to return to space on Dec. 8 to put a top-secret military payload into orbit.
 "We're still hard over on getting Challenger up," Redmond said. "So far as it looks right now, it's impossible to determine whether we're looking at a few extra hours or days of work."

Animal Cruelty Trial Set For Dec.

A December trial date has been set for a Lake Mary man charged with animal cruelty.
 Robert Tillitson, of 283 E. Greenleaf Lane, has pleaded not guilty to the charge. The trial, set for some time the week of Dec. 17, will be before Seminole County Judge Harold F. Johnson.
 According to court records, the Humane Society received a complaint that Tillitson was starving one dog and badly treating two others. The incident reportedly occurred in May. Humane Society investigators went to the Tillitson residence Aug. 5.
 The investigators said they found three dogs in poor condition. They reported one dog, a sheltie collie, was locked inside a fenced area and appeared emaciated and had matted eyes and coat. The other dogs appeared to be thin and wormy. A notice was left advising Tillitson to take the dogs to a veterinarian.

 Tillitson, who according to his wife had the collie six months, reportedly told the investigator that he was not going to take the dogs to the vet and if he did the investigator would have to pay for it.
 The collie was later taken by the Humane Society since it appeared to be "in distress" but not the other dogs, according to a society spokesman.
 The collie has since recovered and been "adopted" into a good home, the spokesman said.

Bandits Handcuff Bar Owner After Following Him Home

The owner of the Five Points Bar reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies that he was threatened by an unknown gunman and handcuffed by that man's partner after the pair broke into his home behind the bar.

Walter Louis Clanton, 51, of 5000 U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, told deputies that he left the bar at about 8 p.m. Wednesday. He went to his home and was lying in bed watching television when two men he had talked with earlier in the bar entered his home through an unlocked kitchen door, a sheriff's report said.

One of the men threatened to shoot Clanton with a .22-caliber pistol if he made any noise and the second bandit handcuffed him, the report said.

While the robbers were in another room, Clanton crawled out a window and fled to a neighbor's home and called lawmen.

When deputies arrived at about 9:30 p.m., they freed Clanton from the handcuffs. The suspects had fled and it has not been determined if they stole anything. Two patrons at the bar said they could identify the suspects, but no arrests have been made, the report said.

REPETITIOUS THEFTS

A Sanford woman told police that someone stole about $540 worth of items from her during the past month.

Mildred Carver, 64, of 211 Lakeview Drive, reported that she has been unable to find where the thief is entering her home. Missing is $400 in cash and two cameras worth a total of $140.

COURTHOUSE LOUSE

Someone stole $100 worth of plants from the Seminole County Courthouse.

According to a Sanford police report, someone removed several plants from the east side of the courthouse between 3 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Monday.

The theft was discovered by a maintenance worker.

CHURCH BANDIT

being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Samuel Goodson, 67, of Orlando, reported to deputies that the suspect had entered the New Salem Church, on U.S. Highway 17-92, through a broken window at about 11:15 a.m. Sunday.

Frank Smitherman, 80, unlocked the church and a deputy entered and arrested the suspect at about 1:55 a.m. Sunday.

Gregory Joseph Brown of 223 Waverly Way has been charged in the case.

DRUG WITH BOYS

A 21-year-old Altamonte Springs woman has been charged with possession of cocaine, marijuana and drug paraphernalia after a sheriff's deputy reportedly spotted her using marijuana in a car which was also occupied by three boys.

The deputy reported smelling marijuana smoke when he approached the car parked at 100 Canada Ave., Altamonte Springs. He searched the vehicle and found several bags of pot, a metal lid with white powder and a razor blade. The boys were not charged, because according to a sheriff's report, the woman claimed the contraband was hers.

Stacie Leake Joiner of 108 Dolores Drive was arrested at 8:28 p.m. Tuesday. She was later released on $8,000 bond.

GHOSTLY SMOKE

A man who offered to share his marijuana with undercover drug agents at a "haunted house" has been charged with possession of less than 20 grams of pot.

The Seminole County drug task force agents reported meeting the man at Glenn Turner's "Haunted House" on Bear Gulley Road, Goldenrod. They asked the suspect to sell them marijuana, but he said he didn't have enough to make a sale. He offered to share a smoke with the officers, according to a sheriff's report.

The man was arrested at 10:03 p.m. Tuesday after he reportedly produced a bag of marijuana to share with the agents. William Lunwick Sisson, 19, of 1030 Timberline Road, Apopka, has been charged in the case and released on $500 bond.

THEFT AND ALARM

A business, whose burglar alarm was not reset after police found the building secure, had $2,354 worth of merchandise stolen.

According to a Sanford police report, a burglar alarm sounded at 12:26 a.m. Saturday at Video Electronics, 316 E. Commercial Ave., Sanford. Police responded and reported that the building was secure. The officer noted in a report that no one associated with the store arrived to reset the alarm after it sounded.

At 9:30 a.m. Saturday, William Coakley, 22, of Sanford discovered the burglary in the still-secure building. How the thieves got in and out is not known.

Stolen were two stereo systems worth $402 each, a $450 color television set and $1,000 in cash.

FUGITIVE NABBED

An Indiana fugitive was in the wrong place when Seminole County sheriff's deputies investigating a prostitution complaint at the Lake Kathryn Motel, Casselberry, ran a check on the license tag of all cars parked at the motel.

The Monday morning search determined that one of the vehicles belonged to a suspect wanted in Indiana for burglary, theft and failure to appear in court, a sheriff's report said.

Although the man, staying in Room 4 of the motel at 661 N. U.S. Highway 17-92, initially denied he was the suspect a fingerprint comparison later determined that he was the wanted man, the report said.

Charles John Diemer, 27, was arrested at the motel at 6:30 a.m. Monday. He was being held without bond for Indiana authorities.

There were no prostitution arrests made during the investigation that led to Diemer's arrest, the report said.

"Going Bald?" Try This At No Risk

HOUSTON, Texas—If you have symptoms of "Sebum" hair loss; oily or greasy forehead; dandruff, dry or oily; itchy scalp; and if your hair pulls out easily on top of your head, chances are excellent that you can now stop your hair loss...and grow more hair...in the privacy of your own home.

A firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for "Sebum" hair loss that has been so successful, they don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try the treatment for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in the family," it is certainly not proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss. Many conditions can cause hair loss.

Hair loss caused by sebum can also run in your family, and, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help.

So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair...now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days...at their risk...if you have the sebum symptoms and are not already bald. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially by mail. ADV.

utilities.

The study, based on a survey of 87 utilities, found some grim figures, such as:

● Since 1972, natural gas prices have increased three times faster than the rate of inflation.

● Poor people pay four times as high a percentage of their income for more energy than the average American.

● Since 1981, the amount of money owed gas utilities by consumers experiencing a shut-off rose by more than 200 percent.

● Latest estimates show 4.8 million households are 60 days or more in arrears on utility payments, an increase of 21 percent over last year.

They also noted that although 8.5 million households receive assistance from the federal Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program, benefits are inadequate to prevent disconnections.

While the average benefit to a low-income household is now $212, the average utility debt a family owes when service is disconnected is $368, the study said.

"When energy costs absorb up to 50 percent of a low-income family's budget, is it any surprise that shut-offs continue to grow," asked Werner, a center spokesman. "Where is the safety net?"

Said Werner, "It is imperative that a solution be found to combine private and government resources to help these people."

About 60 percent of the nation's homes are heated by natural gas, with the bulk of the others heated by electricity or oil. The center's study examined only natural gas disconnections.

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

It was just a matter of time before Spruce Creek's carriage turned back into a pumpkin. But not before the Cinderella Lady Hawks had a pretty majestic ride in the 4A-9 District Volleyball Tournament.

After upsetting Seminole on Tuesday, Spruce Creek, which didn't win a match during the regular season, gave top-seeded Lyman all it could handle before bowing out, 15-12, 15-8, on Halloween night at Lake Brantley High.

The only one of the top four seeds to breeze through the first round Wednesday was third-seeded DeLand which rolled past Apopka. Meanwhile, fourth-seeded Lake Mary was upset by Mainland and second-seeded Lake Howell had to go three games to pull out a win over Lake Brantley.

Tonight's semifinal matchups include Lake Howell vs. DeLand at 6:30 and Lyman vs. Mainland at 8. Friday's final is set for 6:30 p.m.

Lyman's slow start Wednesday enabled upset-minded Spruce Creek to get out to an early 3-0 lead. The Lady Greyhounds tied it at 3-3 on Lori Helms' serve, but Spruce Creek came back to score eight straight points and take a commanding 11-3 lead.

"It took us a while to get warmed up," Lyman coach Annette Griffin said. "We missed a lot of serves and that's unusual for us."

After a Spruce Creek missed serve, the Lady Greyhounds got their offense cranked up and Helms came on to serve an impressive string of 11 points. Sheila Mandy's play at the net was instrumental in Lyman's comeback as the Greyhounds took a 14-11 lead.

Spruce Creek closed to within 14-12, but a nice dink by Mandy gave it back to Lyman and Kim Voeks served the final point of the first game, which came on Regan Stump's spike.

The Hawks took the early lead again in the second game, 3-1, but Lyman came back with four points on Stump's serve to take a 5-3 lead. Lyman never lost the lead again.

Spruce Creek came back to within 5-4 and that's when Lyman took control. Mandy's excellent play at the net was the key to the second game for the Lady Greyhounds.

A dink by Mandy and then a spike by the junior standout gave Lyman a 7-4 lead on Helms' serve. Spruce Creek made it 7-5 but a nice spike by Mandy, after Dawn Boyesen's save, gave the serve back to Lyman and the Greyhounds went on to score five points to take a 12-5 lead.

Lyman went on to take a 14-8 lead on Helms' serve but Spruce Creek hung in there for two more points as it closed to within 14-8. But Lyman got the serve back and Voeks' served match point. Mandy's spike provided the winning point.

"Spruce Creek is an improved team," Griffin said. "And we panicked there for a minute. Once we got settled down things went nicely. But it wasn't one of our better matches."

Griffin said the play of Mandy and Helms was the key for Lyman Wednesday.

"Sheila (Mandy) was really thinking at the net," Griffin said. "And she played really well in the back row. Lori (Helms) did a tremendous job serving. She came in with us behind 11-3 and served us to 14. Everything else started working well after Lori's service string."

Although Mainland's upset of Lake Mary made Lyman's path to the finals a little easier, the Greyhounds found out Wednesday that they can't take any team for granted.

LADY BUCS SINK LAKE MARY

Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry attributed her team's loss to "Murphy's Law." If it can go wrong it will. The Lady Rams just couldn't get going Wednesday against Mainland.

The Lady Bucs, behind the play of Betsy Jo Cassidy and Brenda Robertson, jumped out to a 10-4 lead in the first game. Lake Mary came back to within 10-6, but Robertson's spike gave Mainland an 11-6 lead.

Lake Mary then looked as if it was ready to comeback as Robyn Christensen came on to serve five points to even the game up, 11-11. Sloan Stewart's hitting and Lisa Simkins' setting highlighted the rally.

Mainland got the ball back on a missed serve and Robertson came on to serve the last four points, one an ace, as Mainland won the game, 15-11.

Lake Mary's luck went from bad to worse in the second game as Mainland sailed to an early 11-1 lead. Cassidy served six of the points for the Lady Bucs.

Mainland eventually built a 14-4 lead as it cleared its bench. But Lake Mary came back to within 14-9 on Simkins' serve with Christensen's dink and Michelle Farrer's spike leading the way. Mainland then put its starters back in for the final point, which came on Tonia Hawkins' serve.

Hawks Avoid 'Howellween'

Ley, Montegny Thwart Lady Patriots' Upset Effort, 15-6

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Maybe it's better to be pushed a little in the early rounds than to not even break out into a sweat. Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks hope that will be the case tonight (6:30) as they go up against DeLand's Lady Bulldogs in the semifinals of the 4A-9 District Tournament at Lake Brantley High.

The Lady Hawks pretty much expected to breeze by their first round opponent, Lake Brantley, but the Lady Patriots gave second-seeded Lake Howell a tough match Wednesday night.

Lake Howell waltzed to a 15-2 win in the first game, but Lake Brantley stormed back to take the second, 18-16, before Lake Howell regained its composure and won the third game, 15-6.

But a firm test in the first round may be just what Lake Howell needed since it plays a strong DeLand team tonight. Meanwhile, DeLand coasted by Apopka, 15-1, 15-1, Wednesday in a match that was shorter (about 10 minutes) than the pre-match warmups (15 minutes).

"I'm glad that we did have to play a tough match in the first round," Lake Howell coach Teresa Tinsley said. "I hope it will get us ready for DeLand. But we can't play like we did tonight (Wednesday) against DeLand."

Behind Grace Ley's service string of seven points, Lake Howell romped to a 15-2 win in the first game. Ley had an outstanding all-around match Wednesday. Beth Saunders served the final four points of the first game with the last point coming on a vicious spike by Eileen Thiebauth.

Another spike by Thiebauth gave Lake Howell a 1-0 lead in the second game. But Lake Brantley then came alive. Behind the impressive play at the net by Kirsten Dillinger, Lake Brantley reeled off five straight points for a 5-1 lead. Dillinger's blocking was the key for Lake Brantley in the second game.

After a missed spike, Lake Howell got the serve back and took a 6-5 lead as Ley served five more points, the fifth an ace. Lake Brantley failed to score on its next possession and Lake Howell went on to take a 9-5 lead on Kim Montegny's serve. Sandy Gillies' spike highlighted the rally.

Lake Brantley came back to within 9-6 as Danielle McKinney served an ace, but the Lady Hawks got the serve back and took a 12-8 lead as Melissa Schneider served three points.

Dillinger's spike gave Brantley a side out and the Patriots made it 12-7. Lake Howell regained the serve and took a 14-7 lead as Thiebauth served a pair of points.

The Lady Patriots stayed alive though on Dillinger's spike and Brantley shaved Lake Howell's lead 14-9. The Lady Hawks failed to score on their next serve and the Patriots then took a

Volleyball

15-14 lead as Viola Rodriguez served six points. Gigi Griffin's block and McKinney's hit sparked the rally for Lake Brantley.

Lake Howell got the serve back on a missed block and Ley served two points for a 16-15 lead. But again Lake Howell could not close out the match and Kristie Prue came on to serve three bullets that the Hawks couldn't return as Lake Brantley won the second game, 18-16.

"We got a little overconfident and slacked up in the second game," Tinsley said. "Although things got scary for a moment for the Lady Hawks, Wednesday did not turn out to be 'Howellween.'"

The first part of the third game was evenly played as Dillinger's great play at the net kept Lake Brantley alive. But, with the Lady Patriots holding a 6-4 lead, Lake Howell rose to the occasion and took a 8-6 lead as Thiebauth served four points. A pair of spikes by Montegny led the way.

A spike by Gillies gave the serve right back to Lake Howell and the Hawks increased their lead to 13-6 as Gillies served five points. Spikes by Saunders and Montegny highlighted the rally.

Lake Brantley regained the serve one last time but couldn't score as Saunders slipped a spike in between the Brantley blockers. Ley then served the last two points of the match, the first coming on a spike by Montegny and the second on a Lake Brantley miscue. "Grace (Ley) played a great match," Tinsley said. "We would have been in trouble if it wasn't for her serving. And Kim (Montegny) played outstanding at the net."

GORDON RIPS APOPKA

In DeLand's cakewalk over Apopka, the Lady Blue Darters were intimidated right from the start by the awesome hitting display of DeLand's Bridgette Gordon.

Apopka served to open the match and, after the two teams hit it back and forth a few times, an errant Apopka pass floated right up in Gordon's wheelhouse. Needless to say, the senior standout put it away and it was curtains for Apopka from that moment on.

DeLand built a 10-0 lead on Deborah Henderson's serve with a pair of spikes and a dink by Gordon leading the way. The setting of Robyn Swartz also highlighted the rally.

Apopka got on the board, just barely, when it got the serve back, but DeLand got it right back and Kathy Corr served five points for a 15-1 win.

Gordon was right on the money with her hitting Wednesday as she had eight kills in nine attempts.

Lake Howell coach Mike Bisceglia, middle, gets some words of wisdom from offensive line coach Glenn Malolini. Lake Howell plays Mainland tonight for homecoming.

Homecoming Comes Early For Bisceglia

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Homecoming arrives a day early at Lake Howell High School tonight when the Silver Hawks take on Mainland in Five Star Conference football. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

Worried that a teachers' workday and non-student attendance Friday might hurt the crowd, the game was moved to tonight, according to coach Mike Bisceglia.

Mainland, nevertheless, is the worry tonight for Bisceglia. He is impressed with the Bucs' defense and with hard-running Wayne Manning. "He'll be one of the best tailbacks we've faced this year," said Bisceglia, about Manning, a basketball player, who decided to play football this year, too.

Lake Howell, coincidentally, has one of those basketball-turned-football players, too, in senior Efrem Brooks. The all-county cager was influenced to come out to the gridiron this fall by teammate Jeron Evans and has proved to be a special surprise for Bisceglia.

Brooks has made an immediate impact. Last week, he had his best game, rushing for 92 yards on 10 carries and scoring on a six-yard run as the Hawks blanked Lyman, 14-0.

Making Brooks' job somewhat easier tonight will be the return of running back Steve Inman. The hard-running senior is Lake Howell's leading ground gainer with 191 yards.

Lake Howell, 4-3 overall and 3-3 in the conference, has surprised the preseason Five Star Conference predictors but putting together a solid season. After losing all but three starters from offense and defense, the Hawks were figured for the basement. Mainland is 2-4 and 3-4.

Bisceglia, however, switched Allan Jack to quarterback from tight end and it has provided enough offensive spark to go with a good, young defense. Jack's favorite target is wideout Evans, who has 29 catches for 348 yards. Jack has thrown for 583 yards and four TDs. Jimmy Daniel and Bill Wasson are the other Hawk receivers.

Although Inman will return tonight, Lake Howell's steadier player, two-way tackle Hal Crowley, is doubtful. Crowley, the team's top blocker and leading tackler (7.2 per game) also missed last week's clash with Lyman.

Picking up the slack defensively has been linebacker David Williams, tackle Craig Wagner, tackle Ken Henderson, linebacker Greg Buckley and defensive back Terry Gammons. Gammons and Buckley each swiped passes last week, two of four the Hawks picked off.

Don't Count On These Gridiron Forecasts As Being 'Ludi-Chris'

Since this column is being written on Halloween, and since I had a mediocre 5-5 record for last week, maybe it would be better to call in a higher power for a little help.

But I guess the higher powers are kind of busy on Halloween so I'll have to settle for a guest picker to bring me out of my misery. If I don't shape up, people might start calling me "Ludi-Chris," again. The overall record now stands at 54-24-2.

Keeping with the Halloween spirit I'll call my guest picker, who asked to remain anonymous, Count Gridiron.

FISTER — Welcome to the Fearless Fister Forecast Count Gridiron.

THE COUNT — It's an honor and a privilege.

FISTER — It's an honor and a privilege for me, too.

THE COUNT — That's what I meant.

FISTER — You won't argue with me, Count Gridiron, that you are one of the most successful prognosticators in history.

THE COUNT — Oh, no, no, no.

FISTER — No other predictor has attained your record of excellence.

THE COUNT — Oh, no, no, no.

FISTER — You're truly a legend in your own time.

THE COUNT — Oh, no, no, no. I'm not going to argue with you. It's all true.

Well, that being the case — I mean case — here's a look at this week's games:

Seminole at Lake Brantley

FISTER — If the Tribe is to keep its Five Star Conference title hopes alive, it must pull a victory out of Lake Brantley stadium. Both teams have powerful defenses and it should be a low-scoring affair. But the blocking of Curt Mull on offense and the home field advantage will carry Lake Brantley to a narrow win. — Patriots by 6

COUNT — My kind of game, plenty of blood. While Seminole's defense shuts down Brantley, the Tribe's offense will rise from the dead and pull off the win. — Seminole by 4

Spruce Creek at Lake Mary

FISTER — The Rams get a breather before locking horns with Seminole next week. If Spruce

Chris Fister

Creek scores it will be a triumph for the Hawks. But, even if they do score, it won't be enough by a long shot. — Rams by 28

COUNT — Watching Spruce Creek is like watching reruns of "Night of the Living Dead." — Lake Mary by 31

Apopka at Lyman

FISTER — Apopka, coming off a tough loss to Lake Mary, will probably have Sammie Smith back and the Darters are now just looking for someone to beat up on. That someone is winless Lyman. — Apopka by 24

COUNT — Welcome to my nightmare. — Apopka by 38

Mainland at Lake Howell

FISTER — Lake Howell's defense and the passing combination of Allan Jack to Jeron Evans will lift the Silver Hawks to 5-3 for the season. Mainland is tough but inconsistent and Jeff Phillips' field goal will make the difference. — Lake Howell by 3

COUNT — Don't count on it. — Mainland by 7

Cocoa Beach at Oviedo

FISTER — The Lions got a chance to heal their wounds last week and should be ready to knock off Cocoa Beach. Charles "Pop" Bowers will lead the way. — Oviedo by 10

COUNT — I agree. — Oviedo by 10

FISTER — You're not getting paid to agree with me.

COUNT — I'm not getting paid.

FISTER — Ditto.

SEC Delays Meeting On Gators

College Football

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — The Southeastern Conference has delayed a meeting on whether NCAA sanctions against the Florida football program are grounds to disqualify the team from the conference title or post-season play.

The meeting of the conference's executive committee had been planned for Monday, but Dr. James McComas, president of Mississippi State University and the SEC, said Wednesday the session was "postponed to a date yet to be determined."

The hearing had been scheduled to consider if Florida, which is tied for third at 2-1 in the conference with LSU, would be able to compete in the Sugar Bowl and to win the SEC

Earlier, an unidentified member of the executive committee said he felt the committee would declare the Gators ineligible for the bowl and the conference crown.

"They broke the rules. They're guilty. And I think people will look to the conference to do something about it," the committee member said. "I believe that Mr. Criser (Florida President Marshall Criser) wants to do the right thing."

Florida was given until Nov. 7 to appeal the ruling that it violated rules ranging from spying on other teams' practices to illegal inducements for prospects.

Criser said Wednesday night that he did not know if the delay would give the school adequate time to prepare for the hearing.

"That depends on whether we have to advise the NCAA by the seventh as to whether we will appear," he said.

"One thing needs to be made clear," he said. "There are reasons other than bowl eligibility in 1984 that are involved in the decision of whether the school should decide to appeal. The sanctions of the NCAA are onerous and go far beyond other penalties assessed. On that basis we may have to appeal."

If Florida appeals it could postpone a three-year probation because the NCAA Council won't meet to hear appeals again until January.

Tribe Quarterbacking Future In Good Hands

The picture to your right should erase any doubts about the quarterbacking of Sanford's Fighting Seminoles for the next three years.

The young man standing tall and strong is freshman Jeff Blake. Note the follow through amid the mass of arms. Through the years, some Seminole quarterbacks have had trouble throwing the ball when the crowd was in the opposite end zone, much less in their face.

Not so with Blake. Jeff is the son of Seminole offensive backfield coach Emory Blake and Emory's son has learned his lessons well. He has quick feet, perfect form, a great attitude and guts.

This play went for a touchdown. Blake, also a standout baseball player, dropped back, looked the defensive secondary right, then pivoted left and neatly tossed a pass into the left flat. Curtis Rudolph took it seven yards for a touchdown.

"He's a dandy," said Lake Mary freshman coach Jim Hughes. "I like that boy."

Hughes should know. He's seen him twice this year. Both times his freshman squad, which went unbeaten in eight games, controlled the Seminoles, but it wasn't for lack of effort by Blake.

On Tuesday, Jeff accounted for all 21 points in a 42-21 loss to Lake Mary. He passed for two scores, ran for the other and hit Jerry Blankenship with a two-point conversion pass for the final two.

Blake, however, wasn't the only freshman talent on the field Tuesday. Lake Mary had as many as five players — three of which live in Sanford — to keep tabs on the next three years.

Tailback John "Battering Ram" Curry and wingback Terry "The Cat" Miller are both excellent runners who will probably play varsity football next year. Curt Beauchamp is also a sturdy runner, good blocker and fine receiver. Quarterback Kelly McKinnon has a golden toe. Two weeks ago, he made all seven points after attempts. Most of them land out by the track.

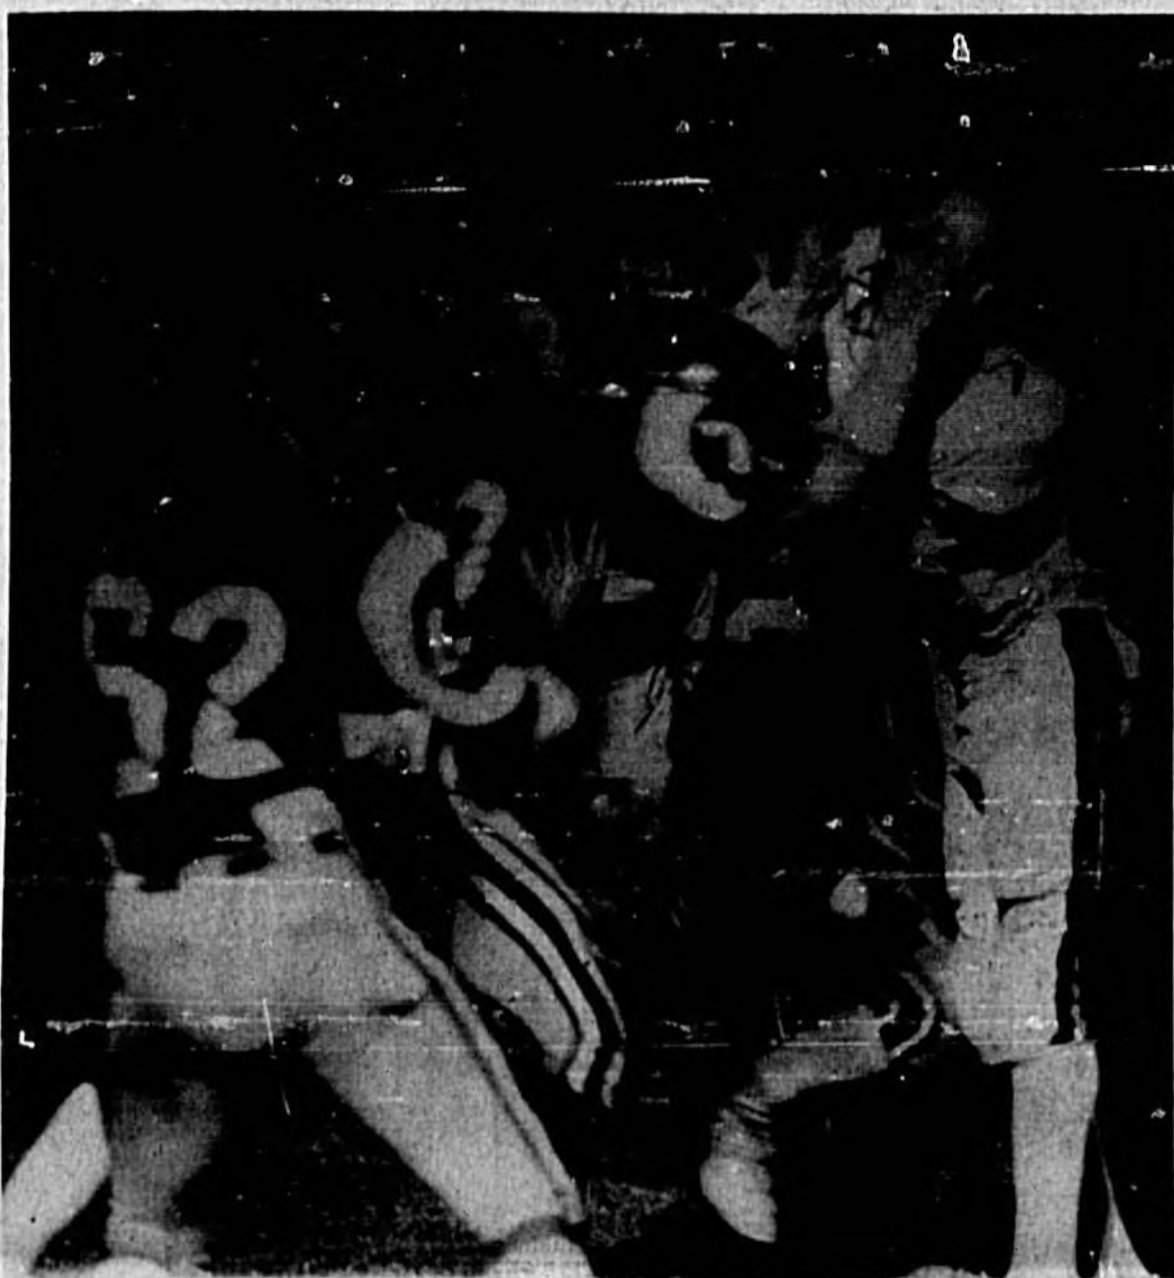

But the most under-publicized could be wideout-defensive back Sheldon Richards. The thin cornerback doesn't pack many pounds but when he unloads on a running back or end, the guy usually stays down or gets up groggily. If junior Ray Hartsfield hits like a truck, this freshman is definitely in the Step-Van category and getting bigger...

Look for the University of Central Florida to name Jerry Anderson as its full-time coach today. The selection committee meets at 1:30 today and UCF athletic director Bill Peterson indicated Wednesday night that Anderson may be the man.

"I would think he would be real good for the job," said Coach Pete. "That's just my opinion, but Jerry has made a very good impression with the administration and the players."

Peterson said some great college coaches have applied for the job, but to keep continuity in the program, it would be best to hire Anderson. Anderson took over as interim coach when Lou Saban resigned two weeks ago...

Benny Glenn scored a touchdown as Lyman's junior varsity blanked Osceola, 8-0, last week.

This rush didn't cause Jeff Blake to blush. Seminole's freshman quarterback found his way through the wall of Lake Mary arms to toss a seven-yard touchdown pass to Curtis Rudolph. Blake, son of Seminole offensive backfield coach, Emory Blake, was just one of several fine young performers in Tuesday night's Seminole-Lake Mary battle.

Celtics Make Promise Good, Overhaul Nets

United Press International

With the hoisting of the Celtics' 15th NBA Championship banner came the hoisting of some promises. On Wednesday night, Boston kept its word.

The Celtics slipped on their championship ring and saw the flag-filled rafters of the Boston Garden become even more cluttered in emotional ceremonies prior to their game with the New Jersey Nets.

"Last year was a very tough year and this year will be no different," Larry Bird said before the home opener. "But we will work harder, because we want to win back-to-back championships."

Indeed, hard work was needed, especially after Boston headed into the fourth quarter trailing the undermanned Nets, 88-83. But the Celtics were true to their pre-game promise, outscoring New Jersey 33-19 in the final period for a runaway 118-108 triumph.

"You can't get blasé about it," said Celtic forward M.L. Carr. "There is a common bond between all of us, so many special moments we've shared. Every one of us standing here tonight when that flag went up will go to his grave being a part of this."

Bird scored 29 points on 14-of-26 shooting and dished out eight assists while Robert Parish had 25 points and 15 rebounds. For the Nets, Otis Birdsong had 21 points and Darwin Cook 18.

Mavericks 101, Pacers 100

At Indianapolis, Rolando Blackman's jumper with 16 seconds left lifted Dallas. The Mavericks led by 18 points in the third quarter before the Pacers, 0-2, drew to 80-72 entering the fourth quarter. Blackman had 25 points, Jay Vincent 27 and Mark Aguirre 20 for Dallas. Vern Fleming had 16 for Indiana.

Bucks 105, Bullets 78

At Milwaukee, Sidney Moncrief scored 18 points and Terry Cummings and Alton Lister had 12 apiece to lead the Bucks, who took the lead at 3:17 of the first quarter and never looked back. Gus Williams had 20 points and Cliff Robinson added 14 for Washington.

Chicago Racers Flash Impressive Credentials

Dusty and Shawn Cummins have been racing for two and a half years.

They both got started racing when they lived in Chicago. "Some friends in our neighborhood talked us into trying it one night," said Shawn.

Although the Cummins have been racing for 2½ years, and only since this summer have they raced in Florida.

In Chicago, both Dusty and Shawn were outstanding racers. Shawn competed in the Chicago area championships and won first in the 13-novice class. At the Memphis, Tenn. Midwest National, he placed third in his main out of 42 kids in 13 novice class. He also scored perfects in four Illinois State qualifiers.

Dusty has just as impressive record. In Illinois, Dusty won three Chicago championships. "If I had stayed in Chicago, I would have been number two in the state for my age group," said Dusty.

Dusty, a third grader at Sabal Point Elementary, races a G.T. Mini in the eight-expert class.

Shawn races a Schwinn Predator, in the 14-expert class.

Shawn, a freshman at Lake Brantley High, says he loves the fast pace of racing. "I also like meeting and making a lot of new friends," said Shawn.

Dusty says jumping and winning trophies are his favorite things about racing. "The season never ends either," said

Scott. "I like that a lot too."

Both boys felt a little nervous the first time they raced, but it didn't stop either of them from bringing in a first place that night.

Dusty and Shawn both say that Sarasota and Pine Hills are their favorite tracks.

In the 7-expert class this week, Jay Staley won the class, and Darby Brown came in a close second.

Staley also raced in the 8-9 open, and placed second.

Jeff Lane was right behind Eric Lucia in the 9-novice class, Eric placed second, and Jeff third.

Second place in the 10-novice class went to Tim Fink. In the 10 expert class, second place went to Colby Brown.

Stacy Johnson cruised to a first place in the 12-novice class.

In the 13-novice class Scott Lucia and Todd Fink competed.

Scott came in second, and Todd, fourth.

Twelve-expert Andy Spence came in fifth in the rough competition Saturday night.

Brian Lane, of Lake Mary, terrorized the 14-novice class again this week, and placed first.

Fifteen-expert John Poole came in second place in his class.

Clayton Questionable For Jets

MIAMI (UPI) — Mark Clayton, who leads the Miami Dolphins with nine touchdown catches, was listed as questionable Wednesday for Sunday's game against the New York Jets. Coach Don Shula said a cast on Clayton's injured ankle will come off Saturday so that the speedy wide receiver can practice and he will decide after the workout whether Clayton can play Sunday. Clayton and the team doctor said they were optimistic. Linebacker Bob Brudzinski, nursing a damaged toe, missed his second practice Wednesday but probably will play Sunday. Shula reported defensive end Kim Bokamper, who fractured an ankle just before the St. Louis game, may be activated for the Jets game.

Sulaiman Defends Hagler Strip

LONDON (UPI) — Jose Sulaiman, Mexican president of the World Boxing Council, Wednesday defended the controversial decision to strip middleweight champion Marvelous Marvin R of his title. Hagler, previously the undisputed world title-holder, was relieved of his WBC crown after stopping Mustapha Hamsho in the third round of their scheduled 15-round fight earlier this month. Hagler would not agree to fight over Inds, preferring instead to box over the World Boxing Association's stipulated distance.

Brock, Feller, Brooks Dust Off Cleats Friday At Tinker

ORLANDO (UPI) — Lou Brock, Bob Feller, Brooks Robinson and other former major league players will dust off the cleats and knock out the cobwebs Friday night for an old-timers game aimed at benefiting charities and college baseball. More than 50 former players will be on hand for the contest that is expected to draw a sellout crowd to Tinker Field, the spring training home of the Minnesota Twins. Game time is 7:30 p.m. EST. Organizers hope to raise more than $30,000 for the pediatric unit at Orlando Regional Medical Center, the baseball programs at the University of Central Florida and Valencia Community College and several local charities. Earl Weaver, 54, will manage the American League old-timers, while Birdie Tebbets, 74, will skipper the National League. The players range in age from "young" old-timers such as 29-year-old infielder

Brian Doyle to "old" old-timers such as former New York Yankee hurler Spud Chandler, who is 76. Feller, 65, the former Cleveland Indian fastball pitcher, is expected to start for the AL squad. The NL will counter with a mound contingent including Robin Roberts, consecutive-no-hit hurler Johnny Vander Meer, 69, and Lew Burdette, 57. The AL roster features former Gold Glove-winning third baseman Robinson, 44, Tony Oliva, 43, Earl Battey, 49, Bobby Richardson, 48, George Susce, 75, Ralph Houk, 65, and Camilo Pascual, 50. Brock, 44, the former St. Louis leadoff man and stolen base champ, leads the NL squad. He's joined by Matty Alou, 45, Harry "The Hat" Walker, 67, Monte Irvin, 65, Ted Kluszewski, 60, and Dave Johnson, 41, among others. The umpiring chores will be handled Augie Donatelli and Paul Pryor, retired major league umpires. "I think the key thing is that none of these players are getting paid to play, unlike some other old-timers games," said Don Dunham, a spokesman for the game. "They're playing because they love the game and to help charities. "Considering this is a first-time effort and everything is being done by volunteers, we're real pleased how well everything has gone. Hopefully, it's going to be an annual event."

Budd Rests Amid Rage

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Tiny South African-born distance runner Zola Budd rested on a Cape Province wine farm Wednesday as speculation raged about her decision, to be announced Thursday, whether or not to resume her athletic career as a British citizen.

While a local newspaper claimed to know she would decide to stay in South Africa and give up international competition, Budd's mother, Tossie, told reporters: "Yes, she is going back (to Britain)." The 18-year-old runner left her family's Bloemfontein farm for Cape Town Tuesday, flying under an assumed name, and sought refuge from increasing press attention on a wine estate outside the Cape town of Stellenbosch. Seeing her off at the Bloemfontein airport, her mother, who is suffering from a severe blood disease, tearfully told reporters Budd would return to Britain.

But the local Afrikaans-language afternoon newspaper, Die Volksblad, promised Wednesday it would carry an exclusive statement on her plans for the future in its next edition and insisted she had decided to stay.

Her showdown with American superstar Mary Decker in the 3,000 meters final ended when the two women collided and Budd limped to a slow finish as the American lay writhing in pain alongside the track.

Gartner Gets Lucky Bounce In Caps' Win

United Press International
Call it what you will, a lucky bounce or an unusual play — for Washington forward Mike Gartner it was still the game-winning goal. "It was just one of those bounces we've been looking for all season," said Gartner, after he scored 1:58 into overtime to give the Capitals a 4-3 win over Calgary Wednesday night at Landover, Md. Gartner said the game-winner, the sixth goal of the season, was the result of a deflection off teammate Bryan Erickson's skate. "I came into their zone and passed to Bobby (Carpenter). He shot the puck just as Butsy (Erickson) moved in to screen the goaltender. The puck hit his skate and came to me and I tapped it in." Eddie Beers of Calgary had scored with 4:28 to play in regulation to break a 2-2 deadlock and give the Flames what appeared to be the margin of victory. Beers' goal was a big letdown for us," said Gartner. "We thought we were in a position to break the tie and win it, but it seemed like we weren't going to make it." Washington, 4-3-2, tied the score with just 1:36 left when Erickson scored after taking a pass from Gartner. It was the Flames' first overtime loss since the tie-breaking period was added for NHL regular-season play. Washington blitzed goalie Don Edwards and the Flames in the first period with a 15-shot outburst that produced a 2-0 lead on power-play goals by Carpenter, who extended his scoring streak to seven games with his seventh goal, and Craig Laughlin. Calgary, 7-4, erased the Capitals' advantage in the second period with goals by Colin Patterson and Dan Quinn. Elsewhere in the NHL, Pittsburgh edged New Jersey 7-6, Buffalo and Philadelphia played to a 3-3 tie, St. Louis defeated Toronto in overtime 6-5 and Los Angeles routed Vancouver 10-3. Penguins 7, Devils 6 At East Rutherford, N.J., Wayne Babych and Warren Young put in two goals apiece and Pittsburgh scored four times in the first period for the victory. The Devils, who entered the final period trailing 7-3, received three goals from rookie defenseman Uli Hiemer and two from defenseman Joe Cirella. An apparent goal by Pat Verbeek with three seconds left was nullified by referee Bryan Lewis, who said the whistle had blown before the puck entered the net. Nordiques 5, Hartford 3 At Hartford, Conn., Tony McKegney scored three goals and Dale Hunter collected four assists to power Quebec. The win halted the Nordiques' four-game winless streak.

Solidarity Warns Against 'Cover-Up' In Priest's Death

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — A Solidarity leader warned the government against a "cover-up" in its investigation of a popular anti-state priest's death, saying the nation's mood of subdued grief could quickly turn to anger.

In the first official reaction since the Rev. Jerzy Popieluszko's body was found, the Communist Party condemned the crime Wednesday and called on all Interior Ministry personnel to help track down those responsible for his kidnapping and murder.

The three Interior Ministry security officials who the government has said confessed to the crime have been expelled from the party, the Communist daily newspaper Trybuna Ludu said.

At Least 12 Die In Hotel Fire

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — Fire broke out in a downtown hotel before dawn today, filling rooms and a crowded disco with acrid smoke and killing at least 12 people. Four of the victims plunged to their deaths.

At least 25 people were injured, including several Japanese tourists and an American, hospital officials said.

Many of the guests were asleep in the 16-story Ambassador Hotel in the capital's downtown tourist district when the fire broke out on the seventh floor and filled the hotel with smoke, officials said.

It was the second major hotel fire in the Philippines in 10 days. Last Tuesday, some 25 people, including eight Americans, died when a blaze swept the Pines Hotel in the mountain resort of Baguio 125 miles north of the capital.

Work on an enhanced 911 emergency telephone system in Seminole County could be underway in two to three weeks.

Since only Southern Bell Telephone Co. responded to a county call for proposals for instituting and maintaining the emergency system, the county commission could give the firm the work to proceed as early as Tuesday, according to County Administrator T. Duncan Rose III.

Rose says he and his staff will make every effort over the next few days to have the new proposal processed in time for county action Tuesday.

He is getting some encouragement from Commission Chairman Sandra Glenn who said, "We need 911, so let's move it."

Faced with escalating cost estimates, the commission in late August called for proposals from any company in the communications industry that could provide the 911 equipment and necessary maintenance service.

Southern Bell had estimated that it would cost $400,000 for equipment and annual operating cost would be $235,000. Rose said it would cost another $100,000 to develop a data base for the program and that costs had not been determined of personnel to man the system.

While no exact figure was available, Mrs. Glenn said Southern Bell's newest proposal is only slightly less than its earlier estimates.

Rose said 10 to 15 requests for proposals were sent out to various firms that had requested they be supplied with specifications and others that the county had thought would be interested. He said last week he expected at least three and possibly four firms would submit proposals.

When the 2 p.m. deadline for proposals passed Wednesday, only Southern Bell's was on hand. Rose said he can't imagine why others didn't compete for the business.

Rose had also said the county might save money with another company, but getting a 911 system on line could be done more quickly by contracting with Southern Bell.

The county has set aside $500,000 in its contingency fund in the 1984-85 budget year for 911 and more money is available if needed, Commissioner Bob Sturm said.

Rose added, "I hope and trust 911 will be started within two to three weeks. We are ready to turn the switch and get started. And we are already advertising for a 911 coordinator. As soon as the board says yes, we will start immediately."

It is expected it will take a year to 18 months after the project is begun before the service will be available.

Under the 911 system, an emergency caller's address and phone number are automatically displayed on a computer screen and the call instantly routed to the proper agency.

Outside—Teen Murti house, where Gandhi's bullet-riddled body was lying in state, more than 70 people were injured as mourners stampeded through police barricades to view the body.

Police fired tear gas to halt the surge but the crowd turned on the officers, pelting them with stones, the Press Trust of India said.

The mutilated body of a man was discovered near one religious shrine in New Delhi.

Hindus armed with swords and clubs attacked members of the Sikh religious minority in New Delhi and at least eight states.

Police reported one person killed and 60 injured in mob violence in Kanpur, 250 miles southeast of New Delhi. One man was shot to death by police in the West Bengal city of Calcutta, where crowds reacted to news of Gandhi's death by pouring into the streets, oc-asionally attacking travelers and halting traffic.

An ABC-TV crew filming in the streets was attacked by a mob. Correspondent Mark Litke said TV cameras and equipment were stolen in the melee, watched from afar by police and military guards. None of the crew was seriously injured, he said.

The Press Trust of India said at least 500 cars, trucks and buses were set ablaze by rioters in New Delhi. One Sikh told United Press International he guarded his home with a gun against Hindu mobs surging through his South Delhi neighborhood.

"I got out my revolver and stood at the door waiting for them to come after my family," Singh Bedi said. "I would have shot them but I was relieved when they dared come no further."

Army, police and paramilitary security forces were on full alert and in some areas they had orders to shoot rioters on sight.

"Hindu students are pulling Sikhs from their vehicles and beating them up," said Ram Nairan, 27, who reported seeing a dozen vehicles set afire in the capital.

A crowd of more than 700 people carrying swords and clubs set fire to shops and Sikh temples north of New Delhi, the Press Trust of India reported.

In the city of Jabalpur, 350 miles south of the capital, police fired 30 tear gas shells to stop arson and looting.

Rajiv Gandhi, a former airline pilot and his mother's hand-picked successor as prime minister, pleaded for calm Wednesday in an address to the nation after taking the oath of office.

"Nothing would hurt the soul of our beloved Indira Gandhi more than the occurrence of violence in any part of the country," he said.

The slain prime minister's body, draped in the white, green and saffron Indian flag and covered with garlands of white flowers, was carried early today on an army gun carriage to the home where she grew up where it will lie in state for three days.

Gandhi was shot 16 times, authorities said.

Hosts' Fishing Trip Out Of Line

DEAR ABBY: "Hurt Parents" said that every summer they travel a long distance to spend 10 days with their son and his family, and while they were here last summer, their hosts let the painters come in, which ruined the parents' vacations. I think I can top that.

Every other summer, my husband and I drive 1,500 miles to visit his parents.

Last summer, after four days, our in-laws informed us that they were leaving the next day to go fishing with friends! They said they were sure there were other places we would like to see, and they were giving us the opportunity to see them.

I was flabbergasted. Since we had no other plans, and couldn't afford to stay in motels and eat every meal out for the remaining six days, we came home.

Sharing a house with painters would have been a pleasure compared to what happened to us. Now, what do you think of that?

LAST TRIP HOME

DEAR LAST TRIP: I think you were treated shabbily. When I sided with "Hurt Parents," a surprising number of readers protested, saying, "Ten days is too long. Perhaps the son and daughter-in-law were trying to tell them that after three days, fish and houseguests begin to stink."

DEAR ABBY: I just received a chain letter with instructions to make five copies and mail it to five of my friends. It says if I break the chain, "something" will happen to me.

What will happen if I don't follow the instructions?

CLARENCE

DEAR CLARENCE: You will save a dollar on postage and a lot of time.

DEAR ABBY: This is in defense of "The Eldest," who wanted to exclude the family black sheep from her parents' 50th wedding anniversary. (The black sheep was a hooker, and "The Eldest" was afraid she'd hustle men at the party.) "The Eldest" asked her minister and he said, "Invite her. I stands in the middle of pride."

We have one like that in our family. There are nine of us, and No. 8 has always been the source of untold grief to our parents. They always forgave her and helped her out of jams, and in return she is absolutely ruining what should be their "golden years."

No. 8 has been arrested for prostitution, shoplifting, falsifying prescriptions, credit card theft and forgery. She's unable to support herself, so my parents remodeled their basement into a nice apartment for her. She shows her appreciation by dragging home bums and bikers who spend the night. We all live in terror that one of these hoodlums will go upstairs and harm our parents.

Recently when another sister was married, she asked our minister if she could exclude No.

8, and the minister said, "Leave her out; we have one of those in our family, too, so I know how you feel."

So, if "I" stands in the middle of "pride," I'd like to point out that "U" stands in the middle of "stupid." And it's just plain stupid to let one black sheep spoil everything.

Lack Of Lactase Enzyme Can Cause Milk Reaction

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is it possible for people to develop an allergy to milk if they have never had an allergic reaction to it before? I am 21 and have drunk milk since I was a baby. Recently I've been getting gas and diarrhea whenever I drink milk. Also, my doctor has found sugar in my urine, but told me not to worry about it since no one in my family has diabetes. Does sugar in the urine mean one has diabetes?

DEAR READER — I suspect that you are not allergic to milk, but have lactase deficiency. A milk allergy is most often seen in children and is a response to milk protein. It can occur in adults, too, but it is far less common.

DEAR READER — Feeling cold and being cold are not the same thing. The sensation of feeling cold or hot depends upon blood flow through the skin. That is where the nerve endings are that sense heat. If there is a limited amount of blood flow through the skin, you will feel cold even if your body temperature is normal.

DEAR READER — Repeated small amounts of exercise will raise body thermostat and may increase the blood flow through your skin. Cigarette smoke decreases the blood flow through the skin. Hot drinks and a hot bath will increase flow.

DEAR READER — As a woman, you need milk as a good source of calcium. If you cannot tolerate milk or milk products, you will need to take calcium. I have discussed this, along with ways to treat milk to avoid milk intolerance, in a new issue of The Health Letter, Special Report 25, The Milk Question.

No, sugar in the urine does not always mean diabetes. It could mean that you simply absorbed sugar rapidly. The high level of blood glucose may spill into your urine. The only way to be sure what it means is by having good glucose tests done to know how high your blood-glucose level gets and how long it stays high after you have consumed glucose. You do not have to have a family history of diabetes to develop it.

DEAR DR. LAMB — For many years, as soon as I was cold, I have gotten really cold. I have to wear

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

South was a little disappointed with his partner's vulnerable pre-emptive three-bid. He mentally congratulated himself for not bidding seven, and then immediately misplayed the small slam. He won the opening lead with his spade queen, played king of clubs and a low club toward dummy. When West showed out on the second club, discarding a heart, declarer had no way to make the hand.

Is there a logical way to do better? Six club tricks are enough to make the slam, if they can be taken. If South plays the clubs by leading first a low club from his hand to dummy's nine, he will succeed unless West originally held all four of the defenders' clubs. If East wins the queen, South can subsequently overtake the king and make enough tricks for his contract. If the nine of clubs wins the trick, declarer will go a different route. He will play a low club from dummy back to his king and lead a low diamond to dummy's 10-9. Although a defender will win the jack, South cannot be denied entry back to dummy with the other diamond. Simple, isn't it?

NBC Continues To Ride High In Nielsens

NEW YORK (UPI) — CBS edged out NBC in the Nielsen ratings last week, but NBC held onto its overall No. 1 ratings spot so far this TV season — quite a change from this time last year when the network had chalked up five straight weeks in last place.

The A.C. Nielsen prime-time ratings for the week ending Oct. 28 gave CBS a 16.4 rating and a 26 percent share of the audience. NBC a 16 rating with a 26 share and ABC a 15.3 rating with a 25 share.

On the season to date, NBC leads with a 17.2 rating and a 28 share. CBS comes in second with a 16.8 rating and a 27 share, and ABC brings up the rear with a 15.2 rating and a 25 share.

NBC points out it is the only network to show an increase in ratings over the previous year — in part because it was so solidly in last place last year. NBC has picked up 12 ratings points, while CBS has lost six and ABC is down 14.

More good news for NBC is the continued success of "The Bill Cosby Show," which remains in the top 10. The debut of "V" was more respectable than the show ranked in a four-way tie for 34th place.

Despite all those good tidings for NBC, CBS was on top of the TV heap for the second week in a row, with five of the top 10 shows.

"CBS Evening News with Dan Rather" was the No. 1 evening news show for the 132nd consecutive week, with a 12.8 rating and 23 share. ABC's "World News Tonight" had a 10.9 rating and a 20 share, while "NBC Nightly News" had a 10.3 rating and a 19 share.

The top 10 prime-time shows for the week ending Oct. 28, according to the A.C. Nielsen Co., were:

1. Dynasty (ABC)
2. Dallas (CBS)
3. The A-Team (NBC)
4. Simon and Simon (CBS)
5. 60 Minutes (CBS)
6. Riptide (NBC)
7. Magnum, P.I. (CBS)
8. Bill Cosby Show (NBC)
9. Knots Landing (CBS)
10. Hotel (ABC)

Think Tank Says Sexual Salary Gap Narrowing

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — Women will see a significant increase in their incomes over the next two decades, but their paychecks will still be 25 percent smaller than men's, a Rand Corp. study says.

The report by the Southern California think tank was released Tuesday and immediately attacked by a leading feminist for failing to consider work performed in the home and for "making a case to accept discrimination."

The study said women's pay has climbed from 60 percent of men's in 1980 to 64 percent in 1983 — the "largest and swiftest" gain of the century. It predicted, however, that if current trends continue women will earn only about 75 percent of men's income by the year 2000.

Economists James Smith and Michael Ward said the gains are due to women's improving market skills, particularly those influenced by their education and work experience, rather than to affirmative action legislation and political pressure.

A U.S. Census Bureau statistic that shows women earn 59 cents for every dollar a man earns has become a rallying point for feminists.

The Rand researchers said they devised a different formula to calculate the average wage that took into consideration the flood of new, lower-paid women who have entered the job market in recent years and pulled down the average.

The influx of the new women into the workplace has actually pulled down the average women's wage to 53 cents to every dollar earned by a man in 1983 instead of 59 cents, Smith said.

"Our calculations, which we feel present a truer picture of women's economic position, show a steady increase in women's wages relative to men's," Ward said. "Across the 60 years between 1920 and 1980, women's wages grew 20 percent faster than men's."

But Sandra Farha, president of the California National Organization for Women, bristled at what she said was the underlying message of the report and criticized it for not taking into account the value of the work women perform in the home.

The wage gap between men and women penalizes families in which the wife's income is of major importance. When the wife is the primary or sole breadwinner, the average family income is about 25 percent less than it would be if the husband were the chief wage earner.

"It seems like they're making a case to accept discrimination in the workplace," she said. "I hear them saying to women, 'Hey, it's getting better. You're increasing your earning power. Don't feel bad if you're only making 59 cents. You'll be making 74 cents soon.'"

"For a woman and a man to graduate from the same school with the same degree and then to have their salaries differ by several thousand dollars is discrimination," she said.

Smith countered Farha's criticism.

"We're saying the wages women earn will be improving in the next 20 years," he said. "That doesn't imply there isn't discrimination and that something shouldn't be done about it."

Asked if women would achieve true parity with men in wages, Smith replied, "Not in our lifetimes."

New Financial Laws Needed To Stop Money 'Laundering'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Financial institutions are unwittingly being used to funnel $10 billion in organized crime drug money that is "laundered" abroad, the Presidential Commission on Organized Crime says.

The commission recommended Tuesday that the financial privacy laws be amended to make money laundering a federal crime, a move some fear could invite civil liberty violations against bank customers.

Under current law, a person convicted of laundering money is subject to maximum penalty of one year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

"Whether they know it or not, banks are part of the problem," said James Harmon, executive director of the commission. "We'd like to see banks be part of the solution."

The commission, which last week held hearings in New York focusing on Asian organized crime groups, said that $10 billion annually, or two-thirds of the drug trade, enters international channels through American banks and casinos.

U.S. Circuit Judge Irving Kaufman, chairman of the commission, said the body was formed to find creative ways to nab mobsters and that individual prosecution of criminals had failed to dent the multi-billion dollar narcotics industry.

Criminals must "launder" money before spending it, because law enforcement agents may mark bills or be able to track down the currency used in drug transactions.

To erase the trail, the money launderer typically deposits funds in an American bank, transfers them abroad — often to a Swiss bank account — and has the money returned in the form of a loan or through a dummy corporation.

The committee charged that the financial institutions are "reticent" to inform law enforcement officials of suspicious transactions and that the Treasury Department's bank examiners bear the brunt of under-recovering money laundering.

Under the Bank Secrecy Act, financial institutions are required to report currency transactions over $10,000.

The commission proposed that the FBI, Internal Revenue Service and Drug Enforcement Agency be given additional power and funds to investigate money laundering at banks and casinos.

Payment Squabble Results in Lawsuit

An Orlando company is suing a Florida firm that owns property in Seminole County for breach of contract.

AB Heat and Air, Inc. filed suit Oct. 23 against Florida Premier Builders, claiming the company owes it $3,647 for labor and materials.

According to the suit, Florida Premier Builders failed to make payment when it was due so AB Heat and Air is asking for money due and that a mechanic's lien of $2,500 be placed against property the company owns in Wingfield Reserve.

AB Heat and Air is also asking for court costs and attorney fees. The case has been assigned to Seminole Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor. No trial date has been set.

Tenth Anniversary

These folks are not out for a leisurely stroll around the block. No sir, these are bone fide athletes, a bit beyond their prime perhaps, competing in last year's Golden Age Games. Some participants train all year for the Games, traveling all over the country to compete and perfect their form.

Going For The Gold ... Again

Swimmer Louise Wing Has Dominated Her Event

One of the world's premier synchronized swimmers, Louise Wing, of Lynn, Mass., who recently turned 68, is back to compete in the Golden Age Games for the sixth time. She has won the gold medal each year in her age category for synchronized swimming; in fact she is so good she has never finished anywhere but first in her age group.

As if that wasn't sufficient domination, now she wants to make it a family affair. She has convinced husband Fred to enter the event this year.

She was honored last year with the Southland Olympia Award in recognition of her contributions to amateur sport and devotion to the Olympic ideal. She was named for the award by a panel of former world and Olympic champions, among them decathlon greats Bob Mathias and Rafer Johnson, gymnast Cath Rigby, and diver Pat McCormick. She was one of 300 athletes considered for the award.

"When we originated the Olympia Award," said Mathias, spokesman for the selection panel and this year's Golden Age Games honorary chairman, "we had in mind people such as Louise Wing, people who have given unselfishly of their time and energies in behalf of amateur sports. We could not have picked a more deserving person for this honor."

Louise Wing shows her form

She comes to Sanford from California where she won the Masters Synchronized Swimming women's championship for her age group for the 10th year. The masters competition is for men and women age 20 and older.

She swims with a masters team from the Jewish Community Center, Marblehead, Mass., as well as coaching a synchronized swim team for older women.

Mrs. Wing, as graceful in the water as a fish, has been swimming since she was 1½ years old. She was living in Chicago at the time. "The first body of water I saw was Lake Michigan," she recalled. "I toddled across the beach, waded into the water and started paddling for Canada. My mother, who was frightened to death of the water, screamed until somebody came into the lake and pulled me ashore. I hadn't gotten very far."

She thinks Sanford's Golden Age Games is a good idea. "I tell everybody about them and some of them do enter," she said. "Once they get into it, they like it. I think so much of it" she helped organize a Golden Age Games at Marblehead in May, 1983 "based on the rules here."

Mrs. Wing said there is definitely a growing interest in synchronized swimming among older Americans. "At Santa Clara, for the first year there were more swimmers over 40 than under 40."

When she was a girl swimming for females for was an upstream battle. When she moved to the Boston area in 1923 there was only one swimming pool in all of New England that permitted women, the Boston YWCA.

"Actually the 'Y' didn't open until 1928, when I was 19 years old," she added. "From where I lived I had to ride a subway and a street car for three hours just for the chance to swim for half an hour."

Mrs. Wing earned her junior life saving certificate at the age of 12 and her senior at age 16. Competition for girls was a dirty word back then and she had to content herself with playing in the water and watching the boys race.

After earning a physical education degree at Sergeant College, which did not have a swimming pool, she went to Wellesley for her masters degree, which did. After that she went in to 'Y' work.

But it wasn't until after a hitch in the Coast Guard when she returned to Boston in 1946 that she heard about a new sport called synchronized swimming.

She was directing a pool at the Boston 'Y' at the time so she looked into it and liked what she saw. That year she staged a few water shows and four years later helped stage the Boston area's first real synchronized swim meet.

Then Collect Post, Sanka Coupons

Need Some New Sports Gear?

For the 45 million Americans over the age of 55, collecting coupons from Post Cereals and Sanka Brand Decaffeinated Coffee could mean free bicycles, tennis rackets, golf clubs or any one of 50 pieces of quality equipment for their community club, retirement village or senior center.

Post and Sanka Brand are teaming up to make this offer nationwide through senior citizens organizations as part of a "Golden Age Fun 'n Fitness" campaign to foster healthy, active lifestyles among the older population. The Golden Age program is an extension of the already successful Junior Post Fun 'n Fitness program which enables schools to receive free athletic equipment. Proof-of-purchase from Post and Sanka Brand packages can be exchanged for recreation equipment specially selected to meet the needs of senior citizens.

Equipment is earned through a points system. Proof-of-purchase seals vary in value from two to four points depending on the size of the product package. Each item of equipment has a designated point value, which allows participants to set seal collecting goals. For example, jump ropes, exercise mats and softball bats require from 300 to 400 points each, whereas exercise cycles, golf clubs and golf bags can be obtained for 1,500 to 2,000 points each.

Collecting seals can be fun and challenging. Community groups might stage flea markets where goods are bought with seals; sporting tournaments for which seals are the entry fee; or a senior citizens organization might place collection barrels in strategic locations — supermarkets, shopping malls or on street corners.

Under the Fun 'n Fitness umbrella Post underwrites the Golden Age Games, a national sports gathering open to anyone 55 and older. Held in Sanford from Nov. 5-10, the games feature 34 competitive events and attract more than 4,000 entries from the U.S., Canada and Puerto Rico.

Catalogs detailing the Golden Age Fun 'n Fitness program, with ideas for accumulating seals, will be mailed to 10,000 senior centers nationwide. Order forms and photos of the recreational equipment offered are also included.

If your local organization wants a catalog or if you wish additional information, call toll-free 800-435-7678.

The Games Are Good For Business

With the last mile run, the last horseshoe tossed, and the last croquet ball knocked through the wicket, the ninth annual Golden Age Games came to a close about this time last year following a week of friendly, yet heated, competition.

"Things went exceedingly well that week," Games General Chairman Jim Jernigan said.

The Holiday Inn on the Sanford Marina said the hotel was full all week and a spokesman said the Games were responsible.

"They started checking in Monday and continued all week. They began to check out on Friday."

Mrs. Elaine Zadow, who along with her husband, Gary, owns the Slumberland Motel on U.S. Highway 17-92, also noted an increase in business.

Local restaurants also benefited from the influx of seniors into Sanford for the Games.

If You're Going To Be In Bike Race, You Had Better Be Good

Last year's 5-mile bicycle race winner Joe Nitsch

The competition in the bicycle races at the Golden Age Games is fierce, but polite. Contestants come from around the nation to display their skills.

Some participate to add to their string of medals and others compete for the fun of it.

Nance Kapoun and her husband, Ken, of DeBary, participated for the first time last year in the bicycle races. They bought their bikes after witnessing the 1982 Games.

And an exhilarated Mrs. Kapoun said after she "rode easily" over the 5-mile course at Seminole High School. "My grandchildren will never believe that I actually competed in a bicycle race."

Mrs. Kapoun of DeBary competed in the contest for women 55 to 59 years old. In a group of five she came in fifth. "But it was fun and I'll do better this year," she said. To make riding the racing bikes more comfortable, she and her husband, Ken, modified them by installing standard handlebars and standard seats.

Tennis is really her forte. She is playing in both the mixed doubles and women's doubles.

Mrs. Kapoun and husband, Ken, who is competing in the bicycle races for men 60-64, decided to compete "not with any idea of winning, just yet." They say they'll compete for fun until they get better.

But with Marie-Louise Holbert of Kirkwood, Mo. and Joe Nitsch of Longwood, while it's still fun, it's fun with a purpose. They are attracted by those gold medals and they keep in shape on their bikes year-round.

Nitsch has been competing in Golden Age Games for eight of the nine years they have been held in Sanford.

His specialty, in addition to the bike, is canoes.

He competes only in the Sanford games and to keep in shape, he does all his shopping travel by bicycle. Over the years he has won 14 gold medals, 31 medals in all.

Last year, he picked up his 14th gold medal in the 5-mile bicycle race, beating his closest competitor by four laps in the 75- to 79-year-old category.

Pacing yourself is a requirement to win a five mile race, Nitsch said. "You have to know ahead what you can do and don't go too fast."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Holbert collected another gold medal by winning the five-mile race in the 60- to 64-year-old age group for women.

She keeps in good condition year round, belongs to a club which bicycles more than 30 miles once a week and has raced in competitions in Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Germany.

She also competed in the decathlon which she won in her age group two years ago.

Describing golden age competitions around the country as "giving me something to do," she says there is a particularly good competition in St. Louis.

Carrying A Torch

Shuffleboarder, Swimmer Tapped For Honor

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Chosen for the honor of carrying the torches in the opening ceremonies of the 10th annual Golden Age Games are D.C. Madden of Sanford, 84, who has been in charge of the Games' shuffleboard tournament since its inception, and Mary Rose, newly named to the Seminole County Sports Hall of Fame.

Both have been members of the Games executive committee for all 10 years. Mrs. Rose is internationally known as a world-class synchronized swimmer. She and her sister, Fran Gioe, won the National Duet Championship in Detroit, Mich. in 1951. From there she went on to perform for 20 years with Sam Snyder's International Water Follies.

In 1976, Mary and her sister teamed up to compete in the Grand Masters National Duet Championship at Richmond, Va. They also won in 1977 at Alexandria, Va. For the past few years, Mary has been active in administrative duties for synchronized swimming. She is the National Age Group chairman, publicity chairman for the U.S. and the Administrative chairman for Florida.

While at 53, Mrs. Rose is two years shy of being old enough to compete in the Games, she represents the American Red Cross on the committee and has helped coordinate swimming events. It was through the efforts of Mrs. Rose and Mrs. Gioe that synchronized swimming became a regular event in the Games. They also worked to make it a part of the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles.

Madden, who represents the Sanford Shuffleboard Club on the Games executive committee, also competes in the checkers event at the Games.

He has been playing shuffleboard for more than 40 years ever since the Sanford Tourist and Shuffleboard Club was organized in the 30s. He coordinates the shuffleboard meets in Fort Mellon Park as well as intercity and district events when they are held here.

Message From The Chairman

The 1984 Golden Age Games will be the 10th anniversary of this event.

I want to extend a warm welcome to all participants, some who are annual contestants in the Golden Age Games.

To all the first-year participants we wish all of you the best of luck in the pursuit of the "gold".

May God bless each and every one of you and see that each of you have an opportunity to help us celebrate the greatest Golden Age Games ever.

It's All Here, From Track And Field To Knitting

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

This year marks the 10th anniversary for Sanford's annual Golden Age Games to be held Nov. 5-10. The activities will begin at 8:30 a.m. Monday with the light-hearted Fallen Arches Parade moving north on Park Avenue to the Sanford City Hall, where the opening ceremonies will be held.

Honorary Chairman Bruce Mathias, Miss Florida, and other dignitaries will be on hand to launch the Games and the Orlando Naval Training Center Band will perform.

An Olympic-style sports gathering, sponsored jointly by General Foods Post Foods and the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, the Post Fun 'N Fitness Golden Age Games, is open to anyone 55 years or older. It has received national media coverage and has drawn entries from all over the United States and several other countries as well.

The Games have grown each year in the number of participants and variety of events and have proved so successful they have inspired similar events for super seniors in more than 100 cities, states, and senior citizens organizations.

With many advance entries already in, a record number of young-at-heart seniors are expected to compete in events ranging from the strenuous decathlon and triathlon to less physical pursuits such as knitting and photography.

Golf and bridge were almost closed out two weeks prior to the start of the Games because of the strong advance interest.

A special feature of this year's Games will be a free exhibition water ballet to be held at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the Sanford Landing Apartments pool at 1800 W. First St. Spectators are welcome at this and all events during the week.

Last year more than 2,500 persons entered the Games, coming from the United States, Puerto Rico and Canada to compete for the gold, silver, and bronze medals.

"Since the Games started in 1975 there has been a sixfold increase in entries," Games general chairman Jim Jernigan noted.

Howard Hodges, chairman of the Board of Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, sees the success of the Games as "an indication that America's seniors, now the fastest growing population group, are becoming more involved in the general health and fitness movement in this country."

The Golden Age Games include 38 competitive events including track and field, cycling, basketball, golf, swimming, sailing, tennis, archery, canoeing, bowling, bridge, billiards, croquet, shuffleboard, horseshoes, race walking, dancing, ping pong, diving, checkers, dominos and others. There is a hobby show with several categories including needlework, collections, arts and crafts and horticulture.

A talent-variety show on Thursday night at the Sanford Civic Center features both competitive and non-competitive entertainment.

A social highlight of the week is the Jubilee Dinner-Dance on Wednesday night at the civic center where Bob Mathias, two-time Olympic decathlon winner, will be guest of honor and a live band will play for dancing following the catered buffet dinner. Tickets are available for $7.50 at the chamber office at 400 E. First St.

"The Golden Ages Games is truly a community affair," chamber President Jack Horner said. "All events are sponsored and supervised by various civic and service clubs in the greater Sanford area."

Additional information, entry forms and schedules of events are available at the chamber.

Not all Golden Age Games events require the ability to run fast, jump high, or throw far. There's also a little something for the culture buff. Take violinist Helen Lutz and pianist Grace McDonald, for example. Here they put on a performance for the judges during the Games' talent competition. Other events for the non-athletic include knitting, various card games, photography, checkers, and arts and crafts.

Triathlon Is Games' Newest Event

A new competition is included in this year's Golden Age Games — the triathlon. Athletes will pedal, push and stroke themselves through a grueling test of speed and endurance on three separate days.

The event starts Nov. 5 with the six-mile run. Runners will hoof their way on a path which starts at the Civic Center and snakes back around Summerlin, Celery and Mellonville avenues. The final leg of the race is a stretch along Lake Monroe down Seminole Boulevard. The course should present no problem to the many seniors who run that distance throughout the year, according to Games chairman Jim Jernigan.

The second competition, the half-mile swim, will follow Nov. 8. Swimmers will stroke down a canal at the Sanford Landings apartment complex swimming pool — "a piece of cake," Jernigan said. Swimmers worried about the contents of the water can relax, he said. The Department of Environmental Regulation tested it and found it "pure."

At Seminole Community College on Nov. 9, cheers of "Salute!" will no doubt fill the air as bikers circle the track in the third event — the five-mile bike race.

Competitors will have the choice of participating each event singularly, or as one of the triathlon requirements. But they must let the judges know their intent before they engage in each contest.

Jernigan said the triathlon was added this year because the decathlon was limited to track and field events. Many people who were not good at track and field also wanted a multiple-event competition.

The triathlon will be tough, Jernigan said, but not as much as one may think.

"You would be surprised at the shape some of these people are in," said Jernigan of the strapping seniors. "I wish I was in the shape some of these 55 and 65-year-olds are in."

Bicycling will be just one of the three events in the first-ever Golden Age Games triathlon. Also included will be a six-mile run and a half-mile swim. The event was added after many competitors found they weren't too good at the track and field events in the only other multi-contest offering — the decathlon.
