

Browns And Pirates Launch Into Rebuilding Programs With Deals

By RALPH RODEN

NEW YORK—The Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Browns, confronted with a gigantic rebuilding job, are wading no time in getting their reconstruction programs rolling.

Philadelphia's sorry fate this week, and St. Louis' unimpaired seventh place, highlighted a busy major league trading session yesterday which chiefly involved minor league clubs.

The Pirates pulled off the only "real" trade of the day. The Bucs shipped Gus Bell, 23-year-old long ball hitting outfielder to the Cincinnati Reds for three players.

Bill Veech, major domo of the Browns, fired shortstop Bill Hume, hailed as one of the best, for prospects in the minors from the Brooklyn Dodgers organization in what he called a "blatant deal." The Browns turned over a bundle of cash and three players to the Cincinnati Reds for three players.

The St. Louis Cardinals, Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians brought up a number of players from their minor league affiliates in "paper" transactions while the Philadelphia Athletics purchased outfielder John Mackinson, a former New York Yankee farmhand, from Birmingham of the Southern Association.

Bell, reportedly in the doghouse with the powers that be at Pittsburgh for lack of hustle, batted only .246 for the Pirates in 131 games.

To get Bell, the Reds shipped catcher Joe Busch, 23, infielder and outfielder Al Abrams, and Gail Henley to the Pirates. Henley was obtained by the Reds from the New York Giants for pitcher Frank Miller, Abrams, who started the season with Brooklyn, batted .278 while Henley hit .273 for the Reds' Tulsa club off the Texas league.

The Pirates also added two players from the minors and dropped two. Catcher Bill Hall was called up from Pittsburgh's Charleston club, the South Atlantic, and Charlie Supple, once with the Philadelphia Phillies, was procured from Indianapolis of the American Association.

Pittsburgh disposed of two pitchers, dispatching right-hander Don Carlson to Charleston and left-hander Len Vachon to New Orleans of the Southern Association.

Hunter, voted the Texas League's most valuable player, batted .290 for Ft. Worth and led the league in leading and stolen bases. He was moved to the Indians' St. Paul club after the season to protect him from the draft.

The Browns turned over outfielder Ray Coleman, pitcher Bob Maize and Stan Rogers, a former Dodger shortstop prospect, to St. Paul.

Maryland To Test Strength Of Line In Navy Contest

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—One thing Coach Jim Tatum believes he'll learn from the Navy game Saturday is just how good his Maryland offensive line is.

This may sound odd after the 37-0 trouncing his Marylanders, ranked second this week in the Associated Press poll, handed Georgia last Saturday and in the wake of victories over three other foes.

But the Maryland coach says: "Our offense just hasn't had to block anybody yet with it. I mean, no good line such as navy has ever squared off with it. The others have been stunting their defenses so much that I'm not sure how good our blocking is."

Coach Tatum at the start of the season talked offensive blocking as the No. 1 question of his 1952 team. He rated last year's team, which brought Maryland an undefeated season and a Sugar Bowl victory over Tennessee, the best he'd handled. Most of the key players, end Paul Lindsey, America's guard Bob Ward and tackle Joe Moss, have departed.

One of the most satisfactory replacements so far is Tom Breunlich, a 215-pound tackle from Durham, N. Y. Tatum, in going over a movie of the Georgia game, repeatedly exhorted over Breunlich's blocking.

Breunlich, Tatum recalled that last year the Navy line was rated by himself and the Maryland players as the best they had faced. That was a Navy team which won only two games and succumbed to Maryland, 35-21. This year, the Middies are undefeated in three games and have one of the best overall defensive records in the nation.

Miami Gets Legion Diamond Tournament

MIAMI—The 1953 American Legion junior baseball championship will be played in Miami.

Gene Miller, administrator of the Legion's fall-time baseball program, said in Indianapolis that Miami has been selected but official announcement would await signing of contracts with Frank Imand, commander of the Harvey W. Post, Miami, which bid for the event.

Mr. Adams, Miami hotel man, said he would sign the contract with Miller immediately after he is received.

The contract calls for a guarantee of 12,500 to the Legion's annual Americanism Committee and assumes expenses of bringing the four finalist teams to Miami.

The tournament, which could go on for several days, will be held at Miami Stadium, the new one million dollar ball park.

Jones Jumps Into Mixed Loop Lead After First Week

A guy named Jones made his bowing debut in the Mixed League last Monday night and what a debut it was. He paced his club to three straight wins with a sterling 157 average to give himself this week's title to the highest league average.

In the process he knocked down 191 pins in one ten frame line to set the season's record while setting another season's mark with 470 total pins in a series. He may have another name but his performance was uncommon.

Meanwhile, last week's bowling leader, Dot Powell, wasn't experiencing such good fortune. She merely nose dived from first to sixth with a huge 13-pin average fall spin to 146.

Ellen Betts, who consistently ranks second every week stood her ground giving but a scant two pins for a 155 average. Another newcomer, Yates, made his appearance as the third high bowler with a 161 average.

GAINESVILLE (Special)—A brief photographic history of the University of Florida Gator 1853 is presented in the 1952 Homecoming brochure, which made its appearance throughout the state this week.

Included in the 22 page booklet are pictures of early UF landmarks as well as pictures of the 1952 football team and an early parade.

Joe Mims, Tampa, editor of the brochure, stated that the booklet attempts to give a brief history of the University before and since its founding. Pictures in the booklet are supplemented by descriptions of this year's Homecoming activities as contrasted to those of previous years.

Distribution of the gold and blue brochures was handled by Herb Wainwright of Oak Dale Summers, Gainesville was art director, while Murray Overstreet, Kissimmee was literary editor.

Printing and engraving of the 20,000 booklets was donated.

Romack Advances In Hardscrabble Meet

FT. SMITH, Ark.—The quarterfinals in the annual Hardscrabble Women's Invitational golf tournament began today with the golfers separated into the girls' and boys' groups.

Every pre-tourney favorite ousted her first round opponent with ease yesterday. The closest match went only 14 holes. One of 146 matches ended on the 10th green.

U-F May Lose Long For Vandy Contest

GAINESVILLE—Injuries suffered in the Clemson game last week may cut into the strength of the University of Florida Gators need for their clash with the Vanderbilt Commodores Saturday.

Buford Long, Southeastern Conference top scorer with 43 points, has a bruise on his right leg that may be able to get into the battle. Also on the doubtful list is Joe D'Agostino, defensive guard who has a bad leg.

Expecting a rough time with Vanderbilt's passing attack built around Bill Krietemeyer, Florida's pass defenders worked long and hard Tuesday. The Gators' line backs Bob Davis and Larry Scott and linebackers Arlen Jumper and Bubba Ware, Florida's most experienced defensive men, were called on to help stop the Vandy attack.

Washington Talks Trades Over With Brownies, Chisox

WASHINGTON—Armed with a two year contract to manage the Washington Senators, Lucky Harris today began looking around for new talent to spark his 1953 team.

Shortly after signing the contract yesterday—reliably reported to call for $25,000 a year, an increase of $10,000—Harris said negotiations already are being carried on with the St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox for a righthanded batting outfielder and a catcher.

Harris and club president Clark Griffith said they laid the ground work for several deals during the World Series and hope to conclude the trades at the major league meeting in December.

"We have precious little trade ball, so we must take our time and evaluate every move," Harris said. "But I think we'll do all right."

Washington fans believe the former "boy wonder" who carried the Senators to their only two pennants back in 1924-25, believe he did all right last year when he picked up Jackie Jensen and Frank Shea from the New York Yankees.

Next spring will start Harris' 17th season with the Senators. He served from 1924 to 1928, came back in 1935 and remained until 1942, returning for the third time in 1950.

Jones' 470 Paces No 5's To Clean Sweep Over No 3

Team No. 1 moved into second place in the Mixed Bowling League last Monday night by winning all three games with the last place No. 3's at the Sanford Bowling Alley. Bill Jones led the winners' attack with a 470 series while John Ash hit 425 for the losers.

No 1's clung to their league leadership by taking two of three from the third place No. 4's on the 452 performance of Morris Shobom and the 450 effort of Stark Holly. Margaret Von Herbulis rolled a 450 for the losers.

No 2's moved out of a two-way tie for last place by jolting No 4's in two of three sets. Ester Gerd leveled 431 pins for the winning cause as Ellen Betts splattered 468 for the losing effort and the high game figure.

Nation's Leading Team Has Finest Offensive Record

NEW YORK—It follows as a matter of natural course that the No. 1 college football team in the country should have the No. 1 offense.

That, at least, was the situation today when latest statistics of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed that Michigan State, top-ranked in The Associated Press poll, is leading all other major college teams in advancing the ball.

The Spartans broke loose with 522 yards in walloping Texas A & M last Saturday, 49-0, to wrest the offensive team lead from Tulsa, which fell to 12th after a mediocre day against Houston.

Most of the Spartans' yardage, totaling 1,398 for three games, has been picked up through the air, leaving California the honor of being the sport's most effective ground-gaining unit so far this season.

The Golden Bears, third-ranked in the latest AP poll, have piled up a commanding average of 361.3 yards a game in their four victories to lead rushing statistics. They have virtually ignored the overhead game.

California ranks second to Michigan State in the total offense standings, averaging 459 yards a game to 465.3 for the Spartans. San Jose State, with 455.5, and Arizona, with 417.8, follow. Wisconsin is fifth with an average of 415 yards per game.

Michigan State, averaging 221.7 yards a game on passing, is second in that department to Fordham, the country's air offense leader with an average of 265 yards a game.

Nebraska is second to California in rushing with a 320-yard average. Then come San Jose State, Arizona State at Tempe and Oklahoma.

Georgia Tech is the only Southeastern Conference team in top bracket company. The Yellow Jackets rank ninth in total offense. They've averaged 407.3 yards a game.

Tickets Scarce For Navy-Maryland Game

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—How scarce are tickets for the Maryland-Navy football game Saturday? Joe Blair, sports publicist for the University, is wondering where he is going to get two for his father and mother.

Coach Jim Tatum told how a friend in Jamestown, N. Y., phoned and wanted four. Sorry, replied Tatum. The friend called back later and said he had found 15. All Tatum want the other 11? Sure, said the coach.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—There is a possibility that the most interesting college football result of the season up to this time—Army 37, Dartmouth 7—was widely overlooked by fans absorbed in the prodigious feats of such gridiron giants as Michigan State and Maryland.

Off this one victory the Cadets do not, of course, leap back to their long-accustomed place among the nation's elite, but it would seem to indicate that Coach Earl Blaik is far ahead of schedule in rebuilding his wrecked forces. Those who figured it would require three or four years for the military academy to recover from the ravages of its wholesale expulsion in the summer of '51 vastly underrated the red head's coaching ability.

Dartmouth is no football power, true, yet on the Saturday before playing Army the Big Green did play a defense staunch enough to hold first place in the nation, and the Quakers since have snapped Princeton's long winning streak. Before the whistle blew at West Point, the game was considered a tossup.

What the Cadets, led by a yearling named Pete Vann from Hamburg, N. Y., did to the Greenies in a wild first half has not been recorded, but it might bear brief repeating. Five of the first seven times that Blaik's amazing young stars got the ball they whizzed down the field for touchdowns. The sixth sustained march ended in a fumble at the goal line, but produced a safety against Dartmouth.

This all happened in the first 25 minutes of the contest and turned it into a 37-0 rout.

"Actually, we're not nearly that good," Blaik insisted by phone from the Point. "Dartmouth made a lot of mistakes to let my boys get started. I'll have to admit that once they started they went like a prairie fire. But don't let it fool you."

"Naturally, I'm mighty pleased with them at the moment. This will make them a better team and I think our game with Pittsburgh might be a great one. Don't go picking us to win, though, on the strength of that one burst!"

Very well, we won't, but the fact remains that this sounds suspiciously like those Army teams of the Blanchard-Davis era, and later, which made a practice of paralyzing the opposition in the first half dozen plays. It is a sort of Blaik trademark, this pouring it on at the outset of a game.

Krietemeyer Was First Spotted By Vanderbilt Grad

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—A young Dutchman with a shy grin and a souped-up passing arm is proving the late Ted Lockyear of Evansville, Ind., knew a football player when he saw one.

Lockyear, Evansville attorney who was graduated from Vanderbilt University in 1928, died this summer. But he lived to persuade 18-year-old Bill Krietemeyer to come to Vandy, where his protégé twice in his freshman year has been voted Southeastern Conference player of the week.

The first time, for completing 11 of 25 passes in a losing game against Georgia, was before he ever set foot in a college class. The game was Saturday before classes started.

The second time was for bettering that record against Mississippi last Saturday, when he completed 12 of 25 passes and scored all three Commodore touchdowns against Ole Miss to hold the favored Rebels to a 21-21 tie.

Lockyear first spotted Krietemeyer as a freshman at Evansville Central High, deciding then: "There's a boy for Vanderbilt."

Lockyear worked on him until he decided to come to Vanderbilt rather than some place closer—say, Northwestern. The result was shown two weeks ago, when the Commodores—again underdog—held Northwestern to a 20-20 tie, largely through Krietemeyer's efforts.

The blond freshman has been playing football since he was 12. He was captain of his prep team at Central, where he was picked to a national all-star high school team.

A line tribute came from Ted Smith, Mississippi athletics director, who commented after Saturday's game: "That Krietemeyer kid is the finest quarterback for his age I've ever watched."

Korean Debate Seen Certain In UN Meeting

No Strong Opposition Looms To Russian Delegate Gromyko's Desire For Action

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) A full-scale United Nations debate on Korea during the height of the American election campaign seemed assured today.

A spot-check showed no strong opposition to Russia's position on the question to be taken up at once. Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko demanded yesterday that the 50-nation political committee take up Korea as soon as it begins work—probably early next week.

Secretary of State Acheson planned to outline the American position on Korea in his weekly speech late today. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky may answer him tomorrow.

Seminole County Cows To Be Tested By Veterinarians

Free testing service of family milk cows for tuberculosis and Bangs disease will be conducted early next month by veterinarians in the county.

Owners of cows wishing this service should start Nov. 10, and have their cows tested at the office of the County Agent, Mr. Dawson, in Sanford.

Full cooperation not only is required, but instructions on how their responses may be reached—put just a route number. These instructions should include prominent landmarks and mileage from known places in the county.

Also, after the schedule is set up, Mr. Dawson pointed out, those getting the service should remain at home at the time of their appointments in order to assist in the testing, mainly by holding the cows.

Head Of Carpenters' Union Endorses Ike, Adlai Grows Torrid

Stevenson Shows Indication Of Catching Fire As He Develops New Vigor

BY JACK BELL. WITH STEVENSON IN CALIFORNIA—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's campaign showed signs of catching fire today as he lashed out with fresh vigor against Dwight D. Eisenhower's "crusade."

Flushed with the enthusiasm of his biggest and noisiest campaign meeting in San Francisco last night, the Democratic presidential nominee accused Eisenhower of attempting to ride two political horses in California.

Stevenson repeated a verbal assault on a Democratic audience which he addressed in Sacramento.

Nixon has extended his broadcast to the state, and has criticized Stevenson for giving Hiss a second chance.

Foreign Students

According to the Saturday Review there are at present 30,000 students from foreign countries enrolled in American colleges and universities. These students are distributed throughout all the 48 states and most of them come from Asia and the Near East. The figures are encouraging.

It has never been more important for the rest of the world to know and understand the United States, America stands as a symbol of democracy and the center of opposition against Communism. Spreading misunderstanding of American actions and motives is one of the most effective weapons used by the Reds and the young men and women who come to this country to study can do much to help their own people in their homelands.

Americans should make every effort to make foreign students feel at home. Our colleges and universities have much to offer them but they can learn even more in their off-campus associations. Young Americans who study in the same classrooms as the students from other countries can benefit from the exchange of ideas.

What Is A Hassle?

Why "hassle"? The word appears on almost every sports page, denoting a vigorous argument that verges on a row. It means much the same thing as "rhubarb," which is perhaps a little older. How "rhubarb" got its present meaning, would be hard to say, unless its sour flavor has something to do with it. There is, however, a possible explanation for "hassle."

The dialect of Cumberland in northwest England has a word "hassle," defined as to saw away at something. This might apply to a long controversy which gets somewhere very slowly. Some radio announcer or writer who had this word in his heritage might have revived it. Or if this seems far fetched, it might be a combination of "haggle" and "hustle." Such combinations are known. "Chortle," a colloquial term for exultation, seems to be combined from "chuckle" and "snort."

Even if the origin of "hassle" is determined without doubt, there will still remain one question. Who gets these slang words into popular use? Sports announcers? Sports writers? Or is this one of the things nobody knows?

Old Men Ever Young

The grand old men of sports and athletics never die. Connie Mack, still a baseball club president, and Alton Stagg, football peer, are ninety now. Nine decades have piled up behind these men and they are still pumping away on their diamond and grid-iron fields. Stagg is particularly amazing. He still leads a football team to battle under blazing autumn leaves, thrills teen-age scrimmage line veterans with his stamina and enthusiasm.

The esteemed Stagg, beginning a sixth season at St. Joseph's University, his sixty-third in football, deserves congratulation. How fortunate we are to be able to enjoy these sports which have become traditionally identified with America, and at the same time, see and know the two men who formed the games as we know them.

Future generations will only read about these men. We know their smiles and frowns, their fine characters, their philosophy of teamwork and fair play, the intangibles which cannot be written down, but which live in the great traditions of sport.

THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER

THE WORLD TODAY

WASHINGTON — The word "trade" is about as unemotional as any in the language, which is why, perhaps, nothing much has been said about it in his presidential campaign although the campaign has been full of talk about dealing with Russia.

And trade with Russia, or rather the lack of it, is one of the major weapons in the cold war, as W. Averell Harriman, director of the Mutual Security Agency, pointed out in a report this week. His organization is successor to the old Marshall Plan.

The latter was created to give economic help to Europe which had remained flat and broke might have been taken over by Russia without firing a shot.

It might seem that, since this country and its allies were in a cold war with Russia, and both sides were building up their armaments which might be used any day in a shooting war, all trade would cease between the West and Russia.

It might seem ridiculous that any country allied with the U. S. or receiving help from this country would at the same time be trading with Russia. But in his report Harriman said "cutting off trade entirely would harm our common defense effort more than it harms the potential aggressor."

He said other non-Communist countries receive from the Soviet bloc "commodities that are extremely valuable to their own defense efforts and economic stability on which their defense is based."

But while some kind of trade with Russia might be all right—trade in items that didn't help Russia's war machine—this country had the problem of being sure Russia didn't get war materials from other western sources.

So the U. S. had to work out arrangements with the countries getting American help to control shipments to Russia. To be doubly sure about it, Congress passed a law—called the Battle Act—making it mandatory for this country to shut any aid to a country exporting goods to Russia.

This same law also said American help to any country should be cut off—unless the president decided otherwise—if it exported to that country materials of strategic value—like petroleum and certain kinds of transportation equipment—that could be used to produce war goods.

Harriman said that for several years the important free world nations "have refused without any exception the shipment to the Soviet bloc of arms, ammunition, implements of war, or atomic energy products."

The Battle Act went into effect last January. Harriman's report was an explanation of how the act has been carried out. Between January and July he said there were only three cases of countries shipping forbidden goods to Russia.

One case involved equipment for exploring for oil; another, a grinding machine; and the third, a tank. But they were in the group which permitted the president to use his own discretion about shipping out aid. For various reasons, which Harriman explained at length, the president decided not to shut off American aid to the three countries: The Netherlands, Italy, and Denmark.

But this country and its allies weren't able to draw up a list of items which shouldn't go to Russia and stop the war on matter what we did about controlling trade with them—the Russians said they could convert their peacetime industry to a war basis in a short time—turn out everything needed for their Army and Navy.

In his report Harriman made it clear this country didn't expect to stop Russia's war production—since it has most of the basic raw material it needs. But he said he did think export controls might slow it up. At least, the controls won't help it.

Editors' Troubles

By MALCOLM W. HINGAY

Elmer, you fellows think you got troubles. No troubles at all compared to those of newspaper editors. Pull up a chair and listen. Once upon a time newspapers were party organs. They called it "personal journalism." A Republican editor slashed away at the Democrats and would not even print the speeches of the opposition. And vice versa. They even slanted their news. A chap who wanted to get both sides of any argument would have to buy two papers. And even then he could not get the low-down because each side was so violently partisan.

Then came the era of "independent" papers, which printed both sides of every controversy—accurately and fairly in their news columns, reserving only the editorial pages for their personal views. This made such a hit that party organs died out.

Well, when the New Deal started all the Washington correspondents could get were multigraph handouts by the largest army of press agents ever gathered on earth. This brought in the vogue of columnists to "interpret" the hand-outs which were as phony as a seven-dollar bill. But did that ease the headaches of the editors, struggling through the daily Niagara of gobbledygook in search for the holy grail of fact? It did not.

Many of the "columnists" became apostates to their profession. Instead of interpreting the news they were propagandists for the administration. The editors found themselves paying money for stuff they couldn't use. Adlai's editorial written to defeat the very purpose of their vogue. And if an editor did not print their propaganda he was accused of "shackling the freedom of the press."

Then there is the case of Purcellville, Va. Here the Blue Ridge Herald is jointly owned and edited by John Eisenhard and his wife. One is ardently for Ike and the other feverishly for Adlai. Solomon never had to settle such an editorial argument. The Herald comes out with blaring editorials endorsing Ike and with equal prominence and space there are equal-izing editorials endorsing Adlai. The editorials are not signed and the baffled readers do not know which editor is for Ike and which for Adlai. They refuse to live with the far as anybody knows Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhard live happily together. It is left to the imagination to guess how the arguments wage far into the night. And think

By HARVARD STUDENT

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — The disappearance from Harvard College of freshman Roy S. Durstine Jr., 19, son of a New York advertising executive, was reported to police early today.

Alexander Hoagland, head proctor of Claverly Hall, where the youth lived, said four notes were left at his door by Durstine shortly before midnight last night.

He said one note was addressed to the youth's father, one to a girl friend in New York City, another to a fellow student and the fourth to F. Skidly Van Stade, Harvard freshman dean. Police declined to identify the girl.

Van Stade said the note Durstine left him said in part: "I've made a mess of things. This is goodbye." School officials said Durstine's clothing was gone from his room but that his Cadillac car was in a Harvard Square garage having a flat tire fixed.

Discount Effect Nov. 4 Supreme Court May Decide Of Candidates' Finances Atomic Spies' Fates Seen

WASHINGTON The frantic efforts of presidential and vice presidential candidates to prove their health bills of health financially is viewed in Washington as having little effect on the final outcome of the ballot counting.

After the furore over Senator Richard Nixon's campaign fund subsided somewhat, the general belief is that the television and radio audiences turned to more absorbing matters such as the World Series and football season openers.

Actually, the statements of Nixon, and Democratic standard bearer Adlai Stevenson and his running mate, Senator John Sparkman, could have little real meaning to anyone except a certified public accountant.

To the average voter, the politician are convinced that reports represent little more than a mass of figures.

Of course, some political capital may be gained by the candidates' obvious sincerity in attempting to show that they have nothing to hide.

Chances are John Q. Public will have forgotten all about "funds" and "contributions" by the time he gets to the polls.

● ATOMIC SPIES—The Supreme Court may decide this month the fate of the first American atomic spies condemned to die. Julius and Ethel Rosenberg have appealed to the nation's high court for a review of their convictions.

Should the tribunal decide to uphold the convictions there still will be a number of other legal steps that may be taken by the Rosenbergs' lawyers to prevent the execution.

On the other hand, the pair may win a break if the court decides to review the husband-wife spy team case.

The Rosenberg case, however, is only one of some 800 cases pending before the court as it returns from summer recess. Many will not be heard because of the huge number.

Probably one of the most important constitutional issues facing the court is the matter of school segregation in Kansas and South Carolina. A third case involving similar practices in Virginia may also be heard.

● NEW FIGHTING EQUIPMENT—The Army has decided to buy 20,000 of the armored vests developed by the Marine Corps and used with great success in the Korean fighting.

The fiberglass-plated vests are being shipped to Army troops in the Far East. Meanwhile, the Army is working on its own variety of body armor.

Other new pieces of fighting equipment include a new jeep and a device enabling amphibious forces to land equipment in areas where they cannot beach landing craft.

The new jeep, which has more power, greater crawling range, rides better and costs less than its predecessors, was developed by Army Ordnance and now is in mass production.

The landing device, called a "Tramway," is under Navy test at Port Hueneine, Calif. It consists of cables that will stretch from a tower on shore to a vessel up to 500 feet from the beach and will carry one ton of equipment on each trip.

Today's Women

The men, bless 'em, are taking a timid step toward a "new look." It's called the Edwardian look, and it consists of a fitted, high-buttoned coat with ruffs on the sleeves and no cuffs on the trousers. More daring brunettes do it up brown with a braided waistcoat.
This thing of course was bound to come after the so-called casual look reached such proportions right after World War II that you couldn't tell whether a man was wearing a business suit or his pajamas.
Men have been edging cautiously toward a slightly less complicated mode of dress for the last two years, and today's fashion shows some of the padding out of shoulders and modifying labels so that they didn't look like a Flynn job.
But any move to change men's habits of dressing is in for a rough going before the boys can be persuaded to try something different. Witness a survey just completed by the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furriers. A poll of the association's more than 2,000 store members revealed that 70 per cent felt that American men would have no truck with the Edwardian look. Others doubt the trend would not develop out "sometime in the distant future."
He that as it may, the Daily News Herald reports this week that Edwardian-style men's suits "with narrow lapels, ruffs on the sleeves, collared vest and narrow trousers" are being made in Belfast, Ireland, for export to the United States, and Eugene Ackerman, director of the wool bureau, says:
"The high buttoned look seems to be edging toward a national fashion."
Ackerman, a genial gent whose business is to keep two jumps ahead of clothing trends, says you can see Edwardian suits on college campuses from Princeton to Wisconsin this year, and by next year you'll be seeing it generally over the country.
So it looks as if Pop is going to have to spruce up soon, and stop looking like head man at a hobo convention. It may be a wrench in part with those low-necked shirts with collars reaching to the solar plexus and those ties wired for sound. The drooping slacks and baggy sport coats will have to go back to their rightful place in the country.
Thus far the experts are divided in their predictions of how far the trend will go. Some call it "freakish, foolish and fancy" and others maintain it has to come, unless American men want to continue looking like unmade beds.

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newfeatures Writer
Too many young girls think a kiss is the most important part of the date. But 'aint so, says cute 17-year-old movie starlet, Marlene Cameron.
Marlene oughta know because she's just had her first kiss (on the screen, that is). She thinks girls who kiss on the first date are a wee bit tetchy. Says she: "How can you have established a like or dislike on the first meeting? It's ridiculous to get so romantic when you hardly know the boy."
She thinks it is too bad that some girls kiss a date merely because "they're afraid the boy will not call again." Says she: "So, what — supposing they don't date you again, what have you lost with a boy of that type?"
She's not too popular with boys, she admits, but thinks it is because she's shy. As a matter of fact she remembers one boy who lived next door to her who absolutely hated her. But once he invited her to a movie and they had a wonderful time and were pals from then on.
Marlene thinks girls should be popular with boys if they "just act natural, instead of pretending to be Lana Turner some pretty glamorous girl." The pixie-like, blue-eyed Marlene finds the main trouble with teen-agers is that they are likely to do anything to get attention when they are just emerging from the "teenage stage."
She recalls that there was a time when she got annoyed because some boys didn't like her. But now she realizes that she just wasn't extrovert enough to entice them. Says she:
"Take Rocky Driscoll, who had to kiss me when I happened to see a movie we made together. He wanted to get it over with real fast at first, but he got used to me after we'd rehearsed the kissing scene 15 times, but didn't seem to mind a bit."
In the picture Marlene plays the part of a 12-year-old tomboy (a role she adores). She wears braces on her teeth and is "pretty repulsive" for most of the picture, she says. But lo and behold, a magic wand touches her and Cinderella emerges from her pumpkin as a pretty, attractive teen-ager. (This is what captivated Bobby, apparently.)
The talented Marlene comes from a show-biz family. Her mother was a George White Scandals girl and her father was a musician. Her 24-year-old sister is a Rockette. Marlene combines the talents of the three.
She can sing anything from B. Bop to Opera, and has only studied voice for three years. Besides being a terrific coloratura and singing in Italian, French, Spanish and Latin, she dances tap or ballet. She is a good pianist. In her spare time she loves to knit — particularly acrylic socks.
Marlene loves to entertain and her simple buffet suppers usually consists of cold cuts, roast beef, frankfurters or hamburgers, all boy-food specialties.
Although she had her first date at 15, she's never really gone steady with a boy, she says. She wants to wait until she's 18, then travel, and she'd like to be successful "at something" before she gets married, which she doesn't plan to do until she is at least 24 or 25. Then she hopes to find a man who is a little sympathetic to her career and will let her carry on for a year or two.
Marlene is happy with her family (named Blatz) though, and isn't too anxious to leave her Ridgewood, Queens, home even for travel which she adores. Says she: "If a teen-ager wants to be successful in the theatre, you must have the help of parents. That's half the battle when you are trying to get ahead."
Before starting with Columbia, Marlene had been popular on radio and the stage. She plays frat parts as a rule and enjoys them, although she says they are difficult to do without being an obnoxious you antagonizes the audience. Some critics can't bear "fresh child actresses," she says. The biggest thrill she's had to date occurred the day she made her radio appearance with Peter Lawford.

Women who attended the Home Demonstration Club meeting last month will be glad to know that a meeting place has been secured through the generosity of W. G. Miller. Mr. Miller will permit them to use his garage for the meeting on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 23 at 2:00 p. m. Please bring a chair with you. At this meeting the Club will be officially organized and the time that is left will be used to discuss the topic, "Beautifully Your Home." All women of DeBary are most cordially invited to attend.
The religious service at the Manassah had the largest attendance thus far for last Sunday morning. Six children were among the congregation and a special story time was provided for them. It is planned to follow this same procedure every Sunday until a Sunday School can be organized. Mrs. Thomas requests that those who can sing, come at 10:30 a. m. for choir practice.

HOLLYWOOD — Are you a perfect wife?
Chances are, you come closer to being a perfect mate than your husband. A psychologist says that the man is more often at fault in imperfect marriages.
The expert is Dr. Maxon Rose, Ph. D., who is advising on a film with the hopeful title of "Dear Wife." He remarked that dream wives are more common than dream husbands.
"That doesn't mean that women are never at fault," he added. "But in my interviews on marital relations, I have found that the wives are more anxious to make marriage work than the husbands. Generally the woman is willing to conform to the man's wishes, if he knows what he wants."
The trouble with many U. S. marriages, Dr. Rose said, is that the men maintain an 18th century belief in the status of women.
"Most men don't want their wives to work," he said. "They feel that their children can't be properly reared by a working mother."
But a high-energy type of woman shouldn't be limited to being a housewife. Furthermore, surveys of primitive tribes in the South Pacific, where there is little child guidance, show a lack of neuroses and crime. It is highly regulated children who get neuroses. The only things children need are to be loved and to be wanted.
The perfect mate, he commented, are those who view marriage as a "partnership of equals." "Husband and wife must have equal rights and help each other," he said.
Dr. Rose offered a test to determine whether you are a perfect wife. Here are the questions:
1. Are you troubled because your husband differs from you in beliefs and standards?
2. Do you feel there are serious disadvantages to being married?
3. Do you have a better time with someone other than your husband?
4. Do you discuss intimate personal matters with your parents, relatives or friends?
5. Do you feel your husband does not consult you regarding important decisions?
6. Do you feel rebellious against or bored with your household duties?
7. Are you critical of your husband's small faults?
8. Are you easily upset when things go wrong?
9. Is your household budget usually in the red?
10. Do you know other wives who are better treated than you?
11. If a family quarrel occurs, do you use past disagreements as a weapon against your husband?
12. Do you feel that your husband is less attractive and successful than the husbands of your friends?
13. Would you like to be younger than you are?
14. Do you find it difficult to be a good mixer at parties?
15. Do you feel your marital responsibilities keep you tied down too much?
If you can answer "No" to 10 of the questions, you're a good wife. If your score is higher, take a bow.

OLD CARS, LESS ACCIDENTS

DENVER (AP)—A Colorado official came up with some rather surprising statistics for those who drive old cars. The older the car, the more accidents are responsible for most fatal highway accidents.
G. P. Fugate, director of the state revenue department, said 157 of 1,000 accidents were attributed to old cars in Colorado which caused 127 deaths in Colorado up to Sept. 1. Of these cars, 128 were passenger vehicles and only 29 of them had been licensed by 1949.

Surgeon Performs Delicate Operation On 3 Heart Cases

PENSACOLA (AP)—A prominent Eastern surgeon supervised performance of three delicate heart operations today as a feature of the 1952 Coast Clinical Society convention.

The operations, which apparently were successful, will permit three Florida and Alabama women who were doomed to die or become invalids to live normal lives.

The operation calls for the surgeon to go inside the heart to open up a tiny valve to allow blood to flow from one chamber to another.

The supervising physician, who has performed many of the 2,000 such operations carried out in this country since 1948, declined to allow use of his name.

The three patients were a 27-year-old Panama City, Fla., woman, and two 45-year-old women from Pensacola and Mobile.

The Panama City woman was Bernice Pennington, 27. Doctors had given Miss Pennington an invalid life three years from three to six months to live.

Names of the other two women were withheld temporarily.

The operations were to correct puckering of the mitral valve due to rheumatic scarring. This valve inside the heart is similar in structure to the human mouth. Because of the scarring it becomes puckered until only a tiny passageway exists to permit filling of the pump chamber of the heart.

Therefore the patient lives on a trickle of blood which, as the valve continues to scar, closes entirely and the patient dies.

In the operation the surgeon either by use of a finger or small knife splits one of the mouth-like valve inside the heart and allows the blood to flow again.

The operation was performed at Pensacola Baptist Hospital.

THE FIERCEST FIGHTING in a year is now underway along two-thirds of the Korean battlefield, with the Chinese Communists carrying the brunt of the attack. The Reds have made no appreciable gains. At top, brigades of a heavy mortar company of the 35th Infantry Regiment are blazing away at Red hill positions with a 4.2-inch mortar. Below, men wounded in action are taken to the 62nd Medical Clearing Company, U. S. 8th Army, and evacuated by C-47 transports to rear areas.

to power because it lost too many elections in the past."

"I know many a baseball fan who was rooting for the Brooklyn Dodgers in the past few years just because the Yankees had won too many times," the President said.

"It was time for a change."

"But you're not rooting at a ball game when you're rooting for me, are you?"

Nov. 4. This isn't a ball game. And it isn't a beauty contest. This is your bread and butter. This is your chance to elect a President.

That was in a speech prepared for a campaign rally at Hartford during intensive campaigning in Connecticut, New Hampshire and Massachusetts from early morning until late at night.

Moving by train and automobile with his daughter Margaret on the first lap of a four-day ending up in Brooklyn, N. Y. Saturday night, Truman said in his prepared Hartford address that Eisenhower has "compromised every principle of personal loyalty by accepting the scurrilous big lie attack on Gen. George C. Marshall."

He said Marshall, Eisenhower's "own commanding officer" in the second world war, is a man "who stands in a class by himself as a patriot devoted to the service of his country."

"The Republican candidate did have a few sentences in defense of Gen. Marshall included in a draft of his Milwaukee speech," Truman said, "but at the demand of Sen. McCarthy, he struck those sentences out, and he has uttered no word in defense of Gen. Marshall since."

Asserting the Republicans have lost elections "for good reason," Truman declared:

"The Republicans lost because they've put in 20 years of blind, thoughtless opposition almost everything the Democratic party has done to help the ordinary citizen."

"They lost because they've been dominated by special privilege, by the lobbies—because they've always voted with the special interests and against the people."

"They lost because they've been against world co-operation, against a healthy foreign trade, against aid to other peoples."

"They lost because they've been against minorities of all kinds, against the immigration into this country of Jews and Catholics, against equality of opportunity."

He said the Republican slogan, "I want a change," may be an appealing one, and added:

"I want a change, too. But I want a change that will not destroy all the good we've done. He added:

"You're not going to vote Republican because of what little brass glitter still shows under the tarnish of the candidate's compromises."

He declared Eisenhower has compromised so much that he "doesn't have much left to compromise."

He said the GOP nominee has compromised on foreign policy, on national defense, on labor, and on the question of personal loyalty to his commanding officer of world war two, Gen. Marshall.

Truman planned to wind up a campaign tour with another major speech around 9 p.m. (EST) in night at Manchester, N. H.

An automobile tour during the day made it possible for him to cover a large part of Connecticut, where two important Senate seats are at stake Nov. 4. In those states Democratic Party nominees are A. A. Ribicoff and W. A. Purtell and President Truman is accompanying his train to Springfield, Mass., where he will give a major speech at 8 p.m.

Mel Ferrer was born in Elkhorn, N. J., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ferrer. A few years later the family moved to New York City, where young Mel was reared and educated. Graduated from the Canterbury Prep School, he entered Princeton University in 1935. In his sophomore year he won the playwright's award.

The prize encouraged Ferrer to try a writing career. He left school and spent a year in Mexico, where he tried without success to turn the play into a novel. The year was not misspent, however. He learned enough about Mexican life to fit him instinctively for the Luis Buñuel role. And he managed to write a very good children's book, "Tito's Hats," which Doubleday published. Thereupon the Stephen Daye Press in Vermont hired him as an editor.

Even during college, Ferrer had spent his summers at the Cape Cod Playhouse in Dennis, Mass. When he reached leading-man status (he'd begun as a prop boy), he turned from publishing to the theater. His first two Broadway appearances were in dancing roles, in Cole Porter's "You'll Never Know" and Marc Connelly's "Everywhere I Roam." He played two years of Broadway shows, including the juvenile leads in "Kind

Tomorrow he will set out on a 10-day concentrated sweep by train and plane into the New England states. New York and Pennsylvania he is expected to concentrate his time and energy in the remaining days before election in the vote-heavy states of the East and Midwest.

Yesterday, he made his final bid for support in the Solid South by attempting to stir political rebellion in Texas, Louisiana and Tennessee.

In Ft. Worth, Dallas, Shreveport, Memphis and Knoxville, large and noisy crowds turned out to welcome him and heighten GOP hopes that Dixie isn't as solid as it has been in the past.

He said the opposition's "big guns and little guns" were telling "bunk lies" in saying his election would not "impair the effective working out of the Tennessee Valley Authority program."

New Popular Front Policy For World Reds Is Outlined

MOSCOW (AP)—With a new popular front policy outlined for world Communists, the spotlight shifted today from the 1952 Soviet Communist Party Congress which just ended here to the halls of the United Nations in New York.

A strong Soviet delegation may now be expected to make a major effort to implement the policies outlined at the Congress by Georgi Malenkov and Prime Minister Joseph Stalin, the chief of these delegates. Foreign Minister A. V. Vishinsky, has been elected by the Communist Central Committee, and a raft of Soviet diplomats, including Andrei Gromyko, are alternates on the committee, bespeaking confidence of the Kremlin in these men.

Stalin last told Communists in the most Communist countries they can be assured of Soviet support.

In fact, he addressed his final speech at the Congress Tuesday not to his domestic audience, but specifically to foreign Communists in capitalist countries. This put stress on the international aspect of Communism. The program now has several clear aspects.

First, Stalin stressed the Communist Union abroad who support the aims of people of their own nations. Second, he stressed a program abroad which would induce people to refuse to fight against the Soviet Union. Third, he strongly pointed up the importance of the example of the USSR and countries of the people's democracy. Communist-ruled nations. This example, he counseled, is a factor which must be kept in mind by Communists abroad.

Communists were instructed to seek in capitalist countries the aid of large sections of the population in defense of "bourgeois democratic freedoms" and of the "national principle" and of national interests, in particular as against those who "are betraying their nations for dollars." That is, the Communists would demand constitutional rights in non-Communist countries and would play upon "national independence" from the United States.

Bolita On Big Scale Is Charged By Two Officials In Miami

MIAMI (AP)—Two city commissioners Wednesday asserted that bolita is being allowed to operate on a big scale in Miami.

Commissioner Percina Palmer Jr. made the assertion and was backed up by Commissioner Hubert H. Glens Jr., who said his public investigation committee has evidence that will be brought out later in public hearings.

Bolita is a numbers game.

Palmer made his statement shortly after Mayor Charles J. Seneca called for a crackdown on the sale of lewd and pornographic books.

"While we are talking about law enforcement," Palmer said, "I voted against the $4,500 (for Glens committee) but I have heard that bolita is operating on a large scale now."

"I've heard about it and I've read it in the press. I'd like to know what the committee is doing," Glens replied.

The cultural was the first over-law enforcement in the city since E. A. Evans took over as city manager on Sept. 1. He also is public safety director. Evans said he had never ordered anything but strict law enforcement.

Jaycees

In this county, there are three ways we can obtain this:

1. Bond issue
2. Issuance of revenue certificates
3. Passage of amendment No. 1

The bond issue throws the burden too heavily on the shoulders of the freeholders and property owners. Revenue certificates are hard to sell and the only other means of financing the money needed for the schools is to vote for the first amendment, Mr. Williams pointed out.

He also said he would like to leave the decision up to the voters and not make any recommendation.

Amendment No. 2, enlarging the Supreme Court, has been vetoed by the lawyers of the state, he said. "It would give Governor Warren or any other governor the power to appoint three new justices and thus control the court. This is unhealthy and I am opposed to it," he declared.

The third amendment, home rule or county charter amendment, was endorsed by Mr. Williams on the ground this is something that should have been done a long time ago. It would permit local governments more power over their own affairs.

The fourth amendment is a classic example of the way the State Constitution is outmoded," he said. It provides for the addition of the second circuit judge in Leon county at Tallahassee. We, of course, need it, but why should we have to wait for the passage of a constitutional amendment before we can get another circuit judge?"

Amendments five and six deal with establishing permanent judicial districts in Monroe county (Key West) and Washington-Bay counties. "This would in effect make state senators out of Bernie Papp and Carl Gray and you know the record of both of these men. While I don't want to bring any personalities into this discussion, I have to mention this," Mr. Williams explained.

"I recommend that the voters cast their ballots against both five and six since the Constitution already provides for reelection every two years on the fifth year," he added, "by approving of these new senatorial districts in the proposed amendments, we would be establishing permanent districts that couldn't be changed by the periodic redistricting."

The rest of the amendments, 7-11, deal with local county changes and improvements as found necessary in each locality and they do not affect us, Mr. Williams said.

"Since they are proven needs for the localities affected, I endorse them. But this is just another example of our outmoded Constitution. Why should these counties have to have a constitutional amendment to put their employees on a salary basis such as sheriffs?"

Mr. Williams cited the eleventh amendment as a good idea. In the amendment it calls for placing Escambia county on a salary system. "All counties should have this system. Particularly the law enforcement branches that have to earn their wages by the number of arrests."

President Douglas Stenstrom thanked Mr. Williams and welcomed Dick Haley into the Jaycees.

It is estimated that about 70 million pounds of sugar are used annually in tobacco products.

Red Shore Batteries Hit Two US Vessels

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy reported today that Communist shore batteries shelled two U. S. ships off the east coast of North Korea Monday, killing one crewman and wounding 21.

The ships hit were the radar-packet destroyer Perkins and the mine-sweeper Ogprey. They suffered only "superficial damage," the announcement said.

The Perkins was straddled by gunfire on Monday while bombarding north of Kolo. Two bombs missed, off the port beam killed one man and wounded 117. Sixteen of the wounded suffered only minor injuries.

On the same day, the Ogprey received minor damage from shrapnel while operating off the port of Wonsan. Four men were wounded.

The man killed on the Perkins was Lt. A. Stenstrom, electrician 3rd class, son of Peter Stenstrom, Burlington, Iowa.

Immunity To Arrest Obtained By Payment

MIAMI (AP)—A witness in Charles Friedman's tax evasion trial told a federal court jury today that payment of a mysterious "operating expense" provided him with immunity from arrest.

Alfred B. Elliott testified that he operated as a bookie in Miami Beach hotels for many years and never refused to pay the "operating expense" although he sometimes complained to Friedman himself.

Friedman is accused by the government of evading $44,550 in income taxes during the years 1948 through 1947. The government declared his income was from a partnership in the S and C syndicate and other enterprises.

Coldest Weather Of Fall Visits Midwest

By The Associated Press

The coldest weather of the fall season hit wide areas in the Midwest today as Snow fell in some sections of the sub-freezing belt. Another cool front extended over some Eastern states.

The Weather Bureau reported a five-inch snow fall at International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian border. Light snow fell over the Northern Great Lakes region and in Western Wisconsin. A heavy frost, 14 above at Bemidji, Minn., and 13 above at Grand Forks, N. D., early today. The cold air headed southeastward.

It also was on the cool side from Western New England and New York state southwestward to Texas. Rain fell in Maine and along the Appalachian from New York to West Virginia.

or three meetings to finish its recommendations, but with a minimum of debate—and most of that sparked by fiery objections from Gromyko—the group finished its work yesterday.

Czechoslovakia introduced a surprise proposal that the UN discuss condemning the United States Mutual Security Act. The Czechs charged that it aimed at interfering appreciably in the internal affairs of the Soviet Union and other Communist countries by financing "subversion, sabotage, espionage and terrorism" inside their territory.

The Assembly last year refused to vote such a condemnation, but Gromyko, coming to the aid of Czechoslovakia's Jiri Nosek, said the charge still has "not lost its urgency." He said U. S. agents "have been caught red handed inside the Soviet Union," but he gave no further details.

Women were banned from Mt. Fuji, sacred Japanese mountain, until 1908.

Court Ruling Puts Disloyal Groups In Advantageous Spot

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals ruled today that mere membership in an organization listed by the attorney general as subversive is insufficient for firing a government worker.

If the worker is to be fired, the court held, there must be in addition to such membership a finding of reasonable grounds for disloyalty.

The court ruled in a case involving a decorated, World War II veteran, James Kutcher of Newark, N. J. He held that Carl R. Gray, administrator of veterans' affairs, failed to make a finding of reasonable grounds for disloyalty in firing Kutcher.

The court set aside an order removing Kutcher from the VA payroll but let stand an order suspending him pending determination by Gray "of the ultimate issue as to whether on all the evidence reasonable grounds exist for belief that Kutcher is disloyal to the government of the United States."

Kutcher admitted membership in the Socialist Workers party, generally described as the Trotsky wing of the Communist party. This organization has been described by the attorney general as seeking "to alter the form of the government of the United States by unconstitutional means."

Kutcher lost both his legs while serving as an infantryman in Italy in 1943.

It was made, and bring an end to public power development.

In his two stops in Tennessee, he took pains to declare his election would not "impair the effective working out of the Tennessee Valley Authority program."

touchy oil companies they called it "most unfortunate."

Iran nationalized the billion dollar Iranian properties of Anglo-Iranian Oil Company in the spring of 1951 and in July that year the Anglo-Iranian refinery of the company closed down. This deprived Iran of its main source of government income. The government now is virtually bankrupt.

Month after month, British and United States negotiators have sought to find some formula for an agreement to settle the bitter problems arising out of nationalization, but without success.

Mossadegh's latest formula for settlement of the one, the British turned down Tuesday, called for payment at once of 20 million pounds (50 million dollars) as a start step. That would be just the down payment on a total of 49 million pounds ($127,200,000) he claims is due Iran from AIOC in oil royalties. After that, the British negotiators could come to Tehran and discuss other questions, including AIOC's demand for compensation for its seized properties.

Stengel Is Named Manager Of Year For Second Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles Dillon Stengel has been honored for the second time as the National League manager of the year. He was named manager of the year for the second time in 1952, having won the honor in 1951.

The "Old Perfomer" was named on 87 of the 72 ballots cast by baseball writers in the Associated Press poll. The honor, which is voted on by the 10-year-old National League, is the highest honor in the sport.

Stengel, 57, won his fourth straight pennant and world championship, tying a record held only by Joe McCarthy, another Yankee manager. The runner-up position went to Eddie Stanky in his first year as a major league player. Eddie brought a fan to midlife in St. Louis Cardinal squad home third in the National League race.

As it was, Stanky just moved out Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics, who surprised by parlaying Bobby Shantz and Ferris Fain into a fourth-place finish for his team. It was only the second time in 10 years that an American League Philadelphia entry has finished in the first division.

Another scrappy American League manager, Buck Harris of Washington, received enough consideration to be tied for fifth place with Chuck Dressen of Brooklyn, who did commendably with his team in the National League race.

Harris steered his team into fifth place after they had almost a unanimous choice for the cellar in preseason pickings.

The Giants' Lou Burcher, Manager of the Year in 1951, received five votes and fourth place for almost as good a job this year.

Illini's O'Connell Is Voted Best Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy O'Connell, a 22-year-old junior who sprang the air with footballs for the University of Illinois, today was voted the best back of the week in The Associated Press' poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

O'Connell has been the main offensive weapon of the Rose Bowl champions all season, but he really let go last Saturday against Washington when he tossed five touchdown passes within 21 minutes.

That gave him a total of 620 yards gained through the air on 32 completions in 64 tries and an average of 30.6. His aerials have gained almost twice as much yardage as the entire Illinois offensive has been able to muster on the ground.

Against Washington, which he could do nothing more than hope he would miss his target — the Huskies couldn't get near the ball — he completed 14 of 17 throws for 202 yards in his team's only impressive 48-14 triumph after being upset by Wisconsin the previous week.

To make his performance even more amazing is the fact that he played a little more than 30 minutes, or just about half the game.

Gators Run Through Most Rugged Drills

GAINESVILLE (AP) — Florida's Gators held their last tough day of practice Wednesday in preparation for their second Southeastern Conference start of the season Saturday.

Coach Bob Woodruff has tried all week to avoid a letdown after the Gators' record-breaking 54-13 win over Clemson last Saturday. Spirit is high in the Gator camp after two days of scrimmages and the team seems to be ready mentally for the clash with Vanderbilt in Nashville this weekend.

Physically, the Gators aren't ready as Halback Buford Long, the SEC's leading scorer, is still trying to loosen a badly bruised shoulder suffered in the Clemson clash.

With Long missing, the Florida backfield appeared to lack something and were fumbling quite a bit during scrimmages with the B squad.

The defensive unit, with Guard Joe D'Agostino apparently as good as never after being somewhat crippled early in the week, looked especially good in rushing B square punters.

MIAMI HIGH

MIAMI (AP) — Miami High continues to pace the Miami Herald's weekly football poll, with Miami Edison moving into second place.

Miami High received 287 points in this week's balloting, with Edison getting 250 points. Mam Jackson was third with 233 and Tamiami Hills fourth with 194. West Palm Beach, 123; Jefferson of Tampa, 101; Ocala, 25; and Ft. Pierce, 11 points.

TAMPA

TAMPA (AP) — Contact work was kept to a minimum by the University of Tampa Spartans Wednesday in preparation for the game with Stetson University Saturday night. Colds and a large number of injuries have reduced the Spartans' effective strength.

The first strong defensive unit poked good against Stetson May 1 in Wednesday's drill but Coach Marcelino Huerta warned that the boys were being run only by B team players.

NEW YORK (AP) — Three of New York's harness racing tracks will be in operation during part of October. A fall meeting at Saratoga Springs runs from Sept. 29 to Nov. 15, the Batavia Downs season at Batavia, N. Y., which opened in August, ends Nov. 1 and at Saratoga Springs the season will be in action until Oct. 11.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

FRED ALLEN speaking: "When a woman calls down I'll be ready in a minute, there's only one thing you can be sure of: she speaks English."

A recent issue of Otto Ernest Rayburn's Ozark Guide, published in Eureka Springs, Ark., contains this nugget: During World War II the U. S. Army took over an area in the Ozark foothills as a site for artillery practice. All civilians were ordered out. When the battery had been set up and the firing began, the officer in the observation tower phoned, "Cease firing! Signs of life near target. Send party to investigate."

When the detail approached the target, there emerged from the brush an old-timer with white beard down to his waistline, waving a tattered old towel. He yelled, "I don't give a darn what General Lee says. I'm surrendering!"

Columbia Pedagogues Disagree On Politics

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty Columbia University faculty members issued a pro-Eisenhower statement yesterday and 300 pro-Stevenson adherents at Columbia countered with a full-page newspaper advertisement.

The GOP ticket is headed by Dwight D. Eisenhower, on leave without pay as president of Columbia.

The Columbia faculty members and administrators, including Football Coach Lou Little, signed a statement calling the Republican nominee "the best qualified candidate for the office."

A full-page ad backing Stevenson, signed by 300 faculty and staff members, appeared in today's New York Times.

The advertisement said "the high level of his Stevenson's campaign is a landmark in the history of American politics."

Seminole JV's Stun Mainland Of Daytona Beach, 32-0

JayVees Win Second Straight Shutout; Jones Races 100 Yards For 1st TD

By SAM JACOBSON
 The Seminole High School Jayvees eleven Monday night added another bit of glitter to an already bright S.H.S. grid picture by triumphing 32-0 over Mainland of Daytona Beach in Memorial Stadium in Daytona, the contest marked the second straight time the Habs Feds have run up a big score without being scored upon. In their only previous encounter in the 1952 season they bested past a DeLand Junior Varsity by a 31 to 0 count.

The Baby Vees, a perennial toughie for local teams, began things with a flourish as they received the opening kick-off and proceeded to play Sanford to a standstill for the first quarter. Operating from T-formation the home team laid out an sustained drive that carried into Fed territory before stalling. As the first quarter ended they were firmly enamped on the Sanford 20-yard line.

Two more plays moved the ball down inside in the 10, and then on second down, Johnny Jones gathered in a huc pass on his own goal line and out-thrived the whole Mainland line for 100 yards and the first score of the encounter. Jim Hawkins converted, and Sanford led 7 to 0.

Then the Seminole machine shifted into high gear. Spurred by the passing and the ground game of willowy Randy Reynolds, the locals quickly counted again. Despite several costly penalties, they played the last part of the period continually in huc territory.

With the opening of the final half it became more and more apparent that the only question concerning the final score was by how much was Sanford going to win.

With Jones, Reynolds, Hawkins and Dallas Turner, alternating the leather toting chores, the locals struck for three more lightning-like scores. The hulk-like Jones and Reynolds picked one another out allly while Turner supplied the remaining touchdowns. Ralph Flowers skirted his right end for the only extra point of the half.

With the score at 32 to 0 early in the fourth period, Fed mentor, John Scott, yanked all of his regulars from the line-up and injected his entire bench into the fray.

Proving particularly pleasing to Scott were his two captains, Larry Bates and Ralph Flowers.

Bates, who stayed in longer than any other starter, turned in an outstanding game at his line-backer position. Flowers, who also called signals, was a real defensive bulwark for the Feds. The Lake Monroe lad also turned in a couple of nice runs.

Also gratifying was the devastating ground game played by Johnny Jones. A freshman, Jim Hawkins, continued to shine in the Fed backfield. End Jimmy Whetson and tackle Robert Newman each played a good part of the contest in the Mainland backfield.

Back Scores Two TD's But Loses 6 Yards Per Play

By SAM JACOBSON
 GAINESVILLE, — (Special)—The fellow who said that figures don't lie could not have known that the Florida Gator quarter-back would come up with the statistical improbability he has for four games.

In a statistical nutshell, Dickey has run with the ball four times, gained two yards, lost eight yards, for a net gain of minus six, with one yard as his longest run from scrimmage. But in spite of all that reverse arithmetic, he has scored two touchdowns from scrimmage.

How? Well, the Gainesville boy slipped over two one-yard quarterback sneaks against Clemson, each of them for a touchdown. And defensive tackle Howard (Red) Chapman, whose personal statistics stand at 0-4 and weigh 228 pounds, sports an accomplishment equally as unusual.

Chapman, who hails from Corleena, Texas, has intercepted one pass, returned it no yards and yet has scored a touchdown by pass interception. He and several other Gators were stalling Clemson Don King in the Tiger end zone when King decided to rid himself of the ball.

When King drew his arm back, Florida end Jerry Bilyk unloaded at him. The ball popped out of King's hand into the waiting arms of Chapman, who was standing in the end zone for a no-yardage touchdown.

Florida Picked To Defeat Vandy And Tennessee To Win In Alabama Clash

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
 NEW YORK — (Special)—Once upon a time there was a little girl who always wore a red dress, coat and hat. She was known as Little Red Riding Hood. One Saturday afternoon she went into the woods to visit her grandmother—and missed all the football scores.

But she missed nothing. She had read these predictions and knew how all the games would come out. Last week's record 44 correct, 12 incorrect for 788. The 788 also is the season's average.

Michigan State over Syracuse: The Spartans, no matter which of his three teams Coach Blagie Munn plays, have won the nation's best Syracuse, possibly the East's best, should make it interesting.

Maryland over Navy: Two unbeaten neighbors, and you know there is no brawl like a neighborhood brawl.

Oklahoma over Kansas: Primarily from habit. The Big Seven title runs on this one.

California over Santa Clara: California's great back is Johnny Olszewski, nicknamed Johnny O. After this game they will chant it "Oh Johnny!"

Georgia Tech over Auburn: The Georgia Engineers are out to build a perfect season.

Duke over North Carolina State: Hardly more than a workout.

USC over Stanford: USC's defense, with Duan Moomaw as the big man, has yielded only two touchdowns in the first four games.

Purdue over Notre Dame: M. Dale Samuels to fill the air with footballs.

Southern California over Oregon State: The Trojans appear to have pushed Oregon to the edge of the woods which so often hampers California teams in the Northwest.

Pittsburgh over Army: Two surprise winners of last Saturday col-ider. The Cats not deep enough to curtail the Panthers.

Texas over Arkansas: The Long horns to pull themselves together after the Oklahoma debacle.

Yale over Cornell: This is the TV game of the week and the Yale sophomores will take full advantage of it.

The others:
 East: Holy Cross over Brown, Colgate over Harvard, Coast Guard over Amherst, Princeton over Lafayette, Penn State over Nebraska, Penn over Columbia, Queen's over Rutgers, Dartmouth over Furman, Traylor over Colby, Williams over Bowdoin, Rochester over William, Boston University over Vermont.

Midwest: Marquette over Arizona, Colorado over Iowa State, Detroit over Drake, Illinois over Minnesota, Michigan over Wisconsin, Missouri over Oklahoma A & M, Wichita over Miami of Ohio, Indiana over Temple, Ohio State over Washington State, Wisconsin over Iowa, Tulsa over Kansas State.

South: Tennessee over Alabama, Florida over Vanderbilt, LSU over Georgia, Georgia Washington over Virginia Tech, Mississippi State over Kentucky, Tulane over Mississippi, Virginia over Virginia Military, Virginia over Washington & Lee, Wake Forest over North Carolina.

Southwest: Baylor over Texas Tech, Southern Methodist over Rice, Southern Christian over Texas A & M.

Far West: Colorado A & M over Montana, Wyoming over New Mexico, Idaho over North Dakota State, Washington over Oregon, Utah over Denver.

Harold Long, speedy Florida Gator halfback from Lake Wales, pushed over two touchdowns against Clemson last week to take over undisputed leadership of the Southeastern Conference scorers with 42 points. His nearest competitor, Bobby Luna of Alabama, scored one touchdown against VPI Saturday to bring his total for the season to 35 points.

Stetson Special To Take Sanford Fans To Tampa

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
 DELAND — (Special)—The "Quarterback Special," a charter train carrying Stetson supporters to the game with Tampa University Saturday, will complete its load in Sanford.

The Hatter-Caravan will commence in Deland at 2 p.m. Saturday and after taking aboard Stetson fans in Ocala and Sanford will roll into Tampa at 5:30.

With thoughts of their impressive 28-14 victory over Furman last Saturday pushed aside, the Hatters got down to business in their drills Tuesday.

They will go into the fray with Tampa Saturday sporting a two-win and one-loss record. The Spartans hold a three and one mark.

In final acclamation of the Hatters' victory over Furman, Coach Fatter added additional praise to the performance of the line and pin-pointed the efforts of Halfback Willie Han both offensively and defensively.

He was named "back of the Week" by Florida Sports writers for his impressive play. The encounter Saturday will be the fifteenth meeting of the two schools since the Spartans started intercollegiate football in 1933. Of this period, the Hatters hold a seven to five edge in games won. Two games have ended in ties, one of these being a 14-14 decision last year.

The football squad and band will make the journey by charter-buses leaving space for more fans on the train.

Floyd Palmer and Faust's Drug Store will take reservations for the train and for tickets in the Stetson section of the stands.

Carter Decisions After 15-Rounds

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
 CHICAGO (AP)—Gifty Laura Salas, who left a job as stenographer on the Mexican National Railway to take up boxing, left a switch to her father, Jimmy Carter, to open last night and Jimmy Carter expressed through to retain the world's lightweight championship.

The 24-year-old youth from Monterrey and Los Angeles showed up as an invincible champion in standing up to Carter's sharp shots. But that was about all.

The peppery Little New York Negro, displaying a terrific left hook as his main weapon, made it look as easy as taking candy from a baby.

After 15 rounds, blood flowed from vicious gashes on both of Salas' eyebrows, a split lower lip and a battered nose.

His five-month reign as his country's only undisputed champion in ring history ended as abruptly as it began last night when he lifted Carter's crown in Los Angeles.

The nationally televised and broadcast scrap of Choson Stadium attracted only 5,268 fans at ringside, one of the smallest championship crowds on record. Carter and Salas each received $4,428 as a share in a net gate of $11,425. But each also picked up nearly $10,000 from television receipts.

Carter's decision was overwhelming as he became the first lightweight to recapture the title since Lou Ambers did it against Henry Armstrong in 1933.

The official point-scoring showed Referee Frank Gilmer favoring Carter, 81-69, Judge James McManus, 82-68, and Judge Frank McAdams Jr., 84-66.

They awarded Salas the 11th and 12th rounds when the little Mexican rattled furiously and desperately to force Carter into the ropes several times.

But Carter was never hurt and not even severely jolted.

The best that could be said of Salas was his ability to weather Carter's smashes and keep a record intact of never having been knocked off his feet.

Carter weighed 135, Salas, 132. Willie Ketchum, Carter's manager, said he may rematch the 28-year-old champion against the winner of the Phil Kim-Art Argon scrap in Los Angeles. He said the bout, if arranged, would be in Los Angeles.

Salas said he was saddened by losing the title for Mexico.

"It was my worst fight in two years," he mumbled. "My punches were very bad. Carter was no better than when I beat him five months ago."

Carter said:

"I figured all along that Salas was going to fight like he did last time we met. So when he came

 CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today sold shortstop Merrill Combs and catcher Joe Meehan to their farm club at Indians and bought Tommie Agee from the Yankees.

The Indians also bought pitcher Smith, a third baseman and outfielder from Indianapolis.

Vandy Commodores Are Surprise Of SEC This Season

By The Associated Press
 Vanderbilt's Commodores, one of the surprises of the Southeastern Conference this season, held a full-speed scrimmage in the rain Wednesday in preparation for Saturday's encounter with Florida.

The Commodores, who weren't expected to do much this year, have tied Northwestern and Mississippi their last two contests. Freshman Quarterback Bill Krieteinyer, who leads the SEC in total offense, turned in a good performance in spite of the wet ball and slippery turf.

Coach Bob Woodruff moved Reed Quinn, senior halfback, up to Florida's first team in yesterday's drills. Quinn took the place of Bill Long, who has an injured hip and may not play against Auburn.

Georgia Tech shied away from full-speed contact work in preparing for Auburn. Fullback Glenn Turner and Tackle Roger Frey were on the doubtful list with injuries and Coach Bobby Dodd took no chances on additional casualties.

Auburn drilled on its ground game Dudley Spence, Rigas Coplin and Charles Hataway did most of the carrying.

Kentucky prepared for Mississippi State with a short offensive scrimmage. It was announced that Quarterback Harold Gruner was dropped from the squad for insubordination. Coach Bear Bryant didn't elaborate on the statement.

Mississippi State held its toughest scrimmage of the season Tuesday night.

LSU's Coach Gaynell Tinsley having his squad a good tongue lashing for "complacency" after Saturday's 24-10 victory over his boys. "Any semblance of complacency by any individual would result in certain defeat for us Saturday night."

Georgia's Coach Wally Butts worked his squad on pass defense. He named Art DeCarlo as Saturday's safetyman and said Hunker Hill and freshman Jerry Williams will man the defensive halfback posts.

Talback Jimmy Wade, out of every game so far this year with a knee injury, was named Saturday with Tennessee's first team in its game with Alabama. Wade participated in the Vols workout yesterday.

Alabama held a light dummy scrimmage. Tackle Billy Shipp, who had been out with injuries, returned to the squad.

Mississippi concentrated on offense. Coach Johnny Vaughn said Harold Lofton will start at fullback in place of Jim Matthews, who has a sprained ankle.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of large, Florida young men who won 97 percent last week for county football championship are in our midst, warming up to play a picked New York team under the lights Saturday night at the Polo grounds.

Having surmounted some linguistic difficulties, we are in position, through the courtesy and patience of Michael Vincent O'Donoghue, president of the Gaelic Athletic Association of Ireland, to tell you a few things about Ireland's favorite game, including the fact that 65,000 persons sat and stood in a steady downpour to watch the title game at Dublin on Saturday.

There are 20 players on the Cork squad, but it is possible that only 15 of them will get into the game here. That is the number on a side, and no substitutions are permitted unless a player is knocked more or less cold and is judged to be in no condition to continue.

The game is played on a field 160 yards by 93, approximately one-third larger than ours. It is played in two 20-minute halves and action is continuous except for a 10-minute breather at the half.

The ball may be kicked or it may be handled. That is, a player may grab it and run as many as three steps—no more—before sending the sphere on its way, either by a kick or by punching it with his fist. If the player is smart, O'Donoghue added, he will get rid of the ball in a hurry, for as long as it is in his possession he is in full control of the opposition.

"We have a team that can give our boys a rough time—and could beat us."

Tech is favored by three touchdowns.

Both teams have key players injured. Auburn's first string offensive right guard, Foy Thompson, suffered a separated shoulder last week and is lost for the Tech game.

Auburn Will Watch Tech's Buck Martin In This Year's Contest

By MERCER BAILEY
 ATLANTA (AP)—Buck Martin, Georgia Tech's ace passer and end, will be a marked man in the Yellow Jackets' game Saturday against Auburn.

The Tigers haven't forgotten that Martin caught four touchdown passes last year to give Tech a 27-7 victory after its ground attack was bottled up.

"Team spirit is high," remarked Auburn Coach Ralph Jordan today. "The boys are going to Atlanta with the idea that Tech can be beaten—and that they can do it."

Tech, ranked the No. 4 team in the nation in The Associated Press poll, hasn't been beaten in its last 18 games.

"But that doesn't mean we consider ourselves unbeatable," Coach Bobby Dodd of Tech commented. "We have tremendous respect for Auburn. I consider Maryland the top team in the country and Auburn had Maryland beaten, 7-6, until the last two minutes of the game."

"Any team that can do that can give our boys a rough time—and could beat us."

Tech is favored by three touchdowns.

Both teams have key players injured. Auburn's first string offensive right guard, Foy Thompson, suffered a separated shoulder last week and is lost for the Tech game.

BROTHERS
 DELAND (AP)—Two brothers may depend each other when Stetson and Tampa night fall in Deland, Tampa Saturday night. B. J. Leathers is a regular defensive guard for Stetson and Al Leathers is a fullback at Tampa.

The Stetson Hatters begin easing off the pace of their preparations for the game today. Their last hard workout under the lights Wednesday night featured pass defense, a major weakness with Stetson in its two wins and one defeat.

WILLIE HOPPE
 CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Hoppe, sports longest-reigning champion, today officially announced his retirement from active billiard tournament competition.

The "Old Master" who reached 65 last Saturday, closes a 46-year reign as the world's No. 1 tournament billiard player.

Hoppe, who won a world's title on Jan. 15, 1906, at Paris, France as a lad of 18. Ever since, he has held a world championship of some kind or other in the billiard field.

Gator Fullback Has Goalline "Gremlin"
 GAINESVILLE (Special)—Florida's fullback (Red) Quinn of Austin, Texas, has a special little football gremlin who hangs around the goal line. Quinn is trying to cross.

Against Georgia Tech last year Quinn caught a pass and turned in a spectacular 32-yard run only to fumble on the Tech three yard line. This year against Citadel he gathered in another pass and dodged 40 yards through a broken field to score a touchdown that was called back for an offside penalty.

Last Saturday in the Clemson game Quinn took a pass and stood the spectators up with a twisting 26-yard run that ended abruptly when a Gator teammate crashed head-on into Quinn on the Clemson four. (PR: Quinn scored later on a one-yard plunge.)

Miami Is Eyeing Marciano - Walcott Bout This Winter

MIAMI (AP)—The City Commission was to consider again today a proposal to help bring the Rocky Marciano and Jersey Joe Walcott to Miami this winter.

The commission Wednesday voted to waive the 5 per cent tax on boxing for the show, but declined to approve a $25,000 subsidy to get the match for the Orange Bowl Stadium this winter.

Mal W. Peoples, representative of the International Boxing Club, asked for the waiver and subsidy. He was joined by John Red Lake, chairman of the Miami Boxing Commission; City Publicity Director; Holte Avery and Welfare Director Knox Elderidge.

Peoples, Miami promoter, said he had no assurance that the bout would come here even with the subsidy. He reported offers from both Philadelphia and Jersey City.

If the fight comes to Miami, Peoples said, it will be televised outside Florida. Marciano won the heavyweight title from Walcott in Philadelphia last month.

MIAMI
 MIAMI (AP)—Coach Andy Gustafson said today he will let his University of Miami football quarterbacks speak for themselves against the University of Richmond Spid Saturday night in the Orange Bowl Friday night.

"I'm not saying anything about the squad this week," Gustafson said. "They'll have to speak for themselves Friday night."

The Hurricanes, who bowed to Boston University 37 last week, worked out Wednesday with an offensive backfield of Don James at quarterback, Harry Mallon at left, Bud Constantino at right and Bob Musketti at fullback.

Richmond will arrive in Miami at noon Friday for the clash at 6:15 p.m.

TAMPA YACHTING
 TAMPA (AP)—The fall yachting season on the Florida West Coast will open Oct. 25 with the fourth annual Tampa to Bradenton sailing race.

Hardware Show Is Mixture Of Things Including Blondes

By SAUL PETT (For Hal Boyle)
NEW YORK (AP)—All in all, I had a rather busy time at the National Hardware Show.

I met some lovely young blondes who know even less about hardware than I do but more about hardware men. I talked with three rascally young birds who tried to sell me electrical appliances. I also watched a gripping puppet show and picked up a free sample of "Scru-Tite Screw Anchors."

All was relatively quiet in putty knives, plungers and pest mops but the next booth a man said I'd be surprised what they're doing these days with dovelling files, ratchet tap wrenches, feeler gages, trammel points and repairmen's removers.

Early in my tour, I discovered that there is such a thing as left handed cutting shears. Then I weighed myself on a piece of aluminum screen to prove how strong it was and that proved rather dismal. My weight, I mean, was the reverse.

Crossing to another booth, I talked with an executive-type person who whispered confidentially that the trend is definitely swinging away from plastic back to wooden toilet seats.

Moving from power drills with an attachment for mixing whisky sour or cake batter, I met a well formed blonde coming down the aisle.

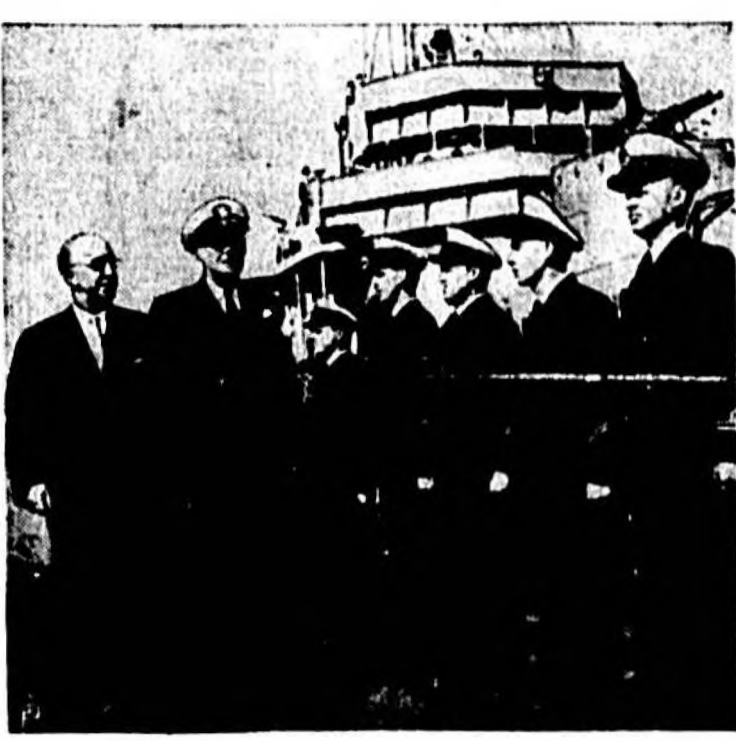

She wore a string of pearls, pearl earrings, black high-heeled shoes and across her chest a sash indicating her heart belonged to "Lester. Paint Brushes."

Rather bored with the question, the young lady said she wasn't supposed to know anything about brushes. She was just supposed to walk around. Must have been, she admitted, are nice but hard work wets don't flee from the obvious. "You won't give me a fast brush, will you?" Item: "Can you paint the town red?"

Over the roar of power saws, drills and hammers, a strange whistling drew my attention. A booth featuring three talking Mynah birds named "Tevee" and "Acee" and "Devee" occupied a duplex cage with built-in microphones. A lady led them through some enchanting dialogue in which the birds talked like a cat, whistled like a dog and said goodbyes in a female voice.

"A cutting a curtain off a third cage, the lady asked "Tevee" about Westinghouse and the bird said, "In line, darling, how are you?" The lady said she was thinking about Westinghouse and the bird said, after a tense moment, "You can be sure it's Westinghouse."

Another attractive blonde appeared in the aisle, wearing a "Weather-All" padded suit from her neck to her soles. "This will keep you warm in 40 degrees below zero," she explained. "They're using them in ice cream factories."

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

OLE DAN LAKE TO SEW FUM DE LADIES AID, BUT SHE JEG LAK T'NEEDLE ME!

CHERRY HAS ALL SHOOT WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) This fellow Don Cherry, who went to the semi-finals of the national amateur golf tournament, is no Johnny-come-lately. He has been a golfer for a long time.

Don is more noted for his singing than his links accomplishments, however. Until this year he did most of his golfing in Texas. Twice he was West Texas champion.

His friend, Rufus King of Wichita Falls, who went to the final of the national amateur several years ago, says Don has all the shots, that he's a long driver, a good iron player and when he's putting well he's tough for anybody to beat.

Cherry gets mad at himself when he misses a shot. But he's not the type who throws the clubs, blows up or stalks off when he does miss one. He just comes back fighting harder.

It's only natural that Cherry is a favorite in this area. He's a Wichita Falls native and worked his way through high school as a delivery boy and as a caddy at the country club. He attended Hardin College before entering military service.

Alaskan Election Reveals Trend To Republican Party

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Alaska apparently returned their Democratic delegate to Congress, but the first day's counting of Tuesday's general election vote showed a tide toward a Republican Legislature.

Late returns from the Anchorage area last night boosted Delegate E. L. Bartlett's lead to nearly 2,400 votes — apparently decisive but whittled down sharply from his 3:1 victory margin of 1950.

In the political "watershed" legislative race, the Republicans, who campaigned on the party's national "It's time for a change" slogan, had an edge for 26 out of 33 seats in the Legislature.

Republicans were leading by varying margins for 19 of the 26 seats, for the whole territory, in the lower houses in the present Legislature, the Democrats have held a 14 to 10 edge.

Republicans were leading for seven out of nine territorial Senate seats. The incumbents were six Democrats and three Republicans.

The election, especially the legislative, is viewed as a barometer to indicate what the national election trend may be because of the

Members Of Board File Suit Against Western Union

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Five members of the Florida State Milk Board claim in a circuit court suit here that Western Union Telegraph company libeled them by accepting and transmitting telegrams accusing them of irregularities and graft.

Each of the five is asking $100,000 damages.

The suit alleges that the telegrams were sent from Miami April 22, 1952, over the name of Circuit Judge J. Fritz Gordon but that the judge didn't send them.

The board members contend the telegrams were accepted by the telegraph company from some person who telephoned them to its Miami office and had them charged to Judge Gordon's telephone bill.

The wires, addressed to the board members, were transmitted to Tallahassee and finally delivered to board Administrator L. K. Nicholas in Jacksonville by the suit alleges.

They purported to have the judge advising the board members that irregularities on their part were alleged in a case coming up for trial shortly and urging the board to "clean house now."

The telegrams also said evidence in the purported suit "alleged preferential discounts to large users, kickbacks to salesman, graft to members, letters stating complete unconcern toward consumers in interests."

Board members who brought the suits are Louis Sheffield and Roy Elliott, Jacksonville; John Heintz, Panama City; Henry Schneider, Eustis; and John Scott Gainesville.

JAPAN TO HAVE WHITE HOUSE

TOKYO (AP)—Japan will soon have its own "White House" for the elected chief of state.

A two-story, white tile house, about 15 minutes drive from downtown Tokyo, will be provided for the prime minister. The house, following Western architectural styling, has a 70,000 square foot garden and more than 14,000 square feet of floor space.

The prime minister presently lives in the house designated for Japan's foreign minister.

Life In Prison Is Given Miami Beach Slayer Of Ex-Wife

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Life in prison was meted out Wednesday to David Brecher, 34-year-old former New York taxi driver, charged here with the slaying of his ex-wife in a Miami Beach courtroom.

Brecher pleaded guilty to a first degree murder charge and could have been sentenced to the electric chair.

Witnesses testified Brecher stopped on a patrol in Miami Beach June 2 and shot Mrs. Anne Brecher five times. Witnesses said he had tried to prevent Brecher from leaving their three-year-old child Mrs. Brecher.

Current Judge J. Fritz Gordon said in passing sentence that he could not find any other person who could be held responsible for the slaying. He said the slaying could have been prevented if the police had been alerted.

There has been no previous record for Brecher, a child by parents and born in New York. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs 160 pounds, has brown hair and blue eyes. He is a native of New York.

The slaying of Brecher's wife, 34, occurred in a Miami Beach rooming house on June 2. Brecher was charged with the slaying of his wife, 34, on June 2.

Student Of Child Problems Tells Of Important Factors

Children have more capacity for understanding themselves than parents and educators realize, says Dr. Arthur H. Fessell, well-known psychologist and consultant.

Dr. Fessell is a professor of education at Columbia University. His teachers' college has just published "The Psychology of Children," the latest in the series of publications at Teachers College.

Dr. Fessell writes: "There is a need of stimulating worthwhile educational programs for young children by doing something for the child and youth acquire realistic attitudes of self-acceptance. A large proportion of the young people now entering adulthood are burdened with anxiety, hostility, deformed attitudes toward their selves and others, feelings of guilt, inferiority, or other forms of self-measurement and self-frustration."

"They struggle not only with the real dangers and problems in our world, but also with an unreal, childhood of fears. They are faced with conflicts arising from unrealistic concepts and unrealistic attitudes which they derive from childhood and which

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Five members of the Florida State Milk Board claim in a circuit court suit here that Western Union Telegraph company libeled them by accepting and transmitting telegrams accusing them of irregularities and graft.

Each of the five is asking $100,000 damages.

The suit alleges that the telegrams were sent from Miami April 22, 1952, over the name of Circuit Judge J. Fritz Gordon but that the judge didn't send them.

The board members contend the telegrams were accepted by the telegraph company from some person who telephoned them to its Miami office and had them charged to Judge Gordon's telephone bill.

The wires, addressed to the board members, were transmitted to Tallahassee and finally delivered to board Administrator L. K. Nicholas in Jacksonville by the suit alleges.

They purported to have the judge advising the board members that irregularities on their part were alleged in a case coming up for trial shortly and urging the board to "clean house now."

The telegrams also said evidence in the purported suit "alleged preferential discounts to large users, kickbacks to salesman, graft to members, letters stating complete unconcern toward consumers in interests."

Board members who brought the suits are Louis Sheffield and Roy Elliott, Jacksonville; John Heintz, Panama City; Henry Schneider, Eustis; and John Scott Gainesville.

Children Are Fond Of Fantasy Books With Simple Plots

By David Taylor Marks
Nothing is more pleasing to children than a simple plot and a happy ending. The children's world is a world of fantasy and imagination. They love to read about heroes and adventures. The books they like are those that are easy to read and have a simple plot. They like to see the good guys win and the bad guys get their comeuppance. They like to see the hero save the day and bring everyone back to safety. They like to see the hero become a hero and be admired by everyone. U.S. Note Charges Soviet Russia With Attack On Bomber

Sharply Worded Mis-sive Describes Destruction Of B-29 As "Unjustifiable"

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States charged today in a note to Moscow that Russian planes made "twofold and unjustifiable attack" on the American B-29 plane missing off Japan since Oct. 7. The note demanded compensation.

Payment in order, the U. S. said, both for the loss of the plane and for the lives of any of the crew of eight who may have perished.

The U. S. declared the B-29 was on a routine flight off the northern end of Japan, was entirely unarmored and its officers were under explicit orders to remain within Japanese territory.

Whereas the Russians have committed the U. S. aircraft violation Soviet frontiers, the U. S. note said the attack actually occurred some six miles from the Japanese island of Hokkaido and 32 miles from Russian-occupied Yuzi Island.

The sharply worded U. S. note advised Moscow "to consider the grave consequences which can flow from its reckless practice, if it persisted in, of attacking without provocation the aircraft of other states."

It rejected the Soviet claim, made in a Russian note of Oct. 12, that the bomber was over Soviet territory and opened Soviet Soviet fighter planes before it disappeared.

Moscow was asked to furnish an immediate report on the results of a search operation believed to have been carried out by a Soviet patrol boat operating from Suifu to Tsingtao, and to provide full information about any crew members who might have survived.

Two Witnesses In Caudle Probe Indicted Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jacob Freidus and Larry Knohl, figures in the congressional investigation of former Assistant Atty. Gen. T. Lamar Caudle, were indicted today on charges of making false statements to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The indictment returned by a federal grand jury accused Freidus and Knohl of giving false information in several letters and financial statements submitted to the RFC during attempts to buy the assets of the Alron Manufacturing Co., Kansas City, Kans., about two years ago. The firm was then engaged in production and sale of juke boxes and other electrical devices.

Through the Stratton Television Corp. of New York, in which Freidus and his wife were controlling stockholders, Freidus and Knohl offered RFC $700,000 for the Alron facilities. Both men are residents of New York.

The indictment contains three counts—two of false statements and one of conspiracy. Conviction would carry maximum penalties of 15 years imprisonment and $50,000 fine.

The names of Freidus and Knohl were included in the congressional investigation of Caudle in connection with an airplane sale on which Caudle received a $5,000 commission.

Knohl was the purchaser of the plane in 1950. At the time, he was working for Freidus, who was in tax difficulties and who subsequently was arrested for four years for tax fraud involving some $250,000. Freidus is still in prison.

Caudle at that time was assistant attorney general in charge of a general investigation of the closure of the airplane commission that President Truman fired Caudle on grounds his outside activities were incompatible with his official duties.

Suit And Counter Suit Are Filed In Office Of Clerk

Separate suits for damages were filed yesterday at the Court House in which Mrs. Meredith, Longwood, seeks $800 from Mrs. Otto F. Faulhaber, Altamonte Springs, while Mr. Faulhaber is seeking $100 from Mrs. Meredith on a promissory note he is holding.

In the former suit, filed by Mrs. Meredith's attorney, Fred B. Wilson, the plaintiff contends that Mrs. Faulhaber owes her $800 interest from Sept. 1, after she sold a piece of property for her for $10,000 and the deal fell through.

According to the file, Mrs. Meredith sold the property, which involved a furnished house, to a Melinda Honesetter, who put down a binder of $1,000 and agreed to conclude the sale by Sept. 1.

The defendant, Mrs. Meredith, contends in the suit, offered to execute a deed of conveyance not identical with the personal property described in the inventory attached to the contract and, as a result, the buyer rescinded the contract.

In the other suit, Mr. Faulhaber is asking a $100 settlement on a promissory note which Mrs. Meredith had entered into with George H. Robison, but which later was taken up by Mr. Faulhaber. The note was signed June 15 in the amount of $600, to be paid in 30 days, according to the file.

Further, Mrs. Meredith was paid back July 15, following which the interest in the note was assigned to Mr. Faulhaber. The defendant claims the note represents a loan of $500 by Robison, and that the additional sum of $100 represented a bonus which Mrs. Meredith agreed to pay Robison.

She contends the $100 constitutes a rate of interest greater than 10 per cent per year upon the principle sum of $500, and that only $500 is due to Mr. Faulhaber. She also points out the assignment was made after the maturity of the note.

Volle Williams Jr. is attorney for Mr. Faulhaber in the latter case, while Mr. Wilson is representing Mrs. Meredith.

Public Hearing Is Slated On Zoning

A public hearing was set last night by the City Planning Commission for Nov. 13 to consider rezoning of French Avenue, according to James Avenue and Fourth Street. Mr. Gut remarked the park is "too small."

Need for additional parking facilities also was brought into the discussion. A set of rules of procedure, submitted by Tom Lemon, City Manager, were adopted by the Commission. Mr. Gut said changes possibly will be made later.

SABBATH WALKS EFFORTS
TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Moslem Sabbath barked efforts today to end out just how Premier Mohammad Mossadegh intends to carry out his decision on breaking diplomatic relations with Britain.

The premier announced the break in a broadcast to the nation yesterday. All government offices were closed today because of the Friday holiday, and there was no information on how the formalities accompanying a break in diplomatic relations would be accomplished.

If the entire British diplomatic mission is recalled, that would put upon the U. S. Embassy the full task of trying to resolve the 18-month-old dispute over Iran's nationalization of oil resources. The U. S. and Britain are joined in an effort to settle the dispute, which involves the $14 billion dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Chinese Attack ROK Ridge Under Intense Barrage

SEoul (AP)—Nearly 1,000 Chinese troops assaulted Sniper Ridge on the Central Korean front tonight under Red artillery fire as intense as the South Korean defenders could measure it.

The Chinese and ROKs closed in a grenade-throwing hand-to-hand fight for Pinnpoint Hill, center peak on Sniper Ridge northwest of Kum-ju.

Late reports said the desperate, hand-to-hand fighting still raged at Pinnpoint.

But in the west, South Korean Ninth Division troops pulled back off from Horse Hill at dark after fighting Chinese throughout the afternoon.

Communist dead littered the front whined battlefields and casualties mounted to record 1932 totals. In the bloody week ended Tuesday, the U. S. Eighth Army estimated the Communists lost 10,186 soldiers. The total—highest since last November—included 5,868 killed, 4,258 wounded and 60 captured.

The ROK Ninth Division today reported it inflicted a staggering 11,633 casualties on the Communists—more than the strength of a full Chinese division—in nine days of ceaseless fighting for White Horse Mountain ended Wednesday.

South Korean soldiers searched the shell-seared hill in Chorwon Valley and reported digging up 7,147 Chinese bodies buried under mud and dirt and hidden in bunkers or under shrapnel-torn underbrush.

The Ninth Division estimated an additional 5,330 Reds were killed and 1,067 wounded in the battle to control a major invasion route to Korea.

The Communist Peiping Radio claimed 800 Allied troops were "annihilated" in intense Red counterattacks from Oct. 8-11. The broadcast, monitored in Tokyo, said the Communists shot down 18 Allied warplanes and damaged 32 others during the period.

Eisenhower Is Leading By Wide Margin On 3rd Day Of Straw Poll

By KENT CHETMAN

A record 55 ballots were cast in today's Herald straw poll that saw Republican nominee General Dwight Eisenhower maintain his near 8-1 margin over his Democratic foe, Governor Adlai Stevenson, of Illinois.

A group of 20 votes from housewives gave Ike 40 of the 55 ballots cast today. Stevenson pulled but two housewives' votes, another pair from merchants and one from a farmer.

Eisenhower now leads Stevenson 87 to 11 after the first three days of the straw poll. Today's voting saw Ike gain a percentage point of the total vote on Stevenson.

Vote: Ike 87 89 Stevenson 11 11

While results of the poll, so far, seem to indicate a landslide for Ike in Seminole County this November, it cannot be taken for face value. Actually, 70 percent of the votes, tabulated to date, have been from the white-collar business classification and their wives.

At least this class will comprise only about 1,000 votes if the total vote if the county hits the $500 mark. Hardly touched by the poll are far in the Negro vote, which comprises about 30 percent of the electorate.

According to one prominent Negro leader, 85 percent of the colored vote will go to Stevenson.

"The Democratic party is sending literature to the colored people telling them that, if the Republicans get in office, all their relief will be cut off," he pointed out. "I would say that 85 percent of the Negroes in Sanford are ready to vote for Stevenson from the government. The other 15 percent of the colored people will vote for Eisenhower because they have to pay the freight, so to speak, for those who cancel each other out."

However, it is thought he those who are conducting the poll, that such double or triple voting would probably take place as much on one side as on the other and that hence such votes would tend to cancel each other out.

Chinese Attack ROK Ridge Under Intense Barrage

SEoul (AP)—Nearly 1,000 Chinese troops assaulted Sniper Ridge on the Central Korean front tonight under Red artillery fire as intense as the South Korean defenders could measure it.

The Chinese and ROKs closed in a grenade-throwing hand-to-hand fight for Pinnpoint Hill, center peak on Sniper Ridge northwest of Kum-ju.

Late reports said the desperate, hand-to-hand fighting still raged at Pinnpoint.

But in the west, South Korean Ninth Division troops pulled back off from Horse Hill at dark after fighting Chinese throughout the afternoon.

Communist dead littered the front whined battlefields and casualties mounted to record 1932 totals. In the bloody week ended Tuesday, the U. S. Eighth Army estimated the Communists lost 10,186 soldiers. The total—highest since last November—included 5,868 killed, 4,258 wounded and 60 captured.

The ROK Ninth Division today reported it inflicted a staggering 11,633 casualties on the Communists—more than the strength of a full Chinese division—in nine days of ceaseless fighting for White Horse Mountain ended Wednesday.

South Korean soldiers searched the shell-seared hill in Chorwon Valley and reported digging up 7,147 Chinese bodies buried under mud and dirt and hidden in bunkers or under shrapnel-torn underbrush.

The Ninth Division estimated an additional 5,330 Reds were killed and 1,067 wounded in the battle to control a major invasion route to Korea.

The Communist Peiping Radio claimed 800 Allied troops were "annihilated" in intense Red counterattacks from Oct. 8-11. The broadcast, monitored in Tokyo, said the Communists shot down 18 Allied warplanes and damaged 32 others during the period.

Premier Stalin Keeps Top Spot In Soviet Regime

By EDDY GILMORE and THOMAS P. WHITNEY

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Communist party named its new high command today and kept Joseph Stalin firmly in all the top jobs.

The party's new Central Committee, announced election of a Presidium of 25 members and 11 alternates to replace the old Politburo and a 10-man Secretariat to supervise party administration. Stalin was named head of both key posts. Also elected was a new chairman of the party Central Committee which has charge of party discipline.

The Presidium is more than twice the size of the old Politburo of 11 members and one alternate. Replacing the Politburo, it will direct the work of the Central Committee between the party's quadrennial full sessions and will also take over the duties of the old Politburo, the organization bureau—which dealt with party organization.

The Secretariat also was enlarged. It formerly had only five members.

Stalin's top rank in the party was emphasized by the placing of his name out of alphabetical order at the head of the announced list of both the Presidium and Secretariat. All other names were given in their Russian alphabetical order.

In addition, Stalin is head of the party Central Committee and, in the Soviet government, chairman of the Council of Ministers—premier of the Soviet Union.

A number of young party leaders were added to both the Presidium and the Secretariat. Most of these are under 50. Some are barely past 40.

The Presidium also includes several regional party leaders, as well as some of the Soviet Union's top economic specialists.

One significant point was the promotion to Presidium alternate of Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky Vishinsky, now at the United Nations Assembly in New York. Formerly was a member of the Central Committee, in which he was re-elected, but he never was a member of the Politburo.

Postal Head Predicts 670 Million Deficit

BOSTON (AP)—Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson says the postal deficit this fiscal year will be about 670 million dollars.

He adds that Congress should accept full responsibility for the loss.

Speaking Thursday night at the convention of the National Association of Postmasters, Donaldson charged Congress enacted legislation fixing rates and costs "out of all relationship to each other."

He said "I believe the Congress should frankly declare itself on the subsidy policy question if they feel that rates should not be charged to cover the cost of handling each class of mail."

Only first class will pay its way this fiscal year, Donaldson said, with an expected profit of 66 million dollars.

He estimated the following losses: 253 million dollars in second class mail (publications), 113 million dollars in third class mail (circulars and advertising matter), and 84 million dollars on fourth class mail.

Stevenson Charges GOP Victory Would End Price Support

Boos Greet Ike Campaign In Industrial Area

By JAMES DEATIN

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower ran into a mixed reception of boos and cheers today as he campaigned in heavily industrialized Camden, N. J.

The Republican presidential candidate drove in an open automobile through lunch hour lanes of workers from the New York Shipbuilding Corp. yards, the Campbell Soup Co. plant and the huge steel business plant of B & W Industries.

In front of each plant, responding boos could be heard clearly.

There also was a sprinkling of continued cheers.

Democratic Candidate Tears Into Adversary In Speech Given On Street Corner

By JACK BEIL

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson charged today that Republicans plan to abolish farm price supports if they win next month's election.

The Democratic presidential nominee tore into his opponents in a speech to a street corner crowd here before taking off by plane for two days of intensive campaigning.

"The Illinois governor said that if Republicans have their way 'they would dry up thousands of California acres and let our soil conservation programs crumble into dust.' They would, presumably, repeal the minimum wage law, abolish Social Security and undo all the great work of Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman," he said.

Stevenson's early morning appearance here attracted a crowd of police said was considerably smaller than last night's. J. Eisenhower, the GOP nominee, drew in a noon crowd here recently.

Stevenson told his listeners that "no man on earth can truly measure up to the awful responsibilities of the presidency."

But while he said he was humble in the face of the fact that the vote might make him the next president, Stevenson said he is not uncertain nor hesitant.

"At least my mind is my own mind and I am my own man. I am not a puppet. I am not a reference to his charge that Eisenhower has surrendered leadership in the Republican party to Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Assuming that the contest between the two major political parties this year involves "not just your prosperity but the best chance for a just and peaceful world," Stevenson declared.

"I know that unless we reject the Republican ideas of isolationism, we will lose the free world—and with it our struggle for peace."

The Democratic nominee was sending up in San Diego a crucial campaign for California's vital 32 electoral votes. His next stop in today's crowded schedule was Fort Worth, Tex., after a six-hour flight eastward. From there Stevenson planned to fly to Grand Prairie and thence to Dallas for a major speech tonight.

San Diego, the Illinois governor, continued his vigorous assault on Eisenhower as a "disappointing" candidate who has allowed himself to be "absorbed" into the "absolutist team" of Republicans.
