

Two Declared Champions, Bass And Canzoneri, Will Settle Dispute Tonight

By Davis J. Walsh

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(INS)—By eleven o'clock tonight, the featherweight pedestal will enjoy legitimate occupancy for the first time in more than a year, which brings us down to the following point: When is a champion not a champion? Off hand, when he is named by the National Boxing Association.

It is to be hoped for the sake of Benjamin Bass that tonight proves the exception to the rule. Benjamin, according to the N. B. A., is the featherweight champion of the world. The New York State Athletic Commission says his opponent, Tony Canzoneri, is the champion. They can't both be wrong, although, in truth, they are willing to give the problem a very earnest try on almost any subject. The N. B. A., to date, has had slight to the better of this. Spoke for Tommy Lough. They met and Lough won. Next, the N. B. A. nominated Frenchy Belanger for flyweight honors and so there was nothing for it but that New York must declare for Izzy Schwartz. The other night, Belanger lost to the man who had lost to Schwartz, namely Frankie Genaro. In addition, the N. B. A.'s bantamweight champion, Bud Taylor, recently made a play for the featherweight title here and finished an indifferent second to Canzoneri.

The latter was a 7 to 6 shot in the betting today because they like them rough and tough and Tony is both. The distance of fifteen rounds also favored the young man who came up from the bootblack stalls of New Orleans, an absolute unknown, to fight his way to the threshold of the throne room, within two short years. Canzoneri can and will fight all night, which is a violation of the union code.

Bass is by far the better hitter, particularly with his right hand, but he will have to live down the implication that fighting, as far as he is concerned, really isn't an enjoyable occupation. They have to fight with Canzoneri or they just don't win. The understanding that Bass is agreeing to disagree with his manager, Phil Glassman, may have an adverse effect on the Philadelphia's chances too.

However, the punch often levels everything and Bass has it. A couple laid into Tony's body in early minutes of play might change the whole act, for Bud Taylor, who has fought Tony three times, is authority for the statement that the Italian likes them not at all in the lobby. Who does? No one, of course, but then there are some endowed with a catcher's chest protector for a torso. According to Taylor, the Italian can take them about the body but not too many.

Barge Lines Operated By Government To Be Turned Over To Private Concerns

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(INS)—President Coolidge has decreed that the barge lines now being operated by the government-controlled Inland Waterways Corporation must be turned over to private ownership before very long.

He feels that not only does the law require that the Government surrender these lines to private capital as soon as the practicability of river navigation has been demonstrated, but that their operation by the Government has been the source of much controversy and grief. Quite apart from the temptation to use the barge lines as a political football, the President has found that certain Middle Westerners are tempted to be too outspoken in criticism of government operation.

It was indicated at the White House that Mr. Coolidge would not look with favor upon any plan to extend the present waterways into other rivers and that he would particularly frown upon any great expenditure of Federal funds intended for that purpose. Expansion was advocated in a resolution adopted by the Rivers and Harbors Congress at its recent meeting here.

Although he feels that the negotiation both for and against a turn-over of the barge lines, which lately has been growing in the Mississippi Valley, has been tactless and perhaps detrimental to the best interests of the Inland Waterways Corporation, Sec'y of War Davis nevertheless is maintaining a neutral attitude.

Milwaukee Fighter Will Meet Winner Of Gotham Match

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(INS)—Joy Sangor, Milwaukee featherweight, will be waiting with interest tonight for a flash on the result of the Benny Bass-Tony Canzoneri championship match in New York. Out of that fight, Sangor believes, will come the man he must beat for the featherweight championship of the world.

Sangor finds himself in the role of "outstanding challenger" by virtue of his sensational victory last night over Bud Taylor, world's bantamweight champion, in the ten-round main event of Jim Mullen's Casino show. The cream city mauler stopped Taylor in the seventh round of one of the greatest fights ever seen in Chicago.

Ten thousand fans, all that could jam their way into the old historic coliseum, and the thrill of their lives, in that dizzy seventh round. It was the first time Taylor was knocked out in his long career. His bantamweight crown was not at stake.

Grace Moore Gets Great Applause By Operatic Audience

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—(INS)—Miss Grace Moore, Tennessee girl who made her debut with the Metropolitan Opera Company yesterday in "La Boheme," was hailed by nearly every musical critic in New York today as an opera singer of high talent and great promise.

Practically all the Metropolitan critics united in declaring that the former musical comedy performer's voice is a true lyric soprano, vibrant, fluent and melodious.

One hundred home folks from Jellico, Tenn., where Miss Moore formerly was a choir singer, burst into wild applause when she sang the role of Mimì. Governor Horton from Tennessee, notables from Georgia and other Southern states, and Miss Moore's relatives paid affectionate homage to the new star. They came north on the "Coca-Cola Special."

"It was the greatest event in my life," the singer declared. "Of course, I was a bit nervous at first, but I felt better as it went on." Miss Moore got twenty-eight curtain calls. Floral tributes were heaped high on the stage.

PELTZER TO RACE

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(INS)—Dr. Otto Peltzer, the runner, will fly the colors of Germany tonight in a 1,000 meter race in connection with the Illinois Athletic Club's eleventh annual handicap track and field meet at the riding club.

CONTRACTS SIGNED

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(INS)—The New York Giants have received the signed contract of pitcher Fred Fitzsimmons, who won seventeen games last season. Eight players are still outside the fold. They include Virgil Bernero, Duane Grimes, Frank Hogan and George Harper.

GATOR GRIDDERS PLAY SATURDAY IN PRACTICE TILT

Two Games Will Be Played In Spring Training Grid To Inculcate New Principles Offered By Coach Backman

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, Gainesville, Feb. 10.—(Athletic News Bureau)—Football will occupy the center of the athletic stage here Saturday afternoon when the first of two regulation games will be staged. Coach Charles Backman, who has been working diligently with spring football candidates since his arrival last week, getting them familiar with the general scheme of the Notre Dame system of grid warfare, is so well pleased with the progress of his cohorts that he has carded Saturday for the initial "under fire" test.

The second game will be played either Tuesday or Thursday of next week, as Coach Backman will return to Kansas Arlettes the night of February 16, after which date spring football will be supervised by former coach H. L. Sebring.

In discussing the results of practice in his first week in Gainesville, Coach Backman said: "I find both variety and freshness grounded exceptionally well in fundamentals, and practically every man has shown me that he has a rather thorough conception of smart offensive and defensive football tactics."

Becoming thoroughly acquainted with his material, sorting the good prospects from the weak candidates, is one of Coach Backman's chief aims this spring, and he has rapidly familiarized himself with the abilities of each man. Teaching his Notre Dame style of offense, which is entirely offensive, is occupying the major portion of the afternoon's work, for there must be a true understanding and rhythm and positive timing to the shift before it becomes thoroughly effective.

Hardy scrimmages have been indulged in each day this week, and the game Saturday will bring a week of strenuous practice to a fitting close. Many of last year's freshmen backfield players have shown favorable comment from Backman, and for the first time in years, he says, he is supplied with "fast halfbacks." The outlook has been encouraging this week and keen interest will be felt in the football system.

Bridgeluncheon Given At Forrest Lake Hotel

One of the loveliest social courtesies given here this season was that of Wednesday when Mrs. Elbert M. Reynolds and Miss Ann Parks of Orlando entertained at bridge luncheon at the Hotel Forrest Lake, honoring Mrs. T. D. Hann and Miss Helen Hann of Brownsville, Pa.

The Valentine ideas were effectively carried out in every detail. The attractively appointed luncheon table was centered with lovely arrangements of red cut flowers with roses, sweet peas and snail dragons predominating and combined with sprays of the paragon ferns. Alternating down the length of the table were smaller baskets filled with these same lovely blossoms and tall red cardinal tapers in silver holders. The place cards and nut cutlery were also done in suggestions of the Valentine season. At one o'clock a tempting seven-course luncheon was served.

Following luncheon, bridge was enjoyed, the card tables having been arranged for play in the dining room which was beautifully adorned with baskets and bowls of red cut flowers and ferns, as well as myriads of red hearts.

The bridge necessities were in keeping with the decorations and at the conclusion of the stated number of progressions scores were collected and prizes awarded. The first prize a crystal vase and six goblets was won by Mrs. A. A. Carnan, while the consolation prize went to Mrs. Marion Ferguson. Treasures of the honorarium were Mrs. Hann and Miss Helen Hann were each presented dainty dainties as mementoes of the occasion.

The card tables were arranged for play on the screened porch which was converted into a veritable bower with numerous potted plants and ferns, together with hanging and wall baskets filled with lantana, boldenaa and egyptiania carrying out the color scheme of white and lavender. When scores had been added after the fifth progression, it was found that the prize, a pretty luster crystal flower bowl had been won by Mrs. Osburne P. Herndon. Refreshments of a tasty salad course with nut bread, wafers, olives and coffee were served at the conclusion of the games. Additional Society Second Annual Grand Opera Season Begins In Orlando On February 15

An event of interest to all music lovers of Central Florida, will be the second annual Grand Opera season at the Orlando Municipal Auditorium, Feb. 15, 16, and 17.

The New York Grand Opera Company, which makes its first appearance in Orlando, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and Municipal Auditorium, has just completed a week's engagement in Jacksonville, where the organization was hailed by press and public alike, as being far superior to any that has previously been heard in that city. From Jacksonville, the company proceeds to Palm Beach, Miami, Tampa, and thence to Orlando. The Orlando program of one-matinee and three evening performances, will be as follows: Wednesday evening, Feb. 15, "Carmen"; Thursday matinee, Feb. 16, "Rigoletto"; Thursday evening, "La Forza Del Destino"; Friday evening, Feb. 17, "Ernani".

General Electric New Refrigerator Causes No Worry

In these busy days when the housewife has numerous interests outside the home, it is necessary for the manufacturer of home appliances to make his product as free from mechanical worry as possible, without interfering with its efficiency.

The busy housewife cannot be expected to remember to oil the mechanism, yet in most machines it is necessary that this attention be given at regular intervals to prevent serious damage and expense. Then too, there is the inconvenience suffered by being temporarily deprived of some much needed household aid.

"The General Electric Refrigerator is one that can be plugged in the nearest convenient outlet and actually forgotten, in so far as the mechanics of the machine are concerned," states Clyde Byrd, manager of the Florida Power and Light Company. "However, the very beauty of the machine and the perfect service it renders keeps it from becoming forgotten once it is installed in the kitchen," continued Mr. Byrd. "We have had a number of inquiries from women who have seen General Electric Refrigerators in the homes of their friends. Its extreme simplicity invariably makes a lasting impression on them and has been the cause of quite a number of the machines being installed in homes throughout the city."

According to Mr. Byrd, General Electric refrigerators are made in a variety of sizes and are finished in porcelain and white lacquer.

'Wholesale Murderer' Pays Death Penalty

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Feb. 10.—(INS)—George J. Hassell, "wholesale murderer" went to his death in the electric chair in the state penitentiary here shortly after midnight. The current was on at 12:37 and was pronounced dead at 12:47. He was given three separate shocks. The man who slew 13 persons, according to his own confession, and who could not give any motive for any of his crimes, died with composure.

Hassell was sentenced to death for the murder of his stepson, Alton, near Farwell in Dec. 1926. Robert Lee Denton, Alton R. L. Stanley, a negro, followed Hassell to the electric chair. He was executed for the murder of R. E. Morgan, a white farmer near Broslayton.

Hurrah for Fresh Air!

Declaring that "the greatest weakness in our public life today is lack of courage," former Governor Cameron Morrison of North Carolina told the Charlotte Rotary Club the other day some things which we would like to see some of our own candidates for office take rather seriously.

"We have come to the point in North Carolina when all you can hear about governmental affairs is praise of this man or that," said Governor Morrison. We do not hear any more about any grievances that ought to be corrected.

Governor Morrison then launched himself into the problem of usury in the state of North Carolina declaring that in many instances, although money is comparatively cheap throughout the country as a whole, "North Carolina is plastered all over with mortgages bearing eight to twelve per cent interest.

The former North Carolina governor, who is known to have looked with longing eyes at a senatorial toga even since he finished his gubernatorial job, concluded, "Now, don't you boys go off and say, 'Well, poor Cam, if he'd only keep his mouth shut we'd send him to the senate.'"

My, wouldn't we like to see a candidate for something, for anything, with nerve enough to come out and say which foot he was standing on! As far as we can tell, they all stand for fresh air and sunshine, unlimited health, and large tourist crops, but how still they are when the subject of prohibition is brought up.

Women, Good and Bad

In a small Georgia town not many years ago there lived two women. One of them was very good. She never failed to go to church and she had none of the commonly recognized vices of this era.

But such rumors could usually be traced to the door of the woman who was so good. Not that she had any grudge against the woman who was not so good, or that she wanted to do her harm especially, but she just liked to talk and had a way of her own about hearing things that no one else seemed to know.

Well, things got about, and finally the good woman told it where it would be the most effective that the other woman might soon be expected to give birth to a child of an unknown father. Tongues wagged. Heads nodded. Eyes winked. Old maids looked askance, and old men glanced into mirrors.

We have no interest in dragging all this into the papers again other than to show what gossiping tongues can do. We doubt if the good woman of this story learned any lesson from the events just related—such people are incurably talkative—but we do believe that others can see in this the utter fallacy of worrying about the other person's business.

DILLY-DALLYING WITH TRUTH

Considerable of what appears to be entirely justified criticism is being directed to Washington at the present time, it being aimed at those who, in various proceedings, judicial and otherwise, are engaged in trials and hearings, growing out of admittedly scandalous transactions involved in the leasing by the government of oil properties to private individuals and concerns.

When those trial and hearings were instituted it was assumed that the purpose was to ascertain the truth or the falsity of charges made, and to absolve or convict those individuals whose names are connected with the oil lands leasing transactions. After several years of investigations and hearings and trials it begins to look as if the real purpose of it all was to still further conceal the truth and make it possible for those charged with criminal misconduct to evade the pronouncement of guilt or innocence.

It is admitted generally that the oil lands leasing transactions constituted a public scandal. And now, the proceedings, by which the entire mess should be cleared up, indicate that a greater scandal is in the making, due to the dilly-dallying with truth and justice, that is being permitted. The oil case trials themselves have lagged through many weary months and years, delay being heaped upon delay.

FLORIDA MAKING GOOD

When Florida was wrecked by hurricane and speculation a year or two ago, many who had been watching the progress of the southern state, felt that after a few years it would come back from recent happenings in Miami there appears to be evidence of that revival.

There was nothing surprising about the flap staged by Florida. Lots were being bought and sold many times faster than the public demand warranted. No thought was given to proper development and in addition there was not enough people to populate the land that was being sold.

UNINSTRUCTED DELEGATES

Agreeing with The Tribune and several other Florida papers which have been outspoken on the subject, the State Democratic Executive Committee, in session at Fernandina Friday, abolished the presidential preference primary in this state for this year at least, and decreed that Florida's delegation to Houston go entirely uninstructed.

This is a sensible decision. Instructions conveyed by preferential voting have been ignored, in part, by the uninstructed delegates. They have been held not binding and not recognizable by successive presiding officers of the National Convention.

Under the ruling of the State Committee, Florida's delegates will vote as they please at Houston. It will be up to the delegation to determine whether or not it will be governed by the unit rule; probably not. In that event, the Florida delegation vote probably will be scattered; but each delegate will be permitted to exercise his own best judgment as to the strongest and most available candidate for the nomination.

FLORIDA HUMILIATED

Senator Lark Trammell has injured the self-respect of the state of Florida by his approval of H. C. Gray's tar and feather speech. His signal failure to support the Democratic leadership of Senator Robinson tends to make people of this nation believe that Florida is the one state which favors tar and feather proceedings.

HATHAWAY ARGUMENT

The Sanford Signal apparently believes the tax payers' money ought to be used in building roads for "the owning considerable property" rather than the general public which pays the bill. If you do not believe it—just listen to this illuminating statement from the Signal: "Some of those voters who own considerable property in those towns left out by the new highways are not going to fall over themselves voting for Foms. Certainly roads cut them off the main highway, and they are not at all pleased."

Second Of Series Of Bridge Parties Given By Mrs. R. A. Newman

One of the most elaborate and enjoyable bridge parties given this season was that of Friday afternoon when Mrs. Robert A. Newman entertained at the second of a series of bridge parties at her handsome home in Rose Court, honoring her house guest Mrs. Alice Woodcock of Ireland.

The rooms of this lovely home were abloom with quantities of red velvet pens, baby breath and white heather artfully arranged in baskets and bowls. Placed here and there and lending a pleasing touch were tall cathedral candles also in red. The valentine ideas were carried out in every detail.

Heart shaped tables done in quaint valentine designs were used in keeping scores for the games of progressive bridge and after the fifth progression had been played, scores were collected by Mrs. Ernest Galloway and Mrs. Frank Gonzalez and prizes awarded. Mrs. George Knight who held top score, received a pair of linen pillow slips, while the low score prize, a book, went to Mrs. Braxton L. Perkins.

In cutting for the other prize, a beaded party bag, Mrs. W. Wallace Wright was the fortunate one. Mrs. Woodcock was given a book, "Me and Pa In Florida" as memento of the occasion.

At the ten hour, the bridge necessities were removed and the valentine and progressive hand made covers and refreshments of chicken salad, sandwiches, olives, potato chips and strawberry ice were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mrs. Ernest Galloway and Mrs. Galloway.

Invited to Mrs. Woodcock were Mrs. Ernest Galloway, Mrs. Alexander Vaughan, Mrs. W. Wallace Wright, Mrs. Frank Gonzalez, Mrs. A. W. Lips, Mrs. G. Chunks of red hearts together with baskets of red snap dragons were used in decorating the church parlors where the tables had been spread. Gracing the tables were bowls of red cut flowers and ferns, while the places of the members and their guests were marked with red hearts pierced with golden arrows. Favor of white valentine roses were arranged at each place. The young ladies dressed in fetching Valentine costumes acted as waitresses. At seven o'clock a tasty course supper was served. On the card tables were heart shaped boxes which held red and white candies which were enjoyed during the games.

Talies in keeping with the color scheme were used for the game of bridge and when scores had been compared it was found that the prize for top score among the club members, a hand painted boudoir water set had been won by Mrs. C. This week has been a busy one with the Presbyterian Church. There were three meetings of women Monday, the Executive Board, the Prayer Band, and the general business meeting of the auxiliary. Wednesday, the School of Missions met at 7:30 P. M. with an increased crowd which the meeting room would not hold, and some had to stand outside the door while the whole school was in the devotional session together.

Friday night, there were three meetings. The Pioneers, a group of intermediate boys met in the club room, the choir was in session, and the Christian Endeavor held a very successful valentine social.

Two new families united with the church last Sunday, and arrangements were made this week for the transfer to local membership of four other members who have recently moved to town.

For Quick Come-Backs

Our Lost and Found ads will find almost anything you lose, except sleep. You can't help losing things once in a while, but you don't need to let them stay lost very long—not while these little ads can bring them back to you!

Friends you can trust

Advertised products are your friends wherever you find them. You know them. And you can buy them with confidence—sure of honest value for your money. For they have stood the test of public scrutiny, they have been advertised and found worthy.

For advertising, after all, is a test—a trial by fire of public approval. Today no manufacturer would start advertising his products unless he knew they were sound and good. And if errors did creep in, he would be quick to correct them, for to hold business he must uphold the confidence advertising has created among millions of people for his wares.

Advertising brings protection to the consumer. It guarantees honest value. It sends quality up. The manufacturer who advertises builds up such a volume of sales that he gives far more in both quality and quantity than the non-advertiser can possibly do.

Seek out your friends—the advertised products. Favor the dealer who handles them. Look for them on the shelves. Watch for them in the show windows. They are the hall marks of a good business house. They are negotiable guarantees of value. They are friends you can trust.
