

Longwood Hotel To Be 'Restored'

By Donna Estes

Plans for the complete remodeling and restoration of the old Longwood Hotel were announced last week by William J. Lancaster of Altamonte Springs who has taken a five year lease on the year old building from Mrs. L. T. (Bobbie Joe) Hunt with a two year option to buy at a price of $65,000. Lancaster, a native of Kissimmee and present owner of the Altamonte Springs Coffee

Shop, spent the first 23 years of his life in show business, primarily in motion pictures for which he traveled from Texas to Pennsylvania and

New York. He retired in 1950 and came to Florida where he became a painting contractor until receiving an injury on a job six years ago. Two years later he bought the Coffee Shop.

He expects to spend somewhere near $50,000 on remodeling and renovating the hotel and hopes that work on the ground floor will be completed in time for a grand opening scheduled this fall.

Overall plans for the building include complete rewiring and installation of new plumbing with a bath to each room. Steam heat will be put in throughout and the dining room will be restored to its early splendor.

Built in 1883 by E. W. Henck, founder of the Town of Longwood, the hotel once was a noted resort of the Central Florida area. Winter vacationers came from Jacksonville by St. Johns River Steamer to Sanford where they transferred to horse drawn carriage for the 11 mile journey to Longwood.

It is reported that in his declining years General Ulysses S. Grant once spent a night at the hotel. Its most outstanding recorded event was a reception in 1927 for governors of all the states which was attended by 22 governors.

Mrs. Hunt, the former Bobbie Joe Allen, came to Longwood with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Allen, in 1908 from Warm Springs, Ga. She became owner of the hotel in 1950 after it had been bought and sold many times over the years. With it came most of the original furnishings, among them a quad-ruple seated chair, or "sofa," which has been estimated by an antique collector to date back to the pre-Revolutionary period. The story has been handed down that this item of furniture once was a "hotel piece" in England.

Mrs. Hunt believes that Longwood, the "City of Opportunity," is beginning to "move forward" again and in the near future she hopes to have a hand in this progress by building a Five and Ten Cent Store and offices for a doctor and dentist.

Lancaster, who also believes in the city's future, will begin work immediately on restoring the hotel once again to "a resort of renown in Central Florida."

Achords Win Garden Of The Month Award

By Mona Grinstead

The February North Orlando Garden of the Month award went to L. L. and Mrs. Earl W. Achord of 180 Lombardy Rd. where the lawn is green with rye for the winter and the garden is fresh with young plants and seedlings which will blossom out into full color this spring.

The most attractive spot is viewed from a built-in patio facing the south which is landscaped with a rock garden in the left corner. White lawn furniture is used and azaleas, camellias, rubber plants and crotons make up the landscaping. A curved rose line borders an entrance to the garden. On the right side of the back from this view is a ligustrum hedge. Along the patio screen is a Hong Kong orchard consisting of elephant ears, lilies and chinese elms. Flower beds to add color in a few months are carefully planted around a reed fence which also adds to privacy and beauty.

A play area completely provided with gym equipment for the children, Lee, four and Valerie, five, has a spot of its own to the left of the Achord home which is of Haitian design.

In the front, the Achords chose azaleas, camellias, gardenias and ligustrum which is placed around the house and exorbitant Hydrangeas and azaleas add pastel beauty when in bloom along the front sides.

Mrs. Achord is a native of Florida originally coming from Jacksonville. Lt. Achord is a Californian. The family moved here from California last June. He is the newest member of the North Orlando Civic Assn.

Their garden is the second to be chosen for the Garden of the Month award from the community as a whole. In addition to the plants placed in front of the home, Mrs. Achord received an artificial flower arrangement from the Garden Club, a token gift for achievements accomplished by the couple in the short time they have lived in the village.

Altamonte Boy Scouts Kick Off Fund Drive

By Louise Simunek

Altamonte Boy Scout Troop 38 is in the midst of a big campaign drive to help the Central Florida Council raise a needed $250,000 to secure additional land and make improvements at Camp Lenoche.

The Council has obtained option on some adjoining land and is negotiating for other parcels which will consolidate its holdings and permit more effective camp usage.

There now are five-and-one-half times as many boys camping as there were in 1953. The camp was originally designed to accommodate 100 scouts per week and today it is necessary to put up from 250 to 300 boys per week. Such crowding is a deterrent to good camping as isolation is one of the main desires.

A second phase of the program provides for the erection of buildings to improve total efficiency of the camp and to provide sanitary facilities at the weekend campsites.

These sites are Camp Wilderness at Longwood, Camp Aubrey Point at Kissimmee and Camp Samsula at Samsula.

Solicitors from the local area met Monday evening at the Altamonte Springs Community Chapel to review the purpose and mechanics of the forthcoming capital drive.

Working will be Mrs. Marguerite Umstead for Longwood, Robert Sewell for north Altamonte, Kenneth Krause for west Altamonte, Ray Post for south Altamonte and Winston L. Greshie for Oakland Shores.

Home Sewell Jr. will solicit on behalf of Explorer Post 38.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

'Just Isn't So'

"IT JUST ISN'T SO," ... Mayor A. R. Lormann told the Longwood City Council last week when reporting that some residents of the city had been heard to say that "all the police do is rifle around in the car all day."

As an example, although no names could be revealed, Lormann reported that just within the past week Police Chief Layo had caught three "characters" in the act of breaking and entering to put an end to what could have developed into a minor crime ring in the area.

Such opinions by people "not in the know" all too often discredit and vilify a public servant, especially a law enforcement officer who, of necessity, has to "ride around" to do his job. In most cases particulars of an investigation cannot be revealed until it is completed and resulting action taken.

On the other hand, if such reports as could be made were regularly publicized, perhaps the people would more fully realize that there is more, much more, involved in being a policeman than just "riding around."

Volunteer Firemen Explain Services To Bear Lake Club

By Shirley Wentworth

A resume of equipment and services available to residents of the Bear Lake area from the Lockhart Volunteer Fire Dept. was presented at last Thursday night's regular monthly meeting of the Bear Lake Community Club.

Representing the department were Wesley Polson, Charles Moore and Chief D. A'Horian.

The men reported that the department now has a junior organization for boys 15 to 18 years of age who may join the regular volunteers at age 18 if they wish. They also advised that 22 members of the department presently are taking a first aid course and that 90 per cent of the group already is well qualified in the application of first aid treatment.

The main goal of the Lockhart department at this time is to obtain a radio base station for dispatching equipment and firemen, they reported.

Also appearing before the club was Bob Simon, editor of Overflow magazine, who showed slides of various water plants in the state and proper and improper operations at these plants.

Simon said that presently water stations may be operated without either a license or health card and that House Bill No. 1 will be presented to the Legislature seeking compulsory certification for water and sewage operators.

Following appearance of the guest speakers, Richard Osterlander, building chairman of the club, reported on progress at the playground and what is needed to complete the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Engleman entertained with a medley of songs after which refreshments were served to close the meeting.

County To Push For Four-Laning 25th Street

Primary aim of the County Commission when it meets next Thursday with the State Road Department will be to convince the latter board of the dire necessity of four-laning 25th Street between French and Mellonville Avenues. This is a primary road project, to be accomplished with state funds.

This was emphasized Thursday evening when some 25 persons, including the five County Commissioners, met with the long range planning committee for roads of the Chamber of Commerce at the courthouse.

Douglas Stenstrom, committee chairman, pointed out the Commission has included the four-lane request in its resolution to be presented at 4 p. m. next Thursday to the SRD at DeLand.

Twenty-fifth Street, between French and Mellonville, now carries 6,300 cars a day, the highest count for any street or road not now four-laned in the county, Stenstrom stated.

Stenstrom stressed the 20th Street project since, he said, "Highway 436 and Highway 427 are assured for completion."

He went on to say that plans for Highway 436, a primary project, are 100 per cent completed and "it is expected contract will be let before the end of this fiscal year, June 30." Plans call for a municipal or boulevard type highway from Highway 17-92 to the western limits of Altamonte Springs and a rural four-lane road to Interstate 4. This 2.7-mile project will cost between $600,000 and $700,000.

The committee chairman cited that Interstate 4 through Seminole County is scheduled for completion by Christmas.

He painted a picture of four-lane highways criss-crossing Seminole County—1-1 and 17-92 running north and south, and 46 and 436 running east and west.

Plans for Highway 427, a secondary project connecting Longwood and Altamonte Springs are 80 per cent completed, Stenstrom said, and it "appears contract will be let in this calendar year, if not in this fiscal year."

During the briefing of the County Commission's program for presentation to SRD, with the aid of County Engineer William Bush, Stenstrom made the statement that all proposed road projects for this county should be completed within the next six or seven years. And this, he said, also includes the Lake Jessup causeway.

Up for considerable discussion were the Osteen bridge, Bear Lake Road improvements, four-laning of Highway 46 east to the Volusia County line and a Lake Mary Boulevard-Interstate 4 interchange.

Stenstrom said that the SRD and the U. S. Corps of Engineers are at variance over the Osteen bridge. SRD, he said, is willing to construct a span similar to the Mims bridge, with a 60-foot span 25 feet above the mean high water mark. Corps of Engineers is not satisfied with this, he added. He continued the "SRD doesn't want to budget but it appears that the department will have to give."

Chairman J. C. Hutchison pointed out the Osteen bridge is in Volusia County and is included in that county's program and has the support of Seminole County.

It was pointed out that Bear Lake Road is not primary or secondary but strictly a county road, and in worst shape than any other county road in the county.

Commissioner James Avery stated that at one time the county had the funds and had budgeted for repairs to Bear Lake Road but that in 10 years legal difficulties had arisen over the right-of-way, titles are clouded and boundaries overlap.

General Hutchison reported the county surveyor has been authorized to make a right-of-way survey, one of sufficient strength to stand up in court at such time as the county may have to go to law to determine the right-of-way.

Stenstrom recommended that additional rights-of-way be obtained now along Highway 46 east to Volusia County in order to be ready for that time in the future when traffic is sufficient to warrant SRD to four-lane the road.

A proposed interchange at I-4 and Lake Mary Boulevard would give a break in the nine-mile stretch between the north and south ends of the county. County officials already have contacted federal and state authorities relative to including the interchange in present building plans.

It also was emphasized the County Commission will request the SRD to renege on a maintenance basis Highway 415 (Celery Avenue) to a 22-foot width to the Osteen bridge, with county secondary funds if necessary.

Stenstrom urged all interested persons to support the County Commission by attending the session with the SRD at 4 p. m. Thursday at DeLand.

John Krieger was up in arms this morning over Thursday's report by Zoning Director Bob Brown that proposed apartments couldn't go into Sanford Industrial Park. John says "ain't so . . . that zoning UP will permit apartment construction at the Park."

Don't forget Teenage Driving Hooey Saturday morning at 9 . . . Judges will be members of the Sanford Police Department, County Sheriff's Office and the Florida Highway Patrol. Hooey to be held at the city parking lot with automobiles furnished by local auto dealers. Winners will be entered in state competition. This is a Jaycee sponsored event.

Next week is really 411 Week in Seminole County as well as throughout the nation, rather than Future Farmer's Week as stated in a misleading headline in Thursday's Herald. (The FFA had their week Feb. 17-23.)

There are about 250 boys and girls in 411 Clubs around Seminole County, led by 20 adults.

The 411 is taken from their emblem, a four leaf clover, with the four H's standing for Head, Heart, Hands and Health.

Their pledge is . . . "I pledge my Head to clearer thinking; my Heart to greater loyalty; my Hands to larger service and my Health to better living, for my club, my community and my country."

And that's a pretty good pledge for anybody.

Don't forget the Heart Benefit Show Sunday at Melodee Skate Rink. Those kids always put on a fine show, and you get a good return on your donated dollars, plus the satisfaction of knowing that when you help your Heart Fund, you help YOUR heart.

Casselberry Utility crews were on the job up into the night both days this past weekend winding up work on improvements being made at the main plant which they hope to have in operation by the first of the month.

March Hits Northland With Snow

By United Press International
March limped in like a frost-bitten lion today, dumping fresh snow across the center of the nation and drenching the southern plains with rain.

With spring only three weeks away, the mercury at Lone Rock, Wis., dipped to eight degrees below zero and Belleville, Ill., reported more than two inches of new snow.

Heavy snow warnings were issued for much of the area from southern Missouri to southern Ohio, with more than four inches of snow expected.

The Weather Bureau said the new storm would move eastward during the day.

Lufkin, Tex., and Pine Bluff, Ark., reported more than an inch of rainfall in six hours.

Residents of Los Angeles were reluctant to see February go. The Weather Bureau said the month was the second warmest February on record.

Hostlers, however, welcomed March. Their February was the fourth coldest in Indiana history.

Exhibitors at the national boat show scheduled to open at Chicago Saturday fretted because there was no open water to demonstrate wares for prospective purchasers. Lake Michigan was frozen there for the first time in history.

Rev. Grover Sewell

Your Life Is Important

Perhaps every person experiences times when he feels that his life doesn't count much. I recall a special crisis in my life when there was great need for going apart from other people and the rush of things to meditate and pray. I went to a lonely part of a beach where things could be seen in a more proper perspective. Even though this was several years ago some of it is still very real. There were many thoughts involved which it is not necessary to mention for the particular emphasis of this article, but one that came to me was an almost overwhelming sense of smallness. I watched the waves break and roll back into the sea. There was this sand with grains so numerous one found it impossible to begin to conceive of the number. From this my mind turned to the populations of the world throughout the centuries of man's existence. Even the number of people with whom I was acquainted made me seem extremely small.

It is a healthy thing to be humbled if one does not allow himself to decide that he is unimportant in the sight of God. The Bible gives us an insight into this that comes from our Lord. Let us observe Him as He took notice of the widow's mite what was small in comparison with the large gifts of the rich, but he heard Him say, "This poor widow has cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury: For all they did cast in all that she had, even all her living." In His sight she was important indeed. Christ knew that one candle set on a hill could cast a great light and was important. It takes only a little yeast to leaven much dough as our Saviour brought to our minds. When the disciples wanted to send the little children away the Lord said no. He took them in His arms and blessed them.

For a long, long time Christians have proclaimed that the answer to the world's problems could be taken care of if the Church, which is Christians, would translate their creeds into reality. Even non-Christians have often agreed that if they would do so the world would need no other healing, but they have gone on to say that they did not expect Christians to do this therefore they look for another answer.

The question for each of us is finally, "What can I do as one person?" As we stop long enough to think clearly and turn our ears from those who would mislead us, we hear the answer.

"YOU CAN SUPPLY ONE LIFE FOR CHRIST." We find some very successful evangelists who are used by God to bring many people to a commitment of life. May we feel that we can't win others, but this does not prevent us from giving ourselves. When we give ourselves to Christ we become important, indeed. That is when a rock is turned into a gleaming jewel to adorn the Kingdom of God.

Let everyone who reads this article pray that God will direct his life into greater channels of blessings and that a new dignity will come into his being, realizing that any child of the King is important.

Christian Science Reading Room Moved To First St.

Moving of the reading room of First Church of Christ, Scientist, from the church office on East Second St. to 305 E. First St. has added another attractive store front to the downtown business section of Sanford.

Such reading rooms, operated by branch churches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist of Boston, Mass., are familiar sights. The new facility in Sanford offers dual services as both a quiet, comfortable study room and a place where the authorized publications of The Christian Science Publishing Society—including the international daily newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor, and the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science, may be read, borrowed or purchased. This reading room is established for the use of all. Its decor is modern, functional and pleasant. A reception and sales area opens into a study room where the publications and books are available. These include the King James version of The Holy Bible which is an essential part of Christian Science study.

The reading room is equipped with modern heating and cooling facilities so that a comfortable temperature may be maintained the year around.

An invitation to all friends to drop in and see this addition to Sanford's institutions is extended. The reading room, which was opened to the public on Monday, is open daily from 10:30 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. The room also will be open Friday evenings.

Westminster Youth Groups Make Caravan To Stetson

The youth Westminster Fellowship groups of the Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary and the Presbyterian Church of Upland made a caravan to Stetson University in Deland last Sunday evening to hear Dr. Warren Jones, head of the Psychology Dept., speak on the subject of the choice of one's life work or vocation.

The startling fact that one out of every three persons ends up a square peg in a round hole was brought out in a letter sent out by pastor, Rev. John Pilley, to each of the members before the meeting. "We can beat those odds if we begin during high school to gain some real insight into our Christian faith, ourselves, and our world," said Rev. Pilley in planning the trip to Stetson for that purpose.

The program opened with group singing of three fellowship songs led by Joy Wester. The scripture was read by Harold Unger followed by prayer. Rev. Pilley introduced Dr. Jones.

Dr. Jones turned his program for the evening into an open floor discussion. He led the group in a thorough provoking endeavor to have the youth find out their own ideas and beliefs. He challenged the group to do everything they could to broaden their horizon, rather than narrow it. He advised them to try to open many doors for the future, rather than make decisions now that close doors.

"Most of us are operating far below our potential," he said. "We all have ability to do anything we want to do if we make up our mind. Making the right decision is the hard part. If we widen our interests and activities now it will help us open doors to what might be unknown and wonderful possibilities in the future."

Following the program the group made a tour of the campus and through some of the college buildings.

Those attending from Upland were Mike McHenry, Faye Karnes, Lois Karnes, Judy English, Doris Luke, Jimmy Thompson, Scott Thomson, Craig Thomson, Sammy Fitzgerald, Mrs. Luey Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Thomson and George Pezold.

Those making the trip from Lake Mary were Earl Roberts, David Scott, Cathy Gehr, Marcia Coleman, Raymond Lusk, Terry Bucklew, Dianne Hickson, Harold Unger, Joy Wester, Linda Mohr, Sonja Wester, Ralph Unger, Roger Crocker, Mrs. Frances Wester and Rev. and Mrs. Pilley.

A Look At Ourselves

Some observers of American life say we spend too much time in stock-taking and are too self-critical.

Certainly we all talk a lot. But mixed in with the criticism is plenty of shouting about the greatness of America. If the balance seems wrong, it could be that our pro-Americanism dwells less on our virtues than on the dangers and weaknesses of our enemies.

Even with all our self-scrutiny, it is not clear that we do a very good job of taking stock.

We know we have some bad flaws. Crime and corruption are rampant; we turn out too much careless, shoddy work; we have let our big cities fall, generally, into a curious crumbling chaos; we bury some of our knottiest problems — like education, health and unemployment — in a great avalanche of words.

Yet, while we acknowledge these as shortcomings, we do not consistently exhibit the kind of concern that leads to effective action. We have made the lack of caring almost a way of life. We have made the excusing lack of failure nearly a science.

In a matter of crime, for example, we can't get sufficiently aroused to halt the flow of deadly weapons into the hands of brutalized or emotionally disturbed persons — especially juveniles.

Often we call car stealing "borrowing" instead of what it is. In slums and fashionable suburbs alike, we concoct a staggering array of excuses to justify not punishing transgressors. But a criminal law without penalties might as well invite its own violation.

Some suggest that American life today is increasingly like a great glacier, whose sheer size and weight forces a human conformity that deadens initiative, robs us of heroes and the example of high performance they can give us all.

Too many Americans in their public aspect lack dignity and a sense of responsibility of the sort befitting a proud people.

They park their cars badly, depriving others of space. They do not even accommodate graciously to the presence of other persons, but instead block stairs and doorways, monopolize a sidewalk, noisily dominate a room shared by many.

Clerks at magazine stands, in book and record stores shudder at the daily descent of some members of the "public" for they leave behind them a clutter of rumpled magazines, crinkled book pages, and scuffed records. They "use" but do not buy.

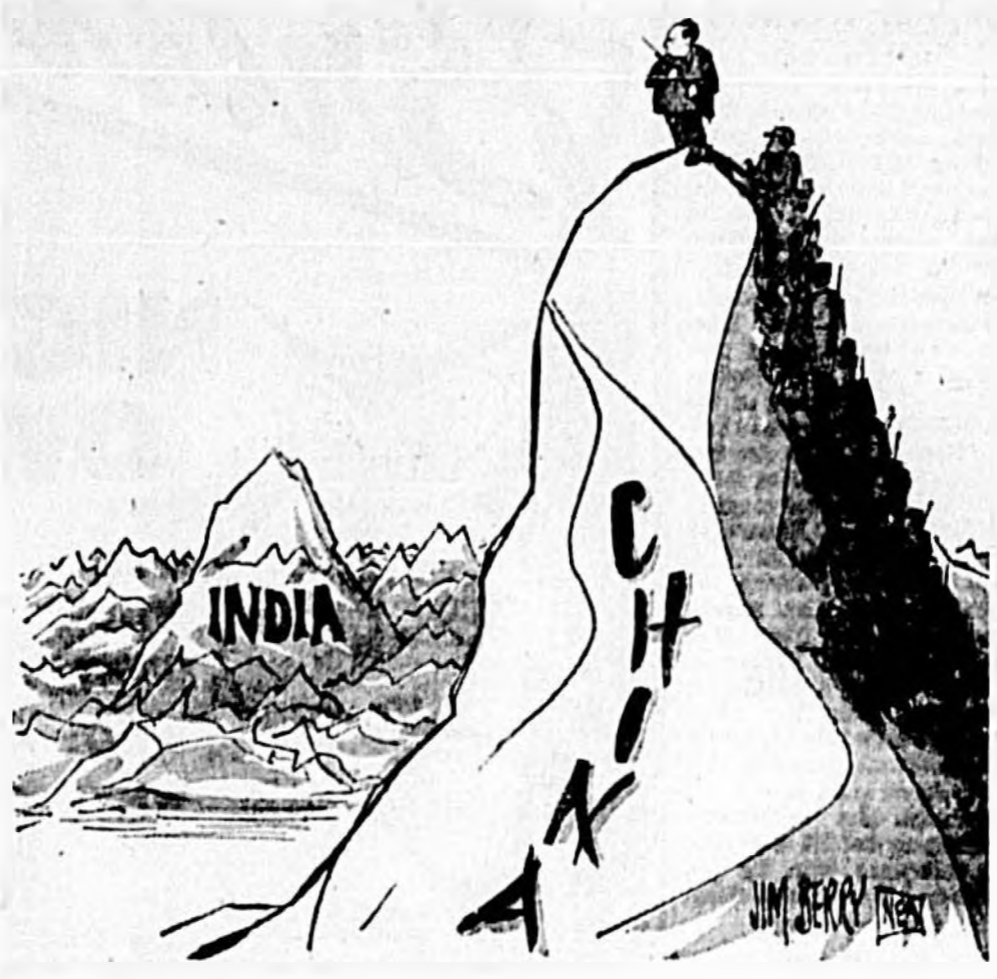

One could fill a book with the horror tales of work badly done, whether it be original, repair or maintenance effort.

The "excusers" say it was always like this, that things only seem worse now because the absolute numbers involved are greater.

Some parts of history tend to support this notion. But history also shows that nations and civilizations do slip badly and sometimes fatally.

Are our shortcomings "normal" or are they marks of decline? There's a problem the critical stock-takers have hardly touched.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE O-471: Jackie was a baby crow, belonging to the children of Spike McGrath, talented athletic coach at Washburn High School, in Chicago.

The McGraths made a perch for him in the basement. But it would away back and forth till Jackie got seasick and actually vomited.

So they had to place him in a box and hand feed him till he got a little older.

Jackie then became a member of the McGrath family and apparently believed he was a human being.

When Mrs. McGrath would be weeding her garden, Jackie would walk along beside her and pull weeds in the next row.

Later in the summer, as she was searching for tomato worms, Jackie would also take one row at a time and cock his head from side to side till he saw a big green tomato worm. Then he'd pick it off the tomato leaves and drop it on the ground.

When Spike would take a walk in the evening, Jackie would accompany him, just like a dog, and walk along at his side.

But Jackie was like most pet crows in having a fondness for colorful objects.

And Jackie's greatest weakness seemed to be the rubber rings that serve as washers where you fasten a garden hose to the faucet.

When the neighbors would go out to sprinkle their lawns, these rubber rings were likely to be missing.

For Jackie would steal them and take them up to the roof where he kept his treasures in the eaves trough.

And when Spike would get into his auto each morning to head to school, Jackie would sit on the radiator cap and hold on till Spike had the car up to 35 miles per hour.

Other motorists were surprised to see the big black crow serving as a radiator cap.

At about 35 miles per hour, Jackie would let go of the radiator cap and fly upward. Then he'd return home.

One day he accompanied the children to school and even entered the classroom. The teacher had to telephone Mrs. McGrath to come and get Jackie. So she drove over in the car and parked beside the window.

The teacher then opened the window and Mrs. McGrath called, so Jackie obediently flew out and inside the car, where he perched on Mrs. McGrath's shoulder.

She drove home with Jackie sitting there, while other motorists looked on in surprise. Jackie would also accompany the McGraths to Champaign to visit Spike's parents.

He'd stay in the car with the three McGrath children. And when they'd stop to get sodas, Jackie used his own straw and sipped soda with one of the youngsters.

In fact, Jackie thought he was a human being, so he even ignored wild crows and never attempted to join them.

But the McGraths had to have a baby sitter for Jackie so they finally took him to one of the state parks where the caretaker's wife said she'd be happy to offer Jackie a home.

So when you read the early book about "Tarzan & the Apes" or the so-called "wolf boy" of India, don't think such tales are too far-fetched.

Animals and birds, if reared from infancy in a human environment, apparently think they are members of the human race, so maybe the reverse holds true.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The 84th Congress is now nearly two months old. But in the words of House majority leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma, "It hasn't jelled yet."

Every session of Congress is different, he explains. You have to wait till it gets organized and settles down to business before you can get the feel of it and make any predictions or even guesses on what it might do.

Some of the elements shaping up the record which this Congress will eventually make are out in the open, however, and are worth keeping in mind.

For one thing, the President has sent about a dozen messages to Congress and there are more to come.

Most important of the lot is the tax message. It is at the top of the White House "must" list for action this session. And it is the one thing that can keep the Congress on the job for a long session, which this one probably will be.

There is no indication yet how economy-minded this Congress is going to be. There is some realization that a tax cut smaller than the one recommended by the President cannot accomplish his objective of stimulating employment, reducing unemployment.

With so many controversial issues in the President's tax plan to fight over, it is doubtful if a tax bill can be passed before Labor Day. Other legislation, including an increase in the national debt limit, will be whatever can be passed before or after the tax bill battles.

Nobody seems to know just how badly the President wants his vast programs for medical care of the aged, general and mental health measures, everything in the omnibus aid to education message, the youth programs, the farm programs.

The mental retardation and National Service Corps proposals are the only really new ones in the barrel. All the others have been taken from the freezer to which they were consigned after Congress ignored them last session.

If the President is merely polishing them off again to make the record of his requests look good, that's one thing. If he really wants them and will make a fight for them, that's something else. Even so, there are many grave doubts that measures like the medicare plan under Social Security, or the aid for only public primary and secondary schools, can be passed this year.

The White House so far has shown no enthusiasm for new labor legislation. Public clamor for action has subsided a little, following settlement of the maritime strike.

But a new wave of railroad strikes or shutdowns in the steel or rubber industries where contracts run out this spring and summer could kindle congressional concern and initiative in this field.

Congress has a bear by the tail in the $500 million supplemental appropriation President Kennedy has requested to complete the $900 million Accelerated Public Works program this year. It was intended to be a one-shot emergency measure to relieve unemployment in 1,200 depressed areas.

Some 2,900 local projects were approved in 900 areas, but there is a backlog of applications for another billion dollars' worth of projects for which no funds are available.

Area Redevelopment Administration, in charge of the program, has had to stop processing applications from 900 areas to concentrate available funds in the 210 areas' hardest hit.

This has built up a tremendous pressure in Congress from local communities to get more projects approved. It would be no surprise if Congress extends this program on its own.

In general, this congress is sized up as being a little more liberal than the last session. But the division is still so close that many cliff-hanging votes are expected on the more controversial issues.

Liberals from both parties in Senate and House are clamoring for some action to modernize congressional procedures to speed legislative action and shorten the session. No such action is expected this year, however.

Unless some of the all-powerful chairmen of existing committees are recruited to this cause, no progress is expected at all.

Nations Near Lobster War

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI)—The Brazilian navy sent two destroyers from the port of Recife today, headed for a French fleet off the coast in the growing "lobster war" between the two countries.

A spokesman in Recife said the destroyers Parana and Para were heading for the waters off the coast of Ilho Grande do Norte, where a French carrier, a cruiser and two destroyers were reported spotted Wednesday.

Adm. Pedro Suzano, Brazilian naval minister, said the navy intercepted French radio messages which indicated the aircraft carrier Clemenceau, the cruiser De Grasse and the destroyer Cassard were "half-way between France and Brazil."

Helen Fuller Says

A Senate Establishment?

WASHINGTON — One of the softest spoken gentlemen in the U. S. Senate is currently treating his colleagues to some of the toughest talk heard at the Capitol in years. Joseph B. Clark, the wealthy aristocrat from Pa., is saying from the Senate floor what even some of his fellow liberal Democrats only whisper in private.

Senator Clark cites names, dates and places to document the charge that there is a small "Establishment," as he calls it, that runs the Senate. The "self-perpetuating oligarchy," Clark declares, is able to retain its power because the Congress operates under an obsolete and archaic setup of rules and procedures. Conservatives call this complaint sour grapes.

In a Senate speech last week Senator Clark told what he had learned as an insider on the Democratic Steering Committee about how the "Establishment" operates. There are a number of states, the Pennsylvania Senator explained, which inevitably and always return to the Senate members of one party. It would not have been considered polite in the Senate to come right out and say he meant Southern Democrats.)

Because of the custom of honoring seniority with choice committee assignments and other prerequisites, those who have been in the Senate longest have the committee chairmanship posts and as such have control over favors and determine who shall be selected to places of leadership. These are all nice men, and his friends, Clark hastened to say. They just have too much power in his opinion. Particularly now, when his friend, John F. Kennedy, is President.

Unfortunately for the President, Clark's research shows, a majority of the members of the controlling "Establishment" are by and large opposed to the Kennedy program.

The two-third majority of Democratic Senators who are Kennedy men are represented sparsely, if at all, in the "Establishment," Senator Clark says. This may account for the fact that Kennedy is having so hard a time getting his program through the Congress.

Liberal Democrats have asked the President to lead a move to overturn the "Establishment," as Woodrow Wilson did in 1918. When conversative in their party opposed Wilson's platform promises, Wilson's supporters staged a revolt in the party caucus in Congress. They voted to set aside the seniority system in the Senate. In two years they enacted most of the Wilson policy planks into law—the Federal Reserve System among others.

The purpose of Senator Clark's pointed speeches in the Senate now is to start President Kennedy thinking about the possibility of trying to repeat what Wilson did in 1918 if Kennedy is elected again in 1964.

Measles is an epidemic disease of world-wide distribution occurring in any community in outbreaks at intervals of two to four years. In each outbreak almost all persons who have never previously had the disease acquire it.

Letters

To The Editor

Editor: Recently I was confined to the Seminole Memorial Hospital for elective surgery. My stay of 8 days convinced me you have one of the finest hospitals in the South. From the time of entrance to my release everyone seemed dedicated to make my stay pleasant and comfortable.

Cleanliness seemed paramount everywhere. A tireless nursing staff, orderly visitation periods, the quiet calm of the early morning and late evening, the almost complete absence of smoking, so essential to surgery patients, the work of the Womens Auxiliary for providing the daily paper graciously donated by the merchants, the Candy Stripe girls to run errands, the medical staff's modern equipment for a complete diagnosis of the patients condition, and finally the careful control of diet as prescribed by the physician.

If the AMA has a rating for hospitals it should be 100% for Seminole Memorial.

My personal thanks goes to Charlie Morrison of the Chamber of Commerce, The Rev. Grover Sewell and Miss L. Caldwell of the First Presbyterian Church for their kind visits.

To all the staff at Seminole Memorial who in any way were affected on my behalf my very grateful thanks.

I might say that I have had quite a number of comments because of your article and I'm happy that I didn't modify my speech just because you were there. I said it just as I had it outlined and I feel the effect is refreshing

Lake Monroe Jottings . . .

Mrs. H. L. Johnson
Good afternoon. It's the same thing as last week. I don't know if it's good or bad. Of course I am talking about the weather. Rain and more rain and more rain. When will it ever end, being such bad weather? . . . So sorry that so many good people are ill. The old flu bug has got so many. Mary Oglesby let it get her. She has been real ill. I think she is better now though. Sure glad of it. . . . Then Olga Hunter decided to let it bite her. Sister Alice Nordgren who has been staying with Olga and Ed says Olga has been a very sick gal too. I know that she really has to be sick to make her stay in bed. Get well quick Olga as we have to finish our plans for the coming Fashion Show that the Monroe Home Demonstration Club is sponsoring. . . . Since we are talking about the show every one will be welcome to come and see it. This will be on the 28th of March. And it will feature dresses that have been made from Bates Disciplined Prints and will come from the Miralady's Shoppe of Fine Fabrics. And don't forget too that the Shoppe is having a Fashion Contest along with ours featuring dresses that the women all over the county are making. The material for these dresses has to come from this store. So be sure and go down and get your material and get those outfits made. Keep the 28th day of March free on your calendar so you can attend the show. . . . Visiting with Mrs. George Pittman and sons, Gary and David, are Mrs. Fanny Cooper and Mrs. Ella Slide o Vienna and Parkersburg, W. Va. I know that they will enjoy their stay down here. Maybe someone ought to put some Florida sand in their shoes and they will want to stay on here. . . . Another lady out this way is Mrs. Ann (Carl) McWorter of Uppah Road. I hear she is much improved now. That is grand. Also Ethel Todd has been missing school because of a bout with the mumps. Hurry back Ethel. . . . Wilson and L'lean Coleman had as their guests at their home last week, L'lean's mother, Mrs. Anna Rawls, and her sister, Mrs. Evelyn Powell, and Evelyn's daughter, Mrs. Hon Kely, and daughters, Debbie and Leri. Anna is from Lake Wales and sister Evelyn and daughter are from Lake Wales. L'lean said she was so lost when they returned home. Talking about the Colemans, what is this I heard about someone going bird hunting (or something) and shot HIS gun but, the gun was empty? I have heard of everything now. Can you imagine a game hunter going hunting and not even have a shot gun shell in the gun. Wonder what Wilson would have done if that big black bear said BOO? . . . James Waketield and Eddie Harper were among the High School Science Club members going over to the Planetarium in Orlando Saturday. They reported a very interesting afternoon. . . . Supper guests of our Sunday evening were Mrs. Carl Autrey of Hattiesburg, Miss., who is here visiting the Johnson families, Mrs. Nora Johnson and Mrs. Jean Reynolds and son, Stan. . . . Hope you get to attend the Central Florida Fair in Orlando and stop by the Seminole County Booth. Its worth seeing. Hazel Gardner and I went over Tuesday evening and stayed in the Booth. Despite the bad weather there were plenty of viewers there. . . . Newly elected officers of the upala Presbyterian Church are President, John Ames; Vice President, Mrs. H. L. Johnson; Secretary, James Thomson and Treasurer, Mrs. E. L. Powell. . . . Mrs. S. A. Chambliss of Punta Gorda and Mrs. Claude Hawkins returned to Jacksonville last Friday where they attended the wedding of their niece Miss Loretta Pickett. They said that the wedding was really nice. . . . Our thought this week is a repeat request: Just a Little Minute. I have just a little minute. Only a few seconds in it. Forced upon me, can't refuse. . . . Didn't seek it, didn't choose it. But its up to me to use it. I must suffer if I abuse it. Just a tiny little minute. But eternally is in it."

MISS SHEILA BEST, Queen of Hearts in 1962 carries a heavy role in this year's Heart Show being staged Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Melodee Skate Rink for the benefit of the Heart Fund. Miss Best, a versatile skate-dance performer, who will be seen in several numbers is also directing the show. Costume designs, settings, props and choreography for the big show all bear her touch, too. Entire proceeds of the show go to the Heart Fund. (Herald Photo)

Bear Lake HD Club Hears Talk On New Pots And Pans

The monthly meeting of the Bear Lake Home Demonstration Club was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Alan Wentworth on Lake Ashler Circle with Miss Myrtle Wilson, agent, as guest speaker and demonstrator. Miss Wilson's subject was "What's New In Pots and Pans." She displayed a variety of cooking utensils with the new Teslon interior. With these new cooking finishes it is advisable to use the plastic or wooden spatula coming with the utensil. As no harsh or abrasive cleaner may be used, after a good soaking, the pot will come clean easily with spongeing. Miss Wilson also pointed out that the one disadvantage of stainless steel cookware is a hot spot that often appears. Aluminum pans may be cleaned by using cream of tartar and water.

A new cleaning product discussed was Metal Clean that miraculously banishes the accumulated stains on often used pots and pans.

Avoid from pots and pans, Miss Wilson urged that home-makers stock canned goods and appropriate items for possible atomic emergency. She also explained how to store valuable water in plastic bleach containers and to change the water every few weeks.

A run down of upcoming dates for Home Demonstration activities was reported by Mrs. Wilson at the conclusion of her talk.

The business meeting was held preceding the program with Mrs. Raymond Jackson, president, in charge. A resume of the recent Meat School in Sanford was reported by Mrs. Russell H. Loomis.

Mrs. Loomis was appointed to act as safety chairman and Mrs. Earl Howell as home management chairman.

The program for the March meeting will be "Proper Ironing Methods" under the direction of Mrs. William G. Carpenter, member of the club. A representative of the American Red Cross also will be present to discuss "Water Safety," stressing mouth to mouth resuscitation.

After the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Loomis, South Bear Lake Rd.

Save money two ways on income tax

... this year and every year!

The April 15th day of reckoning (and reckoning and re-reckoning) is rapidly approaching . . . bringing with it the customary frantic figuring and painful payments. Reddy offers two suggestions that will help you cut your tax substantially.

1 Take advantage of all possible deductions!

Itemize all your legitimate deductions. Reliable income tax guides give a complete listing of all possible deductions plus many other tax-saving hints; special tax consultants are available to help with complex returns. Note particularly that you can deduct the various direct taxes you pay each year. Your total tax bill, however, adds up to much more than these direct taxes. You cannot deduct "hidden taxes" included in the price you pay for goods and services.

2 Keep the government out of business!

The part of your tax dollar that enables the Government to compete with private industry is not deductible either. (In the case of TVA, for example, Florida's share has already zoomed to $125,950,000—or about $100 for each family of four!) Support private enterprise, it's one of our basic freedoms. Keep Government out of business . . . and you'll have more money left over for your personal use on April 15th every year!

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have an aunt who is a 36-year-old perpetual husband hunter. She saw a man who works with me. She liked his looks and asked me to introduce her to him. He said he was unmarried so I saw no harm in it. Well, he asked her for a date and she fell for him hard. She saw him night and day and even went on week-end trips with him. When she pressed for marriage, he told her he had a wife from whom he was only separated because his religion wouldn't sanction divorce. My aunt is broken-hearted and her whole family is blaming me for this mess. Was it MY fault?

GOOD INTENTIONS

DEAR GOID: When a man tells you he is unmarried, you have a right to assume he is. You were responsible for introducing them, period. If a 36-year-old "husband-hunter" wants to play the game, it's time she learned the game laws.

DEAR ABBY: If your husband came home with the odor of perfume on his shoulder, which you have none of, would you assume he had been close enough to someone to have the odor rub off on him? Or would you say he had to have somebody's head on his shoulder.

READY TO FILE

DEAR READY: He could be innocent. The head on YOUR shoulder is the one you have to worry about. Don't lose it.

DEAR ABBY: A couple of months ago I attended a big church wedding and reception. The bride wore a beautiful white gown and veil. Six months later the bride gave birth to a nine-pound baby boy, so I know she must have been expecting at the time of the wedding. They tell me that this is being done all the time. Is this true, or am I behind the times?

JOAN

DEAR JOAN: You are NOT behind the times. Some babies are ahead of their times.

DEAR ABBY: Opropos the woman who felt "unloved" because her husband never said "I love you": My sister and I recently asked mother to tell us about her courtship days, whether Dad was romantic, and how he proposed to her. She replied, "Your father never said much, and he never once came out and said, 'I love you.' And this is how he proposed, 'Well, do you want to get married or don't you?'"

Maybe flowery speeches don't mean much, because Mom and Dad had been happily married for 38 years.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The "Great Unblock" is strictly of modern origin among bridge club hands. At least no one ever heard of it until about 25 years ago.

It is definitely a contract bridge and there is no reason why North and South should not bid seven hearts with their fine cards.

It is also a most unusual double dummy problem in that every play made by South on a double dummy basis should also be made if he actually ran into the hand in actual play.

Once dummy's ace of clubs holds the first trick, South can make seven hearts against any combination of adverse cards. He should note that the

Shocker With Bette Davis For Drive-In

"What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?" the new suspense shocker bringing Bette Davis and Joan Crawford together on the screen for the first time, is also distinguished as the initial motion picture presentation to be sponsored by the nation's theatre owners under their "Hollywood Preview Engagement" program. The unusual Warner Bros. drama, a Seven Arts-Associates and Aldrich Production, opens Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre.

All of Hollywood, reporters across the country who cover the Hollywood scene and Davis and Crawford fans watched in breathless anticipation of on-set fireworks as Aldrich brought together two of the screen's long-reigning, Oscar-winning queens in the bizarre story of two aging sisters, both has-been stars, living in hate and bitterness in a crumbling old mansion.

The other feature on the program which will play through Tuesday is "World In My Pocket".

On Wednesday and Thursday, "Ring of Fire" and "Pleasure Of His Company" will play.

A triple feature program is scheduled for Friday and Saturday. The three are "Hercules Unchained," "Samson And The 7 Miracles Of The World" and "The Mighty Ursus."

Cars Can Get Royal Wash Job

It's not often you get a queen to wash your car, but one of the three girls who are offering to do so, Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Sinclair Station on the corner of 25th St. and French Ave., may turn out to be Queen of Hearts.

Miss Nyleene Albers, Miss Linda Ley and Miss Rena McKenzie, all candidates for the queen's crown in Sunday's Heart Fund Benefit will be washing cars all day at the station to raise more money for the Heart Fund coffers, and for their own candidacy for the crown.

YUL BRYNNER plays the title role of the lusty, legendary Cossack leader, "Taras Bulba," in Harold Hecht's multi-million dollar production co-starring Tony Curtis. The Panavision Eastman-color film opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre, through United Artists release.

Oviedo Class Concludes Sale

Names of winners in a recent sales contest sponsored by Mrs. M. Wright's sixth grade class at Oviedo School has been announced. Receiving prizes as top three salesmen will be Thomas Dillon, Rose Rice and Bobby Brown.

Address labels and similar stationery items were sold during the contest to raise money to replace a valuable lens lost from a speed reading machine.

Mrs. Wright has expressed her appreciation and that of the class to all parents and residents of the area who made purchases resulting in the $50 profit on the sale.

BEHIND THE ominously barred windows of their melancholy Hollywood mansion Bette Davis turns her back on Joan Crawford's anguished appeal for release from her macabre persecutions in this stark scene from "What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?" the surprise-filled Warner Bros. suspense drama opening Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre. The two Academy Award winners are cast as aging sisters, each of whom had been a great star. In the tragicomic title role, Miss Davis portrays a one-time child star with bizarre delusions of making a comeback while Miss Crawford plays a former film star whose career was ended by a crippling accident.

Hearts and flowers combined with nostalgic songs will finish out "Heart Month" at Melodee Skating Rink Sunday. It's the last act of the fine effort to raise money for the heart fund. One of six lovely ladies will be chosen "Queen of Hearts" and crowned by Miss Sheila Best, last year's queen, after 49 skaters put on a superb show. They'll dance to such old favorites as "Bicycle Built For Two" and "Dear Old Dad." Doors open at 8 p.m.

There will be music too at the Jet Lanes next Thursday morning at 9:30 a.m. A show called "Time out for Fun" for LADIES ONLY, will be truly unusual and I promise it'll be exciting. Keep watching the paper for more information on this.

If you stop in at the Drift Inn after 12:30 some Friday or Saturday night, don't be surprised if the "Casuals" look a bit familiar. They're Bill Kluefelter and Mel Young who are also part of the group which plays at the Capri. After hours at the Capri they head for the Drift Inn where they whoop it up until 2 a.m. Bill plays the guitar and Mel the drums, and no one has more fun than they.

Boogie Woogie type music combined with a light touch of comedy is the specialty of the house at Club Diamond. Mel Murray is your host and entertainer and he's had some experiences to thrill the most sophisticated. While traveling to Europe three years ago he played some 10 hour jam sessions with Duke Ellington and his boys, and coming back he met Queen Frederica of Greece. New dining hours at the Club - from 5 to 9 p.m. they're serving that one pound steak with the works for $1.50.

Bill is a popular name in the music business it seems. At the Caribe Bill Slayton is the head man of a group called the Hideaways. Ted Slobowski on the piano and accordion, Morris Stophel on drums and Bill Wagner (see, another cue) on the sax and other reed instruments complete this quartet. This is an excellent group, all four having degrees in music. Ted and Morris both teach music, too. In everyday life Bill Slayton is the partner of Bill Kluefelter in a decorating business. Got that all straight?

Now lets go back to the Capri and see Bill Kluefelter again where his group is known as Big Bill and the "Velvetones." In this group are Mel Young the drummer, Bob Rambo the pianist, and for a short while longer, Bob Guet. Big Bill came from North Carolina in 1957 where he played only occasionally for parties. When he came here he just started playing for the fun of it. The present "Velvetones" evolved through a series of changes and changes, and now these "week-end warrior" musicians have a steady bill.

They also attended several shows, including the one at the Nassau Beach Hotel which was planned for President Kennedy and Prime Minister MacMillan, of England, during their visit. It was so successful it is being continued.

Garden Circles

AZALEA CIRCLE
Harlan Rhoades of the U. S. Department of Agriculture presented a program on "Nematodes" to members of the Azalea Garden Circle when the group met at the home of Mrs. J. P. Cullen for the February meeting.

He illustrated his discourse with slides and showed several types of microscopic worms. One was the type that attacks roots from the outside; one that enters the roots and causes deformity, (commonly known as root knot) and another type that attacks the leaves causing them to turn brown and dry. Nemes are susceptible to the third type of nematode.

In regard to ornamentals and grasses, the speaker recommended that the home gardener avoid types of plants that are susceptible to root knot. Caladiums are very susceptible but bulbs can be treated with dorm ant.

January was the month chosen to treat bulbs used in an experiment last year. Mr. Rhoades showed color slides of caladiums where half of the bulbs were treated, during their visit. They produced large, strong and colorful foliage but the untreated bulbs produced pale, weak and stunted plants. He set up a microscope for members to watch living specimens.

Mrs. Hal Harris presided at the business session and new officers were elected to take office next October. Those elected were Mrs. H. H. Collier, president; Mrs. Roy Boyd, vice president; Mrs. Dempsey Carnes, secretary, and Mrs. Porter Lansing, treasurer.

A GOOD CATCH of 33 shad was brought in by Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Crossan, of St. Augustine, here earlier this week. The Crossans also are displaying a poster advertising the annual "Blessing of the Fleet" Easter Sunday at St. Augustine.

MR. AND MRS. S. S. MUNDY, with friends Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Brown, of Thomasville, Ga., landed 33 shad, with about 50 per cent of them roe, this week while fishing out of Crowe's Camp.

Probe Results To Be Aired
 DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit Lions stockholders were told at an annual meeting Thursday that National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle will announce "within 30 days" the results of the NFL probe into gambling influences.

William Clay Ford, club president, said Rozelle had told the Lions of the pending announcement.

Jim stated that last Sunday's rain and wind made the water drop three inches but I don't believe that has affected the shad fishing.

I motored on down to Henry Russell's island and fish camp. There was a lot of activity there also. Mr. and Mrs. Wolf, of New Jersey, had just come in from some good fishing. With them they had 30 large shad. Then here came three happy fishermen, Ralph Leal, Jack Willis, and Kenny Johnson. They had 14 shad with nine roe in the catch.

And then the lone fisherman C. A. Thompson, of Leesburg, came in with his proud catch of 27 shad and seven roe.

As I was leaving Marina Isle I noticed little Butch Russell paddling around the lake in his little boat. So guess he will be bringing in another big catch of specks, or maybe Butch was just looking over the area.

Well that's it for now... toodle-dee-doo.

In Group Play

Sanford, Oviedo Cop Wins

Sanford and Oviedo rolled to Group Tournament victory Thursday night.

In Titusville, paced by Mike Woodruff, the Seminoles romped in an easy 85-47 victory over Stuart in the quarter-finals of the Group 4 Class A play.

The amazing senior dunked in 37 points to set a new Seminoles High scoring record.

Sanford started with a 12-9 bulge and at the half led, 31-15.

The other Sanford eager to shoot in double figures was Dave McGillis who knocked in 12.

Cherokee Sundown Favorite At SOKC

Cherokee Sundown, who has had only two local starts and missed the money in both of them, may still rate as the favorite in the featured tenth race of an 11-race program at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club that ushers in the new month of March.

Greyhounds owned by J. R. Githens with the "Cherokee" prefix to their names have been doing very well on the local oval and according to her record Sundown is a very consistent runner. At Sarasota she attained an A-2 national rating and in 27 starts chalked up a score of five firsts, eight seconds and two thirds. She was popular at Daytona Beach last summer and in 29 tours of the oval accounted for seven firsts, four seconds and six thirds.

But the competition will be tough for the other entries are Pac Sac, Big Sooner, Zol, Mrs. Mops, Kevin's Pal, Mac Stetch, and Diamond Star.

Pac Sac won her last outing over the long 5/8ths mile course. Diamond Star will be trying for his third straight while Zol just won in Grade B.

A fine matinee program has been arranged for tomorrow with such fan favorites going to the post as Cherokee Hulou, Soek Tray, Coro Silver and Joe Luck.

Hall Of Famer Dies At 72

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Eppa Rixey, elected to the baseball Hall of Fame just a month ago after being bypassed several times during the 30 years after he quit playing, died of a heart attack Thursday at the age of 72.

Rixey, who won 206 games in a long major league career spanning from 1912 to 1933, suffered a heart attack at his home in suburban Terrace Park and died several hours later at Christ Hospital here.

Breaks Mark

OSLO (UPI)—The world's 3,000-meter speed skating record was broken Thursday by Norway's Ivar Eriksen. Eriksen, who recently returned from the world championships in Karuzawa, Japan, skated the distance in four minutes and 33 seconds.

Suffers Fracture

MONTREAL (UPI)—Tom Johnson, a Montreal Canadian defenseman, suffered a fracture of the left cheek Thursday in a collision with teammate Bob Rousseau during a scrimmage. There was no indication how long Johnson would be sidelined.

Koufax Okay Again!

By United Press International The Los Angeles Dodgers feel good all over today because there's no pain in Sandy Koufax' left index finger.

It was a circulatory condition in the big fireballer's finger that sidelined him for virtually the entire second half of the 1962 season and probably cost the Dodgers the National League pennant.

Koufax won 14 games by July 12 but didn't win another game all season.

The 27-year-old left-hander passed his first real test of the spring Thursday when he pitched to Dodger hitters for 17 minutes. He threw at only three-quarter speed and was tagged for some "homeers" by Frank Howard and Bill Skowron. But the big thing was that he reported no pain in the finger and seemed confident it has completely healed.

"I don't even think about it any more," said Koufax, who struck out a National League record of 269 batters in 1961 and had 216 strikeouts in 184 innings last season. "As far as I'm concerned this is just another spring training."

Plant Construction Set Next Week

Actual construction will be commenced about mid-week for a new industrial plant at Sanford Industrial Park, according to M. J. Monaghan, in charge of East Coast construction for J. L. Williams and Company, Dallas, Texas. Working crews will commence Monday preparing the site for the $200,000 structure, Monaghan stated. The new building, being erected for speculative purposes by the Williams firm, will have 30,000 square feet with a frontage of 100 feet and a depth of 300 feet. Site area is 180 by 400 feet, and poses by the Williams firm, 72,000 square feet.

Specifications call for a one-story masonry constructed building. It will have reinforced concrete pier and beam foundation, with a reinforced five-inch concrete slab on a sand cushion. A built-up, three-ply tar and gravel roof will rest on a 2 1/2-inch gypsum concrete roof deck. Construction will include long span open web steel trusses. Walls will be of brick veneer with eight-inch haydite block.

The plant will have bay sizes of 21 by 33 feet, a 16-foot clear stacking height, gas fired unit heaters, incandescent lighting, three truck doors dock high, toilet facilities and a rail siding available. Offices will be completed to suit tenants as follows: Stud walls with half-inch sheetrock, painting to suit, all weather air conditioning, fluorescent lighting, vinyl asbestos floor covering, suspended fiberglass insulated ceiling, private offices to suit, interior doors flush with natural mahogany finish, brushed aluminum finish hardware and toilet facilities.

The exterior will include an entrance of aluminum and glass, field stone panel to highlight the entrance, aluminum fascia and coping on the entrance canopy, face brick on front and right side, concrete walks, curbs and gutter and drive approaches and an 86-space paved parking lot.

Presbyterian Church Hears Missionaries

By Jane Casselberry

Seven former missionaries of the United Presbyterian Church in the Cameroon, W. Africa, were present Sunday evening at a dinner held by the Westminster Presbyterian Church in its temporary chapel at the Howell Park offices.

The occasion was the report of Dr. and Mrs. Austin R. Wolfe concerning medical and educational work supported by the church in the Cameroon.

Dr. Wolfe, who with Mrs. Wolfe recently retired after 39 years there, told of the latest developments in that country and especially of his work as a medical doctor in charge of the 200 bed hospital at Metet and of several clinics in the bush.

He reported that such diseases as leprosy, yaws and sleeping sickness have virtually been eliminated through the use of new drugs.

Mrs. Wolfe, who was actively engaged in educational work in Africa, told many interesting experiences as pictures of the work were shown.

Other former missionaries included Mrs. George Schwab of Winter Park, who first went to Africa in 1905; Rev. and Mrs. D. Col Love of Kissimmee and Rev. and Mrs. Earl Harris of Winter Park. All have been closely associated with the work at Metet and also at Elat, a church that at one time had nearly 20,000 members.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson of Cleveland, Ohio, were also with the group.

The Fashion Show of all the newest spring styles will be narrated by fashion commentators Edith Ivey and Jerre Enberg, and will feature professional models in daytime, evening wear and swimsuits from famous designers and manufacturers. All women of the area are invited to attend the show, including bowlers and non-bowlers. There is no admission charge, refreshments will be served, and many valuable door prizes awarded.

"This two hour fashion and variety show has everything women enjoy," said Spolski. "New hair fashions, new clothing fashions, new dance fashions, all emceed by handsome and talented Art Matthews famous stage and television star . . . and it's all free."

"The Lester Lanin Trio, with vocalist Jerry Carr will be there, the famous dance team of Heller and Helene will show you how to dance the Bossa Nova, and the National Hair and Cosmetologist Association will demonstrate actual hair styling with an open discussion and question and answer period," Spolski said.

While the State Road Dept. is taking a long look—and not so long that something can't be done right away about it—at Celery Avenue as it winds its uneven way to the river, maybe the city street crew will go to work on that same thoroughfare from Mellonville to Park Ave. . . Humps, bumps and ruts that make for anything but comfortable driving.

Railroad crossings still are causing much trouble. . . Like Third and Myrtle. . . Or Fourth and Elm. . . Elm and Thirteenth and a half—just southwest of the Lockert plant. . . Any others?

Poor old ACL. . . The railroads have to decide which is less costly, maintaining the track or putting cars back on the track after they have "bit the ties." . . What this about the kid baseball sponsors going around nowadays in a state of shock? . . . Just got their statements from City Recreation on costs for the season. . . When Don Perry started City supervision of this fine youth activity, the idea was that the City would furnish balls, bats, grounds and umpires under supervision of the City Director. . . Kids furnished gloves and shoes. . . Sponsors supplied uniforms, managers, training. . . Now it seems, bats and balls are assessed against the sponsors. . . So is insurance. . . And there seem to be some sponsors who figure that they can't stand the pressure. . .

Kill Feather-Bedding Ruling Is 'Upheld'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court upheld today a lower court decision that would allow railroads to eliminate "feather-bedding" — unnecessary work—by operating employees.

An appeal by five railroad brotherhoods has been before the court for some weeks. The decision was handed down last Nov. 28 by the 7th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago.

Today's opinion by the court was unsigned. But was simply "per curiam" or "by the court."

Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, former labor secretary, did not participate.

Today's action means that after some routine moves the railroads can legally go ahead with work rule changes that would stop the featherbedding.

During the proceedings, Louis J. Wagner, president of the Order of Railroad Conductors and Brakemen, said that the unions "will have no alternative" but to strike if the changes eventually materialize.

Before a strike takes place, President Kennedy would appoint an emergency fact-finding board. This would delay any strike action for another 60 days.

The unions represent about 200,000 conductors, switchmen and other employees who work on trains. They brought the lawsuit on the claim that the carriers were violating the Railway Labor Act by their proposals.

The Supreme Court opinion said that both parties had exhausted all legal procedures in the long dispute and "are relegated to self-help" in adjusting it.

Under the new rules, about 13,000 firemen displaced by the diesel locomotive would be dismissed and 25,000 other jobs would be abolished over five years. The pay structure would be revised to raise about 150,000 salaries.

Rules that bar crews from working beyond certain change points would be eliminated and crews could take trains into yards without payment to standby yard crews.

'Cowardly As Mice' Chinese Tell Soviets

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China concluded a massive defense of its "hard line" communism with a challenge to Russia to debate their ideological dispute in public.

Describing the Russians as "cowardly as mice," the Chinese Red said.

"If you are men enough, step forward. Let each side in the debate publish all the articles in which it is criticized by the other side. Add in the people in our own countries and the whole world think and judge who is right and who is wrong."

The challenge was issued Sunday in the fourth of a 7 part installment of a 100,000-word defense of Mao Tse-tung's communism as opposed to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's avowed policy of peaceful coexistence. It was the sharpest attack yet on the Soviet leader.

The statement accused "certain people" — meaning Khrushchev — of both "adventurism" and then "capitalism."

Deputies Find Sanford Couple Floating In Lake

Funeral services are being held in abeyance for a Sanford couple who drowned early Sunday in Lake Jessup.

Coroner Hugh Duncan identified the couple as Matt Curtis Stanley, 51, and his wife, Mary Ann Stanley, 47 of R.R. 2.

Judge Duncan recounted the couple, who resided near Myers fish camp, were observed at 6:30 a. m. Sunday proceeding in their 12-foot boat, powered with a 33-horsepower motor, for a fishing outing.

Some 15 minutes later the victims were found floating in seven feet of water, along with their capsize boat, by Dale Hogan, Sanford, and Herman Bowers, Winter Park.

Judge Duncan said both were considered expert swimmers. Neither wore a life jacket although seat-type preservers were found with the boat.

Stanley, a native of Clymer, Pa., had been employed as a security officer at Dynatronics, Inc., until recently. Mrs. Stanley was a native of Morocco, Ind.

'This One Was For Herbie'

By Don Higginbotham

Sanford's top-ranking Junior Basketball League All Star team rolled over all opposition in the State Tournament held here Friday and Saturday to hold on to their State Championship crown for the second straight year.

And they did it for Herbie.

With a rallying cry of "This one's for Herbie," the Sanford youngsters trounced Weahatchka 40 to 22, squeezed past Pensacola 47 to 42 and mangled Tallahassee by a 45 to 29 score.

Complete story on sports page.

The accidental death of little Herbie Weeks, Thursday night stunned the boys as it did the many children of the Pinecrest School area, who have a compassionate and tender affection for the 31-year-old Herbie.

Herbie had hovered around the school for years waiting for the children to come out, or marched serenely down the middle of the road, oblivious of the impatient traffic.

Herbie was born the way he was and his gentle but inquisitive mind never progressed much beyond that of a small boy.

But the lack of maturity and understanding, the grotesque, gnome-like body aroused no fears or sneers in the children of the Pinecrest School. . . only a patient and tender sympathy and a friendly concern.

The winning of the State Junior Boys Basketball Championship is a Memorial to Herbie Weeks.

It was played in his memory by the boys in grateful but apologetic thanksgiving for their own strong, straight bodies and in deepest compassion for a boy who never had a chance.

Sailors Loot U. S. Treasury

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Two young sailors, who for 12 days had the power to loot the U. S. Treasury with a shipment of blank federal checks, worth up to $50 million, were held incommunicado today by red-taped naval authorities.

The pair jumped ship in Japan, hopped a commercial airliner to the United States and began a spending spree that could have tapped the Treasury for unlimited funds, depending upon the sailors' nerve.

Builder Nabbed In 'Repair' Probe

BULLETIN
William Cletus Braden was arraigned on grand larceny charges this morning in Gainesville in connection with home repair rackets in Alachua County last year. He pleaded innocent to the charges and was held in the county jail under $1,000 bond pending the next term of Circuit Court.

GAINESVILLE Daily Sun
GAINESVILLE — A Sanford home repair firm officer, "anxious to set things right," was jailed here Saturday night for the grand larceny of a mortgage.

He told a reporter he wants to bond out of jail and try to correct any misdeeds done by his firm.

But he insisted the alleged wrong doings of Nova Builders, Inc., weren't of his making. "I was only a one-third partner and they always overruled me," he claimed innocently.

The man is William Cletus Braden, secretary-treasurer of the now defunct Nova.

He was arrested Friday in Nashville, Tenn., and brought here Saturday night by an Alachua County deputy sheriff. He's the fourth man arrested here recently in the course of an investigation of alleged home repair racketeering.

Four others are being sought by Alachua County authorities and nine men have been jailed for grand larceny of mortgages in neighboring Northcentral Florida counties.

Braden said last night there should be $3,700 in a Fort Lauderdale bank account and Nova has some outstanding debts. He said if he can raise bond to get out of jail he'll try to get the money and make up the alleged deficiencies in Nova work.

A hearing to set his bond tentatively is set for Monday. Bond on other repairmen arrested for grand larceny here recently has ranged from $2,000 to $3,000.

Braden claims he was just "a rubber stamp" for his partners' decisions.

One of the partners Braden referred to is Glenn Jones Jr., also being sought for grand larceny.

"I told them a lot of times, 'They're making me feel this high,'" Braden said. "They'd go off together and make decisions, then come back and tell me what they were," he claims.

Braden admitted he worked on the deal in Alachua County that gave rise to the grand larceny charge. Investigators said $150 of work was done on the shell home of elderly Mrs. Bonnie Reed. About $300 in debts also were paid off.

In return for the work and money, Nova took a $1,500 mortgage, investigators say. Braden said Nova ceased operations in October and he has been working for a home repair firm in Nashville since.

Death Not Due To Lung Cancer

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — A pathologist's report today listed pneumonia "unrelated to lung cancer" as the cause of death of retired carpenter Otto Pritchard, who twice filed long-cancer suits against a leading tobacco company.

Pritchard, 64, of Pittsburgh, died late Saturday.

A statement by the hospital's pathologist following an autopsy attributed death directly to pneumonia. The statement said:

"The patient died of pneumonia unrelated to his lung cancer. In a preliminary examination there was no evidence of cancer or residual cancer."

Microscopic examination will be held on tissues, but results will not be known for a day or so.
