Opening day ceremonies for Sanford's Heart Park, sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Sanford and the Kiwanis Club of Sanford Inc., will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the

At about 2 p.m., Eve Crabtree, president of the junior women, and Dr. Earl Weldon, president of Seminole Community College, will break the ribbon to open the Heart Park exercise course of 20 obstacles and exercise programs.

The junior women kicked off the drive to raise funds for the park on April 1. Major contributors have been: the Kiwanis Club, co-sponsor of the project, with an initial contribution of $2,000; Flagship Bank of Seminole and its branches; Seminole Memorial Hospital employees, $1,200 raised through a walkathon; American Heart Association, Orlando chapter, $500; Dr. Richard Dunn, $500; American Association of Retired Persons, $100; Jim Crowe, $100; John R. Smith, $100; Dr. James Hirsch, $100; Dr. Roger Stewart, $100; Women's Club of Sanford, $50; Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, $50; Dr. George W. Edwards, $25; Dr. Randall C. Brown,

Along the course are numbered signs and directions for each calisthenic-type exercise to be done. The signs at some of the 20 stations give directions on how to use equipment there. One of the main reasons the specific project was undertaken was to give attention to the development of good cardiac health, said Mrs. Sue Cann, chairman of the opening day

The equipment for the "Fit-Trail Parcours" was purchased from Recreational Development Corp. of Charlotte, N.C. Mrs. Julian, co-chairman of the project, said Don Hughes of the Kiwanis Club has worked with the junior women on the project. Mrs. Gail Stewart is chairman of the project. Mrs. Julian said an additional sign will be installed and anchor equipment is yet to be delivered.

Invocation at the opening day ceremonies is to be given by Dr. Ted Cosmato of First Baptist Church of Sanford, while Dr. Weldon will lead the salute to the flag.

'America the Beautiful" will be presented by Dave and Pam Hannah. An explanation of the use of exercise in development and promoting good cardiac health will be given by Dr. H. Garrett Dotson of Seminole Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Crabtree will recognize contributors and the dedication speech will be given by Dr. Weldon, president of the Kiwanis Club.

Slow Peace In Europe

MOSCOW (UPI)— Pravada proposed a 4-point "Program for Strengthening Peace in Europe" today and said NATO's plan to deploy medium-range nuclear missiles in Western Europe was designed to draw Soviet firepower away from the United States.

The editorial, printed in the Soviet Communist Party daily newspaper and reported extensively by the of-ficial Tass news agency, said the NATO plan to install 572 U. S.-made Pershing-2 and Cruise missiles in several West European countries "would mean undetermining the very foundation of the process of

The article also included a rare direct reference to the Soviet Union's own arsenal of SS-20 nuclear missiles trained on West Europe targets.

Actions Louder Than Words

President Carter's surprise decision to embargo oil imports from Iran was useful for two reasons. It was a forceful initiative that underscored U.S. displeasure over the seizure of the American Embassy and the holding of some 60 American hostages ever since. And it beat the Iranians to the boycott punch, removing oil as a factor in the negotiations.

Thus, in recent days Mr. Carter has exercised two of the scarce options available to him in this worsening crisis. His policy to deport Iranian students found in violation of U.S. immigration laws served to cool provocative anti-U.S. demonstrations by Iranians in this country, and this action also could be interpreted as a form of protest designed to be more effective than words. The U.S. embargo on Iranian oil, ironically, may be more inconvenient for Iran than for this country. Although our reduced imports of Iranian oil accounted for only about 4 percent of U.S. oil consumption this year, they represented 25 percent of Iranian sales — a fact that undoubtedly influenced restraint by Iran in using its oil weapon against the United States. To be sure, Iranian crude will not go begging, but extensive new marketing arrangements will become necessary. But boycotting Iranian oil and deporting riotous Iranian students are mere steps in a meaningless minuet the United States is obliged to dance. Our leaders in Washington take seriously the threat of the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and the extremist Revolutionary Council not to release the hostages until the Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, suffering from cancer in a New York hospital. And because the United States cannot entertain even the possiblity of yielding to such blackmail, this country suddenly finds itself in a messy impasse.

Eckerd Chain Now At 1,001

Stewart Turley, Jack Eckerd Corp. Chairman and president, last week announced the Eckerd Drug chain opened 22 stores during the past week, bringing the company's total stores to 1,001.

Turley said the "one-thousand-and-one" event will be celebrated for this month in all Eckerd Drug stores throughout the chain's 15-state marketing area. Drawings will offer customers and employees thousands of dollars in cash and free prizes. In addition, a series of month-long sales — the greatest in the company's 27-year history — will be advertised in newspapers and on television, and will feature unusually low prices on many items of merchandise throughout the holiday season. "We are proud to have reached this milestone," Turley said, "and the give-aways we are offering to our customers and employees are our way of saying thanks for making 1.001 stores possible."

Home Builders Upset With Fed

WASHINGTON— The Federal Reserve Board's policy of tight money and high interest rates was sharply criticized by nal, labor, business and consumer leaders at a two-ny Housing Economic Summit Conference held here. The conference, hosted by the 120,000-member National Association of Home Builders (NAHB), was called to examine the economic, social and political consequences of the board's-Oct. 6 action which led to a record 15.75 percent prime interest rate, and 13-14 percent mortgage interest rates. Summing up the conference, NAHB President Vondal Graviee said participants generally agreed "the tight money, high-interest-rate approach is an extremely painful way to fight inflation. It cuts housing production. It bumps potential home buyers out of the market. It adds millions of Americans

The Tom Brightman story isn't the classic rags-to-riches yarn.
It is the story of a man and his wife who are deeply religious and who live their beliefs seven days a week — and who aren't ashamed to proclaim their faith in the Bible and the Lord.

"And if you remember," he says,
"that was in 1968 when thousands of independent oil operators were going bankrupt and everyone said I was crazy for going into the oil business on my own.

"And, of course, this was long before the oil embargo. Oil was selling for less than $3 a barrel."
That well paid for itself but didn't make them rich.

But the company is proper in a Gulf cluded was a loser.
"It did nothing but pump water for seven days," he recalls. "The evening of the seventh day I went home and told Mae that it was no good."

It was in the summer of 1940 that Brightman began his career in the oil business as a roughneck.
Through hard work, he was eventually elevated to contract pumper.

paly a few weeks, and I am so confused about how to tell right from wrong. All my old friends tell me not to worry about it. They simply say, "If you think it's ok, do it?" is that really the way to determine what is right? By feelings? I sincerely want to live as God wants me to, but how can you know right from wrong?

- ANSWER: The psalmist David once asked the same question you are asking me and mmediately proclaimed God's answer. He said, "How can a young man keep his way pure? By guarding it according to God's Word" (Psalm 111:9, RSV). That's my answer also. If you want to know what the Lord says is right, read your Bible. By the Holy Spirit, it will lead and guide you into truth, so Lori Swain, 10, a fifth grader at All Souls School, Sanford, was presented with a $25 savings bond by wrong. Instead of searching the scriptures to see what is right or wrong in God's eyes, They simply develop a general philosophy which OK's anything they want to do. But the philosophy of doing what "feels" right is not a wise one to follow. Jeremiah 17:9 states, "The heart is deceitful above all things and and desires, at times we will be deceived into making wrong turns in life and plunging ourselves into trouble. Our inward feeling cannot guide us in th path of right living, but God's Word can. The Bible can let you know whether or not your heart's urgings harmonize with God's will After that, it's up to you. Once you know what God says is right, you can either do it or ignore it, obey or disobey. Now the right way is not always the easy way. But then Christianity itself is not namby-pamby and soft. It involves a disciplined way desperately wicked." Sometimes what our Word will give you the rich reward of joy, heart, or feelings, is urging us to do is not peace and life itself!

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) - "Bullets," "stars" and "lightning bolts" all signify one thing for aspiring artists and songwriters -

3 MEWS (MON-WED, FRI) those who write songs and the ones who sing them, leaf through the pages of Billboard, Record World, Cashbox and Broadcasting magazines to find "The Chart." "The Chart" is each magazine's listing of the top songs in the country. Some charts are based on the amount of airplay a single or album receives on U.S. radio stations, others TO RYAN'S HOPE (MON- are based on record sales, and some include "seat-of-the-pants judgment" of radio station music directors. All four magazines use radio airplay — the frequency a song is played by disc jockeys -

"We approach this as reporters, not as program directors," says Don West, Broadcasting's managing editor. West says his staff mails ballots or calls "a select group" of radio stations to find out base their response on their own surveys, local record sales, listener callins, or the judgment of the music director. "We don't care about any of those things," West says. "We're attempting to show what is being played on U.S. radio. We don't care ANOTHER WORLD why. We don't care about sales. That's the music business' problem.

"What we do is weigh the airplay in terms of (Arbitron) ratings," West says. The more listeners a station has, the higher the rating. Broadcasting feeds all the information into a In its "comtemporary" playlist, Broadcasting lists the top 50 songs in the nation with hot songs - ones that move up five or more chart positions in a week - designated by a small lightning "bolt." Cashbox uses "bullets" to show that a song is gaining in the charts, as does Record Jim Sharp, director of Nashville operations.

"We ask them what the top sellers are and they rank the records from one to 20. We give them a point value and post that information along with radio airplay," Sharp says. "The list just about sets itelf."
