Thus it could well be that the Nixon administration which starts today could produce a change in our controlling political philosophy which would, indeed, become another historic watershed.

For the problems and challenges which the 37th President has studied with such care during the President-elect honeymoon now knock at his door.

These problems, as former President Johnson so deftly included in his sixth and final "state of the nation" message, are truly in existence.

The Democratic enswers are contained in the legislation already on the books. Whether or not these will be funded or forgotten by the Republican administration is the judgment that events and actions can only provide.
