FARM RELIEF WILL BE ISSUE IN PARTY MEET

Looms As Burning Political Question To Be Solved By Republicans In Kansas City

Senate Sustains President's Veto

Four Senators Change Minds About Bill To Back Coolidge Action

WASHINGTON, May 26.—(INS)—Farm relief would be a paramount issue in a congressional session to-day, but in its depth throes it apparently thus achieved the immortality of becoming a burning political issue to confront, and possibly to confound, the Republicans who will meet in Kansas City two weeks hence to nominate a presidential ticket.

There was little doubt but that farm relief would be a paramount issue in Kansas City after President Coolidge's caustic and stinging speech at the Senate had adjourned his veto, only by reason of the flip-flopping of votes. The veto and the vote on sustaining it left sore spots on the Republican side that will be long time healing.

The vote was 60 to 41. Four Senators, Curtis (R) of Kansas, Sachet (R) of Kentucky, Waternbury (R) of Colorado, and Fletcher (D) of Florida, emerged their votes and by this narrow margin enabled President Coolidge to emerge a victor in his biggest clash with the Senate. Had these votes originally recorded for the bill stood fast on the veto question the McNary-Haugen Bill would have been passed by the necessary two-thirds, and Mr. Coolidge would have been signally defeated again by the Senate on a legislative question.

Curtis is a candidate for the Republican nomination. He is also now in the position of being record ed on both sides of the McNary-Haugen issue, having voted originally for the bill, and then voting to sustain the veto. He thus becomes what the cynical and practical politicians in Washington call "available" as a compromise candidate for either nomination at Kansas City.

The situation was so tense politically that Curtis felt called upon to explain his vote, as follows: "I have always favored farm relief legislation as shown by my vote for every farm relief measure I voted on in Congress since the war, and by my action in offering two carefully prepared measures which would have given relief had they been adopted. Much as I sympathize with the farmers and as much as I favor legislative relief for them, I feel it my duty to stand by the President."

Eighteen other Republicans, among them numerous vice presidential aspirants, felt the same urge and voted to sustain the veto. They include Edge (R) of New Jersey, Moore of New Hampshire, Borland of Idaho, Fess of Ohio, the Kansas City keynoter, while Goff of West Virginia, who joined to sustain.

Twenty Republicans, from the White House, among them being Curtis' colleague, Senator Capen of Kansas, Senator Watson of Indiana, and Senator Norris of Nebraska were the only Republicans presidential aspirants recorded against Mr. Coolidge.

The Democrats split 29-10 in favor of overriding the veto. Presidential candidates on the Democratic side split, too; as Walsh of Montana, voted to sustain the veto while George of Georgia, voted to override, and Reed of Missouri abstained from voting.

General Lincoln Andrews Announces Plans To Benefit Rubber Industry

WASHINGTON, May 26, (INS)—Plans being prosperity to the rubber industry were disclosed here today by General Lincoln C. Andrews, former assistant secretary of the treasury, who has been selected head of the Rubber Institute, Andrews is to be the Judge Landis of the industry.

Andrews held a conference with federal trade commission officials with a view toward drafting of a code of business ethics for the industry. It was agreed, likely by commissioners, that a trade practice committee would be called and a code of industry itself would draw up its code of ethics which later would be submitted to

Secretary Denies Violence Charges

WASHINGTON, May 26.—(INS)—It was published in London that American marines in Nicaragua were guilty of village and other acts of unnecessary violence, were vigorously denied today by Secretary Kellogg of the State Department, and Major General John A. Le Jeune added his unqualified denunciation of the English charges, said to have been originated in semi-official but unnamed quarters. Le Jeune, who returned from a personal inspection trip to Nicaragua three months ago, said he was more satisfied with the discipline of the forces there.

Declares There Is No Cure Available

Says Change Of Environment Is Best Method Of Combating Very Deadly Infection

PARIS, May 26.—(INS)—The perils of combating radium poisoning were emphasized today by Mme. Curie, discoverer of radium, in an interview with International News Service. Her views were called forth by news from Orange, N. J., that five girls were believed to be dying from radium poisoning contracted while working with radium seven years ago.

The girls feared they had been infected while painting hands and illuminated watch dials. "If the girls were poisoned by putting the tips of their brushes in their mouths, there is practically little hope," said Mme. Curie. "When I heard of the incident I had hoped that the girls had absorbed the poison through their lungs. This manner of poisoning is easier to combat although it is a terrible disease."

In fact, there is absolutely no means of destroying the substance that enters the human body," Mme. Curie said she wished to emphasize the fact that she is not a physician consequently she is not competent to give medical advice as to treatment. "It would be only too happy to give any aid that could," continued Mme. Curie, "but I am interested to know if the girls were really poisoned by radium or by monothiophate."

"I would suggest that the best way for girls to combat the infection (if it came from radium) would be to give up their work and live far away from the factory where they had been employed. They should remain in the open air as much as possible and change their life habits."

"I think that raw calves' liver is about as good treatment as any. It would help eliminate the poison." If the girls had not pointed their fingers with their mouths, the only other method of contracting the poison would have been through the lungs. If they had been poisoned in the lungs through breathing the poison it would have meant that hydrogen conditions in the factory were bad. Such a condition would have been surprising in the United States.

"I have never heard of a case of this kind in France—not even in this time when countless factories were employed in work dealing with radium. Nor did I ever hear of a similar case in Switzerland where there are so many watch factories."

"It may be that these American girls were especially subject to radium poisoning. Such cases do exist. To avoid repetition of such cases a thorough physical examination should be made of applicants for work."

"We avoid the danger of contracting the poison here by using small sticks with cotton wadding upon the ends instead of brushes."

North Carolina To Make Selection Of Party Delegation

RALEIGH, N. C., May 26.—(INS)—Contest for North Carolina's 24 delegates to the Houston Democratic Convention gets under way today in 1,761 precinct meetings. With the issue clearly drawn between Governor Al Smith of New York and Rep. Cordell Hull of Tennessee, it was expected today's meetings will be more generally attended than any which have been held since 1912.

The state Democratic Executive Committee last week defeated the proposal of Hull forces to hold an informal preferential primary and today was the only opportunity of voters to express their preference for presidential nominees.

State Democratic Chairman Dennis G. Brumitt, who is also attorney general, today reiterated his ruling that any other voter may demand a showing of hands on the presidential candidates, and that the delegates must be appointed in proportion to the vote cast for each candidate.

The plan is to eliminate all unfair and unethical practices in competition and distribution. An expert explained, "Honesty literally is the best policy for business and such a policy will be set up in the rubber industry for the protection of manufacturers, distributors and consumers."

Farm products of Florida for season of 1926-27 valued more than $100,000,000.

Leaders in Long Struggle To Get Government Operation Of Power Project Hope It Will Meet, Coolidge Favor

Measure Is Stated To Be Far Reaching

Bill Calls For Industrial Enterprise, Under Government Control, of Big Proportions

WASHINGTON, May 26.—(INS)—The Norris-Motor Shale Shoals Bill—keeping a huge industrial enterprise in government hands and providing for an agricultural experiment reaching into every part of the nation—was to be signed by President Coolidge today.

Leaders in the long fight for government operation of the great water power project were hopeful that Mr. Coolidge would approve the bill, with opponents predicting another veto. Evolved in a night conference, the Norris-Motor Bill was declared to be one of the most far-reaching pieces of legislation of its kind ever enacted by Congress. The bill provides:

Setting up of Muscle Shoals Corporation with $10,000,000 capital stock, all government owned.

Operation of hydro-electric and steam power plants and sale of electric power with states and municipalities having first opportunity to purchase.

Maintenance of fixed nitrogen for sale, and experimental manufacture of commercial fertilizers.

Authority to cooperate with national, state, district or county experimental farm stations for use of new forms of fertilizer needed in the development of the government's program permit some percent of fertilizers to be distributed through agricultural colleges, extension agents or otherwise for experimental and educational purposes.

Direct completion of dam number 2 at Muscle Shoals and steam plant number 2; authorization of Cove Creek dam in Tennessee, 350 miles from Muscle Shoals, for purpose of regulating the Tennessee River and tributaries, records anticipated in view of the fact that the dam number 1 at Muscle Shoals was a stupendous engineering achievement.

Miami Takes First Tilt From Sanford With An Early Lead

Miami piled up an early lead that Sanford was unable to overcome and the celerity dropped the opening game yesterday afternoon to Lee Crowe's Hustlers by a score of 5 to 4. Old man George Cusack did the twirling for the visitors and Hymel tossed them over for the locals. Each allowed seven hits.

The Cowboys tallied three runs on the second. The former Sanford manager piled a double to left field and Hinckle followed suit with a two base blow to center to send his boss across the plate. Hinckle went to third on Dunbar's sacrifice. Benning singled to score Hinckle. Benning pilfered second, and ended on Allen's long single.

In the fourth the Hustlers added two more. In the fifth Sanford thundered once and came back strong in the next frame to put across the four runs on some timely hitting by Wiles, Hickok, Salva and Hymel. The locals played errorless ball while the Hustlers contributed one misplay.

Cecil Frisbie, star Fed. short stop, was chased in the fifth after an argument with the umpires. Salva shifted to short, Jackson to third and Hodges went in to play left to field.

The two teams meet this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon at the home of the

It was a good ballgame with the exception of the disastrous seventh when the Colts ran wild, to score eight runs to eight hits, sacrifice fly and a walk. Able Abrams, spectacular Orlando first baseman, hit a mate with four singles and four trips for a perfect day.

Rogers Hornsby Is Named Manager Of The Boston Braves

BOSTON, May 25.—(INS)—Rogers Hornsby was at the helm of the Boston Braves today.

The naming of the Rajah to succeed Jack Slattery, who suddenly resigned, had the whole baseball world by the ears.

At the same time it was pretty definite that "Slats" will continue with the tribe as chief of scouts. Trades and transfers were expected to follow in the wake of the appointment of Hornsby as player-manager.

Under the guiding hand of one of baseball's most dynamic and aggressive personalities, the local tribe was informed, to be ready for a general shaking up.

Slattery's salary or contract will not be disturbed, neither will Hornsby's $40,000 a year salary be increased.

Judge Emil E. Fuchs, in making the announcement, said the appointment of the new manager was for the best interests in making a "fighting and winning team".

SERIES BETWEEN MACKS, YANKEES DRAWS INTEREST

Two Leading American League Clubs Clash Again Today In Another Double Header; Cubs Lose Fourth Straight

NEW YORK, May 25.—(INS)—Walberg and Quinn and Pennock and Hoyt are slated for mound duty in Philadelphia this afternoon when the Athletics and the Yankees, who are making a two horse race out of the American League, scramble, clash in another double header, they divided yesterday's twin bill among the cheers of a record slowdown crowd of 42,000 and the crowds of 10,000 who were unable to get into the park.

Three Yankee pitchers outlasted as many Athletics twirlers in the open air, which Signor Antonio Wop hit for the circuit in the nightcap.

Carl Fothergill's double in the fifth staked Detroit to a 6 to 4 decision over Chicago, and enabled the Tigers to take sixth place away from the Sox.

Other teams were idle.

All Statistics Show Gradual Increase In Sanford Shipments

Sanford has just emerged from one of its most prosperous shipping seasons. This year's celery crop is expected to eclipse that of last year not only in production but in profits. No accurate statistics have yet been compiled in the monetary return to the farmers in this section but two lead to the prediction that was more satisfactory than for the season of 1920-21.

In the first place a better price was maintained throughout the season than for last year, coupled with this is the certainty that this year's crop will be larger and more uniform than for last year. The prices were not as high in previous years and other produce costs were pared by the

This year's output will also surpass that of last season. Total shipments of celery from the Sanford section last year were 5,989 cars with a value of $1,000 each yet to move. The number may even exceed the record for any other since the heavy shipment in any one year is 0.041 cars.

Records compiled on celery shipments since the beginning of the industry reveal some interesting figures. In 1899, the first year of commercial shipments, 1,000 cars were made. Four years later Sanford had reached

1,000 cars in 1903; the figures had reached 2,000 cars in 1906. The Atlantic Coast Line shipping records for the last ten years show a gradual increase until the number of cars is 10 times greater than in 1903. Table of shipments is as follows:

1903-1,763; 1909-1,686;

1910-2,000; 1921-4,021; 1922-

1923-4,443; 1924-5,186;

1925-6,041; 1926-4,700; 1927-

1928-5,000.

In addition to celery, the San ford section last year shipped 212

of other vegetables, bringing a total of $524,900. Adding this to the value of the celery crop, total valuation of 7,526 cars of vegetables is $5,424,900. Seminole County's vegetable shipment is 17 per cent of the amount sent by the state.

Celery shipments last year filled 216 cars with a valuation of $311,000.

McLaulin's Store One Of Florida's Best Jewel Shops

This year is the 20th anniversary of Henry McLaulin's service as a jeweler in Sanford, a quarter of a century he has done business here under his own name. Recently, a building on Park Avenue was remodeled to house a rapidly growing business.

The first location occupied by McLaulin's is where Tom Williams' pool room now is. From there he moved to the Woolworth Building and remained there until April of this year when he took up his new quarters on Park Avenue.

The building which he now occupies has been partially redesigned to meet the jeweler's needs. With its modern equipment for displaying antique and rare jewelry, it is one of the most modern stores in the state.

Engineering Firm Operating Former City Owned Plant

The plant originally owned by the City of Sanford was purchased by the Charles E. Hawley Engineering Corporation of Washington, D. C., during and is now operated as Sanford Gas Company.

The Charles E. Hawley Engineering Corporation owns and operates plants in various states and in Canada. Recent reports of general franchises in Europe, Canada, Australia, Mexico, and elsewhere indicate that the company is rapidly expanding its operations throughout the world.

The local corporation, headed by P. E. Scott, was requested to handle the business of Commercial Diesel and Motor Engineers.

A number of members of the community are stockholders.

The World's Greatest Celery Center

A large portion of the progress made in Seminole County during the past fifteen years is due to the products of the soil... to celery and other vegetable crops which form the basis of its wealth.

Recognized as the world's richest vegetable section, Seminole County produces 33 per cent of all the celery grown in the United States. More than five million dollars annually is derived from this crop.

Irrigated farm lands have steadily held their value for the past ten years demonstrating to the world that farming in Seminole County is a highly profitable and prolific pursuit.

Millions of dollars have been expended in improvements, greatly enhancing property values and making them more substantial. The future for Seminole County is exceptionally bright and it is backed by productive soil whose wealth is not equalled in the State of Florida.

The fame of Seminole County celery has long since spread to the farthest corners of the United States. In New York City restaurants name it on their bills of fare. In Chicago, the same, and on the dining cars of the great railroads the words "Sanford Celery" appear. During the winter, spring and early summer months, the major portion of the celery served in this country comes from Sanford and Seminole County celery field. In the rich soil of this county celery grows sweeter and more tender.

Scores of refrigerator cars carry this crop of "white gold" northward each day during the celery season. Hundreds of field hands labor from early morning until late in the afternoon cutting the bleached stalks destined to grace thousands of dinner tables.

The Issues Of The Campaign

The present campaign for the office of governor has developed two great issues—the Catts' menace and the State Road Department. With the exception of Senator Taylor, every candidate offering himself for the position of chief executive is basing his claims for the office on the fact that he is either for or against one or the other.

Catts, of course, is FOR Catts. He always has been, and he always will be. With him, more than with anyone else we know, it is first, last and all the time, Sidney J. Catts. Whatever stand he takes, on a question of principle, or on a question of business or politics, the interest of Sidney J. Catts is uppermost in his mind. In all the years that he has darkened the horizon of Florida's political skies, he has served the welfare of no one but himself. And Jim Carson's gallant fighter that he is, wages his campaign AGAINST Catts.

The other great issue which this campaign has developed is the State Road Department. Hathaway is FOR it. He is for it because he IS it. What it has done, he deserves credit for; its mistakes are HIS mistakes. It is not right that he should say in his speeches and literature, "I gave you the roads," and then when waste and extravagance—polite language for graft and corruption—are charged, maintain that WE are to blame. And Doyle Carlton is AGAINST Hathaway; that is, he is against a careless handling of the people's money.

As far as the first of these issues is concerned, we believe our readers are pretty well aware that, in our opinion, the most sordid blight which could be fastened upon the fair name of our state would be the election of that rankest of all demagogues, Sidney J. Catts. He found Florida when he was elected governor in 1916, with a tax millage of six and one-half and he left it when he went out of office in 1920 with a millage of twelve and one-half; yet he preaches economical administration and tax reduction. He goes about from stump to stump condemning MORAL conditions in the women's college at Tallahassee, and in the next breath appeals for the votes of the lawless element by promising "county home rule," a political synonym for race-trace gambling and wide open towns. This Baptist minister, a disgrace to his profession, to the state which reared him, and to the state which he has adopted, would sell his own religion and the honor of his state for the governor's chair.

As for the other issue, that of the road department, we do not know whether the charges Doyle Carlton is making are true or not. We do not believe the average citizen is in a position to know. We have seen his affidavits, and we have read Hathaway's reputation; but in politics fifty cents or a dollar at the most, will get almost any affidavit as good looking as the best, and on the other hand it is the simplest kind of a trick to deny, positively and convincingly, absolutely anything.

But where there is so much smoke, there must be some fire. It is a difficult matter to prove to one hundred and sixty thousand voters that a man is a crook and a graftor; it is difficult enough for a prosecuting attorney to convince a jury of six or twelve men that defendants are guilty, and too often, we have found, they escape unpunished where punishment was warranted. But if only one tenth of the charges being made by the Carlton candidate are true, Fans Hathaway is a most dangerous man to place in the governor's chair. And even the most ardent Hathaway supporters admit that the opposition has been unable to say about him that he is a "mud-slinging" and vicious character. We do not believe that "mud-slinging" is half as bad as graft and corruption.

The campaign has yet a little over a week to go but as far as we are concerned, the race has narrowed down to three men, any one of whom, we believe, would make a good and certainly not dangerous governor. We cannot conscientiously cast our vote for any other than Carlton, Carson, or Taylor.

What Napoleon Found

A rather deplorable situation in Miami has been brought to light as a result of the recent investigations by the grand jury. It seems that the police department there had devoted extremely exaggerated ideas of its powers in the handling and control of prisoners entrusted to its charge. Any number, it is reported, have been severely beaten, and in several instances deaths have resulted from punishment inflicted by members of the department.</

To Head Campaign

Miami piled up a campaign that Sanford came and Benson has been appointed chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary's Poppy Day. It was announced to visit Mrs. George W. Knight, president of the local auxiliary unit, and she will have charge of the Poppy Day program here, Wednesday, May 30.

The auxiliary's Poppy Day program will include again this year the sale of American Legion Auxiliary poppies to be worn on that date in memory of those who have fallen in battle in defense of the country. The proceeds from the sale will be used by the auxiliary in its welfare and relief work for disabled veterans, their families and the orphans of disabled soldiers.

A large number of members of the organization will be selling poppies on each corner in the business section of this city on Poppy Day. Every American Legion Auxiliary Poppy has the auxiliary's emblem on it and those who buy it have the assurance that it was made by a disabled soldier in a hospital and that every cent paid for it goes to help the disabled.

Teachers Of Chicago Win Tedious Battle

CHICAGO, May 26—(INS)—"You're never too old to learn" runs the proverb; "Chicago has put a new twist to the motto and rules that you are never too old to teach."

Sixteen teachers and principals of Chicago schools who have fought for more than two years to prevent more than seven years of service, finally returned to their old posts. Teachers and students loaded with flowers on their return to active duty and they were cordially welcomed.

The principals and teachers were discharged under the so-called "amicus curiae" passed by the board of education. An order of the Appellate Court was recently entered after extended litigation declaring the rule unconstitutional and ordering the teachers restored to their positions. Their tenure of office, however, is expected to be brief because the Miller act passed by the legislature contains a similar provision and contemplates the retirement of teachers over 70 by 1937.
