All in The Day's News

These are indeed momentous days. Congress is about to appropriate five billion dollars for work relief alone, not to mention all the other expenses of the government, enough money to have run the entire federal government for five years not so long ago; and nobody pays much attention to it, so interested are they in the many other more important items in the day's news.

Bruno Hauptmann is about to be acquitted or convicted in the most sensational murder case in a quarter of a century. Both State and defense have completed their evidence, the attorneys are arguing their case, and it only remains for the court to instruct the jury. It must find if it finds him guilty at all, that his conviction on the kidnapping is beyond any reasonable doubt. Can it do that?

The outcome of this New Jersey trial in the minds of millions of people is by far the most absorbing news of the day. It far surpasses in importance to them anything which Congress might do. In response to a general demand for it, newspapers have published millions of lines of trial news. On the trains, in the subway, buses, public parks, everywhere that people gather, men and women, boys and girls, are seen reading the Hauptmann trial. Nothing else matters.

But in Washington a few people are interested in the decision which the Supreme Court is about to hand down with regard to gold. They are wondering if the majesty of gold will be upheld. They are wondering if in this country the sanctity of contracts includes the pound of flesh. If Uncle Sam, known as Uncle Snylock in Europe where he has made strenuous efforts to collect war debts, will now have to pay through the bank himself on Liberty Bonds held abroad.

This Supreme Court decision and subsequent events incident to it may prove a turning point in American history far exceeding in importance the revolution of two and a half years ago which ushered in the New Deal. It may prove whether our government of checks and balances can continue to exist. It may be, not another rung, but a whole series of them, in the ladder which leads directly down to Fascism, communism, or some other new kind of government.

But people generally are not interested in this Supreme Court decision. Grains of gold and constitutional requirements are too complicated. Someone else will have to do the worrying, at least until the Hauptmann trial is over. And besides there is this new war starting up across the Atlantic. That is a long distance away, but the sound of marching feet, the rumble of motor transports, and hum of airplane motors are almost audible here, even so.

Spectacular, thrilling, romantic, Italy going into action against the Ethiopians, the handsome Balbo at the head of a fleet of war planes ready to bomb the daylight out of the desert tribesmen! There has been an "incident," which provoked Mussolini's ire. For that he will inaugurate an African conquest similar to Caesar's Gallic wars in Europe, or Japan's "pacification" of Manchukuo.

The Impotent League of Nations wonders what to do. France, having bought Italy's adherence to the European status quo, shuts both eyes to what goes on in Africa. England like the United States is too far away to involve half a dozen non-aggression pacts. They all only hope the fighting can be confined to one big nation like Italy and one little nation like Abyssinia. They fear only that Japan which has enjoyed enormous trade concessions there may become involved with Italy.

So that's the news of the day. Crime! Gold! And War! Not a pretty picture, is it?

Twenty-Five Years of Scoutdom

The Boy Scouts of America are celebrating their twenty-fifth anniversary. In this brief span of a quarter of a century nearly 6,500,000 boys have come under the direct influence of this great organization. This in itself is the most striking tribute which could be paid to the success of the Boy Scout movement.

The work of the Scout movement is now so well known that it scarcely needs elaboration in these columns. It is the character building and training for leadership is generally recognized. It is its excellent effect on the morale and health of its members. The emphasis on outdoor activities—especially on camping—helps to keep alive in the minds of many city and town boys the best in the old rural heritage of America—the fresh contact with nature and the skill in adjusting one's habits to outdoor living.

There are more than a million active Scouts in America today. The nation needs two or three times that number. In fact, never has the Boy Scout movement had a greater opportunity for useful service than in these days of insecurity and change. To many youngsters it gives a sense of values and a realization of responsibilities which they sorely need in meeting present-day problems. The ideals and standards of conduct inspired by the Scout movement help to steady the individual in times of stress.

Fortunately the popularity of the Scout movement is spreading. It has the great advantage of being autonomous in each locality despite its affiliation with the larger unit. By appealing to the youth of the community it helps to stimulate civic pride and to put fresh premium on good citizenship. Such a movement deserves ever wider support and has fully earned the hearty congratulations now being showered upon it on its twenty-fifth birthday.

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

One of the most brilliantly successful of the nation's... The beautiful reception given by the R. P. O. E. Wednesday evening at their club rooms. The guests were: R. L. Peck, O. L. Taylor, W. T. Stolley, and Dr. T. A. Neal who presented each guest with an Elk souvenir of this delightful occasion.

Ward comes to this city... The fair was the grand county fair at the Fair in Orlando yesterday. There were many other good county exhibits but none so complete and so well arranged as that of Seminole County. That Sanford has had a steady growth during the past year is best evidenced by the figures of the city which shows all the building permits within the city limits and shows about most of WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The hectic closing hours of debate in the Senate over whether the World Court should be ratified, the political significance of the vote is being emphasized.

Lady Macdonly To Speak On Palmistry

"Palmistry is a physical science, is not occult, and is just as comprehensible to the 'man on the street' as radio," said Lady Athol Macdonly in an interview with a Herald reporter this morning.

Lady Macdonly will speak on "Practical Palmistry" tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Seminole County Fair when she will explain the technique of palmistry and attempt to prove the truth of it. She believes that palmistry is more a character analysis than a revelation of abstruse facts.

Lady Macdonly has traveled extensively abroad, visiting many strange places, and says that as far as she has visited only China, she is a native of the United States, spent much of her childhood in Florida and as Miss Irene Monan, attended Southern College when Dr. S. W. Walker, former pastor of the local Methodist Church, was president of that institution.

Her home is in Cairo, Egypt where she and her husband have a villa. Since he is at present engaged in engineering work in the Belgian Congo she is visiting her family who live on the West Coast of Florida.

The Literature Department of the Women's Club, which is sponsoring the lecture tomorrow, reserved Lady Macdonly's services one year in advance. She spoke at the Seminole High School auditorium this morning on "How Gentlemen Eat with their Fingers," in Egypt and Asia Minor.

Swift Suggests That City Build Up Golf Course

is turned on in front of the hotel after he had expressed approval for the large number that already have been lighted as an aid in making the hotel site so attractive as possible.

The Commissioners accepted both of his suggestions with thanks and declared that they would co-operate with him to the fullest. Commissioner V. A. Speer was delegated to work out the white-wash lighting scheme with Mr. Swift at once.

Vol. A. Williams, local automobile dealer and agent for Eastern Air Lines, was extended a vote of thanks for his "splendid work" after he had reported that Sanford now is a flag stop on the airline between Jacksonville and St. Petersburg and that passengers apparently can be placed aboard plane daily from Jacksonville.

The Commission voted to advertise a 40 acre tract of land southeast of Mellowville and Geneva Avenues so far as to the highest bidder after T. B. Middleton of Sanford had offered $350 in cash for the city's equity in the land, now outside city limits.

After disposing of the Middleton tract the authority they had given City Clerk F. S. Lamson to offer, the Commissioners voted to dispose of land secured at foreclosure sales for the city's equity in the property.

The motion rescinding this authority carried the amendment that a special meeting be held at once for the purpose of establishing a uniform policy in disposing of property thus acquired. This meeting will be held Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

The Commissioners approved the list of eight projects submitted to the State Planning Board at Tallahassee on Saturday.

Made a matter of official record was the receipt of a deed from the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund at Tallahassee covering three lots north of the State Farmers' Wholesale Market. These lots were included in the tract of land donated for the market site, and they were returned to the city under an agreement.

The deed also carried a reverter clause under terms of which the market site returns to the city if and when it no longer is used as a market.

In connection with this deed, the Commissioners voted that the Board of County Commissioners and the Trustees, for the "clean-cut way in which the edifice transaction was handled."

The Gulf Refining Co. was giving permission to erect a bulk gasoline terminal on property south of the present Orange State Oil Co. terminal on Myrtle Avenue.

The Commissioners confirmed the sale of land to Goldsboro, to he lost his arms when a youth, will give an exhibition of trick shots the city relinquishes its right to acquired during the installation of a nounced an intention of staging several League committee meetings in Sanford at an early date and possibly the annual convention

Action on the Board of Public Instruction's offer to pay the City $25 monthly provided the Municipal Library is opened free to the teachers and pupils in Seminole County was held up pending a conference among Librarian Mrs. El-son Douglas and Commissioners W. A. LeFler and V. A. Speer.

The Commissioners agreed that Project Engineer W. K. Eads should be paid his regular salary of $30 a week despite the fact that FEHA operations have been suspended for several days.

A letter was ordered sent to the Florida Power and Light Co. requesting that over 200 white way and street lights be turned on instead of the company's usual practice.

Chief of Police Roy G. Williams was instructed to notify the Florida Motor Lines and the Winn-Lovett Grocery Co. that because State Road Department engineers are protesting against the present practice of parking cones and trucks on State Road No. 2 in front of the bus company's office and the grocery's water-front dock, this method of parking must stop at once.

No action was taken on Karl Lehmann's suggestion that the Commissioners consider accepting a deed offered by a man named Johnson for the electric rights to sell products at Manigault Zoo.

No action was taken on the proposed first reading of an ordinance restricting the use of roadside fire trucks within a certain distance of the State Farmers' Wholesale Market.

George C. Fellows' request that the Commissioners permit him and the Sanford Concert Orchestra turned down.

Sanitary Engineer G. F. Patton

Pilsudski Reigns As Dictator Over Polish Territory

WARSAW, Feb. 22.—Democracy will be banished from the new Polish constitution which soon will be adopted by the Senate, obedient Marshal Pilsudski.

All law's political rights will be invested in the President. The representative bodies, Sejm and Senate, will have no power against the Administration.

The president will have the right to appoint and dismiss the government, convene and dissolve the parliament, declare war and conclude peace, ratify treaties with foreign powers, without having to ask for the consent of parliament.

Moreover, he also will appoint the chief of the general staff, the chief of the supreme court and the chief comptroller. Finally, one-third of the members of the Senate will not be elected by the people, but appointed by the president.

Theoretically, the new constitution will allow the Sejm to demand the removal of the government or of a cabinet member. The president, however, always will be in a position to override the parliament's decision by dissolving it and prescribing new elections.

The new constitution will give the president strong influence the choice of his own successor.
Six months before the expiration of his seven-year term, the president will have the right to nominate a candidate for his succession.

An "electors' council," consisting of prime minister, the president of the supreme court, the chief of the general staff, the speakers of the Sejm and Senate, and 50 representatives of the two chambers of parliament, also will nominate a candidate. If the choice of the "electors' council" coincides with that of the president, that candidate will become president without popular election. If however, the "electors' council" picks a different candidate, a decision will be reached by popular vote.

There are recorded cases of men who became leaders in science, art and philosophy who were so dull as to be laugh-off-stock at school. They may seem far years to be cases of arrested development, and suddenly find an interest which spurs them on to such effort that they outstep their classmates and eventually leave them far behind.

In any event calling them mortally never helped them, and the parents who hand the word about under any provocation are putting their child under a tremendous burden.

If the child seems normal in the everyday relations of life, displays independence of thought and action, develops character and originality, uses his hand-will, has no physical disabilities or imperfections, and is in good health, the chances are his teaching in school and at home books may be blamed on his parents and teachers.

To discourage him by calling him stupid or feeble-minded simply gives him a sense of inadequacy and defeat and may increase his backwardness. If parents and teachers cannot reach back into the past and find the reasons for the child's backwardness, they should order remedial proceedings instituted against a dilapidated home owned by William, and standing in the middle of the proposed alley.

Clerk Lamson was instructed to communicate with the County Commission in regard to proposed land before an application against property being delinquent.

WILENTZ BRINGS STATE'S CASE TO CONCLUSION

toward Hauptmann. "But there with a man who can answer them.
He will be thrown out when he hears that verdict. That's the time he will talk."

The last plea for Bruno Renard Hauptmann's life was filed at his jury late yesterday in a hotly worded cry that a "gang" kidnaped and killed the Lindbergh baby and that the case against Hauptmann was an empty fraud.

Edward J. Reilly, in a summation rife with bitter charges that Cal. Charles A. Lindbergh was betrayed and tricked by those he trusted, begged the eight men and four women trying the case to take away what they cannot give—his life.

With scorn in his phrasing but always with an appeal to the "David Harbo horse sense" of the jury, Reilly charged that evidence against Hauptmann was "fixed" and "planted," that the State of New Jersey bungled the investigation of the century's greatest crime from the start.

"This kidnaping was the work of a gang, and by a gang was meant a collection of people, bent on an evil undertaking," he shouted.

Reilly concluded the defense summation at 4:22 P. M.

Today Attorney General David T. Wilentz, lithe and alert in mandate, the electric chair for Hauptmann, and the jurors, after hearing Justice Thomas W.
Trenchard's charge, filed into the black; black room where they will try to reach a verdict.

The verdict may come Tuesday night, or Wednesday, or not at all. There is every indication that only four jurors will be open-accusatorial, conviction with a mandatory life sentence or dismemberment.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(AP)—A plea for the child labor amendment to the Constitution was made last night by Attorney General Cummings.

"Ma" Barker Spent Most Of Life Apologizing For Sons

Perhaps Discouraged By Persistence Of Her Brood, She Joined Them In Evil Careers

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 12.—(AP) Kate "Ma" Barker, who died at the business end of a machine gun in the reputed "brains" of her brood, spent her early years apologizing to the law for her criminal children.

When Arthur "Doc" Barker, one of the four sons born to her, goes to trial in St. Paul, Minn., charged with kidnaping Edward G. Bremer, Commercial State Bank President, "Ma" Barker will not be there to plead for him as she did when he was a youngster.

When Lloyd, the only other son living, is released from federal prison, "Ma" will not be around to welcome him into the gang which for several years has been on the federal blacklist of "predatory criminal" bands.

And all because "Ma," at one time in her life, decided to trade peace and apologies for a "chop-axe," perhaps discouraged by the persistence of her boys, "Ma" Barker joined them.

When Freddie Barker, the one with the sharp, rat-like features, fell in that rain-forest of lead that poured through the windows and doors and sides of a house in Oklawaha, Fla. recently, "Ma" Barker fell at his side. The 100-shot drum of machine gun which she clutched in death, was upon them both empty.

She died at the hands of the law she had wheedled and seduced for more than 2 years, then openly defied.

In that period she had schooled in a broad underworld communications network, a key position in a great underworld communications network.

After making the final transition she presented a strange picture of a grandmother, filling about the countryside with an outlawed weapon in her hand, a skirted menace to society.

Born Arizona Clark in the little Ozark mining town of Aurora, Mo., she married George Barker of Aurora when she was 20. In 1924 the family moved to Tulsa, then a billowing young town that had begun to feel the magic touch of oil.

Barker himself, was a steady worker. For 14 years he was employed as a custodian of a building in Tulsa, with many friends.

The "crowd," however, developed into a gang, and in a short time burglaries and thievery and small robberies were marked against them.

"Ma" Barker became a familiar figure at police headquarters, where she seemed always to be pleading that first and sometimes

State Asks Cash To Pay Teachers Salary

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 12.—(AP) Florida proposed today to ask the Federal Emergency Relief Administration to provide funds for payment of school teachers' salaries in approximately 25 counties.

Governor Sholtz, returning to his office after a week's absence because of an attack of influenza, announced the application would be made.

About 25 counties need assistance to provide the salaries of rural school teachers, he said.

Both the governor and W. S. Cavitt, superintendent of public instruction, said they did not at present have complete figures on the amount of money that would be needed.

They already had found many features they found questionable and had received conflicting recommendations from two cabinet members.

Although the measure was labeled "administrative" they had had no direct word from the Chief Executive as to his preferences.

Secretary Morgenthau asked the committee to exempt farmers, domestic and consular collection of a tax for old-age pensions. Secretary Perkins took the position that all should be taxed.

It was Chairman Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, of the Ways and Means Committee who journeyed to the White House to sound out the President.

Most of the Democratic members of the committee gained the impression the bill's exact form was immaterial to the President, so long as it conformed to the general principles outlined in the original measure. They sought

German's Guard Says Prisoner Really Worried

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 12.—(AP) Lloyd Fisher, special deputy who has spent more time with Bruno Hauptmann than any other guard, said yesterday, "I believe he thinks things look very dark."

"For the first time, he asked me what I thought the outcome would be," Law said.

"I replied, 'Richard, that's in the lap of the gods. He said, 'I am innocent, and I answered, 'Don't worry.'"

Law said he had seen many changes in Hauptmann's demeanour "on the few minutes I've been with him six hours a day."

"He is more worried now than he ever has been before," Hauptmann is "wrought up," he said "ever what he feels is a real thing."

Fisher is a Flemington attorney and Edward J. Heilly is chief of defense counsel.

"After all these weeks," Law said, "Hauptmann's still an enigma to me. There's a question in my mind whether he understands himself."

The deputy's eyes were grave behind his glasses.

"Watching Hauptmann hasn't been a pleasure," he said.

"Naturally I become somewhat attached to him. There's something about him that makes you follow. He isn't all bad—"

"For example, he is very clean, he likes to take baths, and stands under the shower for half an hour."

"I feel sorry for the man, Law continued, "he's in such a rotten jam. It depressed me when the evidence against him seemed so damaging. I felt as if I were walking the last mile with him."

Law said Hauptmann never deep in thought all the time, and in the last few days has read very little.

"He feels badly for his wife and child," said the deputy. That's the hope in his arm.

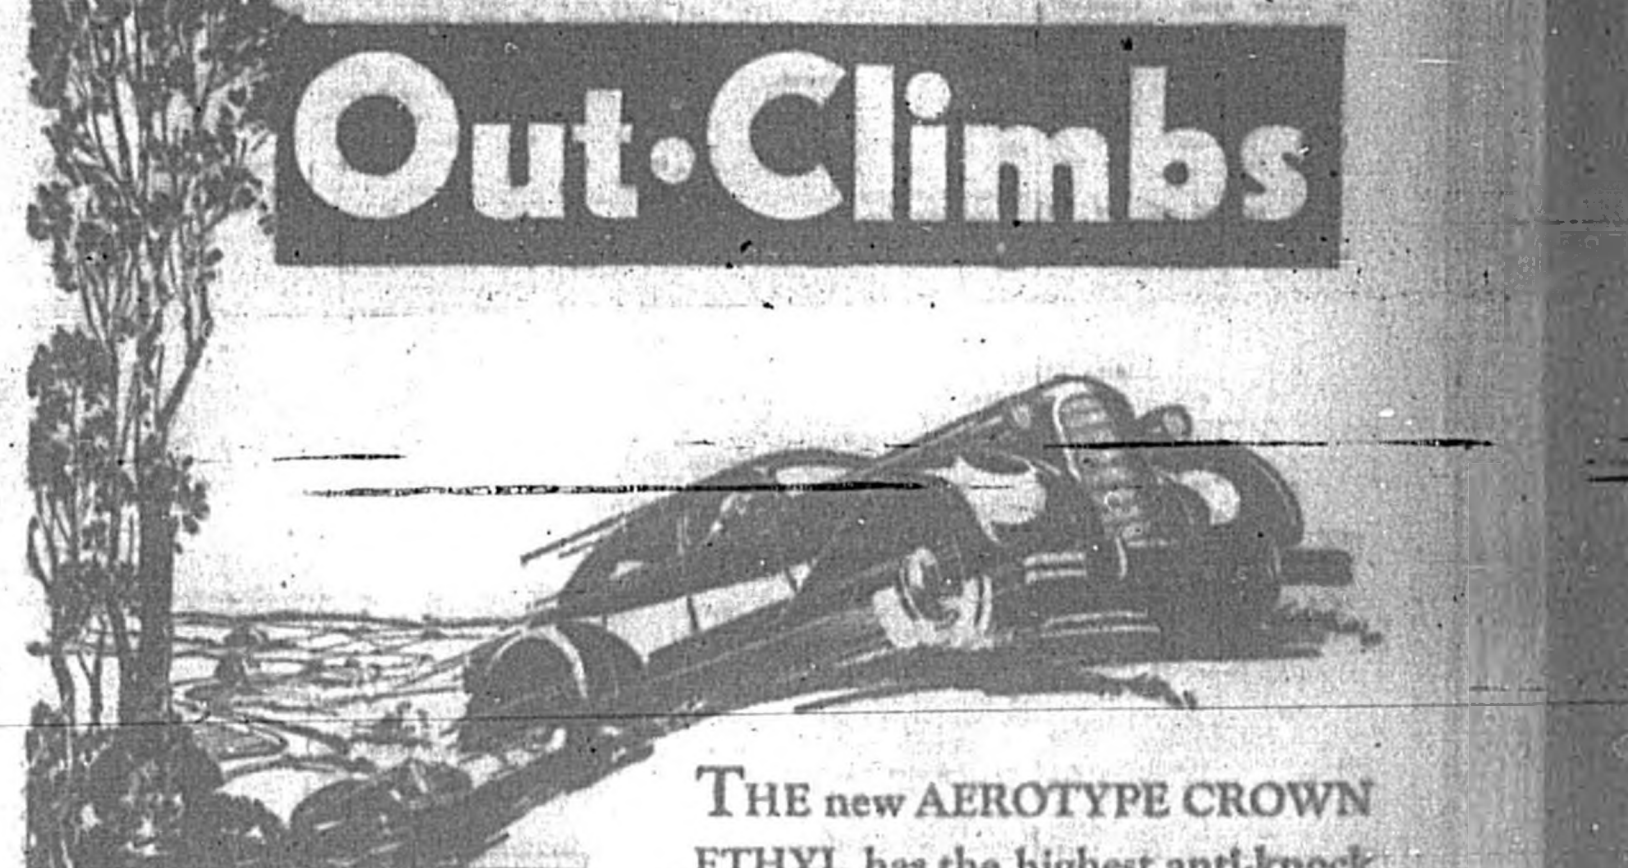

"At first he was cold and stoical and gave no outward sign of feeling. As the trial date approached, he showed signs of nerves, and later, in the first days of the trial, seemed to enjoy the limelight."

"And now he is worried."

Dirigible Macon Lies In Floor Of Pacific, Two Of Crew Missing

Terrible Explosion Causes Craft To Crack Up Enroute Sunnyvale Base

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12. (A.P.)—The giant dirigible Macon, destroyed by a mysterious disaster at the bottom of the Pacific while 81 survivors being brought here by two members of the crew missing and when a failed to reveal the bodies today they were given the fate of every American dirigible the vessel as she neared her base at sunset last night.

Two of her 12 gas balloons suddenly burst as she through equally air 118 miles from San Francisco.

Survivors estimated that the dirigible was further developed than any other air craft, already in the government's hands to launch at least three more into the crash of the Macon.

President today gave a message to the Navy for its work and said he would be likely to direct this time to replace the dirigible.

Italy Ready To Spend Millions On African War

Ethiopian Emperor Sends Defiant Retort To Mussolini, Blaming His Nation

ROME, Feb. 12. (A.P.)—The Italian government was said authoritatively today to be ready to spend $500,000,000 on a two year military campaign in Africa in the event hostilities break out with Ethiopia.

Italian military plans became known as Negades Yesus, Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie defiantly retorted holding Italy responsible for the frontier conflicts which precipitated the present crisis.

The Ethiopian communication a government spokesman said, created a "melancholy situation."

It was learned that Italy is responsible for the deaths of the colonial service.

A battalion of 300 Fascist militia left Rome quietly for Italy early today, with full colonial equipment.

Meanwhile at Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian and Italian governments agreed today to the establishment of neutral zones where hostilities recently have occurred, and to appoint a boundary commission.

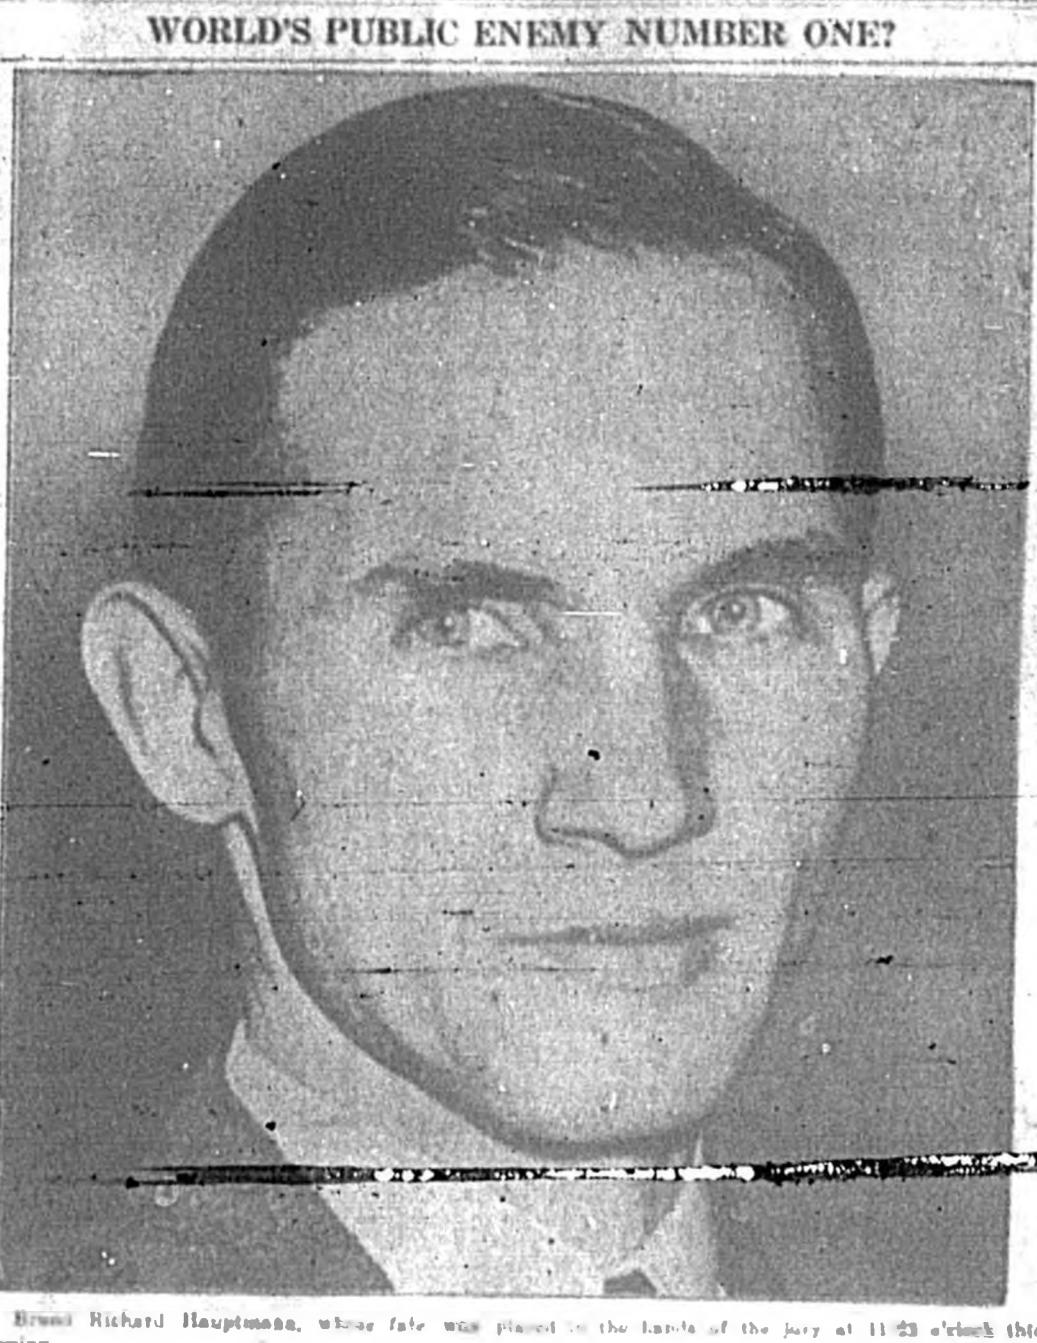

British and French diplomats worked hand-in-hand at Rome and Addis Ababa Tuesday to avert war in Africa as Ethiopia's diplomatic representative in Rome said flatly his country would not pay one cent indemnity for Italian slain along the Italian border.

Although official circles in London expressed confidence that Mussolini would act with moderation and Italy-Ethiopian peace negotiations went forward at Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian government was reported to be sending 70,000 men along the frontier, while Italy had 200,000 ready for the call to the colors.

Rome—The Ethiopian charge d'affaires said his nation has 1,000,000 men available to fight Italy, asserting Ethiopia expects no foreign ally and needs none. He declared Mussolini's demands for satisfaction in the recent border controversy must be modified to be accepted.

Addis Ababa—the government announced that the attack near Godegode Jan. 28, latest in the long series of border incidents which (Continued On Page Two)

Court Stresses Disputed Reliability Of Condon, Hochmuth In His Final Words

FLEMINGTON, Feb. 12. (A.P.)—The jury trying Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnaping and murder of Charles Lindbergh, Jr. began its deliberations before noon today after being instructed that it must return three possible verdicts: Murder in the first degree, the same with a recommendation for mercy, or acquittal.

The final charge of the Court paid particular attention to the disputed reliability of important state witnesses, Dr. John Condon and Amanda Hochmuth and the defense theories that a gang perpetrated the crime and that hood leader Fisch gave Hauptmann the ransom money he had.

"Do you believe that?" were the concluding words of the Court's remarks about each of these defense contentions.

Defense exceptions to the charge were heard after the jury retired at 11:23.

Justice Trenchard's charge, though brief was sharp and to the point.

No word came from the jury at 1:30 o'clock, two hours and 30 minutes after it had retired.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (A.P.)—Although Congress was in recess, the loss of the Macon, another Administration maneuver against the payment of the bonus, and the late chance of a Supreme Court decision in the gold case made for a busy day in the capital today.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Swanson, rejoicing that the loss of life was no greater on the dirigible, showed there would be no immediate attempt to replace it.

They did not consider that lighter than air craft were to be displaced finally, however.

Not mentioning the bonus, the President, at a press conference, repeated his view that any increase in the budget should be accompanied by revenues to meet its cost.

His words were addressed specifically to the full restoration of government salaries on April 1, but the principles embraced the $2,100,000 cash veterans proposal.

The Senate and House committees were kept busy on the 20-hour week, social security, and relief proposals without speaking any startling testimony.

Mrs. C. J. Rumph Dies Suddenly In Son's Miami Home

Mrs. C. J. Rumph, 65, resident of Sanford for the past 40 years, died suddenly this morning at the home of her son, C. Home Rumph, in Miami.

She had been visiting in Miami for the past week and she suffered a stroke of paralysis early last night.

Labor Board Asks Clarification Of Section Seven - A

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (A.P.)—The National Labor Relations Board jumped into the partially closed camp between the American Federation of Labor and the Administration with a suggestion that the famous section 7-a of the Recovery Act "should be clarified."

Federal chieflets for months have contended the clause guaranteeing employees' rights to bargain collectively should be enlarged to specify "majority rule" and to outlaw company unions.

Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, former chairman of the old national labor board and an experienced hand in dealing with 7-a violations, has said he would introduce a bill to "improve these changes."

But that measure has not yet been introduced.

Apparently the bondholders are determined that the harassed and over-burdened taxpayers of Florida shall have no relief, even though such a relief is to help on the bondholders themselves.

Bridge Which Replaces Titusville Ferry May Be Opened For Traffic In 30 Days

March 12 probably will see the opening of the wooden bridge now being erected across the St. Johns River to replace the Titusville ferry east of Geneva, it was learned here today.

By that time the new road grade will have been placed in such condition as to permit of traffic, and the bridge will have been erected.

The bridge is one which was built and operated across the St. Johns River at Lake Monroe. It was demolished about three months ago and removed to the Titusville ferry site by State Road Department crews.

The authority for the statement that the bridge may be opened within 30 days came in a letter from C. B. Treadway, chairman of the Road Department.

High Court Studies Law Against Drunks

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 12. (A.P.)—The question of whether state-wide prohibition repeal would not a state law against drunkenness was raised in the supreme court yesterday.

A bill of laboring women was issued by the court directing Sheriff Frank E. Hennessey of Leon county to show cause why George Haynes, a negro convict, should not be released from custody.

In his petition for the writ, Haynes contended the law against drunkenness was killed along with the "bone dry" prohibition laws, with the adoption of the prohibition repeal amendment, last November.

Shippers Agree To Handle Only Well Bleached Celery

Calling for the co-operation of all celery growers and shippers in Seminole County a group of prominent Sanford-Oviedo shippers this morning unanimously endorsed a resolution in which they agreed to ship only well-bleached celery from this section for the remainder of the season.

The resolution was offered by H. F. Wheeler, prominent Oviedo grower, during a meeting held in the Finch Building and attended by representatives of practically every local celery shipping organization.

Too much green celery is being packed into Southern markets and sold in trucks, it was agreed by the shippers, and it was held that this practice will tend to damage the price range now in existence.

Growers, it was agreed, should exercise greater caution in the selection and cutting of their celery, and all are to understand that the shippers represented at the meeting have definitely decided to turn down green celery passing through their hands.

Shippers and members of the Florida Celery Control Committee will meet at the Finch Building at 10:00 o'clock Friday morning for a joint session with Oklawaha members of the committee.

Shippers attending this morning's meeting, included: H. F. Wheeler and E. F. Lee of Oviedo, John Mowbray, Sr., Charles Dunn, J. B. Chapman, H. B. Davis of the United States Department of Agriculture, J. C. Hutchinson, W. H. Scott, A. W. Wilson, M. E. Colman, E. R. Dunn, and H. E. Squires.
