Lloyd George Starts His Campaign with Fighting Speech

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Oct. 26.—A proclamation dissolving parliament was signed by King George this morning at Privy Council held at Sandringham. The proclamation will be gazetted this afternoon.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Bonar Law, as leader of the Unionist party, in a manifesto issued today declared the tasks of that party if returned to power, will be to make good the Anglo-Irish treaty both in letter and in spirit and to co-operate with the Irish government.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Former Prime Minister Lloyd George started off his fighting speech to an enthusiastic meeting of the coalition Liberal members of parliament, throwing down the gauntlet to the Conservatives, whose attack upon the late government, he declared left no alternative but to "spread the war."
The little Welshman stood by his Manchester speech of last Saturday reiterating his intention to support any party or government pursuing a policy of peace, economy and steady progress, neither revolutionary nor reactionary.

YOWELL WILL GIVE TWO PAIRS ONLY FOR ONE DOLLAR

It looks like the Herald will force Yowell & Co., to give three pairs of pure thread Silk Phoenix hose for one dollar in spite of all they can do to prevent it. They only advertised two pairs for one dollar which is a big bargain but a mistake in the Herald made it three pairs in one place and two pairs in another place in the advertisement which is rather confusing to say the least. However, in justice to Yowell & Co., we want to state in this issue that it is only TWO PAIR OF PHOENIX SOCKS FOR ONE DOLLAR tomorrow. Please remember this and also that the two pairs are a bargain that you should not miss.

MARCUS ENDEL INDISPOSED

Friends of Marcus Endel, Chairman of the Masonic Grand Lodge Committee on Work, and familiarly known throughout the state as 'The Grand Old Man of Masonry', will regret to learn that the chairman indisposed yesterday, and was forced to keep to his room through the day. True to his nature and character, however, he pulled himself together and was at his station in the Lodge last night when the Fellow Craft degree was conferred.

BAUMEL'S DOLLAR DAY SPECIALS ARE LINED UP FOR THE BIG DAY

Baumel's Specialty Shop has a quarter page advertisement in this issue for the Dollar Day Bargain Day tomorrow. Dresses, millinery, coats and suits all will have big reductions for the day and aside from these there will be special Dollar Day bargains that are real bargains. Glance over these real Baumel Bargains in this issue.

KILLED HIS WIFE AND BURIED HER IN THE WOODS

(By The Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Oct. 26.—Henry J. Burns was today booked on a murder charge for the brutal killing of his third wife whose mutilated body was found almost nude in a shallow grave in the woods seven miles west of Painesville yesterday.

POPE IS EXONERATED OF HICKMAN'S MURDER BY THE OTHER PRINCIPAL

Jacksonville Murder Assumes New Phase With Both Men in the Pen

(By The Associated Press)
JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 26.—Frank Rawlins, who, with John H. Pope, a Jacksonville attorney, are serving life imprisonment for the murder of Geo. H. Hickman by Rawlins during a holdup of a theatre here in September of last year, exonerates Pope in a lengthy affidavit made public today by Edgar Waybright, Pope's counsel, saying he implicated Pope in the hope he would escape capital punishment. The supreme court last week denied Pope's request for a new trial and Waybright announced he would file with the court in Tallahassee today a motion for a stay of mandate. Before the trial Rawlins declared Pope planned the robbery and the court held Pope equally guilty. Both were convicted of murder in the first degree with recommendation for mercy.

CONGENIAL GATHERING OF KIWANIS

MUCH BUSINESS TRANSACTED
AT MEETING AT VALDEZ YESTERDAY

After Dr. Brownlee had asked the Divine blessing at the regular weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club in the Palm room of the Valdez Hotel, the club settled down to the transaction of more than ordinary important business.

The sign committee reported and were authorized to place three neat road signs on the roads leading to Sanford. These signs will inform visiting Kiwanians where and when the club meets so they can eat with the bunch.

Secretary Lloyd reported that he had secured the Merriwether lot at the corner of Magnolia avenue and Second street, and President Connelly announced that next Monday evening the entire club was cordially invited—in fact, commanded—to come out and clean up the premises for the proposed playground. Bet there's a record attendance there. Not.

There were a number of guests present—the A. C. L. being represented by J. C. Murcheson, general superintendent, and J. F. Mead, assistant general freight agent, with headquarters in Jacksonville, and F. B. Langley, of Lakeland. With all their high-sounding titles they were a congenial bunch of ordinary mortals, and accomplished one much desired object—they kept J. H. Dumas in his place and the entire meeting passed without a scrap. The first named gentlemen made short talks on the railroad situation, which were listened to with deep interest by the club.

Luke Thompson, who has been visiting his son in Orlando for some time past, announced at the meeting that he had decided to cast his lot with us and would open a first class cafeteria here in the near future. Other visitors were Messrs. W. Scott, B. J. Overstreet and Phil Rosenberg.

Secretary Lloyd had recovered from the effects of his trip to Jacksonville where, with Bart Herndon, he represented the local club at the district meeting. He told of the good treatment accorded the delegates and of the good things accomplished by the district convention. He made one of the most interesting talks ever delivered at a meeting of the local club, and no one could listen to his remarks and not be a better Kiwanian—a better man and neighbor.

Bart Herndon was not present—probably wasn't recovered from the effects of the trip. But Mr. Herndon deserves much credit and the thanks of the club for attending the meeting, as otherwise Sanford would have had only one delegate.

"Dick" Boyd who admits, without a regret, that he is from Georgia, favored the gathering with a negro song that was so well received that he was forced to respond with an encore, in which he was most ably assisted by Mrs. Boyd.

It was decided to have a Kiwanis float in the Armistice Day parade and Chairman Ed. Lane was ordered kindly, but firmly, to get busy on the same.

Taken all in all it was a most interesting meeting and the writer regrets that a lack of space prevents the publishing of Secretary Lloyd's talk in full.

INTEREST GROWS IN SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION

GREAT TIME IN FELLOW CRAFT
DEGREE HELD LAST NIGHT

Interest is growing in the Masonic School of Instruction now being held in Sanford Lodge No. 62, F. & A. Masons, by the Grand Lodge Committee on Work composed of Marcus Endel, Walter Scott and Hunter Long.

In the Fellow Craft Degree yesterday the Classes were augmented by many Masons from the several lodges in this district. A number of lodges sending large delegations to become proficient in the work that the various members of the lodges at home, not having an opportunity to attend a Grand Lodge School, might receive the benefit of the school through the delegation. It is understood that Bowling Green has the largest delegation present. Orlando is running a close second, while Stuart and Kissimmee are tied for third place in these honors.

Yesterday instruction in the Fellow Craft degree was given and last night the degree conferred on three actual candidates. The attendance last night was at least double of the preceding night, standing room in the lodge being almost at a premium, if such could be permitted in a Masonic lodge.

A distinguished visitor, in the person of United States Senator D. U. Fletcher was present at the meeting last night, and upon being introduced to the Lodge by Marcus Endel, Florida's Grand Old Man of Masonry, upon invitation from the Worshipful Master, addressed the lodge.

Tonight the Master Mason's degree will be conferred—the Committee on work being in charge. Lodges will open at 7:30 p. m.

GREAT BRITAIN WILL BUILD TWO BIG SHIPS

ALL IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE
WASHINGTON AGREEMENT

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Oct. 26.—It was stated on high authority today that the admiralty has issued tenders for the construction of two 35,000 ton battleships. This is in accordance with the Washington agreement but has been much discussion as to whether Great Britain would build these ships or not.

IN EXPLANATION

According to the article in yesterday's paper about the Big Berean Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church, you might be led to believe that they had a nice shower of rain on Sunday, the 22nd, when the rest of the city didn't. But such was not the case. The article did not get into Saturday's paper, and being in Monday's paper in looked like a report of the for Oct. 22nd, instead of Oct. 15th.

The "B. B. B." had a record attendance last Sunday, (no rain, 22 members and visitors being present. We hope to have 25 present next Sunday. Come out to our big supper tonight, Baptist Church at 8 o'clock.

Arrest Yesterday Followed the Publication of Revolutionary Committees

(By The Associated Press)
ATHENS, Oct. 26.—Newspapers announce Prince Andrew, brother of the former King Constantine, was arrested yesterday at Corfu on a charge that he contributed to the disaster suffered by the Greek army in Asia-Minor. He will be brought to Athens and interned in the palace. General Stratigos is another on the roster of the Greek statesmen and soldiers in jail. His arrest yesterday followed the publication of revolutionary committees decree establishing tribunal to try political and military prisoners in connection with Greek defeat in Asia-Minor.

CASHED SEVERAL CHECKS IN TAMPA; ST. PETE AND OTHER CITIES

(By The Associated Press)
OCALA, Oct. 26.—A stranger who claims to be Harry Durgin manager of the Plaza Hotel in New York and who cashed several large checks in Tampa, St. Petersburg, was arrested her today by sheriff of Marion county at the request of Tampa authorities as he stepped from the train.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The man- agement of the Plaza hotel today de- clared no person named Durgin was in their employ.

YOUTH KILLS HIS BRIDE AT SAINT CLOUD

The eighteen-year-old wife of Geo. Brown, of St. Cloud, an Osceola county city about 27 miles from Orlando, was mortally wounded by her husband, twenty-one, last night, according to telephone reports received by the Morning Sentinel at an early hour this morning.

Mrs. Brown, a bride of a few months, has no possible chance to recover, though she may linger for several days, reports said. She was shot three times and though in a dying condition when reached by physicians ad county authorities, was able to relate briefly the story of the shooting.

"I don't know why George wanted to kill me," she was said to have told the authorities. "We had always been happy together, but tonight he came home from work acting strangely. I thought nothing of it until a few minutes afterward, when he advanced upon me with a revolver in his hand. He shot me once in the house and twice as I ran out to the front yard."

W. M. Vause, of the local police department, notified a reporter for The Sentinel shortly after midnight that he had heard reports of a killing in St. Cloud. The reporter called St. Cloud, verified the reports, obtaining a complete description of Brown, and police began a search for him, on the theory that he might come this way.

Later reports from St. Cloud said that a sheriff's posse was searching for Brown in and around St. Cloud. Mrs. Brown was expected to die within twenty-four hours, it was said.

Brown and his wife were both natives of Osceola county. The former's parents and several brothers live in St. Cloud and it was said that the family is respected. Brown has never been in trouble before, it was said.

Brown was described as being light-complexioned with blue eyes and light hair, six feet tall and weighing about 140 pounds. When last seen he wore a Western hat and a pair of khaki trousers.

At 2 o'clock this morning reports from St. Cloud said that physicians had announced that Mrs. Brown may live through the day, though the nature of her wounds would make her recovery an "absolute impossibility"

STATE NEWS

FORT PIERCE, Oct. 19.—The Fellsmere Railroad, operating fourteen miles of track between Sebastian and Fellsmere, shops fixtures and rolling stock will be sold at auction November 6 by the sheriff of St. Lucie county to satisfy a claim for unpaid 1921 tax-throwity of a warrant executed by es amounting to $2,933.82 under au- Ernest Amos, State Comptroller. The railroad was constructed ten or twelve years ago in connection with the Fellsmere development and in the last three or four years it has not done a large business. It now operates a gasoline propelled car over the line.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—This city soon will dedicate the largest barnyard golf course in the world, the number of horse-shoe pitchers having outgrown the thirty-six pitching lanes in Williams Park. A site on the waterfront has been selected for the new pitching ground and workmen are laying out forty-eight lanes with expectation that they will be ready for use by November 1st.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—St. Petersburg will vote December 6th on a bond issue of $1,948,000 for municipal improvements. Projects to be carried out with the proceeds include construction of an indoor municipal playground at a cost of $40,000, an addition to the city hospital to cost $100,000 and construction of a $10,000 hospital for negroes. Fifty thousand dollars is for the purchase of eight new street cars for the municipal railways.

PLANT CITY, Oct. 19.—Two brothers separated when one was an infant, met here this week when Victor Mitchell, of Wavercross, Ga., came to Plant City to visit Omar Mitchell. The last time Victor saw Omar, Omar was so small that Victor used to bounce him on his knee to keep him amused. Omar did not remember Victor at all.

Victor found Omar to a strapping six footer weighing 165 pounds. He is one of the star members of the Plant City High School football eleven.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 19.—The Seaboard Air Line Railway, taking note of the increase interest of Floridians in football has announced that week end rates for the principal games scheduled in Jacksonville this fall will be granted. LUCKY NUMBER THAT WINS PRIZE AT BETTER HOMES

The one holding the number 824 should come to the Herald office and get the six cut glass goblets that were given away as a prize at the Better Homes Demonstration held last week. The demonstration was a great success in every way and all during week there were good crowds present despite the rain. The week's demonstration wound up Saturday by the lecture by Miss Mary Zachary, teacher of Home Economics in the High School, the subject being "salads" and it was most interesting to the women present as well as the young ladies who expect to become good cooks.

Everone attending the demonstrations were given a ticket and the lucky ticket draws the six cut glasses. Some one holds the stub with the number 824. Bring it in to the Herald office and get your glasses.

SERIOUS BLADDER TROUBLE

"Could not stand nor sit and was forced to cry out from intense pain," writes Henry Williams, Tarkio, Montana. "The doctors said I had inflammation of the bladder and an operation was necessary. Tried Foley Kidney Pills and improved at once. Tell all my friends about Foley Kidney Pills as it will save many from suffering and perhaps, as in my case, a dangerous operation." Bladder and kidney trouble demand prompt treatment. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

NEW RUMORS MURDER CASE IN NEW JERSEY

HALL-MILLS CASE CONTINUES TO DEVELOP NEW THRILLS

NEW BRUNSWICK, Oct. 19.—Affidavits have been obtained from two men whose identity the authorities refuse to divulge, county prosecutors said tonight, which sets forth that the double murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills did not occur where the bodies were found, in a barn on the southern outskirts of New Brunswick.

Investigation which followed the filing of the affidavits, the authorities said, led to the discovery by the police of the two handkerchiefs—one a man's and the other a woman's—held to be important clues in the case. farm, as were reported at that time, but in the barn which stands on the opposite side of New Brunswick.

Two dark brown combs also said to have been found on the floor of the barn. These combs Charlotte Mills is reported to have identified as having belonged to her mother.

The statement which the authorities allege they have obtained from the two men is said to declare that they were driving from Red Bank, N. J., about 12 o'clock on the night of September 14. Two miles out from New Brunswick, they said, they passed a barn.

From this barn the men are reported to have said they heard screams issuing, pleas for mercy and then one long shriek, "murder!" "the police!"

The men drove through New Brunswick without reporting the occurrence and an hour later, were on Easton avenue, when they were passed by a sedan going toward the Phillips farm in the machine, they said, were a woman wearing a gray coat and a man.

That the examination of Mrs. Hall, the widow of the rector, in the prosecutor's office by a woman whose identity has not been fully revealed, was even more mystifying than that first reported, became known in connection with the announcement of the obtainance of the affidavit. This woman, the prosecutors now say, was only a decoy. Sitting directly across the room, she was supposed to absorb all of the attention Mrs. Hall, while the rector's widow was being closely scrutinized by the two men who are now said to have made the affidavit. The authorities have declined to make public the result of this elaborate plan for examining Mrs. Hall.

The love notes of the rector and Mrs. Mills, which were made public today shed an entirely new light on certain phases of the case, the authorities said. The "Minnie" of these notes, Mrs. Addison T. Clarke, has been questioned regarding her movement, particularly on the day on which the bodies of the rector and the choir singer were found. She was asked whether she had ever taken any party to Mr. Hall. This she is said to have denied, but has admitted, according to the authorities, carrying a package into the church of St. John the Evangelist, the day on which the crime became public.

The authorities said they had not accepted her explanation that this package contained nothing but the vestments of the slain rector.

D'ANNUNZIO SIGNS PEACE AGREEMENT

ROME, Oct. 19.—Gabriele D'Annunzio, Italian soldier, poet and hero, leader of fascisti, signed an agreement today uniting the forces and establishing common action by the two leaders throughout Italy.

GRAPE GROWERS TO MEET

The Florida Grape Growers' Association will hold its meeting at Eustis on the 10th of November, 1922, convening at 10 a. m.

Many important matters will come up for settlement, such as standardized shipping packages, co-operative community organizations for marketing grapes, reduction of membership fees to popular rates and subjects of immediate interest to growers in the vineyard. In fact, this meeting promises to be of such great importance that no grower can afford to miss it and hence this urgency.

Now we know who stopped the war in the Near East. France admits it. If it was left to us we would have stopped it by stopping the Turks for all time to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Budraux have moved back to Sanford after spending most of the summer here.

J. E. Singletary spent the week end here with his wife and daughter.

This city is now taking on a "big boom" in accordance with its size. Nearly all friends who visited us last winter, are getting ready to head this way. These friends have assured us of a great number of new folks visiting the state for the first time, and headed for Lake Mary. Our troubles just now are, not enough houses and hotel accommodations. Two new families have just arrived with intention of making this healthy spot their homes; these families add some eleven in number to our growing population. Three new houses are just setting foundations, and one hundred in all for the season we set our minds on, must be built. Look out Sanford, we will be fighting you soon for ground to build on.

Mr. C. H. Ellis who settled here a year ago last September, has opened a Real Estate office, also representing A. P. Connelly and Son in Fire Ins. Mr. Ellis has resided in a number of the middle western state, and will make the pull for some of the people seeking a mild climate, who seem to know only California.

EAST SANFORD

The item about the East Side Community Club that appeared in last Friday's Herald should have read that the club was open to both men and women for membership and the object is: Social, civic and welfare work. Mrs. J. W. Corley's name as vice-president was omitted in the misprint.

Miss Edith McClelland and Howard Flint were married at Orlando the afternoon of October 12th. They are at present with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Miss Maude Cameron and friend, Miss Merie Neal, returned to Tampa on Tuesday of this week. Miss Neal has been here for some time assisting in the care of the late Mrs. A. B. Cameron.

A. B. Cameron has a nephew with his wife and two children from Georgia staying with him for the winter.

Howard McFee, of White county, Georgia, arrived here this week to spend the winter at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. E. Adams.

Mrs. M. F. Johnson, her daughter, Miss Florence Johnson and son, John Allen, of Madison County, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Johnson's brother, I. V. Bridges. Their first visit to this part of the state and the winter farming all looks very wonderful to them and they are Florida folks.

A Hallowe'en program staged by the school, followed by a big party will be an event of Friday, Oct. 27th, 7:30 o'clock in the evening at the Graded school auditorium. The community is invited and urged to come enmasse. A large frolic is assured if all will join in and help carry out the amusement to the fullest extent. Don't forget the date, Friday night, Oct. 27.

The new road in this locality is progressing as well as could be expected, but the detours since the heavy rains are almost impassable. Machines and trucks are cutting through the woods in every direction, some go by the way of the boulevard on through the woods and out near the Palo road, others by Mrs. Crenshaw's and out near Babans some through Ky. streets and still others through by Buchanans. All the ways are poor enough, but some are even worse.

The grammar school room gave a nice little entertainment Friday afternoon to celebrate Columbus Day. An attractive little playlet in keeping with the occasion was staged. The Intermediate room entertained the Friday previous with the children's poets, special stress being given Riley as October is this poet's birth month. Nice crowds were present upon both occasions.

Mr. D. L. Thrasher, of Sanford, made our school a nice present in the form of one hundred tablets, this gift was very much appreciated and the school as a whole extend many thanks.

A wedding that came as a surprise to her many friends here was that of Miss Anne May Bruton who married Mr. Frank Jobson at Jacksonville, Monday morning. The bride is the pretty and attractive daughter of Mrs. A. G. Purdon, of this place. The groom is a prosperous young man of Jacksonville. Many friends extend congratulations to the happy young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Snider of Chuluota, were guests of friends her Wednesday.

Prof and Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. W. T. Maulding and Clark Mann attended the funeral of Miss May Long at Chuluota, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. J. M. Bell is confined to his home by illness.

Miss Rena Mann has a bad attack of sore eyes.

R. T. Wynno and daughter, Miss Roberta Wynno are convalescent after a week's illness.

Little Clarence and Frank Swagerty as suffering from an attack of Dengue fever.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Oglesby, jr., Saturday, Oct. 14th, a boy.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. James Connor, October 7th, a girl.

(From Monday's Daily)
Maybe we get that cool weather, now.

J. C. Dinkle of Longwood was in the city today on business.

W. W. Woodward and wife of Tampa were guests at the Lincoln House, last night.

Friday will be a big trading day in Sanford. Look for the big bargains in tomorrow's Daily Herald.

Mr. W. Green of Tampa (With the Western Union Tel. Co.) was in the city yesterday greeting old friends.

J. H. Wendler of Orlando was in the city today on business connected with his publication, the Feathered Warrior. He was accompanied by his wife and little daughter.

Mr. F. C. Jackson of Cleveland, O., is in the city looking for an opening or an Auto Paint Shop which he hopes to open in the near future. He is registered among the guests at the Lincoln House.

Dr. Fletcher of Okeechobee City was in the city today looking them over. He recently sold his drug business at Okeechobee and is looking for a new location but finds the field well taken care of in Sanford.

Mr. D. H. Haven of Cartage, Mo., left Saturday for Atlanta and points in the north after spending some time here in the interest of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. He was a guest at the Lincoln House and created many friends here.

Mr. J. L. Stocking of Evansville, Ind., left Saturday for Cleveland, O., after spending some time here as the Lincoln House. Mr. Stocking at one time was a criminal lawyer of fame and later was in the newspaper business in the west. He has been in Florida for two or three years and is writing a new history on the State of Florida.

(From Tuesday's Daily)
Fine golf weather.

And fine weather for growing crops and for business of all kinds.

The weather could be cooler and we would like it much better but it is fine weather nevertheless.

The Dollar Day Number is out today. We want everyone to boost this big day for it means much to Sanford.

Robert Deane has returned from a trip to points in West Florida where he spent the remainder of his vacation from the Seminole Bank and had a wonderful time visiting relatives and friends.

Carey Hand, Dean Adcock, M. O. Overstreet, DeWitt Miller and Frank Nebbin of Orlando were the guests of the Sanford Rotary Club today and their many Sanford friends were glad to see them all.

The many friends of Frank Akers are glad to see him out again after a week in the Fernald-Laughton hospital. Frank was suffering from ptomaine poisoning and had to be taken to the hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Matthews arrived in the city Monday from Tennessee making the trip in their Ford Sedan and Charlie reports the worst roads the entire trip were in Florida. The many friends of the Matthews family will be glad to know that they have returned for the winter.

Dr. Ralph Stevens is out again after a bad attack of infected feet that has kept him confined to his home for several days. He is not able to get around much but hopes to be himself again in a few days. His many friends are glad to see his smiling face on the streets again.

(From Wednesday's Daily)
Watch the Daily Herald tomorrow for an announcement of real interest to every lady in the city.

Sherman Lloyd and Bart Herndon both got back from the district meeting of the Kiwanis Clubs—sober.

Bob Holly is in Orlando today attending a meeting of the Rotary Club of that city, and shaking hands with his numerous old-time friends in the City Beautiful.

One of the most interesting meetings of the local Kiwanis Club ever held in Sanford took place at the Valdez Hotel today, an account of which will appear tomorrow.

Mr. Luke Thompson, a new arrival

from Orlando who has decided to cast his lot with the City Substantial was a guest at the Kiwanis luncheon today. He will open an up-to-date cafeteria here.

Messrs. W. Scott, Overstreet and Roseberger were guests of friends at the Kiwanis luncheon today and all expressed themselves as delighted with the spirit shown by the local club.

All preparations have been completed for the Woman's Club Fair and Dollar Day next Friday and the promoters look for one of the biggest days from a business standpoint in the history of Sanford. Let's all pull together and make this a successful annual event.

J. C. Murcheson, general superintendent, J. F. Mead, assistant freight agent, both of Jacksonville, and F. B. Langley division superintendent, of Lakeland, are a group of prominent A. C. L. officials who are here today on business. The last named is a brother of our own Dr. Theodore and has a host of warm friends who are always glad to welcome him on his too infrequent visits to Sanford.

PEOPLES BANK MAKES CHANGE, NEW CASHIER

W. H. TUNNICLIFFE WILL BE ACTIVE HEAD—H. P. SMITH GOES TO W. PALM BEACH

Several changes will take place in the personnel of the Peoples Bank, the same to become effective on November first. W. H. Tunncliffe becomes the first vice-president and active head of the bank and E. W. Hawkins will become the cashier. H. P. Smith, the former vice-president and cashier has accepted a position as managing director of the Palm Beach Bank & Trust Co., and will leave for his new position November first. W. H. Tunncliffe comes to Sanford with many years of experience as a banker and business man. Formerly of New York City where he was engaged in the practice of law for many years he came to Osceola county twelve years ago and has been active in the business and banking circles of that county helping to organize the Bank of St. Cloud and being the vice-president and director since that time. Mr. and Mrs. Tunncliffe have already moved to Sanford and become a part of the social and business life of the city taking apartments in the Welaka block and making their future home here.

E. H. Hawkins, the new cashier, has been in the banking business for many years and for the past fifteen years has been cashier of the State Bank of Bartow.

Both Messrs. Tunncliffe and Hawkins have purchased stock in the Peoples Bank and with the same strong financial backing that this bank has always enjoyed it should forge ahead in the next few years and become one of the best in this part of the state. The new officers and directors elected at the last meeting are as follows: J. R. Anthony, president; W. T. Tunncliffe, first vice-president; Dr. S. Puleston, second vice-president; E. H. Hawkins, cashier and with the above named gentlemen and C. F. Williams and E. H. Scoggans constitute the board of directors.

The resources of the Peoples Bank are now well over the $700,000 mark and the bank and the new board of directors anticipate a most bright and prosperous future and the new vice president and cashier will be made welcome in the business and social circles of the city.

H. P. Smith, the retiring vice-president and cashier has been in Sanford for the past two years and has built up a large circle of business and social acquaintances who will regret to see him leave Sanford but who also rejoice in his promotion to such a fine position as he will hold in the Palm Beach Bank. Mr. Smith, though a young man in years, is experienced in banking and accounting and holds the respect and esteem of the heads of the banking system with which he has been connected for many years. Mr. Smith has been connected with the Bankers' Trust Company, of Atlanta for many years and his duties with this company and in other lines of banking business took him over many sections in the union. His work is recognized as being among the best in the entire system and his superiors have recognized this work by giving him a fine advancement in his new position. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have endeared themselves to a host of friends in this city who will be sorry to learn of their leaving Sanford but hope to see them again at some time in the future when they may return to again take up their residence in this section.

PLANES WILL ATTEMPT FLIGHT AROUND WORLD

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Tentative plans for an attempted flight of army airplanes around the world have been under consideration for some months by air service officials, it was learned yesterday, but the project has not as yet passed the preliminary survey stage. Valuable data on available routes in both directions has been obtained, however, and ultimately it is hoped to send a considerable aerial squadron on the voyage. The project will not be laid before Secretary Weeks for approval, it was said, until it takes much more definite form.

Two of the routes considered are that from the Atlantic Coast via Iceland and Ireland, and that from the Pacific via Alaska, the Aleutian Islands, Siberia and home via Ireland and Iceland.

Army flyers conceived the world-circling flight plan in line with the reasons which prompted President Roosevelt to send the fleet around the world in 1908, it was said. It would have value both as a step in providing aerial defense through training and in giving the world a better understanding of American post-war developments.

ASK INCREASE OF SERGEANTS FOR THE ARMY

IN ORDER THAT 1,600 NON-COMMS WILL NOT BE CUT

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 24.—An amendment to the national defense account to increase the number of sergeants in the army was asked by Secretary Weeks in order that about 1,600 non-commissioned officers assigned as instructors to National Guard, organized reserves and training corps units will not have to be cut in rank and pay due to progressive reduction of army.

ATTEMPT FLIGHT FROM PENSACOLA TO WASHINGTON

PENSACOLA, Fla., Oct. 24.—Barring inclement weather, two of the latest type DeHaviland airplanes, piloted by Lieutenant B. H. Wyatt and Lieutenant G. T. Owen, will take off from Pensacola naval air station tomorrow morning for Washington. No definite hour has been selected for the departure.

The flyers arrived at the local station Friday on the first trans-continental airplane flight ever attempted by the navy. They flew from San Francisco via New Orleans, and since arriving here the planes have been put into first-class shape for the flight to Washington.

From Washington, Lieutenants Wyatt and Owen will swing back across the continent to the Pacific Coast, taking the central route. In flying from San Francisco to Pensacola they made four stops, three for fuel and at New Orleans for the Legion convention.

COBB NEEDS DISPUTED HIT

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—One questioned hit separates Ty Cobb manager of the Detroit Tigers from the charmed circle of 400 hitters for 1922, it was discovered today in compilation of the official batting records by Irwin M. Howe (official statistician of the American League). Without that hit Cobb's total is .398, but with it he enters the 400 ranks for the third time in his career as league batting leader for the last 15 years with but three exceptions.

On May 15, in a game at New York between Detroit and the Yanks, Cobb was credited in unofficial newspaper box scores with two hits and by the official scorer with only one safe smash. Investigation of the discrepancy has been started and the controversy will be laid before Ban Johnson of the American League. If the hit is for Cobb, it will make him the only slugger in baseball history to pass the 400 mark three times. George Sisler of St. Louis has two 400 marks this year and 1920, both times the league record.

Cobb's 420 in 1911 stands as the modern high mark in the early days of the game "Tip" O'Neill, of the St. Louis club of the old American Association, made a .992 in 1887, the same year that Pop Anson, of the Chicago Nationals made .421.

Cobb's 400 average this year, if he wins it, also stands as an answer to the query whether the Georgian is slowing up after fifteen years of dazzling speed in the major leagues. Last year Hielmann of Detroit, assumed leadership of the American League sluggers, bating Cobb's .389 by five points. Cobb's average fell off to .332 in 1920, his lowest with one exception in 15 years.

STATE ROAD DEPARTMENT IS INACTIVE

ON ROADS IN SOUTH FLORIDA AND ADMITS THE TRUTH

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 24.—Chairman Phillips, of the State Road Department during a debate today on a resolution to accept $300,000 of the proceeds of Brevard county road bond issue and construct Road Number 4 through that county, declared the department had done practically nothing for South Florida and but little for the east coast. The resolution was defeated, only Phillips and I. E. Schilling, of Miami, who introduced it, voting in the affirmative. The board adopted a resolution authorizing the chief engineer to advertise for bids for the construction of 4 and one-quarter miles of highway south of Bradentown on Road No. 5. Accepted Madison county bonds at $7,000 per mile and agreed to grade the highway from Suwannee river to Madison and from Madison to the Georgia line.

WOMAN'S NAME WHO WITNESSED DOUBLE MURDER

BECAME KNOWN TODAY AND SHE GIVES NEW TESTIMONY

NEW BRUNSWICK, Oct. 24.—The name of the woman reputed to have witnessed the double murder of Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills, became known today. She is Mrs. June Gibson, widow, who with her son conducts a farm on Hamilton road. Before harvest time her fields are frequently robbed. Each night she lay in wait to end the thievery. The night of the murder she is said to have told the investigators she was riding down Debrussy's lane through the Phillips farm when she saw in the field the dim outlines of two men and two women. She became curious, halted her mule and watched, there was a moment of loud talking, sound of pistol shot, a streak of flame and one mal fell. A moment later four more shots and one woman fell. Mrs. Gibson became frightened and fled.

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO REGARDING THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS?

By The Plant City Courier

General election is near, when naming of a number of Florida electors are to vote for four proposed changes in constitution, which is so aged and amended so many times that it is a job for even a trained and experienced lawyer who has made a specialty of Florida history and legal procedure to follow it. But it has been amended from time to time by those who now enjoy the privileges of citizenship in this state, would not be here. The constitution drafted and adopted in thirty-five years ago could not be expected to conform in all respects to the needs and customs of the present time, for there has been progress in the scientific and technical world during the years. In 1885 there were no telephones, and electric light and power was practically unknown; there was no wireless telegraphy, no radiophone communication, no moving pictures and no armaments—none of these things, now regarded as necessities, had been invented at that time, and it is wondered at that we are not more ready to amend the constitution. Many of us would complain bitterly if we missed a weekly or monthly payday, but in the case of our state officials the pay-days come only with the changing seasons—spring, summer, fall, and winter. Consider this carefully and vote as your conscience dictates.

The fourth and last of the proposed amendments is that which relates to reapportionment of representation in the Legislature, under a change in Section 3 of Article VII. We will vote "no" in this case for the reason that it is unnecessary. The Constitution already provides for reapportionment every ten years, and since the Legislature has repeatedly failed to perform this duty, we do not see or know any reason for a change in the Constitution in that respect. The North and West portions of Florida have for many years had the balance of power in the legislature, and since the proposed amendment does not specify a rule or basis of any character to use in reapportionment of representation in the senate, the south and east sections of the state cannot with any degree of certainty anticipate relief through adoption of this proposition. Hillsborough county, with more than 100,000 population, now shares a place in the senate with Pinellas county. We have no assurance that we would be allowed to retain even a half portion of a senator if the senatorial representation is to be reapportioned under the proposed amendment. Vote against this amendment and thereby express to the governor your knowledge that it is his duty to compel the legislature, at its next session, to reapportion as outlined and specified and required by the Constitution of Florida.

to instruct the subjects, the state has forced thousands of children into schools already crowded and rendered progress slow and difficult for both classes of pupils—the voluntary students and those who have enrolled by virtue of the compulsory law. Efficient schools are needed in every community, and rights embraced in the proposed amendment are necessary to provide good schools.

The second proposed amendment is that to Article V, relating to the judiciary. This would permit appointment by the governor of additional circuit judges in circuits where the need may be apparent. As population increases, litigation and crime increase, and if justice is to be expected without delay, it is necessary to provide for disposing of cases in a reasonably prompt manner. The mills of justice grind entirely too slow in some sections, and the amendment will bring some relief.

We expect to vote for an amendment to Section 3 of Article XVI, relating to time of payment of salaries of state officers, because it is not just to expect, much less require, a man or woman to labor twelve months and have only three pay days,—these being three months apart. Adoption of this proposed amendment will allow state officials to receive their salaries monthly, upon their own requisition. Many of us would complain bitterly if we missed a weekly or monthly payday, but in the case of our state officials the pay-days come only with the changing seasons—spring, summer, fall, and winter. Consider this carefully and vote as your conscience dictates.

The fourth and last of the proposed amendments is that which relates to reapportionment of representation in the Legislature, under a change in Section 3 of Article VII. We will vote "no" in this case for the reason that it is unnecessary. The Constitution already provides for reapportionment every ten years, and since the Legislature has repeatedly failed to perform this duty, we do not see or know any reason for a change in the Constitution in that respect. The North and West portions of Florida have for many years had the balance of power in the legislature, and since the proposed amendment does not specify a rule or basis of any character to use in reapportionment of representation in the senate, the south and east sections of the state cannot with any degree of certainty anticipate relief through adoption of this proposition. Hillsborough county, with more than 100,000 population, now shares a place in the senate with Pinellas county. WILBUR MOTT NOW IN CHARGE OF THE HALL-MILLS PROBE

DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL TAKES HOLD OF THE INVESTIGATION

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 25.—Deputy Attorney-General Wilbur A. Mott draped himself in robes of silence today and plunged into the investigation of the Hall-Mills murder, to which he was assigned yesterday by Attorney-General McCran.

Mr. Mott spent the afternoon closeted with County Prosecutor Beckman of Somerset, learning what the county authorities have done and learned since the bodies of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills were found on Sept. 10. This afternoon Prosecutor Stricker of Middlesex county joined the conference.

When it was over, Mr. Mott issued a signed statement saying he was greatly pleased to find the county authorities already had accomplished so much in their investigation. He declined to make any comment on any angle of the case.

Newspaper men were particular to ask Mr. Mott about the story that Mrs. Jane Gibson, a widowed farmer, who riding a mule in quest of thieves who had looted her corn patch had witnessed the murders.

While Mrs. Gibson was said to have witnessed the shooting, it was said that she was unable because of the darkness, to identify the man who, she said, made up the murder party. She gave the authorities, however, one good clue to their identity.

After the minister and choir singer had been slain, she was quoted as saying, the man bent over the prostrate figures—presumably to cut Mrs. Mills' throat—and his accomplice cried out: "Oh—" (mentioning the Christian name of the supposed slayer.)

town and to take that money out of town. Our local theatres and amusement enterprises keep the money in town. We wouldn't allow one of our theatres to overcrowd its halls or to sell reserved seats that couldn't be delivered. The police would stop it. The public should have stopped that sale at the Hagenbeck-Wallace show. The Hagenbeck-Wallace show works dishonestly with the public. It should not be allowed to return. Other cities to which it goes should be warned of its bad practices and be prepared to protect themselves against these defiant grafters.

TOMMY BURNS IS GROOMING NEW "WHITE HOPE"

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Oct. 25.—Tommy Burns, ex-heavyweight champion claims to have found a new "white hope" in Robert Read, a gigantic Irish youth, who has lived in Scotland since he was 12 years old. Read is now 21. He is six feet four and one-half inches tall, weighs nearly two hundred pounds, and has a reach of 81 1-2 inches, 7 1-2 inches more than Dempsey's.

In a photograph sent to the Daily Mail, the British veteran's find towers above him. Burns' head reaches only to Read's shoulders. Read has a good appearance, an athletic build, and is gaining fight experience in the rough and tumble life of the English traveling boxing show, a familiar sight at any small town carnival or country fair.

Burns says that he has tried Read out and that he is not disappointed in him. "Last year Read won the amateur western district championship in Scotland," said Burns. "He is a quiet, gentlemanly boy and, of course, he needs a lot of experience. Only time can tell whether he will develop into a real champion. The experience with the traveling boxing show, which he gained after winning the amateur championship, certainly will not do him any harm."

and I then remembered my mother used to take it. After the first bottle I was better. I began to fatten up and I regained my strength and good, healthy color. I am feeling fine. I took twelve bottles (of Cardui) and haven't had a bit of trouble since."

Thousands of other women have had similar experiences in the use of Cardui, which has brought relief where other medicines had failed.

If you suffer from female ailments, take Cardui. It is a woman's medicine. It may be just what you need.

CLYDE LINE STEAMER STILL FAST ON LEDGE

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 25.—The Lenape is still aground and it may become necessary to dredge her free. The vessel is resting in nine feet of water at high tide, but normally draws twelve feet. Wreckers are afraid to pull her off while resting on an even keel for fear of springing her plates and are hoping for a high wind to kick up the sea so the vessel will rock and pulling can be resumed.

JOURNAL DID NOT LIKE CIRCUS METHODS

The Jacksonville Journal did not like some of the methods employed by a circus that visited that city yesterday and the Journal says what it thinks in the following:

Everybody loves a circus. The old story is: "We would sell the cook stove to go."

But everybody hates a swindle and everybody detests a swindler. When a circus swindles, it loses its charm.

We have received a number of complaints about the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus that showed in this town yesterday. The complaints are justified—justified to the extent that the city administration ought to refuse to give this circus the right to show in Jacksonville again if it ever makes application to do so.

It sold reserved seats at reserve seat price; it sold them as long as the people came to buy; it sold them long after every seat, reserved or otherwise was occupied; it sold what it did not have to sell. That is just plain swindle.

It had no standard price on its concession counters. They charged whatever they thought they could get away with. It was in short, a shortchange gang.

P. T. Barnum was the biggest showman this country ever had. It was he who declared that the people liked to be fooled. The people do like to be fooled but they don't like to be cheated, and there's a difference between being fooled and being cheated.

The police were appealed to at this show last night and asked to stop this fraudulent ticket-selling. One officer replied, "Go see the Mayor. We have no authority." It is well to ask the Mayor of Jacksonville why his police have no authority. Can it be true? If the police have no authority to stop swindling, stop a fraudulent sale, if they have not authority to prevent people from the dangers of being overcrowded subjecting large number of people to fire hazard, the hazard of stampede and other dangers then it is time the Mayor of Jacksonville demanded laws that would empower the police to give the people such protection.

The circus comes to town to take all the money that it can get out of

These Rats Wouldn't Eat My Best Grain," Says Fred Lamb

"It's hard to keep rats out of a feed store. Tried for years. A neighboring store sold me some RAT-SNAP. It worked wonders. Gathered up dead rats every morning. Bought more RAT-SNAP. Here's More Trouble For Newspapermen

BUFFALO, Oct. 25.—Mayor Schwab is expected to appear before the supreme court justice today and ask for an order requiring editors and reporters of the Evening News to show cause why they refuse to appear before the mayor to disclose the basis and sources of their information for a series of articles disclosing alleged protected gambling and wide open city. The News editorially disclaims being engaged in a political squabble or personal grudge fight against the mayor. No possible penalty, the editorial declares, can judge the News from its adherence to the principle of protecting its sources of confidential information.

LOCALS

(From Monday's Daily)
Maybe we got that cool weather, now.

J. C. Dinkle of Longwood was in the city today on business.

W. W. Woodward and wife of Tampa were guests at the Lincoln House, last night.

Friday will be a big trading day in Sanford. Look for the big bargains in tomorrow's Daily Herald.

Mr. W. Green of Tampa (With the Western Union Tel. Co.) was in the city yesterday greeting old friends.

J. H. Wendler of Orlando was in the city today on business connected with his publication, the Feathered Warrior. He was accompanied by his wife and little daughter.

Mr. F. C. Jackson of Cleveland, O., is in the city looking for an opening or an Auto Paint Shop which he hopes to open in the near future. He is registered among the guests at the Lincoln House.

Dr. Fletcher of Okeechobee City was in the city today looking them over. He recently sold his drug business at Okeechobee and is looking for a new location but finds the field well taken care of in Sanford.

Mr. D. H. Haven of Cartago, Mo., left Saturday for Atlanta and points in the north after spending some time here in the interest of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. He was a guest at the Lincoln House and created many friends here.

Mr. J. L. Stocking of Evansville, Ind., left Saturday for Cleveland, O., after spending some time here at the Lincoln House. Mr. Stocking at one time was a criminal lawyer of fame and later was in the newspaper business in the west. He had been in Florida for two or three years and is writing a new history on the State of Florida.

(From Tuesday's Daily)
Fine golf weather.

And fine weather for growing crops and for business of all kinds.

The weather could be cooler and we would like it much better but it is fine weather nevertheless.

The Dollar Day Number is out today. We want everyone to boost this big day for it means much to Sanford.

Robert Deane has returned from a trip to points in West Florida where he spent the remainder of his vacation from the Seminole Bank and had a wonderful time visiting relatives and friends.

Carey Hand, Dean Adcock, M. O. Overstreet, DeWitt Miller and Frank Nebbin of Orlando were the guests of the Sanford Rotary Club today and their many Sanford friends were glad to see them all.

The many friends of Frank Akers are glad to see him out again after a week in the Fernald-Laughton hospital. Frank was suffering from ptomaine poisoning and had to be taken to the hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Matthews arrived in the city Monday from Tennessee making the trip in their Ford Sedan and Charlo reports the worst roads the entire trip were in Florida. The many friends of the Matthews family will be glad to know that they have returned for the winter.

Dr. Ralph Stevens is out again after a bad attack of infected foot that has kept him confined to his home for several days. He is not able to get around much but hopes to be himself again in a few days. His many friends are glad to see his smiling face on the streets again.

(From Wednesday's Daily)
Watch the Daily Herald tomorrow for an announcement of real interest to every lady in the city.

Sherman Lloyd and Bart Herndon both got back from the district meeting of the Kiwanis Clubs—sober.

Bob Holly is in Orlando today attending a meeting of the Rotary Club of that city, and shaking hands with his numerous old-time friends in the City Beautiful.

One of the most interesting meetings of the local Kiwanis Club ever held in Sanford took place at the Valdez Hotel today, an account of which will appear tomorrow.

Mr. Luke Thompson, a new arrival

from Orlando who has decided to cast his lot with the City Substantial was a guest at the Kiwanis luncheon today. He will open an up-to-date cafeteria here.

Messrs. W. Scott, Overstreet and Rosberger were guests of friends at the Kiwanis luncheon today and all expressed themselves as delighted with the spirit shown by the local club.

All preparations have been completed for the Woman's Club Fair and Dollar Day next Friday and the promoters look for one of the biggest days from a business standpoint in the history of Sanford. Let's all pull together and make this a successful annual event.

J. C. Murcheson, general superintendent, J. F. Mead, assistant freight agent, both of Jacksonville, and F. B. Langley division superintendent, of Lakeland, are a group of prominent A. C. L. officials who are here today on business. The last named is a brother of our own Dr. Theodore and has a host of warm friends who are always glad to welcome him on his too infrequent visits to Sanford.

PEOPLES BANK MAKES CHANGE, NEW CASHIER

W. H. TUNNICLIFFE WILL BE ACTIVE HEAD—H. P. SMITH GOES TO W. PALM BEACH

Several changes will take place in the personnel of the Peoples Bank, the same to become effective on November first. W. H. Tunncliffe becomes the first vice-president and active head of the bank and E. W. Hawkins will become the cashier. H. P. Smith, the former vice-president and cashier has accepted a position as managing director of the Palm Beach Bank & Trust Co., and will leave for his new position November first. W. H. Tunncliffe comes to Sanford with many years of experience as a banker and business man. Formerly of New York City where he was engaged in the practice of law for many years he came to Oseola county twelve years ago and has been active in the business and banking circles of that county helping to organize the Bank of St. Cloud and being the vice-president and director since that time. Mr. and Mrs. Tunncliffe have already moved to Sanford and become a part of the social and business life of the city taking apartments in the Welaka block and making their future home here.

E. H. Hawkins, the new cashier, has been in the banking business for many years and for the past fifteen years has been cashier of the State Bank of Bartow.

Both Messrs. Tunncliffe and Hawkins have purchased stock in the Peoples Bank and with the same strong financial backing that this bank has always enjoyed it should forge ahead in the next few years and become one of the best in this part of the state. The new officers and directors elected at the last meeting are as follows: J. R. Anthony, president; W. T. Tunncliffe, first vice-president; Dr. S. Puleston, second vice-president; E. H. Hawkins, cashier and with the above named gentlemen and C. F. Williams and E. H. Scoggans constitute the board of directors.

The resources of the Peoples Bank are now well over the $700,000 mark and the bank and the new board of directors anticipate a most bright and prosperous future and the new vice president and cashier will be made welcome in the business and social circles of the city.

H. P. Smith, the retiring vice-president and cashier has been in Sanford for the past two years and has built up a large circle of business and social acquaintances who will regret to see him leave Sanford but who also rejoice in his promotion to such a fine position as he will hold in the Palm Beach Bank. Mr. Smith, though a young man in years, is experienced in banking and accounting and holds the respect and esteem of the heads of the banking system with which he has been connected for many years. Mr. Smith has been connected with the Banker's Trust Company, of Atlanta for many years and his duties with this company and in other lines of banking business took him over many sections in the union. His work is recognized as being among the best in the entire system and his superiors have recognized this work by giving him a fine advancement in his new position. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have endeared themselves to a host of friends in this city who will be sorry to learn of their leaving Sanford but hope to see them again at some time in the future when they may return to again take up their residence in this section.

PLANES WILL ATTEMPT FLIGHT AROUND WORLD

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Tentative plans for an attempted flight of army airplanes around the world have been under consideration for some months by air service officials, it was learned yesterday, but the project has not as yet passed the preliminary survey stage. Valuable data on available routes in both directions has been obtained, however, and ultimately it is hoped to send a considerable aerial squadron on the voyage. The project will not be laid before Secretary Weeks for approval, it was said, until it takes much more definite form. Two of the routes considered are that from the Atlantic Coast via Iceland and Ireland, and that from the Pacific via Alaska, the Aleutian Islands, Siberia and home via Ireland and Iceland. Army flyers conceived the world-circling flight plan in line with the reasons which prompted President Roosevelt to send the fleet around the world in 1908, it was said. It would have value both as a step in providing aerial defense through training and in giving the world a better understanding of American post-war developments.

ASK INCREASE OF SERGEANTS FOR THE ARMY

IN ORDER THAT 1,600 NON-COMM WILL NOT BE CUT

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 24.—An amendment to the national defense account to increase the number of sergeants in the army was asked by Secretary Weeks in order that about 1,600 non-commissioned officers assigned as instructors to National Guard, organized reserves and training corps units will not have to be cut in rank and pay due to progressive reduction of army.

ATTEMPT FLIGHT FROM PENSACOLA TO WASHINGTON

PENSACOLA, Fla., Oct. 24.—Barring inclement weather, two of the latest type DeHavilland airplanes, piloted by Lieutenant B. H. Wyatt and Lieutenant G. T. Owen, will take off from Pensacola naval air station tomorrow morning for Washington. No definite hour has been selected for the departure.

The flyers arrived at the local station Friday on the first trans-continental airplane flight ever attempted by the navy. They flew from San Francisco via New Orleans, and since arriving here the planes have been put into first-class shape for the flight to Washington.

From Washington, Lieutenants Wyatt and Owen will swing back across the continent to the Pacific Coast, taking the central route. In flying from San Francisco to Pensacola they made four stops, three for fuel and at New Orleans for the Legion convention.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Oct. 24.—A large attendance marked the opening here today of the two days' convention of the Florida Realtors' Association. Representatives of every important town in the state are here in good numbers.

INVESTIGATION HERRIN TRAGEDY RENEWED TODAY

STATES ATTORNEY BUSY AGAIN AFTER THIRY DAY RECESS

MARION, Ill., Oct. 23.—State attorney duty today renewed his investigation of the Herrin mine killings in connection with scheduled reconvening today after thirty day recess of Williamson county special grand jury which returned 386 indictments before recess.

COBB NEEDS DISPUTED HIT

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—One questioned hit separates Ty Cobb manager of the Detroit Tigers from the charmed circle of 400 hitters for 1922, it was discovered today in compilation of the official batting records by Irwin M. Howe (official statistician of the American League. Without that hit Cobb's total is .398, but with it he enters the 400 ranks for the third time in his career as league batting leader for the last 15 years with but three exceptions.

On May 15, in a game at New York between Detroit and the Yanks, Cobb was credited in unofficial newspaper box scores with two hits and by the official scorer with only one safe smash. Investigation of the discrepancy has been started and the controversy will be laid before Ban Johnson of the American League. If the hit is for Cobb, it will make him the only slugger in baseball history to pass the .400 mark three times. George Sisler of St. Louis has two .400 marks this year and 1920, both times the league record.

Cobb's .420 in 1911 stands as the modern high mark in the early days of the game "Tip" O'Neill, of the St. Louis club of the old American Association, made a .392 in 1887, the same year that Pop Anson, of the Chicago Nationals made .421.

Cobb's .400 average this year, if he wins it, also stands as an answer to the query whether the Georgian is slowing up after fifteen years of dazzling speed in the major leagues. Last year Helmann of Detroit, assumed leadership of the American League sluggers, beating Cobb's .389 by five points. Cobb's average fell off to .332 in 1920, his lowest with one exception in 15 years.

STATE ROAD DEPARTMENT IS INACTIVE

ON ROADS IN SOUTH FLORIDA AND ADMITS THE TRUTH

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 24.—Chairman Phillips, of the State Road Department during a debate today on a resolution to accept $300,000 of the proceeds of Broward county road bond issue and construct Road Number 4 through that county, declared the department had done practically nothing for South Florida and but little for the east coast. The resolution was defeated, only Phillips and I. E. Schilling, of Miami, who introduced it, voting in the affirmative. The board adopted a resolution authorizing the chief engineer to advertise for bids for the construction of 4 and one-quarter miles of highway south of Bradentown on Road No. 5. Accepted Madison county bonds at $7,000 per mile and agreed to grade the highway from Suwannee river to Madison and from Madison to the Georgia line.

WOMAN'S NAME WHO WITNESSED DOUBLE MURDER

BECAME KNOWN TODAY AND SHE GIVES NEW TESTIMONY

NEW BRUNSWICK, Oct. 24.—The name of the woman reputed to have witnessed the double murder of Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills became known today. She is Mrs. June Gibson, widow, who with her son conducts a farm on Hamilton road. Before harvest time her fields are frequently robbed. Each night she lay in wait to end the thievery. The night of the murder she is said to have told the investigators she was riding down Debrussy's lane through the Phillips farm when she saw in the field the dim outlines of two men and two women. She became curious, halted her mule and watched, there was a moment of loud talking, sound of pistol shot, a streak of flame and one man fell. A moment later four more shots and one woman fell. Mrs. Gibson became frightened and fled.

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO REGARDING THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS?

By The Plant City Courier

The biennial election is near, when, beside the naming of a number of officials, Florida electors are to vote for or against four proposed changes in the Constitution, which is so aged and already amended so many times that it is a man's job for even a trained and astute lawyer who has made a special study of Florida history and legislative procedure to follow it. But it had not been amended from time to time, many of those who now enjoy the privileges of citizenship in this great state, would not be here. A constitution drafted and adopted more than thirty-five years ago could hardly be expected to conform in all respects to the needs and customs of this day and time, for there has been marvelous progress in the scientific and inventive world during the years intervening. In 1885 there were no automobiles, telephones, and electricity for light and power was practically unknown; there was no wireless telegraphy, no radiophone communication, no moving pictures and no artificially made ice—none of these comforts and devices, now regarded by many people as necessities, had been perfected at that time, and it is not to be wondered at that we occasionally find it necessary or expedient to meet changed conditions by amendments to the Constitution.

After all, it is merely a question of appreciating the situation to determine the course to pursue relative to the four proposed amendments which are to be presented at the approaching election. For our part, we expect to vote for three of these propositions.

The first that will appear on the ballot is a joint resolution proposing an amendment to Section 10 of Article XII, relating to education. By the adoption of this proposed amendment it will be within the power of the freeholders of a special tax school district to authorize a levy of not to exceed ten mills for school purposes. This authority is not now needed by some districts, but it is very much needed in other districts where children are deprived of school advantages because the state has outgrown the constitutional limitations placed on millage for educational advancement. Where additional funds are not needed, the proposed privilege need not be invoked, and another reason that carries assurance that the proposed authority is not out of order will rest entirely with those who pay tax on real or personal property, the "floater" or elector who does not pay tax other than capitation, or poll tax, not being eligible to express a choice in elections involving taxation. One should not lose sight of the fact that Florida adopted compulsory education without making provision to house or teach the children that it was intended to force to attend school. Compulsory education is a blessing because it permits many children to get at least a grammar school education when otherwise they would be compelled to forego that right—yet, by adopting that method without arranging a method of providing increased facilities and to pay teachers to instruct the subjects, the state has forced thousands of children into schools already crowded and rendered progress slow and difficult for both classes of pupils—the voluntary students and those who have enrolled by virtue of the compulsory law. Efficient schools are needed in every community, and rights embraced in the proposed amendment are necessary to provide good schools.

The second proposed amendment is that to Article V, relating to the judiciary. This would permit appointment by the governor of additional circuit judges in circuits where the need may be apparent. As population increases, litigation and crime increase, and if justice is to be expected without delay, it is necessary to provide for disposing of cases in a reasonably prompt manner. The mills of justice grind entirely too slow in some sections, and the amendment will bring some relief.

We expect to vote for an amendment to Section 3 of Article XVI, relating to time of payment of salaries of state officers, because it is not just to expect, much less require, a man or woman to labor twelve months and have only three pay days,—these being three months apart. Adoption of this proposed amendment will allow state officials to receive their salaries monthly, upon their own requisition. Many of us would complain bitterly if we missed a weekly or monthly payday, but in the case of our state officials the pay-days come only with the changing seasons—spring, summer, fall and winter. Consider this carefully and vote as your conscience dictates.

The fourth and last of the proposed amendments is that which relates to reapportionment of representation in the Legislature, under a change in Section 3 of Article VII. We will vote "no" in this case for the reason that it is unnecessary. The Constitution already provides for reapportionment every ten years, and since the Legislature has repeatedly failed to perform this duty, we do not see or know any reason for a change in the Constitution in that respect. The North and West portions of Florida have for many years had the balance of power in the legislature, and since the proposed amendment does not specify a rule or basis of any character to use in reapportionment of representation in the senate, the south and east sections of the state cannot with any degree of certainty anticipate relief through adoption of this proposition. Hillsborough county, with more than 100,000 population, now shares a place in the senate with Pinellas county. We have no assurance that we would be allowed to retain even a half portion of a senator if the senatorial representation is to be reapportioned under the proposed amendment. Vote against this amendment and thereby express to the governor your knowledge that it is his duty to compel the legislature, at its next session, to reapportion as outlined and specified and required by the Constitution of Florida.

WILBUR MOTT NOW IN CHARGE OF THE HALL-MILLS PROBE

DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL TAKES HOLD OF THE INVESTIGATION

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 25.—Deputy Attorney-General Wirbur A. Mott draped himself in robes of innocence today and plunged into the investigation of the Hall-Mills murder, to which he was assigned yesterday by Attorney-General McCran.

Mr. Mott spent the afternoon closeted with County Prosecutor Beckman of Somerset, learning what the county authorities have done and learned since the bodies of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills were found on Sept. 16. This afternoon Prosecutor Stricker of Middlesex county joined the conference.

When it was over, Mr. Mott issued a signed statement saying he was greatly pleased to find the county authorities already had accomplished so much in their investigation. He declined to make any comment on any angle of the case.

Newspaper men were particular to ask Mr. Mott about the story that Mrs. Jane Gibson, a widowed farmer, out riding a mule in quest of thieves who had looted her corn patch had witnessed the murders.

While Mrs. Gibson was said to have witnessed the shooting, it was said that she was unable because of the darkness, to identify the man who, she said, made up the murder party. She gave the authorities, however, one good clue to their identity.

After the minister and choir singer had been slain, she was quoted as saying, the man bent over the prostrate figures—presumably to cut Mrs. Mills' throat—and his accomplice cried out: "Oh—" (mentioning the Christian name of the supposed slayer.)

CLYDE LINE STEAMER STILL FAST ON LEDGE

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 25.—The Lenape is still aground and it may become necessary to dredge her free. The vessel is resting in nine feet of water at high tide, but normally draws twelve feet. Wreckers are afraid to pull her off while resting on an even keel for fear of springing her plates and are hoping for a high wind to kick up the sea so the vessel will rock and pulling can be resumed.

JOURNAL DID NOT LIKE CIRCUS METHODS

The Jacksonville Journal did not like some of the methods employed by a circus that visited that city yesterday and the Journal says what it thinks in the following: Everybody loves a circus. The old story is: "We would sell the cook stove to go." But everybody hates a swindle and everybody detests a swindler. When a circus swindles, it loses its charm. We have received a number of complaints about the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus that showed in this town yesterday. The complaints are justified—justified to the extent that the city administration ought to refuse to give this circus the right to show in Jacksonville again if it ever makes application to do so. It sold reserved seats at reserve sent price; it sold them as long as the people came to buy; it sold them long after every seat, reserved or otherwise was occupied; it sold what it did not have to sell. That is just plain swindle. It had no standard price on its concession counters. They charged whatever they thought they could get away with. It was in short, a shortchange gang. P. T. Barnum was the biggest showman this country ever had. It was he who declared that the people liked to be fooled. The people do like to be fooled but they don't like to be cheated, and there's a difference between being fooled and being cheated.

town and to take that money out of town. Our local theatres and amusement enterprises keep the money in town. We wouldn't allow one of our theatres to overcrowd its halls or to sell reserved seats that couldn't be delivered. The police would stop it. Other cities to which it goes should be warned of its bad practices and be prepared to protect themselves against these defiant grafters.

TOMMY BURNS IS GROOMING NEW "WHITE HOPE"

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Oct. 25.—Tommy Burns, ex-heavyweight champion claims to have found a new "white hope" in Robert Read, a gigantic Irish youth, who has lived in Scotland since he was 12 years old. Read is now 21. He is six feet four and one-half inches tall, weighs nearly two hundred pounds, and has a reach of 81 1-2 inches, 7 1-2 inches more than Dempsey's.

In a photograph sent to the Daily Mail, the British veteran's find towers above him. Burns' head reaches only to Read's shoulders. Read has a good appearance, an athletic build, and is gaining fight experience in the rough and tumble life of the English traveling boxing show, a familiar sight at any small town carnival or country fair.

Burns says that he has tried Read out and that he is not disappointed in him. "Last year Read won the amateur western district championship in Scotland," said Burns. "He is a quiet, gentlemanly boy and, of course, he needs a lot of experience. Only time can tell whether he will develop into a real champion. The experience with the traveling boxing show, which he pointed after winning the amateur championship, certainly will not do him any harm."

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Supreme Court Justice Morcauser today awarded John E. Mack, guardian of Baby Guy Stillman, $25,000 for his services in defending the infant against the charge of illitancy brought by James A. Stillman, millionaire banker a his suit for divorce from Mrs. Anne U. Stillman. He also allowed Mr. Mack $4,001.11, which the guardian reported he had expended in Guy's behalf. The court allowed Referee Daniel J. Gleason, who heard evidence in the cases, compensation at the rate of $150 a day for 148 days devoted to the case, a total of $22,200.

New we are having real Florida weather.

And it is the kind of weather that is bringing the tourists to the state.

When they come to Sanford this year there will be something for them to do in the way of amusements.

The outlook for the winter season is one of the best in the history of this country. Get yours by going after the business.

Associated Press dispatch says that large sums of money are seeking investment. Maybe so, maybe so, but we do not see it here.

The State Highway Board opens today at Tallahassee. We hope they open it with prayer. They need all the strength they can get.

Visitors in the city yesterday pronounced the country club and the golf links the best they had seen anywhere in this state. We don't have to say this. Others say it for us.

Sanford will never be a city by any backbiting or dog in the manger methods of business. It should be a pull altogether from everyone interested in the development of the city.

Owsley, the new commander of the American Legion says the Legion is just "lined up to fight" for the bonus bill. Owsley is great on Americanization and he will make a fine commander.

The fund for the roads in Brevard county have been refused by the state road department. Well, what did you expect? It is impossible to spend all of the road money in West Florida and have it for south Florida, too.

New people and new business are coming to Sanford because Sanford offers so much in the way of business along every line. The warehouse and dock business on the lake front is something that should attract the attention of the capitalists.

The Sanford Band will go to Geneva, Oviedo and Longwood tomorrow night and the committee of Sanford merchants, the Retail Merchants Committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce to be more exact, will tell the folks about the Dollar Day and Woman's Club Day Friday of this week. This is the way to stir up enthusiasm and get the people coming to Sanford.

Sanford American Legion will observe Armistice Day in real soldier fashion and the Campbell-Lossing Post is getting ready for a big day which happens to fall on Saturday of this year. The stores will close during the day but will be open the Friday night before to give the people a chance to trade. Saturday will be given over to American Legion sports and the boys and their friends will have a big time.

Any road between Sanford and Orlando built in the future should be built of brick with a more substantial foundation than sand. Sanford is going to be our port. Trucks are daily bringing tons of freight from its wharves to Orlando merchants. To lay brick on sand to take care of such traffic is folly.—Reporter-Star. The next brick road between Orlando and Sanford will be twenty-four feet wide and laid on a concrete base and laid in such a substantial manner that it will last until we have spent every cent that we possess, yes.

Billions in money paid to profiteers during the war are gone forever. The Attorney General says he cannot prosecute them. We never expected him to prosecute them and his assertion that he cannot is coming a trifle late. It is just another nail in the coffin of those folks who want another war. The next war will be fought by the profiteers and those bullies who want to be brigadier generals. There will never be any more buck private to volunteer and the government had better never draft them. Wars are brought on by corporate interests who want to graft the government and the people and their slimy trail can be found all through the history of every war in the world.

Come to the public forum at the court house tomorrow night and hear the amendment and other political matters discussed. Any matter that is non political but is for the good of the county can also be discussed and these open forums will become so popular in this county that it will be the regular thing to discuss all public matters before they are acted upon. And if this were done there would be less friction, less clash in authority, less argument and money and time saved.

NINE TRAGEDIES TODAY

Press dispatches on front page today cite nine different tragedies to come up today in the courts, in investigations and otherwise. This shows that the world may be growing worse or it may just be growing but nevertheless it shows that more church work is needed, that stricter enforcement of laws should be made and last but not least that the growing population needs more real work of all kinds done. It does not especially point the moral of non-church work for some of those in the headlines were among the church workers, it does not show the lack of moral training for some of them were of the highest intellectual standards; it does not show the lack of good home influence for some of them were people who had all of the best that homes could supply. It does show, however, that the crime wave that has been sweeping over the country for some time must be stopped and that all of those who have broken over the barriers of good government and the social standards should be placed where they belong or they will contaminate the whole social fabric. It shows that the laws should be more rigid in dealing with all those who commit these crimes regardless of who they may be and last but not least it again shows that all good, God-fearing, stalwart, patriotic citizens of America must stand for the strict enforcement of all laws or the country will eventually go to the demerolion how-wows that have been talked about for so many years.

It is time to read the front page today and to ponder upon just what the world is coming to and whether are we drifting?

The lax enforcement of the prohibition laws will do more toward throwing down the bars on all laws than any one thing. To flout the law in one place is to open the gates in another and it is only a question of time when booze being rampant will besmirch the characters of the entire community in one way or another and the laws of the land will not be enforced in any particular. It is time to wake up!

THE LIBRARY IN THE PARKS.

Now that it is time to begin planning the beautiful library building that Sanford is to have after waiting many years the location comes up for discussion. On account of the small sum donated by the city for the building there is nothing left with which to purchase a lot and the committees in charge naturally turn to the public parks as a site for the library. Other cities have such buildings in the parks and Sanford with five or six parks or public squares can surely spare a little space in one of them for a fine library building that would add instead of detract to the park in which it was placed. There is some objection on the part of some of the property owners but it is thought that they will in time become reconciled to the library building. The park that contains the building will be no less a park after the building is erected than it is now and the building will not interfere in any way with the pleasure of anyone but will add much to the pleasure of those good people who have labored for years to erect a suitable building in this city for a library and who see the great benefit on having a place of this kind. In fact the parks are just now being kept up as parks and for years were nothing but open spaces in the city and could just as well housed a building or two as to have the grass and weeds running riot as they formerly did. A beautiful library building is worth as much or even more than one of the parks even if the building occupied all the space in the park. But the proposed building will be so small that it will never be noticed by those who object to it and if it takes the place of the present band stand in Central Park the change will be so gradual that one will hardly note the difference in the space occupied by the two buildings. A nice library in Central Park or in the Ninth Street Park would add much to the city and to the parks themselves and certainly is one of the finest moves for higher education that Sanford has ever started.

The Sanford Country Club golf course was opened last Thursday. The Herald carried several pictures of portions of the course, which showed it to be beautifully laid out.

JOB FOR MARKETING COMMISSION

The Citrus Fruit Exchange is advocating a "ship by water" plan as an important factor in the marketing of Florida fruits. It declares that it will be possible to ship by water only when the plan has the practically unanimous co-operation of the citrus growers of Florida. Co-operation is absolutely necessary to the profitable marketing of great quantities of produce whether it be Wisconsin dairy products, Dakota grains, Oregon apples, California fruits or Florida fruits.

Wisconsin is a great dairy state because it has made the industry profitable by co-operation—pot only co-operation of the farmers but co-operation of the banks and the farmers.

Whatever one may think of the political activities of the non-Partisan League—and the Journal has expressed itself frequently and emphatically against any political organization for the benefit of a special class—the Non-Partisan League in its original economic form performer a big service for the grain growers of the Dakotas.

Pennsylvania, New York and Wisconsin grow as many apples as Oregon or Washington. But the apple growers of these Eastern states have not organized to put out a standardized, advertised product. So the Oregon and Washington apple dominates the market at a profitable price and has brought wealth and fame to the states where co-operation directs the marketing.

California, to date, represents the last word in co-operation of growers in advertising, shipping and marketing their products.

Florida is only going to take the crown from California if our growers learn and practice co-operation which will put out high standard products and distribute them in such a way as not to glut the markets. To be successful the citrus and all other produce industries in the state must be profitable. And they can only be made profitable by sound economic marketing methods.

"When the Florida Citrus Exchange controls 75 per cent of the fruit in Florida we can use water transportation," declares C. E. Stewart, Jr., business manager of the Florida Citrus Exchange. "Where every shipper is playing a lone hand and trying to out-guess the other fellow; and when nobody knows when anyone is going to ship, or what the arrivals in any market will be until the day they arrive, putting 25,000 or more boxes of oranges on a boat destined for any single market is folly."

Commenting on Mr. Stewart's statement, the Tampa Tribune says:

"Not only is such marketing folly; in the long run it means bankruptcy. And it never could mean anything but losses—perhaps heavy, perhaps not so severe, but all constituting a steady and debilitating drain on the state's greatest industry."

"Not until the citrus industry of Florida, in every detail, is at least 75 per cent co-operative; not until the citrus grower of the state has learned that the only way to get maximum returns from their crops is by co-operative buying of fertilizer, co-operative picking and packing, co-operative shipping, and co-operative marketing directed by a corps of experts on the job in every big distributing center, will the citrus industry in Florida be on a permanently profitable basis. This is proven by the success of the California growers in obtaining maximum efficiency in the handling of their crops from the grove—or "orchard," as the say on the Slope—to the consumer. Co-operation in producing the varieties desired, in picking and packing, in shipping, in marketing; and co-operation as well in advertising on a nation-wide scale and through practically the entire year. The facts are proven, practically demonstrated, in every real 75 per cent effective co-operative organization of the kind in the United States. Co-operation is what enables the California people to ship by water through the Panama Canal and to reap all the advantage of lower rates and bulk shipments, competing on at least an equal footing with Florida citrus fruits, notwithstanding the far shorter distance between the Florida grower and his markets."

"When Florida citrus growers operate all the way through on at least a 75 per cent basis of co-operation, instead of on about a 40 per cent basis, as at present, watch freight rates on the railroads drop to levels comparable with the service rendered by the railroads. Watch the increased use of water transportation show its invariable effect in rail rates. Watch the result of scientific distribution, rather than the haphazard method of glutting one market and starving another. And watch the Florida citrus growers attain a degree of prosperity that they never will and never can reach through continuance of the cut-throat methods of the past and the present."

What is true for the citrus growers of Florida is true of the growers of all produce which is shipped from Florida to the markets of the world.

The Citrus Exchange is serving well the state by urging upon citrus growers the necessity of co-operation. They do well to get together on some plan to get their goods to market properly and profitably. It is the natural assumption that what is good for them is good for all other growers. It would seem to be a job—a big job—for the State Marketing Bureau.

DEAN ADCOCK IS A REAL MAN

Dean Adcock is the pastor of the Baptist church in Orlando. He is also a fine chap, a good live citizen and booster for the entire state of Florida and he is our friend. These requisites ought to carry him through if he needs any help but he does not. He stands upon his two feet and he is four square all the time. It seems that the political pot in Orlando is seething and boiling just now and in boiling over spilled on some fellow's toes who immediately called the attention of the Baptist Church authorities to his belief that the pastor should not mention any city affairs at any time or any place. The Reporter-Star has the following from what Dean said:

"You may say for me that I am not in politics, that I am only interested in cleaning up Orlando; that both men running for office are my personal friends, and I would not willingly offend either one of them."

"I also want to say that if any man has anything to say to me, I want him to come out and say it, and not take refuge behind remarks about 'the pulpit' of Orlando. When you talk about 'the pulpit' you indict every minister in the town, which is an unfair proceeding."

"I am entirely responsible for my utterances, am standing on my own feet, and perfectly willing to take the consequences of my acts. And I am not hiding behind any board of deacons. Any time the board of deacons does not approve of my course, I am willing to be excused."

"I am doing my duty as I see it—I am fighting to clean up the city, and I shall continue to be found fighting on that side."

BEAUTIFUL PARKS

There is nothing that gives visitors to a city a good impression quite as much as well kept and beautiful parks. This is called forth by a glimpse of the Winter Park city park that we happened to note yesterday while passing through that beautiful city. The grass has recently been replanted and sprinklers have been installed all through the park and the grass is one broad expanse of vivid green that will not fail to attract the eye of the tourist as he comes down from the frozen north. We hope that the good people of Winter Park will have their petunia beds as thick as ever in the park this year for those petunias attracted more attention last year than the pretty girls that are usually seen down there in that fine old college town.

And then getting back to our own beloved city we were struck by the grass in the Central Park and the flowers and shrubs and all the work that has been put on this park lately speaks for itself. It means work and money to keep up beautiful parks and we people who are here looking at them day after day probably lose much of our enthusiasm over them but just go away and then come back or go to some other city and see fine parks and you will see them through the eye of the tourist and the traveler.

Having beautiful parks is money well spent in any city and we congratulate Winter Park and Sanford city officials and people generally for their good work in this respect.

A NATIONAL MOSQUITO FIGHT

Senator D. U. Fletcher gave the Realtors, at their St. Petersburg meeting, something to think seriously on when he proposed a nation wide campaign to exterminate the mosquito pest. His suggestion is not only practical, but it is positively needed, and something like that is the only method by which this country can be rid of the mosquito.

Those who come to Florida and other coastal states in the summer may try to make out there are no mosquitoes in the other state; but facts and figures show that from Alaska to Cape Horn and from the Andean and Rocy Mountain valleys to the savannahs of the Orinoco, the mosquito flourishes and hums. Various localities fight the pest scientifically; others spread a little oil on the water one time and then forget it while authorities go off after false godlike compulsory vaccination with prison sentences or a fine, for failure to jump after forty-eight hours' notice.

Senator Fletcher has started something that Florida would do well to take up and make a national matter, and with earnestness suggest a method and the procedure for the campaign.

The United States government would undoubtedly lend its moral, man and money, support, for it knows the benefits accruing from the extermination of this pest. The Panama Canal Zone has been freed of the mosquito and with it went the fevers caused by the mosquito bite; Havana Cuba, the hotbed of yellow fever on this side of the world, has been made as healthful as a Florida village, because the mosquito and the fly have both been banished.

With the mosquito banished from this state, there is no setting a limit to the population which would soon fill every fine little Florida nook and hamlet, while the growth of the cities would be phenomenal.

Let the Realtors of Florida spread the idea among the Realtors of other states. No set of men is more able to catch the significance of a mosquitoless area for settlement, and no set of men is more in touch with the men who accomplish such big things, than the Realtors of this and other states.—Tampa Tribune.

FROM OTHER SANCTUMS.

TAXATION WITHOUT EQUAL REPRESENTATION

At the next general election voters will be called upon to express themselves as to the proposed constitutional amendment which in a way is supposed to be reapportionment for Florida. Those of South Florida who are vitally interested in the state and its development and who want to see those who have developed Florida given some recognition, will oppose the measure as it has been arranged. From what can be learned and from a careful study of the proposed amendment which requires such a reapportionment every ten years, the people of this state as well as the several legislatures have been derelict in their duty as law makers and as citizens when they have not required this re-counting every ten years.

Of course there has been politics back of the whole idea and we are not yet convinced that politics is not entirely back of those who engineered this proposed amendment through the last session of the legislature. Some honestly believed that they were really getting something in the measure but they now have learned that it has the cleverest ear marks of the north and west Florida politicians, who have had designs on the measure for the purpose of keeping the new and wide-awake section of the state under their thumb for the next ten years just as they have had control of it ever since the state was organized—they don't propose to give it up without the clearest laid plans or ideas worked to the limit and if this amendment carries, it is our opinion and the opinion of a great many people who have studied the situation that the proposed amendment will not help South Florida one bit.

We believe that Governor Hardee feels the same way about it, else he would not give the people of this section the assurance that if the amendment fails to carry, he will do his best to have it brought before the coming session and if possible get a reapportionment measure that is just and fair.

As we all know South and Central Florida now pays at least seventy per cent of the entire taxes of the state; South and Central Florida is walking away in development and improvement, by leaps and bounds from North and West Florida, and we believe that it is high time that the people of this state sense the situation to the extent they should put a check now upon this system of being hog tied and bound to do the bidding of a section of the state that is going backwards in a way; that has lost out in more ways as compared with South Florida and that every county in the state that has the requisite number of people has just as much right to a senator or a representative as similar counties or sections in North Florida. It is a most unfair and unjust feature and we believe that for every certain thousand people who are given a representative or senator in North Florida, for that same per capita the people of South Florida should be given a like representation. Or, if every county in North Florida is given one senator and two representatives, then every county in every other section of the state should be likewise recognized.

It is because of politics that North and West Florida have forced laws over the other sections of the state, being absolutely in the majority on everything, controlling every appointment, or distribution of wealth or improvement just as they liked and whether it suited the people of this section or not, that this talk of state division is heard so often and if those politicians continue to feel that they can forever fool us and we won't re-act it, they are simply going to find themselves with a little narrow section of South Alabama and Georgia above them and Tallahassee as a capital to which they are welcome. And then they will find below them the most progressive and wealthiest state in the whole south even though it is smaller. All we want is a square deal and if the people of this section of the state are going to be forced to get their dander up to such a pitch as to arrive at the fighting stage, those politicians and corporations who have grown fat off their plans and schemes for the past decade, will find that they will have the liveliest campaign and contest on their hands in the next few years for "citizen rights" and county rights, that has ever been waged in the whole country. It is time to call a halt on this business and stop such proceedings right now.—Lakeland Star-Telegram.

John C. Kretzschmar, Complainant, vs. Perry Glickstone, Frieda Glickstone, Frank P. Hasko and Mary R. Hasko, Defendants. To: Perry Glickstone, residence unknown; Frieda Glickstone, No. 1858 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois; Frank P. Hasko and wife, Mary R. Hasko, No. 7788 Ogdenly Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. It appearing from the sworn bill of complaint filed in this cause that you, Perry Glickstone, are a resident of a state or country other than the State of Florida, and that your place of residence is unknown, and that you, Frieda Glickstone, Frank P. Hasko and Mary R. Hasko, are residents of Chicago, Illinois.

Therefore, you, Perry Glickstone, are required to appear before our said Circuit Court at the Court House in Sanford, Florida, on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1924, and then and there make answer to the bill of complaint exhibited against you in this cause, otherwise a decree pro confesso will be entered against you, or your estate.

And you, Frieda Glickstone, Frank P. Hasko and Mary R. Hasko, are required to be and appear before our said Circuit Court at the Court House in Sanford, Florida, on the 4th day of December, A. D. 1923, and then and there make answer to the bill of complaint exhibited against you, or otherwise a decree pro confesso will be entered against you.

It is ordered that this citation be published in the Sanford Herald, a newspaper published in Seminole County, Florida, once a week for eight consecutive weeks, as notice to the defendant, Perry Glickstone, and once a week for four consecutive weeks, as notice to the said Circuit Court on this the 15th day of October, A. D. 1923.

GEO. A. DeCOYNE, Solicitor and of Counsel for Complainant.

CITATION

M. F. Robinson, Complainant, vs. Louisa Papworth, et al., Defendants. To: Louisa Papworth, et al., and if dead, her heirs, assigns, interest, under Louisa Papworth, deceased, or otherwise, in and to the following described corner of Seminole County, Florida, more particularly described as follows: to-wit: Begin 38 chains and 7 links West of Township 20, South of Range 30 East; run thence East along Section line 19 chains; thence North 41 degrees 45 minutes East 11 chains and 70 links; thence North 83 degrees 45 minutes West 11 chains and 10 links to the East side of the right-of-way of the South Florida Railroad Company; thence in a Southwesterly direction along the East side of said right-of-way of said South Florida Railroad Company, to the point of beginning.

It appearing from the sworn bill of complaint filed in this cause against you, and each of you, that you, and each of you, have or claim to have some interest in and to the land hereinabove described.

Therefore, you, Louisa Papworth, et al., and if dead, all parties claiming interest under Louisa Papworth, deceased, or otherwise, in and to the property hereinabove described, are required to be and appear before our said Circuit Court at the Court House in Sanford, Florida, on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1924, and then and there make answer to the bill of complaint exhibited against you, or otherwise a decree pro confesso will be entered against you and each of you.

It is ordered that this citation be published in the Sanford Herald, a newspaper published in Seminole County, Florida, once each week for eight consecutive weeks.

WITNESS my hand and the seal of the said Circuit Court on this the 15th day of October, A. D. 1923.

GEO. A. DeCOYNE, Solicitor and of Counsel for Complainant.

FOR THE MOVIE FAN

We are not sure of what is "Stronger than Fiction" but we can find out tonight at the Princess.

And then tomorrow night there is a young nobleman that helps a princess to escape a forced marriage and gets her for himself in "The Lady from Longacre." And the nice part is that a Century comedy follows it.

Manager Herndon, of the Princess, has some real feature pictures booked for the season and one of them is the "Gilded Cage" Friday and Saturday.

Gloria Swanson stars in the "Gilded Cage" and it will be remembered that Gloria started the painted leg fad that recently became all the rage. This happened because she was forced to leave the dainty design painted upon her lower limbs as she appeared in society one night as there were more scenes to be filmed the following day.

Should a woman deny herself the happiness of a man's love to devote her life happiness to an invalid sister? That's the problem that faces Gloria Swanson in the "Gilded Cage" at the Princess Friday and Saturday of this week.

Did you ever eat snails? That is one of Walter Heirs' jobs in the filming of the "Gilded Cage?" See how he does it.

Probably the most original dinner party ever staged is seen in the "Gilded Cage."

And the rich gowns used in this play. You just haven't seen any until you witness this picture.

Gloria Swanson, David Powell, Harrison Ford, Anne Cornwall, Walter Heirs and Charles Stevenson are some of the stars that will entertain the Sanford public at the Princess Friday and Saturday.

Osborne's way of giving you a real bargain on Dollar Day is to give you one exceptionally good picture for your money. See the "Gilded Cage" and be convinced.

LARGE SUMS MONEY SEEKING INVESTMENT

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Indications that large sums of money are still seeking investment were seen last week in the announcement that the new government 4-1-4 per cent loan had been more than three times oversubscribed and in the rapidity with which most of the new offerings, totalling $95,325,000 were taken up. The previous weeks record was only $41,150,000.

Average prices of bonds have declined about two points in the last few weeks, but they are still about six points higher than at the beginning of the year. Much of the recent selling has been on the part of large corporations, and banks. Two reasons are assigned for this: one, the need of funds to meet the increasing demands for commercial credit and the other, the switching from high grade industrials and short term government loans to the newer, longer and more attractive government loan.

Bond dealers report that investors are showing more discrimination now than they have for several months. Public utility mortgages, particularly, are finding a better market, and comprised the largest individual group in last weeks offering totalling $26,500,000.

Local bankers expect that a $50,000,000 loan for Cuba will be floated in this market before Christmas. Argentina also is supposed to have made overtures for a new loan of $100,000,000, and Chile is still in the market for a loan of $14,000,000.

Some heavy railroad financing also is expected within the next few weeks in addition to the usual issues of equipment trust certificates, it is expected one or more mergers will be completed before spring, necessitating additional financing. Renewed reports that the New York Central railroad was considering the issuance of additional stock were denied by an official of the company.

The largest individual issue in the last week, was the $18,000,000, 6 per cent external bonds of the kingdom of Norway maturing in thirty year and non-redeemable for ten years. They were offered at par.

In too many automobile accidents the individual at the steering wheel is in reality that well-known ostracized citizen, Mr. Barleycorn.

Rates on Fruits and Vegetables Must Be Changed

Efforts of Senator Fletcher Bring Forth Replies

G. B. McGinty, secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington writes the following letter to the traffic heads of the various railroads that have lines in the south and are affected by any changes that might be made in the rates on fruits and vegetables:

"The Railroad Commission of the State of Florida and various shipping interests in that state have called the attention of the Commission to the fact that rates on oranges and grapefruit from Florida to the North and Northwest are not published on a basis comparable with rates from the Pacific Coast to the same destinations. They particularly emphasize the fact that rates from the Pacific coast are grouped to all destinations on and east of the Missouri river, Mississippi river and Chicago, whereas rates from Florida are not so grouped. One of these letters deals particularly with rates to points as far west as Denver, Colo. It is contended that rates should be established from Florida which will permit growers in that section to compete at all consuming points with growers from the Pacific coast.

"It will be appreciated if you will look into the rate situation with a view if possible of establishing rates which will be satisfactory to the complainants."

This reply came from the efforts put forth by Chase & Co., and other growers and shippers taking up the matter through Senator Fletcher and Senator Fletcher starting the ball rolling for cheaper freight rates on Florida fruits and vegetables.

GETTING READY FOR ORLANDO

There seems to be a much different feeling in these days from what it has been in the past insofar as a game between Sanford and Orlando is concerned. The time was that either a baseball or football between these two towns would mean the gathering together on the fields crowds from both towns, with their pockets filled with rocks and a pop bottle in each hand, just waiting for some one on the other side to make a move or say a word that would give excuse for a fight. The rivalry was always high and a win by either side meant victory that was thought of, talked about written about for many days following.

But things seem different now, since Sanford and Orlando have buried the hatchet, and although both sides still want to win, it is in a more sportsman like manner, and if you will believe this to be correct, just turn out and watch the Sanford and Orlando football game, Friday of this week.

It is natural for Orlando to feel that she will have easy picking over the local eleven, because it has been many a year since Orlando lost to our outfit. But Sanford is out to win this year and from the way she has been going this season, we believe she will do it.

We don't mean by this, however, that Sanford should underestimate Orlando's strength, but get in and put up the same scrapping game that won the first three games for us.

Coach Wilkenson says that his boys realize this and they are working hard this week on new plays and different formations that will make the boys of the Orlando wonder where they are at most of the time.

And we hear that Orlando is doing the same thing and we are therefore inclined to think that this will be one good game of football, and every fan turning out to witness this game will be given the surprise of their young lives, as this promises to be the best game of the season.

Remember fans, throw all the rocks and pop bottles in the lake before turning out to this game as Orlando is doing likewise and the two towns will get together and spend one enjoyable day. And Orlando has been invited to bring along some of their dollars and take advantage of Dollar Day that has been arranged for their benefit, and after Sanford wins the game Orlando can get much consolation by attending the Woma's Club fair and play at night.

BETTER BUSINESS IS SHOWING UP ALL OVER THE WORLD

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Business in Europe, Latin America and the far east is steadily on the upgrade and with but few exceptions is better the world over, delegates to the convention of American manufacturers export association were told today by Julius Kilm, director United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

BABE RUTH IS NOT A "BABE"

During the past season, especially during the World's Series, public sentiment has turned against Babe Ruth, especially noticeable amongst the Sanford fans. There must be some good reason for this and the only real reason that can be found, is the attitude taken by the press and some of the leading sport writers. In a conversation with a player from the major leagues, one that knows Babe Ruth both on and off the field, it was brought to light several incidents that prove that a grave injustice has been done Ruth through some of the leading papers of the North. During this conversation it was learned that Ruth was just as popular with the players, both of his own club as well as the opposing teams, and that anytime any unpopularity was in evidence it was caused by the press.

This player has consented to write several articles on the Babe Ruth subject and will be published from time to time in order that the Sanford fans will be given a chance to hear something of Ruth that is authentic. He will write of some personal experience while playing against Ruth as well as some of the Babe's experiences that came to him first hand and that he knows to be true and correct. appear in the Herald and then some of you hardheaded fans that have formed a dislike to Ruth may change your minds.

"MUST TOE THE MARK"

So Say the Bowling League Managers

At a recent meeting of the managers of the City Bowling League it was unanimously voted that every bowler in the league would be required to live up to the national rules as it refers to the foul lines. There are many bowlers that have disregarded the foul line last season, with no penalty attached, but from now on it shall be different.

During the first two weeks of play there will be no penalty for going over the foul line in order that such bowlers who have not been watching this can overcome their practice, and get right by the time the third week starts. After that every time a player's foot passes over the line he will lose that one ball. There are many good bowlers that have piled up good scores in past games that will find their score will be materially affected in the future games by this new ruling.

This also applies to the several bowlers that have been dropping across the line on their hands after the ball was delivered, as it is just as much against the rules for your hands to be on the other side of the foul mark as it is for your foot or feet.

It will be well for the players to note this new ruling and take advantage of this advance dope in their preliminary practice. There are other rules and regulations that will have effect on the playing this season, that should be looked into at once.

TO HOP OFF FROM PENSACOLA TODAY FOR WASHINGTON

PENSACOLA, Oct. 25.—Failure to get their motors assembled and properly tuned after an overhauling, delayed the departure of Lieuts. B. H. Wyatt and G. T. Owen for Washington from the Pensacola naval air station yesterday. It was announced late yesterday after the DeHavilland plans had been put through test flights that the navy pilots would leave here tomorrow morning at daybreak.

The first stop will be at Montgomery, where fuel will be taken, it was announced. Other stops are to be made at Fayette, S. C., and Langley Field, Va.

Both machines are in perfect flying condition, Lieut. Owen stated tonight. The flyers arrived at Pensacola last Friday from New Orleans, where they stopped over on their San Francisco-Pensacola jaunt long enough to attend the Legion convention. This is the first trans-continental flight ever undertaken by the navy. From Washington, they will fly back across the country by way of Chicago to San Diego where the aviators are attached.

HER WONDER

There are questions that have puzzled the thinking world for ages—Who was the man in the iron mask? Who struck Billy Patterson? Who wrote Shakespeare's plays? Who killed Cock Robin? And, of all things, who dragged whom how many times around the walls of what? But the answers to all these she would willingly forego could she know who was the man who telephoned last night and didn't leave his name!—Saturday Evening Post.

11 VICTIMS OF NEW YORK, FIRE LAID TO REST

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The east side resounded this afternoon with wailing and lamentations during funeral services held for 11 of 18 victims of the fire which swept a tenement house at Lexington avenue and 110th street last Sunday.

So dense was the crowd of mourners that police reserves had to be called for one service uptown and another downtown to clear the way for the corteges. Long after the two lines of hearses had crossed East river spans on their way to the cemeteries cries and sounds of mourning could be heard.

The Fifth street service was held for six members of the family of Abraham Sugarman. Both Sugarman and his wife escaped.

Sugarman had to be supported by relatives as he stepped from a carriage to attend the outdoor service. Mrs. Sugarman was too ill to attend. She lay on a couch in the apartment of a relative living in Harlem. Hearses bearing the bodies of her five children and a son-in-law journeyed six miles uptown in order that she might gaze upon the procession.

More thousands attended the uptown service, held at a synagogue on 118th street. There Mrs. Nathan Silver buried her entire family, husband and four children.

Where There's a Baby on Farm Keep Rat-Snap

MONSTER KINGFISH LEAPED OUT OF BAY INTO FISHERMEN'S MIDST

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 24.—Much excitement was caused here one day this week when a king fish weighing thirty pounds leaped out of Tampa Bay and landed in the midst of a group of fishermen angling from the municipal pier. One angler who had been fishing all morning without a nibble dived for the giant specimen of the mackerel family and captured it before it could flop overboard. It was the first time that a kingfish had fallen upon a pier here.

Several species of fish in Florida waters are noted for their jumping proclivities and it is not uncommon to find mullet in rowboats where they leaped during the night. Pompano, which jump with the speed of a rifle bullet have been known to shatter lanterns hung in the low rigging of fishing craft as riding lights, the fish striking them head first with the force of a sledge hammer.

W. L. Straub, for many years editor and publisher of the St. Petersburg Times, and until recently postmaster here, was nearly beaten to death some years ago when a tarpon he had hooked leaped into the rowboat from which he was fishing, knocked him down, fell on top of him and began his struggle to regain his liberty.

James Stucky Says, "Rats Cost Me $125 for Plumbing Bills."

"We couldn't tell what was clogging up our toilet and drains. We had to tear up floor, pipes, etc., found a rat's nest in basement. They had choked the pipes with refuse. The plumber's bill was $125. RAT-SNAP cleaned the rodent out." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Ball Hardware Co.—Adv.

COMPTROLLER IN CHARGE OF FIRST MORRE HAVEN BANK

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 25.—The affairs of the first state bank of Morre Haven, Fla., have been taking over by the state comptroller, it became known here today. An effort is being made to re-organize the bank and effect a reopening. Its capital stock is approximately $30,000. An examiner of the comptroller's office was placed in charge of the bank last week, when its embarrassment was brought about through the inability to liquidate fast enough to meet its demands.—Tampa Tribune.

THE TRUTH IS BAD ENOUGH

South Florida has had an excessive rainfall during the past few weeks, and naturally, for a country as prairie like as it is, there was considerable dampness accumulated on the surface, and even piled up a foot here and there and inches somewhere else. It takes a little time for water to run off and run down, but by the time the scarce stories being sent out by some excited and excitable ones reach their destination, it will be all over in this state, the dry land will be appearing and the truck farmers will be singing at their work.

That was a wild story a man sent to Charlotte, N. C., to his wife, about 20,000 persons being homeless south of Lake Okeechobee and thousands of cattle and hogs being drowned! It was a Mephistophelian lie! There are not that many people living in all that interior region where the lake overflow goes. The hog is known to be the first of all animals to seek highland when water threatens, and there are acres and acres of high pine lands within a mile or two of several places south, and west, and east of the lower end of Lake Okeechobee.

The truth about that heavy rainfall is bad enough; but for goodness sake don't try to make it any worse by false statements. The effect of such exaggeration is always rebound on the exaggerator. When the storm hit Tampa in 1921, some man rushed out of town, got to a wire somewhere, and gave out the statement that the water was "seven feet deep over the Tribune building;" and the papers off at a distance swallowed that much water.

The Everglades region of Florida is all right. The drainage scheme has not yet been completed, and until it is finished there will always be liability to submergence during excessively heavy and prolonged rains; but the system is sufficiently perfected to guarantee that the excess water will run off before it has time to do material damage to any staple crop.

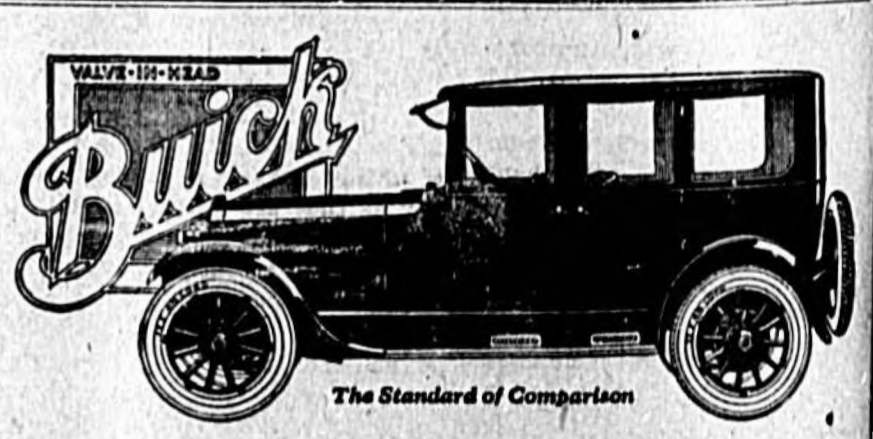

In two weeks the truckers of the lake region will be plowing and preparing for the biggest crop of winter raised vegetables the state has ever known. The water of the past weeks will guarantee a fine soil condition and freedom from danger of drought.

So let us stick to the truth about Florida, because there is always somebody who is ready and eager to turn every reported evil to the disadvantage of the state, and the advantage of some other region.—Tampa Tribune.

Residents of Minnesota turned out to fight 200 fires. There are signs that this will look back upon next winter as having been strictly a summer sport.

They have been raising the roof of the treasury building at Washington, but not to make room for that European cash.

OVIEDO The Exchange Packing House has been running some this week and Nelson & Co. will open up in a very short while. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wright spent Thursday in Orlando. Mr. and Mrs. Culley and family of Miami arrived by auto Wednesday to be the guest of Mr. Culley's sister Mrs. J. C. Partin. Mr. Frank Norris who has been quite all is improving this week. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Lively and three children of Ft. Meade have rented the S. W. Swape cottage on Grnham Ave. Mr. and Mrs. Maynor have taken an apartment at the Lake Chazz Inn for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Lee spent Monday in Orlando. J. S. Sistrunk and sons have opened a store and garage at the corner of the Geneva-Chuluota roads. A missionary sermon will be preached at the Methodist Church Sunday morning by the pastor, Rev. L. E. Wright and in the afternoon a missionary service will be held under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society. Mrs. Godfrey of Orlando will be present to make a talk on the work and a short program by the children will be rendered. Walter Carter of Rollins College spent the week end with his parents. Mrs. B. G. Smith entertained the Hook Club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Grnham Ave. Mrs. N. B. Holt of Orlando spent several days this week with her sister Mrs. Frank Norris. Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Sauer and little son spent Saturday shopping in Sanford. The Social Committee of the Christian Endeavor Society gave their annual Halloween party at the Club House Friday night Oct. 27th. This being the first social of the fall, it was well attended and very much enjoyed. The family of L. H. Gore are reported better after having been sick with flu last week. Work is moving rapidly on the extension of the Seaboard Air Line track to Iowa City. The extension of this line to the Black Hammock section will mean a great deal to the farmers as it will save a haul of three or four miles. More land will be opened up and planted than ever before and the Black Hammock will soon be recognized as the greatest farming section of Seminole County. The Woman's Club, under the able leadership of Mesdames Jas. Lee and C. L. West will have "The Country Store" at the School house auditorium Tuesday night. The merchants of club members have all been most generous in their donations and the ladies are working hard in a program in addition to the other good things that are to be had. Mrs. H. B. McCall left Wednesday for a visit to relatives in Lakeland.
